The Presbytery of Eastern Texas meets at Nacogdoches, Tuesday, April 20th, at 11th a. m. Sessional records are required at this meeting. The assessment is fifteen cents per member. Sessional reports are to be sent to the stated clerk ten days before Presbytery meets.

S. F. TENNEY,
Stated Clerk.

Do you know what an "emulsion is?" It is when each drop of the oil is broken up into minute drops, so small you can hardly see them with the microscope: so minute that they pass at once through the tissues into the circulation. Scott's Emulsion does not disturb digestion, is not unpleasant to take, and does not fail to do its work because digestion can deal with it at once. You may be able to disguise the taste of raw oil and get it past the palate. You can't cheat your stomach with it.

SCOTT & BOWNE,
Chemists, New York.

The Presbytery of Asheville will meet at Waynesville on the 27th of April at 7.30 p m.

E. A. SAMPLE,
Stated Clerk.

Reduced rates received as far East, via Spartanburg, S. C., as Charlotte and West to Murphy. This is only on Southern Railroad.

The Presbytery of Memphis will meet at Stanton, Tenn., April 13th, at 8 p. m.

STATED CLERK.

Presbytery of Lexington will meet at Mt Carmel church, Steel's Tavern, Va., May 11th, 1897, at 11 a. m

WM. C. WHITE,
Stated Clerk.

The Presbytery of Potosi will meet in Farmington, Mo., on Tuesday, April 13th, 1897, at 7.30 p. m.

GEO. W. HARLAN,
Stated Clerk.

Abingdon Presbytery is adjourned to meet in Green Spring church, Washington county, Virginia, on May 4th, at 2.30 p. m.

I. N. NAFF,
Stated Clerk.

Concord Presbytery will meet in regular session in Statesville, N. C., April 27th, 1897, at 7.30 p. m.

W. R. MCLELLAND,
Stated Clerk.

The Presbytery of Fayetteville will meet Tuesday at 7.30 p. m., April 20th, 1897, at Red Springs, N. C. The Presbyterial assessment upon the churches is due at this meetin.

P. R. LAW,
Stated Clerk.

The Presbytery of Albemarle meets in Wilson, N. C., Tuesday, April 20th, at 7.30 p. m. Blanks for reports will be mailed soon to church sessions. Presbyterial assessment for 1897, due April 1st, should be forwarded promptly.

F. H. JOHNSTON,
Stated Clerk and Treasurer.

TO OUR MINISTERS.

Brethren, what about the plan proposed for an Invalid Endowment Fund? It is solely for the benfit of our infirm ministers, and of the families of ministers deceased—for the present and for the future. Its success depends entirely upon the interest which ministers take in it, and upon the activity which they shall put forth. Several have warmly approved it, but some say that in the present times they do not think that they can do anything for it in their churches. If all take that position, that will end the matter. If one church member in fifty will make a subcription as according to ability, success will be in sight.

Please let the Central Committee know by May 5th, in no case later than May 10th, what you can do. We will lay that information before the Assembly, and it will be in position to take intelligent action. The Assembly of 1895, authorized an effort to raise a permanent endowment, the Assembly of 1896, tacitly, in one case approved the plan set forth in the proposition now before you. The Assembly will probably be governed by what you do now. Address me Atlanta, Ga.

Fraternally,

J. N. CRAIG.

"Excuse me," said the fish, as he dropped back into the water, "excuse me, but really I do not consi der your point well taken."

Organized 1832. Assets, $650,000

Tested for Sixty Years.

Virginia Fire and Marine

Insurance Company, of Richmond.

This old Virginia institution issues a short and comprehensive Policy, free of petty restriction and liberal in its terms and conditions.

INSURES AGAINST FIRE and LIGHTNING

All descriptions of Property, in Country and Town—private or public—insured at fair rates, on accommodating terms.

AGENCIES IN EVERY TOWN AND COUNTY.

WM. H. PALMER, President.
W. H. McCARTHY, Secretary.
S. McG. FISHER, Ass't Sec'y.

Wire Railing and Ornamental Wire Works.

DUFUR & CO.,

311 North Howard St., Baltimore, Md. Manufacture Wire Railing for Cemeteries, Balconies, &c., Sieves, Fender Cages, Sand and Coal Screens, Woven Wire, & Also Iron Bedsteads Chairs, Settees &c.

A Beautiful, Fitting, and Enduring Memento

For Personal Possession and Study

Is Found in the New Holy Land Art Portfolios

ENTITLED

Palestine Photographed.

Every Student of the Bible,

Every Student of History,

Every Lover of Art

Should Have It.

This desirable book comprises 64 beautiful engravings from views taken in 1894. Each scene is accurately and eloquently described by two distinguished divines, Bishop Vincent and Dr. Lee. The work should find a place in every Christian home.

Any paid up subscriber to the PRESBYTERIAN can obtain this book upon remitting 25 cents.

FOR THE FAMILY.

THE HEAVENLY GUEST.

Ece, O soul, there standeth at thy lowly door
One whom all the angels worship and adore,
Condescension wondrous, love and grace
divine,
Lo, He seeks to enter that poor heart of thine.

"And if any open," this is what He saith,
He whose love is stronger, stronger e'en
than death,
"I will gladly enter, I will be his guest," Hasten, soul, to open, spread for Him thy best.

"Ah! Thou Lord of glory, nought have
I for fare,
Lo, the house is empty and the table bare;
Long my soul hath eaten only husks of sin," Still He standeth, calling: "Fain would
I come in;

"Let not this thy straitness thee at all distress,
I who fed the thousands in the wilderness,
I who turned the water into purple wine,
I will spread to fulness that scant board of thine.

"He shall never hunger, never by want be press'd.
He hath treasure endless who hath Me for guest;
He whose heart I enter, heir of God shall be,
Soul, what is thine answer what say'st thou to me?"

Lord, I bid Thee welcome, while the flowing tears
Tell my grief and sorrow for the sin-spent years;
Lord, Thou hast been waiting long outside the door,
Enter now to leave me, never, never more

—Robt. M. Offord, in New York Observer.

MRS. PRESTON.

Mrs. Margaret J. Preston, the poetess, who was frequently called the "Mimosa of Southern Literature," for many years had been a sufferer. For ten of them she had been an invalid, and during the later years of her life was much afflicted with optical troubles, which interfered greatly with her literary work. She was not blind, but the constant use of her eyes had induced great delicacy of the optic nerve. Her conduct under such constant pain was heroic.

Mrs. Preston was born in Pennsylvania. Her father was the late Rev. D. George Junkin, a Presbyterian minister, who was widely known as one of the most distinguished educators of his time. He founded Lafayette College, a large and well-endowed institution.

Literary tastes and a cultured sense of appreciation of the beauties of nature were early developed in Mrs. Preston. She "thought in numbers" as a mere child. One of her earliest memories was standing at her father's knee when hardly more than three years old learning the Hebrew alphabet.

She never went to school except as a very little girl, her education being received from her father and private tutors at home. Her father was especially enthusiastic over her education, and the child was reading Latin with him when ten years old. At twelve years she read Greek. Many a morning she arose at 5 o'clock to read languages with her father before breakfast, this being the only time he could command out of his busy day.

When still a girl she began her active literary career, her poems, sketches and articles on various topics soon attracting attention for their uniform excellence and originality.

In 1857, she was married to Prof. J. T. S. Preston, of the Virginia Military Institute at Lexington, Va. Her married life was a happy one, and was spent in a beautiful Virginia home. Here her two sons were born and grew to manhood, the elder, Dr. George J. Preston, inheriting much of his mother's literary talent, which has found expression in a number of valuable contributions to medical and literary journals.

Upon the breaking out of the civil war the Preston family became identified with the Southern cause. Professor Preston became a member of the staff of Gen. Stonewall Jackson, whose first wife was Mrs. Preston's sister, Eleanor, and who had been associated with Professor Preston in the Virginia Military Institute. The pen of the poetess portrayed the grandeur, tragedy and pathos of war, particularly the sufferings of those tender non-combatants whose loved ones were the actors in the great drama of carnage and horror.

"Beechenbrook, a Rhyme of the War," written by the firelight during the nights of one week, was published during the stirring time of the war.

This work made Mrs. Preston very popular in the South and achieved a circulation of many thousands. With this publication she first allowed her name to appear.

After the war Colonel Preston returned to the Virginia Military Institute and resumed his professional duties. Mrs. Preston continued her writting, and afterward, with her husband, traveled in Europe for some time. The result of this journey was a "Book of Monograms," which contained an entertaining account of ramblings in many picturesque places.

Mrs. Preston took much pleasure in an extensive literary acquaintance and conducted an exhaustive correspondence with many famous authors and poets. Once, being requested for data regarding her life and works, she replied: "It is all very well for the great poets after their death to be thus dealt with, but small singers like myself have no right to such notice. I often say to requests made for information concerning my private life that if Mrs. Browning, the best woman poet since Sappho's days, could go thirty years without the public knowing the place of her birth, or the time, or the incidents of her earlier life, surely such wren-like singers as myself can do the same."

A firm friend of Mrs. Preston for many years was Paul H. Hayne, who said that Mrs. Preston was one of the best writers of sonnets in America. A frequent commentary upon her songs and poems was that as a poet she was always sure of her motives.

Her sonnets abound in tones of exquisite richness and accurately portray the softer, tender, or lesser emotions, as the case may be.

With the later years of her life the qualities of humanity and spiritual insight always apparent in her poems, even of a very early date, deepened and found expression almost exclusively in poems of religion. These poems were written in a winning, graceful style, wholly without affectation or cant, and possessed of a singular sweetness. Devoutness is perceptible in every line, while the strong light of exaltation seems to illuminate every page. Their themes deal principally with hope, with faith and the joys of purity and love of God. Many seem like inspirations of Heaven. As example:

"'Tis the Master who holds the mallet,
And day by day
He is clipping whatever environs
The form away

PREMIUMS.

No. 1. For 24 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Hunting case, jointed front and back 18 size and guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $30.00.

No. 2. For 16 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Open face, 18 size, 14 karat filled case, screw back and bezel, guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $15.00.

No. 3. For 17 new subscribers at 1.50 for first year, we will give a Ladies' Gold Watch Hunting case, 6 size, stem winder, 14 karat, filled case, screw beze—guaranteed 20 years—retails at $16.00

No. 4. For12 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give a Gents' Silver Watch: 18 size, plain case, open face—retails at $12.50.

No. 5. For 10 new subscribers a Ladies' Silver Watch, O size, plain case, open face—retails for $10.00.

No. 6. For 8 new subscribers, we will give a Nickel Watch, 18 size, screw bezel—retails for $7.00.

No. 7. For 7 new subscribers, we will give solid silver teaspoons—retails for $6.00.

No. 8. For 4 new subscribers, a sugar spoon, sterling gilt engraved—retails at $3.00.

The articles will all be first-class from a jeweller of established reputation.

New subscribers means not change of address to some one else—that would be fraud—but bona fide new subscribers.

For $1.75 we will send the paper for the first year to a new subscriber and a copy of Palestine Photographed. This album contains 64 actual photographic reproductions of picturesque and historical places in the Holy Land on enameled pages, and is a thing of beauty. The descriptive foot notes are good and enhance the interest.

We regard this as a specially desirable premium.

To any one paying up or renewing their subscription and sending $2.25 we will send this album as apremium.

Choosing a Husband.

George Eliot says in one of her novels, that almost any woman can marry any man she makes up her mind to. Whether this is truth or fiction, certainly a woman chooses her husband oftener than he knows it. But she must play the negative part. She can only make herself as attractive as possible in a modest, womanly way and rely upon human nature and manly instinct.

A sensible man naturally seeks a wholesome-looking, healthy, capable companion. Men are not unselfish enough to willingly assume the care of a weak, nervous, debilitated wife.

Men are not attracted by a sallow, pimply complexion, foul breath, or thin, emaciated form, because these symptoms are the sure index of poor digestion and impoverished blood.

A woman afflicted by these mortifying miseries should seek the powerful, purifying and nutritive dental influence of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which completely dispels all unwholesome appearances by clearing and renovating the organic sources of healthful vitality.

It helps the liver to filter all bilious impurities from the blood. It gives the digestive organs power to extract nourishment from the food. It rounds out thin forms; wipes away wrinkles, and gives to the complexion its natural clearness and bloom.

"Your 'Golden Medical Discovery' cured me of a severe case of poisoning of the blood," writes Mrs. Sella Ricca, of Coast, Santa Cruz Co., Cal. "Boils one after another would break out on my arms, and were very painful. I have tried the loudly praised Sarsaparillas without any benefit whatever, and not until I took your 'Discovery' did I get well. That was two years ago, and I have not had a boil or sore of any kind since."

W., N. & N. RAILWAY.

In Effect Sunday, Oct, 27, 1895.

DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY.

NORTH BOUND.		STATIONS.	SOUTH BOUND.
8			7
P. M.		— WILMINGTON —	P. M.
2	00	Lv Mulberry St. Ar	12	40
3	58	Lv Jacksonville Lv	10	42
4	30	Lv..Maysville..Lv	10	09
4	44	Lv Pollocksville Lv	9	55
5	20	Ar..Newbern..Lv	9	20
P. M.			A. M.

Trains 8 and 7 p m make connection with trains on A & N C R R for Morehead City and Beaufort.

Connection with Steamer Neuse at Newbern to and from Elizabeth City and Norfolk Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Steamer Geo D Purdy makes daily trips between Jacksonville and New River points.

H. A. WHITING,
General Manager.

J. W. MARTENIS,
Traffic Manager.

CHILDREN'S COLUMN.

WHAT A BOY CAN DO.

"What can a boy do, anyway?"
"You ask. "What grand or great?"
Listen a moment, lad, I pray,
And I three things will state.

A boy can make the world more bright
By kindly word and deed;
As blossoms call for nature's light,
So hearts love's sunshine need.
A boy can make the world more pure
By lips kept ever clean;
Silence can influence shed as sure
As speech—oft more doth mean.

A boy can make the world more true
By an exalted aim;
Let one a given end pursue,
Others will seek the same.
Full simple things, indeed, these three.
Thus stated in my rhyme;
Yet what, dear lad, could greater be?
What grander, more sublime?

—Selected.

HAPPY IN DOING RIGHT.

"Nellie, will you take care of little sister for an hour? I want to go out and see a sick neighbor."

It was mamma who asked the favor.

For just one moment there came a frown on Nellie's face.

It made her look very unattractive.

"O, mamma! Ruth's coming to go over with to Elsie's to see Susie's kittens. They've got new ones. Four."

"What time is Ruth coming?" said mamma.

"About four o'clock."

"Well, I hope to be back by that time, and then you can go."

But before this the frown was all gone. Nellie had remembered that she was trying very hard to please the dear Saviour who loved her so. And she knew, as all our little Sunbeams know, that the way to please him is by not trying to please ourselves.

"I would do it anyway mamma," she said, gently.

"I am sure you would, my dear," said mamma, kissing the two as she hurried away.

Little Patty had not been well; it was not easy to please her. Nellie tried her very best. She told her stories. She sang to her. She showed her pictures and brought flowers for her.

It seemed a long hour before Ruth came. And then—mamma had not come.

"Oh, Ruth! I can't go."

"You must," said Ruth. "Elsie says those kittens are just lovely. One white, and one gray, and one black, and one spotted. And she says Susie's going to give away all but one."

'Oh! I wish I could have one," said Nellie

"I'm going to ask her for one. I want to hurry, so I can have my pick. Of course I'd choose the white one."

The very one Nellie would have chosen.

A few tears came as Ruth hurried away. Very likely all the kittens would be gone before she could get there.

But she still tried to be gentle with the teasing little sister, and had coaxed her to sleep in her arms by the time mamma came.

What was that peeping from mamma's shawl? A tiny white furry face with bright eyes.

"O, my darling!" said mamma, "I am sorry I have been so long. But I heard that Susie was giving away her kittens, so I went round that way to get you one."

Don't you think Nellie was happy as she fondled the pretty thing?

Don't you think any little girl would have been?

But don't you think she would have been happy in doing right even without the kitten mother brought her?—Sydney Dayre, in Sunbeam.

ATTENTION CHILDREN!

Feeling sure that our little friends in North Carolina are not behind those of other States, we shall be glad to have the names of all who learn the catechisms by heart, or who recite perfectly any specially appointed portion of Scripture. Our friends of other States are also asked to join us.

LETTER-BOX.

Dear Presbyterian:—I have never written a letter to you before so I thought I would write one. My grandmother takes your nice paper and I enjoy reading the letters and Children's Column. I will answer Mary Stewart Holmes' question. I must close now. I remain

Your little friend,
SARA HARGRAVE.

Charlotte, N. C.

Dear Mr. Editor:—As I have never written to you I will write today and answer some questions. I am seven years old. I study second reader and spelling book. I have a little brother named John. I think he is very smart. He is over two years old. I must close now or my letter will be too long.

Your little friend,
MARIAN ARROWOOD.

Woodleaf, N. C.

Dear Mr. Editor:—As you published my first lettter I will write another. I love to read the letters in the Letter-Box, am always glad when there are a lot of them. We go to school to our aunt, Miss Mary Jones. She is a good teacher and I like to go to school to her. I have been through fractions one time and almost through them again. I am eleven years old and have a brother nine and a sister seven. Mama teaches me music. I like to take it very much. I will close, hoping to see this and a good many more letters in the Letter Box.

Your unknown friend.
REBECCA J. RUSSELL.

Floral College, N. C.

Dear Mr. Editor:—I am a little girl twelve years old. We moved to Texas three years ago, and we have been living in Ferris ever since. We take your good paper, and I enjoy reading the letters from my little cousins and friends in North Carolina. I have two sisters and three brothers. We all go to the Ferris Institute except my little sister Mary who is only five years old. There are four churches in Ferris, the Cumberland Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist, and Campbellite. We have organized a church here, but have no church, and as there are only a few of us we have not yet been able to build a church. We are trying to raise money to do so. Our mothers belong to the Ladies' Aid Society and have made $50, and our society, the Little Workers, has made four dollars. We have been at work about three months. I will close, wishing you much success.

Your little friend,
HENRIETTA MALLOY.

Ferris, Texas.

Dear Presbyterian:—We boys like to read letters better than to write them. I came here two years ago. I came from Burnsville on the other side of the Blue Ridge mountains. I am thirteen years old, and have a sister with me at the Orphans' Home. Mrs. Chambers and Miss Mitchell of the Presbyterian church, Statesville, provide my clothing for me. We play base-ball and hide and seek a great deal. When the boys are good through the week they go fishing or hunting Saturday evening.

Your friend,
DAN J. CARTER.

Barium Springs, N. C.

Dear Mr. Editor:—Please allow me a small space in your paper as I am very fond of reading the little letters in the Letter Box. I am a little girl nine years old. I have too little sisters younger than I am. We all go to Sunday-school every Sunday. We all love to go to school every day. Our teacher is Mr. George Leonard. We like him very much. We have preaching twice a month at the Presbyterian church. Our family belong to it. Our pastor is Mr. Wakefield. We all like him so well and always glad to see him come So I will close, hoping to see this in print.

Your little unknown friend,
LINA B. HEMINGWAY.

Shallotte, N. C.

I CURE FITS

When I say I cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again. I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a lifelong study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my Infallible remedy. Give Express and Postoffice address.

Prof. W. H. PEEKE, F. D., 4 Cedar St., New York

Cotton.

With careful rotation of crops and liberal fertilizations, cotton lands will improve. The application of a proper fertilizer containing sufficient Potash often makes the difference between a profitable crop and failure. Use fertilizers containing not less than 3 to 4%

Actual Potash.

Kainit is a complete specific against "Rust."

All about Potash—the results of its use by actual experiment on the best farms in the United States—is told in a little book which we publish and will gladly mail free to any farmer in America who will write for it.

GERMAN KALI WORKS,
93 Nassau St., New York.

Tracts and Tract Volumes.

Presbyterian Committee of Publication.

Early Presbyterian Missions, by A. D. Tadlock	5c
Daisy's Death Bed, by T. W. Hooper, D. D.,	5c
Take My Yoke Upon You, by T. F. Hay	5c
What We Believe, by L. P. Bowen, D. D.	5c
Relation of Presbyterian Church to Other Denominations, by J. C. Malloy	5c
What Is To Be Your Life-Work? by A. W. Fraser	5c
Latest Infidelity, by Dr. R. L. Dabney	10c
Five Points of Calvinism, by Dr. Dabney	10c
Call to Gospel Ministry, by Dr. Dabney	5c
Christianity and Law, by Dr. B. M. Palmer,	5c
The Pious Physician, by Dr. Palmer,	5c
Hindrances to Uniting With the Church, by Dr. Palmer,	5c
The Culdee Church, by Dr. T. V. Moore	15c
Christian Baptism, by J. P. Hobson, Esq.,	10c
The Church Fair, by R. F. Campbell, D. D.,	5c
Mode of Scriptural Baptism, by Rev. J. L. Reed	15c
How Was Jesus Baptized? by Dr. M. H. Houston,	5c
Divine and Human, by Rev. L. H. Wilson,	25c
Robbie Stuart, by Mrs. J. L. Stuart,	15c
Ah-Moy, by Mrs. Stuart,	15c
Bible Baptism, by Dr. R. P. Kerr,	10c
Card Playing, by Rev. W. A. Alexander,	5c
Gospel Ministry, by Dr. J. B. Shearer,	5c
Education for the Ministry, by Dr. R. Cecil,	5c
Genesis of the Westminster Assembly, by Dr. F. Patton,	10c
Election of Grace, by Dr. G. D. Armstrong,	5c
Infant Baptism, by Rev. I. S. McElroy	5c
Letters to An Inquirer, by Dr. H. H. Hawes,	5c
Abrahamic Covenant, by Dr. Hawes,	10c
Presbyterianism in Catechetical Form, by Mrs. M. W. Pratt,	10c
Romanism, by Dr. T. D. Witherspoon,	15c
Assurance of Grace and Salvation, by Dr. W. S. Plumer	5c
The Ruling Elder, by Hon J. W. Lapsley,	10c
The Presbyterian Church, by Dr. J. W. Primrose,	5c
Appeal to Young Ministers, by Rev. C. H. Dobbs,	5c
How Children Are Saved, by Rev. D. Young,	5c
Water Baptism, by Dr. Stacy,	15c
Polity of the Presbyterian Church, by Rev. W. B. Arrowood,	5c

JAS. K. HAZEN, SEC'Y & TREAS.
RICHMOND, VA.

$4 PER DAY SURE SALARY OR A COMMISSION. DO you want honorable, steady employment the year round, at good wages, at your own home or to travel? If so, send 4c in stamps for our wholesale price-list and particulars. We furnish best of bank references.

AMERICAN TEA CO., Detroit, Michigan

Good Goods--Low Prices,

Flour, Meat, Sugar, Salt, Meal, Molasses, Coffee, Peanuts, Cheese, Crackers, Snuff, Tobacco.

Consignments of Cotton, Naval Stores and Country Produce will receive careful attention.

Hall & Pearsall,

Wholesale Grocers & Com. Merchant

Corner Nutt and Muiberry Sts.

SECULAR NEWS.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Hon. Walter H. Page, of Boston, will deliver the annual literary address before the graduating class of the State Normal and Industrial College.

The fruit crop of Rutherfordton is thought to be killed.

The next session of the Teachers' Assembly will meet at Morehead City, June 15th.

Kings Mountain will soon have a telephone exchange.

Farmers in the Marion section have been greatly delayed on account of rain. A severe hail storm recently did much damage.

The movement to plant flower beds at the different stations along the S. A. L., will greatly beautify the depots and give much pleasure to travellers.

Irish potatoes, beans and berries have been seriously hurt in the New Berne section.

A fire in Lumberton on the 2nd inst., destroyed fifteen buildings and the loss is estimated at $100,000.

The contract for the Atlantic Beach Hotel has been given, and this charming resort will be ready for guests by June.

Mr. J. R. Whichard, formerly of the Hickory Times has taken charge of the Robesonian, published at Lumberton.

The report comes from Rowan county that the fruit is safe, not having been injured, as was feared, from the recent frost.

The only damage done to fruit in the Fayetteville section was to the uncovered strawberries.

A new schedule will go into effect the middle of April which will greatly facilitate the shipment of berries and truck.

A prominent feature of the fine arts exhibit of the Exposition of the Carolinas will be the sale of work by prominent artists. Valuable exhibits are coming in, and special requests are made for relics and curios.

DOMESTIC.

Nebraska experienced a large snow storm last week.

Six German capitalists are negotiating for a site of land near Snow Mill, Md., for the purpose of cultivating the beet and erecting a large factory for the manufacture of sugar.

A cloudburst on the 1st inst., did considerable damage in the section around Fulton, Ky.

The largest block of slate ever quarried was that of the Keystone State Co., of Bethlehem, Pa., on March 21st. The block contained 12,663 cubet feet.

The Naval Reserves will have at their disposal a number of ships for practice during the summer.

The orange crop of De Soto county, Florida, is estimated at 80,000 boxes.

The Carnegie Steel Co., of Pittsburgh, Pa., has gotten the contract for the first fire proof steel building ever erected in the empire of Japan. A Japanese engineer and architect are in this country consulting about details and the work will be done entirely by native workmen.

Alabama has exported 50,000 tons of iron in the past three months. These shipments have been made to Italy and Australia.

FOREIGN.

The Congress of Mexico was formally opened April 1st.

Italy will be represented at the dedication of the Grant Memorial in New York on the 23d inst., by the cruiser Liguric.

The queen regent of Spain has cabled congratulations to Gen. Weyler upon the capture of Gen. Rivera and the insurgent army.

Col. Vassos of the Grecian army has been promoted to the generalship. The blockade of Greece was announced for the 6th inst.

A contract has been secured from the goverment of Venezuela by which all the telegraph lines in that county will be controlled by American capitalists.

Our friends George Batten & Co., of New York, who are using our columns in connection with their advertising agency say well in the circular they put forth to advertisers. We extract the following:

You can reach the buying half of the American people by the Religious papers without much doubling—few families take two religious papers; many lend—and every copy counts.

There are in the UnitedStates,in round numbers, seventeen-million members of Protestant churches, adults; say, two to a family; more than half the American families and generally the buying half. There are also one-and-a-half million Catholic families—they that read are the buying Catholics.

The churches are filled with prosperous people, well fed and clothed and generous-living. People that go to church are the people that read Religious papers.

There are twelve or thirteen hundred religious papers; six-million copies go to these people accustomed to eating when they are hungry, drinking when they are thirsty, buying whatever they want, and increasing their wants by reading.

These people are well-to-do because they are prudent; they save their money from follies and buy good things.

CINCINNATI BELL FOUNDRY CO. CINCINNATI, OHIO. Sole Makers of the Blymyer BELLS FOR CHURCH SCHOOL FIRE ALARM &c. Catalogue with 2500 testimonials, Prices and Terms FREE. Mention this paper.

Shopping.

Shopping done in Philadelphia by a lady of experience and taste. No extra charge. Best references. Send for circular.

Miss M. ANDERSON, 333 Pine St., Philadelphia. Pa.

SEABOARD AIR LINE S.A.L. VESTIBULED LIMITED TRAINS DOUBLE DAILY SERVICE TO ATLANTA, CHARLOTTE, ATHENS, WILMINGTON, NEW ORLEANS, CHATTANOOGA, AND NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA, WASHINGTON, NORFOLK, RICHMOND.

Schedule in Effect Feb. 7th, 1897.

WESTWARD.

	No. 41.	No. 403.
Lv Wilmington	*3 20pm	.....
Lv Lumberton	5 26pm	.....
Lv Maxton	6 12pm	.....
Lv Laurinburg	6 38pm	.....
Ar Hamlet	6 56pm	.....
Lv Hamlet	7 13pm	*5 10 am
Lv Rockingham	7 30pm	2 23 am
Lv Wadesboro	8 11pm	.....
Lv Marshville	8 48pm	6 25 am
Ar Monroe	9 12pm	6 48 am
Lv Monroe	9 35pm	7 30 am
Ar Charlotte	10 25pm	8 30 am
Ar Mt. Holly	.....	9 10 am
Ar Lincolnton	.....	10 35 am
Ar Shelby	.....	11 43a m
Ar Ellenboro	.....	12 20p m
ArRutherfordton	.....	12 54p m

†8 40am	Lv	Hamlet	Ar 6 20p m
10 00am	Ar	Cheraw	Ar † 5 00p m

EASTWARD.

	No. 38.	No. 402
LvRutherfordton	.....	*4 35p m
Lv Ellenboro	.....	5 15p m
Lv Shelby	.....	6 03p m
Lv Lincolnton	.....	7 00p m
Lv Mt Holly	.....	7 50p m
Lv Charlotte	*5 10am	8 25p m
Ar Monroe	5 58am	9 10p m
Lv Monroe	6 05am	9 40p m
Lv Marshville	6 25am	.....
Lv Wadesboro	7 01am	10 31 pm
Lv Rockingham	7 41am	11 05p m
Ar Hamlet	7 55am	11 23p m
Lv Hamlet	8 45am	.....
Lv Laurinburg	9 11am	.....
Lv Maxton	9 30am	.....
Lv Lumberton	10 18am	.....
Ar Wilming on	12 30pm	.....

NORTHWARD.

Lv Hamlet	*8 15am	*11 23pm
Ar Raleigh	11 30am	2 11pm
Ar Portsmouth	5 50pm	7 30am
Ar Richmond	*6 50pm	* 8 15am
Ar Washington	11 10pm	12 31pm
Ar New York	6 53am	6 23pm

SOUTHWARD.

Lv Monroe	*6 48am	*9 25p m
Ar Abbeville	11 05am	1 40a m
Ar Athens	1 15pm	3 45a m
Ar Atlanta (Central Time)	2 50pm	5 20a m

*Daily. †Daily, except Sunday.

Both trains make immediate connections at Atlanta for Montgomery, Mobile, New Orleans, Texas, California, Mexico, Chattanooga, Nashville, Memphis, Macon, Florida.

For Tickets, Sleepers, etc., apply to

B. A. NEWLAND, Gen. Agt. P. Dept. 6 Kimball House, Atlanta, Ga.

THOS. D. MEARES, Gen'l. Agent, Wilmington, N. C.

E. ST. JOHN, Vice-President and General Manager.

H. W. B. GLOVER, Traffic Manager.
V. E. McBEE, Gen'l. Supt.
T. J ANDERSON, Gen'l. Pass. Agt.
General Offices, Portsmouth, Va.

C. F. &Y. V. Railway Co.

JOHN GILL, Receiver.

CONDENSED SCHEDULE.

IN EFFECT April 4th, 1897.

NORTH BOUND.

	No. 2. Daily
Leave Wilmington	8.00a.m
Arrive Fayetteville	1 21 "
Leave Fayetteville	11.31 "
Leave Fayetteville Junction	11.37 "
Leave Sanford	1.00p.m.
Leave Climax	2.55 "
Arrive Greensboro	3.25 "
Leave Greensboro	3.35 "
Leave Stokesdale	4.23 "
Leave WalnutCove	4.55 "
Leave Rural Hall	5.26 "
Arrive Mt. Airy	6.50 "

SOUTH BOUND.

	No. 1. Daily
Leave Mt. Airy	8.40a m
Leave Rural Hall	10.04 "
Leave Walnut Cove	10.32 "
Leave Stokesdale	11·07p.m
Arrive Greensboro	11.55 "
Leave Greensboro	12.15 "
Leave Climax	12.43 "
Leave Sanford	2.40 "
Arrive Fayetteville Junction	3.55 "
Arrive Fayetteville	3.58 "
Leave Fayetteville	4.22 "
Arrive Wilmington	7.30 "

NORTH BOUND.

	No. 4. Daily
Leave Bennettsville	8.10a. m
ArriveMaxton	9.23 "
LeaveMaxton	9.33 "
Leave Red Springs	10.04 "
Leave Hope Mills	10.52 "
Arrive Fayetteville	11.16 "

SOUTH BOUND

	No. 3, Daily
Leave Fayetteville	4.25p m
Leave Hope Mills	4.46 "
Leave Red Springs	5.35 "
ArriveMaxton	6 10 "
Leave Maxton	6.18 "
ArriveBennettsville	7.30 "

NORTH BOUND.

	No. 16 Mixed. Daily ex Sunday.
Leave Ramseur	6.45a. m
Leave Climax	8.35 "
Arrive Greensboro	9.20 "
Leave Greensboro	9.35 "
Leave Stokesdale	11.07 "
Arrive Madison	11.55 "

SOUTH BOUND.

	No. 15. Mixed. Daily ex Sunday.
Leave Madison	12.30p.m
Leave Stokesdale	1.28 "
Arrive Greensboro	2.40 "
Leave Greensboro	3.25 "
Leave Climax	4.20 "
Arrive Ramseur	6.05 "

NORTH BOUND CONNECTIONS,

at Fayetteville with the Atlantic Coast Line for all points North and East at Sanford with the Seaboard Air Line, at Greensboro with the Southern Railway Company, at Walnut Cove with the Norfolk & Western R. R., for Winston-Salem.

SOUTH BOUND CONNECTIONS,

at Walnut Cove with the Norfolk & Western R .R., for Roanoke and all points North and West, at Greensboro with the Southern Railway Company for Raleigh, Richmond and all points North and East, at Fayetteville with the Atlantic Coast Line for all points South, at Maxton with the Seaboard Air Line for Charlotte, Atlanta and all points South and Southwest.

W. E. KYLE, Gen'l Passenger Agent
J.W. FRY, Gen'l Manager

COAL, WOOD AND SHINGLES.

Best quality and lowest prices. Satisfaction guaranteed. Your patronage solicited.

Respectfully, P. R. FOWLER, Successor to Fowler&Morrison.

SAY SOES.

Truth, and a soul that is ready for truth, meet like the fuel and the flame.

The opportunity of making happy is more scarce than we imagine; the punishment of missing it, is never to meet with it again; and the use we make of it leaves us an eternal sentiment of satisfaction or repentance.—Rousseau

Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers can be applied when at home, and is uniformly successful in coloring a brown or black. Hence its great popularity.

I have alway said that the greatest object in education is to accustom a young man gradually to be his own master.—Sydney Smith.

WHO'S SHELLABERGER?

He's the Wire Fence Man, of Atlanta, Ga., and sells the best and cheapest fencing in existence for all purposes. Catalogue free. Write for it.

WILMINGTON MARKET.

FOR

WEEK ENDING, APRIL 7, 1897.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE: Machine barrels 27 cents and country barrels 26½ cents—closing steady.

ROSIN: Strained $1.40 and Good Strained $1.45 until Monday when price declined 5 cents on each quality.

CRUDE TURPENTINE: Hard $1.30 Soft $1.80—closing firm.

TAR: Firm at 95 cents throughout.

COTTON: Quiet at 7 cents for Middling.

TIMBER: Hear of no change in prices.

MONEY TO LOAN.

on Eight Years Time, secured by Mortgage on Real Estate. Monthly payment, savings investment stock for sale, also FULL PAID COUPON STOCK, with semi annual cash dividends. Loans made promptly in any part of the State. Agents wanted. Address,

Mechanics and Investors Union
22 Pullen Building, Raleigh, N. C.

THE QUAKER CRIMPED CRUST BREAD PAN.

Gives more bread from a given amount of flour than any other Pan. And it is sweeter, better bread em moist inside, rich brown outside, and never burnt. It can't burn. The steam in the Pan wont let the bread burn.

It is more nutritious, and will keep longer than any other bread without becomming stale.

ALL DEALERS.

Asbury-Paine Mfg. Co., Wayne Junction, Pa.

ATLATION COAST LINE.

Schedule in Effect Feb. 8th 1897.

DEPARTURES FROM WILMINGTON—NORTHBOUND.

DAILY No. 48—Passenger—Due Magnolia 10 59 a m, Warsaw 11 11 a m, Goldsboro 12 01 a m, Wilson 12 48 pm, Rocky Mount 1 20 p m, Tarboro 2 50 p m, Weldon 3 39 p m, Petersburg 5 32 p m, Richmond 6 40 p m, Norfolk 6 05 p m, Washington 11 10 p m, Baltimore 12 53 a m, Philadelphia 3 45 a m, New York 6 53 a m, †Boston 3 00 pm.

DAILY No. 40—Passenger—Due Magnolia 8 55 p m, Warsaw 9 10 p m, Goldsboro 10 10 p m, Wilson 11 06 p m, †Tarboro 6 45 a m, Rocky Mount 11 55 p m, Weldon 1 44 a m, †Norfolk 10 30 a m, Petersburg 3 22 a m, Richmond 4 20 a m, Washington 7 41 a m, Baltimore 5 09 a m, Philadelphia 11 35 a m New York 2 03 p m, Boston 8 30 p m.

SOUTHBOUND

DAILY No. 55—Passenger—Due Lake Waccamaw 4 32 p m, Chadbourn 5 04 p m, Marion 6 05 p m, Florence 6 45 p m, Sumter 8 45 p m, Columbia 10 05 p m, Denmark 6 20 a m, Augusta 8 10 a m, Macon 11 00 a m, Atlanta 12 15 p m, Charleston 10 20 p m, Savannah 12 50 am, Jacksonville 7 30 a m, St Augustine 10 30 a m, Tampa 5 45 p m.

ARRIVALS AT WILMINGTON—FROM THE NORTH.

DAILY No. 49—Passenger—Leave Boston 11 03 p m, New York 9 00 p m, Philadelphia 12 05 a m, Baltimore 3 50 a m, Washington 4 30 a m, Richmond 9 05 a m, Petersburg 10 (a m,) Norfolk 8 40 a m, Weldon 11 50 a m, Tarboro 12 12 p m, Rocky Mount 12 45p m, Wilson 2 12 p m, Goldsboro 3 10 p m, Warsaw 4 02 p m, Magnolia 4 16 p m.

DAILY No. 41—Passenger—Leave Boston 12 00 night, New York 9 30 a m, Philadelphia 12 09 p m Baltimore 2 25 p m, Washington 3 46 p m, Richmond 7 30 p m, Petersburg 8 12 p m, †Norfolk 2 20 p m, Weldon 9 43 p m, †Tarboro 6 05 p m, Rocky Mount 5 45 a m, leave Wilson 6 20 a m, Goldsboro 7 03 am, Warsaw 7 53 a m, Magnolia 8 06 a m.

FROM THE SOUTH.

DAILY No. 54—Passenger—Leave Tampa 9 25 a m, Sanford 2 19 p m, Jacksonville 7 00 p m, Savannah 12 45 night, Charleston 5 30 am Columbia 5 50 a m, Atlanta 7 15 a m, Macon 9 00 a m, Augusta 2 45 p m, Denmark 4 55 pm, Sumter 6 45 a m, Florence 8 55 a m, Marion 9 34 a m, Chadbourn 10 35 a m. Lake Waccamaw 11 06 a m.

†Daily except Sunday

Trains on the Scotland Neck Branch road leave Weldon 4 10 p m, Halifax 4 38 p m, arrive Scotland Neck at 5 20, Greenville 6 57 p m, Kinston 7 55 p m. Returning leaves Kinston 7 20 a m, Greenville 8 22 a m, arriving Halifax at 11 00 a m, Weldon 11 20 a m. daily except Sunday.

Trains on Washington Branch leave Washington 8 00 a m, and 2 p m, arrive Parmele 8 50 a m and 3 40 p m, returning leave Parmele 9 50 a m and 6 30 p m, arrive Washington 11 25 a m, and 7 20 p m. Daily except Sunday.

Train leaves Tarboro, N C, daily, 5 30 p m, arrives Plymouth 7 40 p m. Returning leaves Plymouth daily, 7.30 a. m. arrives Tarboro 9.50 a. m.

Trains on Conway Branch leave Hub 8 30 a. m., Chadbourn 10 40 a. m., arive Conway 1 00 p. m. leave Conway 2 25 p. m., Chadbourn 5 20 p. m., arrive Hub 6 00 p. m. Daily except Sunday.

Train on Midland N C Branch leaves Goldsboro daily, except Sunday, 7 10 a .m, arriving Smithfield 8 30 a m, Returning leaves Smithfield 9 00 a m. arrive at Goldsboro 10 25 a m.

Train on Nashville Branch leaves Rocky Mount at 4 30 p m, arrives Nashville 5 05 p m, Spring Hope 5 30 p m. Returning leaves Spring Hope 8 00 a m, Nashville 8 35 a m, arrives at Rocky Mount 9 05 a m, daily except Sunday.

Train on Clinton Branch leaves Warsaw for Clinton daily, except Sunday, 11 10 a m, and 9.15 p.m. Returning leaves Clinton at 7 00 a m, and 3.00 pm

Wilson and Fayetteville Branch leave Wilson 2 05 p m, 11 16 p m, arrive Selma 2 50 p m, Smithfield 2 58 p m, Dunn 3 35 p m. Fayetteville 4 15 p m, 1 07 a m, Rowland 5 38p m. Returning leave Rowland 10 00 a m, Fayetteville 11 20 a m, 10 20 p m, Dunn 12 07 p m, Smithfield 12 48 p m, Selma 1 00 p m, arrive Wilson 1 42 p m, 12 10 a m.

H. M. EMERSON, Ass't. Gen'l Passenger Agent.
J. R. KENLY, Gen'l Manager.
T. M. EMERSON Traffic Manager.

PEACE INSTITUTE FOR YOUNG LADIES, RALEIGH, N. C.

This Institute offers thorough collegiate courses in English, History, Literature, Mathematics, Sciences, Ancient and Modern Languages, Music, Art, Elocution and Physical Culture.

As to its high standard for graduation, its thoroughness of instruction, its moderate charges for the advantages offered, and the extent of its courses in Art and Music, this Institute cannot be surpassed.

It offers also thorough preparatory courses. Correspondence solicited.

Board and English Tuition One Year $200.

For illustrated catalogue and full particulars, address the Principal, JAS. DINWIDDIE, M. A., University of Virginia.

Term begins Sept. 16th, 1896. Closes first of June.

NEDERLAND - - - LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY LIMITED.

Established in 1858 in Amsterdam, Holland.

United States Branch, 874 Broadway, New York.

LOUIS I. DUBOURCQ, LL. D., President.

OLD, RELIABLE, CONSERVATIVE, STRONG.

NEW SYSTEM OF LIFE INSURANCE,

Combining Low Rates with Ample Security and Guaranteed Results

YOU KNOW WHAT YOU ARE TO PAY AND YOU KNOW WHAT YOU WILL RECEIVE.

For Plans, Rates and further information apply to YOUNG & HUNT, General State Agents,

HENDERSON, N. C.

Good Special and Local Agents Wanted.

B. F. HALL, OSCAR PEARSALL

HALL & PEARSALL

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

Cor. NUTT and MULBERRY STS.

WILMINGTON, - N. C.

—AND—

—WHOLESALE DEALERS IN—

HEAVY GROCERIES

WE ALWAYS CARRY A LARGE AND WELL SELECTED STOCK OF

Flour, Sugar, Coffee, Molasses, Salt Fish,

Hay Corn Oats Tobacco Snuff, Cigars, Hoop-Iron, Nails, Glue,

Cotton Bagging and Ties.

☞We solicit the patronage of thpublic. and guarantee to give satisfaction. Correspondence invited.

☞Consignments of Naval Stores, Cotton and all CountryProduce will receive careful attention.

HALL & PEARSALL

WILMINGTON, N. C

THINGS USEFUL.

Don't throw away lemon or orange peel. Instead, keep it for kindling the fire. Put the peelings under the stove in tin pans and let them stay there until thoroughly dry, and then they are ready to kindle the fire.

Honey and Tar Cough Cure.—Put into boiling water a shallow tin dish containing a tablespoonful of tar. When the tar is hot, add a pint of extracted honey, and stir well for half an hour, adding to it a level teaspoonful of pulverized borax. Keep in a bottle well corked. Dose, a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours, according to severity of cough.

Potato Chowder.—Peel and slice a dozen medium sized potatoes, put a large teaspoonful of butter and a quart of hot water in a stewpan, add salt, and when boiling hot add the potatoes and cook slowly for half an hour. Add a pint of milk, let it just come to a boil, add more seasoning if necessary, thicken slightly, and serve immediately. A little pulverized, dried parsley or celery seed, or both, will improve the chowder if added a few minutes before serving.

WORTH & WORTH,

—OFFER FOR SALE—

BEST QUALITY, FULL WEIGHT

FLOUR, BACON, SUGAR, LARD

MOLASSES, MEAL, SALT,

LIME, CEMENT,

Plaster, Hay, Corn, Hoop Iron, Oats

Rivets Glue.

BUNGS, CANNED GOODS,

At Low Prices.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE.

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS, DESIGNS, COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain, free, whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Oldest agency for securing patents in America. We have a Washington office. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN,

beautifully illustrated, largest circulation of any scientific journal, weekly, terms $3.00 a year; $1.50 six months. Specimen copies and HAND BOOK ON PATENTS sent free. Address

MUNN & CO.,
361 Broadway, New York.

WATCH FOR A FEW HOURS' WORK

Taking orders for our VISITING CARDS, latest styles, printed equal to engraved, 25c. a pack. Everybody wants them. Get up a Club of 10 and we will give you a HANDSOME NICKEL WATCH for your trouble. Write to-day for samples and premium list, containing 100 useful prizes we give our Agents. Cash commissions if desired. Address,

W. M. ANDERSON & BROTHERS,
No. 2 S. Twelfth St., - RICHMOND, VA.

Presbyterian High School

—OF—

NORTH CAROLINA.

J. M. OLDHAM, Principal.

Full corps of instructors, all college-bred men representing the leading institutions of North Carolina, Virginia and South Carolina A non-military school, located in the country in middle North Carolina, with excellent climate.

Instruction Thorough,
Discipline Mild Yet Firm,
Physical Development Looked After
Rates Reasonable.
Endorsed by Synod of North Carolina.
For catalogues address,

J. M. OLDHAM, Principal,
Mebane, N.C.

DAVIDSON COLLEGE,

DAVIDSON, N. C

The Sixtieth Year Begins September 10th, 1896.

FACULTY

Rev. J. B. Shearer, D. D., LL.D., President, and Professor of Bibl cal Instruction an Moral Philosophy.
Henry Louis Smith, Ph. D., Vice-President, and Prof. of Natural Philosophy.
W. D. Vinson, M. A., LL.D., Prof. of Mathematics
C. R. Harding, Ph.D., Professor of Greek and German.
W. R. Grey, Ph.D. Professor of Latin and French.
Thos. P. Harrison, Ph.D., Professor of English.
W. J. Martin, Jr., M. D., Ph.D., Prof. of Chemistry.
F. F. Rowe, A. B., Instructor.

GYMNASIUM DIRECTOR.

VOCAL MUSIC.

CLASSICAL,
MATHEMATICAL.
SCIENTIFIC,
LITERARY,
BIBLICAL.
COMMERCIAL.

SEND FOR A CATALOGUE.

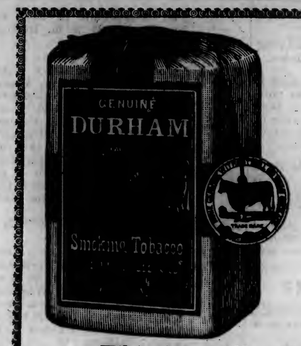
Terms Reasonable.
Location Healthful,
Accommodations Excellent,
Teaching Unsurpassed,
Gymnasium Complete.

Address THE PRESIDENT.

DO NOT FORGET.

THAT OUR BRAND OF FLOUR

THE LADIES' FAVORITE



Is the best Flour on the market. Double Patent, and produces more bread than any other.

Large lot of Groceries of all kinds always on hand

APPLES, ORANGES,
RAISINS,
NUTS, &c.

R. W. HICKS

Wilmington, N. C.

This is the very best Smoking Tobacco made.

Blackwell's Genuine

BULL DURHAM

You will find one coupon inside each 2 ounce bag and two coupons inside each 4 ounce bag. Buy a bag, read the coupon and see how to get your share of $250,000 in presents.

ORGANIZED 1856.

J. RHODES BROWN, President.

Wm. C. COART, Secretary.

A HOME COMPANY,

Seeking Home Patronage.

Strong! Prompt! Reliable! Liberal!

Agents at all Cities, Towns and Villages in the Southern States.

W. W. HODGES, Agent,
Wilmington N. C.

E. NYE HUTCHISON, Agent,
Charlotte N. C

H. A. TUCKER. R. D TUCKER.

TUCKER'S

GRANITE AND MARBLE WORKS,

DEALERS IN ALL KINDS OF

Granite and Marble Monuments

CONTRACTORS FOR BUILDING STONE

H. A. TUCKER & BRO.,

No. 310 Front St.,

Wilmington, N C.

STEEL WIRE FENCE BOARD.

A Barbless Horse and Cattle Fence; Cabled Poultry and Garden Fence; Cabled Field and Hog Fence. Yard, Cemetery and Grave Lot Fencing on Steel Post and Rails a Specialty. We Pay the Freight. Catalogue and testimonials free.

K. L. SHELLABERGER, ATLANTA, GA.

M. H. JONES,

DURHAM, N. C.,

Keeps on hand a fine assortment of

STERLING SILVER WARE,

JEWELRY, DIAMONDS,

WATCHES, CLOCKS

and everything found in a first-class jewelry store.

☞ Repairing of all kinds, especially such as is usually sent North, done promptly and in best style; reputation tablished for this class of work

1865. W. S. MOORE. 1896.

GREENSBORO, N C.

General Merchandise, &c., &c.

Organs from $24 up to any price.

Pianos from $150 up to any price

Special prices to Ministers, Churches and SundaySchools

North Carolina Presbyterian.

New Series—VOL. XXIX—No. 1,527. WILMINGTON, N C., THURSDAY, APRIL 15, 1897. Old Series. Vol. XXXIX—No. 2,687

Subscription price $2.00 a year.
Ministers $1.00
Missionaries $1.50, including postage.
New Subscribers $1.50 for first year.

THE OFFICE OF THE PRESBYTERIAN IS IN THE ALLEN BUILDING ON PRINCESS STREET—ROOM No. 6, ON SECOND FLOOR.

(For Contents see Second Page)

☞ Checks or orders in payment of subscription may be made payable either to John McLaurin, or to North Carolina Presbyterian. Please send forward promptly.

WHAT WE KNOW.

That more and more a Providence
Of love is understood,
Making the springs of time and sense
Sweet with eternal good—

That death seems but a covered way
Which opens into light,
Wherein no blinded child can stray
Beyond the Father's sight—

That care and trial seem at last,
Through memory's sunset air,
Like mountain ranges overpast
In purple distance fair—

That all the jarring notes of life
Seem blending in a psalm,
And all the angels of its strife
Slow rounding into calm.

And so the shadows fall apart,
And so the west winds play;
And all the windows of my heart
I open to the day.

—John Greenleaf Whittier.

KIND WORDS.

A dear mother lay dying, and her oldest son, as he knelt by her bedside, cried, "You have been a good mother to us." The dying woman opened her eyes, and with a feeble smile whispered, "You never said so before, John," and she was gone. If we have kind words to speak, let us speak them now, while our loved ones are yet with us. If we have loving deeds to do, let them be done to-day. Flowers on coffin lids and epitaphs on tombstones bring no cheer to the living. And how often they but contrast the more strongly with the absence of the gifts and the kind words while our dear ones lived.—Exchange.

By every tear which God hath wiped from your eyes, by every anxiety which he has soothed, by every fear which he has dispelled, by every want he has supplied, by every mercy which he has bestowed, strengthen yourselves for all that awaits you through the remainder of your pilgrimage.—Exchange.

REV. M. D. MCNEILL.

Rev. Malcom Daniel McNeill, second son of Dr. John McNeill, was born in Moore county, near Manly, N. C., Oct. 17th, 1862.

His parents are both of Scotch descent, and the Presbyterian faith has been their heritage, descending, under the divine benediction, through many generations. He was baptized in infancy and brought up under the preaching of that consecrated and godly pastor, Rev. Martin McQueen. In his thirteenth year he was received into the full communion of Union church, and afterwards became a ruling elder in the same church. After receiving a primary education in the neighborhood schools, he entered Union Home School in Moore county, where he was prepared for college by that eminent educator Prof. John E. Kelly. He entered the University of North Carolina, in 1884. After spending one year there, he began teaching, and in this vocation was eminently successful.

For five and one-half years he taught Latin and Greek in the well-known Thompson school, Siler City, N. C., and won an enviable reputation as an instructor, organizer, disciplinarian and character builder. He was an inspiration to those whom he taught. Many young men who have already become useful and prominent, throughout this and other States, were inspired by him to a higher, a purer, and a nobler life.

On December 26th, 1889, he was happily married to Miss Annie Harriet Coble, daughter of Mr. Geo. W. Coble, of Siler City, N. C.

Becoming deeply impressed that he was called to the Gospel ministry, he was received under care of Fayetteville Presbytery at Pittsboro April, 1892. In his private preparation for the ministry his eyes were overtaxed and his entering the seminary was delayed for one year. During this interval he served Union, Cameron, and Cypress churches with great acceptance. After spending one year at Union Seminary, Virginia, he was licensed by Fayetteville Presbytery at Fayetteville, April 21st, 1894. On May 31st of the same year he was ordained at Buffalo church to the full work of the Gospel ministry, and on the same day was installed pastor of Buffalo and Sanford churches. As soon thereafter as practicable the same relations were established at Pocket and White Hill churches. These, with Cameron church, form his present field of labor. Mr. McNeill is a man of strong convictions yet remarkably modest and unassuming. He is blessed with true Christian humility unalloyed by fawning. His sermons are strong, original and full of thought. He thoroughly believes what he says. His heart is in his words. His great earnestness and his faith in God, not in himself, enables him to hold his audiences as few men do.

He loves his people, and it is no condescending love, no stooping down to some one beneath him. He believes in the brotherhood of man as taught by the Saviour. His sermons touch the hearts of his hearers with tenderness and pathos, and inspire them to a nobler, a higher life. He has the courage of his convictions, and does not hesitate to denounce sin in plain terms in whatever form he is convinced it exists among his own people. He is therefore essentially practical. He sets his people a good example by living economically and keeping out of debt. He has the confidence of all the people whom he so faithfully serves, and people of all classes and denominations hear him gladly. From the first God has owned and blessed his abundant labors both in and out of the pulpit. His field, as a whole, has taken on new life. Indifference and spiritual decadence have given place to interest and growth. Presbyterianism has regained its accustomed place. More than one hundred souls have been added on profession to his charge during his brief ministry. E.

PERSONS AND PAPERS.

They never pardon who commit the wrong.—Dryden.

* * *

The truth a man carries about with him are his tools.—O. W. Holmes.

* * *

Fret not thyself because of unjust critics, join not their ignoble ranks, correct their untrue statements, if necessary; but, above all, ever refute them by the noble actions of a noble life.—Golden Rule.

* * *

A pump may be connected with a very deep well of very good water, and yet need a pitcher of water to be brought from another source to be poured in at the top before it can work. So with the mind sometimes. The reading of a good book helps it into running order.—Episcopal Recorder.

* * *

There is only one thing, according to the Scriptures, that God can forget, and that is our sins. He says, "Their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more." He can never forget the covenant He has made with the humblest soul. We forget many of the promises which should be so precious to us, but God remembers that He has made them, and will be true to every one.—Ram's Horn.

* * *

Example ranks next to character in its molding power. The parent's example is the type, and the child's receptive nature the ready paper on which it is copied. By this invisible printing "parents advertise themselves in their children," and stamp within them messages of good or ill that can never be erased. A young minister when about to be ordained, stated that at one period of life he was nearly an infidel. "But" said he, "there was one argument in favor of Christianity which I could never refute—the consistent conduct of my father."—Ex.

* * *

A man who lives, and is right, has more power in his silence than another has by his words. Character is like bells which ring out sweet music, and which when touched, accidentally even, resound with sweet music.—Phillips Brooks.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

1ST PAGE—What We Know (poetry)—Kind Words—Sketch of Rev. M. D. McNeill—Persons and Papers.

2ND PAGE—Editorial: "Meek and Lowly"—Editorial Notes.

3RD PAGE—Editorial Notes.

4TH PAGE—Value of Forests—On The Nile.

5TH PAGE.—The Loneliness of Age—Dr. Nansen on Alcohol—Precious Promises—Literary Jottings.

6TH PAGE—Religious Intelligence.

7TH PAGE — Personals— Wilmington Presbytery— Union Seminary Notes—Presbyterial Notices.

8TH PAGE—Gold Dust—A Letter from Tokushima.

9TH PAGE—Godly Living—Magazines.

10TH PAGE—Sunday School Lesson—Young People's Column—Open Door Notes.

11TH PAGE. — Marriages — Puzzles—Secular News—Children's Day Exercises.

12TH PAGE.—(For the Family)—The Day's Work—(poetry)—Queen Victoria's Jubilee.

13TH PAGE — Children's Column—The Naughty Fairies (poetry)—How Mary Saw—The Three Sieves—Letter-Box.

14TH PAGE—Washington Letter.

15TH PAGE—Say Soes—Market.

16TH PAGE—Things Useful.

"MEEK AND LOWLY."

"I am meek and lowly in heart." Christ gave this description of Himself as Teacher and Example to all who come to Him that He may give rest. This is the only instance in Scripture where the heart of Christ is spoken of. Whatever the specific meaning of heart in Scripture as distinguished from soul or spirit, the use here is to show that peculiar disposition or element of nature in Jesus by which He would especially commend Himself to His disciples as Teacher and Example. The inference cannot be avoided and the responsibility cannot be escaped that, so far as disciples would be like Christ and become as such teachers of men, and examples to others, they must seek likeness to Christ in these characteristics; "meek and lowly of heart." Even the calculating critical Christless worldling expects and demands such a spirit in those who are "called Christians" and says they are not what they are called, if they do not have this disposition.

In the sermon on the Mount our Lord makes this a necessity to the citizens of His kingdom. It is one of the Beatitudes; "Blessed are the meek." Paul to the Corinthians wrote "I * * * beseech you by the meekness and gentleness of Christ,' when He would show them the elements of real power in Christian authority. Peter wrote; "Be clothed with humility: for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble." These two apostles, the one to the Gentiles, the other to the Jews, do thus beseech and exhort Christians to have and hold this humility or meekness as a necessary grace and a commendable disposition.

It is not natural. The natural disposition which may be mistaken for this is rather a constitutional quietness of spirit or reticence of manner, springing from love of ease, or defect of sensibility to right and wrong, or lack of conviction and firmness, or from the predominancy of other and baser or coarser passions. This natural temper is timid and pliant, pliant to evil or easily deterred from good.

It is indifferent to the treatment of others and to the sins and wrongs of men. It is apathetic. If aroused it seeks revenge rather than right. It harbors malice and nurses hate, not so much to do wrong as to be glad if those they hate suffer, and to use the wrong doing of others to avenge their supposed injuries. It is haughty and sensitive to slights or personal indignities, but too careless to right its own wrongdoing or to hate. It is mean, ready to surrender principle and right for personal ends. It is cowardly on all great moral issues. In short it is selfish.

The meekness of humility is not natural, but gracious, through the operation of the Spirit in the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ. It is first of all unselfish. It is forbearing and forgiving toward the infirmities of others and when injured by them. It is teachable, gentle and submissive, seeking to "esteem others better than themselves," looking not on their own things, but also on the things of others. It is the opposite of highmindedness, quarrelsomeness and a revengeful spirit. It is gentle, unassuming and condescending. It is not negative, but positive, not apathetic, but aggressive, not weakness, but the mastery of mighty weaknesses. It does not seek revenge, but leaves that to God, who saith: "Dearly beloved avenge not yourselves." It does not nourish or cherish malice. It is patient under provocation. It does not think of self, but of Christ. It does not seek personal honor, but the glory of God. It is not meanness nor a surrender of principle or of right. It is not cowardice, but the putting away of self to serve Christ and to be like Him in heart and life.

This disposition and life has the promise, "shall inherit the earth." The literal promise to Israel under the covenant is here translated into a spiritual value under Christ's covenant with His chosen ones. It has a value here. Such do, in themselves or in their children, have the possession of the earth, in reality or in the highest good and chiefest efficiency of this life. Such "do enter into rest here and now. They shall inherit the kingdom prepared from the foundation of the world. "The meek shall inherit the earth, and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace."

It is alas, too rare a thing to see this disposition strongly assertive amongst us. The self-life too commonly holds sway. This must be surrendered. It was crucified with Christ, that the I might stay nailed to the cross that Christ may live in us. Only as "the life I now live in the flesh, I live by the faith of the Son of God" and as we obey the injunction, "but yield yourselves unto God as those who are alive from the dead," can this likeness to Christ in a most important and necessary particular be realized.

WILL NOT our ministers and superintendents kindly call the attention of the children to our request that all who have recited the catechisms or special portions of Scripture send us their names? We feel sure that our young people of North Carolina are not behind those of our sister States. All names will be published in our Open Door Department.

The first name received, of those who have recited the Shorter Catechism, is that of who repeated it in his ninth year. Rev. P. Tinsley Penick, whose name is so venerated amongst us, the grandfather of Rufus, repeated the catechism in his eighth year. It is our wish for the lad that the evangelical and doctrinal truth, thus early received, may bring him on to the sturdy robustness of faith and impart to him the zeal and ability in defence of Presbyterian doctrine, that distinguished him who having done his work here is now reaping the reward.

RUFUS J. REID,

A FRIEND expresses regret that the "Union Question" is likely to be opened at the Assembly again. He thinks we are doing better separately than we could do together. That is the reason, which ought to be an all-satisfactory reason, why we do not want union, and why the Southern Church, almost universally, is opposed to union. We hardly think the question will be seriously pressed. We can find much better work to do than wrangling over an abstraction.

OUR READERS we are sure have appreciated the correspondence kind friends have enabled us to furnish lately. The letters from Germany, Japan, China, &c., as well as the instructive and elevating articles of a didactic character. This week we give, besides a continuation of the very interesting article on the "Value of Forests," most delightful letters from Miss Claude Grier, one of our missionaries in Japan, and from Rev. Dr. Turnbull, "On the Nile." Another letter from Dr. Turnbull now on our desk our readers shall have next week.

OUR THANKS are given for a copy of the Annual Report of Cheung-Mai Station Siam, for the year 1896. This work, though of the Northern Church, is of special interest to us as the field of labor of Rev. Dr. Daniel McGilvary, a native of North Carolina. The outlook of the work is good; the attitude of the government officials and rulers in the different provinces is favorable and the influence of the mission and church is increasing. A new field has been opened at Cheung-Hai.

Our young friends Rev. and Mrs. L. W. Curtis are situated at Lakawn, Laos, but their field is not embraced in this report.

THE NUMBER of the Senior Class of Union Seminary is unusually large—twenty in all. We note among them six from our own State, which number is equalled, but not surpassed by our sister State, Virginia. The five taking special courses are also from these two States, North Carolina leading by one. Seven other Southern States are represented, and the influence of Union has extended also to the foothold of Presbyterianism, Scotland. As has been aptly said by one who is capable of judging, "This class will be heard from again." The Middle and Junior Classes are well attended and are composed of some excellent material.

OUR OBLIGING friend, the accurate stated Clerk of Wilmington Presbytery, leaves us nothing to say as to the business transacted at that court recently assembled at Clarkton, and it would seem superfluous to say that the hospitality enjoyed by the visitors was abounding.

Presbyterian ministers and elders on occasions of this sort, when not strictly on duty, can and do relax to an extent quite surprising to those who regard them merely as very rigid exponents of a most inflexible creed. While, strictly speaking, we were not of them it was our good fortune to be among them, and we cheerfully bear testimony to their uniform good behaviour—while we were present—notwithstanding their fun loving disposition and practice.

OUR WASHINGTON correspondent says that it was intimated to President McKinley that if he so desired the congregation would remain seated, on a recent occasion at the Metropolitan M. E. Church, until he and Mrs. McKinley had gone up and taken communion alone. The President replied that he desired simply to be treated as a member of the congregation and that no especial attention should be paid to him. It seems that since he has been attending this church, it has been the custom for the congregation to remain in their pews after the services are concluded until the President and his family leave the church. This has been most distasteful to him whom it is proposed to honor and will be discontinued.

We are not surprised that the President dislikes such toadyism. It would be a reflection upon his good sense to think he could do otherwise. But what shall we think of those who would make this distinction in the house of God. Have they the souls of men?

CONSIDER THIS. In this year of the commemoration of the 250th anniversary of the Westminster Assembly and the preparation of our doctrinal standards every effort to increase interest in these stands should be commended. To this end we call especial attention to the pamphlet entitled "The Will of God to Man, and Man's Duty to God," issued in paper covers by our Committee of Publication. Price five cents.

This is the Westminster Shorter Catechism divided into paragraphs according to the subject matter treated, and published without the the questions. If our people would get this pamphlet and read it, they will find that it is a short statement of doctrine logically stated and very important. It is well to study this statement in the form here presented.

TO OUR MINISTERS AND SESSIONS.

DEAR BRETHREN:—Again we ask, thanking you for kind attention to previous similar requests, will you do us the kindness not to scatter our envelopes and leaflets for the May collection for Foreign Missions, which are being sent you, through the seats of the churches, to be picked up or not, as the case may be, but to put them in the hands of some faithful friend of the cause in each church, who will place them in the hands of the people.

Faithfully yours,
S. H. CHESTER,
Secretary.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

CHRIST CAN DO IT.

Christ can do for a sinner what law cannot do for him, what knowledge cannot do for him, what education cannot do for him, what personal might cannot do for him. All of these have been tried by the sinner for his salvation, but they have been miserable failures from beginning to end. Only Christ can save. Only He can take away sin and remove guilt. Only He can put a new heart and a new life and a new love in a sinner. A Scotch preacher says: "A man came to me who had been taking the pledge again and again, only to break it, and I had prayed with him and he always kept stiff about the knees. He listened to the prayer and he signed the pledge, and off he went, and that dodge of going with his companions into public house for lemonade felled him in the gutter again and again. But it came to pass that there was a change in the attitude. The man who was stiff kneed got supple and went down on both knees and accepted Jesus Christ, and signed and sealed the estimate, and Jesus Christ is cutting out of him day by day that cursed crave that "the drink had burned into his throat. Jesus Christ can do it." Yes, he alone transforms the slave of sin into a freeman of righteousness. He alone can cause the man who now hates him to love him. He can change the disposition of the most degraded wretch and cause him to be high-minded and truth-loving. He has done this in thousands of cases. He has turned blaspheming infidels into most faithful servants of God. Do you want Him to save you?

C. H. WETHERBE.

On what authority and show of truth can cunning sin cover itself withal?—Shakespeare.

OUR PREMIUM BIBLE.

Measures 5x7 inches when Closed, and Contains 1,600 Pages of Reading Matter—Several hundred pages of Useful Information, besides the Scriptural Text.

At length we find ourselves with pride and pleasure, able to offer a Bible premium to workers for the N. C. PRESBYTERIAN. The size and quality of type of our Bible is represented by the cut here given:

The binding is flexible, the edges are gilt and the references within

David's thirst for God. PSALMS. He praiseth God for his grace.

10 Trust not in oppression, and become not vain in robbery: [1] if riches increase, set not your heart upon them.
11 God hath spoken [2] once; twice have I heard this; that [4] power belongeth unto God.
12 Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for [5] thou renderest to every man according to his work.

PSALM 63.

1 David's thirst for God. 4 His manner of blessing God.
A Psalm of David, [6] when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

O GOD, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: [7] my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and [8] thirsty land, [9] where no water is;
2 To see [10] thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the sanc-

[1] or, we are concerned by that which they have wrongfully exercised. [4] Job 31. 28. Ps. 33. 7. 1 Tim. 6. 17. [5] Heb. a reward. [6] Job 30. 14. or, strength. [7] Heb. their wound. [8] Heb. dry. [9] Heb. shall be. Job 34. 11. Prov. 24. 12. Jer. 32. 19. Mat. 16. 27. Eph. 6. 8. Col. 3. 25. [4] Ps. 21. 11. [5] Jer. 30. 28. [7] 1 Sam. 22. 5. [8] Ps. 42. 2.

6 They search out iniquities: [2] they accomplish [3] a diligent search: both the inward thought of every one of them, and the heart, is deep.
7 But God shall shoot at them with an arrow; suddenly [2] shall they be wounded.
8 So they shall make their own tongue to fall upon themselves: [4] all that see them shall flee away.
9 And all men shall fear, and shall [5] declare the work of God; for they shall wisely consider of his doing.
10 The righteous shall be glad in the LORD, and shall trust in him; and all the upright in heart shall glory.

PSALM 65.

1 David praiseth God for his grace. 4 The blessedness of God's chosen by reason of benefits.
To the chief Musician, A Psalm and Song of David.

are full. The Bible contains besides 1050 pages of Scriptural text, the HELPS to Scripture reading and study including Subject Index, Concordance, a most serviceable General Topical Index, a large number of pages treating of the Titles, Authorship, Distinctive Characters, Contents, &c., of the various books of the Bible, A Description of the Inhabitants, Physical Geography, Customs and Political Condition of the Holy Land at the beginning of the Christian era, the Botany of the Bible, Glossary of Antiquities, Customs, 12 maps, etc., being the Oxford Helps, acknowledged to be the very best, besides 124 full page illustrations of the Languages, Writing, &c., of the Old and New Testaments, of the bas reliefs and the like, discoveries in archæological researches, and now in the British museum—and very much else; making altogether the most desirable copy of the Scriptures for Bible students that has come to our knowledge. The book contains over 1,600 pages. The Bible is an offer in connection with the NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN—the only medium thro which one can become well acquainted with what is going on in the Synod of North Carolina—on the folowing terms:

We will give this Bible as payment for help rendered to any old subscriber who will send us the name of a BONA FIDE new subscriber along with $2.25.

The new subscriber gets the paper very cheap—we offer it to any bona fide new subscriber for $1.50 for the first year—and the worker gets amply compensated in a magnificently cheap Bible for his or her good work.

A new subscriber to get the Bible can subscribe for himself at $1.50 and then send another new subscriber with $2.25.

The Premium offered is the Genuine Edition of the Oxford Teacher's Bible.

We trust our friends will go to work promptly on this plan.

JOHN McLAURIN,
Manager N. C. Presbyterian.

"Our Premium Bible" contains absolutely nothing that tends to discredit the plain Scripture narrative of "Jonah and the whale."

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

VALUE OF FORESTS.

(Concluded from last issue.)

So far we have considered trees individually. Let us look at them collectively, as forests. Many of us known the happiness, in summer, of lingering "far from the busy haunts of men," among the shadows of the woods, with a leafy roof above our heads, and only shimmers of sunshine flickering down through the cool, green light to the moss at our feet. Many of us know this pleasure, not so many, however, know the worth of these forests to the country. One billion dollars worth of forest products is what we annually consume in the United States. This is more than ten times the value of our gold and silver mines, and three times the value of our wheat crops. It exceeds the gross income of all the railroad and other transportation companies, and would more than wipe out the remaining debt of the United States.

But even if we had all the lumber that could possibly be used, cut and stored away, there are other and more important reasons why our forests should be protected.

In the first place, the forests water our farms. Whether forests increase the rainfall within or near their limits is still an open question. But it is certain that they retain the moisture from the rain that does fall, on account of the small amount of evaporation beneath their shelter, protected as they are from sun and wind, and so they increase to us the benefits of the rain. The foliage, twigs, and branches break the fall of the raindrops, hence the soil is not beaten hard and compacted as in the open field, but kept loose so that the water can more readily penetrate. Also, on account of the slower melting of snow under a forest cover in spring, the snow waters more fully penetrate the ground, and more snow is caught and held in the woods than on the wind-swept fields.

All these conditions work together with the result that larger amounts of water sink into the forest soil and to greater depths than in the open fields. And if the forest is on a higher elevation than the field, the latter does not suffer in times of drought, because of the moisture percolating under the surface of the soil.

Then the forest tempers the farm by keeping off high winds. It also protects the farm. For instance, on sandy plains, a forest belt to the windward is the only means to prevent the winds from blowing the sand, shifting it hither and thither. In the mountain and hill country the farms, unprotected by forests, suffer from the heavy rains washing the soil. To give an example, which can be multiplied many times in our country, the "Bad Lands in Mississippi" were made bad within the last twenty-five years, involving an annual loss to the State, which exceeds revenues from all sources. "The hills no longer covered by forest foliage, no longer bound by forest roots, were channeled by rivulets, each of which reached a hundred arms into the hills. Each arm grasped with a hundred fingers, a hundred shreds of soil, until whole hillsides were carried away and the soil of a thousand years' growth melted into the streams."

Besides leaving the hill-sides bare and desolate, denuded of their soil, the once productive low-lands are covered with the debris washed down upon them, and are no longer fit for cultivation. In cases of heavy rain, the water sweeps down in torrents into the fertile valleys below, converting what was arable land into a useless waste, swept by rushing streams at one time and at another being dry and rocky. These floods destroy property in their course, bridges, dams, &c., and sometimes whole villages, with many human lives.

In consequence of these freshets at the breaking up of winter, the water supply for the springs is greatly diminished, the small streams disappear entirely in summer and all the country suffers.

Another benefit we derive from trees is that from the decaying vegetation of the forest, comes the fertility of our fields, as mineral soil without the vegetable mold would not furnish nourishment enough for man.

Trees directly affect climatic conditions. Vegetation depends upon climate, but there is also a reaction of vegetation on climatic conditions. The climate of Spain is said to have been entirely changed by the removal of trees from the tops and sides of the mountains.

On our treeless, western plains, swept every day in summer by hot winds that dry all the moisture out of the earth, and in winter by terrible blizzards, the continual movement and great force of the wind, also the too rapid evaporation, could be checked by the planting of trees.

Like sunshine and air, our forests are not valued until we are deprived of them. But unlike sun and air we can be deprived of forests by our own indifference and inaction. Humboldt said: "How foolish do men appear, destroying the forest cover without regard to consequences, for they thereby deprive themselves of wood and water."

It has been said by a great political economist:

"A fit proportion of real forest to arable land is a prime condition of health. If the trees go, men must decay. Whosoever works for the forests works also for the happiness and permanence of our civilization. Now is the time to work, if we are to be blessed and not cursed by the people of the 20th and 21st centuries. The nation that neglects its forests is surely destined to ruin."

A. L. V. W.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

ON THE NILE.

DEAR BROTHER MCLAURIN:—

The arrival of our steamer at the landing for Asyut (also Assouit) early in the afternoon gave us the desired opportunity of visiting the Mission Training College of the United Presbyterian Church of America. This church is virtually, through the courtesy and wisdom of the other evangelical churches, the only one which is attempting to evangelize Egypt, Asyut, the capital of the province of the same name, with a population of 40,000, is a flourishing city about 250 miles south of Cairo. And here the United Presbyterian Church have established and are successfully conducting their principal school. We had been advised by their missionaries in Cairo, whose acquaintance we had sought, to be sure to visit this school of which we were only too glad to get a passing glimpse, and a picture of which I feel confident will prove interesting to your readers as the original was certainly to us.

It was our good fortune to be ushered into the sitting or home-room of the lady teachers, (ladies are always more communicative than men,) three of whom were sitting around their tables, busily improving the afternoon granted them from college duties, writing letters home for the next steamer. Apologizing for intruding, we cast our eyes around the spacious room—in which for some mysterious reason we had already come to feel very much at home—when we learned the occasion of this pleasant sensation. The walls were adorned with pictures, photographs of their loved ones across the sea—a large upright piano (open) stood in one corner, book-cases and shelves filled with familiar books, household friends at home, stood or hung against the walls—articles du vertu and bric-a-brac ornamented the mantle and the tables. We found ourselves indeed resting in a western sitting room or library in old Egypt amid pre-eminently eastern surroundings and chatting with three intelligent Christian ladies from the States. Though we subsequently found that one of them was from old Presbyterian Scotland, and which made us feel more at home than ever. It was indeed a home-like scene and our visit proved to us a most delightful episode in our trip up the Nile. The ladies were very willing to answer questions and communicate information, and after an hour's chat, kindly showed us through the buildings.

The college or training school embraces indeed two separate schools, one for boys and one for girls, which are accommodated in two large buildings (all too small however for the increasing patronage) situated in the same inclosure and surrounded by the graceful palm trees of Egypt and bits of green American grass and ample court yards, the playgrounds of the students. The buildings are distinctively Egyptian and the whole system of management aims to preserve their native custome, to Christianize and not to Anglicize or Americanize the pupils. The domitories are the same though only cleaner, and the fare—that they are accustomed to at their homes. The number of students is increasing very rapidly every year. At present there are 517 boys and 170 girls, the majority of whom are boarders. They come from nearly every province in Egypt, from all classes—principally the lowest—and represent all sects of religion, with always numbers of Mahomedans each year. Fixed fees are demanded of those attending which are graduated according to the ability of each pupil—so that there are first, second and third classes with proportionate accommodations and corresponding charges. Many pupils bring their bread (which is dried) or have it sent to them from their homes, for which deduction is made. They also furnish their own bedding which as you know, in the east is usually simply a blanket or quilt.

The course of studies includes three departments of four years each. Many therefore come at a very early age. The missionaries look upon their youth as the most hopeful feature of the pupils. The difficulty however is to retain them as they grow older, especially the girls who usually marry in Egypt at the age of thirteen or fifteen. While we were at the college one of the teachers was secreted with a young man who was asking the privilege of marrying one of the native teachers who had graduated last year, and was employed this term as a teacher in the school. Nothing had as yet been said to the young girl about the proposed alliance. But it was simply assumed that "Barkis was willing." And once having gained the release of the college authorities, all would be well. The curriculum embraces such studjes as are usually taught in schools of similar grades at home, for the Egyptian mind especially among the boys, proves as apt and capable as the American. While the Bible is taught, the principal hope and dependence of the missionaries, and for bringing the children to Christ is the preaching and teaching of the Word in regular services on the Lord's day and in daily chapel service, the personal work of the teachers and of the scholars themselves, and the indirect, yet powerful influence of the Christian lives of both. Nor in this hope are they disappointed. The direct fruits of the school in converted and consecrated hearts and lives are really wonderful. Of the last graduating class in the boys' school, every member was a Christian. At the communion before the last forty boys asked admission into the church. At the last communion nineteen bors and thirteen girls were admitted. A year ago a Y. M. C. A., was organized, as the result of a visit of Mr. J. R. Mott, intercollegiate secretary from America, with thirty-four members. Now there are two hundred members. Thirty young men have offered themselves for service, as teachers or preachers. The Christian boys and girls do earnest work for the Master in the school and in their homes. Bearing this in mind, the indirect fruits are immeasurable. The graduates and students of the college occupy the first and most influential positions "of trust and honor in the postal, railway, telegraph, police, justice, finance, and war departments of the civil service. They are found among the pupils and teachers of the government colleges. They are servants, laborers, farmers, mechanics, merchants, clerks, interpreters, theologues, teachers, pastors, newspaper correspondents, printers, medical students, doctors, lawyers, journalists, and authors. They take part in all the activities of the land." So that the streams of influence extending from the college, like the waters of the Nile, reach the length of Egypt, and like these waters they are renewing the country, and they are fertilizing the minds and hearts of the people and making them to bring forth the blessed fruits of righteousness. All over the land there is springing up a desire for a Christian education. And the missionaries cannot begin to meet and respond to the many and earnest applications that are sent to them for teachers.

This fact is, moreover, only one feature of the new era that is dawning upon Egypt. It had a great historical past. it has before it a great, if not a greater future. Of this possibly more anon.

Our party, of six, are all well, enjoying to the fullest extent our trip and looking forward with intense eagerness to our entrance into and pilgrimage through Palestine.

Faithfully,

L. B. TURNBULL.

March 13th, 1897.

THE LONELINESS OF AGE.

The loneliness of age! How few think of this and treat with tenderness and consideration those who have outlived their generation, and whose companions and friends have been taken from them? Unable to engage in the activities of life, they are no longer brought into contact and sympathy with those around them, and no tie of common interest and mutual dependence binds them together. They necessarily, to a greater extent, live in a world of their own, with which those around them are not familiar. The communings of their hearts are with the scenes of the past, and the companions of other years, who have long ago passed away. Lover and friends have been taken from them, and their acquaintance laid in darkness. The forms they admired and loved are gone, the eyes that looked into theirs with the tenderest affection are sightless, and the voices that cheered and stirred their souls have long since been silent. Their early world of hope and joy has become desolation, and they sit in silence contemplating the ruin that has been wrought. They are—

"Only waiting till the shadows Are a little longer grown" to pass on to the reunion that awaits them, and the glad greetings of those they love. Who would not do what he can to cheer the loneliness of the aged, to smooth their pathway, and comfort them in their declining years?—New York Churchman.

DR. NANSEN ON ALCOHOL.

The modern hero of Arctic fame has been expressing himself rather strongly against the use of stimulants and narcotics. In an interview which is published in a Belgian journal, he is reported to have said that he took no intoxicating liquors with him in his recent expedition. His experience, he said, had led him to take a decided stand against the use of stimulants and narcotics of all kinds. It appeared to him obvious that one can get nothing in this life without paying for it in some way or other, and that artificial stimulants, even if they had not the directly injurious effects which they undoubtedly have, can produce nothing but a temporary excitement, followed by a corresponding reaction. Stimulants, with the exception of chocolate, which is mild in its effect and at the same time nourishing, bring practically no nutritive substance into the body, and the energy which one obtains in anticipation by their use at one moment must be paid for by a corresponding exhaustion at the next. It may, no doubt, says the famous explorer, be advanced that there are occasions when a momentary supply of energy is necessary, but to this he would answer that he could not imagine such a state of things to arise in the course of a protracted sledge expedition, when, on the contrary, as regular and steady work as possible is generally the main thing to be aimed at. And may we not, assuming that "regular and steady work" is needed in every department of life, give even a world-wide sweep to the logic and conclusions here set forth as the result of so practical and valuable an experience?—The Baptist, London.

PRECIOUS PROMISES.

Bikramaditya was a famous king, to whom all did honor. Among those who daily waited at the palace gates was a sage name Santoseel, who ever brought for royal acceptance a lovely fruit. Suspecting some evil design, his royal master constantly transferred the gift to his treasurer for preservation. But one day, by accident, the fruit fell to the ground as the king was about to mount his steed. In a moment all the courtiers stood spell-bound as they saw, between the cracks of the shell, the flashing of a magnificent gem. The king at once demanded an explanation, and the sage replied, "O king! the law forbids us to appear before the throne empty-handed; and if you examine all the fruit I have presented you will see a gem in every one. An expert was called, and when the whole collection was duly examined, each was pronounced to be of greater value than any money could buy. Ignorant of its preciousness, the recipient had stored away this wealth, that might have yielded a thousand delights.

Thus do believers often hide away in the treasure-house of memory many promises of God that are simply packed full of "the unsearchable riches of Christ." Their possession is no boon till some stroke from God's hand, or some enlightenment from God's Spirit, reveals the secret of their wealth. Till then, no test that leads to proper estimate of the value of God's preciousness is applied. Then every promise is seen to contain untold riches and blessing.—Sword and Trowel.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

Celebrated for its great leavening strength and healthfulness. Assured the food against alum and all forms of adulteration common to the cheap brands.
ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

LITERARY JOTTINGS.

The citizens of New Orleans have organized the Audubon Monument Association for the purpose of erecting a monument to the celebrated ornithologist who was a native of the Crescent City.

Mr. Laurence Hutton is writing his autobiography for St. Nicholas, under the title of "A Boy I Knew," which is rather suggestive of Mrs. Burnett's story of her girlhood, which was called "The One I Knew the Best of All." It seems that Mr. Hutton, as a very small boy, had the honor of sitting on Thackeray's knee and being patted on the head by the great novelist.

Mr. Clark Russell says that he reads but little fiction. "This is the case, I believe, with most novelists, and I dare say the reason is the same as in my own. When I am reading a novel I find myself critically considering its machinery, so to speak; one sees the thing too much from the inside—one knows the 'trick' by which every effect is produced—and this spoils the enjoyment."

Religious Intelligence.

We specially invite News from all quarters for this Department.

The Annual Scheme of Collections in the Synod of North Carolina is as follows:

January—General Assembly's Home Missions.

February and August—Presbyterial Home Missions.

March—Publication and Colportage.

April — Education — (one collection Church and Christian Education).

May and October—Foreign Missions. Third Sabbath in October for Bible Cause.

June and September—Synodical Home Missions.

July—Invalid Fund.

Third Sunday in October—Bible Cause.

November and April—Education for the Ministry.

December—Colored Evangelization

THE ASSEMBLY'S FORM OF BEQUEST.

I do hereby give and bequeath to the Trustees of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States (popularly known as the Southern Presbyterian Church) the sum of .....Dollars for the benefit of [here name cause to which the legacy is given.]

CHANGES OF ADDRESS.

Correspondents will please note the following changes of address:

Mr. R. B. Woodworth. from Burlington, W. Va., to the Huffman House, Peterborough, Ontario, Canada.

Rev. J. E. L. Winecoff, from Blacksburg, S. C., to Concord, N. C.

Rev. Jonas Barclay, from Martindale, N. C., to Charlotte, N. C., P. O. Box 225.

Rev. Cornelius Miller, from Danbury N. C., to Harrisburg, N. C.

Rev. Ivanhoe Roberson, from Burgaw, N. C., to Farmville, Va.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The First Presbyterian Church, Greensboro:—Drs. J. H. and E. W. Smith, pastors, having recently finished paying off its debt, has signalised its first free year by undertaking the support of three missionaries, two in the mountains of North Carolina, and one in Japan.

First Church, Winston:—Seventeen accessions to this church Sunday, April 4th. Five by profession and twelve by letter.

Charlotte:—During the past year one hundred and two additions have been made to the Second church, forty eight of these being admitted into the full fellowship during the recent services. This church ends the ecclesiastical year without debt and has contributed $17,560 to various causes.

Red Springs:—Rev. S. M. Rankin's churches by unanimous vote have declined to concur with him in asking Presbytery to dissolve the pastoral relation. They agree with him that the field is too large, but no one of the three churches is willing to give him up.

Reidsville:—We have just closed a delightful series of eight or nine days of services. The Rev. T. M. Lowry, of Shelby, came to the assistance of the pastor March 26th, and continued from day to day to preach the Gospel with great clearness, simplicity and earnestness. Bro. Lowry is a thorough Bible student, and his faithful and instructive unfolding of the mind of the Spirit cannot fail to edify God's people and to warn sinners wherever he goes. The congregations were large and exceedingly attentive, and while there were no open confessions or additions, we were greatly helped and refreshed and still look for blessed results in the future. On Sunday the congregation enjoyed a most pleasant and we trust, profitable communion service. Also a congregational meeting was held and three additional elders were elected with great unanimity: Messrs. E. F. Hall, W. G. Jennings and J. W. Millner. These brethren will be ordained and installed next Sabbath if the way be clear.

D. I. C.

Synodical Evangelistic Work:—A three months' review. Rev. William Black, after taking a mouth's needed rest in January, began his general evangelistic work with a visit to Rockingham. Among the results of the meeting may be mentioned fifty-five professions of faith, the addition of fifteen members to the Presbyterian church in town, and of several more to our factory churches, and the collection of $66 for the support of the work. In Columbus county, two most promising stations were visited, thirty-three members desire to be organized into Presbyterian churches, $300 was subscribed for the building of a church and $325 and a house offered for the support of a pastor. With an appropriation from the Synod's funds and the liberal help of a member of the First church, Wilmington, we can offer $700 and a manse for the supply of three churches.

At Greenville "a glorious meeting" was held. The little church of seven members had nine important additions with others expecting to join. At New Hope, new hope was given by the enrollment of three members by profession and three by certificate. New Hope and Shallotte are the two recently organized churches of Brunswick county. At Shallotte there were many professions and reclamations, four young men were received in the church and several others are expected to join. There have thus been about forty additions to the Presbyterian Church through the instrumentality of the General Evangelist, who has raised $146 for the furtherance of the good work.

There have been nineteen additions besides in our local evangelistic fields. The Superintendent has conducted one series of special services from which there were seven additions to the church, has raised $1,300 in cash and subscriptions, which with $350 received from other sources makes a total of $1,850. Two teachers have been secured for the mountain work and the way has been opened for securing three additional local evangelists.

A. J. McKELWAY,
Superintendent.

Fayetteville, N. C., April 10th, 1897.

Convention of W. M. S., Wilmington Presbytery:—The 10th Annual Convention of the Women's Foreign Missionary Societies of Wilmington Presbytery, met in Clarkton on April 7th, 1897, Mrs. B. F. Hall, Chairman of Presbytery's Committee presiding. After devotional exercises and a short report from Mrs. Hall delegates from six societies were enrolled, and reports were read from seven, one society sending a report without a delegate. A discussion of ways and means used in the different societies followed and afterward an address by Mr. Lancaster, who for some years was a missionary to China. He had kindly brought with him some Chinese curios, with which he illustrated his talk, and which very much interested the ladies and several children who listened with intelligent appreciation.

The members of the Convention also enjoyed some of the sessions of Presbytery, and appreciated the cordiality and good cheer of the Clarkton people, and the Convention adjourned to meet again at the time and place of the next spring meeting of Presbytery.

China Grove:—Steps are being taken for the erection of a church building here. There are thirty persons waiting an organization.

Laurel Hill:—Mr. L. B. Prince has been installed elder in this church. Mr. Prince served Laurel Hill in this capacity for many years before he moved away, and his re-election upon his return home was a tribute of marked respect and esteem.

Washington:—On the first Sabbath of April, 1897, five were added to the Presbyterian church, Washington, N. C. (Rev. C. M. Payne) making forty added since April 1st, 1896.

Beth Car Church:—On April 4th, the following officers were ordained and installed: Mr. William Whitted ruling elder and Messrs James Robeson and H. B. Willis deacons.

Monroe:—The report of the church here shows a contribution of $545.94 to the benevolent causes of the church. This with the current expenses, etc., makes a total of $1,841.87 or an average of $17.37½ per member. This is an excellent showing. Rev. H. M. Dixon, pastor.

VIRGINIA.

Richmond:—Twenty-one persons were recently received upon profession into the membership of Hoge Memorial church, of which Rev. J. E. Cook is pastor.

Chatham:—Rev. G. W. Belk was recently assisted by Rev. Dr. E. O. Guerrant in a series of meetings. The Spirit of God was manifest and several were brought into the church.

Accomac and Onancock:—On Sunday, March 28th, Rev. J. H. Henderlite announced his acceptance of the call to the pastorate of the churches in the field subject to the action of Abingdon and Norfolk Presbyteries. Arrangements will be made for his reception, ordination and installation during the spring meeting of Norfolk Presbytery. Mr. Henderlite's ministry among this people has proved very acceptable and we predict for him a successful pastorate.—Central Presbyterian.

Lynchburg:—The congregation of the Third Presbyterian church of this city, of which Rev. T. M. McCorkle is the pastor, is preparing to build a new and handsome church edifice. The sale of their old place of worship and the purchase of a beautiful site in Rivermont, Lynchburg's attractive suburb, has been effected, and plans for the new church building have been completed.—Baltimore Sun.

Rev. J. A. Vance, of Baltimore recently assisted Rev. Dr. Fleming, pastor of the First church in a series of services—eleven were added to the church and others will follow.

GEORGIA.

Savannah Presbytery:—Rev. T. M. Hunter, moderator. The 250th anniversary of the adoption of the Westminster Standards was observed. The papers read will be published. Rev. W. A. Nisbet and Ruling Elder J. F. Pelham were elected commissioners to the General Assembly with Rev. T. M Hunter and Ruling Elder C. S. Wood as alternates. By request of the Independent church of Savannah, Presbytery appointed Rev. W. A. Nisbet commissioner to assist the Independent church in its prosecution of the call to Dr. Fair, of Richmond, Va., and to that end Mr. Nisbet may visit East Hanover Presbytery at its coming session.

ALABAMA.

The First Presbyterian Church, Montgomery:—On the first Sabbath in April, the usual congregational meeting was held, and reports for the ecclesiastical year were read by the treasurers of the church and Sunday-school, by the clerk of the session, and by the officers of the Junior and Senior Christian Endeavor Societies. The ladies of the Five Wards, of the Willing Circle, of the Lizzie Wimbish Foreign Missionary Society, of the Home Missionary Society also presented their reports. The report of the clerk of the session showed that the church had six elders, twelve deacons, forty four added to the register of communicants, (twenty-one by examination and twenty-three by certificate) and that the total membership was four hundred and seventy-four. There were thirty-three teachers in the Sunday-schools and three hundred and fourteen scholars. The total contributions of the church amounted to $6,587. Of this sum $306 was devoted to Foreign Missions, $592 to Home Missions within the bounds of the Synod and Assembly and $539 to the cause of Education. The total gifts of the people were larger by several hundred dollars, this year than last. The church gave twice as much as to Assembly's Home Missions; $60 more for local Home Missions; two and a half times as much for Invalid Fund; $81 more to Education (including orphan's Home) and about the same for Foreign Mission. The church supports two orphans at the home; a home class department has been organized in the Sunday-school; a missionary library has been started and the lecture-room is being greatly improved. The Willing Circle has given $90 to aid a student in the Southwestern Presbyterian University; the Ladies' Home Missionary Society contributes to Home Mission work in the suburbs of the city and in South Alabama Presbytery; the ladies of the Five Wards have given liberally towards the support of the church, besides doing many social duties; the Christian Endeavor societies, under the control of the session, are well attended and greatly foster a spirit of piety and of missions, and the Lizzie Wimbish Foreign Missionary Society supports a Bible woman in Japan. Miss Lizzie Wimbish, the lady for whom the society was named, is a member of this church. We are anticipating with great pleasure a visit this fall from our faithful, untiring missionary, Miss Wimbish. Congregations have been good during the year, and have continued without interruption during the heated term. A meeting of sixteen days was held in February and March on the occasion of the golden anniversary of the dedication of our present house of worship. Revs. J. R. Burgett, D.D., of Mobile; R. Cecil, D. D., of Selma; J. L. Brownlee, of Union Springs; A. B. Curry, of Birmingham, N. L. Anderson of the city and J. H. Morrison, D. D., of Nashville, Tenn., lectured or preached on this occasion. It was a feast of rich things, and calculated by God's blessing, to do great good and excellent results have followed.

LOUISIANA.

Marksville:—Services conducted by Rev. Dr. W. D. Morton and Rev. B. L. Price resulted in eight professions of faith in Christ and the organization of a church.

TENNESSEE.

Southwestern Presbyterian University:—The following young men belonging to the Divinity School of the Southwern Presbyterian University will complete their course in June and will be ready for work; correspondence with a view to securing their services may be had with the Chancellor, Dr. George Summey, Clarksville, Tenn, or any member of the Divinity Faculty: John C. Carr, New Orleans; T. A. Clagett, St. Louis; U. B. Currie, Central Mississippi; Jas. N. Ivy, Fort Worth; L. B. Juroidini, Syria; H. E. Kirk, North Alabama; S. L. McCarty, Palmyra; J. L. Stitt, Onachita; H. V. Tull, Central Texas; J. T. West, Tuscaloosa.

MARYLAND.

Baltimore, Franklin Street Church:—On Sunday the 4th inst., Rev. Dr. Murkland preached to a large congregation, afterwards joining in the celebration of the Lord's Supper. Six members were received.

Maryland Avenue Church:—Rev. J. A. Vance, pastor. Twenty-eight members received at last communion, making eighty since January.

GENERAL.

We welcome among our exchanges Our Church Visitor which has just started out upon the broad sea of journalism and Our Church Record which has entered upon its third volume. The former is published for the churches of Alamance county, and the progressive town of Gastonia bears the honor of the second named.

PERSONALS.

Rev. Luther Link, of Macon, Ga., has taken charge of the churches at Greenville and Brewton, Ala.

Rev. W. F. Hollingsworth, of Atlanta has accepted an invitation to supply the church at Cartersville, Ga., and has entered upon his labors.

Rev. A. B. Curry, pastor of the First church, Birmingham, Ala., will deliver the annual address before the Alumni Association of Columbia Seminary.

Rev. Ivanhoe Robertson who has acceptably filled the pastorate of a group in Pender county, N. C., has resigned to enter upon Home Mission work in Winchester county, Va.

Rev. Hugh Craig, of Rowland, will begin a series of meetings at Galatia, on Monday night, the 12th. Rev. A. M. Hassell is expected to assist him, but in event of his absence, Rev. J. A. McMurray, of Smithfield will take his place.

Rev. J. Tidball, of Taylorsville, is spending two weeks at Mocksville, N. C.

Rev. and Mrs. John L. Stuart will spend the summer at Mounteagle, Tenn., with their three sons, returning to their labors in the land of Sinim in the fall. Mrs. Stuart is at present visiting her old home, Mobile, Ala., Mr. Stuart may be addressed care 115 East Jacob Street, Louisville, Ky.

Rev. John S. Watkins, D. D., of Spartanburg, S. C., will preach the Baccalaureate sermon at the Fredericksburg College.

Rev. W. S. Robertson, of Warrenton, Va., is recuperating in South Carolina.

We are glad to learn that the health of the wife of Rev. J. E. L. Winecoff who has been for some weeks in Rome Ga., is greatly improved.

Rev. W. B. Arrowood is assisting, Rev W. R. Coppedge, of Rockingham in a meeting of several days.

Rev. R. B. Grinnan, of Japan has been chosen by the session of the First church, Greensboro, as their representative in the foreign field.

WILMINGTON PRESBYTERY.

Met in the Clarkton church at 7.30 p. m., April 6th and was opened with a sermon by Rev. K. McDonald from Ps. 17th and 15th verse. There were present twelve ministers and thirteen ruling elders. Rev. T. H. Newkirk was chosen moderator, and Rev. Ivanhoe Robertson and Ruling Elder Oscar Pearsall temporary clerks.

Visiting Ministers:—Revs. J. N. Craig, D. D., H. G. Hill, D. D., and C. G. Vardell.

Rev. T. H. Newkirk and Ruling Elder Jackson Johnson were elected commissioners to the General Assembly with Rev. John Wakefield and Ruling Elder John D. Taylor alternates.

Westminster Assembly:—Presbytery by a hearty vote thanked Revs. H. G. Hill, D. D., P. H. Hoge, D. D., and P. McIntyre for their admirable addresses in celebrating the 250th anniversary of the completion of our Westminster Standards.

James Sprunt Female Seminary:—This institution was taken under the care of the Presbytery and the following trustees were appointed:

First Class to serve six years: Rev. P. McIntyre and Messrs. J. W. Blount and Henry Farrior.

Second-class four years: Messrs. Jas. Sprunt, B. F. Hall and Oscar Pearsall.

Third class to serve two years: Rev. R. V. Lancaster and Messrs. J. D. Currie and A. F. Johnson.

Rev. R. V. Lancaster and Messrs. B. F. Hall and Henry Farrior were appointed a canvassing committee to solicit funds for the institute.

Rev. Ivanhoe Robertson was dismissed to the Presbytery of Winchester.

Immanuel Church:—Revs. P. McIntyre, K. McDonald and A. McFadyen and Ruling Elders J. R. Bannerman, A. F. Johnson and Jas. N. Henry were appointed a commission to visit Immanuel church to examine, deliberate upon and conclude any matter that may come before it.

Rev. P. H. Hoge, D. D., and A. McFadyen and Ruling Elder William Stanley were appointed a commission to visit Chadbourn and Hub and organize a church at each place if the way be clear.

Rev. T. H. Newkirk was directed to supply the churches of Harmony, Mt. Horeb, South River and White Plains, leaving Whiteville to be grouped with the churches to be organized at Chadbourn and Hub.

The pastoral relation existing between Rev. P. McIntyre and the Grove church was dissolved.

The Grove church, Kenansville, was selected as the place for our fall meeting and the time 7.30 p. m., on Wednesday, 15th September next.

Addresses:—We were entertained with addresses by Rev. C. G. Vardell, President of Red Springs Institute, Dr. J. N. Craig on Home Missions and at the popular meeting on Foreign Missions by Rev. R. V. Lancaster.

To the congregation of Clarkton the occasion was a very enjoyable one. We were really delighted with the splendid addresses of Revs. Hill, Hoge and McIntyre on our Westminster programme.

STATED CLERK.

UNION SEMINARY NOTES.

The students of the seminary have been favored this week with a visit from Mr. Henry W. Luce, the travelling secretary of the Inter-Seminary Missionary Alliance. He made three addresses, two on Mission Topics and one on Secret Prayer and Devotional Bible Study. His chief aim seems to be to impress upon the young men going out from our seminaries the great importance of being "missionary pastors." His helpful talks together with Dr. Johnson's excellent article in the Seminary Magazine just out on the subject You Should Be a Missionary, have put many of us to thinking along this line more than we have ever done before. Mr. Luce is under appointment of the Northern Presbyterian Board and expects to go to China this fall. The closing exercises of the present year have been announced and are as follows. The final examinations will begin April 29th; the missionary addresses will be delivered on Sunday evening May 2d, by Prof. W. S. Currell, Ph.D.; the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees and Directors will take place on Tuesday, May 4th; on the evening of the same day, Dr. G. B. Strickler will be inaugurated as Professor of Systematic Theology, the charge to be delivered by Dr. J. W. Rosebro; on Wednesday morning the graduation exercises will take place consisting of an address by Dr. G. W. Finley, the presentation of diplomas and the closing address by the President of the Board of Directors.

The new catalogue shows a total enrolment of sixty-six for the past year.

Twenty-one Presbyteries are represented. Roanoke leads with nine: Orange comes next with seven; "no Presbytery," which you will probably not find on the list, is, strange to say, next best with six. There are students from seven literary institutions. Hampden Sidney heads the list with twenty-three; Davidson follows with eighteen. Twelve States from Maryland to Missouri and Texas are represented, while three hail from the old country, two from Scotland and one from Ireland. Virginia leads with twenty-five and North Carolina comes next with twenty-one. X.

PRESBYTERIAL NOTICES.

The Presbytery of Orange will meet in High Point, N. C., on Tuesday, April 27th, at 7.30 o'clock, p. m. All delegates and visitors will ask for reduced rates of travel.

D. I. CRAIG,
Stated Clerk.

The Presbytery of Eastern Texas meets at Nacogdoches, Tuesday, April 20th, at 11th a. m. Sessional records are required at this meeting. The assessment is fifteen cents per member. Sessional reports are to be sent to the stated clerk ten days before Presbytery meets.

S. F. TENNEY,
Stated Clerk.

The Presbytery of Asheville will meet at Waynesville on the 27th of April at 7.30 p. m.

E. A. SAMPLE,
Stated Clerk.

Reduced rates received as far East, via Spartanburg, S. C., as Charlotte and West to Murphy. This is only on Southern Railroad.

Presbytery of Lexington will meet at Mt. Carmel church, Steel's Tavern, Va., May 11th, 1897, at 11 a. m.

WM. C. WHITE,
Stated Clerk.

Concord Presbytery will meet in regular session in Statesville, N. C., April 27th, 1897, at 7.30 p. m.

W. R. MCLELLAND,
Stated Clerk.

The Presbytery of Fayetteville will meet Tuesday at 7.30 p. m., April 20th, 1897, at Red Springs, N. C. The Presbyterial assessment upon the churches is due at this meetin.

P. R. LAW,
Stated Clerk.

The Presbytery of Albemarle meets in Wilson, N. C., Tuesday, April 20th, at 7.30 p. m. Blanks for reports will be mailed soon to church sessions. Presbyterial assessment for 1897, due April 1st, should be forwarded promptly.

F. H. JOHNSTON,
Stated Clerk and Treasurer.

We Want You

to subscribe for the Presbyterian Quarterly. It is the one magazine all Presbyterians should read. Its articles are written by eminent Presbyterians—both clergymen and laymen—to Presbyterians. It is edited under the auspices of an association of ministers of the Presbyterian Church.

Every article in it is vitally interesting—it is orthodox—is progressive—stimulates study and investigation.

The Presbyterian Quarterly has always been $3.00 a year and has always been worth it. It is now $1.00 a year but is still worth $3.00. We have lowered its price because we want to put it in every Presbyterian's hands, but there has been no change in either the number of pages or the appearance of the magazine. Send for a sample copy.

Whittet & Shepperson,
Box 236. Richmond, Va.

GOLD DUST.

The brave only know how to forgive—it is the most refined and generous pitch of virtue human nature can arrive at.—Sterne.

***

God overrules all mutinous accidents, brings them under his laws of fate, and makes them all serviceable to his purpose.—Antonius.

***

Good
Will be the final goal of all,
To pangs of nature, sins of will
Defects of doubt and taints of blood;
That nothing walks with aimless feet,
That no one life shall be destroyed
Or cast as rubbish to the void.
—Tennyson.

***

All troubles have their commissions and instructions from God, what to do, where to go, whom to touch, and whom to pass over--Dr. Reynolds.

***

He surely is most in want of another's patience who has none of his own.--Lavater.

***

Sins are like circles in the water when a stone is thrown into it--one produces another.--Matthew Henry.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

A LETTER FROM TOKUSHIMA.

DEAR PRESBYTERIAN :—From my queer little home away in the interior of Japan, your missionary sends greetings to the North Carolina friends :

I know that many of them have been praying for me during the long journey, and these first weeks in a strange land, while the settling down and adjusting process has been going on. Surely their prayers have been richly answered in the daily blessings which have been my portion since I turned my face away from loved homeland, "westward to the far East." Perfect health, a journey safe and pleasant, in spite of delays ; everywhere friends, wise, true and kind ; welcome to new home and work, so warm as to bring tears to the eyes and joy to the heart. These are some of the good gifts sent in answer to the prayers of loved ones—and through it all, best of all, guidance.

"O Lord, I know that the way of man is not in himself ; it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps." Jer. 10:23. "I will instruct thee and teach thee, in the way which thou shalt go. I will counsel thee with mine eye upon thee." (Psalm 32:8 R. V.) A truth illustrated and a promise verified in the experience of the little missionary party sent out by the Southern Church in December, 1896.

We reached Yokohama, according to schedule, by the good ship "Doric" on Dec 28th ; stopped only a day ; long enough to have a glorious view of Mt. Fuji, to take our first jinriksha ride and to enjoy the delightful hospitality of Dr. and Mrs. Ballagh of the Dutch Reformed Mission. Here we left a large number of our pleasant passengers, among them Mrs. Eastin and Miss Carroll, the two tourist friends who accompanied us from Louisville.

Next day we came on to Kobe, the port nearest to Tokushima, arriving on 31st. Here we found beside Rev. Mr. McAlpine's family, Miss Patton, Mr. and Mrs. Grinnan and Mr. Fulton, the occasion of such a gathering, being the annual Language Examination of our mission. New Year in Japan stops all business operations, so the Doric was delayed in Kobe three days, and the new missionary several days longer, the former by the difficulty of getting her freight unloaded, the latter on account of her passport. In the meantime the Presbyterian party were entertained in Mr. McAlpine's pleasant home, and those bound for China and India had an opportunity to see something of fair Japan. It is a lovely country, but I am not going to write any description, nor give my first impressions even. No country is so much written about today as Japan, and no scenes are so perfectly represented in pictures. Indeed, I felt as if I had been looking at them all my life. Bareheaded women with babies tied on their backs, shuffling along on their wooden shoes, seemed quite natural, and as for paper umbrellas, lanterns, walls and doors, they were "just as I expected." But to return to my itinerary report. On Saturday, January 2d, good byes were said to travelling companions, and we saw the "Doric" steam away to lands still further east.

The next week Miss Patton brought me to Tokushima, an eight (?) hours journey by Japanese steamer. It took us thirteen hours to make it, and last week when Messrs. Moore and McIlwaine came up on a preaching tour around the coast, they spent twenty-five hours, coming from Kobe to this point. The sea is often very rough and the trip very trying to those given to sea sickness. The appointments of the boat are not luxurious either ; one is fortunate if one finds a place for his blanket and pillow on the crowded floor of the cabin. No chair or couch visible, so, in Japan we do as Japan does, and take the floor. As I proved a good sailor on the ocean voyage, this trip has not the terrors for me that it has for many, and being a somewhat adaptable person my first experience in roughing it in Japan was a fairly comfortable one. Our city is at the mouth of the Yoshino river, and the boats land within a few blocks of our house.

March 10th. A month has passed, and my poor letter is not off yet. It will not possess even the merit of freshness if it ever sees the light in the columns of the PRESBYTERIAN. I wanted to write about my warm "welcome home" from the members of the little household, from Mr. and Mrs. Hope, and from the missionaries of the Church Missionary Society here, but it is too late for that now so I will give you a few facts about our surroundings and bring this to a close in time for to day's mail.

Tokushima is the largest city on this island Shikoku, having about seventy thousand inhabitants. It is composed of a number of islands separated by the river and its branches and by several canals, so it is a city of bridges some of which are of stone and very picturesque. The streets are narrow and have no pavements, but the soil being light and smooth they have a rather neat appearance. They are kept quite clean for an Eastern city. Our street is quiet being some distance from the business portion of the town. A few doors from us is the home of the governor of the province and a little further on the court house. Mr. Hope and his family live in one of the two foreign houses here. The other is occupied by one of the English missionaries. Our little home is truly Japanese, but made comfortable and even pretty by its home furnishings. The floors are of tatami, (thick matting). I sometimes think the chief end of Japanese housekeeping is to protect the tatami. So we leave our shoes at the door in a drawer kept for the purpose, and don soft cloth slippers when we come in. This is per agreement with our landlord. Both Miss Patton and I have small stoves in which we burn coke. They are not things of beauty but are an improvement in comfort over the pan of coals which is the Japanese dependence for heating their paper walled houses, in the severest weather. Our cooking arrangements are of the most primitive kind ; simply earthen vessels or vessels of wood lined with metal, containing a fire of charcoal. On these all our food that is boiled, fried or broiled is prepared ; for baking there is a sheet iron box in which our cook bakes bread and biscuit with which this writer finds no fault. I have read over this letter and I don't find anything in it that I intended to tell about. Not a word about the language, the subject uppermost in my mind and to which I am devoting almost all my time and energy, nor the missionary work which is most interesting, especially the woman's meetings where I am learning to sit through long afternoons on the floor. But that will save for next time.

I want my friends to know that I am well, busy and happy, in spite of "loved ones" far away ;" that it is a sweet privilege to be enlisted in the foreign service of our Captain ; that I am praying that more than one young man and woman of my own loved church in North Carolina may know the sweetness of it before the close of 1897.

Sayonara ! which means "farewell if it must be so."

CLAUDE L GRIER.

Feb. 12th, '97.

ARMSTRONG & McKELVY	Pittsburgh.
BEYMER-BAUMAN	Pittsburgh.
DAVIS-CHAMBERS	Pittsburgh.
FAHNESTOCK	Pittsburgh.
ANCHOR, LOCKSTEIN	Cincinnati.
ATLANTIC, BRADLEY, BROOKLYN, JEWETT, ULSTER, UNION	New York.
SOUTHERN, SHIPMAN	Chicago.
COLLIER, MISSOURI, RED SEAL, SOUTHERN	St. Louis.
JOHN T. LEWIS & BROS CO	Philadelphia.
MORLEY	Cleveland.
SALEM	Salem, Mass.
CORNELL	Buffalo.
KENTUCKY	Louisville.

WHATEVER is worth doing, is worth doing well. Painting can only be done well by having the best materials—Pure White Lead and Pure Linseed Oil, properly applied. There is nothing else "just as good." Avoid "mixtures" and unknown brands of White Lead—the "sold-for-less-money" sort. (See list of the genuine brands.)

FREE By using National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors, any desired shade is readily obtained. Pamphlet giving valuable information and card showing samples of colors free; also cards showing pictures of twelve houses of different designs painted in various styles or combinations of shades forwarded upon application.

National Lead Co., 1 Broadway, New York.

GODLY LIVING.

"Live soberly, righteously and godly.' —Titus ii, 11.

There are persons who consider it quite sufficient for all the practical purposes of human existence to take the first two of the expressions, leaving the third altogether out of their account. They live "soberly"—their personal conduct is irreproachable. No man can put a finger upon a blot in their morals. From everything like excess, or impurity, or unworthy conduct of any kind, they hold themselves indignantly aloof ; and, so far, they are blameless. And they live "righteously." Honest, honorable, straightforward ; giving all their due ; scorning the miserable shifts and mean devices and half-concealed falsehoods by which some men contrive to emerge into prosperity and to rise in the world ; they just do their work manfully and well, and leave success to follow if it will. To them the most important thing is, not to succeed, but to do the right. So far, then, as their duty to themselves and their duty to their neighbor is concerned they are all that can be desired. But what about their duty to God? That is neglected ! God may be outwardly honored—as, for instance, by occasional attendance at the house of prayer—but He is not really in all their thoughts ; and they know it. They are too honest not to know it. That there has been no acceptance in their lives of the Christ of God—without which acceptance God is a stranger to us and we strangers to God : that there is in them no consecration to Christ ; no referring to His will ; no dependence upon His help; no drawing out of His fullness, no love to His person, and no zeal for His glory—of all this they are perfectly aware. But the thought of their heart is—that the omission is of no very great importance ; and that so long as they live "soberly" and "righteously" it matters little or nothing whether they do or do not live "godly," in this present world. —Selected.

MAGAZINES.

We have received from the Foreign Missions Library, New York, a report of the Fifth Conference of the Foreign Missions Boards of the United States and Canada, also from the Press of Allen, Lane and Scott, Philadelphia, the History and Work of the Asia Minor Apostolic Institute. These books abound in interest for those whose hearts are in the mission work. The latter is attractively illustrated and deals largely with the Armenian troubles.

The Woman's Companion published by Mast, Crowell and Kirkpatrick, of Springfield, Ohio, is an excellent monthly. In the April number, among other articles are Some Washington Homes, Women as Designers, Lavinia's Lot and Gowns for Children and Misses.

The State Normal Magazine is a quarterly, issued during the scholastic year of the Normal and conducted by the young ladies of the Adelphian and Cornelian Literary Societies, under the management of an editor from the faculty. The first issue is a most attractive one ; contains excellent reading and many points of interest to the alumnae and friends of the institution.

In glancing over the pages of April Bookman we see the familiar faces of Bryant, Hawthorne and Lowell which fill us with pleasure, and those also of Matthew Arnold, George Brandes Theresa Macri—the Maid of Athens and Gabrielle D'Estrees which tell us that something interesting is in store. Bryant is treated in the American Bookmen series and among other matters of interest is the picture of "Bryant and His Friend Cole in the Catskills," which is the first reproduction ever given of this celebrated painting by Durand. Dodd, Mead & Co., New York.

Before Retiring....

take Ayer's Pills, and you will sleep better and wake in better condition for the day's work. Ayer's Cathartic Pills have no equal as a pleasant and effectual remedy for constipation, biliousness, sick headache, and all liver troubles. They are sugar-coated, and so perfectly prepared, that they cure without the annoyances experienced in the use of so many of the pills on the market. Ask your druggist for Ayer's Cathartic Pills. When other pills won't help you, Ayer's is

THE PILL THAT WILL.

RED SPRINGS SEMINARY

FOR YOUNG LADIES.

Established by Fayetteville Presbytery.

New Buildings, well equipped and adapted to all departments of College work. Complete and liberal course. Fully abreast of the leading Southern Colleges for Women

Full and Efficient Faculty.

Charges very moderate ($108.00 per year for full College course and Board). Session opens September 30, 1896. For further information write to

REV. C. G. VARDELL.

Red Springs, N. C.

PEACE INSTITUTE FOR YOUNG LADIES, RALEIGH, N. C.

This Institute offers thorough collegiate courses in English, History, Literature, Mathematics, Sciences, Ancient and Modern Languages, Music, Art, Elocution and Physical Culture.

As to its high standard for graduation, its thoroughness of instruction, its moderate charges for the advantages offered, and the extent of its courses in Art and Music, this Institute cannot be surpassed.

It offers also thorough preparatory courses. Correspondence solicited.

Board and English Tuition One Year $200.

For illustrated catalogue and full particulars, address the Principal,

JAS. DINWIDDIE, M. A., University of Virginia.

Term begins Sept. 16th, 1896. Closes first of June.

The Normal & Collegiate Institute

For Young Women.

ASHEVILLE, N. C. SPRING TERM OPENING FEB. 1st. 1897

OFFERS TO THE STUDENTS :

1. A Classical Course, including Ancient and Modern Languages, Science, Music, Drawing, etc.
2. A Normal Course for the thorough training of Teachers under instructors from the best Normal Schools.
3. Commercial Course, including Stenography, Type-writing, Book-keeping, etc.
4. Domestic Science, including Scientific Cooking, Draughting, Cutting, Fitting and Making of garments.

Systematic study of the Bible in all departments.

Terms for Board and Tuition in any of the departments, $50 per term, or half school year.

☞ For catalogue, address

REV. THOS. LAWRENCE, D D

ASHEVILLE, N. C.

Cluster Springs High School

(On Lynchburg and Durham R R., six miles from N. C. line)

BLACK WALNUT, VIRGINIA.

For boys and young men. A well equipped high school at a most pleasant, accessible, and healthful location. Lithia, sulphur, iron, and pure waters. Good buildings and improved school equipments. Swimming Pool, Gymnasium, and Athletic Field. Special attention to manners and development of character. Thorough instruction. Three teachers. Prepares for college or for business Our certificates admit to college. Tuition and home $—— Our catalogue tell all about it. Address,

REV. T. S. WILSON, President,
or E. L. BARNES, A. B., Principal

A. D. BROWN,

Successor to Brown & Roddick,

29 NORTH FRONT STREET, WILMINGTON, N. C.

IMPORTER OF FINE

DRY GOODS AND CARPETS,

ORIENTAL AND DOMESTIC RUGS,

"WARNER'S CORSETS," "HER MAJESTY'S CORSETS,"

"THOMPSON'S GLOVE FITTING CORSETS," "R & G" AND "FERRIS" CORSETS.

"FOSTER" KID GLOVES, "KAYSER" SILK GLOVES.

"HUDNUT'S" EXQUISITE TOILET REQUISITES.

Mail Orders Given Special Attention.

Sabbath School Dep't.

CONDUCTED BY REV. A. D. McCLURE.

Second Quarter—Lesson IV.

April 25, 1897.—Acts xii: 5-17.

Commit to memory verses 7-9.

Subject.—Peter Delivered from Prison.

Golden Text. "The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear Him, and delivereth them." Psalm xxxiv: 7.

CATECHISM.

Question 37. What benefits do believers receive from Christ at death?

Answer. The souls of believers are at their death made perfect in holiness, and do immediately pass into glory; and their bodies being still united to Christ, do rest in their graves till the resurrection.

Time. A. D., 44.
Place. Jerusalem.

INTRODUCTORY.

We have seen how the churches had rest for a time and the work of founding and inspecting churches proceeded until Peter came to Joppa and Cesarea and Cornelius was converted and Peter returned to Jerusalem. The present lesson will close the first part of the book of the Acts. During this time the Jews were occupied with their troubles under the Emperor Caligula. But Caligula died Jan. 24th A. D. 41, and after a time the Jews renewed their opposition and persecution. They used their influence with Herod the king who was spurred on to murder James, one of the leading apostles. This pleased the people as well as the ruler and so he aimed to strike Peter the chief of the apostles, whose reception and treatment of Gentiles would make him to be the more obnoxious to the stricter Jews. But before Peter was executed the seven days of the Passover intervened, and they could not consistently have him executed during the festival. Hence there was a respite of a few days. This James, executed, was not the brother of our Lord who was pastor of the Church at Jerusalem and wrote the Epistle of James. This James was one of the earliest disciples, dear to Jesus, one of the three admitted to the death chamber of the daughter of Jairus, to the Mount of Transfiguration and the agony of the garden of Gethsemane.

LESSON NOTES.

Vs. 5. Peter therefore was kept in prison, guarded by four quarternions of soldiers, each quarternion or band of four, being on guard at a time, two at the door, and two inside, one on each side of Peter, and bound to him with chains. The prison doors, and great iron gates were additional guards of the strongest government on earth; escape was humanly impossible. Prayer was made without ceasing, or "earnestly fervently," to a power superhuman. Of the Church, meeting centrally at the "house of Mary, the mother of.... Mark," but all the week, at home or business everywhere prayer was going up from their hearts.

Vs. 6. Herod. Agrippa who murdered James, the nephew of Herod Antipas, who murdered John the Baptist, and grandson of Herod the great who murdered the innocents at Jerusalem. This man thought to bring Peter forth. Peter was sleeping, resting in God's care Notwithstanding the guards, he could sleep trusting God. "His peaceful sleep was the triumph of faith." Peloubet. "I may see the two soldiers to whom I am chained, but not the ones that in secret are pouring out prayers for me. Oh, the unknown helpers! The unseen forces of the universe are stronger than the visible agencies."—Chas. F. Deems, LL.D.

Vs. 7. And behold. At the last moment of man's extremity, God's opportunity to train the faith of the disciples, and that Peter might be ready for death or the coming responsibilities. It was between them and six o'clock in the morning. The angel of the Lord, who "encampeth round about them that fear Him." A light shined: of the heavenly presence, in the prison (R. V. the call). Raised him up—R. V. "awoke him." His chains, that bound him to the sleeping soldiers, fell off.

Vs. 8. Gird thyself: as orientals, simply remove sandals, and loose to throw off the outer garment to sleep.

Vs. 9. And wist not: did not know, as imperfect of an old English verb meaning to know, from which comes our "wise."

Vs. 10. First and second ward. Guard sentinels or guard rooms, where the guards were probably sleeping. The iron gate, heavy, locked and barred. The angel, having now done his work, departed, leaving Peter to find his way.

Vs 11. Now I know, not having hitherto understood what were God's plans for him, whether to die as a martyr or continue to work and testify here. It was now near morning.

Vs. 12. John the Hebrew name, whose surname was Mark, his Latin name, the author of the Gospel according to Mark.

Vs. 13. The gate, the small low door at the entrance of the court yard, always kept fastened. Rhoda: a rose, probably a servant of Mary. "This rose smells sweet and blossoms in the dust."—MacLaren. Came to hearken. "Came to answer."

Vs. 14. Knew Peter's voice as that of a frequent visitor to that house. For gladness that made her hasten to tell the others.

Vs. 15. It is His angel, according to the Jewish belief in guardian angels.

Vs. 16. They were astonished, not at the fact of an answer, for they had faith to pray all the week and to be assembled to pray at that early hour if not all night, but they were surprised at the way their prayers were answered. God is always surprising His saints in the variety and independence of His ways of working.

Vs. 17. To hold their peace. As their noise was too loud to hear Peter speak, and might needlessly call attention to his escape before they knew what God would have him do. James, the brother of the Lord and pastor in Jerusalem. He departed. Using proper precaution to escape from Herod. It seemed necessary for him to leave Jerusalem for a time to escape being arrested again. The Roman guards soon to search for him would first come to the house of Mary.

PRACTICAL POINTS.

The power of God is superior to all human power. It is our refuge and rest from human plans and purposes.

1. The human means of getting hold of divine power is prayer.

2. It is a blessing beyond our estimation to have friends to pray for us.

3. The answer to prayer commonly comes in a way different from our expectation.

God is always surpassing Himself and needs not to repeat His methods or his means.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

Lesson for week ending Sunday, April 25th, 1897.

BY REV. B. E. WALLACE.

What is true Liberty and how won? Jno. 8:30-40.

Text for the week:

"If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Jno. 8:36.

Daily Readings:

Monday, Liberty to do good. Mark 9:38-50.

Tuesday, Liberty to choose evil. Matt. 23:29-39.

Wednesday, Use Liberty wisely. 1 Cor. 8:9; 9:11-15.

Thursday, Free, yet a slave. 1 Cor. 9:16-27.

Friday, Freedom from Christ. Gal. 4:21-31; 5:1.

Saturday, The spirit of bondage. Rom. 8:12-17.

Sunday Topic. Jno. 8:30-40.

Suggestions for Leaders:

1. Give all the Liberty to say something in the meeting.

2. Show how IN CHRIST we are made free.

3. Explain how it is that we are free and yet slaves. (1 Cor. 9:16-27.)

Notes;

What is true Liberty? It is to be freed from the bondage of sin and death. It is to be a slave to Christ. Paul says that he is the bond servant of Jesus Christ and yet an heir, a son. While there is therefore now no condemnation to them that are in Christ, freedom purchased by his own precious blood, yet we are not our own for we have been bought with a price. True freedom then as taught in God's word is to belong to Christ.

How is it to be won?

1. By giving Christ the victory in our hearts.

2. By taking him as our King.

3. By taking His yoke and bearing His burden.

Are you free, dear Endeavorers? then fight for the freedom of the captives of earth.

Do you know the Truth? then tell it out that all may hear.

Jesus comes to set the captives free.

OPEN DOOR NOTES.

The first name received in reply to our request to the children in the Letter-Box was that of Rufus J. Reid of Mt. Mourne, who recited the Shorter Catechism perfectly in his ninth year. Rufus has done bravely. Shall he keep the lead? Let us hear from others. Write us what you are doing, for the Letter-Box.

A Westminster League, organized about Christmas with more than fifty members in the First church, Henderson, Ky., is doing an excellent work.

A Westminster League was recently organized at Roberdell, N. C.

The Ladies's Aid Society of the Pryor Memorial church, Crewe, Va., have recently presented their church with four handsome walnut chairs.

The Westminster Bulletin of Raleigh states that the League is developing a wonderful amount of power in that church, giving fresh life and training those who will soon bear the heat and burden of the day.

The Westminster League of the Third church, New Orleans, of which Rev. R. W. Mecklin is pastor, is in a most flourishing condition, receiving members each week and growing daily in efficiency.

The Christian Endeavor Society of South River church held a very interesting meeting on last Sunday afternoon. Mr. D. Lewis Cromartie was leader for the prayer-meeting service which was very interesting. A very interesting piece was read by Miss Annie Cromartie. Subject. "Brotherly love." Then delegates were appointed to attend the State Convention in Charlotte: Miss Annie M. Cromartie and Messrs. T. J. Murphy and Angus Cromartie. The prayer-meeting committee appointed Miss Pearl Murphy to have a piece on the second Sunday, topic of her own selection, and Miss Margaret Cromartie for the fourth Sunday. There seems to be a great deal more interest taken in our society. "Blessed are the faithful for they shall see God."

Yours in the work,

MARGARET J. CROMARTIE.

Graham, N. C., April 12th, '97.

On Monday afternoon, April 5th, a very important and interesting meeting of the Young Ladies' Missionary Society of the First church, Wilmington, was held at the home of the President, Mrs. David Worth. Our President being compelled to leave in June, made a request of each member of the society that they make a free-will offering the first of April for the cause so dear to our hearts, "the Kindergarten work in the Southern part of the city"—each member to make the money independent of their ordinary income. The question was how was it to be made? One young lady proposed "darning a rent in a torn dress" as her greatest accomplishment, and immediately solicited patronage. Another "cleansing kid gloves." Some two or three prepared dainties in the culinary art and sold them. One lady proposed "shaving her husband." After the trial, the husband said he would give her $5 not to shave him, &c. As a result of these various and sundry means an offering was made amounting to $50. This amount will very much aid our present needs. The curtains were then drawn aside and the society daintily served to tea and wafers. The tea came from Wushi and was pronounced of the finest flavor.

We really think our

STAR BINDER

is a most desirable article to have in any household where the PRESBYTERIAN is taken. It holds the successive issues together in most convenient form, costs no labor and requires no special pains in its adjustment. What a fine Synodical Album a year's gathering would thus constitute!

Sent to any address for forty cents.

PUZZLE DEPARTMENT.

[A letter has been received from Raleigh giving answers and enigma, to which no name is signed. Please let us hear?]

ANSWERS FOR APRIL 1ST.

Timothy, Heb. 13:23. Cornie and Myrtle Wilkinson, Bessie Cromartie.

A fool's wrath, Prov. 27:3—Maggie Hall, Bessie Cromartie.

Nebuchadnezzar—A. D. Yonan, Maggie Hall, A. C. Dalton, Cornie and Myrtle Wilkinson, Bessie Cromartie.

Where is iron horns mentined in the Bible? Lelia Gertrude McKoy.

Who was Timothy's grandmother? Mary A. Thompson.

How many times does girl appear in the Bible and where?

A. C. Dalton.

ENIGMA.

1. Place where Terah died.
2. A city in Shinar founded by Nimrod.
3. The name of the king who succeeded Jeroboam.
4. The father of Methusaleh.
5. One of the sons of Levi.
6. One of the boundaries of Ahaserus' kingdom.
7. The daughter of Phanuel.
8. The city which was given to Caleb, son of Jephunneh.

The initial letters of the answers form the name of the best king of Judah.

C. Flinn Arrowood

MARRIED.

☞ No notice of a marriage or death will be inserted unless accompanied by a responsible name, which is wanted not for publication but as a guaranty of good faith.

DAVIS—JOHNSON. At the residence of the bride's father, Mr. John Niven near Morven, N. C., April 7th, 1897, Mr. Jas. J Davis, of Chesterfield, S. C., and Mrs. Maggie T. Johnson, of Morven, N. C., Rev. E. L. Siler, officiating.

BIZZELL—CROMARTIE. On the 30th of March last by Rev. A. McFadyen, Mr. H. A. Bizzell and Miss Nannie Cromartie, daughter of the late George Cromartie, Bladen county, N. C.

CLARK—SINGLETARY. On the 31st of March, by Rev. A. McFadyen, Mr. Will A. Clark, and Miss Virginia Singletary, daughter of Mr. George S. Singletary—all Bladen county, N. C.

SECULAR NEWS.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The first shipment of strawberries from Wilmington was on the 7th inst. Early spring vegetables are abundant in market.

At 11.15 a.m., on Sunday last the northbound fast mail train and the local passenger train, southbound, collided at Harrisburg on the Southern railroad while under full headway. One of the engineers was fatally injured and a fireman, and postal clerk and one other man were killed outright or nearly so. Beside these five were wounded more or less seriously. The engines and postal and baggage cars were badly wrecked as was one car carrying strawberries. A rescue car promptly sent out from Charlotte took the dead and wounded thither. The railroad authorities acted most promptly and judiciously.

The fruit crop in the Statesville section was not so badly injured by the recent cold snap as was expected. The apple crop is safe yet and several farmers say that the peach crop will be about one-third in some places.

The Charlotte Observer, as ever up to date, will publish a special Twentieth of May edition. Much interesting information will be given which will be enhanced by numerous illustrations.

Many interesting relics are being gathered together for exhibition in Charlotte in May. Among them an old copy of the Scotch Solemn League and Covenant; a certificate of dismissal from the Scotch Church to America, over a century ago, and a similar one from the north of Ireland; also a diploma granted by Queen's College in 1776.

DOMESTIC.

Daniel W. Voorhees, ex-senator of Indiana, died in Washington City on the early morning of Saturday last. He had been in poor health for sometime past. He was a great favorite in the Senate and among employees of the departments.

Bluefish are being shipped in large quantities from Norfolk to the New York market. About 2,000 brought in one day last week were shipped off—many of them by express.

New York city is to have seven new piers on the water front at a cost of $10,000.

Mrs. Leland Stanford has her life insured for $1,000,000 for the benefit of Leland Stanford Jr., University, at an annual premium of $170,000. If Mrs. Stanford lives ten years and continues paying the premiums the University will receive $2,000,000 at her death.

Dr. Hugo Engel, professor of nervous diseases in the Medico-Chirurgical College, Philadelphia, and a well-known authority on diseases of the nerve and brain, died in that city last week in his 53d year. He held degrees from seven colleges in Germany.

On Thursday of last week a fire occurred in Knoxville, Tenn., which destroyed the Hotel Knoxville besides several buildings in the heart of the city. Several lives were lost in the hotel and one man dropped dead in the street from fright. The value of property destroyed was between one and two millions of dollars.

The new fortifications on Santee Rosa island near Pensacola, Fla., are nearly completed. The workmen are being discharged. The big guns will soon be put in position.

There are times when the variation of a pulse beat tells the practiced physician whether the scale will go down and mean death or up and mean life. But suppose the medicine he prescribes is not the medicine which your child is taking, but something the druggist thought would do just as well! Who is going to regulate the balance then? A druggist who will offer you something else when you ask for Scott's Emulsion will do the same thing with his prescriptions. Get what you ask for!

The news from the overflowed districts on the Mississippi is more cheering. The worst is thought to be over and the farmers hope the waters will subside in time for them to make a crop.

This year for the first time in the history of Louisiana the Confederate Memorial Day was observed as a legal holiday.

The Tennessee students of the Peabody Normal College, located in Nashville, Tenn., have begun a movement to raise funds for the erection of a monument to George Peabody in commemoration of his philanthropy to the South. Organization of the Peabody Memorial Associations of the State of Tennessee has been perfected. The movement is not confined to students, but is receiving active and hearty support from prominent citizens.

South Broad Street, Savannah, has been renamed in honor of Georgia's founder and will hereafter be known as Oglethorpe Avenue.

The Poughkeepsie glass works were completely destroyed by fire on the 9th. The cause was the leakage of a tank full of molten glass at glowing heat. The glass rushed like lava over the building leaving fire in its wake. Loss $100,000.

A flash of lightning last week sets fire to a Louisiana cotton press shed destroying $14,000 worth of cotton

When the contemplated addition of 170 looms are placed in the Riverside cotton mills, Danville, this will be the largest cotton mill in the South.

FOREIGN.

Great Britain it is said is about to make a loan to the Liberian government in consideration of conditions which will give her an advantageous position as compared with the United States, Germany and other nations.

The Greeks and Turks have got into actual warfare tho war has not been declared. The successes are reported as belonging to the Greeks.

The heat on the gulf coast of Mexico is already at summer temperature. A destructive insect has invaded a number of plantations in the State of Vera Cruz and is destroying the tobacco crop.

The news from Cuba of late has been much less favorable to the insurgents. They have lost several of their leading officers lately and General Delgado commanding the insurgent force in Pinar sel Rio is said to be seriously ill.

The remains of Johannes Brahms, the composer of music, who died last Saturday, in Berlin, will be buried between the tombs of Beethoven and Schubert. He left no legal will, only a letter to his publisher, Csimrock, making the Society of Friends of Music the sole heir of his fortune of $40,000 and the copyrights of his compositions, together with all his manuscripts and beautiful collection of autographs.

The latest reports from Gen. Ruis Rivera are that he is kept in solitary confinement. He has not yet been sentenced to be shot. Gen. Weyler states that he is satisfied with the results of the last campaign.

It has been decided to celebrate the Queen's diamond jubilee by the simultaneous lighting of bonfires on the hills around the coasts, at 10 o'clock on the day of the sixtieth anniversary of her ascension to the throne, June 20th.

One thousand five hundred dollars of the money contributed to the fund for Armenian sufferers will be used by Lady Somerset for temperance nurses in Crete.

By the Emperor's instructions the remains of Frederick the Great, now in the garrison church of Potsdam, will be removed and reburied in a fine mausoleum to be erected in strict accordance with the will of Frederick the Great on the terrace of the Chateau of Sans Souci.

CHILDREN'S DAY EXERCISES FOR 1897.

Our Children's Day Exercises for this year, prepared again for us by our kind helpers, the ladies of Augusta, Ga., are now ready for distribution. We hope that every Sabbath-school in our bounds will avail itself of this method of helping our cause and of awakening a missionary interest among the children.

As many as may be needed will be furnished free of charge, only we would appreciate it, (though not demanding it) if the amount of postage on packages sent by mail might be returned to us.

By ordering promptly you can receive them in time to prepare thoroughly for Children's Day, which is the last Sabbath in May. Send orders to "Secretary of Foreign Missions, Presbyterian Church, P. O. Box 457, Nashville, Tenn., stating number of copies wanted.

S. H. CHESTER,
Secretary.

A Beautiful, Fitting, and Enduring Memento

For Personal Possession and Study

Is Found in the New Holy Land Art Portfolios

ENTITLED

Palestine Photographed.

Every Student of the Bible,

Every Student of History,

Every Lover of Art

Should Have It.

This desirable book comprises 64 beautiful engravings from views taken in 1894. Each scene is accurately and eloquently described by two distinguished divines, Bishop Vincent and Dr. Lee. The work should find a place in every Christian home.

Any paid up subscriber to the PRESBYTERIAN can obtain this book upon remitting 25 cents.

FOR THE FAMILY.

THE DAY'S WORK.

Do thy day's work, my dear,
Though fast and dark the clouds are drifting near,
Though time has little left for hope and very much for fear.

Do thy day's work, though now
The hand must falter and the head must bow,
And far above the failing foot shows the bold mountain brow.

We can give kindly speech,
And ready helping hands to all and each,
And patience to the young around, by smiling silence teach.

We can give gentle thought
And charity, by life's long lesson taught,
And wisdom from old faults lived down, by toil and failure wrought,

And if gay hearts reject
The gifts we hold—would fain fare on unchecked
On the bright roads that scarcely yield all that young eyes expect,

Why, do thy day's work still.
The calm deep fonts of love are slow to chill;
And heaven may yet the harvest yield, the work-worn hands to fill.

—Selected.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S JUBILEE.

On June 20th, of the present year, Queen Victoria will have completed the sixtieth year of her reign. Already in September last she had reigned longer than any previous English sovereign; hence, measured merely by length of years, the reign of Victoria has been most remarkable, and it is not at all to be wondered at that the people of England and of the entire British Empire should have determined to celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of the Queen's accession with unprecedented splendor befitting so uncommon an event.

The reign of Victoria has been remarkable in many other ways, however, than in mere length of years. Never probably before was the crown of a great country more honorably worn, and there is no doubt whatever but that this long reign has been the most glorious period in English history. The Victorian age has, in fact, witnessed the most marvelous development, not only in all the arts of civilization, but also in the wealth and power of all the leading nations. A single reign which has witnessed the development from the crudest beginnings, of railroads, steamships, the telegraph, electricity and the press, to the present perfection which all have attained, has encompassed what no other single epoch in the world's history has evolved.

While, therefore, the people of England have every possible reason for celebrating what they patriotically call the diamond jubilee of their Queen, and the various colonies throughout the British Empire have equal cause for enthusiastically joining in the celebration, the people of all enlightened nations will also watch with keen interest the festivities, because they cannot fail to realize that during the official career of this noble woman as ruler of one of the leading powers of the earth, all that has been great and glorious in the history of the nineteenth century has taken place.

The correspondence from London for several weeks past has teemed with accounts of the preparations which are being made to celebrate the anniversary. A splendid pageant and extensive fetes will take place, and it is said that houses along the proposed route of the procession are being rented at high figures, and windows and points of vantage are being held at enormous prices.

One of the features of the pageant will be the presence of detachments of troops from every colony and dependent State in the British Empire. These colonial troops will be formed into a division, and will, of course, display all the peculiarities of uniform and equipment belonging to their respective services.

The festivities which took place in Moscow last year, on the occasion of the coronation of the Czar, promise to be eclipsed in London during the coming summer, and there is no doubt but the occasion will be a more memorable one and will elicit more widespread interest.—Picayune.

What a wonder it is that some women are so heedless about the things that concern them most. They endure all sorts of pain and misery with carelessness which would never be possible if they realized the consequences.

Comparatively few women understand that when they neglect their health because they are too busy or overworked or their minds are taken up with other concerns, that they are balancing on the edge of a fatal precipice.

Any weakness or disease of woman's special organism is no trifling matter. A woman who through indifference neglects these troubles is laying the foundation for life-long wretchedness.

A modest woman naturally recoils from the mortifying ordeal of examinations and local treatment which doctors insist upon. But there is no necessity for any such repugnant alternative. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures these delicate complaints positively and completely. It is a medicine devised for this particular purpose by one of the most eminent of living specialists in woman's diseases.

Dr. Pierce has been for nearly 30 years chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. During this time he has received fully ninety thousand letters from women who have been cured by the "Favorite Prescription." Some of these letters are printed by permission, in one chapter of Dr Pierce's great thousand-page book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser." It contains advice and suggestions for self-treatment which every woman ought to read. More than half a million copies have been sold at $1.50 each. An absolutely free edition in paper covers will be sent for a limited time to anyone sending 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of mailing only. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y. For a handsome cloth-bound copy send 31 stamps.

Potash

is a necessary and important ingredient of complete fertilizers. Crops of all kinds require a properly balanced manure. The best contain a high percentage of Potash.

Fertilizers

All about Potash—the results of its use by actual experiment on the best farms in the United States—is told in a little book which we publish and will gladly mail free to any farmer in America who will write for it.

GERMAN KALI WORKS,
93 Nassau St., New York.

NEW BOOKS
FOR THE
Sunday-School Library.

We desire to call attention to the following list of new library books recently issued from our press. They are all handsomely bound in cloth, and should have a place in every Sunday-school library. To those taking the entire list at one time we will make a special discount of 40 per cent. Discount of 33⅓ per cent on any of our own books.

By Mrs. M. E. Ireland:

The Siberian Exile. 122 pages,	$ 60
The Shepherd's Family. Translated from the German. 112 pages,	60
Adolph's Victories. 314 pages,	1 00
Christian Beck's Grandson. 239 pages,	1 00
In Fair Silesia. Translated from the German. 156 pages,	60
School on Luneburg Heath. Translated from the German. 148 pages,	60
Driven Out. Translated from the German. 156 pages,	1 00

By Miss Annie M. Barnes:

Ninito: A Story of the Bible in Mexico. 214 pages,	90
How Ashton-hoh Found the Light. 266 pages,	1 25
Izilda: A Story of Brazil 196 pages,	1 00

By Elizabeth Olmis (author of Jack's Hymn):

Over at Little Acorns. 384 pages,	1 25

By Fannie Aricks Shugert:

Ezekiel of Bethlehem. 281 pages,	1 00

By Rev. H. C. DuRose, D. D.:

Memoirs of John Leighton Wilson, Missionary to Africa, and Secretary of Foreign Missions. 336 pages,	1 50

By Mrs. E. H. Amis:

Camping on the Blue Ridge. 106 pages,	60

By Rev. J. M. Chaney, D. D.:

William the Baptist. Cloth, 60 cts.; paper,	25
Agnes, Daughter of William the Baptist,	75

By Mrs. Mary M. Anderson Hawkins:

Jack Payton and his Friends,	75

On miscellaneous Sabbath-school books selected from the lists of other publishers we will give a discount of 30 per cent. and we call attention to our Select Catalogue of miscellaneous books, in which will be found titles and description of more than nine hundred books, all of which have been carefully examined by competent persons, and none will be found in the list not suitable in every respect for our Sabbath-school libraries.

We will make careful selection of libraries if desired from our stock, or will send to any order one-fourth more books than may be needed, with the privilege of returning any that are not wanted.

Also, Sabbath-school Supplies, Class-Books, Records, etc., on the best terms.

If sent by mail, postage will be additional. Express to be paid by purchaser. Address

Presbyterian Committee of Publication,
JAS. K. HAZEN, Sec'y and Treas.,
Richmond, Va.

$4 PER DAY SURE SALARY OR COMMISSION.
DO you want honorable, steady employment the year round, at good wages, at your own home or to travel? If so, send 4c in stamps for our wholesale price-list and particulars. We furnish best of bank references.
AMERICAN TEA CO.,
Detroit, Michigan.

PREMIUMS.

No. 1. For 21 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Hunting case, jointed front and back 18 size and guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $20.00.

No. 2. For 16 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Open face, 18 size, 14 karat filled case, screw back and bezel, guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $15.00.

No. 3. For 17 new subscribers at 1.50 for first year, we will give a Ladies' Gold Watch Hunting case, 6 size, stem winder, 14 karat, filled case, screw bezel—guaranteed 20 years—retails at $16.00

No. 4. For 12 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give a Gents' Silver Watch: 18 size, plain case, open face—retails at $12.50.

No. 5. For 10 new subscribers a Ladies' Silver Watch, O size, plain case, open face—retails for $10.00.

No. 6. For 8 new subscribers, we will give a Nickel Watch, 18 size, screw bezel—retails for $7.00.

No. 7. For 7 new subscribers, we will give solid silver teaspoons—retails for $6.00.

No. 8. For 4 new subscribers, a sugar spoon, sterling gilt engraved—retails at $3.00.

The articles will all be first-class from a jeweller of established reputation.

New subscribers means not change of address to some one else—that would be fraud—but bona fide new subscribers.

For $1.75 we will send the paper for the first year to a new subscriber and a copy of Palestine Photographed. This album contains 64 actual photographic reproductions of picturesque and historical places in the Holy Land on enameled pages, and is a thing of beauty. The descriptive foot notes are good and enhance the interest.

We regard this as a specially desirable premium.

To any one paying up or renewing their subscription and sending $2.25 we will send this album as apremium

W., N. & N. RAILWAY.

In Effect Sunday, Oct, 27, 1895.

DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY.

NORTH BOUND.		STATIONS.	SOUTH BOUND.
	8		7
P. M.		— WILMINGTON —	P. M.
2	00	Lv Mulberry St. Ar	12	40
3	58	Lv Jacksonville Lv	10	42
4	30	Lv..Maysville..Lv	10	00
4	44	Lv Pollocksville Lv	9	55
5	30	Ar..Newbern..Lv	9	20
P. M.			A. M.

Trains 8 and 7 p m make connection with trains on A & N C R R for Morehead City and Beaufort.

Connection with Steamer Neuse at Newbern to and from Elizabeth City and Norfolk Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Steamer Geo D Purdy makes daily trips between Jacksonville and New River points.

H. A. WHITING,
General Manager.

J. W. MARTENIS,
Traffic Manager.

CHILDREN'S COLUMN.

THE NAUGHTY FAIRIES.

MARGARET E. SANGSTER.

There are two or three naughty fairies
Who lurk in our pretty house;
They are sly as the wily foxes,
And one is as still as a mouse,
And one can growl and mutter,
And one has a chain on her feet;
These naughty and mischievous fairies,
Whom you may have happened to meet.

The still-as-a-mouse one whispers,
When a bit of work must be done:
"Oh! just let it go till to-morrow,
And take to-day for fun."
And the mutter-and-growl one pricks you,
Till you pucker your face in a scowl,
Or whimper and fret in a corner,
Or stand on the floor and howl.

But the worst of the three bad fairies
Is the one with the chain on her feet;
And the strangest thing is her fancy
For a child who is gay and sweet;
She makes her forget an errand,
And loiter when she should haste;
And many a precious hour
She causes the child to waste.

Should you happen to see these fairies,
Please pass them proudly by,
With lips set close and firmly,
And a flash in your steadfast eye:
For three very naughty people
These little fairies be;
Who mean, wherever they're hiding,
No good to you and me.

HOW MARY SAW.

A little girl was lying ill in bed. She had suffered so much that her disease had taken away her eyesight.

One day her teacher went to see her.

"Are you quite blind, Mary?" she asked.

"Yes; but I can see Jesus," said Mary.

"How, my child, do you see Jesus?" her teacher wanted to know.

"With the eyes of my heart," replied the little one.

Was not she a happy child?

Are you trying to be like Mary?
—Exchange.

THE THREE SIEVES.

It was a rule of Peter the Great never to say anything about a person if he could say nothing good. This is a good rule. Here is a little story that shows how one mother taught her little girl a very important lesson, says The Evangelist:

"O, mamma!" cried little Blanche Powers, "I heard such a tale about Edith Howard! I did not think she could be so naughty. One—"

"My dear," interrupted Mrs. Powers, "before you continue, we will see if your story will pass the three sieves."

"What does that mean, mamma?" inquired Blanche.

"I will explain it. In the first place, 'Is it true?'"

"I suppose so; I got it from Miss White, and she is a great friend of Edith's."

"And does she show her friendship by telling tales of her? In the next place, though you can prove it to be true, 'Is it kind?'"

"I do not mean to be unkind; but I am afraid it was. I should not like Edith to speak of me as I have of her."

"And, 'Is it necessary?'"

"No, of course, mamma; there was no need for me to mention it at all."

"Then put a bridle on your tongue. If we can't speak well, speak not at all."

LETTER-BOX.

Mr. Editor: I am a girl of only nine years, quite young to enter college, but I am so delighted here I feel like I want to say a few words to my little friends. The day my papa brought me here, the President met us and said his chambers were all filled and the only chance for me to remain was to see the matron and get permission to room with her. So in a few days I want to wear a cap with R. S. S. on it. If any of my little friends think of coming here; if you are met with the smiles of our President, you will love and adore.

Baby student of
R. S. S.
Red Springs, N. C.

Dear Mr. Editor: As I haven't written to you in some time, I thought I would write again. I am a little girl eight years old. I love to read the PRESBYTERIAN. I am not going to school now. I went to my Auntie's school, Reidsville Female Seminary last year, the only time I have ever been to school. My teacher was Miss Minnie Williamson, she was my Sunday-school teacher too. I was very fond of her. I named my large doll after her. I want to go to the Seminary again. I love to go to school and I love to stay at Auntie's too. I have some nice little friends that go to school. I have two sweet little brothers, we have such a nice time playing together. I hope you will print my letter as I want to surprise a friend of mine that lives in Florida. She takes your paper.

Your little friend,
ANNIE HENDON HUGHES.
Cedar Grove, N. C.

Mr. Editor:

Dear Sir:—I have written to you one letter, and you printed it. I am going to school at Newells to Profs. Wright and Brother. They have a good school. I like my teachers very much. I am an orphan boy. I have two sisters and one brother. I like to read the children's letters in your paper.

Truly,
JOHN FEIMSTER.
Querys P. O., N. C.

Dear Mr. Editor: I haven't written a letter to the Box in some time. I have two kittens. They are both gray, their eyes are open and I have another kitten that is almost grown, his name is Charlie. He is white and gray and he will play. I will close as I am afraid my letter is too long.

Your little friend,
MAGGIE MCARTAN.
Lillington, N. C.

Dear Mr. Editor: I have enjoyed reading the letters in the PRESBYTERIAN so much I thought I would write a letter too. I am a little boy nine years old. I go to the graded school and am in the third grade. I like to go to school, but am always glad when summer comes so I can go to my grandpa's in the country. I have a bicycle and enjoy riding it very much. I will close by asking the little folks a question. Please publish this as I want to surprise my mother and father.

Your little friend,
CHAS. W. TILLETT, JR.
Charlotte, N. C.

My Dear Mr. Editor: I thought I would write to you for the first time, as I have seen so many letters in your paper. My mama takes your good paper, and I like to read the children's column very much. Our pastor, Rev. E. D. Brown boards with us. My teacher in the Presbyterian Sunday school, Mr. O. T. Boney, gave me a beautiful gold pen, with pearl handle for being the only one in the class who had not missed a word during the past year. I go to school to mama, and I study Swinton's Language Primer, Maury's Manual of Geography, spelling, Fifth Reader, history and arithmetic. I am nine years of age. I have a beautiful pet cat name Billie.

Your little friend,
BESSIE CHRISTIAN WOOTEN.
Kinston, N. C.

Dear Mr. Editor: I thought I would write to you as I have never done so before. I am nine years old. I have one brother. Father takes your good paper and I like to read the letters from the little folks. Our pastor is Rev. J. M. Wharey, D.D. My Sunday-school teacher is Mrs. Nannie Lentz, my grandmother. My school teacher is Miss Lula Grey. I go to Sunday-school every Sunday. I will close hoping your paper much success. Please publish my letter because I want to surprise mother and father.

Your friend,
MAUD LENTZ.
Mooresville, N. C.

Dear Mr. Editor:—I thought I would write a little letter for your paper. I have been going to school all winter and my school has closed, and we had a speaking at the close. We had a nice time. We had nice music. I got the prize in the spelling class for being head the most times. It was a nice gilt-edged Testament. Our Sunday-school closed Christmas. I study the Child's Catechism. I have not got through it yet, but want to finish it this summer. My hand is tired of writing so I will close.

Your little friend,
ERNEST C. MCLEAN.
McLeansville, N. C.

Dear Presbyterian:—I saw so many nice letters in the paper I thought I would write too. I am going to school at Blowing Rock. My home is at Valle Crucis. I have one brother and two sisters My school teacher's name is Miss Boyd. I like her very much. As this is my first letter, I hope to see it in the paper. I will ask one question. I will close.

Your friend,
LELIA GERTRUDE MCKOY.
Blowing Rock, N. C.

FREE! We direct special attention to the following remarkable statements:

Had catarrh ever since I can remember, often avoided company on account of the offensive discharge, hawking and spitting; throat was dry and sore, the least change in the weather gave me cold; dull pain over my eyes caused a stupid and drowsy feeling; ears began to ring and in a short time my hearing failed and grew worse until I became so deaf I could not hear one talk unless they were close to me and spoke very loud. Have used Aerial Medication eight weeks, hearing is fully restored, roaring and pain gone, and Catarrh is entirely cured. I do not see why any one should suffer from Catarrh or deafness when there is such a good cure as this. Miss Carrie Bowers, Rouseville, Pa.

Deaf 25 Years.

For many years I suffered from Catarrh, which destroyed my hearing, and for twenty-five years I was so deaf that I could not hear a clock strike by holding my ear against it. I had tried every known remedy, and nothing gave me the slightest relief. I obtained Aerial Medication, and in three weeks my hearing began to improve, and now I can hear common conversation across a room; can hear a clock strike in an adjoining room 30 feet away. I think I am entirely cured, and my hearing permanently restored.

EDWIN COLEMAN, Box 585,
Wichita, Kas.

Medicine for 3 Months Treatment Free

To introduce this treatment and prove beyond doubt that Aerial Medication will cure Deafness, Catarrh, Throat and Lung Diseases, will, for a short time, send Medicines for three months treatment free. Address,

H. Moore, M. D., G. 2., Cincinnati, O

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., April 7th, 1897.

President McKinley added to the respect and admiration felt for him when he administered a tacit rebuke to the somebody who implied that they thought he would like to be treated differently from others invited to participate in the communion service at the Metropolitan church, by going up in advance of the rest of the congregation and taking communion alone. When he was asked what his wishes were, he promptly replied that his only desire was to be treated simply as a member of the congregation and as entitled to no special privileges because he was the President of the United States. He and the friend who sat with him—Mrs. McKinley has been unable to attend church up to this time—received the sacrament with the second twenty-five who knelt at the altar rail. They then returned to their pew and remained until the sacrament had been administered to the entire congregation. Mr. McKinley has also made known his disapproval of the practice which has been adopted since he began attending this church, of the congregation remaining seated at the close of the services until he and those who accompany him have passed out of the church, and it is probable that the practice will be abandoned. Bishop Hurst preached from a text that might well have been chosen by Mr. McKinley in defense of his attitude, had defense been needed, Galatians iii: 28—"There is neither Jew nor Greek, bound nor free, male nor female; for ye are all one in Christ." Besides Dr. Johnston, the pastor, the following well-known divines participated in the services: Dr. Dorchester of Christ Church, Pittsburgh; Dr. Ames of the Deaconess' Home; Dr. Baker, the famous traveler, and Drs. Brown and Croissant.

Dr. Whitman, president of the Columbian University, preached the communion sermon at Calvary Baptist church, on "The Paradoxes of the Bible," of which he selected four of the simplest for elucidation—"The true way to get is to give." "The part is greater than the whole." "Addition is multiplication," and "The far conditions are the near." As a Bible scholar Dr. Whitman has few equals.

Presidential appointments are as a rule regarded with indifference by the general public, excepting those persons who are personal friends of the appointee. A striking exception to this rule was the selection of Hon. Benjamin Butterworth to be Commissioner of Patents. Mr. Butterworth was not an applicant for this office, which he ably filled during the administration of President Arthur, but knowing his peculiar fitness for the place President McKinley insisted upon his accepting it, and in doing so Mr. Butterworth was, it is believed, actuated more by a desire to serve the public, so large a portion of which at one time or another have business with the Patent Office, and to aid his fellow patent lawyers in raising the standard of pratice before that office to a standard so high that such methods as have recently been resorted to by unscrupulous attorneys will be abolished for all time. Mr. Butterworth has a successful record as a statesman, made by long service in Congress; as an executive officer, made while government representative at the World's Fair, and as a patent lawyer, made in his private practice and as a Commissioner of Patents during his former term.

Rev. Edward Everett Hale, the distinguished orator, author and founder of the lend a helping hand clubs, preached on "Immortality" last Sunday, at All Soul's church. That day was also Mr. Hale's birthday—his seventy-fifth.

A special service in the interest of Sabbath observance was held this week at Hamline M. E. church, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. Addresses were delivered by Rev. Dr. Lucien Clark, pastor of Foundry church, and by Rev. Dr. W. R. Stricklen, pastor of Hamline, and from the address of the latter the following nugget of truth is taken: "Take away the Sabbath, and the church is threatened; take away the church, and religion is threatened; take away religion, and morality is threatened; take away morality, and the home is threatened: if the influence of home is lessened, society is threatened and if society is threatened then the government is jeopardized." Dr. Clark said that love or money was the cause of all Sunday work, and exhorted his hearers to make the Sabbath a bright day—the brightest day of the week.

Petitions continue to be presented to the Senate asking that the arbitration treaty be ratified, but no time has yet been set for taking the vote, and the opponents of the treaty are claiming that they have strength enough to defeat ratification when the vote is taken. While this claim is not conceded by the friends of the treaty, they are much less confident of the ratification of the treaty, even with the amendments which have materially reduced the number of questions that would under its provisions be arbitrated, than they were a short time ago.

T.

Abingdon Presbytery is adjourned to meet in Green Spring church, Washington county, Virginia, on May 4th, at 2.30 p. m.

I. N. NAFF,
Stated Clerk.

SEABOARD AIR LINE S.A.L.

VESTIBULED LIMITED TRAINS. DOUBLE DAILY SERVICE

TO ATLANTA, CHARLOTTE, ATHENS, WILMINGTON, NEW ORLEANS, CHATTANOOGA,
AND
NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA, WASHINGTON, NORFOLK, RICHMOND.

Schedule in Effect Feb. 7th, 1897.

WESTWARD.

	No. 41.	No. 403.
Lv Wilmington.	*3 20pm	.....
Lv Lumberton..	5 26pm	.....
Lv Maxton.....	6 12pm	.....
Lv Laurinburg..	6 23pm	.....
Ar Hamlet.....	6 53pm	.....
Lv Hamlet.....	7 13pm	*5[illegible] am
Lv Rockingham.	7 30pm	2 23 am
Lv Wadesboro..	8 11pm	.....
Lv Marshville..	8 48pm	6 25 am
Ar Monroe.....	9 12pm	6 43 am
Lv Monroe.....	9 35pm	7 30 am
Ar Charlotte....	10 25pm	8 30 am
Ar Mt. Holly....	.....	9 10 am
Ar Lincolnton...	.....	10 35 am
Ar Shelby.....	.....	11 45a m
Ar Ellenboro....	.....	12 20p m
ArRutherfordton	.....	12 54p m
†8 40am Lv....	Hamlet..Ar	6 20p m
10 00am Ar....	Cheraw..Ar	† 5.00p m

EASTWARD.

	No. 38.	No. 402
LvRutherfordton	.....	*4 35p m
Lv Ellenboro....	.....	5 15p m
Lv Shelby.....	.....	6 03p m
Lv Lincolnton..	.....	7 00p m
Lv Mt Holly....	.....	7 50p m
Lv Charlotte....	*5 10am	8 25p m
Ar Monroe.....	5 58am	9 10p m
Lv Monroe.....	6 05am	9 40p m
Lv Marshville...	6 25am	.....
Lv Wadesboro..	7 01am	10 31 pm
Lv Rockingham.	7 41am	11 05p m
Ar Hamlet.....	7 55am	11 23p m
Lv Hamlet.....	8 45am	.....
Lv Laurinburg..	9 11am	.....
Lv Maxton.....	9 30am	.....
Lv Lumberton...	10 18am	.....
Ar Wilming on..	12 30pm	.....

NORTHWARD.

Lv Hamlet.....	*8 15am	*11 28pm
Ar Raleigh.....	11 30am	2 11pm
Ar Portsmouth..	5 50pm	7 30am
Ar Richmond..	*6 50pm	* 8 15am
Ar Washington..	11 10pm	12 31pm
Ar New York...	6 53am	6 23pm

SOUTHWARD.

Lv Monroe.....	*6 48am	*9 25p m
Ar Abbeville....	11 05am	1 40a m
Ar Athens.....	1 15pm	3 45a m
Ar Atlanta (Central Time)....	2 50pm	5 20a m

*Daily. †Daily, except Sunday.

Both trains make immediate connections at Atlanta for Montgomery, Mobile, New Orleans, Texas, California, Mexico, Chattanooga, Nashville, Memphis, Macon, Florida.

For Tickets, Sleepers, etc., apply to

B. A. NEWLAND,
Gen. Agt. P. Dept.
6 Kimball House, Atlanta, Ga.

THOS. D. MEARES,
Gen'l. Agent, Wilmington, N. C.

E. ST. JOHN, Vice-President and General Manager.

H. W. B. GLOVER, Traffic Manager.
V. E. McBEE, Gen'l. Supt.
T. J. ANDERSON, Gen'l. Pass. Agt.
General Offices, Portsmouth, Va.

C. F. &Y. V. Railway Co.

JOHN GILL, Receiver.

CONDENSED SCHEDULE.

IN EFFECT April 4th, 1897.

NORTH BOUND.

	No. 2. Daily
Leave Wilmington	8.00a.m
Arrive Fayetteville	11.21 "
Leave Fayetteville	11.21 "
Leave Fayetteville Junction	11.27 "
Leave Sanford	1.00p.m.
Leave Climax	2.55 "
Arrive Greensboro	3.25 "
Leave Greensboro	3.35 "
Leave Stokesdale	4.23 "
Leave WalnutCove	4.55 "
Leave Rural Hall	5.26 "
Arrive Mt. Airy	6.50 "

SOUTH BOUND.

	No. 1. Daily
Leave Mt. Airy	8.40a m
Leave Rural Hall	10.04 "
Leave Walnut Cove	10.32 "
Leave Stokesdale	11.07p.m
Arrive Greensboro	11.55 "
Leave Greensboro	12.15 "
Leave Climax	12.43 "
Leave Sanford	2.40 "
Arrive Fayetteville Junction	3.55 "
Arrive Fayetteville	3.58 "
Leave Fayetteville	4.22 "
Arrive Wilmington	7.30 "

NORTH BOUND.

	No. 4. Daily
Leave Bennettsville	8.10a. m
ArriveMaxton	9.23 "
LeaveMaxton	9.33 "
Leave Red Springs	10.04 "
Leave Hope Mills	10.52 "
Arrive Fayetteville	11.16 "

SOUTH BOUND

	No. 3. Daily
Leave Fayetteville	4.25p m
Leave Hope Mills	4.46 "
Leave Red Springs	5.35 "
ArriveMaxton	6 10 "
Leave Maxton	6.18 "
ArriveBennettsville	7.30 "

NORTH BOUND.

	No. 16 Mixed. Daily ex Sunday.
Leave Ramseur	6.45a. m
Leave Climax	8.35 "
Arrive Greensboro	9.20 "
Leave Greensboro	9.35 "
Leave Stokesdale	11.07 "
Arrive Madison	11.55 "

SOUTH BOUND.

	No. 15 Mixed. Daily ex Sunday.
Leave Madison	12.30p.m
Leave Stokesdale	1.28 "
Arrive Greensboro	2.40 "
Leave Greensboro	3.25 "
Leave Climax	4.20 "
Arrive Ramseur	6 05 "

NORTH BOUND CONNECTIONS,

at Fayetteville with the Atlantic Coast Line for all points North and East at Sanford with the Seaboard Air Line, at Greensboro with the Southern Railway Company, at Walnut Cove with the Norfolk & Western R. R., for Winston-Salem.

SOUTH BOUND CONNECTIONS,

at Walnut Cove with the Norfolk & Western R. R., for Roanoke and all points North and West, at Greensboro with the Southern Railway Company for Raleigh, Richmond and all points North and East, at Fayetteville with the Atlantic Coast Line for all points South, at Maxton with the Seaboard Air Line for Charlotte, Atlanta and all points South and Southwest.

W. E. KYLE,
Gen'l Passenger Agent

J. W. FRY,
Gen'l Manager

COAL, WOOD AND SHINGLES.

Best quality and lowest prices. Satisfaction guaranteed. Your patronage solicited.

Respectfully,
P. R. FOWLER,
Successor to Fowler & Morrison.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHUROR IN THE UNITED STATES

Will convene at Charlotte, N. C., in the First Presbyterian church, on the third Thursday (20th day) of May, 1897, at 11 o'clock a. m. The opening sermon will be preached by the moderator of the last Assembly.

The undersigned will be present in the Lecture Room of said church on Wednesday, May 19th, at 8 o'clock p. m., and also on the following morning at 9 o'clock, to enroll the names of commissioners.

JOSEPH R. WILSON, Stated Clerk,
ROBERT P. FARRIS, Permanent Clerk.

N. B.—Treasurers of Presbyteries are urgently requested to forward to the treasurer of General Assembly, at Charlotte, all sums due for Presbyterial assessments, as well for previous years as for the year 1897.

JOSEPH R. WILSON,
Treasurer.

SAY SOES.

There is nothing so strong or safe in any emergency of life, as the simple truth.—Dickens.

Japanese houses in the larger cities are of one general shape, two stories high, and put together with a curious method of mortising, at which these people are adepts, not one nail being used throughout the construction of the building.

Dandruff is an exudation from the pores of the skin that spreads and dries, forming scurf and causing the hair to fall out. Hall's Hair Renewer cures it.

To root sin from the heart requires heroic treatment of self, and the uttermost sincerity in scrutinizing our own motives and secret springs of life, but it is the only treatment that will effect a cure. It is a surgical operation, but it is necessary.—Rev. Leander S. Keyser.

WHO'S SHELLABERGER?

He's the Wire Fence Man, of Atlanta, Ga., and sells the best and cheapest fencing in existence for all purposes. Catalogue free. Write for it.

WILMINGTON MARKET.
FOR
WEEK ENDING, APRIL 14, 1897.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE: Market steady throughout at 27 cents for machine barrels and 26½ cents for country barrels.

ROSIN: Strained $1.40 and Good Strained $1.45—steady throughout.

CRUDE TURPENTINE: Hard $1.80 Soft $1.80—closing nominal.

TAR: Steady at 95 cents throughout.

COTTON: Quiet at 7 cents for Middling.

TIMBER: All on market taken at reduced prices.

ATLANTIC COAST LINE.

Schedule in Effect Feb. 8th 1897.

DEPARTURES FROM WILMINGTON—NORTHBOUND.

DAILY 9:35 A M — No. 48—Passenger—Due Magnolia 10 59 a m, Warsaw 11 11 a m, Goldsboro 12 01 a m, Wilson 12 48 pm, Rocky Mount 1 20 p m, Tarboro 2 50 p m, Weldon 3 39 p m, Petersburg 5 32 p m, Richmond 6 40 p m, Norfolk 6 05 p m, Washington 11 10 p m, Baltimore 12 53 a m, Philadelphia 3 45 a m, New York 6 53 a m, †Boston 9 00 pm.

DAILY 7:15 P M — No. 40—Passenger—Due Magnolia 8 55 p m, Warsaw 9 10 p m, Goldsboro 10 10 p m, Wilson 11 06 p m, †Tarboro 6 45 a m, Rocky Mount 11 55 p m, Weldon 1 44 a m, †Norfolk 10 30 a m, Petersburg 3 22 a m, Richmond 4 20 a m, Washington 7 41 a m, Baltimore 5 09 a m, Philadelphia 11 25 a m New York 2 03 p m, Boston 8 30 p m.

SOUTHBOUND

DAILY 3:25 P M — No. 55—Passenger—Due Lake Waccamaw 4 32 p m, Chadbourn 5 04 p m, Marion 6 05 p m, Florence 6 45 p m, Sumter 8 45 p m, Columbia 10 05 p m, Denmark 6 20 a m, Augusta 8 10 a m, Macon 11 00 a m, Atlanta 12 15 p m, Charleston 10 20 p m, Savannah 12 50 am, Jacksonville 7 30 a m, St Augustine 10 30 a m. Tampa 5 45 p m.

ARRIVALS AT WILMINGTON—FROM THE NORTH.

DAILY 5:45 P M — No. 49—Passenger—Leave Boston †1 03 p m, New York 9 00 p m, Philadelphia 12 05 a m, Baltimore 2 50 a m, Washington 4 30 a m, Richmond 9 05 a m, Petersburg 10 (a m,) Norfolk 8 40 a m, Weldon 11 50 a m, Tarboro 12 12 p m, Rocky Mount 12 45p m, Wilson 2 12 p m, Goldsboro 3 10 p m, Warsaw 4 02 p m, Magnolia 4 16 p m.

DAILY 9:30 A M — No. 41—Passenger—Leave Boston 12 00 night, New York 9 30 a m, Philadelphia 12 09 p m Baltimore 2 25 p m, Washington 3 46 p m, Richmond 7 30 p m, Petersburg 8 13 p m, †Norfolk 2 20 p m, Weldon 9 43 p m, †Tarboro 6 05 p m, Rocky Mount 5 45 a m, leave Wilson 6 20 a m, Goldsboro 7 03 am, Warsaw 7 53 a m, Magnolia 8 06 a m.

FROM THE SOUTH.

DAILY 12:15 P M — No. 54— Passenger — Leave Tampa 9 25 a m, Sanford 2 19 p m, Jacksonville 7 00 p m, Savannah 12 45 night, Charleston 5 30 am Columbia 5 50 a m, Atlanta 7 15 a m, Macon 9 00 a m, Augusta 2 45 p m, Denmark 4 55 pm, Sumter 6 45 a m, Florence 8 55 a m, Marion 9 34 a m, Chadbourn 10 35 a m Lake Waccamaw 11 06 a m.

†Daily except Sunday

Trains on the Scotland Neck Branch road leave Weldon 4 10 p m, Halifax 4 28 p m, arrive Scotland Neck at 5 20, Greenville 6 57 p m, Kinston 7 55 p m. Returning leaves Kinston 7 20 a m, Greenville 8 22 a m, arriving Halifax at 11 00 a m, Weldon 11 20 a m. daily except Sunday.

Trains on Washington Branch leave Washington 8 00 a m, and 2 p m, arrive Parmele 8 50 a m and 3 40 p m, returning leave Parmele 9 50 a m and 6 30 p m, arrive Washington 11 25 a m, and 7 20 p m. Daily except Sunday.

Train leaves Tarboro, N C, daily, 5 30 p m, arrives Plymouth 7 40 p m. Returning leaves Plymouth daily, 7.30 a. m. arrives Tarboro 9.50 a. m.

Trains on Conway Branch leave Hub 8 30 a. m., Chadbourn 10 40 a. m., arrive Conway 1 00 p. m. leave Conway 3 25 p. m., Chadbourn 5 30 p. m., arrive Hub 6 00 p. m. Daily except Sunday.

Train on Midland N C Branch leaves Goldsboro daily, except Sunday, 7 10 a m, arriving Smithfield 8 30 a m, Returning leaves Smithfield 9 00 a m. arrive at Goldsboro 10 25 a m.

Train on Nashville Branch leaves Rocky Mount at 4 30 p m, arrives Nashville 5 05 p m, Spring Hope 5 30 p m. Returning leaves Spring Hope 8 00 a m, Nashville 8 35 a m, arrives at Rocky Mount 9 05 a m, daily except Sunday.

Train on Clinton Branch leaves Warsaw for Clinton daily, except Sunday, 11 10 a m., and 9.15 p.m. Returning leaves Clinton at 7 00 a m., and 3.00 pm

Wilson and Fayetteville Branch leave Wilson 2 05 p m, 11 16 p m, arrive Selma 2 50 p m, Smithfield 3 58 p m, Dunn 3 35 p m, Fayetteville 4 15 p m, 1 07 a m, Rowland 5 39p m. Returning leave Rowland 10 00 a m, Fayetteville 11 20 a m, 10 20 p m, Dunn 12 07 p m, Smithfield 12 48 p m, Selma 1 00 p m, arrive Wilson 1 42 p m, 12 10 a m.

H. M. EMERSON,
Ass't. Gen'l Passenger Agent.
J. R. KENLY, Gen'l Manager.
T. M. EMERSON Traffic Manager.

B. F. HALL, OSCAR PEARSALL

HALL & PEARSALL

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

Cor. NUTT and MULBERRY STS.

WILMINGTON. - N. C.

—AND—

—WHOLESALE DEALERS IN—

HEAVY GROCERIES

WE ALWAYS CARRY A LARGE AND WELL SELECTED STOCK OF

Flour, Sugar, Coffee, Molasses, Salt Fish,

Hay Corn Oats Tobacco Snuff, Cigars, Hoop-Iron, Nails, Glue.

Cotton Bagging and Ties.

☞ We solicit the patronage of the public, and guarantee to give satisfaction. Correspondence invited.

☞ Consignments of Naval Stores, Cotton and all Country Produce will receive careful attention.

HALL & PEARSALL
WILMINGTON, N. C

MONEY TO LOAN.

on Eight Years Time, secured by Mortgage on Real Estate. Monthly payment, savings investment stock for sale, also FULL PAID COUPON STOCK, with semi annual cash dividends. Loans made promptly in any part of the State. Agents wanted. Address,

Mechanics and Investors Union
22 Pullen Building, Raleigh, N. C.

Organized 1832. Assets, $650,000

Tested for Sixty Years.

Virginia Fire and Marine

Insurance Company, of Richmond.

This old Virginia institution issues a short and comprehensive Policy, free of petty restriction and liberal in its terms and conditions.

INSURES AGAINST FIRE and LIGHTNING

All descriptions of Property, in Country and Town—private or public—insured at fair rates, on accommodating terms.

AGENCIES IN EVERY TOWN AND COUNTY.

WM. H. PALMER, President.
W. H. McCARTHY, Secretary.
S. McG. FISHER, Ass't Sec'y.

Wire Railing and Ornamental Wire Works.

DUFUR & CO.,

311 North Howard St., Baltimore, Md.

Manufacture Wire Railing for Cemeteries, Balconies, &c., Sieves, Fender Cages, Sand and Coal Screens, Woven Wire, &.

Also Iron Bedsteads Chairs, Settees &c

STATESVILLE FEMALE COLLEGE.
STATESVILLE, N. C.

The Spring term opens on the 5th of February and closes the 15th June 1897.

Board, including furnished room, heat and lights, with tuition in all English branches and Latin, $27 50 per quarter. Instruction in Music, Art and all branches usually taught in first-class female schools, at reasonable rates.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC

In charge of a teacher of first-class qualifications. Price of instruction from $2 50 to $5.00 per month according to grade.

☞ For circular containing full particulars address,

JOHN B. BURWELL,
President,
Statesville, N. C.

Shopping.

Shopping done in Philadelphia by a lady of experience and taste. No extra charge. Best references. Send for circular.

Miss M. ANDERSON,
338 Pine St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

THINGS USEFUL.

Tar or Paint Stains.—Saturate the spot and rub it well with turpentine. Several applications may be necessary.

Blood Stains.—Soak about an hour in tepid water, to which borax has been added to the proportion of a teaspoonful to a gallon of water. Then wash with soap and warm water.

Cramps in the stomach usually yield to a teaspoonful of ginger, stirred in a half glass of hot water, in which a half teaspoonful of soda has been dissolved.

Orange and Walnut Salad.—Select acid oranges, remove the peel and every particle of white skin; slice very thin, lengthwise of the orange, removing as much of the partition walls as possible. Slice English walnuts very thin. To each pint of orange slices add a half pint of the sliced nuts; dress with a French dressing made of one-half teaspoonful of salt, dash of cayenne, six tablespoonfuls of oil and four tablespoonfuls of lemon juice.

CONSUMPTION

TO THE EDITOR: I have an absolute Cure for CONSUMPTION and all Bronchial, Throat and Lung Troubles, and all conditions of Wasting Away. By its timely use thousands of apparently hopeless cases have been permanently cured.

So proof-positive am I of its power to cure, I will send FREE to anyone afflicted, THREE BOTTLES of my Newly Discovered Remedies, upon receipt of Express and Postoffice address.

Always sincerely yours,
T. A. SLOCUM, M.C., 183 Pearl St., New York.
When writing the Doctor, please mention this paper.

WORTH & WORTH,

—OFFER FOR SALE—

BEST QUALITY, FULL WEIGHT

FLOUR, BACON, SUGAR, LARD

MOLASSES, MEAL, SALT,

LIME, CEMENT,

Plaster, Hay, Corn, Hoop Iron, Oats

Rivets Glue.

BUNGS, CANNED GOODS,

At Low Prices.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

Good Goods--Low Prices,

Flour, Meat, Sugar, Salt, Meal, Molasses, Coffee, Peanuts, Cheese, Crackers, Snuff, Tobacco.

Consignments of Cotton, Naval Stores and all Country Produce will receive careful attention.

Hall & Pearsall,

Wholesale Grocers & Com. Merchant
Corner Nutt and Muiberry Sts.

Presbyterian High School

—OF—

NORTH CAROLINA.

J. M. OLDHAM, Principal.

Full corps of instructors, all college-bred men representing the leading institutions of North Carolina, Virginia and South Carolina. A non-military school, located in the country in middle North Carolina, with excellent climate.

Instruction Thorough,
Discipline Mild Yet Firm,
Physical Development Looked After
Rates Reasonable.
Endorsed by Synod of North Carolina.
For catalogues address,
J. M. OLDHAM, Principal,
Mebane, N.C.

DAVIDSON COLLEGE,

DAVIDSON, N. C

The Sixtieth Year Begins September 10th, 1896.

FACULTY

Rev. J. B. Shearer, D. D., LL.D., President, and Professor of Biblical Instruction an Moral Philosophy.
Henry Louis Smith, Ph. D., Vice-President, an Prof. of Natural Philosophy.
W. D. Vinson, M. A., LL.D., Prof. of Mathematics
C. R. Harding, Ph.D., Professor of Greek and German.
W. R. Grey, Ph.D. Professor of Latin and French.
Thos. P. Harrison, Ph.D., Professor of English.
W. J. Martin, Jr., M. D., Ph.D., Prof. of Chemistry.
F. F. Rowe, A. B., Instructor.

GYMNASIUM DIRECTOR.

VOCAL MUSIC.

CLASSICAL,
MATHEMATICAL.
SCIENTIFIC,
LITERARY,
BIBLICAL.
COMMERCIAL.

SEND FOR A CATALOGUE.

Terms Reasonable.
Location Healthful,
Accommodations Excellent,
Teaching Unsurpassed,
Gymnasium Complete.
Address THE PRESIDENT.

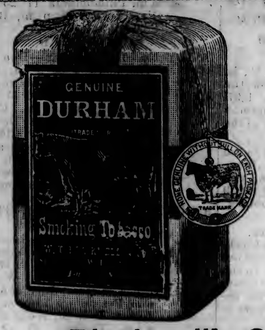
DO NOT FORGET.

THAT OUR BRAND OF FLOUR

THE LADIES' FAVORITE

Is the best Flour on the market. Double Patent, and produces more bread than any other.

Large lot of Groceries of all kinds always on hand



APPLES, ORANGES,

RAISINS,

NUTS, &c.

R. W. HICKS

Wilmington, N. C.

This is the very best Smoking Tobacco made.

Blackwell's Genuine

BULL DURHAM

You will find one coupon inside each 2 ounce bag and two coupons inside each 4 ounce bag. Buy a bag, read the coupon and see how to get your share of $250,000 in presents.

H. A. TUCKER. H. D TUCKER.

TUCKER'S

GRANITE AND MARBLE WORKS.

DEALERS IN ALL KINDS OF

Granite and Marble Monuments

CONTRACTORS FOR BUILDING STONE

H. A. TUCKER & BRO.,

No. 310 Front St.,

Wilmington, N C

THE QUAKER
CRIMPED CRUST
BREAD PAN.

Gives more bread from a given amount of flour than any other Pan. And it is sweeter, better bread em moist inside, rich brown outside, and never burnt. It can't burn. The steam in the Pan wont let the bread burn.

It is more nutritious, and will keep longer than any other bread without becomming stale.

ALL DEALERS.

Asbury-Paine Mfg. Co.,

Wayne Junction, Pa.

POULTRY AND GARDEN FENCE

And make a special Horse, Cattle and Hog Fence; Yard, Cemetery, and Grave Lot Fencing a Specialty. We Pay the Freight. Catalogue Free.
K. L. SHELLABERGER, ATLANTA, Ga.

M. H. JONES,

DURHAM, N. C.,

Keeps on hand a fine assortment of

STERLING SILVER WARE,

JEWELRY, DIAMONDS,

WATCHES, CLOCKS

and everything found in a first-class jewelry store.

☞ Repairing of all kinds, especially such as is usually sent North, done promptly and in best style; reputation established for this class of work.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE.

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS,
DESIGNS,
COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain, free, whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Oldest agency for securing patents in America. We have a Washington office. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN,

beautifully illustrated, largest circulation of any scientific journal, weekly, terms $3.00 a year; $1.50 six months. Specimen copies and HAND BOOK ON PATENTS sent free. Address

MUNN & CO.,
361 Broadway, New York.

1865. W. S. MOORE. 1896

GREENSBORO, N C.

General Merchandise, &c., &c.

Organs from $24 up to any price.

Pianos from $150 up to any price

Special prices to Ministers, Churches and SundaySchools

North Carolina Presbyterian.

New Series—VOL. XXIX—No. 1,528. WILMINGTON, N C., THURSDAY, APRIL 22, 1897. Old Series. Vol. XXXIX—No. 2,688.

Subscription price $2.00 a year.
Ministers $1.00
Missionaries $1.50, including postage.
New Subscribers $1.50 for first year.

THE OFFICE OF THE PRESBYTERIAN IS IN THE ALLEN BUILDING ON PRINCESS STREET—ROOM No. 6, ON SECOND FLOOR.

(For Contents see Second Page)

☞ Checks or orders in payment of subscription may be made payable either to John McLaurin, or to North Carolina Presbyterian. Please send forward promptly.

WOULD YE BRING THEM BACK AGAIN?

Gone to the land of life and light,
Those whom we loved—this fatal year!
Risen to mansions fair and bright,
Dwelling in God's eternal sight,
Those whom we held so dear—so dear!

What have they left us? Memories deep,
Memories holy, tender and true;
Yea, were death and endless sleep,
These would not slumber, these would keep,
Safe from decay the forms we knew.

Deathless in God's diviner sphere,
Rapt and serene our loved ones dwell,
Complete in the bliss they prayed for here;
Perfect in love, in vision clear,
Who of their sacred joy can tell?

Wisdom and truth and peace are theirs,
Knowledge that deepens each passing hour;
Fruition to faith, and answers to prayers
No conflict of soul, no weary cares,
In that high life of immortal power.

Shall we demand their return again,
Dear as they were—to the strife once more?
Call them back to the grief and pain,
Back to the toil, the fret, the stain,
Back to the world from that beautiful shore?

No! With the blessed let them be,
Safe and saved in the Saviour's smile,
Bending to Him the adoring knee,
Singing to us from the crystal sea,
"Here with us in a little while!"

—Churchman.

Prayerful waiting upon God is the proper attitude of those who would secure the reviving influence of the Holy Ghost, and all the schemes and plans so much in vogue are otherwise worse than useless, if indeed they do not grieve Him to whom we can alone look for revival. We can assemble together, and cry aloud for an outpouring of the Holy Ghost, but further we cannot go. Then our service is to wait.—Episcopal Recorder.

REV. EPHRAIM CLARK MURRAY.

The subject of this sketch was born on Edisto Island, S. C., Feb. 5th, 1861, of good old Scotch-Irish stock. His father, a man of sterling qualities of mind and heart, served as surgeon in the Confederate army, and was for many years an honored elder of the Edisto church. He well merited the title, "the beloved physician." In his fifteenth year, Mr. Murray united with the church of his fathers on profession of faith. While preparing for college at the Columbia, (S. C.) Male Academy, he decided to study for the ministry. Having obtained a scholarship in Union-College, Schenectady, N. Y., he pursued his literary course in that institution. There he won several scholarship prizes and was graduated with high honors in 1882.

He completed his theological course at Columbia, (S. C.) Seminary in 1885 Among his classmates were Geo. W. Thompson, who died so heroically in Brazil, R. E. McAlpine and S. R. Hope, of the Japan Mission, J. R. Howerton, D. D., W. H. Neel, D. D., and others who have "obtained a good report" in the ministry.

In April, 1885, he was licensed by Charleston Presbytery, and was ordained in October of the same year by Concord Presbytery. His first pastoral charge was in the McDowell county field in Western North Carolina, where his work was crowned with signal success. Fifty-eight members were added on profession of faith during his two years pastorate, one new church was organized, and a dead one revived. Besides preaching regularly to three churches, he supplied at intervals two others, conducted three week-day Bible classes, took an active part in four Sunday-schools and did some work among the negroes. There he learned what Paul meant by "that which cometh upon me daily, the care of all the churches."

In July, 1887, he was called to Summerville, S. C, where he labored nearly five years. There he married Miss Lilian N. Lebby. They now have four bright little children.

In December, 1891, he accepted a call to Alamance church, Orange Presbytery. His people soon became devoted to him and to his wife, and built them a pretty manse. But the next year he was called upon to organize the Presbyterian High School at Mebane, and moved thither, taking the pastorate of the Mebane and Bethlehem churches in connection with his school work. His success there is well-known. Students were soon attending the school from ten counties of the State. He was elected stated clerk of Orange Presbytery in 1893.

After two sessions' work in Mebane, he was elected to the Presidency of the Presbyterian College of South Carolina at Clinton, S. C. During the three years of his term of office, the literary standard of the college has been raised, and a very marked improvement made in the spiritual life of the students. The spirit of devotion now pervading the student body and their activity in religious work is something remarkable.

For some time, however, Mr. Murray has felt a strong impulse to return to the work of the pastorate, and has finally resigned the Presidency of the college for that purpose.

Mr. Murray's literary work reveals him as a clear, discriminating and forceful writer. He is the author of "The Pastor's Bible," an excellent manual for pastoral work, family worship and devotional reading. He has also frequently contributed to the "Presbyterian Quarterly" the Seminary Magazines and the weekly church papers.

The following extract from a recent editorial gives a discriminative and just estimate of Mr. Murray's abilities as a 'preacher and as a man':

"His sermons show depth of thought, profound culture and sound logic. His style is easy, his manner earnest, his action animated. Mr. Murray is a fluent speaker, without essaying to be eloquent. He confines himself to practical ideas rather than to flowers of speech, to Scriptural arguments instead of abstract theories. His words are well chosen, his illustrations apt, his delivery pleasing. Possessed of a clear, almost musical voice, his enunciation is so perfect that he makes himself plainly heard without seeming effort. He has the reputation of being not only a man of strong intellectuality and ripe scholarship, but one of lovable character and attractive personality withal."

J. E. F.

PERSONS AND PAPERS.

A good discourse is that from which one can take nothing without taking the life.—Fenelon.

* * *

He that serves God in body, soul and spirit, to the utmost of his power, finds new power given to him hour by hour, for God opens to him fresh springs.—Spurgeon.

* * *

Work touches the keys of endless activities, opens the infinite, and stands awestruck before the immensity of what there is to do.—Phillips Brooks.

* * *

He who promptly expresses his opinion at all times and upon all questions, is not necessarily the bravest man. There is a superior courage often in a discreet and modest silence, particularly when the expression of an opinion would create more heat than light.—Cumberland Presbyterian.

* * *

A Christian friend, calling upon a poor old woman in Scotland, found her in great pain, and expressed sorrow at seeing her suffer so much. "O," said Jennie, "it's just in answer to prayer. You see, I've long prayed to be conformed to the image of Christ, and since these are the means I've neathing to dae wi' the choosing' o' them. It is ours to aim at meetness for His presence, and to leave it to His wisdom to take His ain way wi' us. I would rather suffer than sin ony day."—Selected.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

1ST PAGE—Would Ye Bring Them Back Again? (poetry)—Sketch of Rev. Ephraim Clark Murray—Persons and Papers.

2ND PAGE—Editorial: "Copying Christ—Editorial Notes.

3RD PAGE—Editorial Notes—Davidson Notes.

4TH PAGE—A Letter From Egypt—Summary Results of Last Year's Work, and the May Collection for Foreign Missions.

5TH PAGE.—Nice People—Losing Jesus—A Lesson—One Day at a Time—Literary Jottings—Magazines.

6TH PAGE—Religious Intelligence—Personals—Rates to the General Assembly.

7TH PAGE—Meetings of Presbyteries.

8TH PAGE—About Good Books—University of North Carolina Summer School—Does Prohibition Pay in Maine?

9TH PAGE—Easy or Difficult—The Day of Judgement.

10TH PAGE—Sunday School Lesson—Young People's Column—Open Door Notes—Puzzles.

11TH PAGE.—Marriages—Obituaries—Secular News.

12TH PAGE.—(For the Family)—I Shall Be Led (poetry)—Methods of English Girl Students—Excessive Shyness in Children.

13TH PAGE—Children's Column—"Luck" (poetry)—The Grangers—A Happy Family—Letter-Box.

14TH PAGE—Meetings of Presbyteries continued from 7th page—Presbyterial Notices.

15TH PAGE—Say Soes—Market.

16TH PAGE—Things Useful.

COPYING CHRIST.

The desire to copy the example of Christ, weaker or stronger is felt by every true Christian. To fulfill this desire is felt to be most difficult and is found to be well nigh impossible in the way most seek it. It is not possible in human strength. The natural feeling that the old self-life must have some part in the effort needs to be put to death as of the flesh. That self-life was crucified with Christ and all its motions and actions must be daily mortified, put to death. The life of Christ must be reproduced by abiding in Him and as He lives in the believer. It is the last lesson which the self-sufficiency and self-interest of the old nature wishes to learn. It means the knowledge and acknowledgement that the old self-life in and of the natural powers, however superior or mighty in comparison with the powers of others, is a failure. The Holy Spirit will enter in and teach us this if we yield ourselves to Him to be taught. His teaching will show the helplessness of the self-life and the sufficiency of the Christ-life to copy Christ.

The process and progress of the casting out of all dependence on self and full reliance on Christ, will be slow and long. It may be resisted by pride of power, or vanity of possessions or ambition of preferment. It must be wrought by the Spirit of God in humble looking to God through Jesus Christ. The process in anticipation has a luminous example in Moses. He was to be "the meekest man." He was then to be the mightiest man of his age in delivering the children of Israel from bondage of one of the proud Pharaohs. The preparation for this began with the teaching of his mother. It arose to desire and resolution of high purpose when he "refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter." He was then possessor of the finest education and an example of the mightiest natural powers of his age. He thought to show his purpose to his people, but he was not prepared by such natural powers and such thorough education to do what God would use him to do. He must suffer the consequence of a rash act of the over confident self life, and flee into the wilderness of Midian for forty years, to be brought to humility, to receive the grace of meekness, to be prepared to deny himself that God might use him to deliver Israel. This was wrought under the conditions of the patriarchal times; but by the same grace and on the same principle as in our times the meekness and gentleness of Christ are wrought in the Christian. Moses was trained by the angel of the Lord in the wilderness, until the rash, self-confident man who slew the Egyptian and thought people would at once see in him their leader and deliverer because of his natural powers, great advantages and special learning, became so emptied and distrustful of self that he begged to be excused from the now rightly measured responsibility and difficulty of the undertaking, Then God could and did use him to do what he could not do. Then God spoke to him face to face as friend to friend.

After Christ came, the conditions of copying His example were the same. The experience varies only with the difference of individuals and their circumstances.

James and John were called "sons of thunder." They wanted to call down fire from heaven to take present and personal vengeance, like Moses. But they went deep into the wilderness with Jesus apart. They had self removed and rebuked in the Transfiguration and in Gethsemane. They had it crucified on Calvary. They waited and received power at Pentecost, the one to suffer martyrdom, the other to live on, blessing the people and known to the latest time as "the beloved disciple." Poor Peter, so impetuous and rash, came to Pentecost and lived on to bow meekly to the faithful rebuke of "our beloved brother Paul," and to say to all who would teach, "be clothed with humility."

Copying Christ comes with full surrender to Him as Lord and Master, with faith receiving Him as Life and to live by Him, yielding the whole being to the Holy Spirit to transform into the likeness of Christ.

They copy Christ most truly who live in the valley of humility in the atmosphere of prayer. "He humbled Himself." He was praying always. If any would be like Him the way is to spend much time looking into His face, studying His words, doing His bidding. In adoration, meditation and obedience there can be no failure of the yearning and longing soul copying Christ. There in the lowest place, like the sun near the horizon, they who stoop low shall seem large to men and shall be great before God.

IT LIES IN our mind, beyond all question, that the Book of Jonah is purely and simply a historical record, having for its purpose the teaching of several valuable lessons, but mainly the setting forth in prophetic picture the resurrection of the Lord Jesus Christ, by which event the salvation of mankind is assured, and further the announcement of God's plan of salvation for the entire race of man, of which the saving of the Ninevites was the earnest and the first fruits.

One who studies closely the incidents connected with the history can hardly fail to be struck with the analogies to the resurrection, presented in the details of the transaction of the swallowing of Jonah by the great fish, and in the language employed by the prophet in his prayer.

The sign of the prophet Jonas! given to the Jews, in attestation of the Messiahship, as our Lord Himself declared when the rulers came to Him asking for a sign from heaven. What a sign indeed it was for those who had eyes to see its spiritual purport and significance.

The Book of Esther designed to set forth vividly the doctrine of providence, and ways and methods of God's dealing with man, especially with the Jewish nation, does most admirably illustrate the mediatorial principle upon which alone the salvation of mankind can rest. Mediation, the occupying of a middle place, can only be employed where there exists in the mediator strong affinity, if not natural relation, with both the parties at variance—in order that through him, as it were, the opposing interests may be conjoined. Thus a peasant cannot mediate between the king and another peasant, for he has no connection with royalty; for like reason a king cannot mediate under the circumstances given. This is the basal fact which gives such intense significance to the remark of Mordecai: "Who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this?"

Commandment had gone forth that all the Jews in the kingdom of Ahasuerus should be destroyed. They were totally without hope, to all appearance, for the laws of the Medes and Persians changed not. Mordecai, the Jew, high as he was in the favor of the king, for lack of connection with the throne was powerless, but Esther while herself a Jew was also the wife of the king, and alone of all in the kingdom qualified to mediate; so taking upon herself the burden of her people she wrought for them a great deliverance.

How faithfully this illustrates the office and work of Christ as Mediator, and sole Mediator, between God and man. The almighty fiat has gone forth and the human race is doomed, but Christ, the Eternal Son of God, becomes man that He may mediate, "and so was and continueth to be God and man in two distinct natures, but one person forever." And now bearing the sins of His people upon the cross He has made the way whereby God can reach down in mercy and in justice unto man, and men reconciled and saved can be just with God. There is one Mediator between God and man, the man, Christ Jesus.

THE PRESBYTERIAN QUARTERLY for April is before us. The contents show the usual number of nutritious articles, with some to the ordinary reader rather difficult of digestion, and others ill-calculated to elevate the spirits of readers, if not likely to depress them—the article on "Decadent Tendencies in City Life" takes on, for instance, a deep cerulean hue. But these things must be. We dare not shut our eyes and ears even to things unpleasant. In the criticisms and Reviews we have found ourselves more than usually interested. What a masterful review is that of the "College of the Apostles"—so deft in its application of the knife and yet so sure—so sugar-coated in administration of the medicine and yet so effective. We haven't read all. Who does? The title of an article often leads on or deters, and the authorship to most of us is everything. Still what one rejects is another's ready choice, and the Quarterly always has enough of what is solid and substantial and sound, to commend it to any class of thinking and of thought loving readers.

Whittet and Shepperson, publishers, Richmond, Va.; $1 per year in advance.

"BY THE BLESSING of God we have closed the year without debt." This is the glorious news that comes from our Foreign Mission Board. Clear of debt! So may it ever be, but the work must not be curtailed. The opportunity for enlargement of the mission work is gratifyingly large, and the amount of cash in the treasury is exceedingly small. The liberality of the Church needs to be not only fully sustained, but to be increased to keep pace with the demands upon the treasury.

THE PAPERS are saying that New York Presbytery "found itself in somewhat of a flutter the other day" over the announcement that Rev. James Hall McIlvaine, D. D., has decided to withdraw from the Presbyterian ministry to become an Episcopalian. Dr. McIlvaine is a noted advocate of the Higher Criticism as conducted by Union Seminary of New York. He has been one of Dr. Briggs' staunchest defenders.

WE ACKNOWLEDGE receipt of $3 from a lady in response to our offer to receive and foward any funds for the sufferers by the India famine. It will be forwarded to the New York bankers who receive and remit all funds from this country.

ON PAGE SIX, will be found the Rates to the General Assembly over the Atlantic Coast Line, the Southern Railway and the Seaboard Air Line.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

DAVIDSON NOTES.

Davidson, N.C., April 17, '97.

An important social event of the past ten days was the reception given by Dr. Munroe in honor of Miss Elizabeth Bennett, of Brooklyn, N. Y. It was held in the new Medical College Building, which was beautifully lighted and decorated for the occasion. About a dozen couples were invited, and every guest found the evening full of enjoyment. Miss Bennett has spent the past two months at Davidson, visiting Miss Mary Martin. She leaves next week for her Northern home, leaving many warm friends behind her, who wish for her speedy return.

During the past week the students have purchased by subscription a handsome United States flag of the largest size. It was unfurled yesterday from a staff surmounting the college cupola, in honor of Maxwell Chambers Day and the Senior Class, and forms a striking feature of the main building.

Easter is celebrated at Davidson by the annual Senior Oratoricals, which are held two successive evenings in the old chapel. Every member of the Senior Class takes part, the town is crowded with visitors, and the occasion rivals Commencement in its social interest. The Seniors and their friends were entertained after the Friday evening exercises at the hospitable home of Dr. and Mrs. Grey. The following is a list of the speakers and their subjects:

Friday, April 16, 8 p. m.

MUSIC.

E. H. Bean, Salisbury, N. C. An Essential Element in Government.
Archibald Currie, Burlington, N. C. A World of a Day.
F. A. Drennan, Richburg, S. C. The Tangled Skeins of History.
E. S. Eskridge, Shelby, N. C. The Discipline of the Will.

MUSIC.

W. A. Goodman, Mill Bridge, N. C. The Development of Nations.
E. H. Harrison, Mill Bridge, N. C. Is Progress a Gradual Improvement?
P. F. Henderson, Aiken, S. C. Law, the Bulwark of Freedom.
P. M. King, Concord, N. C. Peace, Not War.

Saturday, April 17, 8 p. m.

R. F. Kirkpatrick, Talladega, Ala. The Spirit of Modern Philosophy.
H. J. Mills, Mayesville, S. C. Limitations.
H. C. Reid, Griffith, N. C. The Aim of Science.
E. H. Sloop, Mooresville, N. C. The Shadow of Perfection.

MUSIC.

T. H. Spence, Rock Hill, S. C. Discontentment.
E. M. Williams, Yorkville, S. C. The Cry for Reform.
J. M. Williams, Warsaw, N. C. The Nation's Ward.
J. M. Wolfe, Charlotte, N. C. The Scientific Movement and Literature.

MUSIC.

The class colors, old gold and blue, and the class motto, Facere quam gloriari, were skillfully used by the Juniors in decorating the hall, and the Mandolin and Guitar Club furnished music for the occasion.

The greatest misfortunes men fall into arise from themselves. — Steele.

OUR PREMIUM BIBLE.

Measures 5x7 inches when Closed, and Contains 1,600 Pages of Reading Matter—Several hundred pages of Useful Information, besides the Scriptural Text.

At length we find ourselves with pride and pleasure, able to offer a Bible premium to workers for the N. C. PRESBYTERIAN. The size and quality of type of our Bible is represented by the cut here given:

The binding is flexible, the edges are gilt and the references within are full. The Bible contains besides 1050 pages of Scriptural text, the HELPS to Scripture reading and study including Subject Index, Concordance, a most serviceable General Topical Index, a large number of pages treating of the Titles, Authorship, Distinctive Characters, Contents, &c., of the various books of the Bible, A Description of the Inhabitants, Physical Geography, Customs and Political Condition of the Holy Land at the beginning of the Christian era, the Botany of the Bible, Glossary of Antiquities, Customs, 12 maps, etc., being the Oxford Helps, acknowledged to be the very best, besides 124 full page illustrations of the Languages, Writing, &c., of the Old and New Testaments, of the bas reliefs and the like, discoveries in archæological researches, and now in the British museum—and very much else; making altogether the most desirable copy of the Scriptures for Bible students that has come to our knowledge. The book contains over 1,600 pages.

The Bible is an offer in connection with the NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN—the only medium thro which one can become well acquainted with what is going on in the Synod of North Carolina—on the folowing terms:

We will give this Bible as payment for help rendered to any old subscriber who will send us the name of a BONA FIDE new subscriber along with $2.25.

The new subscriber gets the paper very cheap—we offer it to any bona fide new subscriber for $1.50 for the first year—and the worker gets amply compensated in a magnificently cheap Bible for his or her good work.

A new subscriber to get the Bible can subscribe for himself at $1.50 and then send another new subscriber with $2.25.

The Premium offered is the Genuine Edition of the Oxford Teacher's Bible.

We trust our friends will go to work promptly on this plan.

JOHN McLAURIN,
Manager N. C. Presbyterian.

"Our Premium Bible" contains absolutely nothing that tends to discredit the plain Scripture narrative of "Jonah and the whale."

David's thirst for God. PSALMS. He praiseth God for his grace.

10 Trust not in oppression, and become not vain in robbery: [1]if riches increase, set not your heart upon them.
11 God hath spoken [2]once; twice have I heard this; that [3]power belongeth unto God.
12 Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for [4]thou renderest to every man according to his work.

PSALM 63.

1 David's thirst for God. 4 His manner of blessing God.
A Psalm of David, [5]when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

O GOD, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: [6]my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and [7]thirsty land, [8]where no water is;
2 To see [9]thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the sanc-

[1] or, we are entangled by that which they have thoroughly searched.
[2] Job 33. 14. Ps. 62. 7. 1 Thes. 4. 17.
[3] Heb. a search searched.
[4] Job 33. 14. [5] or, strength.
[6] Heb. their second shall be. [7] Job 34. 11. Prov. 24. 12. Jer. 32. 19. Mat. 16. 27. Rom. 2. 6. Col. 3. 25.
[8] Ps. 61. 1. [9] Jer. 30. 25. [1] Sam. 22. 2. [2] Ps. 42. 2.

6 They search out iniquities; [1]they accomplish [2]a diligent search: both the inward thought of every one of them, and the heart, is deep.
7 But God shall shoot at them with an arrow; suddenly [3]shall they be wounded.
8 So they shall make their own tongue to fall upon themselves: [4]all that see them shall flee away.
9 And all men shall fear, and shall [5]declare the work of God; for they shall wisely consider of his doing.
10 The righteous shall be glad in the LORD, and shall trust in him; and all the upright in heart shall glory.

PSALM 65.

1 David praiseth God for his grace. 4 The blessedness of God's chosen by reason of benefits.
To the chief Musician, A Psalm and Song of David.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

A LETTER FROM EGYPT.

DEAR BROTHER McLAURIN:—We are now on our return voyage down the Nile. Our steamer has stopped a half-day to afford us an opportunity to re-visit the temples and to supply ourselves with photographs of the same. Luxor, once the site of ancient Thebes, is now the centre of interest and study to tourists, and students of Egyptology. In its palmy days, Thebes, like Greater New York embraced a city on either side the river which possibly (?) were connected by a pontoon bridge. To-day there is seen no sign of its grandeur and glory save the magnificent ruins of its once superb and gorgeous temples, over all of which time has inscribed "Ichabod": its glory is departed. These ruins are the libraries of Egypt's past, the treasuries of information and history, as they were once the shrines of her religion, and sanctuaries of her worship. Their immense proportions, beautiful, intricate, extensive and costly decorations in hieroglyphic tell of the importance and sanctity the Egyptians attached to the worship of their gods and the sacrifice that worship involved. The inscriptions describe and picture the character of their worship of their gods. Another treasure-store of information are the tombs, especially of the kings, which are more numerous and important here than anywhere else in Egypt. These tombs and their broken sarcophagi are inscribed within and without, with the deeds of their former occupants; for they have all been rifled of their sacred treasures, the mummies of the dead (or living?) It was just opposite Luxor, in the chalk cliffs of Gumeh, that in 1881, were found, buried in one tomb, (where they had been concealed for fear of body snatchers), about two hundred mummies of kings and of others. This discovery proved the most valuable in constructing the history of ancient Egypt, since the recovery of the famous Rosetta Stone (now in the British Museum) which furnished the key to unlock the mystery of Egypt's hieroglyphics, in which her history was written. In studying the religion of ancient Egypt embalmed in her temples and tombs, we have been repeatedly impressed with a wonderful correspondence between the beliefs and worship of the pagan people and of God's chosen people, Israel. The Egyptians, while really pantheists, evidently believed in one supreme God, Creator, Preserver of all things, and this God existed in, or as three persons, a triad of gods, if not a triune God. This God was known under different names in different provinces and under different dynasties. He was known at times even under Scriptural names as "Lord of lords," "King of the Gods," &c., "Manifester of Good." At one time this god, known as Osiris, quitted his celestial throne, and assumed a human form, for the benefit of mankind. On earth he was put to death by the Power of Evil. He rose again. By and in the resurrection he conquered the Evil One, and was appointed Judge of the quick and the dead. In this we see the human mind and heart feeling after God, if happy they might find Him," demanding a "God manifest in the flesh" and in their cravings and call, prophesying God's plan and programme of redemption, before it was made known by direct revelation.

Another point of correspondence in belief, between these two nations, was the faith in the immortality of the soul, and the resurrection of the body. The Egyptian's expectation of the same, finds manifold expression and proof, in their embalming their dead, in their rock-hewn tombs, built high above the overflow of the Nile, and frequently in the form and proportions of a temple, whither their friends came to commune with, and offer food to the disembodied spirits; in their sealed and buried sarcophagi, and above all in the inscriptions upon the walls of the tombs which represent the gods carrying the soul over the river of Death, and the soul revisiting the body, to raise it from the tomb in a glorious resurrection.

This article of their faith exercised a powerful influence upon their lives and conduct, and they believed again, in a "judgment to come." In several tombs which we visited there are graphic scenes of the Judgment. The Judge is represented as seated upon a throne while around are the Assessors of the Dead. In the centre of the picture is placed a large balance. In one scale is the heart of the deceased, in the other the ostrich plume, the emblem of truth and innocence. The deceased is directed to make a declaration of innocence and purity, first to the Judge, and then to each of the forty-two assessors to this effect, "I have not done evil, I have not stolen, I have not committed adultery, I have not despised God in my heart." &c.

After which the soul is declared eternally true, or "justified," and passes into glory. It seems strange indeed to find among a pagan people such a high sense of purity and righteousness. And it would seem to indicate that while the Egyptians worshipped idols or images, these were to them the symbols of the one-living and true God, the knowledge of whom must have been preserved to them by tradition.

The most apparent correspondence is the plan of their temples, which in the main, was the same in all, and which was almost a fac-simile of "the pattern shown to Moses on the mount." There were the outer and inner court for the people, the holy place for the priests and the holiest of all for the high priest and the king. Into the last, only those appointed of the gods entered and that only on festival occasions. Within the holiest of all was kept the Ark which contained not the Covenant, but the image of the god (or the images of the gods) to whom the temple was dedicated and who was worshipped therein. It was verily with a purpose that "Moses was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians."

While a correspondence, there was also one essential point of difference between the religions of the two peoples. So far as we can learn in the worship of the Egyptians, there was no sacrifice for sin, and hence no remission and no experimental communion with God. Their offerings were those of Cain the fruits of the earth, and not those of Abel, "the firstlings of the flock and the fat thereof." A religion without blood for offering is a religion without life and power. And must in time lose its influence. It has no power to give life and holiness. In these modern days when the sacrifice of our great High Priest is called in question, it becomes us to affirm and re-affirm the testimony of our Scriptures, "Without the shedding of blood there is no remission."

Yours,
L. B. TURNBULL.
Luxor, March 23, 1897.

SUMMARY RESULTS OF LAST YEAR'S WORK, AND THE MAY COLLECTION FOR FOREIGN MISSIONS.

Many have prayed for this cause during the past year, and in answer to their prayers God has blessed it with enlargement. The contributions of the churches were increased over those of last year by $1,609.69, and this notwithstanding that there were several thousand dollars in favor of last year in the item of legacies.

Our number of missionaries increased from 141 to 150. There were 508 additions to the churches in the mission fields, an increase of 129 over the year before. Of these 50 were in Africa, 72 in China, 88 in Japan, 10 in Korea, 37 in Mexico, and 251 in Brazil. These 508 additions are only a small part of the results of our missionaries' work, for much of their work is like that of men who delve in deep mines, or dig tunnels under the mountains. But it represents in part the work of 63 ordained missionaries (a number of whom are not yet actively in the work, but only preparing themselves for it in the study of the foreign languages), aided by 79 women and 8 doctors, and backed by a native church numbering 3,150, while the 12,000 additions reported in the last Assembly Minutes to our home Church roll represent the work of 1350 ordained ministers and their efficient wives, backed by a Church of over 210,000 members.

The relative expenditure was about $150,000 and $1,800,000. So that, even with all the difficulties attending it, whether measured by number of workers or expense, the foreign work is not less fruitful than the home work. It is believed that the time is drawing near when the long years of preparatory labors in heathen lands are going to show in results a hundred fold greater than we have yet seen. It is not a forlorn hope, but a victorious and successful enterprise that we are asking you to support.

But as God gives it enlargement the necessity arises that we must furnish larger means for its support. The contributions of the year just closed, gratifying as they were, were less than the amount required to support the work of that year, so that, but for the treasury balance of $10,223, brought over from the previous, we should have closed the year in debt. The balance at the beginning of this year was only $524. Is it not as evident then as figures can make it, that the alternatives before us are, either larger contributions this year, or no progress? With anything less than $155,000 for this year, no new missionaries can be sent out, no additional native helpers employed, nor new stations opened without the almost certain result of incurring debt. This the Committee will not do, if it can by any means be helped.

We lay this plain statement of facts before our pastors and missionary workers, hoping that it will be carefully considered, and feeling sure that if it so considered it will prove more stimulating to effort than any amount of exhortation.

Dear friends, we know the times are still hard, and that very much of the money that comes to our treasury means sacrifice and self-denial. But times are not yet as hard with us as they are with the Chinese and the African, who also have no Gospel comforts to sustain and cheer them. And by the grace of God we can yet do more for them than we have ever done before. The more the mission love of Christ possesses the heart of the Church, the more will this seem possible, yea, necessary, to be done. For this let all who love this cause which He loves unceasingly pray.

S. H. CHESTER,
Secretary.

NICE PEOPLE.

A lady said to me: "We were at a summer resort, by a lake in the midst of snow-capped mountains, and we found some other visitors there that were just as nice as they could be. We three girls were seated at a table with an elderly gentleman, his son and his niece. They were evidently people of wealth and culture. Their home was in Washington, D C., but they had traveled all around the world. They took us into their circle with a frank, but not effusive, cordiality. They did not patronize us, but tried to make us feel that we were welcomed because we were appreciated. Day after day, in a thousand ways, especially in little things, they showed such thoughtful kindness that when we retired to our rooms, night after night, we could not help saying to each other: 'How nice they are.'"

This story set me thinking. How prone the most of us are when among strangers to be coldly polite, to neglect entirely those little courtesies which make home life so pleasant. We say to ourselves: These people are only transient acquaintances. We don't know what their social position is, and we shall probably never see them again. Why, then, should we trouble ourselves to be agreeable to them? If we do, they may think that we are forward and obtrusive, and we may only get snubbed for our pains. But this kind of reasoning is selfish and unchristian. If we believe in the brotherhood of humanity, we must regard all whom we meet as having claims upon us. We must do good to all as we have opportunity. The most casual meeting is an opportunity. It is providential. It is a door which God has opened for us. We ought to enter it in His name, as representatives of His kindly and loving spirit.

But to be nice to all whom we meet for a day, or even for an hour—whom we meet on the train, at the table of the hotel, on the excursion boat—promotes our own enjoyment. We are happy only when we try to make others happy. The selfish spirit is like the stagnant pond, or miry morass. Its atmosphere is miasmatic. But the cheerful, kindly spirit is like the living stream that sings in its channel, because it blesses every land through which it flows. That man and his family who were so "nice" to the party of ladies found that the ladies were nice, and thus their own pleasure in the outing was enhanced.

The boy in Echo canyon found that when his words were taunting and and abusive, such words came back to him. But when he spake kindly the unseen hearers responded kindly. And the world, to some extent, is like this wonderful canyon. We get as we give. We are answered as we speak. We are entreated courteously if we are courteous. We are loved if we love. Let us try, then, to be "nice," wherever we may be, for our own sake, as well as for that of others.—Senex Smith, in Herald and Presbyter.

LOSING JESUS.

"As they returned, the Child Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem; and Joseph and His mother knew not of it," Luke ii: 41-51.

They lost Him while full of conversation about most holy things. Going back from the feast the conversation of the little caravan would doubtless be taken up with all they had seen and heard in Jerusalem. We may assume that it was interesting and profitable conversation, and yet it was while thus engaged they lost Jesus. Have not many others lost Him in the same way? We can become perfunctory in religious service and work, and lose Jesus out of all work and forms of religion, and so lose Him out of our lives, even while we are most eagerly discussing religious matters.

How then shall we allow a night to pass without making such inquiry for the presence of Jesus as Mary did, unless indeed we are not really His, and He is indifferent to us?—Rev. Geo. F. Pentecost, D. D.

A LESSON.

Of the Saviour, and only of the Saviour, is it true in the fullest, broadest, and most unqualified sense, "He went about doing good." From this description it is evident that He did good personally. The evangelists constantly tell us He touched the leper with His own finger, that he anointed the eyes of the blind, and that in cases where He was asked to speak the word only at a distance, He did not usually comply, but went himself to the sick bed, and there personally wrought the cure. A lesson to us, if we would do good, to do it ourselves. "He hath left us an example that we should follow in his steps."—Exchange.

ONE DAY AT A TIME.

A certain lady met with a very serious accident which necessitated a very painful operation and many months' confinement to her bed. When the physician had finished his work and was about taking his leave, the patient asked, "Doctor, how long shall I have to lie here helpless?" "O, only a day at a time," was the cheery answer; and the poor sufferer was not only comforted for the moment, but many times through the succeeding weary weeks did the thought, "Only a day at a time," come back with its quieting influence.

I think it was Sidney Smith who recommended taking "short views" as a good safeguard against needless worry, and One far wiser than he said:

"Take, therefore, no thought for the morrow, for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof."—Presbyterian.

LITERARY JOTTINGS.

Bryant became assistant editor of the New York Evening Post in 1829 A few months after, upon the death of the chief editor, he was promoted and remained in that position until his death, fifty years later.

It was of Faust that Goethe, "whose soul was as sensitive as an iodized plate" and who "had busied himself with all knowledge to early become convinced of its vanity" and "tried all kinds of life to come back, more unsatisfied and tormented," declares that when he was first touched with the idea, "the whole thing rose before his fancy," but when at the age of eighty-two, his earthly career all but ended, he says, "I have planned too much my strength fails me."

Mr. Gladstone is about to bring out a second series of books made up from his occasional writings. The first volume will appear in the spring.

A reminiscent article on Jenny Lind and her home life has been prepared by her daughter, Mrs. Raymond Maude, for publication in the May Ladies' Home Journal. It is said to be filled with interesting memories of the famous singer and it is noteworthy also as being the first view we have of her through the eyes of her adoring daughter. Mrs. Maude brings to light the fact that Jenny Lind was always nervous and overstrung by events—just before singing in a new opera or oratorio, but was quite calm when the very moment of action arrived.

The American Chamber of Commerce of Paris, has passed a resolution opposing all duties on literary and artistic products as being "likely to crush the development of the artistic sentiment in the nation, which sentiment is itself closely allied to progress and industry."

MAGAZINES.

How can the Federal Government best raise its Revenues, The Stability of Truth, The Racial Geography of Europe, III, Reversions in Modern Industrial Life, The Physiology of Alcohol (concluded), Life on the Planets, Spencer and Darwin, Ants as Guests of Plants, The Language of Crime, and Sketch of Father Stephen J. Perry, comprises the table of contents of the Popular Science Monthly for April. D. Appleton & Co., New York.

The Century for April has the tomb of General Grant for its Frontispiece. This number may well be called the Grant edition. There are articles on said noted general as follows. General Sherman's Opinion of Grant, General Grant as the Bonanza Mines, Campaigning with Grant, General Grant's Most Famous Dispatch and Veto by Grant, and the Tomb of General Grant. Hugh Wynne, Free Quaker, is still continued. A New American Sculptor, Newly Discovered Pictures of Jeanne D'Arc. The Days of Jeanne D'Arc and Thackery in Weimar, are also given, making a very full number. The Century Co., New York.

Suffering becomes beautiful when anyone bears great calamities with cheerfulness, not through insensibility, but through greatness of mind.—Aristotle.

ROYAL
ROYAL BAKING POWDER
BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

Celebrated for its great leavening strength and healthfulness. Assured the food against alum and all forms of adulteration common to the cheap brands.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Religious Intelligence.

We specially invite News from all quarters for this Department.

RATES TO THE ASSEMBLY.

We are authorized and requested to state that the Associated Railways of of Virginia and the Carolinas have issued a published rate of one limited first class fare for the round trip to Charlotte, N. C., from points within the territory of the Association; tickets to go on sale May 17th to the 21st inclusive and the final limit June 10th. The railways comprising the above Association are the Atlantic Coast Line and the Southern Railway Company..

Also, we are requested to publish that the Seaboard Air Line has issued the same rate from points on their line.

The Annual Scheme of Collections in the Synod of North Carolina is as follows:

January—General Assembly's Home Missions.

Febrnary and August—Presbyterial Home Missions.

March—Publication and Colportage.

April — Education — (one collection Church and Christian Education).

May and October—Foreign Missions. Third Sabbath in October for Bible Cause.

June and September—Synodical Home Missions.

July—Invalid Fund.

Third Sunday in October—BibleCause.

November and April—Education for the Ministry.

December—ColoredEvangelization

THE ASSEMBLY'S FORM OF BEQUEST.

I do hereby give and bequeath to the Trustees of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States (popularly known as the Southern Presbyterian Church) the sum of .....Dollars for the benefit of [here name cause to which the legacy is given.]

CHANGES OF ADDRESS.

Correspondents will please note the following changes of address:

Rev. L. H. Baldwin, from Retreat for the Sick to 530 North 32d St., Richmond, Va.

Rev. J. C. Grow, from Llano, Texas, to Comanche, Texas.

Rev. C. M. Hutton, from Decatur, Texas, to Pilot Point, Texas.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Rockingnam and Vicinity:—An interesting series of meetings has just closed at Pee Dee Factory Village, a suburb of Rockingham. Rev. W. B. Arrowood remained five days and preached nine excellen sermons that left a fine impression on the community. There was so much interest manifested at the time of Bro. Arrowood's leaving that the pastor in charge carried on the meeting five day longer. There were about fifteen professions and a number of renewals. It is expected that Mr. Arrowood will assist in a series of services at Roberdel early in June. Mr. John D. Cameron was ordained an elder in Rockingham church last Sunday.

Springwood:—Notwithstanding the hard times, and losses by removals and death, this church, numerically and financially weak, has made up the deficit in pastor's salary and will soon put the building in thorough repair. Through the liberality of Ruling Elder D. P. Foust, who will bear the most of the expense, the house will be remodelled, painted, the aisles carpeted and the old pulpit replaced with a new one, at a cost of one hundred and fifty dollars—Rev. H. D. Lequenx is pastor of this church.

Synodical Evangelistic Work:—The Superintendent visited Mecklenburg Presbytery at its last meeting in the beautiful and commodious church of Gastonia. The Presbytery has expended about $4,000 upon its own Home Mission work this year. Rev. R. P. Smith, the General Evangelist, has been most successful in the duties entrnsted to him, which are rather the looking after the weak churches and visiting the destitnte regions, than the work of ingathering. The Presbytery is also to take the mission work in Charlotte under its care, the Charlotte churches contributing through the Presbytery. The Superintendent delivered an address at the popular meeting for Home Missions and the following day the Presbytery agreed very readily to apportion the $750 asked for by Synod among the churches.

At the invitation of the pastor, Rev. T. M. Lowry, the Superintendent visited the Shelby church the same week. Shelby is one of the most beautiful and attractive cities of the State. It has a a population of over 2,000, and the town bears every mark of refinement and prosperity. The church was organized about twenty years ago with seven members and has now grown to over one hundred. They have a neat and tastefnl church building and are doing a good city mission work of their own. As the pastor was absent the cause of Synodical missions was only presented from the pulpit and the people responded with a contribution of $62.50 which will be somewhat increased and which, all things considered, is a generons gift and not the first which Shelby has made to this cause. The pastor expects to hold special services in the church this week. Rev. William Black is assisting Rev. S. O. Hall of Westminster church, Greensboro, this week.

A. J. McKELWAY,
Superintendent.

VIRGINIA.

Smithville:—The churches at Charlotte C. H., have recently enjoyed a gracious revival of religien. The Spirit was manifested during the union meeting of the churches the week of prayer, and since that time sixteen have united with the Presbyterian church and fourteen with the Methodist. Others will follow. Rev. W. McC. Miller, pastor.

Charlottesville:—The Presbyterian congregation has just closed a contract for a new church near the old one at the corner of Second and Marshall streets. The price is to be $30,750.—Baltimore Sun.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Blackville and Richland:—Rev. H. R. Murchison, of the Senior Class of Columbia Seminary, will take charge of these churches in Charleston Presbytery. Mr Murchison well begin his pastoral labors in May and June.

FLORIDA.

Tarpon Springs:—The Presbyterians here expected to dedicate their church on last Sabbath.

Pensacola:—The First Presbyterian church of Pensacola is making quiet, steady progress. Previous to the meeting held by Rev. R. G. Pearson there were additions on profession from time to time. Immediately after the close of his meeting in February there were twelve additions on examination on a single Sabbath. A few Sabbaths later there was another addition. And on last Sabbath, April 11th, immediately after the morning service, there were five additions on certificate. These five persons represented two entire families and the mother of a third family. After the night service the session met again and received a young wife on certificate from the Methodist church in this city and her husband on examination. Since January 1st, we have received twenty-four members, nine of these on certificate and fifteen on examination. Others still are enquiring the way of peace and life.

TENNESSEE.

Nashville:—Forty-three persons were received into the First church on Sunday, the 11th inst Twenty-two of this number joined upon profession of faith.

Pulaski:—Rev. M. S. Kennedy, pastor, has recently been assisted in a two weeks' service by Rev Nathan Bachman. The visible results were twenty-one professions of faith in Christ, all but one being from the Sunday-school.

ARKANSAS.

Sweet Home:—The mission of the First church of Little Rock has just completed their church building—Westminster. It is a beautiful and cozy edifice with auditorium and Sunday-school room, having a seating capacity of about 250 people The cost of the building was abont $1,000; the greater part of the work being contributed by neighbors and friends. On next Sabbath afternoon (April 18th) the church will be dedicated by our pastor, Rev. S. G. Miller.—Trans-Mississippi Presbyterian.

NEW MEXICO,

Eddy:—The church here under the pastoral care of Rev. E. Brantly has recently finished a neat stone house of worship costing $3,000.

GENERAL.

Our thanks are extended for the following pamphlets: The Minutes of the Synod of Arkansas, which met in its forty-fifth annual session at Monticello; The Catalogue of Princeton Theological Seminary, showing full classes in all grades, numbering two hundred and forty-two students, and The Southwestern Presbyterian University—a catalogue of the University and Divinity School combined. There are ten members of the Senior Class of the latter, representing our Southwestern States and Syria.

We glean the following from some notes kindly sent us from Miss Claude Grier's letters:

February 12th.

Foreign mail on yesterday, bringing home letters and papers which I read with usual relish. We have had a great pleasure in a visit from Mr. McIlwaine and Mr. Moore of Kochi. They came with Mr. Hope from Kobe where they have had a mission meeting. Mrs. Hope expected them to breakfast, but they did not come till late that night having been twenty five hours on the boat, an eight hours trip from Kobe. How cold, sick and hungry, they looked! Mr. Hope suffers greatly from sea-sickness. Messrs. Moore and McIlwain are more fortunate and are such earnest working men.

There has been a great deal of la grippe here. Tokushima must be fearfully hot in summer; they tell me so, and already we are feeling the effect of spring days in loss of appetite and energy, though I am perfectly well.

The summers are a serious problem to missionaries. It seems absolutely necessary to get away from the low country, and this is very expensive, besides a great loss of time. Mr. and Mrs. Hope have tents, and expect to camp out, but I think it will be more romantic than comfortable with their two little children. Their baby is the dearest little fellow, and so fat and nice now. Mrs Hope has a fine strawberry bed that promises well. She had an abundant crop of berries last year, and I'm sure I'll get my share this year, of what she has.

Our heart goes out in sympathy to Rev. A. N. Ferguson whom God has visited with affliction. He writes:

"The Lord is calling me and the other members of our family to pass through sore bereavement. Within about three weeks our two oldest brothers have been called to their reward. Bro. John C. was found dead in his bed—Brother Murdock who died on last Friday, 16th inst., passed through a long seize of wasting sickness and painful suffering, but it is comforting to believe that they are both now together where there is no more suffering or death. They were both spared to reach the allotted time of man—and went for a little while on borrowed time. They were both for several years ruling elders in the Presbyterian church, and have left us a rich legacy in their lives and character, for all of which we thank God and bow in humble submission to His will in calling them away from us.

PERSONALS.

Rev. J. Ernest Thacker has accepted the call to the church at Alexandria, Va.

Rev. Jas. D. Thomas, of Sykesville, Md., has resigned the pastorate of Springfield church.

Rev. J. Alston Ramsay, of Hickory, N. C., has declined the call to Lebanon, Ky.

Rev. E. L. Siler has been granted dismission from Mecklenburg Presbytery to the Presbytery of Central Mississippi.

Rev. V. G. Smith, of the Senior Class Union Seminary, will take charge of the Alleghany field in Winchester Presbytery, about the first of June.

Rev. J. W. Siler has been appointed stated Clerk of Mecklenburg Presbytery and all communications for this office should be addressed to Davenport, N. C.

Rev. Wm. Black was unable to fill his engagement at Westminster church, Greensboro, last week on account of sickness. He was expected, however, on Saturday last.

Rev. H. W. Myers, of the Senoir Class, Louisville Seminary, will supply the Tygart's Valley church, W. Va., during the summer months.

We regret to hear that Rev. Dr. Howerton of Charlotte was painfully hurt one day last week by a fall from his wheel.

Mr. W. J. King, a licentiate of East Hanover Presbytery, and a student of Princeton Seminary has been invited to supply the Williamsburg and York River churches, Va.

Rev. Dr. E. O. Guerrant has returned to his home at Wilmore, Ky. For several months Dr. Guerrant has been assisting the pastors in the Southern States in meetings of great revival and interest.

Rev. John C. Malloy, pastor of the South St. church, Owensboro, Ky., has resigned his pastorate. Mr. Malloy has served this church for twenty years, it having been his only ministerial charge.

The Rev. Newton Donaldson, of Huntingdon, W. Va., has had the great pleasure of welcoming back his sister, who has been a missionary in India for seven and a half years. She arrived in safety on the Germania last week in good health. Miss Donaldson will take her needed rest at her father's home in Pennsylvania.—Central.

Prof. A. E. Spencer of the Presbyterian College of South Carolina, has been promoted to the presidency of the college, vice Rev. E. C. Murray, resigned. Mr. Spencer is an elder in the church at Clinton, S. C., where the college is situated.

MEETINGS OF PRESBYTERIES.

Mecklenburg Presbytery; Met in the 55th regular session in the Gastonia Presbyterian church April 9th, 8 p. m., and was opened with a sermon by the retiring moderator, Rev. S. W. Newell, from Matt. 26:28. Present, 27 ministers and 46 elders.

Officers: Rev. A. A. Little was elected moderator; Elder W. B. Newell, temporary clerk; Rev. R. C. Morrison, engrossing clerk; Elder F. H. Curtis, reading clerk, and Rev. Jonas Barclay, corresponding clerk.

Dismissions: Candidate J. M. Forbis was granted a certificate of dismission to St. John's Presbytery, Rev. E. L. Siler was granted a letter of dismission to Central Mississippi Presbytery. Jno. F. Love, of Gastonia, was elected treasurer of Presbytery, vice W. D. Cowles, resigned. Rev. Jesse W. Siler was elected stated clerk vice Rev. E. L. Siler, resigned.

Rev. M. McG. Shields was received from Orange Presbytery, and order taken for his installation as pastor of Gastonia church. Calls from Carmel church for one-half time of Rev. R. C. Morrison, and from Waxhaw church for one-half time of Licentiate H. W. Hoon, were accepted, and orders taken for installation.

Pastoral relation between Rev. E. L. Siler and the Wadesboro and Morven churches was dissolved. Also between Rev. W. G. White and Graham St. church, and Rev. Mr. White dismissed to Los Angeles Presbytery, Presbyterian Church U. S. A.

Presbytery adopted a new manual.

Commissioners to General Assembly: Rev R Z Johnston and Rev A A Little. Alternates Rev J J Kennedy and Rev R C Morrison. Elders, F H. Curtis and J C McLauchlin. Alternates, W B Newell and Dr H O Alexander.

Rutherfordton church was permitted to prosecute a call for the services of Licentiate W R Minter, before Enoree Presbytery.

The 250th anniversary of the Westminster Assembly was celebrated on Monday. Addresses were delivered by Revs A A Little, Jno M Grier, J R Howerton, D D., T M Lowry and Jno W Stagg.

Messrs J Eldred Flow, of Mallard Creek church, and J H Underwood, of Hopewell church, were received under care of Presbytery as candidates for the ministry.

At a popular meeting in the interest of Home Missions, a collection amounting to $22 was taken for Alton school in Union county.

An appeal by Rev Roger Martin and others, to Synod, was taken from action of the Presbytery in employing a candidate for the ministry.

The Presbytery urges all its churches to take collections for the cause of Education, to aid 19 candidates.

Rev S W Newell was elected chairman of the Committee of Education, instead of Rev Jno W Stagg, resigned,

The Presbytery adopted the following paper in answer to an overture from Pineville church, anent church members attending circuses;

"We deem the deliverances of the General Assembly in 1869 and of our Presbytery in 1879 together with the teachings of our standards to be sufficiently clear to convince any Christian of the evil attending such conduct, and its inconsistency with the teachings of the Gospel and the standards of our Church, and we enjoin upon the ministers and sessions to be faithful in making known the deliverances and law on this subject."

A memorial on the death of of Rev. W. K. Boggs was adopted.

Presbytery extended a cordial vote of thanks to the good people of Gastonia for their abundant hospitality.

Providence church was chosen as place for regular fall meeting, and October 6th, at 11 a. m., the time.

Presbytery adjourned to meet at Waxhaw, April 22d, at 11 a. m.

JESSE W. SILER,
Stated Clerk.

Presbytery of Memphis: The attendance at Staunton was larger than usual, and the meeting pleasant and profitable.

Rev W S Cochrane was elected moderator, and Ruling Elder T V Neel, temporary clerk. The usual routine of business was gone through with, and Rev R Q Riley was received as a member from North Mississippi Presbytery.

The programme for the celebration of the 250th anniversary of the Standards was carried out.

The addresses introduced with singing, reading the Scriptures and prayer, took the place of preaching at 11 a. m, and 8 p. m.

The congregations were large and attentive.

The Presbytery was so well satisfied with these addresses as to appoint a committee to have them published in pamphlet form.

Rev Wm McF Alexander, of Memphis, Tenn., and Rev B M Cowan, of Atoka, Tenn., were elected principal and alternate Commissioners to the Assembly. Ruling Elder G N Albright of Staunton, Tenn., and Ruling Elder J B Gracy of Mt. Carmel, Tenn., were elected principal and alternate commissioners to the Assembly. The reports showed the depression of the hard times, but were on the whole encouraging.

E. M. RICHARDSON,
Stated Clerk.

Presbytery of Dallas, met at Sherman Texas, April 1st, and was opened with a sermon on Foreign Missions by the moderator Rev. W. C. Roe.

Rev. W. M. Anderson was elected moderator, Elder W. P. Bishop temporary clerk, Rev. C. L. Ewing reading clerk and Rev. J. M. Clark engrossing clerk.

Two new churches were enrolled and a commission was appointed to organize a church at Mertens. Licentiate J. W Smith was received from the care of Eastern Texas Presbytery, ordained and arrangements made for his installation as pastor of Childress church.

Rev. E. M. Munroe, D. D., Milford, Texas, and Elder Dr. W. R. Wilson, Dallas, Texas, were elected commissioners to the General Assembly; alternates Rev. G. A. Russell, Gainsville, Texas, and Elder J. P. Barron, Van Alstyne, Texas.

Two overtures to the Assembly were adopted, one asking the Assembly to revise the form for Narratives and the other asking the Assembly to review and reverse the action of the last Assembly where it decided that one elder does not constitute a session, in churches that have but one elder. Some features of the Narrative were encouraging, showing 160 additions to the churches.

E. M. MUNROE,
Stated Clerk.

The Presbytery of Pee Dee, met in the Presbyterian church of Timmonsville, S. C., April 7th at 8 p. m., and was opened with a sermon by Rev. J. G. Richards.

Present, nine ministers and fifteen elders. Rev. Dr. J. N. Craig and Rev. Dr. T H. Law were invited to sit as corresponding members. Rev. J. W. McClure was elected moderator and Mr. J. J. James, of Darlington temporary clerk. Addresses were made by Dr. Craig in behalf of Home Missions and the Invalid Fnad and Dr. Law on the Bible Cause. A commission was instructed to organize a church at Dillon if the way be clear. The Home Missions Committee was instructed to take under consideration the regrouping of several of the churches. The Executive Committees were thoroughly reorganized. The commissions appointed to install Rev. J. W. McClure at Hopewell and Rev. E. C. Bailey at Timmonsville reported their duties performed. The commission appointed to install Rev. E. C. Bailey at Fairhope was continued and instructed to install him on the fifth Sunday in May.

The reports from the churches were encouraging and showed that nearly every church in the Presbytery enjoyed the stated preaching of the Word. As a judical case had been sent over by the Synod for a rehearing, it was feared that there might be an element of discord to mar the proceedings of the Presbytery. There was a sigh of relief therefore when the Presbytery unanimously adopted the following report of the Judicial Committee:

The Judicial Committee appointed by Pee Dee Presbytery to examine into the merits of the complaint of H. L. Odiome vs. the session of the Florence church having had both parties before them and having heard what they had to say would recommend the following action, that as the original parties have met and asked and obtained forgiveness for the wrong done and such a confession and request for forgiveness has been made as would be satisfactory to the session, we dismiss the case directing that they absolve him and restore him according to sections 230 and 231 Book of Church Order.

The name of J. M. McNaull was at his own request stricken from the roll of candidates.

The pastoral relation between Rev. H. B. Zernow and the Marion and Kentyre churches was dissolved and the churches were granted permission to keep him as supply until September. Rev. J. G. Richards, of Blenheim and Dr. J. A. James, of Cheraw were elected commissioners to the Assembly, alternates Rev. H. M Brearley, of Maxton, N. C., and Dr. D. J. Jennings, of Bennettsville.

The Presbytery adjourned to meet in Hortsville, S. C., Oct. 13th.

A. H. McARN,
Stated Clerk.

Enoree Presbytery held its spring session at Liberty Springs church, Cross Hill, S. C., April 13th-15th. The meeting was earnest, vigorous and pleasant throughout. Special consideration was given one day to the institutions of learning in our bounds, of which interesting and encouraging presentation was made. The reports from the churches, and the usual conference upon the State of Religion which followed, brought out the fact that there had been the last year unprecedented accessions to the churches, amounting to about 500 souls, and there seemed to have been a general advance in almost all kinds of growth. Larger contributions to Foreign Missions were reported than for any previous year, and although the Presbytery has already three ministerial, one medical and three lady missionaries in the foreign field, another of its pastors, Rev. W. L. Walker, of Greenville, was

(Continued on 14th page.)

ABOUT GOOD BOOKS.

I am often asked by young people what sort of books I would recommend for the reading of those who have not very much time to spend in literary pursuits, but who really wish to improve themselves. The question is a little difficult to answer, because the world of books is so large, and the tastes of readers are so various. But there are certain broad lines which an intelligent person may follow to advantage, and first I will lay some of these down on the negative side.

Never read a book which you know to be bad.

It is a singular thing that a book sometimes wins financial success, is sold readily and bought eagerly, simply because it is talked about as not quite a good or moral book. I hold that as we choose our friends we should choose our books and as no one selects for daily comradeship a vulgar or coarse or wicked person, so no one should admit to his or her intimate company a book known to be bad.

Never read a book which gives you a false view of life.

There are books of fine literary quality, which are packed with false sentiment, which are cynical, which leave one with a distorted point of view. Such books do positive harm, and a busy young person has no time to waste on them. To spend precious hours over such pages is as foolish as to take the wrong turning in a road and wander miles out of one's way, when one is tired and hungry and night is coming on.

Never read a book which advocates atheistic principles.

We live in an age when a great deal of doubt is expressed, on every side. If we would escape its influence we must keep fast hold of the faith and trust we learned when our mothers taught us to pray. Books which inculcate doubt will weaken, not strengthen faith, and should be avoided.

Having said this, I must hasten to add that there is a wide choice among good books, so that nobody need be fearful that there will ever be a dearth in quantity. If one only has a small amount of time to give to reading I advise that a large book, like a large piece of work be undertaken, and ten or twenty minutes, or a half-hour daily, be devoted to its study. Let the book be a history, like Green's "History of the English People," or Motley's "Dutch Republic," or John Fiske's "Beginnings of New England," and read from day to day so many pages, setting forward the daily mark, as you go on. At the end of several weeks, or months, you will be surprised at the ground you have covered. Where these large books are too expensive for purchase, and there is no library from which you can borrow, look about for more excellent volumes which are published specially for young people, at prices within the scope of your purse. Such books can be found, and it is always a good investment to own a book which will prove a continual joy.

I am very fond of biography myself It makes me think of Longfellow's "Psalm of Life," and I see in the stories of men's careers on this earth, however simple,

"Footprints that perhaps another
Sailing o'er life's solemn main,
A forlorn and shipwrecked brother,
Seeing shall take heart again."

There are lives of missionaries which are more entertaining than any romance; lives of great personages which bring vividly before us the periods in which they lived, and lives of men of letters which introduce us to the familiar circle of their friends, and give us a sort of view behind the screen of the poetry and stories which came from their pens.

In this day, many of us need to be reminded that next to the Bible which is always the best book. "The Pilgrim's Progress" is one of the most fascinating volumes ever written. Most of us have it somewhere about the house, and it might be a good plan to begin it this very week, and find out how full of charm it is, how full of good thoughts.—Margaret E. Sangster, in Forward.

ARMSTRONG & McKELVY, Pittsburgh.
BEYMER-BAUMAN, Pittsburgh.
DAVIS-CHAMBERS, Pittsburgh.
FAHNESTOCK, Pittsburgh.
ANCHOR, KOKSTEIN } Cincinnati.
ATLANTIC, BRADLEY, BROOKLYN, JEWETT, ULSTER, UNION } New York.
SOUTHERN, SHIPMAN } Chicago.
COLLIER, MISSOURI, RED SEAL, SOUTHERN } St. Louis.
JOHN T. LEWIS & BROS CO, Philadelphia.
MORLEY, Cleveland.
SALEM, Salem, Mass.
CORNELL, Buffalo.
KENTUCKY, Louisville.

WHATEVER is worth doing, is worth doing well. Painting can only be done well by having the best materials—Pure White Lead and Pure Linseed Oil, properly applied. There is nothing else "just as good." Avoid "mixtures" and unknown brands of White Lead—the "sold-for-less-money" sort. (See list of the genuine brands.)

FREE By using National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors, any desired shade is readily obtained. Pamphlet giving valuable information and card showing samples of colors free; also cards showing pictures of twelve houses of different designs painted in various styles or combinations of shades forwarded upon application.

National Lead Co., 1 Broadway, New York.

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA SUMMER SCHOOL.

EDWARD ANDERSON ALDERMAN, D. C. L., PRESIDENT.

The Fourth Session will begin Tuesday, June 22nd and close Friday, July 23rd, 1897.

COURSES.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

Dr Thomas Hume, Professor of English, University of North Carolina.

Miss Mollie A Bryant, Ogontz School.

Mr William P. Webb, Jr, Instructor in English, University of North Carolina.

SCIENCE.

Professor Wilbur S Jackman, Author of "Nature Study," Chicago Normal School.

Mr R E Coker, University of North Carolina, Natural History. (Special.)

Professor Collier Cobb, University of North Carolina, Geology.

State Geologist Holmes, Geology of North Carolina.

Dr Charles Baskerville, University of North Carolina, Chemistry. (Special.)

Charles S Mangum, M D, University of North Carolina, Physiology.

GEOGRAPHY.

Superintendent H S Tarbell, Providence, R I, Author Werner Geographies and Grammar.

Superintendent Logan D Howell, Raleigh, N C.

HISTORY.

Principal W F Gordy, Hartford, Conn., Author "Pathfinder in American History."

Superintendent Alex Graham, Charlotte, N C.

James E Shepherd, LL D, Civics.

PSYCHOLOGY.

Professor P P Claxton, State Normal College. Last year at Jena.

PEDAGOGY.

Dr Charles A McMurry, Sec'y Nat Herbart Society, Chicago University. Professor C W Toms, University of North Carolina.

MODERN LANGUAGES.

Professor Walter D Toy, University of North Carolina.

MATHEMATICS.

Dr William J Milne, Author of Milne's Algebra and Arithmetic. Albany, New Yark.

Superintendent M C S Noble, Wilmington, N C.

DRAWING AND MANUAL TRAINING.

Miss Nettie Bemis, graduate Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, Durham Graded Schools.

PRIMARY WORK.

Professor E P Moses, Winthrop Normal School, Rock Hill, S C, Author "Moses' Reader."

MUSIC.

Professor Clarence R Brown, State Normal College.

LATIN.

Dr H F Linscott, University of North Carolina.

Professor J A McLauchlin, Author "Pensa Prima Latina." Wadesboro, N C.

Tuition fee $6.00. Cheap rates for board. Delightful summer home. Public Lectures at night. Reduced Railroad rates.

Beginning Sept. 7th post-graduate courses in the University are open to women.

For circular containing details of courses address Clinton White Toms, Superintendent, Durham, N C, or President Alderman, Chapel Hill, N C.

SUMMER LAW SCHOOL.

John Manning, LL D., James E Shepherd, LL D.

Begins July 1st. Tuition for each class $30. For announcement and terms address John Manning.

DOES PROHIBITION PAY IN MAINE?

Before prohibition, there were in Maine seven distilleries and two breweries. Now, not one of either in the State. Many cargoes of West India rum were imported every year. Now, not even one puncheon is received. Formerly, rumshops everywhere. One in every hamlet. Now, in more than three-fourths of the State, having three-fourths of the population, the grog shop is unknown. An entire generation has grown up there never having seen a saloon or the effects of one The quantity of liquor now sold is not one-twentieth what it was before prohibition. In Portland the quantity is not one-hundredth part of what it used to be, and the city is twice as large. The people used to spend, every twenty years in strong drink, the entire valuation of the State. Now, one million dollars will more than pay for all the liquor smuggled into the State and sold in violation of law.

Maine saves annually more than $20,000,000 which but for prohibition would be spent, lost, wasted in drink. Maine is now one of the most prosperous States in the Union. Before it was the poorest. There was dissipation, unthrift and decay. Now, everywhere is seen thrift, industry, prosperity. In 1884, after an experience of prohibition for thirty-three years, that policy was put in the constitution by 47,075 majority. There can be no more convincing proof that prohibition has not been a "failure" as the brewers and distillers declare it to be, but on the contrary a great success.—The Contributor.

EASY OR DIFFICULT.

Whether a particular course of action is to be counted easy or difficult depends very much upon the standard by which you try it. The lover of pleasure wonders how a man can have any joy in his life if he does not go to the theater, or to the ball-room, or to the card-table, or to the horse-race; the man of earnest purpose wonders rather how any one can go through the frivolous rounds of these and like amusements, and find any pleasure at all in them. The man of social tastes is astonished to see how the student can shut himself out from society for the sake of a few dusty books; the student sometimes stops to ask himself how any reasonable man can be content to live in an atmosphere of feeble small-talk and dreary conventionalisms. So is it with the greater distinctions which divide life. The worldling cannot understand how there can be any joy in a life devoted to God, because the joys and sorrows of that life are tried by a standard unkown in his own. He never will understand it until he learns that there are two standards in life;—the standard of man and the standard of God; and that what may be painful and difficult, when tried by the one, may be easy and joyous when tried by the other. Any man can choose to which of these two standards he will conform his life. Only, in choosing, he should remember that the standard of God is eternal, that its joys remain forever, while the standard of man is but the standard of the passing day.—Sunday-School Times.

THE DAY OF JUDGMENT.

Ask yourself of any habit that belongs to your personal life, and bring it face to face with Jesus Christ and see if it is not judged. A judgment day that far away, that is off in the dim distance when this world is done—it shall come, no doubt. I know not much with regard to it, except that it is sure. But the judgment day that is here now is Christ; the judgment day that is right close to your life and rebukes you, if you will let him rebuke you every time you sin; the judgment day that is here and praises you and bids you be of good courage when you do a thing that men disown and despise, is Christ.—Phillips Books.

At a touch sweet pleasure melteth like to bubbles when rain pelteth.—Keats.

Under the Weather.

That is the common Spring complaint. You feel "logy," dull. Your appetite is poor. Nothing tastes good. You don't sleep well. Work drags. You cross every bridge before you come to it. There's lots of people have felt like you until they toned up the system by taking the great spring remedy

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

It's been curing such cases for 50 years. Try it yourself.

Send for the "Curebook." 100 pages free. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

PEACE INSTITUTE FOR YOUNG LADIES, RALEIGH, N. C.

This Institute offers thorough collegiate courses in English, History, Literature, Mathematics, Sciences, Ancient and Modern Languages, Music, Art, Elocution and Physical Culture.

As to its high standard for graduation, its thoroughness of instruction, its moderate charges for the advantages offered, and the extent of its courses in Art and Music, this Institute cannot be surpassed.

It offers also thorough preparatory courses. Correspondence solicited.

Board and English Tuition One Year $200.

For illustrated catalogue and full particulars, address the Principal,
JAS. DINWIDDIE, M. A., University of Virginia.
Term begins Sept. 16th, 1896. Closes first of June.

The Normal & Collegiate Institute

For Young Women.

ASHEVILLE, N. C. SPRING TERM OPENING FEB. 1st. 1897

OFFERS TO THE STUDENTS:

1. A Classical Course, including Ancient and Modern Languages, Science, Music, Drawing, etc.
2. A Normal Course for the thorough training of Teachers under instructors from the best Normal Schools.
3 Commercial Course, including Stenography, Type-writing, Book-keeping, etc.
4. Domestic Science, including Scientific Cooking, Draughting, Cutting, Fitting and Making of garments.

Systematic study of the Bible in all departments.

Terms for Board and Tuition in any of the departments, $50 per term, or half school year.

☞ For catalogue, address

REV. THOS. LAWRENCE, D D
ASHEVILLE, N. C.

Cluster Springs High School

(On Lynchburg and Durham R R., six miles from N. C. line)

BLACK WALNUT, VIRGINIA.

For boys and young men. A well equipped high school at a most pleasant, accessible, and healthful location. Lithia, sulphur, iron, and pure waters. Good buildings and improved school equipments. Swimming Pool, Gymnasium, and Athletic Field. Special attention to manners and development of character. Thorough instruction. Three teachers. Prepares for college or for business Our certificates admit to college. Tuition and home $—— Our catalogue tell all about it. Address,

REV. T. S. WILSON, President,
or E. L. BARNES, A. B., Principal

A. D. BROWN,

Successor to Brown & Roddick,

29 NORTH FRONT STREET, WILMINGTON, N. C.

IMPORTER OF FINE

DRY GOODS AND CARPETS,

ORIENTAL AND DOMESTIC RUGS,

"WARNER'S CORSETS," "HER MAJESTY'S CORSETS,"

"THOMPSON'S GLOVE FITTING CORSETS," "R & G" AND "FERRIS" CORSETS.

"FOSTER" KID GLOVES, "KAYSER" SILK GLOVES.

"HUDNUT'S" EXQUISITE TOILET REQUISITES.

Mail Orders Given Special Attention.

Sabbath School Dep't.

CONDUCTED BY REV. A. D. McCLURE.

Second Quarter—Lesson V.

May 2, 1897.—Acts xiii: 1-13.

Commit to memory verses 2-4.

Subject.—Paul Begins His First Missionary Journey.

Golden Text. "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature." Mark xv: 16.

CATECHISM.

Question 38. What benefits do believers receive from Christ at the resurrection?

Answer. At the resurrection, believers being raised up in glory, shall be openly acknowledged and acquitted in the day of judgment, and made perfectly blessed in the full enjoyment of God to all eternity.

Time. A. D., 45, 46.

Places. Salamis and Paphos, Antioch, Selencia and Perga.

INTRODUCTORY.

This lesson brings us to the beginning of the great missionary movement of the Church with its new center at Antioch, but to reach to the ends of the earth as then known. The history of this missionary life and activities occupies the remaining portion of the Acts. With this begins the second part of the book. As Paul is the chief missionary, it will be well to review what we have learned of him in the preceding lessons. All this, as the previous growth of the Church, was preparatory to this second stage. For this the Church was appointed and left in the world to carry the gospel to all nations. To fail of this is to fail at the vital point. From this point increased interest will be sustained by carefully following the journeys by the map, and learning all we can about the place. After sixteen years, studied in laying the foundations in Palestine, the journeys will henceforth be with the first missionaries throughout the Roman world, returning occasionally to the home church. The lesson to-day gives the beginnings of this great work.

LESSON NOTES.

Vs. 1. The church that was at Antioch. Had its beginning some ten years before through those scattered at the persecution of Stephen, and through the reception of the Gentiles had wonderfully increased during the years A. D. 40-43. Prophets. Those who speak for God with insight and foresight, to tell the truth taught them by the Holy Spirit. In the Old Testament the characteristic of foresight and prediction is more prominent in the record. In the New Testament the element of insight with preaching is more prominent. Teachers were stated and permanent instructors after the prophets. Of Barnabas. We have heard in the sixth lesson Simeon is another spelling for Simon or Symeon. Niger was a common Roman name and not a proof that he was an African and black. Manaen is Menahem, which had been brought with, is one word in Greek, meaning "foster-brother" to Herod, i. e., nursed by the same woman. And Saul: Paul named last as a late comer and not a resident.

Vs. 2. As they ministered. The general word of the Old Testament for priestly service, meaning here the prayer and intercession and worship rising from and resting upon the atoning sacrifice of Christ. Fasted. Showed their intense earnestness, with spiritual hunger which put away thought of any attention to physical hunger. The Holy Ghost here appears as distinctly the Vice-Gerent of Christ in charge of the missionary operations of the Church He does not say separate to God or to Christ, but to me, for the work whereunto I have called them.

Vs. 3. Had fasted and prayed. In a special service when fasting was deliberately done and of purpose. They laid their hands on them. To separate them from the class of prophets and teachers and to be henceforth apostles. They became the apostles of the Holy Spirit as Peter and the others were apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Vs. 4. Sent forth by the Holy Ghost. Who originated the missionary enterprise, and whose ministry must ever be invoked and waited for and honored to success. Seleucia. The seaport of Antioch. Cyprus. Eighty to 100 miles southwest of Seleucia, was an excellent place to begin the work, and was on the way to the regions beyond" where the Gospel was not known.

Vs. 5. Salamis. The Greek capital of Cyprus. The Word of God. His message of love and salvation by Jesus Christ. In the synagogues. As always John, was John Mark author of the Gospel of Mark, cousin of Barnabas and son of Mary of Jerusalem. To their minister or attendant or assistant.

Vs. 6. Paphos. On the western coast of Cyprus as Salamis was on the eastern. Sorcerer. A magician, a wizard He was both the modern fortune teller and modern man of science in one.

Vs. 7. The deputy. A friend and associate who accompanied a Roman governor. A prudent man. R. V. "A man of understanding. Called for Barnabas and Saul to search for more light.

Vs. 8. Withstood. Opposed.

Vs. 9. Saul who is also called Paul. Hebrew and Latin names. As he was now entering upon his work in the Gentile world he would like the Latin name Some think the name was now taken from that of Sergius Paulus.

Vs. 80. Subtilty. Guile. Mischief. Villany.

Vs. 11. The hand of the Lord. Not of Paul.

Vs. 12. The doctrine. The teaching.

Vs. 13. Perga. The capital and seaport of Pamphilia. John Mark, returned to Jerusalem for whatever reason, Paul did not think it sufficient.

PRACTICAL POINTS.

1. The Holy Spirit is now the Executive of the Godhead in the affairs of the Church, and should be sought and honored.

2. False religion seeks money. True religion seeks souls.

3. Those who enter upon the service of the Lord should never turn back.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

Lesson for week ending Sunday, May 2nd, 1897.

BY REV. B. E. WALLACE.

Christian Enterprise. Jonah 3: 1-10.

Text for the week:

"I will not let thee go except thou bless me." Gen. 32: 26.

Daily Readings:

Monday, Christ's Activity, Matt. 9: 35-38.

Tuesday—No Time for Eating, Mark 3: 13-22.

Wednesday, Ready Long Ago, 2 Cor. 9: 1-16.

Thursday, No Fear of Prison, Acts 5: 17-32.

Friday, Source of Zeal, 1 Cor. 15: 1-10.

Saturday, Ease in Zion, Amos 6: 1-9.

Sunday, Topic, Jonah 3: 1-10.

Points for Leaders:

1. Let your most enterprising member lead this meeting.

2. Have well in hand heroic points of Christian enterprise.

3. Have some one to bring out the secret of Christ's enterprise, also Paul's.

4. Do not fail to note the Church's lack of enterprise and make an appeal for greater activity.

Notes on the Lesson:

This is an enterprising subject. Let us lay hold on it accordingly.

First let us see what are the incentives to Christian enterprise.

1 Love for Christ. We love Him because He first loved us Our service for Him and our enterprise in His Church will be measured by our love for Him. If we love little we will serve little, if we love much great will be our service. The command is, "Son go work to day in my vineyard." He does not command you as a slave, but as a son. A son serves from a sense of love and not fear.

2. Love for Souls. Do you love the souls of your fellowman? Then you will be eager to save them. We are chosen to be "laborers together with God" for the gathering in of His people. Do you love this service which angels would be glad to do? Have you tasted the sweets of eternal life; then make haste with the morsel to your neighbor's soul. If you lack this love for souls, study their value their destiny, aye the price of purchase. If your enterprise is sluggish, read of Williams, Carey and Paton.

3. A Sense of Forgiveness. She loved much because she was much forgiven. She stooped to the humblest service because she appreciated most deeply her wonderful pardon. She was faithful and energetic in her service because Christ had made her free.

Let us take as our stock in trade, love for Christ, love for souls and our sense of pardon and launch an enterprise proportionate thereto.

OPEN DOOR NOTES.

A Westminster League was organized in the Free church, Austin, Texas, Rev. Dr. Smoot, pastor, on the 4th inst., with thirty-nine members.

The program for the approaching State Convention of Christian Endeavorers in Charlotte has been published. The meeting will begin on Friday afternoon, and close on Sunday evening. The addresses and topics for discussion are especially upon service for Christ and Entire Surrender to His Will. We note among those taking prominent part, Rev. W. G. White, and Messrs Carey Dowd and C. W. Tillett, of Charlotte, Rt. Rev. Edward Rondthaler, D. D., of Salem and Mr. Wm. Shaw, of Boston.

PUZZLE DEPARTMENT.

ANSWERS FOR APRIL 8TH.

Stephen, Acts 7: 20-22—Alex. Milton McDonald, Maggie Hall, Cornie and Myrtle Wilkinson, Nellie Battle.

First Command of God, Gen. 2: 16 and 17—Maggie Hall.

First Standard Bearer, Isa. 10: 18—Alex. Milton McDonald, Maggie Hall, Cornie and Myrtle Wilkinson.

Rev. W. R. Coppedge- Maggie Hall, Nellie Battle.

What king's body was eaten by the dogs? Anna Myrtle Weedon.

Of whom did our Lord say behold an Israelite indeed in whom there is no guile? Ona Alexander.

How many persons have been raised from the dead? I. H. N.

QUERY.

Can the Sunday-school children fill these blanks, which give the name of a man, whose life, before and after conversion, illustrates the answer to the first question of our Shorter Catechism? "Man's chief end is to glorify God and to enjoy Him forever.

Before his conversion he "verily thought he did God service" by persecuting Christians and after his conversion, he wrote "For me to live is Christ and to die is gain."

We often hear it said God accepts a man's service if he does what he really believes to be right. What does this man's life teach? He was "a Jew," by name.....of .....afterwards called.....and had been carefully taught The Law, written by Moses.

NOTICE TO THE ALUMNI

—OF—

COLUMBIA THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

Our Alumni, one and all, are cordially invited to be present at the meeting of the Alumni Association to be held immediately after the close of Rev. A. B. Curry's address May 12th 8 p. m. It will be a pleasure to us to welcome them to our homes and to renew old associations and revive precious memories. Those expecting to come will please notify the undersigned as soon as practicable.

W. M. McPHERTERS,
Ch'm. Com. Arrangements.

The first berries of this section were shipped from Rocky Point in Pender county. On the 16th inst., 239 crates were shipped.

MARRIED.

☞No notice of a marriage or death will be inserted unless accompanied by a responsible name, which is wanted not for publication but as a guaranty of good faith.

FRY—JOHNSON.—On March 11th, 1897, by Rev. J. B. Morton, in Tarboro, N. C., Mr. C. R Fry, of Newton, N. C., and Miss Mary A. Johnson.

KING—MAYO.—At the residence of the bride's mother, in Falkland, N C., by Rev. J. B. Morton, Mr. E. C. King, of Pitt county, N. C., and Miss Daisie Mayo HUSS—GRAY.—On April 14th, 1897, at the home of the bride's father in Gastonia, N. C., by Rev. M. McG. Shields, Mr. C. Judson Huss and Miss Ida Gray.

DIED.

☞We publish free 10 lines of Obituary Notices, of any kind—Tributes of Respect, Resolutions of Sabbath-schools, Ladies' Societies, &c. And we charge for over 10 lines at the rate of 10 cents per line. The cost may be calculated by counting the words in the manuscript, and allowing seven words to the line.

KIRKLAND.—On March 5th, 1897, at his home in Chapel Hill, N C., Thos. M Kirkland in the 59th year of his age —the oldest member of the Chapel Hill session, having faithfully served in that capacity for twenty-eight years. He has gone up higher, but his life and example remain as abiding influences. "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors, and their works do follow them."

D. J. C.

SECULAR NEWS.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Smithfield in Johnston county, reports berries fully ripe on April 8th.

Rev. Dr. J S. Felix, pastor of the First Baptist church, Asheville, has accepted an invitation to preach the baccalaureate sermon at the University, May 30th

The Wrightsville beach hotel is a surety now. The building has been begun; the contractors are live business men and the manager, Mr Campbell, the well-known proprietor of the Central, Charlotte

The last issue of The Marion Messenger contains much valuable and interesting information in regard to that progressive little town. The paper is enhanced by illustrations of prominent places and people.

Messrs. Anderson and Powell, of Charlotte, are arranging an outline map of the city for the benefit of visitors, especially the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church which meets in May.

Among the attractive features of the Woman's Exposition of the Carolinas will be the popular picture of "Breaking The Home Ties," owned by Mr. C. C. Harrison, Provost of the University of Pennsylvania. A very prettily gotten up prospectus of the exposition bears an imprint of this picture on its title page.

DOMESTIC.

East and North Omaha are flooded by the Missouri.

High Springs, Fla., will have a large hotel erected by the Plant System.

The Suwanee river of Florida is rising and materially interfering with the manufacture of naval stores.

Seventy-four students will graduate from the Medical School of the University of Maryland. Among the number seventeen are from North Carolina.

The Louisiana levees have broken and several parishes are flooded. The prospect looks gloomy for planters below Vicksburg—above that point the waters may recede in time to make crops.

New Orleans has had a fire which destroyed property estimated by some as high as $700,000; by others about half that amount The magnificent Moresque building fronting LaFayette square was destroyed, and the N. O. Christian Advocate and Daily Telegram were burned out.

Tampa, Fla.; will celebrate Queen Victoria's birthday on May 24th. The British government will acknowledge the courtesy by sending a warship to participate, and the Governor of Florida has asked for an American man-of-war to be present also, and if possible the Montgomery which is now on patrol duty on the Florida coast will be detailed to Tampa for the ceremonies.

An elaborate plan has been conceived by the Philadelphia museums to bring the South American countries into closer trade relations with the United States. About sixty of the leading business men of South America will attend the annual meeting of the Philadelphia Museums, also many leading men from our own country. The foreigners will take a trip to the principal cities as guests of the Philadelphians, visiting Washington City on June 6th. Ample provisions have been made for entertainment and $40,000 has been raised.

FOREIGN.

Diplomatic intercourse has ceased between Greece and Turkey and there has been some sharp fighting, though war has not been declared. The powers will not let either combatant reap any fruits from the strife. The fear, however, great at present, is that a general European war may ensue.

A party of ninety one Chinamen have passed through the United States en route for Cuba. They state that they are going at the instance of the Spanish government to work the sugar plantations which have been neglected during the war. The Spanish government has assured them steady employment and pays part of their travelling expenses.

In view of the approach of the rainy season Captain General Weyler has ordered the erection of an infirmary on the trocha and the extension of military hospitals. New hospitals will be constructed under the supervision of the sanitary inspector general at Trinidad, Casilda, Isabella and Sagua.

The captain-general has ordered the demolition of all houses inside the cultivated zone. This is on the theory that the peasants will remain at night in the blockhouses and remove their families to the towns. In this way, says General Weyler, the regulars will not be exposed to the risk, in case of insurgent aggression, of shooting women and children. Spain will shortly withdraw 40,000 troops from the island.

"WHERE DOCTORS DISAGREE."

There has been a great deal of disagreement from time to time about the therapeutic value of Sarsaparilla. In the main, authorities deny any particular medical value to the plant. "It's just an old wive's remedy," they say. And in the main they are right. There are about a dozen varieties of Sarsaparilla, scattered through various countries, and of this dozen only one has any real curative power. So a man whose experience might be confined to the eleven other varieties might honestly say there was little value in them The one valuable Sarsaparilla is found in Honduras. C. A. Monardes, a physician of Seville, records the introduction of Sarsaparilla into Spain as a result of the Spanish discoveries of the New World, between 1536 and 1545. But the root did not accomplish much. But he adds, "a better sort soon after came from Honduras" It is this "better sort" that is used exclusively in Ayer's Sarsaparilla. And it is the use of this "better sort" that has given Ayer's Sarsaparilla prominence over all other varieties by reason of its wonderful cures of blood diseases Send for the Curebook, a "story of cures told by the cured." Free. Address J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

It seems to you that that tickling, hacking cough is all in the throat. But your doctor will tell you that this sensation is often deceiving. The cough is often the signal of deeper trouble in the bronchial tubes or in the lung tissue itself. These inflamed membranes can only be healed by treating the system. For all lung troubles, especially in the earlier stages, no remedy equals Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil. Its special power is in healing the inflamed tissues of the lungs.

ICURE FITS

When I say I cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again. I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a lifelong study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Postoffice address.

Prof. W. H. PEEKE, F. D., 4 Cedar St., New York

Organized 1832. Assets, $650,000

Tested for Sixty Years.

Virginia Fire and Marine

Insurance Company, of Richmond.

This old Virginia institution issues a short and comprehensive Policy, free of petty restriction and liberal in its terms and conditions.

INSURES AGAINST FIRE and LIGHTNING

All descriptions of Property, in Country and Town—private or public—insured at fair rates, on accommodating terms.

AGENCIES IN EVERY TOWN AND COUNTY.

WM. H. PALMER, President.
W. H. McCARTHY, Secretary.
S. McG. FISHER, Ass't Sec'y

DO NOT FORGET.

THAT OUR BRAND OF FLOUR

THE LADIES' FAVORITE

Is the best Flour on the market. Double Patent, and produces more bread than any other

In addition to our Ladies' Favorite Flour we have taken the Agency for Pittsburg's Best Spring Wheat in barrels and half barrel sacks.

We offer North Carolina Canned Peaches, North Carolina Canned Tomatoes, guaranteed fully equal to any brand. North Carolina Manufactured Tobacco, North Carolina Bacon, California Peaches, California Apricots, both canned and dried, as well as a select stock of groceries of every description.

☞Orders solicited.

R. W. HICKS,

WHOLESALE ONLY,

Wilmington, N. C.

MONEY TO LOAN.

on Eight Years Time, secured by Mortgage on Real Estate. Monthly payment, savings investment stock for sale, also FULL PAID COUPON STOCK, with semi annual cash dividends. Loans made promptly in any part of the State. Agents wanted. Address,

Mechanics and Investors Union

22 Pullen Building, Raleigh, N. C.

A Beautiful, Fitting, and Enduring Memento

For Personal Possession and Study

Is Found in the New Holy Land Art Portfolios

ENTITLED

Palestine Photographed.

Every Student of the Bible,

Every Student of History,

Every Lover of Art

Should Have It.

This desirable book comprises 64 beautiful engravings from views taken in 1894. Each scene is accurately and eloquently described by two distinguished divines, Bishop Vincent and Dr. Lee. The work should find a place in every Christian home.

Any paid up subscriber to the PRESBYTERIAN can obtain this book upon remitting 25 cents.

FOR THE FAMILY.

I SHALL BE LED.

I do not know whether my future lies
Through calm or storm;
Whether the way is strewn with broken ties,
Or friendships warm.

This much I know: Whate'er the pathway trod,
All else unknown,
I shall be guided safely on; for God
Will keep his own.

Clouds may obscure the sky, and drenching rain
Wear channels deep;
And haggard want, with all her bitter train,
Make angels weep.

And those I love the fondest, 'neath the sod,
May rest alone;
But through it all I shall be led, for God
Will keep his own.

—National Presbyterian.

METHODS OF ENGLISH GIRL STUDENTS.

The English students' power of concentration is remarkable. They respect perfectly the study of their friends, and will tolerate no interruption of their own. The English excel when tried by two of Prof. Kraepelin's tests of mental capacity: amount of work done in a given time and power of concentration.

Wherein lies their advantage? They will tell us that their strong and necessary ally is vigorous outdoor sport.

The English girl has, of course, known from childhood the habit of outdoor life. At college she plays hockey or hand polo, cricket, fives, and the games with which we are more familiar, for at least two hours a day, and oftener for a longer time. Two hours is a minimum of time spent in exercise. At frequent intervals, usually at the end of each week, she seeks recreation from past and preparation for future effort by spending many hours in the open air, in boating on the river it may be, or in taking a tramp of thirty miles or so. During vacations she not infrequently makes walking tours of longer or shorter duration.

If an English girl finds that her mind is inactive and unreceptive, she recognizes this as an indication that it needs recreation. She drops her books and puts her brain in fit condition for study by some vigorous play. Under like conditions, the American student, not recognizing nature's signal, mentally scourges herself for dullness, and urges her jaded mind on to overexertion. I once heard an English girl assert that she could dawdle all day, but could not study for more than two hours at a time—Appletons' Popular Science Monthly.

EXCESSIVE SHYNESS IN CHILDREN.

Excessive shyness in children is not the outcome of cowardice or willfulness, nor should it be either sternly reproved or allowed to grow into morbid timidity. A small boy or girl who stands utterly confused and dumb before strangers is the victim, not of stupidity or bad temper, but a painful, nervous weakness that creates the liveliest distress, and ought to be overcome by infinite maternal care. To prove that the child is subject to an uncontrollable weakness feel its too moist hands, cold finger tips and quick heart beats, and accordingly never push it into a group of unfamiliar grown folks to receive kindly greetings, nor frown ominously when it trembles and stammers under the ordeal; but never, on the other hand, relax in steady efforts to accustom it to strangers. Always bring the shy child forward—let the mother keep its hand in hers. With all the infinite patience required in a parrot's education, teach it what to say, and by beginning very early she can save the future school-girl and woman great pain and distress that no amount of effort in after life will cure.—Presbyterian Banner.

In the Yosemite Valley a while ago, a young fellow went out on the edge of a shelving precipice two thousand feet high, and balanced himself on his head. A little slip or little puff of wind would have sent him to eternity. Not one man in a million would be that kind of a fool. But nine men in ten are all the time taking foolish chances.

There is no deadly peril about a little fit of indigestion or biliousness, and yet if a man allows these troubles to get a hold on him he is taking serious risks. Dyspepsia alone seldom kills anybody; that is, it only kills you by inches, and takes a good many years doing it. But it weakens and undermines the constitution so that it is all ready to receive and fertilize the dangerous diseases which do kill you outright.

Disease-germs won't grow in healthy blood any more than corn will grow on a rock. A man who keeps his digestion perfect and his blood pure may eat and drink and breathe diseases-germs, but they gain no foothold. They are cast out of the system. But a man with a dyspepsia-weakened constitution breathes in typhoid or diphtheretic germs and down he goes.

The best health-insurance a man can have is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It acts directly on the stomach and liver. It gives the blood-making organs power to make healthy blood. It clarifies the blood from all impurities, and builds up the healthy flesh, muscular power and nerve energy, which fortifies you against disease.

His life-long success in the treatment of chronic diseases has given Dr. Pierce's medicines a world-wide reputation. His "Pleasant Pellets" cure constipation.

THE CINCINNATI BELL FOUNDING CINCINNATI, OHIO. SOLE MAKERS OF THE BOYER BELLS FOR CHURCH, SCHOOL, FIRE ALARM &C. Catalogue with 2500 testimonials, Prices and Terms FREE.

Mention this paper.

Corn

is a vigorous feeder and responds well to liberal fertilization. On corn lands the yield increases and the soil improves if properly treated with fertilizers containing not under

7% actual

Potash.

A trial of this plan costs but little and is sure to lead to profitable culture.

All about Potash—the results of its use by actual experiment on the best farms in the United States—is told in a little book which we publish and will gladly mail free to any farmer in America who will write for it.

GERMAN KALI WORKS,
93 Nassau St., New York.

NEW BOOKS FOR THE Sunday-School Library.

We desire to call attention to the following list of new library books recently issued from our press. They are all handsomely bound in cloth, and should have a place in every Sunday-school library. To those taking the entire list at one time we will make a special discount of 40 per cent. Discount of 33⅓ per cent on any of our own books.

By Mrs. M. E. Ireland:

The Siberian Exile. 122 pages,	$ 60
The Shepherd's Family. Translated from the German. 112 pages,	60
Adolph's Victories. 314 pages,	1 00
Christian Beck's Grandson. 232 pages,	1 00
In Fair Silesia. Translated from the German. 156 pages,	60
School on Luneburg Heath. Translated from the German. 148 pages,	60
Driven Out. Translated from the German. 156 pages,	1 00

By Miss Annie M. Barnes:

Xinito: A Story of the Bible in Mexico. 214 pages,	90
How A-chon-ho-ah Found the Light. 266 pages,	1 25
Isilda: A Story of Brazil 195 pages,	1 00

By Elizabeth Olmis (author of Jack's Hymn):

Over at Little Acorns. 384 pages,	1 25

By Fannie Alricks Shugert:

Ezekiel of Bethlehem. 281 pages,	1 00

By Rev. H. C. DuBose, D. D.:

Memoirs of John Leighton Wilson, Missionary to Africa, and Secretary of Foreign Missions. 336 pages,	1 50

By Mrs. E. H. Amis:

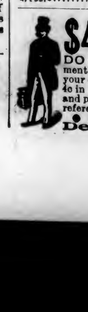
Camping on the Blue Ridge. 106 pages,	60

By Rev. J. M. Chaney, D. D.:

William the Baptist. Cloth, 60 cts.; paper,	25
Agnes, Daughter of William the Baptist,	75

By Mrs. Mary M. Anderson Hawkins:

Jack Payton and his Friends,	75



On miscellaneous Sabbath-school books selected from the lists of other publishers we will give a discount of 20 per cent. And we call attention to our Select Catalogue of miscellaneous books, in which will be found titles and description of more than nine hundred books, all of which have been carefully examined by competent persons, and none will be found in the list not suitable in every respect for our Sabbath-school libraries.

We will make careful selection of libraries if desired from our stock, or will send to any order one-fourth more books than may be needed, with the privilege of returning any that are not wanted.

Also, Sabbath-school Supplies, Class-Books, Records, etc., on the best terms.

If sent by mail, postage will be additional. Express to be paid by purchaser. Address

Presbyterian Committee of Publication,
JAS. K. HAZEN, Sec'y and Treas.,
Richmond, Va.

$4 PER DAY SURE SALARY OR COMMISSION. DO you want honorable, steady employment the year round, at good wages, at your own home or to travel? If so, send 10 in stamps for our wholesale price-list and particulars. We furnish best of bank references.

AMERICAN TEA CO., Detroit, Michigan.

PREMIUMS.

No. 1. For 21 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Hunting case, jointed front and back 18 size and guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $20.00.

No. 2. For 16 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Open face, 18 size, 14 karat filled case, screw back and bezel, guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $15.00.

No. 3. For 17 new subscribers at 1.50 for first year, we will give a Ladies' Gold Watch Hunting case, 6 size, stem winder, 14 karat, filled case, screw beze—guaranteed 20 years—retails at $16.00

No. 4 For12 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give a Gents' Silver Watch: 18 size, plain case, open face—retails at $12.50.

No. 5. For 10 new subscribers a Ladies' Silver Watch, O size, plain case, open face—retails for $10.00.

No. 6. For 8 new subscribers, we will give a Nickel Watch, 18 size, screw bezel—retails for $7.00.

No. 7. For 7 new subscribers, we will give solid silver teaspoons—retails for $6.00.

No. 8. For 4 new subscribers, a sugar spoon, sterling gilt engraved—retails at $3.00.

The articles will all be first-class from a jeweller of established reputation.

New subscribers means not change of address to some one else—that would be fraud—but bona fide new subscribers.

For $1.75 we will send the paper for the first year to a new subscriber and a copy of Palestine Photographed. This album contains 64 actual photographic reproductions of picturesque and historical places in the Holy Land on enameled pages, and is a thing of beauty. The descriptive foot notes are good and enhance the interest.

We regard this as a specially desirable premium.

To any one paying up or renewing their subscription and sending $2.25 we will send this album as apremium

W., N. & N. RAILWAY.

In Effect Sunday, Oct, 27, 1895.

DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY.

NORTH BOUND.		STATIONS.	SOUTH BOUND.
8			7
P. M.		— WILMINGTON —	P. M.
2 00	Lv	Mulberry St.	Ar	12 40
3 58	Lv	Jacksonville	Lv	10 42
4 30	Lv	Maysville	Lv	10 09
4 44	Lv	Pollocksville	Lv	9 55
5 20	Ar	Newbern	Lv	9 20
P. M			A. M.

Trains 8 and 7 p m make connection with trains on A & N C R R for Morehead City and Beaufort.

Connection with Steamer Neuse at Newbern to and from Elizabeth City and Norfolk Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Steamer Geo D Purdy makes daily trips between Jacksonville and New River points.

H. A. WHITING, General Manager.
J. W. MARTENIS, TrafficManager.

CHILDREN'S COLUMN.

"LUCK."

The boy who's always wishing
That this or that might be,
But never tries his mettle,
Is the boy that's bound to see
His plans all come to failure,
His hopes end in defeat,
For that's what comes when wishing
And working fail to meet.

The boy who wishes this thing
Or that thing with a will
That spurs him on to action,
And keeps him trying still
When effort meets with failure,
Will some day surely win,
For he works out what he wishes,
And that's where "luck" comes in!

The "luck" that I believe in
Is that which comes with work,
And no one ever finds it
Who's content to wish and shirk.
The men the world calls "lucky"
Will tell you, every one,
That success comes not by wishing,
But by hard work, bravely done.

—Congregationalist.

THE GRANGERS—A HAPPY FAMILY.

SUNDAY AT SUNNYSIDE.

BY RACHEL RICHARDSON.

"I do not think that the children at Sunnyside ever dreaded the coming of Sunday," said Aunt Susie when they were gathered for another "Granger talk."

Their father had a very doleful experience when he was a small boy at boarding school which made him very anxious to make Sunday, if possible, the pleasantest day of the week to them. And Mrs. Granger was ready to help, you may be sure.

As they always retired earlier on Saturday, than on any other night of the week, there was no reason why they could not rise at the usual hour on Sunday morning. Therefore when the prayer bell rang they were all ready and how bright, and fresh they looked as they gathered about the piano for the hymn which was always sung on Sunday mornings!

After the blessing was asked at table, Mr. Granger would call out:

"Now, for last Sunday's Lesson Title and Golden Text!" and somebody's hand would be held up, and Title and Golden Text given. Then: "Title and Golden Text for to-day!" These would be given in chorus, and then the question in Catechism would be given and answered, and with this introduction breakfast would begin—and what delicious breakfasts those Sunday breakfasts were! Dinner was always a cold meal but, how many dainty, nice dishes Mrs. Granger could make on Saturdays for Sunday, and the servants in this way had a whole day of rest.

They had a ride of four miles to church, but the roads were good, and how sweet the fresh odor of woods, and flowers was! How gaily the horses trotted, and how short the way seemed!

The afternoons were generally spent in the sitting room in cold weather, and either on the piazza or out doors under a grand old elm tree in summer.

Mrs. Granger knew too well how hard it was for a crowd of lively, healthy children to keep still, for any length of time, not to vary the ways of spending the afternoons.

They often played "Guessing at Bible Heroes," then they made charades and acrostics from the Bible, and they had two Bible scrap books, which were full of stories they had helped to select and cut out of papers themselves.

Then; nearly every Sunday one of the boys, and maybe Lucy or Ethel, would carry some delicacies to the sick or the aged among the tenants on this large farm. This Mr. Granger considered a very important part of the religious education of his children.

In this way it came about that they had a striking proof of how God takes care of those who go on His errands.

Rob and Lucy started out one Sunday afternoon to take some fruit to an old neighbor who had been sick for weeks.

The house was a mile and a half away and on a country road that crossed the railroad about three quarters of a mile from home.

They chatted as they went never having a fear of any evil. Rob had never known what fear was, for if there was a rigidly enforced law at Sunny Side, it was, that neither the the servants nor the children should ever scare any one, or tell "scary" tales.

Lucy was naturally timid but she felt very safe with Rob, and went along, sometimes stopping a moment to gather flowers, and most of the time singing snatches of some of the familiar hymns.

The railroad crossing was on a "cut and the road sloped rather steeply down to it. As there were no Sunday trains on that road, they held hands and ran swiftly down, laughing as they went, and ran almost into the arms of a rough, ugly looking man who sprang towards them out of the cut as they reached it!

Lucy screamed, but Rob, with a throb of fear in his heart which was a new sensation to him, only said:

"Hello! who are you? what do you want?"

The man was probably the worst looking human being upon whom either Rob's or Lucy's eyes has ever rested His clothes were dirty and ragged, and his face was grimy. His manner was very threatening though he tried to smile as he said; "What do I want that basket, first, if it's got any victuals in it, and I want that hat, and I'd take your coat too if it would fit.

All this time Lucy was clinging to Rob, and sobbing with terror.

"Don't cry sissy. I don't wanter take you, but hurry up and let me have the victuals."

In a moment Rob remembered all he had read of the desperate deeds of tramps; in another, thanks to good training, he was praying: "Lord help us, and don't let him hurt us."

He had no time for more, nor was more needed.

"Prayer is the burden of a sigh
The falling of a tear,
The upward glancing of an eye,
When only God is near"

When the tramp said this, he laughed a harsh ugly laugh and put his hand on Rob's basket.

"Please, don't take this, it is only some fruit for a sick neighbor. If you will go up that road" pointing towards Sunny Side, I know mama will give you something to eat."

The tramp laughed again, and said: "A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush," jerking the basket from Rob's arm as he spoke.

Rob's first impulse was to resist, but what was he, a slight boy of thirteen against this great, strong man? And poor Lucy was almost dead with fright.

He loosened his hold on the basket and the tramp took off the dainty napkin folded across the top and peered down into it. There were oranges and bananas and two lemons. He seized the bananas and began eating.

Just then, while Rob was debating in his mind whether to leave the basket and go home or to wait until the man returned it. Lucy in whose mind a sense of the sinfulness of stealing had taken the place of her fright said in rather tremulous tones:

"Did you ever learn the commandments?" The man turned his blood-shot eyes upon her in astonishment, and said;

"Yes, I learned 'em long ago, but commandments don't feed you when you're hungry."

"God does though, if you ask Him," replied Lucy promptly.

The words were hardly out out of her mouth, when round the sudden turn in the road came two gentlemen on horseback! They had been riding so slowly along the sandy road, and were so silent, that they were close upon the scene before they were discovered.

In a moment they took in the situation, and their unexpected appearance so startled the tramp that he dropped the basket and ran down the track before the gentlemen had time to say a word!

When they did call to him to halt he was in a full run, and they turned to Rob for his story, which he told in a few moments.

Both advised Rob to go home, as it was just possible the man would return and waylay him again.

While Rob was no coward he very gladly followed this advice.

It was an excited group to which he told his story when he reached home.

As for Lucy, she was glad to cuddle up in her mother's lap, and play baby for awhile, and she said:

"Oh, mama, I b'lieve I feel more sorry for him than scared—now."

And when Rob went to his mother's room for "ten minutes" that night, he said, with a very thoughtful face:

"Mama, I know now that God hears prayer, for He answered mine."

(To be concluded.)

LETTER-BOX.

Dear Mr. Editor:—I will write you a letter once more. It is Sunday and I have been to Sunday-school. My teacher's name is Miss Grace Gelback, she is real sweet to us. I am reading a Sunday-school book, and it is real interesting. About a month ago I slipped down on the ice and broke my arm, and shortly after I was taken with the measles, but now I think my arm is well and the measles are all gone. So I have just started back to school again. My mama and papa have gone to spend a few days at our old home in North Carolina. I like Portsmouth very much and guess I will miss everything when I go home next summer. I love to read the letters from the children and hope you will always have the Letter Box. I will close now, for I want to read some in my book. I remain as ever,

Your little friend,
FLOY S. SHARP.
Portsmouth, Va.

Dear Editor:—I was very glad to see my letter in your paper. My school has closed now. I have a little pony and I ride him most every day except when he is at work. We are practicing for Easter and I think it well be very good. We are keeping boarders, but we have only three and they are as good ones as there are. One of our best friends left us this week, Mr. Jessie Carter. One of his boy's was my best friend. I hope this letter is not too short. With best wishes and regards.

Yours unknown,
JIM APPLE.
Madison, N. C.

Dear Presbyterian: I am glad to be able once more to write and answer the questions in the PRESBYTERIAN. We have all had the measles, but have all recovered except papa. He hasn't entirely recovered yet. We had to stay in a dark room about two weeks. It was not so bad for us as it was for mama. She had to wait on all and had to stay in a dark room longer than we did. I had to stay in the house two weeks, it seemed like a long time to me, as it was the longest time I ever had to stay in doors. I have always been blessed with good health. I have been sick more this winter than ever before. Sunday was the day for preaching at our church. The weather being so bad we didn't get out. I am not going to school now. My school closed on account of so much sickness. My sister and I run to the postoffice every Friday to get the PRESBYTERIAN, each trying to beat the other. While we were sick we had it read to us, but we rejoice that we can read it now ourselves. Hoping my letter will not reach the waste basket I will close.

Your friend,
CORNIE WILKINSON.
Ridgeville, N. C.

(Continued from 7th page.)

recommended for appointment to this work. Home Missions, too, received a good share of attention, much interest was manifested in reaching the cotton mill population, so extensively gathered in our bounds, and measures were adopted looking to the cultivation of this important department of our work. Hearty co-operation with the Synod's Committee of Evangelization was also pledged.

The 250th anniversary of the Westminster Standards was duly celebrated, four set addresses being delivered on this subject.

The publication in the newspapers and current rumors concerning the views held and advocated by the Rev. S. C Todd, with regard to Sanctification, constrained the Presbytery to ask from him a personal statement of what he believed and taught. He promptly responded and read a carefully prepared paper setting forth his faith and teaching, touching this matter, which appeared to be in substantial agreement with our Standards except that certain terminology was employed which was likely to mislead. After a friendly conference upon the subject the matter was allowed to pass without record. The whole proceeding was conducted in a kind and brotherly way from beginning to end.

The Presbytery elected as its commissioners to the General Assembly Ministers, T. M. McConnell, D. D., of Greenville and C. B. Jennings, of Union; Elders, T. H Stall, of Greenville and W. W. Simpson, of Woodruff. After two busy days the body adjourned to meet next at Union, S. C., Sept 28th.

L.

Yes, a Good Suggestion.—Cultivate a taste for pets among the children. A pair of Bantams, canaries, gold fish, or fancy pigeons, will interest them for many a day, and may lead to better things. Boys and girls who love such things are never bad at heart; and if encouraged by being presented with something of this sort that they fancy, to have for their "very own," it makes them better. It keeps them out of bad company and under home influence. Should they tire of one thing, renew the interest by getting something new for them. Besides the pleasure to be derived, they may be made a source of profit. A good singing canary bird can always be sold at a fair price, while the cost to raise it is small. Good specimens of Bantams or pigeons sell readily too. And rabbits, too. The Belgian hare might be made a source of profit.—Exchange.

We Want You

to subscribe for the Presbyterian Quarterly. It is the one magazine all Presbyterians should read. Its articles are written by eminent Presbyterians—both clergymen and laymen—to Presbyterians. It is edited under the auspices of an association of ministers of the Presbyterian Church.

Every article in it is vitally interesting—it is orthodox—is progressive—stimulates study and investigation.

The Presbyterian Quarterly has always been $3.00 a year and has always been worth it. It is now $1.00 a year but is still worth $3.00. We have lowered its price because we want to put it in every Presbyterian's hands, but there has been no change in either the number of pages or the appearance of the magazine. Send for a sample copy.

Whittet & Shepperson,
Box 286. Richmond, Va.

PRESBYTERIAL NOTICES.

The Presbytery of Orange will meet in High Point, N C., on Tuesday, April 27th, at 7.30 o'clock, p. m. All delegates and visitors will ask for reduced rates of travel.

D. I. CRAIG,
Stated Clerk.

The Presbytery of Eastern Texas meets at Nacogdoches, Tuesday, April 20th, at 11th a. m. Sessional records are required at this meeting. The assessment is fifteen cents per member. Sessional reports are to be sent to the stated clerk ten days before Presbytery meets.

S. F. TENNEY,
Stated Clerk.

The Presbytery of Asheville will meet at Waynesville on the 27th of April at 7.30 p m.

E. A. SAMPLE,
Stated Clerk.

Reduced rates received as far East, via Spartanburg, S. C., as Charlotte and West to Murphy. This is only on Southern Railroad.

Presbytery of Lexington will meet at Mt. Carmel church, Steel's Tavern, Va., May 11th, 1897, at 11 a. m.

WM. C. WHITE,
Stated Clerk.

Concord Presbytery will meet in regular session in Statesville, N. C., April 27th, 1897, at 7.30 p. m.

W. R. MCLELLAND,

Abingdon Presbytery is adjourned to meet in Green Spring church, Washington county, Virginia, on May 4th, at 2.30 p. m.

I. N. NAFF,
Stated Clerk.

We really think our

STAR BINDER

is a most desirable article to have in any household where the PRESBYTERIAN is taken. It holds the successive issues together in most convenient form, costs no labor and requires no special pains in its adjustment. What a fine Synodical Album a year's gathering would thus constitute!

Sent to any address for forty cents.

SEABOARD AIR LINE S.A.L.

VESTIBULED LIMITED TRAINS. DOUBLE DAILY SERVICE

TO ATLANTA, CHARLOTTE, ATHENS, WILMINGTON, NEW ORLEANS, CHATTANOOGA,
AND
NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA, WASHINGTON, NORFOLK, RICHMOND.

Schedule in Effect Feb. 7th, 1897.

WESTWARD.

	No. 41.	No. 403
Lv Wilmington	*3 20pm	.....
Lv Lumberton	5 26pm	.....
Lv Maxton	6 12pm	.....
Lv Laurinburg	6 23pm	.....
Ar Hamlet	6 53pm	.....
Lv Hamlet	7 13pm	*5 am
Lv Rockingham	7 30pm	2 23 am
Lv Wadesboro	8 [illegible]m	.....
Lv Marshville	8 48pm	6 35 am
Ar Monroe	9 12pm	6 43 am
Lv Monroe	9 35pm	7 30 am
Ar Charlotte	10 25pm	8 30 am
Ar Mt. Holly	.....	9 10 am
Ar Lincolnton	.....	10 35 am
Ar Shelby	.....	11 43a m
Ar Ellenboro	.....	12 20p m
Ar Rutherfordton	.....	12 54p m

†8 40am Lv....Hamlet..Ar 6 20p m
10 00am Ar ...Cheraw..Ar †5 00p m

EASTWARD.

	No. 38.	No. 402
Lv Rutherfordton	.....	*4 35p m
Lv Ellenboro	.....	5 15p m
Lv Shelby	.....	6 03p m
Lv Lincolnton	.....	7 00p m
Lv Mt Holly	.....	7 50p m
Lv Charlotte	*5 10am	8 25p m
Ar Monroe	5 58am	9 10p m
Lv Monroe	6 05am	9 40p m
Lv Marshville	6 25am	.....
Lv Wadesboro	7 01am	10 31 pm
Lv Rockingham	7 41am	11 05p m
Ar Hamlet	7 55am	11 25p m
Lv Hamlet	8 45am	.....
Lv Laurinburg	9 11am	.....
Lv Maxton	9 30 m	.....
Lv Lumberton	10 18.m	.....
Ar Wilmington	12 30pm	.....

NORTHWARD.

Lv Hamlet	*8 15am	*11 23pm
Ar Raleigh	11 30am	2 11pm
Ar Portsmouth	5 50pm	7 30a m
Ar Richmond	*6 50pm	* 8 15am
Ar Washington	11 10pm	12 31pm
Ar New York	6 58am	6 28pm

SOUTHWARD.

Lv Monroe	*6 48am	*9 25p m
Ar Abbeville	11 05am	1 40a m
Ar Athens	1 15pm	3 45a m
Ar Atlanta (Central Time)	2 50pm	5 20a m

*Daily. †Daily, except Sunday.

Both trains make immediate connections at Atlanta for Montgomery, Mobile New Orleans, Texas. California, Mexico, Chattanooga, Nashville, Memphis, Macon, Florida.

For Tickets, Sleepers, etc., apply to

B. A. NEWLAND,
Gen. Agt. P. Dept.
6 Kimball House, Atlanta, Ga,

THOS. D. MEARES,
Gen'l. Agent, Wilmington, N. C.

E. ST. JOHN, Vice-President and General Manager.

H. W B. GLOVER, Traffic Manager.
V E. McBEE, Gen'l. Supt.
T J ANDERSON. Gen'l. Pass Agt.

General Offices, Portsmouth, Va.

C. F. &Y. V. Railway Co.

JOHN GILL, Receiver.

CONDENSED SCHEDULE

IN EFFECT April 4th, 1897.

NORTH BOUND.	No. 2. Daily
Leave Wilmington	8.00a.m
Arrive Fayetteville	1 31 "
Leave Fayetteville	1.32 "
Leave Fayetteville Junction	11.27 "
Leave Sanford	1.00p.m.
Leave Climax	2.55 "
Arrive Greensboro	3.25 "
Leave Greensboro	3.35 "
Leave Stokesdale	4.23 "
Leave WalnutCove	4.55 "
Leave Rural Hall	5.26 "
Arrive Mt. Airy	6.50 "

SOUTH BOUND	No. 1. Daily
Leave Mt. Airy	8.40a m
Leave Rural Hall	10.04 "
Leave Walnut Cove	10.32 "
Leave Stokesdale	11.07p m
Arrive Greensboro	11.55 "
Leave Greensboro	12.15 "
Leave Climax	12.43 "
Leave Sanford	2.40 "
Arrive Fayetteville Junction	3.55 "
Arrive Fayetteville	3.58 "
Leave Fayetteville	4.22 "
Arrive Wilmington	7.30 "

NORTH BOUND.	No. 4. Daily
Leave Bennettsville	8.10a.m
ArriveMaxton	9.23 "
LeaveMaxton	9.33 "
Leave Red Springs	10.04 "
Leave Hope Mills	10.52 "
Arrive Fayetteville	11.16 "

SOUTH BOUND	No. 3, Daily
Leave Fayetteville	4.25p m
Leave Hope Mills	4.46 "
Leave Red Springs	5.35 "
ArriveMaxton	6.10 "
Leave Maxton	6.18 "
ArriveBennettsville	7.30 "

NORTH BOUND	No. 16 Mixed. Daily ex Sunday.
Leave Ramseur	6.45a.m
Leave Climax	8.35 "
Arrive Greensboro	9.20 "
Leave Greensboro	9.35 "
Leave Stokesdale	11.07 "
Arrive Madison	11.55 "

SOUTH BOUND.	No. 15 Mixed Daily ex Sunday
Leave Madison	12.30p m
Leave Stokesdale	1.28 "
Arrive Greensboro	2.40 "
Leave Greensboro	3.25 "
Leave Climax	4.20 "
Arrive Ramseur	6 05 "

NORTH BOUND CONNECTIONS,

at Fayetteville with the Atlantic Coast Line for all points North and East at Sanford with the Seaboard Air Line at Greensboro with the Southern Railway Company, at Walnut Cove with the Norfolk & Western R. R., for Winston-Salem.

SOUTH BOUND CONNECTIONS,

at Walnut Cove with the Norfolk & Western R. R., for Roanoke and all points North and West, at Greensboro with the Southern Railway Company for Raleigh, Richmond and all points North and East, at Fayetteville with the Atlantic Coast Line for all points South, at Maxton with the Seaboard Air Line for Charlotte, Atlanta and all points South and Southwest.

W. E. KYLE,
Gen'l Passenger Agent

J. W. FRY,
Gen'l Manager

COAL, WOOD AND SHINGLES.

Best quality and lowest prices. Satisfaction guaranteed. Your patronage solicited.

Respectfully,
P. R. FOWLER,
Successor to Fowler & Morrison.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES,

Will convene at Charlotte, N. C., in the First Presbyterian church, on the third Thursday (20th day) of May, 1897, at 11 o'clock a. m. The opening sermon will be preached by the moderator of the last Assembly.

The undersigned will be present in the Lecture Room of said church on Wednesday, May 19th, at 8 o'clock p. m., and also on the following morning at 9 o'clock, to enroll the names of commissioners.

JOSEPH R. WILSON, Stated Clerk,
ROBERT P. FARRIS, Permanent Clerk.

N. B.—Treasurers of Presbyteries are urgently requested to forward to the treasurer of General Assembly, at Charlotte, all sums due for Presbyterial assessments, as well for previous years as for the year 1897.

JOSEPH R. WILSON,
Treasurer.

SAY SOES.

No art puts more healing and sweetness into the soul and society than the art of silence. Our worst regrets are for what we have said, rather than what we have left unsaid.

If the hair is failing out, or turning gray, requiring a stimulant with nourishing and coloring food, Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer is just the specific.

"When you stepped on that gentleman's foot, Tommie, I hope you apologized?"

"Oh, yes, indeed I did," said Tommie, "and he gave me ten cents for being such a good boy."

"Did he? And what did you do then?"

"Stepped on the other and apologized again, but it didn't work."—Harper's Round Table.

WHO'S SHELLABERGER?

He's the Wire Fence Man, of Atlanta, Ga., and sells the best and cheapest fencing in existence for all purposes. Catalogue free. Write for it.

WILMINGTON MARKET.
FOR
WEEK ENDING, APRIL 20, 1897

SPIRITS TURPENTINE: Steady at 27 cents for machine barrels and 26½ cents for country casks.

ROSIN: Has declined from $1.40 for Strained and $1.45 for Good Strained as in last report to $1.30 and $1.35 respectively.

CRUDE TURPENTINE: Hard $1.30, Yellow Dip $1.80 and Virgin $2.00.

TAR: Steady at 95 cents throughout.

COTTON: Firm at 7 cents for Middling.

TIMBER: Taken readily.

ATLANTIC COAST LINE.

Schedule in Effect April 15th 1897.

DEPARTURES FROM WILMINGTON—NORTHBOUND.

DAILY No. 48—Passenger—Due Magnolia 10 40 a m, Warsaw 10 55 a m, Goldsboro 11 56 a m, Wilson 12 46 pm, Rocky Mount 1 20 p m, Tarboro 2 50 p m, Weldon 3 39 p m, Petersburg 5 32 p m, Richmond 6 40 p m, Norfolk 6 05 p m, Washington 11 10 p m, Baltimore 12 53 a m, Philadelphia 3 45 a m, New York 6 58 a m, †Boston 3 00 pm.

DAILY No. 40—Passenger—Due Magnolia 8 55 p m, Warsaw 9 10 p m, Goldsboro 10 10 p m, Wilson 11 06 p m, †Tarboro 6 45 a m, Rocky Mount 11 55 p m, Weldon 1 44 a m, †Norfolk 10 30 a m, Petersburg 3 22 a m, Richmond 4 20 a m, Washington 7 41 a m, Baltimore 9 05 a m, Philadelphia 11 25 a m New York 2 03 p m, Boston 8 30 p m.

SOUTHBOUND

DAILY No. 55—Passenger—Due Lake 3:25 P M Waccamaw 4 32 p m, Chadbourn 5 04 p m, Marion 6 05 p m, Florence 6 45 p m, Sumter 8 45 p m, Columbia 10 05 p m, Denmark 6 20 a m, Augusta 8 10 a m, Macon 11 00 a m, Atlanta 12 15 p m, Charleston 10 20 p m, Savannah 12 50 am, Jacksonville 7 30 a m, St Augustine 10 30 a m. Tampa 5 45 p m.

ARRIVALS AT WILMINGTON—FROM THE NORTH.

DAILY No. 49—Passenger—Leave Bos 5:45 P M ton †1 03 p m, New York 9 00 p m, Philadelphia 12 05 a m, Baltimore 2 50 a m, Washington 4 30 a m, Richmond 9 05 a m, Petersburg 10 (s m,) Norfolk 8 40 a m, Weldon 11 50 a m, Tarboro 12 12 p m, Rocky Mount 12 45p m, Wilson 2 12 p m, Goldsboro 3 10 p m, Warsaw 4 02 p m, Magnolia 4 16 p m.

DAILY No. 41—Passenger—Leave Bos 9:40 A M ton 12 00 night, New York 9 30 a m, Philadelphia 12 05 p m Baltimore 2 25 p m, Washington 3 46 p m, Richmond 7 50 p m, Petersburg 8 12 p m, †Norfolk 2 20 p m, Weldon 9 43 p m, †Tarboro 6 05 p m, Rocky Mount 5 45 a m, leave Wilson 6 20 a m, Goldsboro 7 03 am, Warsaw 7 54 a m, Magnolia 8 07 a m.

FROM THE SOUTH.

DAILY No. 54— Passenger — Leave 12:15 P M Tampa 9 25 a m, Sanford 2 19 p m, Jacksonville 7 00 p m, Savannah 12 45 night, Charleston 5 30 am Columbia 5 50 a m, Atlanta 7 15 a m, Macon 9 00 a m, Augusta 2 45 p m, Denmark 4 55 pm, Sumter 6 45 a m, Florence 8 55 a m, Marion 9 34 a m, Chadbourn 10 35 a m Lake Waccamaw 11 05 a m.

†Daily except Sunday.

Trains on the Scotland Neck Branch road leave Weldon 4 10 p m, Halifax 4 28 p m, arrive Scotland Neck at 5 20, Greenville 6 57 p m, Kinston 7 55 p m. Returning leaves Kinston 7 20 a m, Greenville 8 22 a m, arriving Halifax at 11 00 a m, Weldon 11 20 a m. daily except Sunday.

Trains on Washington Branch leave Washington 8 00 a m, and 2 p m, arrive Parmele 8 50 a m and 3 40 p m, returning leave Parmele 9 50 a m and 6 30 p m, arrive Washington 11 25 a m, and 7 20 p m. Daily except Sunday.

Train leaves Tarboro, N C, daily, 5 30 p m, arrives Plymouth 7 40 p m. Returning leaves Plymouth daily, 7.30 a. m. arrives Tarboro 9.50 a. m.

Trains on Conway Branch leave Hub 8 30 a. m., Chadbourn 10 40 a. m., arrive Conway 1 00 p. m. leave Conway 2 25 p. m, Chadbourn 5 20 p. m., arrive Hub 6 00 p. m. Daily except Sunday.

Train on Midland N C Branch leaves Goldsboro daily, except Sunday, 7 10 a m, arriving Smithfield 8 30 a m, Returning leaves Smithfield 9 00 a m. arrive at Goldsboro 10 25 a m.

Train on Nashville Branch leaves Rocky Mount at 4 30 p m, arrives Nashville 5 05 p m, Spring Hope 5 30 p m. Returning leaves Spring Hope 8 00 a m, Nashville 8 35 a m, arrives at Rocky Mount 9 05 a m, daily except Sunday.

Train on Clinton Branch leaves Warsaw for Clinton daily, except Sunday, 11 10 a m, and 9.15 p.m. Returning leaves Clinton at 7 00 a m, and 3.00 pm

Wilson and Fayetteville Branch leave Wilson 2 05 p m, 11 16 p m, arrive Selma 2 50 p m, Smithfield 2 58 p m, Dunn 3 35 p m. Fayetteville 4 15 p m, 1 07 a m, Rowland 5 38p m. Returning leave Rowland 10 00 a m, Fayetteville 11 20 a m, 10 20 p m, Dunn 12 07 p m, Smithfield 12 48 p m, Selma 1 00 p m, arrive Wilson 1 42 p m, 12 10 a m.

H. M. EMERSON,
Ass't. Gen'l Passenger Agent.
J. R KENLY, Gen'l Manager.
T. M. EMERSON Traffic Manager.

B. F. HALL, OSCAR PEARSALL

HALL & PEARSALL

Cor. NUTT and MULBERRY STS.

WILMINGTON. - N. C.

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

—AND—

—WHOLESALE DEALERS IN—

HEAVY GROCERIES

WE ALWAYS CARRY A LARGE AND WELL SELECTED STOCK OF

Flour, Sugar, Coffee, Molasses, Salt Fish,

Hay Corn Oats Tobacco Snuff, Cigars, Hoop-Iron, Nails, Glue

Cotton Bagging and Ties.

☞ We solicit the patronage of the public. and guarantee to give satisfaction. Correspondence invited.

☞ Consignments of Naval Stores, Cotton and all Country Produce will receive careful attention.

HALL & PEARSALL
WILMINGTON. N. C

ORGANIZED 1856.

GEORGIA HOME INSURANCE COMPANY.

COLUMBUS, Ga.

J. RHODES BROWN, President.

Wm. C. COART, Secretary.

A HOME COMPANY,

Seeking Home Patronage,

Strong! Prompt! Reliable! Liberal!

Agents at all Cities, Towns and Villages in the Southern States.

W. W. HODGES, Agent,
Wilmington N. C

E.NYE HUTCHISON, Agent,
Charlotte N C

STATESVILLE FEMALE COLLEGE.

STATESVILLE, N. C.

The Spring term opens on the 5th of February and closes the 15th June 1897

Board, including furnished room, heat and lights, with tuition in all English branches and Latin, $27 50 per quarter. Instruction in Music, Art and all branches usually taught in first class female schools, at reasonable rates.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC

In charge of a teacher of first-class qualifications. Price of instruction from $2.50 to $5.00 per month according to grade.

☞ For circular containing full particulars address,

JOHN B. BURWELL,
President,
Statesville, N. C.

Shopping.

Shopping done in Philadelphia by a lady of experience and taste. No extra charge. Best references. Send for circular.

Miss M. ANDERSON,
333 Pine St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Wire Railing and Ornamental Wire Works.

DUFUR & CO.,

311 North Howard St., Baltimore, Md.

Manufacture Wire Railing for Cemeteries, Balconies, &c., Sieves, Fender Cages, Sand and Coal Screens, Woven Wire, &.

Also Iron Bedsteads Chairs, Settees &c.

THINGS USEFUL.

A pleasant mouth wash is one-half teaspoonful listerine in one-half a glass of water.

A little bicarbonate of soda placed upon a tender tooth will often bring comfort, or for persistently tender teeth a mouth wash of milk of magnesia and water in equal quantities.

A Delicious Spiced Cake.—One cup each of buttermilk, molasses and brown sugar, two-thirds of a cup of butter, three eggs, one teaspoonful of soda, one of nutmeg, one of cloves one and a half teaspoonful of cinnamon, three cups of flour; or if not quite flour enough put in more to make the batter tolerably stiff.

Ink Stains.—When the stain is fresh dip in milk, and let it soak for two hours. Then wash in clear, warm water. If the ink has dried, dip it in sour milk, and let it stand for four hours, and wash in clear, warm water. If this fails, soak awhile in cold water, in which a little oxalic acid has been dissolved, using care to only make it strong, enough to remove the ink, for, if too strong, it will tender the cloth and fade the article, if colored.

Chocolate Pudding.—Pour one-half pint of boiling, hot milk over one cup of rolled cracker or fine bread crumbs; add butter the size of an egg. When the milk is absorbed, make a pint of chocolate, with milk, two large spoonfuls of chocolate, half a cup of sugar, a little salt, a teaspoonful of vanilla. Pour this over the crumbs, stir in the beaten whites of four eggs, and bake twenty minutes in a brisk oven.

RED SPRINGS SEMINARY

FOR YOUNG LADIES.

Established by Fayetteville Presbytery.

New Buildings, well equipped and adapted to all departments of College work. Complete and liberal course. Fully abreast of the leading Southern Colleges for Women.

Full and Efficient Faculty.

Charges very moderate ($108.00 per year for full College course and Board)

Session opens September 30, 1896. For further information write to

REV. C. G. VARDELL.

Red Springs, N. C.

Good Goods--Low Prices,

Flour, Meat, Sugar, Salt, Meal, Molasses, Coffee, Peanuts, Cheese, Crackers, Snuff, Tobacco.

Consignments of Cotton, Naval Stores and all Country Produce will receive careful attention.

Hall & Pearsall,

Wholesale Grocers & Com. Merchants
Corner Nutt and Mulberry Sts

Presbyterian High School
—OF—
NORTH CAROLINA.

J. M. OLDHAM, Principal.

Full corps of instructors, all college bred men representing the leading institutions of North Carolina, Virginia and South Carolina. A non-military school, located in the country in middle North Carolina, with excellent climate.

Instruction Thorough,
Discipline Mild Yet Firm,
Physical Development Looked After
Rates Reasonable.
Endorsed by Synod of North Carolina.
For catalogues address,
J. M. OLDHAM, Principal,
Mebane, N.C.

DAVIDSON COLLEGE,

DAVIDSON, N. C

The Sixtieth Year Begins September 10th, 1896.

FACULTY

Rev. J. B. Shearer, D. D., LL.D., President, and Professor of Biblical Instruction and Moral Philosophy.
Henry Louis Smith, Ph. D., Vice-President, and Prof. of Natural Philosophy.
W. D. Vinson, M. A., LL.D., Prof. of Mathematics
C. R. Harding, Ph.D., Professor of Greek and German.
W. R. Grey, Ph.D. Professor of Latin and French.
Thos. P. Harrison, Ph.D., Professor of English.
W. J. Martin, Jr., M. D., Ph.D., Prof. of Chemistry.
F. F. Rowe, A. B., Instructor.

GYMNASIUM DIRECTOR.

VOCAL MUSIC.

CLASSICAL,
MATHEMATICAL.
SCIENTIFIC,
LITERARY,
BIBLICAL.
COMMERCIAL.

SEND FOR A CATALOGUE.

Terms Reasonable.
Location Healthful,
Accommodations Excellent,
Teaching Unsurpassed,
Gymnasium Complete.

Address THE PRESIDENT.

DO NOT FORGET.

THAT OUR BRAND OF FLOUR

THE LADIES' FAVORITE

Is the best Flour on the market. Double Patent, and produces more bread than any other.

Large lot of Groceries of all kinds always on hand

APPLES, ORANGES,
RAISINS,
NUTS, &c.

R. W. HICKS

Wilmington, N. C.

The Man in the Moon would be happier if he could have a supply of

Cool Fragrant and Soothing

Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco

For over twenty-five years the standard smoking tobacco of the world.

To-day More Popular than Ever.

To have a good smoke anytime and everytime it is only necessary to get Bull Durham. It is all good and always good.

BLACKWELL'S DURHAM TOBACCO CO.,
DURHAM, N. C.

H. A. TUCKER. R. D TUCKER.

TUCKER'S

GRANITE AND MARBLE WORKS

DEALERS IN ALL KINDS OF

Granite and Marble Monuments

CONTRACTORS FOR BUILDING STONE

H. A. TUCKER & BRO.,

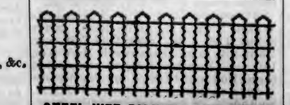
No. 310 Front St.,

Wilmington, N. C.

WORTH & WORTH,

—OFFER FOR SALE—

BEST QUALITY, FULL WEIGHT



FLOUR, BACON, SUGAR, LARD
MOLASSES, MEAL, SALT,
LIME, CEMENT,

Plaster, Hay. Corn. Hoop Iron, Oats Rivets Glue.

BUNGS, CANNED GOODS,

At Low Prices.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

STEEL WEB PICKET LAWN FENCE

On Steel Post and Rail, Handsomest, Strongest, most Durable and Cheapest, for Yard, Cemetery and Grave Lots; Best Poultry and Garden Fence in existence; also a special Horse, Cattle and Hog Fence. We Pay the Freight. Catalogue Free.

K. L. SHELLABERGER, ATLANTA, GA.

M. H. JONES,

DURHAM, N. C.,

Keeps on hand a fine assortment of

STERLING SILVER WARE,

JEWELRY, DIAMONDS,

WATCHES, CLOCKS

and everything found in a first-class jewelry store.

☞Repairing of all kinds, especially such as is usually sent North, done promptly and in best style; reputation established for this class of work.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE.

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS,
DESIGNS,
COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain, free, whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Oldest agency for securing patents in America. We have a Washington office. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN,

beautifully illustrated, largest circulation of any scientific journal, weekly, terms $3.00 a year; $1.50 six months. Specimen copies and HAND BOOK ON PATENTS sent free. Address

MUNN & CO.,
361 Broadway, New York.

1865. W. S. MOORE. 1896.

GREENSBORO, N C.

General Merchandise, &c., &c.

Organs from $24 up to any price.

Pianos from $150 up to any price

Special prices to Ministers, Churches and SundaySchools

North Carolina Presbyterian.

New Series—VOL. XXIX—No. 1,529. WILMINGTON, N C., THURSDAY, APRIL 29, 1897. Old Series. Vol. XXXIX—No. 2,689

Subscription price $2.00 a year.
Ministers $1.00
Missionaries $1.50, including postage.
New Subscribers $1.50 for first year.

THE OFFICE OF THE PRESBYTERIAN IS IN THE ALLEN BUILDING ON PRINCESS STREET—ROOM No. 6, ON SECOND FLOOR.

JUDGE NOT.

Judge not; the workings of his brain
And of his heart thou canst not see;
What looks to thy dim eyes a stain,
In God's pure light may only be
A scar, brought from some well-won field,
Where thou wouldst only faint and yield.

The look, the air, that frets thy sight,
May be a token, that below
The soul has closed in deadly fight
With some infernal fiery foe,
Whose glance would scorch thy smiling grace,
And cast thee shuddering on thy face!

The fall thou darest to despise—
Maybe the angel's slackened hand
Has suffered it, that he may rise
And take a firmer, surer stand;
Or, trusting less to earthly things,
May henceforth learn to use his wings

And judge none lost; but wait and see
With hopeful pity, not disdain;
The depth of the abyss may be
The measure of the height of pain
And love and glory that may raise
This soul to God in after days!

—Adelaide A. Proctor.

JOHN CALVIN MCLAUCHLIN.

The subject of this sketch was born in Cumberland county, N. C., Feb. 19th, 1835. His parents were Duncan and Catherine McLauchlin, both of whom are now dead. His father was a native of Scotland. His mother was of Scotch parentage, and lived to be more than ninety-two years of age. They were the parents of four sons and two daughters, all of whom are now dead, except the two oldest, Neill D. and John Calvin.

Capt. McLauchlin was prepared for college by Mr. Archibald Ray. At the age of sixteen he taught school. Among his pupils were: Revs. Archibald McFadyen, Kenneth McDonald and Angus McDonald. He took the regular A. B. course at the University of North Carolina, graduating in 1857 with Judge A. C. Avery, Col. Thos. S Kenan, Maj. Robt. Bingham, Hon. W. P. McLean (of Texas), Judge Thos. N. Hill and others.

He served in the late civil war as captain of company "K," Pee Dee Wild Cats, 26th N. C. regiment. He was wounded at Malvern Hill during the seven days fight; and again at Gettysburg—this time losing his left thumb and largely the use of his left hand. His regiment entered the battle-field at Gettysburg on the first day with about eight hundred men, and came out of the third day's fight with only about one hundred and ten men. On the field of battle he was calm and collected, knew no such thing as fear in the discharge of his duty, and could be relied on to obey orders at any cost.

He came to Anson county, N. C., in 1858, and taught school for four years. During this time quite a number of young men received the impress of his character, and enjoyed the benefits of a thorough training at his hands. He moved to Wadesboro in 1865, engaged in the mercantile business, and afterwards in the manufacture of carriages, buggies, etc. He was elected Clerk of the Superior Court of Anson county in 1874, and has made such an excellent and faithful officer that the county has persistently refused to make any change, and he still serves in this capacity.

He is a zealous member of the Masonic fraternity, and, for many years has been Master of Kilwinning Lodge, No. 64, one of the oldest lodges in the State. Also, he is an active beneficial member of the order of Knights of Honor, having held all the important positions in his lodge.

Capt. McLauchlin comes nearer the writer's ideal of a well-rounded man, than any one he has ever known. He has been faithful in any and every trust that has been committed to him, and from the sharpening of a pencil to the building of a character, does everything with the same painstaking care and thoroughness. No work ever passes through his hands half done, and this has been one secret of his success in life.

But it is as a Christian, and a ruling elder in the Presbyterian church, that he has done his best work and built the most enduring monument of his life and character. He connected himself with the Long Street Presbyterian church at the early age of seventeen. In 1873 he organized the Wadesboro Presbyterian Sunday-school, and has been its superintendent continuously since that time. From this Sunday-school, as a nucleus, grew the Wadesboro Presbyterian church, of which he is an honored and highly useful ruling elder. He was for some years the only elder of this church, and from its organization has been its clerk of session. He loves his church with an ardent devotion and is every ready to spend and be spent for her welfare. Anything his pastor or church calls on him to do, is always done heartily and well.

On Feb. 18th, 1863, he was united in marriage to Miss Mary Elizabeth Caraway, who for twenty-nine years walked by his side, a fit companion for her husband, intellectually and socially, ever sharing his hopes and jealous of his success. A bright Christian, and an ardent member of the Presbyterian church, she did a work here which still lives, in the zeal and devotion of her children, and in the steady influence for good which her life exerted on all with whom she came in contact. Nine children were the fruit of this union, five of whom still live—one daughter and four sons. All these are members of the Presbyterian church, and their lives bear evidence of the training received in a pious home.

On Dec. 27th, 1894, Capt. McLauchlin was united in marriage to Miss Cora C. Caraway, sister of his deceased wife. To her has fallen, in large measure, the training of her sister's youngest son. Her faithfulness in this respect, as well as her devotion to her husband's interests, well commends her to all who know her.

Capt. McLauchlin is well known in the southern and eastern portions of North Carolina. His reputation for integrity, fairness, good judgment, and unswerving devotion to principle and to duty, is unquestioned. And yet, he seems to be entirely unconscious of his sterling worth, and is clothed in modesty and humility as with a garment. His influence, not only in his church, but in the entire country, cannot be estimated, and only eternity will reveal the far-reaching results of his life and labors.

This humble tribute is paid by one who knows and loves him.

Capt. McLauchlin has been chosen as one of the principal delegates to represent Mecklenburg Presbytery in the General Assembly to meet at Charlotte, N. C., May 20th, 1897.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

1ST PAGE—Judge Not (poetry)—Sketch of John Calvin McLauchlin.

2ND PAGE — Editorial: Conformity to Christ—Editorial Notes.

3RD PAGE— Editorial Notes.

4TH PAGE— Egypt of To-Day—Foreign Mission Committee Notes.

5TH PAGE.—Self or Jesus Christ.

6TH PAGE —Religious Intelligence—Personals — Here and There—Foreign Missions [Fayetteville Presbytery.

7TH PAGE — Meetings of Presbyteries—Greek Proper Names.

8TH PAGE—Gold Dust—A Page From My Note Book—Christianity's Fruits—A Letter from Sendai.

9TH PAGE—The Shorter Catechism Without The Questions—Literary Jottings—Magazines.

10TH PAGE—Sunday School Lesson — Young People's Column—Open Door Notes—Puzzles.

11TH PAGE—Obituaries—Secular News —Presbyterial Notices.

12TH PAGE. — (For the Family)—The Bairnie's Feet (poetry)—Bible Printing.

13TH PAGE—Spring Sounds (poetry)—Dying for Her Brother—A Strong Family—Letter-Box.

14TH PAGE—Washington Letter.

15TH PAGE—Say Soes—Market.

16TH PAGE—Things Useful.

CONFORMITY TO CHRIST.

This is more than copying Christ even in the solemn sense of our last week's study. It is likeness to Christ through participation in His death and by means of His life. It is compliance with the condition of growth and fruitfulness. It is stated for Christ's work and the followers of Christ in John xii. 24, "Verily verily, I say unto you; except a corn (grain) of wheat fall into the ground and die it abideth alone. But if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit."

Certain Greeks had come to worship at the Feast of the Passover in Jerusalem. As they saw the multitudes in the procession when Jesus made His triumphal entry into the city, and heard the shouts of praise to Him, and thought of all His works, they greatly desired to see Him. They came to Philip, who with Andrew brought them to Jesus. He, instead of speaking to them or to the multitude, began to say some things most important in their hearing. The time had come for Him to be glorified, but not, as they thought, by accepting their throne at once and ruling in a temporal kingdom. His glory must be by the way and the means of death. He was to reign over new lives, be King in renewed natures, to be enthroned in cleansed hearts. The authority, the power, to produce these must be procured by His sacrificial death. The necessity of that death as the condition, process and principal of spiritual life and growth is shown in the figure of sowing seed in order to a future harvest.

The thought turns upon the desire of the owner to have a harvest. He has but a few grains, it may be; not enough to provide food for a few days. He wishes to have that seed spring up and grow and multiply. He sows the seed. That is in order to its death. The condition of the harvest is the death of the seed by the demand of the germ of life within, "Except it die, it abideth alone." It probably will become unfit for the mill and the preparation of bread. "If it die it bringeth forth much fruit."

As the grain dies the process of growth goes on. The material undergoes mortification, falling away from the inner life. The grain of wheat now for commercial value or to make bread is useless. So must the old self-life of the Christian be mortified, particle by particle, put to death. Spiritual success begins with the perishing of self.

Then the inner life of the perishing grain begins to appropriate the very material that is being mortified to put it into place of contributing to the growth and strength of that life. That life draws to itself from the soil, the sun, the atmosphere, other material to build into its growth to produce the harvest. So the Christian life takes the material of the old perishing self-life, and drains from other sources all suitable material for growth and service. There is the opposite necessity to reject all materials that would hinder this growth or be foreign to the chief end, the harvest yet to be. Likewise the spiritual life of the Christian must reject the material that can retard its growth or hinder its highest usefulness. There must be assimilation, building up into stalk and blade and ear and full corn in the ear all the materials suitable, helpful and necessary. So the spiritual life must take to itself and bind in vital union of growth all the mercies and ministries of God. All this will minister to and yield a transformation. The mortified elements of the old seed, the materials gathered from without, the forces yielding, will appear in a new product, the transformation of all into a likeness of the grain. So shall Christians with all aids and elements be transformed into His likeness. Here is multiplication. The planting of Christ's death yields the harvest of all those, whose lives are hid with Christ in God. The Christian can be multiplied in a harvest by this process.

Herein is the glory of Christ, in bringing many sons into glory, in reproducing by His death, through the means of His life, Himself and His likeness, in those to whom the power of the endless life comes. Christians in their measure may be glorified as by the death of the self-life, the Christ-life within, works out to be multiplied and fruitful in other lives. The process of growth and usefulness of the Christian is like that of Christ, death by means of life.

TWENTY-FOUR hours is a short time in which to become acquainted with the characteristics of a thriving town and its people, nevertheless, impressions received even in this short space may very truly indicate what one wishes to know. One need not stay longer in Wilson to become impressed with the smiling beauty of the place with its delightful shades, its inviting lawns and its handsome residences, nor indeed stay half so long to be struck with the uniform courtesy of its people and to have evidence of its very charming hospitality. Wilson moreover is prosperous and progressive. Everything one sees indicates thrift with contentment, and while business is transacted without bustle, it is pursued by methods that are gainful. It surprised us to learn that Wilson ranks next to Winston in the value of its sales of leaf tobacco.

Albemarle Presbytery met in Wilson on Tuesday of last week. Every minister answered to roll call at the first session, but the attendance of ruling elders was very small. We met many old friends here and made we trust some new ones. But one minister of those who were members of Albemarle at its organization, but a few short years ago, is now upon the roll—Rev. Dr. F. H. Johnston, the accomplished stated clerk, and banner-bearer of the mission cause on the northeastern confines of Albemarle and of our Synod. Little work, other than of a routine character, was done during our stay. Rev. C. M. Wharton was moderator and Rev. W. T. Walker and Ruling Elder J. R. Young, temporary clerks. Rev. W. W. Quick, a minister of the Reformed Episcopal Church of Canada, was received from that church and cast in his lot with us, and Mr. Thomas H. Watkins, of Henderson, was received as a candidate for the ministry. The Home Mission meeting on Wednesday night was specially interesting. The reports from the evangelists in the territory in the main were encouraging; they certainly were informing and edifying. The special feature of the occasion possibly was the admirable report of his work by Rev. A. J. McKelway, superintendent of Synodical Missions. A glance at the map will show that the work of Albemarle is largely missionary and the modest recital of the labors and privations incident to work within its borders, and the fine results accruing to the cause of Christ might well stir the minds and hearts of all lovers of our Lord.

Prof. Dinwiddie made a ringing address, setting forth the surpassing advantages offered and the fine work doing in Peace Institute.

It was delightful to hear a soul-stirring sermon from Rev. Dr. C. M. Payne, our friend tried and true of long ago and now. The Presbytery kindly heard the editor of the PRESBYTERIAN in the interests of the N. C. PRESBYTERIAN and its work and Dr. Eugene Daniel made a hearty appeal in its behalf.

THE FOLLOWING was received on Friday last from Dr. Howerton, pastor of the First Presbyterian of Charlotte, in which the Assembly is to meet. We bespeak for it prompt attention. To "exceed the limi s of Charlotte's hospitality" would be difficult indeed, but the hospitality of this liberal people, not to be exceeded unless overpowered, ought not to be subjected to any lack of consideration.

"I receive so many letters from ministers and others desiring to come to the Assembly as visitors that I have not time to answer them all, even when they enclose stamps, and I ask the privilege of your columns.

"We expect to entertain visitors to the Assembly as far as possible, but the number is going to be so large that it may exceed even the limits of Charlotte's hospitality. Persons desiring entertainment will please send their names to Mr. H. H. Orr or Mr. G. A. Howell, Charlotte, N. C., and their names will be put on the list and assignments made if we have the homes to spare. Preference will be given to the wives of commissioners and commissioners expecting to bring their wives are especially requested to notify the Committee.

Yours truly,
J. R. HOWERTON."

IT IS WITH pleasure we clip the following from the Baltimore Sun. It refers to the action of Mr. D. B. Martin who has just entered on his work as manager of the passenger traffic of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad:

"He said that as yet he had not determined upon any changes, but he was there to promote the business of the road and every move would be in accord with this object. He suggested to the employes of the department that Sunday work was not expected of them. Speaking of this Mr. Martin said that he was opposed to Sunday work and believed the day should be one of rest. Men could, he added, perform a higher class of work by taking one full day of rest, and on Sunday they belonged to their families.

"While the day has been closely observed in the various departments of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, the mass of work that sometimes accumulates in busy seasons occasionally induced employes who are ambitious to keep up with their duties to employ the day in catching up with their work. Mr. Martin's views as well as those of the other head officials, are that so far as practicable Sunday marks a cessation of labor."

IT IS A FACT that can only be accounted sad that such a comparatively small proportion of people, especially of men, attend regular church services in cities or even in towns of any size. And yet such is the leavening power of Christianity that even those who never darken the doors of a church are unconsciously influenced by the Gospel there heard and thence disseminated. That our laws are directed to the suppression of vice, that we are enabled to dwell in peace and security in our homes, and in short, that public sentiment approves and upholds the good and the pure and the proper is due to that very Gospel teaching—an influence from which so many turn away. Yet how immeasurably would the blessings of righteousness and peace and consequent prosperity be increased if it could be written that ours is a people whose God is the Lord, not simply acknowledged, but reverenced and worshipped and obeyed.

SOME TIME AGO the Roman Catholic bishop of Lincoln, Neb., brought very serious charges against two priests, Fitzgerald and Murphy by name. A properly constituted court of the Church tried the cases and acquitted the priests, and taxed Bishop Bonacum with the costs, some $1,500. The bishop not only failed to pay the costs in the time specified, but attacked the character of the court and the verdict, and appealed the case to Mgr. Martellini, the apostolic delegate, who favors his cause. The appeal lies not only against the costs and damages, but against the entire proceedings of the court. So the priests after due acquittal find themselves again arraigned. All of which has set Catholic circles astir and has set the case well on its way towards Rome.

THE PASTOR of Greenville church without disputing that Laurinburg is the "banner church of Fayetteville Presbytery," very properly desires it should be known that the "little weak, Presbytery of Albemarle" can beat $16.25 which is the amount claimed per member of Laurinburg church for all causes. He says: "Greenville church contributed last year $18.65 per member, and it is one of the youngest as well as one of the weakest churches in the Presbytery."

All right! If any one else wants a showing let us hear from them. It's no small credit to do better than Laurinburg in any direction. We doubt if there's a church in North Carolina can beat her proportionate-in the number of subscribers to the N. C. PRESBYTERIAN, and by the way hasn't that something to do with her interest in the causes of the church?

MORE ABUNDANTLY! Jesus came that we might have life; not only so, but that we might have life more abundantly. Why are we content with less than abundancy of life? Why frustrate the very will and purpose of the Saviour in coming into the world? How very few are living up to the measure of their privilege in this regard. How many are content to live with hardly more than a name to live. Life in Christ! abundant life in Him! More abundant life in Him whom my soul loveth! Give to us O, Lord the grace to desire this, and the gift of its possession now and evermore.

IN ADDITION to $3 previously received and acknowledged we have from two ladies of Salem Academy $1.00 each for the India sufferers, which will be duly forwarded, along with something more than $5.00 from the Y.P.S.C.E. of St. Andrews Presbyterian church.

Since above was up, have received for same cause $4 from the "little Sabbath class" of Miss F. M. McKay, of Cheraw, S. C., also $12.50 from Laurinburg Presbyterian church and $8.10 from the Baptist church of the same place. Will be glad to receive others.

OUR PREMIUM BIBLE.

Measures 5x7 inches when Closed, and Contains 1,600 Pages of Reading Matter—Several hundred pages of Useful Information, besides the Scriptural Text.

At length we find ourselves with pride and pleasure, able to offer a Bible premium to workers for the N. C. PRESBYTERIAN. The size and quality of type of our Bible is represented by the cut here given:

The binding is flexible, the edges are gilt and the references within are full. The Bible contains besides 1050 pages of Scriptural text, the HELPS to Scripture reading and study including Subject Index, Concordance, a most serviceable General Topical Index, a large number of pages treating of the Titles, Authorship, Distinctive Characters, Contents, &c., of the various books of the Bible, A Description of the Inhabitants, Physical Geography, Customs and Political Condition of the Holy Land at the beginning of the Christian era, the Botany of the Bible, Glossary of Antiquities, Customs, 12 maps, etc., being the Oxford Helps, acknowledged to be the very best, besides 124 full page illustrations of the Languages, Writing, &c., of the Old and New Testaments, of the bas reliefs and the like, discoveries in archæological researches, and now in the British museum—and very much else; making altogether the most desirable copy of the Scriptures for Bible students that has come to our knowledge. The book contains over 1,600 pages.

The Bible is an offer in connection with the NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN—the only medium thro which one can become well acquainted with what is going on in the Synod of North Carolina—on the folowing terms:

We will give this Bible as payment for help rendered to any old subscriber who will send us the name of a BONA FIDE new subscriber along with $2.25.

The new subscriber gets the paper very cheap—we offer it to any bona fide new subscriber for $1.50 for the first year—and the worker gets amply compensated in a magnificently cheap Bible for his or her good work.

A new subscriber to get the Bible can subscribe for himself at $1.50 and then send another new subscriber with $2.25.

The Premium offered is the Genuine Edition of the Oxford Teacher's Bible.

We trust our friends will go to work promptly on this plan.

JOHN McLAURIN,
Manager N. C. Presbyterian.

"Our Premium Bible" contains absolutely nothing that tends to discredit the plain Scripture narrative of "Jonah and the whale."

Words, money, all things else, are comparatively easy to give away; but when a man makes a gift of his daily life and practice, it is plain that the truth, whatever it may be, has taken possession of him.

David's thirst for God. PSALMS. He praiseth God for his grace.

10 Trust not in oppression, and become not vain in robbery: [2] if riches increase, set not your heart upon them.
11 God hath spoken [a]once; twice have I heard this; that [a]power belongeth unto God.
12 Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for [b]thou renderest to every man according to his work.

PSALM 63.

1 David's thirst for God. 4 His manner of blessing God.
A Psalm of David, [c]when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

O GOD, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: [d]my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and [e]thirsty land, [f]where no water is;
2 To see [g]thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the sanc-

[1] or, we are tempted [2] or, set not your heart upon which they have [3] worthy [4] Job 31. 28. Ps. 31. 7. [5] 1 Thes. 5. 17. [6] Heb. a search searched. [7] Job 33. 14. or, by [8] strength. [9] Heb. their wealth. [10] Job 34. 11. Prov. 24. 12. Jer. 32. 19. Mat. 16. 27. Rom. 2. 6. [a] Ps. 62. 11. [b] Pr. 24. 12. [c] 1 Sam. 23. 14. [d] Ps. 42. 1. [e] Ps. 143. 6. [f] Isa. 35. 7. [g] Exo. 33. 22.

6 They search out iniquities; [3] they accomplish [3] a diligent search: both the inward thought of every one of them, and the heart, is deep.
7 But God shall shoot at them with an arrow; suddenly [4]shall they be wounded.
8 So they shall make their own tongue to fall upon themselves: [4]all that see them shall flee away.
9 And all men shall fear, and shall [5]declare the work of God; for they shall wisely consider of his doing.
10 The righteous shall be glad in the LORD, and shall trust in him; and all the upright in heart shall glory.

PSALM 65.

1 David praiseth God for his grace. 4 The blessedness of God's chosen by reason of benefits.
To the chief Musician, A Psalm and Song of David.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

EGYPT OF TO-DAY.

ON THE NILE, March 25, '97.

DEAR BRO. MCLAURIN.—As we pass slowly from place to place, visiting the Tombs—Temples of ancient Egypt—we have an excellent opportunity for and an eye to taking notes on Egypt of to-day. Egypt's past is written in cipher and in hieroglyphic which only the initiated can read or decipher. Egypt's present is written upon her face in characters so plain that "he who runs may read." For centuries, yea milleniums, since the dynasties of the Pharoahs indeed, this historic country has been groaning under the burden of the oppressor, until her people have come to look upon oppression as the common lot of man. To-day the deliverer has come and a new era has dawned, with a new order of government. It has been truly said, "that an Eastern nation never reformed itself." Egypt's hope therefore is not in itself, but in the entrance and "occupation" of England. Her presence, personality and policy have restored confidence and inspired hope. And the future of Egypt is guaranteed, if her people and the other powers are only satisfied to allow England to carry out her policy and plan, viz., to make the Egyptians a self-supporting and self-governing nation. Already the British government has introduced several practical and beneficent reforms which must be far-reaching, when perfected, in their results. In connection with the other powers of Europe a feasible provision has been made for the settlement of the debt which was contracted through the extravagance and luxury of Ismail Pasha, the former Khedive, and which threatened to plunge the government into bankruptcy. The revenues of the government will meet the annual interest, and in time pay off the bonds. Equable taxation has been secured and guaranteed to sheik and fellah, native and foreigner alike. Forced labor, by which the poor peasant was often driven from his home and family, to work on the public works, and that at a time when his little crop most needed his attention, has been revoked, Justice in all appeals to the courts, is administered to peasant and prince without partiality. A beginning has been made to introduce better laws and methods of sanitation. Nothing but the outdoor life of the people and the dry climate, stand between the people and a possible, yea probable plague, which by reason of the uncleanly habits of the people, is a constant menace to the country. Those and other reforms when fully consummated must work a complete change in the prospects and prosperity of Egypt.

Several internal improvements have been introduced, which have already added greatly to the revenues of the country, and others are under consideration and advisement, which must increase the income still more. The barrage or dam, at the separation of the Nile, (just below Cairo) into the Rosetta and Damietta branches, by which its fertilizing waters are retained and distributed at will, when and where most needed, throughout the Delta, has already increased the exports of cotton alone, to the amount (in money) of more than $5,000,000. Other crops have been correspondingly increased. When this reservoir for the Nile has been completed, according to feasible plans already prepared, the acreage of this fertile delta, once the granary of the world, will be very greatly increased. While the regularity in the distribution of the irrigating waters will guarantee every year abundant crops, and a dependable revenue. Much of the Delta, formerly under water all the year, has been drained, thus bringing into cultivation and productiveness miles of malaria breeding swamps. Roads have been thrown up and easy communication established between the farms and the export towns. A similar barrage is under contemplation above the first cataract of the Nile—at the island of Philae. And if the government will grant the right of way, to waiting capitalists, as it did in the case of the Suez Canal, it is only a question of time when this dam will be constructed, by which the "desert shall be made to blossom as the rose" along the narrow valley of the upper Nile. The railroad will soon parallel the Nile, and compete for its commerce from Cairo to Assuan, 583 miles. It will then soon be pushed beyond, into the Soudan, which once subdued and governed, so as to secure protection of life and property, will become a contributing tributary to Egypt. Modern labor-saving machines are gradually forcing their way into this conservative country where labor is so cheap (12 cents a day for an ordinary laborer) that the native peasant is jealous of his rights. The steam pump is taking the place of the antiquated "shadruff," for raising the water from the river, for irrigation, in the Delta, and is seen here and there even in Upper Egypt. Other farming implements must follow, increasing the acreage and reducing the cost of production. The systematic recovery and protection by the government of her temples of the past, is each year attracting to Egypt a greater number of tourists and students. These will come to visit and examine the tombs of the dead, but will remain to study the conditions of the living—come to admire the monuments of the past, but linger to grasp the possibilities and prospects of the future. Capital will thus flow into the country in increasing volume, and the possibilities of investments will become realities. To-day along the banks of the Nile there are thirteen or fifteen sugar refineries running night and day during the season. And the towering smokeless chimneys at other points, mark new refineries in course of construction. Foreign capital is doubtless the power that is erecting and driving these factories, which give employment to thousands of hands each year, increase the acreage of sugar cane and add to the revenues of the country. These are some of the marks of material progress and prosperity, seen from the deck of a Nile steamer, and from the back of a patient donkey, as we leisurely pass through this interesting country. And they would seem to be the harbinger of a golden age to Egypt, after ages of oppression. I do not forget Talleyrand's advice: "Distrust first impressions, they are generally good." Possibly later I may revise my prophecy, if time permit. I hope to send you a passing note of the moral and intellectual reforms begun and in progress here. Until then adieu.

Yours,

L. B. TURNBULL.

[The article referred to above is in hand and our readers may anticipate with pleasure its appearance next week.]

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

FOREIGN MISSION COMMITTEE NOTES.

The Executive Committee of Foreign Missions met on Tuesday, April 6th at the Mission Room.

Miss Constance McCorkle, of Columbia, S. C., and Miss Florence E. Murrow, of New York City, were appointed as missionaries to be sent out when the way is clear.

The time was largely consumed in hearing and adopting the annual report to the General Assembly. A summary of the historical report will be given in another communication.

The following is the financial report of the Committee for the year ending March 31st. The treasurer's statement (when completed) may show slight changes in these figures:

The receipts for the year from all sources were $143,700.46. This is $1,606.69 more than the receipts reported for the last year. Legacies this year were less than those received last year by $10,266.15. The increase shown in the regular contributions of the churches was therefore $11,872.84; but it is proper to state that of this amount $5,000 was a single personal donation.

The disbursements for the year were $154,344 51. This includes a small amount mentioned in the treasurer's report under the head of "Money Returned," and more than $12,000 of funds advanced to the Missions for the year beginning April 1st, 1897. At the same date last year $11,715.19 had been forwarded on the present year's account.

The disbursements were $13,112.00 more than those of last year, and $10,635.05 more than the present year's receipts. On April 1st, 1896, there was a balance in the treasury, exclusive of the Congo Boat Fund, of $10,223.57. The balance in the treasury April 1st, 1897, exclusive of Congo Boat Fund, was $524.41. Eight thousand dollars of the Congo Boat Fund was loaned for the whole year on good real estate mortgage, and the loan has been continued. Two thousand three hundred and ninety-three dollars and nine cents of the Congo Boat Fund has been loaned for part of the time, but is now in the treasury. As directed by the Assembly the interest on those loans has been applied to the support of the African work.

ENLARGEMENT.

Thankful as we are for this happy issue to our God, whose good hand has so conspicuously helped us in time of threatened peril, the committee yet desires to express with emphasis its conviction that the point has been reached beyond which we cannot safely go in the enlargement of the work, without some guarantee from the church of enlarged contributions to support it. This is pre-eminently a work of faith; but the faith that sustains it, and in which all its administration should be conducted, should be not that of the Executive Committee alone, but of the whole Church. And in planning for its future the Committee knows no other gauge by which to measure the Church's faith than the gifts which represent the sacrifice the Church is willing to make for it. The following tabular statement shows the growth of the work for the past ten years:

Years.	Missionaries.	Receipts.	Disbursements.	Expense per Missionary.
1887	54	$84,075	$85,705	$1,587
1888	66	90,810	90,810	1,295
1889	69	96,050	96,050	1,391
1890	73	107,925	106,285	1,456
1891	85	112,950	111,795	1,317
1892	102	133,015	121,235	1,188
1893	106	133,900	148,165	1,350
1894	106	143,775	140,500	1,080
1895	130	142,100	141,235	1,000
1896	145	132,330	138,710	990
1897	150	143,710	154,345	1,028

Years.	Churches.	Societies.	Sabbath Schools.	Legacies.	Miscellaneous.	Total.
1887	49	813	98,906	8,673	$14,997	6,907	107,695
1888	53	100	38,455	9,370	5,207	11,900	119,050
1889	58	963	35,624	4,064	5,185	16,869	138,015
1890	64	240	34,736	13,202	1,693	20,760	138,900
1891	64	103	37,598	16,578	1,430	24,066	143,775
1892	64	240	37,785	9,800	5,892	23,450	132,330
1893	68	440	37,598	9,800	6,892	24,718	142,100
1894	68	440	37,598	9,800	6,892	24,718	142,100
1895	68	440	37,598	9,800	6,892	24,718	142,100
1896	68	440	37,598	9,800	6,892	24,718	142,100
1897	68	440	37,598	9,800	6,892	24,718	142,100
1897	65	918	40,943	5,128	6,892	23,550	143,709

It will be seen from this statement that within this period our missionary force has increased from 54 to 150, and our annual receipts from $84,075.00 to $143,709.46. Dividing the annual disbursements by the number of missionaries gives the total cost of the work per missionary. This cost includes home administration, outfit, travel and salaries of missionaries, property purchased, school work, medical work, pay of native assistants and all incidental expenses. The cost per missionary has varied in different years, the maximum being $1,587 and the minimum $990. The average for ten years is about $1,250.00. For the past three years, by various economies, it has been kept about the limit of $1,000. We can make no safe estimate of probable cost at a lower rate than that. As we now have 150 on our roll, $150,000 is the lowest estimate we can make of the probable cost of the work on its present basis for this year.

Any new missionaries sent out will involve an additional cost of about $750.00 for outfit, travel and part year's support for each one sent.

The following table shows the receipts of the treasury since 1890, by departments:

Year.	Churches.	Societies.	Sabbath Schools.	Legacies.	Miscellaneous.	Total.
1890	49	813	98,906	8,673	$14,997	6,907	107,695
1891	53	100	38,455	9,370	5,207	11,900	119,050
1892	64	240	35,624	4,064	5,185	16,869	138,015
1893	63	440	34,736	13,202	1,693	20,760	138,900
1894	64	103	37,598	16,578	1,430	24,066	143,775
1895	58	963	37,785	9,800	6,892	23,450	132,330
1896	64	103	37,598	9,800	6,892	24,718	142,100
1897	65	918	40,943	5,128	6,892	23,550	143,709

It appears from this table that there has been, until last year, a considerable decrease in the Church collection since 1892. There has also been a marked decrease in the regular Sabbath-school contributions. These losses have been offset by a small increase in the receipts from societies, and a marked increase in miscellaneous gifts. The miscellaneous column contains most of the gifts made in response to special appeals to meet emergencies.

The committee has regretted the necessity of making so many of these appeals, and, while profoundly grateful for the way in which the Church has received and responded to them, yet earnestly desires to see the day when the regular contributions of the churches during the months assigned to the cause, together with the continuous help of Missionary Societies and Sabbath school, will be sufficient to meet the ever growing demands of the work. This can only be hoped for as the result of an earnest and united effort of the whole Church during the months of May and October. For it must be remembered that the foreign work embraces all the departments embraced in our home work under the heads of Pastors' Salaries Evangelistic Work, Education, Publication, Church Erection, Invalid Fund, and Bible Instruction, with a large expenditure for traveling and medical work in addition.

Nevertheless, if by any means it were possible to enlist the whole Church in an earnest effort for Foreign Missions during the two months assigned to that cause in our Church Calendar, the present income would be largely increased, and the tantalizing opportunities that continually thrust themselves upon us could be dealt with in a much more satisfactory and encouraging way.

S. H. CHESTER,
Secretary.

SELF OR JESUS CHRIST.

BY REV. THEODORE L. CUYLER.

The continual conflict with every Christian is between self and Jesus Christ. Self is the old owner who does not like to be dislodged, and disputes the right of Jesus to be enthroned in the heart. Self sets up its own will and tries to have its own way. Self has abundant uses for the purse, and "cannot afford" to give money away that might buy a fine equipage and rare pictures, and other creature-comforts that make life agreeable. It keeps a sharp eye on the cheque-book, to see that too much is not bestowed on objects of charity, and it whispers artfully, "remember how our expenses are increasing and charity begins at home." Self watches the weather on Sunday morning—the one day in all the week when health is of paramount importance—and hesitates about the risk of wet feet or sitting in damp clothing. Self comes home late and mutters, "I am too tired for prayer-meeting to-night;" although it is never too tired for a party, a concert or the opera. And so smooth tongued self has an oily plea always ready; and if Christ's sentinel, a living conscience, is not there to challenge and silence the cunning seducer, self carries the day.

But the slighted and defrauded Saviour seemeth to say—what meaneth all this? Did I not die to redeem thee? Did I not purchase thy salvation with My precious blood? "Thou art Mine." All thy possessions are but loans for which thou must give account. Thou art not thine own; thou art Mine! I will put thee where it seemeth best to Me, and where it is most for thy soul's good; it may be on a bed of sickness, or in straitened quarters, or under a cloud of disappointment, or in a house of mourning. Thou art My child and I appoint the lessons; thou art My vine, and I may use the pruning-knife if it will make the clusters more abundant. Be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee the crown of eternal life!

What a different idea of life this gives us! Nothing else will put down and keep down the accursed spirit of selfishness, but the constant sense of Christ's ownership of us. "Oh, honorable Jesus," exclaimed that king of Christians, John Bunyan, "Oh, thou loving Jesus! Thou hast wrested me from my old master the Devil. Thou deservest to have me, for Thou hast bought me with Thy blood; Thou deservest to have all of me. Thou hast paid for me ten thousand times more than I am worth; for Thou wast slain, and hast redeemed me with Thy blood; Thou hast saved me from death and hell."

When Jesus says to you or me "thou art mine," that establishes a clear right to the whole of us. Our tongues must speak for Him, and our hands work for Him. If our brain forges a good thought, His image must be stamped on it. Our influence belongs to Jesus; how dare we surrender it to the demands of Fashion? Christ redeemed us to be a "peculiar people"—peculiar in hating sin, peculiar in standing for the right, peculiar in doing business squarely, peculiar in giving generously of our substance, peculiar in obeying one Master, peculiar in seeking to save souls, and peculiar in having well-springs of joy that never run dry. The more that we live as if Jesus Christ owned us the more people we will draw to Christ. A half-way Christian never makes any converts. Consecration to Jesus is the first step to conversions to Jesus.

There is a very sweet and soul-cheering side to this truth of Christ's ownership of us. If we are Christ's then He is pledged to take care of us. No one shall pluck us out of His hands. He will give us bread to eat that the world knoweth not of, and draughts from a well that never fails. If our income of money is small, then the incoming of our King into our souls makes us rich. A hard bed lies softer, when conscience smiles, and Jesus Christ makes His love to be our pillow. By-and-bye when death comes with spade and pall and the narrow house, then He who hath redeemed us will draw our deathless spirit closely to Himself and say—"Fear not! Thou art mine! Where I am, thou shalt be with me and forevermore!"

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

Celebrated for its great leavening strength and healthfulness. Assured the food against alum and all forms of adulteration common to the cheap brands.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

All admirers of the wheel, whether they are so fortunate to possess a Columbia or not, will enjoy the article in the April McClure's on a visit to the Columbia Bicycle Works; St. Ives, by Robert Louis Stevenson is continued; Alexander Hamilton is treated under The Makers of the Union; Octave Thanet contributes The Spellbinder; Some Unpublished Letters, by General Sherman, and The Retiring of Domsie, by Ian Maclaren, are given besides other articles in this number. The S. S. McClure Co., New York.

Religious Intelligence.

We specially invite News from all quarters for this Department.

RATES TO THE ASSEMBLY.]

We are authorized and requested to state that the Associated Railways of of Virginia and the Carolinas have issued a published rate of one limited first class fare for the round trip to Charlotte, N. C., from points within the territory of the Association; tickets to go on sale May 17th to the 21st inclusive and the final limit June 10th. The railways comprising the above Association are the Atlantic Coast Line and the Southern Railway Company..

Also, we are requested to publish that the Seaboard Air Line has issued the same rate from points on their line.

The Annual Scheme of Collections in the Synod of North Carolina is as follows:

January—General Assembly's Home Missions.

February and August—Presbyterial Home Missions.

March—Publication and Colportage.

April — Education — (one collection Church and Christian Education).

May and October—Foreign Missions. Third Sabbath in October for Bible Cause.

June and September—Synodical Home Missions.

July—Invalid Fund.

Third Sunday in October—BibleCause.

November and April—Education for the Ministry.

December—ColoredEvangelization

THE ASSEMBLY'S FORM OF BEQUEST.

I do hereby give and bequeath to the Trustees of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States (popularly known as the Southern Presbyterian Church) the sum of .....Dollars for the benefit of [here name cause to which the legacy is given.]

NORTH CAROLINA.

Wilmington: Communion services were held at Immanuel church on last Sabbath. Five united upon profession. Messrs. P. Heinsberger and Asa Biggs have been ordained and installed elders.

Tarboro:—The reports to Presbytery from Tarboro indicate a healthy condition and growth. Quite a number of new members have been added and a larger money contribution than ever before in the history of the church. Judge Geo. Howard was ordained elder on Sunday the 10th.

Franklin:—Our Methodist people held Easter service last Sabbath and made a contribution to the India sufferers. They then came over to our church and joined with us in 11 o'clock service. We gave our people and all who had not had an opportunity to contribute and their zeal was manifested in the contribution of something over $12. Our church in Franklin is small, but in a good condition, quite zealous and good feeling among the members. A splendid feeling prevails between the Methodist and our church. J. T. WADE.

Red Springs:—Presbytery has had a pretty full delegation since the opening session, and a harmonious meeting. A good deal of business seems to have been done with dispatch and correctness, having a live level headed man as moderator, in the person of Rev. W. R. Coppedge.

The people of this field regret that Presbytery saw best to grant Rev. S. M. Rankin a certificate of dismission to Kentucky. But are proud to know that his labors and success here are appreciated and honored abroad.

J. McL

Gastonia:—On last Sunday Rev. M. McG. Shields was installed pastor of the Presbyterian church by Rev. R. Z. Johnston and Rev. R. A. Miller, appointed by Mecklenburg Presbytery for that purpose.

GEORGIA.

Savannah:—On last Sabbath evening the Savannah Port Society celebrated its fifty-fourth anniversary in the Independent church. The sermon was delivered by Rev. A. J. Smith, of the First church. Reports were read showing an excellent record of the work and finances.

Rev. G. W. Reid, a prominent young Presbyterian minister, brother of Dr. D. M. Reid, spent several days with relatives in Gastonia. He changes his pastorate from Woodruff, S. C., to Ebenezer, Ga.—Gastonia Gazette.

MISSISSIPPI.

Jackson:—Rev. J. B. Hutton, pastor. Eighteen members recently received upon profession of faith.

TEXAS.

Rosebud:—Messrs. H. C. Dunn and N. C. Erskine have been ordained and installed as ruling elders.

New Boston:—Mr. G. W. Ruff, Mr. J. J. Peters and Dr. S. C. Ball have been installed elders and Mr. T. J. Trimble and Mr. John F. Ball deacons.

TENNESSEE.

Chattanooga:—Rev. B. A. Pendleton has entered upon his labors as pastor of St. Elmo and Lookout Mountain churches.

Zion Church:—Three persons received upon profession of faith. The pastor of this church, Rev. S. P. Hawes, writes to an exchange: "The fact is quite marked how our baptized members take their places at the Lord's Table as they grow up. Consequently there are very few in our congregation who have not entered into the full membership, and we can report to Presbytery that by far the greater number of our members deport themselves as earnest, spiritually-minded men and women. It was a beautiful and impressive sight to see a large congregation so reverent and with so few who could not join with them in the service, partaking of the Lord's Supper."

MISSOURI.

St. Joseph:—Fourteen have united with the First church since last communion. Rev. G. A. Trenholm pastor.

KENTUCKY.

Henderson:—Rev. Thos. Cummins, pastor of the First church, has announced the names of thirteen persons as uniting with this church recently.

GENERAL.

It is reported that there is a movement among the clergy of the Roman communion in Poland for the establishment of a Polish National Church, Catholic, but free from Papal jurisdiction. Before the Vatican Council a number of Polish priests made inquiry of the Russian government as to protection in case they should renounce the supremacy of the Pope Then the government looked unfavorably upon such a separation, but of late it is said that these objections have not only disappeared but the movement has met with considerable encouragement, The Russian Church has already conceded to the Esthonians and some others the use of their native speech in the liturgy, and would scarcely object to it by the Poles. One of the most prominent of the Russian papers says: "A Polish church freed from Rome would be a welcome ally to the Russian Church in her conflict against the Roman pretenses."—Independent.

PERSONALS.

Rev. Dr. M W. Doggett has accepted the call to the church at Burlington, N. C., and will occupy his pulpit by the second Sabbath in May, possibly the first.

The address of Rev. Charles Friend, of the Senior Class of Hampden Sidney, will be Glen Wilton, Va, after May 5th.

Rev. Dr. Jere Witherspoon, of Baltimore, formerly pastor of the First church, Nashville, will deliver the baccalaureate address at the commencement of Ward Seminary.

Rev. G. L. Cook has resigned the pastorate of the church at Bainbridge, Ga.

Rev. Dr. A. P. Saunders will be temporary pastor of the church at Alexandria, Va., until the arrival of Rev. J. Ernest Thacker, pastor elect, in May.

Rev. Edward Mack, of St. Louis has accepted the call to the First church, Norfolk.

April 20th was the thirty-eighth anniversary of the arrival of Rev. Dr. J. Henry Smith in Greensboro, where he has since served the First church as pastor with great fidelity and ability. That Dr. Smith may be given many more years of usefulness to our Synod is the sincere wish of his many friends.

Rev. H. R. Laird, of Beeville, Texas, has resigned his pastorate and will return to his own home, Virginia.

Rev. C. R. Dudley, D. D., has been called to the pastorate of the church at Gouzales, Texas.

Rev. H. B. Rose has resigned the pastorate of Highland church, Austin, Texas.

Rev. Malcolm McNair, of Fort Smith will preach the commencement sermon at Searcy Female Institute.

Rev. Dr. J. W. Primrose, of Greenville, Miss., will preach the commencement sermon the fifth Sunday in May for Central Mississippi Institute and French Camp Academy.

Rev. Charles Ghiselin, D. D., of Shepherdston, W. Va., will preach the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of Hampden Sidney College, Virginia next June.

Rev. J. H. Taylor, of the Senior Class, Louisville Seminary, has received a call to the church at Mt. Sterling, Ky.

Rev. J C. Molloy has resigned the pastorate of the Owensboro church, Kentuck.

Dr. E. R. Long, Professor of English in the Southwestern Presbyterian University has resigned.

HERE AND THERE.

Atlanta has a church for every 1,000 of her population.

New York has 598 places for public worship.

Washington has a larger number of churches in proportion to population than any other large city in the United States.

If every person in Chicago should desire to attend church next Sunday morning there would be fully 1,150,000 who could not get in.

There are 22 Southern Methodists churches in Nashville, four of which have an average membership of 1,000 and five or six of 500. There are besides six chapels in the slums, ministered to by special missionaries.

New Orleans leads in having the greatest number of Southern Presbyterian churches—13 in number.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

FOREIGN MISSIONS FAYETTEVILLE PRESBYTERY.

To all persons, societies and churches recognizing the binding force of our Saviour's command to "go into all the world and make disciples of all nations," greeting.

We have just closed another ecclesiastical year, and the record of our faithfulness or unfaithfulness in carrying out our Lord's parting injunction during the past year is made.

We are sorry to note that the record shows a slight falling off in receipts for this cause in our Presbytery from those of the previous year.

With a united earnest effort on the part of all, a big advance can easily be made the present year. This is demanded by the claim of the exalted Redeemer, by the misery and blindness of the heathen world; by the increased number of laborers to be supported in the foreign field. During the past year the number of our missionaries has increased from 141 to 150.

The month of May is appointed for collections for this cause. Let every minister and every session in our Presbytery see to it that this offering is made in every church.

In the name of the Master,

W. B. ARROWOOD,
Chm. Foreign Mission Committee,
Fayetteville Presbytery.

MEETINGS OF PRESBYTERIES.

Presbytery of Louisiana: Met in Jackson, La., April 15th, at 7.30 p. m., and was opened with a sermon by Rev J F Naylor. Present during session, eleven ministers and thirteen elders. Ruling Elder Thos P Street was chosen moderator, and Elder Prof AC Smith temporary clerk. Dr B C Mills, of Lake Charles, La., was taken under the care of Presbytery as a candidate for the Gospel ministry. Rev. N. Smylie was received from the Presbytery of Brazos (Texas) and was granted leave to supply the Liberty church for six months. Messrs. Lewis, Patterson, Lyman, Allison and Shaw were appointed a committee to represent the Presbytery before the Synod in the matter of the transfer of the Alexandria church.

Rev B L Price, evangelist, reported the organization of a church (March 18th, '97) at Marksville, La., with twenty one members. The church was enrolled.

Atchafayla church was chosen as place for next meeting. Leave was granted Rev F W Lewis to supply Woodville church for six months.

Home Missions: Presbytery declined to endorse the plan for an endowment for the Invalid Fund, but urges the churches to more liberal contributions to the Fund.

Synodical Home Missions: The report shows $230.50 contributed for this cause.

Presbyterial Home Missions: The new organization at Marksville reported a lot secured and several hundred dollars subscribed for a building and $200 promised for the support of a minister. The church at Alexandria reported as completed and occupied. Rev H W Wallace in charge of the Opelousas group reports encouraging progress.

Notice was given of a change of standing rule so as to nominate commissioners to the Assembly at the fall meeting

Ministerial Support: Five thousand three hundred and twenty-two dollars and ninety-eight cents was given during the year for this work. Only two churches report deficits on salary.

Presbytery heartily commends the Bible cause to our churches.

The narrative presents general growth in our churches though no special outpourings of the spirit.

The report on Systematic Beneficence showed $8,712.25 raised during the year past.

Foreign Missions; Nearly all churches report contributions to this cause. More money raised than ever before in this Presbytery. Ladies' missionary societies giving nearly as much as the churches. More than the amount necessary for the support of our missionary in Korea (Miss Mattie Tate.)

Revs Spurlin and Patterson appointed to visit WhiteCastle church one Sabbath at their discretion. Revs. Lewis and Elon Strickett to visit Pinkneyville church. Much routine business was transacted.

On Sabbath "Sesqui-Centennial" services were observed. Revs. Patterson and Spurlin reading papers.

Rev R F Patterson and Elder I T Young, of Plains church, were elected commissioners to the General Assembly, with Rev Jas F Naylor and Elder L B Robinson of Gloster, Miss., as alternates.

The meeting was most delightful. Large congregations attending the services. A Ladies's Missionary Union was organized under Presbyterial control. Seven church societies being present and uniting in the formation of the union. Mrs S E Piper, of Jackson, La., was chosen President, and Miss Mollie Kingston Clinton, Secretary. The union will meet annually. "Standing committees" were reappointed for the ensuing year.

M. B. SHAW,
Stated Clerk.

Presbytery of Mississippi: Met in Hazlehurst April 15th, 1897. Opening sermon was preached by Rev W B Bingham. Text, Rom. 3: 24.

Ruling Elder J H Long, of Wesson, was elected moderator. John I W Ross of Red Lick, temporary clerk. The Rev W L Stewart was received from the Presbytery of Texas, (U. S. A). Rev Z B Graves from the Presbytery of Tombeckbee. Mr. Graves is conducting an excellent school in Wesson in greatly improved health. Rev W B Bingham, of Rodney, and John I W Ross, of Red Lick, were elected commissioners to the General Assembly at Charlotte, N. C. Rev W H Neel, D. D., of Natchez, and F J V Lecand were alternates. Pastoral relations between Rev W A Martin and a group of churches in Covington county were dissolved. Dr. Neel and Mrs C. W. Grafton were requested to assist the stated clerk in getting representatives of the ladies' societies throughout the Presbytery to meet in Natchez on Wednesday afternoon during Presbytery for the purpose of organizing themselves into a Presbyterial Union. Rev C W Grafton, D. D., and Elder A Lotterhos were appointed visitors to attend the Chamberlain-Hunt commencement in June. The prominent feature of the Presbytery was the celebration of the Westminster Assembly, 250th anniversary. The addresses were delivered by Rev C W Grafton, D. D., Rev W H Neel, D. D., and Rev Oscar Newton. Rev H H Brownlee delivered an admirable lecture on "Methods of Bible Study." The next meeting will be held in Natchez in October.

S. C. CALDWELL.
Stated Clerk.

Tombeckbee Presbytery: The opening sermon was preached by Rev. H. R. Raymond, from 1 Pet. 3d and 12th verse. There were thirty present, one-half of whom were ministers. An elder, Judge J A Orr, who sat in the Confederate congress was chosen moderator and Rev A H Barkley and Rev R I Long, clerks. The 250th anniversary of the completion of our standards was duly honored by three addresses from Rev H R Raymond, Rev A H Barkley and Rev B F Peters, which were able, interesting and instructive. They were requested for publication.

A commission was appointed to try Rev J B Lindsey, a colored member. Rev R L Campbell has been installed pastor at Ellerville and Rev RI Long pastor at Okolona. Two more candidates have been received under our care Mr W G Dyers, C M Gilbert, making nine in all. The care of our candidates has been given back to the Assembly's Committee.

The Home Mission work has made good progress and the grouping under the committee's supervision is working well, so that by aiding the various groups all, but one, are supplied and the committee hope soon to have a man in that work.

Rev W D Morton, Synodical evangelist, will soon begin work in our bounds. Rev Z B Graves met with the Presbytery and his name was restored to the roll, and he was dismissed to Mississippi Presbytery.

Rev A B Coit and Col H M Street were chosen delegates to the General Assembly and Rev. T. D. Latimer and Dr. J. F. Murdock, alternates.

Two of our churches are calling for more of their pastors' time—so this is encouraging.

The Presbytery visited the Mississippi Industrial Institute and College, by invitation from the courteous president, Dr. Fraser. This is a State institution for the higher education of young ladies. Rev W S Jacobs, pastor of the Columbus church and his church did all in their power to make the session a pleasant one and all were impressed with Columbus hospitality.

Presbytery adjourned to meet at Ellisville on Thursday before the first full moon in October.

A. B. COIT,
Stated Clerk.

Montgomery Presbytery met at Bedford City April 13th–16th. About fifty members present, more than half of them ruling elders.

Received: Rev. C. R. Stribling from Winchester Presbytery, accepts call of Falling Spring church, Rockbridge county; installation April 25th.

Enrolled: Bon Brook church, Franklin county, Va.

Licensed: Charles Friend, Union Theological Seminary; assigned to Glen Wilton, Galatia and Rich Patch.

Dismissed Candidate: Tappey to Tuscaloosa Presbytery.

Commissioners to General Assembly: Rev. T. M McCorkle, alternate H Din widdie; Rev. J. M. Holladay, alternate G. G. Sydnor; Ruling Elder J. K. Peck, alternate J. P. Hawkins, Ruling Elder J. R. Guy, alternate W. E. Miller.

Westminster Day a great success.

Presbytery of Florida which met in Marianna last week, sends Rev. W. S. Porter of Milton, Fla., as principal commissioner, and Rev. S. C. Caldwell, alternate, and Col. Davidson of Quincy elder, to the General Assembly. Reports from the churches on the whole, encouraging. Celebrated the 250th anniversary of the Westminster Assembly with becoming services. Meets next fall in Iamonia church, Leon county.

L. H. W.

Fort Worth Presbytery: Met at Cisco, Texas, April 13th. Present twelve ministers and twelve ruling elders. Moderator, Rev J N McFarlane. Dismissed Rev S B Hyman to Paris Presbytery, Rev M W Doggett, D. D., to Montgomery Presbytery. Received Rev C M Hutton from Dallas Presbytery.

Commissioners: Rev J M Smith, Itasca, Texas, Elder J L Cunningham, Palo Pinto, Texas, Rev J V McCall, alternate, Mineral Wells, Texas, Elder Peyton Irving, Cleburne, Texas.

Home Missions: Rev J N McFarlane was made chairman of the committee and an effort will be made to raise $1,000 for evangelistic work.

Next meeting Hillsboro, Texas, October 1st, 7.30 p. m., 1897

J. D. LESLIE,
Stated Clerk.

GREEK PROPER NAMES.

Greek proper names have been the source of considerable study to the reading public of the United States since the Greek troubles began and the pronunciation of the names of some of the officials who are prominent in Athens at the present time has been the subject of controversy. A man who is well versed on the subject said that the modern Greek peculiarity was to a great extent the accentuation and gave as an instance the name of Mauromichales, the Greek secretary of the interior. The name is pronounced Mov-ro-michalis, with strong accent on the second syllable. The secretary of foreign affairs, Alexander Skouzes, pronounces his names Sko-u-zes, with strong accent on the u. The name of Philip Varvogles, minister of justice, is pronounced Var-vo-chlees. the ch in the third syllable being hard like the German ch. Nicholas Metaxas, minister of war, has an easy name for foreigners, but the minister of marine, Livides, pronounces his name Levecthes. The president of the chamber of deputies writes his name Zaimes and pronounces it Za-i-mis, with the accent on the second syllable. Canaris, the fleet commander's name, is pronounced Canarees, with accent on the first syllable, The name of Delyannis appears in print every day and most readers have ideas as to its pronunciation. His Greek neighbors call the premir Delee-yanees, with accent on the second syllable.—N. O. Picayune.

A REQUEST.

To Pastors and Treasurers:

Please forward all monies for Education at once, to G. W. Macrae, Treasurer, 883 Front Street, Memphis Tenn.

Any remittance reaching us as late as May 14th will be paid in the appropriations of the current year.

E. M. RICHARDSON,
Secretary.

We Want You

to subscribe for the Presbyterian Quarterly. It is the one magazine all Presbyterians should read. Its articles are written by eminent Presbyterians—both clergymen and laymen—to Presbyterians. It is edited under the auspices of an association of ministers of the Presbyterian Church.

Every article in it is vitally interesting—it is orthodox—is progressive—stimulates study and investigation.

The Presbyterian Quarterly has always been $3.00 a year and has always been worth it. It is now $1.00 a year but is still worth $3.00. We have lowered its price because we want to put it in every Presbyterian's hands, but there has been no change in either the number of pages or the appearance of the magazine. Send for a sample copy.

Whittet & Shepperson,
Box 236. Richmond, Va.

GOLD DUST.

'Tis when the wound is stiffening with the cold,
The warrior first feels pain—'tis when the heat
And fury fever of his soul is passed
The sinner feels remorse.
—Old Play.

***

Sin may be clasped so close, we cannot see its face.—French.

***

The nobleness of life depends on its consistency, clearness of purpose, quiet, and ceaseless energy.—Ruskin.

***

Great is the religion of power, but greater is the religion of love; great is the religion of implacable justice, but greater is the religion of pardoning mercy.—Castelar.

***

There are nettles everywhere,
But smooth, green grasses are more common still:
The blue heaven is larger than the cloud.
Mrs. Browning.

***

"Blessed is the man who has the gift of making friends. It involves many things; but, above all, the power of going out of oneself, and seeing and approaching whatever is noble and living in another man."—Thomas Hughes.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

A PAGE FROM MY NOTE BOOK.

(MRS. CURTIS.)

We were spending the Sabbatb in a village where there are a few Christian families, and our abode was a sheltered part of the veranda of one of their homes. After breakfast Mr. Curtis went to visit a Christian man who had gone astray, and I was left alone. I wished to read some in my Bible, so lay down on my salee in the veranda, in true eastern style, and was soon lost to all in the account of the doings of Philip. I had read for some time I suppose, when I became conscious of the fact that I was being stared at. On looking up quickly I saw a number of children gazing, as though I were the trick bear of a show. I smiled and they ran, several leaving behind in their haste, their one only garment, a kind of a loin cloth. The living present became too much for me, so I picked up my book, as though I were reading, and watched the children. Every little while they would creep up and stare, and then scamper away. One little girl would set up a howl every time I looked straight at her. They soon became satisfied that I was flesh and blood, and went off to play.

To one side of the veranda was a long shelf and thereon were several large jars for cooling the drinking water. On the floor were two others, but the water in these were for washing the feet. So soon as a person entered the house he walked straight to this place, even before saying a word to any one and poured some water over his feet. He was then ready to pay his respects to the household.

All services were held on the veranda, and though I was intensely and prayerfully interested in all, I could not but notice the study of faces that appeared between the cracks in the floor. Men, women and children had crowded under the house to hear the singing, and to get a peep at us. Many had come upon the veranda, but these could not get their courage up to that point, and there they stood peering up with curious eyes and faces, through the cracks. And these cracks! Why they are from one to three inches in width, and are so because it enables one to easily get rid of dirt and trash, and the results of betel chewing.

In the evening we had a song service. After we had sung a long time I suggested that we stop. But no it was "pleasant truly" and no one was tired. When I finally did close the organ, one dear old woman, who is one of God's saints upon earth, said, "I could sing all night, I would never get tired," and the tears of joy were in her eyes.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

CHRISTIANITY'S FRUITS.

It would be very well for those in this country who are denouncing Christianity and cursing Christians to look at the fruits of Christianity, and then compare them with what heathenism furnishes. Here are the observations of a Japanese who spent several years in this country: "Seek through the length and breadth of heathendom and see whether you can find one John Howard to ornament its history of humanity. We have heard of our magnates (Japanese) hoarding millions and spending them upon temples, or feeding the poor for their own future's sake; but a George Peabody or Stephen Girard, who hoarded for the sake of giving and took delight in giving, is not a phenomenon observable among the heathen. And not these select few only, but widely distributed throughout Christendom, though necessarily hidden from view, are to be found what might be specially named good men—souls who love goodness for its own sake are bent toward doing good, as mankind in general is bent toward doing evil. How these souls, keeping themselves from the view of the public, are striving to make this world better by their efforts and prayers; how they often shed tears for the wretchedness of the state of the people, of whom they read only in the newspapers; how they lay upon their hearts the welfare of all mankind; and how willing they are to take part in the work of ameliorating human misery and ignorance—these things I saw with my own eyes and I can testify to the genuine spirit that underlies them all." This extract is a part of what this Japanese wrote to his countrymen. He here refers to some of the fruits of Christianity, and also cites many other things in his communication of like character. And yet there are infidels and wicked men who would entirely banish our Christianity from the land if they could! What a pity it is that they do not migrate to some heathen land and stay there as long as they shall live! They certainly do not deserve to remain in this country another day. May God open their very blind eyes and change their bad hearts.

C. H. WETHERBE.

ARMSTRONG & McKELVY	Pittsburgh.
BEYMER-BAUMAN	Pittsburgh.
DAVIS-CHAMBERS	Pittsburgh.
FAHNESTOCK	Pittsburgh.
ANCHOR	Cincinnati.
BOSTON
ATLANTIC	New York.
BRADLEY
BROOKLYN
JEWETT
ULSTER
UNION
SOUTHERN	Chicago.
CHIPMAN
COLLIER	St. Louis.
MISSOURI
RED SEAL
SOUTHERN
JOHN T. LEWIS & BROS CO	Philadelphia.
HORLEY	Cleveland.
SALEM	Salem, Mass.
CORNELL	Buffalo.
KENTUCKY	Louisville.

IGNORANCE in regard to paint materials or painting would seem in this age to be inexcusable, when full information can be had free. If interested, it will pay to get pamphlet and color cards, also twelve pictures of houses painted in different shades or combinations of colors, free. Send your address.

National Lead Co., 1 Broadway, New York.

A LETTER FROM SENDAI.*

SENDAI, JAPAN, March 6, '97.

It was my intention to write to you sometime before Christmas season is over. Unfortunately I was not physically strong enough to do anything for the past three months, that I unwillingly passed neglecting my correspondences to you.

I am always glad to have your paper you send to me from week to week, and feel grateful for it.

I have so many things to tell you about the city where we live at present. There are about eight different churches which are connected with different societies of denominations, of which the Union church is the largest. A Christian training school, Tohokugakum by name, is under the auspices of one Mr. Oshikawa and some representatives of the Dutch Reformed churches of Philadelphia and its neighboring States. The institution is the real factor of the evangelical works in the northeast of the country. The city of Sendai is the centre of commerce and the seat of learning in the northeast. There are different government institutions, such as, the Second Preparatory School of the Imperial University, Middle schools, and Agricultural College right in the city. Besides these, there are here several public schools with more than three thousand children in all. One thing which attracts a visitor's attention is the Aoba castle which stands overlooking the city proper on the left bank of the river Hirose. The castle itself is now used as the Second Legion of the Imperial Army. On Sundays you will see thousands of soldiers pass along the streets, as they are permitted to go out of the barracks in groups once a week.

It is about seven months since I came over here to live with my husband, who is the headmaster of the English department in a middle school, and I must tell you that he will before long resign his present post and move to Kumamoto in the Island of Kinshu, where he shall probably get a better position. So you see we must leave here pretty soon. I do not know myself whether I shall go to Kumamoto so soon, but shall live there together before the next July anyway.

Mr. Minami says, he shall be glad to send to you hereafter a monthly magazine written in English by natives. Perhaps you will get a copy before long.

Yours with much love,
MIYO MINAMI.

*Our friends will enjoy these extracts from a letter of Mrs. Minami, formerly Miss Okami of Tokio. As we have before stated Mrs. Minami was a pupil of Miss Isabella Leete, of Fayetteville, N. C., now of Tokio, Japan.

THE SHORTER CATECHISM WITHOUT THE QUESTIONS.

Our committee of Publication has done the Church a good service in issuing our Shorter Catechism without the questions, in tract form, under the title "The Will of God to Man, and Man's Duty to God." One good of it will be the continuous reading through of this marvellous doctrinal statement by many who have not so read it since they were constrained thereto by the force of parental authority.

Reading it with the questions is like riding horseback over a road requiring the jumping of one's horse over innumerable chasms. So travelling one is deprived of the pleasure that accompanies "the glory of motion."

Believing that the circulation of the catechism in this form (by which however it ceases to be a catechism) will secure the restudy of it by our adult church members, and that in such a study will be found exactly the tonic needed by many for their spiritual invigoration, the writer is moved to call attention to it in this way. The happy thought which gave rise to the publication was that of a ruling elder of our Church, Mr. George Allen, of Raleigh, N. C.

Our information is that the tract can be obtained for five cents, or less in large quantities, from our Committee of Publication. S. H. C.

LITERARY JOTTINGS.

In Gotz Von Berlichengen Goethe demonstrated that the German language was capable of presenting the richest inward and outward life.

Roslyn on Long Island was named by Wm. Cullen Bryant, from the fact that when the British evacuated the island in 1781, they marched away to the tune of "Roslyn Castle."

The widow of Dr. Andrew Fleming, of Allegheny, has just presented to the Pittsburg Carnegie Library his fine medical library of 1,000 volumes, many of the books being rare and authoritative monographs on various diseases, which cannot be duplicated.

Goldsmith wore a plum-color coat. Milton's garb was of coarse gray. Magliabecchi wore a great brown vest down to his knees, a black mantle and broad-brimmed hat and there was always snuff on his cravat. Pope was distinguished by a velvet cap, wig and sword, while Buffon always wore his hair in curl papers while sitting at his desk.

Some one has referred to Hawthorne, Lowell, Emerson, Poe, Whittier, and Longfellow as the "Big Six" in American literature. Surely Irving and Holmes ought to be added, from the collector's standpoint. These authors, in first editions, are steadily in demand, especially their earliest writings, and it is of interest to note that what might be called the "second crop" are being sought by collectors with eagerness. Bryant, Aldrich, Warner, Howells, Mrs. Stowe, Bret Harte, Stedman, and Stoddard are sought for in the auction rooms and old bookshops by the wary collector. It is easy to buy what everybody seeks at high prices—if your purse is large enough; but it takes a prophet to foreknow those writers of to-day who will be sought for by the collectors of to-morrow.—The Book Buyer.

MAGAZINES.

The opening article of The Ladies' Home Journal for April is a beautifully written description of A Moravian Easter Dawn at Bethlehem, Pa., by Clifford Howard, with pictures by Alice Barber Stephens. The Daughter of Jenny Lind is exceedingly interesting as are The Social Life of the President, When Lafayette Rode Into Philadelphia, Mr. Jerome's, A Portrait of a Lady and Droch's Literary Talks. The Burglar who Moved Paradise is continued. Curtis Publishing Co, Philadelphia.

Those who enjoy the best literature find in The Eclectic a great treat and the number for April is not below the usual high standard. We especially note How to Work, by F. Max Muller, The Two Sides of the South African Question, by Wm. F. Bailey, A Soldier's Chronicle, by Sir Herbert Maxwell, Druidism, by T. H. B. Graham, Wordsworth's Youth, by Leslie Stephen and Anne Murray; A Royalist Lady 1622-99, by Lady Margaret M. Verney. E. R. Pelton, Publisher, New York.

Fifty Years Ago.

Who could imagine that this should be
The place where, in eighteen ninety-three
That white world-wonder of arch and dome
Should shadow the nations, polychrome..
Here at the Fair was the prize conferred
On Ayer's Pills, by the world preferred.
Chicago-like, they a record show,
Since they started—50 years ago.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills

have, from the time of their preparation, been a continuous success with the public. And that means that Ayer's Pills accomplish what is promised for them; they cure where others fail. It was fitting, therefore, that the world-wide popularity of these pills should be recognized by the World's Fair medal of 1893—a fact which emphasizes the record;

50 Years of Cures.

PEACE INSTITUTE

FOR YOUNG LADIES,
RALEIGH, N. C.

This Institute offers thorough collegiate courses in English, History, Literature, Mathematics, Sciences, Ancient and Modern Languages, Music, Art, Elocution and Physical Culture.

As to its high standard for graduation, its thoroughness of instruction, its moderate charges for the advantages offered, and the extent of its courses in Art and Music, this Institute cannot be surpassed.

It offers also thorough preparatory courses. Correspondence solicited.

Board and English Tuition One Year $200.

For illustrated catalogue and full particulars, address the Principal,
JAS. DINWIDDIE, M. A., University of Virginia.

Term begins Sept. 16th, 1896. Closes first of June.

The Normal & Collegiate Institute

For Young Women.

ASHEVILLE, N. C. SPRING TERM OPENING FEB. 1st. 1897

OFFERS TO THE STUDENTS:

1. A Classical Course, including Ancient and Modern Languages, Science, Music, Drawing, etc.
2. A Normal Course for the thorough training of Teachers under instructors from the best Normal Schools.
3. Commercial Course, including Stenography, Type-writing, Book-keeping, etc.
4. Domestic Science, including Scientific Cooking, Draughting, Cutting, Fitting and Making of garments.

Systematic study of the Bible in all departments.

Terms for Board and Tuition in any of the departments, $50 per term, or half school year.

☞ For catalogue, addesss

REV. THOS. LAWRENCE, D D
ASHEVILLE, N. C.

Cluster Springs High School

(On Lynchburg and Durham R. R., six miles from N. C. line)

BLACK WALNUT, VIRGINIA.

For boys and young men. A well equipped high school at a most pleasant, accessible, and healthful location. Lithia, sulphur, iron, and pure waters. Good buildings and improved school equipments. Swimming Pool, Gymnasium, and Athletic Field. Special attention to manners and development of character. Thorough instruction. Three teachers. Prepares for college or for business Our certificates admit to college. Tuition and home $—— Our catalogue tell. all about it. Address,

REV. T. S. WILSON, President,
or E. L. BARNES. A. B., Principal

A. D. BROWN,

Successor to Brown & Roddick,

29 NORTH FRONT STREET, WILMINGTON, N. C.

IMPORTER OF FINE

DRY GOODS AND CARPETS,

ORIENTAL AND DOMESTIC RUGS,

"WARNER'S CORSETS," "HER MAJESTY'S CORSETS,"

"THOMPSON'S GLOVE FITTING CORSETS," "R & G" AND "FERRIS" CORSETS.

"FOSTER" KID GLOVES, "KAYSER" SILK GLOVES.

"HUDNUT'S" EXQUISITE TOILET REQUISITES.

Mail Orders Given Special Attention.

Sabbath School Dep't.

CONDUCTED BY REV. A. D. McCLURE.

Second Quarter—Lesson VI.

May 9, 1897.—Acts xiii: 26-39.

Commit to memory verses 38-39.

Subject.—Paul Preaching to the Jews.

Golden Text. "Through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins." Acts xiii. 38.

CATECHISM.

Question 89. What is the duty which God requireth of man?

Answer. The duty which God requireth of man, is obedience to his revealed will.

Time. Summer of A. D. 46 or 47.

Place. Antioch in Pisidia, Asia Minor.

INTRODUCTORY.

We are now to enter upon the missionary labors of Paul in the regions unevangelized. These were full of dangers and privations to meet great needs. We study in this lesson how Paul preached to his own people the Jews to whom he first preaches. Barnabas also preached, but only the address of Paul is recorded, showing the reasonable basis of his appeal and the arguments which should convince his hearers. It is thought that the apostles started from Antioch in March, when navigation opened, and would reach Perga in July. They would hasten to the Highlands because of Paul's sickness or to follow the crowds which had gone from the city for the heated term. The passages from which Paul quoted were in the Scripture reading of the synagogue lessons for the 49th Sabbath occuring late in July. To this journey doubtless belong the many perils referred to by Paul in 2 Corinthians xi. 23-27. The roads were bad and infested by banditti. The journey would require eight or ten days.

Antioch in Pisidia was the chief city in Southern Galatia. Here was a Jewish synagogue. The whole peninsula was given to idolatry. The prevalent religion was from the East. The only national faith was that of the Jews. So the first work of the missionaries was to go into the synagogues on the Sabbath where they were asked by the leaders to speak.

LESSON NOTES.

Vs. 26. Men and brethren, brother men, showed his affectionate interests. The stock of Abraham, true Israelites, as Paul was. And whosoever (any not Jews) feareth God as converts to the faith of Judaism. To you, R. V. to us. Jews and proselytes everywhere as a nation, and to this age. This salvation was the redemption so long prepering and desired.

Vs. 27. Knew him not. The leaders in the capital city did not wish to understand Him because of their desire for a great conqueror. The voice of the prophets they had heard only in those parts that pointed in their view to an outward and worldly salvation.

Vs. 28. Desired....that he should be slain though he was innocent as the prophet, slain by their fathers.

Vs. 29. All that was written of him, could be fulfilled as the Messiah only by dying and making atonement. He could be King only of disciples won to Him as Saviour and loyal to Him as Lord

Vs. 30. God raised him from the dead. Thus God answered the rulers, and the proof is proposed in the next verse.

Vs. 31. Was seen many days, on ten or eleven different occasions. He was seen, talked with and touched and many witnesses were then living to testify of the fact. Paul had seen Him by special revelation and could testify that He was alive and in heavenly glory.

Vs. 32. The promise....unto the fathers, their joy and hope long looked for as a nation and for which they were preserved as a nation, as now for His return to reign.

Vs. 33. Raised up Jesus again, not from the dead merely, which is the teaching of vs. 34, but from His humiliation into the full work of the Messiah. Thou art My Son, refers to Psalm ii. 7, showing that God is the real Father of Jesus and gave public recognition of Him as His Son. He was the Son of God from eternity, yet by His resurrection openly declared to be such.

Vs 34. The sure mercies of David, R. V. "the holy and sure blessings." The promises made were sacred and sure. One was to David that God would raise up his successor to sit on his throne and to establish his kingdom forever. There is promised an eternal reign of righteousness set forth in Psalms xxii., lxxii., cxxxii.

Vs. 35. In another psalm. Which Peter quoted more fully on the day of Pentecost applying it in the same way.

Vs. 36 David .. fell on sleep. Thus failing to be immortal and the fulfillment of the prophecy in himself for he saw corruption. He lived through and served his generation as others were men.

Vs. 37. Whom God raised again, both from the dead and to His own right hand in the heavens where He has all power now, and whence He shall come to sit on His own throne.

Vs. 38. Preached, heralded, proclaimed The forgiveness of sins, their removal, their remission. The Word may here be for justification whereby is pardon for sins and acceptance with God This beginning is the pledge of adoption and sanctification in the perfect work of Christ.

Vs. 39. Are justified, is here spoken, not as of forgiveness in the former verse, but to put the justifying redemption and righteousness of Jesus Christ against the failure of the law to accomplish this, and as the "end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth." Moreover the life of Christ provides for a new life of the believer and that the law could not give. Then the progress and growth of the believer though being crucified with Christ, planted in the likeness of His death is secured by the life of Christ as it could not be provided for in the law. The believer is given acceptance through the righteousness of Christ and is made right.

PRACTICAL POINTS.

The meaning of the Gospel and its object is to redeem men from sin.

1. We should use all courtesy and kindness and faithfulness to attract men to the Gospel.

2. The careful study of God's dealings in the past with His people will greatly aid us.

3 The resurrection of Christ is the unanswerable evidence of the genuineness of the Gospel and the rightfulness of its claim to acceptance.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

Lesson for week ending Sunday, May 9th, 1897.

BY REV. B. E. WALLACE.

WHY I LOVE JESUS.

1 John 4: 19; Jno. 3: 14-17.

Text for the week:

"We love Him because He first loved us." 1 Jno. 4: 19.

Daily Readings:

Monday, Because He is compassionate. Mark 8: 1-10.

Tuesday, Because He is self-sacrificing. Luke 9: 57-62.

Wednesday, Because He is loving. Jno. 11: 30-36.

Thursday, Because He is just. Jno. 5: 24-30.

Friday, Because He is brave. Matt. 21: 1-13.

Saturday, Because He is holy. 1 Pet. 2: 18-29.

Sunday, Topic. Jno. 3; 14-17.

Points for Leaders:

1 Let this meeting be a praise service.

2. Showing why we love Jesus and how in.

a Song. b. Prayer. c. Testimony. Let each one tell why he loves Jesus.

2 Let the leader make an appeal for the Endeavorers to manifest their love to Jesus in practical ways, to wit:

a. Feeding the hungry. b. Visiting the sick. c. Clothing the naked, etc.

Notes:

This is a loving subject—Why do I love Jesus?

1. Because He firs. loved me. Can I help loving one who loved me first, who brought to my heart the first emotions of love, who wooed me when a stranger with such overtures that my heart could not resist? No.

2. Because He gave me grace to take Him as my Saviour.

"Amazing grace how sweet the sound!
That saved a wretch like me."

3. Because He gives give me grace to overcome the weakness of the flesh.

4. Because he sends me the Comforter to guide me into all truth.

It will take an eternity for a redeemed Saul to tell all the reasons why it loves Jesus of Nazareth, the Saviour of sinful men.

OPEN DOOR NOTES.

Immanuel Junior Endeavorers are raising money for the starving ones of India by selling bread tickets:

Good for one loaf for starving India
"I was hungry and ye fed me."

The C. E. Convention which met at in Charlotte on last week was well attended. The keynote of the annual address by President Thacker was for closer union among the bands of all our churches Addresses were also made by Rev. Mead Kelsy upon "Spiritual Altitudes," and Rev. T. M. Johnson upon "Service for Love's Sake."

The Junior Society of the Second Presbyterian church gave a rally in the Y. M. C. A. rooms. The cycle parade and reception given by the Presbyterian College added to the pleasure of the occasions. The State C. E. colors—yellow, green and white—were everywhere in evidence.

The International Y. M. C. A., Convention held at Mobile last week was a gathering of great interest. There were present secretaries and members from every section of the country, about six hundred being in attendance. One day was devoted to the field work of which there are four stations—Asheville, N. C., Kansas City, Chicago and New York. One of the important features was an address upon Bible Study by Dr. Schofield, of Northfield, Mass. Among other interesting addresses was that upon "The Students of the World United" by Mr John R. Mott, of New York, who has recently returned from a trip around the world. The Educational movement was discussed and reports, etc., given, showing much encouragement in this line of Christian work. A gavel made from the tree growing on the site of Washington's birth place was presented to the convention by Prof. Ross of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Alabama.

PUZZLE DEPARTMENT.

ANSWERS FOR APRIL 15TH.

Iron horns, 2 Chron. 18: 10; 1 Kings 22: 11; Micah 4: 13—Nellie Battle, Maggie Hall, Cornie and Myrtle Wilkinson.

Girl, Joel 3: 3; girls, Zec. 8; 5—Lizzie Marshburn, Maggie Hall, Cornie and Myrtle Wilkinson.

Timothy's grandmother was Lois. 2 Tim. 1-5—Lizzie Marshburn, Nellie Battle, Maggie Hall, Cornie and Myrtle Wilkinson, Alex. Milton McDonald.

Hezekiah—Nellie Battle, Maggie Hall, Cornie and Myrtle Wilkinson.

Whose rod budded and yielded almonds? Maggie Hall.

Where are night hawk, owl and cuckoo found in the Bible? Lula Mann.

If Solomon didn't use any tools of iron how were his roof, partitions, &c., put together?

Cornie Wilkinson.

A son of Azel.
A hill where Jotham built a high gate.
The place where Peter healed Eneas.
The king of Bashan.
A daughter of Amram.
A mount near Jerusalem.
A town of Judea.

The first letter of each of these names united will give the name of the richest king. Bessie Cromartie.

NOTICE TO THE ALUMNI
—OF—
COLUMBIA THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

Our Alumni, one and all, are cordially invited to be present at the meeting of the Alumni Association to be held immediately after the close of Rev. A. B. Curry's address May 12th 8 p. m. It will be a pleasure to us to welcome them to our homes and to renew old associations and revive precious memories. Those expecting to come will please notify the undersigned as soon as practicable.

W. M. McPHEETERS,
Ch'm. Com. Arrangements.

DIED.

☞ We publish free 10 lines of Obituary Notices, of any kind—Tributes of Respect, Resolutions of Sabbath-schools, Ladies' Societies, &c. And we charge for over 10 lines at the rate of 10 cents per line. The cost may be calculated by counting the words in the manuscript, and allowing seven words to the line.

FURGUSON. At his home near Greenwood, N. C., on April 17th, 1897, Mr. Murdock Ferguson in his seventy-second year.

For more than thirty years he was a wise, honored and efficient ruling elder in the Presbyterian church, universally respected, and always commanding the confidence, love and esteem of the people whom he served so well. He was a brother of Rev. A. N. Ferguson and brother-in law of Rev. K. M. McIntyre. Mr. Ferguson was pure in life, lovable in disposition and beautiful in character. He loved his family, his church and above all the loving God in whose service he ripened for the brighter world. "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord."

COX. Near Winston, N. C., at the home of his brother, April 14th, 1897, Joseph Martin Cox, in the 82d year of his age.

Mr. Cox was born at Germanton, N.C., Feb. 2d, 1816 His life was mostly spent at Madison and Reidsville. He has lived in Reidsville for more than thirty years. He was a good man—honored, trusted and beloved. He was a faithful member, deacon and treasurer of the Reidsville Presbyterian church. He died as he had lived, trusting in Jesus. His end was peace. PASTOR.

SECULAR NEWS.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The wheat crop in Watauga and Yadkin counties is promising.

Two acres of strawberries were burned last week in Sampson county.

Judge McIver has decided that the assets of the Wadesboro bank must be applied to the payments of its debts, as distinguished from debts of the Bank of New Hanover at Wilmington.

Hon. Walter Clark will deliver the annual address before the graduating class of the College of Medicine connected with the University of Virginia.

The condition of Dr. John Manning the venerable professor of law in the University is much improved. The stroke was only that of facial paralysis.

Mrs. Stonewall Jackson and her two grandchildren have gone to Dallas, Texas, to be present at the unveiling of the statues to Lee and Jackson.

Late reports from the frost is that the damage is not as great as was thought at first. Fruit is pretty generally safe. Cotton and other tender plants in Columbus were killed.

Mr. Henry Plowman of Yadkin county has discovered gold on his land and leased the same to a Pennsylvania firm. The gold fever has broken out in this section and many are digging valuable farming land in search for the metal.

DOMESTIC.

Insects are doing great damage to strawberries in Florida.

The Kansas river is causing great anxiety and distress in Kansas.

Thirty six houses of the Carnegie Mill property near Pittsburg, Pa., were destroyed by fire last week.

A small tornado in Wamego county, Kansas, demolished the home of Henry Miller, killing his son.

Numbers of Greeks from all parts of the country are leaving to join the forces of the homeland.

The government has been applied to for aid in behalf of the sufferers caused by the flood of Red River in north Dakota.

The historic Sewell house at Burlington, Mass., which sheltered John Hancock and Sami. Adams after the battle of Lexington, April 1775, has been burned.

Mr Wu Ting Fang, the new Chinese minister to the United States, Spain, and Peru, has arrived with a large retinue of secretaries and servants.

The S. A. L. Company has issued an order that bicycles will now be carried as baggage. One bicycle only being allowed to each ticket.

Samuel Colgate, multi-millionaire, and head of one of the largest soap and perfumery houses in the country, died of heart trouble, at his home in Orange, N. J., on the 23d inst.

The corner-stone of the Trans-Mississippi Exposition Arch of the State was laid at Omaha, Neb., on the 22d with Masonic and other honors.

A passenger train was wrecked last week near Wilcox, Ala. The cause was the removing of rails on a trestle. Several were killed and wounded. The work is supposed to have been done for malice as no robbery occurred.

The flood on the Mississippi is decreasing in the upper portion of the territory, but Louisiana is now suffering greatly. The crevasses are widening and land never known to be submerged before is covered.

Proposals of about 40,000 pounds of smokeless powder were advertised for by the war department. Three firms bid all at $1 a pound. Probably the order, will be divided among the three. Enormous quantity of powder will soon be needed to supply the batteries placed along our coast.

Last week snow fell sufficient to cover the ground at Ocean City, Md. The thermometer was below the freezing point at Berlin, Worcester county, and on Tuesday morning there was ice as thick as window glass. It is feared that the strawberry and peach crops have been dealt a severe blow in all parts of Worcester county.

The agricultural department is being importuned from all parts of the country for beet sugar seed. In the view of the unsatisfactory prices received for staple crops during the past few years and the prospective increased duty on sugar, farmers in all sections of the union evidently intend to experiment with beet sugar culture.

A Nebraska sugar refining company donated five tons of beet seeds to the department, and the department purchased two tons additional. The supply is about exhausted, but the demand continues.

Prof. Lawrence Brumer, of the University of Michigan, for some time special agent of the Agricultural Department and a well-known ornithologist and entomologist has sailed for the Argentine Republic to investigate the best means for extermination of the grass hoppers, which have proven a great pest to the farmers there. He goes in the interest of a large syndicate. Nine years ago the grasshoppers invaded the Argentine Republic from Bolivia and have since been increasing in numbers with alarming rapidity.

The Mausoleum of Gen. Grant was dedicated with highest honors on Tuesday last. The pageant was the grandest ever witnessed in this country. After the formal dedication the president and party reviewed the military and navy parades.

FOREIGN.

The latest reports are that the Greeks have been routed with great disaster.

Ambassador Hay has been cordially received by the British government.

Dr. Peters, the German African commissioner, has been sentenced to dismissal from the imperial service for ill-treating natives in Africa.

Ten Spanish soldiers were blown to pieces in Cuba by dynamite bombs placed in the roads by insurgents.

The Shah of Persia, Muzafu El-Din, who succeeded his father, May 1st, '96, is alarmingly ill.

One consignment of Cuban tobacco has been released by Gen. Weyler for shipment to a New York firm. This tobacco has been held since May last.

Osman Pasha has been placed in command of the Turkish forces. The Greeks are buoyant over the success at Nezeros and Rapsani.

An attempt was made to stab King Humbert while riding through the streets of Rome. The king was uninjured and the would-be murderer arrested. He is said to be insane.

A number of Parisian women have offered their service to the Greek legation to act as nurses. The officials have announced that their services would be gladly accepted, but that no funds are at ailable to pay for their journey to Greece

The French ambassador, M. Cambon has notified the Porte that the French government intends to take under its protection the Greek Catholics in the Turkish Empire. As yet it has not been decided which power will protect the orthodox subjects.

PRESBYTERIAL NOTICES.

Presbytery of Lexington will meet at Mt. Carmel church, Steel's Tavern, Va., May 11th, 1897, at 11 a. m

WM. C. WHITE,
Stated Clerk.

Abingdon Presbytery is adjourned to meet in Green Spring church, Washington county, Virginia, on May 4th, at 2.30 p. m.

I. N. NAFF,
Stated Clerk.

You think it is because your child is "growing too fast" that he fails to put on flesh. More often it is due to a gradual and general weakening of all the forces of the body. The child may have no pain, may have a fair appetite and yet lose flesh. Perhaps the happiest effects of Scott's Emulsion are in such cases as these. It gives the body a fat which is easily taken up; alters unhealthy action and supplies the best blood-making food known to medical science.

$200.00 IN GOLD GIVEN.

Special Interest to Students and Teachers.

International News and Book Company, Baltimore, Md., make a most liberal offer of $200.00 in gold, for selling 300 copies of "Gems of Religious Thought," by Talmage or "Talks to Children about Jesus." These books are among the most popular ever published. One agent sold 21 in two days, another 55 the first week. Freight paid, credit given. A few general Agents wanted on salary. A splendid opportunity for Teachers and Students to make money during their summer vacation. Write them immediately.

MONEY TO LOAN.

on Eight Years Time, secured by Mortgage on Real Estate. Monthly payment, savings investment stock for sale, also FULL PAID COUPON STOCK, with semi annual cash dividends. Loans made promptly in any part of the State. Agents wanted. Address,

Mechanics and Investors Union

22 Pullen Building, Raleigh, N. C.

A Beautiful, Fitting, and Enduring Memento

For Personal Possession and Study

Is Found in the

New Holy Land Art Portfolios

ENTITLED

Palestine Photographed.

Every Student of the Bible,

Every Student of History,

Every Lover of Art

Should Have It.

This desirable book comprises 64 beautiful engravings from views taken in 1894. Each scene is accurately and eloquently described by two distinguished divines, Bishop Vincent and Dr. Lee. The work should find a place in every Christian home.

Any paid up subscriber to the PRESBYTERIAN can obtain this book upon remitting 25 cents.

FOR THE FAMILY.

THE BAIRNIE'S FEET.

In a street of Glasgow city,
Full of children at their play,
Stooped a woman, and then something
In her apron hid away.

From the poor, plain gown, her station
At a glance could be descried;
But her face, despite its sweetness,
Told of honest Scottish pride.

Then a guardian of the public,
Sure some precious thing she'd found,
Bade her halt, and show the treasure
She had picked up from the ground.

When her apron wide she opened.
He beheld a shining mass;
But no gold or gems there glittered—
It was only broken glass

To the question stern, "What value
In sic-like things do ye see,
To thus tak' them?" came the answer,
Full of sweet simplicity,

"When I saw the bonnie bairnies,
Rinnin' barefit i the street,
The stray bits o' glass I lifted,
Lest they hurt the puir wee feet."

Oh for more such Christlike spirit,
More such hearts with love replete,
Then all stumbling-blocks might vanish
That would hurt the bairnies' feet."
—Exchange.

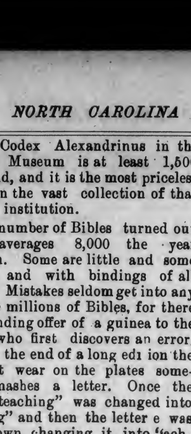
BIBLE PRINTING.

In the late historic university town of Oxford, England, there is a printing house which turned out an edition of 3,970,439 copies of a book during 1896, and not a word was said of it. For more than 300 years the presses of this institution have been printing this same book, and the demand has steadily increased from the first year of its existence to the present time. How many copies have been turned out in the past three centuries would be a vexing problem for the brain of a mathematician to compute. It would run into scores of millions, figures too magnificent for human realization.

This concern is the University Press, whose sole business for centuries has been the printing of Bibles. The place was established some fifty years after the German Guttenberg invented movable type, and the first book turned out bears the date 1468, but this was a mistake by ten years; it should have been 1478. For nearly 100 years the Oxford Press printed books of all kinds, and then, towards the end of the sixteenth century, it began the printing of Bibles. From that time to the present the presses have been turning out Bibles and Testaments and nothing else.

* * * * * * *



It may be of interest to know the sources of the Bible as it appears to day. In the first place the making of the Bible did not begin in its modern aspect until the middle of the fourth century after Christ. The Bible is based upon four great manuscripts. One of them, the Codex Alexandrinus, now in the British Museum; the Codex Vaticanus, now in the Vatican, and the Codex Sinaiticus and the Codex Ephraemi. Each of these is of immense antiquity.

The Codex Alexandrinus in the British Museum is at least 1,500 years old, and it is the most priceless object in the vast collection of that famous institution.

The number of Bibles turned out daily averages 8,000 the year through. Some are little and some are big, and with bindings of all kinds. Mistakes seldom get into any of these millions of Bibles, for there is a standing offer of a guinea to the person who first discovers an error. Toward the end of a long edition the constant wear on the plates sometimes mashes a letter. Once the word "teaching" was changed into "eaching" and then the letter e was worn down, changing it into "aching." Fifty thousand Bibles were sent out with this imperfection, but they were all recalled and the error rectified by the laborious use of a hand stamp.

It took more than thirty years to perfect the kind of paper which is now used for printing Bibles. This paper is wonderfully thin, but is absolutely opaque. It is called India paper, and was discovered by an Oxford student while traveling in the far east. The native method of preparing it was too laborious for modern use, and it was not until 1874 that a process was discovered by which it could be made rapidly and economically. This process is a carefully guarded secret, known only to two or three men, the workmen engaged upon it being intrusted with only a fraction of the secret. —Picayune.

POISONING THE FOUNTAIN.

If the fountain of life is poisoned at its very source, there can be no health in any part of the body. When a woman has any disease or weakness of the delicate special organism of her sex, the fountain-head of her physical existence is poisoned and she cannot be healthy in any respect until this one fundamental trouble is cured.

The family physician may make the very common error of ascribing all the trouble to superficial causes; he may prescribe for neuralgia, indigestion, insomnia, or headache, when these are merely symptoms of some deep-rooted malady of the distinctly feminine organs.

Any woman suffering from these delicate complaints may be completely cured right in the privacy of her own home (without recourse to mortifying examinations and "local treatment") by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It gives health to the special organism of womanhood. It purifies all diseased conditions; gives elastic strength to the ligaments, and vitality to the nerve-centres. It promotes good digestion, sound sleep, and freedom from pain.

It is the only medicine devised for this one purpose by an educated, skilled specialist in this particular field of practice. It is the only medicine which insures prospective mothers against the dangers and sufferings of motherhood.

Dr. Pierce's thousand-page illustrated book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" contains several chapters devoted to the special physiology of woman, with advice and suggestions for self-treatment which every woman ought to read. A paper-bound copy sent absolutely free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay for mailing only; or, cloth-bound, 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"Blight"

costs cotton planters more than five million dollars annually. This is an enormous waste, and can be prevented. Practical experiments at Alabama Experiment Station show conclusively that the use of will prevent that dreaded plant disease.

"Kainit"

All about Potash—the results of its use by actual experiment on the best farms in the United States—is told in a little book which we publish and will gladly mail free to any farmer in America who will write for it.

GERMAN KALI WORKS,
93 Nassau St., New York.

NEW BOOKS
FOR THE
Sunday-School Library.

We desire to call attention to the following list of new library books recently issued from our press. They are all handsomely bound in cloth, and should have a place in every Sunday-school library. To those taking the entire list at one time we will make a special discount of 40 per cent. Discount of 33⅓ per cent on any of our own books.

By Mrs. M. E. Ireland:

The Siberian Exile. 122 pages,	$ 60
The Shepherd's Family. Translated from the German. 112 pages,	60
Adolph's Victories. 314 pages,	1 00
Christian Beck's Grandson. 226 pages,	1 00
In Fair Silesia. Translated from the German. 156 pages,	60
School on Luneburg Heath. Translated from the German. 148 pages,	60
Driven Out. Translated from the German. 156 pages,	1 00

By Miss Annie M. Barnes:

Ninito: A Story of the Bible in Mexico. 214 pages,	90
How A-chon-lo-ah Found the Light. 266 pages,	1 25
Izilda: A Story of Brazil 195 pages,	1 00

By Elizabeth Olmis (author of Jack's Hymn):

Over at Little Acorns. 384 pages,	1 25

By Fannie Atricks Shugert:

Ezekiel of Bethlehem. 261 pages,	1 00

By Rev. H. C. DuBose, D. D.:

Memoirs of John Leighton Wilson, Missionary to Africa, and Secretary of Foreign Missions. 336 pages,	1 50

By Mrs. E. H. Amis:

Camping on the Blue Ridge. 106 pages,	60

By Rev. J. M. Chaney, D. D.:

William the Baptist. Cloth, 60 cts.; paper,	25
Agnes, Daughter of William the Baptist,	75

By Mrs. Mary M. Anderson Hawkins:

Jack Payton and his Friends,	75

On miscellaneous Sabbath-school books selected from the lists of other publishers we will give a discount of 30 per cent. And we call attention to our Select Catalogue of miscellaneous books, in which will be found titles and description of more than nine hundred books, all of which have been carefully examined by competent persons, and none will be found in the list not suitable in every respect for our Sabbath-school libraries.

We will make careful selection of libraries if desired from our stock, or will send to any order one-fourth more books than may be needed, with the privilege of returning any that are not wanted.

Also, Sabbath-school Supplies, Class-Books, Records, etc., on the best terms.

If sent by mail, postage will be additional. Express to be paid by purchaser. Address

Presbyterian Committee of Publication,
JAS. K. HAZEN, Sec'y and Treas.,
Richmond, Va.

$4 PER DAY SURE SALARY OR COMMISSION.
DO you want honorable, steady employment the year round, at good wages, in your own home or to travel? If so, send 4c in stamps for our wholesale price-list and particulars. We furnish best of bank references.
AMERICAN TEA CO.,
Detroit, Michigan.

PREMIUMS.

No. 1. For 21 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Hunting case, jointed front and back 18 size and guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $20.00.

No. 2. For 16 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Open face, 18 size, 14 karat filled case, screw back and bezel, guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $15.00.

No. 3. For 17 new subscribers at 1.50 for first year, we will give a Ladies' Gold Watch Hunting case, 6 size, stem winder, 14 karat, filled case, screw bezel—guaranteed 20 years—retails at $16.00

No. 4. For 12 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give a Gents' Silver Watch: 18 size, plain case, open face—retails at $12.50.

No. 5. For 10 new subscribers a Ladies' Silver Watch, O size, plain case, open face—retails for $10.00.

No. 6. For 8 new subscribers, we will give a Nickel Watch, 18 size, screw bezel—retails for $7.00.

No. 7. For 7 new subscribers, we will give solid silver teaspoons—retails for $6.00.

No. 8. For 4 new subscribers, a sugar spoon, sterling gilt engraved—retails at $3.00.

The articles will all be first-class from a jeweller of established reputation.

New subscribers means not change of address to some one else—that would be fraud—but bona fide new subscribers.

For $1.75 we will send the paper for the first year to a new subscriber and a copy of Palestine Photographed. This album contains 64 actual photographic reproductions of picturesque and historical places in the Holy Land on enameled pages, and is a thing of beauty. The descriptive foot notes are good and enhance the interest.

We regard this as a specially desirable premium.

To any one paying up or renewing their subscription and sending $2.25 we will send this album as apremium

W., N. & N. RAILWAY.

In Effect Sunday, Oct, 27, 1895.

DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY.

NORTH BOUND.	STATIONS.	SOUTH BOUND.
8		7
P. M.	— WILMINGTON —	P. M.
2 00	Lv Mulberry St. Ar	12 40
3 58	Lv Jacksonville Lv	10 42
4 30	Lv..Maysville..Lv	10 09
4 44	Lv Pollocksville Lv	9 55
5 20	Ar..Newbern..Lv	9 20
P. M.		A. M.

Trains 8 and 7 p m make connection with trains on A & N C R R for Morehead City and Beaufort.

Connection with Steamer Neuse at Newbern to and from Elizabeth City and Norfolk Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Steamer Geo D Purdy makes daily trips between Jacksonville and New River points.

H. A. WHITING,
General Manager.
J. W. MARTENIS,
TrafficManager.

CHILDREN'S COLUMN.

SPRING SOUNDS.

Such a flurry, such a scurry,
Such a hurry in the trees;
Such a whirring and a stirring
Birds as brisk as busy bees;
Nests are building, 'tis important,
If you please.

Such a tripping, such a skipping,
Such a slipping o'er the stones;
Such a flashing and a dashing,
Such a melody of tones;
Brooks are hasting to the ocean,
Where it moans.

So much learning, so much earning,
So much tracing, mete and bound;
So much telling, counting, spelling,
Till the dizzy head turns round;
Patience, child, it is important;
So is knowledge found.
—Harper's Young People.

DYING FOR HER BROTHER.

A tender story is told of a French girl only twelve years old, who succeeded in saving her little brother from wolves.

It was during a severe winter, in a remote village of France and wolves were constantly seen prowling about. One day a wolf with five little ones burst into the cottage, attracted by the smell of the bread which the girl had been baking.

By means of a heavy stick, the brave girl had almost succeeded in driving the mother wolf off, when, seeing one of the cubs about to attack her brother, she seized the boy, thrust him into a cupboard, and buttoned the door. That gave the wolf time to fly at her, and in a moment she was the prey of the savage beasts.

Her brother remained quite safe, and was released from the cupboard by some neighbors.

He lived to be an old man, cherishing the memory of the sister who had died to save him.—Sunday School Visitor.

A STRONG FAMILY.

"You just ought to feel my muscle, papa," said Johnny: "ain't it big and hard?"

The blue blouse and the flannel shirt were pushed up into wrinkles at the shoulder, and a very soft and pink arm presented itself proudly for inspection.

"Pretty good for seven years," said papa, smiling. "I hope some day to see you as strong as a family I know, who carry the world on their shoulders."

"What's their name?" asked Johnny, forgetting his muscle at this first hint of a story.

"Their name is Never," answered his father, with a queer little wrinkle at each eye-corner, as if a smile was curled up there.

"Never! What a funny name!" exclaimed Johnny. "What are their other names?"

"O there are a lot of them. There's Mr. Never-drink; he has such clear eyes, and such a steady step, you'd know him anywhere; a strong fellow is Mr. Never-drink, always ready to lift his end of the log. Another is Mr. Never-swear; you'll know him by the company he keeps, and I suppose he grows strong by not wasting his breath. Then there's Mr. Never-lie, everybody trusts him; and Mr. Never-be-unkind, everybody loves him; and Mr. Never-forget, who loses nothing; and Mr. Never-be-idle, who does the world's work; and Mr. Never-be-discouraged—"

Papa stopped and laughed aloud, for Johnny was in the midst of a big yawn. "You don't seem to care much about my strong people, Jack," he said.

"I like stories about sho' nuff people," owned Johnny.

"All right. Once there was a little boy who wanted to be very strong; O, as strong as Samson. So he went to the strongest man on N. street, and asked him how he got so strong and hardy 'By never touching strong drink,' said the strong man on N. street. He asked another steady fellow. 'Never swear,' said the man; 'it takes you into low company where God and men are dishonored.' Another said, 'Never lie.' A single lie takes away a man's courage—"

"Who was that little boy, papa?" interrupted Johnny.

"He was that little boy that I want my little boy to be," answered his father. "I want him to make friends with the Nevers, because they are the friends of God, and their family motto is, 'Thus saith the Lord—Thou shalt not!'"—E. P. A., in Presbyterian.

LETTER-BOX.

[We have received the name of Grace Bethea of Claussen, S. C., as having recited perfectly the Shorter Catechism.]

Dear Presbyterian: This is the first letter I have written for a paper. I am in New York and I know the little children will be interested in what I have seen. In one of the large stores I have seen a beautiful fountain with a Statue of Liberty in the centre. At another store I heard an organ and band in one, playing without any one touching the keys and the music was so sweet. In the Eden Musee, at the entrance I saw two little newspaper carriers pointing their fingers at each other in close conversation, made of wax. A policeman standing close by, looked just like a real policeman. There was Columbus standing before Ferdinand and Isabella, with the Indians that came with him from America, made of wax, but looked like real people. Central Park is a lovely place with nice walks through it. There were different kinds of birds, parrots in all changeable colors, with top-knots on their heads, pure white parrots and red and white ones, besides the green and red ones. And funny little face monkeys. One little monkey had a face just like a Chinaman, with his hair cut like a Chinaman on top of his head. There were swings and different kinds of amusements for little children in the park. We ride on the Elevated road as high as the tops of the houses. There are many tall buildings in this place and I hope some of the little children will come here and see them. There are many other things I would like to write about, but fear the waste basket.

Your little friend,
DURALDE BORDEN.
New York,

Dear Mr. Editor: As my brother is writing a letter to your paper I believe I will write one too. I always enjoy reading the little letters in your good paper, and they are always the first thing we look for. Our Sunday-school will organize the fourth Sunday in this month. I will soon be through with the Shorter Catechism. Our pastor is Rev. Mr. Seabrook, he preachers for us twice every month and we all like him very much. My mamma has been sick for a long time and we all miss her very much. We hope that she will soon be well as she is improving very fast, she had a long spell of fever. I have a nice time riding horseback. I have a nice sorrel pony and a new yellow saddle and bridle to match my pony. He ran away with me last week, but he didn't get me off. I rode him to see my grandma, who lives ten miles from home. I will close hoping to be able to write again. I remain,

Your little friend,
WILLIE D. MCLEAN.
McLeansville, N. C.

Dear Mr. Editor: I am a little girl seven years old. I study Second Reader, spelling book and arithmetic. I have three brothers and one sister. I have a big doll her name is Lizzie. I have a little cousin about my age, she and I have a fine time playing together. Brother and I have two little kittens. I will close for fear of the waste basket.

Your little friend,
ELVA HALL.
Belmont, N. C.

I got sister to write for me.

Dear Mr. Editor: I am a little boy eight years old. I have two pets, a dog and a goat. My dog is black, and my goat is black too. I go to school at Red Springs Seminary. I study arithematic, geography, Harrington Speller and Third Reader. I expect to have a good time when my little cousins come to Red Springs. I will close now.

Your little friend,
ARTHUR MACRAE.
Red Springs, N. C.

Dear Presbyterian:—I enjoy reading the children's letters very much. I am a little girl ten years old. I have two sisters and two brothers. I go to Sunday-school every Sunday. I like to read the Bible and I thought I would answer three of the questions that came in the paper dated March 25th, 1897. I will ask two questions. As this is my first letter I will close.

Your unknown friend,
ANNA MYRTLE WEEDEN.
Blowing Rock, N. C.

Dear Presbyterian:—As you were so kind to print my last letter, I will try to write again. I go to Sunday-school every Sunday and our class is going to try and form a banner class and I think we can do it. Our superintendent is Mr. Oliver Covington and he is a very good one indeed. We have some new singing books at our church. Gospel hymns consolidated. Our pastor came out last Friday night and organized a society called Westminster League. About all of our family joined and a good number of other people. We hope to do lots of good work. Hoping to see this in print I will leave you with best wishes to the PRESBYTERIAN.

I am yours fondly,
NORA J. COLE.
Roberdell, N. C.

Mr. Editor:—I am a little Scotch Presbyterian girl seven years old. My papa is an elder in the church here. My aunt takes your paper, and I love to read the little letters in it. I have a good teacher. I study arithmetic, Second Reader and geography. My brothers got a bicyle yesterday. Please print this letter. I want to surprise mother.

Your little friend,
MARGARET MCEACHERN.
Marlow, Ga.

Dear Mr. McLaurin:—I see so many nice little letters in your good paper I thought I would write one too. Mama reads them to us, and she will write this for me as I cannot write very well yet. I am not going to school now. My school is out. We have two little lambs. They are twins. A black one and a white one. The white one is mine and he is named "Henry," and the black one is Johnnie's (my little brother) name "Urbie" for my teacher. Our Sunday-school will reopen next Sunday. Miss Mamie McDaniel is my teacher. I like her very much. Well I will close as this is my first.

Your little friend,
PORTER PAISLEY.
McLeansville, N. C.

Dear Mr. Editor:—Ever since you began to have a Letter Box in your paper I have been thinking I would write one to put in it, so I shall this evening. We have ten little lambs which are very pretty. I like to read your paper very much. I study the Shorter Catechism. Rev. W. T. Walker is our pastor. We all love him. We have a missionary society. I hope to get many pennies in my missionary box. I go to school to sister Alice, and like her very much. I hope to see my letter in your paper.

Your friend,
WILLIE R. DANIEL.
Satterwhite, N. C.

CONSUMPTION

TO THE EDITOR: I have an absolute Cure for CONSUMPTION and all Bronchial, Throat and Lung Troubles, and all conditions of Wasting Away. By its timely use thousands of apparently hopeless cases have been permanently cured.

So proof-positive am I of its power to cure, I will send FREE to anyone afflicted, THREE BOTTLES of my Newly Discovered Remedies, upon receipt of Express and Postoffice address.

Always sincerely yours,
T. A. SLOCUM, M.C., 183 Pearl St., New York.
When writing the Doctor, please mention this paper.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., April 21st, 189.

The Baptists of Washington are exerting themselves to entertain the delegates to the twenty-sixth annual meeting of the Woman's Baptist Missionary Society, now in session here, and the two hundred-odd delegates are combining business with pleasure. This society has been more fortunate in its finances than some of its co-workers in the mission field have been during the business depression of the past five years. Its receipts for the twenty-first year of its existence amounted to $93,500 and for the last year to $93 600, a decidedly creditable showing. The society has steadily increased its work during the past year in China, India, Japan and Africa by the establishment of new stations and by extending the usefulness of those previously established. The meetings of the society are being held in the Sunday-school house of Calvary church.

Rev. Dr. Easton, pastor of the Eastern Presbyterian church, preached a special sermon Sunday evening on the arbitration treaty, which the Senate has agreed to vote upon on the afternoon of May 5th, taking as his text, "Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called the children of God." He summed up an answer to the arguments against arbitration by saying. "We grant there are some questions which no nation can submit to an arbitral court. No kingdom or republic will submit a question that involves its independence or the substantial integrity of its territory. There are also questions involving honor which cannot be submitted, but the greater, yes, overwhelming majority of questions if diplomacy fails to settle, can be properly left to arbitration." If the arbitration treaty is ratified it will be by a very small margin. The opinion of probably a majority of those who occupy positions enabling them to adquire knowledge of senatorial sentiment is that the the treaty will fail to secure the two-thirds vote needed to ratify it.

The last lecture in the free course under the auspicies of the American Society of Religious Education was delivered this week at the First Congregational church by Rev. Dr. A. G. Rogers, on "The Story of the English Bible." The lecture, which traced the development of the Bible through the various translations to the authorized version of James I, was illustrated by a number of handsome stereopticon views. Dr. Rogers closed by expressing the opinion that the Revised Version of the Bible made in 1870 was the best of all Bibles, because it was compiled from manuscripts seven centuries older than those used in King James' version.

An interesting feature of the Easter services at the Metropolitan M. E. Church was the baptism of three young Chinese men, who are members of the Chinese Sunday school of the church. The Sunday-school has made quite a record in converting Chinese, and several of its converts are now in China engaged in missionary work. President McKinley was an interested spectator of the unusual and interesting ceremony.

Every year there is a steady increase in the number of special Easter services held in those churches which once paid no special attention to Easter. This was especially noticeable in the Methodist churches, the pastors of a number of them preaching special Easter semons. At the First Congregational church, which has a fine choir of about sixty voices, the Easter music was probably second to that in no Washington church and Dr. Newman, the pastor, preached an Easter sermon on "The Parting Blessing." T.

Organized 1832. Assets, $650,000

Tested for Sixty Years.

Virginia Fire and Marine

Insurance Company, of Richmond.

This old Virginia institution issues a short and comprehensive Policy, free of petty restriction and liberal in its terms and conditions.

INSURES AGAINST FIRE and LIGHTNING

All descriptions of Property, in Country and Town—private or public—insured at fair rates, on accommodating terms.

AGENCIES IN EVERY TOWN AND COUNTY.

WM. H. PALMER, President.
W. H. McCARTHY, Secretary.
S. McG. FISHER, Ass't Sec'y.

We really think our

STAR BINDER

is a most desirable article to have in any household where the PRESBYTERIAN is taken. It holds the successive issues together in most convenient form, costs no labor and requires no special pains in its adjustment. What a fine Synodical Album a year's gathering would thus constitute!

Sent to any address for forty cents.

SEABOARD AIR LINE S.A.L. VESTIBULED LIMITED TRAINS DOUBLE DAILY SERVICE

TO ATLANTA, CHARLOTTE,
ATHENS, WILMINGTON,
NEW ORLEANS,
CHATTANOOGA,
AND
NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA,
WASHINGTON, NORFOLK,
RICHMOND.

Schedule in Effect Feb. 7th, 1897.

WESTWARD.

	No. 41.	No. 403
Lv Wilmington.	*3 20pm	.....
Lv Lumberton..	5 26pm	.....
Lv Maxton	6 12pm	.....
Lv Laurinburg..	6 23pm	.....
Ar Hamlet.... ..	6 53pm	.....
Lv Hamlet.....	7 13pm	*5 . am
Lv Rockingham.	7 30pm	2 23 am
Lv Wadesboro...	8 1 pm	.....
Lv Marshville...	8 48 m	6 25 am
Ar Monroe	9 12pm	6 43 am
Lv Monroe.....	9 35pm	7 30 am
Ar Charlotte....	10 25pm	8 30 am
Ar Mt Holly....	.....	9 10 am
Ar Lincolnton..	.....	10 35 am
Ar Shelby.....	.....	11 48a m
Ar Ellenboro...	.....	12 20p m
ArRutherfordton	.....	12 54p m
†8 40am Lv....	Hamlet..Ar	6 20p m
10 00am Ar ...	Cheraw..Ar	† 5 00p m

EASTWARD.

	No. 38.	No. 402
LvRutherfordton	.....	*4 35p m
Lv Ellenboro....	.....	5 15p m
Lv Shelby.....	.....	6 03p m
Lv Lincolnton..	.....	7 00p m
Lv Mt Holly....	.....	7 50p m
Lv Charlotte ...	*5 10am	8 25p m
Ar Monroe.....	5 58am	9 10p m
Lv Monroe	6 05am	9 40p m
Lv Marshville...	6 25am	.....
Lv Wadesboro..	7 01am	10 31 pm
Lv Rockingham.	7 41am	11 05p m
Ar Hamlet.....	7 55am	11 23p m
Lv Hamlet.....	8 45am	.....
Lv Laurinburg..	9 11am	.....
Lv Maxton	9 30am	.....
Lv Lumberton...	10 18am	.....
Ar Wilming on..	12 30pm	.....

NORTHWARD.

Lv Hamlet.....	*8 15am	*11 28pm
Ar Raleigh.....	11 30am	2 11pm
Ar Portsmouth..	5 50pm	7 30am
—
Ar Richmond...	*6 50pm	* 8 15am
Ar Washington..	11 10pm	12 31pm
Ar New York...	6 58am	6 28pm

SOUTHWARD.

Lv Monroe.....	*6 48am	*9 25p m
Ar Abbeville....	11 05am	1 40a m
Ar Athens.....	1 15pm	3 45a m
Ar Atlanta (Central Time)....	2 50pm	5 20a m

*Daily. †Daily, except Sunday.

Both trains make immediate connections at Atlanta for Montgomery, Mobile, New Orleans, Texas, California, Mexico, Chattanooga, Nashville, Memphis, Macon, Florida.

For Tickets, Sleepers, etc., apply to

B. A. NEWLAND,
Gen. Agt. P. Dept.
6 Kimball House, Atlanta, Ga.

THOS. D. MEARES,
Gen'l. Agent, Wilmington, N. C.

E. ST. JOHN, Vice-President and General Manager.

H. W. B. GLOVER, Traffic Manager.
V. E. McBEE, Gen'l. Supt.
T. J. ANDERSON, Gen'l. Pass Agt.
General Offices, Portsmouth, Va.

C. F. &Y. V. Railway Co.

JOHN GILL, Receiver.

CONDENSED SCHEDULE.

IN EFFECT April 4th, 1897.

NORTH BOUND.	No. 2. Daily
Leave Wilmington.....	8.00a.m
Arrive Fayetteville.....	1..21 "
Leave Fayetteville.....	11.21 "
Leave Fayetteville Junction...	11.27 "
Leave Sanford.....	1.00p.m.
Leave Climax.....	3.55 "
Arrive Greensboro.....	3.25 "
Leave Greensboro.....	3.35 "
Leave Stokesdale.....	4.23 "
Leave WalnutCove	4.55 "
Leave Rural Hall.....	5.26 "
Arrive Mt. Airy	6.50 "

SOUTH BOUND.	No. 1. Daily
Leave Mt. Airy.....	8.40a m
Leave Rural Hall.....	10.04 "
Leave Walnut Cove.....	10.32 "
Leave Stokesdale.....	11·07p.m
Arrive Greensboro.....	11.55 "
Leave Greensboro	12.15 "
Leave Climax.....	12.43 "
Leave Sanford	2.40 "
Arrive Fayetteville Junction..	3.55 "
Arrive Fayetteville.....	3.58 "
Leave Fayetteville.....	4.22 "
Arrive Wilmington..... ...	7.30 "

NORTH BOUND.	No. 4. Daily
Leave Bennettsville.....	8.10a. m
ArriveMaxton.....	9.23 "
LeaveMaxton.....	9.33 "
Leave Red Springs.....	10.04 "
Leave Hope Mills.....	10.52 "
Arrive Fayetteville	11.16 "

SOUTH BOUND	No. 3. Daily
Leave Fayetteville.....	4.25p m
Leave Hope Mills.....	4.46 "
Leave Red Springs	5.35 "
ArriveMaxton.....	6 10 "
Leave Maxton.....	6.18 "
ArriveBennettsville.....	7.30 "

NORTH BOUND.	No. 16 Mixed. Daily ex Sunday.
Leave Ramseur.....	6.45a m
Leave Climax.....	8.35 "
Arrive Greensboro.....	9.20 "
Leave Greensboro.....	9.35 "
Leave Stokesdale.....	11.07 "
Arrive Madison.....	11.55 "

SOUTH BOUND.	No. 15. Mixed. Daily ex Sunday.
Leave Madison.....	12.30p.m
Leave Stokesdale.....	1.28 "
Arrive Greensboro.....	2.40 "
Leave Greensboro.....	3.25 "
Leave Climax.....	4.20 "
Arrive Ramseur.....	6 05 "

NORTH BOUND CONNECTIONS,

at Fayetteville with the Atlantic Coast Line for all points North and East at Sanford with the Seaboard Air Line, at Greensboro with the Southern Railway Company, at Walnut Cove with the Norfolk & Western R. R., for Winston-Salem.

SOUTH BOUND CONNECTIONS,

at Walnut Cove with the Norfolk & Western R. R., for Roanoke and all points North and West, at Greensboro with the Southern Railway Company for Raleigh, Richmond and all points North and East, at Fayetteville with the Atlantic Coast Line for all points South, at Maxton with the Seaboard Air Line for Charlotte, Atlanta and all points South and Southwest.

W. E. KYLE,
Gen'l Passenger Agent.

J.W. FRY,
Gen'l Manager

COAL, WOOD AND SHINGLES.

Best quality and lowest prices. Satisfaction guaranteed. Your patronage solicited.

Respectfully,
P. R. FOWLER,
Successor to Fowler&Morrison.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES

Will convene at Charlotte, N. C., in the First Presbyterian church, on the third Thursday (20th day) of May, 1897, at 11 o'clock a. m. The opening sermon will be preached by the moderator of the last Assembly.

The undersigned will be present in the Lecture Room of said church on Wednesday, May 19th, at 8 o'clock p. m., and also on the following morning at 9 o'clock, to enroll the names of commissioners.

JOSEPH R. WILSON, Stated Clerk.
ROBERT P. FARRIS, Permanent Clerk.

N. B.—Treasurers of Presbyteries are urgently requested to forward to the treasurer of General Assembly, at Charlotte, all sums due for Presbyterial assessments, as well for previous years as for the year 1897.

JOSEPH R. WILSON,
Treasurer.

SAY SOES.

The king of Siam is to visit Queen Victoria next summer in his 2,500-ton steam yacht Maha Chakri, which was built for him in Scotland four years ago.

Baldness is either hereditary or caused by sickness, mental exhaustion, wearing tight-fitting hats, and by over-work and trouble. Hall's Renewer will prevent it.

The best men are not those who have waited for chances, but who have taken them; besieged the chance: conquered the chance; and made chance the servitor.—E. H. Chapin.

"I am sorry," said the teacher,
"To keep you, Tom and Joe;
I do not like to punish you,
Because it grieves me so,"
But hopeful Tommy whispered
To naughty little Joe,
"If she's so very sorry,
Maybe she'll let us go!"

—Religious Telescope.

WHO'S SHELLABERGER? He's the Wire Fence Man, of Atlanta, Ga., and sells the best and cheapest fencing in existence for all purposes. Catalogue free. Write for it

WILMINGTON MARKET.
FOR
WEEK ENDING, APRIL 28, 1897

SPIRITS TURPENTINE: Steady throughout at 26½ cents for machine casks and 25½ cents for country casks.

ROSIN: Strained $1.30 and Good Strained $1.35 throughout—dull through out.

CRUDE TURPENTINE: Hard $1.30. Hard $1.80 and Yellow Dip $2.00 on Thursday (21st); since $1.20, $1.70 and $1.90—closing steady.

TAR: Sold at 95 cents on Thursday and Friday of last week; since firm at $1 00.

COTTON: Middling 7 cents until Tuesday; then 7¼—closing firm.

TIMBER: Hear of no change.

ATLANTIC COAST LINE.

Schedule in Effect April 15th 1897.

DEPARTURES FROM WILMINGTON—
NORTHBOUND.

DAILY 9:00 A M — No. 48—Passenger—Due Magnolia 10 40 a m, Warsaw 10 55 a m, Goldsboro 11 56 a m, Wilson 12 46 pm, Rocky Mount 1 20 p m, Tarboro 2 50 p m, Weldon 3 39 p m, Petersburg 5 32 p m, Richmond 6 40 p m, Norfolk 6 05 p m, Washington 11 10 p m, Baltimore 12 53 a m, Philadelphia 3 45 a m, New York 6 58 a m, †Boston 3 00 pm.

DAILY 7:15 P M — No. 40—Passenger—Due Magnolia 8 55 p m, Warsaw 9 10 p m, Goldsboro 10 10 p m, Wilson 11 06 p m, †Tarboro 6 45 a m, Rocky Mount 11 55 p m, Weldon 1 44 a m, †Norfolk 10 30 a m, Petersburg 3 22 a m, Richmond 4 20 a m, Washington 7 41 a m, Baltimore 9 05 a m, Philadelphia 11 25 a m New York 2 03 p m, Boston 8 30 p m.

SOUTHBOUND

DAILY 3:25 P M — No. 55—Passenger—Due Lake Waccamaw 4 32 p m, Chadbourn 5 04 p m, Marion 6 05 p m, Florence 6 45 p m, Sumter 8 45 p m, Columbia 10 05 p m, Denmark 6 20 a m, Augusta 8 10 a m, Macon 11 00 a m, Atlanta 12 15 p m, Charleston 10 20 p m, Savannah 12 50 am, Jacksonville 7 30 a m, St Augustine 10 30 a m. Tampa 5 45 p m.

ARRIVALS AT WILMINGTON—FROM THE NORTH.

DAILY 5:45 P M — No. 49—Passenger—Leave Boston †1 03 p m, New York 9 00 p m, Philadelphia 12 05 a m, Baltimore 2 50 a m, Washington 4 30 a m, Richmond 9 05 a m, Petersburg 10 (a m,) Norfolk 8 40 a m, Weldon 11 50 a m, Tarboro 12 12 p m, Rocky Mount 12 45 p m, Wilson 2 12 p m, Goldsboro 3 10 p m, Warsaw 4 02 p m, Magnolia 4 16 p m.

DAILY 9:40 AM — No. 41—Passenger—Leave Boston 12 00 night, New York 9 30 a m, Philadelphia 12 09 p m Baltimore 2 25 p m, Washington 3 46 p m, Richmond 7 30 p m, Petersburg 8 13 p m, †Norfolk 2 20 p m, Weldon 9 43 p m, †Tarboro 6 05 p m, Rocky Mount 5 45 a m, leave Wilson 6 20 a m, Goldsboro 7 08 am, Warsaw 7 54 a m, Magnolia 8 07 a m.

FROM THE SOUTH.

DAILY 12:15 P M — No. 54— Passenger — Leave Tampa 9 25 a m, Sanford 2 19 p m, Jacksonville 7 00 p m, Savannah 12 45 night, Charleston 5 30 am Columbia 5 50 a m, Atlanta 7 15 a m, Macon 9 00 a m, Augusta 2 45 p m, Denmark 4 55 pm, Sumter 6 45 a m, Florence 8 55 a m, Marion 9 34 a m, Chadbourn 10 35 a m, Lake Waccamaw 11 06 a m.

†Daily except Sunday

Trains on the Scotland Neck Branch road leave Weldon 4 10 p m, Hailfax 4 28 p m, arrive Scotland Neck at 5 20, Greenville 6 57 p m, Kinston 7 55 p m. Returning leaves Kinston 7 20 a m, Greenville 8 22 a m, arriving Halifax at 11 00 a m, Weldon 11 20 a m. daily except Sunday.

Trains on Washington Branch leave Washington 8 00 a m, and 2 p m, arrive Parmele 8 50 a m and 3 40 p m, returning leave Parmele 9 50 a m and 6 30 p m, arrive Washington 11 25 a m, and 7 20 p m. Daily except Sunday.

Train leaves Tarboro, N C, daily, 5 30 p m, arrives Plymouth 7 40 p m. Returning leaves Plymouth daily, 7.30 a. m. arrives Tarboro 9.50 a. m.

Trains on Conway Branch leave Hub 8 30 a. m., Chadbourn 10 40 a. m., arrive Conway 1 00 p. m. leave Conway 2 25 p. m., Chadbourn 5 20 p. m., arrive Hub 6 00 p. m. Daily except Sunday.

Train on Midland N C Branch leaves Goldsboro daily, except Sunday, 7 10 a m, arriving Smithfield 8 30 a m, Returning leaves Smithfield 9 00 a m, arrive at Goldsboro 10 25 a m.

Train on Nashville Branch leaves Rocky Mount at 4 30 p m, arrives Nashville 5 05 p m, Spring Hope 5 30 p m. Returning leaves Spring Hope 8 00 a m, Nashville 8 35 a m, arrives at Rocky Mount 9 05 a m, daily except Sunday.

Train on Clinton Branch leaves Warsaw for Clinton daily, except Sunday, 11 10 a m, and 9.15 p.m. Returning leaves Clinton at 7 00 a m., and 3.00 pm

Wilson and Fayetteville Branch leave Wilson 2 05 p m, 11 16 p m, arrive Selma 2 50 p m, Smithfield 3 38 p m, Dunn 3 35 p m. Fayetteville 4 15 p m, 1 07 a m, Rowland 5 38 p m. Returning leave Rowland 10 00 a m, Fayetteville 11 20 a m, 10 20 p m, Dunn 12 07 p m, Smithfield 12 48 p m, Selma 1 00 p m, arrive Wilson 1 42 p m, 12 10 a m.

H. M. EMERSON,
Ass't. Gen'l Passenger Agent.
J. R. KENLY, Gen'l Manager.
T. M. EMERSON Traffic Manager.

B. F. HALL, OSCAR PEARSALL

HALL & PEARSALL

Cor. NUTT and MULBERRY STS.

WILMINGTON. -- N. C.

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

—AND—

—WHOLESALE DEALERS IN—

HEAVY GROCERIES

WE ALWAYS CARRY A LARGE AND WELL SELECTED STOCK OF

Flour, Sugar, Coffee, Molasses, Salt Fish,

Hay Corn Oats Tobacco Snuff, Cigars, Hoop-Iron, Nails, Glue.

Cotton Bagging and Ties.

☞We solicit the patronage of the public. and guarantee to give satisfa tion. Correspondence invited.

☞Consignments of Naval Stores, Cotton and all Country Produce will r ee car ful attention.

HALL & PEARSALL
WILMINGTON, N. C

ORGANIZED 1856.

GEORGIA HOME INSURANCE COMPANY.

COLUMBUS, Ga.

J. RHODES BROWN, President.

Wm. C. COART, Secretary.

A HOME COMPANY,

Seeking Home Patronage.

Strong! Prompt! Reliable! Liberal!

Agents at all Cities, Towns and Villages in the Southern States.

W. W. HODGES, Agent, Wilmington N. C

E.NYE HUTCHISON, Agent, Charlotte N. C

STATESVILLE FEMALE COLLEGE
STATESVILLE, N. C.

The Spring term opens on the 5th of February and closes the 15th June 1897.

Board, including furnished room, heat and lights, with tuition in all English branches and Latin, $27 50 per quarter. Instruction in Music, Art and all branches usually taught in first class female schools, at reasonable rates.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC

In charge of a teacher of first-class qualifications. Price of instruction from $2.50 to $5.00 per month according to grade.

☞For circular containing full particulars address,

JOHN B. BURWELL,
President,
Statesville, N. C.

Shopping.

Shopping done in Philadelphia by a lady of experience and taste. No extra charge. Best references. Send for circular.

Miss M. ANDERSON,
838 Pine St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Wire Railing and Ornamental Wire Works.
DUFUR & CO.,

811 North Howard St., Baltimore, Md. Manufacture Wire Railing for Cemeteries, Balconies, &c, Sieves, Fender Cages, Sand and Coal Screens, Woven Wire, &.

Also Iron Bedsteads Chairs, Settees &c.

THINGS USEFUL.

Sauce for all Puddings.—Three-fourths of a cup of butter, one and a half cups of sugar, one egg, the juice and grated rind of one lemon. Beat well together. Just before serving pour on the beaten mixture one pint of boiling water.

Whipped Cream and Figs.—A very simple and wholesome dessert which is an acceptable variety between seasons is stewed figs and whipped cream. The figs are stewed long enough in a little water to swell, then cooled. Serve, with each fig laid on a square of sponge cake or between lady fingers, and with whipped cream on the top.

Waldorf Salad.—Pare, core and cut into dice four large tart apples, add to them a quart of celery, cut into half-inch pieces. Dust over a teaspoonful of salt, a teaspoonful of paprika and then two tablespoonfuls of tarragon vinegar. Mix all together, and then stir in a cup and a half of good stiff mayonnaise dressing. Serve on lettuce leaves, or just as it is, garnished with celery tops.

Hot Butter Rolls.—Sift one quart of flour, half a teaspoonful of salt and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder; rub in one tablespoonful of butter, then add one beaten egg, and a pint of milk; mix soft as possible. Roll out one-half inch in thickness, and cut with a biscuit cutter. Dip them in melted butter, fold one third of each piece over the remainder, and bake in a quick oven for fifteen minutes.

RED SPRINGS SEMINARY

FOR YOUNG LADIES.

Established by Fayetteville Presbytery.

New Buildings, well equipped and adapted to all departments of College work. Complete and liberal course. Fully abreast of the leading Southern Colleges for Women.

Full and Efficient Faculty.

Charges very moderate ($108.00 per year for full College course and Board).

Session opens September 30, 1896. For further information write to

REV. C. G. VARDELL,

Red Springs, N. C.

Good Goods--Low Prices,

Flour, Meat, Sugar, Salt, Meal, Molasses, Coffee, Peanuts, Cheese, Crackers, Snuff, Tobacco.

Consignments of Cotton, Naval Stores and all Country Produce will receive careful attention.

Hall & Pearsall,

Wholesale Grocers & Com. Merchant

Corner Nutt and Mulberry Sts.

Presbyterian High School

—OF—

NORTH CAROLINA.

J. M. OLDHAM, Principal.

Full corps of instructors, all college-bred men representing the leading institutions of North Carolina, Virginia and South Carolina. A non-military school, located in the country in middle North Carolina, with excellent climate.

Instruction Thorough,
Discipline Mild Yet Firm,
Physical Development Looked After
Rates Reasonable.

Endorsed by Synod of North Carolina. For catalogues address,

J. M. OLDHAM, Principal,
Mebane, N.C.

DAVIDSON COLLEGE,

DAVIDSON, N. C

The Sixtieth Year Begins September 10th, 1896.

FACULTY

Rev. J. B. Shearer, D. D., LL.D., President, and Professor of Biblical Instruction an Moral Philosophy.
Henry Louis Smith, Ph. D., Vice-President, an Prof. of Natural Philosophy.
W. D. Vinson, M. A., LL.D., Prof. of Mathematics
C. R. Harding, Ph.D., Professor of Greek and German.
W. R. Grey, Ph.D. Professor of Latin and French.
Thos. P. Harrison, Ph.D., Professor of English.
W. J. Martin, Jr., M. D., Ph.D., Prof. of Chemistry.
F. F. Rowe, A. B., Instructor.

GYMNASIUM DIRECTOR.

VOCAL MUSIC.

CLASSICAL,
MATHEMATICAL,
SCIENTIFIC,
LITERARY,
BIBLICAL.
COMMERCIAL.

SEND FOR A CATALOGUE.

Terms Reasonable.
Location Healthful,
Accommodations Excellent,
Teaching Unsurpassed,
Gymnasium Complete.

Address THE PRESIDENT.

DO NOT FORGET.

THAT OUR BRAND OF FLOUR

THE LADIES' FAVORITE

Is the best Flour on the market. Double Patent, and produces more bread than any other.

In addition to our Ladies' Favorite Flour we have taken the Agency for Pittsburg's Best Spring Wheat in barrels and half barrel sacks.

We offer North Carolina Canned Peaches, North Carolina Canned Tomatoes, guaranteed fully equal to any brand. North Carolina Manufactured Tobacco, North Carolina Bacon, California Peaches, California Apricots, both canned and dried, as well as a select stock of groceries of every description.

☞Orders solicited.

R. W. HICKS,

WHOLESALE ONLY,

Wilmington, N. C.

The Man in the Moon would be happier if he could have a supply of

Cool Fragrant and Soothing

Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco

For over twenty-five years the standard smoking tobacco of the world.

To-day More Popular than Ever.

To have a good smoke anytime and everytime it is only necessary to get Bull Durham. It is all good and always good.

BLACKWELL'S DURHAM TOBACCO CO.,
DURHAM, N. C.

H. A. TUCKER. R. D TUCKER.

TUCKER'S

GRANITE AND MARBLE WORKS.

DEALERS IN ALL KINDS OF

Granite and Marble Monuments

CONTRACTORS FOR BUILDING STONE

H. A. TUCKER & BRO.,

No. 310 Front St.,

Wilmington, N. C.

WORTH & WORTH,

—OFFER FOR SALE—

BEST QUALITY, FULL WEIGHT

FLOUR, BACON, SUGAR, LARD
MOLASSES, MEAL, SALT,
LIME, CEMENT,

Plaster, Hay, Corn, Hoop Iron, Oats Rivets Glue.

BUNGS, CANNED GOODS,

At Low Prices.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

CABLED FIELD AND HOG FENCE.

Cabled Poultry Fence; Wire Fence Board; Yard, Cemetery and Grave Lot Fencing on Steel Post a Specialty. We Pay the Freight. Catalogue Free
K. L. SHELLABERGER, ATLANTA, GA.

M. H. JONES,

DURHAM, N. C.,

Keeps on hand a fine assortment of

STERLING SILVER WARE,

JEWELRY, DIAMONDS,

WATCHES, CLOCKS

and everything found in a first-class jewelry store.

☞Repairing of all kinds, especially such as is usually sent North, done promptly and in best style; reputation established for this class of work.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE.

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS,
DESIGNS,
COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain, free, whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Oldest agency for securing patents in America. We have a Washington office. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN,

beautifully illustrated, largest circulation of any scientific journal, weekly, terms $3.00 a year; $1.50 six months. Specimen copies and HAND BOOK ON PATENTS sent free. Address

MUNN & CO.,
361 Broadway, New York.

1865. W. S. MOORE. 1896.

GREENSBORO, N C.

General Merchandise, &c., &c.

Organs from $24 up to any price.

Pianos from $150 up to any price

Special prices to Ministers, Churches and Sunday Schools

North Carolina Presbyterian.

New Series—VOL. XXIX—No. 1,530. WILMINGTON, N C., THURSDAY, MAY 6, 1897. Old Series. Vol. XXXIX—No. 2,690

REV. DR. AND MRS. H. C. DuBOSE.

Hampden Coit DuBose was born in Darlington, S. C., the ancestral home of a branch of the Huguenot family, Sept. 30th, 1845. Before he was a week old three out of the five children of his parents, fell victims to diphtheria. His father, Rev. Julius J. DuBose, whose sun set in 1852, while yet it was noon, was specially known for the power of his pathos in the pulpit and the brightness of his paragraphs when in the editorial chair. His mother, who died in 1862, possessed superior gifts as a teacher, which were highly appreciated in the community, and was noted for her eminent piety. Besides the family worship, it was her constant habit to pray with her children in private. His brother, Rev. R. Miguel DuBose is now preaching at Huntsville, Ala. After leaving his mother's school he attended the Darlington Academy, and in 1863-'64, the South Carolina Military Academy (Arsenal and Citadel). The latter part of 1864, and the first of 1865, he served on the sea coast of South Carolina and in North Carolina in the Battalion of State Cadets. The next two years he taught; then attended the University of South Carolina, and in the fall of 1868, entered the Theological Seminary at Columbia. Of his classmates now living are Eugene Daniel, D. D., First church, Raleigh, N. C.; J. T. McBryde, D. D., Pendleton, S. C.; Geo. T. Goetchius, D. D., Rome, Ga.; S. M. Neal, D. D., Central church, Kansas City; R. D. Smart, D. D., First Methodist church, Memphis, and J. J. Read, Missionary to the Indians. He was licensed in the spring of 1870, and during the summer vacation supplied the Second church in Charleston. He was ordained April 8th, 1871, by the Presbytery of Harmony at its session in Darlington, Dr. Plumer preaching the sermon and Dr. Leighton Wilson delivering the charge—before the pulpit where that holy man of God, Father Brearley had baptized him in infancy and at the age of twelve received him into the communion of the church.

He was happily married April 3rd, 1872, and left for China the next day. A few months after arrival, a native house was rented in Soochow, and in that city he has resided ever since. During his second furlough he was moderator of the Presbytery of Peedee at Bennettsville, of the Synod of South Carolina, at Yorkville in 1890, also of the General Assembly at Birmingham in 1891 and received the degree of D. D., from Westminster College, Missouri.

In English, he has written the Dragon, Image and Demon, or The Three Religions of China; Preaching In Sinim and Memoirs of Dr. J. Leighton Wilson. In Chinese, he translated Dr. Plumer's Rock of Our Salvation and is the author of The Street Chapel Pulpit (200 sermons); The Catechism of the Three Religions; The Illustrated Life of Christ (with no picture of our Lord); Introductions to the Bible, Genesis, the Gospels and the Acts; The Street Chapel Pictorial Series (twelve in number, of which a third edition of 120,000 has just been issued); The Gospel 1,000 Character Classic, &c. He has prepared notes for the Annotated Bible, or Easy Commentary on the New Testament, on Romans, Ephesians, Philippians, Colossians, I and II Thessalonians and I, II and III John. He has preached 10,000 times and sold 200,000 Gospels and tracts.

Mrs. Pauline McAlpine DuBose, five years her husband's junior, is the granddaughter of Rev. Robert McAlpine, who labored in Georgia and Alabama, and the daughter of Dr. Augustine I. McAlpine, a beloved and skillful physician, whose practice was to pray beside the sick beds of those to whom he administered healing remedies. Her mother, a great Bible student and a pillar in the Church of Christ, is now passing a green and blessed old age. Of her five brothers, one is a deacon, two are elders in Alabama and Texas, and two are ministers in North Carolina and Japan. She was educated at the Synodical Female Institute in the beautiful mountain town of Talladega, where she passed the happy years of youth, useful in the Church, and an ornament in society. She was at that time, specially interested in the orphans at Tuskegee. Her pastor was that able divine Rev. A. B. McCorkle, D. D.

Coming to the mission field at the age of one and twenty, with graceful form and an attractive face—a magnet to the Celestials—the women charmed by her fascinating manners flocked in numbers to visit her, and soon she was well known for the perfection with which she spoke the soft musical tones of the Soochow language and for her gifts in presenting the leading gospel themes to the superstitious and the ignorant. Few have entered so fully and so sympathetically into the toiling common place home life of the Chinese women. She taught in the day schools, and for five years had a boarding school for boys. She has held meetings for the women, visited them in their houses and received them in her home to the number of twenty thousand. A part of the last year she had 1,200 patients at the Yang Yoh Hong Chapel. Assisting her husband in his labors, looking well to the ways of her household—never leaving her children alone with the natives, carrying on the whole of their primary and preparatory education, and making the home bright and merry, has filled the weeks and months of one-fourth of a century.

Of their children, two sleep in the cemetery at Shanghai, and five are living. The one who has her mother's name is at Kiangyin beside the broad waters of the Yanytse; the second completes in May a seven year's course at the Mary Baldwin; the two older boys are at Pantops where their mother took them last summer, and little Pierre comes back to be the life of the home in Far Cathay.

As Mrs. DuBose returns to China in August, by the exigencies of the missionary work, husband and wife celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage ten thousand miles apart. Both are in vigorous health and enter with joyful enthusiasm on the second stage of their missionary journey.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

1ST PAGE—Sketch of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. H. C. DuBose.

2ND PAGE—Editorial: Christ in the Christian—Editorial Notes.

3RD PAGE—Editorial Notes — India Relief Fund—Davidson Notes.

4TH PAGE—Egypt—Social and Moral Reforms, Agencies and Influences. England, The American Mission—Fayetteville Presbytery.

5TH PAGE.—A Proof of Love—Literary Jottings—Magazines.

6TH PAGE—Religious Intelligence.

7TH PAGE — Personals — Here and There—Commissioners to the General Assembly.

8TH PAGE — Presbytery of Potosi—How God Helps Us.

9TH PAGE—A Sunny Face—Art of Yielding.

10TH PAGE—Sunday School Lesson — Young People's Column—Open Door Notes—Puzzles.

11TH PAGE—Marriages — Obituaries—Secular News—Encouraging

12TH PAGE. — (For the Family)—What Should We Do? (poetry)—Tennessee's Centennial.

13TH PAGE—May (poetry) — The Grangers —A Happy Family — Letter-Box.

14TH PAGE—Texas Items.

15TH PAGE—Say Soes—Market.

16TH PAGE—Things Useful.

CHRIST IN THE CHRISTIAN.

"Nevertheless I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me." The Christian is vitally united to Christ. This is the condition of conformity to Christ. It is the relation of Christ to the Christian which makes it possible to be Christ-like. This union is represented in the Scriptures under seven similitudes. One is taken from the animal kingdom in the relation of the Shepherd to the sheep. Christ is the Good Shepherd, laying down His life for His sheep. He is the Great Shepherd, taking care of His sheep. He is the Chief Shepherd, who is yet to appear and His sheep shall appear with Him in glory. He knows His sheep. They know His voice. Their very wounds and troubles and infirmities call forth His care and sympathy. The twenty-second, twenty-third and twenty-fourth Psalms give the forecast of Christ as our Good Shepherd, Great Shepherd and Chief Shepherd. Another similitude is found in the vegetable kingdom. It is that of the vine and its branches. Christ the vine, His disciples, Christians, are the branches. They have His life forces poured over into them, like as the vine pours its sap over into its branches. This is in order to fruitfulness, as Christ communicates His life to Christians that they may bear fruit. Another similitude is taken from the mineral kingdom as related to architecture. Like as separate stones are built upon the foundation and take their unity and significance from the cornerstone, so Christ is the foundation underneath the secondary supports of the building in the apostles and prophets, and He is "the Chief Corner Stone, elect precious," which gives unity, significance and vitality to the "living stones," which Christians are in the spiritual temple. Still another is found in the family or commonwealth. "Of whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named," is only a varying of the figure of citizenship in the kingdom of God. The human form furnishes another similitude. Christ is the Head. Each Christian is a member of His body. The union of husband and wife is a notable representation of the Church as the bride, the Lamb's wife, to Christ the Heavenly Bridegroom. What we may conceive, of an indissoluble union of spirits in assimilation or absorption or identity, as the union is perfected, is seized by the apostles in 1 Corinthians vi: 17, to teach the vital union of the Christian to Christ. "He that is joined to Christ is one Spirit." The other figures leave room to suppose the possibility of a separation of the parties or parts from each other. But here it cannot be supposed. Our spirit cannot be divided. No man can find a line of cleavage in this one Spirit which is Christ united to the Christian.

This union appears in the eighth chapter of Romans. It is effected by the Holy Spirit. He has been but barely mentioned in the earlier chapters. In this eighth chapter He makes and maintains the union of which the apostle exclaims, at the close: "Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? In this chapter we see the Holy Spirit taking hold upon the human spirit, uniting to Christ, and giving power to say "Abba Father." The very Spirit of Christ is made the test and measure of discipleship. And the Christian is enabled to walk with God and to breathe out, by the intercession of the Holy Spirit, the groanings which cannot be uttered.

Here is conformity to Christ. It is by being vitally united to Christ. It is by having the Spirit of Christ. It is union with Christ through the communion of the Holy Spirit. In such spiritual union, Christ liveth in the Christian and His life is lived by the Christian.

The Christian is slow to believe this possible and hesitates to accept by faith this part of the fullness of Christ for the Christian. At the beginning of the Christian life Christ is received as Redeemer and Saviour. Then the claims of Christ as Lord and Master are pressed and sooner or later must be admitted and accepted by surrender to Him. The sufficiency of Christ as the Life is more slowly perceived, and many live on a poor barren and spiritless life until they receive and appropriate Him and live by Him, not only in a new life by regeneration, and a life of buds and blossoms of growth, but in the life of fruitfulness in conformity to Christ.

FROM PRESENT indications the end of the Greeco-Turkish war is near at hand. The enthusiasm of the Greeks unsupported by the sinews of war and by wise leadership is no match for the fanatical zeal of the Turks, in superior force, with full equipment and led by German officers of acknowledged ability. The issue seems to be so far settled that there remains only the question how far the Powers will allow Turkey to go in reaping the fruits of victory. It is taken for granted, generally, that the Powers will require the status quo before the commencement of hostilities to be restored.

The insurrection in Crete—or Candia as it is now called—was the occasion of the war between Greece and Turkey. The insurgents desiring to become annexed to Greece and that country ardently espousing their cause. But Crete has been lost sight of in the more stirring events of the present and immediate past.

It may not be uninteresting however, to note that since the year 1669 Crete has been under Turkish rule. The Cretans have many times rebelled because of a desire to unite with Greece—have done so quite often, indeed, within the present century. In 1866 occurred the famous rebellion which drew from Turkey most important concessions in the way of reform. In 1878 the Powers of the Berlin Conference laid it upon Turkey to scrupulously perform the agreement made twelve years before. The government of Crete has been considered less exacting than that of any other country under Turkish rule. How far the present insurrection will benefit or injure the Cretans in the way of Turkish domination in the future remains to be seen.

The Apostle Paul in the first century planted the Gospel in Crete leaving Titus there to set all things in order and to ordain elders in every city—Titus 1:5, The character of the Cretans of that time is found in Titus 1:12.

FROM THE MINUTES of the General Assembly:

WHEERAS, The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, fully recognizes the efficiency of the prayers of God's people, and the necessity of Divine guidance in its own deliberations; therefore—

Resolved, 1. That the General Assembly recommend to all the churches under its care, to offer a special prayer during the devotions of the Sabbath preceding the meeting of the General Assembly in each year, that God would of His great mercy so give the General Assembly the wisdom that cometh from above, and so direct all its plans, discussions and decisions, as to promote his own glory, and to advance the kingdom of Jesus on earth.

A FEW YEARS ago the Southern Church settled that Ruling Elders should be eligible to the moderatorship of any of the courts of that Church. About the same time the Northern Church decided the question in a way precisely to the contrary. Since then the matter has been at rest in our Church and every court of the Church has been presided over one or more times by ruling elders. In the Northern Church the question it seems will not down. Several names of prominent ruling elders have been presented for the moderatorship of the approaching Assembly of that Church. In the light of the recent action noted above, which was very emphatic in opposition to ruling elder moderatorship, it is not conceivable that the nominations referred to can be intended for anything other than to keep the matter in agitation; and this would seem to imply, seeing that it is not an unusual practice, that there are many who are greatly dissatisfied with the former action upon the question.

An impression prevails that from time immemorial, until the very recent past, ruling elder moderatorship was unknown. But it is a matter of history that in 1567—before the adoption of the Westminster Standards of course—George Buchanan, one of the most learned of Scotsmen, distinguished as a politician and theological polemic in the days of Queen Mary and the Regent Moray, was elected moderator of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland. This was a great honor conferred upon him, but there is no reason to suppose it was a solitary instance of the bestowment.

IT SEEMS NOT only Laurinburg, but Greenville must "look to its laurels." Read this:

"DEAR BROTHER MCLAURIN:—I note what was said in your excellent paper of last week in regard to Laurinburg church being the banner church of Fayetteville Presbytery. I rise to say that Gulf church is in Fayetteville Presbytery and contributed last year for all causes $19.96 per member. It strikes us that this beats $16.25 for Laurinburg or even $18.65 for Greenville in Albemarle. If there is a banner floating around will you please secure it and hold it for Gulf church until some other church in Fayetteville or Albemarle Presbytery puts forth a better claim for it? Gulf wants the banner if she is entitled to it. Speak right out brethren.

Yours truly,

J. M. McIVER.

Gulf, N. C.

[Will be glad to hear from any church that can do better still.]

WE NOTED recently that the Roman Catholics had been allowed to build a chapel exclusively for their service at West Point. Secretary Alger, chief of the War Deparment authorizes it to be stated "that any other denomination wishing to build a chapel on the grounds upon the same conditions will be given an equally advantageous site for the building. No favoritism will be shown to any denomination and others will be accorded a site equally as good as that of the Catholic chapel."

IT IS WITH sincere pleasure we note that at the receptions given by Gov. Russell at Raleigh, no liquors or wines of any kind are used. A statement to the contrary had been made by the press and Mrs. Russell had it corrected. A paper which published the report says: No intoxicants are allowed in the Governor's mansion.

THE ARTICLE "Egypt" on our fourth page, will be found exceedingly interesting. The British rule in that country, and the work of the United Presbyterian Church, rendered possible by that rule, have worked improvement in the habits and manners and modes of thought of the Egyptians that virtually amounts to regeneration of the national life. The whole result is such a grand triumph of Christianity as raises the highest hopes for the future of that country. Egypt is stretching forth her hands unto God.

INDIA RELIEF FUND.

TWO CENTS will sustain the life of a man, woman or child for one day.

Previously acknowledged.....	$ 34 60
Kings's Daughters' Circle, Aberdeen, N. C.....	4 15
J. M., Gulf, N. C.....	5 00
Junior Endeavors, Immanuel Church.....	13 47
St. Andrews Church (additional)	3 25
Nutbush Church Aid Society...	20 00

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

DAVIDSON NOTES.

On Saturday, May 1st, the annual Declaimers' Contest of the Philanthropic Society was held. In these contests the Faculty are requested by the Society to act as judges. There were eight contestants for the Declaimer's Medal on this occasion, several showing decided ability in the difficult art of declamation. At the conclusion of the exercises the medal was awarded to Mr. S. C. Smith, of High Towers, N. C.

The new dwelling recently erected by Dr. Martin has been rented by Mrs John E. Brown, formerly of Charlotte, who moved into her new home about two weeks ago. The building is on Concord street, opposite the baseball ground.

Miss Mamie Hutchinson, of Charleston, S C., is visiting MissMary Martin. Dr. Harding attended the meeting of Concord Presbytery at Statesville last week. Dr. Smith has recently lectured on the X-rays at Fayetteville and Greensboro.

The annual report of our church was made by the pastor, Rev. A. T. Graham, at last evenings service. It was quite an encouraging report, the average contribution per member being $16.71. The contribution per member to Foreign Missions was $2 00 during the year. At the same service Mr. Graham made an impressive and interesting address on the Westminster Standards, especially in their relation to Church Evangelization.

The College catalogues for '96-'97 have been received from the printers and their distribution will soon be begun. Dr. Shearer has recently visited several Presbyteries in the interest of the College.

Dr. Munroe is hard at work drilling his "Quiz" Class of students from all parts of the country, who are preparing for the State Board Medical Examination about June 1st. The final examinations of his regular "Meds." have begun, and his new College building presents a busy scene from morning till night.

L.

Davidson, N. C., May 3, '97.

OUR PREMIUM BIBLE.

Measures 5x7 inches when Closed, and Contains 1,600 Pages of Reading Matter—Several hundred pages of Useful Information, besides the Scriptural Text.

At length we find ourselves with pride and pleasure, able to offer a Bible premium to workers for the N. C. PRESBYTERIAN. The size and quality of type of our Bible is represented by the cut here given:

The binding is flexible, the edges are gilt and the references within

David's thirst for God. PSALMS. He praiseth God for his grace.

10 Trust not in oppression, and become not vain in robbery: if riches increase, set not your heart upon them.
11 God hath spoken [1]once; twice have I heard this; that [2]power belongeth unto God.
12 Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for [3]thou renderest to every man according to his work.

PSALM 63.

1 David's thirst for God. 4 His manner of blessing God. A Psalm of David, when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

O GOD, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: [4]my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and [5]thirsty land, [6]where no water is;
2 To see [7]thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the sanc-

[1] or, we are concerned by that which they have [2] wrought. [3] Heb. is search searched. Job 31. 35. Ps. 26. 2. [4] Thes. 4.17. [5] Heb. a parch searched. Job 33. 14. [6] or, strength. [7] Heb. their wound shall be. Job 34. 11. Prov. 24. 12. Jer. 32. 19. Mat. 16. 27. Rom. 2. 6. Gal. 6. 8. [1] Tim. 6. 16. [2] Ps. 81. 11. [3] Jer. 30. 23. [4] Dan. 22.5. [5] Ps. 42. 1.

10 Trust not in oppression, and become not vain in robbery: [1]if riches increase, set not your heart upon them.
11 God hath spoken [2]once; twice have I heard this; that [3]power belongeth unto God.
12 Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for [4]thou renderest to every man according to his work.

PSALM 63.

1 David's thirst for God. 4 His manner of blessing God. A Psalm of David, [5]when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

O GOD, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: [6]my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and [7]thirsty land, [8]where no water is;
2 To see [9]thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the sanc-

[1] Heb. their wound shall be. Job 34. 11. Prov. 24. 12. Jer. 32. 19. Mat. 16. 27. Rom. 2. 6. Gal. 6. 8. [2] or, we are concerned by that which they have [3] wrought. [4] Heb. is search searched. Job 31. 35. Ps. 26. 2. [5] Thes. 4.17. [6] Heb. a parch searched. Job 33. 14. [7] or, strength. [8] Tim. 6. 16. [9] Ps. 81. 11. [10] Jer. 30. 23. [11] Dan. 22.5. [12] Ps. 42. 1.

6 They search out iniquities: [1]they accomplish [2]a diligent search: both the inward thought of every one of them, and the heart, is deep.
7 But God shall shoot at them with an arrow; suddenly [3]shall they be wounded.
8 So they shall make their own tongue to fall upon themselves: [4]all that see them shall flee away.
9 And all men shall fear, and shall [5]declare the work of God; for they

PSALM 65.

1 David proclaimeth God for his praise. 4 The blessedness of God's chosen by reason of benefits. To the chief Musician, A Psalm and Song of David.

6 They search out iniquities: [1]they accomplish [2]a diligent search: both the inward thought of every one of them, and the heart, is deep.
7 But God shall shoot at them with an arrow; suddenly [3]shall they be wounded.
8 So they shall make their own tongue to fall upon themselves: [4]all that see them shall flee away.
9 And all men shall fear, and shall [5]declare the work of God; for they are full. The Bible contains besides 1050 pages of Scriptural text, the HELPS to Scripture reading and study including Subject Index, Concordance, a most serviceable General Topical Index, a large number of pages treating of the Titles, Authorship, Distinctive Characters, Contents, &c., of the various books of the Bible, A Description of the Inhabitants, Physical Geography, Customs and Political Condition of the Holy Land at the beginning of the Christian era, the Botany of the Bible, Glossary of Antiquities, Customs, 12 maps, etc., being the Oxford Helps, acknowledged to be the very best, besides 124 full page illustrations of the Languages, Writing, &c., of the Old and New Testaments, of the bas reliefs and the like, discoveries in archæological researches, and now in the British museum—and very much else; making altogether the most desirable

---

No man can hinder our private addresses to God; every man can build a chapel in his breast, himself the priest, his heart the sacrifice, and the earth he treads on the altar.—Jeremy Taylor.

copy of the Scriptures for Bible students that has come to our knowledge. The book contains over 1,600 pages.

The Bible is an offer in connection with the NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN—the only medium thro which one can become well acquainted with what is going on in the Synod of North Carolina—on the folowing terms:

We will give this Bible as payment for help rendered to any old subscriber who will send us the name of a BONA FIDE new subscriber along with $2.25.

The new subscriber gets the paper very cheap—we offer it to any bona fide new subscriber for $1.50 for the first year—and the worker gets amply compensated in a magnificently cheap Bible for his or her good work.

A new subscriber to get the Bible can subscribe for himself at $1.50 and then send another new subscriber with $2.25.

The Premium offered is the Genuine Edition of the Oxford Teacher's Bible.

We trust our friends will go to work promptly on this plan.

JOHN MCLAURIN,
Manager N. C. Presbyterian.

"Our Premium Bible" contains absolutely nothing that tends to discredit the plain Scripture narrative of "Jonah and the whale."

If we exclude sympathy and wrap ourselves round in a cold chain armor of selfishness, we exclude ourselves from many of the greatest and purest joys of life.—Sir John Lubbock.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

EGYPT—SOCIAL AND MORAL REFORMS—AGENCIES AND INFLUENCES—ENGLAND—THE AMERICAN MISSION.

DEAR BRO. McLAURIN:—In my last letter I made a quasi promise that you might hear from me again before leaving Egypt. As our stay here is rapidly drawing to a close, I must hasten to redeem my promise. I briefly indicated certain very important changes and improvements in the material prospects and prosperity of Egypt. A country's stability however is not guaranteed by its material wealth and prosperity. For were it, Egypt would never have lost its fore-eminence in the world's history and civilization. It is "righteousness that exalteth a nation" and giveth it prominence. Fortunately for Egypt the nation that has introduced the modern and internal improvements, is herself, a living demonstration of the truth of this declaration of Scripture. England is to-day one of the great factors and forces in the moral reformation of Egypt. Her presence and power constitute a protectorate for all reforms. Her policy is non-interference, both on the part of her own people, as well as by all other nations. "Egypt for the Egyptians and the Egyptians for Egypt" is her maxim. Her aim and influence is educational. In all the relations, intercourse and dealings of her government officials with the people, she seeks to so exalt honesty, integrity and truth, as to set an example, which the people shall be inspired to follow. And at the same time, to win their confidence and trust. A few days ago, two Egyptians were heard disputing upon some point. One sought to emphasize the truth of his position, by swearing by all that was good and holy. When the other replied, "swear by the word of an Englishman, and I will believe you." Having won their confidence, the English seek to inspire the Egyptians with self-respect and confidence in themselves. Like Arnold, in his treatment of the boys at Rugby—they show that they expect them to do right. And they prove themselves worthy of the confidence reposed in them. Under former administrations, the Egyptian was expected to deceive, lie—to steal—and he did not disappoint his oppressors. In the army, the common soldier was treated as a galley slave—was locked in barracks every night, and never allowed a furlough to return home, lest he should desert. When, at the request of the government, the English undertook the reorganization of the army—the British officers allowed the private the same privileges as the privates in the British army. They treated them as men of honor, and they have proved themselves such. Instead of declining furloughs, the English encourage them, to prove and develop their sense of honor. Sometime ago an officer granted 1,200 privates furloughs; at the same time, he furnished each with a railroad ticket to go and to return. The day the furloughs expired every man was at his post. Such an esprit du corps, must in time completely revolutionize the sentiments and elevate the morals of the people.

Another and probably the most potent force in Egypt's moral development, is the American Mission of the United Presbyterian Church; for this is the herald and exponent of the Gospel, which is God's ordained power unto salvation. For forty-three years this representative of the Church of Christ has been on the ground. It has thrown out year by year new branches, which like the banyan tree, have in turn cast themselves down to the ground, and taken root; until now it has covered every portion of the valley of the Nile. The agencies through which it works and upon which it depends are manifold: chiefly however, evangelistic, (the preaching of the Gospel) Sabbath-schools, educational, colportage, zenana and medical agencies. This mission, through its pastors and workers, is preaching the Word regularly at 197 stations to congregations averaging an attendance in the aggregate of about 15,000 worshippers. It conducts 168 schools with a patronage of 11,000. This host of boys and girls taught in the schools are in a very few years to be the rulers in the homes, and the framers of the thought of the country. It has established and regularly maintains 127 Sabbath-schools with an attendance of 6,849 scholars, more than three-fifths of whom are men and women. Its colporteurs aim to carry the Word of God, the standards of doctrine, and other religious books to every village and hamlet in the country once every year. And they are met with a growing demand for the Bible and for an explanation and exposition of the Word, and the truths therein contained. The Christian women of the Mission make tours through the country and visit the homes of the people to bring the Gospel to the wives and mothers. While hospitals have been established in some of the larger cities under the auspices of the Mission, where the sick and crippled are treated free.

The influences and fruits of all these agencies are both direct and indirect. Through them have been gathered into the Church as professed disciples of the Christ many thousand converts; and to-day there is a native church with a membership of 5,355. Many of them are consistent, earnest witnesses for the Truth; others are ordained pastors, and others again, licentiates and candidates. The indirect influences however, from which definite and positive results must come in the near future are very perceptible and far-reaching. First, the prejudice and fanaticism against Christianity is gradually waning. Formerly a Mahomedan would not converse with a Christian unless it were to curse him. Now many Mahomedans are willing to compare notes with Christians. Others are really investigating the truth of the Gospel. Business relations and friendship are established between the Turks and Christians. Mahomedans are sending their children to Protestant schools. Twenty per cent of the pupils of the mission schools are Mahomedans. Again the Mission schools have so advanced the ideas of the people as to create a demand for education. So that both the Government and the Copts are multiplying and improving their schools. Thereby increasing the intelligence of the people, which makes the introduction and understanding of the Gospel more feasible. The standard of intelligence and morality maintained and developed in the Missions schools has placed their pupils at a premium, thus recommending the system of religion therein taught, and greatly increasing the attendance upon the schools. Christianity as taught in these schools greatly quickens the intellects and business capacity of the graduates, who become the successful business men of their communities, which is a recognized and acknowledged fact, and is attributed to the Christian religion. It has become a proverb, "If a man has land to sell he is a Mahomedan; if there is a man to buy, he must be a Christian." In some places the men of position, wealth and influence are chiefly Protestants. These facts are so patent and so impressive that they must in time weaken the grip and grasp of the Moslem, and open the minds of the people for a favorable consideration of the Gospel. It will not be in a day, nor in a decade. The Eastern mind is very conservative, tenacious of the traditions of the past. "Yet He that shall come, will come and will not tarry." Egypt's monuments and temples of her glorious past were carved and built out of great blocks of granite separated from their ancient quarries by the wedge, swollen by the steady pouring on of water. The entering wedge whereby her still more glorious future is to be separated from her past, has been set, and as it expands under the influence of God's mighty Spirit, it will in time liberate her from the bondage of ignorance and prejudice, superstition and oppression, and God will make her a monument to the power of His grace, upon which He will inscribe for all nations to read:

"The Lord Reigneth."

"Blessed be Egypt, my people."

Isa. 19:25.

Yours,

L. B. TURNBULL.

Cairo, March 30th, '97.

FAYETTEVILLE PRESBYTERY.

(OFFICIAL ABSTRACT.)

The Presbytery met at Red Springs April 20th, 1897, and was opened with a sermon by Rev K A McLeod the retiring moderator. Twenty ministers and fifty-four ruling elders were present.

Organization. Rev W R Coppedge was elected moderator and Rev W B Arrowood and Rev Hugh Craig temporary clerks.

Candidates. Five young men were taken under the care of the Presbytery as candidates for the ministry: W W Bain, W M Fairley, K M McDonald, K L McIver and W A McLeod.

New Church. Gibson church at Gibson Station, in Richmond county, was reported organized and enrolled.

One Minister Received. Rev C H Dobbs, Jr, was received from Lexington Presbytery.

Commissioners. Rev W B Arrowood and Elder Dr D N Patterson, Pee Dee church were elected commissioners to the General Assembly. Rev M D McNeill was elected alternate to Mr. Arrowood and Elder J M McIver to Dr. Patterson.

Dismissed. The pastoral relations between Rev S M Rankin and Philadelphus, Antioch and Red Springs churches were dissolved and he was dismissed to the Presbytery of West Lexington.

Calls. Carthage church presented a call for the pastoral services of Rev C H Dobbs, Jr, for half his time and Galatia church for the pastoral services of Rev D Fairley for one-third of his time and these calls were accepted and orders made for their installation: To install Mr Dobbs Rev C G Vardell to preside, preach and propound the constitutional questions, Rev W F Thom to charge the pastor and Rev K A McLeod to charge the people. To install Mr Fairley, Rev Hugh Craig to preside, preach and propound the constitutional questions, Rev J S Black to charge the pastor and Rev A J McKelway the people.

Memorials. Memorials of the Rev D D McBryde and Rev A McMillan were read and copies ordered to be sent to the families of the deceased.

Trustees. The following trustees were elected to constitute the new board under the recently enacted charter: L Shaw and J W McLauchlin for one year, Rev W F Thom and G B Patterson, Esq, for two years, Rev W B Arrowood and Dr J L. McMillan for three years.

Overture. The General Assembly was overtured to have a pamphlet prepared for general distribution to set forth more clearly and fully the great needs of the General Assembly's Home Missionary work.

Supplies. New supplies were ordered as follows: Rev C H Dobbs, Jr, to preach at Bethesda church two Sabbaths a month and Keyser in the afternoon; R Ernest Vinson a student in Union Theological Seminary to supply Bethel, Montpelier and Shiloh churches during his vacation; D P McGeachy a student in Union Theological Seminary to supply Barbecue, Flat Branch and Spout Springs churches during his vacation.

Evangelists. Rev W R Coppedge was re-elected evangelist for the Rockingham field and Rev J A McMurray for the Johnston county field.

New Committee. The Home Missions and Evangelistic Committees were united under the name of the Home Missions Committee to do the work heretofore done by the two committees, Rev H G Hill, D D, was elected chairman.

Foreign Missions. An interesting meeting on Foreign Missions was held and a very instructive address made by Rev H T Graham on missionary work in Japan. The report on the subject showed a slight falling off in the amount contributed to the cause as compared with last year.

Ministerial Education. The report on this subject shows that eight candidates have been under the care of the Presbytery during the year and that twenty-six of the seventy-seven churches contributed nothing to the cause during the year. The whole amount contributed to the cause was $285.84. Rev W R Coppedge, Rockingham, N C, was elected chairman of the committee.

Church and Christian Education. The reports on this department showed increasing interest in it. Half of the contributions to it are to go to Red Springs Seminary and half to Davidson College. The members of Presbytery availed themselves of the opportunity to visit Red Springs Seminary and came away most favorably impressed with what they saw and heard in their school.

Bible Cause. Rev T H Law, D D, was present and made an excellent address in behalf of the Bible Cause.

Next Meeting. Jackson Springs was chosen as the place and 6th of October the time for the next regular meeting.

Adjournment. Presbytery adjourned to meet at 8 p m, April 28th, in Fayetteville.

P. R. LAW,
Stated Clerk.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

A PROOF OF LOVE.

Paul was very anxious that Christians in his day should give due proof of their love for Christ. He knew that there was a strong tendency in many hearts to give cheap and easy proofs of their love. They were much inclined to think if they simply said that they loved the Lord it was a proof that they did love him. But Paul wanted to see much stronger proof than this. He desired the most practical proof. He wanted a proof which would tally with one's actual ability to give and to do for Christ. Dr. Cromwell says: "I spoke on Friday night about a young woman who brings me regularly ten per cent of her income. Her income is not large, but she brings regularly that ten per cent and asks that it be placed where it will do the most good for the cause of Christ. Her doing it so regularly and self-sacrificingly puts me to shame and puts others to shame. Those of you who have tried to give ten per cent of your income say you cannot see how she could do it. You say, ah, you cannot do it until you love God more. Until you love God more it will be an awful hardship to do it. It will be a continual annoyance to you until your love is high enough to overcome its inconvenience." This young woman gave and still gives a substantial proof of her love for Christ. She would not be at all contented in merely saying that she loves Christ. She would feel that it was far below what she owes to her Lord. It would be beneath her choice privilege to simply declare that she loves Him. She gives much because she loves much. Do you?

C. H. WETHERBE.

A truly educated girl, if she has taken advantage of her privileges at school or college, comes back to her home and friends broadened in heart as well as in mind. An educational process which sharpens and polishes only a girl's intellect, and either deadens or neglects her heart and soul, is a sorry imitation of what an education really stands for and is. No girl is educated who simply knows more, in an intellectual way, than do her companions. If her term at college has only done that for her it has done her as much harm as good. Learning college lessons alone will not take us through life with any success. There are lessons of life which have a far greater significance and take a deeper hold upon us. The college should prepare a girl for these: she should not allow it to spoil her for them. A stay of one, two or three years at college does not teach a girl all that she must learn or can know. Her greatest lessons are to be learned after she leaves college, and the people with whom she then associates will be her best teachers of those lessons. From them she will learn just in proportion as she invites or repels.—Ladies' Home Journal.

LITERARY JOTTINGS.

The A. D. F. Randolph Co., issue a most unique series entitled Kindergarten in Missions. The series, twelve in number, embraces the leading countries of interest. The pictures, which are many, are so arranged as to be cut out and stand erect. They are beautifully colored and printed on fine card board.

Baroness Bertha von Bulow of Dresden has come to this country under the auspices of the New York Kindergarten Association to give lectures upon the life and work of her aunt, the late Baroness von Marenholtz, who was the first woman to espouse the cause of public education in Germany, and as such, the first to espouse the cause of Froebel's reforms and to open a training school for kindergartners.

Miss Helen Hay, daughter of Colone John Hay, Ambassador of the United States to the Court of St. James, will contribute to the May Century a sonnet entitled "Days to Come."

In the British Museum library the books that are presented are yellow in color, those that are purchased are red, and those bound in blue denote that they came by copyright.

In the series of Contemporary Essayists now appearing from the press of the Messrs. Harper and Brothers (though they have not yet formally so styled it), the third volume will be from the pen of Mr. Charles Dudley Warner, the fourth by Colonel Thomas Wentworth Higginson, and the fifth, curiously enough, by Mark Twain. Mark Twain as an essayist at first rather excites a feeling of wonder; but running over some of his more serious work, it will readily appear that he is not only an essayist, but a very good one, too. Anyhow, his book will speak for itself and for him. The sixth volume will be from the pen of Professor Harry Thurston Peck. The two already published in this series are Mr. Brander Matthews' Aspects of Fiction and Mr. Howells' Impressions and Opinions.—From "Chronicle and Comment," in The Bookman.

The New York Legislature has decided that Edgar Allan Poe's famous cottage on the Kingbridge road near New York City must be removed to make room for a park.

Both Longfellow and Bryant had their descent from the union of John Alden and Priscilla Mullins who came over in the Mayflower and who have become familiar to all through the Courtship of Miles Standish.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

Celebrated for its great leavening strength and healthfulness. Assured the food against alum and all forms of adulteration common to the cheap brands.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

BOOKS.

A Jewish Maiden is the title of a very readable story by Annie E. Wilson, and published by the Presbyterian Committee of Publication, Richmond, Va. Price 35 cents. The story of Ruth would appeal to our hearts as fiction, but is doubly pathetic when we feel that we are reading of the heroic efforts of a true and true little Jewish maiden to live a Christian life. The persecutions by her own people were many, and Ruth had a hard fight with her own will, but her faith is true and at last she conquers and does the best of all mission work, that of bringing her own family to see the light.

The Froggie Fairy Book delights the little folks. It is bright and entertaining and full of pictures. We know of one little boy in particular who was charmed with the story—as doubtless many others have been. The words are not quite simple enough, however, for beginners, to read well. The book is prettily bound in red and gold. Drexel Biddle, Publisher, Philadelphia.

RATES TO THE ASSEMBLY.

We are authorized and requested to state that the Associated Railways of of Virginia and the Carolinas have issued a published rate of one limited first class fare for the round trip to Charlotte, N. C., from points within the territory of the Association; tickets to go on sale May 17th to the 21st inclusive and the final limit June 10th. The railways comprising the above Association are the Atlantic Coast Line and the Southern Railway Company.

Also, we are requested to publish that the Seaboard Air Line has issued the same rate from points on their line.

The Annual Scheme of Collections in the Synod of North Carolina is as follows:

January—General Assembly's Home Missions.

February and August—Presbyterial Home Missions.

March—Publication and Colportage.

April — Education — (one collection Church and Christian Education).

May and October—Foreign Missions. Third Sabbath in October for Bible Cause.

June and September—Synodical Home Missions.

July—Invalid Fund.

Third Sunday in October—BibleCause.

November and April—Education for the Ministry.

December—ColoredEvangelization

THE ASSEMBLY'S FORM OF BEQUEST.

I do hereby give and bequeath to the Trustees of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States (popularly known as the Southern Presbyterian Church) the sum of .....Dollars for the benefit of [here name cause to which the legacy is given.]

Religious Intelligence.

We specially invite News from all quarters for this Department.

CHANGES OF ADDRESS.

Correspondents will please note the following changes of address:

Rev. S. M. Runkin, from Red Springs, N. C., to Jackson, Ky.

Rev. J. Ernest Thacker, from Louisville, Ky., to 319 So. St. Asaph street, Alexandria, Va.

Rev. S. H. Williamson, from Hampden Sidney, Va., to Yanceyville, Caswell county, N. C.

Rev. E. L. Siler, from Wadesboro, N.C., to Lexington, Miss.

Rev. Letcher Smith, from Hampden Sidney, Va., to Raines, Va.

Rev. Jas. Y. Fair, D. D., from Richmond, Va., to Savannah, Ga.

NORTH CAROLINA.

First Church, Wilmington:—On Monday evening a most charming entertainment was given by the kindergarteners of Immanuel church, in the Abbie Chadbourn Hall of the First church, this city. This work is supported by the Young Ladies' Missionary Society of the First church and conducted by Misses Belle Bagley and Gerta Bonitz. The little ones were so perfectly at home in their games and songs that they were the admiration of all, and reflected much credit upon their teachers. The work ofthe sewiug school under the supervision of Miss Anna Savage was exhibited and showed much painstaking care. The drilling of the Boys' Brigade by Col. Walker Taylor added greatly to the pleasure of the evening.

Hamlet:—We learn with pleasure from the Hamlet Enterprise that there is a movement on foot to build a Presbyterian church in that town. Rev. M. N. McIver will preach regularly the first Sunday in each month in the Methodist church.

Westminster Church, Greensboro:—The meeting in which Rev. William Black preached for ten days closed on Tuesday night, April 27th. For several weeks before he came the congregation was looking forward with much interest to the occasion, and prayers were ascending from many Christian hearts for God's blessing upon his labors. Before his coming and during his stay prayer-meetings were held at the church aad at different homes in the congregation. He preached twice daily. The congregations continued to increase in size, the largest attendance being at the last service. The speaker by his intense earnestness engaged the closest attention of his hearers. No one could doubt that he believes the truth which he utters. With boldness he declared the whole counsel of God; with great plainness of speech he warned of the evil consequences of sin, and then lovingly pointed the burdened soul to Christ.

The Master was pleased to bless the messages delivered by His servant. Deep and widespread interest developed. The hearts of God's people were revived, and many of the unconverted were led to inquire the way of life. Quite a number claimed to have obtained a good hope through grace.

The good effects of the meeting will be felt, we trust, in time to come—the blessed results seen in eternity.

S. O. H.

Greensboro, May 1st.

Fayetteville Presbytery:—Commissioners to the Assembly: Rev. W. B. Arrowood, Laurinburg, Elder Dr. D. N. Patterson, Mangum, principals; Rev. M. D. McNeill, Sanford, Elder J. M. McIver, Gulf, alternates.

Presbytery of Asheville:—Met at Waynesville 27th April at 8 p. m. Sermon preached by Rev. H. M. Parker. Eight ministers and fourteen ruling elders present. Rev. J. B. Cochran elected moderator, and Rev. J. T. Wade temporary clerk. Commissioners to the General Assembly: Rev. H. M. Parker, principal; Rev. J. B Cochran, alternate; Elder Elam Slagel, principal; Elder W. A. Blair, alternate. Next meeting Bryson City, Jackson county, Tuesday after third Sunday in September.

NOTE: Official Minutes of Orange Presbytery received too late for this week will appear in next. Names of Commissioners appointed to the Assembly appear in the general list.

GEORGIA.

Savannah:—Rev. Dr. Fair will begin his pastorate of the Independent church on the 9th inst. Services on last Sabbath were conducted by Rev. Dr. Schofield, of Northfield, Mass, who is conducting a series of Bible Talks in the Sabbath-school room of the church.

FLORIDA.

De Funiak:—On my return from the Presbytery of Florida I stopped over with my old seminary friend, Rev E. E. Ervin, recently of Kentucky, and began a meeting for him on Saturday night, April 18th. The weather was perfect and remained so all the while during my stay of a week. Bro. Ervin took charge of the field about the first of January and he felt that the time had come for protracted services. And in this he was not mistaken. The first thing to be done was to awaken believers to a fuller realization of the privileges and responsibilities of the children of God. Therefore, a very large part of the services had this end in view. The results cannot be measured in time. Enough can be measured however, to make glad the heart of the pastor and all his helpers in Christ Jesus. For some reason an unusually large number of Presbyterians living here had failed to identify themselves with this church. But during this meeting almost every resident Presbyterian came forward and united with the church. In this way not only very valuable men, but the families were added. But the work did not stop here. At the first invitation given two wives came forward and were received on examination Later on another wife and mother was received on profession. And on Friday night one of the most successful merchants in the town accepted our invitation and publicly gave himself to Christ. His wife was already a member. On Saturday I had to leave in time to fill my pulpit in Pensacola on the next day. But I learn from a note from Bro. Ervin this morning, the Sabbath following was a precious day. Large audiences crowded the church, and an unusual number partook of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper. And on Sabbath nigh a young man and a young woman were received on profession of their faith. So far the little church of about forty members has received eighteen members, twelve on certificate and six on examination. And others I know "are almost persuaded." And this was not all the good work accomplished during the meeting. For some mouths the matter of building a manse had received some earnest attention. But nothing definite had been decided. Now the committe in charge have bought a valuable lot in the heart of the town, accepted a plan, employed a builder and the new manse is now assured beyond a doubt. In closing let me say that De Funiak is a point in our great mission field of unusual importance. Fourteen years ago, previous to the building of the Louisville and Nashville road, it was a part of a great wilderness of sand and pine forests. Land was almost worthless and lumber had no market. To-day the town has some fifteen hundred people, a dozen stores and is the county seat of one of the best counties in west Florida. Here too is located the Florida Chautauqua with its immense hotel, auditorium, and beautiful lake immediately in front of the hotel. This lake of clear, pure, water is a natural curiosity. It is on very high ground, perfectly circular and measures a mile in circumference and is said to be eighty feet deep in some places. The town will eventually build all around this water front. This Chautauqua is open very winter and no-ten singers, musicians, and lecturers, are brought here from all parts of our land. Add to this the fact that the State of Florida has located here the State Normal College which has at present an attendance of about one hundred and fifty boys and girls from all parts of the State. Rev. C. P. Walker of the Presbytery of Florida is the president of this college and is magnifying his great office.

WM. E. MCILWAIN.

ALABAMA.

Montgomery:—The report of the Central church, Montgomery, to the Presbytery of South Alabama, mentioned that the session had approved the organization of a mission in West Montgomery, one of the largest residence portions of the city, and that the committee appointed for this purpose had succeeded in securing the school house on South Holt Street, very nearly in the centre of this large district.

On Sabbath, April 18th, the pastor formally opened the work of the Mission at 4 p. m., preaching to a congregation that filled the school building, from Titus 3:1, "Ready for every good work."

At the close of the sermon Mr. F. C. Shepard, the superintendent of the new Sabbath-school, enrolled those desiring to connect themselves with the school. Thirty-eight scholars were promptly enrolled, with the officers and teachers constituting a school of forty-five members. Recalling the fact that the enroll at the openiug of the Sabbath-school of ment theCentral church at the courthouse on the first of August, 1891, was three scholars and three officers and teachers, it will be readily seen under what promising circumstances the new work has been inaugurated. It is confidently believed that in the not far distant future, the Mission will grow into a Third church.

Maj. Joseph Hardie, financial agent for the Orphans' Home at Talladega presented the cause of the Home to the congregation of the Central church on the first Sabbath in April, securing $450 for the new buildings to be erected at the Home during the year.

Greenville and Brewton:—Rev. Luther Link has been received by the Presbytery of South Alabama, from the Presbytery of South Carolina, and granted permission to supply the important group of churches until the fall meeting of Presbytery. He begins his work under very hopeful conditions.

Rev. H. C. Moore, of the Presbytery of Norfolk, is supplying the Lowndesboro group. He expects to be received into the Presbytery at the adjourned meeting in Montgomery, April 27th.

GENERAL.

We echo the sentiments expressed by the Presbyterian. We are glad to note that the libraries at Princeton, Plainfield and Newark, will no longer subscribe for the New York Journal and the New York World. These papers are also refused admission into the libraries of "The General Society of Mechanics and Tradesmen."

Let every Christian family and book store follow the example of these associations, "Whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report, think on these things."

The ninety-fourth annual convention of the N. C. Synod of the Lutheran Church was held last week at Concord

The Presbyterian Church of England is celebrating this year the jubilee of its China mission.

The Presbyterian church of El Reno, Oklahoma, was struck by lightning and entirely destroyed on April 27th.

The second anniversary of the Catherine Kennedy Home, Wilmington, N. C., was observed Monday evening with informal religious exercises conducted by Rev. A. D. McClure. Messrs. B. F. Hall and Roger Moore took part. Mr. McClure sang some pieces afterwards. Friends sent in many substantial gifts. The home is in excellent condition.

PERSONALS.

Rev. Dr. T. R. Sampson has tendered his resignation as President of the Assembly's Home and School at Fredericksburg, Va.

Rev. Dr. J. Addison Smith, pastor of Aisquith St. church, Baltimore, will deliver the next annual address before the Makemie League, Norfolk.

Rev. B. E Wallace, of Wilmington, has been elected President of the State C. E. Union.

Rev. D. K. Walthall, pastor of Mizpah church, Richmond, Va., was married to Miss Sallie W. Dally of the same city on April 28th. Rev. Drs. Fair and Kerr officiating

Rev. Dr. Shearer, of Davidson, will deliver the first annual address at the College for Women. Charlotte, N. C., on June 3d.

Rev. David Fairley of Manchester, N. C., has accepted the call to Galatia, giving that church a part of his time.

Rev. Arthur J. Smith, pastor of the First church, Savannah, has declined to accept the presidency of Kee Mayr Female College, Hagerstown, Md.

Rev. T. J. Allison has received a unanimous call to the pastorate of Sugar Creek church, N. C. Mr. Allison has served this church most acceptable as stated supply for the past year.

Rev. J. M. Mecklin, of Dalton, Ga., was married on April 27th to Mrs. Laura Babcock of the same city.

A friend from Wadesboro writes under date of April 29th: Rev. E. L. Siler, wife and two daughters, (i. e., his entire family) left here this morning for Lexington, Miss, his new home. Their household goods were shipped several days ago. Our best wishes follow them.

Rev. Dr. Thornwell, of Fort Mill, S. C., will preach the sermon before the Y. M. C. A., of Davidson College, the Sunday night before commencement.

Rev. R. V. Lancaster, of Kenansville, spent last Thursday evening in this city, and conducted the regular prayer meeting at the first church.

Rev. Ernest Thacker entered upon his duties as pastor of the Second church, Alexandria, Va., on last Sabbath.

HERE AND THERE.

The teaching of temperance is now compulsory in public schools of the province of Ontario. According to the Minister of Education 150,000 children in the public schools, and 13,000 in the separate schools receive such instruction.

Associated with the Norwegian Total Abstinence Society there are 915 local unions, having a membership of over 120,000 persons.

Last year 231,900 Christian Endeavorers were received into the Church in America.

During the thirty-eight years that the two most prominent societies for supplying Christian literature in India have been in operation, 22,000,000 tracts and other works have been issued.

In 1895 New York city spent $5,100,000 on theatres, and $9,200,000 for benevolent purposes in connection with the churches.

In New York city one or more members of 67,000 families engage in some form of benevolent or charitable work among the poor every day.

COMMISSIONERS TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

PRESBYTERIES.

Ministers.	Ruling Elders.
Abingdon.
P H Gwinn,	E H Buchanan.
Albamarle.
C N Wharton,	Judge Geo Howard.
Asheville.
H M Parker,	Elam Slagel.
Athens.
J W Walden, D D,	J M Hodgson.
Atlanta.
J F Pharr,	J L Hines,
W P Hemphill,	H S Stanly.
Augusta.
M C Britt,	J M Dent.
Bethel.
J K Hall,	James Hemphill,
J G Herndon,	John Sillinglaw.
Brazos.
G G Woodbridge,	D D Peden.
Central Mississippi.
C S Newman,	D Askew.
Central Texas.
S A King, D D,	W T Shannon,
R K Smoot, D D,	W T Roxburgh.
Charleston.
J C Oehler,	S W Welch,
J L McLees,	O E Johnson, Jr.
Cherokee.
G T Goetchius, DD,	Foster Harper.
Chesapeake.
A W Pitzer, D D,	C H Kemper.
Chickasaw.
W V Frierson,	Dr L A Hill.
Columbia.
R S Browu,	J F Kennedy.
Dallas.
E M Munroe, D D,	Dr R W Wilson.
Eastern Texas.
D A McRae,	Hon E B Lewis.
Ebenezer.
W H Davis,	J P Marshall
Enoree.
T M McConnell,	T H Stall,
C B Jennings,	W W Simpson.
Fayetteville.
W B Arrowood,	Dr D N Patterson.
Florida.
W S Porter,	R H M Davidson.
Fort Worth.
J M Smith,	J L Cunningham.
Harmony.
C M Richards,	Samuel Boykin.
Holston.
A S Doak	W M Graybill.
Kanawha.
J C Barr, D D,	J H Steenbergen.
Knoxville.
J W Bachman, DD,	J A Chambers.
La Fayette.
A W Milster,	Samuel Davis,
W W Palmer.	Samuel J Palmer.
Lexington.
C D Gilkerson,	W M McAllister,
A R Cocke, D D,	J P McClure.
Louisiana.
R F Patterson,	I T Young.
Louisville.
F C Molloy,	F B Offset,
J J Hill,	J B Bird.
Maryland.
J W Thomas,	C W Dorsey.
Mecklenburg.
R Z Johnston,	F H Curtis,
A A Little,	J C McLauchlin.
Memphis.
W McF Alexander,	G M Albright.
Mississippi.
W B Bingham.	John W Ross,
Montgomery.
T M McCorkle,	J R Grey.
J M Holliday,	John K Peck.
Nashville.
Robert Price, D D.,	Dr L B McCrary.
R C Reed, D D.,	Geo L Cowan.
North Alabama.
A B Curry,	Judge A C Howze,
J L R Walker,	C W Alexander.
North Mississippi.
J C Carothers,	Judge E Johnson.
Orange.
J Henry Smith, DD.,	A C McAllister.
Ouachita.
R M Hammock,	W W Watts.
Palmyra.
M H Kerr,	Wm S Forsyth.
Paris.
J H Wiggins. DD.,	J M Hoskins.
Pee Dee.
J G Richards,	Dr J A James.
Pine Bluff.
S C Alexander, DD.	John Hammock.
Potosi.
Charles P Foreman,	Henry L Caldwell.
Red River.
James A McLeess,	John A Baskin.
Roanoke.
L B Johnston,	E M Williamson,
J W M Elder,	Wm Hethorne.
Savannah.
W A Nisbet,	Maj P Pelham.
South Alabama.
R A Mickle,	C H McDowell.
South Carolina.
C E Stewart,	J H Anderson.
St Johns.
F D Hunt,	Dr F S Hall.
St. Louis.
Edward Mack,	W M McPheeters.
Suwanee.
H H Newman,	B W Powell.
Tombeckbee.
A B Colt,	H M Street.
Transylvania.
W T Overstreet,	E S Mayes,
A W Crawford,	J W Mourning.
Tuskaloosa.
J D Dean,	R E McWilliams.
Upper Missouri.
S M Neel,	J W Byers.
Wasburne.
S W Davies, D D.,	W W Kerr.
Western Texas.
R L Dabney, D D,	Perry Doddridge.
West Hanover.
Daniel Blain, D D,	George Perkins.
West Lexington.
F R Beattie, D D,	Dr H McDowell.
Wilmington.
T H Newkirk,	Jackson Johnson.

ENTERTAINMENT AT THE ASSEMBLY.

MR. EDITOR:—I receive so many letters from ministers and others desiring to come to the Assembly as visitors that I have not the time to answer them all even when they enclose stamps and I ask the privilege of your columns.

We expect to entertain visitors to the Assembly as far as possible, but the number is going to be so large that it may exceed even the limits of Charlotte's hospitality. Persons desiring entertainment will please send their names to Mr. H. H. Orr or Mr. G. A. Howell Charlotte, N. C., and their names will be put on the list and assigaments made if we have homes to spare. Preference will be given to the wives of Commissioners, and Commissioners expecting to bring their wives are especially requested to notify the Committee.

Yours truly,

J. R. HOWERTON.

Charlotte, N. C., April 21, 1897.

PRESBYTERY OF POTOSI.

The Presbytery of Potosi met in Farmington, Mo., April 13th, 1897, at 7.30 p m, and was opened with a sermon by the Moderator Rev R E Porterfield from Acts 8: 29-30. Nine ministers and eight elders were present.

Officers. Rev Chas P Foreman moderator and Elder Ellis P Cayce temporary clerk.

Dismissed. Licentiate Thos L Trimble to care of LaFayette Presbytery and candidate J D Deggendorf to care of Louisville Presbytery.

Home Missions. Meetings of interest were held by the Synodical Evangelists Rev X Ryland at Caruthersville, Kennett and Fredericktown and Rev J W Roseborough at Jackson, Cape Girardeau and Perryville; which resulted in the organization of a church at Perryville and accessions to all the churches except Fredericktown. While our churches have contributed more largely to Sustentation than in former years, yet the work is much hindered for want of means.

The Committee has not been able to pay amounts promised the brethren laboring as supplies, hence Presbytery directs that the collection in June be for Sustentation rather than Church Erection and that full information as to the needs of the cause be given to the churches prior to the time of the collection.

By mutual request of the parties Presbytery very regretfully dissolved the pastoral relation between Rev R H Latham and the New Madrid church. The term of service ends July 1st, and Bro. Latham has permission to labor without the bounds of Presbytery. He having resigned his position as Chairman of Committee of Home Missions in which he was very efficient, Rev S T Ruffner was elected his successor.

The Perryville church consisting of ten members and one ruling elder, organized last January by Rev J W Roseborough was received and enrolled and by request of the church Rev W W Killougb was appointed to serve as their supply.

Foreign Missions. The interest in this important cause is increasing. Our churches have generally contributed to it, $403.65 has been received during the year, the largest amount ever given by our people for this object. We remind the brethren that May is Foreign Missionary month, and hope our ministers will endeavor to enlist greater interest in this work, and that in every church an opportunity will be given to our people to contribute to it. We urge an effort to increase the circulation of The Missionary and recommend The Children's Missionary as most valuable to inculcate the spirit of missions in our youth. S T Ruffner, Chairman.

Colored Evangelization. Our churches are more generally contributing to this cause though at present the work is somewhat retarded.

Education. We regret to report that only eight of our churches have contributed to this important cause a total of $68.30. Many of our candidates are in great straits and unless our churches come to their aid many of them will suffer. We would therefore urge that our churches which have not done so take up a collection as soon as possible. A J Cheatham, Chairman.

Publication. It is to be regretted that out of our twenty-nine churches only nine have contributed to this important work a total of $32.77. Our Synod asked for a collection amounting to at least 10 cents per member and the sad fact confronts us that some of our churches have given less than 1¢ cent per member. Last year this collection exceeded the one taken this year by nearly $10.00. In view of this fact your Committee recommend that the pastors, stated supplies and sessions of vacant churches be requested to make a more urgent appeal in the future in behalf of this important cause. Chas P Foreman, Chairman.

The Sabbath. There may be a slight improvement as to the observance of the Sabbath by the members of our churches, but none in the communities: We recommend that before the next stated meeting of Presbytery our ministers preach on the Observance of the Sabbath in their respective churches and call the attention of elders to the fact that they should be examples to the flock in this respect, abstaining from even the appearance of evil. Geo W Harlan, Chairman.

Sabbath Schools. Nearly all our schools are under the control of the sessions. The scholars generally attend public preaching. The Catechism is taught in about half of the schools. Our own publications are used in all the schools but one and that is a Union School. Forty scholars have united with the church. Children's Day is observed by one-half the schools. The number of schools contributing to the benevolent causes of the Church especially Foreign and Home Missions is increasing and the contributions are larger. We recommend that a Sabbath-school Conference be held at the next stated meeting of Presbytery. S Addison McElroy, Chairman.

Installation. Commissioners were appointed to install Rev A S Cheatham pastor of Potosi church on second Sabbath of May and Rev W W Killough pastor of Brazear church on first Sabbath of May or first Sabbath of June. The former consisting of Revs S T Ruffner, Chas I Foreman and Geo W Harlan and Elder Chas G Carr, The latter consisting of Revs S Addison McElroy, E B Witherspoon and R E Porterfield and Elder O Alexander.

This meeting was rendered universally interesting by the commemorative exercises on this the 250th anniversary of the formation of the Westminster Symbols of Doctrine which were well prepared and consisted of an address on The History of the Westminster Assembly by Rev S Addison McElroy, a sermon on Church Government from 1st Cor 14:40, by Rev R H Latham, a sermon on The Influence of Presbyterianism on Civil and Religious Liberty from John 8:36, by Rev E B Witherspoon and an address on The Influence of Presbyterianism on Scholarship and Education, by Rev N J Cheatham. Thanks were tendered the people of Farmington for their abundant and hearty hospitality to the members of this Presbytery.

Presbytery adjourned to meet in stated session in Bellevue church on first Thursday of September, 1897, at 7.30 p m.

GEO. W. HARLAN,
Stated Clerk.

ARMSTRONG & McKELVY Pittsburgh.
BEYMER-BAUMAN Pittsburgh.
DAVIS-CHAMBERS Pittsburgh.
FAHNESTOCK Pittsburgh.
ANCHOR, ECKSTEIN } Cincinnati.
ATLANTIC, BRADLEY, BROOKLYN, JEWETT, ULSTER, UNION } New York.
SOUTHERN, SHIPMAN, COLLIER } Chicago.
MISSOURI, RED SEAL, SOUTHERN } St. Louis.
JOHN T. LEWIS & BROS CO Philadelphia.
MORLEY Cleveland.
SALEM Salem, Mass.
CORNELL Buffalo.
KENTUCKY Louisville.

WHAT has been your experience? That the "just-as-good," "sold-for-less-money" kinds are the most expensive? That the best, or standard, in all lines is the cheapest? The best in paints is Pure White Lead and Linseed Oil. (See list of the genuine brands.)

FREE By using National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors, any desired shade is readily obtained. Pamphlet giving valuable information and card showing samples of colors free; also cards showing pictures of twelve houses of different designs painted in various styles or combinations of shades forwarded upon application.

National Lead Co., 1 Broadway, New York.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

HOW GOD HELPS US.

BY REV. THEODORE L. CUYLER.

"God is my helper," is a truth as old as the Bible, and confirmed by myriads of human experiences. But it is important for us to know how our loving Father helps us; for we may expect things that he never grants and lose things that He offers to give us. There is a right way and a wrong way of looking at God's dealings; the one sets us to murmuring and complaining, the other gives us a wonderful uplift.

What an immense lot of overloaded people there are in this world! We can see it in their care-worn faces: and each one thinks his burden is the heaviest. There is a certain kind of care that is wise; a man who has no forethought for the future is a sluggard or a fool. The Apostle had no reference to a wise thoughtfulness for the future when he said, "Cast all your care upon him, for he careth for you." That much perverted verse is accurately translated in the Revised Version —"casting all your anxiety on Him because he careth for you." Now just what our almighty and all-loving Father offers is, to help us carry our loads. He who watched over the infant deliverer of Israel in his cradle of rushes, who sent his ravens to feed Elijah by the brookside, who protected Daniel in the den, and kept Paul calm and cheerful in the hurricane, is the very One who says to us, "Roll your anxieties over on me, for I have you on my heart!" To do this requires faith When God says, "Give to me what will break you down and I will help you through," he puts our faith to a pretty severe test. As the sinner must accept Jesus Christ as the burden-bearer for his sins before he can be saved, we must accept God's offer to lighten our loads by putting Himself, as it were into our hearts, and under the burdens. He then becomes our strength. His grace becomes sufficient for the hard duty to be done, the tough conflict to be fought, the sacrifice to be encountered, or the trial to be endured. This is a supernatural process. It actually means that the divine Spirit comes into us and imparts divine strength, just as much as the nutritious element in our daily bread imparts strength to our bodies. The "Everlasting Arm" is no less a support because it is an unseen arm; but we can feel it. My brother, have you never felt the lift of that Almighty Arm when you came up victorious out of a great temptation, or calm out of a great sorrow, or strong out of a heavy "weight of affliction?" God helped you.

Those who know how to so use God's help are the calm Christians who possess their souls in quietness. Work never hurts us. A stiff fight does not exhaust us. It is worry that frets and fevers. It acts like an ague on the body and leaves us weak and wretched. Athletic old Paul who fought beasts at Ephesus, and bloody Neros at Rome, who was a "Board of Foreign Missions" in himself and had the care of all the churches on him, never chafed his great soul into a worry for a single moment. "Be anxious for nothing, brethren!" was his cheerful counsel to his comrades. He knew how to let God help him do God's work. He knew whom he believed; and worry would have been suicide. Be assured of this, all ye pastors, teachers, and workers of all kinds, that if you and I work on God's lines he is bound to help us. If we attempt to work on our own lines and for our own selfish purposes, we shall be rebuked as Peter was when his Master said to him, "Put up thy sword into the sheath!" When Peter drew the sword of the Spirit at the time of Pentecost the divine help came, and thousands of souls were converted. Let us lay hold of God's work with a steady and a stalwart trust, and all the time be hearing him say, "In me is thy help."

A SUNNY FACE.

Wear it. It is your privilege. It has the quality of mercy, it is twice blessed. It blesses its possessor and all who come under its benign influence; it is a daily boon to him who wears it, and a constant, ever-flowing benediction to all his friends. Men and women, youth and children, seek the friendship of the sunny-faced. All doors are open to those who smile. All social circles welcome cheeriness. A sunny face is an open sesame to heart and home. By it burdens are lightened, cares dispelled, sorrows banished and hope made to reign triumphant, where fear and despondency held high carnival.

Get the glow and radiance from such nearness to the throne as God permits his own. Bring from a holy and divine communion a face luminous with light and let it glow and shine on all around. A little child on the street of a great city wishing to cross at a point where the surging throng and the passing vehicles made the feat dangerous to the strong, and especially to the weak, paused, hesitated, and then asked a sunny-faced gentleman to carry her across. It was the sunny face that won the child's confidence. Childhood makes no mistakes.—Exchange.

ART OF YIELDING.

Yielding may be a sign of strength or of weakness. Compromise may arise either out of a limp indifference or out of a readiness to acknowledge that one does not live alone in the world. Every individual is within himself a compromise of his own tastes, powers, and desires. Some of these must yield, at times, that others may have their sway. The desk resigns in favor of the dinner-bell, and fresh air comprises with the radiator. So long as men differ, and yet must live together, they will have to study the art of yielding in a good cause without letting go of the cause itself.—Sunday School Times.

Fifty Years Ago.

This is the cradle in which there grew
That thought of a philanthropic brain;
A remedy that would make life new
For the multitudes that were racked with pain.
'Twas sarsaparilla, as made, you know
By Ayer, some 50 years ago.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

was in its infancy half a century ago. To-day it doth "bestride the narrow world like a colossus." What is the secret of its power? Its cures! The number of them! The wonder of them! Imitators have followed it from the beginning of its success. They are still behind it. Wearing the only medal granted to sarsaparilla in the World's Fair of 1893, it points proudly to its record. Others imitate the remedy; they can't imitate the record:

50 Years of Cures.

PEACE INSTITUTE FOR YOUNG LADIES. RALEIGH, N. C.

This Institute offers thorough collegiate courses in English, History, Literature, Mathematics, Sciences, Ancient and Modern Languages, Music, Art, Elocution and Physical Culture.

As to its high standard for graduation, its thoroughness of instruction, its moderate charges for the advantages offered, and the extent of its courses in Art and Music, this Institute cannot be surpassed.

It offers also thorough preparatory courses. Correspondence solicited.

Board and English Tuition One Year $200.

For illustrated catalogue and full particulars, address the Principal,
JAS. DINWIDDIE, M. A., University of Virginia.
Term begins Sept. 16th, 1896. Closes first of June.

The Normal & Collegiate Institute

For Young Women.

ASHEVILLE, N. C. SPRING TERM OPENING FEB. 1st. 1897

OFFERS TO THE STUDENTS:

1. A Classical Course, including Ancient and Modern Languages, Science, Music, Drawing, etc.
2. A Normal Course for the thorough training of Teachers under instructors from the best Normal Schools.
3. Commercial Course, including Stenography, Type-writing, Book-keeping, etc.
4. Domestic Science, including Scientific Cooking, Draughting, Cutting, Fitting and Making of garments.

Systematic study of the Bible in all departments.

Terms for Board and Tuition in any of the departments, $50 per term, or half school year.

☞ For catalogue, address

REV. THOS. LAWRENCE, D. D
ASHEVILLE, N. C.

Cluster Springs High School

(On Lynchburg and Durham R. R., six miles from N. C. line)

BLACK WALNUT, VIRGINIA.

For boys and young men. A well equipped high school at a most pleasant, accessible, and healthful location. Lithia, sulphur, iron, and pure waters. Good buildings and improved school equipments. Swimming Pool, Gymnasium, and Athletic Field. Special attention to manners and development of character. Thorough instruction. Three teachers. Prepares for college or for business. Our certificates admit to College. Tuition and home $——. Our catalogue tell, all about it. Address,

REV. T. S. WILSON, President,
or E. L. BARNES, A. B., Principal

A. D. BROWN,

Successor to Brown & Roddick,

29 NORTH FRONT STREET, WILMINGTON, N. C.

IMPORTER OF FINE

DRY GOODS AND CARPETS,

ORIENTAL AND DOMESTIC RUGS,

"WARNER'S CORSETS," "HER MAJESTY'S CORSETS,"

"THOMPSON'S GLOVE FITTING CORSETS," "R & G" AND "FERRIS" CORSETS.

"FOSTER" KID GLOVES, "KAYSER" SILK GLOVES.

"HUDNUT'S" EXQUISITE TOILET REQUISITES.

Mail Orders Given Special Attention.

Sabbath School Dep't.

CONDUCTED BY REV. A. D. McCLURE.

Second Quarter—Lesson VII.

May 16, 1897.—Acts xiv :11-22.

Commit to memory verses 21, 22.

Subject.—Paul Preaching to the Gentiles.

Golden Text. "I have set thee to be a light to the Gentiles." Acts xiii :47.

CATECHISM.

Question 39. What rule did God at first reveal to man for his obedience?

Answer. The rule which God at first revealed to man for his obedience was the moral law.

Time. A. D. 46.

Places. Antioch in Pisidia, Iconium, Lystra and Derbe.

INTRODUCTORY.

In order to understand the lesson this whole section from xiii : 44 to xiv : 28, should be read. It all bears upon the reception of the Gentiles and the endorsement of Paul's course by the Church in Jerusalem which we are to study in the next lesson. It includes the preparation for this in Paul's rejection by the Jews of Antioch and Iconium and his turning to the Gentiles. The apostles remained at Antioch in Pisidia from two to six months from August to the following winter. The excitement produced by the preaching of Paul and Barnabas was very great and stirred up the jealousy of the unbelieving Jews. They were willing that the Gentiles should be saved in subjection to them, but not independently. Then Paul took a bold stand, declaring that the opposition had condemned themselves by their actions as unworthy of eternal life. Henceforth in Antioch they would turn to the Gentiles among whom they had success. Being expelled by persecution from Antioch they came to Iconium about sixty miles northeast of Antioch, in Lycaonia, where they remained several months, of winter and spring. Being driven from Iconium, they came to Lystra, six hours by road, twenty-five miles directly south southwest from Iconium. Lystra was a military center. Here was wrought one of the few miracles recorded of Paul. He healed a lame man, whereat the present lesson begins.

LESSON NOTES.

Vs. 11. The speech of Lycaonia. Probably a dialect of the people in the great plain in the centre of Asia Minor, as only the educated understood Greek. The gods are come down. Was an idea made familiar by their mythology teaching that there many gods who loved, hated, spoke, acted, cheated and cabaled like men, and came down from Olympus when it suited them and assumed any form as it pleased their fancy or purpose. This could not consist with thought.

Vs. 12. Called Barnabas Jupiter. Their chief god and tutelary deity. They compared Barnabas rather than Paul, probably because Barnabas was the elder and of a more imposing presence. Mercurius is Mercury who was the messenger and spokesman of the gods and the god of eloquence.

Vs. 13. Jupiter is "the Jupiter" the statue of Jupiter which together with a temple or shrine was before their city as its guardian. Prof. Ramsay thinks he has discovered the mounds of its ruins. Brought oxen to be offered in sacrifice, and garlands to decorate the animals or the temporary altar which they meant to place before the gates of the house where the apostles were.

Vs. 14. When the apostles. Who were within and from the structure of oriental houses would not see the procession coming heard the noise of the multitude or were told by some messenger, they rent their clothes as expressive of their horror and extreme disapprobation. Ran in among the people. Sprang forth among the multitude, that they might put an end to the delusion.

Vs. 15. Men of like passions Not gods, as you suppose, but suffering, mortal, tempted men such as you are. Preach. "Proclaim the glad tidings," the better to turn them from these vanities to serve the living God. "The words 'vanity' and 'vain' were almost the invariable terms used by Jews to describe the emptiness and worthlessness of heathen worship." Plumtre.

Vs. 16. Suffered. Endured, permitted. To walk in their own ways. To try what they could do with ordinary reasoning light and help that their failures might prepare and dispose them to receive the Messiah when He came.

Vs. 17. Left not Himself without a witness of the chosen people, and their teachers, prophets and Scriptures, and of His goodness and mercy, that they should love, obey and serve Him.

Vs. 18. Scarce restrained they the people. And put away the temptation of prosperity to seek the glory of men.

Vs. 19. Then came thither Jews. To thwart the purpose and hinder the progress of the Gospel if they could. This showed the value they put on the power of the apostles and the importance of the cause of Christ. Having stoned Paul. With the most common form of capital punishment Supposing he was dead. As the enemies of truth oft think as when like Paul it is only stunned and will rise and return to power.

Vs. 20. As the disciples. Whom Paul had won to Christ, and among whom was Timothy probably. Stood around about him. Mourning and praying. He stood up. Not probably from death, but from bruises when he "despaired even of life." His quick recovery shows a special mercy and grace of God. To Derbe. A two days journey and the furthest limit of Paul's first missionary journey.

Vs. 21. They returned again. Thus revisiting the churches they had planted in four cities on this journey. They needed strengthening and confirming which must be given at whatever cost. It required no little courage to return to the places from which they had been driven

Vs. 22. Confirming the souls of the disciples. By giving instruction and encouragement and placing over them pastors and rulers (Vs. 23.) Tribulation is from the Latin tribulum which was a threshing instrument to separate the grain from the husks. As through suffering the Christian is conformed to the likeness of Jesus Christ and made perfect in sympathy and love like the Master, so as to wean from this world and prepare them to enter into the kingdom of God.

PRACTICAL POINTS.

One of the best things for churches is to be trained to living and giving and laboring for the planting and helping of other churches—in such work.

1. Crowds and commendation are not success nor proof of success or right.

2. Abusive language is an argument against those who use it.

3. Those who refuse the Gospel condemn themselves.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

Lesson for week ending Sunday, May 16th, 1897.

BY REV. B. E. WALLACE.

Topic for May 16th : Some Things Worth Living For. 1 John 2 : 12-17.

Text for the week :

"For to me to live is Christ."Philippians 1 :21.

Daily Readings :

Monday, Christ's Approval, Matt. 25 : 14-23.

Tuesday, Honor From Men, 1 Samuel 16 : 14-23.

Wednesday, Love, Gen 29 : 1-20.

Thursday, Strength, Isa. 40 : 12-31.

Friday, Joy, Psa. 40 : 1-8.

Saturday, Heaven, Matt 25 : 31-36.

Sunday, Topic, 1 Jno. 2 ; 12-17.

Suggestions for Leaders :

1. Give out before hand questions to be answered in the meeting

2. Let some one give Paul's estimate of the thing worth living for.

3 Have another to give examples of men to-day who are showing that the true life is that given to God in humble service for sinful men.

Notes :

The very fact that we are living proves to us that God has some purpose in our lives. What has God created me for? What is my life worth to Him? What is eternal life with Him worth to me? We should think on these things.

The chief end of man is to glorify God and enjoy Him forever.

The whole duty of men, says the wise man, is to fear God and keep his commandments. Paul says, "For to me to live is Christ." The greatest thing worth living for in this life is, the glory of God.

Is riches worth living for? They take the wings of the morning and fly away.

Is fame worth living for? It is but the glow of a moment.

Is worldly pleasure worth living for? It is but a passing dream.

Character is worth living for if it is built in Christ.

Love is worth living for if it is born of God.

Life is worth living if it is hid with Christ in God. Do not shape your life after a model, A model belongs to art and is copied. Shape your life after an example. An example belongs to arithmetic—it is problem—a sum to be solved worked. Life is an example to be added, substracted, multiplied, divided, squared, proportioned, etc.

Paul is a model. Christ is an example. Let us take Christ as our sum in this life and the answer will be eternal life in the world to come.

OPEN DOOR NOTES.

The Immanuel Junior Endeavorers in one week raised $18.47 for the starving ones of India. Took in three new members at last meeting. Will have a picnic next Saturday. Our Juniors are working. Rev. B. E. Wallace, pastor.

Thinking that perhaps some of our leaders have been wondering just how to end up their work for the year, we write a little account of the tea given by the Sunshine Band, Wilmington. This band is composed of girls from ten to sixteen. Although it was a stormy afternoon, thirty or forty of their little friend met with them. The meeting was opened by a hymn, then in the absence of the pastor, who was to have given a little talk upon missions, one of the ladies read the report for the year, also a letter received from Mrs. Edgar Woods, of China. A member of the band was appointed to write Mrs. Woods. After a short prayer and singing the afternoon was given up to pleasant pastime. Bright songs, a recitation from Eugene Field, and games were enjoyed. Tea was served in dainty cups upon the saucers of which had been placed Marechal Niels as a souvenir of the evening. Wafers were also served. The church parlors were brightened by roses and a basket was place handy for mites. The Sunshine Band is, the Banner Circle of the Westminster League of the First church.

PUZZLE DEPARTMENT.

ANSWERS FOR APRIL 22ND.

King Ahab—Henry Fries Primrose.

Nathaniel, John 1 : 47—Maggie Hall, Henry Fries Primrose.

The son of the Shunammite, 2 Kings 5 : 37. Eutychus, Acts 20 : 10. The son of the widow, 1 Kings 17 : 20. Jairus daughter, Matthew 9 : 25. The widow's son, Luke 7 : 14. Lazarus, John 11 : 44. Tabitha, Acts 9 : 41. With our Saviour I have found 8. Maggie Hall.

The Query was Saul afterwards called Paul- Maggie Hall, Henry Fries Primrose.

[Sometimes by mistake we have the same question asked twice by different ones. We have to lay such questions aside, though it may have been some time since the first appeared. This happens very seldom, however, and we are always glad to hear from the girls and boys.]

Where is "raisins" found in the Bible?
Mary A. Thompson.

Who fell dead while conducting the ark towards Jerusalem?
Myrtle Wilkinson.

I am composed of fourteen letters.
My 1, 12, 6, 5, was a town near Jerusalem.
My 2, 3, 7, was the mother of all living.
My 4, 5, 7, 11, was a heroic woman.
My 5, 6, 12, 8, 12, was a son of Jether.
My 4, 2, 8, 9, 7, was the father of the second king of Israel.
My 5, 6, 12, 11, 7, 14, was a grandson of Esau.
My 10, 12, 5, 11, was a god of the Philistines.
My 13, 12, 11, 2, 10, was one of the spies.
My whole is a Presbyterian minister.
LELIA DENNY.

I CURE FITS

When I say I cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again. I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a lifelong study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Postoffice address.

Prof. W. H. PEEKE, F. D., 4 Cedar St., New York

MARRIED.

☞No notice of a marriage or death will be inserted unless accompanied by a responsible name, which is wanted not for publication but as a guaranty of good faith.

STEWART—THOMPSON.—On April 28th, 1897, at the residence of the bride's mother, 8.15 a. m., in Wilmington, N.C., by Rev. A. D. McClure, Mr. James C. Stewart and Miss Ida E Thompson.

FARMER— BURNETT. — On April 28th, 1897, in Wilmington, N. C., 9 15 p. m, by Rev. A. D. McClure, Mr. J. Bailey Farmer and Miss Estella A. Burnett.

McINTYRE—COBLE.—On April 29th, 1897, in the Presbyterian church at Laurinburg, by Rev. W. B. Arrowood, Mr. Jeff McIntyre and Miss Theresa Coble, daughter of the late Rev. J. H. Coble.

HAYWOOD—McAULAY.—On April 21st, 1897, at the home of the bride's father, Mount Gilead, N. C., by Rev. Archie McLauchlin, Mr. W. F. Haywood and Miss Annie D. McAulay.

SCOTT—CRONE.—On April 29th, 1897, in Lexington, Va., by the Rev. Robert M. Latimer, D. D., Mr. John McComb Scott, of Rockbridge county, Va., and Miss Minnie Crone, of Lexington, Va.

DIED.

☞We publish free 10 lines of Obituary Notices, of any kind—Tributes of Respect, Resolutions of Sabbath-schools, Ladies' Societies, &c. And we charge for over 10 lines at the rate of 10 cents per line. The cost may be calculated by counting the words in the manuscript, and allowing seven words to the line.

RANKIN.—At her home near Alamance church, April 9th, 1897, Mrs. Nancy A. Rankin, aged between sixty and sixty-five years. She was for twenty-nine years a consistent member of Alamance church. In the absence of the pastor the funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Michaux, of the P. M. Church. Her end was peace.
PASTOR.

HUNT.—At the home of her brother-in law, Mr. W. R. Walker, Leaksville, N. C., on March 19th, Agnes Faucette Hunt, wife of Mr. D. C. Hunt, of Oxford, and daughter of the late Rev. T. U. Faucette, aged twenty-three years. A great sufferer for several months before her death, but patient and submissive under it all. For nine years a member of the Presbyterian church. Lovely in character, cheerful and affectionate in disposition, she made friends of both young and old. It is indeed sad to think that so fair a form should have to moulder away, but thanks be unto God for the glorious hope beyond the tomb. With her "all is well !"

SECULAR NEWS.

NORTH CAROLINA.

A 200 room hotel will be built at Carthage.

Salisbury will extend her main street out to the railroads shops at Spencer.

Rain in Wilmington and vicinity on Friday and Saturday did much good to truck.

The number of strawberry crates shipped from Wilmington on the 30th ult., was very close to 12,000.

Slight shocks of earthquake were felt in Lenoir, Hickory, Elkin and Winston on Monday last.

Reports come from Kenansville that the huckleberry crop has been severely injured by frost.

Maxton had a $3,000 fire last week destroying the carriage repair shop of Mr. W. H. Wilcox.

President Alderman of the University will deliver the annual address before the graduating class of the Charlotte Graded School, May 19th.

Among the works of art at the Woman's Exposition are Mr. Dangerfield's Grandfather Mountain, And Angels Came and Ministered Unto Him and They Were Troubled, Saying It is a Spirit. Mr. Wanamaker will give the use of a war scene by Grolleron.

DOMESTIC.

Three persons were killed and fifteen injured by the plunging of an electric car through a bridge at Portland, Ore., last week.

The U. S. cruiser Brooklyn will attend the Queen's Jubilee at London. The Brooklyn has been officially tested and commended.

The Hugh McCulloch, a composite built vessel of 1,300 displacement, is intended for service on the Pacific.

It is reported that 100,000 crates of tomatoes will be shipped from Manatee county, Fla., before June 1st.

Three persons were fatally injured and several slightly, by a collision of F. C. & P. train and electric car in Tampa, Fla., last week. The motorman was also acting as conductor and at the time was receiving fares.

FOREIGN.

M. G. Averoff, a Greek millionaire of Paris, who was instrumental in reviving the Olympian games, has subscribed $6,000,000 toward the Greek war fund.

ENCOURAGING.

Nashville, Tenn., April 28th, 1897.

(The following letter from Rev. L. G. Mora, relates one of the most encouraging events that has yet occurred in our Mexican work. That the Church in the midst of its great poverty should be willing to undertake this enterprise, and that the pastor elect should be willing to make the sacrifice involved in accepting the work, are the best proofs that could be given of the genuineness and thoroughness of the work done in Matamoras and Brownsville by our missionaries.)
S. H. C.

Matamoros, Mexico, April 23d, 1897.

It is under the influence of the most profound gratitude to our Lord and Savior that I write this letter to our beloved Executive Committee of Foreign Missions. The cause of my soul's joy is so great, that if I should hold my peace I am afraid the stones would immediately cry out.

God, the Lord of Missions, is blessing your work in Mexico. The first signs of permanent evangelical work in your field in Mexico were given Sunday the 18th of this flowered spring month, as foretelling a beautiful beginning of a great work for Christ and His kingdom. Our two churches of Matamoros and Brownsville most nobly have decided to call me for all my time, and pay my salary.

It is true they can pay me but about half of what I have been receiving, but eagerly I accepted, for I am longing, starving for self-support of the Mexican evangelical churches. I had the resolution for some years past, to watch the first movements in that direction and help them with all my might. Time has come, and for nothing in this world I would loose my grasp on this opportunity. God is blessing me most wonderfully for I feel no fear for the future; I know that my large family will be provided, even if our churches could not give me but $30 per month Mexican money—because we are ready for the sacrifice.

Allow me the privilege, Dear Brother, to thank—from the very depths of my heart—the Church abroad, through the Executive Committee of Foreign Missions, for the noble support of this part of our work for over twenty years. Be sure, brethren, "that your labor is not in vain in the Lord." The beginning of a grand and glorious era is before us; but it was you who gave the start and God will give you the reward. The story of our triumphs will belong to you and our gratitude will be eternal. May our churches bear the image of their noble mother! May the Great and Merciful God and Saviour bless the Southern Presbyterian Church!

Yours in the hope of conquering Mexico for Christ,
L. G. MORA.

The Spring storms strike hard those who are thin in flesh, whose system is weak and nerves irritable. The sharp, cutting pains of neuralgia tell when the blow has taken effect. Why wait for the signal? Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites will feed and strengthen weak nerves. It should be taken as a preventive in every case of weakness and nerve exhaustion. "Early prevention is better than cure." So says the wise man.

For sale by all druggists at 50 cents and $1.00.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

$200 00 IN GOLD GIVEN.

Special Interest to Students and Teachers.

International News and Book Company, Baltimore, Md., make a most liberal offer of $200.00 in gold, for selling 200 copies of "Gems of Religious Thought," by Talmage or "Talks to Children about Jesus." These books are among the most popular ever published One agent sold 21 in two days, another 55 the first week. Freight paid, credit given. A few general Agents wanted on salary. A splendid opportunity for Teachers and Students to make money during their summer vacation. Write them immediately.

THE McSHANE BELL FOUNDRY CO. SOLE MAKERS OF THE BUCKEYE BELLS FOR CHURCH, SCHOOL, FIRE ALARM &c. Catalogue with 2500 testimonials, Prices and Terms FREE.

Mention this paper.

OPERA CHAIRS.

OWING TO THE ALTERATION in St. Andrews Church, we offer for sale 70 to 80 Opera Chairs. These chairs are good as new, backs upholstered in Red Plush, hat rack and coat rack on each, and book rack on alternate chairs. Will be sold cheap. Apply to
THOMAS F. BAGLEY,
Treasurer.

MONEY TO LOAN.

on Eight Years Time, secured by Mortgage on Real Estate. Monthly payment, savings investment stock for sale, also FULL PAID COUPON STOCK, with semi annual cash dividends. Loans made promptly in any part of the State. Agents wanted. Address,

Mechanics and Investors Union

22 Pullen Building, Raleigh, N. C.

A Beautiful, Fitting, and Enduring Memento

For Personal Possession and Study

Is Found in the

New Holy Land Art Portfolios

ENTITLED

Palestine Photographed.

Every Student of the Bible,

Every Student of History,

Every Lover of Art

Should Have It.

This desirable book comprises 64 beautiful engravings from views taken in 1894. Each scene is accurately and eloquently described by two distinguished divines, Bishop Vincent and Dr. Lee. The work should find a place in every Christian home.

Any paid up subscriber to the PRESBYTERIAN can obtain this book upon remitting 25 cents.

We Want You

to subscribe for the Presbyterian Quarterly. It is the one magazine all Presbyterians should read. Its articles are written by eminent Presbyterians—both clergymen and laymen—to Presbyterians. It is edited under the auspices of an association of ministers of the Presbyterian Church.

Every article in it is vitally interesting—it is orthodox—is progressive—stimulates study and investigation.

The Presbyterian Quarterly has always been $2.00 a year and has always been worth it. It is now $1.00 a year but is still worth $3.00. We have lowered its price because we want to put it in every Presbyterian's hands, but there has been no change in either the number of pages or the appearance of the magazine. Send for a sample copy.

Whittet & Shepperson,
Box 236. Richmond, Va.

FOR THE FAMILY.

WHAT SHOULD WE DO?

"What should we do for missions?"
Well, well!
The question is proper, and so let me tell
What we should do for the missions.
And first let me say, by way of appeal,
To all our dear readers. "You kindly should feel
The sweetest of love for missions.

"For love begets goodness; and goodness, you know,
On errands of duty and mercy will go,
And circle the world with its missions;
And so, when our heads and our hearts are all right,
We shall do with our hands, and do with our might,
And cheerfully do for our missions."

"But what shall we do?" Well, first, every day
Be sure from our fullness of heart we should pray
For the blessings of God on our missions;
And then every Christian, no matter how small,
No matter how weak, may expect there will fall
The dews of His grace on our missions.

And then we should give as God gives the dew,
The rain, and the sunshine, to bless me and you,
And give all we can for the missions.
To pray without giving—well, well, let us see—
May never reach heaven, nor bless you nor me,
Nor be of much use to the missions.

—Canada Presbyterian.

TENNESSEE'S CENTENNIAL.

At Nashville on May 1st, Tennessee threw open the doors of her grand exposition. The result of two years hard, persevering and patriotic work has succeeded beyond all expectation.

The whole people stood sponsor for the success of the undertaking. Tennessee was the first State to celebrate her centennial anniversary, and she must do it not only in such style as befitted the dignity of the commonwealth, but as to set an example and standard for her younger sisters.

A beautiful array of buildings has been erected, and a vast collection of exhibits gathered from every part of the world. The site of the exposition has been wisely chosen, in easy access to the city.

The fine art building is an exact reproduction of the Parthenon, and its numberless columns of glistening white staff make it a good representation of the marble original. The chief departments arranged by the management are fine arts, agriculture and history, commerce, liberal arts, horticulture and farm implements, transportation, machinery, electricity, geology, minerals and mining, forestry and forest products, live stock and pet animals, education, military, women's, children's hygiene, medicine and sanitary appliances, negro, etc. Besides this, many States have individual buildings, and the United States has erected a building and furnished an exhibit.

The woman's building was designed by Mrs. Sara Ward Conley, and is of colonial style, being, as near as practicable, a copy of the Hermitage, General Jackson's famous home. This building has been furnished by the women of the different counties. One county contributes a room lined with the rare red cedar found in middle Tennessee; another gives a fountain made of the exquisite marble for which it is famous; a third, a carved mantle; still another a room furnished in colonial style, the exact counterpart of a room which is in an old house in Cambridge, Mass., once the headquarters of General Washington, and afterwards the home of Lonfellow.

Here will be gathered together the most complete library ever written by women. A room filled with models of all the mechanical devices invented by women. Embroideries and patient handiwork of every kind, three rooms given up to the art and needlework of the women of foreign countries. The Russian cottage industries will be under the supervision of a Russian princess. Cooking lessons will be given free, and all the latest devices in labor-saving domestic appliances will be represented.

The finest piece of statuary on the grounds is the work of Miss Enid Yandell, of Louisville. It is a gigantic statue of Athene, and stands on an eighteen foot pedestal, in front of the Parthenon.

The board of lady managers has been ably supported by other faithful and earnest women in making their centennial a success.—Picayune.

A sick person trying to keep up on mere stimulating tonics is like any one pretending to swim while supported by a belt. The instant the support is withdrawn down you go.

Nearly all diseases result from a deep-seated impairment of the nutritive powers which cannot be reached by any temporary exhilaration. The only good that any medicine can do is to increase your own natural powers of recovery and make you able to swim for yourself.

The debilitating weakness, nervousness and digestive disorder which indicates this state of mal-nutrition can only be overcome by a scientific remedy like Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which acts directly upon the digestive and blood-making organs, and effects the nutritive transformation of food into rich, healthy blood, which carries genuine permanent vitality to every corner of the system.

It is vastly more nutritious than malt-extracts. It does not paralyze the nerves, but feeds them with health. It is better than cod liver oil emulsions. It is assimilated by the weakest stomachs. It does not make flabby useless fat, but muscular strength and healthy nerve-force. It is the only perfect invigorant for corpulent people.

Mrs. Ella Howell, of Derby, Perry Co., Ind., writes: "In the year of 1894 I was taken with stomach trouble—nervous dyspepsia. There was a coldness in my stomach, and a weight which seemed like a rock. Everything that I ate gave me great pain; I had a bearing down sensation; was swelled across my stomach; had a ridge around my right side, and in a short time I was bloated. I was treated by three of our best physicians but got no relief. Then Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was recommended to me and I got it, and commenced the use of it. I began to see a change for the better. I was so weak I could not walk across the room without assistance. I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and one bottle of the 'Pleasant Pellets.' I began to improve very fast after the use of a few bottles. The physicians who attended me said I had 'dropsy' and that my disease was leading into pulmonary consumption. I had quite a cough, and the home physicians gave me up to die. I thank God that my cure is permanent."

PREMIUMS.

No. 1. For 21 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Hunting case, jointed front and back 18 size and guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $20.00.

No. 2. For 16 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Open face, 18 size, 14 karat filled case, screw back and bezel, guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $15.00.

No. 3. For 17 new subscribers at 1.50 for first year, we will give a Ladies' Gold Watch Hunting case, 6 size, stem winder, 14 karat, filled case, screw beze—guaranteed 20 years—retails at $16.00

No. 4. For12 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give a Gents' Silver Watch: 18 size, plain case, open face—retails at $12.50.

No. 5. For 10 new subscribers a Ladies' Silver Watch, 0 size, plain case, open face—retails for $10.00.

No. 6. For 8 new subscribers, we will give a Nickel Watch, 18 size, screw bezel—retails for $7.00.

No. 7. For 7 new subscribers, we will give solid silver teaspoons—retails for $6.00.

No. 8. For 4 new subscribers, a sugar spoon, sterling gilt engraved—retails at $3.00.

The articles will all be first-class from a jeweller of established reputation.

New subscribers means not change of address to some one else—that would be fraud—but bona fide new subscribers.

For $1.75 we will send the paper for the first year to a new subscriber and a copy of Palestine Photographed. This album contains 64 actual photographic reproductions of picturesque and historical places in the Holy Land on enameled pages, and is a thing of beauty. The descriptive foot notes are good and enhance the interest.

We regard this as a specially desirable premium.

To any one paying up or renewing their subscription and sending $2.25 we will send this album as apremium

Cotton.

With careful rotation of crops and liberal fertilizations, cotton lands will improve. The application of a proper fertilizer containing sufficient Potash often makes the difference between a profitable crop and failure. Use fertilizers containing not less than 3 to 4%

Actual Potash.

Kainit is a complete specific against "Rust."

All about Potash—the results of its use by actual experiment on the best farms in the United States—is told in a little book which we publish and will gladly mail free to any farmer in America who will write for it.

GERMAN KALI WORKS,
93 Nassau St., New York.

$4 PER DAY SURE SALARY OR COMMISSION.

DO you want honorable, steady employment the year round, at good wages, at your own home or to travel? If so, send 4c in stamps for our wholesale price-list and particulars. We furnish best of bank references.

AMERICAN TEA CO.,
Detroit, Michigan.

Special Offer.

VALUABLE BOOKS,
Issued by the Presbyterian Committee of Publication.

Theology of Prayer. Dr. Palmer	$2 00
Life of Thornwell	1 50
Gifts of the Holy Spirit. Dr. Vaughan	2 00
Life of Dr. J. Leighton Wilson. Dr. Dubose	1 00
Preaching in Sinim. Dr. DuBose. Paper, 60 cts.; cloth	1 00
Life of Rev. William S. White	1 50
History of the Presbyterian Church. Dr. Kerr	1 00
Christ and the Cherubim Dr. Otts, pp. 63	50
Voice of God in History. Dr. Kerr	1 25
and of the Holy Light. Dr. Kerr	1 50
Thornwell's Works. 4 vols. Per vol	3 00
Dabney's Discussions. 3 vols. Per vol	4 00
Peck's Miscellanies. Vol. I. and II. Per vol	2 00
Discourses on Redemption, Dr. Robinson	1 50
The Sacraments. Dr. Armstrong	1 50
Sermons. Given to Christ, etc. Dr. Pratt	1 50
Bible Baptism. The Great Baptizer. Dr. S. J. Baird	1 25
Presbyterian Digest. Dr. Alexander	4 00
William the Baptist. Dr. J. M. Chaney. Cloth, 60 cts.; paper	25
Hymns to the Holy Spirit. Dr. Stratton	60
Prayer for the Use of Families. Dr. Stratton	60
Extracts from an Elder's Diary. Dr. Stratton	75
Hand Book for Ruling Elders. Dr. Watkins	75
Studies in the Epistles of John. Dr. Cocke	85
Letters to a Young Presbyterian. Dr. Waddell	75
Standards of the Presbyterian Church. Dr. Beattie	2 00
Sermons. Southern Presbyterian Pulpit	1 50
Church Portals. Dr. Vance	75

Twenty-five per cent. discount to ministers, but when a $15 cash order is made at one time, a discount of 40 per cent. will be given.

Books of all other publishers will be furnished at publishers' prices, less 25 per cent. discount, except in case of net books.

JAS. K. HAZEN, Sec'y and Treas.,
Richmond, Va.

W., N. & N. RAILWAY.

In Effect Sunday, Oct, 27, 1895.

DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY.

NORTH BOUND.	STATIONS.	SOUTH BOUND.
8		7
P. M.	— WILMINGTON —	P. M.
2 00	Lv Mulberry St. Ar	12 40
3 58	Lv Jacksonville Lv	10 42
4 30	Lv. . Maysville . . Lv	10 09
4 44	Lv Pollocksville Lv	9 55
5 20	Ar. . Newbern . . Lv	9 20
P. M.		A. M.

Trains 8 and 7 p m make connection with trains on A & N C R R for Morehead City and Beaufort.

Connection with Steamer Neuse at Newbern to and from Elizabeth City and Norfolk Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Steamer Geo D Purdy makes daily trips between Jacksonville and New River points.

H. A. WHITING,
General Manager.

J. W. MARTENIS,
Traffic Manager.

CHILDREN'S COLUMN.

MAY.

The posies have come and the birds are all here,
Pouring forth their glad warblings in melodies clear;
The robin, the swallow, the oriole gay,
The bluebird, the wren and the bright-feathered jay;
And sweet-scented violets hide in the grass
To kiss the footsteps of the children who pass,
While the clover and pansies look up to the breeze,
And pink-petaled blossoms look down from the trees.

—Ladies Home Journal.

THE GRANGERS—A HAPPY FAMILY.

BY RACHEL RICHARDSON.

CONCLUSION.

The Holmeses were very much taken with the Honor Roll," and "Manners Box" of the Grangers, and one rainy Sunday night when they couldn't go to church, they asked Aunt Susie if she would not talk to their mother about the plan.

"May be we can try it," said Ruth. "Let me tell you one thing though Aunt Susie, If I am going to try for Honor Rolls at Home, you will have to make very few rules, and make them very simple."

There was such a comical expression on Allyn's face when he said this, that everybody laughed.

Teddy said very earnestly: "I think so too." Ted knew that he and Jerry Granger were enough alike to be twin brothers.

When Mrs. Holmes came they all tried to tell her at once what they wanted.

She put her hands to her ears and said: "Let your Aunt Susie tell me please!" Miss Susie then told her that they were anxious to try an Honor Roll, if she was willing.

Mrs. Holmes has heard her sister speak of the Grangers' happy family, and the children had repeated some of the stories Miss Susie had told, and she was especially anxious to-night to discuss the secret of their happiness. She felt that it would help her as well as the children, so when they were all gathered around Aunt Susie she said:

"Sue, what do you believe is the secret of the happiness of the Grangers? I think you told me that you never saw any of them sulk or say a rude word."

"It is this; Prompt obedience," was the quick reply." That is the secret of the children's side. On the other were these two simple rules: First. Don't have too many rules, and keep those yourself. Second. Wear a smiling face. I do not ever remember hearing Nannie Granger say an impatient word to her children. Her patience seemed inexhaustible. The children all knew as soon as they were old enough to understand that their mama meant what she said. If they began to disobey, either that wonderful little bell, or a word, generally just their name spoken firmly, but pleasantly, reminded them."

"Well," said Mrs. Holmes, "let us see if we can't learn something from them. Allyn did I hear you say you wanted us to have an Honor Roll?"

Everybody laughed here, because Allyn seemed so startled, he had hardly made up his mind that he wanted an Honor Roll yet, but he said:

Well mama, I suppose we could never get on the Roll, but if you begin right easy, maybe we might have a Holmes Honor Roll."

Mrs. Holmes smiled, but sadly, for she was afraid that in her fear of being too strict and having too many "Donts," she had erred on the other side.

"Suppose you make us a few rules mama, and write them in big letters on a paper, and haug them all about where we can see them when we look up, and then let us try to keep them, was Ruth's suggestion.

Maude was a timid, excitable child, and she said at once:

"Oh, mama, if you do that, I'll just be forgetting all the time. Can't people live happily without rules?"

"God did not think so dear," aunt answered.

"What do you mean, Aunt Susie?" asked Teddie in a tone of surprise.

"Didn't God give us the commandments? They are rules. And then we have a number of commandments that the Saviour gave—all beautiful rules by which we must live if we would please Him."

The children were all thoughtful and went off to bed quietly.

The next morning when they came to breakfast table, there was a large card hanging against the mantlepiece, and this is what was on it:

HOLMES HONOR ROLL RULES.

Prompt Obedience.
Be ready for Prayers.
Remember that table manners count everywhere.
Be polite in the kitchen and on the playground as well as in the parlor.
It is stealing not to study faithfully.
The Sabbath is God's day.
Kind words are seeds planted.
Don't teaze.
Be gentle.
A place for everything and everything in its place.

"Whew!" exclaimed Allyn, "there are ten of them. I'll forget the first before I get to the last one."

"I think not if you trust to God to help you," said Aunt Susie. She knew that there would be much discussion of them—enough to fix the rules very firmly in their minds.

And so the Holmes family began to follow the Granger's plan from that day.

Though Allyn talked as if he could never have his name on the Honor Roll, he began to try—and both his mother and aunt were delighted to see how soon the charm worked, not only with Allyn, but with all of them.

The Holmes family was happier than it had ever been and there was not one who did not silently bless the Grangers, and thank Aunt Susie for introducing them to the Happy Family.

OUR HONOR ROLL.

We are glad to publish this week the names of Berta Sloop, Hazy Sloop and Lelia McConnell as having recited perfectly the Shorter Catechism. These girls are all members of Prospect Sunday-school, Mooresville, N. C.

As you learn the catechism or portions of Scripture, send us your names.

LETTER-BOX.

Dear Editor:—We are twin sisters nine years old. We go to school every day. Cousin Mary Hughes is our teacher. We have three sisters. Effie six, Carrie four, and Henrietta one year old. By learning a text every night and repeating it to mama at breakfast, we have learned several short Psalms of seven verses like 121 and 23d, a text for each day of the week.

Your little friends,
ANNIE PATTERSON MCMILLAN.
MARY MCGEACHY MCMILLAN.
Parkton, N. C.

Dear Editor:—As I have never written a letter to the PRESBYTERIAN I will write now. I want to surprise my mama. I am a little girl ten years old and I can read and write well. I go to Sunday-school every Sunday and my teacher is Miss Lillie Cole. I am taking music. My teacher is Prof. Roberts and I like him. He is so kind to me. My grandfather and grandmother are living with us. I havn't any sisters and but one brother. My father is dead. He has been dead nearly eight years. My brother is older than I am, so you see I am my mama's pet. I must stop now, but if I see this in print I will write again.

I am your little unknown friend,
ANNIE B. WISHART.
Roberdell, N. C.

Dear Mr. Editor:—As you are so kind as to give the children a corner in your paper I will try to write you a short letter. We have been going to school eight months to our aunt, who is teaching near here and boards with us. I had to stay at home today because it is too cold to go barefooted. We boys took off our shoes while it was warm and I knocked off the end of my big toe so I have to sit by the fire and nurse it. Our school will be out in two weeks. I will be glad so I can plow. Papa thinks I am too little to plow, but I don't think so. I am ten years old

Your friend,
RYAN MCBRYDE.
Ryan, N. C.

Dear Mr. Editor: As you were so kind as to publish my first letter I thought I would write again. To-day is my eleventh birthday. I received one present and mama baked me a cake. Our school is out, but we go to Sunday-school every Sunday at the schoolhouse. We had lots of little biddies but the cat is eating them up. We go to the Presbyterian church occasionally, but live too far to go often. We are looking forward to the huckleberries and peaches, but fear the cold wind will injure them I will answer two questions in the Puzzle Department. Wishing your paper much success,

I am your unknown friend,
LIZZIE MARSHBURN,
Little Sugar Loaf, N. C.

Dear Mr. Editor: I have been wanting to write to your paper for a long time, so I shall write this evening while in school. My teacher is Miss Alice Daniel. I like to go to school. I am studying history, arithmetic, spelling and Latin. I like history and Latin best of all. I am studying the Shorter Catechism. Our pastor is Rev. W. T. Walker, and I hope to see his picture in the PRESBYTERIAN. My father has been taking the PRESBYTERIAN ever since I can remember. Every Sunday we enjoy the pretty little stories in your paper. I hope you will put my letter in the Letter-Box.

Your friend,
NAT DANIEL.
Satterwhite, N. C.

Dear Editor: As I have never written to the PRESBYTERIAN I thought I would do so to-day. I have been a member of the Presbyterian church ever since I was nine years old and now I am eleven. I have one sister, her name is Mary, she is not a member of any church yet. My mother and father are both living. I have been going to school this year, but I have stopped now because I have been sick. I go to Sunday-school every Sunday I can. My Sunday-school teacher is Miss Martha Brown, I like her very much. My every day school teacher is Miss Bettie W. Evans. I take music too. My music teacher is Mrs. Libbie Hall. She is very nice. My aunt takes your good paper and I enjoy reading the Letter Box and the Children's Column very much. My home is in the country and I am staying at Fayetteville going to school. I think I will go home in May. I am in fifth grade at school. My sister is in fourth grade. Her teacher is Miss Georgia Worth. I will close hoping to see this in the Children's Column. I remain

Your unknown friend,
SADIE E GARDNER.
Fayetteville, N. C.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

TEXAS ITEMS.

The Presbytery of Fort Worth, Texas, the infant Presbytery of the Synod, is now in session at Cisco, and the work of the court is being transacted with dispatch. With the exception of two aged brethren, Revs. Zively and Sherrill, faithful exponents of Presbyterianism, the ministers of this Presbytery are comparatively young men. The majority of the churches report gratifying progress. In commenting on the condition of his church, an elder reported that a bachelor member stated that he was not conducting family worship. This item of news produced a ripple of laughter.

Perhaps the readers of the N. C. PRESBYTERIAN will remember that in the year 1893, the town of Cisco was nearly destroyed by a cyclone; all the churches were demolished. The sufferers received from a generous public, in the form of a donation, about fifty-four thousand dollars. Our church building here is a little gem. In fact the town is in better condition than before the storm. It is stated that while between twenty and thirty were killed in the storm, that about fifty subsequently died from the terrible shock to their nervous system. In the home, of whose hospitality the writer is now a sharer, the father and mother sustained physical injury from which they will probably never recover. The only child in the home was unhurt. The building was lifted from its base, blown over the top of young fruit trees, dashed to the ground on an adjoining lot and torn into fragments. The people of the town are truly grateful for the prompt, liberal response made in the hour of extremity. One fact is manifest, that while so much is said of the cold, unsympathetic world in which we live, in the hour of trouble and distress, generous impulses are not wholly extinguished; the world's heart is not so icy after all.

The writer will not encroach upon the prerogative of the stated clerk by furnishing an abstract of the proceedings of Presbytery; but he desires to say, parenthetically, that, owing to press of business, he did not have time to conclude this letter while in Cisco. On his return home he preached Sabbath morning in Gordon, a little town on the Texas and Pacific Railroad. Our church building in Gordon is nearly completed. At the morning service there was not a vacant seat in the church. After the sermon there were two public professions of faith. One of the number united with our church at the evening service. Rev. John V. McCall, to whose indefatigable labors the erection of the church is chiefly attributable, preached at night. In the afternoon the writer rode over to Thurber, a mining town of about four thousand inhabitants. In this "camp," as the miners term it eighteen nationalities are represented. Our people there have no church building, but worship in a house erected by the coal company. As the writer organized the church there a few years ago, it is needless to say that it was peculiarly gratifying to him to revi-it the church and find the little band at work for the Master.

On reaching home the writer found an invitation to address one of the literary societies of the Central School on San Jacinto day, April 21st. This, in Texas, is a legal holiday, a day around which sacred associations cluster. After the address came the Wednesday evening prayer-meeting lecture; three services next Sabbath. "A Texas pastor has his hands full". Perhaps the readers of the N. C. PRESBYTERIAN who responded so generously, last summer, to an appeal for pecuniary aid in behalf of Daniel Baker College, would like to know the status of the institution. The college is doing more effective work than ever, and the apprehension entertained a year ago touching the probability of losing the school to Presbyterianism, is now in a great measure allayed.

Many thanks to friends in North Carolina for timely assistance.

A. R. S.

Cleburne, Texas April 23rd '97.

Presbytery of Lexington will meet at Mt. Carmel church, Steel's Tavern, Va., May 11th, 1897, at 11 a. m.

WM. C. WHITE,
Stated Clerk.

Organized 1832. Assets, $650,000

Tested for Sixty Years.

Virginia Fire and Marine

Insurance Company, of Richmond.

This old Virginia institution issues a short and comprehensive Policy, free of petty restriction and liberal in its terms and conditions.

INSURES AGAINST FIRE and LIGHTNING

All descriptions of Property, in Country and Town—private or public—insured at fair rates, on accommodating terms.

AGENCIES IN EVERY TOWN AND COUNTY.

WM. H. PALMER, President.
W. H. McCARTHY, Secretary.
S. McG. FISHER, Ass't Sec'y.

SEABOARD A.L. AIR LINE

VESTIBULED LIMITED TRAINS. DOUBLE DAILY SERVICE

TO ATLANTA, CHARLOTTE,
ATHENS, WILMINGTON,
NEW ORLEANS,
CHATTANOOGA,
AND
NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA,
WASHINGTON, NORFOLK,
RICHMOND.

Schedule in Effect Feb. 7th, 1897.

WESTWARD.

	No. 41.	No. 403
Lv Wilmington	*3 20pm	.....
Lv Lumberton	5 26pm	.....
Lv Maxton	6 12pm	.....
Lv Laurinburg	6 23pm	.....
Ar Hamlet	6 53pm	.....
Lv Hamlet	7 13pm	*5 am
Lv Rockingham	7 30pm	2 23 am
Lv Wadesboro	8 11pm	.....
Lv Marshville	8 48pm	6 25 am
Ar Monroe	9 13pm	6 48 am
Lv Monroe	9 35pm	7 30 am
Ar Charlotte	10 25pm	8 30 am
Ar Mt. Holly	.....	9 10 am
Ar Lincolnton	.....	10 35 am
Ar Shelby	.....	11 43a m
Ar Ellenboro	.....	12 30p m
ArRutherfordton	.....	12 54p m

†8 40am Lv....Hamlet..Ar 6 20p m
10 00am Ar....Cheraw..Ar †5 00p m

EASTWARD.

	No. 38.	No. 402
LvRutherfordton	.....	*4 35p m
Lv Ellenboro	.....	5 15p m
Lv Shelby	.....	6 05p m
Lv Lincolnton	.....	7 00p m
Lv Mt Holly	.....	7 50p m
Lv Charlotte	*5 10am	8 25p m
Ar Monroe	5 58am	9 10p m
Lv Monroe	6 05am	9 40p m
Lv Marshville	6 25am	.....
Lv Wadesboro	7 01am	10 31 pm
Lv Rockingham	7 41am	11 05p m
Ar Hamlet	7 55am	11 23p m
Lv Hamlet	8 45am	.....
Lv Laurinburg	9 11am	.....
Lv Maxton	9 30am	.....
Lv Lumberton	10 18am	.....
Ar Wilming on	12 30pm	.....

NORTHWARD.

Lv Hamlet	*8 15am	*11 23pm
Ar Raleigh	11 30am	2 11pm
Ar Portsmouth	5 50pm	7 30am
Ar Richmond	*6 50pm	* 8 15am
Ar Washington	11 10pm	12 31pm
Ar New York	6 58am	6 23pm

SOUTHWARD.

Lv Monroe	*6 48am	*9 25p m
Ar Abbeville	11 05am	1 40a m
Ar Athens	1 15pm	3 45a m
Ar Atlanta (Central Time)	2 50pm	5 20a m

*Daily. †Daily, except Sunday.

Both trains make immediate connections at Atlanta for Montgomery, Mobile, New Orleans, Texas, California, Mexico, Chattanooga, Nashville, Memphis, Macon, Florida.

For Tickets, Sleepers, etc., apply to

B. A. NEWLAND,
Gen. Agt. P. Dept.
6 Kimball House, Atlanta, Ga.

THOS. D. MEARES,
Gen'l. Agent, Wilmington, N. C.

E. ST. JOHN, Vice-President and General Manager.

H. W. B. GLOVER, Traffic Manager.
V. E. McBEE, Gen'l. Supt.
T. J ANDERSON, Gen'l. Pass. Agt.
General Offices, Portsmouth, Va.

C. F. &Y. V. Railway Co.

JOHN GILL, Receiver.

CONDENSED SCHEDULE.

IN EFFECT April 4th, 1897.

NORTH BOUND.

	No. 2. Daily
Leave Wilmington	8.00a.m
Arrive Fayetteville	1.21 "
Leave Fayetteville	11.31 "
Leave Fayetteville Junction	11.27 "
Leave Sanford	1.00p.m.
Leave Climax	2.55 "
Arrive Greensboro	3.25 "
Leave Greensboro	3.35 "
Leave Stokesdale	4.23 "
Leave WalnutCove	4.55 "
Leave Rural Hall	5.26 "
Arrive Mt. Airy	6.50 "

SOUTH BOUND.

	No. 1. Daily
Leave Mt. Airy	8.40a m
Leave Rural Hall	10.04 "
Leave Walnut Cove	10.32 "
Leave Stokesdale	11·07p.m
Arrive Greensboro	11.55 "
Leave Greensboro	12.15 "
Leave Climax	12.43 "
Leave Sanford	2.40 "
Arrive Fayetteville Junction	3.55 "
Arrive Fayetteville	3.58 "
Leave Fayetteville	4.32 "
Arrive Wilmington	7.30 "

NORTH BOUND.

	No. 4. Daily
Leave Bennettsville	8.10a.m
ArriveMaxton	9.23 "
LeaveMaxton	9.33 "
Leave Red Springs	10.04 "
Leave Hope Mills	10.52 "
Arrive Fayetteville	11.16 "

SOUTH BOUND

	No. 3, Daily
Leave Fayetteville	4.25p m
Leave Hope Mills	4.46 "
Leave Red Springs	5.35 "
ArriveMaxton	6 10 "
Leave Maxton	6.18 "
ArriveBennettsville	7.30 "

NORTH BOUND.

	No. 16. Mixed. Daily ex Sunday.
Leave Ramseur	6.45a.m
Leave Climax	8.35 "
Arrive Greensboro	9.20 "
Leave Greensboro	9.35 "
Leave Stokesdale	11.07 "
Arrive Madison	11.55 "

SOUTH BOUND.

	No. 15. Mixed Daily ex Sunday.
Leave Madison	12.30p.m
Leave Stokesdale	1.28 "
Arrive Greensboro	2.40 "
Leave Greensboro	3.25 "
Leave Climax	4.20 "
Arrive Ramseur	6.05 "

NORTH BOUND CONNECTIONS,

at Fayetteville with the Atlantic Coast Line for all points North and East at Sanford with the Seaboard Air Line, at Greensboro with the Southern Railway Company, at Walnut Cove with the Norfolk & Western R. R., for Winston-Salem.

SOUTH BOUND CONNECTIONS,

at Walnut Cove with the Norfolk & Western R. R., for Roanoke and all points North and West, at Greensboro with the Southern Railway Company for Raleigh, Richmond and all points North and East, at Fayetteville with the Atlantic Coast Line for all points South, at Maxton with the Seaboard Air Line for Charlotte, Atlanta and all points South and Southwest.

W. E. KYLE,
Gen'l Passenger Agent.

J.W. FRY,
Gen'l Manager.

COAL, WOOD AND SHINGLES.

Best quality and lowest prices. Satisfaction guaranteed. Your patronage solicited.

Respectfully,
P. R. FOWLER,
Successor to Fowler & Morrison.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES

Will convene at Charlotte, N. C., in the First Presbyterian church, on the third Thursday (20th day) of May, 1897, at 11 o'clock a. m. The opening sermon will be preached by the moderator of the last Assembly.

The undersigned will be present in the Lecture Room of said church on Wednesday, May 19th, at 8 o'clock p. m., and also on the following morning at 9 o'clock, to enroll the names of commissioners.

JOSEPH R. WILSON, Stated Clerk,
ROBERT P. FARRIS, Permanent Clerk.

N. B.—Treasurers of Presbyteries are urgently requested to forward to the treasurer of General Assembly, at Charlotte, all sums due for Presbyterial assessments, as well for previous years as for the year 1897.

JOSEPH R. WILSON,
Treasurer.

SAY SOES.

The Heilmann locomotive—or travelling electric station—has attracted such favorable attention in France that the applicability of the system to the propulsion of large vessels is to be tested on the Seine. The propellers will be driven by electric motors receiving their energy from generators driven by a steam engine on board.

When the hair begins to fall out or turn gray, the scalp needs doctoring, and we know of no better specific than Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer.

"Tell me," said a gentleman to a poor drunkard when urging him to give up the intoxicating cup, "where was it you took the first steps in this course?" "At my father's table," replied the unhappy young man. "Before I left home to become a clerk, I had learned to love the drink that has ruined me. The first drop I ever tasted was handed me by my now broken-hearted mother."—Ex.

WHO'S SHELLABERGER?

He's the Wire Fence Man, of Atlanta, Ga., and sells the best and cheapest fencing in existence for all purposes. Catalogue free. Write for it.

WILMINGTON MARKET.

FOR
WEEK ENDING MAY 5, 1897.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE: On Thursday (29th) 26½ cents for machine barrels and 26 cents for country casks; dull on Friday and Saturday; since 26 and 25½ cents respectively.

ROSIN: Strained $1.25 and Good Strained $1.30 throughout—closing steady.

CRUDE TURPENTINE: Hard $1.20, Yellow Dip $1.70 and Virgin $1.90—steady throughout.

TAR: Receipts taken day by day at $1.05.

COTTON: Middling on Friday 30th and since 7¾ cents—closing steady.

TIMBER: Very little coming in; taken readily at unchanged prices.

ATLANTIC COAST LINE.

Schedule in Effect April 15th 1897.

DEPARTURES FROM WILMINGTON—NORTHBOUND.

DAILY 9:00 A M — No. 48—Passenger—Due Magnolia 10 40 a m, Warsaw 10 55 a m, Goldsboro 11 56 a m, Wilson 12 46 pm, Rocky Mount 1 20 p m, Tarboro 2 50 p m, Weldon 3 39 p m, Petersburg 5 54 p m, Richmond 6 50 p m, Norfolk 6 05 p m, Washington 11 10 p m, Baltimore 12 53 a m, Philadelphia 3 45 a m, New York 6 53 a m, †Boston 3 00 pm.

DAILY 7:15 P M — No. 40—Passenger—Due Magnolia 8 55 p m, Warsaw 9 10 p m, Goldsboro 10 10 p m, Wilson 11 06 p m, †Tarboro 6 45 a m, Rocky Mount 11 57 p m, Weldon 1 44 a m, †Norfolk 10 30 a m, Peteraburg 3 24 a m, Richmond 4 20 a m, Washington 7 41 a m, Baltimore 9 05 a m, Philadelphia 11 25 a m New York 2 02 p m, Boston 8 30 p m.

SOUTHBOUND.

DAILY 3:25 P M — No. 55—Passenger—Due Lake Waccamaw 4 32 p m, Chadbourn 5 04 p m, Marion 6 05 p m, Florence 6 45 p m, Sumter 8 42 p m, Columbia 10 05 p m, Denmark 6 20 a m, Augusta 8 10 a m, Macon 11 00 a m, Atlanta 12 15 p m, Charleston 10 20 p m, Savannah 12 50 am, Jacksonville 7 30 a m, St Augustine 10 30 a m, Tampa 5 45 p m.

ARRIVALS AT WILMINGTON—FROM THE NORTH.

DAILY 5:45 P M — No. 49—Passenger—Leave Boston 12 00 p m, New York 9 00 p m, Philadelphia 12 05 a m, Baltimore 2 50 a m, Washington 4 30 a m, Richmond 9 05 a m, Petersburg 10 (a m,) Norfolk 8 40 a m, Weldon 11 50 a m, Tarboro 12 12 p m, Rocky Mount 12 45p m, Wilson 2 12 p m, Goldsboro 3 10 p m, Warsaw 4 02 p m, Magnolia 4 16 p m.

DAILY 9:40 AM — No. 41—Passenger—Leave Boston 12 00 night, New York 9 30 a m, Philadelphia 12 09 p m Baltimore 2 25 p m, Washington 3 46 p m, Richmond 7 30 p m, Petersburg 8 12 p m, †Norfolk 2 20 p m, Weldon 2 43 p m, †Tarboro 6 01 p m, Rocky Mount 6 45 a m, leave Wilson 6 20 a m, Goldsboro 7 03 am, Warsaw 7 54 a m, Magnolia 8 07 a m.

FROM THE SOUTH.

DAILY 12:15 P M — No. 54—Passenger—Leave Tampa 9 25 a m, Sanford 2 19 p m, Jacksonville 7 00 p m, Savannah 12 45 night, Charleston 5 30 am Columbia 5 50 a m, Atlanta 8 20 a m, Macon 9 30 a m, Augusta 3 05 p m, Denmark 4 55 pm, Sumter 6 45 a m, Florence 7 55 a m, Marion 9 34 a m, Chadbourn 10 35 a m, Lake Waccamaw 11 06 a m.

†Daily except Sunday

Trains on the Scotland Neck Branch road leave Weldon 4 10 p m, Halifax 4 28 p m, arrive Scotland Neck at 5 20, Greenville 6 57 p m, Kinston 7 55 p m. Returning leaves Kinston 7 20 a m, Greenville 8 22 a m, arriving Halifax at 11 00 a m, Weldon 11 20 a m. daily except Sunday.

Trains on Washington Branch leave Washington 8 00 a m, and 2 p m, arrive Parmele 8 50 a m and 3 40 p m, returning leave Parmele 9 50 a m and 6 30 p m, arrive Washington 11 25 a m, and 7 20 p m. Daily except Sunday.

Train leaves Tarboro, N C, daily, 5 30 p m, arrives Plymouth 7 40 p m. Returning leaves Plymouth daily, 7.30 a. m. arrives Tarboro 9.50 a. m.

Trains on Conway Branch leave Hub 8 30 a. m., Chadbourn 10 40 a. m., arrive Conway 1 00 p. m. leave Conway 2 25 p. m., Chadbourn 5 20 p. m., arrive Hub 6 00 p. m. Daily except Sunday.

Train on Midland N C Branch leaves Goldsboro daily, except Sunday, 7 10 a m, arriving Smithfield 8 30 a m, Returning leaves Smithfield 9 00 a m, arrive at Goldsboro 10 25 a m.

Train on Nashville Branch leaves Rocky Mount at 4 30 p m, arrives Nashville 5 05 p m, Spring Hope 5 30 p m. Returning leaves Spring Hope 8 00 a m, Nashville 8 35 a m, arrives at Rocky Mount 9 05 a m, daily except Sunday.

Train on Clinton Branch leaves Warsaw for Clinton daily, except Sunday, 11 10 a m., and 9.15 p.m. Returning leaves Clinton at 7 00 a m., and 3.00 pm

Wilson and Fayetteville Branch leave Wilson 2 05 p m, 11 16 p m, arrive Selma 2 50 p m, Smithfield 3 58 p m, Dunn 3 35 p m. Fayetteville 4 15 p m, 1 07 a m, Rowland 5 38p m. Returning leave Rowland 10 00 a m, Fayetteville 11 20 a m, 10 20 p m, Dunn 12 07 p m, Smithfield 12 48 p m, Selma 1 00 p m, arrive Wilson 1 42 p m, 12 10 a m.

H. M. EMERSON,
Ass't. Gen'l Passenger Agent.

J. R. KENLY, Gen'l Manager.
T. M. EMERSON Traffic Manager.

B. F. HALL, OSCAR PEARSALL

HALL & PEARSALL

Cor. NUTT and MULBERRY STS.

WILMINGTON. - N. C.

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

—AND—

—WHOLESALE DEALERS IN—

HEAVY GROCERIES

WE ALWAYS CARRY A LARGE AND WELL SELECTED STOCK OF

Flour, Sugar, Coffee, Molasses, Salt Fish,

Hay Corn Oats Tobacco Snuff, Cigars, Hoop-Iron, Nails, Glue,

Cotton Bagging and Ties.

☞We solicit the patronage of thpublic. and guarantee to give satisfa tion. Correspondence invited.

☞Consignments of Naval Stores, Cotton and all CountryProduce will receive careful attention.

HALL & PEARSALL
WILMINGTON, N. C

ORGANIZED 1856.

GEORGIA HOME INSURANCE COMPANY.

COLUMBUS, Ga.

J. RHODES BROWN, President.

Wm. C. COART, Secretary.

A HOME COMPANY,

Seeking Home Patronage.

Strong! Prompt! Reliable! Liberal!

Agents at all Cities, Towns and Villages in the Southern States.

W. W. HODGES, Agent,
Wilmington N. C.

E.NYE HUTCHISON, Agent,
Charlotte N. C

STATESVILLE FEMALE COLLEGE.

STATESVILLE, N. C.

The Spring term opens on the 5th of February and closes the 15th June 1897.

Board, including furnished room, heat and lights, with tuition in all English branches and Latin, $27.50 per quarter. Instruction in Music, Art and all branches usually taught in first class female schools, at reasonable rates.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC

In charge of a teacher of first-class qualifications. Price of instruction from $2.50 to $5.00 per month according to grade.

☞For circular containing full particulars address,

JOHN B. BURWELL,
President,
Statesville, N. C.

Shopping.

Shopping done in Philadelphia by a lady of experience and taste. No extra charge. Best references. Send for circular.

MISS M. ANDERSON,
333 Pine St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Wire Railing and Ornamental Wire Works.

DUFUR & CO.,

311 North Howard St., Baltimore, Md.

Manufacture Wire Railing for Cemeteries, Balconies, &c., Sieves, Fender Cages, Sand and Coal Screens, Woven Wire, &.

Also Iron Bedteads Chairs, Settees &c.

THINGS USEFUL.

Strawberry Pudding.—Over half a pint of bread crumbs pour one pint of boiling milk; add four large spoonfuls of sugar, two of butter, a little salt, a teaspoonful of vanilla and three well-beaten eggs. In the bottom of a pudding dish put two cups of preserved strawberries; pour in the batter, cover and steam for a full hour, turn out on a platter and serve with cream.

Grass Stains.—They are difficult to remove. Boiling water has no effect. Rub well with alcohol before the article is put in soap and water. Or dip them in molasses, letting remain a few minutes, until the fabric is thoroughly saturated, then rinse the molasses out with clear, warm water. In most cases the stain will have disappeared. Repeat the process once or twice if obstinate.

The old-fashioned loaf cake is made by beating one pound of butter to a cream, adding carefully half a pound of sugar. Beat seven eggs without separating, stir them carefully into the first ingredients; add half a grated nutmeg, and then stir in carefully half a cup of milk; sift in a pound of flour. Beat a moment; add two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, beat for three minutes. Bake slowly in a moderate oven for one hour. Citron may be added after the flour.

DROPSY TREATED FREE Positively CURED with Vegetable Remedies. Have cured many thousand cases called hopeless. From first dose symptoms rapidly disappear, and in ten days at least two-thirds of all symptoms are removed. BOOK of testimonials of miraculous cures sent FREE. 10 Days Treatment Free by mail.
Drs Green & Sons, Specialists, Atlanta, Ga.

RED SPRINGS SEMINARY
FOR YOUNG LADIES.
Established by Fayetteville Presbytery.

New Buildings, well equipped and adapted to all departments of College work. Complete and liberal course. Fully abreast of the leading Southern Colleges for Women.
Full and Efficient Faculty.
Charges very moderate ($108.00 per year for full College course and Board).
Session opens September 30, 1896. For further information write to
Rev. C. G. VARDELL,
Red Springs, N. C.

Good Goods--Low Prices,
Flour, Meat, Sugar, Salt, Meal, Molasses, Coffee, Peanuts, Cheese, Crackers, Snuff, Tobacco.
Consignments of Cotton, Naval Stores and all Country Produce will receive careful attention.
Hall & Pearsall,
Wholesale Grocers & Com. Merchant
Corner Nutt and Mulberry Sts.

Presbyterian High School
—OF—
NORTH CAROLINA.
J. M. OLDHAM, Principal.
Full corps of instructors, all college-bred men representing the leading institutions of North Carolina, Virginia and South Carolina. A non-military school, located in the country in middle North Carolina, with excellent climate.
Instruction Thorough,
Discipline Mild Yet Firm,
Physical Development Looked After
Rates Reasonable.
Endorsed by Synod of North Carolina.
For catalogues address,
J. M. OLDHAM, Principal,
Mebane, N.C.

DAVIDSON COLLEGE,
DAVIDSON, N. C
The Sixtieth Year Begins September 10th, 1896.
FACULTY
Rev. J. B. Shearer, D. D., LL.D., President, and Professor of Biblical Instruction an Moral Philosophy.
Henry Louis Smith, Ph. D., Vice-President, an Prof. of Natural Philosophy.
W. D. Vinson, M. A., LL.D., Prof. of Mathematics
C. R. Harding, Ph.D., Professor of Greek and German.
W. R. Grey, Ph.D. Professor of Latin and French.
Thos. P. Harrison, Ph.D., Professor of English.
W. J. Martin, Jr., M. D., Ph.D., Prof. of Chemistry.
F. F. Rowe, A. B., Instructor.
GYMNASIUM DIRECTOR.
VOCAL MUSIC.
CLASSICAL,
MATHEMATICAL,
SCIENTIFIC,
LITERARY,
BIBLICAL.
COMMERCIAL.
SEND FOR A CATALOGUE.
Terms Reasonable.
Location Healthful,
Accommodations Excellent,
Teaching Unsurpassed,
Gymnasium Complete.
Address THE PRESIDENT.

DO NOT FORGET.
THAT OUR BRAND OF FLOUR
THE LADIES' FAVORITE
Is the best Flour on the market. Double Patent, and produces more bread than any other.
In addition to our Ladies' Favorite Flour we have taken the Agency for Pittsburg's Best Spring Wheat in barrels and half barrel sacks.
We offer North Carolina Canned Peaches, North Carolina Canned Tomatoes, guaranteed fully equal to any brand. North Carolina Manufactured Tobacco, North Carolina Bacon, California Peaches, California Apricots, both canned and dried, as well as a select stock of groceries of every description.
☞ Orders solicited.
R. W. HICKS,
WHOLESALE ONLY,
Wilmington, N. C.

The Man in the Moon would be happier if he could have a supply of
Cool Fragrant and Soothing
Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco
For over twenty-five years the standard smoking tobacco of the world.
To-day More Popular than Ever.
To have a good smoke anytime and everytime it is only necessary to get Bull Durham. It is all good and always good.
BLACKWELL'S DURHAM TOBACCO CO.,
DURHAM, N. C.

H. A. TUCKER. R. D TUCKER.
TUCKER'S
GRANITE AND MARBLE WORKS.
DEALERS IN ALL KINDS OF
Granite and Marble Monuments
CONTRACTORS FOR BUILDING STONE
H. A. TUCKER & BRO.,
No. 310 Front St.,
Wilmington, N C.

WORTH & WORTH,
—OFFER FOR SALE—
BEST QUALITY, FULL WEIGHT
FLOUR, BACON, SUGAR, LARD
MOLASSES, MEAL, SALT,
LIME, CEMENT,
Plaster, Hay, Corn, Hoop Iron, Oats
Rivets Glue.
BUNGS, CANNED GOODS,
At Low Prices.
WILMINGTON, N. C.

STEEL WIRE FENCE BOARD.
A Barbless Horse and Cattle Fence; Chicken Poultry and Garden Fence; Cabled Field and Hog Fence. Yard, Cemetery and Grave Lot Fencing on Steel Post and Rails Specialty. We Pay the Freight. Catalogue and testimonials free.
K. L. SHELLABERGER, ATLANTA, GA.

M. H. JONES,
DURHAM, N. C.,
Keeps on hand a fine assortment of
STERLING SILVER WARE,
JEWELRY, DIAMONDS,
WATCHES, CLOCKS
and everything found in a first-class jewelry store.
☞ Repairing of all kinds, especially such as is usually sent North, done promptly and in best style; reputation established for this class of work.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE.
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS, DESIGNS, COPYRIGHTS &c.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain, free, whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Oldest agency for securing patents in America. We have a Washington office. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the
SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN,
beautifully illustrated, largest circulation of any scientific journal, weekly, terms $3.00 a year; $1.50 six months. Specimen copies and HAND BOOK ON PATENTS sent free. Address
MUNN & CO.,
361 Broadway, New York.

1865. W. S. MOORE. 1896.
GREENSBORO, N C.
General Merchandise, &c., &c.
Organs from $24 up to any price.
Pianos from $150 up to any price
Special prices to Ministers, Churches and Sunday-Schools

North Carolina Presbyterian.

New Series—VOL. XXIX—No. 1,531. WILMINGTON, N C., THURSDAY, MAY 13, 1897. Old Series. Vol. XXXIX—No. 2,691.

THE OFFICE OF THE PRESBYTERIAN IS IN THE ALLEN BUILDING ON PRINCESS STREET—ROOM No. 6, ON SECOND FLOOR.

Subscription price $2.00 a year.
Ministers $1.00
Missionaries $1.50, including postage.
New Subscribers $1.50 for first year.

☞ Checks or orders in payment of subscription may be made payable either to John McLaurin, or to North Carolina Presbyterian. Please send forward promptly.

(For Contents see Second Page)

"IN PATIENCE."

I will not faint, but trust in God,
Who this my lot hath given;
Though sad my day that lasts so long,
At evening I shall have a song;
Though dim my day until the night,
At evening time there shall be light.
My life is but a working day
Whose tasks are set aright;
A while to work, a while to pray,
And then a quiet night;
And then, please God, a quiet night,
Where saints and angels walk in white;
One dreamless sleep from work and sorrow,
But re-awakening on the morrow.
—Christina G. Rosetti.

A MOTHER'S SYMPATHY.

A little girl once followed the workmen from her father's grounds when they went home to their dinner, because she was very fond of a kind old man who was one of them. When he looked from his door he saw her sitting on a log waiting for him, and invited her to go into his cottage. She looked in, saw the strange faces around the table and hesitated. When he urged her, she raised her sweet face and inquired:

"Is there any mother here?"

"Yes, my dear, there's a mother here," he answered.

"O, then I'll go in; for I'm not afraid if there's a mother there!"

Her child' experience had told her she could place confidence in a mother's sympathy. A home may be small and mean, but if it is the shrine of a mother's love it is a happier place than a palace would be without this blessed presence.—Exchange.

Look upon the bright side of your condition; then your discontents will disperse. Pore not upon your losses, but recount your mercies.—Watson.

REV. W. M. SHAW.

Rev. William Mitchell Shaw, pastor of Bethpage and Gilwood churches and stated supply of Shearer Chapel, is a son of Rev. Colin Shaw and a great-grand son of Colin Shaw of revolutionary memory. His mother is a daughter of George W. Bannerman, an influential citizen in his day, and at one time a representative of Bladen county in the legislature.

One of the maternal ancestors of Mr. Shaw was Charles McGregor, who came to this country during the Revolution in Scotland. He was a commissioned officer in the patriot army. In his absence the king's forces got his commission. At the earnest entreaty of his mother he sailed with his own ship and crew for Wilmington, N. C. He then assumed the name of his cousin (Bannerman) for fear of being detected. About ten years of Mr. Shaw's life were spent in the school-room—a period of uninterrupted success. He first taught at Harrell's store. Resigning this work he took a special course in military tactics at the Virginia Military Institute and in the fall of '84 he taught with Prof. S. W. Clement at Wallace, N. C., introducing the military feature into the school. Later he organized and superintended the Magnolia Graded School. In January, 1888, he was elected principal of the Kenansville Academy, and shortly afterward Superintendent of Public Instruction of Duplin county. Both of these positions he subsequently resigned to enter the ministry.

Mr. Shaw had been taken under the care of Presbytery at the spring meeting of '87, and after taking the regular prescribed course in theology under Rev. B. F. Marable, D. D., was licensed at Black River Chapel, April 1891. During the summer and fall he continued the evangelistic work in which he had been engaged for more than a year. In December, '91, he moved to Mill, Hill, N. C., to take charge of his present field.

Mr. Shaw's educational advantages were good. His early training of godly parents, the preparation for college by Rev. J. N. H. Summerell, the thorough work of the Davidson College Faculty and the subsequent teaching of the learned Dr. Marable have left their impress upon his mind and character. Mr. Shaw is an exceptionally fine teacher. Patrons and pupils wherever he has taught have nothing but words of praise. We have never seen a teacher who possessed in a higher degree the art of interesting children. He draws out what the child knows and then increases the desire for further knowledge. Synod and Presbytery recognizing his pre-eminent qualifications as a teacher have entrusted to him positions of responsibility in connection with the Sabbath-school work. He is a good organizer and old and young work for him with enthusiasm. His preaching is Scriptural and practical.

Christmas, 1884, was unusually bright to Mr. Shaw. On that day he was married to Miss Alberta Faison, a daughter of Col. Thomas I. Faison, popularly known as a legislator to the people of eastern Carolina.

Mrs. Shaw is a lady of high Christian character, an accomplished musician and possessed of social graces that make her popular and a great help to her husband in his work. Last August the PRESBYTERIAN announced the death of their bright little daughter, Virginia Faison. This is the only break in the interesting group of children that God has given to gladden their hearts.

Mr. Shaw has recovered from his recent illness and has entered with renewed zeal upon his work for the Master.

No suffering is unbearable to those who cheerfully submit themselves to God.

PERSONS AND PAPERS.

It is very easy to love the exalted, who can bless in return; it is Christ-like to love the lowly, who even scorn our love.

* * *

In the business of this life men undertake world-startling tasks. For the Christian to be one whit less enterprising about the King's business is a shame and a disgrace. The Christian's commands are greater, his motive is grander, and his power is vaster.—Golden Rule.

* * *

If you want to succeed in the world, you must make your own opportunities as you go on. The man who waits for some seventh wave to toss him on the dry land will find that the seventh wave is a long time coming. You can commit no greater folly than to sit by the roadside until some one comes along and invites you to ride with him to wealth or influence.—John B. Gough.

* * *

No man ever yet asked to be, as the days pass by, more and more noble and sweet and pure and heavenly-minded—no man ever yet prayed that the evil spirits of hatred and pride and passion and worldliness might be cast out of his soul—without his petition being granted and granted to the letter. And with all other gifts God then gives us his own self besides. He makes us know Him and love Him and live in him. —F. W. Farrar.

* * *

The rewards of honesty and unswerving principle are sometimes slow, but that in the end they are sure, and greater for their slow coming, admits of no question. Our principles are sometimes severely tested, but this testing is given us with a purpose. Holding fast to honorable principles is the basis upon which all sure successes are built. Some have to pass through more fire than others, but I firmly believe that the reward in the end is the greater to those. What the world says of a man matters little in such a struggle. It is the great inner satisfaction which comes to a man that counts. That you have, and that, in the end, will win. It reflects itself in one's character, in his dealings with men, and that, sooner or later, is sure of the recognition it always commands and receives.—Ladies' Home Journal.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

1ST PAGE—"In Patience" (poetry)—A Mother's Sympathy—Sketch of Rev. W. M. Shaw—Persons and Papers.
2ND PAGE—Editorial: The Christian in Christ—Editorial Notes.
3RD PAGE—Editorial Notes—India Relief Fund.
4TH PAGE—Abstract of the Proceedings of Orange Presbytery, Official—Report of Evangelistic Committee of Fayetteville Presbytery—A Second Secretary.
5TH PAGE.—Letter to Sunshine Band of First Church Wilmington—Hope Enables Us To Bear Trial—Literary Jottings—Magazines.
6TH PAGE—Religious Intelligence—Personals—Here and There.
7TH PAGE—Commencement at Union Seminary—Commissioners to the General Assembly.
8TH PAGE—Gold Dust—Concord Presbytery, Official—Doubtful Things.
9TH PAGE—Books Received.
10TH PAGE—Sunday School Lesson—Young People's Column—Open Door Notes—Puzzles—Evangelistic Notes.
11TH PAGE—Marriages—Obituaries—Secular News—Princeton Seminary Commencemet.
12TH PAGE.—(For the Family)—Hallowed Hours (poetry)—Items for Lady Readers.
13TH PAGE—The Fairy Sisters (poetry)—Bad Thoughts—The Candy Buttons—Teddy's Secret—Made Up of Little Things—Letter-Box.
14TH PAGE—Entertainment at the Assembly—Foreign Mission Receipts for April—Davidson Notes.
15TH PAGE—Say Soes—Market.
16TH PAGE—Things Useful.

THE CHRISTIAN IN CHRIST.

The Christian is joined to Christ. The Christian is in Christ as the branch is in the vine. This is the thought, the truth, which gives place for the parable of the vine and the branches given by our Lord in the fifteenth chapter of John. The Christian is not within Christ or inside of Him in any literal, physical sense. Neither is the Christian here said to be in the heart of Christ merely as the object of His concern and subject of His care. The thought is of being vitally united to Christ. Of this our Lord speaks, as in John xiv. 20: "At that time ye shall know that I am in the Father, and ye in Me and I in you."

This union is four times spoken of in the letter to the Galatians and is the key to every verse in the letters to the Corinthians. These verses may be thought of as caskets stored in rooms of a treasure house. Each chapter may be thought of as a room in the house and each verse as a casket in one of the rooms. This key, vital union with Christ, or the Christian in Christ will unlock every room and admit to open every casket and enjoy every jewel in the treasure house.

There will be found at least seven rooms flooded with light, which breaks through into all the other rooms and makes them bright with the light of heaven and of God. The Spirit of God who establishes, nourishes and maintains the union between the Christian and Christ will be fonnd to be the source of light. In the second chapter of First Corinthians is this truth that the Holy Spirit is this source of light and reveals all true knowledge and wisdom. He searches and shows to the Christian in Christ the deep things of God, so that the devout consecrated Christian may join the apostle in saying, "We have the mind of Christ." The words often quoted from verse 9, "Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard," &c., do not refer to a future state and the glories of heaven such that man cannot conceive of them now. The very next verse, tenth, shows that what the natural senses or faculties cannot perceive are revealed to the Christian in Christ by the Holy Spirit. Instead of finding here a repression of our desire to know the future, there is to be seen a right royal encouragement to expect from the Holy Spirit insight into the deep things of God here and now as in verse 12. "Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know things that are freely given to us of God." The vanity of human reason and the pride of human learning are hereby rebuked, and the humble hearted believer is encouraged to wait on God in Christ for true wisdom. In this light the treasures of wisdom of knowledge, hid in Christ are seen and made available. Herein the Scriptures become new and full of beauty, glory and exceeding great riches.

In the sixth chapter of first Corinthians, the second great room of light, the Christian in Christ finds the ownership of God in the believer. Ownership of a house means the payment for it and the possession of it—purchase and occupation. The body of the believer is such a house. It is the temple of the Holy Ghost. God bought the believer with the price of the blood of His Son. He takes possession in the person of the Holy Spirit. The Scriptures do not speak of the temples, as if there were many, but as of one the temple of the Holy Spirit. And the word used is not the courts or the holy place, but the word for the Holy of holies. The body of each believer as a part and the bodies of all believers united in one whole, is the temple, the holy of holies, the purchase of God by the atonement of Christ and His dwelling place by the Holy Ghost. "Therefore glorify God in your body," (the words "and in your spirit" are not in the original and are omitted in the R. V.)

The next great room of light to which this key admits us is the twelfth chapter of first Corinthians. There the Holy Spirit is seen bestowing gifts for the service of the Lord Christ. It appears there that the Christian in Christ, is left in this world to serve Christ and to each one a gift of the Spirit is bestowed, "to profit withal." Each one in the station to which Christ appoints, and for the responsibilities imposed by Christ has a gift to qualfy for the service there. The worldly as well as the heavenly callings as men distinguish them, are for the service of Christ. No one will be excused because poor or lowly, and none can boast of position or wealth. Each one will and must serve Christ.

SINCE OUR last the Southern Baptist Convention has come and gone; an earnestly pious body of men ardently enthusiastic in the work for the Master. Their coming has been to our community a blessing as showing how fully and how completely unity in Christianity may exist without denominational union. The fellowship of Christians—their brotherhood rather—has been amply demonstrated by the cordiality of the welcome extended by our citizens, and by the ministrations of the brethren in the various churches of our city.

It is a noble body of Christian gentlemen. It is not ours to report their proceedings in whole or part. The secular press of our city have done so very fully. The report of the Messenger has indeed been surpassingly excellent. The accuracy and the fullness would do credit to any journal of the larger cities of our country, and the illustrations have been most abundant and almost without exception most exact. North Carolina we feel safe in saying has never had anything equal to it. This last, we suppose, may be said of the Convention itself—certainly this is true in point of numbers. And quite as certainly the membership will measure up well with any ecclesiastical body in zeal and talent.

The Convention is in no sense legislative. It is advisory, however, and very influentially so, and as a means of getting brethren together, comparing notes of work that has been done, tabulating, comparing and declaring results and in inflaming zeal for work in the future, its deliberations deserve all praise. Everything moved on systematically and methodically, wonderfully so considering the size of the body. The only apprehension indeed was that Dr. Whitsett might be called to account for some published views of his in regard to immersion. But this in the event proved only an episode constituting a delightful feast of love. The financial results were of the best. The debts of the seminary wiped out and the treasury of evangelistic causes well supplied.

The meetings of the Woman's Missionary Union which were held in the First Presbyterian church were conducted with great executive ability and showed deep interest and consecration to the work.

Taken all in all our Baptist brethren have captured the good will not only, but the hearty respect and esteem of our community generally and the Christian love of all who acknowledge and worship our common Lord and Master.

We must note that Dr. J. William Jones, chaplain of Gen. A. P. Hill's corps in the late war, and now Grand Chaplain of the United Confederate Veterans, who had been quite intimate with General Lee and who had best of facilities for knowing his private life, delivered an admirable address in the First Presbyterian church, on the night of Sabbath last on the "Christian Life of Robert E. Lee. The address was delivered specially to the Confederate Veterans who were present in large force and the Church crowded to its full capacity with the attendance generally.

THE ARTICLE on our 5th page entitled "A Second Secretary," sets forth some very plausible reasons for such an appointment, but we are compelled to regard the time as inopportune for such a move. The Church could at this time ill bear the extra expense, and certainly there has been not the slightest indication of lack of efficiency on the part of our present secretary. The Executive Committee having in charge such matters would certainly be prompt to recommend such an appointment if it were desirable; they have not indicated any wish for it.

We trust there will be no agitation of the subject in the Assembly. Dr. Chester we feel assured does not regard himself overburdened; what he does so admirably well now, he is admirably able and competent to continue to do.

"ANOTHER COMFORTER" is the title of a work by Rev. A. D. McClure, just from the hands of Fleming H. Revell Company. It is designed as a study of the mission of the Holy Ghost in order to the bringing of Christians to clear insight into the work of the Spirit and heartier appreciation of the blessedness to the Christian life and of the ability to Christian service to be derived from His indwelling. Here are some of the contents taken at random: His Name; The Spirit is a Person; His Coming in the New Testament; The Spirit Revealing Christ; The Power of the Holy Ghost; Source of Strength; The Gifts of the Spirit; The Love of the Spirit—and others.

The binding of cloth is neat and attractive and the book itself is in very portable form. It can be had of Fleming H. Revell Company, Publishers, New York, or of C. W. Yates & Co., or P. Heinsberger, Wilmington, N. C.—at retail price, 50 cents.

Dr. A. D. Tadlock, Professor of Ecclesiastical History and Church Polity in Columbia Seminary, says of the book above noted:

"I have read it I hope with profit. I think it will do good. I think there is a demand for just such a book."

And Rev. Dr. W. A. Alexander, Professor of Biblical Languages and Literature in Southwestern Presbyterian University:

"I read it through with care and prayer, and I wish to thank you for the warm, clear message it brought to my head and heart. It is marked by loyalty to the Word, to our standards and to the best types of evangelical faith."

THE Charlotte Observer, during the meetings of the General Assembly which will convene on the 20th inst., will send the paper containing full reports of the proceedings, day by day, to any address in the United States for 25 cents. Address Charlotte Observer, Charlotte, N. C.

We feel no hesitation in saying the reputation of the Observer for enterprise and accuracy will be fully sustained in the completeness and accuracy of these reports.

FROM THE Baltimore Sun we learn that Rev. David C. Irwin died at his residence in Lexington, Va., on the 7th inst. He was the youngest son of Wm. Irwin, of Wheeling, W. Va., and was born there May 2d, 1825, and began to preach in 1848. He married a daughter of Dr. George E. Pryor, of Frederick county, Md. He is survived by six children. He preached in Kentucky in 1853, in Missouri in 1855, and removed to Virginia in 1858. He was pastor of the churches at Harrisonburg, Portsmouth. For several years past he resided in Lexington, Va., in infirm health.

GEORGE WASHINGTON, is the title, grand even in its bold simplicity, of one of those books by Prof. Woodrow Wilson which have made his name famous or have added to his fame. "Nothing but good of the dead" is a maxim inculcating that phase of charity which we find so easy to practice towards those who no longer jostle us in our daily avocations, or excite us by antagonism to our cherished opinions. In the matter of eminent men whose public services have been great we carry this principle almost to deification, especially when time has veiled from view all that was evil or morally infirm. And so, in our Southland surely, George Washington comes to our earliest knowledge and continues throughout our life experience as one peerless in statesmanship and irreproachable in morals. One reading Prof. Wilson's book, it must be said, will not lower his estimate of the Father of His country. Washington in the book before is always above the ordinary mortal—and yet, while we could almost wish he was a little more like common clay, we admit that facts of history sustain the character depicted—facts somewhat embellished no doubt, but facts nevertheless. The thought of the book is good—let us say more than good—there is no aimless wandering, no hap-hazard writing, no conjuring up of ideas to fill a waiting space—unity of design and uniformity of execution are evidenced throughout under the masterful direction and outworking of intellectuality of the highest order. The style is of a kind never so high as to be stilted, yet never approaching the mean or commonplace—there are no sharps and flats, no rugged edges and yet no too-well-rounded corners; but manner and method are uniform and well-toned, always on a properly elevated plane. So far as we have seen there is not a dull line in the book. The book is instructive as well as interesting and Messrs. Harper and Brothers, New York, have given it to the public with abundant illustrations and in workmanship of the very best style.

FROM THE MINUTES of the General Assembly:

WHEREAS, The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, fully recognizes the efficiency of the prayers of God's people, and the necessity of Divine guidance in its own deliberations; therefore—

Resolved, 1. That the General Assembly recommend to all the churches under its care, to offer a special prayer during the devotions of the Sabbath preceding the meeting of the General Assembly in each year, that God would of His great mercy so give the General Assembly the wisdom that cometh from above, and so direct all its plans, discussions and decisions, as to promote his own glory, and to advance the kingdom of Jesus on earth.

INDIA RELIEF FUND.

TWO CENTS will sustain the life of a man, woman or child for one day.

Previously acknowledged.....	$ 80 47
Mrs. E. L. McCormick's Sunday-School class, Maxton, N. C..	1 25
Laurinburg (additional).....	85

OUR PREMIUM BIBLE.

Measures 5x7 inches when Closed, and Contains 1,600 Pages of Reading Matter—Several hundred pages of Useful Information, besides the Scriptural Text.

At length we find ourselves with pride and pleasure, able to offer a Bible premium to workers for the N. C. PRESBYTERIAN. The size and quality of type of our Bible is represented by the cut here given:

The binding is flexible, the edges are gilt and the references within are full. The Bible contains besides 1050 pages of Scriptural text, the HELPS to Scripture reading and study including Subject Index, Concordance, a most serviceable General Topical Index, a large number of pages treating of the Titles, Authorship, Distinctive Characters, Contents, &c., of the various books of the Bible, A Description of the Inhabitants, Physical Geography, Customs and Political Condition of the Holy Land at the beginning of the Christian era, the Botany of the Bible, Glossary of Antiquities, Customs, 12 maps, etc., being the Oxford Helps, acknowledged to be the very best, besides 124 full page illustrations of the Languages, Writing, &c., of the Old and New Testaments, of the bas reliefs and the like, discoveries in archæological researches, and now in the British museum—and very much else; making altogether the most desirable copy of the Scriptures for Bible students that has come to our knowledge. The book contains over 1,600 pages.

The Bible is an offer in connection with the NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN—the only medium thro which one can become well acquainted with what is going on in the Synod of North Carolina—on the folowing terms:

We will give this Bible as payment for help rendered to any old subscriber who will send us the name of a BONA FIDE new subscriber along with $2.25.

The new subscriber gets the paper very cheap—we offer it to any bona fide new subscriber for $1.50 for the first year—and the worker gets amply compensated in a magnificently cheap Bible for his or her good work.

A new subscriber to get the Bible can subscribe for himself at $1.50 and then send another new subscriber with $2.25.

The Premium offered is the Genuine Edition of the Oxford Teacher's Bible.

We trust our friends will go to work promptly on this plan.

JOHN McLAURIN,
Manager N. C. Presbyterian.

David's thirst for God. PSALMS. He praiseth God for his grace.

10 Trust not in oppression, and become not vain in robbery: if riches increase, set not your heart upon them.
11 God hath spoken [4]once; twice have I heard this; that [4]power belongeth unto God.
12 Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for [5]thou renderest to every man according to his work.

PSALM 63.

1 David's thirst for God. 4 His manner of blessing God.
A Psalm of David, [6]when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

O GOD, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: [7]my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and [8]thirsty land, [7]where no water is;
2 To see [9]thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the sanctuary.
3 Because thy lovingkindness is better than life, my lips shall praise thee.
4 Thus will I bless thee while I live: I will lift up my hands in thy name.
5 My soul shall be satisfied as with marrow and fatness; and my mouth shall praise thee with joyful lips:
6 When I remember thee upon my bed, and meditate on thee in the [10]night watches.
7 Because thou hast been my help, therefore in the shadow of thy wings will I rejoice.
8 My soul followeth hard after thee: thy right hand upholdeth me.
9 But those that seek my soul, to destroy it, shall go into the lower parts of the earth.
10 They shall fall by the power of the sword: they shall be a portion for foxes.
11 But the king shall rejoice in God; every one that sweareth by him shall glory: but the mouth of them that speak lies shall be stopped.

PSALM 64.

1 David prayeth God for his preservation. 3 The blasphemies of God's chosen by reason of benefits.
To the chief Musician, A Psalm and Song of David.

1 HEAR my voice, O God, in my prayer: preserve my life from fear of the enemy.
2 Hide me from the secret counsel of the wicked; from the insurrection of the workers of iniquity:
3 Who whet their tongue like a sword, and bend their bow to shoot their arrow, even bitter words:
4 That they may shoot in secret at the perfect: suddenly do they shoot at him, and fear not.
5 They encourage themselves in an evil matter: they commune of laying snares privily; they say, Who shall see them?
6 They search out iniquities; [3]they accomplish [3]a diligent search: both the inward thought of every one of them, and the heart, is deep.
7 But God shall shoot at them with an arrow; suddenly [4]shall they be wounded.
8 So they shall make their own tongue to fall upon themselves: [4]all that see them shall flee away.
9 And all men shall fear, and shall [5]declare the work of God; for they shall wisely consider of his doing.
10 The righteous shall be glad in the LORD, and shall trust in him; and all the upright in heart shall glory.

PSALM 65.

1 David praiseth God for his grace. 4 The blessedness of God's chosen by reason of benefits.
To the chief Musician, A Psalm and Song of David.

1 [1]or, we are concerned by that which they have throughly searched.
2 Job 31. 28. Ps. 36. 7. 1 Tim. 6. 17.
3 Heb. a search searched.
4 Job 33. 14. or, Strength.
5 Heb. their wound shall be. Job 34. 31. Prov. 24. 12. Jer. 32. 19. Mal. 3. 5. 7. Rev. 6. 8. Col. 3. 25.
6 Ps. 31. 11. 1 or. 10. 30. 7 Num. 21. 5. 8 Ps. 42. 2.

Patient, hopeful waiting is hard work when it is the only work possible to us in an emergency. But patient waiting is in its time the highest duty of a faithful soul.—H. Clay Trumbull.

"What shall I do for Christ?" asked a young disciple of Bishop Selwyn. "Go where he is not, and take him with you," was the venerable bishop's reply.—Ex.

ABSTRACT OF THE PROCEEDINGS OF ORANGE PRESBYTERY.

(OFFICIAL.)

Orange Presbytery met in the Presbyterian church at High Point, N. C., pursuant to adjournment, April 27th, 1897, and was constituted with prayer by the retiring moderator, Rev. R. E. Caldwell.

A chief feature of the opening exercises was an excellent and scholarly address by Rev. P. H. Hoge, D. D., of Wilmington Presbytery on the "Personnel and Proceedings of the Westminster Assembly." The Presbytery also enjoyed an excellent address, later on, from Rev Dr Howerton of Mecklenburg Presbytery on the "Prospects of the Westminster System."

There were twenty ministers and twenty-three ruling elders in attendance.

Rev C W Robinson was elected moderator, Rev D J Currie with Elder J C Johnston, temporary clerks.

Two new churches were enrolled, Elkin in Wilkes county, and Snow Hill in Stokes county.

Two ministers were received, Rev M W Doggett, D D., from Fort Worth Presbytery, and Rev Joseph Evans from Wilmington Presbytery.

Two candidates were received under the care of the Presbytery, Messrs J C Johnston from the Madison church and W M Sykes from the Buffalo church.

One minister was dismissed, Rev J M Greenlee, to unite with Concord Presbytery.

A number of visiting brethren were present and introduced to the Presbytery: Revs T H Law, D D., Rev P H Hoge, D D., Rev J R Howerton, D D., Rev A J McKelway as corresponding members, and Revs S H Hilliard—Webb, Mattou and W R Laudermilk of the Methodist Church, and J M Hilliard, S H Kestler, of the Baptist church, as visiting brethren.

A call from the Burlington church was placed in the hands of Rev M W Doggett, D D., and accepted by him, and arrangements made for his installation the first Sunday in June by Revs W P McCorkle and S O Hall.

A call from the Milton church was placed in the hands of Rev Joseph Evans and accepted by him, and arrangements made for his installation June 17th by Rev P C Morton, Rev D I Craig and Rev R W Culbertson.

The churches of Madison and Mt. Airy were granted permission to employ the Rev J A Paisley as stated supply.

Rev Dr Law was heard in the interest of the Bible Cause, and Rev A J McKelway in the interest of the Synod's Evangelistic and Missionary work. Both these brethren were most heartily endorsed and their work commended to the Church.

The reports of the committees on Home and Foreign Missions and Colored Evangelization were presented by the various chairmen and received a good degree of attention and elicited considerable discussion and much interest. A popular meeting was held in the interest of both Home and Foreign Missions and a number of earnest addresses made by the home missionaries and others. The reports show much to stimulate and encourage and yet they are not without their discouraging features, especially in the colored evangelistic work. The Presbytery reports to the Assembly, as collected and tabulated from all sources—$4,042 for Foreign Missions, $2,930 for Presbyterial Home Missions, $475 for Synodical Home Missions, $291 for Assembly Home Missions, and $207 for colored work.

A new Executive Committee on Home Missions, with the exception of one member, Rev E W Smith, D D., was elected as follows: Rev R W Culbertson, chairman; Rev E W Smith, D D, Rev J McL. Seabrook, and Elders E P Wharton and T J Shaw, both of Greensboro.

The other executive committees were all re-elected except for Publication and Colportage, of which Rev C W Maxwell is now chairman.

Rev J Henry Smith, D D., as principal, and Rev H S Bradshaw, as alternate, with Ruling Elders AC McAllister as principal, and J E Finley as alternate, were elected commissioners to the Assembly.

Rev W P McCorkle and Rev C W Maxwell were appointed to visit Eno church and hold a meeting there this summer; also Rev W P McCorkle and Rev S O Hall were appointed to visit Calah church to investigate the condition of the church, to hold a meeting, and report at the fall meeting of Presbytery.

A Sunday-school convention was ordered for the second day of the fall meeting of Presbytery and Revs W P McCorkle and Elder Hiram Foard were appointed to assist the Agent of Sunday-schools in preparing a programme.

Bethlehem church was chosen as the place for the next stated meeting, and the time September 7th, at 2.30 o'clock p. m. The Presbytery adjourned however, to meet in the First church, Greensboro, June 2d, at 11 o'clock a. m.

The meeting was pleasant and harmonious, and by a rising vote the good people of High Point received the hearty thanks of the Presbytery for their generous and noble hospitality.

D. I. CRAIG,
Stated Clerk.

REPORT OF EVANGELISTIC COMMITTEE OF FAYETTVILE PRESBYTERY.

Your committee would report with gratitude to God the continuance of the Divine blessing upon the work entrusted to our care.

There have been twenty-two additions to the churches in Johnston county. The little church at Kenly is in an especially prosperous condition its members having increased over one hundred per cent in the year. There have been fourteen accessions to the Smithfield church and the congregations at Oakland are large and constantly improving. There have been thirty-one additions to the Rockingham field, and the outlook is most promising for the future development of the work there. There have been contributed by churches and individuals for this cause the sum of $1,056.68 during the year, a part of this having been sent to the treasurer of the Presbytery. This amount has been paid over to the evangelists with the exception of $25 appropriated to the church building at Roberdel and $20 allowed the chairman for postage and traveling expenses. The debt of $298 30 reported last year has been reduced to $120 to date.

The following appropriations are needed for the coming year: For the Johnston county field, $500. For the Rockingham field, $200; Total, $700. But an additional worker is needed in Johnston county. One-half of the county is as yet untouched by our church and it is impossible for one man to develop any more territory that our evangelist now supplies while there are constant invitations for us to preach the doctrines of our faith. The sum of $600 additional would put a new worker in this field and if to this is added the amount necessary for the fields occupied by Rev W F Thom and Rev Archie McLauchlin and a sum sufficient to pay off our debt it will take only $1,300 for the entire Home Mission work of the Presbytery.

The committee therefore recommends:

1. That Rev J A McMurray be re-elected evangelist of Johnston county at a salary of $825, $325 to be raised by the field.

2. That Rev W R Coppedge be re-elected evangelist of the Rockingham field at a salary of $800 and that he be allowed to give one Sabbath to Jackson Springs and one Sabbath afternoon to Eagle Springs. That $200 be appropriated to this field if that amount is necessary to make the salary $800.

3. That if sufficient pledges can be secured for the work the committee be empowered to elect an additional worker for Johnston county. That the work of the Evangelistic Committee and of the Home Mission Committee be combined and a new committee formed having the duties of both committees, and known as the Home Mission Committee, consisting of the following members, Rev H G Hill, D D., Rev W B Arrowood, Rev Hugh Craig, Rev P R Law, Rev C H Dobbs, Rev C G Vardell, Rev David Fairley, and Elders J M McIver, Loch Shaw, S C Rankin, J C McCaskill and A McIver, and that the chairman be elected by the Presbytery.

A. J. MCKELWAY,
Chairman of Committee.

Dr H G Hill was elected chairman of the Committee. The committee at its meeting in Fayetteville arranged its work in two departments, the department of superintendence and supply being under the direction of the chairman, and the financial work being under the control of Rev W B Arrowood. It was resolved to send a seminary student to the help of Mr McMurray in Johnston county, and to send Rev W R Coppedge one Sunday afternoon to Hamlet where there is a good opening for successful work.

Churches will please send their contributions for Presbyterial Home Missions to Rev W B Arrowood, treasurer, instead of as heretofore to A J McKelway, Fayetteville.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

A SECOND SECRETARY.

The question will come before our Charlotte Assembly: Has not the time arrived for electing a second secretary of Foreign Missions? The present secretary has conducted the work with remarkable ability, wisdom and courtesy, and if we instance the last October collection with during his administration is our argument for strengthening the Head quarters. In December, 1891, the Church sent out its 100th missionary; we hope to see the 200th sent forth in 1898. Corresponding with applicants for appointment, writing regularly to those on the field, settling a thousand perplexing questions, managing the finance, keeping an eye on the churches, ladies' societies and Sabbath-school, is a burden too great for man. Then the absences at Synods and missionary councils, and visiting the heathen fields, proves the necessity for a second secretary in Nashville. This forward movement would add tens of thousands to our receipts. Let prayer be offered, that from among a score of our wise, active and enthusiastic young pastors, the Head of the Church would guide in the selection of one who would share with our Bro. Chester the responsibilities of this great office.

H. C. DUBOSE.

Soochow, China.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

LETTER TO SUNSHINE BAND

OF FIRST CHURCH, WILMINGTON.

MY DEAR FRIENDS:—The band of young friends who so kindly sent me a gift of $25 to make the journey easier cannot know how kind and opportune their gift was. It has been months now since they gave it, and I am very sorry not to have written before to give thanks such as I would, and to tell you about my return home. But you must pardon the silence and believe that the past few months since my return have been the busiest of my life.

What you sent helped me to get a temporary nurse at the various stopping places, which was an immense relief, and otherwise I fear I should have quite broken down with the fatigue of the journey. It was the hardest journey we ever took and the roughest weather, and I cannot bear to think of it even now. We suffered so much on the sea that I could not wish my worst enemy to go through the like.

Once I was lying in the bunk perfectly wretched, the two children beside me, for whom I could do almost nothing, when suddenly Mary kicked up her little heels and said, "I'm so glad I am going to China." I could not help laughing at the child's glee, and it came like a rift in the cloud, and I wondered if I was as glad as I ought to be.

Well, now we are here and I am sure we are all glad. The children are so happy with their little cousins and the two little girls of Mrs. Graham—ten children in all, most of them under five. They play "Frog in the middle," "Ring around a rosy" and make merry over every little trifle. Our prayer-meetings look very much like the infant class of a Sunday-school.

The work among the women is very encouraging. At this season of the year we usually have a very large attendance, often nearly a hundred women at one meeting. We have such a nice large room with high ceiling and as it is quite distinct from the room the men use they seem very free in coming. There are always a great many children brought and they make a good deal of noise, but the women themselves behave much better in the meeting than they used to before I went away. They have learned what is expected of them and there are enough well instructed to influence the others. We have only one Christian woman so far, but believe there are a number who are sincere enquirers and in time we hope to see them brought in.

I have such a nice woman for a nurse. She is over fifty and is the mother of five sons. She seems to enjoy service very much and is learning the Gospel. She never saw the inside of a foreigner's house until she came to me. My nurse has one of her sons dedicated for a priest. He is too young yet to be admitted, but he was given on account of a vow. Some one in the family was sick and she considered this a way of expressing gratitude. I hope they will learn something better before the time comes for him to be admitted. Her oldest son is a scholar; he teaches a little school somewhere. The second one we have as a servant. He cannot read. My nurse is devoted to the children, and she is a great comfort to me. Will you not pray for her conversion?

Please give my love to the dear friends in Wilmington, and tell them that what ever we can do here is their work too. We share the labor and by God's grace hope to share the reward. You hold the ropes and we go down into the dark place. Your prayers are very necessary to our success here. So do not fail us.

If some of you will write to me I shall try to answer each letter. Please do, and tell me, when you write something about yourselves so that I may feel you are really friends.

Now I must close with loving greetings to each one. I remain always your sincere friend in Christ,

FRANCES WOODS.

Mrs. Edgar Woods, Jr.,
S. Presbyterian Mission,
Chinkiang, China.
March 9th, '97.

HOPE ENABLES US TO BEAR TRIAL.

1. It prolongs life. How wonderfully do those who keep up hope struggle against disease. And how many triumphs of extended life have been won through such struggle. Men need to keep some goal in sight always beyond them. The man who attains his ambition has no object for which to struggle, and is liable to early death. Be dissatisfied. Aim high. Let a hope of something better ever bear you on.

2. Hope gives us the anchor of endurance. In the midst of hardest struggle, we hold on. It was the hope of planting the Gospel in India that led Judson to bear the awful sufferings of prison life those many months, and afterward to labor on for years, even though he did not see a single convert. Hope has stayed the hands and strengthened the hearts of all our missionaries who have entered upon new fields. Let us keep up hope. There is a sundial on the pier at Brighton, Eng., with this inscription, "'Tis always morning somewhere in the world."

3. Hope lights up death. With a good hope in the heart, how bravely have Christians everywhere met the king of terrors. Let us cherish the grace of hope. Let us live hopeful lives. Let us labor on in hope. We who have accepted Christ have a hope which, like an anchor to the soul, both sure and steadfast, enters within the vail, holding us steady in every time of stress.—The Treasury.

There is a peace that is worse than war or death—the peace that is obtained at the sacrifice of justice, honor, or duty.—Golden Rule.

Goodness is always beautiful, but most especially so when personified in a wife and mother.

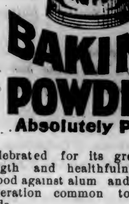
LITERARY JOTTINGS.

Thomas Nelson Page is now engaged upon a novel of some length. He is in Europe.

Messrs. Stephen Crane and Rudyard Kipling are in Greece and Mr. Richard Harding will go at an early date.

Emerson is reported often to have spent from six months to a year in the composition of one or two short essays. His object was the condensation of the greatest possible thought into the fewest number of words.

The women's clubs of Columbus, Ohio, have inaugurated a movement which is intended to assist Mark Twain to discharge his financial obligations from the sales of the books he is now at work upon. They will ask the co-operation of women's clubs everywhere, each member to pledge herself to purchase one copy.



The funds for the Oliver Goldsmith Memorial Window to be placed in the church at his native place, Pallas, County Longford, Ireland, have been fully subscribed. The majority of the subscribers are English men-of-letters. The design sent in by a South of Ireland firm has been selected. The window is to be placed in the church near "Sweet Auburn."

The Professors of Johns Hopkins University honored the memory of the late Prof. J. J. Sylvester, the great mathematician who recently died in London, by a meeting held in McCoy Hall. Prof. Sylvester was professor of mathematics the first seven years of the history of the University. He was afterwards associated with the celebrated seats of learning of the Old World and was everywhere recognized as preeminently a man of science.

As an illustration of his propensity for verse and his absent-mindedness, Dr. Franklin referred to an occasion when a large crowd gathered at the Peabody Institute to hear the mathematician read a poem of four hundred lines, each line rhyming with Rosalind. To assist his memory he had made a number of foot notes and he announced that he would read these notes before the poems. In reading the notes one thought suggested another, and he talked on for an hour and a half without reading the poem. Finally, coming to himself, he was greeted with a good natured laugh from the audience. He hastened to assure them that he would not feel offended if any one left the hall, and proceeded to read the poem.

MAGAZINES.

St. Nicholas for May has an unusually fine table of contents. Much of it is in capital short stories, such as The King's Highway, How Cousin Marion Helped, etc. Poetry and illustrations fine. We commend this very interesting magazine to all. Address The Century Company, Union Square, New York. Price $3.00 a year.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

Celebrated for its great leavening strength and healthfulness. Assured the food against alum and all forms of adulteration common to the cheap brands.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

RATES TO THE ASSEMBLY.

We are authorized and requested to state that the Associated Railways of of Virginia and the Carolinas have issued a published rate of one limited first class fare for the round trip to Charlotte, N. C., from points within the territory of the Association; tickets to go on sale May 17th to the 21st inclusive and the final limit June 10th. The railways comprising the above Association are the Atlantic Coast Line and the Southern Railway Company.

Also, we are requested to publish that the Seaboard Air Line has issued the same rate from points on their line.

The Annual Scheme of Collections in the Synod of North Carolina is as follows:

January—General Assembly's Home Missions.

February and August—Presbyterial Home Missions.

March—Publication and Colportage.

April — Education — (one collection Church and Christian Education).

May and October—Foreign Missions. Third Sabbath in October for Bible Cause.

June and September—Synodical Home Missions.

July—Invalid Fund.

Third Sunday in October—BibleCause.

November and April—Education for the Ministry.

December—ColoredEvangelization

THE ASSEMBLY'S FORM OF BEQUEST.

I do hereby give and bequeath to the Trustees of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States (popularly known as the Southern Presbyterian Church) the sum of .....Dollars for the benefit of [here name cause to which the legacy is given.]

Religious Intelligence.

We specially invite News from all quarters for this Department.

CHANGES OF ADDRESS.

Correspondents will please note the following changes of address:

Rev. L. A. McLaurin, from Elk Park, N. C., to Spruce Pine, N. C.

Rev. E. McNair, D. D., from Gallatin, Mo., to Colorado Spring, Col.,

Rev. E. Brantly, from Eddy, New Mxeico, to Waxahachie, Texas, temporarily.

Rev. H. H. Hawes, D. D., from Bluefield, W. Va., to Williamson, W. Va.

Rev. R. L. Benn, from Nashville, Tenn., to Wartrace, Tenn.

Rev. T. H. Newkirk, from Vineland N. C., to 214 Market Street, Wilmington, N. C.

Mr. Robt. M. Williams, from Hampden Sidney, Va., to Wallace, N. C.

Mr. J. W. Goodman, from Hampden Sidney, Va., to Salisbury, N. C.

Mr. S. W. Moore, from Princeton, N. J., to Hopewell, N. C.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Fayetteville Presbytery:—Fayetteville Presbytery adjourned in Fayetteville to meet at 7 p. m., Monday, June 7th, in Red Springs. The trustees referred to in the official abstract last week were the trustees of Red Springs Seminary. The paragraph should have begun Trustees of Red Springs Seminary.

STATED CLERK.

Bethpage in Concord Presbytery:—We held our communion on the fourth Sabbath in April. Had a precious season of refreshing. Nineteen received since our last communion services, three on certificate and sixteen on examination.

Gilwood;—Communion services begin this week. May the Lord abundantly bless us in the work: W. M. Shaw, pastor.

First Church, Winston—Messrs. J. P. Taylor and Edgar D. Vaughn have recently been elected deacons in this church. The installation services were held last Sunday, May 9th.

First Church, Concord:—Five new members, four of them heads of families have been received since April 1st. The statistical report for the year was encouraging, showing 102 accessions to the communion and seventy-four on profession with a total membership of 375. The sum of $1,157 was contributed to the cause of Local Home Missions. For all purposes $3,292 was contributed. Contributions were made to every benevolent cause of the church, all expenses were fully paid and a considerable sum was left in the treasury. We thank God and take courage.

Patterson's Mill Church:—Has recently received three new members. Our building has been neatly painted through the generosity of Dr. N. D. Fetzer and the Busy Bees Society of the First church of Concord.

Mulberry:—Messrs. C. M. Rhyne and Jos. M. Sloan were ordained and installed ruling elders and Messrs. Robt. Montgomery and F. C. Clark deacons in Mulberry church last Sabbath, 2nd inst, thus greatly increasing efficiency of both the session and board of deacons. Session also received one new member on certificate. The church though young and weak is thrifty. It now takes three fourth of pastor's time instead of half as formerly. Jos. Crockard, pastor.

New Berne:—Five persons were recently received on profession of faith, and one by letter. This makes thirteen in all who have been added to the membership since the present pastor, Rev. G. L. Leyburn was installed last November. Several others have sent for their letters and expect to join very soon.

Saltville:—Rev. J. B. Bittinger, pastor. Six persons recently received by letter making twenty additions since January.

Back Creek Church:—The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered in this church the second Sunday in May. These people still have the good old custom of beginning the preparatory services on Tuesday before. The pastor, Rev. Jno. A. Harris was assisted by Rev. W. C. Brown, whose plain, practical presentation of the gospel made a good impression on all. Five additions to the church were reported. Bro. Harris has been very successful under the blessing of God in his five years' pastorate of this church.

VIRGINIA.

Spring Garden:—One of our new churches is located here. The membership of this church is now one hundred and nineteen. Forty-six were added during last year. One ruling elder and two deacons were recently added to the bench of officials. This community six years ago did not have a single member of the Presbyterian church in it. The spiritual condition of the church is good and the outlook full of encouragement.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Charleston;—Rev. W. W. Brimm, of Decatur, Ga., who has been supplying Ebenezer church for the past few months has accepted the pastorate of the same.

PERSONALS.

Rev. R. E. Caldwell, of Winston will preach the baccalaureate sermon of the Salem Female Academy on the 23rd inst.

Mr. Charles F. Rankin, of Greensboro, a recent graduate of Union Seminary has accepted the second pastorate in Concord, N. C., which has been left vacant by the ill health of Rev. A. K. Pool. He will take charge of the work early in June.

Rev. G. W. Belk, of Chatham, Va., will begin a meeting at Waxhaw, N. C., on the 25th inst.

Mr. J. W. Goodman, of Lipe, N. C., a member of the Junior Class of Union Seminary will assist Dr. J. Rumple, of Salisbury, N. C., in the mission work at Spencer and the new Southern Railway Shops during the summer.

Rev. A. D. McClure will preach the commencement sermon at Red Springs Seminary on Sabbath, June 6th.

Rev. Prof. W. W. Moore, D. D., will deliver the literary address Tuesday evening, June 8th, at the same institution.

Rev. C. E. Hodgin, of the Senior Class, Union Seminary will take charge of the Bennettsville, S. C., field in July. His present address is Antioch, N. C.

Mr. J. W. Stokes, of Atlanta, Ga., a student of Union Seminary, will labor at Inanda, N. C., during his vacation.

Mr. E. L. Wilson, of Louisville Seminary will have charge of the Third church Louisville, Ky., during the summer.

Mr. Willis Wade Williams, of Mills River, N. C., a student of Louisville Seminary, will labor in the Waynesville, N. C., field during his vacation.

Rev. James Wood Bouldin, of the Senior Class Louisville Seminary will be stationed at Bryson City, City, N. C.

Mr. Geo. T. Pace, of the Junior Class, Union Seminary, will labor at Home Lake, Miss., during his summer vacation.

Mr. Robt. Murphy Williams, of the Junior Class Union Seminary, will have charge of Wallace, Rockfish, Mt Zion and Warsaw churches, in Wilmington Presbytery during the summer

Our sympathy is extended to Rev. Dr. J. M. Rose in the loss of his infant child, told of in our obituary columns.

Rev. D. N. McLauchlin, of Chester, S. C., will deliver the alumni oration at Davidson Commencement.

Rev. R. A. Miller, of Lowell is assisting Rev. S. W. Newell in a series of meetings.

Rev. Edward Mack has accepted the pastorate of the First church, Norfolk and will enter upon his labors the first of June.

Rev. E. Brantly, of Eddy, New Mexico has resigned his charge on account of the ill health of his wife.

Rev. E. J. Young, of Thibodeaux, La., who has been ill with malarial fever is convalescent and has gone to Kirksville, Mo., to resume the osteopathic treatment.

Mr. H. L. Patterson, of Columbia Seminary will have charge of Thibodeaux and Houma churches, Louisiana, during the summer.

The congregation and friends of Rev. R. S. Burwell, of Gallatin, Tenn., showed the appreciation of their pastor by beautifully fitting up the manse with many handsome presents for the reception of Mr. Burwell and his bride. Mrs. Burwell was formerly Miss Blanche Franklin.

Dr. E. R. Long, of the Southwestern University has announced his acceptance of the presidency of the Arkansas College, at Batesville.

Mr. H. H. Sweets, of Louisville Seminary, will take charge of the Reservoir Avenue Mission, Louisville, during his vacation.

Rev. R. E. Sherrill, of Haskell, will supply the church at Cisco, Texas, temporarily.

Our sympathy is extended Rev. M. N. McIver upon the death of his sister who died recently in Georgia.

Rev. Dr. Jere Witherspoon, of Baltimore has been elected a trustee of the Theological Seminary at Princeton.

Rev. J. S. Shaw and family of Sandifer, N. C., are visiting Rev. C. A. Munroe, of Lenoir.

HERE AND THERE.

Robeson county has nineteen Presbyterian churches.

There are thirteen counties in Albemarle Presbytery without a Presbyterian church.

The Presbyterian church that has the largest membership of any in North Carolina is the Second church, Charlotte.

Brunswick county with a white population of over 6,000 has only one Presbyterian minister and two organized churches.

Mecklenburg county has thirty-two churches belonging to the different branches of the Presbyterian Church, and a larger Presbyterian membership than any other county in the State.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

COMMENCEMENT AT UNION SEMINARY.

DEAR MR EDITOR;—Your correspondent had much rather leave the description of the closing exercises of the Seminary to an abler pen, but for fear others may not be will endeavor to give your readers a short account of what was pronounced by many one of the most interesting and impressive closings Old Union has had in many years. Dr. Murray's pulpit was filled on Sunday morning by Rev. L. B. Johnston of South Boston, Va., who preached most earnestly and fervently the Old, Old Story as told in Jno 3:16. Bro. Johnston made an impression that will never be forgotten by many who heard him. But as the sequel proved his sermon was also a foretaste of the other good things to follow. That night in the Seminary chapel, Prof. W. S. Currell, Ph.D., whose name is familiar to almost your readers, delivered the lecture before the Society of Missionary Inquiry. His subject was Paul, The Model Missionary. His characterization of what the model missionary as well as the model minister at home should be, as gathered from the life and writings of Paul, was very fine, and everybody went away with a higher appreciation of the great apostle, and a higher ideal of the Christian minister.

On Tuesday night came the inauguration of Dr. Strickler as Professor of Theology. Dr. Peyton Hoge, as chairman of the Board, propounded the questions, Dr. J. W. Rosebro pronounced the charge to the professor-elect, after which Dr. Strickler delivered his inaugural address on the subject, The Importance of the Study of Our Theology.

It is impossible to give any idea of this address in a brief synopsis. Suffice it to say it was a masterly argument from beginning to end for the standards of our Church and for a close, diligent study of them, especially by young ministers of the Church.

Dr. Strickler, during the past year, has shown his eminent fitness for the place to which he has been called, and it is earnestly hoped that he may be spared many years to teach our young men the doctrines of our holy religion.

Wednesday, May 5th, the chapel was filled to overflowing by twelve o'clock to witness the graduation exercises. After the grand old hymn "Coronation," had been sung, Dr. Hoge read the names of those who had successfully completed the course, and then presented them with their diplomas and certificates. This was followed by the charge to the outgoing class by Dr. G. W. Finley. His address was a perfect gem of its kind. It was delivered in martial style by one who had been a soldier himself in the civil war. He brought news from the field in which was being waged the battle of the Lord of Hosts, and right nobly did he charge the young soldiers of the cross before him to prepare for the fray of the evil one.

NOTES.

There were several conspicuous absentees from the meeting of the Board, among them, Dr. Henry Louis Smith, Dr. Turnbull and Mr. Geo. W. Watts.

The Board refused to grant the request of the students for a return to the old custom of giving a Christmas vacation.

The degree of Bachelor of Divinity will be granted hereafter to those who complete successfully the three years' course.

The next session will open at Hampden Sidney Sept. 1st, 1898, at four o'clock.

Some of the under-graduates are located as follows: C. C. Anderson, mission work in Montgomery Presbytery; James Arthur, Hot Springs, Va.; S. L. Cathey, Attapugus, Ga.

J. J. Duncan will preach at New Store and other points in Cumberland county, Va. H. C. Hammond will do mission work in Atlanta, Ga.; G. B. Hourahan is "Bishop" of Lambert's Point, Va., for the summer.

L. F. Harper will supply some vacant churches in West Hanover Presbytery.

W E Hudson returns to his last summer's field at Seven Mill Ford, Va.

S S Oliver will spend part of his vacation at Danbury, N. C. H G Richardson will assist Rev Mr Hobson at Pearisburg, Va.

J W Stokes has work at Inanda, N.C., near Asheville.

W C Underwood, after a month's rest at home returns to Sharp's Wharf, Va., to supply the church there.

J L Yandle will do mission work in Asheville Presbytery.

J L Mauzy goes to Kentucky to engage in evangelistic work.

D P McGeachy will supply Flat Branch, Spout Springs and Barbecue in Fayetteville Presbytery.

R E Vinson will preach at Shiloh, Bethel and Monpelier in same Presbytery. R M Williams will do mission work at Wallace, N. C., and other points in Fayetteville Presbytery. G.

May 8th, 1897.

COMMISSIONERS TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

PRESBYTERIES.

Ministers.	Ruling Elders.
Abingdon.
P H Gwinn,	E H Buchanan.
Albamarle.
C N Wharton,	Judge Geo Howard.
Asheville.
H M Parker,	Elam Slagel.
Athens.
J W Walden, D D,	J M Hodgson.
Atlanta.
J F Pharr,	J L Hines,
W P Hemphill,	H S Stanly.
Augusta,
M C Britt,	J M Dent.
Bethel.
J K Hall,	James Hemphill,
J G Herndon,	John Sillinglaw.
Brazos.
G G Woodbridge,	D D Peden.
Central Mississippi.
C S Newman,	D Askew.
Central Texas.
S A King, D D,	W T Shannon,
R K Smoot, D D,	W T Roxburgh.
Charleston.
J C Oehler,	S W Welch,
J L McLees,	O E Johnson, Jr.
Cherokee.
G T Goetchins, DD,	Foster Harper.
Chesapeake.
A W Pitzer, D D,	C H Kemper.
Chickasaw.
W V Frierson,	Dr L A Hill.
Columbia.
R S Brown,	J F Kennedy.
Concord.
RevW A Wood, DD,	J G Hall,
RevJB Shearer, DD,	Dr G H Moran,
Dallas.
E M Munroe, D D,	Dr R W Wilson.
East Hanover.
M D Hoge, D D.,	Hon W H Mann,
J Calvin Stewart,	B R Wellford.
Eastern Texas.
D A McRae,	Hon E B Lewis.
Ebenezer.
W H Davis,	J P Marshall
Enoree.
T M McConnell,	T H Stall,
C B Jennings,	W W Simpson.
Fayetteville.
W B Arrowood,	Dr D N Patterson.
Florida.
W S Porter,	R H M Davidson.
Fort Worth.
J M Smith,	J L Cunningham.
Harmony.
C M Richards,	Samuel Boykin.
Holston.
A S Doak	W M Graybill.
Kanawha.
J C Barr, D D,	J H Steenbergen.
Knoxville.
J W Bachman, DD,	J A Chambers.
La Fayette.
A W Milster,	Samuel Davis,
W W Palmer.	Samuel J Palmer.
Lexington.
C D Gilkerson,	W M McAllister,
A R Cocke, D D,	J P McClure.
Louisiana.
R F Patterson,	I T Young.
Louisville.
F C Molloy,	F B Offset,
J J Hill,	J B Bird.
Macon.
H G Griswold,	Judge J O Perry.
Maryland.
J W Thomas,	C W Dorsey.
Mecklenburg.
R Z Johnston,	F H Curtis,
A A Little,	J C McLauchlin.
Memphis.
W McF Alexander,	G M Albright.
Mississippi.
W B Bingham.	John W Ross,
Montgomery.
T M McCorkle,	J R Grey,
J M Holliday,	John K Peck.
Muhlenburg.
J C Tate, D D.,	Dr F M. Stites.
Nashville.
Robert Price, D D.,	Dr L B McCrary.
R C Reed, D D.,	Geo L Cowan.
New Orleans.
R Q Mallard, DD,	H Ginder.
Norfolk.
H T Darnall,	R W Santos.
North Alabama.
A B Curry,	Judge A C Howze,
J L R Walker,	C W Alexander.
North Mississippi.
J C Carothers,	Judge E Johnson.
Orange.
J Henry Smith, DD.,	A C McAllister.
Ouachita.
R M Hammock,	W W Watts.
Palmyra.
M H Kerr,	Wm S Forsyth.
Paris.
J H Wiggins, DD.,	J M Hoskins.
Pee Dee.
J G Richards,	Dr J A James.
Pine Bluff.
S C Alexander, DD.	John Hammock.
Potosi.
Charles P Foreman,	Henry L Caldwell.
Red River.
James A McLeese,	John A Baskin.
Roanoke.
L B Johnston,	E M Williamson,
J W M Elder,	Wm Hethorne.
Savannah.
W A Nisbet,	Maj P Pelham.
South Alabama.
R A Mickle,	C H McDowell.
South Carolina.
C L Stewart,	J H Anderson.
St Johns.
F D Hunt,	Dr F S Hall.
St. Louis.
Edward Mack,	W M McPheeters.
Suwanee.
H H Newman,	B W Powell.
Tombeckbee.
A B Coit,	H M Street.
Transylvania.
W T Overstreet,	E S Mayes,
A W Crawford,	J W Mourning.
Tuskaloosa.
J D Dean,	R E McWilliams.
Upper Missouri.
S M Neel,	J W Byers.
Washbourne.
S W Davies, D D.,	W W Kerr.
Western Texas.
R L Dabney, D D,	Perry Doddridge.
West Hanover.
Daniel Blain, D D,	George Perkins.
West Lexington.
F R Beattie, D D,	Dr H McDowell.
Wilmington.
T H Newkirk,	Jackson Johnson.
Winchester.
E D Washburn,	Judge Giles Cook,
H T Graham,	I H C Pancake.

GOLD DUST.

"Honor and shame from no condition rise;
Act well your part, there all the honor lies."
—Pope.

***

Cultivate the habit of always seeing the best in people, and, more than that, of drawing forth whatever is the best in them.—Theodore L. Cuyler.

***

The law was all precept, the Gospel all promise, for its precepts are inclosed in its promise. — Bishop Medley.

***

God does not need either man's work or
His own gifts,
Who best bears His mild yoke, they serve Him best.
They also serve who only stand and wait.
—Milton.

***

The only thing that really belongs to us is our will, and it is of this, therefore, that God is especially jealous; for he gave it to us not that we should retain it, but that we should return it to Him, whole, as we received it, without the slightest reservation.—Fenelon.

MEETINGS OF PRESBYTERIES.

(OFFICIAL.)

Concord Presbytery held the stated spring meeting in Statesville, N C beginning, April 27th, at 8 p m, and closing on Friday afternoon.

The meeting was opened with a sermon by Rev W C Alexander There were present twenty ministers and thirty-two Elders.

Rev J A Ramsay was chosen moderator, and Rev A T Graham and Rev R S Arrowood, temporary clerks.

A church was reported as organized at Patterson's Mill, Cabarrus county, N C, and the name of the elder from that church enrolled.

Commission to ordain and install Mr W C Brown reported that he had been ordained and installed at Concord church and his name was enrolled.

Rev C Miller was received from Orange Presbytery and Rev W J Tidball from Ouachita Presbytery. Candidate Edgar Tufts was received from Roanoke Presbytery. Rev M A Henderson was dismissed to Mecklenburg Presbytery.

Rev E E Pressly was granted permission to labor out of the bounds of this Presbytery until the next stated meeting.

Calls from Rocky River, Zion and White Hall churches, for the pastoral services of Rev C Miller, were presented and read, and the call from Rocky River was accepted by him and he was given permission to hold the other calls for consideration until the next stated meeting.

Upon petition from citizens of China Grove, a commission consisting of Revs C A Munroe, J A Harris and W M Shaw and Elders Dr J S Lafferty, A F Goodman and A F Cannon, was appointed to organize a church at that place.

Mr H U Ingram a member of Bethany church was taken under the care of the Presbytery as a candidate for the ministry.

Licentiate Walter L Lingle was granted permission to labor out of the bounds of this Presbytery for another year.

A popular meeting in the interest of Home Missions, was held Wednesday evening.

RevT H Law, DD, of Enoree, Rev Eugene Daniel, DD, of Albemarle and Rev A J McKelway, of Fayetteville Presbytery, were invited to sit as corresponding members.

Presbytery was given a delightful entertainment at the Statesville Female College by President Jno B Burwell on Wednesday evening.

Thursday the 29th was mostly taken up with the Westminster exercises.

Rev J Rumple, D D, delivered an Introductory Historical address. Rev J B Shearer, D D, made an address on Presbyterianism and Education, after which brief and informal addresses were made by other members of the Presbytery.

In the afternoon Rev Jno M Rose, D D, preached a sermon on "The Faith once Delivered to the Saints" from 2 Tim. 1: 13, 14 and Jude 3. In the evening Rev Eugene Daniel, D D, delivered an address on "The Teachers and Teachings Pre-Determining the Westminster Assembly to Calvinism." After the address by Dr Daniel, Rev T H Law, D D, spoke on the work of the A B Society.

Appropriate devotional exercises were interspersed with the able and eloquent addresses and sermon.

Rev W A Wood, D D, and Rev J B Shearer, D D, were elected Commissioners to the General Assembly with Rev J A Ramsay and Rev C A Munroe as their alternates. Ruling Elders J G Hall, of Hickory and Dr Geo H Moran, of Morganton were elected principal commissioners with Mr P B Fetzer of Concord and Hon A Leazar as their alternates.

Taylorsville was chosen as the place of next meeting, and Friday, Oct. 1st, at 7.30 p m, as the time.

Rev W A Wood, D D, was appointed to preach the Presbyterial sermon at the fall meeting on Foreign Missions.

The following resolution was adopted:

In recognition of the importance of the Bible Cause, lying, as it does, at the basis of every department of our work and in view of the fact that only eight churches contributed to this cause during the last year, the Presbytery hereby directs its churches not to neglect to take the collection for this cause ordered by the Assembly in the month of October.

Presbytery adjourned to meet at Mooresville Tuesday, May 18th, at 10.30 a m.

W. R. McLELLAND,
Stated Clerk.

North Alabama Presbytery met at Woodlawn, April 13th, 1897, and the opening sermon was preached by Rev R T Liston on the Westminster Assembly as a subject.

Membership. Fifty-two (twenty-two ministers and thirty elders.)

Officers. Rev J H Lacy moderator and J H Hall and F C McAlpine clerks.

Westminster's Anniversary was observed according to the following program:

1. History of the Westminster Assembly of Divines, Rev John Barbour.

2. Distinctive Doctrines of the Westminster Standards, Rev D McQueen.

3. Westminster Standards and Civil Liberty, Rev J H Lacy.

4. Duties of Presbyterians of the present day to the Westminster Standards, Rev A L Phillips, D D.

Commissioners to the General Assembly. Rev A B Curry, Birmingham; Rev J L R Walker, Talladega; Judge A C Howze, Birmingham: Col C W Alexander, Birmingham. Alternates: Rev J H Lacy, Florence; Rev L S Handley, D D, Birmingham; Dr S C Carson, Bessemer; W R Dortch, Esq, Gadsden.

Mr Harris E Kirk was licensed to preach.

Rev W L Bedinger was dismissed to Louisville Presbytery.

New Church Organized. Montevallo, by Rev W I Sinnott as evangelist assisted by Rev John Barbour.

W. I. SINNOTT,
Stated Clerk.

ARMSTRONG & McKELVY Pittsburgh.
BEYMER-BAUMAN Pittsburgh.
DAVIS-CHAMBERS Pittsburgh.
FAHNESTOCK Pittsburgh.
ANCHOR } Cincinnati.
EOKSTEIN }
ATLANTIC
BRADLEY
BROOKLYN
JEWETT New York.
ULSTER
UNION
SOUTHERN
SHIPMAN } Chicago.
COLLIER
MISSOURI
RED SEAL St. Louis.
SOUTHERN
JOHN T. LEWIS & BROS CO Philadelphia.
MORLEY Cleveland.
SALEM Salem, Mass.
CORNELL Buffalo.
KENTUCKY Louisville.

IT is a significant fact that responsible dealers sell and responsible painters use Pure White Lead (see list of genuine brands) and Pure Linseed Oil. They know their business. Those who don't know, try to sell and use the "just-as-good mixtures," "so called White Lead," &c., &c.

FREE By using National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors, any desired shade is readily obtained. Pamphlet giving valuable information and card showing samples of colors free; also cards showing pictures of twelve houses of different designs painted in various styles or combinations of shades forwarded upon application to those intending to paint.

National Lead Co., 1 Broadway, New York.

DOUBTFUL THINGS.

In the life of every Christian there are many questions which rise perpetually for answer. We puzzle about them in our hours of reverie. We listen with keen intentness to an address or sermon that seems likely to cast light on them, though as often as not we turn away disappointed. We sometimes, in bursts of confidence, intrust them to our friends, asking for help. And yet, after all, we have to waive the verdict; and the solution is given, not definitely or concisely, but by circumstances, or by an entire change in the conditions of our life. May it not be that these debatable matters are allowed to arise to test us? They are the gymnastics of the soul. They do for us what the exercise-ground does for the soldier, and the yards of the training-ship for the young soldier.

It is almost impossible, therefore, to lay down any authoritative rules of conduct. After all, each must decide what is right and wrong for himself. All we can do is to enunciate certain great principles, which always need to be borne in mind.

1. Study the effect of any questionable fellowship or pastime upon the devout life. How many pitfalls there lie on heavily carpeted floors! What disloyalty to the King may be perpetrated in our light and unguarded hours! And how often, when the brilliantly lighted rooms are deserted for the lonely chamber, there is the sense of having lost tone!

Of course, the best and surest deliverance from this evil is to be found in the heightened or deepened soul-life, which can pass through through scenes like these so completely at rest in Christ, so steadfastly rooted and grounded in his love, as not to drift before any current, or to be swayed by any breeze. But where this is impossible, where prayer and faith and the girding of the soul are ineffective to keep us to our moorings in Christ, it were better to avoid the scenes which always deteriorate and blight and dim.

2. Beware of being brought under the power of any doubtful thing. As soon as that which may be innocent in itself, and lawful for another, becomes imperious in its demand for satisfaction, as soon as it asserts its powers or thunders at the gate of the soul, like the mob before the palace of Versailles demanding bread, then the apostle declares he would have none of it.

We none of us know the strength of the current till we turn to face it, or the force of habit till we essay to lay it aside. Paul, however, refused to allow the current to become swift and strong, or single actions to become habits, unless he were perfectly sure that they came from God and bore him Godward.

Well would it be for each to ponder deeply the habits and practices of life. They may be as innocent as lawn tennis, as healthy as cycling, but just as soon as anything which appears absolutely harmless, and indeed is harmless to others, begins to assume preponderating power, there is nothing for it but to put it aside.

3. Study next the effect on others. Each act of ours influences others for good or ill, as each atom on the seashore affects all other atoms. You, boasting in your freedom and strength, may be able to expose yourself without hurt, where others would simply perish. Is it right to entice men to walk on glaciers to which they are not accustomed, when their shoes are not studded with nails, and no pole is in their hand, and a fall almost certain? Is it right to tempt the weak and inexperienced far out of their depth because you can withstand the motion of the current and the beat of the surf?

4. Do nothing on which you cannot ask the blessing of Christ. In the old days it was thought that if the sign of the cross were made over any vessel that contained poison, it would instantly be shivered in pieces; so whenever some doubtful topic confronts us, let each say: "Can I do this for Jesus? Can I do it as one who is abiding in fellowship with Him? Can I ask his blessing? Can I do it for His glory?" If you can; if, as you look up into His face, He answers you with a smile; if you have the consciousness of being in the current of his life, then hesitate no more, but go forward where the way lies open.—Rev. F. B. Meyer, in Golden Rule.

He whose life has failed to make the world better than he found it must find it very hard to die.

BOOKS RECEIVED.

Fillmore's Musical Messenger, Cincinnati and New York.

Catalogue of Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va.

The Missionary Herald, American Board of Commissioners of Foreign Missions, Boston.

Wonderland, a beautifully gotten up story of the Northwest, issued by the Northern Pacific Railway.

Catalogue of the Bible Normal College, formerly The School for Christian Workers, Springfield, Mass.

Extra number of The University Record, embracing the inauguration of President Alderman, and

The annual commencement of the Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary for '96 and '97. The faculty is composed of seven of our representative instructors. The total number of students registered was sixty-seven. We note four from North Carolina.

After....
Taking

a course of Ayer's Pills the system is set in good working order and a man begins to feel that life is worth living. He who has become the gradual prey of constipation, does not realize the friction under which he labors, until the burden is lifted from him. Then his mountains sink into molehills, his moroseness gives place to jollity, he is a happy man again. If life does not seem worth living to you, you may take a very different view of it after taking

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

PEACE INSTITUTE FOR YOUNG LADIES, RALEIGH, N. C.

This Institute offers thorough collegiate courses in English, History, Literature, Mathematics, Sciences, Ancient and Modern Languages, Music, Art, Elocution and Physical Culture.

As to its high standard for graduation, its thoroughness of instruction, its moderate charges for the advantages offered, and the extent of its courses in Art and Music, this Institute cannot be surpassed.

It offers also thorough preparatory courses. Correspondence solicited.

Board and English Tuition One Year $200.

For illustrated catalogue and full particulars, address the Principal,
JAS. DINWIDDIE, M. A., University of Virginia.
Term begins Sept. 16th, 1896. Closes first of June.

The Normal & Collegiate Institute

For Young Women.

ASHEVILLE, N. C. SPRING TERM OPENING FEB. 1st. 1897

OFFERS TO THE STUDENTS:

1. A Classical Course, including Ancient and Modern Languages, Science, Music, Drawing, etc.
2. A Normal Course for the thorough training of Teachers under instructors from the best Normal Schools.
3. Commercial Course, including Stenography, Type-writing, Book-keeping, etc.
4. Domestic Science, including Scientific Cooking, Draughting, Cutting, Fitting and Making of garments.

Systematic study of the Bible in all departments.
Terms for Board and Tuition in any of the departments, $50 per term, or half school year.
☞ For catalogue, address

REV. THOS. LAWRENCE, D. D
ASHEVILLE, N. C.

Cluster Springs High School

(On Lynchburg and Durham R. R., six miles from N. C. line)

BLACK WALNUT, VIRGINIA.

For boys and young men. A well equipped high school at a most pleasant, accessible, and healthful location. Lithia, sulphur, iron, and pure waters. Good buildings and improved school equipments. Swimming Pool, Gymnasium, and Athletic Field. Special attention to manners and development of character. Thorough instruction. Three teachers. Prepares for college or for business Our certificates admit to college. Tuition and home $—— Our catalogue tell all about it. Address,

REV. T. S. WILSON, President,
or E. L. BARNES, A. B., Principal

A. D. BROWN,

Successor to Brown & Roddick,

29 NORTH FRONT STREET, WILMINGTON, N. C.

IMPORTER OF FINE

DRY GOODS AND CARPETS,

ORIENTAL AND DOMESTIC RUGS,

"WARNER'S CORSETS," "HER MAJESTY'S CORSETS,"

"THOMPSON'S GLOVE FITTING CORSETS," "R & G" AND "FERRIS" CORSETS.

"FOSTER" KID GLOVES, "KAYSER" SILK GLOVES.

"HUDNUT'S" EXQUISITE TOILET REQUISITES.

Mail Orders Given Special Attention.

Sabbath School Dep't.

CONDUCTED BY REV. A. D. McCLURE.

Second Quarter—Lesson VIII.

May 23, 1897.—Acts xv : 1-6,22-29.

Commit to memory verses 3, 4.

Subject. The Conference at Jerusalem

Golden Text. "Through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, we shall be saved, even as they." Acts xv. 11.

CATECHISM.

Question 41.—Wherein is the moral law summarily comprehended?

Answer. The moral law is summarily comprehended in the ten commandments.

Time. A. D. 41.

Place. Antioch and Jerusalem.

INTRODUCTORY.

The Christian Church has been in existence for about twenty years. It has extended into Palestine. Phenicia, Damascus, Antioch, Cyprus and South Galatia in Asia Minor. Its members, large and influential, include Jews, proselytes, Grecianized Jews and Gentiles. Under the guidance of the Holy Spirit there had been a gradual broadening. Now a question springs up to divide the opinions of the Church, whether the Gentiles must become Jewish proselytes and submit to the Jewish ceremonial law in order to be saved. Some strict Jews said yes, Paul and the Gentile Christians denied that there was any such obligation. They insisted that repentance and faith as the expressions of a new nature implanted by the Holy Spirit were the only conditions of church membership. The Jews might observe the ceremonial law, as Paul and Barnabas did, as a part of their national life linking them to the old dispensation. But to the Gentiles it was a question of Christian liberty, of the true spiritual nature of the Church, of the salvation of the world, and of the spiritual and highest fulfillment of the promises. The Church in modern times has not been divided on a more serious question, and one so likely to destroy the unity of the Church. That question was settled and any now may be by counsel under the guidance of the Holy Spirit.

LESSON NOTES.

Vs. 1. Down from Judea. The common way of speaking was always up to Jerusalem and down away from it as it is now of London or any great commercial or capital city. These certain men which came were probably the ones "sent from James" (Gal. ii. 12.) They were the strictest of Pharisaic Christians. Taught the brethren: Christians of Antioch. Except ye be circumcised; proclaimed the doctrine in a formal and positive manner. It was, albeit unwittingly, a denial of the sufficiency of faith in Christ for pardon and reconciliation. Circumcision was the rite which admitted to the Jewish covenant as required by the law of Moses.

Vs. 2. Dissension and disputation, because both sides thought they were right. They, the Christians at Antioch, determined by the Holy Spirit, as Paul says Gal. ii. 2. Paul the apostle to the Gentiles—Barnabas, a Levite member of the Church at Jerusalem who had given so much to the poor there. Certain other leaders who could testify to the work among the Gentiles. To Jerusalem, about three hundred miles away, to the Mother Church and seat of the apostles hitherto, for advice. It was the only authority which the Judaizing teachers and element at Antioch would acknowledge.

Vs. 3. Being brought on their way by the Church as a mark of respect. Through Phenice and Samaria, along the coast of the Mediterranean, through Tyre and Sidon where as well as in Samaria, Philip probably preached. They caused great joy at the news of the extensive spread of the Gospel in the conversion of the Gentiles through their ministry.

Vs. 4. Were received of the Church. The words used imply a cordial reception, probably in a public meeting as the great missionaries of the faith. They declared all things: gave an account of their work and the great ingathering of the Gentiles, and the changes in their lives. That God had done. They gave all glory to God. Certain of the sect of the Pharisees believers in Christ, but strict in the observance of the ceremonial law, raised opposition to what Paul had done and said. Apparently they demanded that Titus should be circumcised and become a Jewish Proselyte, Gal. ii. 3. Jewish opinion was divided as to how far a Gentile should conform to the ceremonial law to become a proselyte to the Jewish Church.

Vs. 6. The Apostles and Elders, shows that in this earliest Synod or Assembly elders or presbyters were the representatives of the churches to take counsel with the apostles. Most of the more distinguished and best known teachers of early Christianity were present. Peter the leader of the little church of the first day; John the friend of Christ, who probably survived all his brother apostles; James, the Lord's brother, the chief of the ascetic party in the early church; Paul and Barnabas, the advocates for a broad Gentile Church, liberated from Jewish restraints and rites; Titus the famous pupil of Paul; Silas another of Paul's trusted counsellors; and Judas—these we know were there." Schaff.

Vs 22. These placed it all, so that the council came to a unanimous decision.

Vs. 23. They wrote. So that the decision could not be misunderstood.

Vs. 24. Certain which went out from us Implies that they did not have the authority to speak for others. Subverting. Entirely removing rights.

Vs. 25. Barnabas and Paul is the order of the names before the first missionary journey, because Barnabas was best known and had brought Paul to Jerusalem.

Vs. 26. Have hazarded their lives. Martyrs in will though still living.

Vs. 27. Judas and Silas. Two well known men were to sanction the authority of the letter.

Vs. 28. To the Holy Ghost and to us. To the Holy Ghost who taught them. They were the agents of the Holy Ghost. Necessary things to the pure, moral and spiritual life of the Gospel.

Vs 29. From meats offered to idols, and then sold in the markets. The decree was in the words of James before the council.

PRACTICAL POINTS.

1. Honest differences of opinion will arise among the best people, because they are the best looking for the best and seeking to live and do it.

2. Discussion in a Christian spirit will lead to clearer views of truth, a broader vision, a better harmony.

3. The Holy Spirit will guide to right counsels. He is here to guide into all truth.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

Lesson for week ending Sunday, May 23rd, 1897.

BY REV. B. E. WALLACE.

Topic for May 23rd: Peace: where to seek it, and how. Gen. 13:5-18.

Text for the week:

My peace I give unto you. John 14:27.

Monday, The coming peace. Isa. 11:1 10.

Tuesday, The Prince of peace. Isa. 9:1-7.

Wednesday, Peace, A sword. Matt. 10:34-39.

Thursday, No peace possible. 2 Kings 9. 14-24.

Friday, A judicious peace. Luke 14:25 33.

Saturday, A false peace. Jer. 8:4-11.

Sunday, Topic. Gen. 13:5-18.

Suggestions for Leaders:

1. Select the peace-maker of your society to lead this meeting.

2. Have one member to give the characteristics of the "Prince of Peace."

3. Have special prayer for the peace of nations.

4. Impress the importance of peace in your church work.

Notes:

Peace: When to seek it, and how. This is a timely question. As we look at the contention of powers to day in bloody conflict we cry unto God to send the Messenger of Peace to say "Peace be still." Everywhere there is struggle. In the individual heart, in the home, in the community, in the Church yes and in the nations. From all these sources comes the cry for Peace.

When to seek Peace:

Why before there is war. Get the Peace of God in your own heart and you will not want to raise a fuss with your neighbor. If you want to live in peace with your follow-men live Peace with God.

How to seek Peace.

Seek Christ the Prince of Peace. Seek the good of some other than yourself. Seek the humblest place at the feast.

"Blessed are the peacemakers for they shall be called the children of God."

Dear Endeavorers: Pray for peace in your heart, home, Church and country and live as you pray.

OPEN DOOR NOTES.

A. C. E. Society was recently organized in Marion, Ala., with forty-eight members.

A Westminster League has been organized in the Jonesboro church, Rev. K. A. McLeod, pastor.

Rev. C. G. Vardell recently addressed the missionary societies of Maxton upon The Mind of the Master. The address was full of practical and pungent thought.

A promising Westminster League has been organized in the Presbyterian church, Marion, N. C., Ed. H. Dysart, is president; Clarence M. McCall, vice-president; Miss Edith House, secretary; and Miss Nannie Guy, treasurer.

The session of the Presbyterian church at Mckinney, Texas, Rev. J. H. Davies, pastor, have unanimously agreed that no money should be raised for any church purpose by worldly means, but simply by the free will offering of the people. In this connection $18.65 were contributed to Foreign Missions by the children and others were to be heard from.

PUZZLE DEPARTMENT.

ANSWERS FOR APRIL 29TH.

Aaron's rod, Num. 17:8—Cornie and Myrtle Wilkinson, Nerta J. Holt, Mary R. Moran, Della Cook.

Night hawk, cuckoo and owl are all found in Lev. 11:16—Cornie and Myrtle Wilkinson, Nerta J. Holt, Maggie Hall, Mary R. Moran.

The stone for Solomon's temple was formed before it was brought to the temple, 1 Kings, 6:7—Nerta J. Holt, Mary R. Moran.

Solomon—Cornie and Myrtle Wilkinson, Maggie Hall, Della Cook.

Where are grasshoppers mentioned in the Bible? Lelia Denny.

How were the ancient looking glasses made? Nerta J. Holt.

ENIGMA.

My 2, 9, 6, 2, 10, 11, is a Roman province.

2, 10, is a city of the Canaanites.

2, 1, 10, 11, is a continent.

8, 7, 2, 7, 11, 5, is the resting place of the ark.

2, 3, 2, 1, 10, 2, is a town in Pontus.

1, 2, 3, 2, 7, 10, 8, is the capital of Israel.

9, 8, 5, is a small animal.

9, 6, 10, 4, 1, is an island off the coast of Asia Minor.

My whole is a word of eleven letters which make an island in the Aegean Sea.

Nellie Battle.

EVANGELISTIC NOTES.

Rev. William Black has conducted a successful meeting at Westminster church, Greensboro, Rev S. O. Hall, pastor. There were large and increasing congregations at every service. Many signed cards indicating their intention of connecting themselves with the church, and the pastor notes as the most blessed result of the services the reconsecration of many of the members of the church to the work of the Lord. Mr. Black is now at Wilson, helping Rev. James Thomas in the work there.

The Superintendent has visited the Presbyteries of the Synod this month with the exception of Wilmington which adjourned too soon, and Asheville which met the same week with Concord and Orange. There is much interest everywhere in the Home Mission work, and cordial co-operation with the present system. The Superintendent also visited the churches of Shelby and Davidson College, the former contributing $62.50, and the latter $145.60 to the Synodical Fund. Rev. William Black collected $100 in Greensboro.

A. J. McKELWAY,
Superintendent.

[The notes were received last week too late for insertion.]

MARRIED.

☞No notice of a marriage or death will be inserted unless accompanied by a responsible name, which is wanted not for publication but as a guaranty of good faith.

MATTHEWS—CRAIG. In the Central Presbyterian church, Atlanta, Ga., Thursday, May 6th, 1897, at 7 o'clock p. m., by Rev. J. N Craig, D. D., assisted by Rev. Theron H. Rice, Mr. William Alexander Mathews, of Atlanta, to Miss Maud Mary Craig, daughter of the officiating minister.

BURWELL—FRANKLIN. On May 6th, at 8 p. m., at the home of the bride's father, near Gallatin, Tenn., Rev. R. S. Burwell, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Gallatin, and Miss Blanche, daughter of Dr. Fraklin, Rev. Angus McDonald officiating.

DIED.

☞We publish free 10 lines of Obituary Notices, of any kind—Tributes of Respect, Resolutions of Sabbath-schools, Ladies' Societies, &c. And we charge for over 10 lines at the rate of 10 cents per line. The cost may be calculated by counting the words in the manuscript, and allowing seven words to the line.

ROSE. At Morganton, N. C., Sabbath morning, May 9th, John McAden, infant child of Rev. John M. and Mamie S. Rose, aged 23 days. "He shall gather the lambs with His arm."

ROBINSON. Departed this life on the 1st of May, 1897, at his home on Black River in Sampson county, N. C. Mr. Daniel Robinson, aged 79 years, 6 months and 27 days. He was the last of his family all of whom lived beyond the age of promise, of three score and ten. Mr. Robinson was a man of a very remarkable memory, being able to tell the time, date and place of many events that occurred in his day and time. He was also a man of uprightness of integrity and truthfulness. He was an esteemed citizen, a good husband and an indulgent father. He will be missed in his home and community, but especially in the church of Black River of which church he had long been a member. He was elected deacon and ordained and installed while a young man, and therefore served as a deacon for over fifty years. He leaves a devoted wife and three children, two sons and one daughter with several grandchildren and a host of friends to mourn their loss. May God comfort them.

PASTOR.

SECULAR NEWS.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The wheat crop of Lincoln county is reported good.

Troy in Montgomery county is to have a cotton mill with a capacity of 15,000 spindles.

On Tuesday night last $70,000 worth of tobacco was burned at Wilson. The building was valued at $15,000.

Our thanks to Mr. W. J. Boney of Wallace for a goodly sample of "Gandy" strawberries grown by him—much the finest we ever saw.

The Mecklenburg Monumental Association of Charlotte has on hand $2.000 and will erect a monument in memory of the famous Declaration of Independence in that city at an early date.

The commencement exercises of the State Normal and Industrial College will begin on Saturday evening May 15th by an alumnae meeting and reception by the faculty. The sermon will be preached by Rev. Chas. L. Hoffman of Charlotte. Addresses will be made by Messrs. Julian Carr, S. M. Fingers, Walter H. Page and J. L. M Curry, General Agent of the Peabody Fund.

On Tuesday last the doors of the Exposition of the Carolinas were thrown open to the public. To say that this Exposition will be held in Charlotte and will be under the control of the ladies of that city bespeaks success and the highest type of artistic merit. Mrs. Minnie Hebb Kellogg is general manager; Miss Mamie E. Whisnant chairman; Mrs J W Miller secretary, and Miss Eva Liddell treasurer. An able corps of assistants has charge of the several departments. From time to time we have noted the progress of this work and called attention to the rare and valuable articles collected. This Exposition will attract crowds from our own and neighboring States, but ample preparations have been made for the accommodation and pleasure of all. The aim of the Exposition is to create a Purpose Fund for the Y. M C. A. of the city of Charlotte.

The hotel on Ocean View beach is rapidly approaching completion. It is supposed it will be ready for guests by the first of next month.

DOMESTIC.

The entire systems of canals in New York State have been opened.

Rev Dr Talmage has been very successful in his tour for obtaining relief for the suffering of India. Grain enough has been received at San Francisco to load one vessel, and another will leave from New York.

A movement is on foot in Mississipi to build a State House costing from $650,000 to $750,000.

Stenographer's Day will be held at Nashville on August 4th.

A direct line has been formed for the transportation of freight from St. Paul and Minneapolis to Newport News, Va. Connection will be made at the latter points for foreign points through bills of lading being given.

FOREIGN.

The Queen Regent has issued a decree authorizing the raising of £8,000,000, to be secured by the customs duties of Spain, to meet the cost of military operations in Cuba and the Philippine Islands. The Bank of Spain will under take the issue.

An anonymous donor has sent the sum of $37,500 to the committee of management of the charity bazar in the Rue Goujon, which was the scene of last week's terrible tragedy from fire. This amount, with the proceeds of the first day's sale, £1,800, equals the full receipts of the bazar of 1896, and the committee is thus enabled to make distribution as before.

Go to your doctor for advice; he is the best man to tell you what medicine you need. Go to your druggist for your medicines; he knows more about drugs than a dry goods man.

Stick to your doctor and to your druggist if you are a sick man, but don't go to your druggist for advice. If your doctor tells you to get Scott's Emulsion it is because he knows it to be the remedy in all conditions of wasting, the one reliable, permanent preparation.

Get what you ask for.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

PRINCETON SEMINARY COMMENCEMENT.

The closing exercises of Princeton Seminary were held this week. On Sunday, May 2d, the sermon was preached to the graduating class by Rev. Joseph T. Smith, D. D., of Baltimore.

On Sunday evening a "farewell missionary meeting" was held in Stuart Hall at which addresses were made by Mr. Theodore Elmer, Mr. Samuel M. Melkonyan of Tarsus, the home of the great missionary, and Mr. Kajiwara of Japan, all of the Senior Class. Mr. Elmer sails on May 15th for India, where he will teach in one of the mission schools and assist in missionary preaching. Mr. Melkonyan will return to his native land as soon as the way is opened. Mr. Kajiwara returns to Japan in August.

On Tuesday the graduating exercises were held in Miller chapel. The address to the graduating class was delivered by Rev. Howard Duffield, D. D., of New York, and the diplomas delivered by Dr. Alexander. There were seventy members in the Senior Class this year. All were glad to see Dr. Wm Henry Green present at the graduating exercises. This aged man of God is dearly loved by every student in the Seminary, and though he is so feeble it did our hearts good to hear his familiar voice pronouncing the benediction at the close of the service.

Tuesday evening in the First Presbyterian church Mr. Melkonyan and Mr. Wm. B. Lusk of Belfast, Ireland, were ordained by the Presbytery of New Brunswick.

NOTICE.

The Book of Church Order having been complied with, I hereby call a meeting of Wilmington Presbytery to meet in the First church, Wilmington, on June 2d at 8 p m., to consider and act upon the report of the commission appointed to visit Immanuel church and to take such action with regard to said church as may be necessary.

T. H. NEWKIRK,
Moderator.

$200 00 IN GOLD G VEN.

Special Interest to Students and Teachers.

International News and Book Company, Baltimore, Md., make a most liberal offer of $200.00 in gold, for selling 200 copies of "Gems of Relicious Thought," by Talmage or "Talks to Children about Jesus." These books are among the most popular ever published One agent sold 21 in two days, another 55 the first week. Freight paid, credit given. A few general Agents wanted on salary. A splendid opportunity for Teachers and Students to make money during their summer vacation. Write them immediately.

SCHEDULE ON WILMINGTON SEACOAST, R. R.

On and after May 5th, 1897, every day except Sunday trains leave Wilmington 10.10 a. m., 2.30 p. m., 6 30 p m. Leave Ocean View 7.30 a. m., 11.30 a. m., 5 p. m.

R. O. GRANT, Supt.

UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

HAMPDEN-SIDNEY, VA.

FACULTY.

The Rev. Walter W. Moore, D.D. LL.D. McCormick Professor of the Hebrew Language and Literatre.

The Rev. Charles C. Hersman, D.D., LL. D., Henry Young Professor of Biblical Literature and Interpretation of the New Testament.

The Rev. Thos. Cary Johnson, D. D., Professor of Ecclesiastical History and Polity.

The Rev. Thos. R. English, D. D., Stuart Robinson Professor of the English Bible and Pastoral Theology.

The Rev. Givens B. Strickler, D. D., LL.D., Professor of Systematic Theology.

Walter L. Lingle, A. M., Tutor in Hebrew and Greek.

THE NEXT SESSION BEGINS WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 2D, 1897.

For catalogue or other information as to course of study, apply to Dr. English, Clerk of Faculty, Hampden-Sidney, Va.

For information as to rooms, &c., apply to W. L. Lingle, Intendant, Hampden-Sidney, Va.

A Beautiful, Fitting, and Enduring Memento

For Personal Possession and Study

Is Found in the

New Holy Land Art Portfolios

ENTITLED

Palestine Photographed.

Every Student of the Bible,

Every Student of History,

Every Lover of Art

Should Have It.

This desirable book comprises 64 beautiful engravings from views taken in 1894. Each scene is accurately and eloquently described by two distinguished divines, Bishop Vincent and Dr. Lee. The work should find a place in every Christian home.

Any paid up subscriber to the PRESBYTERIAN can obtain this book upon remitting 25 cents.

FOR THE FAMILY.

HALLOWED HOURS.

There are hours our hearts remember
When we knelt in peace alone,
And the blessing of the Lord our God
Came to us from the throne.
Oh! sweet it was to feel it,
The peace our Lord bestows,
As the dew upon the waiting fields
The fragrance in the rose.

There are hours when life was bitter
With the anguish of defeat,
When strange it seemed that anything
Had ever tasted sweet.
And we scarce knew how to bear it,
But One came o'er the wave
And the peace he gave us with a word
Then made us strong and brave.

There are hours when work is pressing
Just little homely work,
That must be done, that we must do,
That it were shame to shirk,
And in those hours full often
To crown the petty cares,
Has fallen upon the house a gleam
Of God's heaven unawares.

So, for our hallowed hours
We find them, where our Lord
Has called us unto service meet
For blessing and reward.
They are sometimes in the closet,
They are often in the mart,
And the Lord can make them anywhere,
His "desert place apart.

—Margaret E. Sangster, in Interior.

ITEMS FOR LADY READERS.

On the formal opening of the Woman' building at Nashville May 2d, Mrs. Wm. D. Beard, of Memphis, presented to Mrs. Kirkman, President of the Woman's Board, a gavel of oak made from a log of one of the first capitols erected in Tennessee. This gift was made on behalf of the Tennessee Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Kirkman responded in graceful language, thanking the Federation of Clubs.

Mrs. Matthew McClung, of Knoxville, opened the exercises with prayer, invoking the divine blessing upon the exposition, the ends sought to be accomplished, and especially upon the women of the land.

Conventions of the Ladies' Hermitage Association of Nashville and the Hermitage Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, began on the 4th.

A Chinese Woman's Discovery.—It was a woman, and a Chinese empress at that, who first took note of the product of the silkworm and perfected a method for utilizing it. Her name was See Heig and she lived about 2,800 years B. C. It is to her we owe that delightful fabric inall its many variations. Women also nearly monopolize the industry of designing for silk fabrics. A keen sense of colors is requisite for this work. Men have more training oftentimes, but are less original. Manufacturers say women may not be able to talk book learning in regard to designing, but they are more unconventional and original—Baltimore Sun.

Paris to Have an Immense Telescope.—One of the immense wonders of the great Paris Exposition of 1900 is to be a telescope of gigantic power. The object lens is to be fifty-one inches in diameter, and that huge instrument will bring the moon within an apparent distance from us of one mile. To accomplish this, however, the telescope must embody other new features than merely gigantic size, as reports from leading astronomical centres in the country show. The New York Herald, for comparison's sake, give the diameters of the object glasses of the greatest telescope in the world: The largest in existence is the Lick, whose object glass is thirty-six inches across. The second largest is at Pulkowa, Russia, with a glass of thirty inches. The third is at the University of Virginia, its glass being twenty-six inches. Harvard has the fourth largest, with a twenty-fourth inch glass, and the fifth in size belongs to Princeton College. The famous Yerkes telescope glass, the latest of the celebrated productions at Cambridge, Mass., is rated at forty inches diameter.

The Thread-and-Needle Tree.—One of Mexico's most curious plants is called the thread-and-needle tree, and it bears a close resemblance to an over-grown asparagus. Along the edges of the leaves, which are thick and fleshy and full of tiny fibers of great strength, very sharp "needles" grow. If pushed back into the leaf, and cut loose from its tough setting the thorn may be pulled out, a lot of the tough little fibers attached to the root of the thorn coming out with it. When these fibers are twisted together with wax a strong, smooth thread is the result.

A young woman about to be presented at court receives the fullest instructions as to her behavior. She is told how to dress; how to manage her train; how to courtesy correctly. Every incident is carefully rehearsed so that she may commit no blunder in the presence of royalty. If all this trouble is worth while for the satisfaction of one brief moment, how infinitely more important it is that a young girl about to enter into the sacred precincts of womanhood, should be properly instructed in all that concerns a life-time of possible happiness, or possible misery.

Every mother ought to see to it that her daughters are healthy and strong in a womanly way. She ought to make them aware that any neglect or irregularity of the special functions of womanhood may result in life-long weakness and disease.

Any mother or daughter may write concerning these delicate ailments, with the utmost confidence to Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. Her letter will be answered free of charge with suggestions for self-treatment at home, by which these complaints may be overcome without need of mortifying examinations.

Dr. Pierce has had over thirty years' experience in the treatment of women's diseases, and is an eminent specialist in this particular field of practice. His "Favorite Prescription" cures completely and permanently the most obstinate cases of feminine weakness and disease. It heals all inflamed conditions, strengthens and tones the nerve-centres and the entire womanly organism.

For prospective mothers and nursing mothers, the "Favorite Prescription" is a perfect strength sustainer.

PREMIUMS.

No. 1. For 21 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Hunting case, jointed front and back 18 size and guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $20.00.

No. 2. For 16 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Open face, 18 size, 14 karat filled case, screw back and bezel, guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $15.00.

No. 3. For 17 new subscribers at 1.50 for first year, we will give a Ladies' Gold Watch Hunting case, 6 size, stem winder, 14 karat, filled case, screw beze—guaranteed 20 years—retails at $16.00

No. 4. For12 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give a Gents' Silver Watch: 18 size, plain case, open face—retails at $12.50.

No. 5. For 10 new subscribers a Ladies' Silver Watch, O size, plain case, open face—retails for $10.00.

No. 6. For 8 new subscribers, we will give a Nickel Watch, 18 size, screw bezel—retails for $7.00.

No. 7. For 7 new subscribers, we will give solid silver teaspoons—retails for $6.00.

No. 8. For 4 new subscribers, a sugar spoon, sterling gilt engraved—retails at $3.00.

The articles will all be first-class from a jeweller of established reputation.

New subscribers means not change of address to some one else—that would be fraud—but bona fide new subscribers.

For $1.75 we will send the paper for the first year to a new subscriber and a copy of Palestine Photographed. This album contains 64 actual photographic reproductions of picturesque and historical places in the Holy Land on enameled paper, and is a thing of beauty. The descriptive foot notes are good and enhance the interest.

We regard this as a specially desirable premium.

To any one paying up or renewing their subscription and sending $2.25 we will send this album as apremium

Potash

is a necessary and important ingredient of complete fertilizers. Crops of all kinds require a properly balanced manure. The best contain a high percentage of Potash.

Fertilizers

All about Potash—the results of its use by actual experiment on the best farms in the United States—is told in a little book which we publish and will gladly mail free to any farmer in America who will write for it.

GERMAN KALI WORKS,
93 Nassau St., New York.

$4 PER DAY SURE SALARY OR COMMISSION.
DO you want honorable, steady employment the year round, at good wages, at your own home or to travel? If so, send 4c in stamps for our wholesale price-list and particulars. We furnish best of bank references.
AMERICAN TEA CO.,
Detroit, Michigan.

Tracts and Tract Volumes.

Presbyterian Committee of Publication.

Early Presbyterian Missions, by A. D. Tadlock	5c
Daisy's Death Bed, by E. W. Hooper, D. D.,	5c
Take My Yoke Upon You, by T. F. Hay	5c
What We Believe, by L. P. Bowen, D. D	5c
Relation of Presbyterian Church to Other Denominations, by J. C. Malloy	5c
What Is To Be Your Life-Work? by A. W. Fraser	5c
Latest Infidelity, by Dr. R. L. Dabney	10c
Five Points of Calvinism, by Dr. Dabney	10c
Call to Gospel Ministry, by Dr. Dabney	5c
Christianity and Law, by Dr. D. M. Palmer,	5c
The Pious Physician, by Dr. Palmer	5c
Hindrances to Uniting With the Church, by Dr. Palmer	5c
The Culdee Church, by Dr. T. V. Moore	15c
Christian Baptism, by J. P. Hobson, Esq.,	10c
The Church Fair, by R. F. Campbell, D. D.,	5c
Mode of Scriptural Baptism, by Rev. J. L. Reed	15c
How Was Jesus Baptized? by Dr. M. H. Houston	5c
Divine and Human, by Rev. L. H. Wilson,	25c
Robbie Stuart, by Mrs. J. L. Stuart	15c
Ah-Mun, by Mrs. Stuart	15c
Bible Baptism, by Dr. R. P. Kerr	10c
Card Playing, by Rev. W. A. Alexander	5c
Gospel Ministry, by Dr. J. B. Shearer	5c
Education for the Ministry, by Dr. R. Cecil	5c
Genesis of the Westminster Assembly, by Dr. F. Patton	10c
Election of Grace, by Dr. G. D. Armstrong	5c
Infant Baptism, by Rev. I. S. McElroy	5c
Letters to An Inquirer, by Dr. H. H. Hawes,	5c
Abrahamic Covenant, by Dr. Hawes	10c
Presbyterianism in Catechetical Form, by Mrs. M. W. Pratt	10c
Romanism, by Dr. T. D. Witherspoon	15c
Assurance of Grace and Salvation, by Dr. W. S. Dumer	5c
The Ruling Elder, by Hon J. W. Lapsley,	10c
The Presbyterian Church, by Dr. J. W. Primrose	5c
Appeal to Young Ministers, by Rev. C. H. Dobbs	5c
How Children Are Saved, by Rev. D. Young,	5c
Water Baptism, by Dr. Stacy	15c
Polity of the Presbyterian Church, by Rev. W. B. Arrowood	5c

JAS. K. HAZEN, SEC'Y & TREAS.
RICHMOND, VA.

W., N. & N. RAILWAY.

In Effect Sunday, Oct, 27, 1895.

DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY.

NORTH BOUND.	STATIONS.	SOUTH BOUND.
8		7
P. M.	— WILMINGTON —	P. M.
2 00	Lv Mulberry St. Ar	12 40
3 58	Lv Jacksonville Lv	10 42
4 30	Lv..Mayasville..Lv	10 09
4 44	Lv Pollocksville Lv	9 55
5 20	Ar..Newbern..Lv	9 20
P. M.		A. M.

Trains 8 and 7 p m make connection with trains on A & N C R R for Morehead City and Beaufort.

Connection with Steamer Neuse at Newbern to and from Elizabeth City and Norfolk Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Steamer Geo D Purdy makes daily trips between Jacksonville and New River points.

H. A. WHITING,
General Manager.
J. W. MARTENIS,
Traffic Manager.

CHILDREN'S COLUMN.

THE FAIRY SISTERS.

There was once a little maiden,
And she had a mirror bright;
It was rimmed about with silver;
'T was her pride and her delight.
But she found two fairy sisters
Lived within this pretty glass,
And very different faces showed,
To greet the little lass,

If she was sweet and sunny,
Why, it was sure to be
The smiling sister who looked out
Her happy face to see.
But if everything went criss-cross,
And she wore a frown or pout,
Alas! alas! within the glass
The frowning one looked out.

Now this little maiden loved so much
The smiling face to see,
That she resolved with all her heart
A happy child to be.
To grow more sweet and loving.
She tried with might and main,
Till the frowning sister went away,
And ne'er came back again.

But if she 's looking for a home,
As doubtless is the case,
She'll try to find a little girl
Who has a gloomy face.
So be very, very careful,
If you own a mirror too,
That the frowning sister doesn't come
And make her home with you.

—Helen Standish Perkins, in St. Nicholas.

BAD THOUGHTS.

A little girl one day said to her mother: "Papa calls me good, auntie calls me good, and everybody calls me good; but I am not good."

"I am very sorry, said the mother.

"And so am I," said the child, "but I have got a very naughty 'think.'"

"A naughty what?

"My think is naughty inside of me."

And on her mother inquiring what she meant said:

"Why, when I could not ride yesterday, I did not cry nor any thing; but when you was gone I wished the carriage would tnrn over, and the horses would run away, and everything bad. Nobody knew it; but God know it, and He cannot call me good.—Independent.

THE CANDY BUTTONS.

Grandma could not believe her eyes! She had herself sewed buttons on Margaret's and Dorothy's new clothes. And now here they were, come to have their little waists and petticoats buttoned, and not a button to be seen!

Grandma was sure they were good buttons, for she had taken them out of the package mamma brought home with a lot of Christmas shopping.

The little girls, with laughing faces, stood in front of her, holding up their little clothes from dropping down, watching her astonishment. Then Dorothy said: "I'm going to 'fess, grandma."

"And I will, too," said Margaret "We ate the buttons, grandma!"

"Ate buttons! O Margaret, you'll die! When did you do it? Answer quickly!"

"O grandma, they were candy, and so good," and Margaret smacked her rosy lips. "Dorothy wetted her finger to rub a speck of black off of one, and it tasted sweet, and then we bit one, and it was just like yellow taffy, and we ate them all up before we thought, and our clothes fell down, and please won't you forgive us?"

Dear white haired grandma laughed till the tears ran down her cheeks when mamma said she had bought the candy buttons for a Christmas joke, never dreaming grandma would be caught.—Babyland.

TEDDY'S SECRET.

One day Teddy came home from school with his face wreathed in smiles.

"O mamma, just think!" he exclaimed, proudly. "I am going to take part in the exhibition. Miss Hunter asked me to, and I am going to be a—"

Teddy stopped short and put his chubby hands over his mouth tighly.

"It's a secret," he exclaimed, "and I promised not to tell. But you'll see me, mamma," he said, assuringly, "only I'll be all covered—"

Up went his hands once more, and Teddy sighed a long sigh.

"I don't like secrets very well," he said," 'specially when I can't tell you, mamma."

Mamma gave him a loving kiss.

"I hope that you will always feel that way, dearie," she said.

"Course I shall," declared Teddie; and then he laughed and laughed. "You'll never know me, mamma," he said, "never!" cause the turkey-red covering goes way down to my toes. But I can see you, tho, 'cause I've got two tiny holes for my eyes to look through, and—"

Poor Teddy! He stopped short again.

"Do you know it, mamma?" he asked soberly. "Did I really and truly tell my secret?"

"I only know that you are to have a turkey-red covering," answered mamma, smiling.

"And can't you guess what I'd be if I had a turkey-red covering over me, and a funny little paper string sticking out of the top?" he asked, breathlessly. "I always fire them off on the Fourth of July, and when I put a slow match on them they snap, snap, snap!"

And then how mamma did laugh. "If I should guess it, Teddy, where would your secret be then?" she said.

Teddy looked sober. "I s'pose there wouldn't be any," he answered, regretfully.—Youth's Companion.

MADE UP OF LITTLE THINGS.

"Why are you always doing so many little kind things for people?" a friend of mine asked a plain woman, who was sewing for her.

The woman answered: "A few years ago I was very ill. One morning my husband and the nurse stood by my bedside crying. That was the last I remembered.

"All day it seemed to me that I was beside a river. I could feel the water washing against my feet and rising to myknees. After I had been there for a long time, the light began to break on the other side.

"I saw a place more beautiful than any I had ever seen or imagined before. I saw my mother, who had been dead for years. Her face was radiant with light. Near her was another spirit, with a face so sweet, I thought it must be the Christ.

"I stretched out my hands and cried, 'Oh! let me come over there. It is so cold and dark here.' 'Have you ever done anything that fits you to come here? the beautiful spirit said.

"I thought of my life and sank back. 'No,' I cried, 'I never had a chance to do any great thing.'

"'But have you ever done any little things? Not many people have opportunities to do great things,' he said.

"I thought of my life again; but could not think of anything worth mentioning. 'No,' I said, 'I cannot think of anything.'

"Just then a little boy stood beside the spirit and spoke.

"As he spoke a beautiful light shone in the spirit's face, and turning to me again, he said, 'This little boy says that he was a newsboy and that one day, when he was cold and hungry, you took him in and warmed and fed him.'

"'Yes, I did do that,' I said.

"'Well,' he answered, 'that is something. Can you think of anything else?'

"I tried again, but could think of nothing. Then the little boy came again, bringing with him a man. When they spoke to the spirit, he smiled again and said, 'This man says that he was lame and that you helped him across the street one day when it was very muddy.

"'Yes, I did do that,' I said: but I cannot remember anything else worth telling.' One by one the boy brought perhaps a dozen people whom I had helped in some way, which did not seem to me worth mentioning; but each time the spirit said, 'That is something.'

"Then I cried, 'Oh! let me go back to earth. I see now that life is made up of little things. Let me go back and I'll do every little thing I can for all I meet.

"'Yes, that is it,' he said. 'Go back to earth and fill every day with the little kindnesses to others."—Mrs. B. W. Diehl, in Forward.

LETTER-BOX.

Dear Mr. Editor:—I will write to you this afternoon. I am not going to school now, but I wish I could go. Our school is out now. Our Sunday-school superintendent is Mr. Walkup. We have a missionary society here. I have a mite box. My papa is an elder in the church here. My mother is my Sunday-school teacher. I will close with best wishes. I still remain

Your little friend,
LOLA RODMAN.

Waxhaw, N. C.

Dear Laurin:—I will send you the eat-um-up next time. I am in Barnes' Second Reader. I go to Paypa's office to pack papers. I love to ride my bicycle.

Your dear friend,
WILLIE PARSLEY.
(Six years old.)

Wilmington, N. C.

Dear Mr. Editor:—As you published my last letter I think I will write again. I am going to school, but it will soon be out. My sister painted us some eggs Easter. I went to an auction party Easter Monday night and had a nice time. Most of our peaches and cherries were killed by the frost one night last week, but the apples were not. I live in the country and a large grove surrounds the house. The grove is beautiful since the leaves have come out, and the air is filled with the songs of the birds. There is a mocking bird that comes every day and sings in a bush in the yard, and I think he is building a nest there. I hope he will. I like to read your paper very much, and when it comes we all rush to see who can get it first.

Your little friend,
MAMIE F. MCINTYRE.

Carl, N. C.

My Dear Mr. McLaurin:—You were so kind as to publish my last letter that I thought I would write again. I like to read your good paper so much. I go to meet father every Thursday evening to get the PRESBYTERIAN. I go to school at the Red Springs Seminary. It will be out the ninth day of June. I will be glad when it is out, but I will be so lonesome at home. I will close hoping your paper much success.

Your little friend,
LELIA DENNY.

Buie, N. C.

OPERA CHAIRS.

OWING TO THE ALTERATION in St. Andrews Church, we offer for sale 70 to 80 Opera Chairs. These chairs are good as new, backs upholstered in Red Plush, hat rack and coat rack on each, and book rack on alternate chairs. Will be sold cheap. Apply to
THOMAS F. BAGLEY,
Treasurer.

MONEY TO LOAN.

on Eight Years Time, secured by Mortgage on Real Estate. Monthly payment, savings investment stock for sale, also FULL PAID COUPON STOCK, with semi-annual cash dividends. Loans made promptly in any part of the State. Agents wanted. Address,

Mechanics and Investors Union
22 Pullen Building, Raleigh, N. C.

ENTERTAINMENT AT THE ASSEMBLY.

Mr. EDITOR:—I receive so many letters from ministers and others desiring to come to the Assembly as visitors that I have not the time to answer them all even when they enclose stamps and I ask the privilege of your columns.

We expect to entertain visitors to the Assembly as far as possible, but the number is going to be so large that it may exceed even the limits of Charlotte's hospitality. Persons desiring entertainment will please send their names to Mr. H. H. Orr or Mr. G. A. Howell Charlotte, N. C., and their names will be put on the list and assignments made if we have homes to spare. Preference will be given to the wives of Commissioners, and Commissioners expecting to bring their wives are especially requested to notify the Committee.

Yours truly,
J. R. HOWERTON.

Charlotte, N. C., April 21, 1897.

FOREIGN MISSION RECEIPTS FOR APRIL.

We begin the first month of the new fiscal year with a loss of $810.66, as compared with the first month of last year, the receipts being $7,545.46 for April 1897, as against $8,357.12 for April 1896.

Brethren, Please do your very best for us during the month of May; for we assure you that much depends on the result of your efforts.

Very truly yours,
S. H. CHESTER,
Secretary.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

DAVIDSON NOTES.

This has been a week of contests at Davidson. On Monday, May 3rd, the Literary Societies held their annual joint prize debate in the Old Chapel. The question at issue was: Resolved, that the conservatism of her people has retarded the progress of the South. The Eus took the affirmative, the Phis the negative, and for two hours the battle raged. At the conclusion of hostilities the judges awarded the society medals as follows: To the best debater of the Eu Society, Mr P F Henderson, Aiken, S C. Of the Phi Society, Mr Archibald Currie, Davidson, N C.

Friday, May 7th, witnessed the annual contest in the Eu Society for the Declaimers' Medal, open to the Soph and Fresh Classes. There were nine contestants, several of them unusually able declaimers. The medal was awarded to Mr J A Winn, Decatur, Ga.

Saturday, May 8th, was Athletic Day. All college exercises were suspended and the day given up to athletics under the auspices of the Davidson Athletic Association. The officers of the association are: President, R H M Brown; Vice-President, H J Mills; Secretary and Treasurer, J D Woodside.

The winners of the events were as follows:

Hundred yards dash, J A Steele, Mooresville, N C; Pole-vault, R S Eskridge, Shelby, N C; Potato race, W H Thompson, Anderson, S C; Throwing base-ball, J M Wolfe, Charlotte, N C; Hammer throwing, R S Eskridge, Shelby, N C; Quarter-mile race, H S Allyn, Lavra, Brazil; Running high jump, S M Goodman, Mooresville, N C; Running long-jump, J M Jennings, Union, S C; Three-legged race, Nettles and Fitzpatrick; Class relay race, one mile, Freshman Class.

In the afternoon a base ball match was played between North and South Carolina, resulting in victory for the latter.

Dr Harding delivered a lecture last week before the Presbyterian College at Charlotte, which was highly spoken of by the Observer. L.

We Want You

to subscribe for the Presbyterian Quarterly. It is the one magazine all Presbyterians should read. Its articles are written by eminent Presbyterians—both clergymen and laymen—to Presbyterians. It is edited under the auspices of an association of ministers of the Presbyterian Church.

Every article in it is vitally interesting—it is orthodox—is progressive—stimulates study and investigation.

The Presbyterian Quarterly has always been $3.00 a year and has always been worth it. It is now $1.00 a year but is still worth $3.00. We have lowered its price because we want to put it in every Presbyterian's hands, but there has been no change in either the number of pages or the appearance of the magazine. Send for a sample copy.

Whittet & Shepperson,
Box 236. Richmond, Va.

Organized 1832. Assets, $650,000

Tested for Sixty Years.

Virginia Fire and Marine

Insurance Company, of Richmond.

This old Virginia institution issues a short and comprehensive Policy, free of petty restriction and liberal in its terms and conditions.

INSURES AGAINST FIRE and LIGHTNING

All descriptions of Property, in Country and Town—private or public—insured at fair rates, on accommodating terms.

AGENCIES IN EVERY TOWN AND COUNTY.

WM. H. PALMER, President.
W. H. McCARTHY, Secretary.
S. McG. FISHER, Ass't Sec'y.

SEABOARD AIR LINE S.A.L.

VESTIBULED LIMITED TRAINS. DOUBLE DAILY SERVICE

TO ATLANTA, CHARLOTTE, ATHENS, WILMINGTON, NEW ORLEANS, CHATTANOOGA,
AND
NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA, WASHINGTON, NORFOLK, RICHMOND.

Schedule in Effect Feb. 7th, 1897.

WESTWARD.

	No. 41	No. 403
Lv Wilmington	*3 20pm	.....
Lv Lumberton	5 26pm	.....
Lv Maxton	6 12pm	.....
Lv Laurinburg	6 23pm	.....
Ar Hamlet	6 53pm	.....
Lv Hamlet	7 18pm	*5 [illegible] am
Lv Rockingham	7 30pm	2 33 am
Lv Wadesboro	8 11pm	.....
Lv Marshville	8 48pm	6 25 am
Ar Monroe	9 12pm	6 48 am
Lv Monroe	9 35pm	7 30 am
Ar Charlotte	10 25pm	8 30 am
Ar Mt. Holly	.....	9 10 am
Ar Lincolnton	.....	10 35 am
Ar Shelby	.....	11 48a m
Ar Ellenboro	.....	12 20p m
ArRutherfordton	.....	12 54p m

†8 40am Lv....Hamlet..Ar 6 20p m
10 00am Ar....Cheraw..Ar †5 00p m

EASTWARD.

	No. 38.	No. 402
LvRutherfordton	.....	*4 35p m
Lv Ellenboro	.....	5 15p m
Lv Shelby	.....	6 08p m
Lv Lincolnton	.....	7 00p m
Lv Mt Holly	.....	7 50p m
Lv Charlotte	*5 10am	8 25p m
Ar Monroe	5 58am	9 10p m
Lv Monroe	6 05am	9 40p m
Lv Marshville	6 25am	.....
Lv Wadesboro	7 01am	10 31 pm
Lv Rockingham	7 41am	11 05p m
Ar Hamlet	7 55am	11 23p m
Lv Hamlet	8 45am	.....
Lv Laurinburg	9 11am	.....
Lv Maxton	9 30am	.....
Lv Lumberton	10 18am	.....
Ar Wilming on	12 30pm	.....

NORTHWARD.

Lv Hamlet	*8 15am	*11 23pm
Ar Raleigh	11 30am	2 11pm
Ar Portsmouth	5 50pm	7 30am
Ar Richmond	*6 50pm	* 8 15am
Ar Washington	11 10pm	12 31pm
Ar New York	6 58am	6 28pm

SOUTHWARD.

Lv Monroe	*6 48am	*9 25p m
Ar Abbeville	11 05am	1 40a m
Ar Athens	1 15pm	3 45a m
Ar Atlanta (Central Time)	2 50pm	5 20a m

*Daily. †Daily, except Sunday.

Both trains make immediate connections at Atlanta for Montgomery, Mobile, New Orleans, Texas, California, Mexico, Chattanooga, Nashville, Memphis, Macon, Florida.

For Tickets, Sleepers, etc., apply to
B. A. NEWLAND,
Gen. Agt. P. Dept.
6 Kimball House, Atlanta, Ga.

THOS. D. MEARES,
Gen'l. Agent, Wilmington, N. C.

E. ST. JOHN, Vice-President and General Manager.

H. W. B. GLOVER, Traffic Manager.
V. E. McBEE, Gen'l. Supt.
T J ANDERSON, Gen'l. Pass Agt.
General Offices, Portsmouth, Va.

C. F. &Y. V. Railway Co.

JOHN GILL, Receiver.

CONDENSED SCHEDULE.

IN EFFECT April 4th, 1897.

NORTH BOUND.	No. 2. Daily
Leave Wilmington	8.00a.m
Arrive Fayetteville	11.21 "
Leave Fayetteville	11.21 "
Leave Fayetteville Junction	11.27 "
Leave Sanford	1.00p.m.
Leave Climax	2.55 "
Arrive Greensboro	3.25 "
Leave Greensboro	3.35 "
Leave Stokesdale	4.23 "
Leave WalnutCove	4.55 "
Leave Rural Hall	5.26 "
Arrive Mt. Airy	6.50 "

SOUTH BOUND.	No. 1. Daily
Leave Mt. Airy	8.40a m
Leave Rural Hall	10.04 "
Leave Walnut Cove	10.32 "
Leave Stokesdale	11.07p.m
Arrive Greensboro	11.55 "
Leave Greensboro	12.15 "
Leave Climax	12.43 "
Leave Sanford	2.40 "
Arrive Fayetteville Junction	3.55 "
Arrive Fayetteville	3.58 "
Leave Fayetteville	4.22 "
Arrive Wilmington	7.30 "

NORTH BOUND.	No. 4. Daily
Leave Bennettsville	8.10a.m
ArriveMaxton	9.22 "
LeaveMaxton	9.33 "
Leave Red Springs	10.04 "
Leave Hope Mills	10.52 "
Arrive Fayetteville	11.16 "

SOUTH BOUND	No. 3. Daily
Leave Fayetteville	4.25p.m
Leave Hope Mills	4.46 "
Leave Red Springs	5.35 "
ArriveMaxton	6.10 "
Leave Maxton	6.18 "
ArriveBennettsville	7.30 "

NORTH BOUND.	No. 16. Mixed. Daily ex Sunday.
Leave Ramseur	6.45a.m
Leave Climax	8.35 "
Arrive Greensboro	9.20 "
Leave Greensboro	9.35 "
Leave Stokesdale	11.07 "
Arrive Madison	11.55 "

SOUTH BOUND.	No. 15. Mixed. Daily ex. Sunday.
Leave Madison	12.30p.m
Leave Stokesdale	1.28 "
Arrive Greensboro	2.40 "
Leave Greensboro	3.25 "
Leave Climax	4.20 "
Arrive Ramseur	6.05 "

NORTH BOUND CONNECTIONS,

at Fayetteville with the Atlantic Coast Line for all points North and East at Sanford with the Seaboard Air Line, at Greensboro with the Southern Railway Company, at Walnut Cove with the Norfolk & Western R. R., for Winston Salem.

SOUTH BOUND CONNECTIONS,

at Walnut Cove with the Norfolk & Western R. R., for Roanoke and all points North and West, at Greensboro with the Southern Railway Company for Raleigh, Richmond and all points North and East, at Fayetteville with the Atlantic Coast Line for all points South, at Maxton with the Seaboard Air Line for Charlotte, Atlanta and all points South and Southwest.

W. E. KYLE,
Gen'l Passenger Agent.

J. W. FRY,
Gen'l Manager

COAL, WOOD AND SHINGLES.

Best quality and lowest prices. Satisfaction guaranteed. Your patronage solicited.

Respectfully,
P. R. FOWLER,
Successor to Fowler & Morrison.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES

Will convene at Charlotte, N. C., in the First Presbyterian church, on the third Thursday (20th day) of May, 1897, at 11 o'clock a. m. The opening sermon will be preached by the moderator of the last Assembly.

The undersigned will be present in the Lecture Room of said church on Wednesday, May 19th, at 8 o'clock p. m., and also on the following morning at 9 o'clock, to enroll the names of commissioners.

JOSEPH R. WILSON, Stated Clerk,
ROBERT P. FARRIS, Permanent Clerk.

N. B.—Treasurers of Presbyteries are urgently requested to forward to the treasurer of General Assembly, at Charlotte, all sums due for Presbyterial assessments, as well for previous years as for the year 1897.

JOSEPH R. WILSON,
Treasurer.

SAY SOEG.

The smallest bird is a Brazilian humming-bird It is a little larger than a common honey bee, and weighs five grains.

"What's your opinion of Cadley?" "The more I think of him, the less I think of him."—Harvard Lampoon.

Word comes from all quarters that the neatest and most satisfactory dye for coloring the beard a brown or black is Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers.

The Paris prefecture of police has bought a wooden horse, harnessed, and all candidates for the position of cab man must show that they know how to harness and unharness him and pass an examination in whatever other tests the prefect may propose.

WHO'S SHELLABERGER?

He's the Wire Fence Man, of Atlanta, Ga., and sells the best and cheapest fencing in existence for all purposes. Catalogue free. Write for it

WILMINGTON MARKET.

FOR

WEEK ENDING MAY 12, 1897

SPIRITS TURPENTINE: 25½ cents for machine barrels and 25 cents for country casks—closing steady.

ROSIN: On Thursday and Friday last Strained $1.30 and Good Strained $1.35—since merely nominal.

CRUDE TURPENTINE: Hard $1.20, Yellow Dip $1.70 and Virgin $1.90—steady throughout.

TAR: Receipts taken day by day at $1.05—closing firm.

COTTON: Middling 7¼ cents until Friday—then 7½ cents—closing firm.

TIMBER: Taken as it comes in at unchanged prices.

ATLANTIC COAST LINE.

Schedule in Effect April 15th 1897.

DEPARTURES FROM WILMINGTON—

NORTHBOUND.

DAILY 9:00 A M — No. 48—Passenger—Due Magnolia 10 40 a m, Warsaw 10 55 a m, Goldsboro 11 56 a m, Wilson 12 46 p m, Rocky Mount 1 30 p m, Tarboro 2 50 p m, Weldon 3 39 p m, Petersburg 5 54 p m, Richmond 6 50 p m, Norfolk 6 05 p m, Washington 11 10 p m, Baltimore 12 53 a m, Philadelphia 3 45 a m, New York 6 53 a m, †Boston 3 00 pm.

DAILY 7:15 P M — No. 40—Passenger—Due Magnolia 8 55 p m, Warsaw 9 10 p m, Goldsboro 10 10 p m, Wilson 11 06 p m, †Tarboro 6 45 a m, Rocky Mount 11 57 p m, Weldon 1 44 a m, †Norfolk 10 30 a m, Petersburg 3 24 a m, Richmond 4 20 a m, Washington 7 41 a m, Baltimore 9 05 a m, Philadelphia 11 25 a m New York 2 03 p m, Boston 8 30 p m.

SOUTHBOUND

DAILY 3:25 P M — No. 55—Passenger—Due Lake Waccamaw 4 32 p m, Chadbourn 5 04 p m, Marion 6 05 p m, Florence 6 45 p m, Sumter 8 42 p m, Columbia 10 05 p m, Denmark 6 20 a m, Augusta 8 10 a m, Macon 11 00 a m, Atlanta 12 15 p m, Charleston 10 20 p m, Savannah 12 50 am, Jacksonville 7.30 a m, St Augustine 10 30 a m, Tampa 5 45 p m.

ARRIVALS AT WILMINGTON—FROM THE NORTH.

DAILY 5:45 P M — No. 49—Passenger—Leave Boston †1 03 p m, New York 9 00 p m, Philadelphia 12 05 a m, Baltimore 2 50 a m, Washington 4 30 a m, Richmond 9 05 a m, Petersburg 10 (a m,) Norfolk 8 40 a m, Weldon 11 50 a m, Tarboro 12 12 p m, Rocky Mount 12 45p m, Wilson 2 12 p m, Goldsboro 3 10 p m, Warsaw 4 02 p m, Magnolia 4 16 p m.

DAILY 9:40 AM — No. 41—Passenger—Leave Boston 12 00 night, New York 9 30 a m, Philadelphia 12 09 p m Baltimore 2 25 p m, Washington 3 46 p m, Richmond 7 30 p m, Petersburg 8 12 p m, †Norfolk 2 20 p m, Weldon 9 43 p m, †Tarboro 6 01 p m, Rocky Mount 5 45 a m, leave Wilson 6 20 a m, Goldsboro 7 03 am, Warsaw 7 54 a m, Magnolia 8 07 a m.

FROM THE SOUTH.

DAILY 12:15 P M — No. 54—Passenger — Leave Tampa 9 25 a m, Sanford 2 19 p m, Jacksonville 7 00 p m, Savannah 12 45 night, Charleston 5 30 am Columbia 5 50 a m, Atlanta 8 20 a m, Macon 9 30 a m, Augusta 3 05 p m, Denmark 4.55 pm, Sumter 6 45 a m, Florence 7 55 a m, Marion 9 34 a m, Chadbourn 10 35 a m, Lake Waccamaw 11 06 a m.

†Daily except Sunday

Trains on the Scotland Neck Branch road leave Weldon 4 10 p m, Halifax 4 28 p m, arrive Scotland Neck at 5 20, Greenville 6 57 p m, Kinston 7 55 p m. Returning leaves Kinston 7 30 a m, Greenville 8 22 a m, arriving Halifax at 11 00 a m, Weldon 11 20 a m. daily except Sunday.

Trains on Washington Branch leave Washington 8 00 a m, and 2 p m, arrive Parmele 8 50 a m and 3 40 p m, returning leave Parmele 9 50 a m and 6 30 p m, arrive Washington 11 25 a m, and 7 20 p m. Daily except Sunday.

Train leaves Tarboro, N C, daily, 5 30 p m, arrives Plymouth 7 40 p m. Returning leaves Plymouth daily, 7.30 a. m. arrives Tarboro 9.50 a. m.

Trains on Conway Branch leave Hub 8 30 a. m., Chadbourn 10 40 a. m., arrive Conway 1 00 p. m. leave Conway 2 25 p. m, Chadbourn 5 20 p. m., arrive Hub 6 00 p. m. Daily except Sunday.

Train on Midland N C Branch leaves Goldsboro daily, except Sunday, 7 10 a m, arriving Smithfield 8 30 a m, Returning leaves Smithfield 9 00 a m. arrive at Goldsboro 10 25 a m.

Train on Nashville Branch leaves Rocky Mount at 4 30 p m, arrives Nashville 5 05 p m, Spring Hope 5 30 p m. Returning leaves Spring Hope 8 00 a m, Nashville 8 35 a m, arrives at Rocky Mount 9 05 a m, daily except Sunday.

Train on Clinton Branch leaves Warsaw for Clinton daily, except Sunday, 11 10 a m, and 9.15 p.m. Returning leaves Clinton at 7 00 a m, and 3.00 pm

Wilson and Fayetteville Branch leave Wilson 2 05 p m, 11 16 p m, arrive Selma 3 50 p m, Smithfield 2 58 p m, Dunn 3 35 p m. Fayetteville 4 15 p m, 1 07 a m, Rowland 5 38p m. Returning leave Rowland 10 00 a m, Fayetteville 11 20 a m, 10 20 p m, Dunn 12 07 p m, Smithfield 12 48 p m, Selma 1 00 p m, arrive Wilson 1 42 p m, 12 10 a m.

H. M. EMERSON,
Ass't. Gen'l Passenger Agent.

J. R. KENLY, Gen'l Manager.
T. M. EMERSON Traffic Manager.

B. F. HALL, OSCAR PEARSALL

HALL & PEARSALL

Cor. NUTT and MULBERRY STS.

WILMINGTON. - N. C.

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

—AND—

—WHOLESALE DEALERS IN—

HEAVY GROCERIES

WE ALWAYS CARRY A LARGE AND WELL SELECTED STOCK OF

Flour, Sugar, Coffee, Molasses, Salt Fish,

Hay Corn Oats Tobacco Snuff, Cigars, Hoop-Iron, Nails, Glue,

Cotton Bagging and Ties.

☞ We solicit the patronage of the public. and guarantee to give satisfaction. Correspondence invited.

☞ Consignments of Naval Stores, Cotton and all Country Produce will receive careful attention.

HALL & PEARSALL
WILMINGTON, N. C

ORGANIZED 1856.

GEORGIA HOME INSURANCE COMPANY.

COLUMBUS, Ga.

J. RHODES BROWN, President.

Wm. C. COART, Secretary.

A HOME COMPANY,

Seeking Home Patronage.

Strong! Prompt! Reliable! Liberal!

Agents at all Cities, Towns and Villages in the Southern States.

W. W. HODGES, Agent,
Wilmington N. C

E.NYE HUTCHISON, Agent,
Charlotte N. C

STATESVILLE FEMALE COLLEGE.

STATESVILLE, N. C.

The Spring term opens on the 5th of February and closes the 15th June 1897.

Board, including furnished room, heat and lights, with tuition in all English branches and Latin, $27 50 per quarter. Instruction in Music, Art and all branches usually taught in first-class female schools, at reasonable rates.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC

In charge of a teacher of first-class qualifications. Price of instruction from $2.50 to $5.00 per month according to grade.

☞ For circular containing full particulars address,

JOHN B. BURWELL,
President,
Statesville, N. C.

Shopping.

Shopping done in Philadelphia by a lady of experience and taste. No extra charge. Best references. Send for circular.

MISS M. ANDERSON,
333 Pine St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Wire Railing and Ornamental Wire Works.

DUFUR & CO.,

311 North Howard St., Baltimore, Md.

Manufacture Wire Railing for Cemeteries, Balconies, &c., Sieves, Fender Cages, Sand and Coal Screens, Woven Wire, &.

Also Iron Bedteads Chairs, Settees &c.

THINGS USEFUL.

Neither singeing nor bay rum, used in moderation, will injure the hair. I believe there exists an impression that bay rum turns the hair gray, but it has no foundation in fact. Have your druggists put a little quinine—say five grains—and some borax into a vial with a moderate quantity of bay rum and you will have an excellent hair tonic.

Spiced apples are appetizing and excellent to have with meats at this season, when the supply of home-made pickles and relishes has disappeared. Make a syrup of equal parts of vinegar, water and sugar, add a little Cayenne pepper, a few whole cloves, and some pieces of stick cinnamon. Peel the apples and cut them into quarters or eighths, put them in the liquid syrup and cook until tender. Remove the apples with a skimmer and boil the syrup until thick and turn over the cooked fruit.

Cocoanut Blancmange.--One quart of rich milk, four tablespoonfuls of corn-starch dissolved in one cupful of the milk, with three tablespoonfuls of sugar. When the milk begins to boil, stir in the mixture, and as it thickens, beat in lightly two cupfuls of cocoanut. Put in molds on ice. Serve with cream and sugar. A little yellow orange peel may be cooked in the milk for a flavor. Take out before cooling.

CONSUMPTION

TO THE EDITOR: I have an absolute Cure for CONSUMPTION and all Bronchial, Throat and Lung Troubles, and all conditions of Wasting Away. By its timely use thousands of apparently hopeless cases have been permanently cured. So proof-positive am I of its power to cure, I will send FREE to anyone afflicted, THREE BOTTLES of my Newly Discovered Remedies, upon receipt of Express and Postoffice address.

Always sincerely yours,
T. A. SLOCUM, M.C., 183 Pearl St., New York.
When writing the Doctor, please mention this paper.

RED SPRINGS SEMINARY
FOR YOUNG LADIES.
Established by Fayetteville Presbytery.

New Buildings, well equipped and adapted to all departments of College work. Complete and liberal course. Fully abreast of the leading Southern Colleges for Women.

Full and Efficient Faculty.

Charges very moderate ($108.00 per year for full College course and Board).

Session opens September 30, 1896. For further information write to

REV. C. G. VARDELL,
Red Springs, N. C.

Good Goods--Low Prices,

Flour, Meat, Sugar, Salt, Meal, Molasses, Coffee, Peanuts, Cheese, Crackers, Snuff, Tobacco.

Consignments of Cotton, Naval Stores and all Country Produce will receive careful attention.

Hall & Pearsall,

Wholesale Grocers & Com. Merchant
Corner Nutt and Muiberry Sts.

Presbyterian High School
—OF—
NORTH CAROLINA.
J. M. OLDHAM, Principal.

Full corps of instructors, all college-bred men representing the leading institutions of North Carolina, Virginia and South Carolina. A non-military school, located in the country in middle North Carolina, with excellent climate.

Instruction Thorough,
Discipline Mild Yet Firm,
Physical Development Looked After
Rates Reasonable.
Endorsed by Synod of North Carolina.
For catalogues address,
J. M. OLDHAM, Principal,
Mebane, N.C.

DAVIDSON COLLEGE,
DAVIDSON, N. C

The Sixtieth Year Begins September 10th, 1896.

FACULTY

Rev. J. B. Shearer, D. D., LL.D., President, and Professor of Biblical Instruction an Moral Philosophy.
Henry Louis Smith, Ph. D., Vice-President, and Prof. of Natural Philosophy.
W. D. Vinson, M. A., LL.D., Prof. of Mathematics
C. R. Harding, Ph.D., Professor of Greek and German.
W. R. Grey, Ph.D. Professor of Latin and French.
Thos. P. Harrison, Ph.D., Professor of English.
W. J. Martin, Jr., M. D., Ph.D., Prof. of Chemistry.
F. P. Rowe, A. B., Instructor.

GYMNASIUM DIRECTOR.

VOCAL MUSIC.

CLASSICAL,
MATHEMATICAL,
SCIENTIFIC,
LITERARY,
BIBLICAL,
COMMERCIAL.

SEND FOR A CATALOGUE.

Terms Reasonable.
Location Healthful,
Accommodations Excellent,
Teaching Unsurpassed,
Gymnasium Complete.

Address THE PRESIDENT.

DO NOT FORGET.
THAT OUR BRAND OF FLOUR
THE LADIES' FAVORITE
Is the best Flour on the market. Double Patent, and produces more bread than any other.

In addition to our Ladies' Favorite Flour we have taken the Agency for Pillsbury's Best Spring Wheat in barrels and half barrel sacks.

We offer North Carolina Canned Peaches, North Carolina Canned Tomatoes, guaranteed fully equal to any brand. North Carolina Manufactured Tobacco, North Carolina Bacon, California Peaches, California Apricots, both canned and dried, as well as a select stock of groceries of every description.

☞ Orders solicited.

R. W. HICKS,
WHOLESALE ONLY,
Wilmington, N. C.

The Man in the Moon would be happier if he could have a supply of Cool Fragrant and Soothing

Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco

For over twenty-five years the standard smoking tobacco of the world.
To-day More Popular than Ever.
To have a good smoke anytime and everytime it is only necessary to get Bull Durham. It is all good and always good.
BLACKWELL'S DURHAM TOBACCO CO.,
DURHAM, N. C.

H. A. TUCKER. R. D TUCKER.
TUCKER'S
GRANITE AND MARBLE WORKS.
DEALERS IN ALL KINDS OF
Granite and Marble Monuments

CONTRACTORS FOR BUILDING STONE
H. A. TUCKER & BRO.,
No. 310 Front St.,
Wilmington, N C.

WORTH & WORTH,
—OFFER FOR SALE—
BEST QUALITY, FULL WEIGHT
FLOUR, BACON, SUGAR, LARD
MOLASSES, MEAL, SALT,
LIME, CEMENT,
Plaster, Hay, Corn, Hoop Iron, Oats Rivets Glue.
BUNGS, CANNED GOODS,
At Low Prices.
WILMINGTON, N. C.

M. H. JONES,
DURHAM, N. C.,
Keeps on hand a fine assortment of
STERLING SILVER WARE,
JEWELRY, DIAMONDS,
WATCHES, CLOCKS
and everything found in a first-class jewelry store.

☞ Repairing of all kinds, especially such as is usually sent North, done promptly and in best style; reputation established for this class of work.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE.
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS,
DESIGNS,
COPYRIGHTS &c.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain, free, whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Oldest agency for securing patents in America. We have a Washington office. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the
SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN,
beautifully illustrated, largest circulation of any scientific journal, weekly, terms $3.00 a year; $1.50 six months. Specimen copies and HAND BOOK ON PATENTS sent free. Address
MUNN & CO.,
361 Broadway, New York.

1865. W. S. MOORE. 1896.
GREENSBORO, N C.
General Merchandise, &c., &c.
Organs from $24 up to any price.
Pianos from $150 up to any price
Special prices to Ministers, Churches and Sunday-Schools

North Carolina Presbyterian.

New Series—VOL. XXIX—No. 1,532 WILMINGTON, N C., THURSDAY, MAY 20, 1897. Old Series. Vol. XXXIX—No. 2,692

THE OFFICE OF THE PRESBYTERIAN IS IN THE ALLEN BUILDING ON PRINCESS STREET—ROOM No. 6, ON SECOND FLOOR.

Subscription price $2.00 a year.
Ministers $1.00
Missionaries $1.50, including postage.
New Subscribers $1.50 for first year.

☞ Checks or orders in payment of subscription may be made payable either to John McLaurin, or to North Carolina Presbyterian. Please send forward promptly.

(For Contents see Second Page)

HEROES OF PEACE.

BY REV. W. E. BOIES.

Peace bids the bugle sound a truce
Forever more to bloody frays,
And yet doth heroes still produce
In quiet nooks, and on thronged ways;
Brave men, and brave fair women, too,
At any risk to their trust true.

The devastating fire hath told
Of gain educed from fearful loss,
And in its crucible the gold,
True manhood holds, purged thus from dross,
While on its chariot of flame
Rode the freed spirit up to fame!

Heroic have commanders been
Upon the fated sinking deck,
Who rescued all within their ken
And then went down with the doomed wreck;
No message left, nor last rite said,
Lost till the sea gives up its dead!

The good physician, the nurse tried,
Who rob themselves of food and sleep,
To watch and wait the sick beside Till stars their vigil cease to keep—
Heroes are such, though they may rest
In graves with no grand pageant blest.

The engineer firm as a rock,
With hand upon the throttle, till
That awful plunge, and crash, and shock,
While groans and shrieks the mid night fill;
His name is worthy to be found
Among the heroes peace hath crowned.

And heroines uncrowned there be,
Who never cared for leaves of bay,
But who like her of Bethany
Will win from their dear Lord some day
The same praise for true womanhood,
She hath done for me what she could!

If we expect to appropriate the "whatsoever" of His promises, we must strive to comply with the "whatsoever" of His commands — Samuel B. Randall.

REV. THOMAS JOHNSTON ALLISON.

Robert Allison, one of five brothers who came South from Pennsylvania to North Carolina between 1760 and 1770, probably, was born in 1750. He married Sarah Graham, whose widowed mother also came with her five children from Pennsylvania to North Carolina, and settled near Charlotte, N. C. In 1790, he moved to Poplar Tent in Cabarrus county, and was afterwards elected a ruling elder in Poplar Tent church. Mrs. Allison was a sister of Major General Joseph Graham, the father of Miss Graham who married Rev. Robert Hall Morrison, D. D., and of Hon. William A. Graham, once Governor of North Carolina, and candidate for Vice-President of the United States on the ticket with General Winfield Scott in 1852.

To Robert and Sarah Allison were born sevecral children. One of them, Thomas, married Sarah Young, daughter of William and Mary Young, of Cabarrus county. The Allisons, Grahams and Youngs were all of the same Scotch blood that came from Ireland to Pennsylvania, and thence to North Carolina. Thomas and Sarah Allison had fourteen children. Their son James was born in 1823, and in 1847, was married to Mary Clarissa Johnston, daughter of David Johnston, an elder in Poplar Tent church, and son of John Johnston, also an elder in the same church. David Johnston had thirteen brothers and sisters. One of his brothers was Rev. Cyrus Johnston, D. D., who at the time of his death was pastor of the Presbyterian church in Charlotte. Three of the brothers were also elders, and another was a deacon. David Johnston had two other daughters besides Mary, and three sons. Two of the sons Robert and Nathaniel are now elders in the church.

James and Mary Allison settled on a farm near Mill Hill, in Cabarrus county, and in the bounds of Bethpage church of which they became members and in which he became a deacon.

Mary Allison died suddenly Jan. 17th, 1860. She was a strong minded and pious woman. James Allison served as private in Lee's army and was in the surrender at Appomattox, Virginia. He moved to Davidson College, N. C., in 1868, and began merchandizing and so continued until Jan. 8th, 1897, when he died. He was thrice married.

To James and Mary C. Allison were born four children, only one of whom became grown—the subject of the present sketch.

Rev. T. J. Allison was born May 30th, 1849. He spent nearly all of his childhood at school, going long to the school taught by his maternal uncle, John C. Johnston, who was a fine scholar and teacher. He also did much work at this time on the farm. The year previous to entering college he spent in the school taught at Prospect church by Mr. A. Leazar. He entered Davidson College in 1867; made a profession of religion and joined Davidson College church in the spring of 1868. In the spring of 1870, at Centre church he was received under care of Concord Presbytery as a candidate for the ministry. From college he was graduated in 1871. That fall he entered Union Seminary, Virginia, and received the degree of A.M. from Davidson College that summer. In 1874, he graduated. He was licensed by Concord Presbytery at Prospect church in 1874, and in August accepted a call from the church at Tarboro, N. C. Here he was ordained and installed as pastor Nov. 8th, 1875. At this time he also preached once per month at Wilson and Rocky Mount, Rockingham and Lumberton churches in Fayetteville Presbytery were served by him eighteen months. There were several additions to these churches, as well as to the Tarboro church, and a movement started for a new church at Lumberton. In 1878, he accepted a call to Mebaneville and Bethlehem churches in Orange Presbytery. There he remained eight years. Cadets and officers of Bingham school composed the larger part of Mebaneville congregation. There were about fifty additions there and about forty at Bethlehem.

Dec. 1st, 1887, having accepted the calls from Third and Fifth Creek churches in Concord Presbytery he entered upon his labors in that field. A church of twenty-eight members was organized at Elmwood and there were seventy-nine additions to the three churches during three and a half years of work. In the spring of 1891, Mr. Allison accepted a call to the evangelistic work of Savannah Presbytery. He continued in this work two years, and preached in twenty-six of the twenty-nine counties which lay in the bounds of the Presbytery. A large number of additions were made to the churches, several new fields were explored and opened up, nine new churches organized and two old ones reorganized.

In July, 1893, a call from First Presbyterian church of Decatur, Ala., was accepted. The work was greatly blessed, fifty-five names on the roll when his pastorate began were increased to one hundred and eight. In August, 1896, he accepted a call from Sugar Creek church near Charlotte, N. C., where the Lord has greatly blessed his work. There have been twenty-one additions to this church during his pastorate.

A great part of Mr. Allison's work for fifteen years past has been in healing dissensions and reorganizing the work in churches which had become divided and discouraged. Much of this kind of work was done during his evangelistic labors in Georgia.

On Sept. 12th, 1876, in Pittsboro, N. C., Mr. Allison married Miss Jeannette Tillett, daughter of Rev. John Tillett. This lady has proved an able and efficient co-worker, being thoroughly identified with her husband in all his work. Mr. Allison was a commissioner to the General Assembly in 1882, and has served as trustee of Davidson College,

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

1ST PAGE—Heroes of Peace (poetry) Sketch of Rev. Thomas Johnston Allison.
2ND PAGE—Editorial: Joined Unto The Lord—Editorial Notes.
3RD PAGE—Editorial Notes—Davidson Notes—India Relief Fund.
4TH PAGE—Abstract of the Proceedings of Albemarle Presbytery.
5TH PAGE.—Presbytery of Asheville—East Hanover Presbytery.
6TH PAGE—Religious Intelligence—Personals—Here and There.
7TH PAGE—Card of Thanks—Peace Institute—Sketch of Sugar Creek Church James Sprunt Institute—Columbia Seminary Notes.
8TH PAGE—Riots and Consular Assistance—Doing Wrong—Literary Jottings.
9TH PAGE—Magazines—Books Received.
10TH PAGE—Sunday School Lesson—Young People's Column—Open Door Notes—Puzzles—Notice of Meeting of Mecklenburg Presbytery—Advertisement Roger Moore.
11TH PAGE—Marriages—Obituaries—Foreign Mission Committee Notes.
12TH PAGE.—(For the Family)—The Children (poetry)—Sweet Motherhood.
13TH PAGE—Miss Fret and Miss Laugh (poetry) Gooseberries in Dreamland—Peter—Only a Cent—Roll of Honor—Letter-Box.
14TH PAGE—Secular News.
15TH PAGE—Say Soes—Market.
16TH PAGE—Things Useful.

JOINED UNTO THE LORD."

This is the exact phrase with which the union of Christ and the Christian is portrayed by the apostle, and from which we have drawn the captions of our latest editorial studies on Christ in the Christian and The Christian in Christ. In these topical studies we have referred to 1 Corinthian vi. 17, as the Scripture source of the truth taught. This verse is the key which unlocks the doors of all the chapters of the two letters to the Corinthians.

Three of the centres of light, or rooms luminous with the light of God, to irradiate the other chapters, we have found to be second, sixth and twelfth chapters. Our desire is to refer more particularly to other chapters. The first after the twelfth is the fifteenth chapter, commonly called and familiarly known as the resurrection chapter. In this the truth is taught that the Spirit, through whom he that is joined to the Lord is one spirit, puts His stamp of proprietorship on the body. He makes of the bodies of Christians His temple. He dwells in that temple and exhorts Christians to consider and care for the body as His dwelling place. "Therefore glorify God in your body" is the argument He urges as reason to use this body for the glory of God. It will appear to any that as long as the human spirit dwells in this body in the continuance of this earthly life, the body should be held sacred and kept pure and never degraded to ignoble use or base indulgences. That is so far true. But the truth is greater and more far-reaching. For the Scripture does not teach and leaves no room to believe that the Spirit resigns His right of proprietorship in the body at death. He does not leave the body at the grave, but keeps watch to raise it, "in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump," "a spiritual body." It is reported that when Dr. John M. Mason was following the body of his son to burial from the chapel of La-Fayette College, he said to the young men, "Young men walk softly; you bear the temple of the Holy Ghost." Of all believers, our faith holds that their bodies do rest in their graves until the resurrection.

Turning now to the second Epistle to the Corinthians the first chapter to arrest attention as those mentioned already is the third. There it is shown that the Spirit of God in the believer is transforming him into God's image. The figure used is of a mirror in which the beloved is seen, as Christ is seen in the mirror of God's word. He is gazed upon, admired, adored, until by the Lord the Spirit, the beholder is transformed into His image. Modern photography suggests means and a process by which this is done. The image of Christ is the Word. The human spirit, made sensitive, as the photographic plate, by the Holy Spirit, is exposed by the camera of attentive meditation. The light of the knowledge of God in the face of Jesus Christ conveys the image and fixes it in the heart. By long exposure of study, meditation and prayer the believer is "changed into the same image from glory as by the Lord the Spirit."

In the sixth chapter we find the Holy Spirit separates the believer unto God. From the human side we call this consecration. But the believer in the proper sense cannot consecrate himself. Consecration is the work of God. The believer may devote himself for this. But the work of separation is done by the Holy Spirit. Because of this work of the Spirit comes the exhortation to Christians not to be unequally yoked by any alliance or fellowship with anything or person contrary in spirit to the will of God and living outside the way of holiness.

The climax is reached in the twelfth chapter which treats of heavenly heights and transporting spiritual visions here on earth. Paul was caught up into the third heaven and saw unutterable things. This may have been at Lystra when he virtually suffered martyrdom by stoning and was left for dead. Whatever the time, wherever the place, the meaning here is that in the progressive stages of experience, the believer goes on to that privilege of the present life to have visions of heaven and transporting revelations of Christ in glory.

"Joined to the Lord" the Christian has promises and possessions and provisions to live a better life, rejoice in a fuller joy, and climb to higher heights than we dare to dream. Why do so many live so far beneath those possibilities?

KADESH-BARNEA. This is the title of a little book published by Fleming H. Revell Co., New York, at the price of fifty cents cloth bound. It contains several sermons and studies by Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, D. D., the successful evangelist, pastor of Bethany Presbyterian church of Philadelphia. Incidentally the author gives the source of his success as a preacher of great power. The studies cover the field of much modern thought and teaching about the life of privilege possible to the Christian, but little appropriated.

While finding types and representations in the Old Testament, he does not press them to teach peculiar notions or to enforce strange doctrines. He is evangelical, earnest and vigorous in every part, and the whole work is very helpful for any who wish to live lives more like Christ.

JUSTIFIED FREELY by His grace. Justified! made just with God, receiving pardon for sin, reconciled to God and at one with Him, accepted of Him and treated as righteous in His sight—O, the immensity of meaning of that word to the human soul! and all of grace—God's grace, apart from all merit of mine and utterly beyond all power—Grace! the outpouring of God's infinite, sovereign unmerited love, the manifestation of His unmeasurable mercy. So full, so free!—filling the very heart of God, and going back to the very confines of eternity. Foreknown, predestinated, called, justified, glorified, through the redemption which is in Christ Jesus made heirs of God, to an inheritance, undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation, ready to be revealed in the last time.

AS A VERIFICATION of the fact, of which indeed we have abundant evidence in life's experience, that the value of things is not determinable by their cost, there lies just before us a sermon by Rev. Dr. Walter W. Moore, on "The Eloquence of the Heart." We have had time to dip into it, hardly time to do that, and wish to advise our readers—especially our younger ministers, to get it—they will certainly enjoy it, and not improbably will profit by it. It was preached to the students of Princeton Theological Seminary on Sunday, March 21st, 1897, and printed at their request. It can be had of our Committee of Publication, Richmond, for five cents.

AFTER STATING the places of meetings of both the Northern and Southern Assemblies a Northern contemporary adds: "At both assemblies the question of the organic union of the two bodies will come up in the form of a proposition that both meet next year at Louisville."

If this is so it is well enough to let it be understood at the start. We have some curiosity to know the origin of this movement, if it is, or is to be, a movement. We have no patience with things that have to be done in the dark.

A MOVEMENT is said to be on foot to have an ambassador accredited from the United States to the Vatican. Archbishop Ireland is said to be the special promoter of it. The Vatican is not a State, nor the representative of a State. It is simply the government of a religious system, and on what grounds a government, professing to be conducted on the principle of the entire separation of Church from State, can reasonably enter into diplomatic intercourse with the Vatican is hard to conceive.

THE FAILURE of the arbitration treaty between Great Britain and this country, however much to be regretted as an apparent unwillingness to remove obstacles in order to the prevention of trouble in the future between the two countries has created no stir, either here or abroad. The articles of the treaty have been discussed and public sentiment is indisputably in favor of the principle which lay at the base of the treaty itself. The arrangement, essentially, in one form or another, sooner or later, must and will be adopted. The feeling is quite prevalent, surely, that neither of these great nations bound by ties of blood, and by closest commercial relations and interests will ever go to war. This is why, probably, no greater stir has followed the rejection of the arbitration treaty.

From the Missionary:

"The many warm friends of our larger magazine, The Missionary, will regret to learn that there has been very little increase in the list of paying subscribers during the year ending March 31st, 1897. At that date, in 1896, there were 9,259 paying subscribers. On the first of April of the present year, the number is 9,826. It will thus be seen that while the reduction in price to fifty cents has but slightly increased the circulation, it has materially decreased the income of the magazine. At best it can only be an experiment, and, with the present outlook, there is room to question the wisdom of continuing it."

We make no comment.

THE VIRGINIANS of the days of Washington as set before us in Prof. Wilson's "George Washington" are realized most vividly. Throughout the Southern States, until the abolition of slavery, there were always wealthy landed proprietors who had around them those who were absolutely dependent upon them and all but absolutely subject to their rule. This relation naturally begat a royalty of bearing and of conduct that in the extreme was represented by the terms chivalry and aristocracy. Down to the days of reconstruction these terms had their special significance in this regard. But the terms properly were applicable to extremes only. The typical Southern planter was a man of ample means, of finished education, of refined and gentle manners and of bearing, dignified ofttimes even to courtliness, and above all given to hospitality. His manners, not always it well might be, were an index to his heart, but the training into gentleness and the constant habit of courtesy and refinement could not fail, in the general, to work into the heart and soul the principles of which properly they should be the representation. The environment of pure democracy, with unrestrained business, and with quite free social, intercourse would not fail to have a meliorating influence upon the class just mentioned, and with the result that not only was antagonism not engendered, but community of feeling and interest between all classes was promoted. One has only to recall what was so patent but a generation since, to fully realize and appreciate the accuracy with which Prof. Wilson has traced the life, under the peculiar circumstances of the time, of the Virginians in the days of Washington.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

DAVIDSON NOTES.

On Sunday, May 9th, we had the pleasure of a visit from Mr. C. T. Studd, one of the heroic "Cambridge Band," who eleven years ago left Cambridge University, England, and penetrated into the far interior of China, without salary or promised support of any kind, relying solely upon God for their subsistenee. Mr. Studd addressed the congregation morning and evening, speaking to crowded and interested congregations. To the students he made four or five different talks on Saturday, Sunday, and Monday. In spite of examinations the student body attended en masse, and were not only interested, but stirred to deeper and more fervent consecration by the spiritual power and red hot earnestness of the speaker. To hear and talk to such a man cannot but give one a spiritual uplift, and Mr. Studd will receive a warm welcome if he comes this way again.

A sort of picnic visit from the General Assembly during their session in Charlotte is a privilege which we are hoping to enjoy at an early date. Arrangements are being perfected for bringing them up on a special train to spend a few hours on our Campus and in our buildings, getting better acquainted with the college of which so many of them are alumni, but of whose recent progress they have not been eyewitnessee.

Last Sabbath we had the privilege of listening again to Dr. E. H. Harding, of Farmville, Va., who is at Davidson visiting his son. His sermon on John the Baptist was, as all his pulpit utterances are, fresh, clear, and stimulating.

At the Woman's Exposition in Charlotte a "Davidson Room" is being fitted up, showing some of our apparatus for Physics and Chemistry, and furnishing a pleasant meeting place for Davidsonians from every quarter.

At the request of certain of our citizens the Southern Railway has decided to build a new depot at Davidson, and work will soon begin on the new structure. This, with the Medical College Building, and two large new residences within a year, makes quite a building boom for our little village.

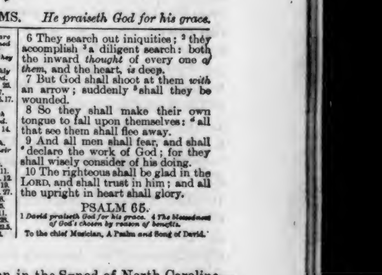
L.

Davidson, N. C., May 17th, '97.

INDIA RELIEF FUND.

TWO CENTS will sustain the life of a man, woman or child for one day.

Previously acknowledged.....	$ 83 57
"A Friend".....	5 80
Ladies' Missionary Society of Beth Car Church.....	6 25



OUR PREMIUM BIBLE.

Measures 5x7 inches when Closed, and Contains 1,600 Pages of Reading Matter—Several hundred pages of Useful Information, besides the Scriptural Text.

At length we find ourselves with pride and pleasure, able to offer a Bible premium to workers for the N. C. PRESBYTERIAN. The size and quality of type of our Bible is represented by the cut here given:

The binding is flexible, the edges are gilt and the references within

David's thirst for God. PSALMS. He praiseth God for his grace.

10 Trust not in oppression, and become not vain in robbery: [a] if riches increase, set not your heart upon them.
11 God hath spoken [b] once; twice have I heard this; that [c] power belongeth unto God.
12 Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for [d] thou renderest to every man according to his work.

PSALM 63.

1 David's thirst for God. 4 His manner of blessing God.
A Psalm of David, [e] when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

O GOD, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: [f] my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and [g] thirsty land, [h] where no water is;
2 To see [i] thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the sanc-

[a] or, we are concerned by that which they have throughly searched. [b] Job 21. 28. Ps. 62. 7. 1 Tim. 6. 17. [c] Heb. a search searched. [d] Job 22. 14. [e] or, strength. [f] Heb. their wound shall be. [g] Job 24. 11. Prov. 24. 12. Jer. 50. 12. Mat. 12. 27. Eph. 6. 8. Col. 3. 25. [h] Ps. 11. 11. [i] Jer. 50. 28. [j] 1 Sam. 22. 5. [k] Ps. 42. 2.

6 They search out iniquities; [j] they accomplish [k] a diligent search: both the inward thought of every one of them, and the heart, is deep.
7 But God shall shoot at them with an arrow; suddenly [l] shall they be wounded.
8 So they shall make their own tongue to fall upon themselves: [m] all that see them shall flee away.
9 And all men shall fear, and shall declare the work of God; for they shall wisely consider of his doing.
10 The righteous shall be glad in the LORD, and shall trust in him; and all the upright in heart shall glory.

PSALM 65.

1 David proclaimeth God for his grace. 4 The blessedness of God's chosen by reason of benefits.
To the chief Musician, A Psalm and Song of David.

[l] Heb. their wound shall be. [m] Job 18. 7. Ps. 64. 8. Prov. 18. 21. Jer. 20. 10. Mat. 16. 27. Rom. 2. 6. Rev. 22. 12. [n] Ps. 22. 27. [o] Ps. 33. 8. [p] Ps. 40. 5. [q] Ps. 71. 19. [r] Ps. 89. 6.

are full. The Bible contains besides 1050 pages of Scriptural text, the HELPS to Scripture reading and study including Subject Index, Concordance, a most serviceable General Topical Index, a large number of pages treating of the Titles, Authorship, Distinctive Characters, Contents, &c., of the various books of the Bible, A Description of the Inhabitants, Physical Geography, Customs and Political Condition of the Holy Land at the beginning of the Christian era, the Botany of the Bible, Glossary of Antiquities, Customs, 12 maps, etc., being the Oxford Helps, acknowledged to be the very best, besides 124 full page illustrations of the Languages, Writing, &c., of the Old and New Testaments, of the bas reliefs and the like, discoveries in archæological researches, and now in the British museum—and very much else; making altogether the most desirable

A great number of our wants are simply wants of the imagination, we want them simply because we want them; they give us no enjoyment when we obtain them, the want of them is simply known by a disagreeable feeling that we are without them.

copy of the Scriptures for Bible students that has come to our knowledge. The book contains over 1,600 pages.

The Bible is an offer in connection with the NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN—the only medium thro which one can become well acquainted with what is going on in the Synod of North Carolina—on the following terms:

We will give this Bible as payment for help rendered to any old subscriber who will send us the name of a BONA FIDE new subscriber along with $2.25.

The new subscriber gets the paper very cheap—we offer it to any bona fide new subscriber for $1.50 for the first year—and the worker gets amply compensated in a magnificently cheap Bible for his or her good work.

A new subscriber to get the Bible can subscribe for himself at $1.50 and then send another new subscriber with $2.25.

The Premium offered is the Genuine Edition of the Oxford Teacher's Bible.

We trust our friends will go to work promptly on this plan.

JOHN MCLAURIN,
Manager N. C. Presbyterian.

"Our Premium Bible" contains absolutely nothing that tends to discredit the plain Scripture narrative of "Jonah and the whale."

Willingness to forgive is the final test of love. If there is a soul on earth whose unkindness you are not willing to forgive, it shows that your heart is not right with God.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

ABSTRACT OF PROCEEDINGS OF ALBEMARLE PRESBYTERY.

(OFFICIAL.)

Presbytery met in Wilson Tuesday, April 20th, at 8 p. m. The moderator, Rev R W Hines, having removed beyond the bounds of Presbytery since the last meeting, the opening sermon was preached by Rev F W Farries, the last moderator, from 2 Tim. 1 : 13. "Hold fast the form of sound words," &c.

All twelve ministers were present and nine churches were represented.

Rev C N Wharton was chosen moderator, and Rev W T Walker with Elder J R Young were appointed temporary clerks.

The Presbytery at its last meeting having appointed a committee to arrange for suitable memorial exercises in honor of the 250th anniversary of the completion of the Westminster Standards; the committee reported at this meeting a program of exercises which was carried out on Thursday and Friday nights. Rev Dr Daniel spoke on the "Political and Ecclesiastical Conditions which led to the calling of the Westminster Assembly," and Rev F W Farries on the "Composition and Work of the Assembly."

On Friday night Rev F D Thomas spoke on the "Effects of Calvinistic Doctrine Ethically Considered on Communities and Individuals," and Rev Dr G L Leyburn on the Doctrinal System of the Assembly in its Relation to the Establishment and Maintenance of Civil and Religious Liberty."

The moderator presided at these meetings which were opened and closed with suitable devotional services.

Mr Thos A Watkins, member of the Henderson church, was received as a candidate for the ministry after the usual examination.

The names of H D Brown and B A Pierce were dropped from the roll of candidates without censure.

Rev C N Wharton was appointed Agent of Sabbath-schools vice Rev R W Hines, removed.

Rev Messrs Hurley of the M. E. church of Wilson, and Davis of the Christian church were introduced and invited to sit as visiting brethren.

Rev W W Quicke, of the Reformed Episcopal Church, Canada, was introduced also and invited to sit as a visiting brother. Subsequently Mr Quicke was on his own application and on satisfactory testimonials from the Bishop of his diocese examined with the view of being admitted as a minister into the Presbyterian Church. The examination was sustained and after his subscription to the ordination vows, as directed by Book of Church Order, he was received as a member of this Presbytery and his name enrolled.

Rev Messrs T H Law of Enoree Presbytery and A J McKelway of Fayetteville Presbytery were introduced and invited to sit as corresponding members.

Dr Law was subsequently heard in the interests of the American Bible Society, and the following paper adopted:

Resolved. That Presbytery has heard with great pleasure and profit the district superintendent of the American Bible Society, the Rev Dr T H Law on the magnificent benevolent work of that society, and its high claims upon our sympathy and co-operation, and especially the liberality of our Church people, and the Presbytery directs that all our churches contribute during this year to this cause according to the recommendation of the General Assembly.

HOME MISSIONS.

This subject was presented in a popular meeting held Wednesday night. Rev Jno B Morton, chairman of the committee, read his report which was followed by statements concerning the various fields in the Presbytery and the work done, by the evangelists, Rev Dr Johnston and RevW T Walker. Addresses were made by Rev Dr Daniel and Rev A J McKelway, Synod's superintendent of Home Missions and a collection amounting to $21 was taken up.

Call from Grassy Creek church for pastoral services of Rev W T Walker for one Sabbath in the month was granted. Also call from Oxford church for the whole of the time of their pastor, the Rev A S Caldwell.

The following changes in groupings were made;

Geneva church with the Granville group under charge of Rev Mr Walker, and the Young Memorial church under that of Rev C N Wharton of the Warrenton group.

Nahalah, Roanoke and Parmele churches (Mr. Hines' late field) were, for the present, annexed to the Elizabeth City field, under Rev Dr Johnston, assisted by Rev Dr Payne.

Falkland church was added to the Kinston group under Rev E D Brown, and Greenville church put under the care of the pastor of the Tarboro church.

Louisburg church was given in charge of Rev Jas Thomas of the Wilson field, to be supplied by him one Sabbath in the month.

The following missionary supplies were ordered for next six months. Each appointee is expected to spend one Sabbath; if more than one, the figure after the name will show.

Louisburg, Walker, Daniel, Quicke, Caldwell (2); Nashville, F Thomas; Roanoke Rapids, Wharton; Kinston, Farries; Nutbush, Payne; Parmele and Everetts, Morton, Quicke, Brown; Enfield, Jas Thomas; Aurora, Payne; Dover, Leyburne; Henderson, Quicke.

The books and accounts of the treasurer and of the committee of Home Missions were audited and approved.

Mr Jno McLaurin, editor of the NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN was heard in the interests of that paper.

Mr Jas Dinwiddie, principal of Peace Institute, was also heard for that institution.

Rev C N Wharton was elected with Judge Geo Howard, elder, principal commissioners to the General Assembly. Rev W T Walker and Elder J M Hunt, alternates.

Committees to install Rev Messrs Caldwell and Le burn at Oxford and New Berne, reported duty performed.

All the usual reports to the General Assembly were prepared, adopted and forwarded.

The following is the narrative:

The committee examined narratives from twenty-eight churches out of thirty-one churches.

1. Our congregations have been generally supplied with the regular preaching of the word of God, and have had encouraging attendance upon Sabbath services, and prayer-meetings.

2. Our ministers without exception have devoted themselves to the work of their sacred calling. Pastoral visitation has been made with faithfulness. Our elders and deacons have guarded the sacred interests committed to their care with commendable diligence.

3. The Sabbath is generally well observed with exceptions of two kinds, (1) social visiting, (2) unceasing traveling.

4. There is reason to ask a revival of religion in family worship. Neither all our officers, nor members, embrace this exalted privilege, although many do. It is the judgment of the Presbytery that the officers of our churches especially, should look well to the ways of their households in this respect.

5. There is generally very gratifying report as to the non-prevalence of intemperance and worldly amusements. In some of our stronger churches, however, these things are said to exist to some extent.

6. The Monthly Concert of Prayer for Missions is not generally observed. This, however, does not seem to indicate a lack of interest in missions, but only that the churches have other ways of showing that interest. The churches generally seem encouraged with the work of their Sabbath-school and Bible classes.

7. Nearly all the churches report additions on confession of faith. The number in each case, however, has not been large. Several churches report good meetings, with encouraging results. The total number of accessions on confession is 116.

8. The "N. C. PRESBYTERIAN," "Central Presbyterian" and "Christian Observer" are reported as taken. The reports, however, are not sufficiently definite. It appears to your committee that each session should report the number of copies taken. This can be easily done.

9. There is no work among the colored people beyond the collection taken for this cause.

Upon the whole, the Presbytery's work for the year has been encouraging and the outlook is hopeful. The loss of some ministers has saddened us, but we are greatly cheered by the accession of other able brethren whose work among us already indicates present efficiency and future usefulness.

The stated clerk was directed to write a letter of Christian salutation and congratulation to the newly formed Presbytery of Asheville.

Rev Messrs Daniel, Caldwell and Morton were appointed a committee to prepare, if practicable, a course of reading for our Westminster leagues, also to arrange for a convention of all the leagues during the summer. The committee are instructed to endeavor to organize leagues in each congregation, and to do all that possibly can be done, to forward the work among our young people.

The Agent of Sabbath-schools was requested to hold a Sabbath-school convention if possible at such time and place as he finds most suitable, before the next meeting of Presbytery.

The thanks of the Presbytery were voted to the speakers in the Westminster celebration for their interesting and able addresses and copies of the same requested for preservation.

The thanks of the Presbytery were tendered to the pastor and members of the Wilson church and to others for cordial hospitality and other courtesies extended to members of Presbytery.

Adjourned to meet in Littleton, Tuesday, October 5th, at 7.30 p. m.

F. H. JOHNSTON,
Stated Clerk.

Elizabeth City, May 7th.

A perverse temper and a discontented, fretful disposition, wherever they prevail, render any state of life unhappy.—Cicero.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

PRESBYTERY OF ASHEVILLE.

(OFFICIAL ABSTRACT.)

Presbytery of Asheville met in Waynesville, N C, April 27th, at 7.30 p m, and was opened with a sermon by Rev H M Parker from 1 Chron 29 : 14.

Present during session seven ministers and fourteen elders. Rev J B Cochrane of Murphy was elected moderator and Rev J T Wade of Highlands temporary clerk.

The stated clerk was requested to prepare a brief historical statement of the erection of the Asheville Presbytery to be entered in the Presbyterial Records.

Petitions for three new churches were presented and commission appointed to organize if the way be clear.

A letter from Albemarle Presbytery extending salutations and congratulations of that body was received and the moderator requested to reply.

The name of Hiawassee church was changed to Hayesville, which is the name of the county seat.

Home Missions. This report was made on Wednesday evening and several addresses made on the subject. Nearly all of our churches are regularly supplied and several mission points are being cultivated where churches will be organized in the near future.

W W Williams who has completed his second year in Louisville Seminary will assist Rev R W Alexander in his field during the summer months. A student will be secured to labor with Rev J T Wade in the Macon field.

A summer campaign will be organized and visiting ministers including our Presbyterial and Synodical Evangelists, will assist in protracted meetings in all of our fields.

A committee was appointed to arrange a program for celebrating the 250th anniversary of Westminster Assembly, at fall meeting.

Education. Presbytery feeling the great need of Christian education would urge the pastors and sessions of our churches to consider earnestly the importance of establishing parochial schools, and report as to progress in this direction at the fall meeting.

Presbytery heartily commended to the interest and patronage of our people the schools at Asheville, Riceville, Brittain's Cove and Hot Springs, under the Northern Presbyterian Church, and a home school at Hendersonville under the auspices of Rev E A Sample and daughters.

Pastors were urged to impress upon the people the great importance of prayer for the Lord of the harvest to send forth more laborers into His harvest, and the great privilege of educating their own sons for the gospel ministry.

The stated clerk was instructed to have 400 copies of statistical report and apportionmeats printed and distributed them among the churches.

He was also appointed to draw up a set of rules to guide the sessions in keeping their records.

The usual reports to the General Assembly were adopted and ordered to be forwarded.

Fall meeting at Bryson City, Tuesday, Sept. 14th.

E. A. SAMPLE,
Stated Clerk.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

EAST HANOVER PRESBYTERY.

Presbytery met in the First church, Richmond, Va, Rev Dr Kerr, pastor, Monday evening, April 26th. The sessions were opened with a precious communion service and sermon by the Rev T T Jones, D D, at the request of the moderator, the Rev C R Hyde.

Present. Twenty-four ministers and eighteen ruling elders.

Organization. Rev T T Jones, D D, moderator, with the Rev C M Chumbley and Rev Chas N Von Houten, clerks.

New Orders. 1. That hereafter each stated meeting shall begin with the Lord's Supper after the sermon, unless circumstances render it inexpedient. 2. That the moderator at each stated meeting shall appoint a principal and alternate preacher to remain over the Sabbath with the congregation in which the Presbytery holds its next meeting.

Pastoral Relation Dissolved. Between the Rev J Y Fair, D D, and the Grace Street church, Richmond, Va. Touching talks were made by Dr. Fair himself, Elder R B Somerville, commissioner from the church, Rev W A Nisbett, D D, commissioner from Savannah Presbytery, Elder Randolph Axson, commissioner from the Independent Presbyterian church, Savannah, Ga, which has called Dr. Fair and to which he now goes, Dr Hoge, Judge Welford, Dr Kerr and others; and resolutions were passed expressive of regret in parting with Dr Fair and of sympathy with Grace Street church in its loss.

Pastoral Relations Formed. The Rev Chas E Stebbins accepts the calls to Powhatan church as pastor and to Chester as stated supply. Olivet and Bethany will engage Licentiate W J King as stated supply and Byrd church the Rev H P R McCoy as stated supply.

Dismissions. Rev R A Fair and Rev J Y Fair, D D, to the Presbytery of Savannah. Licentiate W J King to the Presbytery of Norfolk.

Candidate Received. Mr. Montgomery Lynch, of the First church, Richmond.

Candidate Dropped. Mr Cameron Johnson's name was dropped from the roll of candidates for the ministry at his own request as he proposes to enter other Christian missionary work.

Foreign Missions. The report and exercises were simple, but tender and earnest, with prayers for the missionaries of Presbytery, for the women in the foreign field and for Rev J Mercer Blain, in response to a letter from him to Presbytery. The chairman of the committee was instructed to write to the missionaries connected with Presbytery. Contributions in round numbers $3,000, of which $1,300 are from the Woman's Missionary Union.

Home Missions. Thursday night was given to it with stirring addresses by the Presbyterial Evangelist, Rev L A McLean, and the Chairman, Rev R C Hyde. The work shows new energy. The committee was reorganized so as to be in Richmond and consists of: Rev R C Hyde, Chairman, R P Kerr, J P Smith, J C Stewart, D K Walthall; Ruling Elders, Wm C Preston, Chas D Louis, Geo L Christian, J Harvie Blair.

Hoge Academy. A good report was made of this institution, followed by an address from Dr Kerr and resolutions appealing to Presbyterians to sustain it with patronage.

Permanent Committees. On Education, Publication, Colored Evangelization, Invalid Fund, reported.

Standing Committees. The reports of these committees on the Narrative, Systematic Beneficence, Sabbath-schools and Young People's Societies showed improvement all along the line, with more churches reporting perhaps than ever before.

Minutes of Synod. This committee called attention to the actions of Synod on Sabbath-schools, Foreign Missions, commending the Central Presbyterian to the churches, etc.

Westminster Celebration. This was the feature of Presbytery. Addresses of extraordinary interest were delivered, Tuesday evening by the Hon W W Henry on "The Events Leading Up to the Westminster Assembly, Its Personnel and Methods of Transacting Business;" Wednesday evening by the Rev Moses D Hoge, D D, on "The Influence of the Westminster Confessions and Catechisms." Presbytery appointed a committee to provide for the publications of these addresses, but Dr Hoge's could not be secured, as it was unwritten.

Assembly's Home and School. The sore needs of this beneficent institution at Fredericksburg were presented strongly by Dr Hoge and a permanent committee in its interest appointed: Rev J P Smith, D D, Rev C R Hyde, Hon W W Henry.

Commissioners to the General Assembly. Principals, Rev M D Hoge, D D, Rev J C Stewart, Judge Wm H Mann, Judge B R Welford; Alternates, Rev T P Epes, Rev Chas N VanHouten, Dr H M D Martin, Mr B B Vaughan.

Overture to Assembly. Asking an interpretation of "officer" in Par 277, of the Book of Church Order and whether a minister, who proposes still to live in this Presbytery, may be dismissed to unite with another when he thinks his work for Synod or Assembly will be facilitated.

An Interim Committees. 1. On removal of Westminster church, Rev S K Winn, D D, T P Epes, Geo J Hundley. 2. On Publication of Westminster Addresses, Rev W S Campbell. 3. To Prepare Rules for Sessional Records, Rev W S Campbell, R P Kerr, B R Welford. 4. On Elders Meeting, W W Hobson, Jacob Bates, W C Preston, Geo P Howe, Chas Lorraine. 5. Visitors to Hoge Academy, Rev C R Hyde, J P Smith, D D. 6. To install Rev C E Stebbins pastor of Powhatan church, Rev T T Jones, D D, J R Rennie, Jas E Cook.

Next Meeting. Burkeville, Tuesday Oct. 5th, 7.30 p m.

T. P EPES,
Stated Clerk.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

Celebrated for its great leavening strength and healthfulness. Assured the food against alum and all forms of adulteration common to the cheap brands.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Religious Intelligence.

We specially invite News from all quarters for this Department.

The Annual Scheme of Collections in the Synod of North Carolina is as follows:

January—General Assembly's Home Missions.

February and August—Presbyterial Home Missions.

March—Publication and Colportage.

April — Education — (one collection Church and Christian Education).

May and October—Foreign Missions. Third Sabbath in October for Bible Cause.

June and September—Synodical Home Missions.

July—Invalid Fund.

Third Sunday in October—BibleCause.

November and April—Education for the Ministry.

December—ColoredEvangelization

THE ASSEMBLY'S FORM OF BEQUEST.

I do hereby give and bequeath to the Trustees of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States (popularly known as the Southern Presbyterian Church) the sum of .....Dollars for the benefit of [here name cause to which the legacy is given.]

CHANGES OF ADDRESS.

Correspondents will please note the following changes of address:

Rev. Edgar Tufts, from Hampden Sidney, Va., to Banner Elk, N. C.

Mr. D P. McGeachy, from Hampden Sidney, Va., to Spout Springs, N. C.

Rev. Dr. W. W. Moore, from Hampden Sidney, Va., to Salem, N. C.

Rev. W. H. Perkins from Amite City, La., to Magnolia, Miss.

Rev. M. C. Knight, from Phoenix, Arizona, to Shelbyville, Ky.

Rev. S. J. Foster, from Memphis, Tenn., to Lichen, Tenn.

Rev. J. L. Green, from Dardanelle, Ark., to Russellvile, Ark. Field of labor remains the same.

Rev. T. J. Horne, from Argenta, Ark., to Orange, Texas, temporarily.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Immanuel Church, Wilmington:—Two members received on certificate, on Sunday, 16th inst.

Kings Mountain Church:—Communion meeting first Sabbath, preaching beginning Friday night before. No assistance. Interest good. Mr. E. C. Farris elected deacon on Sabbath. One accession. Sabbath-school in good condition. Material improvements within the past year, a new Mason and Hamlin organ for the church and a neat set of pulpit chairs have been placed by the Ladies' Aid Society. For the past three years successive effort has been made to secure setting of trees. Church now encircled, trees doing well.

Long Creek:—Communion meeting second Sabbath. Preaching beginning Friday evening before, Rev. Jas. Crockard of Mecklenburg assisting. Services greatly enjoyed by the people. Church well organized and workers faithful. Westminster League and Sabbath-school well manned and doing efficient work. Nineteen copies of the large Missionary and twenty-one copies of the Children's Missionary taken in the church. A substantial installment of new books soon to be added to the Sunday-school library; money raised for same. Financial report of the church good. An aged elder, away visiting friends, misses the communion meeting for first time in forty years.

R. J. M.

Carthage and Bethesda Churches:—Are under the pastoral care of the Rev. Chas. W. Dobbs, Jr. Seven members have been recently added to the two churches. Four to Carthage by letter and three to Bethesda, two of the latter by profession of faith. Both churches seem to be in a prosperous condition, and give fair promise of more growth in the near futnre.

Sugar Creek:—The communion service on the first Sabbath of the month was a delightful season. Six young persons were admitted to membership upon examination. Rev. T. J. Allison, pastor.

Chapel Hill:—We have just had a spiritual treat in three able sermons by Dr. Eugene Daniel of Raleigh, who came on invitation of our session to preach. Saturday night he preached on Prayer. "Ask and it shall be given you." Prayer is desire—no desire no prayer—must be according to God's will, &c. Sunday morning he preached on "Christ is the End of the Law to them that believeth." At night his theme was some lessons from the burial of Jesus. The report of Chapel Hill church previous to Presbytery show growth. Contributions to all causes shows an almost uniform increase. We began the envelope weekly plan just a year ago. Let our friends who are interested in Presbyterianism at the University remember that we are yet partners with Synod, and OrangePresbytery is supporting our excellent and enthusiastic missionary pastor, Rev. D. J. Currie And when these cases are presented in all our churches let a prayer go with the contribution that God may come in great power into the lives of the University boys. We have never ceased to miss Mrs. Spencer and hope she may yet be among us in the flesh. E. L. H.

Westminster Church, Greensboro:—Some of the fruits of the meeting in which Rev. William Black assisted the pastor were shown on yesterday when sixteen persons upon profession of faith were received into the communion of the church. Most of these were children of the church who had been baptized in infancy. Forty-three persons have been added to our membership during the last six months. Rev. S. O. Hall, pastor.

Red Springs:—Capt. J. F. Johnston formerly of Third church, Birmingham, Ala., and Prof. D. R. McIver, of Salem church, Moore county, have recently been installed ruling elders in this church, and Mr. Lucius McRae deacon. This gives this church nine ruling elders and five deacons.

VIRGINIA.

Williamsburg:—Rev. W. J. King has accepted the pastorate of a group of churches situated at Williamsburg, Hollywood, Charles City and New Kent.

FLORIDA.

Sanford:—Rev. Frank D. Hunt, pastor. Five recently united with the church.

MISSOURI.

Plattsburg:—Rev. O. W. Gauss has been installed pastor by a commision consisting of Rev. Dr. Neel, of Kansas City, and Rev. W. S. Foreman, of St. Joseph.

Clinton:—Rev. Hamilton A. Hymes pastor. At last communion services three were received into membership, making thirteen during the past three months.

GENERAL.

Rev. Dr. Wilbur Chapman, pastor of Bethany Presbyterian church, Philadelphia, has received a call to succeed Rev. Dr. George F. Pentecost in the pastorate of Maryiebone Presbyterian church, London.

The Volunteers of America celebrated their first anniversary in March. The progress which they have made is remarkable. They began their second year with 160 posts and 500 commission ed officers and with 3,000 members of their auxiliary or "Defenders' League." Every month half a million of people hear an earnest Gospel through their out-door and in-door meetings. Besides the regular Gospel and relief work done at the posts, Mrs. Ballington Booth is conducting a wonderful mission in the State prisons in New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey and California. More than 1,200 of the prisoners have been converted and have joined the Volunteers' Prisoner's League. She is also establishing homes to which they can go when released and where they can receive aid in obtaining work.

The season at Northfield promises to be one of great interest and pleasure. To those desiring quiet and physical rest, the beautiful Connecticut valley is most attractive, and those in need of spiritual refreshment will find a healing balm in the precious old truths as delivered by most able and consecrated ministers. Messrs. Andrew Murray, Meyer and Selwyn will be sorely missed, but we have no doubt that Rev. Geo. H. C. McGregor and Rev. Campbell Morgan will bring from the old country the spirit of love and devotion to truth and duty which characterized their predecessors. There will be present missionaries and workers from all lands and grades of society who will discuss mission work in its many lines. This General Conference is from July 29th to August 16th, but from the commencement of the Northfield schools, throughout the summer there is a succession of gatherings; among them The World's Student Conference—June 25th to July 4th, and The Young Women's Christian Association Conference from July 9th to July 20th.

PERSONALS.

Rev. Dr. Farries, of Goldsboro, will preach the Baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of Peace Institute on Sunday, the 23d inst.

Mr James Arthur, of Belfast, Ireland, a member of the middle class, Union Seminary, will assist Rev. W. C. White of Warm Springs, Va., during his vacation.

Rev. D. J. Woods, of Martinsburg, W. Va., will supply Berryville church and Stone's Chapel in Virginia during the summer.

Rev. Archibald McGeachy, of Fulton, Mo., is visiting his former home in Cumberland county, N. C. Mr. McGeachy will represent his Presbytery at the Assembly.

Rev. W. L. Lingle, of Union Seminary, will spend his vacation at his old home near Mill Bridge, N. C.

Rev. A. R. Shaw has been invited to preach the commencement sermon before the graduating class of Daniel Baker College, Brownwood, Texas, May 27th, '97.

Rev. W. R. Taylor, a graduate of Louisville Seminary, will have charge of the Second church, Paducah, Ky., until fall.

We are glad to learn that Rev. S. M. Rankin and family are pleasantly located in their new home in Jackson, Ky.

Mr. T. W. Lingle, who has written such interesting letters from Leipzig, has changed his address to St. Katharinen Gasse 2, II Strassburg, Germany, where he will pursue his studies until August.

Rev. Alex. Sprunt will preach the Baccalaureate sermon of the commencement of the Presbyterian College for Women in Columbia, on May 31st.

Rev. J. M. Clark, of Denton, Texas, will spend a three months vacation from June 1st, mostly in Tennessee and North Carolina.

Our sympathy is extended to Messrs. W. L. Lingle and T. W. Lingle bereaved of their sister, Mrs. W. J. Sloan, of Mill Bridge, N. C.

HERE AND THERE.

The Presbyterian Church of South Africa has now its General Assembly, in which are represented the Free Church, the United Presbyterian, and the separate Presbyteries of Natal, Cape Town and the Transvaal.

Protestantism has of late made great progress in Mexico, where fifty years ago there was neither church nor school devoted to the evangelical faith. There are to-day 441 organized churches, with 171 pastors, 164 evangelists, 244 teachers, and about 50,000 professing Protestants.

From religious statistics of England and Wales [Scotland not included] published in the London Contemporary Review it appears that the Evangelical directly or indirectly represented in the churches National Council have 1,807,738 communicants; the Church of England in her latest returns claims only 1,778,351. The Evangelicals have 373,685 Sunday-school teachers; she has 200,596. They have 3,103,285 Sunday scholars; the Church of England has 2,329,813; that is to say, the Evangelicals have an excess of more than three-quarters of a million Sunday scholars. The sitting accommodation of the associated Evangelical churches is 7,610,003; that of the Church of England is 6,778,288. The Evangelical churches therefore provide nearly a million more sittings than the Church of England, although at the beginning of this century out of 5,171,123 sittings, the Church of England provided 4,289,883. This is an astounding revelation of the immense growth of Evangelical Dissent during the present century

CARD OF THANKS.

I desire through the columns of the N. C. PRESBYTERIAN to tender my hearty thanks to the good people of Fifth Creek and Elmwood congregations, respectively, and to the ladies in particular, for the substantial way in which they have so kindly remembered me. Heretofore I have been the recipient of many tokens of appreciation at the hands of individual members, but this time the congregations by a united effort have made me the happy owner of a handsome suit of clothes, in fact a complete outfit of wearing apparel In return for this kindness I feel that I owe them a debt of gratitude which words fail to express. Suffice it to say that my heart's desire and earnest prayer to God is that each one who has been so thoughtful and generous-hearted in contributing to my bodily necessities may be clothed with the spotless robes of the Great Redeemer's perfect righteousness.

J. E. SUMMERS.

PEACE INSTITUTE.

We are again approaching a resting place in our educational journey. We have had a most delightful session here, and the whole year has been one of uninterrupted good cheer and hard work. Contentment, obedience, good manners and diligent application to study have characterized the year as one of the most successful for many years.

The following is the commencement program:

Sunday, May 23d, 1897. Baccalaureate Sermon by Rev. F. W. Farries of Goldsboro, N. C.

Thursday evening, May 27th, 8 o'clock. Grand Annual Concert.

Friday Morning, May 28th, 10 o'clock. General Commencement Exercises, Delivering of Diplomas, &c.

"OCCASIONAL."

Raleigh, N. C., May 15th.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States (Southern General Assembly), meets in Charlotte, May 20th, and will be in session for ten days. It is one of the largest and most representative religious assemblies in the Union. During its session the Charlotte Observer will have the most complete reports of its proceedings, and the paper will be sent to any address in the United States for entire session of ten days for 25 cents. Remit by postal note or money order. Address,

CHARLOTTE OBSERVER,
Charlotte, N. C.

SKETCH OF SUGAR CREEK CHURCH.

It is a lamentable fact that the records of Sugar Creek church from the organization to 1827, were destroyed. Everything pertaining to her early history is a matter of much historical interest and importance. This church had a privilege and honor, shared with Rocky River, Centre, Hopewell, Poplar Tent, Providence and Steel Creek, in the position occupied and influence exerted for the establishment of civil and religious liberty in America. From these seven congregations, which were in Mecklenburg county, (now Iredell), came the delegates that constituted the celebrated Convention, which met in Charlotte, N. C., on May 20th 1775, and made the first public declaration of American Independence.

"Previous to the year 1750, the emigration to this beautiful, but distant frontier was slow, and the solitary cabins were found upon the borders of prairies and in the vicinity of canebrakes, the immense ranges abounding with wild game and affording sustenance the whole year for herds of tame cattle. Extensive tracts of country between the Yadkin and the Catawba, now waving with thrifty forests, then were covered with tall grass with scarce a bush or shrub, looking at first view as if immense grazing farms had been at once abandoned, the houses disappearing and the abundant grass luxuriating in its native wildness and beauty, the wild herds wandering at pleasure, and nature rejoicing in undisturbed quietness. (Foote's Sketches.)

After 1750, immigration rapidly increased, so that by the time of Rev. Mr. McAden's visit in 1755 and 1756, the families were in sufficient numbers to form a congregation. "The pious and moral united in the worship of God and formed the congregation of Sugaw Creek, which knew no other bounds than the distance men and women could walk or ride to church, which was often as much as fifteen miles as a regular thing, and twenty for an occasional meeting." (Foote's Sketches.)

In 1762, when Mecklenburg county was set off from Anson, and took its name from the reigning house of Hanover, the county-seat—called Charlotte in honor of the Princess Charlotte of Mecklenburg, was situated in the bounds of Sugaw Creek congregation, and three miles from the church. The Indian name of the creek, which gave name to the congregation, was pronounced Sugaw, or Soogaw and the early records of the church was written Sugaw, but for many years it has been written Sugar. The Rev. Hugh McAden—a Presbyterian—was the minister who first preached in this section, and his first appointment was on Sabbath, Oct. 19th, 1755, at James Alexander's on Sugar Creek, where he found "some pretty serions, judicious people.". As well as can be ascertained the church of Sugar Creek was organized in the year 1756, or at some period between that and 1760. The first pastor and the first resident minister of this whole western region was Rev. Alexander Craighead, who was born in Ireland. He was ordained by Donegal Presbytery. In 1758, he accepted a call from Rocky River church and was installed pastor. He must have preached at Sugar Creek, though there is no evidence that he was ever installed there as pastor. In two or three years he resigned Rocky River and contined to serve Sugar Creek until his death in March, 1766. He was a man of ardent temperament, great zeal, and thorough devotion to the ministry. He was noted for preaching such sermons as awakened careless sinners. Rev. W. H. Foote, to whose sketches of North Carolina the writer is indebted for many facts and forms of expressions, hereby acknowledged without future reference, says: "Mr. Craighead had the privilege of forming the principles, both civil and religious, in no measured degree, of a race of men that feared God, and feared not labor and hardship, or the face of man; a race that sought for freedom and property in the wilderness, and having found them rejoiced—a race capable of great excellence, mental and physical, whose minds could conceive the glorious idea of Independence and whose convention announced it to the world in May 1775, and whose hands sustained it in the trying scenes of the Revolution." He lies buried in the old cemetery which is abont a half mile west from the present church. There has been no stone to mark his grave until within the last few years. His coffin was borne to the grave on two green sassafras sticks, which it has been said, were stuck into the ground—the one at the head and the other at the foot of his grave. These sticks took root and grew into trees of very good size. They have been cut down—the stump of one only remaining,

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

THE JAMES SPRUNT INSTITUTE, KENANSVILLE, N. C.

It is the desire of the Faculty and Board of Trustees of the James Sprunt Institute to entertain the parents and young ladies of the surrounding country who are interested in higher education for women on Tuesday, May 25th, 1897.

PROGRAMME.

At the Presbyterian Church.

11 o'clock, Address of Welcome. Rev. R. V. Lancaster.

11.30 o'clock, Address of the Day. Rev. P. H. Hoge, D. D., of Wilmington.

At The Institute.

1 o'clock, Basket Dinner.

2.30 o'clock, Musical and Elocutionary Recital.

Please come and bring any friend who wishes to advance the cause of female education.

Peter McIntyre, President of the Board; R. V. Lancaster, President of the Institute; Miss McFarland, Lady Principal.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

COMMENCEMENT AT COLUMBIA SEMINARY.

Another year of hard but successful work has drawn to a close, and as the result of long years of training, eleven young men, in the prime of life, are ready to enter upon the more active work for the spread of our Master's cause. Out of the eleven two have already decided to enter the Foreign Mission work, but neither see their way clear to enter at once upon the work.

The Baccalaureate sermon was preached Sunday morning at the First Presbyterian church by Dr. Cecil of Selma, Ala. At night Dr. Howerton of Charlotte, N. C., preached the annual sermon before the Missionary Society. He took his text from Numbers 32: 6, "Shall your brethren go to war, and shall ye sit here?" The sermon was clear and logical, making a powerful appeal for more laborers in the Master's work in foreign parts.

Tuesday was occupied principally with the oral examinations before the board of trnstees. After these were over they went into the more important business of the Seminary. A petition was handed to them by the graduating class, petitioning the conferring of the degree of B. D. upon the full graduates. The advisability of this step was forcefully argued on the affirmative side by Dr. Laws, the petitions were granted, and from this time the full graduates will have the degree of B. D. conferred upon them.

There is a requirement in the constitution of the Seminary that after a professor reaches the age of seventy he shall be elected every year. Two of the faculty, Dr. Laws and Dr. Tadlock have passed this limit. They were, however, re-elected for one year, and a committee appointed to propose names to fill their places after next year. It is with deep regret that we see these two able men leave our faculty.

On Monday morning the students and

(Continued on 14th page.)

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

RIOTS AND CONSULAR ASSISTANCE.

In the February number of "The Missionary" appeared an article from the pen of one of our China brethren which contained the following paragraph: "After years of study, and a prolonged observation of missionary work, I have come to these two conclusions—the first was arrived at before 1890: The Church of Christ cannot be planted in this field by the force of the civil authority; I believe that all appeals to consuls and ministers are fraught with failure in establishing the spiritual kingdom. At any rate, I have acted on that belief, and may suffer personally for it yet, if it please my God; but the Chinese may stone me to death, as Stephen was stoned, or beat me, as Paul was beaten, but I will never, by the aid of God, ask help from the secular government. That was the plan of Christ and His apostles. Again, if my goods are all destroyed or burnt by a mob, I will not ask for an indemnity. If my life is taken I wish the Church to take no action. If I am imprisoned for Christ's sake, I want no reprisals."

This paragraph seems to have caught the ear of the Church to some extent, having been copied by one or two of the home papers, and having been inserted in the records of the January meeting of our Executive Committee. While respecting the sincerity of the writer, I believe the sentiments above expressed are not only fraught with error, but calculated to do much harm where adopted as a basis for missionary operations. It is my opinion that this theory in regard to mission work originated with a misconception of our Master's teaching in Matthew 5: 39-42, in which we are told not to resist evil. Your correspondent must confess that he has been often perplexed as he meditated upon this passage of Scripture, but he has always been convinced that these words were not to be taken in their bare literalness, severed from the connection in which we find them. This is evidenced by the fact that our Master did not carry them out literally, but reproved the one who smote Him (John 18: 22). The apostle Paul was far from obeying them literally when he so severely censured the High Priest, who commanded his servant to smite him on the mouth, (Acts 23: 3). Note also the number of instances in which our Lord, instead of inviting injury from those who would do Him harm, bid Himself away from their violence. However, any interpretation of this passage that I might give would be of little worth; but it gives me pleasure, in this connection, to quote from one whose name stands high on the list of Bible expositors, produced by our fair Southland. The late Rev. John A. Broadus, D. D., LL.D., noted for his profound scholarship, deep spiritual insight, and loveliness of character, writes in regard to this passage: "Our Saviour's teachings in general (as well as the teachings of His apostles) are not simply didactic, but polemical, aimed at existing errors and evils; and while intended to be universal in their application they will be understood in their exact bearing only when viewed in contrast to the wrong opinion, feeling or practice He was especially desiring to correct. Many passages of Scripture fail to be rightly interpreted because this principle is not rightly apprehended or borne in mind. In the present case Jesus aims to correct the revengeful spirit and practice to which the Jews were greatly addicted, and which they justified by a loose application of the law of Moses. Our Lord here, as we have observed in former instances (see on V. 29, and compare the expressions in 6: 3, 6) selects an extreme case in order to exhibit more vividly the principle by which we should be guided. So far from revengeful resistance and retaliation being right, it would be better, if that were the alternative, voluntarily to submit ourselves to a yet greater wrong. Better to turn the other cheek, to give up the other garment, to double the impressing officer's requisition than to permit ourselves to practice that passionate resistance and that revengeful retaliation to which we are all prone, and which the Jewish teachers defended. The case is an extreme one, and very unlikely to occur; but if even this would be right rather than be revengeful, all the more is it our duty to do things less difficult, since the greater includes the less."

Nothing needs to be added to the above clear interpretation of this passage. It seems very evident that it was our Lord's intention to rebuke the spirit of revenge then so prevalent among the Jews, and not to give countenance to deeds of violence and robbery. When we allow an infuriated mob to come upon the mission premises and destroy our property, without reporting it to the proper authorities, are we not encouraging deeds of violence and robbery? And are we faithful trustees, of the property of the Church which is placed under our control? Let us carry this misconception of the doctrine of not resisting evil to its legitimate conclusion, and will it not lead us to tear down the walls around our mission compounds, to remove the locks from our doors, and with open-handed prodigality say to each bold-faced marauder: "Help yourself to the property of the Church, and come again when in need of new supplies?"

I contend that one of the best ways to maintain and promote the eternal principles of right and justice in this land is to hold the Chinese authorities responsible for deeds of violence and bloodshed, by appealing to the proper representatives of our own government, who are placed here for our protection. And I contend, furthermore, that when an individual missionary allows the property of the Church to be destroyed by mob violence, without demanding reparation for the same, he proves himself unfaithful to the trust committed to him, and thereby makes less secure the lives of all the other men, women and children who have been sent to bring the light of the Gospel to this sin-cursed land.

The greatest of the apostles sets us an example in demanding reparation for injury received, and in demanding recognition of his Roman citizenship; see Acts 16:37; 22:25-29 and if the Apostle Paul was justified in appealing to Cæsar in order to obtain justice, is it not right for us to appeal to the proper authorities in order to maintain the cause of justice in a land where oppression and robbery abound in hideous proportions?

It is no mark of a lack of love, nor of a desire for revenge, on the part of the missionary when he demands an indemnity for the property of the church destroyed while under his control. Such a demand is consistent with the purest feelings of devotion to the best interests of the people to whom he comes, and is in full accord with the teachings of our Lord, who is eternally just, while both loving and merciful.

It is my hope, in a later article, to refer to some of the spiritual results that have followed a demand for indemnity on the part of those who have suffered from mob violence in China.

LACY L. LITTLE.

China, March 26th, '97.

ARMSTRONG & McKELVY Pittsburgh.
BEYMER-BAUMAN Pittsburgh.
DAVIS-CHAMBERS Pittsburgh.
FAHNESTOCK Pittsburgh.
ANCHOR, ECKSTEIN } Cincinnati.
ATLANTIC, BRADLEY, BROOKLYN, JEWETT, ULSTER, UNION } New York.
SOUTHERN, SHIPMAN, COLLIER } Chicago.
MISSOURI, RED SEAL, SOUTHERN } St. Louis.
JOHN T. LEWIS & BROS CO Philadelphia.
MORLEY Cleveland.
SALEM Salem, Mass.
CORNELL Buffalo.
KENTUCKY Louisville.

IT is a significant fact that responsible dealers sell and responsible painters use Pure White Lead (see list of genuine brands) and Pure Linseed Oil. They know their business. Those who don't know, try to sell and use the "just-as-good mixtures," "so called White Lead," &c., &c.

FREE By using National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors, any desired shade is readily obtained. Pamphlet giving valuable information and card showing samples of colors free; also cards showing pictures of twelve houses of different designs painted in various styles or combinations of shades forwarded upon application to those intending to paint.

National Lead Co., 1 Broadway, New York.

DOING WRONG.

The lines of of suffering on almost every human countenance have been deepened, if not traced, there by unfaithfulness to conscience, by departures from duty. To do wrong is the surest way to bring suffering; no wrong deed ever failed to bring it. Those sins which are followed by no palpable pain are yet terribly avenged, even in this life. They abridge our capacity of happiness, impair our relish for innocent pleasure, and increase our sensibility to suffering. They spoil us of the armor of a pure conscience, and of trust in God without which we are naked amid hosts of foes and are vulnerable by all the changes of life. Thus, to do wrong is to inflict the surest injury on our own peace. No enemy can do us equal harm with what we do ourselves whenever and however we violate any moral or religious obligation.—Rev. W. E. Channing.

LITERARY JOTTINGS.

Mrs. Gertrude Atherton, now residing in England, is a native of San Francisco, and in her blood mingles the opposing streams of Louisiana and New England.

Mr. James Lane Allen has completed his new novel, The Choir Invisible. This, his longest work, was written in six months. The first edition will consist of ten thousand copies.

The following story is told of Mr. Howells by an Exchange: "When William Dean Howells, our petted novelist, was earning small wages on a Cincinnati paper, he was sent to Columbus to report the proceedings of the Legislature of Ohio, which at that particular time were of a riotous nature. Wandering off to the Olentangy at noon recess, he became enamored of the scenery and remained there until nearly sunset, when the splendor of the heavens entranced him. Never before had he seen such a sunset in Ohio. The Legislature and its doings were forgotten, and in the delirium of rapture he rhapsodized three or four columns about the glories of the western evening sky. On the following morning while the rest of the papers had pages about the riots in the halls of legislation, Howells' paper led off with his description of a sunset! If I am not in error he retired from active journalism that very day."

A very ingenious and amusing map of the United States could be constructed to indicate the areas covered by various fiction writers—after the manner of geological and ethnological maps. The "Black Belt" would be pretty evenly divided into the Thomas Nelson Page area with its centre in Virginia, and the Uncle Remus area with its centre in Georgia. The Cumberland Mountain district would be apportioned to Charles Egbert Craddock and John Fox, Jr.; Kentucky to James Lane Allen; Arkansas to Octave Thanet; Minnesota to Hamlin Garland; Arizona to Charles F. Lummis; California to Bret Harte and Ambrose Bierce; Nevada to Mark Twain, who also has a big claim on Missouri; Indiana to Edward Eggleston and Maurice Thompson; Colorado to Anna Fuller; Louisiana to George W. Cable and Grace King, and Kansas to E. W. Howe and William Allen White.

The old New England and Middle States would appear on the map with a greater density of fiction writers, and finer subdivisions of territory. In many districts the chieftainship would be vigorously disputed by a half-dozen candidates.—Ladies' Home Journal.

MAGAZINES.

The attractive face of Mr. Donald G. Mitchell, "Ike Marvel" greets the reader on opening McClure's for May. Continuing, many other excellent pictures are seen. Among them Walt Whitman, Eleanora Duse, Mr. Beecher, Daniel Webster at different ages, Mrs. Webster and John Wilkes Booth. Articles are as usual good.

Popular Science Monthly, published by D. Appleton & Co., New York, contains among other articles, Korean Interviews, The Bubonic Plague, Highway Construction in Massachusetts, The Davenport Academy of Science, The Latent Vitality of Seeds, Strange Personifications, Sketch of James Nasmyth (with portrait) and Reversions in Modern Industrial Life.

BOOKS RECEIVED.

North Carolina and Its Resources, issued by the State Board of Agriculture is a thing of beauty. The work abounds in illustrations, several in color, which are of a high type of art. The information contained is valuable and exhaustive, yet arranged in concise and convenient form. The work does credit to our State both in what is told and the manner of telling it.

Students of literature will receive with pleasure Tennyson's Idylls as published by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Boston, in handy, clearly printed and strongly bound volumes. These poems are edited by Wm. J. Rolfe whose reputation is firmly established for excellence in this line of work. The volume before us, No. II., contains Launcelot and Elaine, The Holy Grail, Pelleas and Ettarre, The Last Tournament, Guinevere, The Passing of Arthur, To the Queen, notes and index.

The W. B. Conkey Co., of Chicago, has issued in an attractive form Custer and Other Poems by Ella Wheeler Wilcox. Perhaps no author is more popular at the present time than Mrs. Wilcox and to us none reveal a keener insight into human nature. "Custer" contains some excellent works but it is in her shorter poems, sometimes only a quartrain, that Mrs. Wilcox strikes the keynote of her power. The illustrations of the author and General Custer are good and add to the pleasure of the book.

Beautiful eyes grow dull and dim
As the swift years steal away.
Beautiful, willowy forms so slim
Lose fairness with every day.
But she still is queen and hath charms to spare
Who wears youth's coronal—beautiful hair.

Preserve Your Hair

and you preserve your youth. "A woman is as old as she looks," says the world. No woman looks as old as she is if her hair has preserved its normal beauty. You can keep hair from falling out, restoring its normal color, or restore the normal color to gray or faded hair, by the use of

Ayer's Hair Vigor.

Wire Railing and Ornamental Wire Works.

DUFUR & CO.,

311 North Howard St., Baltimore, Md
Manufacture Wire Railing for Cemeteries, Balconies, &c., Sieves, Fender Cages, Sand and Coal Screens, Woven Wire, &.
Also Iron Bedteads Chairs, Settee &c.

PEACE INSTITUTE FOR YOUNG LADIES, RALEIGH, N. C.

This Institute offers thorough collegiate courses in English, History, Literature, Mathematics, Sciences, Ancient and Modern Languages, Music, Art, Elocution and Physical Culture.

As to its high standard for graduation, its thoroughness of instruction, its moderate charges for the advantages offered, and the extent of its courses in Art and Music, this Institute cannot be surpassed.

It offers also thorough preparatory courses. Correspondence solicited.

Board and English Tuition One Year $200.

For illustrated catalogue and full particulars, address the Principal,

JAS. DINWIDDIE, M. A., University of Virginia.

Term begins Sept. 16th, 1896. Closes first of June.

The Normal & Collegiate Institute

For Young Women.

ASHEVILLE, N. C. SPRING TERM OPENING FEB. 1st. 1897

OFFERS TO THE STUDENTS:

1. A Classical Course, including Ancient and Modern Languages, Science, Music, Drawing, etc.
2. A Normal Course for the thorough training of Teachers under instructors from the best Normal Schools.
3. Commercial Course, including Stenography, Type-writing, Book-keeping, etc.
4. Domestic Science, including Scientific Cooking, Draughting, Cutting, Fitting and Making of garments.

Systematic study of the Bible in all departments.

Terms for Board and Tuition in any of the departments, $50 per term, or half school year.

☞ For catalogue, address

REV. THOS. LAWRENCE, D. D

ASHEVILLE, N. C.

Cluster Springs High School

(On Lynchburg and Durham R. R., six miles from N. C. line)

BLACK WALNUT, VIRGINIA.

For boys and young men. A well equipped high school at a most pleasant, accessible, and healthful location. Lithia, sulphur, iron, and pure waters. Good buildings and improved school equipments. Swimming Pool, Gymnasium, and Athletic Field. Special attention to manners and development of character. Thorough instruction. Three teachers. Prepares for college or for business. Our certificates admit to college. Tuition and home $—— Our catalogue tell all about it. Address,

REV. T. S. WILSON, President,
or E. L. BARNES, A. B., Principal

A. D. BROWN,

Successor to Brown & Roddick,

29 NORTH FRONT STREET, WILMINGTON, N. C.

IMPORTER OF FINE

DRY GOODS AND CARPETS,

ORIENTAL AND DOMESTIC RUGS,

"WARNER'S CORSETS," "HER MAJESTY'S CORSETS,"

"THOMPSON'S GLOVE FITTING CORSETS," "R & G" AND "FERRIS" CORSETS.

"FOSTER" KID GLOVES, "KAYSER" SILK GLOVES.

"HUDNUT'S" EXQUISITE TOILET REQUISITES.

Mail Orders Given Special Attention.

Sabbath School Dep't.

CONDUCTED BY REV. A. D. McCLURE.

Second Quarter—Lesson IX.

May 30, 1897.—James 2 : 14–33.

Commit to memory verses 14–17.

Subject. Faith Leads to good Works.

Golden Text. "I will show thee my faith by my works." Jas. 2 : 18.

CATECHISM.

Question 42. What is the sum of the ten commandments?

Answer. The sum of the ten commandments is to love the Lord our God with all our heart, with all our soul, with all our strength, and with all our mind, and our neighbor as ourselves.

Time. A. D. 44 or 45.

Place. Written from Jerusalem.

INTRODUCTORY.

In the conference at Jerusalem studied as our last lesson James was prominent. At this point it is therefore suitable to introduce a lesson from this epistle which was probably the earliest written of the books of the New Testament. Dean Alford says of the epistle: "The theme is the perfect man in the perfection of the Christian life, the doer of the perfect law." It does not contradict the writings of the Apostle Paul, but presents the same truth in different aspects and from opposite points of view. A careful study and analysis of the Epistle will show that the subject is faith and not good works as is commonly thought. The writer of the book is James, the brother of our Lord, and not James the brother of John, nor James the son of Alpheus. He was not a believer in Jesus during His ministry, but we find him a disciple after the resurrection. He was called James the Just, was ascetic in his habits, a strong observer of the law and Plumtre says, was 'indifferent to the luxuries and comforts of life, honoring the poor more than the rich, visiting the fatherless and the widow.....slow to judge, calming by his saintly meekness the angry passions of contending parties." This is one of the general epistles written to no particular church, but to the Jewish Christians everywhere.

LESSON NOTES.

While the theme of this Epistle is faith the purpose is to promote morality as the outcome of faith which works by love.

Vs. 14. What doth it profit? What does it amount to in practical morality and as an evidence to others of the reality of the Christian life? Though a man say he hath faith. The word "say" is emphatic as if a man might merely profess to have it. And have not works. Acts of obedience and service or the fruits of the Spirit, which are prompted and promoted by faith. Can faith. R. V., "that faith," that mere profession of faith, or faith which is not living and uniting to Christ, save him, from sin and unrest, and as a disciple of Christ to a holy life and Heaven?

Vs. 15. A brother or sister. Not of blood merely when humanity or natural affection might work, but in Christ where our faith in Christ would turn to love for the brethren.

Vs. 16. Say, Depart in peace, be warmed and filled. To "say this might mean sympathy in a general way, or only words. The feeling was only such emotion as novel-reading or refusal to do our duty may engender.

Vs. 17. Is dead, being alone (R. V. "in itself") as a seed that does not sprout. It gives no evidence of life, having no works to show that it is alive.

Vs. 18. Show me thy faith without. ("Apart from") thy works. It is easy enough to assert that one has faith, but there is no way to show it except by its natural fruit, of obedience to the divine law, and a life of service to Him and to our fellowmen.

Vs. 19. Thou believest that there is one God. Very well that is so far good as the belief of a fact, but has it the element of reverence for that one God, and obedience to His law by trust in His Son Jesus Christ our Lord. The devils or "demons" as the word is, for there is but one personal Devil and there are many demons. Also believe: The fact that there is one God, but with no trust in Him nor love for His truth, nor joy in His service. They tremble at the fear of God's power, but do not admire His goodness and adore His majesty and obey His word.

Vs. 20. Faith without works is dead. R. V. "barren," idle fruitless, useless.

Vs. 21. Abraham.... justified by works. He was not accepted as righteous before God and justified in God's sight by his works, but before men. "For the Scripture saith, Abraham believed God, and it was accounted unto him for righteousness." Abraham was justified before men by works. These were proof to men that the faith in which he was justified before God was genuine and worth having.

Vs. 22. Faith wrought with his works. The works were produced by faith. Then the works became an aid and promoter to faith, and by works was faith made perfect.

Vs. 23. It was imputed unto him. Before it brought forth works this faith was accepted with God and imputed to Abraham for righteousness. He was called the Friend of God, because he believed His word and trusted in Him for righteousness. Thus we see that Paul and James are not in conflict. Arnot says: "They do not stand face to face, fighting against each other, but back to back fighting opposite foes." "Both apostles would have freely conceded that faith without works is barren orthodoxy, and works without faith are mere legal righteousness." Farrar.

PRACTICAL POINTS.

Mistakes about faith are often mistakes about salvation. To be saved is not a mere intellectual work or a reforming life or a transfer to heaven from earth. It is a moral reformation through a spiritual regeneration which takes hold of the divine life with the appropriating faith in Jesus Christ.

1. It accepts salvation from God.
2. It apprehends Christ Jesus.
3. It appropriates by the Spirit all that Christ is and has prepared for the believer. Therefore it works by love.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

Lesson for week ending Sunday, May 30th, 1897.

BY REV. B. E. WALLACE.

"That Ye Bear Much Fruit." Jno. 15 : 1–14.

Text for the week:

"Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them." Matt. 7 : 20.

Daily Readings:

Monday, The Fruits, Gal. 5 : 16–26.
Tuesday, The Soil, Matt. 13 : 18–24.
Wednesday, No Fruit, Matt. 21 : 17–22.
Thursday, Fruit Time, Matt. 21 : 33–41.
Friday, Slow Fruit, Luke 13 : 1–9.
Saturday, Known by Their Fruits, Matt. 7 : 15–23.
Sunday, Topic, Jno. 15 : 1–14.

Suggestions for Leaders:

1. Make this an occasion for examining your stock and class of fruit.

2. If it is not up to the standard make this also a pruning time.

3. Have some one to explain the art of successful Fruit Culture and apply it to Spiritual Fruit Bearing.

Notes:

This is a fruitful subject. The standard is not that ye bear fruit, but That Ye Bear Much Fruit. By thus doing we glorify God. Let us look at some of the conditions of Fruit Bearing:

1. There must be the Vine. Christ is the Vine. Thus in bearing the fruits of Righteousness the Vine is certain, sure to perform His function. The Vine is the everlasting one, always full of life. No fault of the Vine if there be no fruit.

2. There must be the Branch The Vine of itself bears no fruit, but furnishes the nourishment and life for the branch. The Branch then must bear the fruit. The Christian is the branch. The branch of itself can bear no fruit, but must abide in the Vine, so the Christian must abide in Christ in order to bear fruit. As long as this vital connection is maintained the branch will have the required life and nourishment to bring forth fruit.

3. There must be the Husbandman. God the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ and of us is the Husbandman. So there is no lack here. The Husbandman will care for the vine and the branch.

4. There must be the Soil. The heart is the soil. If it is a good and honest one the harvest will be abundant.

The Vine, Christ, is perfect, the Branch, Christian, needs constant care and much pruning. The Husbandman, God the Father is perfect and knows when and where to cut that the branch yield its choicest fruit; the Soil, the human heart, needs much fertilizing, deep plowing, much grubbing and cross harrowing.

Now all of this is necessary in order to Fruit Bearing, but we will lose a valuable lesson here if we fail to see that the fruit borne is for the good and enjoyment of others. The Branch does not consume the fruit. Christian, you are to bring forth the fruits of Righteousness, not for self-gratification, but for the hungry hearts and starving souls of your fellowmen.

The monument to Washington was unveiled in Philadelphia on the 14th inst. The occasion was one of much military and civic importance.

OPEN DOOR NOTES.

A new missionary society has been organized at Graham, under the name of "The Light Bearers," with a membership of twenty-seven. May many hearts and homes be made bright by the influence of the true light as borne by this band.

A Westminster League has been organized in the First church, Charlotte, with the following officers: Mr. John McMillan, President; Mr. Wiley Moore, Vice-President, and Miss Mary Graham, Secretary and Treasurer. The League promises efficient work.

PUZZLE DEPARTMENT.

ANSWERS FOR MAY 6TH.

Raisins, 1 Sam. 25 : 18; 30 : 12; 2 Sam. 16 : 1; 1 Chron. 12 : 40—Mary and Sallie McGoogan, Maggie Hall, Jesse Lindsey Primrose, Cornie and Myrtle Wilkinson.

Uzzah, 2 Sam 6 : 7—Mary and Sallie McGoogan, Maggie Hall, Jesse Lindsey Primrose,

Rev. James S. Black—Mary and Sallie McGoogan, Maggie Hall, Jesse Lindsey Primrose, Cornie and Myrtle Wilkinson.

When the queen of Sheba brought fifty boys and fifty girls before king Solomon all dressed in boys' apparel, how did the king tell which were the boys by standing before him?

Alex. M. McDonald.

What is the longest name in the Bible?

I. B. N.

Who was the fly-god of Ekron, in Philistia? Myrtle Wilkinson.

Who was cast into the dungeon where there was no water, but mire.

Maggie Hall.

NOTICE!

The constitutional requirements being complied with, Mecklenburg Presbytery is hereby called to meet Thursday, June 3rd, 9.30 a. m., in Second Presbyterian church, Charlotte, N. C., to:

(1.) Act on call of Sugar Creek church for Rev. T. J Allison.

(2.) Receive and act on report of apportionment committees.

(3.) Receive, examine, license and dismiss any candidates for licensure.

(4.) Receive and assign fields to licentiates and ordain same if way be clear.

(5.) Consider appeal of Jno W. Moore and others.

A. A. LITTLE,
Moderator.

ROGER MOORE,

104 NORTH WATER STREET

WILMINGTON, N. C.,

Has for sale Common and Repressed Brick, Lime, Rosendale Cement, Portland Cement, Fine Brick and Fine Clay Vitrified Sewerpipes, Agricultural Lime, Land Plaster, Roofing Felt and Sheathing Paper, Shingles, Sawed and Rived, Aluminite, Calsom Wall Finish, Paints, Oils, &c. Agent for The Styron Fence, Composed of Juniper Pickets and Galvanized Bessemer Steel Fence Wire. One of the cheapest and most durable of fences.

☞Orders Solicited.

MARRIED.

ROBINSON—DAVIS.—On May 5th, 1897, in Sugar Creek church, by Rev. T. J. Allison, Mr. J. H. Robinson and Miss M. Lizzie Davis, daughter of Capt. J. M. Davis.

HUSS—GRAY.—On April 14th, 1897, at the home of the bride's father, Gastonia, N. C., by Rev. M. McG. Shields, assisted by Rev. W. M. Bagby, Mr. C. Judson Huss and Miss Ida E. Gray.

PEARSON — McARVER —On May 12th, 1897, at the residence of the bride's father in Gastonia, N. C., by Rev. M. McG. Shields, Mr. Will F. Pearson and Miss Mary A. McArver.

DIED.

☞We publish free 10 lines of Obituary Notices, of any kind—Tributes of Respect, Resolutions of Sabbath-schools, Ladies' Societies, &c. And we charge for over 10 lines at the rate of 10 cents per line. The cost may be calculated by counting the words in the manuscript, and allowing seven words to the line.

SLOAN—On May 15th, at Mill Bridge, N. C., Kate Lingle Sloan, wife of W. J. Sloan. The deceased was a sister of Mr. T. W. Lingle, of Germany, and Rev. W. L. Lingle, of Hampden Sidney, Va.

NEELY.—At her home in Gastonia, N. C., April 16th, 1897, Miss Sarah Lucretia Neely fell asleep in Christ, aged seventy one years and five days. Very early in her life she gave her heart to the Saviour, and began a career of fidelity and devotion to His cause, which ended only with her departure to be with Christ. "Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints."

BRADLEY.—Nellie Jane Bradley, infant daughter of Mrs. Cynthia J. Bradley, after a painful illness of two weeks, was released from suffering by the hand of the Great Physician, April 17th, 1897, aged fourteen months and twenty-five days. The little child suffered intensely, but all efforts made for its relief were unavailing, until He who loves the children gathered it unto Himself. "What I do thou knowest not now, but thou shalt know hereafter.

ROSEBORO.—Mrs. Jane B. Roseboro was born Jan. 1st, 1812, and died April 25th, 1897, at Blackstock, S. C. Hers was a life of energy, faith and kindness. She was an efficient member of Concord Presbyterian church, which she loved with a great love, attending diligently its service. Perhaps she was one of the oldest Sabbath school scholars in South Carolina. She studied her lessons and recited them. She leaves one sister, two daughters and a number of grandchildren and relatives. Her quiet, genial Christian life won many friends, who look forward with joy to meeting her in "That beautiful city." She simply "fell asleep." How sweet the expressed hope before she slept, "I will be among the first who rise to meet the Saviour."

PASTOR.

FOUSHEE.—At her home, the residence of her son, Gulf, N. C., Sunday morning, May 2nd, 1897, Mrs. Susan C. Foushee, in the 69th year of her life. Mrs. Foushee was the widow of Mr. George W. Foushee who died more than twenty years ago.

She leaves one son, Mr. J. G. Foushee, of Gulf, N. C. In 1870, Mrs. Foushee, her husband, and their only child, a son, all at the same time, connected with the Presbyterian church at Pittsboro, then under the pastoral care of the late venerable Dr. Drury Lacy.

Some time after this Mrs. Foushee and her son moved to Gulf. And when a Presbyterian church was organized there, they were two of the nine original members. So that Mrs. Foushee was for more than twenty-six years a consistent and zealous member of the Presbyterian church; always taking an active part in the prosperity and work of the church.

She was a devoted wife, an affectionate mother, a faithful and sympathetic friend, a kind and obliging neighbor, an amiable lady. Her affable manners and amiable disposition gained for her a great many admiring and warm friends wherever she was known

On Monday, May the 3rd, attended by her son and family, and a number of sympathising friends her remains were taken to Pittsboro, her former home, where a great many of her old friends and neighbors assembled to pay the last tribute of respect to her, and there her body was laid beside her husband, quietly to rest until the morning of the resurrection.

"Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord from henceforth; yea saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors, and their works do follows them." Rev. 14 : 13.

"Dearest mother thou hast left us,
And thy loss we deeply feel
But it is God who hath bereft us,
He can all our sorrows heal."

"Yet again we hope to meet thee,
When the toils of life have fled;
Then in heaven we hope to greet thee,
Where no parting tear is shed."

FOREIGN MISSION COMMITTEE NOTES.

The Executive Committee of Foreign Missions met in regular session at the Mission Rooms on Tuesday the 11th of May.

Dr. J. E. Skinner, at present instructor in the Rush Medical College, appeared before the Committee, his testimonials having been previously approved, and he and his wife both graduated physicians, were appointed as missionaries to China or Korea, to be sent out when the way is clear.

The question of the Congo Boat was brought before the Committee by letters from Mr Verner and Mr. Sheppard, and by petition from the members of the native church at Luebo, all of whom sent subscriptions which they propose to make to the fund. These papers were referred to the General Assembly, which meets next week in Charlotte, for consideration and for advice.

A letter from Mr. Porter at Natal, northern Brazil, announced the serious illness of Mrs. Porter, and the probable necessity of her return to this country for special treatment.

A letter from Rev. S. R. Gammon proposing a plan by which it was hoped the Committee might come into unconditional possession of all the Campinas property, was also referred to the General Assembly.

A report from a committee of the China Mission announced the fact that the deeds of Sibley Home, which have heretofore been in possession of an individual in Soochow, who held the property as the representative of Miss Safford, had been obtained, and the property was now in the undisturbed possession of the China Mission.

A letter from Rev. C. K Cumming announced that Rev. and Mrs. S. P. Fulton, Miss L. E Wimbish, and himself and wife, all of whom had completed their first term of service in Japan, expected to return to this country on a vacation this summer. Permission was given them to come, provided the mission consents.

A letter from one of our missionaries offered to give $100 to help send out the missionaries now under appointment, provided a sufficient amount could be raised before the 1st of July to pay the outfit and traveling expenses of all appointees before the date of said letter.

Miss Constance MacCorkle, of Greenville, S C., who was appointed at the last meeting of the Committee, notified us that funds sufficient for her salary had been raised by private individuals. The Committee had information also that special efforts were being made to raise the amount necessary for her traveling expenses. She was therefore authorized to proceed with her preparations, with a view of being sent out during this summer.

Rev. W. L. Walker, of Greenville, S. C., was also appointed as a missionary, to Japan, to be sent out when the way is clear.

Mr. William H. Culver, a graduate of this year's Senior Class of Princeton Seminary, was appointed as a missionary, to be sent out when the way is clear.

The treasurer reported that the receipts for April were $7,546.46, being $810.66 less than the receipts for April 1896. The receipts for May also, up to the present date, were reported as being less than the receipts for last May at the same date.

The secretary reported that 500 extra copies of the annual report had been printed; and these will be furnished to our Ladies' Societies and others, who wish to use them in preparation for missionary meetings.

After transacting the usual routine business the Committee adjourned to meet on the 8th of June.

S. H. CHESTER,
Secretary.

Nashville, Tenn.

If your child looks upon Scott's Emulsion as Cod-liver Oil and is repelled by it, begin with part of a teaspoonful in twice the quantity of water, and it will take it and relish it as though it were milk. There is no food or medicine for children of from three or four to ten or twelve years of age which equals Scott's Emulsion for putting color into the cheeks, enriching the blood and bringing comfort and good nature. Book about it free.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

$200.00 IN GOLD GIVEN.

Special Interest to Students and Teachers.

International News and Book Company, Baltimore, Md., make a most liberal offer of $200.00 in gold, for selling 200 copies of "Gems of Religious Thought," by Talmage or "Talks to Children about Jesus." These books are among the most popular ever published One agent sold 21 in two days, another 55 the first week. Freight paid, credit given. A few general Agents wanted on salary. A splendid opportunity for Teachers and Students to make money during their summer vacation. Write them immediately.

UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

HAMPDEN-SIDNEY, VA.

FACULTY.

The Rev. Walter W. Moore, D.D. LL.D. McCormick Professor of the Hebrew Language and Literatre.

The Rev. Charles C. Hersman, D.D., LL. D., Henry Young Professor of Biblical Literature and Interpretation of the New Testament.

The Rev. Thos. Cary Johnson, D. D., Professor of Ecclesiastical History and Polity.

The Rev. Thos. R. English, D. D., Stuart Robinson Professor of the English Bible and Pastoral Theology.

The Rev. Givens B. Strickler, D. D., LL.D., Professor of Systematic Theology.

Walter L. Lingle, A. M., Tutor in Hebrew and Greek.

THE NEXT SESSION BEGINS WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 2D, 1897.

For catalogue or other information as to course of study, apply to Dr. English, Clerk of Faculty, Hampden-Sidney, Va.

For information as to rooms, &c., apply to W. L. Lingle, Intendant, Hampden-Sidney, Va.

A Beautiful, Fitting, and Enduring Memento

For Personal Possession and Study

Is Found in the

New Holy Land Art Portfolios

ENTITLED

Palestine Photographed.

Every Student of the Bible,

Every Student of History,

Every Lover of Art

Should Have It.

This desirable book comprises 64 beautiful engravings from views taken in 1894. Each scene is accurately and eloquently described by two distinguished divines, Bishop Vincent and Dr. Lee. The work should find a place in every Christian home.

Any paid up subscriber to the PRESBYTERIAN can obtain this book upon remitting 25 cents.

FOR THE FAMILY.

THE CHILDREN.

My heart grows weak as a woman's,
And the fountains of feeling will flow,
When I think of the paths steep and stony,
Where the feet of the dear ones must go;
Of the mountains of sin hanging o'er them,
Of the tempest of fate blowing wild;
O, there's nothing on earth half so holy
As the innocent heart of a child.
—Charles Dickens.

SWEET MOTHERHOOD.

Had Elizabeth been able to see into the future she might have said not only "Blessed art thou among women," but "Blessed shall womankind be because of thee."

We do not think that Mary, the Virgin, the Mother of Christ, was raised to a higher plane than that of womanhood by becoming the Mother of the Son of God; but that womanhood itself was raised to the highest possible status by the honor that was conferred upon Mary. Wherever the Gospel of Christ is carried, there woman is ennobled. As woman she is thereafter respected, reverenced. As wife she is beloved, respected, honored, guarded. As mother she is revered and loved with a tender love. As sister she is shielded, loved, perhaps advised. As friend she is regarded as having better to give than we to impart. She is our help and comfort in sorrow, and our ward in weakness and in danger.

"His mother." Do not these words tell a man's destiny sometimes? People say, "What is he?" Rather ask, "What like was his mother?"

"The mother, in her office, holds the key
Of the soul; and she it is who stamps the coin
Of character."

Mothers! be pure and sweet, gentle and good, faithful and Christlike, and sow the seeds of eternal life. You shall reap in due time, though it may be after many tears and heartaches and agonizing prayers. Yours be—

"The love of many prayers and many tears,
Which changes not with dim declining years."

Mother-love is potent because it is like the love of God—like the love of the travailing Christ. A true mother is self-sacrificing — like Christ; ever watchful—like Christ. She suffers patiently—like Christ. Is it not said of Him, "He shall see of the travail of His soul, and shall be satisfied?" So shall she.

What a beautiful memory of childhood is that portrayed:

"She led me first to God;
Her words and prayers were my young spirit's dew—
For when she used to leave
The fireside every eve,
I knew it was for prayer that she withdrew."

Many sons and daughters have looked back in after years and said:

"With God and mother my faith had birth,
The best of heaven! the sweetest of earth!"

My mother! It is the greatest honor and privilege conferred by God upon a mortal man, to own a Christian mother. — Rev. Thomas Nattress, B. A., in Canada Presbyterian.

The celebrated waterfall of Imatra, in Finland, which was visited, we believe, by Mr. Gladstone during one of his Scandinavian tours, promises to become a source of very large profit to the revenues of the imperial grand duchy. The ever-increasing crowd of summer and autumn tourists visiting the fall already support a special line of railway constructed for their convenience and accommodation. The so-called Historical hotel, which stands above the Imatra, and also the many flourishing settlements on the Saima canal, exist almost entirely on the yearly influx of visitors from all parts of Europe. A Russian company is now being organized for exploiting the inherent force of this magnificent cascade as an electrical motor. A network of wires will transmit the motor power of the tumbling and foaming waters of Imatra in various directions, even as far as the gloomy and misty Petropolis. The new company desires to obtain a driving force of twenty thousand horse-power, and, as the Finnish executive values each single horse-power at five hundred riks-marks, the necessary capital for working the enterprise will be twelve million five hundred thousand of that currency. The lessees will pay for their acquired force by a fixed percentage on the gross capital. It is stated that twenty thousand horse-power represents only one-sixth of the colossal force of the Finnish Niagara.— London News.

A curious defect has been discovered in Buda Pesth's underground railway, says The Engineer. There are not enough ventilating apertures in the tunnel, and the trains rushing through it compress the air in it like that in the tube of a Zalinski pneumatic gun. On some occasions the cars are said to have been lifted from the track and the passengers almost suffocated. One stretch of tunnel, two miles long, has only a single ventilating aperture, making it almost an airtight apartment.— Popular Science News.

Charity covers a multitude of sins, and that is what some of it is used for.

Beauty is the power which captivates the strongest natures.

A woman's personal attractiveness is the weapon with which she conquers her world. Almost every woman believes that she possesses at least some one attractive feature and strives to make the most of that. But mere regularity of feature is not the most attractive form of beauty.

Mankind is more influenced by the bright glowing vitality of perfect health. A classic cast of countenance will not make a woman attractive and captivating, if she is pale, thin, weak and nervous, or has a pimply complexion or unwholesome breath.

These complaints are due to imperfect nutrition. The digestive and blood-making organs fail to extract the needed nourishment from the food, and the liver is too sluggish to cleanse the blood of bilious impurities. The entire constitution becomes weak and poisoned.

The only perfect antidote for this state of things is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It gives power to the digestive and nutritive organs to make an abundance of pure, rich, highly vitalized blood, which permeates the whole system with the sweetness of purity; the beauty of womanly vigor and animation.

It creates solid, healthy flesh and natural color; clears the complexion; dispels wrinkles; rounds out the form and imbues the whole physique with the irresistible natural magnetism of perfect health

Miss Julia Ellis, of Faith, McLean Co., Ky., writes: "After suffering for a long while with a lingering disease, I was advised to try Dr. Pierce's medicines. I took seven bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Favorite Prescription' and found relief. Life is now no longer a burden to me. I weigh 190 pounds. A year ago I weighed 92 pounds. I shall praise Dr. Pierce's medicines wherever I go. I feel better than ever before. My health was very much impaired, and I feel that I owe a great deal to your wonderful medicines. I truly believe they saved my life. I thank you for the advice which you so kindly gave me while taking your medicines."

NEW BOOKS
FOR THE
Sunday-School Library.

We desire to call attention to the following list of new library books recently issued from our press. They are all handsomely bound in cloth, and should have a place in every sunday-school library. To those taking the entire list at one time we will make a special discount of 40 per cent. Discount of 33⅓ per cent on any of our own books.

By Mrs. M. E. Ireland:
The Siberian Exile. 122 pages, ... $ 60
The Shepherd's Family. Translated from the German. 132 pages, ... 60
Adolph's Victories. 314 pages, ... 1 00
Christian Beck's Grandson. 322 pages, ... 1 00
In Fair Silesia. Translated from the German. 156 pages, ... 60
School on Luneburg Heath. Translated from the German. 148 pages, ... 60
Driven Out. Translated from the German. 156 pages, ... 1 00

By Miss Annie M. Barnes:
Ninito: A Story of the Bible in Mexico. 214 pages, ... 90
How A-chon Ho-ah Found the Light. 266 pages, ... 1 25
Izilda: A Story of Brazil 195 pages, ... 1 00

By Elizabeth Olmis (author of Jack's Hymn):
Over at Little Acorns. 384 pages, ... 1 25

By Fannie Aricks Shugert:
Ezekiel of Bethlehem. 281 pages, ... 1 00

By Rev. H. C. DuRose, D. D.:
Memoirs of John Leighton Wilson, Missionary to Africa, and Secretary of Foreign Missions. 336 pages, ... 1 50

By Mrs. E. H. Amis:
Camping on the Blue Ridge. 106 pages, ... 60

By Rev. J. M. Chaney, D. D.:
William the Baptist. Cloth, 60 cts.; paper, ... 25
Agnes, Daughter of William the Baptist, ... 75

By Mrs. Mary M. Anderson Hawkins:
Jack Payton and his Friends, ... 75

On miscellaneous Sabbath-school books selected from the lists of other publishers we will give a discount of 30 per cent. And we call attention to our Select Catalogue of miscellaneous books, in which will be found titles and description of more than nine hundred books, all of which have been carefully examined by competent persons, and none will be found in the list not suitable in every respect for our Sabbath-school libraries.

We will make careful selection of libraries if desired from the lists of other publishers we will give a discount of 30 per cent. And we call attention to our Select Catalogue of miscellaneous books, in which will be found titles and description of more than nine hundred books, all of which have been carefully examined by competent persons, and none will be found in the list not suitable in every respect for our Sabbath-school libraries.

If sent by mail, postage will be additional. Express to be paid by purchaser. Address

Presbyterian Committee of Publication,
JAS. K. HAZEN, Sec'y and Treas.,
Richmond, Va.

PREMIUMS.

No. 1. For 21 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give the canvasser a gents' old Watch: Hunting case, jointed front and back 18 size and guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $20.00.

No. 2. For 16 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Open face, 18 size, 14 karat filled case, screw back and bezel, guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $15.00.

No. 3. For 17 new subscribers at 1.50 for first year, we will give a Ladies' Gold Watch Hunting case, 6 size, stem winder, 14 karat, filled case, screw beze—guaranteed 20 years—retails at $16.00

No. 4. For12 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give a Gents' Silver Watch: 18 size, plain case, open face—retails at $12.50.

No. 5. For 10 new subscribers a Ladies' Silver Watch, O size, plain case, open face—retails for $10.00.

No. 6. For 8 new subscribers, we will give a Nickel Watch, 18 size, screw bezel—retails for $7.00.

No. 7. For 7 new subscribers, we will give solid silver teaspoons—retails for $6.00.

No. 8. For 4 new subscribers, a sugar spoon, sterling gilt engraved—retails at $3.00.

The articles will all be first-class from a jeweller of established reputation.

New subscribers means not change of address to some one else—that would be fraud—but bona fide new subscribers.

For $1.75 we will send the paper for the first year to a new subscriber and a copy of Palestine Photographed. This album contains 64 actual photographic reproductions of picturesque and historical places in the Holy Land on enameled pages, and is a thing of beauty. The descriptive foot notes are good and enhance the interest.

We regard this as a specially desirable premium.

To any one paying up or renewing their subscription and sending $2.25 we will send this album as apremium

W., N. & N. RAILWAY.

In Effect Sunday, Oct, 27, 1895.

DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY.

NORTH BOUND.		STATIONS.	SOUTH BOUND.
8			7
P. M.		— WILMINGTON —	P. M.
2	00	Lv Mulberry St. Ar	12	40
3	58	Lv Jacksonville Lv	10	42
4	30	Lv..Maysville..Lv	10	09
4	44	Lv Pollocksville Lv	9	55
5	20	Ar..Newbern..Lv	9	20
P. M.			A. M.

Trains 8 and 7 p m make connection with trains on A & N C R R for Morehead City and Beaufort.

Connection with Steamer Neuse at Newbern to and from Elizabeth City and Norfolk Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Steamer Geo D Purdy makes daily trips between Jacksonville and New River points.

H. A. WHITING,
General Manager.

J. W. MARTENIS,
Traffic Manager.

CHILDREN'S COLUMN.

MISS FRET AND MISS LAUGH.

Cries little Miss Fret,
In a very great pet:—
"I hate the warm weather, it's horrid to tan.
It scorches my nose,
And it blisters my toes,
And wherever I go I must carry a fan."

Chirps little Miss Laugh:—
"Why, I couldn't tell half
The fun I am having this bright summer day.
I sing through the hours,
And cull pretty flowers,
And ride like a queen in the sweet-smelling hay."
—Margaret E. Sangster.

GOOSEBERRIES IN DREAMLAND.

"Bedtime, girls," said the mother, rapping with her thimble on the table; "put away your books and go to bed; you know you have to gather my gooseberries to-morrow, so you must be up bright and early."

Mother turned back to her sewing under the bright light, and Agnes got up at once, put her book on its shelf, kissed her mother and Aunt Anne, and went out, shutting the door softly behind her.

It was strange the two busy sewers did not notice that there was no good-night kiss from Esther; but they were busy talking, as well as sewing. As for Esther, she meant to go the next minute, but thought she would just finish that one page of her beguiling story. Alas! each page was more beguiling than the previous one, until she entirely forgot mother and bed and the clock and to-morrow's gooseberries and all.

"Esther!" Mother's voice was gentle, but it startled the little girl like a clap of thunder. The voice was gentle, but it was full of grave displeasure. Mother was not used to being either forgotten or disobeyed.

"I wish you could learn to obey as promptly as Agnes does," said mother, and that was all she said.

What a pity it is that people, little or big, don't own up when they do wrong, and so start out afresh; but that enemy whom our Lord calls "a strong man armed" seems to keep close watch on his own work; and, when he gets us to do one wrong thing, he tries to double it, by persuading us to defend ourselves, and excuse ourselves, and blame somebody else.

Esther flung down her book, and left the room without any good-night kiss.

"Mother is always praising Agnes," she said to herself angrily, as she went slowly upstairs; "I never can do anything like Agnes; Agnes wipes the dishes drier, and dusts the parlor cleaner, and does everything better, so mother thinks; I s'pose she'll pick the biggest gooseberries to-morrow."

And, heating her angry little self with unreasonable thoughts like these, Esther went to sleep on the pillow next to Agnes.

Daylight seemed to come very soon, and with its first gleam there came back to Esther those angry thoughts about Agnes, dear little sleeping Agnes.

"I'm determined to get ahead of her for once," said Esther to herself, and jumping up, she dressed quickly, took her basket, and went out to the gooseberry bushes. "I'll pick all the biggest ones," said the little maid to herself, "before Agnes gets up, and then we'll see what mother will say."

Such big gooseberries Esther had never seen before in her life, and in a little while her basket was full, and when she took them in to hand proudly to her mother, lo! the basket was empty.

She went back and filled it again, but again it was empty when she handed it to her mother. "What were you picking the berries for, my child?" asked the mother; "was it to help me, or to obey me, or for any such reason?'

"No'm," said Esther, soberly, "it was to get ahead of Agnes."

"Ah!" that is what's the matter," said the mother. "God does not bless any such work as that; it is all empty in his sight, as empty as your little basket. O Esther—Esther—"

The little girl awoke with her mother's voice in her ear; she was calling to her from the next room to get up and dress. The sun was laughing in at the window, bringing a beautiful, cloudless day, and Agnes was already in the bath room.

Esther did not tell her strange dream at first; she was unusually quiet and industrious, and every now and then she would lean across the leafy bushes and drop a big gooseberry into Agnes' basket. For, ah! she did not want her basket to be empty in God's sight; and then, when two warm, tired little girls took two full, heaped-up baskets into the pantry and heard mother say they were two dear little helpers, then Esther told about the gooseberries of her dream, and her empty baskets.—Elizabeth Preston Allan, in Herald and Presbyter.

PETER.

Peter lived on the prairie. When he was three years old the first railroad train came through. Uncle Peter carried the small boy to see it.

A train boy threw a peach to Peter. He ate it, and laughed and squealed with delight.

"Don't throw away the stone," said Uncle Peter. "We'll plant it."

Peter's chubby, brown little hand patted the soft earth over it. The first season he watched the green shoot break through and send out a few leaves. The next season it was tall enough for Peter to jump over it. The next season it was so tall he couldn't.

When Peter was eight years old there were seven peaches on his tree—one for each of the family, and not one of them had ever tasted any thing so good before. He planted all the stones.

To-day Peter is a big boy. He has eight well-grown peach trees, which carry health and delight to all the neighborhood. And he has a young orchard coming on which will some day bring more money than all his father's crops.—Youth's Companion.

ONLY A CENT.

Uncle Harris was a carpenter, and had a shop in the country. One day he went into the barn where Dick and Joe were playing with two tame pigeons.

"Boys," he said, "my workshop ought to be swept up every evening. Which of you will undertake to do it? I am willing to pay a cent for each sweeping."

"Only a cent?" said Dick. "Who would work for a cent?"

"I will said Joe. "A cent is better than nothing."

So every day, when Uncle Harris was done working in the shop, Joe would take an old broom and sweep it; and he dropped all his pennies into a tin savings bank.

One day Uncle Harris took Dick and Joe into town with him. While he went to buy some lumber, they went into a store where there were toys of every kind.

"What fine kites!" said Dick. "I wish that I could buy one."

"Only ten cents," said the man.

"I haven't got a cent," said Dick.

"I have fifty cents," said Joe; and I think that I will buy that bird kite."

"How did you get fifty cents?" asked Dick.

"By sweeping the shop," answered Joe. I saved my pennies, and did not open my bank till this morning."—Children's Visitor.

ROLL OF HONOR.

Child's Catechism—Della Cook, Barium Springs; Etta Lee Merrit, Adolphus R. Merritt, Oak Plain Sunday-school.

Della Cook hopes soon to be placed on the Shorter Catechism list.

Kate M. Johnson, of Clarkton, has repeated the Catechism, Commandments, Books of the Bible, Beatitudes and "always knows her quarterly."

LETTER-BOX.

Dear Mr. Editor:—As you were so kind as to print my last letter I will try to write again, I go to Sunday-school nearly every Sunday. Mr. Martin McQueen is our superintendent. Miss Fannie McQueen is my teacher. Our Sunday-school is large and interesting now. I hope to enter Red Springs Seminary next fall. We are not succeeding well raising chickens this spring. We have prospects of some fruit. Strawberries are ripe and being enjoyed. Our yard is beautiful with flowers. Gardens are backward but coming on.

Your young friend,
HARRIET JANET MCQUEEN.
Red Springs, N. C.

Dear Mr. Editor:—The NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN is always a welcome visitor with us. Mama and papa enjoy reading it as it comes from their old home. I like to read the children's letters very much and thought I would write too. I have four brothers and one sister. We have fine times playing together. I would like to see some of the children that write for your paper.

A little reader,
EPHRAIM MALLARD.
Greelyville, S. C.

Dear Presbyterian:—I was sick yesterday and could not recite the catechism, but I read in the PRESBYTERIAN and found some answers to the questions. I like to answer the questions that are asked. We don't write now because we are waiting for the boys to write, but we will be glad when it comes our time again.

A good many of the children are sick with colds. I am clothed in Burlington and I look for my box on every train that passes by. I go to school in the morning and study an hour in the evening. I like it very much. I study old Greek stories, Great Americans, arithmetic and Word-book. My teacher is Miss Deaton. We all like her very much. I was on the Roll of Honor last month and hope to be on this month. We are all so glad to see the Centre Building growing so fast I have recited the Child's Catechism and have recited thirty-one questions in the Shorter Catechism.

Your little friend,
DELLA COOK.
Barium Springs, N. C,

I CURE FITS

When I say I cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again. I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a lifelong study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Postoffice address.

Prof. W. H. PEEKE, F. D., 4 Cedar St., New York

OPERA CHAIRS.

OWING TO THE ALTERATION in St. Andrews Church, we offer for sale 70 to 80 Opera Chairs. These chairs are good as new, backs upholstered in Red Plush, hat rack and coat rack on each, and book rack on alternate chairs. Will be sold cheap. Apply to

THOMAS F. BAGLEY,
Treasurer.

MONEY TO LOAN.

On Eight Years Time, secured by Mortgage on Real Estate. Monthly payment, savings investment stock for sale, also FULL PAID COUPON STOCK, with semi-annual cash dividends. Loans made promptly in any part of the State. Agents wanted. Address,

Mechanics and Investors Union
22 Pullen Building, Raleigh, N. C.

(Brought from 7th page.)

faculty together with a few friends of the Seminary, met in the chapel and enjoyed a delightful season of prayer and praise to God. Dr. Tadlock presided and delivered a most touching address. He was followed by the faculty and several of the Seniors. It was a meeting that all present will long remember.

The awarding of the degrees and diplomas took place on Wednesday at 12 o'clock. The chapel was well filled. Dr. Stacy, the president of the board, conferred the degree of B. D. upon the following: W. A. Hafner, York county, S. C.; W. H. Mills, Camden, S. C.; W. R. Minter, Laurens, S. C.; H. R. Murchison, Abbeville, S. C.; F. K Sims, Chester county, S. C.; R. L. Rogers, Lawrens county, S. C. Those that received certificates, not having taken the full course were: C. A. McPheeters, Missouri; C. B. Ratchford, York county, S. C.; W. W. Sadler, Anderson, S. C.; L. C. Vass, Savannah, Ga.

Rev. Dr. Hoyt, of Elberton, Ga., made a few parting remarks to the class. They were full of wisdom and truth. Especially was the last one, "Exercise, wisdom, young brethren, and remember Solomon's words, 'A gracious woman retaineth honor,' she will help you as none other can in this life."

The Hebrew prize given every year by Dr. McPheeters consisting of $25 worth of books was won by Mr. Gregg of South Carolina. Mr. Gregg is a graduate of the "Citadel" at Charleston.

Most of the Seniors have already settled upon their fields of permanent labor. A few however are yet undecided, but will soon be located.

The last few weeks of the Seminary were made very pleasant by the charming receptions given by the professors and friends of the students. The one given Wednesday night by the ladies of the First church to the alumni and students was enjoyed by all.

The trustees express themselves as well pleased with the year's work, and we wish to see a large Junior class enter next year. V.

May 14th, 1897.

NOTICE!

There will be a reunion of the alumnae and pupils of Peace Institute on May 26th, to which all old pupils of the school are cordially invited.

SECULAR NEWS.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Cotton planting has begun in the Clement section.

There are forty-eight graduates at the State University this year, the greatest number in thirty-seven years.

State Geologist Holmes will deliver a lecture May 18th, on "The Scenery of North Carolina," under the auspices of the entertainment committee of the Women's Exposition Charlotte.

The Grand Commandery and the Masonic order met in Wilmington last week. There were a large number in attendance and they were given a hearty reception by Wilmington.

DOMESTIC.

Large cargoes of phosphate are being shipped from Morriston and Alachua county, Fla.

A monster grain elevator is to be erected at Pensacola, Fla., with a capacity of over 500,000 bushels.

The 24th annual session of the Maryland State Temperance League met in Baltimore on last week. There were 291 delegates present.

An order has been given by the Eastern Coast railroad of Florida for 100,000 to bacco plants which will be distributed free to those along that line desiring to engage in this industry.

Grapes and watermelons promise abundant crops in Sumter county, Ga. Blackberries have been plentiful. Peach orchards are greatly damaged by the curculio.

The gunboat, Nashville, which was built at Newport News, makes a speed of 16,706 knots and is the fastest boat of her class in the world.

FOREIGN.

Hunger and disease are sweeping over Cuba carrying away by death hundreds who are huddled in the cities. It is stated that from 175,000 to 225,000 are actually suffering for the necessities of life.

A preliminary contract for a loan of £16,000,000 ($80,000,000) has been signed at Pekin, China in behalf of a British syndicate.

Comtesse Costellane, formerly Miss Gould, of New York, will erect a building in Paris at a cost of 1,000,000 francs to be used for all kinds of charitable purposes as a memorial to her mother.

It is stated that as soon as contracts expire for European and Asiatic labor in Hawaii, the employees will be sent home and American labor given their places.

A Chance to Make Money.

I have berries, grapes and peaches, a year old fresh as when picked. I use the California Cold Process, do not heat or seal the fruit, just put it up cold, keeps perfectly fresh, and costs almost nothing; can put up a bushel in ten minutes. Last year I sold directions to over 120 families in one week; anyone will pay a dollar for directions when they see the beautiful samples of fruit. As there are many people poor like myself, I consider it my duty to give my experience to such, and feel confident any one can make one or two hundred dollars round home in a few days. I will mail you sample of fruit and complete directions to any of your readers for eighteen two-cent stamps, which is only the actual cost of the samples, postage etc. I am going to begin work at once to catch the spring trade.

FRANCIS CASEY, St. Loius, Mo.

SCHEDULE ON WILMINGTON SEACOAST, R. R.

On and after May 5th, 1897, every day except Sunday trains leave Wilmington 10.10 a. m., 2.30 p. m., 6 30 p. m. Leave Ocean View 7.30 a. m., 11.30 a. m., 5 p. m.

R. O. GRANT, Supt.

SEABOARD AIR LINE S.A.L. VESTIBULED LIMITED TRAINS. DOUBLE DAILY SERVICE

Schedule in Effect Feb. 7th, 1897.

WESTWARD.	No. 41.	No. 403
Lv Wilmington.	*3 20pm	.....
Lv Lumberton..	5 26pm	.....
Lv Maxton.....	6 12pm	.....
Lv Laurinburg..	6 23pm	.....
Ar Hamlet.....	6 53pm	.....
Lv Hamlet.....	7 18pm	*5 .. am
Lv Rockingham.	7 30pm	2 23 am
Lv Wadesboro...	8 1'pm	.....
Lv Marshville...	8 48pm	6 25 am
Ar Monroe.....	9 12pm	6 43 am
Lv Monroe.....	9 35pm	7 30 am
Ar Charlotte.....	10 25pm	8 30 am
Ar Mt. Holly....	.....	9 10 am
Ar Lincolnton...	.....	10 35 am
Ar Shelby.....	.....	11 43a m
Ar Kingsboro....	.....	12 20p m
ArRutherfordton	.....	12 54p m

†8 40am	Lv....Hamlet...Ar	6 20p m
10 00am	Ar....Cheraw...Ar	† 5 00p m

EASTWARD.

	No. 38.	No. 402
LvRutherfordton	.....	*4 35p m
Lv Ellenboro....	.....	5 15p m
Lv Shelby.....	.....	6 03p m
Lv Lincolnton....	.....	7 00p m
Lv Mt Holly....	.....	7 50p m
Lv Charlotte ...	*5 10am	8 25p m
Ar Monroe.....	5 58am	9 10p m
Lv Monroe.....	6 05am	9 40p m
Lv Marshville...	6 25am	.....
Lv Wadesboro..	7 01am	10 31 pm
Lv Rockingham.	7 41am	11 05p m
Ar Hamlet.....	7 55am	11 23p m
Lv Hamlet.....	8 45am	.....
Lv Laurinburg..	9 11am	.....
Lv Maxton	9 30am	.....
Lv Lumberton...	10 18am	.....
Ar Wilming on..	12 30pm	.....

NORTHWARD.

Lv Hamlet.....	*8 15am	*11 23pm
Ar Raleigh.....	11 30am	2 11pm
Ar Portsmouth..	5 50pm	7 30am
Ar Richmond...	*6 50pm	* 8 15am
Ar Washington..	11 10pm	12 31pm
Ar New York...	6 53am	6 23pm

SOUTHWARD.

Lv Monroe.....	*6 48am	*9 25p m
Ar Abbeville....	11 05am	1 40a m
Ar Athens.....	1 15pm	3 45a m
Ar Atlanta (Central Time)....	2 50pm	5 20a m

*Daily. †Daily, except Sunday.

Both trains make immediate connections at Atlanta for Montgomery, Mobile, New Orleans, Texas, California, Mexico, Chattanooga, Nashville, Memphis, Macon, Florida.

For Tickets, Sleepers, etc., apply to

B. A. NEWLAND,
Gen. Agt. P. Dept.
6 Kimball House, Atlanta, Ga.

THOS. D. MEARES,
Gen'l. Agent, Wilmington, N. C.

E. ST. JOHN, Vice-President and General Manager.

H. W. B. GLOVER, Traffic Manager.
V. E. McBEE, Gen'l. Supt.
T J ANDERSON, Gen'l. Pass. Agt.
General Offices, Portsmouth, Va.

C. F. &Y. V. Railway Co.

JOHN GILL, Receiver.

CONDENSED SCHEDULE.

IN EFFECT April 4th, 1897.

NORTH BOUND.	No. 2. Daily
Leave Wilmington.....	8.00a.m
Arrive Fayetteville.....	12.21 "
Leave Fayetteville.....	11.21 "
Leave Fayetteville Junction...	11.27 "
Leave Sanford.....	1.00p.m.
Leave Climax.....	2.55 "
Arrive Greensboro.....	3.25 "
Leave Greensboro.....	3.35 "
Leave Stokesdale.....	4.23 "
Leave WalnutCove.....	4.55 "
Leave Rural Hall.....	5.26 "
Arrive Mt. Airy.....	6.50 "

SOUTH BOUND	No. 1. Daily
Leave Mt. Airy.....	8.40a m
Leave Rural Hall.....	10.04 "
Leave Walnut Cove.....	10.32 "
Leave Stokesdale.....	11·07p.m
Arrive Greensboro.....	11.55 "
Leave Greensboro.....	12.15 "
Leave Climax.....	12.43 "
Leave Sanford.....	2.40 "
Arrive Fayetteville Junction..	3.55 "
Arrive Fayetteville.....	3.58 "
Leave Fayetteville.....	4.22 "
Arrive Wilmington.....	7.30 ',

NORTH BOUND.	No. 4. Daily
Leave Bennettsville.....	8.10a. m
ArriveMaxton.....	9.23 "
LeaveMaxton.....	9.33 "
Leave Red Springs.....	10.04 "
Leave Hope Mills.....	10.52 "
Arrive Fayetteville.....	11.16„"

SOUTH BOUND	No. 3. Daily
Leave Fayetteville.....	4.25p m
Leave Hope Mills.....	4.46 "
Leave Red Springs.....	5.35 "
ArriveMaxton.....	6 10 "
Leave Maxton.....	6.18 "
ArriveBennettsville.....	7.30 "

NORTH BOUND.	No. 16. Mixed. Daily ex Sunday.
Leave Ramseur.....	6.45a. m
Leave Climax.....	8.35 "
Arrive Greensboro.....	9.20 "
Leave Greensboro.....	9.35 "
Leave Stokesdale.....	11.07 "
Arrive Madison.....	11.55 "

SOUTH BOUND.	No. 15. Mixed. Daily ex Sunday
Leave Madison.....	12.30p.m
Leave Stokesdale.....	1.28 "
Arrive Greensboro.....	2.40 "
Leave Greensboro.....	3.25 "
Leave Climax.....	4.30 "
Arrive Ramseur.....	6.05 "

NORTH BOUND CONNECTIONS,

at Fayetteville with the Atlantic Coast Line for all points North and East at Sanford with the Seaboard Air Line, at Greensboro with the Southern Railway Company, at Walnut Cove with the Norfolk & Western R. R., for Winston Salem.

SOUTH BOUND CONNECTIONS,

at Walnut Cove with the Norfolk & Western R .R., for Roanoke and all points North and West, at Greensboro with the Southern Railway Company for Raleigh, Richmond and all points North and East, at Fayetteville with the Atlantic Coast Line for all points South, at Maxton with the Seaboard Air Line for Charlotte, Atlanta and all points South and Southwest.

W. E. KYLE,
Gen'l Passenger Agent.
J. W. FRY,
Gen'l Manager

COAL, WOOD AND SHINGLES.

Best quality and lowest prices. Satisfaction guaranteed. Your patronage solicited.

Respectfully,
P. R. FOWLER,
Successor to Fowler & Morrison.

SAY SOES.

The apple blossom is to be adopted by Michigan as the State flower.

Lack of vitality and color-matter in the bulbs causes the hair to fall out and turn gray. We recommend Hall's Hair Renewer to prevent baldness and grayness.

After we all get through talking about it, we must admit that only the Mississippi could stand such a long run on its banks.—St. Paul Dispatch.

WHO'S SHELLABERGER?

He's the Wire Fence Man, of Atlanta, Ga., and sells the best and cheapest fencing in existence for all purposes. Catalogue free. Write for it.

WILMINGTON MARKET.
FOR
WEEK ENDING MAY 19, 1897.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE: Machine barrels 25½ cents and country casks 24½ cents throughout—steady at close.

ROSIN: Nothing doing—$1.25 bid for Strained and $1.30 for Good Strained.

CRUDE TURPENTINE: Hard $1.20, Yellow Dip $1.80 and Virgin $1.90—steady throughout.

TAR: Receipts taken day by day at $1.05—closing firm.

COTTON: Middling 7¼ cents throughout—closing steady.

TIMBER: No change to report.

THE CINCINNATI BELL FOUNDRY CO. CINCINNATI, OHIO. SOLE MAKERS OF THE BLYMYER BELLS FOR CHURCH SCHOOL FIRE ALARM &c Catalogue with 2500 testimonials. Prices and terms FREE

Mention this paper.

Organized 1832. Assets, $650,000

Tested for Sixty Years.

Virginia Fire and Marine

Insurance Company, of Richmond.

This old Virginia institution issues a short and comprehensive Policy, free of petty restriction and liberal in its terms and conditions.

INSURES AGAINST FIRE and LIGHTNING

All descriptions of Property, in Country and Town—private or public—insured at fair rates, on accommodating terms.

AGENCIES IN EVERY TOWN AND COUNTY.

WM. H. PALMER, President.
W. H. McCARTHY, Secretary.
S. McG. FISHER, Ass't Sec'y.

ATLANTIC COAST LINE.

Schedule in Effect May 16th 1897.

DEPARTURES FROM WILMINGTON — NORTHBOUND.

DAILY 9:00 A M — No. 48—Passenger—Due Magnolia 10 40 a m, Warsaw 10 55 a m, Goldsboro 11 56 a m, Wilson 12 46 pm, Rocky Mount 1 20 p m, Tarboro 2 50 p m, Weldon 3 39 p m, Petersburg 5 54 p m, Richmond 6 50 p m, Norfolk 6 05 p m, Washington 11 10 p m, Baltimore 12 53 a m, Philadelphia 3 45 a m, New York 6 53 a m, †Boston 3 00 pm.

DAILY 7:15 P M — No. 40—Passenger—Due Magnolia 8 55 p m, Warsaw 9 10 p m, Goldsboro 10 10 p m, Wilson 11 06 p m, †Tarboro 6 45 a m, Rocky Mount 11 57 p m, Weldon 1 44 a m, †Norfolk 10 30 a m, Petersburg 3 24 a m, Richmond 4 20 a m, Washington 7 41 a m, Baltimore 9 05 a m, Philadelphia 11 25 a m New York 2 03 p m, Boston 8 30 p m.

SOUTHBOUND.

DAILY 3:40 P M — No. 55—Passenger—Due Lake Waccamaw 4 55 p m, Chadbourn 5 29 p m, Marion 6 40 p m, Florence 7 25 p m, Sumter 8 42 p m, Columbia 10 05 p m, Denmark 6 30 a m, Augusta 8 10 a m, Macon 11 00 a m, Atlanta 12 15 p m, Charleston 10 20 p m, Savannah 12 50 am, Jacksonville 7 30 a m, St Augustine 10 30 a m, Tampa 5 45 p m.

ARRIVALS AT WILMINGTON—FROM THE NORTH.

DAILY 6:45 P M — No. 49—Passenger—Leave Boston †1 03 p m, New York 9 00 p m, Philadelphia 12 05 a m, Baltimore 2 50 a m, Washington 4 30 a m, Richmond 9 05 a m, Petersburg 10 (a m,) Norfolk 8 40 a m, Weldon 11 50 a m, Tarboro 12 12 p m, Rocky Mount 12 45p m, Wilson 2 12 p m, Goldsboro 3 10 p m, Warsaw 4 02 p m, Magnolia 4 16 p m.

DAILY 9:40 AM — No. 41—Passenger—Leave Boston 12 00 night, NewYork 9 30 a m, Philadelphia 12 00 p m Baltimore 2 25 p m, Washington 3 46 p m, Richmond 7 30 p m, Petersburg 8 12 p m, †Norfolk 2 20 p m, Weldon 9 43 p m, †Tarboro 6 01 p m, Rocky Mount 5 45 a m, leave Wilson 6 20 a m, Goldsboro 7 03 am, Warsaw 7 54 a m, Magnolia 8 07 a m.

FROM THE SOUTH.

DAILY — No. 54— Passenger — Leave 12:15 P M Tampa 9 25 a m, Sanford 2 19 p m, Jacksonville 7 00 p m, Savannah 12 45 night, Charleston 5 30 am Columbia 5 50 a m, Atlanta 8 20 a m, Macon 9 30 a m, Augusta 3 05 p m, Denmark 4 56 pm, Sumter 6 45 a m, Florence 7 55 a m, Marion 9 34 a m, Chadbourn 10 35 a m, Lake Waccamaw 11 06 a m.

†Daily except Sunday

Trains on the Scotland Neck Branch road leave Weldon 4 10 p m, Hailfax 4 28 p m, arrive Scotland Neck at 5 20, Greenville 6 57 p m, Kinston 7 55 p m. Returning leaves Kinston 7 50 a m, Greenville 8 52 a m, arriving Halifax at 11 18 a m, Weldon 11 33 a m. daily except Sunday.

Trains on Washington Branch leave Washington 8 20 a m, and 1 p m, arrive Parmele 9 10 a m and 2 40 p m, returning leave Parmele 9 35 a m and 6 30 p m, arrive Washington 11 00 a m, and 7 20 p m. Daily except Sunday

Train leaves Tarboro, N C, daily except Sunday, 5 30 p m, Sunday 4 05 pm, arrives Plymouth 7 40 p m and 6 00 p m. Returning leaves Plymouth daily except Sunday 7 50 a m and Sunday 9 00 a m arrives Tarboro 10 05 a m and 11 a m.

Trains on Conway Branch leave Hub 8 30 a. m., Chadbourn 10 40 a. m., arrive Conway 1 00 p. m. leave Conway 2 45 p. m., Chadbourn 5 40 p. m., arrive Hub 6 20 p. m. Daily except Sunday.

Train on Midland N C Branch leaves Goldsboro daily, except Sunday, 7 10 a m, arriving Smithfield 8 30 a m, Returning leaves Smithfield 9 00 a m. arrive at Goldsboro 10 25 a m.

Train on Nashville Branch leaves Rocky Mount at 4 30 p m, arrives Nashville 5 05 p m, Spring Hope 5 30 p m. Returning leaves Spring Hope 8 00 a m, Nashville 8 35 a m, arrives at Rocky Mount 9 05 a m, daily except Sunday.

Train on Clinton Branch leaves Warsaw for Clinton daily, except Sunday, 8 20 a m, and 4 10 p.m. Returning leaves Clinton at 7 00 a m, and 9 30 pm

Wilson and Fayetteville Branch leave Wilson 3 06 p m, 11 16 p m, arrive Selma 3 00 p m, Smithfield 3,08 p m, Dunn 3 50 p m. Fayetteville 4 40 p m, 1 14 a m, Rowland 6 10 p m. Returning leave Rowland 10 00 a m, Fayetteville 11 20 a m, 10 20 p m, Dunn 12 07 p m, Smithfield 12 48 p m, Selma 1 00 p m, arrive Wilson 1 42 p m, 12 10 a m.

H. M. EMERSON,
Ass't. Gen'l Passenger Agent.
J. R. KENLY, Gen'l Manager.
T. M. EMERSON Traffic Manager.

B. F. HALL, OSCAR PEARSALL

HALL & PEARSALL

Cor. NUTT and MULBERRY STS.

WILMINGTON. - N. C.

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

—AND—

—WHOLESALE DEALERS IN—

HEAVY GROCERIES

WE ALWAYS CARRY A LARGE AND WELL SELECTED STOCK OF

Flour, Sugar, Coffee, Molasses, Salt Fish,

Hay Corn Oats Tobacco Snuff, Cigars, Hoop-Iron, Nails, Glue,

Cotton Bagging and Ties.

☞We solicit the patronage of the public. and guarantee to give satisfaction. Correspondence invited.

☞Consignments of Naval Stores, Cotton and all Country Produce will receive careful attention.

HALL & PEARSALL
WILMINGTON, N. C

ORGANIZED 1856.

GEORGIA HOME INSURANCE COMPANY.

COLUMBUS, Ga.

J. RHODES BROWN, President.

Wm. C. COART, Secretary.

A HOME COMPANY,

Seeking Home Patronage.

Strong! Prompt! Reliable! Liberal!

Agents at all Cities, Towns and Villages in the Southern States.

W. W. HODGES, Agent, Wilmington N. C.

E. NYE HUTCHISON, Agent, Charlotte N. C

Shopping.

Shopping done in Philadelphia by a lady of experience and taste. No extra charge. Best references. Send for circular.

Miss M. ANDERSON,
333 Pine St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

$4 PER DAY SURE SALARY OR COMMISSION. DO you want honorable, steady employment the year round, at good wages, at your own home or to travel? If so, send 4c in stamps for our wholesale price-list and particulars. We furnish best of bank references.

AMERICAN TEA CO., Detroit, Michigan

We Want You

to subscribe for the Presbyterian Quarterly. It is the one magazine all Presbyterians should read. Its articles are written by eminent Presbyterians—both clergymen and laymen—to Presbyterians. It is edited under the auspices of an association of ministers of the Presbyterian Church.

Every article in it is vitally interesting—it is orthodox—is progressive—stimulates study and investigation.

The Presbyterian Quarterly has always been $3.00 a year and has always been worth it. It is now $1.00 a year but is still worth $3.00. We have lowered its price because we want to put it in every Presbyterian's hands, but there has been no change in either the number of pages or the appearance of the magazine. Send for a sample copy.

Whittet & Shepperson,
Box 336. Richmond, Va.

The average life of a ship is about 26 years.

THINGS USEFUL.

Wood ashes are very beneficial on all fruit grounds, and there is no danger of using too many of them.

Those who have trouble raising palm plants on account of the tendency of the leaves to dry and shrivel up at the ends should try giving them a milk and water sponge bath. This is said to make the leaves appear glossy and fresh, and stops the accumulation of brown spots.

Pillau of Chicken.—One four-pound chicken, one-half cup of rice, one teaspoonful of salt. Clean and cut the chicken the same as for a tricassee. Put it in a stewpan, half cover it with boiling water and set it on a moderate fire to simmer. Now wash the rice, add it to the chicken, also the salt, and let all simmer until the chicken is tender. Dish the chicken and rice together, and serve with tomato sauce.

Strawberry Float—Scald one quart of milk and pour it over the yolks of four and the whites of two eggs which have been beaten with one half of a cupful of sugar. Pour into a double boiler and stir over the fire until the custard thickens; add a pinch of salt and when partly cooled flavor with vanilla. In a glass dish put a layer of hulled and washed berries, pour over them a portion of the custard, then add another layer and the remainder of the custard. Whip the whites of the two eggs with two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar until stiff and glossy; add a few drops of vanilla and heap over the fruit. Dot the top with a few berries and serve.

RED SPRINGS SEMINARY

FOR YOUNG LADIES.
Established by Fayetteville Presbytery.

New Buildings, well equipped and adapted to all departments of College work. Complete and liberal course. Fully abreast of the leading Southern Colleges for Women.

Full and Efficient Faculty.

Charges very moderate ($108.00 per year for full College course and Board). Session opens September 30, 1896. For further information write to

REV. C. G. VARDELL.
Red Springs, N. C.

Good Goods--Low Prices,

Flour, Meat, Sugar, Salt, Meal, Molasses, Coffee, Peanuts, Cheese, Crackers, Snuff, Tobacco.

Consignments of Cotton, Naval Stores and all Country Produce will receive careful attention.

Hall & Pearsall,

Wholesale Grocers & Com. Merchant
Corner Nutt and Mulberry Sts.

Presbyterian High School
—OF—
NORTH CAROLINA.

J. M. OLDHAM, Principal.

Full corps of instructors, all college-bred men representing the leading institutions of North Carolina, Virginia and South Carolina. A non-military school, located in the country in middle North Carolina, with excellent climate.

Instruction Thorough,
Discipline Mild Yet Firm,
Physical Development Looked After
Rates Reasonable.
Endorsed by Synod of North Carolina.
For catalogues address,
J. M. OLDHAM, Principal,
Mebane, N.C.

DAVIDSON COLLEGE,

DAVIDSON, N. C

The Sixtieth Year Begins September 10th, 1896.

FACULTY

Rev. J. B. Shearer, D. D., LL.D., President, and Professor of Biblical Instruction an Moral Philosophy.
Henry Louis Smith, Ph. D., Vice-President, an Prof. of Natural Philosophy.
W. D. Vinson, M. A., LL.D., Prof. of Mathematics
C. R. Harding, Ph.D., Professor of Greek and German.
W. R. Grey, Ph.D. Professor of Latin and French.
Thos. P. Harrison, Ph.D., Professor of English.
W. J. Martin, Jr., M. D., Ph.D., Prof. of Chemistry.
F. F. Rowe, A. B., Instructor.

GYMNASIUM DIRECTOR.

VOCAL MUSIC.

CLASSICAL,
MATHEMATICAL.
SCIENTIFIC,
LITERARY,
BIBLICAL.
COMMERCIAL.

SEND FOR A CATALOGUE

Terms Reasonable.
Location Healthful,
Accommodations Excellent,
Teaching Unsurpassed,
Gymnasium Complete.

Address THE PRESIDENT.

DO NOT FORGET.

THAT OUR BRAND OF FLOUR

THE LADIES' FAVORITE

Is the best Flour on the market. Double Patent, and produces more bread than any other

In addition to our Ladies' Favorite Flour we have taken the Agency for Pillsbury's Best Spring Wheat in barrels and half barrel sacks.

We offer North Carolina Canned Peaches, North Carolina Canned Tomatoes, guaranteed fully equal to any brand. North Carolina Manufactured Tobacco, North Carolina Bacon, California Peaches, California Apricots, both canned and dried, as well as a select stock of groceries of every description.

☞ Orders solicited.

R. W. HICKS,

WHOLESALE ONLY,
Wilmington, N. C.

The Man in the Moon would be happier if he could have a supply of Cool Fragrant and Soothing

Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco

For over twenty-five years the standard smoking tobacco of the world.
To-day More Popular than Ever.

To have a good smoke anytime and everytime it is only necessary to get Bull Durham. It is all good and always good.

BLACKWELL'S DURHAM TOBACCO CO.,
DURHAM, N. C.

H. A. TUCKER. R. D TUCKER.

TUCKER'S

GRANITE AND MARBLE WORKS.

DEALERS IN ALL KINDS OF

Granite and Marble Monuments

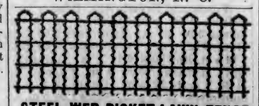
CONTRACTORS FOR BUILDING STONE

H. A. TUCKER & BRO.,
No. 310 Front St.,
Wilmington, N. C.

As Successors to
D. A. GRANTHAM,

The Messrs. TUCKER & BRO., have a fully equipped branch yard at Goldsboro and as in Wilmington, are there prepared to do any kind of first-class work.

WORTH & WORTH,



—OFFER FOR SALE—

BEST QUALITY, FULL WEIGHT

FLOUR, BACON, SUGAR, LARD
MOLASSES, MEAL, SALT,
LIME, CEMENT,

Plaster, Hay, Corn, Hoop Iron, Oats Rivets Glue.

BUNGS, CANNED GOODS,
At Low Prices.
WILMINGTON, N. C.

STEEL WEB PICKET LAWN FENCE

On Steel Post and Rail, Handsomest, Strongest, most Durable and Cheapest, for Yard, Cemetery and Grave Lots; Best Poultry and Garden Fence in existence; also a special Horse, Cattle and Hog Fence. We Pay the Freight. Catalogue Free.
K. L. SHELLABERGER, ATLANTA, GA.

PATENTS

Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained and all Patent business conducted for MODERATE FEES.
OUR OFFICE IS OPPOSITE U.S. PATENT OFFICE and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.
Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured.
A PAMPHLET, "How to Obtain Patents," with cost of same in the U.S. and foreign countries sent free. Address,

C.A.SNOW & CO.
OPP. PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

1865. W. S. MOORE. 1896.

GREENSBORO, N. C.

General Merchandise, &c., &c.

Organs from $24 up to any price.

Pianos from $150 up to any price

Special prices to Ministers, Churches and Sunday-Schools

North Carolina Presbyterian.

New Series—VOL. XXIX—No. 1,533. WILMINGTON, N C., THURSDAY, MAY 27, 1897. Old Series. Vol. XXXIX—No. 2,693

THE OFFICE OF THE PRESBYTERIAN IS IN THE ALLEN BUILDING ON PRINCESS STREET—ROOM No. 6, ON SECOND FLOOR.

Subscription price $2.00 a year.
Ministers $1.00
Missionaries $1.50, including postage.
New Subscribers $1.50 for first year.

THE RELEASE.

The apostle slept; a light shone in the prison;
An angel touched his side:
"Arise" he said; and quickly he hath risen,
His fettered arms untied.

The watchers saw no light at midnight gleaming,
They heard no sound of feet;
The gates fly open; and the saint still dreaming,
Stands free upon the street.

So, when the Christian's eyelid droops and closes
In nature's parting strife,
A friendly angel stands where he reposes,
To wake him up to life.

He gives a gentle blow, and so releases
The spirit from its clay;
From sin's temptations and from life's distresses
He bids it come away.

It rises up, and from its darksome mansion,
It takes its silent flight.
And feels its freedom in the large expansion
Of heavenly air and light.

Behind, it hears Time's iron gates close faintly;
It now is far from them;
For it has reached the city of the saintly—
The New Jerusalem.

A voice is heard on earth of kinsfolks weeping
The loss of one they love;
But he has gone where the redeemed are keeping
A festival above.

The mourners throng the way, and from the steeple
The funeral bell tolls slow;
But on the golden streets the holy people
Are passing to and fro.

And saying, as they meet, "Rejoice: another,
Long waited for, is come;
The Saviour's heart is glad; a younger brother
Hath reached the Father's home.

—James Drummond Burns, in Sunday-School Times.

*REV. E. F. ROCKWELL, D. D.

One by one the "Fathers in Israel" are called to their rest in the "Better Land." On the morning of April 15th, 1888, the oldest member of Concord Presbytery quietly breathed his last, at his home near Fifth Creek church, in Iredell county, N. C., in the 79th year of his age. His long, varied and useful labors in North Carolina demand a somewhat extended notice of his career.

Elijah Frink Rockwell was the son of Joseph and Sarah (Huntington) Rockwell, and was born in Lebanon, Conn., October 6th, 1808. He was graduated from Yale College in 1834, and was a classmate of Chief Justice M. R. Waite, of the United States Supreme Court, and of Chief Justice W. N. H. Smith, of the Supreme Court of North Carolina. Though less conspicuous than these distinguished jurists, he was probably as learned as either, and in his more limited sphere equally as useful. The fact that it was necessary for him to teach for a term of years to repay funds expended in his education reveals the struggles of his early youth, and the independence of his nature. He was twenty-five years old when he received his college diploma. In 1835 he came to North Carololina and was associated with Dr. Simeon Colton, in the Donaldson Academy, in Fayetteville. Rev. Colin McIver was also teaching there about the same time. After two years of teaching he was received under the care of Fayetteville Presbytery, and studied theology in Princeton and Columbia Seminaries. When he was thirty years old he was licensed to preach the Gospel, and supplied the pulpit of the Fayetteville church for a few months. In 1840 he was ordained by Concord Presbytery as pastor of Fourth Creek (now Statesville) church, which he continued to serve for ten years, until he was elected to the chair of Natural Sciences of Davidson College, in 1850. He remained here filling several chairs, until 1868, when he was elected to the presidency of Concord Female College. In a few years this College passed into other hands, and Mr. Rockwell found work as the stated supply of several churches in Iredell county, as Concord, Bethesda, Taylorsville, Bethany, Fifth Creek, until his health and strength failed him. In June 1882, the University of North Carolina conferred upon him the well merited degree of Doctor of Divinity.

Dr. Rockwell was twice married. In 1839 he was married to Miss Margaret K. McNeill, daughter of Geo. McNeill, Sr., of Fayetteville, and sister of Rev. James McNeill and Rev. Geo. McNeill. This lady died at Davidson College about 1866, and in 1868 he was married to Miss Elizabeth H. Browne, formerly of Fayetteville. By his last marriage he had two children, only one of whom survives him, now a youth of about eighteen years.

On the 7th of April Dr. Rockwell was taken ill, of bronchial pneumonia, and died on the morning of the 15th. He was unconscious a large portion of the time, but when aroused he would say, "I feel the Saviour near me."

In his early life Dr. Rockwell manifested an aptitude for acquiring all sorts of knowledge, and a remarkable memory for retaining it, as well as a habit of writing and publishing his thoughts on many themes. He was a fine classical Hebrew scholar, an adept in many branches of Natural Science, a sound theologian and a collector of rare things. He would sometimes astound his brethren thus: "You remember the Hebrew word translated 'rivers' in Psalm 1:3"? As a general rule the brethren did not remember, but the question was no display of pedantry, but the starting point for a discussion of some generally unnoticed fact in philosophy, or Oriental customs. An old coin, or medal, or piece of armor would arouse him to a long and patient research that usually ended in some discovery. He did not need the date on the title page of a book to tell him whether it was printed before 1795 or 1810. That was the transition period of the long and short "S.S." What he and everybody else knew was relegated to the pigeonhole of commonplaces, while his mind eagerly went out after new fields of knowledge. These accumulations of rare knowledge coupled with his readiness to communicate to others made him a pleasant and instructive companion to the friends in whom he confided.

As before intimated, Dr. Rockwell used his pen freely, and more than one hundred articles of his on important subjects have been published, besides a large number of lesser communications and inquiries. The N. C. PRESBYTERIAN has been often enriched by the production of his mind while the Southern Presbyterian Review, the Historical Magazine and other periodicals have contained his more elaborate articles. As a preacher in his earlier days he was somewhat learned and precise in his manner, confining himself pretty closely to his manuscript, and furnishing food for close thinkers, but in his later years he surprised his brethren by discarding paper, and launching out in a more popular style. He was an instructive preacher, never allowing his hearers to depart without some addition to their knowledge. He was a staunch and sturdy Calvinist, and had no patience with errors in doctrine, and quite as little with high pressure methods in revival. The writer was once with him in a gracious revival in one of his churches, and no pastor could have been more earnest, faithful, and stirring in his appeals to sinners, or more happy in his instructions to inquirers, or more delighted when men and women he had long prayed for were found rejoicing in Christ.

Absorbed as his mind was, on other studies, he cared little for matters of routine or parliamentary rules. Yet he was always present, when able, in Presbytery, and gave his attention and his aid to matters of public interest. And was always ready, at his own expense, to do missionary work, or visit the poorer and vacant churches.

Prudent, economical, but withal genteel and refined in his personal appearance and family surroundings, he managed to accumulate a comfortable support for his old age, and to leave his family above the fear of want.

For many years at the head of the roll of Concord Presbytery, his welcome presence will be missed by his older brethren. But his work having been done, and the Saviour felt to be near him, we cannot regret that his labors and sorrows are over, and that he has gone to join that great section of Presbytery with whom he was associated in labor for forty-eight years: the Pharrs, Penicks, Johnstons, Wattses, Robinson, Wilson, Nash, Caldwell, McCutchan, Lockridge, Adams, McPherson, Moore, Morrison Chapman, Williamsons, Sheetz, Lafferty, Lindley, Davis, Lacy, Rankin, Frontis, Baker, Miller, Sinclair, Hall, Gibbs, Krider, Paxton, Thurston, who have ceased from their labors, and entered into the rest that remains for the people of God.

J. R.

*Obituary of Dr. Rockwell, published in this paper on occasion of his death.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

1ST PAGE — The Release (poetry)—Sketch of Rev. E. F. Rockwell, D. D.

2ND PAGE—Editorial: "Imitation of Christ"—Editorial Notes.

3RD PAGE—Editorial Notes—Let It Be The Gospel—India Relief Fund.

4TH PAGE — The General Assembly (continued on 6th page) — Sketch of Sugar Creek Church.

5TH PAGE.—Our Academical and Industrial School for the Colored People at North Wilkesboro—Working for a Soul—Literary Jottings—Magazines.

6TH PAGE —Religious Intelligence—General Assembly.

7TH PAGE—General Assembly.

8TH PAGE—Education In Germany.

9TH PAGE—Converts In Childhood.

10TH PAGE—Sunday School Lesson—Young People's Column—Open Door Notes.

11TH PAGE—Puzzles—Obituaries—Ill Health of Dr. J. H. Smith—To the Sessions of Mecklenburg Presbytery.

12TH PAGE. —(For the Family)—No Place for Boys (poetry)—The Woman's Exposition.

13TH PAGE—A Fight (poetry)—You Can't Cheat God—"Of Course He Will"—The Grandfather Rabbit—Letter-Box.

14TH PAGE—Religious Intelligence—Personals.

15TH PAGE—Say Soes—Market.

16TH PAGE—Things Useful.

"IMITATION OF CHRIST."

There is a revival of interest now-a-days in the subject treated under this title by Thomas a Kempis. The book itself is not as much read alone and apart from other books as is the result of reading of other later books leading to the truths he taught. In our present series of studies on conformity to Christ some of the best and most helpful of these books should be mentioned. In any one of these some views may be held, some sentences may be found which may not commend themselves or their truth to the reader. This may be the fault of the reader who may not be prepared to accept truth that seems contrary to, or at least not in accord with commonly accepted views or teachings, or the fault may be that the writer has pressed out of proportion the truth, or has some error. In either case the books we mention here can be safely read and pondered by any who desire to be more like Christ.

For the best of books on this theme we will do well to begin with those of Rev. Andrew Murray. He is the son of a Scotch Presbyterian minister and his mother was a Dutch Huguenot. Rev. Andrew Murray is an orthodox minister of the Dutch Reformed Church in South Africa. He is a mighty man of God. He has written many books. The three we wish to mention were issued by Anson D. F. Randolph & Co. They are now issued, by Fleming H. Revell Co., New York. They are issued as daily readings, each for one month. They will be found most helpful, searching and humbling, if read in daily private devotions. It will take time to do this well, but the time will be well spent. The three books, are these and should be read and pondered in the order named: Abide in Christ, Like Christ, and With Christ in the School of Prayer.

Concerning the life of privilege to which these books lead the reader would do well to seek guidance in the addresses delivered at E. Northfield, Mass., in August, 1896, by Rev. H. W. Webb-Peploe, the famous Prebendery of St. Paul's Cathedral London and by Rev. Andrew Murray. These addresses can be had for thirty-five cents from Mr. A. P. Fitt, East Northfield, Mass. The three books of Mr. Murray are published at fifty cents each cloth, or twenty-five cents each in paper.

The teaching of the Keswick School is best presented by Rev. F. B. Meyer of London. The Revells publish two of his little books, which may be read with great profit, and especially for their practical value in aiding the Christian to secure the blessing of the other books in daily living. They are: Light on Life's Duties and The Secret of Guidance. These two may be had in paper bindings as numbers of the Colportage Library, from Mr. A. P. Fitt, East Northfield, Mass.

In addition to the book by Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, which is a series of studies on the privileges of the believer under the title of Kadesh-Barnea, the publishers have just issued two books. The publishers are Fleming H. Revell Co., New York. The books are bound in cloth. One is entitled How to Obtain Fullness of Prayer in Christian Life and Service, by Rev. R. A. Torrey, the head of the Moody Training School in Chicago, price fifty cents. The other is A Castaway, and Other Addresses, by F. B. Meyer. Cloth thirty cents. This last contains the addresses made by Mr. Meyer in New York, Philadelphia and Boston last February. They are not meant to present Keswick teaching as such, though Mr. Meyer is one of the most prominent of that school. Those who reject or doubt the correctness of that teaching will be the better able to refute its errors by reading these books, and all will be the better for accepting and seeking to live by their truth. We believe that these books we have mentioned are calculated to call the Church to the true plane of Christian consecration and conformity to Christ. We are sure that every Christian who will read these books in the closet place of prayer, and take time to inwardly digest them and appropriate their teaching will grow more like Christ, be less perplexed with doubts, less tried with temptation, less distressed and troubled and better able to accept and live the life of "The Imitation of Christ."

BISHOP SESSUMS of the Episcopal Diocese of Louisiana essayed, during the past Lenten season, to enlighten his parishioners on the subject of "The Old Religion in the New Language." If we may judge from the comments of the Church Standard, an Episcopal paper of Philadelphia, he did not succeed to any great extent. The paper says;

"This was a difficult task, requiring at least three qualifications of a very high order. It requires a profound and accurate knowledge of theology, without which a man may make egregious mistakes in his conception of the true significance of 'the old religion;' it requires a scientifically accurate use of language, or he may misrepresent both 'the old religion' and his own views of it; and it requres a faculty of lucidity alike of thought and of expression without which a speaker or writer on matters of controversy is almost certain to be misunderstood. It is no disrespect to Bishop Sessums to say that he has not hitherto been credited with the possession of any one of these three qualifications in any high degree."

After much of compliment of the Bishop's fervor and eloquence, it says further, "there is a brilliancy like that of the sun, which illuminates all things on which its rays fall; but the brilliancy of Bishop Sessums more nearly resembles that of the sunset clouds which are beautiful, and even luminous, and yet shed little light upon the earth beneath."

This is merely a preface to a quasi vindication of the Bishop from charges against him involved in the protest of Dr. B. M. Palmer and some forty or more ministers of various non-Episcopal churches in behalf of Evangelical Protestanism, against the heresies proclaimed in the last sermon of the series, as reported in the N. O. Picayune.

The Standard claims that the protest was uncharitable in spirit, amenable, at least, to the suspicion of highly unchristion motives, and that all serious disagreement might have been avoided by direct personal inquiry of the Bishop as to what he really meant by the expressions used.

The main defence of course is upon the line, indicated first above, that the Bishop's mode of expression, usually, is not clear and so he is specially liable to be misunderstood. But the paper does not fail to remind the protestants that more latitude of interpretation and belief is allowed in the Episcopal Church than in the churches they represent, and finally it informs them that if the Bishop has been guilty of those things they bring against him the authorities of the Episcopal Church will deal with him. If he has done wrong "they will inquire whether he has done it 'advisedly,' and because he really believes those doctrines, or whether he has had the misfortune of saying what he did not really mean, or of saying what he did mean in a way he did not intend."

On the whole it is a very masterful defence of that which needs to be most masterfully defended. It does not clear the Bishop by any means, and leaves unanswered an inquiry which forces itself to the front: Ought a man who cannot make his meaning clear to occupy a bishopric?

CORRECTION: In the sketch of Sugar Creek church as published in issue of 20th inst., occurs that which, for the truth of history, must be corrected. The twelveth line from the top: "From these seven congregations which were in Mecklenburg county"—after the word county supply: "Except a part of Centre which lay in Rowan." The sentence will then read: "From these seven counties which were in Mecklenburg county, except a part of Centre which lay in Rowan (now Iredell)," &c.

OUR ABLE contemporary the Charlotte Observer has made good our promise to give satisfactory reports of the General Assembly. Our space has not admitted of giving these reports in full, but we have used our friend freely and sometimes literally in the condensation. In very truth few papers anywhere could have surpassed, or even equalled, the Observer in its work of last week. The celebration of the 20th, the opening session of the General Assembly, the doings of the Woman's Exposition of the Carolinas, the Bicycle races, &c., &c.—one's head almost reels in the thinking of it—but the Observer kept at the head of the procession.

THE LETTER of Mr. T. W. Lingle, from Germany, which gives our readers a treat for this week will be followed next week by a letter from Rev. Dr. L. B. Turnbull, written at Damascus. We note it that the pleasure in store may be anticipated.

Our special thanks are tendered to Dr. Turnbull for a pamphlet sent from Beirut, and containing a description of the Syrian Protestant College of that place with a list of its Faculty and managers and most excellent pictures of the various buildings connected with it; also much information concerning the admirable work.

OUR FRIENDS of the secular press do, sometimes, get matters mixed when they deal with things ecclesiastical. Thus one paper, commenting on the destruction by fire of Christ church, Savannah, says:

"Among many other interesting reminiscences connected with it, is the fact that Martin Luther preached his last sermon there to a vast concourse before turning Lutheran."

Christ church was burned in the early morning of last Sunday. It was the mother of Episcopal churches in Georgia, the first building having been completed in 1750. John Wesley preached in it before he left the Episcopal Church as the founder of Methodism. The church, the telegrams say, was a repository of "all the records of Savannah and practically of Georgia since 1825, most of which are a total loss."

THE COMMUNICATION of Rev. R E. Caldwell concerning the Academical and Industrial School for Colored People of North Wilkesboro is well worthy of serious consideration. It certainly shows that very remarkable success has been attained with the very feeble means which have been at hand. To all that is said as to character and qualifications of Rev. Simon G. Walker we would like to bear testimony. He impressed us most favorably on his visit to this place and we are sure he made a most favorable impression upon Synod. The work in his charge ought not to be allowed to languish.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

LET IT BE THE GOSPEL.

Perhaps no greater temptation comes to preachers than that of preaching something in the place of the Gospel. The devil knows that there is nothing which so hurts his cause as the loyal preaching of the Gospel by thousands of mightily earnest ministers. Hence if he can somehow induce ministers to substitute something in the place of the Gospel he will do so. And he does succeed far too well in this direction. And just in proportion as preachers substitute mere moral teaching for vital Gospel preaching, in that ratio does the cause of Christ suffer, while sinners remain in their sins. A most loyal preacher says: "There are some great cities almost utterly lost because they have only worldly great preachers. Every preacher there is a great man; every one of them is learned in philosophy and nearly every one of them preaches more politics than religion; and the proportion of the saved to the total population gets smaller all the time. Yet there you hear the most unanswerable arguements on mere morality. You may hear the most beautiful essays that the world ever listened to on philosophy, but, oh me! it does not save a man and it does not awaken a conscience; and it continually diminishes the crowd that hears it, and there is no saving power in it. The sooner the last one of such sermons is forgotten the better for the world. Let a preacher preach Christ to the lost, and not Epicurus; preach salvation through the blood of the Lamb instead of the miserable subterfuge of speculative vagaries and unverified hypotheses of conceited so-called philosophers that cannot kindle a glow-worm's spark, much less make a sun to dispel the darkness. There is no contempt so deserving the contempt that all good men ought to pour out upon the miserable, frivolous, sickly, drivelling things they substitute for the Gospel." O, there are thousands of church attendants who are hungering for a pure Gospel! Let them have it in power from your lips.

C. H. WETHERBE.

INDIA RELIEF FUND.

TWO CENTS will sustain the life of a man, woman or child for one day.

Previously acknowledged.....	$ 94 62
Annie King and Eliza Scales Hamlin, Madison, N. C....	3 00
Edwin Shaver, Salisbury, NC. ..	5 00
Wadesboro Presbyterian Mission Band.....	5 00
Miss V. C. Lilly.....	1 00
Mrs. W. F. Gray.....	1 00
Miss Daisy McKeithan.....	50
Capt. J. F. Bradley.....	1 00
L. L. Drake.....	50
N. A. McKeithan.....	1 00

OUR PREMIUM BIBLE.

Measures 5x7 inches when Closed, and Contains 1,600 Pages of Reading Matter—Several hundred pages of Useful Information, besides the Scriptural Text.

☞At length we find ourselves with pride and pleasure, able to offer a Bible premium to workers for the N. C. PRESBYTERIAN. The size and quality of type of our Bible is represented by the cut here given:

The binding is flexible, the edges are gilt and the references within are full. The Bible contains besides 1050 pages of Scriptural text, the HELPS to Scripture reading and study including Subject Index, Concordance, a most serviceable General Topical Index, a large number of pages treating of the Titles, Authorship, Distinctive Characters, Contents, &c., of the various books of the Bible, A Description of the Inhabitants, Physical Geography, Customs and Political Condition of the Holy Land at the beginning of the Christian era, the Botany of the Bible, Glossary of Antiquities, Customs, 12 maps, etc., being the Oxford Helps, acknowledged to be the very best, besides 124 full page illustrations of the Languages, Writing, &c., of the Old and New Testaments, of the bas reliefs and the like, discoveries in archæological researches, and now in the British museum—and very much else; making altogether the most desirable copy of the Scriptures for Bible students that has come to our knowledge. The book contains over 1,600 pages.

The Bible is an offer in connection with the NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN—the only medium thro which one can become well acquainted with what is going on in the Synod of North Carolina—on the folowing terms:

We will give this Bible as payment for help rendered to any old subscriber who will send us the name of a BONA FIDE new subscriber along with $2.25.

The new subscriber gets the paper very cheap—we offer it to any bona fide new subscriber for $1.50 for the first year—and the worker gets amply compensated in a magnificently cheap Bible for his or her good work.

A new subscriber to get the Bible can subscribe for himself at $1.50 and then send another new subscriber with $2.25.

The Premium offered is the Genuine Edition of the Oxford Teacher's Bible.

We trust our friends will go to work promptly on this plan.

JOHN McLAURIN,
Manager N. C. Presbyterian.

"Our Premium Bible" contains absolutely nothing that tends to discredit the plain Scripture narrative of "Jonah and the whale."

We must not be so full of the hope of heaven that we cannot do our work on earth. We must not be so lost in the work of earth that we should not be inspired by the hope of heaven.—Phillips Brooks.

David's thirst for God. PSALMS. He praiseth God for his grace.

10 Trust not in oppression, and become not vain in robbery: [a] if riches increase, set not your heart upon them.
11 God hath spoken [b] once; twice have I heard this; that [c] power belongeth unto God.
12 Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for [d] thou renderest to every man according to his work.

[a] Or, we are cautioned by that which they have thoroughly searched.
[b] Job 33. 14. Ps. 62. 11.
[c] 1 Thes. 5. 17.
[d] Heb. a search searched.
[b] Job 33. 14. or, Elohim.
[c] Heb. their shall be.
[d] Job 34. 11. Prov. 24. 12. Jer. 32. 19. Mat. 16. 27. Rom. 2. 6. 2 Cor. 5. 10. Rev. 22. 12.
[e] Ps. 31. 11. Jer. 50. 38.
[f] Hosea 12. 3.
[g] Ps. 62. 2.

PSALM 63.

1 David's thirst for God. 4 His manner of blessing God. A Psalm of David, [e] when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

O GOD, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: [f] my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and [g] thirsty land, [f] where no water is;
2 To see [g] thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the sanc-

6 They search out iniquities; [a] they accomplish [b] a diligent search: both the inward thought of every one of them, and the heart, is deep.
7 But God shall shoot at them with an arrow; suddenly [c] shall they be wounded.
8 So they shall make their own tongue to fall upon themselves: [d] all that see them shall flee away.
9 And all men shall fear, and shall [e] declare the work of God; for they shall wisely consider of his doing.
10 The righteous shall be glad in the LORD, and shall trust in him; and all the upright in heart shall glory.

PSALM 65.

1 David praiseth God for his grace. 4 The blessedness of God's chosen by reason of benefits.
To the chief Musician, A Psalm and Song of David.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

FIRST DAY.

Thursday, May 20th.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States met in the First Presbyterian church, Charlotte.

Rev. R. Q. Mallard, D. D., moderator of the last Assembly, preached the opening sermon from Numbers x: 35, 36—Subject, "The Camping and the Marching of Israel."

The following persons were nominated for the moderatorship: Drs. Geo. T. Goetchius, of Rome, Ga., S. M. Neel, of Kansas City, Francis R. Beattie, of Louisville, Ky., and Robert Price of Clarksville, Tenn. Upon the third ballot Dr. Goetchius was elected. On motion of Rev. A. A. Little, Rev. Dr. Howerton of the First church, Charlotte, was accorded the privilege of the floor.

Dr. Howerton called attention to the fact that this Assembly meets in the centre of Presbyterianism, on the 20th of May, the anniversary of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence; the Declaration was the work of Presbyterians, and that Alexander Craighead, the inspiration of the Declaration, was buried at Sugar Creek church. The gavel used in the Assembly was made from a tree which grew at the head of Craighead's grave.

Dr. Smoot moved that the parliamentary rules which governed the Assembly in Memphis obtain here. Carried.

At the afternoon session Rev. S. M. Neel, occupied the moderator's chair, and reports were read from Rev. Dr. J. N. Craig on Home Missions, Rev. Dr. R C. Reed, chairman of the Executive Committee on Foreign Missions, Rev. Dr. J. K. Hazen, on Publication and Colportage, Rev. Dr. E. M. Richardson on Ministerial Edueation and Rev. Dr. A. L. Phillips on Colored Evangelization. The Fourth Annual Report of the Assembly's Home and School was read by Rev. Dr. A. P. Saunders. Chancellor of the School. The outlook for the success of the school is gloomy. The report states that:

Owing to the failure of the churches to respond to the General Assembly's appeals, the board has to report serious financial embarrassment. Rev. A. P. Saunders has been unable to secure a hearing in some parts of the Church and has not raised sufficient money from churches and individuals to justify the continuance in the field upon the terms agreed upon by the board. Forty-two churches and sixteen individuals have contributed the sum of $6,252 63 this year. Our financial distress is now due to the fact that the churches of the Assembly have never provided funds for the proper inauguration and operation of the Home and School. The board of trustees was compelled to borrow money with which to meet the expense of placing the institution before the people. The present indebtedness is $10,925.

It was arranged that one address appropriate to the 250th anniversary of the adoption of the Westminster Standards would be delivered at noon of each day and two at night.

At night Dr. White made the first of the eleven addresses in commemoration of the adoption of the Westminster Standards. Dr. White's subject was, "The Social and Political Condition of Britain at the time, with special reference to those aspects of the times that (a) prepared the way for the calling of the Assembly, and (b) exerted an influence on it when called."

He was followed by Dr. Price, who spoke on "The Religious Situation of Britain at the Time."

[Continued on 6th page.]

SKETCH OF SUGAR CREEK CHURCH.

(Continued from last week.)

The immediate successor of Mr. Craighead was Rev. Joseph Alexander, who was licensed by New Castle Presbytery. Accepting a call from Sugar Creek, he was ordained and installed there as pastor by Hanover Presbytery in 1768. He was a man of talents and classical education, and an excellent speaker. In addition to his pastoral work he "taught a classical school of high excellence and usefulness." He afterwards moved to Bullocks Creek, S. C., and was long known in the Church as a minister and teacher of youth for professional life."

After the removal of Mr. Alexander to South Carolina the church was doubtless supplied for some time by Rev. Thomas Craighead—a son of the first pastor—who was licensed in 1778. Declining a settlement as pastor he went to Tennessee and preached and settled on the Cumberland river, near where Nashville now is. He "was a man of fine talents and capable of close thought, and did the cause of religion much service." He lies buried not far from the Hermitage" near Nashville. His successor was Rev. S. C. Caldwell, a son of David Caldwell, D. D., of Guilford county, and grandson of Rev. Alexander Craighead, the former pastor of the church. He was licensed by Orange Presbytery at nineteen years of age. Five years after his licensure he was, on Feb. 21st, 1792, ordained and installed pastor of Sugar Creek and Hopewell churches. He had spent much of the time previous to his ordination ministering to these churches. God greatly blessed his ministry from the beginning. At one time in his early ministry there was a gracious revival and upwards of seventy young persons were added to the church on profession of faith in Christ. Rev. G. D. Parks in his sketch of Sugar Creek says: "Though the war for liberty and independence had ended in glorious triumph several years before the beginning of Mr. Caldwell's ministry, yet it was followed by another conflict involving far more sacred principles and interests than those which had been so heroically defended. Following that seven years war the proud waters of infidelity came in like a flood, rose and rapidly spread over many parts of the country, and particularly over Mecklenburg county, threatening the liberty of those whom the truths of the Gospel make free. Caldwell and Wallis, pastor of Providence, born and reared in Sugar Creek, in their respective congregations, were found in the thickest of the fight with this foe. Both of these men proved themselves worthy sons of their noble ancestors, and worthy defenders of the precious truths of the Gospel." An infidel club was organized, which embraced men of wealth and talent living in the bounds of Sugar Creek, Providence and Steel Creek. A library was formed and well supplied with works written in defence of infidel views of religion and morality. The purpose of the club was to propagate that philosophy which called in question everything connected with the Bible and its claims upon human reason and conscience. "The burning question discussed on all occasions was, whether the Bible, or reason, should be the guide of human conscience. This discussion was often hot and gave rise to bitter contests." Caldwell and Wallis "met these enemies of Christianity with fearlessness and unflinching fidelity." Wallis prepared and published a pamphlet well adapted to meet the demands of truth and righteousness. So Sugar Creek, through her Caldwell and Wallis, rose up to defend not only human rights and liberty, but equally as well the rights and liberty of the sons of God. "The forces of infidelity seem to have met their final and almost complete overthrow in the great revival of 1802. In 1805, Mr. Caldwell gave up Hopewell church, and "gave three-fourths of his time to Sugar Creek, the other fourth to Charlottetown for awhile; then at Paw Creek until a church was organized; and then at Mallard Creek until a church was organized there. In 1805, he opened a classical school, which he taught for years with the approbation of Presbytery. He was a man "of great self-command, clear in his conception of truth, plain in his enunciation, both in style and manner, kind from his natural feelings, and from the benevolence of the Gospel he loved and preached; a lover of the truth, he passed his whole ministerial life after his ordination as pastor of this church." After a long and successful ministry he died on Oct. 3rd, 1826, in the fifty-ninth year of his age, and the thirty-fifth of his pastoral office of Sugar Creek church. His remains lie buried in the second cemetery in front of the present church, and on the spot just under the pulpit of the church in which he preached many years and which was removed during his ministry.

His successor was Rev. R. H. Morrison, D. D., who became the pastor in 1827. He served the church for ten years with great acceptance ability and success. He also preached a part of the time in the village of Charlotte. During his ministry there were many additions to the church, but especially in 1832, under the gracious power of the Spirit seventy-eight men were added to Sugar Creek and thirty-seven to the church of Charlotte. Dr. Morrison was a great advocate of the cause of education, and being deeply sensible of the great need of a church college for the more efficient training of young men for the ministry, he conceived and formulated a plan for the establishment of Davidson College, which was heartily approved and adopted by Concord Presbytery. He was chosen the first President of the College, and consequently he resigned the pastorate of Sugar Creek and removed to Davidson College in 1837, to the great loss of the church and the sorrow of his people. He several years after served this church as stated supply for a while, declining to become a pastor. At the beginning of Dr. Morrison's pastorate no records of the church could be found, nor roll of membership, but by the aid of the elders a roll was prepared of those who claimed, and were known to be members of the church, numbering 157. The elders of the church were Amos Alexander, Alexander Robinson, Dan Alexander, John F. McNeely, Samuel Caldwell, John Howie and John Campbell.

Families by the name of Alexander were numerous, and some of them were prominent and influential in Church and State. Other names are worthy of mention, such as Caldwell, Robinson, Wallis, Wilson, Flinn. Many of these people were distinguished, not only for their patriotism, but for their Christian valor. Streams of influence and usefulness were sent out by some of them in the persons and lives of such men as Rev. James Wallis, son of Ezekiel Wallis, Rev. John Robinson, D. D., son of David Robinson, Rev. Andrew Flinn, D. D., Rev. John Makemie Wilson, D. D., Rev. J. M. M. Caldwell. Abraham Alexander, an elder of Sugar Creek was Chairman of the famous Convention of May 20th, 1775. The successor of Dr. Morrison was Rev. J. M. M. Caldwell, son of Rev. S. C. Caldwell. He served the church acceptably until 1845, when he resigned and moved to Georgia.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

OUR ACADEMICAL AND INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL FOR THE COLORED PEOPLE AT NORTH WILKESBORO.

It was the pleasure of the writer to visit this institution last Wednesday, May 12th, and take part in the closing exercises. The number of students enrolled during the past session was forty. Thirty-one of whom were boarders from five or six surrounding counties. An interesting program covering two or three days was successfully carried out, most of the exercises being held in the opera house which was kindly opened for the occasion. The essays, recitations, songs and orations were all very creditable. Addresses were made by Mr. J. M. Rogers of Winston and your correspondent. We made a thorough examination of the buildings and grounds, the work and financial condition of the school. The property consists of fifteen acres of good land and three buildings. The ground has been cleared and improved by the students and is now under cultivation, an orchard has been planted and a model garden greets the eye.

In addition to the school building, the home for girls and the home for boys, we found that foundations had been laid for a workshop and for another building to serve as a dining hall and a model kitchen, while a basement was being made under the boys building for a shoeshop. As far as possible all of this work is done by the students themselves and it is very creditable indeed, they have even made their own furniture.

The outlay upon the institution, its ground and equipment represents about sixteen or eighteen hundred dollars and constitutes a property of which the Synod should be justly proud.

The animating spirit of this work is Rev. Simon G. Walker, himself a colored man of rare gifts and graces, who enjoys the confidence of all who know him. He has made this a labor of love and has received no compensation except his salary as evangelist. He preaches at Elkin and Danbury and other points when his services are needed. He has the assistance of two teachers and a matron.

In this brief letter we can do little more than call the attention of your readers to this important work. To our thinking it is the key to the situation in the matter of the education and evangelization of the colored race, and we are more and more impressed with the idea that the Synod of North Carolina should center its entire effort for our brother in black upon this institution. It is the only thing within our reach that will result in permanent and practical benefit. It would be well for the Synod to employ Brother Walker for his entire time at this one point and make its contributions in this one direction, at least, until the institution can be relieved of debt and placed on its feet. When this is done it will require but little to keep it going, for it will become almost self-supporting.

Let me suggest that private contributions of money, second hand clothing, furniture, carpets, groceries, books, tools, etc., are always acceptable and should be sent with the donor's name to Rev. Simon G. Walker, North Wilkesboro, N. C.

Yours truly,

ROBT. E. CALDWELL.

WORKING FOR A SOUL.

Not for souls. But for a soul. Only one. One at a time. Not by wholesale, but individually. Not indefinite souls in Africa or New Zealand, but one soul in your own family, in your own circle, in your own community. Work for a soul. Dr. Cuyler tells us of a warm-hearted lawyer in his church who made up his mind to work for the conversion of a certain infidel in the congregation. He went to work deliberately. He was patient and persistent. He did not lack faith or wisdom; he was kind and gentle. His yearning after the soul of his friend brought a rare degree of Christlikeness to his own life. After awhile the infidel said to him in a half jest: "Mr. J——, you would better give me up as a hard case, and try somebody else." But the soul-hungry lawyer did not give up his friend. He gave himself all the more to his self-appointed work, and he did not cease his praying and working until his friend was soundly converted to God. Oh, worker in the cause of the unsaved, pick out your own soul; then devote yourself wholly to your task. Do not be diverted from your royal purpose. Let that one soul be constantly in your thoughts, in your prayers, in your plans. And it may be that, sooner than you think for, God will grant you your heart's desire. One soul. Not a score. Only one. Pray for one. Plead for one. Work for one. Live for one.—Epworth Herald.

BABIES are subject to peculiar ills. The right remedy for babies' ills—especially worms and stomach disorders—is Frey's Vermifuge has cured children for 50 years. Send for illus. book about the ills and the remedy. One bottle mailed for 25 cents. E. & S. FREY, Baltimore, Md.

LITERARY JOTTINGS.

Miss Hildergrade Hawthorne, daughter of Julian and granddaughter of the author of The Scarlet Letter has written two short stories for the current magazines. She shows in her titles and style the love of the weird which characterized the great Nathaniel.

After filling an order for a painting of the late Coventry Patmore, of England, Mr. Sargent painted another picture of this interesting poet for the figure of Ezekiel in the beautiful decorative painting in the Boston Public Library.

Luther's Bible, which he used in his study, is in possession of a Berlin museum. Its margins are covered with notes in Luther's handwriting. It was printed at Bale in 1509, and is excellently preserved.

Readers of Barrie's serial, "Sentimental Tommy," will be pleased to learn that the character of "Reddy," who figures in the early part of the story so delightfully, was drawn from life, the only child and daughter of W. E. Henley being the model. The little girl died at the age of five. She was known among her intimates as the emperor and on her death Gilbert Parker wrote a poem, "To the Emperor, Dead," which carried tender and sad thoughts to the grown-up friends of the little girl, who was such a favorite.

Few people know that John Wesley was ever in America. Few know that it was he, and not Robert Raikes, who established the first Sunday-school in the world. It was John Wesley who preached the first Methodist sermon delivered in the United States. In The Ladies' Home Journal for June Rev. W. J. Scott will tell in the "Great Personal Events" series the story of "When John Wesley Preached in Georgia," which is said to be one of the most interesting narratives in this most successful series.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

Celebrated for its great leavening strength and healthfulness. Assured the food against alum and all forms of adulteration common to the cheap brands.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

MAGAZINES.

The Suggestive Outlines for Children's Missionary Societies arranged by "The Mission Worker" of the First Presbyterian church, Augusta, Ga., are excellent. Our leaders will find them a great help in their work and we trust they will be very freely used throughout the Church.

Catalogue of the Theological Seminary of Princeton with full information pertaining to course of study, faculty, students, etc.

Art In the Classroom, the Workshop and the Home is an excellent monthly published by the Art Publishing Company, 411 Pearl Street, New York.

Exposition News is the title of a very creditable sixteen page paper issued by the Women's Exposition of the Carolinas.

American Homes for May is called the Fire Number, giving excellent pictures of the recent Knoxville fire. $1.00 a year. American Home Publishing Co., Knoxville, Tenn.

Expression — Art, Literature, The Spoken Word. An excellent quarterly for those interested in elocution and oratory. Published by School of Expression, Boston.

Converse College has gotten up a handsome catalogue containing beautiful and attractive views of the buildings, grounds and interiors of classrooms, etc. The enrollment for the past year was four hundred and thirty-one pupils. The faculty is composed of the best material.

The New Situation in China, Coventry Patmore, Gibbon's Autobiography, Animal Helpers and Servers, The Disbursement Sheet, The Mission of Tennyson, The Battle of Val, Tiger Shooting in the Deccan, Life in a French Commune, Some Plantation Memories and Goldsmith's Country are among the interesting articles in the The Eclectic for May. E. R. Pelton, Publisher, New York.

We seek advice in difficulties; but in common speech we are apt to confound it with admonition.—Charles Lamb.

Religious Intelligence.

We specially invite News from all quarters for this Department.

The Annual Scheme of Collections in the Synod of North Carolina is as follows:

January—General Assembly's Home Missions.

February and August—Presbyterial Home Missions.

March—Publication and Colportage.

April — Education — (one collection Church and Christian Education).

May and October—Foreign Missions.

Third Sabbath in October for Bible Cause.

June and September—Synodical Home Missions.

July—Invalid Fund.

Third Sunday in October—BibleCause.

November and April—Education for the Ministry.

December—ColoredEvangelization

THE ASSEMBLY'S FORM OF BEQUEST.

I do hereby give and bequeath to the Trustees of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States (popularly known as the Southern Presbyterian Church) the sum of .....Dollars for the benefit of [here name cause to which the legacy is given.]

CHANGES OF ADDRESS.

Correspondents will please note the following changes of address:

Rev. Hugh Roderick Murchison, from Columbia, S. C., to Bamberg, S. C.

Rev. James A. Dorritee, from Columbia, S. C., to 622 College Street, Charlotte, N. C.

Rev. W. R. Minter, from Columbia, S. C. to Laurens, S. C., temporarily.

Rev. L. H. Query, from Hampden Sidney, Va., to Query's, N. C.

Mr. S L. Cathey, from Hampden Sidney, Va., to Attapulgus, Ga., temporarily.

Mr Samuel S. Oliver, from Hampden Sidney, Va., to Madison, N. C., for the summer.

NORTH CAROLINA.

First Church, Wilmington:—On last Sabbath at the regular communion services, three persons were received into the membership of the church, two upon profession and one by letter.

Dr. Hoge announced that between forty and fifty acceptances had been received from the members of the General Assembly to the invitation of this church to spend next Sabbath in Wilmington, if it is practicable for them to do so. The party will arrive in the city in time for a trip to the coast on Saturday afternoon, returning to Charlotte on Monday afternoon. The Presbyterians of Wilmington are looking forward with much pleasure to this occasion.

Mallard Creek Church:—Five persons have been received from the Sunday-school and two upon certificate from the Methodist and Baptist churches. This church is faithfully served by Rev. Roger Martin.

Wilson:—Our Synodical Evangelist, Rev. Wm. Black, was here recently, and did us all good. Seven adults were added to our church, and there will be others to join our communion. J. T.

Asheville:—A most interesting account of the Children's Missionary Society of the First church is given in our Open Door Department.

Church Organization at China Grove:—The commission appointed at the last meeting of Concord Presbytery, consisting of Revs. C. A. Munroe, W. M. Shaw, J. A. Harris and Elders A. F. Goodman, D. F. Cannon and J. S. Lafferty, M. D., to organize a church at China Grove, Rowan county, met on Wednesday, May 12th, and organized a church there with twenty six members. Several others will present certificates at an early day and several will be received on profession of faith. Dr. A. J. Crowell and J Frank Miller were elected ruling elders, and J. A. Shim, John F. Miller and J. B. Goodmight were elected deacons. The new church will be known as the China Grove Presbyterian church.

This little band have gone to work in earnest and have raised quite a nice sum to erect a church building. They have had donated to them a beautiful site for a church lot. They have appointed a building committee, and expect soon to have a nice church and Sunday-school room ready to worship in, cost to be about $2,000. They meet in a nice large academy for the present. Bro. Black will be with them and hold a week's meeting including the fifth Sunday. They have a good live set of officers and an earnest people to hold up their hands and we believe this will be a prosperous church. May the blessing of God rest upon them. Rev. J. A. Harris of Thyatira and Back Creek churches will minister to them until other arrangements can be made.

J. S. LAFFERTY.

In addition to the above we have received another interesting account of the organization of the China Grove church, from which we take the following appeal:

The China Grove Presbyterians and their sympathizing friends have determined to raise and build a large, convenient and elegant house of worship. A building committee of five interested, active, energetic young men have been appointed. Dr. A. J. Crowell is Chairman and will take great pleasure in receiving and receipting for contributions to this greatly to be desired and much needed building. We love to help those who help themselves. These people have done this. Although few in number and the most of them poor in this world's goods, yet they have raised over $600 among themselves for this work.

A word to the liberal as well as the wise is sufficient.

C. A. M.

Siler Church:—Three members received into Siler church, under care of Rev. H. W. Hoon on May 9th.

First Church, Charlotte:—The window presented by the commercial travellers to the memory of Rev. Dr. Preston was unveiled on last Sabbath. Mr. W. H. G. Belt, of Baltimore, made the presentation address, the pastor, Rev. Dr. Howerton, accepting the gift. A large number of commercial travellers were in attendance, and the services were presided over by one of their number, Mr. W. W. Watt. The services were most impressive. An address was made by Rev. J. W. Stagg and prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Moses Hoge.

Caswell, Black River and Oak Plains:—The May communions in the three churches under the care of Rev. K. McDonald have been held with the following results: At Caswell we had a very impressive service on Sabbath just before communion, the installation and ordination of two elders, viz: Dr. George F. Lucas and Mr. A. C. Moore, and Mr. C. C. Murphy installed and ordained deacon. Two were received by letter. The church is now in good working condition and well officered.

At Black River church we had Bro. Wakefield with us. His preaching did us much good because of its Scripturalness and of its simple and plain reasoning. We all enjoyed his stay among us very much. While there were no additions to the church we feel that much good has been accomplished.

At Oak Plains Bro. Robert Williams was with us and gave us a very fine lecture Sunday morning which we enjoyed. We bespeak for him success in the ministry for which he is undoubtedly fitted. Thus ended our May communions. May the Lord add his blessing.

VIRGINIA.

Presbytery of Montgomery:—At an adjourned meeting on the 18th of May at Roanoke City, the resignation of Rev. J. C. Dinwiddie, as pastor of Bethany church at Roanoke City was accepted and the pastoral relation dissolved, and the same action was taken as to relations of Rev. P. B. Price as pastor of Buchanan church and stated supply of Carmel and Rich Patch. Rev. W. A. Hall, of Rocky Mount, Franklin county, accepted the call of Bon Brook church in same county for one fourth of his time; installation first Sabbath in August. Arrangements were made to print the address on Westminster Standards delivered at stated meeting in April.

Alexandria:—On the evening of May 18th, the congregation of the Second Presbyterian church tendered a most delightful reception to the new pastor, Rev. J. Ernest Thacker and his wife. The church was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and potted plants and the pulpit was banked with palms. Mr. K. Kemper was master of ceremonies and made an address of welcome for the congregation, telling how eminently satisfied the entire congregation is with the new pastorate, and that, in extending a hearty welcome to Mr. Thacker, he was speaking for each individual in the church, as Mr. Thacker was fast winning the hearts of the people and commanding their respect and admiration as a pulpit speaker. Rev. Dr. Butler of the Baptist church gave a hearty welcome for the ministry of the city. The musical programme that followed was highly interesting. Three new members were received into the church, May 16th.

(Continued on 14th page.)

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

(Continued from 4th page.)

SECOND DAY.

Friday, May 21st.

After the devotional exercises the standing committees were announced as follows:

Bills and Overtures: R Q Mallard, S A King, A W Milster, L B Johnston, A S Doak, B McShire, S G Miller, J G Richards, E H Buchanan, James Hemphill, H M D Martin, Geo Howard, J F Kennedy, W S Neely.

Judicial: S M Neel, R A Mickel, R M Hammock, J M W Elder, J D Thomas, J M Smith, J G Herndon, A C Howze, J W Offut, J O Perry, L A Hill, D Askew, Samuel Davis, W Hethorn.

Home Missions: Robert Price, J H Wiggins, J D A Brown, S W Davies, F D Hunt, W S Porter, H T Graham, J B Hutton, E Mack, W McPheeters, L B McCrary, J W Crawford, H D Peden, A C McAlister, J A James, E M Williamson.

Foreign Missions: F R Beattie, A B Curry, W B Arrowood, S C Alexander, Daniel Blain, R S Brown, E M Munroe, C D Gilkeson, C H Kemper, W T Shannon, B R Welford, J Shillinglaw, E L Slagle, S J Andrews, W M Graybill, George Perkins, R W Santos, J L McLees

Education: R L Dabney, H T Darnall, W P Hemphill, J C Malloy, W V Frierson, A B Coit, C P Foreman, D Patterson, O E Johnson, Jr., J L Roxburgh, A G Neel, W W Simpson, J P McLure.

Publication: A W Pitzer, G G Woodbridge, J K Hall, H M Parker, A A McGeachy, J T Rothrock, L S Newman, J M Hodgson, J M Scott, C W Alexander, W P Weed, R H M Davidson, W S Forsyth.

Colored Evangelization: J W Bachman, A R Cocke, T M Hunter, J A McLees, M A Kerr, H S Bradshaw, W R Wilson, T H Stall, J G Hall, J D Crenshaw, C W Dorsey, A Mays.

Home and School: R C Reed, A W Cranford, W B Bingham, T H Newkirk, C A B Jennings, J H Gwinn, G W Nickel, W W Kerr, B W Powell, J L Hine, F M Stites.

Sabbath Schools: R K Smoot, H H Newman, J C Tate, C M Richards, T M McCorkle, J M Hoskins, S E Welch, H A Chambers, J I Ross.

Theological Seminaries: J W Walden, J D Dean, J J Hill, R F Patterson, W M McAlister, James McCutchen, H L Caldwell.

Systematic Beneficence: T M McConnell, J L R Walker, J F Pharr, J W Bird, W B Stinson.

Narrative: J Calvin Stewart, H G Griswold, R H Adams, Eugene Johnson, Henry Ginder.

Bible Cause: W A Wood, W T Overstreet, J M Holladay, F C Eaton, J H Anderson.

Leave of Absence: W McF Alexander, A Mayes, C L Stewart, J L Cunningham, R E McWilliams.

Auditing Committee: J D Taylor, Foster Harper, F H Curtis.

Devotional Exercises: R Z Johnston, A A Little, J C McLauchlin.

Foreign Correspondence: M D Hoge, J B Shearer, J C Oehler, D A McRae, E D Washburne, J C Parham, W W Watts, F S Hall.

Synodical Records: Alabama—S C Alexander, H S Stanley. Arkansas—M F Alexander, J M Dent. Florida—C L Stewart, J W Blue Georgia—W T Overstreet, E S Mayes. Kentucky—J M Holladay, P Pelham. Memphis—F D Hunt, J W Mourning. Mississippi—J F Pharr, H McDowell. Missouri—C A B Jennings L G W Albright. Nashville—T M Hunter, J F Murdock. North Carolina—A S Doak, J R Guy. South Carolina—A A Little, Giles Dook. Texas—M H Kerr, J K Peck. Virginia—C M Richards, E P Matthews.

The following overtures were presented and properly referred:

Lafayette Presbytery: To direct the committee to prepare topics for the use of Westminster League; to give topics each month to the subject of missions.

Lafayette: To fix the term of service of its stated and permanent clerks at four years, taking the first election at its meeting at Charlotte.

Memphis: Disapproving of Sunday newspapers and asking that appropriate action be taken by the Assembly.

Knoxville: Asking that sending of Presbyterial blanks as at present printed be discontinued.

South Carolina: To make certain changes in Rules of Discipline to make the rules consistent with each other and to the principle that the courts are parties in cases of process, and that when a matter is transferred from an inferior to a superior court, it is not the inferior court that is transferred, but only the cause."

Nashville: Touching changes in blanks for Sunday-schools.

West Lexington: Inquiring if women may occupy our pulpits to lecture or make addresses to mixed audiences—and whether ministers may read from their pulpits notices of such addresses.

Dallas: Asking reversal of action of last Assembly which decided that one ruling elder does not constitute a session when a church has but one elder.

Suwanee: Overture similar to above.

Tuskaloosa: Asking that in view of the action of last Assembly, as above stated, that an overture making provision for such a case, be sent down to the Presbyteries.

Dallas: To revise form for narratives so as to remove ambiguity or obscurity.

Columbia: On the above general subject.

New Orleans: Asking for changes in sessional blanks.

Augusta: To dispense with stated fall meeting of Presbyteries, as unimportant.

Memphis: To transfer the Oak Grove church, in Chickasaw Presbytery, to the Presbytery of Tombeckbee in Mississippi Synod.

Suwanee: Overture touching hymnology.

Winchester: To revise the questions which the sessions use in making annual reports.

Winchester: To secure uniformity in statistical reports.

Fayetteville: To order the preparation and a pamphlet on the Home Mission work of our Church, where to be published and distributed.

Louisville: In reference to getting statistics from all churches in foreign lands.

Columbia: Touching a visit of secretary of Foreign Missions to China, at the 30th anniversary of the China mission.

Columbia: Regarding salary of the incoming secretary of Foreign Missions.

East Hanover: Asking interpretation of section of Book of Church Order in regard to the dismissal of minister from one church in Presbytery to another.

Abingdon: Asking whether an organization without elders can properly be enrolled as a church.

An overture was received from Rev. W. Red of Houston, Texas, asking in these deliverance as to the interpretation to be given the words "inspiration" and "inspired" as used in our standards.

A memorial from Rev. S. F. Tenney on the subject of the colored church was referred to the committee on Education.

No discussion arose on the overtures as presented until one signed by members of the Prohibition party of North Carolina was presented. As soon as Dr. Wiggins began reading the paper Dr. Smoot moved that the communication be returned to the party or parties on the ground that the Assembly cannot receive communications from non-ecclesiastical bodies.

Rev. F. D. Hunt thought it but courtesy to hear the paper, and Dr. Bachman moved that it and all papers not coming from Presbyteries be referred without reading. Mr. Hunt opposed this and thought the subject of temperance a proper one to come before the Assembly and all respectful papers ought to be heard. Dr. Shearer thought courtesy required the reading. Dr. Smoot withdrew his motion in favor of Dr. Bachman's—to refer without reading. Mr. Hunt and Dr. Neel concurred in protesting against not reading.

Dr. Bachman's motion was lost, and the paper was read. Dr. Smoot moved that it be returned to its presentors as a political paper. It was referred to the committee on Bills and Overtures.

At noon Dr. T. D. Witherspoon delivered an address—A Description of the Westminster Assembly—Its Personnel, Proceedings and Place of Meeting.

The night session was directed to the Exposition of the Presbyterian Faith as derived from the Scriptures and formulated in the Westminster Standards. As it could not be read by Dr. Dabney, Dr. R. C. Reed read it; Dr. Dabney sitting by him as he did so.

THIRD DAY.

Saturday, May 22nd.

After devotional exercises Rev. Dr. Moses D. Hoge, appointed by the Executive Committee of the Alliance of the Reformed churches for that service bore the fraternal greetings of the Alliance to the Assembly and read the annual report before the Committee. The report was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

Dr. Mallard from the Committee on Bills and Overtures, reported favorably on overture from Memphis Presbytery to transfer Oak Grove church, in Chickasaw Presbytery, to the Presbytery of Tombeckbee, Mississippi Synod. It was granted

The following questions were embraced in the overture from West Lexington:

"Shall our pulpits be occupied by women to lecture or make addresses to mixed audiences of men and women?" "Shall the ministers of the Presbytery read from their pulpits notices of such lectures and addresses to be made in other churches?" Answer: "The General Assembly respectfully answers the first question in the negative. As to the second, it considers it inadvisable to advertise from the pulpits women lecturers and addresses before mixed audiences."

A motion to amend so as to say "that it is improper to advertise lectures of women from the pulpit" was lost by a rising vote 78 to 49.

The overture led to a discussion in which Dr. Pitzer and Dr. Neely opposed and Dr. Walden and Dr. Smoot vigorously advocated it, until the time for order of the day arrived. In the afternoon the discussion was resumed by Dr. Smoot. Dr. Pitzer defended his position in favor of missionary women addressing the churches. Dr. Walden responded.

Dr. F. R. Beattie offered as a substitute for the overture:

"That in reply to the overture, the Assembly refers Presbytery to former clear deliverances which settle principles, and should guide us in all our Church sessions and our procedure."

After further discussion on motion to recommit the paper the substitute was adopted by a vote of 71 to 62.

Dr. McLean of the American Bible Society introduced by Dr. Moses D. Hoge addressed the Assembly in behalf of the Bible Cause. In answer to a question Dr. McLean said the Presbyterian Church takes the lead in contributions to this cause.

Dr. Eugene Daniel delivered the Westminster address, the subject being: "Polity and Worship"—Emphasizing their Relations to the Doctrine. Dr. Palmer had been appointed to deliver this address, but failing sight precluded his doing so.

The Committee on Overtures and Bills replied to the communication from the president and secretary of the Prohibition party of North Carolina: "We are forbidden to intermeddle with political parties or questions, and the constant and Scriptural attitude of our beloved Church on temperance and intemperance is shown in past deliverances on record in Alexander's Digest, pages 365 and 366."

Dr. Smoot moved to table. Lost by a vote of 72 to 50. On motion of Rev. F. D. Hunt the deliverance of 1886 was appended to the answer.

FOURTH DAY.

May 24th.

After devotional exercises the committee on the Sabbath reported.

Invitations were received from Richmond and from New Orleans for the next meeting of the Assembly. The latter accompanied by a letter from the venerable Dr. Palmer praying its acceptance.

The Assembly after considerable discussion on the overture from LaFayette Presbytery asking that the terms of clerks of the Assembly be fixed at four years—approved by the committee on Bills and Overtures adopted a substitute, offered by Dr. Reed, "that the suggested change is inexpedient.

The committe on Publication reported on the report of the secretary and also on several overtures. On that of Knoxville stating that the Presbytery was under misapprehension as to the sending out blanks that are out of date, for statistical reports. In reply to the overtures requesting change in form of blanks for narratives, they present a new form. They report declining overture of Fayetteville Presbytery asking for publication of a pamphlet on Home Missions State in answer to LaFayette Presbytery asking for publication of topics for Westminster Leagues that the present publications of our Church are sufficient. In answer to overture of Winchester Presbytery declines to direct Presbyteries as to the order in which they shall enroll the names of ministers. The report was docketed.

At noon Dr. Strickler addressed the Assembly on "The Nature, Value and Special Utility of the Catechisms."

The Assembly by invitation spent three hours at Davidson in the afternoon. Addresses were made by Dr. M. D. Hoge and Dr. Walter W. Moore. The ladies served refreshments. The time was delightfully spent.

At night Dr. Tadlock addressed the Assembly taking as his subject: "The Churches That Hold the Westminster Symbols, and the Reformed Churches Generally—Their Point of Contact and Contrast; Their Present Relations, Work and Outlook."

The following resolution of thanks was adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of the General Assembly are hereby tendered Rev. J. B. Shearer, D. D., the faculty and students of Davidson College for the generous and hospitable treatment accorded the Assembly in connection with the delightful outing this day enjoyed, for whose inception and conduct we are indebted to them, and that we further assure them of our hearty interest in the splendid Presbyterian school and our earnest prayer that its future may be even more glorious than its noble past."

A Wife Equal to a Gold Mine.

Will some of your readers give me a good recipe for making a cold starch? I am selling self-heating flatirons and iron a little at every house and have to use starch every place and want to know how to make a good cold starch. My husband was in debt and I being anxious to help him thought I would sell self-heating flatirons and I am doing splendidly. A cent's worth of fuel will heat the iron for 3 hours, so you have a perfectly even heat. You can iron in half the time and no danger of scorching the clothes, as with the old iron, and you can get the most beautiful gloss. I sell at nearly every house, as the iron saves so much fuel everybody wants one. I make $1.50 on each iron and have not sold less than ten any day I worked. My brother is doing well and I think anyone can make lots of money anywhere selling irons. J. F. CASSEY & CO., St. Louis, Mo., will start anyone in the business, as they did me, if you will address them. MRS. A. RUSSELL.

ROGER MOORE,

104 NORTH WATER STREET

WILMINGTON, N. C.,

Has for sale Common and Repressed Brick, Lime, Rosendale Cement, Portland Cement, Fire Brick and Fire Clay Vitrified Sewerpipes, Agricultural Lime, Land Plaster, Roofing Felt and Sheathing Paper, Shingles, Sawed and Rived, Aluminite, Calsom Wall Finish, Paints, Oils, &c. Agent for The Styron Fence, Composed of Juniper Pickets and Galvanized Bessemer Steel Fence Wire. One of the cheapest and most durable of fences.

☞ Orders Solicited.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

EDUCATION IN GERMANY.

BY T. W. LINGLE.

I am sure there is no true American who regards it as showing a lack of patriotism to appreciate what is good and noble in other people. An American student in a foreign land is, bound to see many things that he wonders at, though on the whole there are few, if any, other countries that offer such opportunities and the enjoyment of so many free institutions as the United States of America. Yet there are many nations that surpass our own in the general education of the people. Of all the lands of the world it is in Germany that the public school, the college, the university, the conservatory of music, and the academy of art have recorded their completest success,

The common school is of all public institutions the one that most affects the great masses of the people. A striking observation to be made is the extent to which public education is encouraged in Protestant lands as compared with Catholic countries. In so-called "enlightened" France 9½ per cent of the population past the age for entering school are unable to read or write, in Austro-Hungary 27 per cent, Italy 42 per cent, while in European Russia and the Balkan States only one-fifth of the people are capable of recognizing their own name when written. These facts become astonishing when we observe that right in the midst of these countries is situated the German empire, more densely populated as a whole than either of the countries mentioned except Italy, and inferior to France in wealth, with a people of whom only one-half of one per cent are illiterates. In the eastern part of Germany just on the Austrian frontier is the little kingdom of Saxony with an area of 5,846 square miles, with people huddled together at an average of 641 to the mile. But the public school has scored such a success in Saxony that only one-fifth of one per cent of the people are illiterate. The most common-place street-sweeper, or workman in a factory, or peasant with his oxen is capable of reading his newspaper. It is usually the poorer class of Germans that emigrate to America, yet according to President Cleveland's last message to Congress only 2 per cent of these emigrants were illiterate, while between a half and three-fourths of the Italian, Portuguese and Austrian emigrant could not read their own language.

Such figures as these are more nearly approached in Scandinavian countries and in England and Scotland of course than in any other portions of the world. In the United States such progressive sections as New York and Illinois have an illiterate population of more than 5 per cent, while the proportion in some of the Southern States rises to a fourth and even to a third of the entire population. Owing to the fact that America is a new country and has vast natural resources of every kind, the people of the United States with an enterprising genuine English spirit, have surpassed the world in nearly all practical demands. In Europe the case is entirely different. The natural resources of the country have been drawn on for thousands of years and to some extent exhausted. The population is so dense that the great masses of the people must forever remain in very humble circumstances. Labor is cheap and competition keen at every hand. Under such hard circumstances the nation that educates the great masses of her people comes to the front. As a result the name of Germany has become synonymous with "the home of learning" throughout the world, and her institutions are frequented by students from every quarter of the globe. The military discipline of the German army is imitated in nearly every land that maintains soldiers. Her manufactures and foreign trade even with British colonies, have increased at such a rate during the last decades that English merchants are almost compelled to share with the Germans their supremacy in the commercial world. They are enabled to hold firmly under one government whole provinces in which the German blood and language are almost entirely wanting. It was not the genius of General von Moltke alone, but rather the faithful work of the humble school teachers in the different German states that in 1866 and again in 1870-1 wrested such magnificent victories from the armies of Austria and of France as those at Sadowa and Sedan, and established Bismark at the head of a mighty empire as dictator of peace to the nations of Europe.

Among the fifty-two million people in Germany there is a school on the average for every 874 persons. Out of every hundred people there are sixteen in school. In every peasant village, even in mountain districts, the children are seen in the morning gathering into the school-house. One hundred and six thousand men and 14,000 women are engaged in teaching in these schools. A much larger sum of money is spent on public education than on the army; while in Russia for every $8 spent on the army only $1 is devoted to public schools.

Each town of any importance has its "gymnasium" (high school and college combined) preparing students for the universities. These gymnasiums are as numerous as really first-class high schools or academies in America. But strange to say, the higher education of women here comes to an end and no further provision is made for them. In all Germany there are only three gymnasiums for women (In Berlin, Leipzig and Carlsruhe) in which the curriculum is of a high order, preparing for work in the universities. In nearly all the German universities women are permitted to attend lectures, with the consent of the individual professor, but German women are prevented from taking degrees. In Gottingen and Heidelberg the regulations of the university permit only foreign women to take their doctor's degree on the same conditions as men. The demand for equal privileges for the sexes is of course growing at all institutions.

At the twenty universities of Germany (sometimes erroneously said to be twenty-two) there are to-day about 27,000 German and 2,000 foreign students, of whom over 400 are from the United States. There are no separate medical colleges or theological seminaries, but all subjects of study are comprehended under four faculties in each of the universities, theology, medicine, law and philosophy (which includes languages, science, etc.) The population of Germany as compared with that of the United States is in the ratio of 5 to 7. However, the statement may be ventured that there are in the United States not more than 10,000 students engaged in university work, if we mean by universe students all who have graduated a first-class literary college and now regular students in a theological seminary, medical college some other professional school, or the graduate department of a university, as this is what is meant by university student in Germany. other lands it has become impossi to pursue advanced studies with reference to the remarkable researc work of German professors in ev branch of study, and even in Am ican universities the reading of G man books with readiness is ind pensable to every student who sires to come to the front in scho ship. The city of Leipzig has come the center of the publish business and book trade of the w and without a rival for 150 years no other country are books so pl ful and so cheap as in Germany.

This is also the home of music of art. Only in Vienna and P have the music and the art sch reached such a high standard of cellence as in Germany. In Dres Munich, Leipzig, Berlin, Wei Stuttgart and a number of ot cities are schools of music that own far-famed New England C servatory in Boston cannot eq In Munich, Dresden, Berlin, D seldorf, Carlsruhe and elsewhere academies of art with which n ing in America can compare. T institutions are crowded with lo of art and of music from all enli ened lands. The theatre and o are directed and controlled by government and are great educa of the people. The galleries paintings and of sculpture equal or surpass even the New Metropolitan Museum in Cen Park can be numbered almost

ARMSTRONG & McKELVY Pittsburgh.
BEYMER-BAUMAN Pittsburgh.
DAVIS-CHAMBERS Pittsburgh.
FAHNESTOCK Pittsburgh.
ANCHOR } Cincinnati.
ECKSTEIN }
ATLANTIC } New York.
BRADLEY }
BROOKLYN }
JEWETT }
ULSTER }
UNION }
SOUTHERN } Chicago.
SHIPMAN }
COLLIER } St. Louis.
MISSOURI }
RED SEAL }
SOUTHERN }
JOHN T. LEWIS & BROS CO. Philadelphia.
MORLEY Cleveland.
SALEM Salem, Mass.
CORNELL Buffalo.
KENTUCKY Louisville.

THERE is no getting away from the fact that Pure White Lead (see list of brands which are genuine) and Pure Linseed Oil make the best paint.

Properly applied, it will not chip, chalk or scale off, but will outwear any of the mixtures offered as substitutes. It is, therefore, by far the most economical.

FREE By using National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors, any desired shade is readily obtained. Pamphlet giving valuable information and card showing samples of colors free, also cards showing pictures of twelve houses of different designs painted in various styles or combinations of shades forwarded upon application to those intending to paint.

National Lead Co., 1 Broadway, New York.

the score here, in a little empire exceeded in size by our one State of Texas, by an area as large as England and Wales combined. Very excellent music may be heard occasionally in several of the great cities of America, but the cost is so great that the masses of the people cannot afford to enjoy it. Here as fine music as the world is capable of producing may be enjoyed every week even by the poor, it is so very inexpensive. The result is that the average German has an appreciation and fondness for music that the Englishman or American who comes over simply cannot comprehend. The business man will leave his office or place of business to hear concerts and motettes every week, when an American man would declare that he was too busy and had no time. There he finds the workingman, the student and all other classes crowding in with the same eagerness as himself. Even in the small towns and peasant villages, though good classic music is not to be had, still the people must have music of some kind, and some German martial airs or other music of that grade may be heard almost any evening.

Many ways can be pointed out in which Anglo-Saxon civilization is inferor to any European civilization, still it must be acknowledged that the development of the instinct of the average person to such an appreciation of music and, in many cases, of art also, is no mean attainment. But it must be remembered, when we acknowledge German superiority in education and the fine arts, that America is still in her infancy. In only a century the American people have outstripped the world in the utilitarian demands. As Senator Douglas of Illinois once said in Washington, when we have time we will excell also in the ornamental

Kaiser Wilhelm's University,
Strassburg in Elsass, Germany.
May 4th, 1897.

CONVERTS IN CHILDHOOD.

Many of the brightest lights in the history of Christianity have been converted in early life. Adam Clarke, the commentator, was converted at four years of age. His influence will shine in the moral heavens while the sun shines in the natural heavens. Alfred Cookman, the great revivalist, was converted at ten years of age. He will shine in the kingdom of God as the stars in the firmament of heaven for ever and ever, and thousands will rise in the judgment and call him blessed. Isaac Watts, the great poet, was converted at the age of nine years. Robert Hall was converted at twelve, Jonathan Edwards at seven and William Penn at nine.—Ex.

The soul that knows the sweetness of His presence and His face shining on it will account no place nor condition hard, providing it may be refreshed with that; as the saints have been in caves and dungeons enjoying more of that light in those times, when other comforts have been abridged. Then they have had a beam from heaven into their souls in their darkest dungeon worth far more than the light of the sun, and all the advantages the world can afford.

Fifty Years Ago.

President Polk in the White House chair,
While in Lowell was Doctor Ayer;
Both were busy for human weal
One to govern and one to heal.
And, as a president's power of will
Sometimes depends on a liver-pill,
Mr. Polk took Ayer's Pills I trow
For his liver, 50 years ago.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills

were designed to supply a modal purgative to people who had so long injured themselves with griping medicines. Being carefully prepared and their ingredients adjusted to the exact necessities of the bowels and liver, their popularity was instantaneous. That this popularity has been maintained is well marked in the medal awarded these pills at the World's Fair 1893.

50 Years of Cures.

Good Goods--Low Prices,

Flour, Meat, Sugar, Salt, Meal, Molasses, Coffee, Peanuts, Cheese, Crackers, Snuff, Tobacco.

Consignments of Cotton, Naval Stores and all Country Produce will receive careful attention.

Hall & Pearsall,

Wholesale Grocers & Com. Merchant
Corner Nutt and Muiberry Sts.

PEACE INSTITUTE FOR YOUNG LADIES, RALEIGH, N. C.

This Institute offers thorough collegiate courses in English, History, Literature, Mathematics, Sciences, Ancient and Modern Languages, Music, Art, Elocution and Physical Culture.

As to its high standard for graduation, its thoroughness of instruction, its moderate charges for the advantages offered, and the extent of its courses in Art and Music, this Institute cannot be surpassed.

It offers also thorough preparatory courses. Correspondence solicited.

Board and English Tuition One Year $200.

For illustrated catalogue and full particulars, address the Principal,
JAS. DINWIDDIE, M. A., University of Virginia.
Term begins Sept. 16th, 1896. Closes first of June.

The Normal & Collegiate Institute

For Young Women.

ASHEVILLE, N. C. SPRING TERM OPENING FEB. 1st. 1897.

OFFERS TO THE STUDENTS:

1. A Classical Course, including Ancient and Modern Languages, Science, Music, Drawing, etc.
2. A Normal Course for the thorough training of Teachers under instructors from the best Normal Schools.
3. Commercial Course, including Stenography, Type-writing, Book-keeping, etc.
4. Domestic Science, including Scientific Cooking, Draughting, Cutting, Fitting and Making of garments.

Systematic study of the Bible in all departments.

Terms for Board and Tuition in any of the departments, $50 per term, or half school year.

☞For catalogue, address

Rev. Thos. Lawrence, D. D
Asheville, N. C.

Cluster Springs High School

(On Lynchburg and Durham R. R., six miles from N. C. line)

BLACK WALNUT, VIRGINIA.

For boys and young men. A well equipped high school at a most pleasant, accessible, and healthful location. Lithia, sulphur, iron, and pure waters. Good buildings and improved school equipments. Swimming Pool, Gymnasium, and Athletic Field. Special attention to manners and development of character. Thorough instruction. Three teachers. Prepares for college or for business. Our certificates admit to college. Tuition and home $—— Our catalogue tell all about it. Address,

REV. T. S. WILSON, President,
or E. L. BARNES, A. B., Principal

A. D. BROWN,

Successor to Brown & Roddick,

29 NORTH FRONT STREET, WILMINGTON, N. C.

IMPORTER OF FINE

DRY GOODS AND CARPETS,

ORIENTAL AND DOMESTIC RUGS,

"WARNER'S CORSETS," "HER MAJESTY'S CORSETS,"

"THOMPSON'S GLOVE FITTING CORSETS," "R & G" AND "FERRIS" CORSETS.

"FOSTER" KID GLOVES, "KAYSER" SILK GLOVES.

"HUDNUT'S" EXQUISITE TOILET REQUISITES.

Mail Orders Given Special Attention.

Sabbath School Dep't.

CONDUCTED BY REV. A. D. McCLURE.

Second Quarter—Lesson X.

June 6, 1897.—James iii. 1-13.

Commit to memory verses 11-13.

Subject. Sins of The Tongue.

Golden Text. "Keep thy tongue from evil and thy lips from speaking guile." Psalm xxxiv. 13.

CATECHISM.

Question 43. What is the preface to the ten commandments?

Answer. The preface to the ten commandments is in these words, I am the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

Time. Between A. D. 45 and 63.

Place. Written at Jerusalem.

INTRODUCTORY.

It is well to read the book of James through at one time to get a view of it as a whole before studying the part of this lesson. It will appear to be, as it is, not a collection of practical directions, but a perfectly systematic treatise, with order and completeness and perfection. It is the initial Epistle of the New Testament. It presents the initial faith of the New Testament. It is an Epistle of faith. It presents not a structure like the Mosaic dispensation, perfect at once at the beginning, and to grow worse, but life with its potentialities, promise and possibilities. This life must have growth, and time for growth. The faith of the Lord Jesus Christ must be a righteous faith, and a working faith. It must be a faith which controls the tongue. Language is a great exponent of human character. There is no power like the power of language. If we could write everything a man has said from infancy to old age we could measure the man's character and growth, and know his characteristics and calculate his power and importance. "By thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned." So I condense a lecture of Dr. Weston.

LESSON NOTES.

Vs. 1. My brethren, Christian Jews and men like Himself, human, and subject to like temptation. Be not many masters, school-masters, teachers not warned against teaching or training or helping or comforting others, but against doing this as tyrants to rule rather than serve, for helpfulness rather than for honor. We shall receive greater condemnation by a fall from a greater height, if we err, or make mistakes or teach wrong doctrine, or guide into wrong ways by not having humility to bow and docility to be taught by the Highest. The last place to be desired is the one greater or larger than we can fill.

Vs. 2. For in many things we offend all. We all do this, and do it in many things. We all stumble or err or fail of perfection. Mr. Spurgeon says "I never did see a perfect horse or a perfect man. Every head has a soft place in it, and every heart has its black drop. Every rose has its prickles and every day its night. Even the sun shows spots." If any man offends not, (does not stumble or cause others to stumble, or is not tripped up), in word, the same is a perfect man, he is "no longer a babe, but an adult, a full and complete man, with perfect command of all the faculties of soul and body."—Alfred Plummer, D. D. "The whole body is used to sum up the aggregate of all the temptations which come to us through the avenues of sense." Cambridge Bible.

Vs. 3. We put bits in the horses' mouths. This is an illustration. The bit is a small thing compared with the size of the horse, yet in the horse's mouth we can govern the horse with it. So, a man who can bridle his tongue can govern his whole nature.

Vs. 4. Turned about with a very small helm: another illustration of the ship turned by the rudder so much smaller than the ship, shows how small a thing, as the tongue, may turn the body. Governor: Steersman. Listeth means willeth. Dr. Deems wrote: "More than scepters and swords, more than bayonets and cannon, more than steam and electricity, is one human tongue."

Vs. 5. Boasted great things. The tongue claims, and truthfully, that it can do great things, for good or for evil. Behold how great a matter a little fire kindleth. The city of Portland, Maine, was laid in ashes from a fire kindled by a firecracker on a Fourth of July. The burning of Chicago came of a fire kindled by a cow kicking over a lamp in a stable.

Vs. 6. The tongue is a fire. It can kindle a great amount of evil, destroy much good, and inflict great pain or injury. A world of iniquity, a little world of evil in itself. All kinds of evil that are in the world are exhibited there in miniature. The amount of iniquity is vast, the kinds of iniquity are various, innumerable.

Vs. 7. Hath been tamed. So every nature of beasts, birds, serpents, has been tamed in the first or second generation.

Vs. 8. But the tongue, his own or others, can no man tame. It can be tamed only by making the heart right.

Vs. 9. Therewith bless....curse. It has a double power according to what controls or inspires it.

Vs. 10. The same mouth: the same kind of mouth, or of the same person. "Te Deums chanted at an Auto da Fe."

Vs. 11. Doth a fountain? Yet a mouth may send forth sweet water and bitter.

Vs 12. Can the figtree....bear olive-berries? So every heart will bear fruit according to its nature.

Vs. 13. Who is wise? Let each test himself and show the fruit of wisdom.

PRACTICAL POINTS.

1. "We are never to forget the 'tongue' includes 'the pen.'"—Deems.

2. "It is by restraining the mouth, the tongue, that man obtains and keeps control over the animal nature.—Professor Johnstone.

3. "The apostle probably had in his mind the two great causes of difficulty in the way of man's bridling his whole body, the power of natural perversity and the power of temptation."—Johnstone.

Let Christ rule the heart and He will bridle the tongue.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

Lesson for week ending Sunday, June 6th, 1897.

BY REV. B. E. WALLACE.

The Tongue as a Christian's Tool Exod. 4:1-17.

Text for the week:

The tongue of the wise useth knowledge aright. Prov. 15:2.

Daily Readings:

Monday, Judging Vanity. Jas. 4:11-17.
Tuesday, A little member. Jas. 3:1-12.
Wednesday, A timid tongue. Jer. 1:1-10.
Thursday, A gracious tongue Luke 4:16-22.
Friday, A cautious tongue. Ecct. 5:1-7
Saturday, Inspired tongues. Matt. 10:16-23.
Sunday, Topic. Exod. 4:1-17.

Suggestions for Leaders:

1. Let this be a temperance meeting.

2. Let some one answer, why can no man tame the tongue?

3. Call for personal incidents to the mischief of the tongue.

4. Call for volunteers to use the tongue always as the Peacemaker's tongue.

Notes:

This is a subject that speaks to us The tongue is a power. The unregenerate tongue is a power of hell.

The regenerate is a power of Heaven. The tongue of slander and strife is in the children of the devil, and the tongue of the peace-maker is in the children of God. The unregenerate tongue is set on fire of hell, the regenerate tongue is set on fire of heaven. With the former we curse God and man, with the latter we bless God and man. The tongue more perfectly than any other member translates the thoughts of the heart. "Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh." Hence the importance of guarding it, taming it. James says, "The tongue can no man tame," but he does not say that the tongue can not be tamed. God can tame this "little member."

Now let us get a lesson. The tongue as the Christian's tool means the one God has tempered in the furnace of His love, one set on fire of Heaven, one translating the thoughts of a renewed heart, one speaking always the praises of God.

A church member's tongue is not always a Christian's tongue.

A tongue that speaks sweet words into your ear is not always from the peace-maker's heart.

Dear Christian, let your heart be filled with the fulness of God and your tongue will tell of His glory.

OPEN DOOR NOTES.

At the meeting of the Ladies' Foreign Missionary Society of the First church, Wilmington, held on the 18th, an exceedingly interesting account of the inception of the great student movement among missions was read by the President.

Letters were read from other missionaries.

A great pleasure and privilege of the meeting was the presence of Miss Spaulding, secretary of the Woman's Union, (Baptist) who at request kindly gave a talk on their work among the Cubans. She emphasized strongly the great importance of individual effort in Christianizing the world. All were deeply impressed with the loving devotion to the cause of this consecrated servant. Tea as usual was served.

With the opening of 1897 the name of the Children's Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church of Asheville was changed to that of The Young Gleaners. With the new name, came new officers, new plans and a new feeling of responsibility on the part of the members. Three of the gleaners were appointed for each month to prepare the programme, and plan for entertainment and refreshments. Instead of meeting once a month, the interest seemed to warrant holding meetings every two weeks, which has been done for several months.

The Gleaners supply several Sunday-schools regularly with papers, sending out about four hundred each month. These papers are obtained partly by encouraging the children to return their own papers after reading, and partly by gathering up the surplus each week after the Sunday-school has been supplied.

The Society is chiefly a Foreign Missionary Society, but being interested in the work to be done in the new Asheville Presbytery, $15 were given towards the building of a much needed church.

In February a Valentine Birthday Party was given, which the children enjoyed much in a social way, and at which $31.50 were contributed.

In March, a number of picture scrap-books and several hundred cards were sent to Mexico, and a number of Comfort Powders were prepared and taken to the hospital in Asheville.

April, with India for its subject and the terrible news from there, so aroused the sympathies of the Gleaners that they had bread tickets printed and by disposing of them have been able to send $30 to the famine sufferers.

The Gleaners are now about to organize a Little Light Bearers' Circle which will enroll the tiniest children from babyhood up to five years old, whose parents will give twenty-five cents a year to Foreign Missions in the name of the child.

With the different lines of special work, the regular contributions have not been forgotten and the society expects to have $15 ready to send next month to the regular Foreign Mission work of the church.

Best of all, the boys and girls are growing in interest in missions, in intelligence, regarding them and in the feeling that it is their privilege to have a part in all the great work of the Church and of the world.

FAYETTEVILE PRETBYTERY.

Fayetteville Presbytery stands adjourned to meet at Red Springs at 7 p. m., Monday, June 7th, 1897.

P. R. LAW,
Stated Clerk.

PUZZLE DEPARTMENT.

ANSWERS FOR MAY 13TH.

Grasshoppers, Lev. 11:22; Num. 13:33; Isa. 40:22; Ec. 12:5; Amos 7:1—Cornie and Myrtle Wilkinson, Willie C. Rose, Maggie Hall, Alex. M. McDonald.

Ancient looking glasses were made of metal chiefly copper, melted and cast in a circular form highly polished and attached to an ornamental handle—Cornie and Myrtle Wilkinson, Maggie Hall, Alex. M. McDonald.

Samothracia—Cornie and Myrtle Wilkinson, Maggie Hall, Alex. M. McDonald.

Word Square—Three Letters.

An affirmative.
Organ of sight.
Large body of water. H. T. C.

We find in the Bible only one street mentioned by name. Where and what is it? S. M.

Of whom was it said, "Died as a fool dieth?" Cornie Wilkinson.

How many brothers and sisters did Jesus have? Willie C. Rose.

DIED.

☞ We publish free 10 lines of Obituary Notices, of any kind—Tributes of Respect, Resolutions of Sabbath-schools, Ladies' Societies, &c. And we charge for over 10 lines at the rate of 10 cents per line. The cost may be calculated by counting the words in the manuscript, and allowing seven words to the line.

WICKER. At his home near Pocket, N. C., on May 11th, 1897. Mr. D. C. Wicker in his 46th or 47th year. The deceased was a valuable citizen, and a highly esteemed neighbor of very lovable disposition. We weep not as those who have no hope.

FOUSHEE. On May 19th, 1897, at her home in Sanford, N. C., Mrs. Anna Headen Foushee, in her 59th year. A good woman has gone to her reward. Her body was laid to rest in the beautiful old cemetery at Buffalo church, beside a loved and worthy son, Mr. Frederic Wilson Foushee, who was buried just six weeks before his mother.

MRS. LEVICY McILWAIN. A daughter of Wm. Potts, was born in Union county, N. C., Jan. 12th, 1825, and died near the place of her birth March 25th, 1897. On Nov. 9th, 1843, Levicy Potts, married Jefferson Miller and by his death, February 18th, 1844, she was left a widow. Dec. 18th, 1845, she was married to Dr. Wm. McIlwain, with whom she lived happily for nearly half a century, being left a widow the second time Feb. 18th, 1894. From her second marriage resulted seven children, five sons and two daughters. Two of those sons are regularly engaged in preaching the Gospel, viz: Rev. Wm. E. McIlwain, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Pensacola, Fla., and Rev. R. J. McIlwain who is pastor of a group of churches in Gaston county, N. C. Being the wife of a physician, Mrs. McIlwain was brought into close touch with the suffering of a large country neighborhood, and was ever abundant in her kindly ministry, and especially among the poor, and among the colored people will her unstinted kindness be long remembered. She early connected herself with the Presbyterian church, and was a lifelong and consistent supporter and friend to all its interests. Together with her husband, she cast in her lot with Banks Presbyterian church which was organized but a few years ago, and with her means, kindly counsel and unfailing sympathy she did much to establish it as a live and successful church. During the few years in which I was permitted to be her pastor, it was Mrs. McIlwain's lot to serve as one who waits. Bodily infirmity made her last years to be years of suffering, and they were spent among the kind and loving attentions of her children. She spent the last years of her life with her youngest daughter, Mrs. Gallant, who, with her husband and family, lives at the old McIlwain home. In all her long and trying suffering Mrs. McIlwain gave evidence of an abiding faith in her Saviour, and by a marvellous patience, and constant thoughtfulness for others, largely hid her suffering from others. It is a pleasure to testify that no pastor ever had a more loyal and devoted friend. She was ever ready to excuse his shortcomings, and encourage his labors with kindly sympathy and was more anxious for the poor and destitute of the community to enjoy his ministry than to claim it herself. Such lives are a sweet incense to God in their quiet consecrated service and a blessing to all who come within the sphere of their influence. Of such an one our Master would say, "She hath done what she could;" and such true and genuine lives are the ones "whose works do follow them." She was buried from the church and rests on the grounds that for generations had belonged to her family, and which were donated to the church by her husband.

"They also serve who only stand and wait." PASTOR.

More than twenty years' practice in answering the questions of inventors and owners of patents have given C. A. Snow & Co., of Washington, D. C., remarkable facility in this line as may be seen from a little book they have sent us, and which they will send free to any address. In this pamphlet, they have anticipated and answered about every question inventors have invented, and that is saying a good deal.

After all it is Nature that makes the cures. Only now and then she gets into a tight place and needs the helping hand of science. When the right thing is needed to check diseased action and start the organs and tissues on the way to health, Scott's Emulsion comes as the helpmeet of Nature. It feeds, nourishes, strengthens; and it does this all round—the Hypophosphites act upon the nerves; the Cod-liver Oil feeds the body.

For sale by all druggists, 50 cents & $1.00.

$200.00 IN GOLD GIVEN.

Special Interest to Students and Teachers

International News and Book Company, Baltimore, Md., make a most liberal offer of $200.00 in gold, for selling 200 copies of "Gems of Religious Thought," by Talmage or "Talks to Children about Jesus." These books are among the most popular ever published One agent sold 21 in two days, another 55 the first week. Freight paid, credit given. A few general Agents wanted on salary. A splendid opportunity for Teachers and Students to make money during their summer vacation. Write them immediately.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

ILL-HEALTH OF DR. J. H. SMITH.

DEAR MR EDITOR:—No absence from the recent meeting of Orange Presbytery at High Point was the subject of such universal comment and regret among both presbyters and townspeople as that of our beloved brother and father, Rev. Dr. J. Henry Smith. His habit of faithful attendance upon the meetings, and diligent participation in the business of his Presbytery, made his absence all the more conspicuous and lamented.

The Presbytery's sympathy with him in the physical weakness that detained him at home found expression in a resolution, adopted by a rising vote, that the Stated Clerk be directed to write Dr. Smith a letter of condolence, expressing Presbytery's sincere regret at his absence, and its hope that he might be speedily restored to his accustomed health.

Dr. Smith was one of the three speakers appointed to make addresses at Presbytery in celebration of the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the adoption of the Westminster Symbols. His chosen topic was, The Influence of the Westminster System in the Making of the American Nation. The Presbytery's Committee on the Celebration Program in its report said: The deep disappointment and distress of your Committee at the inability of our beloved father in Israel to meet with and address us on this occasion, is shared, we know, by the entire Prebytery.

Pardon me, Mr. Editor, for occupying so much of your space. I am certain, however, that multitudes of your readers will learn with sympathetic and distressful interest of the ill-health of this venerable and eminent servant of God.

We have just heard that he will not be able to attend the General Assembly to which he was elected a commissioner.

Faithfully yours,
D. I. CRAIG,
Stated Clerk.

TO THE SESSIONS OF THE CHURCHES OF MECKLENBURG PRESBYTERY.

The month of June has been set apart for a collection for Synodical Home Missions. We are asked by the Synod to give $750 for this work. This amount has been apportioned to the churches. The money is needed. Send your offerings to the treasurer, Jno. F. Love, Gastonia, N. C.

I would also state that Presbytery ordered all churches that had not taken up a collection for the cause of Church and Manse Erection during the last ecclesiastical year do so on the fifth Sabbath of May or as soon thereafter as practicable. Look in the minutes of Presbytery of '96 and you will see your apportionment We have six weak congregations, one at a court house, one at a factory town of about four thousand people and the others at important places, looking to this fund for help.

R. A. MILLER,
Chm. Home Mission Committee.
Lowell, N. C., May 11th.

UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

HAMPDEN-SIDNEY, VA.

FACULTY.

The Rev. Walter W. Moore, D.D. LL.D. McCormick Professor of the Hebrew Language and Literatre.

The Rev. Charles C. Hersman, D.D., LL. D., Henry Young Professor of Biblical Literature and Interpretation of the New Testament.

The Rev. Thos. Cary Johnson, D. D., Professor of Ecclesiastical History and Polity.

The Rev. Thos. R. English, D. D., Stuart Robinson Professor of the English Bible and Pastoral Theology.

The Rev. Givens B. Strickler, D. D., LL.D., Professor of Systematic Theology.

Walter L. Lingle, A. M., Tutor in Hebrew and Greek.

THE NEXT SESSION BEGINS WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 2D, 1897.

For catalogue or other information as to course of study, apply to Dr. English, Clerk of Faculty, Hampden-Sidney, Va. For information as to rooms, &c., apply to W. L. Lingle, Intendant, Hampden-Sidney, Va.

A Beautiful, Fitting, and Enduring Memento

For Personal Possession and Study

Is Found in the

New Holy Land Art Portfolios

ENTITLED

Palestine Photographed.

Every Student of the Bible,

Every Student of History,

Every Lover of Art

Should Have It.

This desirable book comprises 64 beautiful engravings from views taken in 1894. Each scene is accurately and eloquently described by two distinguished divines, Bishop Vincent and Dr. Lee. The work should find a place in every Christian home.

Any paid up subscriber to the PRESBYTERIAN can obtain this book upon remitting 25 cents.

FOR THE FAMILY.

NO PLACE FOR BOYS.

What can a boy do, and where can a boy stay,
he is always told to get out of the way?
He cannot sit here, and he must not stand there,
The cushions that cover that fine rocking-chair
Were put there, of course, to be seen and admired.
A boy has no business to ever be tired.
The beautiful roses and flowers that bloom
On the floor of the darkened and delicate room
Are not made to walk on—at least, not by boys;
The house is no place, anyway, for their noise.

Yet boys must walk somewhere; and what if their feet,
Sent out of our houses, sent into the street,
Should step around the corner and pause at the door,
Where other boys' feet have paused often before;
Should pass through the gateway of glittering light,
Where jokes that are merry and songs that are bright
Ring out a warm welcome with flattering voice,
And tempting say: "Here's a place for the boys!"

Ah what if they should? What if your boy or mine
Should cross o'er the threshold which marks out the line
'Twixt virtue and vice, 'twixt pureness and sin,
And leave all his innocent boyhood within?
Oh, what if they should, because you and I,
While the days and the months and the years hurry by,
Are too busy with cares and with life's fleeting joys
To make round our hearthstone a place for the boys?

There's a place for the boys. They will find it somewhere;
And if our own homes are too daintily fair
For the touch of their feet, the tread of their feet,
They'll find it, and find it, alas! in the street,
'Mid the gildings of sin and the glitter of vice;
And with heartaches and longings we pay a dear price
For the getting of gain that our life time employs,
If we fail in providing a place for the boys.

A place for the boys—dear mothers, I pray,
As cares settle down round our short earthly way,
Don't let us forget, by our kind, loving deeds,
To show we remember their pleasures and needs;
Though our souls may be vexed with problems of life,
And worn with besetments and tollings and strife,
Our hearts will keep younger—your tired heart and mine—
If we give them a place in their innermost shrine;
And to life's latest hour 'twill be one of our joys
That we kept a small corner—a place for the boys.

—Boston Transcript.

THE WOMAN'S EXPOSITION.

The Woman's Exposition of Charlotte is now open and stands acknowledged as a grand success.

The building is lighted by the Charlotte Machine Company, which has the largest, most complete and most costly exhibit.

Mrs. Robt. Cotten made the opening address, followed by other timely speeches.

The musical programme was enjoyed to the fullest. The music of the famous Mexican band was perfectly beautiful.

The pictures in size, art and interest are magnificent.

"Breaking the Home Ties" was seen by many from this city and section at the World's Fair. It is wonderfully beautiful in its naturalness, as well as execution. The subject is one which appeals to the masses of the people. There may be finer works of art to the eye of the skilled connoisseur, but nine people out of ten will stop and stand before this picture, with an all-absorbing interest. "Breaking the Home Ties" is pre-eminently the exhibition picture of America.

The historical department has made one of the most complete, and to the lovers of antiquity, perhaps the most interesting exhibit of the fair.

On children's day Mrs. H. C. Eccles spun flax in the colonial exhibit, giving the present generation an opportunity of seeing how spinning was done in the olden time.

College Women's Day will be the 27th, Thursday week, when it is probable that several women, colleges and girls' schools will attend in a body. Greensboro Female College has already arranged for the transportation of the student body, and Rock Hill will probably send a large delegation.

DAVIDSON COLLEGE EXHIBIT.

Dr. Smith and Mr. J. T. Farris placed the Davidson College exhibit yesterday. It is one of the most extensive in the building and occupies a special room next to the office.

The chief features of the exhibit are the famous Crookes, Geissler and Leonard tubes of the latest type and all the necessary apparatus, illustrating the famous experiments in vacua which led to the discovery of X Rays by Roentgen. A number of samples of apparatus used in the various departments of the chemistry and physics courses are also exhibited.

To speak evil of another is to show one's self evil. In what we say of others we reveal ourselves. —Golden Rule.

Cupid, the Beggar.

How Love goes a begging for a little kindly treatment! How many women turn their backs on the little fellow! They give freely of their time and attention to fashion or social pleasures, but seem to regard happy wifehood and motherhood as a mere secondary consideration. They take no end of trouble over the fit of a gown or the success of a dinner party, but think they have no time to bestow upon the health and physical soundness which are absolutely necessary to happy wifehood and motherhood.

Any weakness or disease of the delicate special organs of her sex totally unfits a woman to be a wife or mother. It is a woman's primary duty to be strong and healthy in a womanly way. Careful living and judicious treatment will certainly and completely eradicate these delicate complaints.

A complete and practical treatise on this subject with careful professional advice and suggestions for self-treatment are contained in "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," by R. V. Pierce, M. D., chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. This 1000-page illustrated book will be sent paper-bound absolutely free for cost of mailing only: 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 31 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce, as above.

Dr. Pierce has given a life-time to the study of women's diseases, and has had as wide a practical experience in this particular field as any living physician. His "Favorite Prescription" is a perfect and scientific remedy for diseases of the feminine organs.

It is the only medicine devised for this particular purpose by an educated and skilled physician. It is a positive and permanent cure as attested by more than ninety thousand grateful women.

Special Offer.

VALUABLE BOOKS,

Issued by the Presbyterian Committee of Publication.

Theology of Prayer. Dr. Palmer	$2 00
Life of Thornwell	1 50
Gifts of the Holy Spirit. Dr. Vaughan	2 00
Life of Dr. J. Leighton Wilson. Dr. DuBose	1 50
Preaching in Sinim. Dr. DuBose. Paper, 60 cts.; cloth	1 00
Life of Rev. William S. White	1 50
History of the Presbyterian Church. Dr. Kerr	1 00
Christ and the Cherubim Dr. Otts, pp. 63	50
Voice of God in History. Dr. Kerr	1 25
Land of the Holy Light. Dr. Kerr	1 50
Thornwell's Works. 4 vols. Per vol.	3 00
Dabney's Discussions. 3 vols. Per vol.	4 00
Peck's Miscellanies. Vol. I. and II. Per vol.	2 00
Discourses on Redemption. Dr. Robinson	1 50
The Sacraments. Dr. Armstrong	1 50
Sermons. Given to Christ, etc. Dr. Pratt	1 50
Bible Baptism. The Great Baptizer. Dr. S. J. Baird	1 25
Presbyterian Digest. Dr. Alexander	4 00
William the Baptist. Dr. J. M. Chaney. Cloth, 60 cts.; paper	25
Hymns to the Holy Spirit. Dr. Stratton	60
Prayer for the Use of Families. Dr. Stratton	60
Extracts from an Elder's Diary. Dr. Stratton	75
Hand-Book for Ruling Elders. Dr. Watkins	75
Studies in the Epistles of John. Dr. Cocke	85
Letters to a Young Presbyterian. Dr. Waddell	75
Standards of the Presbyterian Church. Dr. Beattie	2 00
Sermons. Southern Presbyterian Pulpit	1 50
Church Portals. Dr. Vance	75

Twenty-five per cent. discount to ministers, but when a $15 cash order is made at one time, a discount of 40 per cent. will be given.

Books of all other publishers will be furnished at publishers' prices, less 25 per cent. discount, except in case of net books.

JAS. K. HAZEN, Sec'y and Treas.,
Richmond, Va.

PREMIUMS.

No. 1. For 21 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give the canvasser a Gents' old Watch: Hunting case, jointed front and back 18 size and guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $20.00.

No. 2. For 16 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Open face, 18 size, 14 karat filled case, screw back and bezel, guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $15.00.

No. 3. For 17 new subscribers at 1.50 for first year, we will give a Ladies' Gold Watch Hunting case, 6 size, stem winder, 14 karat, filled case, screw beze—guaranteed 20 years—retails at $16.00

No. 4. For 12 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give a Gents' Silver Watch: 18 size, plain case, open face—retails at $12.50.

No. 5. For 10 new subscribers a Ladies' Silver Watch, O size, plain case, open face—retails for $10.00.

No. 6. For 8 new subscribers, we will give a Nickel Watch, 18 size, screw bezel—retails for $7.00.

No. 7. For 7 new subscribers, we will give solid silver teaspoons—retails for $6.00.

No. 8. For 4 new subscribers, a sugar spoon, sterling gilt engraved—retails at $3.00.

The articles will all be first-class from a jeweller of established reputation.

New subscribers means not change of address to some one else—that would be fraud—but bona fide new subscribers.

For $1.75 we will send the paper for the first year to a new subscriber and a copy of Palestine Photographed. This album contains 64 actual photographic reproductions of picturesque and historical places in the Holy Land on enameled pages, and is a thing of beauty. The descriptive foot notes are good and enhance the interest.

We regard this as a specially desirable premium.

To any one paying up or renewing their subscription and sending $3.25 we will send this album as apremium

W., N. & N. RAILWAY.

In Effect Sunday, Oct, 27, 1895.

DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY.

NORTH BOUND.		STATIONS.	SOUTH BOUND.
8			7
P. M.		— WILMINGTON —	P. M.
2	00	Lv Mulberry St. Ar	12	40
3	58	Lv Jacksonville Lv	10	42
4	30	Lv..Maysville..Lv	10	09
4	44	Lv Pollocksville Lv	9	55
5	20	Ar..Newbern..Lv	9	20
P. M.			A. M.

Trains 8 and 7 p m make connection with trains on A & N C R R for Morehead City and Beaufort.

Connection with Steamer Neuse at Newbern to and from Elizabeth City and Norfolk Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Steamer Geo D Purdy makes daily trips between Jacksonville and New River points.

H. A. WHITING,
General Manager.

J. W. MARTENIS,
Traffic Manager.

CHILDREN'S COLUMN.

A FIGHT.

I saw a fight the other day—
Who do you think were in it?
That saucy rogue, Jack Frost; but he
Was not the one to win it.
He took a grip and held so tight
On everything about him,
That everybody said 'twould take
A tussle fierce to rout him.

But then she came, the lovely spring,
With smile so sweet and merry,
That soon the stubborn, icy imp.
Became discouraged—very.
She smiled again. In fright and fear,
Confusion and commotion,
He fled—to take a summering
Beside the Arctic Ocean.

—Sydney Dayre, in St. Nicholas

YOU CAN'T CHEAT GOD.

Ned took his cousin, Grace, along to keep him company while he worked at a job he had to perform.

"I don't think you're doing your work very well," she said. "It looks to me as if you were slighting it."

"That's all right," laughed Ned. "What I'm doing now will all be covered up, you know."

"But isn't that cheating?"

"Maybe 'tis, after a fashion," answered Ned. "But it isn't like most cheating, you know."

"That's not the way to look at it," said Grace. "If it's cheating, it's cheating, you know that. You can't excuse it because it isn't the worst kind of cheating."

"But the man won't know about it," said Ned.

"He may not," said Grace, soberly, "but God will. You can't cheat God."

Ned stopped work and went to thinking. Presently he said:

"You're right. I'm glad you said that, Grace. I'm going to begin over. There shan't be any cheating this time."

Ned undid what he had done and began again—began right—and I know he felt better for it. I hope he will always remember that no one can cheat God.—Ex.

"OF COURSE HE WILL."

Mr. Moody gives the story of a little child whose father and mother had died, and she was taken into another family. The first night she asked if she could pray, as she used to do.

They said, "O yes!" So she knelt down and prayed, as her mother taught her, and when that was ended, she added a little prayer of her own: "O God, make these people as kind to me as father and mother were." Then she paused, and looked up, as if expecting an answer, and added, "Of course He will?" How sweetly simple was that little one's faith; expected God to "do," and she had her request.

It was well for all who pray to add someting like that, from the heart, and God will honor the faith. —Exchange.

THE GRANDFATHER RABBIT.

How did it happen? They were the dearest friends, if Margery was rich and Nan poor. They were old enough to know better, besides—Nan 9 and Margery 9½.

But it did happen. Going home from school, four days before Easter, they stopped before the candy store, which swallowed most of their pennies.

"Oh!" Nan squealed. "See all the white rabbits!"

"They're candy boxes," said Margery. "See that biggest one! He's the grandfather of all the rest."

Nan's affections were immediately centered on the grandfather rabbit. He was made of sugar, and he was dazzlingly white. He had long ears and pink, bright eyes. He sported a pink ribbon, which covered the place where his head unscrewed to let the candy in.

"He's sweet," said Margery; "I want him."

"So do I," said Nan.

"I'm going to have him," said Margery.

"Mebbe I am," said Nan.

"I'm going home to buy him when I come back this noon; so!" said Margery.

"Then you'll be just awful mean," Nan cried, tremulously.

"I've got a secret," said Margery, "and I ain't going to tell you. I'm going to tell Idella Miles."

That was desperate! That was fearful! But, "Wish you would!" Nan retorted. And she switched off alone.

She thought of nothing but the grandfather rabbit all the noon. How mean Margery was! When she went back to school she looked into the candy store window, breathless. Had Margery—No! he sat there plump and jolly in the midst of his numerous family. His price was marked on him—50 cents.

She and Margery did not "speak" that afternoon. At recess Margery played jackstones with Idella Miles. And after school Nan overheard Idella telling Kate Briggs some of the secrets that Margery had told her.

"She wants that big white candy rabbit down at the store," she said, "but her mother thinks she's spent too much money for her already, for new things for Easter. Margery's going to have it, though; she's going to take some of her own money out of the bank."

Nan felt a little, defiant, naughty thrill of hope. And that evening she told her father about the grandfather rabbit.

"Rabbits are terribly destructive; they eat growing plants. You will have to pen him up," he said for he was a funny man: but he gave her a quarter.

Her brother Ed gave her 5 cents. Then her mother gave her 10 cents for sweeping the front walk two mornings.

She and Margery had nothing to do with each other now. It was a real quarrel. And as to Margery's having the rabbit, she couldn't bear the thought of that.

By Saturday she was highly anxious. But Saturday afternoon the gas collector patted her on the head and called her "little gell," and gave her ten cents.

Nan seized the old collar box in which she had saved her money and clapped her hat on wrong side before and ran, for the grandfather rabbit. He was gone. Gone! Nan flew into the store.

"Did Margery Gates buy the grand—the biggest rabbit?" she cried, with excited voice.

"Seems to me the little girl Gates did take the biggest one," said the clerk.

All the way home Nan's hot tears splashed on the collar box. Was her grief all for the loss of the grandfather rabbit? No. If anybody but Margery had bought him! But for Margery to have got him after all! It was heart-breaking. She burst into the sitting-room, sobbing.

"Margery Gates has gone an got the grandfather rabbit, just because I wanted him," she wailed, "and she's just as mean and horrid as she can be!"

"Anna!" said her mother, and Nan said no more. It was a serious affair when her mother called her Anna.

But she sat there and cried dismally till her mother lost patience and went upstairs. So that when the doorbell rang Nan, all tear-stained and tousled, had to answer it. It was a boy who left a box without any remarks.

In the box was something wrapped in tissue paper. It was—why!—it was—the grandfather rabbit! Nan lifted him out, gasping. Tied into the ribbon round his neck was a letter. It said:

"Dear Nan—I baut him this morning, and I was sorry and ashamed when I baut him. I wisht I had not been mene. I love you just the same as ever. I want you to go to church with us to-morrow. There are going to be a lot of flours.

"MARGERY."

Margery never could spell.

Nan's lips trembled very very much. She lifted the rabbit, and she kissed him. He felt heavy. He was filled with chocolates. That was too much. Nan sat down and cried again, in a very different way. And when her mother came down, and heard all about it, and read Margery's letter—well, the only dry eyes were the grandfather rabbit's shining pink ones.

Margery and her father and mother came for Nan in the carriage the next morning. A beautiful morning. Everybody was going to church, decked with flowers. Margery wore some white roses, and she had red ones for Nan.

In the beautiful church Nan sat and gazed at the great lilies which filled the altar and made the air delicious. She gazed, and listened eagerly to the sweet music of the Easter hymn which the choir poured out.

And yet—the flowers and the music were not quite the best of it. The little girls thought of the grandfather rabbit; and Nan slipped her hand into Margery's as they sat there. And they looked at each other.

"Oh, we shall never, never quarrel again!" was what their eyes said. —Picayune.

LETTER-BOX.

Dear Presbyterian:—I take this opportunity to write you a few lines. I am a little boy going in ten years old. This is my first, and I cannot write much, as I am afraid of the waste basket. Papa takes the PRESBYTERIAN. I like to read the little letters. I go to the Presbyterian Sunday-school every Sunday. Rev. B. E. Wallace is our pastor, I like him very much. Mrs. Kattie Thayer is my teacher, I like her very much.

Your friend,
LESLIE BIGGS.

Wilmington, N. C.

Dear Presbyterian: I have been thinking of writing to your paper for some time. I go to school to Miss Mattie Livingston. The school will close the 21st of May. I study Harrington's Spelling Book, Harvey's Grammar, Holmes' Fourth Reader, Maury's Geography and Sandford's Second Arithmetic. I go to Sunday-school every Sunday. My Sunday-school teacher is Miss Ellen McIntosh. Centre is our church. Our pastor is Rev. H. G. Hill, D. D. My papa takes your paper. We like to read it ever so much, I am a little girl nine years old. I have three sisters and one brother. I will close hoping to see my letter in print.

Your unknown friend,
EVELENA MCGIRT.

Alma, N. C.

CONSUMPTION

TO THE EDITOR: I have an absolute Cure for CONSUMPTION and all Bronchial, Throat and Lung Troubles, and all conditions of Wasting Away. By its timely use thousands of apparently hopeless cases have been permanently cured.

So proof-positive am I of its power to cure, I will send FREE to anyone afflicted, THREE BOTTLES of my Newly Discovered Remedies, upon receipt of Express and Postoffice address.

Always sincerely yours,
T. A. SLOCUM, M.C., 183 Pearl St., New York.
When writing the Doctor, please mention this paper.

MONEY TO LOAN.

on Eight Years Time, secured by Mortgage on Real Estate. Monthly payment, savings investment stock for sale, also FULL PAID COUPON STOCK, with semi annual cash dividends. Loans made promptly in any part of the State. Agents wanted. Address,

Mechanics and Investors Union

22 Pullen Building, Raleigh, N. C.

(Continued from 6th Page.)

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Brookland :—The church here, which is the result of the labors of theological students, was recently dedicated. It will be under the care of Rev. W. H. Mills a recent graduate of Columbia Seminary. This church is the first one of our faith ever organized in Lexington county.

Rock Hill :—We learn from the Southern Presbyterian that the Presbyterian High School property has been transferred to Davidson College and will be made a preparatory school for that college.

PERSONALS.

Rev. W. R. Minter, a graduate of Columbia Seminary, has accepted a call to the Rutherfordton group of churches, composed of Rutherfordton, Henrietta, Columbus and Sandy Plains churches in Mecklenburg Presbytery. Mr. Minter will take charge of this field the first of July, until that time he will be in Laurens, S. C.

Mr. J. A. Paisley, of Arkansas, a recent graduate of Union Seminary, will take charge of Madison and Mt. Airy churches as stated supply on the first Sunday in June.

Rev. E. C. Murray, of Clinton, S. C., has accepted a call to the church at Mebane, N. C. This is a former charge of Mr. Murray's and his many friends in Mebane and North Carolina will welcome his return to the State.

We regret to learn that Col. Henry Stokes, a ruling elder of College church, Hampden Sidney, Va., and for a number of years a member and secretary of the Board of Trustees of Hampden Sidney College, was stricken with paralysis last week at his home in Lanes, Prince Edward county. Col. Stokes is father of the wife of Rev. C. A. Munroe, of Lenoir, and is about seventy five years of age.

Rev. D. C. Rankin, editor of the Missionary, will preach at Alamance next Sunday. Collection for Foreign Missions at Alamance last Sunday amounted to $24.00.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of Rev. Dr. G. R. Brackett's pastorate of the Second church, Charleston, was celebrated on Sunday, the 11th inst.

Rev. P. C. Morton, of Roxboro, N. C., has taken charge of Whiteville, Chadbourn and Hub churches in Columbus county. Mr. Morton will be heartily welcomed as a member of Wilmington Presbytery.

Rev. Samuel Moore, a recent graduate of Princeton Seminary, has accepted a call to the church at Pochontas, Va., and will begin his labors there on June 1st.

Rev. Dr. Fair will be installed pastor of the Independent church, Savannah, on next Sunday night. The installation sermon will be preached by Rev. Dr. Moses Hoge. Charges to pastor and people will be made by Rev. W. A. Nisbet and Rev. A. J. Smith of Savannah.

Frederick Saunders of the Astor Library is the oldest living librarian. He was assisted to his place by Washington Irving.

Organized 1832. Assets, $650,000

Tested for Sixty Years.

Virginia Fire and Marine

Insurance Company, of Richmond.

This old Virginia institution issues a short and comprehensive Policy, free of petty restriction and liberal in its terms and conditions.

INSURES AGAINST FIRE and LIGHTNING

All descriptions of Property, in Country and Town—private or public—insured at fair rates, on accommodating terms.

AGENCIES IN EVERY TOWN AND COUNTY.

WM. H. PALMER, President.
W. H. McCARTHY, Secretary.
S. McG. FISHER, Ass't Sec'y.

..An Evolution in Typewriters..

A LITTLE Machine With a BIG Record....

The...

BLICKENSDERFER No. 5 Typewriter.

Marvel in Mechanism. $35 Standard of Simplicity.

Has More DESIRABLE Features and Less UNDESIRABLE Ones than Any Other Typewriter Made.

Endorsed by Thousands of ....ENTHUSIASTIC USERS....

CATALOGUE AND SAMPLE OF WORK FREE.

K. M. TURNER,
GEN'L SOUTHERN AGENT,
41 N. Broad St., Atlanta, Ga.
918 F St. N. W., Washington, D. C.
914 E. Main St., Richmond, Va.
Daily Record Bld'g, Baltimore, Md.

SEABOARD AIR LINE S.A.L.

VESTIBULED LIMITED TRAINS. DOUBLE DAILY SERVICE

TO ATLANTA, CHARLOTTE, ATHENS, WILMINGTON, NEW ORLEANS, CHATTANOOGA, AND NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA, WASHINGTON, NORFOLK, RICHMOND.

Schedule in Effect Feb. 7th, 1897.

WESTWARD.

	No. 41.	No. 403
Lv Wilmington.	*3 20pm	.....
Lv Lumberton..	5 26pm	.....
Lv Maxton.....	6 12pm	.....
Lv Laurinburg..	6 23 pm	.....
Ar Hamlet.....	6 58pm	.....
Lv Hamlet.....	7 13pm	*5 am
Lv Rockingham.	7 30pm	2 23 am
Lv Wadesboro...	8 11pm	.....
Lv Marshville...	8 48pm	6 25 am
Ar Monroe	9 12pm	6 43 am
Lv Monroe.....	9 35pm	7 30 am
Ar Charlotte.....	10 25pm	8 30 am
Ar Mt. Holly.....	.....	9 10 am
Ar Lincolnton...	.....	10 35 am
Ar Shelby.....	.....	11 43a m
Ar Ellenboro ...	.....	12 20p m
ArRutherfordton	.....	12 54p m

†8 40am Lv....Hamlet..Ar 6 20p m
10 00am Ar....Cheraw..Ar † 5 00p m

EASTWARD.

	No. 38.	No. 402
LvRutherfordton	.....	*4 35p m
Lv Ellenboro....	.....	5 15p m
Lv Shelby.....	.....	6 03p m
Lv Lincolnton..	.....	7 00p m
Lv Mt Holly....	.....	7 50p m
Lv Charlotte ...	*5 10am	8 25p m
Ar Monroe.....	5 58am	9 10p m
Lv Monroe	6 05am	9 40p m
Lv Marshville...	6 25am	.....
Lv Wadesboro..	7 01am	10 31 pm
Lv Rockingham.	7 41am	11 05p m
Ar Hamlet.....	7 55am	11 23p m
Lv Hamlet.....	8 45am	.....
Lv Laurinburg..	9 11am	.....
Lv Maxton.....	9 30am	.....
Lv Lumberton...	10 18am	.....
Ar Wilming on .	12 30pm	.....

NORTHWARD.

Lv Hamlet.....	*8 15am	*11 23pm
Ar Raleigh.....	11 30am	2 11pm
Ar Portsmouth..	5 50pm	7 30am
Ar Richmond....	*6 50pm	* 8 15am
Ar Washington..	11 10pm	12 31pm
Ar New York...	6 58am	6 23pm

SOUTHWARD.

Lv Monroe.....	*6 48am	*9 25p m
Ar Abbeville....	11 05am	1 40a m
Ar Athens.....	1 15pm	3 45a m
Ar Atlanta (Central Time)....	2 50pm	5 20a m

*Daily. †Daily, except Sunday.

Both trains make immediate connections at Atlanta for Montgomery, Mobile, New Orleans, Texas, California, Mexico, Chattanooga, Nashville, Memphis, Macon, Florida.

For Tickets, Sleepers, etc., apply to
B. A. NEWLAND,
Gen. Agt. P. Dept.
6 Kimball House, Atlanta, Ga.

THOS. D. MEARES,
Gen'l. Agent, Wilmington, N. C.

E. ST. JOHN, Vice-President and General Manager.

H. W. B. GLOVER, Traffic Manager.
V. E. McBEE, Gen'l. Supt.
T. J ANDERSON, Gen'l. Pass. Agt,
General Offices, Portsmouth, Va.

COAL, WOOD AND SHINGLES.

Best quality and lowest prices. Satisfaction guaranteed. Your patronage solicited.

Respectfully,
P. R. FOWLER,
Successor to Fowler & Morrison.

C. F. &Y. V. Railway Co.

JOHN GILL, Receiver.

CONDENSED SCHEDULE.

In Effect May 30th, 1897.

NORTH BOUND.	No. 2. Daily
Leave Wilmington	12.15p.m
Arrive Fayetteville	3.35 "
Leave Fayetteville	3.45 "
Leave Fayetteville Junction	3.47 "
ArriveSanford	5.02 "
Leave Sanford	5.05 "
Leave Climax	6.54 "
Arrive Greensboro	7.25 "
Leave Greensboro	7.45 "
Leave Stokesdale	8.32 "
Leave WalnutCove	9.02 "
Leave Rural Hall	9.30 "
Arrive Mt. Airy	11.00 "

SOUTH BOUND.	No. 1. Daily
Leave Mt. Airy	5.25a m
Leave Rural Hall	6.50 "
Leave Walnut Cove	7.19 "
Leave Stokesdale	7.52 "
Arrive Greensboro	8.40 "
Leave Greensboro	9.00 "
Leave Climax	9.29 "
Leave Sanford	11.20 "
Arrive Fayetteville Junction	12.42p.m.
†Arrive Fayetteville	12.45 "
Leave Fayetteville	1.15 "
Arrive Wilmington	4.30 "

NORTH BOUND.	No. 4. Daily
Leave Bennettsville	7.45 a.m
ArriveMaxton	9.00 "
LeaveMaxton	9.07 "
Leave Red Springs	9.37 "
Leave Hope Mills	10.26 "
Arrive Fayetteville	10.50 "

SOUTH BOUND	No. 3. Daily
Leave Fayetteville	4.45p m.
Leave Hope Mills	5.02 "
Leave Red Springs	5.42 "
ArriveMaxton	6 11 "
Leave Maxton	6.15 "
ArriveBennettsville	7.20 "

NORTH BOUND.	No. 16. Mixed. Daily ex Sunday.
Leave Ramseur	7.40 a.m.
Leave Climax	9.33 "
Arrive Greensboro	10.20 "
Leave Greensboro	10.55 "
Leave Stokesdale	12.20p.m.
Arrive Madison	1.10 "

SOUTH BOUND.	No. 15. Mixed. Daily ex Sunday
Leave Madison	2.10 p.m
Leave Stokesdale	3.05 "
Arrive Greensboro	4.30 "
Leave Greensboro	5.45 "
Leave Climax	6.57 "
Arrive Ramseur	8.35 "

†Meals.

CONNECTIONS,

at Fayetteville with the Atlantic Coast Line, at Maxton with Carolina Central Railroad, at Sanford, with Seaboard Air Line, at Greensboro with Southern Railway; at Walnut Cove with Norfolk & Western Railway.

W. E. KYLE,
Gen'l Passenger Agent.

J. W. FRY,
Gen'l Manager.

SAY SOES.

Morton : "Strange happening at the police station this morning." Horton : "What was it?" Morton : "Deaf and dumb man was arrested and given a hearing."—Puck.

No one in ordinary health need become bald or gray, if he will follow sensible treatment. We advise cleanliness of the scalp and the use of Hall's Hair Renewer.

Housewives in Norway and Sweden have started a scheme to encourage servants to remain in their places. Mistresses pay into a general fund whatever they can afford for every servant that has remained with them for twelve months. The money is registered in the servant's name, so that when age overtakes her and she can no longer work she has a comfortable annuity to fall back on.

WHO'S SHELLABERGER?

He's the Wire Fence Man, of Atlanta, Ga., and sells the best and cheapest fencing in existence for all purposes. Catalogue free. Write for it

We really think our

STAR BINDER

is a most desirable article to have in any household where the PRESBYTERIAN is taken. It holds the successive issues together in most convenient form, costs no labor and requires no special pains in its adjustment. What a fine Synodical Album a year's gathering would thus constitute!

Sent to any address for forty cents.

WILMINGTON MARKET.

FOR

WEEK ENDING MAY 26, 1897.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE: Opened at 25½ cents for machine barrels and 24½ cents country barrels; later 25 cents and 24½ cents—closing quiet.

ROSIN: Strained $1.25 and Good Strained $1.30—throughout.

CRUDE TURPENTINE: Hard $1.20, Yellow Dip $1.80 and Virgin $1.90—steady throughout.

TAR: Receipts taken day by day at $1.05—closing firm.

COTTON: Middling 7½ cents throughout—closing steady.

TIMBER: Very little coming in—season about over—prices are not sustained.

ATLANTIC COAST LINE.

Schedule In Effect May 16th 1897.

DEPARTURES FROM WILMINGTON — NORTHBOUND.

DAILY 9:00 A M — No. 48—Passenger —Due Magnolia 10 40 a m, Warsaw 10 55 a m, Goldsboro 11 56 a m, Wilson 12 46 pm, Rocky Mount 1 20 p m, Tarboro 2 50 p m, Weldon 3 39 p m, Petersburg 5 54 p m, Richmond 6 50 p m, Norfolk 6 05 p m, Washington 11 10 p m, Baltimore 12 53 a m, Philadelphia 3 45 a m, New York 6 53 a m, †Boston 3 00 pm.

DAILY 7:15 P M — No. 40—Passenger —Due Magnolia 8 55 p m, Warsaw 9 10 p m, Goldsboro 10 10 p m, Wilson 11 06 p m, †Tarboro 6 45 a m, Rocky Mount 11 57 p m, Weldon 1 44 a m, †Norfolk 10 30 a m, Petersburg 3 24 a m, Richmond 4 20 a m, Washington 7 41 a m, Baltimore 9 05 a m, Philadelphia 11 25 a m New York 2 03 p m, Boston 8 30 p m.

SOUTHBOUND.

DAILY 3:40 P M — No. 55—Passenger —Due Lake Waccamaw 4 55 p m, Chadbourn 5 29 p m, Marion 6 40 p m, Florence 7 35 p m, Sumter 8 42 p m, Columbia 10 05 p m, Denmark 6 20 a m, Augusta 8 10 a m, Macon 11 00 a m, Atlanta 12 15 p m, Charleston 10 20 p m, Savannah 12 30 am, Jacksonville 7 30 a m, St Augustine 10 30 a m, Tampa 5 45 p m.

ARRIVALS AT WILMINGTON—FROM THE NORTH.

DAILY 5:45 P M — No. 49—Passenger—Leave Boston †1 03 p m, New York 9 00 p m, Philadelphia 12 05 a m, Baltimore 2 50 a m, Washington 4 30 a m, Richmond 9 05 a m, Petersburg 10 (a m,) Norfolk 8 40 a m, Weldon 11 50 a m, Tarboro 12 12 p m, Rocky Mount 12 45p m, Wilson 2 12 p m, Goldsboro 3 10 p m, Warsaw 4 02 p m, Magnolia 4 16 p m.

DAILY 9:40 AM — No. 41—Passenger—Leave Boston 12 00 night, New York 9 30 a m, Philadelphia 12 09 p m Baltimore 2 25 p m, Washington 3 46 p m, Richmond 7 30 p m, Petersburg 8 12 p m, †Norfolk 2 20 p m, Weldon 9 43 p m, †Tarboro 6 01 p m, Rocky Mount 5 45 a m, leave Wilson 6 20 a m, Goldsboro 7 08 am, Warsaw 7 54 a m, Magnolia 8 07 a m.

FROM THE SOUTH.

DAILY 12:15 P M — No. 54— Passenger — Leave Tampa 9 25 a m, Sanford 2 19 p m, Jacksonville 7 00 p m, Savannah 12 45 night, Charleston 5 30 am Columbia 5 50 a m, Atlanta 8 20 a m, Macon 9 30 a m, Augusta 3 05 p m, Denmark 4 55 pm, Sumter 6 45 a m, Florence 7 55 a m, Marion 9 34 a m, Chadbourn 10 35 a m, Lake Waccamaw 11 06 a m.

†Daily except Sunday

Trains on the Scotland Neck Branch road leave Weldon 4 10 p m, Hailfax 4 28 p m, arrive Scotland Neck at 5 20, Greenville 6 57 p m, Kinston 7 55 p m. Returning leaves Kinston 7 50 a m, Greenville 8 52 a m, arriving Halifax at 11 18 a m, Weldon 11 33 a m. daily except Sunday.

Trains on Washington Branch leave Washington 8 20 a m, and 1 p m, arrive Parmele 9 10 a m and 2 40 p m, returning leave Parmele 9 35 a m and 6 30 p m, arrive Washington 11 00 a m, and 7 20 p m. Daily except Sunday

Train leaves Tarboro, N C, daily except Sunday, 5 30 p m, Sunday 4 05 pm, arrives Plymouth 7 40 p m and 6 00 p m. Returning leaves Plymouth daily except Sunday 7 50 a m and Sunday 9 00 a m arrives Tarboro 10 05 a m and 11 a m.

Trains on Conway Branch leave Hub 8 30 a. m., Chadbourn 10 40 a. m., arrive Conway 1 00 p. m. leave Conway 2 45 p. m., Chadbourn 5 40 p. m., arrive Hub 6 20 p. m. Daily except Sunday.

Train on Midland N C Branch leaves Goldsboro daily, except Sunday, 7 10 a m, arriving Smithfield 8 30 a m, Returning leaves Smithfield 9 00 a m, arrive at Goldsboro 10 25 a m.

Train on Nashville Branch leaves Rocky Mount at 4 30 p m, arrives Nashville 5 05 p m, Spring Hope 5 30 p m. Returning leaves Spring Hope 8 00 a m, Nashville 8 35 a m, arrives at Rocky Mount 9 05 a m, daily except Sunday.

Train on Clinton Branch leaves Warsaw for Clinton daily, except Sunday, 8 20 a m, and 4 10 p.m. Returning leaves Clinton at 7 00 a m, and 9 30 pm

Wilson and Fayetteville Branch leave Wilson 2 06 p m, 11 16 p m, arrive Selma 3 00 p m, Smithfield 3 08 p m, Dunn 3 50 p m. Fayetteville 4 40 p m, 1 14 a m, Rowland 6 10 p m. Returning leave Rowland 10 00 a m, Fayetteville 11 20 a m, 10 20 p m, Dunn 12 07 p m, Smithfield 12 48 p m, Selma 1 00 p m, arrive Wilson 1 42 p m, 12 10 a m.

H. M. EMERSON,
Ass't. Gen'l Passenger Agent.

J. R. KENLY, Gen'l Manager.
T. M. EMERSON Traffic Manager.

B. F. HALL, OSCAR PEARSALL

HALL & PEARSALL

Cor. NUTT and MULBERRY STS.

WILMINGTON. - N. C.

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

—AND—

—WHOLESALE DEALERS IN—

HEAVY GROCERIES

WE ALWAYS CARRY A LARGE AND WELL SELECTED STOCK OF

Flour, Sugar, Coffee, Molasses, Salt Fish,

Hay Corn Oats Tobacco Snuff, Cigars, Hoop-Iron, Nails, Glue.

Cotton Bagging and Ties.

☞We solicit the patronage of the public, and guarantee to give satisfaction. Correspondence invited.

☞Consignments of Naval Stores, Cotton and all Country Produce will receive careful attention.

HALL & PEARSALL
WILMINGTON, N. C

ORGANIZED 1856.

GEORGIA HOME INSURANCE COMPANY.

COLUMBUS, Ga.

J. RHODES BROWN, President.

Wm. C. COART, Secretary.

A HOME COMPANY,

Seeking Home Patronage.

Strong! Prompt! Reliable! Liberal!

Agents at all Cities, Towns and Villages in the Southern States.

W. W. HODGES, Agent, Wilmington N. C.

E.NYE HUTCHISON, Agent, Charlotte N. C

Shopping.

Shopping done in Philadelphia by a lady of experience and taste. No extra charge. Best references. Send for circular.

MISS M. ANDERSON,
333 Pine St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

$4 PER DAY SURE SALARY OR COMMISSION.

DO you want honorable, steady employment the year round, at good wages, at your own home or to travel? If so, send 4c in stamps for our wholesale price-list and particulars. We furnish best of bank references.

AMERICAN TEA CO.,
Detroit, Michigan.

We Want You

to subscribe for the Presbyterian Quarterly. It is the one magazine all Presbyterians should read. Its articles are written by eminent Presbyterians—both clergymen and laymen—to Presbyterians. It is edited under the auspices of an association of ministers of the Presbyterian Church.

Every article in it is vitally interesting—it is orthodox—is progressive—stimulates study and investigation.

The Presbyterian Quarterly has always been $3.00 a year and has always been worth it. It is now $1.00 a year but is still worth $3.00. We have lowered its price because we want to put it in every Presbyterian's hands, but there has been no change in either the number of pages or the appearance of the magazine. Send for a sample copy.

Whittet & Shepperson,
Box 296. Richmond, Va.

THINGS USEFUL.

A cement made from sand mixed n white lead paint will stop leaks n roofs.—Farm Journal.

A delicious sauce is made from rated horse-radish root mixed with emon juice, a little salt, and a suspicion of white sugar. Served with old meats, it makes them much more inviting and palatable.

Snow Pudding.—One-half box of gelatine, two cups of sugar, four eggs, uice of three lemons, one quart of milk, one teaspoonful of vanilla, one pint of boiling water. Cover the gelatine with cold water, and let it soak a half hour. Then pour over t the boiling water, add the sugar, and stir until it is dissolved; then add the lemon juice, and strain the whole into a tin basin; place this in a pan of ice water and let it stand until cold. When cold, beat with an egg until as white as snow; beat the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth and stir into the pudding. Dip a fancy mold into cold water, turn the pudding into it and stand in a cold place for hours to harden. The Sauce: Pat the milk on to boil, beat the yolks of the eggs and a half cup of sugar together until light, and stir them into the boiling milk. Stir and cook two minutes. Take from the fire, add the vanilla, and turn out to cool. Serve the pudding with the sauce poured around it.

Wire Railing and Ornamental Wire Works.

DUFUR & CO.,

311 North Howard St., Baltimore, Md. Manufacture Wire Railing for Cemeteries, Balconies, &c., Sieves, Fender Cages, Sand and Coal Screens, Woven Wire, &c.

Also Iron Bedsteads Chairs, Settees &c.

RED SPRINGS SEMINARY

FOR YOUNG LADIES.

Established by Fayetteville Presbytery.

New Buildings, well equipped and adapted to all departments of College work. Complete and liberal course. Fully abreast of the leading Southern Colleges for Women.

Full and Efficient Faculty.

Charges very moderate ($108 00 per year for full College course and Board). Session opens September 30, 1896. For further information write to

REV. C. G. VARDELL,
Red Springs, N. C.

SCHEDULE ON WILMINGTON SEACOAST, R. R.

On and after May 5th, 1897, every day except Sunday trains leave Wilmington 10.10 a. m., 2.30 p. m., 6.30 p m. Leave Ocean View 7.30 a. m., 11.30 a. m., 5 p. m.

R. O. GRANT, Supt.

Presbyterian High School
—OF—
NORTH CAROLINA.

J. M. OLDHAM, Principal.

Full corps of instructors, all college-bred men representing the leading institutions of North Carolina, Virginia and South Carolina. A non-military school located in the country in middle North Carolina, with excellent climate.

Instruction Thorough,
Discipline Mild Yet Firm,
Physical Development Looked After
Rates Reasonable.
Endorsed by Synod of North Carolina.
For catalogue address,

J. M. OLDHAM, Principal,
Mebane, N.C.

DAVIDSON COLLEGE,

DAVIDSON, N. C

The Sixtieth Year Begins September 10th, 1896.

FACULTY

Rev. J. B. Shearer, D. D., LL.D., President, and Professor of Biblical Instruction an Moral Philosophy.
Henry Louis Smith, Ph. D., Vice-President, and Prof. of Natural Philosophy.
W. D. Vinson, M. A., LL.D., Prof. of Mathematics.
C. R. Harding, Ph.D., Professor of Greek and German.
W. R. Grey, Ph.D, Professor of Latin and French.
Thos. P. Harrison, Ph.D., Professor of English.
W. J. Martin, Jr., M. D., Ph.D., Prof. of Chemistry.
F. F. Rowe, A. B., Instructor.

GYMNASIUM DIRECTOR.

VOCAL MUSIC.

CLASSICAL,
MATHEMATICAL.
SCIENTIFIC,
LITERARY,
BIBLICAL.
COMMERCIAL.

SEND FOR A CATALOGUE.

Terms Reasonable.
Location Healthful,
Accommodations Excellent,
Teaching Unsurpassed,
Gymnasium Complete.

Address THE PRESIDENT.

DO NOT FORGET.

THAT OUR BRAND OF FLOUR

THE LADIES' FAVORITE

Is the best Flour on the market. Double Patent, and produces more bread than any other

In addition to our Ladies' Favorite Flour we have taken the Agency for Pillsbury's Best Spring Wheat in barrels and half barrel sacks.

We offer North Carolina Canned Peaches, North Carolina Canned Tomatoes, guaranteed fully equal to any brand. North Carolina Manufactured Tobacco, North Carolina Bacon, California Peaches, California Apricots, both canned and dried, as well as a select stock of groceries of every description.

☞ Orders solicited.

R. W. HICKS,

WHOLESALE ONLY,

Wilmington, N. C,

The Man in the Moon would be happier if he could have a supply of Cool Fragrant and Soothing

Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco

For over twenty-five years the standard smoking tobacco of the world.

To-day More Popular than Ever.

To have a good smoke anytime and everytime it is only necessary to get Bull Durham. It is all good and always good.

BLACKWELL'S DURHAM TOBACCO CO.,
DURHAM, N. C.

H. A. TUCKER. R. D TUCKER.

TUCKER'S

GRANITE AND MARBLE WORKS.

DEALERS IN ALL KINDS OF

Granite and Marble Monuments

CONTRACTORS FOR BUILDING STONE

H. A. TUCKER & BRO.,
No. 310 Front St.,
Wilmington, N C.

As Successors to
D. A. GRANTHAM,

The Messrs. TUCKER & BRO., have a fully equipped branch yard at Goldsboro and as in Wilmington, are there prepared to do any kind of first-class work.

WORTH & WORTH,

—OFFER FOR SALE—

BEST QUALITY, FULL WEIGHT

FLOUR, BACON, SUGAR, LARD
MOLASSES, MEAL, SALT,
LIME, CEMENT,

Plaster, Hay, Corn, Hoop Iron, Oats Rivets Glue.

BUNGS, CANNED GOODS,

At Low Prices.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

CABLED FIELD AND HOG FENCE.

Cabled Poultry Fence; Wire Fence Board; Yard, Cemetery and Grave Lot Fencing on Steel Posts a Specialty. We Pay the Freight. Catalogue Free

E. L. SHELLABERGER, ATLANTA, GA.

M. H. JONES,

DURHAM, N. C.,

Keeps on hand a fine assortment of

STERLING SILVER WARE,

JEWELRY, DIAMONDS,

WATCHES, CLOCKS

and everything found in a first-class jewelry store.

☞ Repairing of all kinds, especially such as is usually sent North, done promptly and in best style; reputation established for this class of work.

PATENTS

Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained and all Patent business conducted for MODERATE FEES. OUR OFFICE IS OPPOSITE U. S. PATENT OFFICE and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.

Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured. A PAMPHLET, "How to Obtain Patents," with cost of same in the U. S. and foreign countries sent free. Address,

C. A. SNOW & CO.

OPP. PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

1865. W. S. MOORE. 1896.

GREENSBORO, N C.

General Merchandise, &c., &c.

Organs from $24 up to any price.

Pianos from $150 up to any price

Special prices to Ministers, Churches and Sunday-Schools

North Carolina Presbyterian.

New Series—VOL. XXIX—No. 1,534. WILMINGTON, N C., THURSDAY, JUNE 3, 1897. Old Series, Vol. XXXIX—No. 2,694

THE OFFICE OF THE PRESBYTERIAN IS IN THE ALLEN BUILDING ON PRINCESS STREET—ROOM No. 6, ON SECOND FLOOR.

Subscription price $2.00 a year.
Ministers $1.00
Missionaries $1.50, including postage.
New Subscribers $1.50 for first year.

☞ Checks or orders in payment of subscription may be made payable either to John McLaurin, or to North Carolina Presbyterian. Please send forward promptly.

(For Contents see Second Page)

THEY WILL BE DONE.

We see not, know not, all our way
Is night—with Thee alone is day;
From out the torrent's troubled drift,
Above the storm our prayers we lift,
Thy will be done!

The flesh may fail, the heart may faint,
But who are we to make complaint,
Or dare to plead, in time like these,
The weakness of our love of ease?
Thy will be done!

We take with solemn thankfulness
Our burden up nor ask it less,
And count it joy that even we
May suffer, some, or wait for thee,
Thy will be done!

Though dim as yet in tint and line,
We trace thy picture's wise design,
And thank thee that our age supplies
Its dark relief of sacrifice.
Thy will be done!

If, for the age to come this hour
Of trial hath vicarious power,
And, blest by Thee our present pain
Be Liberty's eternal gain,
Thy will be done!

Strike, Thou the Master, we Thy keys,
The anthem of the destinies!
The minors of Thy loftier strain,
Our hearts shall breathe the old refrain,
Thy will be done!

—John Greenleaf Whittier.

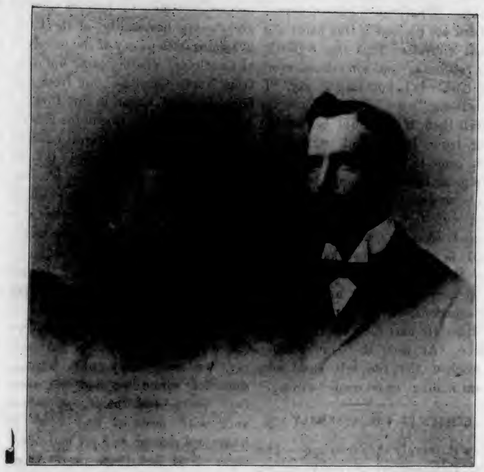
The only effectual hindrance to your becoming a Christian and securing eternal life is your own sins. Until you break off from them, you cannot lay hold on Jesus, and come into vital union with Him; no man can serve two Masters. As soon as you begin to trust Him and obey Him the healing comes. You must understand that faith is vastly more than opinion, or a feeling. It is a transaction; it is the contact of a person with a Divine Person, of a weak and guilty, and yet penitent soul with an all-sufficient Redeemer. You need to be shut up to this one tremendous truth — either Jesus Christ must save me, or I am forever lost!—Dr. T. L. Cuyler.

REV. AND MRS. LACY L. LITTLE.

In our issue of July 2nd, 1896, we gave the sketch of Rev. Lacy Little, but take pleasure in giving a brief outline of his life in connection with that of Mrs. Little which appears this week.



Rev. Lacy L. Little was born, Aug. 6th, 1868, in Richmond county, N. C. He was educated at Bingham School and the University of North Carolina, and received his theological training at Princeton Seminary, New Jersey. He was licensed to preach by Fayetteville Presbytery at Rockingham, in Oct. 1894, and ordained in December of the same year at Pee Dee church, in which he was baptized in infancy and into which he was received as a member in his eleventh year.

During the next year Mr. Little served Pee Dee, Wadeville and Ellerbe Springs churches, acting also as stated supply to Mt. Carmel and Sharon churches. Having received an appointment to China, he sailed from San Francisco on Aug. 13th, 1895, reaching his field of labor, Kiang Yin, on the 18th of September following.

Pauline McAlpine DuBose was born on the 9th of January, 1876, in Shanghai, China. Her parents are Rev. H. C. DuBose, D.D., formerly of South Carolina, and Pauline McAlpine DuBose, who was a native of Alabama.

Dr. DuBose is of Huguenot extraction; while Mrs. DuBose is descended from Scotch-Irish ancestry. For more than twenty years they have faithfully served the Master in Soochow, China.

The subject of this sketch lived with her parents, in Soochow, until she was fourteen years of age, with the exception of a trip to the home-land, made with the family when she was five years old. At the age of fourteen, together with her younger sister, she was committed to the care of Miss Mary Baldwin, of the Augusta Female Seminary, Staunton, Va.

In this institution she took the full University course, together with the full course in music, and was graduated with very high honors in the spring of 1895. The summer vacations were spent in America, at the homes of relations and friends.

Though flattering inducements were extended to her to remain in the United States, as a teacher, Miss DuBose was moved by an intense desire to return to her parents and assist them in the great work of scattering abroad the light in the regions darkness. Accordingly she made application to the Executive Committee of the Southern Presbyterian Church for appointment as a missionary to China. This was granted, and Miss DuBose had the distinction of being the first child of a missionary in our Southern Presbyterian Church to return to the field for service.

Sailing from San Francisco on the 13th of August, she joined her parents in Shanghai, on the 10th of September, 1895.

During her stay at the Seminary she was prominently connected with the religious life of the institution, and so was peculiarly fitted for the service of the kingdom in the regions beyond.

Having spoken the Chinese language very freely in her childhood, she had no difficulty in recalling the Soochow dialect, and at once engaged in active work among the women and children.

After nine months of most encouraging work with her parents in Soochow, Miss DuBose was united in marriage to Rev. Lacy L. Little, of our mission at Kiang Yin, on the 30th of June, 1896.

IS YOUR LIGHT DIM?

Some years ago a steamer was coming up the Firth of Clyde on a stormy night. Careful watch was kept and all was going well, till suddenly a dim, flickering light appeared right over her bows. In another instant the steamer went crashing into a ship which was lying at anchor. Several lives were lost and much damage was done. What was the cause of the accident? The anchored ship had allowed her light to grow dim for want of oil. It was only neglected. This is like what many Christians do; they forget to read the Word, to meditate upon it, and to watch with prayer; therefore their light is almost out, to the injury of themselves and others.

"Ye are the light of the world." Christ's churches are golden candlesticks planted in a dark world. They are to hold forth the Word of Life. Oh, Christians, watch and pray, and see to it that your lamps are trimmed and burning, and ye yourselves like unto men that wait for their Lord.—The Light-Bearer.

Often do the spirits of great events stride on before the events, and in to-day already walks to-morrow.—Coleridge.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

1ST PAGE—They Will Be Done (poetry)—Sketch of Rev. and Mrs. Lacy L Little—Is Your Light Dim?

2ND PAGE—Editorial: I Am Willing—Echoes of the Assembly.

3RD PAGE—Editorial Notes.

4TH PAGE — The General Assembly (continued on 6th page)—Damascus.

5TH PAGE.—Except They Be Sent—Literary Jottings—Books Received.

6TH PAGE —Religious Intelligence—General Assembly—India Relief Fund—Personals.

7TH PAGE—General Assembly.

8TH PAGE — Gems from Goethe—Sketch of Sugar Creek Church (Concluded)—Out of the Deep.

9TH PAGE—Through Tickets.

10TH PAGE—Sunday School Lesson—Young People's Column—Open Door Notes—Puzzles — Comencement Exercises, Davidson College.

11TH PAGE—Marriages— Obituaries—Secular News—DavidsonNotes.

12TH PAGE. — (For the Family)—Up-Hill (poetry)—The Queen's Only Woman Appointee—Musical Bottles.

13TH PAGE—June (poetry) — Johnny and the Gate—Thou Shalt Have No Other Gods—Honor Roll—Letter-Box.

14TH PAGE — North Carolina Home Missions—S. A. L. Notice to Tourists.

15TH PAGE—Say Soes—Market— Advertisement of E. M. Andrews.

16TH PAGE—Things Useful.

"I AM WILLING."

Riding on a train recently with a prominent minister of the Methodist Church, now doing very important work by appointment of the conference, it was very pleasing to find that he and his wife, a well known active worker, were reading together and getting great help from the works of Andrew Murray, referred to last week. The conversation proceeded along spiritual lines, chiefly upon the power of a surrendered life. This is one of the subjects specially discussed in the book of Rev. R. A. Torrey, on "How to Obtain Fullness of Power in Christian Life and Service." Our Methodist brother was at home in an experience meeting, only the recital was in this case chiefly the experiences of others: notably Rev. F. B. Meyer, of London, and Rev. Dr. Chapman, the evangelist, pastor of Bethany Presbyterian church of Philadelphia. The latter, being awakened to see the need of more entire surrender to do the will of the Master, was reading the account of the experience of the former and adopted his way of procedure. Mr. Meyer wished to live a surrendered life, but found some points difficult and summed up his conclusion in words like this. Lord, if I am not willing to surrender all and wholly to Thee, "I am willing to be made willing." In these words uttered humbly and heartily the experience of both these men turned to a surrendered life full of blessing, power and fruitfulness.

It is not the issue of surrender to the will of God to suffer under trial or bereavement, or to bear, patiently, any burdens our Father may see good for us. The issue is rather one of obedience to obey Christ Jesus in all things as our Lord. It is of the surrender of our will and with that the transfer of our life to the mastery and mission of our Lord Jesus Christ. It is the yielding of self-life to be made spiritual.

Suffering might be endured or burdens might be borne with a sort of stoicism whose chief element after all was self. But the self with its pride and vanity is the very thing to be given up and given over to Christ. It is not natural, or easy to do this. When the claims of Christ as Lord are pressed at this point the carnal Christian finds the self-life very rebellious and sometimes even resentful. It is not easy to say, "I am willing."

Well then, if we would be better, wiser, truer, in life and service, it must come to this, that Christ must have us as His own completely, not only with gratitude and love to Him as Saviour, but with loyalty and joy as our Lord. The surrender He demands is not the outworks of even busy lives, nor the storehouses of our treasures, of power, or influence or possessions, but the citadel of the will that He may take the full possession. At least this much must be reached that the self shall say, "I am willing to be made willing."

ECHOES OF THE ASSEMBLY.

How strikingly they rush upon—the sight we would say if it were not an absurdity to say it. They come back to us as reverberations of the wisdom—not always of the wisdom—of the Assembly, and they come incarnated to the memory in the forms of the fathers and the brethren who have made this Assembly of all the Assemblies most vividly and most lastingly to be remembered. The Westminster Assembly, Junior, it might almost be called, where the sons or successors of that grandest of ecclesiastical convocations, came to tell of the momentous consequences, of the world-blessing results, which had flowed down even to our day from that which had been done well-nigh three centuries ago. Eleven addresses, of which it may be asked were there ever such? from the very pick of our theologians and our scholars. The addresses are to be published our friends will be glad to know.

But apart from the Westminster feature the Assembly was notable for its personnel. Of nineteen living ex-moderators eleven were present either as members of the Assembly, officers or visitors. They were: Rev Robert L Dabney, D D, year of service, 1870; Rev Moses D Hoge, D D, 1875; Rev Joseph R Wilson, D D, 1879; Rev Robert P Farris, D D, 1881; Rev R K Smoot, D D, 1882; Rev T D Witherspoon, D D, 1884; Rev G B Strickler, D D, 1887; Rev H G Hill, 1889; Rev Samuel A King, D D, 1892; Rev C R Hemphill, D D, 1895; Rev R Q Mallard, D D, 1896.

If time and space permitted we would be glad to name others of eminence who were present, for many such there were to engage in the business of the court, or to enjoy the proceedings and to partake of the overflowing hospitality of the Presbyterians—let us say of the people—of Charlotte. Visitors came not only from North Carolina, but from our Southern sisters afar, to this Presbyterian feast. Dr. Goetchius chosen as moderator, by universal consent has never been surpassed in the gentle firmness and in the wisdom and fairness with which he guided the deliberations of this most notable body of men. Dr. Dabney, Dr. Hoge, Dr. Smoot, Dr. Beattie and so many others—where can we stop? What shall we say of them? A running pen cannot overtake the task.

Here, in the day or two given to take in the Assembly, we met many old friends, some of whom we had not seen for years—and made acquaintance with some we had come to know and esteem and yet had never seen. And yet there were those who were sadly missed—among them some whom it needs must be on earth will never again be seen in such an assemblage of brethren. We do not count in these, gladly we say, Dr. J. Henry Smith, of whom when deserving honors were paid to Dr. Smith, some one suggested to write: "of Greensboro, because there are so many Smiths," and a chorus of voices responded: there is but one "Jacob Henry." Dr. Palmer was not there —primus inter pares—but in the gracious providence of God he may meet his brethren and as their host may welcome them for the third time in the next Assembly. Many prayers will petition it.

The First church, Charlotte, was most admirably adapted to the use to which on this occasion it was devoted. The acoustic properties were good, very good, and the ante-rooms, or side rooms, proved most serviceable for deliberations of the committees. Notably the attendant auditors had respect to the proprieties and refrained from the disorder which too often proves annoying on such occasions. Commend us to the good people of Charlotte for always doing the right thing in the right way. Business moved on with animation and almost without friction; even the friction chafed without wounding. The Assembly was invited to visit Biddle Institute, but time did not admit, although the courtesy was appropriately acknowledged. The invitation to a reception at the Presbyterian College for Women was accepted and thoroughly enjoyed—it could not be otherwise. But we are admonished that we must draw to an end; yet we must not omit a word apart on other matters.

Charlotte, beautiful and bright as it is, has become a synonym for business enterprize. How we would like to be allowed a few more sticks of space to speak of the elegant residences, the inviting shades and restful looking lawns, that tell of the business thrift and energy of which they are tangible results. The remainder allowed us must be devoted otherwise. The Assembly paid to the press, and especially to the Observer, the compliment of thanks for services rendered in the reports it furnished—a thing that heretofore has been unknown: and it was well deserved. We did not omit to visit the Exposition of the Carolinas—in truth through the courtesy of Mrs. Kellogg, the manager, more than once. To write it up would fail us. It struck us as surprisingly good; the art department as worthy of the larger and vastly more pretentious exhibitions, as also the display of machinery, much of it in actual operation in practical demonstration of Charlotte's manufactories, to say nothing of the displays of hardware, dry-goods and furniture, pianos, &c., &c. In these latter E. M. Andrews made a specially attractive showing. We have said nothing of the curios, historical and other, nor can we here. Our advice is: Go and see. We had hoped to meet Mrs. J. W. Miller, from whom we had received special courtesy, but we were disappointed. We must in closing return thanks for courtesies to Mr. Andrews, of E. M. Andrews, to Mr. H. Baruch; and to Mr. S. R. Berryhill and other members of his household, very particularly, for hospitable entertainment during our visit.

SOUTHERN BIBLICAL ASSEMBLY. This will hold its third annual session in Asheville, N. C., for two weeks, beginning August 4th, 1897.

All evangelical churches are represented. Prominent and trusted ministers of our Church, such as Dr. Barnett, pastor of the First church of Atlanta are to take part. The theme, for this year, will be "Christ and the Bible." There will be be schools, lectures, sermons and conferences, with study of methods. The city churches will co-operate in prayer and personal aid. The membership fee is $2. This will entitle the holder to attend all sessions, secure reduced railroad fare and reduced rates for boarding. Full information as to membership, programmes and transportation, may be had by application to Rev. P. L. Groome, D. D., District Superintendent, Greensboro, N. C.

Hon. W. M. Cox, of Baldwin, Miss., who electrified the General Assembly with his address on "The Influence of the Westminster System of Doctrine, Worship and Polity on Civil Liberty and Responsible Government," on the forenoon of last Sabbath delivered the same address before the congregation of the First Presbyterian church of this city.

To compare this discourse with others from the very eminent divines of our Church might be invidious, and could hardly fail to be unfair. It is, indeed, hardly admissible to the plane of comparison. It was surprisingly popular in style considering the nature of the theme, and wonderfully clear and convincing in statement, notwithstanding the thought necessarily was so much compressed. It was a remarkable illustration of crystallization of profoundest thought and reasoning, so presented as to enchain the attention of the audience and to delight them, the while instructing them in the facts of history and demonstrating the effect of Calvinistic teaching and practice in the formation of individual character, the promoting of civil liberty and the maintaining of responsible government.

In this connection we would call particular attention to an article by Mr. Cox, delivered as an address before the Southwestern Presbyterian University and published about a year ago in The Southern Presbyterian Quarterly, on the Woman Question. It has been pronounced by many as the ablest article in our literature on this subject.

THE AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY. The address of Dr. McLean the Secretary of this Society before our General Assembly last week, showed that Presbyterians in this country, though far outnumbered in membership by other churches, greatly exceed any other body of Christians in giving to this important cause.

This Society since 1853, has printed more than forty-two millions of volumes of Scriptures. The book of Genesis in Laos, where our friends Rev. and Mrs. L. W. Curtis are laboring, has been translated and is now ready for the press. The demands upon this Society for translations and editions of the Scriptures for civilized and heathen people, especially when the Gospel is being first preached, is very great, and there is need of increased contributions to carry on the work.

THE WESTMINSTER ADDRESSES at the Assembly were most admirable in general and it would be unjust to particularize. Dr. Dabney's of course was nonpariel. We are enabled to give the following outline of Dr. Daniel's, from which our readers will gather what it must have been:

The topic assigned was, "Polity and Worship, Emphasizing their Relation to Doctrine." The speaker understood that this topic required him to discover the unifying doctrinal element binding together the Confession of Faith, the Form of Government, and the Directory of Worship. This cardinal doctrine he announced to be: The all-sufficiency, the righteous yet gracious sovereignty of God; whose good pleasure was the source of the Church's being; whose will was her law, and whose glory was her end.

After exhibiting the grandeur with which this central doctrine is taught in the Confession, transition was made to the sovereignty of God incarnate as supreme over Church government and worship. The following were then made the leading propositions:

I. The Lord Jesus Christ is the alone King and Head of the Church.

II. This sovereignty is realized in many and stupendous ways:

1. In His effectual calling of all His members into one body.

2. In His ordination that His own will as revealed in His own Word shall be to this body its sufficient and its exclusive rule of life and duty.

3. In appointing in this Word "a government" which is in the hand of officers chosen and qualified by Himself, and distinct from the civil magistrate.

4. In declaring therein all the ordinances of Divine worship, and in presiding by the Holy Ghost as Master of all worshiping assemblies, the Author of all effectual preaching, the Inspirer of all true prayer and praise, the Source of all virtue in the sacraments.

5. In coming again to earth in glory, to raise the dead, to judge the world, to glorify the saints, to present them faultless before His Father with exceeding joy, delivering up the kingdom to God, and as Theanthropic Head of the redeemed, to reign forever.

OUR PREMIUM BIBLE.

Measures 5x7 inches when Closed, and Contains 1,600 Pages of Reading Matter—Several hundred pages of Useful Information, besides the Scriptural Text.

At length we find ourselves with pride and pleasure, able to offer a Bible premium to workers for the N. C. PRESBYTERIAN. The size and quality of type of our Bible is represented by the cut here given:

The binding is flexible, the edges are gilt and the references within are full. The Bible contains besides 1050 pages of Scriptural text, the HELPS to Scripture reading and study including Subject Index, Concordance, a most serviceable General Topical Index, a large number of pages treating of the Titles, Authorship, Distinctive Characters, Contents, &c., of the various books of the Bible, A Description of the Inhabitants, Physical Geography, Customs and Political Condition of the Holy Land at the beginning of the Christian era, the Botany of the Bible, Glossary of Antiquities, Customs, 12 maps, etc., being the Oxford Helps, acknowledged to be the very best, besides 124 full page illustrations of the Languages, Writing, &c., of the Old and New Testaments, of the bas reliefs and the like, discoveries in archæological researches, and now in the British museum—and very much else; making altogether the most desirable copy of the Scriptures for Bible students that has come to our knowledge. The book contains over 1,600 pages.

The Bible is an offer in connection with the NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN—the only medium thro which one can become well acquainted with what is going on in the Synod of North Carolina—on the folowing terms:

We will give this Bible as payment for help rendered to any old subscriber who will send us the name of a BONA FIDE new subscriber along with $2.25.

The new subscriber gets the paper very cheap—we offer it to any bona fide new subscriber for $1.50 for the first year—and the worker gets amply compensated in a magnificently cheap Bible for his or her good work.

A new subscriber to get the Bible can subscribe for himself at $1.50 and then send another new subscriber with $2.25.

The Premium offered is the Genuine Edition of the Oxford Teacher's Bible.

We trust our friends will go to work promptly on this plan.

JOHN McLAURIN,
Manager N. C. Presbyterian.

"Our Premium Bible" contains absolutely nothing that tends to discredit the plain Scripture narrative of "Jonah and the whale."

A man of long experience in sin is a worse man than he seems himself to be. The day of judgment is to be a day of fearful surprises and overwhelming revolutions in self knowledge.—Austin Phelps.

David's thirst for God. PSALMS. He praiseth God for his grace.

10 Trust not in oppression, and become not vain in robbery: [1]if riches increase, set not your heart upon them.
11 God hath spoken [2]once; twice have I heard this; that [3]power belongeth unto God.
12 Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for [4]thou renderest to every man according to his work.

PSALM 63.

1 David's thirst for God. 4 His manner of blessing God.
A Psalm of David, [5]when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

O GOD, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: [6]my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and [7]thirsty land, [8]where no water is;
2 To see [9]thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the sanc-

[1] or, we are concerned by that which they have wrongfully exercised.
[2] Job 33. 14. Ps. 62. 7.
[3] 1 Tim. 6. 17.
[4] Heb. a search searched.
[5] Job 33. 14. [6] or, strongeth. [7] Heb. their wound shall be. [8] Job 24. 11. Prov. 24. 12. Jer. 2. 6. Mat. 16. 27. Rom. 2. 6. Col. 3. 25. [9] Ps. 27. 4. [10] Ps. 29. 2. [11] Num. 23. 3. [12] Ps. 42. 2.

6 They search out iniquities; [2]they accomplish [3]a diligent search: both the inward thought of every one of them, and the heart, is deep.
7 But God shall shoot at them with an arrow; suddenly [4]shall they be wounded.
8 So they shall make their own tongue to fall upon themselves: [5]all that see them shall flee away.
9 And all men shall fear, and shall [6]declare the work of God; for they shall wisely consider of his doing.
10 The righteous shall be glad in the LORD, and shall trust in him; and all the upright in heart shall glory.

PSALM 65.

1 David praiseth God for his grace. 4 The blessedness of God's chosen by reason of benefits.
To the chief Musician, A Psalm and Song of David.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

FIFTH DAY.

Tuesday, May 25th.

After devotional exercises a telegram expressing the reciprocal greeting of the Northern Assembly in session at Eagle Lake, Ind., was read.

An invitation from Dr. Sanders, President of Biddle University to visit that institution was accepted upon condition that business of Assembly would permit.

The Report on Ministerial Education was re-read at the request of Dr. Dabney, who insisted that candidates helped by committee should not be helped by other sources. It was recommended that the day of prayer for colleges and seminaries be changed back to the last Thursday in February. Presbyteries were exhorted to be careful in recommending candidates and $30,000 was asked for by various churches. Dr. Richardson was re-elected Secretary, with his committee at Memphis. The committee of last year was approved.

The Report on Colored Evangelization recommended help to Stillman Institute, approved the correspondence with Reformed Church and also the idea of an Independent African Church. A committee of five was appointed to act when the way was clear. $15,000 was asked for the general work and $10,000 additional for Stillman Institute. Rev. A. B. Wilson missionary among the colored people made a strong address. Rev. E. W. Williams, colored, of Abbeville, S. C., was also heard.

At twelve o'clock Dr. Hoge made the address upon The Westminster Symbols in their Relation to and Influence upon the Missionary Character and Activities of the Church.

In the afternoon the Report on Publication was heard and some changes recommended in blanks. This report was docketed and later taken up and adopted with slight verbal changes.

New Orleans, St. Louis, Richmond and Athens asked for the Assembly. New Orleans was chosen as the next place of meeting, chiefly out of regard of request of Dr. Palmer.

At night the popular meeting in interest of Home Missions was held. Dr. Price presided, Dr. Craig, Secretary, took charge of program. He asked for $2,000 to be raised in June for work among the Indians. Rev. F. D. Hunt showed the needs of Florida, Rev. S. G. Miller pleaded the cause of Arkansas, Rev. Mr. Wiggins showed the great needs of great Texas. Dr. Hoge presented the general claims of the cause.

SIXTH DAY.

Wednesday, May 26th.

Rev. H. T. Graham, of Fayetteville, conducted devotional exercises.

The Report on Sabbath-schools was heard recommending the use of the supplementary lesson course directed by last Assembly, that a hymn book be prepared suitable for Sabbath-schools and Westminster Leagues and that section two of last year's reports on Young People's Societies be stricken out.

The report on Home Missions and its recommendations was adopted. $40,000 was recommended as necessary for the coming year. Dr. Craig was reelected Secretary together with his committee at Atlanta. The great needs of Texas, Arkansas and Florida were shown in connection with the discussion of the report.

At twelve o'clock the address was delivered by Rev. Samuel M. Smith, D. D., Columbia, on Westminster Symbols Considered in Relation to Current Popular Theology and the Needs of the Future.

The invitation of Mr. Junkin to visit the Presbyterian College for Women on Thursday evening, from five to seven, was accepted.

The afternoon was taken up with the report of the committee on Foreign Missions. The general work of the committee was approved. The movement to build the Congo Boat was discouraged for the present. The present Secretary, Dr. Chester, and his efficient Committee at Nashville were re-elected.

At night the popular meeting on Foreign Missions was held and addresses were made by Mr. Joldersman, of the Reformed Church, formerly known as the Reformed Dutch Church. The Rev. D. W. Snyder spoke in the interest of Africa.

(Continued on 6th page.)

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

DAMASCUS.

MY DEAR BRO. MCLAURIN:—We have spent a quiet Sabbath in this, the most ancient city of the world; resting and recuperating our energies after our long and fatiguing horse-back trip through Palestine. Damascus must ever live in the memories and hearts of all Christians as connected with the conversion of the great apostle to the Gentiles, and with his baptism with the Holy Ghost, whereby he was prepared and set apart to the apostolate. To-day it is the purest type of an Eastern city of any town in Syria. Time and modern progress have made few changes. Its people are excessively conservative, and jealous of any innovations. It differs from any city we have visited. So different indeed, that one is at a loss to find any standard of comparison wherewith to describe and convey a true conception of it. Its narrow and crowded streets—overhanging houses and windows, covered bazaars, flat earthern roofs, copious streams and fountains, its splendidly formed, regular featured, and brilliantly dressed people, form a picture unique, and intensely attractive and fascinating. One of its great and first recognized attractions is its comparative cleanliness. After visiting Cairo, Jerusalem, Nazareth which, both within and without, are full of all uncleanness, this is particularly noticeable and agreeable. Possibly this is due to the copious streams of the united waters of Abana and Pharpar. Their crystaline waters fairly rush in rivers, conduits and fountains through every part of the city and suburbs, leaving no excuse for filth in the former, and making the latter a perfect oasis in the desert. After having looked upon the turbid waters of the Jordan and then upon the pure, clear limpid waters of Damascus you cannot fail to have some sympathy with and for Naaman when he with indignation exclaimed, "Are not Abana and Pharpar rivers of Damascus, better than all the waters of Jordan?"

If one were to judge from appearances, the Damascenes must be a very pious people. We have been here three days, and every day has been a Sabbath, with a certain outward observance, as the closing of shops, the opening of the places of worship, &c. Friday was the Moslem Sabbath, Saturday the Jewish, and Sunday the Greek or Christian. With Paul however, in his estimate of the Galatian Christians, I am afraid of the Damascenes, "for they observe days and months and years," this and little more. Their religion is outward, formal, legal. Between the three Sabbaths it virtually results in their having none, for business is conducted as usual on all three. And but for the closing of a few bazaars on each Sabbath day, one would not know any difference between the so-called Sabbath and any other day.

In the morning of our Christian Sabbath (or better Lord's Day), we attended worship at the church of the Irish Presbyterian mission, which is the legitimate successor of the American mission of the United Presbyterian Church; which withdrew from Syria a few years since, to concentrate its strength upon the more promising field of Egypt. Some of its missionaries were invited, because of their experience, to remain, which they did, and organized the Irish mission. Messrs. Crawford and his son, Phillips and others are at the helm. They have under their direction several departments, embracing the church proper, with a congregation and a Sabbath-school, of from one hundred and fifty to two hundred attendants each, four schools, one each for boys and for girls among the Greeks and Moslems, and a hospital and dispensary. The ground in which they work is hard—the seed slow in germinating and the consequent fruit very limited. Great opposition is offered and encountered from the government, while persecution from members of their own class almost cost Greek or Moslem his life, certainly his living to publicly confess Christ.

It was my privilege to receive and to accept an invitation from the Rev. J. F. Segall, minister of the London Missionary Society for the Evangelization of the Jews, to take tea with him in the afternoon. The invitation embraced several other members of our party. Upon wending our way through the narrow crooked streets (there is only one straight street in Damascus and hence the inhabitants immortalized it by so naming it) we knocked at the gate of our host. Passing through and under the gate we entered the scrupulously clean paved court yard, back of which was the "watered garden," a space about one hundred to one hundred and fifty yards across. Within this famed spot were clustered in charming confusion a mass of trees and flowers of almost endless variety, that would have made a botanist wild with delight. Casting my eye hastily around the scene I noted among the trees, poplars, acacias, locusts, cyprus, bay, horse-chestnut, mulberry, myrtle, Judas, oleander, euonymus, linden, barbary, aloes, peach, pear, plum, apple, apricot, walnut, locust and pomegranate: among the vines and shrubs the grape, honeysuckle, periwinkle, cyringa, spiræa, ivy, althea, jessamine, snow-ball, elder, deutchias, roses of many varieties; the flowers, lilies, verbenas, marigolds, camelias, wall flowers, columbines, chrysanthemums, petunias. But memory and patience (of your readers) fail. And I forbear to mention others which a careful examination would have disclosed. Many of the fruit trees and flowers were in full bloom, adding beauty and grace to this little interior scene. Seated in a bower of tall euonymus bushes were the missionary, his wife, their three beautiful children and a few friends, fellow-workers, waiting to receive us. Around a small table, set with genuine English China, we gathered to drink our cup of tea. And never before did it take me so long to drink a cup of tea, aiming the while to prolong our intensely interesting interview with these consecrated, enthusiastic and hopeful servants of God. We listened with rapt attention as they told (drawn on and out by us) of their work, its encouragements and discouragements, its hopes and disappointments. Their mission is exclusively to the Jews in Damascus. These are a very different class from the Jews of modern Palestine, most of whom are descendants of Western Jews, while the Damascus Jews are descendants of Eastern Jews, and therefore in full sympathy with the Jews of the far East. The Christian mission and work among them assumes increased importance, in that if successful it will fit them to be evangelists to their own people in the East. The energies and efforts of the missionaries are consecrated to and mainly concentrated upon the children. Through these they obtain access to the homes, and by the Bible women the mothers are taught the Scriptures of God's ancient people Israel. It was touching indeed to hear the ladies tell the stories of the ignorance of these poor women and of their eagerness to learn the Word of God. The mission also conducts a hospital, where regularly the duties of the day are opened with prayer; and where opportunities are offered and embraced in the waiting room for conversing with the patients upon the claims of Jesus, as their Messiah, and of his peculiar love for His chosen people, the sons of Abraham. The Jews, like the Moslems, bitterly oppose all efforts to reach and to rescue their own people, and persecute any of their number, who, in faith, and loyalty to Christ confess Him their Messiah. The rabbis threaten their people with excommunication, deny them the rites of their religion, circumcision, marriage, burial, &c., if they attend the Christian services, or allow their children to attend the Christian schools. With such bans, as might be expected, very few converts reward the earnest and faithful work of these missionaries to the Jews. Yet they in faith continue to sow the seed, looking to the Lord of the harvest, to send the early and the latter rain of His Spirit whereby the seed shall be quickened into everlasting life, to the glory of His great and holy name. With great reluctance we turned our backs upon this little bit of Paradise and bade these dear people farewell, giving, in response to their earnest request, a promise to pray for them and for their work. In which prayer I would ask your readers to join, that God would graft back again His people Israel into the true olive tree to the praise of His grace in Christ.

Faithfully,

L. B. TURNBULL.

April 25th, 1897.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

EXCEPT THEY BE SENT.

The property of the Southern Presbyterians can be safely estimated at one thousand millions; the sum total held by our congregations may possibly aggregate two billions.

A party of missionaries-elect are ready to sail. How many individuals or individual churches might count it a privilege to equip and send forth one messenger who will bring glad tidings of good things to pagan lands?

Our ministers have prayed to Zion's King, and in the sanctuary appealed to a blood-bought church. God has heard their intercessions and men have offered for service. Our foreign work is not like the tree of life, yielding its fruit every month, but may be compared to a field bearing an annual harvest. After so much labor, shall the cotton, ready to be picked, be allowed to be scattered on the ground? Will not our pastors each hold a special concert of prayer for the new workers, and on the threshold of life's labors how much they need an unction from the Holy One, and let an opportunity for free-will offerings be afforded?

Can the ladies of our Church sit idle at this time? May not the light of each missionary society be like the Baptist's, "burning and shining?" How many godly women, our fellow workers, might send out a hundred postals, each with a summons to consecration and to duty?

And who are these volunteers? Are they grey-headed veterans? Nay: the blood of youthful enthusiasm courses in their veins. Our appeal is to the young people's societies; to the young men and maidens! Prove your faith not only by songs, but also by alms! Can you not pay the passage-money across the sea for young ministers and physicians? A heroic wave sweeping through our Church would cause many others to say, "Here am I, send me."

And is there nothing for our Sabbath-schools to do? Little Friends: "Strike when the iron is hot." Why, the children of the covenant alone are abundantly able to send out the company of new missionaries. Let a chorus of 100,000 voices sing:

Now be the Gospel banner
In every land unfurled;
And let the shout, "Hosannah!"
Re-echo through the would,
'Till every isle and nation,
'Till every tribe and tongue,
Receive the great salvation
And join the happy throng.

H. C. DUBOSE.

MOTHERS

We have a book prepared especially for you, which we mail free. It treats of the stomach disorders—worms, etc.—that every child is liable to and for which has been successfully used for a half century.

Frey's Vermifuge

* One bottle by mail for 35c.

C. A. S. FREY, Baltimore, Md.

LITERARY JOTTINGS.

Perhaps the greatest benefit ever performed for the world by the late Coventry Patmore, whose life was long and useful, was to save from destruction the manuscript of "In Memoriam," which Tennyson had left among some discarded rubbish in his lodgings.

Apropos of the sixtieth anniversary of the reign of Queen Victoria, the June number of McClure's Magazine will contain a series of life portraits of the Queen; the earliest showing her, a child on her mother's lap, at the age of two years: the next at four, the next at five, and so on, almost year by year, down to the present day. The reproduction will be, in most instances, directly from the originals, and by the finest process. No such series has ever been published before.

In its June number The Ladies' Home Journal will celebrate the Diamond Jubilee in a way distinctly its own. In an article by William George Jordan, entitled "What Victoria Has Seen," the reader will be taken on the British throne, and the marvelous panorama of the world's history for sixty years will pass before him. He will at a glance see the progress in art, science, invention, music, education; the great social reforms, the growth of nations and the advance of civilization. The whole story of the world's progress of the longest reign in English history will be vividly presented.

Miss Lucy Maynard Salmon, Professor of History at Vassar College, has written a book on Domestic Service, which the Macmillan Company publish-

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

Celebrated for its great leavening strength and healthfulness. Assured the food against alum and all forms of adulteration common to the cheap brands.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

es. It is said to be "the first systematic, scientific study of domestic service," and is based on information obtained by sending out through a period of two years a series of blanks, one to be filled out by employers, one by employes and one asking for miscellaneous information from many who are supposed to have exceptional opportunities for forming judgments on the subject.

Copies of the Gutenberg Bible are valuable adjuncts to a library. Brayton Ives paid Hamilton Cole $15,000 for his copy some years ago, which, while it is not the highest price paid for one of these Bibles, is probably as much if not more than it will ever command again. The only other copy in America, now in the Lennox Library, was purchased in 1847, for £500. Its duplicate from the Munich Library sold at Augsburg in 1858 for 2,336 florins. The Bishop of Casbel's copy sold at auction in London in 1858 for £595 and twenty-nine years afterward went into Lord Crawford's library at a price of £2,650. The Perkins copy, on vellum, sold at auction in London in 1873 for £3,400, and the one on paper for £2,690. Lord Hopetown's copy, which was found among a lot of rubbish when the library was prepared for sale in 1889, fetched an even £2,000. The highest price the book ever commanded was the Syston Park copy, which on being sold at auction in 1884 fetched £3,900.—Baltimore Sun.

BOOKS RECEIVED.

Eightieth Annual Report of the Sunday Breakfast Association of Philadelphia. Lewis W. Bean, President.

The Alumni Bulletin of the University of Virginia, with an excellent table of contents. Published quarterly. $1.00 a year.

Sixth Biennial Report of the North Carolina Board of Health, and Souvenir of the Two Hundred and Fiftieth Anniversary of the Confession of Faith, &c. To the members of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church at Charlotte, N. C., May 20th, 1897, with compliment of Whittet & Shepperson, Richmond, Va.

INDIA RELIEF FUND.

TWO CENTS will sustain the life of a man, woman or child for one day.

Previously acknowledged.....	$112 62
Ladies' Missionary Society, Caswell church.....	4 00
Flora Colvin.....	18
Mrs. M. M. McKay's S. S. Class, Summerville, N. C.....	3 00
Docia Cowan.....	06

The Annual Scheme of Collections in the Synod of North Carolina is as follows:

January—General Assembly's Home Missions.

February and August—Presbyterial Home Missions.

March—Publication and Colportage.

April — Education — (one collection Church and Christian Education).

May and October—Foreign Missions.

Third Sabbath in October for Bible Cause.

June and September—Synodical Home Missions.

July—Invalid Fund.

Third Sunday in October—BibleCause.

November and April—Education for the Ministry.

December—ColoredEvangelization

THE ASSEMBLY'S FORM OF BEQUEST.

I do hereby give and bequeath to the Trustees of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States (popularly known as the Southern Presbyterian Church) the sum of .....Dollars for the benefit of [here name cause to which the legacy is given.]

Religious Intelligence.

We specially invite News from all quarters for this Department.

CHANGES OF ADDRESS.

Correspondents will please note the following changes of address:

Mr. C. C. Anderson, from Hampden Sidney, Va., to Bluefield, W. Va., for the summer.

Rev. A. R. Shaw, from Cleburne, Texas, to Henderson, N. C.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Red Springs Seminary:—Commencement exercises June 6th to 8th. Sermon Sunday, June 6th, by Rev. A. D. McClure of Wilmington. Art Levee Monday afternoon; concert Monday night. Commencement address Tuesday, June 8th, at eleven o'clock by Rev. W. W. Moore, D. D., of Hampden Sidney, Va. A large crowd is expected from the surrounding country at this the first commencement of Red Springs Seminary.

Two New Churches in a Day:—While the evangelist, Rev. P. C. Morton was conducting meetings of great interest at Chadbourn and Hub Rev. A. McFadyen and Elder W. Stanley of Whiteville church (of the commission authorized to organize churches) visited those growing towns Tuesday of last week and organized a hopeful band of about fifteen members at Chadbourn. Mr. A. T. Coultas, elder, and the same night at Hub with Messrs. Calvin Edwards ruling elder, and T. B. Brown deacon. The meetings continue at Hub with crowded and serious congregations. A number have professed a hope and on Sabbath last the Lord's Supper was celebrated for the first time in Hub. This is a sprightly lumber-making town built up by the Butters Lumber Co., with ample capital and said to be the biggest plant in the South. With her own railroad, saw mills, planing machines, shingle mills, ice factory, electric lights, water works and artesian supply, churches and school building, the town grows fast. The Presbyterian church is the first organized in Hub. Chadbourn is the centre of a successful colony, chiefly of Northern Scotch and Canadian settlers, on four thousand acres in small farms and building homes all around. Some of them have made over $300 per acre in strawberries this spring. They are much encouraged and expect to build a church at once on a site given for a church and a parochial school.

Wallace:—It was our privilege to be among our old friends at Wallace on the fifth Sunday. We held two services, administered the communion and with the session received two members on profession of faith.

The group of churches of which Wallace is the centre, is at present without a pastor, but has the efficient services for the summer of Student R. M. Williams, There is a hopeful outlook for this field. Materially this section is steadily making progress and if the Wallace church, in conjunction with Mount Zion and Rockfish, will build a manse and locate a pastor at Wallace, they will be in shape to do a great wor for Christ and our church. Come up brethren to the work of the Lord.

P. McI.

VIRGINIA.

East Hanover Presbytery:—Since January Rev. L. A. McLean, evangelist of Synod of Virginia, has been laboring in East Hanover Presbytery among weak and vacant churches and assisting pastors at mission points in the country. These services have resulted in one hundred and two professions of faith and seventy seven additions to the Presbyterian church. On Sabbath, the 23d, he closed a meeting at Bardwell chapel in Nottaway county, where he had labored a week with Rev. S. G. Hutton, pastor of Pryor Memorial church. There were nineteen professions and fifteen received on examination and baptized by the pastor.

MISSISSIPPI.

Lexington:—The lines have fallen to us in pleasant places. A big-hearted, generous people have done much to make us feel at home, though we are strangers in a strange land. We have just moved into the elegant manse built about ten months ago, and found that our good people had already furnished it to a large extent—the dining-room and kitchen completely. Our pantry, too, has been filled with everything needful for the inner man, and we have no fear of the wolf at the door for many days to come. Our hearts have been made glad by their kindness, and we pray and believe that God will bountifully reward them.

EUGENE L. SILER.

GENERAL.

The Rev. J. E. Maxwell of Chicago Presbytery has received a unanimous call to the pastorate of the American-British church of Leipsic, Germany. The membership of the church is made up of Scotch, English and American residents and a few German families, together with about three hundred students, the most of whom are taking post-graduate courses in the university: thus forming a body of intelligent Christian men and women among whom it would be a delight and an inspiration for a minister of the Gospel to live and labor. Mr Maxwell has the call under consideration, and will probably accept it.

PERSONALS.

Rev. P. C. Morton has been called to the Columbus churches and they propose to build a manse.

Rev. W. McC. Miller, of Smithville, Va., former pastor at Immanuel chapel preached at Immanuel church on last Sabbath night to a crowded house. The congregation gave their former pastor strictest attention and were delighted with the sermon.

We are delighted to know that Rev. A. R. Shaw has accepted a call to Henderson, N. C., and will return at once to our Synod.

Rev. F. W. Farries, of Goldsboro preached the Baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class of Peace Institute on Sabbath of last week A most excellent discourse on the practical duties of womanhood. The unusual claims upon our space preclude even a synopsis of this admirable sermon.

Rev. D. C. Rankin, the efficient editor of the Missionary, on last Sabbath preached at New Hope church in Brunswick county. He was on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, the parents of Mrs. L. W. Curtis who with her husband is a missionary of the Northern Church to Siam. Messrs. Rankin and Curtis are brothers-in-law.

Rev. Dr. S. C. Alexander of Monticello, Ark., preached at Black River church on last Sabbath. He was pastor of this church and others in the neighborhood some twenty-five years ago. His text was from Prov. xvi, 9. Numbers from South River and Caswell churches came to hear their old pastor and to welcome him among them again, though for a few hours only.

The High Point Presbyterian has entered upon its seventh volume. It is an excellent monthly and we wish it success.

Our thanks are extended our friends who have kindly remembered us when sending out invitations to their school and college commencements. From our own and neighboring States they have come, and we regret that press of matter forbids our acknowledging each separately.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

(Continued from 4th page.))

SEVENTH DAY.

Thursday, May 27th.

After devotional exercises, Dr. Mallard reported answers to several overtures and at his request they were docketed.

Rev. Dr. McConnell read the report of the Committee on Systematic Beneficence. The neglect of some Presbyteries to furnish reports and the carelessness of others in their preparation was adverted to as necessarily making the report unsatisfactory. Another fact was stated:

That only 439 churches of 2 788 have contributed to all the Assembly's causes of benevolence, while 432 are reported as giving absolutely nothing to these causes, and as a probable reason, in part, at least, for this dereliction in duty and want of appreciation of privilege, your committee finds that only 25 out of 77 Presbyteries have called upon the churches to give reasons for such failure, as required by the action of the Assembly of 1875.

The Committee recommended that the Presbyteries be enjoined to require that the congregations be instructed in the duty of giving, and to require sessions to report in writing, in case of failure to take any collection, the reason therefor—the Presbytery to pass judgment upon the propriety of the excuse in every case and to duly make known in their annual report their compliance with this injunction. The report was docketed.

The report of the Committee on the Sabbath, stated that the degree of Sabbath observance was much as at the time of last report among Christians, but the desecration is without doubt on the increase among non-Christians. Pastors and teachers are enjoined to instruct the people in regard to the perpetual obligation of Sabbath observance. The report was adopted.

The Narrative on the State of Religion presented by Rev. J. Calvin Stewart was most favorably commented upon and the papers of the Church were requested to publish it in full. [It will appear hereafter.]

The report on the Assembly's Home and School was presented by Rev. Dr. R. C. Reed, Chairman of the Committee on that subject. It went most carefully and thoroughly into the details of the conduct of the Home and the history of its connection with Fredericksburg College, and the status of both in relation to the General Assembly. The committee reported their conviction that unless the connection between the Home and Fredericksburg College were severed the Church could not be induced to sustain the Home and School.

Dr. Walden presented the report on Theological Seminaries. The special recommendation of the Committee is the establishment of a summer school for Bible study to be conducted by professors in our seminaries and to this end an ad interim committee be appointed to report to the next Assembly. The members to be: Geo. Summey, D. D.; F. R. Beattie, D. D.; Wm. M. McPheeters D. D.; W. W. Moore, D. D.; Hon. M. F. Ansel, Greenville, S. C; Howard W. Hunter, Esq., Louisville, Ky., Maj. Joseph Hardie, Birmingham, Ala.

Rev. Dr. J. F. Cannon addressed the Assembly on the subject: "The Influence Exerted by the Westminster Symbols on the Individual, the Family and Society."

The afternoon was largely spent in considering the report on Foreign Missions presented by Dr. F. R. Beattie A very animated discussion ensued. A motion was made as a substitute to the recommendation of the committee that fixing of salaries of officers and help be left with the Executive Committee. The substitute proposed that the Assembly fix the Secretary's salary at $2,000 instead of $2,500 as at present. A motion was made to have added to the Committee's report on the subject: "And that it is the judgment of the Assembly that the salary of $2,000 is large enough."

The amendment was lost by a vote of 56 to 87 and the report of the Committee was adopted.

Dr. Hoge offered a subtitute to the report of the committee on the Home and School and supported it by a most affecting speech. The assembly then took recess until after the communion services at night—leaving the subject of Home and School to be resumed next day.

EIGHTH DAY.

Friday, May 28th.

Dr. Mallard brought from the docket the following overtures:

1. Overture touching one elder. Answer: "Assembly replies that the Book of Church Order, chapter 5, section 3, paragraph 63, teaches that one elder, when there is only one in the church, constitutes its sessions and is competent to do the work of the session."

2. Touching church without officer being enrolled. Answer: "Assembly answers that a church without officers is entitled to be enrolled."

3. Touching the interpretation of the word "officer." Answer: "The Assembly answers that the word 'officer' in above paragraph is restricted to elder and deacon."

To second question, touching minister residing in its bounds to labor in another Presbytery, the Assembly answers: "The right belongs to each Presbytery to dismiss ministers. In each case the Presbytery is the judge and should decide each case on its own merits. The Assembly answers the third question by stating that the answer to the second question is sufficient."

4 Touching offence. "The Assembly answers the first question in the negative, and the second question as follows: "Willful absence from the Lord's table is always an offence (B. D. Ch. XIII., sec. 2, paragraph 235.) In such a case the session should proceed according to the requirements of the Book of Discipline."

5. Powers of a commission. The Assembly answers: "The Book of Church Order is sufficiently explicit in defining the powers of a commission. A commission cannot transact business other than that committed to it. 2. A commission is incompetent, although consisting of a quorum of Presbytery, to do any work except that which has been committed to it."

6. Change in section referring to appellate courts. Answer: "The Assembly recommends that the changes asked for be made, and that this overture be sent down to the Presbyteries, with the direction that the Presbyteries vote for or against the proposed change and report the result to the next meeting of the General Assembly."

7. For the definition of inspiration. Answer: "The Assembly answers that the Scriptures and the Confession of Faith are sufficiently explicit."

8. Transfer of a church. Answered by granting the overture.

9. On duties of a licensed elder: Answer: "The Assembly answers that the license in no way interferes with his duty as an elder.

10. Sunday newspapers. Answer: "The Assembly urges the officers and members to abstain from assisting in any way the desecration of the Sabbath day by offering news or reports for either Sunday or Monday papers, and refers to the past deliverances of the Assembly on Sabbath observance as sufficient."

11. Publication of addresses. Answer: "The Assembly recommends that

"First. The Assembly appoint a committee of three to edit and publish the addresses delivered at Charlotte, N. C., and secure subscriptions for the same.

"Second. That the Committee of Publication be instructed to issue two editions, one permanently bound, the other cheaply bound in paper.

"Third. The thanks of the Assembly be cordially given to the authors of these addresses, and manuscripts of these addresses be requested for publication."

The overture touching one elder was adopted after adding "except in judicial cases."

The answer in regard to enrolling of a church without officers after some discussion was adopted.

In answer to No. 3, was changed to read "that the word officer applies to a minister as well as an elder."

No. 4, adopted as a whole after division into parts.

As to matter of publication of addresses: Dr. Summey thought publication in type of the Presbyterian Quarterly would save money, but after hearing from Dr. Hazen, Secretary of Publication the report of the Committee was adopted. The Committee appointed is composed of Rev. Dr. Beattie, Chairman, Rev. C. R. Hemphill and Ruling Elder Henry Y. Escott.

Consideration of the report on the Assembly's Home and School was resumed. Dr. Saunders pleaded for fair warning before the Assembly took action against the college, and Dr. Walden offered an amendment to Dr. Hoge's report to the purport of appointing an ad interim committee to report to next Assembly.

Recess was announced—after which, Hon. W. M. Cox addressed the Assembly on the Influence of the Westminster System of Doctrine, Worship and Polity on Civil Liberty and Responsible Government.

In the afternoon the report of the Committee on the Bible Cause was presented and adopted.

The report of the Auditing Committee through Col. J. D. Taylor, Chairman was adopted.

Dr. Reed, was heard in behalf of the committee's report on Home and School, after which Dr. Hoge feelingly appealed to the Assembly not to separate the college from the home.

After some explanations by Dr. Neel, and advocacy of the report the vote was taken on Dr. Walden's amendment. Lost by a vote of 71 to 63. Dr. Hoge's substitute was lost by 79 to 56. The vote on recommendation of the committee was adopted by a vote 52 to 50.

Dr. Shearer said he would be one of twenty to give $100 each for the home.

Resolutions of thanks to the press of Charlotte for many favors and acts of kindness were presented; also special thanks to the Charlotte Observer and to Miss Addie Williams for the full and efficient reports of the proceedings of the Assembly. Adopted by a rising vote.

By a rising vote special thanks were tendered those who prepared and presented the addresses of the Westminster celebration: Rev. Drs. H. A. White, R. L. Dabney, Robert Price, T. D. Witherspoon, G. B. Strickler, E. Daniel. J. D. Tadlock, M. D. Hoge, S. M. Smith, J. F. Cannon, and the Hon. W. M. Cox, and the following resolutions were adopted:

That the Assembly expresses its very great gratification with the exceptionally high order of the addresses these brethren have delivered, and it at the same time assures them that they have discharged the responsibility laid upon them in a manner which elicits our highest praise and merits our deepest gratitude.

That the Assembly tenders to these brethren, by a rising vote, its sincere and formal expression of thanks for the splendid service which they have rendered in making this celebration so successful, and in rendering its results so effective for good, under the blessing of God, to the whole Church."

At the night session the report on Theological Seminaries was adopted.

The report of the committee on Hymnology was taken up. The report favored the appointment of a committee to ascertain cost of publication and to map out the plan of proceedure towards securing a new hymn book. Lively discussion ensued. On motion of Rev. W. T. Walker, a substitute to the effect that owing to existing contracts it is inexpedient to adopt a new book, was adopted by a vote of 79 to 52.

NINTH DAY.

Saturday, May 29th.

The chairman of the committee on Leave of Absence made a report which with the following recommendation was adopted:

"Your committee recommends that this Assembly instruct the Presbyteries to exact a promise from their commissioners, when elected, to remain till the final adjournment of the Assembly, unless called home by a Providence, unforeseen when elected."

The following supplementary report to the recommendations of the committee on the Home and School was adopted:

"The General Assembly recommends that a collection be taken in all our churches on the fourth Sunday in December next, in order to relieve the present embarrassment of the Home and School, and to facilitate the prospective changes ordered by the Assembly."

The thanks of the Assembly were given to the ad interim committee who prepared the program of subjects and selected the speakers for the Westminster exercises and they expressed their heartfelt sympathy for their beloved brother Dr. J. Henry Smith, chairman of the committee, in the sickness, which prevented his attendance on the meetings of the General Assembly."

It was resolved that hereafter a standing committee on Sabbath Schools and Young People's Societies be appointed and the Executive Committee of Publication is instructed to have prepared blanks suitable for bringing the information needed through church sessions and Presbyteries to the committee.

The thanks of the Assembly were heartily tendered to the pastor and officers of the First church in which the Assembly held its sessions, to the pastors or the city churches, to the committee of arrangements, to the warmhearted people of Charlotte for their abundant hospitality, to the press and to the railroads for courtesies extended—with the prayer "that the blessing of God may ever rest on the churches and public institutions of the city, and upon its citizens generally, in all that goes to build up a prosperous and truly religious community." Adopted by a rising vote.

The Assembly most highly and most deservedly complimented Dr. Goetchius for the manner in which he had discharged the duties of the moderatorship.

In connection with the report on Sabbath Schools Dr. Dabney made a speech deploring the fact that so little attention was given to the requiring that children should attend church services; with many parents it seeming to be regarded that attendance of children on Sabbath-schools is sufficient.

The following dissent was recorded:

"The undersigned beg to enter a respectful dissent from the action of the Assembly in adopting the section on the report of the Standing Committee on Sunday-school, which related to the Westminster League."

(Signed) Francis R Beattie, A C Howze, A W Milster, H T Darnall, Chas D Gilkerson, C W Dorsey, J W Byers, C P Foreman, R S Brown, A B Curry, C H Kemper, J W Holladay, J D Thomas, W B Arrowood, J Calvin Stewart, P H Gwinn, Geo G Woodbridge, J C Molloy, H G Griswold, B M Shive, J M W Elder, F D Hunt, J L R Walker.

The following dissent was presented by Dr. Walden:

"The undersigned respectfully desire to place on record this dissent from the action of the Assembly in the matter of the Assembly's Home and School.

(Signed) H G Griswold, H T Darnall, James R Guy, R S Brown, L B Johnston, John O. Perry, B R Welford, H M D Martin, Sam A King, W T Overstreet, James D Thomas, J M Holladay, J W Crawford, J Calvin Stewart, E M Williamson, J H Wiggins, F C Eason, J C Parker, F M McCorkle, C H Kemper, J W Walden, S. G. Miller, H Ginder, W McF Alexander, W L Forsythe, W R Wilson, Edward Mack R W Santos, R K Smoot, Foster Harper."

Moderator Goetchius feelingly thanked the brethren for the treatment he had received at their hands. Dr. S. M. Smith, (as had been suggested by Rev. Calvin Stewart) at the moderator's request led the Assembly in earnest prayer for the Divine blessing in guiding and sustaining the venerable and venerated Dr. Dabney in his affliction.

Dr. Goetchius then dissolved the Assembly, and requested Dr. Dabney to lead in prayer and pronounce the benediction

Dr. Dabney fervently thanked God for His blessings and called down the Divine mercy and favor upon all that had been done, and the descent of the Holy Spirit upon all assemblies of saints. After which the apostolic benediction was pronounced and the brethren separated.

ROGER MOORE,

104 NORTH WATER STREET

WILMINGTON, N. C.,

Has for sale Common and Repressed Brick, Lime, Rosendale Cement, Portland Cement, Fire Brick and Fire Clay Vitrified Sewerpipes, Agricultural Lime, Land Plaster, Roofing Felt and Sheathing Paper, Shingles, Sawed and Rived, Aluminite, Calsom Wall Finish, Paints, Oils, &c. Agent for The Styron Fence, Composed of Juniper Pickets and Galvanized Bessemer Steel FenceWire. One of the cheapest and most durable of fences.

☞ Orders Solicited.

GEMS FROM GOETHE.

What dazzles satisfies the present hour,
The genuine lives, of coming years the dower.

***

Resolve should by the forelock grasp;
Then she will ne'er let go her clasp,
And labor on because she must.

***

'Tis in the evening first our home we prize.

***

Pure charity doth warm the breast,
And love to God the soul inspire.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

SKETCH OF SUGAR CREEK CHURCH.

(Concluded.)

Rev. J.M.M. Caldwell was succeeded in the same year by Rev. R. H. Lafferty, as supply. He was ordained and installed pastor on April 25th, 1846, and for nineteen years served this church with great acceptability and success. He was known and loved as a man of deep spirituality and prayerfulness, of great fidelity and conscientiousness in the performance of duty, and of a godly walk and conversation. He died on July 18th, 1864, and was buried in third cemetery.

After the death of Mr. Lafferty, the church was in charge of Rev. H. B. Pratt for nearly three years, when Rev. G. D. Parks succeeded to the pastorate, and gave the church twelve or fifteen years of hard and successful work. During his ministry the membership of the church was very much increased. He was a popular and much loved pastor, and a wise, judicious and aggressive presbyter. After his resignation the church extended a call to Rev. C.W. Robinson—grandson of Rev. John Robinson, D. D. After a brief, earnest and profitable pastorate, the church was fortunate in procuring the services of Rev. J. L. Williamson, who gave to it eight or nine years of hard and fruitful labor. He resigned about a year ago and accepted a call to the church at Newberry, S. C., and was succeeded in August following by Rev. T. J. Allison.

The church has been richly blessed by an able, successful and, at times, brilliant ministry, which has fed the church with the finest of wheat.

Not only so, but a careful reading of the records from 1827, shows that the church has been singularly blessed all these years in an able and efficient eldership, who have carefully and prayerfully watched over this flock.

From the beginning of Dr. Morrison's pastorate in 1827, the congregation was divided into sections, called "quarters," according to the number of elders. To each elder was given a list of all the members, colored as well as white, that resided in his quarter. The session has a fine record for its fidelity in the exercise of a firm, prompt, but kind discipline. It has been particularly efficient in efforts to settle difficulties and disputes between members, and in calling to account those who offended by indulgence in profanity, intemperance, dancing, driving wagons and running whims at gold mines on the Sabbath, non-attendance on the public worship of the sanctuary and failure to support the gospel. The elders were all expected to attend upon the regular meeting of the sessions; the absentees were noted and asked for excuses.

The first record of Sabbath school work was in 1844, when a Sabbath-school was organized for the summer. The church has made liberal contributions to the benevolent work of the Church. In 1843, there is a record of the existence of a "Female Benevolent Society," which contributed $25.00 to the education of a heathen child. Also contributions were made for Foreign Missions and the Education Society. The church has for years been regarded as one among the best contributing churches in the Presbytery. Her financial condition has always been good, having reached the highest mark during the first part of the ministry of Dr. Parks. Her financial success has been in a great measure due to the efficiency of the board of deacons, who faithfully worked to bring every family and member into active co-operation along this line.

There is no record concerning the first house of worship, which stood near the first cemetery. The second building occupied a part of the second cemetery. It was a plain substantial log house, being "made of two lengths of long logs, joined together at the middle by a crib of short logs, so put together as to form a recess on the inside and a jutting out of several feet from the main side wall."

The third house was a brick structure, erected during the latter part of the ministry of Rev. S. C. Caldwell, and stood just a little north of the second house. This house was burned shortly after the war, and the present handsome and commodious brick building was erected in 1870, and now stands west of the public road with the third cemetery lying to the north. The present session is composed of J. M. Caldwell, J. M. Davis, Dr. T. C. Neal, F. S. Neal and C. W. Robinson. The deacons are C. H. Caldwell, S. N. Alexander, J. K. Alexander, J. H. Robinson, L. J. Rumple and M. A. Barnett. These are all earnest and pious men who have the interest of the church at heart.

The church has not only contributed largely in money to the great work of church extension, but has from the beginning been largely drawn upon for members to form other churches. Providence, Steel Creek, Hopewell, Poplar Tent, Mallard Creek, Charlotte, Paw Creek, Sharon, Amity, Williams Memorial and Newells, were organized with large proportion of members from Sugar Creek: and doubtless many churches of the A. R. P. Church are indebted to Sugar Creek. The present membership is 234. There is a large and flourishing Sabbath-school.

She rejoices in the prosperity of all her daughters, some of whom have largely outgrown her. After all her reverses and losses God continues to bless her so abundantly that she is still able to maintain the regular ministration of the Gospel, claiming all of a minister's time. The prospects of the church are good. One of the elders has said that there are more young people in the bounds of the church than he has known for forty years.

Let her daughters rise up and call blessed—the mother of the churches of Mecklenburg.

T. J. ALLISON.

ARMSTRONG & McKELVY	Pittsburgh.
BEYMER-BAUMAN	Pittsburgh.
DAVIS-CHAMBERS	Pittsburgh.
FAHNESTOCK	Pittsburgh.
ANCHOR	Cincinnati.
ECKSTEIN	Cincinnati.
ATLANTIC	New York.
BRADLEY	New York.
BROOKLYN	New York.
JEWETT	New York.
ULSTER	New York.
UNION	New York.
SOUTHERN	Chicago.
SHIPMAN	Chicago.
COLLIER	St. Louis.
MISSOURI	St. Louis.
RED SEAL	St. Louis.
SOUTHERN	St. Louis.
JOHN T. LEWIS & BROS CO	Philadelphia.
MORLEY	Cleveland.
SALEM	Salem, Mass.
CORNELL	Buffalo.
KENTUCKY	Louisville.

DON'T be penny wise and pound foolish by buying the "just-as-good mixtures," "so called White Lead," or other substitutes for Pure White Lead.

In painting, the cost of labor so far exceeds the cost of material that the best only should be used. The best is Pure White Lead (see list of brands which are genuine) and Pure Linseed Oil.

FREE By using National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors, any desired shade is readily obtained. Pamphlet giving valuable information and card showing samples of colors free; also cards showing pictures of twelve houses of different designs painted in various styles or combinations of shades forwarded upon application.

National Lead Co., 1 Broadway, New York.

OUT OF THE DEEP.

Thou art weary and heavy laden; thou who fanciest at moments that the Lord's arm is shortened, that it cannot save, and art ready to cry, "God hath forgotten me," take comfort and look upon Christ. Thou wilt never be sure of the love of God unless thou rememberest that it is the same as the love of Christ, and, by looking at Christ, learnest to know thy Father and his Father, whose likeness and image he is, and see that the Spirit which proceeds alike from both of them is the Spirit of humanity and love, which cannot help going forth to seek and to save thee simply because thou art lost. Look, I say, unto Christ; and be sure that what a good Samaritan did to the wounded traveler, that same will he do to thee, because he is the Son of man, human and humane. Art thou robbed, wounded, deserted, left to die, worsted in the battle of life, and fallen in its rugged road, with no counsel, no strength, no hope, no purpose left? Then remember that there is One walking to and fro in this world, unseen, but ever present, whose form is as the form of the Son of man, and he has time, as he has will, to turn aside and minister to such as thee! No human being so mean, no human sorrow so petty, but that he has the time and the will and the power to have mercy on it, because he is the Son of man. Therefore he will turn aside even to thee, whoever thou art, who art weary and heavy laden, and can find no rest for thy soul, at the very moment and in the very manner which is best for thee.

When thou hast suffered long enough, he will stablish, strengthen, settle thee. He will bind up thy wounds and pour in the oil and the wine of his Spirit—the Holy Ghost, the Comforter—and will carry thee to his own inn, whereof it is written, "He will hide thee secretly in his own presence from the provoking of men; he will keep thee in his tabernacle from the strife of tongues." He will give his angels charge over thee to keep thee in all thy ways; and he will give thee rest at last in the bosom of the Father, from which thou, like all human souls, comest forth at first, and to which thou shalt at last return, with all human souls who have in them the Spirit of God and of Christ and of eternal life.—Charles Kingsley.

THROUGH TICKETS.

A man starting on a journey busy a through ticket, takes the car, and considers his part toward the accomplishment of the journey fully performed. In consideration of the money he has paid for the passage he is to be carried to his destination with due speed and safety. On his part there is to be no labor, no care, looking out for danger; for all this is done for him by the employees of the railroad, and he is to pass the time as best he may, even to the extent of finding fault with the management of the train.

Men sometimes join the church as though it were a special train for heaven. They pay their pew rent as they pay their railroad fare, regarding it as an equivalent for passage. They seem to have no thought that more than this is required of them. They take no part in advancing the spiritual interests of the Church, or doing Church work, or laboring for the conversion of souls, or in regarding the peace and the unity of the brethren; but they do claim and exercise the right to find fault if the affairs of the Church are not managed according to their ideas of propriety, or if the pastor does not preach to suit their taste, or if they are not promoted to positions of prominence. They pay their annual pew rent, observe somewhat of the outward forms of Church membership, and think this will secure them a through passage to heaven.

Such persons delude themselves. The Church is no railroad train for heaven. No through tickets can be purchased by the pew rentals. There is no such thing as being "carried to the skies on flowery beds of ease," nor as being carried in any other way except by the forgiving mercy of God in Christ; and the sooner all men learn this fact, the better for them, for the Church, and for the world. Even God's mercy in Christ will not save a man without his own co-operative action. Christian life is an intensely active life. It is full of duties to be done. It is made up of Christlike spirit wrought into deeds. There is no place for idlers in the Church. He that doeth the will of God alone shall be saved.—M. E. Durham.

Over on the crown of a beautiful hill is the cemetery. The monuments, some simple, some imposing, tell the story of the place. Life has ended. From the homes of the poor and humble, of the prosperous and the wealthy, of the influential and the great, the dead have been borne. Each stone tells of suffering, sadness and sorrow. It tells of the past, but not of the future; of death, not of life; of sorrow, not of hope. As we look the cloud covers the hills and the rain falls in refreshing showers. Now the sun shines from behind the cloud and the rainbow rests on the graves. There is life and hope; the covenant of God is sure; the graves shall give up their dead, and they who are Christ's shall enter a new and endless life with Him.—Banner.

Do You Use It?

It's the best thing for the hair under all circumstances. Just as no man by taking thought can add an inch to his stature, so no preparation can make hair. The utmost that can be done is to promote conditions favorable to growth. This is done by Ayer's Hair Vigor. It removes dandruff, cleanses the scalp, nourishes the soil in which the hair grows, and, just as a desert will blossom under rain, so bald heads grow hair, when the roots are nourished. But the roots must be there. If you wish your hair to retain its normal color, or if you wish to restore the lost tint of gray or faded hair use

Ayer's Hair Vigor.

Good Goods--Low Prices,

Flour, Meat, Sugar, Salt, Meal, Molasses, Coffee, Peanuts, Cheese, Crackers, Snuff, Tobacco.

Consignments of Cotton, Naval Stores and all Country Produce will receive careful attention.

Hall & Pearsall,

Wholesale Grocers & Com. Merchant
Corner Nutt and Mulberry Sts.

PEACE INSTITUTE FOR YOUNG LADIES, RALEIGH, N. C.

This Institute offers thorough collegiate courses in English, History, Literatu Mathematics, Sciences, Ancient and Modern Languages, Music, Art, Elocution a Physical Culture.

As to its high standard for graduation, its thoroughness of instruction, its mod erate charges for the advantages offered, and the extent of its courses in Art an Music, this Institute cannot be surpassed.

It offers also thorough preparatory courses. Correspondence solicited.

Board and English Tuition One Year $200.

For illustrated catalogue and full particulars, address the Principal,
JAS. DINWIDDIE, M. A., University of Virginia.

Term begins Sept. 16th, 1896. Closes first of June.

The Normal & Collegiate Institute

For Young Women.

ASHEVILLE, N. C. SPRING TERM OPENING FEB. 1st. 1897

OFFERS TO THE STUDENTS:

1. A Classical Course, including Ancient and Modern Languages, Science, Music, Drawing, etc.
2. A Normal Course for the thorough training of Teachers under instructors from the best Normal Schools.
3. Commercial Course, including Stenography, Type-writing, Book-keeping, etc.
4. Domestic Science, including Scientific Cooking, Draughting, Cutting, Fitting and Making of garments.

Systematic study of the Bible in all departments.

Terms for Board and Tuition in any of the departments, $50 per term, or half school year.

☞ For catalogue, address

REV. THOS. LAWRENCE, D. D

ASHEVILLE, N. C.

Cluster Springs High School

(On Lynchburg and Durham R. R., six miles from N. C. line)

BLACK WALNUT, VIRGINIA.

For boys and young men. A well equipped high school at a most pleasant, accessible, and healthful location. Lithia, sulphur, iron, and pure waters. Good buildings and improved school equipments. Swimming Pool, Gymnasium, and Athletic Field. Special attention to manners and development of character. Thorough instruction. Three teachers. Prepares for college or for business Our certificates admit to college. Tuition and home $—— Our catalogue tell. all about it. Address,

REV. T. S. WILSON, President,
or E. L. BARNES, A. B., Principal

A. D. BROWN,

Successor to Brown & Roddick,

29 NORTH FRONT STREET, WILMINGTON, N. C.

IMPORTER OF FINE

DRY GOODS AND CARPETS,

ORIENTAL AND DOMESTIC RUGS,

"WARNER'S CORSETS," "HER MAJESTY'S CORSETS,"

"THOMPSON'S GLOVE FITTING CORSETS," "R & G" AND "FERRIS" CORSETS.

"FOSTER" KID GLOVES, "KAYSER" SILK GLOVES.

"HUDNUT'S" EXQUISITE TOILET REQUISITES.

Mail Orders Given Special Attention.

Sabbath School Dep't.

CONDUCTED BY REV. A. D. MCCLURE.

Second Quarter—Lesson XI.

June 13, 1897.—2 Tim. i: 1-7; iii: 14-17.

Commit to memory verses 14-17

Subject. Paul's advice to Timothy.

Golden Text. "From a child thou hast known the holy Scriptures which are able to make thee wise unto salvation." 2 Tim. iii: 15.

CATECHISM.

Question 44. What doth the preface to the ten commandments teach us?

Answer. The preface to the ten commandments teacheth us, That because God is the Lord and our God and Redeemer, therefore we are bound to keep all His commandments.

Time. A. D. 66 or 67.

Place. Written by Paul at Rome.

INTRODUCTORY.

The Acts which we are studying gives chiefly the incidents connected with the planting of the early churches. At certain points the history needs to be supplemented by references to the letters written. Thus the name of James, and his prominence in connection with the council at Jerusalem gave opportunity to take our last two lessons from his epistles. The preaching of Paul at Lystra gives occasion to turn to the Epistles to Timothy who was probably converted at Lystra his native place. This was in the beginning of the second missionary journey which will be studied in the third quarter. The letter is the counsel of an old man on the border of the better world, after the fight, having kept the faith and awaiting the crown. It was addressed to the young evangelist, pastor of the Church at Ephesus. It will be of great benefit to read the whole Epistle. Choice passages are frequently found, notably vs. 12, chapter i. and vs. 6-8, chapter iv. The memory verses of the lesson including the Golden Text should be carefully studied. At the same time it will be well to learn all we can about Timothy.

LESSON NOTES.

Vs. 1. Paul an Apostle. One "sent forth." The twelve and Paul were sent forth by Christ. "The distinguishing features of an apostle were, a commission directly from Christ, being a witness of the resurrection, special inspiration, supreme authority, accredited by miracles, unlimited commission to preach and found churches." W. R. Vincent. We have seen that some were "sent forth" by the Holy Ghost. Of Jesus Christ: who had chosen and commissioned him by the will of God as seen in his conversion. According to the promise of life. That it might be authoritatively preached and likewise established.

Vs. 2. To Timothy my dearly beloved son, in the Gospel and trained by him. He had been closely associated with Paul for sixteen years. Grace. God's undeserved favor, given only for love's sake. Mercy. Forgiveness and favor ministered through grace. Peace. The resulting rest, growth, and fruitfulness of grace and mercy.

Vs. 3. I thank God from whom cometh every good and perfect gift, whom I serve from my forefathers, like Timothy who had been trained. In the fifth verse he tells what he thanks God for, but before telling he has intervening visions and thoughts; how unceasing his prayers meanwhile, and the remembrance of Timothy in them with pure conscience. Both in Judaism and Christianity Paul served God. So conscience is not a guide but a judge.

Vs. 4. Being mindful. Of remembering and thinking about thy tears of sympathy with Paul the prisoner, desiring to see Timothy and even in the thought causing to be filled with joy.

Vs. 5. When I call to remembrance. The reason he could say, "I thank God." Unfeigned faith. True, real and sincere, which is here personified as having dwelt in his mother and grandmother, Eunice and Lois.

Vs. 6. Wherefore. Because you are so dear to me and so strong in faith. Stir up. As a fire is fanned and stirred to burn, the gift of God, the qualification for service involving the great responsibility bestowed in the ministration of the Holy Ghost by the putting on of Paul's hands, not ex opere operato, but as the outward sign and human channel, that he was set apart for his work, when Paul not separately as an apostle, but with the Presbytery ordained Timothy as evangelist.

Vs. 7. Fear. Fearfulness or cowardice. Power. Of the Holy Ghost to serve, resist temptation and endure hardship.

Vs. 14. But continue thou in. Contrast with evil men mentioned in previous verses. The things which thou hast learned in youth and later teachings of Paul. "The things" were doubtless the sum of the teaching of Paul as set forth chiefly in the Gospel of Luke.

Vs. 15. From a child. Literally "from infancy." The Holy Scriptures were the writings of the Old Testament referred to as Scripture fifty-one times in the New Testament and always of the three parts, the law, the prophets and the Hagiographa or of one or more of them. Wise unto salvation. To attain to it thyself and to extend and commend it to others, through faith in Christ Jesus by whom alone we can be saved.

Vs. 16. All Scripture of the Old Testament and the New is given by inspiration; our word in the original meaning "filled with the breath of God," as elsewhere spoken of "holy men of God moved by the Holy Spirit." For doctrine. "Teaching and the truths taught." Reproof. Conviction and refutation of errorand sins. Correction. Restoring and making right what is wrong. Instruction. Training in righteousness.

Vs. 7. Perfect. Not morally without sin, nor spiritually without evil, but complete for responsibilities. Thoroughly furnished. Completely equipped. Unto all good works. Every part of the Christian life, and every kind of Christian service. The man of God is thus one who seeks to live for God.

PRACTICAL POINTS.

1. It is a great blessing to have Christian parents and friends to train, love and pray for us.

2. We should stir to a flame our zeal to live according to the blessings we have.

3. The Scriptures suffice as storehouse of wisdom, knowledge and furnishing for all life and service.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

Lesson for week ending Sunday, June 13th, 1897.

BY REV. B. E. WALLACE.

The Bible, the best way to study it. Psa. 19: 7-14.

Text for the week:

"Search the Scriptures." Jno. 5: 39.

Daily Readings:

Monday, Early Study, 2 Tim. 3: 1-17.

Tuesday, Study in Affliction, Acts 20: 25-35.

Wednesday, Home Study, Deut 6: 1-9.

Thursday, "By Heart," Psa. 37: 30-40.

Friday, Practical Study, Psa. 119: 97-105.

Saturday, Commentaries, Neh. 8: 1-8.

Sunday, Topic, Psa. 19: 7-14.

The best way to study the Bible is summed up as follows:

Diligent application with earnest prayer for guidance by the Holy Spirit.

OPEN DOOR NOTES.

The Sunday-school class of Mrs. G. H. Morehead of High Point church has been organized into a Dorcas Society with the following officers: Helen Snow, President; Lillie Myers, Vice-President; Maude Jordan, Secretary, and Ethel Bowman, Treasurer. This is an excellent plan and such a move would enable many teachers to gain a strong hold upon their children.

DEAR MR. MCLAURIN:—We thank you so much for the PRESBYTERIANS* received some time ago and assure you they have been much help in our work. Several copies were given to our church members who are not able to take the paper, and quite a number of them found their way into the "good literature baskets" at our church doors. From there the Good Literature Committee takes them and distributes them to people who are anxious for good reading matter. We have seven committees in our society "which numbers about forty" and although the work is not as vigorous as we wish, most of our members are earnest and faithful, and we note gradual progress. The Social Committee usually gives two "evenings" during the year; their object being to better acquaint our church members with one another and also to entertain strangers who have come among us.

The usual program is music, recitations or readings and light refreshments. We hope to have one soon, principally for the Presbyterians at the railroad shops.

About seventeen members of our society attended the third annual Convention of the Christian Endeavorers in the State. Encouraging reports were read from the different societies. This Convention will long be remembered for the deep spiritual devotion which marked it. The reports showed twenty-two Presbyterian societies in the league, nearly double the number in the league last year. Mr. Baer, the treasurer of the United Society was an inspiration to all. The Junior work in the State is fast increasing. Our own Junior Society is large and active, especially in the Sabbath-school work, visiting the sick and placing flowers in the church. With very best wishes we are sincerely,

T. W. DAVIS,
MARY L. WATSON,
R. F. COIT,
Committee on Good Literature.

Salisbury, N. C.

[*We will be glad at any time to send back papers for distribution. Ed. N. C. P.]

PUZZLE DEPARTMENT.

ANSWERS FOR MAY 13TH.

Jeremiah, Jer. 38: 6 — Cornie and Myrtle Wilkinson.

I am composed of letters ten.
My 6, 3, 4, 9, 10, is one of Jochebed's sons.
My 1, 10, 9, 2, is the grandson of Adam.
My 5, 6, 4, 1, is the name of an animal.
My 5, 9, 1 is the name of a tool.
My 7, 1, 1, 4, is the name of a wild animal.
My 1, 4, is the son of Shuah.
My 5, 3, 8, is the past participle of a verb.
My whole is the name of a king of Assyria.

Cornie Wilkinson.

Who said, "Thy silver and thy gold is mine"?

Myrtle Wilkinson.

Where are we told that it is not right to plough with an ox and an ass hitched together?

Willie G. Rose.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES
DAVIDSON COLLEGE.

Sunday, June 6th, 11 a. m. Baccalaureate sermon by Rev. J. M. P. Otts, D. D., LL. D. of Alabama.

8 p. m. Sermon before the Y. M. C. A., by Rev. J. H. Thornwell, D. D., of South Carolina.

Monday, 7th, 8 p. m. Senior reception.

Tuesday, 8th, 11 a. m. Annual meeting of Board of Trustees.

8 p. m. Reunion of Literary Societies.

Wednesday, 9th, 11 a. m. Address before the Literary Societies, by Hon. Matt W. Ransom, of North Carolina and Alumni Oration by D. N. McLaughlin, of South Carolina.

5 p. m. Meeting of Alumni Association and Banquet.

8 p. m. Anniversary of Literary Societies. Thursday, 10th, Commencement Day.

Visitors will inquire for rates on the railroad lines within the States of North and South Carolina.

J. B. SHEARER,
President.

A Chance to Make Money.

I have berries, grapes and peaches, a year old fresh as when picked. I use the California Cold Process, do not heat or seal the fruit, just put it up cold, keeps perfectly fresh, and costs almost nothing; can put up a bushel in ten minutes. Last year I sold directions to over 120 families in one week; anyone will pay a dollar for directions when they see the beautiful samples of fruit. As there are many people poor like myself, I consider it my duty to give my experience to such, and feel confident anyone can make one or two hundred dollars round home in a few days. I will mail you sample of fruit and complete directions to any of your readers for eighteen two-cent stamps, which is only the actual cost of the samples, postage etc. I am going to begin work at once to catch the spring trade.

FRANCIS CASEY, St. Louis, Mo.

MARRIED.

☞No notice of a marriage or death will be inserted unless accompanied by a responsible name, which is wanted not for publication but as a guaranty of good faith.

SPENCER — BURTONSHAW.—On May 25th, 1897, at Hub, N. C., by Rev. Paul C. Morton, Mr. L. N. Spencer and Miss Hattie, daughter of Col. Burtonshaw, of Michigan.

PALMER—RUSSELL.—On May 26th, 1897, in the Presbyterian church, Gulf, N. C., by the pastor, Rev. W. F. Thom, assisted by Rev. W. S. Lacy, D. D., of Norfolk, Va., Dr. R. W. Palmer and Miss Edna Kate, daughter of Mr. W. S. Russell—all of Gulf, N. C.

MILLER—HOLMES.—On Wednesday, May 19th, 1897, by Rev. B. E. Wallace, Mr. Frank Miller and Mrs. Addie Holmes—both of Wilmington, N. C.

DIED.

☞We publish free 10 lines of Obituary Notices, of any kind—Tributes of Respect, Resolutions of Sabbath-schools, Ladies' Societies, &c. And we charge for over 10 lines at the rate of 10 cents per line. The cost may be calculated by counting the words in the manuscript, and allowing seven words to the line.

McDUFFIE.—On May 21st, 1897, at her home near Coffer, N. C., Mrs. Jennet McDuffie, in her 72nd year. She was a useful and highly esteemed woman. Another member of White Hill church has passed to "that undiscovered country from whose bourne no traveler ever returns."

In Memoriam.

FAISON.—At her home, near Faison, on the fifteenth of May, Miss Mollie Faison, daughter of the late H. W. Faison, M. D., departed this life, after a short illness. Miss Faison for many years was a faithful member of Faison Presbyterian church. During the last years of her life she was an invalid and a great sufferer. Her sufferings were borne in a Christian spirit and she died in the faith. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord."

SECULAR NEWS.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The mail will be regularly delivered and collected at Ocean View this summer which will be a great convenience to residents and guests.

The S. A. L. and C. F. and Y. V. railroads are to build a handsome union depot at Maxton.

At 2 o'clock p. m., Tuesday, earthquake shocks were perceptibly felt all over North Carolina. The shock was almost imperceptible in Wilmington, but it was clearly appreciable. It was more severe in Raleigh, apparently, than elsewhere. There plastering fell and one of the public buildings is said to have been cracked.

Commencement at Chapel Hill this week. Among the speakers are Thomas S. Kenan, F. D. Winston, and Richard H. Battle. Dr. McPheeters of St. Louis, aged 84, and who graduated sixty years ago is present.

The barn of J. T. Askew, a few miles from Kinston, was fired by lightning on the night of Saturday last. Two horses, three mules and a large lot of corn, besides farming utensils were destroyed with the barn. Loss about $3,000.

Wilmington was the first city to have a day at the Nashville Exposition. The occasion was taken advantage of to thoroughly advertise Wilmington and the products of this section of the State. It has everywhere been spoken of with commendation.

The handsome Heminway school building was destroyed by fire early on last Sunday morning. The fire was of incendiary origin. The building was valued at $17,000. It was fitted with every modern improvement, and was undoubtedly one of the handsomest and best equipped public schools in the State.

Charlotte is to have a factory for the manufacture of plow gear, back bands and such goods. The new enterprise will begin operation in September.

DOMESTIC.

Congressman John L. McLaurin, of South Carolina, appointed Senator by Gov. Ellerbe to succeed the late Senator Earle, took his seat last Tuesday.

The Knights of Pythias Convention recently held in Savannah is said to be the greatest ever held in Georgia.

The Convention of Cotton Growers will be held at Galveston, Texas on Aug. 2nd. The Governor of that State has requested that eleven delegates be sent from North Carolina, one from each Congressional District and two from the State at large

A Cuban expert in sugar culture has thoroughly investigated the Florida soil and pronounced it most excellent for the cultivation of sugar cane. He predicts a bright future for the State.

Walter C. Smith, a young electrician, was drowned in the surf at Craney Island near Norfolk, Va., on Sunday afternoon.

Judge Simonton of the U. S. Circuit Court decides that any one may import liquors into South Carolina and sell it in original packages.

Reported that the steamers Biscagne and Dauntless have been captured off the Florida coast as fillibusters.

At a fire in a warehouse in Charlottesville, Va., an explosion occurred fatally injuring one man and seriously wounding one or two others.

Frederick F Stoll, formerly general superintendent of city delivery in the Chicago postoffice, has been asked through a representative of Li Hung Chang to take charge of the free delivery postal system which it is proposed to establish in Hong Kong. The offer carries a salary of $6,000 a year for five years. If he accepts, Mr. Stoll will introduce the delivery system now in vogue in Chicago.

The strawberry picking season of Sarcoxie, Mo., begun with a unique gathering. The Sarcoxie Horticultural Association, which controls a farm of 1,400 acres in growing strawberries, advertised for 10,000 pickers. The circulars were responded to by fully 20,000 people, who besieged the hotels and lodging houses. The overflow was so great that thousand were forced to sleep upon the ground and prepared their meals in hastily improvised shanties constructed of branches and leaves.

FOREIGN.

Cambridge University, England, on May 21st, by a vote of 1,713 to 662, rejected the proposal to confer degrees upon women.

A memorial bust of Sir Walter Raleigh was unveiled at Westminster Abbey on May 22d, by the Duke of Buccleuch, in the presence of a distinguished assemblage. Among the eulogies delivered was one by Col. John Hay, ambassador of the United States.

The Sultan recently gave Maj. Gen'l. Nelson A. Miles, U. S. A., a special audience in his palace.

DAVIDSON NOTES.

The outing given to the General Assembly by the Faculty of Davidson and a few friends in Charlotte proved a most enjoyable picnic occasion. The day was perfect, and the old campus with its acres of green sward and hundreds of elms never looked more inviting. The ladies of our Davidson church, with most openhearted hospitality, had prepared refreshments as if for an army, and the army was on hand nearly four hundred strong. The special train rolled in at half past three, and left at half past six. Committees of the students were in every hall and laboratory to bid the visitors welcome and explain things to those interested, and the College Glee and Mandolin Club gave a concert on the lawn at five o'clock which was a very popular feature of the entertainment with our visitors. There was a feeling of general regret on the part of all when the train whistle warned them that the hour of departure was at hand.

Yesterday being the last Sabbath of the Medical College session, a special sermon was preached to the students by Rev. E. D. Washburne, of West Virginia. It was full of sound and wholesome advice to those to whom it was addressed and highly spoken of by the audience. Another of the Assembly Commissioners, Dr. E. M. Munroe, of Texas, filled Mr. Graham's pulpit in the morning, and preached a telling sermon on the misuse of talents entrusted to us that should be returned to the Giver "with usury."

The serious illness of one of our most honored elders and most useful citizens, Dr. J. J. Dupuy, has cast a gloom over the whole community. It is the universal hope and prayer of our congregation that his life may be spared still longer to his family and the church.

The monotony of our village life is to be broken to-morrow evening by a brilliant church wedding. Dr. Goode Cheatham, of Henderson, N. C., and Miss Janie Withers, of Davidson, are to plight their troth on that occasion, and the town is astir with preparation for so important an event. L.

$200.00 IN GOLD GIVEN.

Special Interest to Students and Teachers

International News and Book Company, Baltimore, Md., make a most liberal offer of $200.00 in gold, for selling 200 copies of "Gems of Religious Thought," by Talmage or "Talks to Children about Jesus." These books are among the most popular ever published One agent sold 21 in two days, another 55 the first week. Freight paid, credit given. A few general Agents wanted on salary. A splendid opportunity for Teachers and Students to make money during their summer vacation. Write them immediately.

PATENTS

Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained and all Patent business conducted for MODERATE FEES. OUR OFFICE IS OPPOSITE U.S. PATENT OFFICE and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.

Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured. A PAMPHLET, "How to Obtain Patents," with cost of same in the U.S. and foreign countries sent free. Address,

C.A.SNOW & CO.
OPP. PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

HAMPDEN-SIDNEY, VA.

FACULTY.

The Rev. Walter W. Moore, D.D. LL.D. McCormick Professor of the Hebrew Language and Literatre.

The Rev. Charles C. Hersman, D.D., LL. D., Henry Young Professor of Biblical Literature and Interpretation of the New Testament.

The Rev. Thos. Cary Johnson, D. D., Professor of Ecclesiastical History and Polity.

The Rev. Thos. R. English, D. D., Stuart Robinson Professor of the English Bible and Pastoral Theology.

The Rev. Givens B. Strickler, D. D., LL.D., Professor of Systematic Theology.

Walter L. Lingle, A. M., Tutor in Hebrew and Greek.

THE NEXT SESSION BEGINS WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 2D, 1897.

For catalogue or other information as to course of study, apply to Dr. English Clerk of Faculty, Hampden-Sidney, Va.

For information as to rooms, &c., apply to W. L. Lingle, Intendant, Hampden-Sidney, Va.

A Beautiful, Fitting, and Enduring Memento

For Personal Possession and Study

Is Found in the

New Holy Land Art Portfolios

ENTITLED

Palestine Photographed.

Every Student of the Bible,

Every Student of History,

Every Lover of Art

Should Have It.

This desirable book comprises 64 beautiful engravings from views taken in 1894. Each scene is accurately and eloquently described by two distinguished divines, Bishop Vincent and Dr. Lee. The work should find a place in every Christian home.

Any paid up subscriber to the PRESBYTERIAN can obtain this book upon remitting 25 cents.

FOR THE FAMILY.

UP-HILL.

Does the road wind up hill all the way?
Yes, to the very end.
Will the day's journey take the whole long day?
From morn to night, my friend.

But is there for the night a resting-place?
A roof when the slow, dark hours be gin.
May not the darkness hide it from my face?
You cannot miss that inn.

Shall I meet other wayfarers at night?
Those who have gone before.
Then must I knock, or call when just in sight?
They will not keep you standing at the door.

Shall I find comfort, travel sore and weak?
Of labor you shall find the sum.
Will there be beds for me and all who seek?
Yes, beds for all who come.
—Christina G. Rossetti.

THE QUEEN'S ONLY WOMAN APPOINTEE.

Princess Beatrice enjoys the distinction of being the only woman that the queen, in all the sixty years of her reign, has ever appointed to an executive office, such as the governorship of the isle of Wight. The queen relies strongly on her sound judgment, and knows that her heart is in the right place. Her majesty's life would have been dull, indeed, of late years had it not been for her youngest daughter, with the gallant and affectionate husband she has lost, and the promising group of handsome children growing up around her.

Raphael, the great Italian painter, whose celebrated Biblical pictures are worth fabulous sums of money, was not a rich man when young, and encountered some of the vicissitudes of life, like many another genius. Once when traveling he put up at an inn and remained there unable to get away through lack of funds to settle his bill. The landlord grew suspicious that such was the case, and his requests for a settlement grew more and more pressing. Finally young Raphael, in desperation, resorted to the following device:

He carefully painted upon a table-top in his room a number of gold coins, and placing the table in a certain light that gave a startling effect, he packed his few belongings, and summoned his host.

"There," he exclaimed, with a lordly wave of his hand toward the table, "is enough to settle my bill and more. Now kindly show the way to the door."

The innkeeper, with many smiles and bows, ushered his guest out, and then hastened back to gather up his gold. His rage and consternation when he discovered the fraud knew no bounds, until a wealthy English traveller, recognizing the value of the art put in the work, gladly paid him fifty pounds for the table.—Harper's Round Table.

The admirers of Elizabeth Barrett Browning have decided to erect a memorial to her in Kelloe church, where she was baptized. "The place of her birth," says the London Globe, "was long a disputed point, but the discovery of an entry in the register of Kelloe church settled the point satisfactorily, and this year being the ninetieth anniversary of her birth, it is proposed to celebrate her association with her native country by placing a tablet in the church. In Florence a marble slab has been placed upon the house in which she died."—Ex.

MUSICAL BOTTLES.

A simple and easily constructed musical instrument consists of a number of ordinary glass bottles filled with a certain quantity of water, the height of which is varied according to the pitch of the note to be obtained. After a few tentatives it will be possible to reproduce all the notes and their octaves, including the sharps and flats. The tuning of the apparatus, however, requires a good musical ear.—Ex.

When a man falls out of a ten-story window you'd naturally say he is a dead man. Well, perhaps he is and then again, perhaps not. Something may save him. There may be a friendly awning that will let him down easy, so he may be sound and well to-morrow. You never know what may save a man who seems to be as good as dead.

Many a man who seemed to be dying of consumption, and whom the doctors pronounced just as good as dead, has got well and strong and hearty again by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This wonderful medicine has shown the doctors that consumption isn't always a fatal disease. It can be cured if you get at the germs of it in the blood and clear them out thoroughly. That is what this "Discovery" does. It makes new blood,—healthy blood.

The germs of consumption can't exist in healthy blood. They simply let go their hold and are carried out of the system; then the new blood builds up new tissue, new flesh, new power, new life. It carries vitality to the lungs, the bronchial tubes and every other part of the body.

It cures people after cod liver oil has failed, because their digestive organs are too weak to digest fat-foods. The "Discovery" makes the digestion strong.

For thin and pale and emaciated people there is no flesh-builder in the world to compare with it. It doesn't make flabby fat, but hard, healthy flesh. It builds nerve-power and force and endurance. It is never safe to pronounce any one "dying of consumption," or any other wasting disease, until this marvelous "Discovery" has been given a fair trial.

Dr. Pierce's thousand-page illustrated book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" will be sent free paper-bound for the cost of mailing only, 21 one-cent stamps. Cloth-bound, 10 stamps extra. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The voice of a cantatrice such as Patti's, Melba's or Eames' has been written up again and again by hundreds of critics who have gone into ecstacies over its beauty, color, rage, etc., but we have never had it analyzed from a mathematical standpoint until quite recently. It appears that in the human voice there are but nine perfect tones, yet there are actually no less than 17,592,186,044,515 sounds. These effects are produced by fourteen direct muscles which give about 16,393 different sounds, and thirty indirect muscles which produce 73,741,823 sounds.—Key Note.

DROPSY TREATED FREE Positively CURED with Vegetable Remedies. Have cured many thousand cases called hopeless. From first dose symptoms rapidly disappear, and in ten days at least two-thirds of all symptoms are removed. BOOK of testimonials of miraculous cures sent FREE. 10 Days Treatment Free by mail.
Drs Green & Sons, Specialists, Atlanta, Ga.

THE CINCINNATI BELL FOUNDRY CO. (LIMITED) CINCINNATI, OHIO. SOLE MAKERS OF THE BLYMYER BELLS FOR CHURCH, SCHOOL, FIRE ALARM &C. Catalogue with 2500 testimonials, Prices and Terms FREE. Mention this paper.

NEW BOOKS FOR THE Sunday-School Library.

We desire to call attention to the following list of new library books recently issued from our press. They are all handsomely bound in cloth, and should have a place in every Sunday-school library. To those taking the entire list at one time we will make a special discount of 40 per cent. Discount of 33⅓ per cent on any of our own books.

By Mrs. M. E. Ireland:
The Siberian Exile. 122 pages, ... $ 60
The Shepherd's Family. Translated from the German. 112 pages, ... 60
Adolph's Victories. 314 pages, ... 1 00
Christian Beck's Grandson. 292 pages, 1 00
In Fair Silesia. Translated from the German. 156 pages, ... 60
School on Luneburg Heath. Translated from the German. 148 pages, 60
Driven Out. Translated from the German. 166 pages, ... 1 00
By Miss Annie M. Barnes:
Minilo: A Story of the Bible in Mexico. 214 pages, ... 90
How A-chon-ho-ah Found the Light. 266 pages, ... 1 25
Izilda: A Story of Brazil. 195 pages, 1 00
By Elizabeth Olmis (author of Jack's Hymn):
Over at Little Acorns. 384 pages, ... 1 25
By Fannie Alricks Shugert:
Ezekiel of Bethlehem. 281 pages, ... 1 00
By Rev. H. C. DuBose, D. D.:
Memoirs of John Leighton Wilson, Missionary to Africa, and Secretary of Foreign Missions. 336 pages, ... 1 00
By Mrs. E. H. Amis:
Camping on the Blue Ridge. 106 pages, ... 60
By Rev. J. M. Chaney, D. D.:
William the Baptist. Cloth, 60 cts.; paper, ... 25
Agnes, Daughter of William the Baptist, ... 75
By Mrs. Mary M. Anderson Hawkins:
Jack Payton and his Friends, ... 75

On miscellaneous Sabbath-school books selected from the lists of other publishers we will give a discount of 30 per cent. And we call attention to our Select Catalogue of miscellaneous books, in which will be found titles and description of more than nine hundred books, all of which have been carefully examined by competent persons, and none will be found in the list not suitable in every respect for our Sabbath-school libraries.

We will make careful selection of libraries if desired from our stock, or will send to any order one-fourth more books than may be needed, with the privilege of returning any that are not wanted.

Also, Sabbath-school Supplies, Class-Books, Records, etc., on the best terms.

If sent by mail, postage will be additional. Express to be paid by purchaser. Address

Presbyterian Committee of Publication,
JAS. K. HAZEN, Sec'y and Treas.,
Richmond, Va.

PREMIUMS.

No. 1. For 21 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Hunting case, jointed front and back 18 size and guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $20.00.

No. 2. For 16 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Open face, 18 size, 14 karat filled case, screw back and bezel, guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $15.00.

No. 3. For 17 new subscribers at 1.50 for first year, we will give a Ladies' Gold Watch Hunting case, 6 size, stem winder, 14 karat, filled case, screw bezel—guaranteed 20 years—retails at $16.00

No. 4. For 12 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give a Gents' Silver Watch: 18 size, plain case, open face—retails at $12.50.

No. 5. For 10 new subscribers a Ladies' Silver Watch, O size, plain case, open face—retails for $10.00.

No. 6. For 8 new subscribers, we will give a Nickel Watch, 18 size, screw bezel—retails for $7.00.

No. 7. For 7 new subscribers, we will give solid silver teaspoons—retails for $6.00.

No. 8. For 4 new subscribers, a sugar spoon, sterling gilt engraved—retails at $3.00.

The articles will all be first-class from a jeweller of established reputation.

New subscribers means not change of address to some one else—that would be fraud—but bona fide new subscribers.

For $1.75 we will send the paper for the first year to a new subscriber and a copy of Palestine Photographed. This album contains 64 actual photographic reproductions of picturesque and historical places in the Holy Land on enameled pages, and is a thing of beauty. The descriptive foot notes are good and enhance the interest.

We regard this as a specially desirable premium.

To any one paying up or renewing their subscription and sending $2.25 we will send this album as apremium

W., N. & N. RAILWAY.

In Effect Sunday, Oct, 27, 1895.

DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY.

NORTH BOUND.		STATIONS.	SOUTH BOUND.
8			7
P. M.		— WILMINGTON —	P. M.
2 00		Lv Mulberry St. Ar	12 40
3 58		Lv Jacksonville Lv	10 42
4 30		Lv..Maysville..Lv	10 09
4 44		Lv Pollocksville Lv	9 55
5 20		Ar..Newbern..Lv	9 20
P. M.			A. M.

Trains 8 and 7 p m make connection with trains on A & N C R R for Morehead City and Beaufort.

Connection with Steamer Neuse at Newbern to and from Elizabeth City and Norfolk Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Steamer Geo D Purdy makes daily trips between Jacksonville and New River points.

H. A. WHITING, General Manager.
J. W. MARTENIS, Traffic Manager.

CHILDREN'S COLUMN.

JUNE.

The month of the roses—white, yellow and red;
Their fragrance all over the garden is spread.
The woodlands are ringing, the clover-fields hum—
The glories and music of summer have come.
The sun rises early with warm, rosy light,
And lingers with blushes 'most into the night,
For he wants to enjoy all the beauties of earth,
And hark to the songs of the summer-time's mirth.
—Ladies' Home Journal.

JOHNNY AND THE GATE.

BY M. H. COCHRAN.

'Johnny, I want you to do an errand for me."

"Where, mamma?"

"Over to Mrs. Root's. Here is a note for her. Put it in your pocket."

Johnny set out on his errand, soon arriving at Mrs Root's gate. And here he found trouble. The latch on the gate was so tightly caught that he could not open it. With all his might he tugged at it, but his small hands were not strong enough. What did he do? Turn about and go home again with his errand undone? No, Johnny, was not that kind of boy. He had been sent to give that note to Mrs. Root, and he meant to do it. He tried to climb over the gate, but it was too high. Then he looked about him. The gate belonging to the next house was low. He was an active little fellow and could easily climb that. He walked carefully along the fence until he came to the board wall which divided Mrs. Root's lot from this one. There was a ledge along it. He climbed on this, then hung by his hands and dropped into Mrs. Root's yard. Coming out he found it easy to open the gate. Within sight of the gate there was a tiny park with seats under the trees. As Johnny started for home, he saw his father sitting on one of them.

"How long have you been here, papa?" he asked.

"About ten minutes," said his father.

"Did you see what a time I had getting into Mrs. Root's?"

"Yes."

"And you didn't come to open the gate for me," said Johnny, feeling a little injured.

"No, because I was thinking of the times when I shouldn't be with you, and you would have to make your own way—just as you did now."

"But I don't go to Mrs. Root's very often. Perhaps I shan't go there again for a great while—and perhaps the gate will be fixed then."

"I mean, my boy, that I was thinking of the times which will come to you as you go in life, when they will seem hard to you, and you will have to work it out alone. Now, God has given you your strong, active body and your bright mind, and he expects you to use them. When you cannot do a thing one way by the powers of your body you call on the powers of your mind to tell you some other way, just as you did in getting into Mrs Root's yard when you could not open the gate."

"Yes, I had to think it out," said Johnny, brightly.

"I was much pleased at seeing that you did not give it up when you met with a difficulty. A boy who brings his best thought and power to the overcoming of an obstacle will be sure to make his way.—N.Y. Observer.

THOU SHALT HAVE NO OTHER GODS.

Annie was standing in front of a glass, getting ready for Sunday-school. "I heard Mrs. Jones tell mother the other day I was prettier than ever," she said half aloud. "I wonder if she will see me to-day. This hat is so becoming. I only wish my sash was a better color. Let me see, this curl will have to be done over again. I wonder what the catechism questions are this afternoon? I'll look over them while mother is getting Willie ready. O, yes, the first two commandments. I don't worship false gods or make graven images. I suppose Dr. Edgerton will tell us about the heathen children in India. Oh, dear, this curl isn't right yet. Well I'm glad I'm not a heathen, that I know what is right." And with a final look into the glass she took up her pretty parasol and started for Sunday-school.

The minister did talk about the poor little heathen that day to the school. Annie felt more glad than ever that she was not one of them. While she was thinking this, she caught Mrs. Jones, whose class was near hers, looking at her a moment.

"I suppose she is saying to herself, 'How pretty Annie looks in her new hat,'" she thought. "How awfully plain Sarah Brown is! How frightfully she dresses!" Just then, as she was trying to get a glimpse of herself in the glass of the library case, she heard Dr. Edgerton talk about the lesson. He said that there were idol worshipers even among the children in Christian lands; those who thought more of their pretty faces and fine clothes than they did of God. He spoke of other ways in which children broke these commandments; and Annie heard no more, except something about these being more sinful than heathen children, because they knew better.

These were new thoughts to Annie. She was really a sensible girl, notwithstanding her vanity. She thought of her fault and was finally cured.

I wonder if there are any other little boys or girls like her who will read this?—Ex.

IN THE MASTER'S NAME.

A little barefooted boy about ten years old was standing before a shoe store on Broadway, in New York, the other day, peering through the window and shivering with the cold.

A lady riding up the street in a beautiful carriage, drawn by a pair of splendid horses, observed the little fellow in his forlorn condition, and immediately ordered the driver to draw up and stop in front of the store. The lady, richly dressed, alighted from her carriage, went quietly to the boy and:

"My little fellow, why are you looking so earnestly in that window?"

"I was just asking God to give me a pair of shoes," was his reply.

The lady took him by the hand and went into the store and asked the proprietor if he would allow one of his clerks to go and buy her a half dozen pair of stockings. The proprietor assented. She then asked him if he could give her a basin of water and a towel, and he replied, "Certainly," and quickly brought them to her.

She took her little fellow to the back part of the store, and, removing her gloves, knelt down, washed those little feet, and dried them with the towel.

By this time the young man had returned with the stockings. Placing a pair upon his feet, she purchased and gave him a pair of shoes, and tying up the remaining pairs of stockings, gave them to him, and patting him on the head, said, "I hope, my little fellow, that you now feel more comfortable."

As he turned to go the astonished lad caught her hand, and looking up in her face, with tears in his eyes, answered her question with these words: "Are you an angel?"—Church Bells.

HONOR ROLL.

For Shorter Catechism—Eliza Hamlin Scales, Madison, N. C.

LETTER-BOX.

Dear Mr. Editor:—I have just received from the Christian Observer my diploma for reciting the Shorter Catechism and would like to have my name added to your list. I am so glad mama has renewed her subscription to the N.C. PRESBYTERIAN. As all the children say, "I am a little girl." My own mother and my step mother are both in Heaven. My mama was my mother's step mother. I have always lived with her. I go to see my papa, sisters and little brother every summer and stay a month or two. They live at Spray, N. C. My oldest sister is married and has a sweet little baby boy name Hamtin. We are to have a new preacher in a few weeks. Mr. Paisley from the Seminary. Miss Luola Vaughn is my Sunday-school teacher. I go to school to mama at home. I like all my studies better than music and grammar. I wish more of the missionary children would write for your paper. I am so much interested in missions. I send you $3.00 that Annie King and myself have gotten up for the suffering, starving people of India.

Your little friend,
ELIZA SCALES HAMLIN.
Madison, N. C.

Dear Mr. Editor:—I have been appointed to write and tell your readers about our Children's Aid Society. We havn't very many members, but we meet twice a month at the manse and our minister's wife, Mrs. R. Z. Johnston, conducts the meeting for us. We have made two quilts and sent them to the orphans at Barium Springs. We enjoy the society and hope many of our churches have them and some of the little girls will write and tell about them. There has been a very interesting meeting going on at the Methodist church here for the last two weeks and quite a number of the young people and children joined the different churches last Sunday. Our day school closed to-day. I never was so sorry for school to be over. I loved my teacher so much. Her name was Miss Agnes Rice and she goes back to her home in South Carolina. She gave each of her scholars a lovely card to remember her as she isn't going to teach any more. Mama says she would like to be in Charlotte attending the General Assembly. She has promised to take my two little brothers and myself down to the Exposition before it closes. Hoping this letter isn't too long and you will publish it. I am very truly

Your little friend,
LENA REINHARDT.
Lincolnton, N. C.

We are beginning to understand that the highest cookery is to be found in the perfection of simplicity, not in the adding or combining of flavors so much as in the retaining of those which already exist. As with the composition of our menus—over-elaboration is giving place to a studied simplicity in the number though not in the quality of dishes.—London Hotel World.

I CURE FITS

When I say I cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again. I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Postoffice address.

Prof. W. H. PEEKE, F. D., 4 Cedar St., New York

MONEY TO LOAN.

on Eight Years Time, secured by Mortgage on Real Estate. Monthly payment, savings investment stock for sale, also FULL PAID COUPON STOCK, with semi-annual cash dividends. Loans made promptly in any part of the State. Agents wanted. Address,

Mechanics and Investors Union
22 Pullen Building, Raleigh, N. C.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

NORTH CAROLINA HOME MISSIONS.

The month of June has been set apart by the Synod of North Carolina and by all its Presbyteries for an offering to the cause of Synodical Missions. No worthier cause can possibly appeal to our people. The money goes toward the support of six evangelists in Albemarle Presbytery, three in Orange, two in Concord, one each in Wilmington and Asheville, the pastor of the Waldensian colony, the pastor at Chapel Hill and the General Evangelist. Many of these servants of the Synod are preaching the Gospel in parts of our State which are destitute of religious privileges. The need is great for the occupation of new territory by our Church. God has opened to us a great and effectual door.

His blessing upon the work in the past is the best guarantee of what He has in store for us in the future. During the last eight years, since the inauguration of the Synodical work, fourteen out of twenty-one counties unoccupied by our Church have been opened to our workers and two more will be occupied this month. There have been received into the membership of the Presbyterian Church 2,800 members and 36 churches have been organized by our Synodical evangelists. Our Synod itself has grown from 33,900 members to 34,000 and from 265 churches to 359. But there are yet nineteen counties in the State without an organized Presbyterian church.

Our people have raised for this Synodical work $47,000 during this period Let us make even greater sacrifices for giving the Gospel to the perishing, for establishing our beloved Church in every part of our territory, and for the glory of the name of Jesus Christ.

A. J. McKELWAY,
Superintendent.

Fayetteville, N. C.

$4 PER DAY SURE SALARY OR COMMISSION.

DO you want honorable, steady employment the year round, at good wages, at your own home or to travel? If so, send 6c in stamps for our wholesale price-list and particulars. We furnish best of bank references.

THE AMERICAN TEA CO.,
Detroit, Michigan.

Organized 1832. Assets, $650,000

Tested for Sixty Years.

Virginia Fire and Marine

Insurance Company, of Richmond.

This old Virginia institution issues a short and comprehensive Policy, free of petty restriction and liberal in its terms and conditions.

INSURES AGAINST FIRE and LIGHTNING

All descriptions of Property, in Country and Town—private or public—insured at fair rates, on accommodating terms.

AGENCIES IN EVERY TOWN AND COUNTY.

WM. H. PALMER, President.
W. H. McCARTHY, Secretary.
S. McG. FISHER, Ass't Sec'y.

ATTENTION!

SPORTSMEN AND TOURISTS!

—THE—

SEABOARD AIR LINE

Reaches All the Famous

Hunting and Fishing Grounds

—OF—

Virginia and the Carolinas.

Commencing June 1st,

Summer Tourist Tickets on Sale at all Stations.

Stop Over Privileges Allowed All Tourists.

Sportsman's Bicycles Carried Free.

SOLID PULLMAN VESTIBULED LIMITED TRAINS.

TRAIN SERVICE UNEQUALLED.

NO EXTRA FARES.

E. ST. JOHN,
Vice-Pres't. and Gen'l. M'g'r.
H. W. B. GLOVER,
Traffic Manager.
T. J. ANDERSON,
Gen'l. Pass. Agent.
General Office: Portsmouth, Va.

We Want You

to subscribe for the Presbyterian Quarterly. It is the one magazine all Presbyterians should read. Its articles are written by eminent Presbyterians—both clergymen and laymen—to Presbyterians. It is edited under the auspices of an association of ministers of the Presbyterian Church.

Every article in it is vitally interesting—it is orthodox—is progressive—stimulates study and investigation.

The Presbyterian Quarterly has always been $3.00 a year and has always been worth it. It is now $1.00 a year but is still worth $3.00. We have lowered its price because we want to put it in every Presbyterian's hands, but there has been no change in either the number of pages or the appearance of the magazine. Send for a sample copy.

Whittet & Shepperson,
Box 336. Richmond, Va.

SEABOARD AIR LINE — VESTIBULED LIMITED TRAINS — DOUBLE DAILY SERVICE TO ATLANTA, CHARLOTTE, ATHENS, WILMINGTON, NEW ORLEANS, CHATTANOOGA, AND NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA, WASHINGTON, NORFOLK, RICHMOND.

Schedule in Effect Feb. 7th, 1897.

WESTWARD.	No. 41.	No. 403
Lv Wilmington	*3 20pm	.....
Lv Lumberton	5 26pm	.....
Lv Maxton	6 12pm	.....
Lv Laurinburg	6 23 pm	.....
Ar Hamlet	6 53pm	.....
Lv Hamlet	7 13pm	*5 am
Lv Rockingham	7 30pm	2 23 am
Lv Wadesboro	8 11pm	.....
Lv Marshville	8 48pm	6 25 am
Ar Monroe	9 12pm	6 48 am
Lv Monroe	9 35pm	7 30 am
Ar Charlotte	10 25pm	8 30 am
Ar Mt. Holly	.....	9 10 am
Ar Lincolnton	.....	10 35 am
Ar Shelby	.....	11 48a m
Ar Ellenboro	.....	12 20p m
ArRutherfordton	.....	12 54p m

†8 40am	Lv....Hamlet..Ar	6 20p m
10 00am	Ar....Cheraw..Ar	† 5 00p m

EASTWARD.

	No. 38.	No. 402
LvRutherfordton	.....	*4 35p m
Lv Ellenboro	.....	5 15p m
Lv Shelby	.....	6 03p m
Lv Lincolnton	.....	7 00p m
Lv Mt Holly	.....	7 50p m
Lv Charlotte	*5 10am	8 25p m
Ar Monroe	5 58am	9 10p m
Ar Monroe	6 05am	9 40p m
Lv Marshville	6 25am	.....
Lv Wadesboro	7 01am	10 31 pm
Lv Rockingham	7 41am	11 06p m
Ar Hamlet	7 55am	11 38p m
Lv Hamlet	8 45am	.....
Lv Laurinburg	9 11am	.....
Lv Maxton	9 30am	.....
Lv Lumberton	10 18am	.....
Ar Wilmington	12 30pm	.....

NORTHWARD.

Lv Hamlet	*8 15am	*11 23pm
Ar Raleigh	11 30am	2 11pm
Ar Portsmouth	5 50pm	7 30am
Ar Richmond	*6 50pm	* 8 15am
Ar Washington	11 10pm	12 31pm
Ar New York	6 53am	6 28pm

SOUTHWARD.

Lv Monroe	*6 48am	*9 25p m
Ar Abbeville	11 05am	1 40a m
Ar Athens	1 15pm	3 45a m
Ar Atlanta (Central Time)	2 50pm	5 20a m

*Daily. †Daily, except Sunday.

Both trains make immediate connections at Atlanta for Montgomery, Mobile, New Orleans, Texas, California, Mexico, Chattanooga, Nashville, Memphis, Macon, Florida.

For Tickets, Sleepers, etc., apply to

B. A. NEWLAND,
Gen. Agt. P. Dept.
6 Kimball House, Atlanta, Ga.

THOS. D. MEARES,
Gen'l. Agent, Wilmington, N. C.

E. ST. JOHN, Vice-President and General Manager.

H. W. B. GLOVER, Traffic Manager.
V. E. McBEE, Gen'l. Supt.
T. J. ANDERSON, Gen'l. Pass. Agt.
General Offices, Portsmouth, Va.

COAL, WOOD AND SHINGLES.

Best quality and lowest prices. Satisfaction guaranteed. Your patronage solicited.

Respectfully,
P. R. FOWLER,
Successor to Fowler & Morrison.

C. F. & Y. V. Railway Co.

JOHN GILL, Receiver.

CONDENSED SCHEDULE.

IN EFFECT May 30th, 1897.

NORTH BOUND.	No. 2. Daily
Leave Wilmington	12.15p.m
Arrive Fayetteville	3.35 "
Leave Fayetteville	3.45 "
Leave Fayetteville Junction	3.47 "
ArriveSanford	5.02 "
Leave Sanford	5.05 "
Leave Climax	6.54 "
Arrive Greensboro	7.25 "
Leave Greensboro	7.45 "
Leave Stokesdale	8.32 "
Leave WalnutCove	9.03 "
Leave Rural Hall	9.30 "
Arrive Mt. Airy	11.00 "

SOUTH BOUND.	No. 1. Daily
Leave Mt. Airy	5.25a m
Leave Rural Hall	6.50 "
Leave Walnut Cove	7.19 "
Leave Stokesdale	7.52 "
Arrive Greensboro	8.40 "
Leave Greensboro	9.00 "
Leave Climax	9.39 "
Leave Sanford	11.20 "
Arrive Fayetteville Junction	12.42p.m.
†Arrive Fayetteville	12.45 "
Leave Fayetteville	1.15 "
Arrive Wilmington	4.30 "

NORTH BOUND.	No. 4. Daily
Leave Bennettsville	7.45 a.m
ArriveMaxton	9.00 "
LeaveMaxton	9.07 "
Leave Red Springs	9.37 "
Leave Hope Mills	10.26 "
Arrive Fayetteville	10.50 "

SOUTH BOUND	No. 3. Daily
Leave Fayetteville	4.45p.m.
Leave Hope Mills	5.02 "
Leave Red Springs	5.42 "
ArriveMaxton	6 11 "
Leave Maxton	6.15 "
ArriveBennettsville	7.20 "

NORTH BOUND.	No. 16. Mixed. Daily ex Sunday.
Leave Ramseur	7.40 a.m.
Leave Climax	9.33 "
Arrive Greensboro	10.20 "
Leave Greensboro	10.55 "
Leave Stokesdale	12.20 p.m.
Arrive Madison	1.10 "

SOUTH BOUND.	No. 15. Mixed. Daily ex Sunday
Leave Madison	3.10 p.m
Leave Stokesdale	3.05 "
Arrive Greensboro	4.30 "
Leave Greensboro	5.45 "
Leave Climax	6.57 "
Arrive Ramseur	8.35 "

†Meals.

CONNECTIONS,

at Fayetteville with the Atlantic Coast Line, at Maxton with Carolina Central Railroad, at Sanford, with Seaboard Air Line, at Greensboro with Southern Railway; at Walnut Cove with Norfolk & Western Railway.

W. E. KYLE,
Gen'l Passenger Agent.

J. W. FRY,
Gen'l Manager

SAY SOME.

Women may now practice law in the Canadian courts, but they must do so bareheaded and wearing a black gown over a black dress, with white collars and cuffs.

When the hair has fallen out, leaving the head bald, if the scalp is not shiny there is a chance of regaining the hair by using Hall's Hair Renewer.

"Who wrote the most, Dickens, Warren, or Bulwer?"

"Warren wrote 'Now and Then,' Bulwer wrote 'Night and Morning,' and Dickens wrote 'All the Year Round.'"

The old saying is that "the man who has no music in his soul is fit for treason," etc. General Grant said he knew just two tunes. One was "Yankee Doodle," the other was not.

WHO'S SHELLABERGER?

He's the Wire Fence Man, of Atlanta, Ga., and sells the best and cheapest fencing in existence for all purposes. Catalogue free. Write for it.

WILMINGTON MARKET.

FOR

WEEK ENDING JUNE 2, 1897.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE: Firm at 24½ cents for machine casks and 24½ cents for country casks until Tuesday when price advanced to 25 cents and 24½ cents respectively.

ROSIN: Strained $1.20 and Good Strained $1.30—throughout.

CRUDE TURPENTINE: Hard $1.30, Yellow Dip $1.80 and Virgin $1.90—firm throughout.

TAR: Receipts taken day by day at $1.00—closing firm.

TIMBER: Little or none coming in. Taken readily when offered.

Shopping.

Shopping done in Philadelphia by a lady of experience and taste. No extra charge. Best references. Send for circular.

Miss M. ANDERSON,
333 Pine St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

We really think our

STAR BINDER

is a most desirable article to have in any household where the PRESBYTERIAN is taken. It holds the successive issues together in most convenient form, costs no labor and requires no special pains in its adjustment. What a fine Synodical Album a year's gathering would thus constitute!

Sent to any address for forty cents.

ATLANTIC COAST LINE.

Schedule in Effect May 27th 1897.

DEPARTURES FROM WILMINGTON—

NORTHBOUND.

DAILY 9:00 A M — No. 48—Passenger—Due Magnolia 10 40 a m, Warsaw 10 55 a m, Goldsboro 11 56 a m, Wilson 12 46 pm, Rocky Mount 1 20 p m, Tarboro 2 50 p m, Weldon 3 39 p m, Petersburg 5 54 p m, Richmond 6 50 p m, Norfolk 6 05 p m, Washington 11 10 p m, Baltimore 12 53 a m, Philadelphia 3 45 a m, New York 6 53 a m, †Boston 8 00 pm.

DAILY 7:15 P M — No. 40—Passenger—Due Magnolia 8 55 p m, Warsaw 9 10 p m, Goldsboro 10 10 p m, Wilson 11 06 p m, †Tarboro 6 45 a m, Rocky Mount 11 57 p m, Weldon 1 44 a m, †Norfolk 10 30 a m, Peteraburg 3 24 a m, Richmond 4 20 a m, Washington 7 41 a m, Baltimore 9 05 a m, Philadelphia 11 [illegible] a m New York 2 03 p m, Boston 8 30 p m.

SOUTHBOUND.

DAILY 3:40 P M — No. 55—Passenger—Due Lake Waccamaw 4 55 p m, Chadbourn 5 29 p m, Marion 6 40 p m, Florence 7 25 p m, Sumter 8 42 p m, Columbia 10 05 p m, Denmark 6 20 a m, Augusta 8 10 a m, Macon 11 00 a m, Atlanta 12 15 p m, Charleston 10 20 p m, Savannah 12 50 am, Jacksonville 7 30 a m, St Augustine 10 30 a m, Tampa 5 45 p m.

ARRIVALS AT WILMINGTON—FROM THE NORTH.

DAILY 5:45 P M — No. 49—Passenger—Leave Boston †1 03 p m, New York 9 00 p m, Philadelphia 12 05 a m, Baltimore 2 50 a m, Washington 4 30 a m, Richmond 9 05 a m, Petersburg 10 (a m,) Norfolk 8 40 a m, Weldon 11 50 a m, Tarboro 12 12 p m, Rocky Mount 12 45p m, Wilson 2 12 p m, Goldsboro 3 10 p m, Warsaw 4 02 p m, Magnolia 4 16 p m.

DAILY 9:40 AM — No. 41—Passenger—Leave Boston 12 00 night, New York 9 30 a m, Philadelphia 12 09 p m Baltimore 2 25 p m, Washington 3 46 p m, Richmond 7 50 p m, Petersburg 8 13 p m, †Norfolk 2 20 p m, Weldon 9 43 p m, †Tarboro 6 01 p m, Rocky Mount 5 45 a m, leave Wilson 6 20 a m, Goldsboro 7 03 am, Warsaw 7 54 a m, Magnolia 8 07 a m.

FROM THE SOUTH.

DAILY 12:15 P M — No. 54—Passenger—Leave Tampa 9 25 a m, Sanford 3 19 p m, Jacksonville 7 00 p m, Savannah 12 45 night, Charleston 5 30 am Columbia 5 50 a m, Atlanta 8 20 a m, Macon 9 30 a m, Augusta 3 05 p m, Denmark 4 55 pm, Sumter 6 45 a m, Florence 8 55 a m, Marion 9 34 a m, Chadbourn 10 35 a m, Lake Waccamaw 11 06 a m.

†Daily except Sunday

Trains on the Scotland Neck Branch road leave Weldon 4 10 p m, Halifax 4 28 p m, arrive Scotland Neck at 5 20, Greenville 6 57 p m, Kinston 7 55 p m. Returning leaves Kinston 7 50 a m, Greenville 8 52 a m, arriving Halifax at 11 18 a m, Weldon 11 33 a m. daily except Sunday.

Trains on Washington Branch leave Washington 8 20 a m, and 1 p m, arrive Parmele 9 10 a m and 2 40 p m, returning leave Parmele 10 35 a m and 6 30 p m, arrive Washington 11 00 a m, and 7 20 p m. Daily except Sunday

Train leaves Tarboro, N C, daily except Sunday, 5 30 p m, Sunday 4 05 pm, arrives Plymouth 7 40 p m and 6 00 p m. Returning leaves Plymouth daily except Sunday 7 50 a m and Sunday 9 00 a m arrives Tarboro 10 05 a m and 11 a m.

Trains on Conway Branch leave Hub 8 30 a. m., Chadbourn 10 40 a. m., arrive Conway 1 00 p. m. leave Conway 2 45 p. m., Chadbourn 5 40 p. m., arrive Hub 6 20 p. m. Daily except Sunday.

Train on Midland N C Branch leaves Goldsboro daily, except Sunday, 7 10 a m, arriving Smithfield 8 30 a m, Returning leaves Smithfield 9 00 a m. arrive at Goldsboro 10 25 a m.

Train on Nashville Branch leaves Rocky Mount at 4 30 p m, arrives Nashville 5 05 p m, Spring Hope 5 30 p m. Returning leaves Spring Hope 8 00 a m, Nashville 8 35 a m, arrives at Rocky Mount 9 05 a m, daily except Sunday.

Train on Clinton Branch leaves Warsaw for Clinton daily, except Sunday, 8 20 a m., and 4 10 p.m. Returning leaves Clinton at 7 00 a m, and 11.30 pm

Wilson and Fayetteville Branch leave Wilson 2 06 p m, 11 16 p m, arrive Selma 3 00 p m, Smithfield 3,08 p m, Dunn 3 50 p m. Fayetteville 4 40 p m, 1 14 a m, Rowland 6 10 p m. Returning leave Rowland 10 00 a m, Fayetteville 11 20 a m, 10 20 p m, Dunn 12 07 p m, Smithfield 12 48 p m, Selma 1 00 p m, arrive Wilson 1 43 p m, 12 10 a m.

H. M. EMERSON,
Ass't. Gen'l Passenger Agent.

J. R. KENLY, Gen'l Manager.
T. M. EMERSON Traffic Manager.

E. M. ANDREWS,

—THE LARGEST DEALER IN—

FURNITURE, PIANOS AND ORGANS

—IN THE CAROLINAS—

Goods bought direct from the manufacturers in large quantities and sold at only one small profit—no more. The complete furnishing and equiping of new houses a specialty. Pianos and Organs sold at the lowest prices and on easy terms. Furniture sold at a very small margin for spot cash, or on short time where parties are reliable. Small orders as well as large, receive careful and prompt attention.

☞ Write for Catalogues and prices. One Postal Card may save you many dollars.

E. M. ANDREWS,
Charlotte, N. C.

B. F. HALL, OSCAR PEARSALL

HALL & PEARSALL

Cor. NUTT and MULBERRY STS.

WILMINGTON. - N. C.

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

—AND—

—WHOLESALE DEALERS IN—

HEAVY GROCERIES

WE ALWAYS CARRY A LARGE AND WELL SELECTED STOCK OF

Flour, Sugar, Coffee, Molasses, Salt Fish,

Hay Corn Oats Tobacco. Snuff, Cigars, Hoop-Iron, Nails, Glue.

Cotton Bagging and Ties.

☞ We solicit the patronage of the public. and guarantee to give satisfaction. Correspondence invited.

☞ Consignments of Naval Stores, Cotton and all Country Produce will receive careful attention.

HALL & PEARSALL
WILMINGTON, N. C

ORGANIZED 1856.

GEORGIA HOME INSURANCE COMPANY.

COLUMBUS, Ga.

J. RHODES BROWN, President.

Wm. C. COART, Secretary.

A HOME COMPANY.

Seeking Home Patronage.

Strong! Prompt! Reliable! Liberal!

Agents at all Cities, Towns and Villages in the Southern States.

W. W. HODGES, Agent, Wilmington N. C.

E. NYE HUTCHISON, Agent, Charlotte N. C

THINGS USEFUL.

Make your kitchen aprons with a ruffle on the bottom. This will stand out a little fuller than your dress skirt, and will catch whatever you may drop, or spill, thus protecting the dress skirt.

Currant Mousse.—Whip a pint of thick cream to a froth, add a cupful of powdered sugar, and beat stiff. Press the juice from a quart of red currants, mix with the beaten yolks of three eggs and the white of one, set in a pan of boiling water, and stir until thick; let cool, mix carefully with the whipped cream, turn into a mold, pack in salt and ice, and let freeze three hours; turn out, and serve. Strawberry, raspberry or other fruit juice may be used in place of the currant.—Woman's Home Companion.

Chocolate Sauce, to serve with ice cream, is made by covering a quarter of a box of gelatine with half a cupful of cold water; soak for half an hour. Put a pint of cream in a double boiler to heat; add to this two ounces of grated chocolate; cook until smooth, then beat well with a cream whip; add half a cup of sugar and the gelatine; strain; add a teaspoonful of vanilla and set aside to cool; when cool you may stir in whipped cream or serve just as it is. —Ladies Home Journal.

Wire Railing and Ornamental Wire Works.

DUFUR & CO.,

311 North Howard St., Baltimore, Md. Manufacture Wire Railing for Cemeteries, Balconies, &c., Sieves, Fender Cages, Sand and Coal Screens, Woven Wire, &c. Also Iron Bedteads Chairs, Settees &c.

RED SPRINGS SEMINARY

FOR YOUNG LADIES.

Established by Fayetteville Presbytery.

New Buildings, well equipped and adapted to all departments of College work. Complete and liberal course. Fully abreast of the leading Southern Colleges for Women.

Full and Efficient Faculty.

Charges very moderate ($108 00 per year for full College course and Board). Session opens September 30, 1896. For further information write to

REV. C. G. VARDELL,
Red Springs, N. C.

SCHEDULE ON WILMINGTON SEACOAST, R. R.

On and after May 5th, 1897, every day except Sunday trains leave Wilmington 10.10 a. m., 2.30 p. m., 6 30 p. m. Leave Ocean View 7.30 a. m., 11.30 a. m., 5 p. m.

R. O. GRANT, Supt.

Presbyterian High School
—OF—
NORTH CAROLINA.

J. M. OLDHAM, Principal.

Full corps of instructors, all college-bred men representing the leading institutions of North Carolina, Virginia and South Carolina. A non-military school located in the country in middle North Carolina, with excellent climate.

Instruction Thorough,
Discipline Mild Yet Firm,
Physical Development Looked After
Rates Reasonable.
Endorsed by Synod of North Carolina.
For catalogues address,

J. M. OLDHAM, Principal,
Mebane, N.C.

DAVIDSON COLLEGE,

DAVIDSON, N. C

The Sixtieth Year Begins September 10th, 1896.

FACULTY

Rev. J. B. Shearer, D. D., LL.D., President, and Professor of Bibl cal Instruction an Moral Philosophy.
Henry Louis Smith, Ph. D., Vice-President, and Prof. of Natural Philosophy.
W. D. Vinson, M. A., LL.D., Prof. of Mathematics
C. R. Harding, Ph.D., Professor of Greek and German.
W. R. Grey, Ph.D. Professor of Latin and French.
Thos. P. Harrison, Ph.D., Professor of English.
W. J. Martin, Jr., M. D., Ph.D., Prof. of Chemistry.
F. F. Rowe, A. B., Instructor.

GYMNASIUM DIRECTOR.

VOCAL MUSIC.

CLASSICAL,
MATHEMATICAL.
SCIENTIFIC,
LITERARY,
BIBLICAL.
COMMERCIAL.

SEND FOR A CATALOGUE.

Terms Reasonable.
Location Healthful,
Accommodations Excellent,
Teaching Unsurpassed,
Gymnasium Complete.

Address THE PRESIDENT.

DO NOT FORGET.

THAT OUR BRAND OF FLOUR

THE LADIES' FAVORITE

Is the best Flour on the market. Double Patent, and produces more bread than any other.

In addition to our Ladies' Favorite Flour we have taken the Agency for Pillsbury's Best Spring Wheat in barrels and half barrel sacks.

We offer North Carolina Canned Peaches, North Carolina Canned Tomatoes, guaranteed fully equal to any brand. North Carolina Manufactured Tobacco, North Carolina Bacon, California Peaches, California Apricots, both canned and dried, as well as a select stock of groceries of every description.

☞ Orders solicited.

R. W. HICKS,

WHOLESALE ONLY,

Wilmington, N. C.

The Man in the Moon would be happier if he could have a supply of Cool Fragrant and Soothing

Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco

For over twenty-five years the standard smoking tobacco of the world.

To-day More Popular than Ever.

To have a good smoke anytime and everytime it is only necessary to get Bull Durham. It is all good and always good.

BLACKWELL'S DURHAM TOBACCO CO.,
DURHAM, N. C.

H. A. TUCKER. R. D TUCKER.

TUCKER'S

GRANITE AND MARBLE WORKS.

DEALERS IN ALL KINDS OF

Granite and Marble Monuments

CONTRACTORS FOR BUILDING STONE

H. A. TUCKER & BRO.,
No. 310 Front St.,
Wilmington, N C.

As Successors to
D. A. GRANTHAM,

The Messrs. TUCKER & BRO., have a fully equipped branch yard at Goldsboro and as in Wilmington, are there prepared to do any kind of first-class work.

WORTH & WORTH,

—OFFER FOR SALE—

BEST QUALITY, FULL WEIGHT

FLOUR, BACON, SUGAR, LARD
MOLASSES, MEAL, SALT,
LIME, CEMENT,

Plaster, Hay, Corn, Hoop Iron, Oats Rivets Glue.

BUNGS, CANNED GOODS,

At Low Prices.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

STEEL WIRE FENCE BOARD.

A Barbless Horse and Cattle Fence; Cabled Poultry and Garden Fence; Cabled Field and Hog Fence. Yard, Cemetery and Grave Lot Fencing on Steel Post and Rail a Specialty. We Pay the Freight. Catalogue and testimonials free.

K. L. SHILLABERGER, ATLANTA, GA.

M. H. JONES,

DURHAM, N. C.,

Keeps on hand a fine assortment of

STERLING SILVER WARE,
JEWELRY, DIAMONDS,
WATCHES, CLOCKS

and everything found in a first-class jewelry store.

☞ Repairing of all kinds, especially such as is usually sent North, done promptly and in best style; reputation established for this class of work.

..An Evolution in Typewriters..

A LITTLE Machine With a BIG Record....

The...

BLICKENSDERFER No. 5 Typewriter.

Marvel in Mechanism. $35 Standard of Simplicity.

Has More DESIRABLE Features and Less UNDESIRABLE Ones than Any Other Typewriter Made.

Endorsed by Thousands of ....ENTHUSIASTIC USERS....

CATALOGUE AND SAMPLE OF WORK FREE.

K. M. TURNER,
GENL SOUTHERN AGENT.
41 N. Broad St., Atlanta, Ga.
918 F St. N. W., Washington, D. C.
914 E. Main St., Richmond, Va.
Daily Record Bld'g, Baltimore, Md.

North Carolina Presbyterian.

New Series—VOL. XXIX—No. 1,535. WILMINGTON, N. C., THURSDAY, JUNE 10, 1897. Old Series. Vol. XXXIX—No. 2,695

THE OFFICE OF THE PRESBYTERIAN IS IN THE ALLEN BUILDING ON PRINCESS STREET—ROOM No. 6, ON SECOND FLOOR.

Subscription price $2.00 a year.
Ministers $1.00.
Missionaries $1.50, including postage.
New Subscribers $1.50 for first year.

☞ Checks or orders in payment of subscription may be made payable either to John McLaurin, or to North Carolina Presbyterian. Please send forward promptly.

(For Contents see Second Page)

THE BOOK.

Gallery of sacred pictures manifold,
A minister rich in holy effigies,
And bearing on entablature and frieze
The hieroglyphic oracles of old.
Along its transept aureoled martyrs sit;
And the low chancel side-lights half acquaint
The eye with shrines of prophet, bard, and saint,
Their golden tablets traced in holy writ!
But only when on form and word obscure
Falls from above the white supernal light,
We read the mystic characters aright,
And light informs the silent portraiture,
Until we pause at last awe-held before
The one ineffable Face, love, wonder, and adore.

—Whittier.

BE SWEET-TONED.

The sweet-toned bells rings out sweetness, however gently or rudely it is struck, while the clanging gong cannot be so touched as not to respond with a jangle. There is the same difference in people.

From some you learn to expect always a snarl, or a whine, or a groan, while others give forth words of cheerfulness and joy. When the grace of God possesses mind and heart, you will respond with a sweet spirit to every touch, kind or unkind, rude or loving. You will be a voice for God, in whatever place or company you are thrown, a witness for charity, and kindness, and truth. "When a man lives with God," says Emerson, "his voice shall be as sweet as the murmur of the brook and the rustle of the corn." Be a sweet-toned bell.—Cumberland Presbyterian.

A little religion is a painful thing, but more religion takes the pain away.—Arnot.

B. G. WORTH.

Barzillai Gardner Worth, the youngest son of Dr. David Worth and Eunice Gardner Worth, was born June 26th, 1822, in the county of Guilford at a place called Centre. His parents were of the faith of Friends (called Quakers) and he was instructed in that faith and received his education at New Garden College. Shortly after leaving college he went to Philadelphia to learn the new art of taking daguerreotypes and was probably the first person in this State who was enabled to successfully perform the art. In 1845 he married Mary Elizabeth Jessie Carter and in 1849 settled in Asheboro to engage in business. While there he joined the Presbyterian church under the pastorate of Rev. Geo. McNeill. He remained in Asheboro until 1853 when he removed to Wilmington, N. C., to engage in business with his brother, Thos. Clarkson Worth, forming the firm of T. C. and B. G. Worth. In 1866 he removed to New York as a member of the firm of Dibble, Worth & Co., but returned to Wilmington in 1870, and entered into business with his nephew D. G. Worth, forming the well known firm of Worth & Worth.

Mr. Worth has been actively connected with the First Presbyterian church of this city from the time of his removal here until the present, except during the short time he was in New York. In January, 1854, he appears as a teacher in the Sunday-school in which he is still an efficient teacher. He was superintendent of the school from 1860 until his removal to New York, and again from 1873 until November 1880. The Historical Sketch of the Sunday-school, published in 1892, says: "He is the veteran of the school, honored and beloved."

In 1858 he was elected a ruling elder, and was re-elected upon his return from New York in 1870. Others still in service had meanwhile entered the session, but he is cheerfully accorded the place of Senior Elder, as though his relation had never been severed. For years he has conducted the congregational prayer-meeting just before communion.

His religious life shows the impression of his early training in the virtues for which the Friends are noted—toleration, humility, simplicity, gentleness—while his Presbyterian faith and association have developed those stronger qualities for which our Church is distinguished. He is widely known for his liberality to all good causes, his public spirit in all worthy enterprises, and his readiness to help every one in need.

Up to the time of his golden wedding in June, 1895, Mr. Worth had been singularly exempt from affliction. In a large family of children and grandchildren, there had never been a death. That summer he lost a dear grandchild and his youngest daughter; and this year his cherished wife passed away. In his afflictions as in the enjoyment of life's blessings he has borne the fruits of the Spirit, and still brings forth fruit in old age.

A gardner, when he transplanteth a tree out of one ground into another, before the tree takes root sets stays to it, he poureth water at the root of it daily; but when it once taketh root he ceaseth to water it any more, and putteth away the stays that he set to uphold it, and suffereth it to grow with the ordinary influence of the heavens. So the Lord, in planting of religion, put to the help of miracles as helps to stay it; but when it was once confirmed and fastened, and had taken deep rooting he took away such helps, so that as Augustine hath it, "He that looketh for a miracle is a miracle himself," for if the death of Christ will not work faith, all the miracles in the world will not do it.

PERSONS AND PAPERS.

The slow, modest, moderate, compact, muscular growth of the healthy body is the type of the true Christian life, nourished by love and faith and truth, and increasing slowly and surely in every grace of the Spirit. Be this our growth—substance, not show; reality, not pretense; building up in holy faith, rather than puffing up by mere worldly knowledge. —H. L. Hastings.

* * *

At this present moment there is a place in heaven for me that nobody can ever fill but my own self; and Jesus has gone before, not only to prepare it, but to prepare it for me. There is a crown that no head but mine can ever wear, and a song that no tongue but mine can ever sing, and I shall soon cast my crown at Jesus' feet and chant before Him my hallelujahs. That is true of every believer.—Spurgeon.

* * *

The alabaster box of precious ointment, which was broken in honor of and in love to Jesus, was beautiful in itself. The self-sacrifice and devotion that provided it and poured its contents out as a love-token were far more beautiful. Jesus saw and appreciated the beauty, both of the one and of the other. But human avarice and greed, accustomed to measure all things by the money standard, saw in it all no beauty, but simply a value of more than three hundred pence. We defraud ourselves and sin against others, when we form our estimate of their actions upon a low standard of judgment.—Presbyterian Banner.

* * *

The Gospel tells us what we are to do in order to make our life, here and hereafter, successful. We are to be saved from sin, and be brought into peaceful and loving relations with God, through the atoning grace of Jesus Christ and the renewing grace of the Spirit of life, so that we may live obediently and happily, growing in grace and usefulness, and accomplishing the high ends for which we were created. He who is conscious of his personal immortality and of the possession of a saved life has nothing to fear. Compared with that safety and glory of which he is assured there can come to him no calamity nor evil worth mention or consideration. He is alive forevermore, and his life is hid with Christ in God.—Herald and Presbyter.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

1ST PAGE—The Book (poetry)—Be Sweet-Toned—Sketch of Mr. B. G. Worth—Persons and Papers.
2ND PAGE—Editorial: The New Revivalism—Editorial Notes—Home Missions in North Carolina.
3RD PAGE—Davidson Notes—India Relief Fund.
4TH PAGE—Ink Spots—Appointments in Mecklenburg Presbytery—How God Helps Us—Pray and Pay.
5TH PAGE.—An Advance Movement—The Fragrance of Prayer—Make a Friend of Him—Literary Jottings—Magazines—Books Received.
6TH PAGE—Religious Intelligence.
7TH PAGE—Personals—Here and There—Atkinson Memorial Church, Kinston, N. C.—Foreign Mission Receipts for May.
8TH PAGE—Is It True In Your Case?—Liturgies—Personal Relation to God—The Artist and the Atheist—Does It Pay.
9TH PAGE—The Song of the Flock.
10TH PAGE—Sunday School Lesson—Young People's Column—Open Door Notes.
11TH PAGE—Marriages—Obituaries—Secular News—Puzzles.
12TH PAGE.—(For the Family)—Mother (poetry)—Italy's Grand Old Man.
13TH PAGE—Vacation Time (poetry) How Mrs. McLaughlin Was Made Happy—Honor Roll—Letter-Box.
14TH PAGE—Odds and Ends.
15TH PAGE—University Catalogue—Market.
16TH PAGE—Things Useful.

"THE NEW REVIVALISM."

Under this title one Prof. Johnson, of Crozer Theological Seminary, undertakes to show why certain expectations he was led to cherish at Northfield last summer in his judgment have not been realized. He is presenting from a different standpoint the views so arrogantly presented by a prominent pastor of New York City, being of the same faith and order in church fellowship as Prof. Johnson. It is charged by these and others that the great meetings headed by Mr. Moody in Carnegie hall and other points in New York City during the past winter have been failures. The failure consists in this, that not so many have confessed Christ and come into the churches as in the former ministry of Mr. Moody. The Literary Digest has been caught in the snare and is trying to draw the unwary or uninformed into the pit. The whole body of this criticism arises out of ignorance of the purpose of Mr. Moody in this campaign. It is granted by all who are looking for the right in this matter, that Mr. Moody is not a convert to the Keswick movement, in the sense of trying to foist it upon the Northfield conferences, and that he is not a believer in "the second blessing" in the sense of the so-called sanctificationists. He is, as he has long been, a believer in the Holy Ghost. He seeks to honor the Holy Ghost. In the course of the conferences at Northfield he has come to clearer views of the person and work of the Holy Ghost.

In the summer of 1895, Rev. H.W. Webb-Peploe, a minister of the Church of England of mighty power, and Rev. Andrew Murray a Presbyterian minister of the Dutch Reformed Church in South Africa, a man of great humility and eminent spirituality, were the chief speakers at the August Conference for Christian workers at Northfield. In private, when speaking with great feeling, and in public, speaking with intense earnestness, Mr. Moody said: "These men cut me all to pieces." He further felt and said that the Church was in great need of returning to and being revived by this truth as taught by these men.

In 1896, at a similar conference, when Rev. F. B. Meyer, the teacher par excellence, was the chief speaker, the truth that there were both carnal and spiritual Christians was pressed and applied. All these men hold to the Keswick teaching. But the phase of truth seized by Mr. Moody was that the Church was called to be spiritual and that it ought to be warned against the danger of being and remaining carnal, and thereby "conformed to this world."

In this conference of 1896 there were several proofs that the type of Christianity in New York City was prevailingly carnal. To the practical nature of Mr. Moody came the question, what he could do to make New York Christians see this and seek to be spiritual. He believed that the effect of their seeing, seizing and living this truth would be the true basis of a genuine revival. Not to do so was only to gather more carnal Christians into a carnal Church.

The purpose of the campaign in New York was not the conversion of sinners, but the consecration of saints. This purpose was fulfilled in large measure, though the critics of the leaders have been spiritually unable to see the truth. Dr. Wilton Merle Smith in the New York Tribune has rather understated the results, but he has more than answered the critics, whose difficulty is not so much the fault of failing to judge the results according to the ends proposed, as being themselves blind to the truth emphasized and made prominent especially in these later conferences at Northfield.

WE NOW OUR acknowledgments to our good Brother Bean for the kind regret expressed at not meeting the present writer at the Assembly. It would have pleased us greatly to have made his acquaintance. Excessive modesty on the part of both, as he suggests, prevented our becoming acquainted. But what is this our brother saith about the "beauty and pride" of our brother editors "some having more of one trait and some of the other?" Beauty! well, may be so, but pride! when and where? We are sure all must be acquitted of that. A better behaved and more becomingly modest set of men it would be hard indeed to find.

DR. MALLARD, who next to the moderator was, by reason of his position as Chairman of the Committee on Bills and Overtures, the most conspicuous member of the Assembly, acquitted himself most admirably, and Dr. Beattie, as Chairman of the Committee of Foreign Missions, won for himself golden opinions for the wonderfully clear and precise manner in which he stated or discussed every phase of a question he was called on to present, and for the coolness and self-possession he maintained when his positions were challenged and the flames of controversy raged around him.

OUR READERS may remember that a few years ago the American Board of Foreign Missions (Congregational) had a deal of trouble with Rev. W. H. Noyes, whose views on the subject of future probation—if we recollect aright—were not in accord with those held by his denomination. Two parties formed on the question, and at length for the sake of peace Mr. Noyes, was allowed to remain as a missionary in Japan, where he was stationed. This healing the wound slightly—patching up the affair instead of dealing heroically with the matter and dismissing the offender—has led to troubles about property and to other misfortunes and now Mr. Noyes resigns because, as is alleged, "he is uncertain whether he believes some of the doctrines inculcated by the Board."

WE OUGHT IN our "Echoes of the Assembly" to have said a good word for the railroads which did so much by cheap fares and courteous attentions in the way of securing a large attendance of visitors to the Assembly. The Seaboard Air Line, which helped us forward and back, certainly should come in for unstinted praise. By the way the Seaboard is a public benefactor in the work it is doing in the way of encouraging new enterprises and new methods, agricultural and mechanical, over its territory. The result can hardly fail to redound to the general prosperity of our State and section.

WE HAVE BEFORE US one of the admirable contributions to the personnel and the work of the Westminster Assembly, a pamphlet from the press of Whittet & Shepperson being an "Address prepared by order of East Hanover Presbytery, and delivered before that body April 27th, 1897, in the First Presbyterian church, of Richmond, Va.—by William Wirt Henry." It is eminently worthy of taking its place among the many thoughtful, instructive and scholarly papers which have been called forth by the 250th anniversary of the great Assembly.

The Centre Building at the Orphans' Home is nearly completed, but the work must be suspended because the funds are exhausted, and the Building Committee is forbidden to contract a debt.

We had hoped to throw its doors open to the fatherless by the first of July, but to the pleading applicants we must again say, Wait. Reader, can you not help open the doors of this building to the fatherless? Send immediately any amount you can give to this worthy cause and pray for the early opening of this building?

Yours in the care of the fatherless,

R. W. BOYD,
Supt. Orphans' Home.
Barium Springs, N. C.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

NORTH CAROLINA HOME MISSIONS.

The month of June has been set apart by the Synod of North Carolina and by all its Presbyteries for an offering to the cause of Synodical Missions. No worthier cause can possibly appeal to our people. The money goes toward the support of six evangelists in Albemarle Presbytery, three in Orange, two in Concord, one each in Wilmington and Asheville, the pastor of the Waldensian colony, the pastor at Chapel Hill and the General Evangelist. Many of these servants of the Synod are preaching the Gospel in parts of our State which are destitute of religious privileges. The need is great for the occupation of new territory by our Church. God has opened to us a great and effectual door.

His blessing upon the work in the past is the best guarantee of what He has in store for us in the future.

During the last eight years, since the inauguration of the Synodical work, fourteen out of the thirty-one counties unoccupied by our Church have been opened to our workers and two more will be occupied this month. There have been received into the membership of the Presbyterian Church 2,800 members and 36 churches have been organized by our Synodical evangelists. Our Synod itself has grown from 23,900 members to 34,000 and 265 churches to 359. But there are yet nineteen counties in the State without an organized Presbyterian church.

Our people have raised for this Synodical work $47,000 during this period. Let us make even greater sacrifices for giving the Gospel to the perishing, for establishing our beloved Church in every part of our territory, and for the glory of the name of Jesus Christ!

A. J. McKELWAY,
Superintendent.

Fayetteville, N. C.

DAVIDSON NOTES.

The wedding of Dr. Goode Cheatham, of Henderson, N. C., and Miss Janie Withers, of Davidson, was the social event of the past week. It occurred at half past six on Wednesday, 2nd. The pulpit was a bower of roses and ferns, and the ceremony, performed by Mr. Graham, beautiful and impressive. Dr. and Mrs. Cheatham left on the north-bound train at 7.30.

On Tuesday, June 1st, Dr. Munroe delivered a stereopticon lecture on Health and Disease in the Medical College Hall, to which the public was invited. Many of the slides were made especially for the lecture, and it proved an evening of unusual interest and profit to the large audience which filled the hall.

His many friends here have given Mr. Miles Martin, the eldest son of our former Prof. of Chemistry, a warm welcome to his old home. Mr. Martin has been in business in the Lone Star State for seven years, and this is his first visit home since his departure soon after his graduation.

Yesterday was Baccalaureat Sunday. It was an ideal day for such an occasion, cool and breezy, with just enough clouds to temper the sunshine. In the morning Rev. J. M. P. Otts, D. D., LL. D., of Alabama, delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class. His text was from Phil. 4th chapter, 8th verse: "Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, etc. The old Egyptians, the speaker said, built their own monuments during their life-time. After death nothing was added or taken away, all work stopped the moment the breath left the body. So with his auditors, they had been preparing themselves for such monument-building, now each was to begin this life long-task. This monument, slow-growing, but eternal, is the Character. Truth is its foundation, not merely sincerity; our convictions must correspond with outside realities. Honesty forms the walls, rising from and growing out of the foundation. Justice to all men as well as to ourselves binds together the walls and foundation. Purity furnishes the protective roof which guards the other components of the character from disintegration and decay, Love is the doors of the structure for ingress and egress, and the windows to let in light and sunshine. "Whatsoever things are of good report," a man's reputation, the esteem in which he is held by his fellowmen, forms the approaches to his character, the gateway that admits to the building, and invites entrance. All, foundation, walls, roofs and ornamentation, should rest upon the great underlying Rock of Ages.

It was an intensely practical address, and was listened to with the deepest attention by the congregation. Even the children spoke of it in the highest terms, and followed the whole thought of the discourse.

At night Dr. J. H. Thornwell, of S. C., preached the annual sermon before the Y. M. C. A., to a crowded house. He took for his text the twenty-fourth verse of the 73d Psalm: "Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel and afterward receive me to glory. The temptation of Asaph, recorded in this Psalm of his, to doubt God's fatherly care of us when we see the prosperity of the wicked, is an exceedingly common one. In the sanctuary alone are we able to pass judgment rightly on the plans and purposes of God. They are a perfect whole, a glorious sphere, but it is composed of two parts, the hemisphere of Time and the hemisphere of Eternity. Lazarus at the gate, Dives in the palace,—this is the hemisphere of time, but God completes the plan in perfect justice. Lazarus in Abraham's bosom, Dives in torment constitute the hemisphere of eternity.

All three persons of the Godhead are busy in the work of this overseeing, fatherly providence. God's wisdom, His tenderness, His omnipotence, are all engaged in it. Let us ask for this guidance, receive it with meekness and docility, and walk in the light and joy of it. The sermon was a message of comfort and cheer to all who heard it, and many of those to whom it was especially addressed will never forget its lessons.

Davidson, N. C., June 7. L.

INDIA RELIEF FUND.

TWO CENTS will sustain the life of a man, woman or child for one day.

Previously acknowledged.....	$119 81
Misses A. and J. Denny S. S. Class, Reidsville, N. C....	1 05
D. W. Lowrance, Mooresville, N. C.....	3 00
Miss Eliza Murphy, Caswell Ch...	1.00
Miss Lillian Colvin, Caswell Ch...	25

OUR PREMIUM BIBLE.

Measures 5x7 inches when Closed, and Contains 1,600 Pages of Reading Matter—Several hundred pages of Useful Information, besides the Scriptural Text.

At length we find ourselves with pride and pleasure, able to offer a Bible premium to workers for the N. C. PRESBYTERIAN. The size and quality of type of our Bible is represented by the cut here given:

The binding is flexible, the edges are gilt and the references within are full. The Bible contains besides 1050 pages of Scriptural text, the HELPS to Scripture reading and study including Subject Index, Concordance, a most serviceable General Topical Index, a large number of pages treating of the Titles, Authorship, Distinctive Characters, Contents, &c., of the various books of the Bible, A Description of the Inhabitants, Physical Geography, Customs and Political Condition of the Holy Land at the beginning of the Christian era, the Botany of the Bible, Glossary of Antiquities, Customs, 12 maps, etc., being the Oxford Helps, acknowledged to be the very best, besides 124 full-page illustrations of the Languages, Writing, &c., of the Old and New Testaments, of the bas reliefs and the like, discoveries in archæological researches, and now in the British museum—and very much else; making altogether the most desirable copy of the Scriptures for Bible students that has come to our knowledge. The book contains over 1,600 pages.

The Bible is an offer in connection with the NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN—the only medium thro which one can become well acquainted with what is going on in the Synod of North Carolina—on the folowing terms:

We will give this Bible as payment for help rendered to any old subscriber who will send us the name of a BONA FIDE new subscriber along with $2.25.

The new subscriber gets the paper very cheap—we offer it to any bona fide new subscriber for $1.50 for the first year—and the worker gets amply compensated in a magnificently cheap Bible for his or her good work.

A new subscriber to get the Bible can subscribe for himself at $1.50 and then send another new subscriber with $2.25.

The Premium offered is the Genuine Edition of the Oxford Teacher's Bible.

We trust our friends will go to work promptly on this plan.

JOHN McLAURIN,
Manager N. C. Presbyterian.

David's thirst for God. PSALMS. He praiseth God for his grace.

10 Trust not in oppression, and become not vain in robbery: [1] if riches increase, set not your heart upon them.
11 God hath spoken [2] once; twice have I heard this; that [3] power belongeth unto God.
12 Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for [4] thou renderest to every man according to his work.

PSALM 63.

1 David's thirst for God. 4 His manner of blessing God.
A Psalm of David, [5] when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

O GOD, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: [6] my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and [7] thirsty land, [8] where no water is;
2 To see [9] thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the sanc-

[1] or, we are consumed by that which they have thoroughly searched. [2] Job 33. 14. Ps. 62. 7. 1 Thes. 4. 11. [3] Heb. a secret searched. [4] Job 34. 11. Prov. 24. 12. Jer. 32. 19. Mat. 16. 27. Rom. 2. 6. (Or, 2. 23. [5] Ps. 31. 11. [6] Jer. 50. 33. [7] Ezek. 19. 13. [8] Ps. 42. 2.

1 Or, wherewith wounded. [2] Heb. their wound shall be. [3] Job 34. 11. Prov. 24. 12. Jer. 32. 19. Mat. 16. 27. Rom. 2. 6. (Or, 2. 23. [4] Ps. 31. 11. [5] Jer. 50. 33. [6] Ezek. 19. 13. [7] Ps. 42. 2.

6 They search out iniquities; [2] they accomplish [3] a diligent search: both the inward thought of every one of them, and the heart, is deep.
7 But God shall shoot at them with an arrow; suddenly [2] shall they be wounded.
8 So they shall make their own tongue to fall upon themselves: [4] all that see them shall flee away.
9 And all men shall fear, and shall [5] declare the work of God; for they shall wisely consider of his doing.
10 The righteous shall be glad in the LORD, and shall trust in him; and all the upright in heart shall glory.

PSALM 65.

1 David praiseth God for his grace. 4 The blessedness of God's chosen by reason of benefits.
To the chief Musician, A Psalm and Song of David.

Even the thoughtless or trifling repetition of the name of the Lord involves great sin, for thus a man taketh the sacred name in vain; yet men trifle with that name in common conversation, and that with fearful frequency.

"Our Premium Bible" contains absolutely nothing that tends to discredit the plain Scripture narrative of "Jonah and the whale."

It is never easy to talk love when one is in love. Perhaps that is why we never attach much importance to the religious experience that is told in easy-flowing sentences.—Exchange.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

INK SPOTS.

How exquisitely beautiful is the opening sentence in Matthew Arnold's lecture on Emerson:

"Fifty years ago when I was an undergraduate at Oxford voices were in the air there which haunt my memory still. Happy the man who in that susceptible season of youth hears such voices! they are to him a possession forever."

Among the voices was that of him who became Cardinal Newman, Says Arnold: "Who could resist the charm of that spiritual apparition gliding in the dim afternoon light through the aisles of St. Mary's, rising into the pulpit, and then in the most entrancing of voices breaking the silence with words and thoughts which were a religious music, subtle, sweet, mournful. I seem to hear him still saying:

"After the fever of life, after wearinesses and sicknesses, fightings and despondings, languor and fretfulness, struggling and succeeding; after all the changes and chances of this troubled unhealthy state, at length comes death, at length the white throne of God, at length the beatific vision."

Again I seem to hear him:

"The season is chill and dark and the breath of the morning is damp and worshippers are few; but all this befits those who by their profession are penitents and mourners, watchers and pilgrims."

Carlyle characteristically said Newman had about as much sense as a squirrel.

* * *

How one longs to see the best men in character and intellect on the judicial bench, and filling all public officer, and we having a country of which all its citizens could be proud and toward which foreigners could point as to what an intelligent, self-governing people could accomplish, instead of making them believe we are a nation of vulgar braggarts and insolent swaggerers.

But as Isaiah says it is the remnant in whom the life of the nation lives, and in America Arnold tells us the remnant is large and influential; here then is our hope for our country that the best element, the wise, thoughtful, the good, will yet leaven the mass, and men shall learn that laws of trade and finance do not depend on the whims of men, be they many or few; that wisdom about great legislative and financial schemes does not belong to a man because he votes, and that twice two are not six though it is voted that way.

"In every age of the world there has been a leading nation, one of a more generous interest whose citizens were willing to stand for the interests of general humanity and justice; which should be that nation, but these States?" Would that it might be so.

Meantime many influences are working for good. "Every day the sun shines and after sunset night and her stars, ever the wind blows, ever the grass grows." Churches, schools, noble men, pure women, pious and refined homes, and honest sturdy men working with willing hands and kindly hearts, homes of rich men and homes of poor men alike noble and godly, all these give us hope in spite of the foolish legislation and class bitterness of the present. E. H. H.

Farmville, Va.

APPOINTMENTS IN MECKLENBURG PRESBYTERY.

By order of the Presbytery appointments have been made for protracted services to be held between now and the fall meeting as follows:

Altan church, Rev G A Sparrow; Barclay, Rev A A Little; Beulah, Rev S W Newell; Cherryville, Rev J W Siler; Columbus, Rev R A Miller; Drusilla, Rev J M Grier; Duncan's Creek, Rev J R McAlpine; Forest City, Rev J R Howerton; Henrietta, Rev Wm Black; Mount Holly, Rev J J Harrell; Hephzibah, Rev H W Hoon; Ironton, Rev J W Stagg; King's Mountain, Rev H M Dixon; Little Brittain, Rev M McG Shields; Polkton, Rev Roger Martin; Rutherfordton, Rev T M Lowry; Salem, Rev Jonas Barclay; Sandy Plains, Rev R C Morrison; Sharon, Rev T J Allison; Shiloh, Rev R Z Johnston; Siler, Rev G A Hough; Stanley Creek, Rev R D Stimson; Stevens, Rev R J McIlwain; Unity, Rev J S Shaw; Waco, Rev J J Kennedy.

Each minister can correspond with the session and agree on a suitable time. Each church will defray traveling expenses.

J. M. GRIER,
R. P. SMITH,
Committee.

Gastonia, N. C., May 21st, 1897.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

HOW GOD HELPS US.

BY REV. THEODORE L. CUYLER, D. D.

"God is my helper" is a truth as old as the Bible, and confirmed by myriads of human experiences. But it is important for us to know how our loving Father helps us; for we may expect things that He never grants and lose things that He offers to give us. There is a right way and a wrong way of looking at God's dealings; the one sets us to murmuring and complaining, the other gives us a wonderful uplift.

What an immense lot of overloaded people there are in this world! We can see it in their care-worn faces; and each one thinks his burden is the heaviest. There is a certain kind of care that is wise; a man who has no forethought for the future is a sluggard or a fool. The Apostle had no reference to a wise thoughtfulness for the future when he said, "Cast all your care upon him, for he careth for you." That much perverted verse is accurately translated in the Revised Version—"casting all your anxiety on him because he careth for you." Now just what our Almighty and all loving Father offers is, to help us carry our loads. He who watched over the infant deliverer of Israel in his cradle of rushes, who sent his ravens to feed Elijah by the brookside, who protected Daniel in the den, and kept Paul calm and cheerful in the hurricane, is the very One who says to us, "Roll your anxities over on me, for I have you on my heart!" To do this requires faith. When God says, "Give to me what will break you down and I will help you through," he puts our faith to a pretty severe test. As the sinner must accept Jesus Christ as the burden-bearer for his sins before he can be saved, we must accept God's offer to lighten our loads by putting himself, as it were into our hearts, and under the burdens. He then becomes our strength. His grace becomes sufficient for the hard duty to be done, the tough conflict to be fought, the sacrifice to be encountered, or the trial to be endured. This is a supernatural process. It actually means that the Divine Spirit comes into us and imparts divine strength, just as much as the nutritious element in our daily bread imparts strength to our bodies. The "Everlasting Arm" is no less a support because it is an unseen arm; but we can feel it. My brother, have you never felt the life of that almighty arm when you came up victorious out of a great temptation, or calm out of a great sorrow, or strong out of a heavy "weight of affliction?" God helped you.

Those who know how to use God's help are the calm Christians who possess their souls in quietness. Work never hurts us. A stiff fight does not exhaust us. It is worry that frets and fevers us. It acts like an ague on the body and leaves us weak and wretched. Athletic old Paul who fought beasts at Ephesus, and bloody Neros at Rome, who was a "Board of Foreign Missions" in himself, and had the care of all the churches on him, never chafed his great soul into a worry for a single moment. "Be anxious for nothing, brethren!" was his cheerful counsel to his comrades. He knew how to let God help him do God's work. He knew whom he believed; and worry would have been suicide. Be assured of this, all ye pastors, teachers, and workers of all kinds, that if you and I work on God's lines he is bound to help us. If we attempt to work on our own lines and for our own selfish purpose, we shall be rebuked as Peter was when his Master said to him, "Put up thy sword into the sheath!" When Peter drew the sword of the Spirit at the time of Pentecost the divine help came, and thousand of souls were converted. Let us lay hold of God's work with a steady and a stalwart trust, and all the time be hearing him say, "In me is thy help."

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

PRAY AND PAY.

These ought to be intimate companions. They must be found in each other's company with respect to some situations, or else one's praying will be void of effect. There are some Christians who pray that the Gospel may go forth to "earth's remotest bounds," but they do not pay a cent to help carry it there. They seem to suppose that they can pay their debts to the Lord in words of prayer. If this could be done it would be the shortest cut to the fulfilment of personal obligation that has yet been discovered. There are those who foolishly suppose that their obligations to God are actually fulfilled in just this way. How any intelligent Christian can honestly think so is a puzzle hard to understand. Who has not heard some Christians pray that God would extend the knowledge of His Son throughout the nations which sit in gross darkness, and yet when they were asked to pay something toward the expense of such an extension of knowledge they either refused to give something, or else gave the merest trifle? And how many pray that God would be merciful to "the poor and needy," yet they never pay anything to give God a chance to be merciful in a tangible way to such ones! Evidently, with them praying is one thing, while paying is quite another thing.

Then, too, some Christians pray that God would enlighten their minds, giving them broader views of His truth and a better understanding of His kingdom, and yet they cannot be induced to pay for a Christian newspaper, by which their minds may be enlightened, their views of truth broadened and a better understanding of the needs of the kingdom may be secured. Verily there is great need that there be a great deal more paying, in order that the praying of some Christians may give proof of being sincere and worth answering.

C. H. WETHERBE.

AN ADVANCE MOVEMENT.

John T. Patrick, Chief Industrial Agent, at Pine Bluff, N. C., on the Seaboard Air Line, sends us the following which may prove of interest and value to some of our readers:

"We want the people along our line of road to see and use every kind of household and farm convenience and labor-saving implement, and to learn how to save the little things, fruit, vegetables, milk, and all kinds of farm products, and to this end we are fitting up a train of cars, and employing expert farmers, dairymen, canners, &c., and will make exhibits at the one hundred and fifty stations on our road from Norfolk, Va., to Atlanta, Ga. We exhibit in the day at a town and our train of exhibit cars is to move during the night to another station. We advertise extensively, and have the people for miles back in the country to come in and to see the exhibits, and learn from our experts how to save the products of the farm. We will be glad to have you contribute to our exhibit, something that will be of use to the people. Whatever you want to exhibit and bring to the notice of the people in this section of the Union, we will carry over our line free of cost, and if it is necesaary for you to send some one to explain your exhibit, we will furnish them with free transportation; if your people can operate and explain we will have them do so without any cost to you. No such practical way of getting the people acquainted with the labor-saving implements and devices was ever inaugurated by a strong substantial concern like the Seaboard Air Line railroad with plenty of money to do what they undertake. We want to start about the 10th to the 15th of June and we would like to have shipments made at once to address of Seaboard Air Line, Pine Bluff, N. C., so that they can be provided for and arranged in our exhibit cars. Any suggestions you can make will be highly appreciated.

THE FRAGRANCE OF PRAYER.

"In Saint John's vision of heaven the redeemed are represented as having in their hands golden vials full of odors,' which are the prayers of saints. The meaing is not that saints in glory offer up prayers to God. Rather the thought seems to be that earth's supplications rise up to heaven as sweet incense—that while the humble believers in this world are engaged in offering up prayers and supplications, holy odors are wafted up before God. There is an exquisite beauty in this thought that true prayer is fragrance to God. The pleadings and supplications of His people on earth rise from lowly homes, from sick rooms, from darkened chambers of grief where loved ones kneel beside their dead, from humble sanctuaries, from stately cathedrals, and are wafted up before God as the breath of flowers is wafted to us in summer days from sweet fields and fragrant gardens. And God 'smells a sweet savor.' Prayer is perfume to Him.—Ex.

Now, as they were going along and talking, they espied a boy feeding his father's sheep. The boy was in very mean clothes, but of a very fresh and well-favored countenance; and as he sat by himself, he sang. "Hark," said Mr. Great heart, "to what the Shepherd's boy saith:" so they hearkened, and he said:

"He that is down needs fear no fall;
He that is low, no pride;
He that is humble, ever shall
Have God to be his guide.

I am content with what I have Little be it, or much;
And, Lord, contentment still I crave
Because thou savest such.

Fulness to such a burden is
That go on pilgrimage;
Here little, and hereafter bliss,
Is best from age to age."

Then said the guide, "Do you hear him? I will dare to say that this boy lives a merrier life, and wears more of that herb called heart's-ease in his bosom than he that is clad in silk and velvet."—John Bunyan, 1628-1688.

MAKE A FRIEND OF HIM.

An angry man once applied to a friend for advice as to the best method of "coming up" with one who had injured him.

"Is he an enemy of yours?" was asked.

"I should think he was," was the reply; "he is doing all he can to hurt me."

"Very well; he ought to be destroyed. Kill him."

"Kill him?" and the man was puzzled.

"Certainly; but there is only one way to destroy an enemy so that there will be no bad after-effects."

"How is that?"

"Make a friend of him. The 'enemy' will then be gone, and so thoroughly destroyed that no traces of the enmity can be discovered."—Ex.

LITERARY JOTTINGS.

It may not be generally known that Miss Alice M. Longfellow, the eldest daughter of the poet, is a writer of considerable power. She has written very little for publication.

J. M. Barrie, the novelist, who is a prodigious worker, says that a day in bed refreshes him as much as several days spent at the seashore.

It is said of the mother of J. M. Barrie that "her delight in Carlyle was so well known that various people would send her books that contained a page about him; she could place her finger on any passage wanted in the biography as promptly as though she were looking for some article in her own drawer, and given a date she was often able to tell you what they were doing in Cheyne Row that day. Carlyle, she decided, was not so much an ill man to live with as one who needed a deal of managing.'

Dean Farrar gives some interesting reminiscences of Tennyson in the Temple Magazine. This is how he suggested "St. Telemachus" to the poet. "Lord Tennyson, one day when I was walking with him, asked me to suggest to him the subject of a poem. I suggested the story of St. Telemachus leaping down into the amphitheater and by his self-devoted martyrdom putting an end forever to the hideous butcheries of the gladiatorial games—a scene which I have since described in my 'Gathering Clouds.' To my surprise, he had never heard the story, and was much struck with it. He asked me to send him, when I returned, all the authorities on the subject. That was easily done, for it rests on the single authority of the Greek ecclesiastical historian Theodoret. I sent him the passage in the original Greek, and he clothed it in the magnificent poem."

Royal makes the food pure, wholesome and delicious.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

MAGAZINES.

The Ladies' Home Journal for June has a charming table of contents. What Victoria Has Seen, and the article on John Wesley and his visit to America add greatly to the interest. $1.00 a year. Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia.

BOOKS RECEIVED.

In The Maderia Islands by Anthony J. Drexel-Biddle, we have a pleasant account of the author's visit, and a brief historical sketch of the Maderias from their romantic discovery during the reign of Edward III, of England, to the present time. The pictures are many and good, and the binding, attractive. Anthony J. Drexel-Biddle Company, Publishers, Philadelphia.

The Story of Oliver Twist condensed for Home and School Reading by Ella Boyce Kirk. D. Appleton & Co., New York. The title of this book gives its design, and a very excellent plan it is. The author has been an educator for many years, and has conceived this way of placing in the hands of the children reading that will delight as well as instruct. The words of the author are retained, only omitting the portion uninteresting or unintelligible to young minds.

Surely there is no excuse at this age for children to grow up ignorant of important events or of the masterpeices of art or literature. The American Book Co., New York, is giving in its Eclectic School Readings choice histories of ancient peoples. The third volume in the series is that of the Jews under the title, The Story of the Chosen People. It is a collection of the Old Testament stories, told in a plain, interesting way. The pictures are copies of celebrated paintings and are excellent. It is a splendid book for the home or school.

Children

are a source of comfort. They are a source of care, also. If you care for your child's health, send for illustrated book on the disorders to which children are subject, and which Frey's Vermifuge has cured for 50 years.

One bottle by mail for 25 cents.

E. & S. FREY,
Baltimore, Md.

MONEY TO LOAN.

on Eight Years Time, secured by Mortgage on Real Estate. Monthly payment, savings investment stock for sale, also FULL PAID COUPON STOCK, with semi-annual cash dividends. Loans made promptly in any part of the State. Agents wanted. Address,

Mechanics and Investors Union

22 Pullen Building, Raleigh, N. C.

Religious Intelligence.

We specially invite News from all quarters for this Department.

The Annual Scheme of Collections in the Synod of North Carolina is as follows:

January—General Assembly's Home Missions.

February and August—Presbyterial Home Missions.

March—Publication and Colportage.

April — Education — (one collection Church and Christian Education).

May and October—Foreign Missions. Third Sabbath in October for Bible Cause.

June and September—Synodical Home Missions.

July—Invalid Fund.

Third Sunday in October—BibleCause.

November and April—Education for the Ministry.

December—ColoredEvangelization

THE ASSEMBLY'S FORM OF BEQUEST.

I do hereby give and bequeath to the Trustees of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States (popularly known as the Southern Presbyterian Church) the sum of .....Dollars for the benefit of [here name cause to which the legacy is given.]

CHANGES OF ADDRESS.

Correspondents will please note the following changes of address:

Rev. George D. Armstrong, D. D., from Norfolk, Va., to Virginia Beach, Va.

Rev. S. W. Mitchell, from Paul's Valley, Indian Territory to Beaver, Okla. Territory.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Immanuel Church:—Wilmington Presbytery, in session at Wilmington last week, accepted Rev. B. E. Wallace's resignation of the pastorate, and appointed him to declare the pulpit vacant on last Sabbath. Mr. Wallace preached his farewell sermon on the occasion. The service was tender and affecting from 1 John 3: 1. The house was filled to overflowing. Over thirty persons came forward after the sermon and expressed a desire to live for Christ. Eighty-two persons have united with this church under the pastorate of Mr. Wallace, since it was organized, Nov. 8th, 1896. Our heartiest good wishes are for the blessing of God upon the future labors of the brother, and for the temporal prosperity of him and his.

Concord Presbytery:—Met in an adjourned meeting at Mooresville, N. C., May 18th, 1897. There were present eight ministers and three ruling elders. The appointment of the time for the next regular session of Presbytery was reconsidered and the time of meeting was changed to Friday, before the fourth Sabbath of September, at 7.30 p. m. Presbytery ordered one collection in the month of October to be given to the Bible Cause.

Mr. Nathan H. Williams was received as a candidate for the ministry, and at his own request was dismissed to the care of Savannah Presbytery. A church was reported organized at China Grove, Cabarrus county, N. C., May 12th, 1897, consisting of twenty-six members. Dr. J. A. Crowell and Mr. J. Frank Miller were ordained and installed as elders, and J. A. Shinn, John F. Miller and J. B. Goodnight, as deacons.

Candidates Edgar Tufts and L. E. Bostian were licensed to preach the Gospel as probationers for the ministry. Rev. J. E. L. Winecoff was given permission to supply Beulah church once a month till fall meeting of Presbytery. Rev. C. Miller declined the call to White Hall church and this church was grouped with Patterson's Mill field. He accepted the call to Zion church and the following order was taken for his installation; Rev. W. W. Pharr, D. D., to preside, preach, propound the constitutional questions and charge the people, Rev. W. C. Alexander to charge the pastor, and Rev. W. M. Shaw to be alternate to Dr. Pharr, and the time appointed was Saturday before the second Sabbath in June.

W. R. McLELLAND,
Stated Clerk.

Mecklenburg Presbytery:—Met in called session, in Second Presbyterian church, Charlotte, June 3rd, 1897, 10 a. m., Rev. A. A. Little moderator. Present thirteen ministers and five ruling elders.

A call from Sugar Creek church was placed in the hands of Rev. T. J. Allison, and accepted by him. The following order was taken for his installation on fourth Sabbath of June at 11.30 a. m. Rev. A. A. Little, preside and preach, Rev. R. A. Miller, charge the pastor, Rev. J. R. McAlpine, charge the people, each alternate to the other. Mr. J. E. Brown, a member of the First church, Charlotte, was taken under the care of the Presbytery as a candidate for the ministry. Candidates, J. H. Gray and L. H. Query were regularly licensed as probationers for the gospel ministry.

The committee to print the manual showed their faith by their works, and gave us copies of it.

JESSE W. SILER,
Stated Clerk.

Davenport. N. C.

New Hope Church, Brunswick County:—Sunday, May 23rd, we observed children's day. The church was beautifully decorated with the flowers that our loving Heavenly Father is blessing us with at this season. The program as sent out by the committee was supplemented with appropriate recitations and songs. The whole exercise was instructive, edifying and successful. Our little church was filled with an appreciative congregation which contributed $6 for the cause of Foreign Missions.

On Sunday, the 30th, Rev. D. C. Rankin the efficient editor of the Missionary was with us and gave us an excellent missionary sermon in the afternoon, and a most excellent missionary address at night on our African Mission. Bro. Rankin dwelt on the personnel of our mission there and showed the wonderful providence of God in raising up, qualifying and calling these noble servants of God to this most difficult, but glorious work. Bro. Rankin's visit was rendered the more pleasant because of his relation to Rev. L. W. Curtis and wife who went out from our midst to the foreign field.

On Monday we had Bro. McFadyen, of Clarkton, with us fulfilling a visitation appointment. He gave us an earnest sermon on Obedience, which we all enjoyed and felt benefited by having heard. Our people enjoyed having Bro. McFadyen with us and hope he will come again either on a visitation appointment or otherwise.

Adjourned Meeting of Orange Presbytery:—A most interesting and important adjourned meeting of Orange Presbytery was held in the First Presbyterian church, Greensboro, June 2nd and 3rd inst. Members present were: Revs. D. I. Craig, E. W. Smith, D D., S. O. Hall, J. McL. Seabrook, R. W. Culbertson, W. P. McCorkle, with Elders W. D. Wharton, G. L. Barnett, Hiram Foard, T. J. Shaw, W. P. McLean and G. W. Montcastle.

Rev. J. McL. Seabrook acted as moderator and Rev. S. O. Hall temporary clerk. Visiting brethren Rev. W. F. Thom and Rev. W. K. Forsythe were present and invited to sit as corresponding members.

Mr. John A. Paisley a candidate under the care of Ouachita Presbytery was received by certificate and enrolled as a candidate under the care of Orange. Rev. W. K. Forsythe, of Transylvania Presbytery, on the recommendation of the Home Mission Committee, was elected as Evangelist of the Stokes county field.

The Presbytery then proceeded to the chief business in hand—the examination of candidates for licensure. The unprecedented number, at one time, of five were present—Messrs. E. E. Gillespie, Charles F. Rankin, H. Watson Smith, John A. Paisley and S. Hill Williamson. All these brethren except the last named had taken a regular course in literature and at Union Seminary. Mr. Williamson has been two years at the Seminary.

The examination of each was satisfactory and all of them were duly licensed to preach the Gospel. Mr. Williamson was licensed as an "extraordinary case."

The Presbytery greatly missed the presence and counsel of Dr. J. Henry Smith, and the following paper was adopted:

Resolved That "Inasmuch as we the Presbytery of Orange are assembled in the First Presbyterian church, Greensboro, of which Dr. J. Henry Smith is Senior pastor, and in view of the fact that his youngest son, H. W. Smith, is now being licensed, with others; and that Dr. Smith is unable by reason of sickness to be present and enjoy and take part in these services: Therefore we extend to him our sincere sympathy and now join in special prayer to God for his recovery."

The Presbytery was led in prayer by Rev. D. I. Craig.

A call from the Lexington church for the pastoral services of licentiate H. W. Smith was placed in his hands and accepted; and his ordination and installation will take place at an early day.

The pastoral relation between Rev. N. B. Campbell and the Yanceyville and Bethesda churches was dissolved, and licentiate S. H. Williamson will supply the field until the fall meeting.

Licentiate Chas. F. Rankin was dismissed to unite with the Concord Presbytery. The stated clerk was instructed to write to Enoree Presbytery and certify calls from Mebane and Bethlehem churches for the pastoral services of Rev. E. C. Murray.

(Signed) D. I. CRAIG,
Stated Clerk.

Pineville:—Communion services were held on last Sabbath. Rev. H. M. Dixon was present and conducted the services in assisting Rev. J. R. McAlpine, the pastor. Seven united with the church.

Second Church, Charlotte:—On last Sunday night the Hornets Nest Riflemen assembled here to worship. The sermon preached by Rev. J. W. Stagg, chaplain of the company was on the subject, "Christ Our Pattern." The Observer says: "Christ was held up to the soldier listeners as the great pattern, the model after which they were to fashion their lives. Three points were dwelt upon: His Independence, Bravery and Generosity. The sermon was strong diet for strong men, and throughout its delivery was listened to with the closest attention by the multitude present."

The grand new organ was heard for the first time on the occasion. The vocal music was superb.

VIRGINIA.

Martinsville:—Five persons recently received, making thirty-six during the past year. Rev J. P. Robertson, pastor.

LOUISIANA.

New Orleans:—Last Sunday was the regular quarterly communion of the Third church. There were several additions. Rev. R. W. Mecklin, pastor.

GENERAL.

We were pleased in reading the Bimonthly Letter of Lakawn Station, to note the progress and bright prospects of this work. Though the force had been greatly depleted at the beginning of the year, there being only two left who had command of the language, the different branches of the work have been carried on and leaders raised from the thoroughly trained ranks. The Boy's School is under the care of Rev. and Mrs. L. W. Curtis and two native teachers. Mr. Curtis also carries on outstation work assisted by Rev. Chai Mai.

The following from the Christian Observer is on the same plan as the Shelter of the Silver Cross which is conducted by The King's Daughters on the coast near Wilmington. These summer outings for the poor and those needing rest cannot be too highly commended: "The Louisville ladies who are in charge of the "Rest Cottage" work have purchased a very nice house with about sixty acres at Houston's Station, about a mile west of Pewee Valley and about sixteen miles east of Louisville. The idea of founding a home where the working girls of Louisville might have "a fortnight in the country" at a cost within their means, originated with the late Miss Jennie Casseday—of the "shut-in band." During the two summers when she was able to be at the home, one could but notice the precious tone of spiritual life there. Since her death the ladies have nobly carried forward the work and will have a formal opening on June 9th, Miss Jennie Casseday's birthday.

On the 28th the ladies of the historic First Presbyterian church gave a fitting reception to their pastor and wife, Dr. and Mrs. James Park, in honor of the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. It was a happy sequel to the celebration last October of the centennial of the church and semi-centennial of their beloved pastor's ordination to the gospel ministry. Dr. Park is a native of Knoxville and foremost among the staunch defenders of Presbyterianism in East Tennessee. His faithful helpmeet is a niece of the late Dr. Archibald Alexander, of Princeton, and a host of sincere friends from far and near sent notes and telegrams of hearty congratulation to the venerable couple on the happy completion of fifty years of wedded life. The home they have always occupied was originally intended for a governor's mansion. Its construction began about the year 1812, and it is still one of the most substantial and well-preserved houses in the city. The ladies of the church took entire charge of the arrangements, and both parlors and dining room were decorated profusely with potted plants and cut flowers, yellow tints predominating. There was a generous display of presents in gold, silver and cut glass, besides a quantity of gold coin in recognition of the golden nuptials, and what especially pleased Dr. Park were remembrances from his Jewish friends. Nine children have been born to the favored couple of whom eight survive and twenty-nine grandchildren.

Knoxville, Tenn.

On last Saturday the Episcopal bishops of Kentucky, Nebraska, Iowa, Ohio, and Southern Ohio, accompanied by their wives or families sailed from New York to take part in Queen Victoria's jubilee and to attend the Lambeth Conference. Six other bishops sailed the week before.

PERSONALS.

Rev. L. W. Barron, a graduate of Louisville Seminary has taken charge of the church at Huntsville, Texas.

Rev. Dr. Murkland will spend the summer at Castine, Me.

Rev. Dr. J. R. Howerton, of the First church, Charlotte, is spending a few days in Asheville.

On last Sunday morning Rev. Dr. P. H. Hoge, of the First church, Wilmington, preached in the First church, Raleigh, of which Dr. E. Daniel is pastor. Dr. Hoge preached the baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class of the Agricultural and Mechanical College at night.

Rev. Dr. S. M. Smith, of Columbia, visited his father Rev. Dr. J. Henry Smith, of Greensboro, after the Assembly closed.

Rev. H. W. Smith will take charge of the church at Lexington, N. C.

Mr. R. W. Wharton, a member of the Middle Class, Union Seminary, will assist Rev. E. E. Gillespie in the Wilkes county field this summer.

Rev. George L. Cook, of Climax, Ga., has been visiting Rev. R. Z. Johnston of Lincolnton.

We deeply regret to note the death of the wife of Rev. M. C. Arrowood of Marshville, N. C., on the third inst. The remains were taken to Long Creek and the funeral services conducted on Friday by Rev. R. P. Smith.

The Central states that the Rev. Dr. McCorkle, of Lake Maitland, Fla., was stricken with paralysis May 16th, and his condition gives his friends serious concern.

Rev. Dr. F. H. Johnston, of Elizabeth City, is visiting his daughter at Lincolnton and preached in that city on last Sabbath.

Rev. Dr. Peyton H. Hoge will deliver the sermon at the Teacher's Assembly, June 20th.

HERE AND THERE.

According to the official census of 1890, North Carolina had a population of about 1,700,000 and a seating capacity of 2,100,000 in her churches.

The census of the same year gives the number of Indians as 1,571. We know of no special work devoted to them as a class.

Forty-two and two-fifth per cent of the population of North Carolina are members of some church. The per cent is larger in only five other States of the Union.

There are now 400 Waldenseans in Burke county, with a native minister and an organized church.

The Baptists have as many churches in Wake county as all other denominations combined. The same may be said of the Lutherans in Rowan county.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

ATKINSON MEMORIAL CHURCH, KINSTON, N. C.

(In memory of Dr. Joseph M. Atkinson, of Raleigh):

Sunday, May 30th, was a day of rejoicing to the Presbyterians of Kinston, when the Atkinson Memorial church was dedicated to the service of Almighty God. Rev. C. M. Payne, D. D., of Washington, N.C., preached a powerful sermon, setting forth in a simple, yet forcible manner some of the distinctive doctrines of the Presbyterian church.

Rev. C. G. Vardell, of Red Springs, gave an interesting history of the Kinston church. The church was started only a few years ago with eight members and one elder, and about the time they were getting ready to build the new church the great fire came along and delayed the work, but the members were persevering and by determined effort the church was completed. The total cost of the church is about $2,300. The church now has a membership of thirty-five, three deacons and three elders.

The elders, deacons and building committee were called up, and Mr. H. H. Wilson, for the committee, presented the key to the pastor, Rev. E. D. Brown, who replied in fitting remarks. The dedicatorial prayer was offered by Rev. C. G. Vardell. The church is entirely free of debt.

In the afternoon "Children's Day" was observed by the Sabbath-school with interesting exercises by the children. Rev. C. G. Vardell made a very appropriate and instructive address to the children on "Little Things." A collection amounting to $8.20 was taken for missions. To God be all the praise?

FOREIGN MISSION RECEIPTS FOR MAY.

The receipts of the Foreign Missions Treasury for May were $12,940.42, an increase over the receipts of last May of $3,017.08.

The receipts for the fiscal year to June 1st are $20,486.88, an increase over last year to the same date of $2,206.42. This rate of increase, continued through the year, will be just about what is needed to support the present work. We will still be dependent on special help for sending out our waiting missionaries. Knowing that many have that matter on their hearts, we feel confident that such help will be provided.

S. H. CHESTER,
Secretary.

Envelopes and leaflets for the July collection for Invalid Fund will be sent at once to all who will drop a card to the Secretary. Rev. J. N. Craig, Atlanta, Ga. Say how many you want,

ROGER MOORE,

104 NORTH WATER STREET

WILMINGTON, N. C.,

Has for sale Common and Repressed Brick, Lime, Rosendale Cement, Portland Cement, Fire Brick and Fire Clay Vitrified Sewernipes, Agricultural Lime, Land Plaster, Roofing Felt and Sheathing Paper, Shingles, Sawed and Rived, Aluminite, Calsom Wall Finish, Paints, Oils, &c. Agent for The Styron Fence, Composed of Juniper Pickets and Galvanized Bessemer Steel Fence Wire. One of the cheapest and most durable of fences.

☞ Orders Solicited.

STATESVILLE FEMALE COLLEGE.

JOHN B. BURWELL, President,

STATESVILLE, N. C.

The next session of above Institution will commence on Wednesday, the 8th of September, 1897, and close the 1st of June, 1898.

Board, including furnished room, heat and lights, with Tuition in all English Branches and Latin for entire School Year, $112.00.

Instruction given in all branches usually taught in first-class schools for young ladies, and by experienced and accomplished teachers. The President has been for thirty five years engaged in female education in North Carolina, and will spare no pains to maintain high grade scholarship and give thorough instruction in all departments.

Correspondence solicited.

For illustrated circular and catalogue address J. B. BURWELL,
Statesville, N. C.

Do You Want A Teacher?

TEACHER'S EXCHANGE,

Box 378 Richmond, Va.

SUPPLIES COLLEGES,
SCHOOLS AND FAMILIES
WITH TEACHERS.

Secures Situations for Teachers at moderate cost. Correspondence Solicited Supt. Richmond Public School.

SUMMER BOARD,

Board from June 15th to September 1st, can be had on reasonable terms at Statesville Female College. For terms address, J. B. BURWELL,
Statesville, N. C.

BINGHAM SCHOOL ASHEVILLE, N. C. Established 1793.

—Military U. S. Army Officer detailed.—

1793 Location and Sanitation best in the United States. Single story Brick Barracks, give safety against fire. "Pre-Eminent among Southern Schools for Boys." U. S. Gov't's Bureau of Education, Washington, D. C. Address Major R. Bingham, A. M. L. L. D., Superintendent. 1897

E. M. ANDREWS,

—THE LARGEST DEALER IN—

FURNITURE, PIANOS AND ORGANS

—IN THE CAROLINAS—

Goods bought direct from the manufacturers in large quantities and sold at only one small profit—no more. The complete furnishing and equiping of new houses a specialty. Pianos and Organs sold at the lowest prices and on easy terms. Furniture sold at a very small margin for spot cash, or on short time where parties are reliable. Small orders as well as large, receive careful and prompt attention.

☞ Write for Catalogues and prices. One Postal Card may save you many dollars.

E. M. ANDREWS,
Charlotte, N. C.

IS IT TRUE IN YOUR CASE?

"Is your daughter interested in personal religion?"

"I am sorry to say it, but I don't know. I never talk to my children about religion. I can't."

"Have you any difficulty talking with them about their studies or amusements?"

"O, no; but you know that is different. Somehow that must be attended to."

"And you let the other drift."

"Why, yes, that is about it."

The extent to which Christian parents are neglecting their duty to their children, and forgetting the vows they made at their baptism, perhaps repeated at their sick beds, must appall you, my guilty friend, if you would consider. You spare neither time, care nor expense to provide for their bodily comfort, yet leave their immortal souls to any chance influence, or place them for an hour on the Sabbath in the care of a Sunday-school teacher, who may not be faithful. And you furthersupplement that folly by letting them go two Sunday-schools, in one of which they may be taught, that the truth as held by the other, is contrary to the teachings of the Bible. Meanwhile you comfort yourself that they are learning the way to heaven, or at least are out of harm's way (?), for they are in Sunday-school.

To whose care did God commit those precious souls? To yours, dear parent, and without sin you cannot turn them over, even to a faithful Sunday-school, though you may well avail yourself of that God-given help. But be sure no voice or influence can ever be so blessed as that of a tender mother telling her little one the story of the Cross, as she leads it into the way of life, or teaches lisping lips to pray—or prays with and for the older ones. No prayers will ever tell with such mighty power on the future life of son or daughter, as those offered by a loving father, at the family altar, as he pleads with God for the dear ones He had given him. Nor can any one else so safely and surely teach them to love and revere their own church as a wise parent.

You want your children, first, to be Christians, and hope to see them in your church, but from you they never find it out. Can you wonder if, having no evidence of your real interest in these things, they grow up indifferent and worldly; or wander off into other churches, where they feel that some one did care for their souls?

O, that Christian parents realized their duty and their privileges!—K. McVicker.

LITURGIES.

In a former number of the Princeton Review it is said: "The Calvinistic Liturgy had no responses. The responsive element is utterly alien to the genius of the Presbyterian Church. The General Assembly of 1874 declared it without warrant in the New Testament and unwise, in view of its inevitable tendency to destroy uniformity in our mode of worship. The General Assembly of 1882 was overtured to prepare a book of forms for public worship, to which they replied, 'In view of the action of previous Assemblies, and the liberty which belongs to each minister to avail himself of the Calvinistic or other devotional forms, so far as may seem to him for edification, it is inexpedient for the General Assembly to make any special order in the premises.'"

In these ancient forms here referred to it must be remembered there are no responsive features. It has been said that, because of her liturgy, the Episcopal Church is greatly growing beyond the Presbyterian, but this can be disproved by statistics.

Dr. Shields says, in his book: "Our Church, in so carefully furnishing herself with a race of educated preachers, has acquired a hold upon the intellectual classes as distinguished from the merely fashionable or the merely vulgar, which makes her the bulwark of all conservatism throughout the land."

The Presbyterian Church would be faithless to its high trust if, for the purpose of holding such classes, it should encourage any of its ministers or churches to depart from its Scriptural and historical mode of worship.

Dr. Hodge says, "Without doubting the sincere piety of thousands who continue in the trammels of prescribed liturgical forms, we still believe that one of the causes why the Church of Scotland never submitted to the imposition of an unvarying form of public worship, and gradually dispensed with a liturgy altogether, is to be found in its superior intelligence and piety."

Response in song is rational, as expressive of feeling; but in reading, where the object is to communicate thought, it has no significance, and is hostile to the only rational design of reading. The Word of God should not be subjected to such treatment.—Cor. Philadelphia Presbyterian.

ARMSTRONG & McKELVY	Pittsburgh.
BEYMER-BAUMAN	Pittsburgh.
DAVIS-CHAMBERS	Pittsburgh.
FAHNESTOCK	Pittsburgh.
ANCHOR	Pittsburgh.
ECKSTEIN	Cincinnati.
ATLANTIC	New York.
BRADLEY	New York.
BROOKLYN	New York.
JEWETT	New York.
ULSTER	New York.
UNION	New York.
SOUTHERN	Chicago.
SHIPMAN	Chicago.
COLLIER	St. Louis.
MISSOURI	St. Louis.
RED SEAL	St. Louis.
SOUTHERN	St. Louis.
JOHN T. LEWIS & BROS CO	Philadelphia.
MORLEY	Cleveland.
SALEM	Salem, Mass.
CORNELL	Buffalo.
KENTUCKY	Louisville.

CONSIDER THE COST. Suppose the building is 60x25x20. It will require to paint it, 14 gals. ready-mixed paint at $1.25 per gal.—$17.50.

Or, four 25-lb. kegs of white lead, $6.00; five gals. pure linseed oil, $2.00; four cans tinting colors, 80 cts.; ½ pt. Japan dryer, 15 cts.; ½ pt. turpentine, 5 cts. Total, $9.00—a saving of $8.50 in favor of Pure White Lead without considering its greater durability. Examine the brand (see list).

FREE By using National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors, any desired shade is readily obtained. Pamphlet giving valuable information and card showing samples of colors free; also cards showing pictures of twelve houses of different designs painted in various styles or combinations of shades forwarded upon application to those intending to paint.

National Lead Co., 1 Broadway, New York.

PERSONAL RELATION TO GOD

No things can satisfy a living soul. No accumulation of dead matter can become the life of an immortal being. The two classes are separated by the whole diameter of the universe—matter and spirit, thing and person—and you cannot feed yourself upon the dead husks that lie round about you—wealth, position, honor. Books and thought, though they are nobler than these, are still insufficient. Principles, causes, emotions springing from truth, these are not enough. I want something to love, something to lay my hand upon that shall return the grasp of the hand. A living man must have a living God, or his soul will perish in the midst of earthly plenty—will thirst and die while the water of earthly delights is running all around him. We are made to need persons, not things. And we need one person who shall be all sufficient. We need a being, one being in whom shall be sphered all perfection, in whom shall abide all power and blessedness; beyond whom thought cannot pass; out of whose infinite circumference love does not need to wander: beside whose boundless treasures no other riches can be required; who is light for the understanding, power for the will, authority for the practical life, purpose for the efforts, motives for the doings, end and object for the feelings, home of the affections, light of our seeing, life of our love, the love of our heart; the one living God, infinite in wisdom, power, holiness, justice, goodness and truth; who is all in all, and without whom everything else is misery.—Dr. Maclaren.

THE ARTIST AND THE ATHEIST.

There was once a painter whose friend did not believe in God. Sometimes the artist was very grieved and would try to convince his friend that there was a Creator who made all things. The friend would say that all things came by chance.

One day the artist had finished a beautiful painting and put away his brushes, when his friend came into his study.

Struck with the lovely picture, he exclaimed, "How splendid! Who painted this?"

Then the artist quietly answered, "No one painted it; it came by chance."

"Oh," cried his friend, "do you think I am foolish enough to believe that so beautiful a scene came without a creator?"

The painter threw open his study window and, pointing to the hills tipped with the rays of the setting sun, said, "Then why should you expect me to believe that so beautiful a world came by chance?"

It is only fools who say there is no God.—Ex.

DOES IT PAY.

Who asks this? Not the missionary who makes most sacrifices; not the man or woman brought to Christ through missionary agencies; not the person who is best acquainted with the work, and who gives most largely to its support. With these there is but one answer. Only the willfull ignorant are skeptical. They know not what they say.

Of course it pays. It is the Lord's business. Christ has commanded it. Who can afford not to obey? The price of disobedience is very high. Who gives to missions makes a good investment. There is none better. It is profitable all round.

It pays in returned blessings to the giver. It pays in the home made Christian, the hearts comforted, the souls saved. It pays in increased security for society and the nation. It pays in a peaceful consciousness of service rendered to Christ himself; "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto these, ye have done it unto me."

It pays; but not as well as it might for the man who gives twenty-five cents, when he ought to give five dollars; or five dollars, when he ought to give a hundred. It pays best of all to be missionary in spirit through and through. Who is less than this lives beneath his Christian privilege, and Christ's expectation concerning him as one of his disciples.—Herald and Presbyter.

THE SONG OF THE FLOCK.

What a deathless poem the twenty-third Psalm is! It is the psalm of all psalms. Our Bibles would be robbed of their brightest jewel without it, and our memories of a garnered and cherished treasure.

What a myriad multitude there would be could we assemble all who have ever read or sung it! There would be the sufferer on the sick bed, shortening and beguiling his weary vigils by repeating its consolations. There would be the martyr chanting it at his stake as the flames wrapped their red winding-sheet around him. There would be the soldier in his bivouac on the eve of battle, pondering its majestic solaces by the smoldering embers of his fire, or his Bible found among the heaps of the slain, with its leaf turned down at the song of the "valley of the shadow of death." There would be the shepherd wandering by the green pastures and still waters, warbling the strains of the inspired minstrels of all time, who had thus sanctified his calling. There would be the bereaved mourner stooping over some withered flower, deploring some extinguished light in the earthly dwelling, singing of a house and home where he and his restored loved ones would dwell forever.

It has been sung on the hills of prosperity and in the valleys of woe, by the tongue of prattling infancy, by manhood in its prime, and by old age with its tottering steps, leaning on the rod and staff of which it touchingly speaks.

Little did he who first swept its numbers on his harp think of the legacy he had thus bequeathed to the Church of the future; when, in some bright moment of his own waning years, he lifted the curtain of life and reposed in thought on the fond images of boyhood, as by day he led his sheep along the mountain sides, and by night folded them in his sheltered hollows, taking these memories of sweet sunshine as hallowed symbols of the shepherd love and faithfulness of God.

The image of this pastoral song may be of earth, but its pedigree is of heaven; it is a heaven-born psalm. "The Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want." Jehovah, "All-sufficient," the covenant Shepherd of his people, embarked on their side and pledged for their salvation. The old patriarch Jacob speaks of the "Shepherd of Israel;" Peter speaks of the "Shepherd and Bishop of souls;" but David uses a loftier, more endearing epithet. That Almighty, All-sufficient, Omnipotent Being, says he, is mine—he is my Shepherd, or, as he elsewhere sings, "This God is our God forever and ever; he will be our Guide even unto death."—J. R. MacDuff, D. D.

Before Retiring....

take Ayer's Pills, and you will sleep better and wake in better condition for the day's work. Ayer's Cathartic Pills have no equal as a pleasant and effectual remedy for constipation, biliousness, sick headache, and all liver troubles. They are sugar-coated, and so perfectly prepared, that they cure without the annoyances experienced in the use of so many of the pills on the market. Ask your druggist for Ayer's Cathartic Pills. When other pills won't help you, Ayer's is

THE PILL THAT WILL.

Good Goods--Low Prices,

Flour, Meat, Sugar, Salt, Meal, Molasses, Coffee, Peanuts, Cheese, Crackers, Snuff, Tobacco.

Consignments of Cotton, Naval Stores and all Country Produce will receive careful attention.

Hall & Pearsall,

Wholesale Grocers & Com. Merchant
Corner Nutt and Mulberry Sts.

PEACE INSTITUTE FOR YOUNG LADIES, RALEIGH, N. C.

This Institute offers thorough collegiate courses in English, History, Literatu Mathematics, Sciences, Ancient and Modern Languages, Music, Art, Elocution a Physical Culture.

As to its high standard for graduation, its thoroughness of instruction, its mod erate charges for the advantages offered, and the extent of its courses in Art an Music, this Institute cannot be surpassed.

It offers also thorough preparatory courses. Correspondence solicited.

Board and English Tuition One Year $200.

For illustrated catalogue and full particulars, address the Principal,
JAS. DINWIDDIE, M. A., University of Virginia.

Term begins Sept. 16th, 1896. Closes first of June.

The Normal & Collegiate Institute

For Young Women.

ASHEVILLE, N. C. SPRING TERM OPENING FEB. 1st. 1897

OFFERS TO THE STUDENTS:

1. A Classical Course, including Ancient and Modern Languages, Science, Music, Drawing, etc.
2. A Normal Course for the thorough training of Teachers under instructors from the best Normal Schools.
3. Commercial Course, including Stenography, Type-writing, Book-keeping, etc.
4. Domestic Science, including Scientific Cooking, Draughting, Cutting, Fitting and Making of garments.

Systematic study of the Bible in all departments.

Terms for Board and Tuition in any of the departments, $50 per term, or half school year.

For catalogue, addesss

REV. THOS. LAWRENCE, D D
ASHEVILLE, N. C.

Cluster Springs High School

(On Lynchburg and Durham R. R., six miles from N. C. line)

BLACK WALNUT, VIRGINIA.

For boys and young men. A well equipped high school at a most pleasant, accessible, and healthful location. Lithia, sulphur, iron, and pure waters. Good buildings and improved school equipments. Swimming Pool, Gymnasium, and Athletic Field. Special attention to manners and development of character. Thorough instruction. Three teachers. Prepares for college or for business Our certificates admit to college. Tuition and home $—— Our catalogue tell. all about it. Address,

REV. T. S. WILSON, President,
or E. L. BARNES. A. B., Principal

A. D. BROWN,

Successor to Brown & Roddick,

29 NORTH FRONT STREET, WILMINGTON, N. C.

IMPORTER OF FINE

DRY GOODS AND CARPETS,

ORIENTAL AND DOMESTIC RUGS,

"WARNER'S CORSETS," "HER MAJESTY'S CORSETS,"

"THOMPSON'S GLOVE FITTING CORSETS," "R & G" AND "FERRIS" CORSETS.

"FOSTER" KID GLOVES, "KAYSER" SILK GLOVES.

"HUDNUT'S" EXQUISITE TOILET REQUISITES.

Mail Orders Given Special Attention.

Sabbath School Dep't.

CONDUCTED BY REV. A. D. McCLURE.

Second Quarter--Lesson XII.

June 20, 1897.—Rom. xiv. 10-21.

Commit to memory verses 19-21.

Subject. Personal Responsibility.

Golden Text. "It is good neither to eat flesh nor to drink wine, nor anything whereby thy brother stumbleth." Rom. xiv. 21.

CATECHISM.

Question 45. Which is the first commandment?

Answer. The first commandmen is, Thou shalt have no other gods before Me.

Time. A. D. 58.

Place. Written by Paul at Corinth.

INTRODUCTORY.

The present lesson is not taken like the few preceding, in its exact chronological position, nor to connect a person with the mention of his name in the book of Acts. The purpose is to provide a lesson on practical piety, with special reference to temperance. The appeal to be temperate is the strongest appeal for total abstinence in our day, because it rests upon our Christian duty to any who are weaker than we. The lesson brings us face to face with some of the difficult, practical problems that met the early Christians. Paul gives the principles, the only ones through which a solution can be found. There are many similar modern problems, none of them more difficult than these ancient ones. We have the light which their solution sheds on our path. It is important for us therefore to study these principles and be guided by them. This will show us the way to Christian living and will bring to help and peace. It is for each Christian to apply these principles in the individual experiences.

LESSON NOTES.

Vs. 10. Why dost thou judge? Act as judge and jury on his conduct. The word "judge" does not mean merely to form an opinion for every one must do this in many cases. It means to impute wrong motives and to put the worst construction on the actions or words of others and proclaim the measure of their guilt from our judgment.

Set at nought thy brother, treat him as unworthy of confidence as if he had no conscience and no right to decide for himself. Thus many show a spirit worse than those they condemn. The true place of judgment as to matters non-essential or as to all conduct is the judgment seat of Christ. There we must meet and face all our criticisms of others.

Vs. 11. It is written: in Isaiah xlv. 23, which we should study.

Vs. 12. Give account of himself to God. All acts will be revealed as recorded in God's book including censorious and cruel judgments of others.

Vs. 13. Not therefore judge: condemn others in matters that are outside our jurisdiction and will come before "the judgment seat of Christ." But judge this rather, turn judgment upon ourselves and our conduct and see that we do not put stumbling blocks in the way of others. We are not to give up our liberty of forming opinions, but to turn it upon ourselves rather than others, and to meet our responsibilities instead of condeming others.

Vs. 14. I know and am persuaded, being a Jew and a Pharisee, but looking at articles of food in the light of God and the true liberty of the Christian dispensation as the fulfillment and end of the law for righteousness. Nothing unclean of itself: as affecting spirit or character. But to him that esteemeth anything unclean, because of his conscientious views. To him it is unclean and he should not be criticized or opposed if he so thinks and acts. "He goes against his sense of right and defiles his conscience just as much as if it were really unclean."—Pelonbet.

Vs. 15. If thy brother be grieved. "This word expresses the painful and bitter feeling produced in the heart of the weak by the spectacle of the free and bold eating of the strong."—Godet. Destroy not, by tempting him to sin.

Vs. 16. Let not....your good: light, liberty, large views, be evil spoken of, bring discredit on the cause and discredit or depreciate the very things that you hold good.

Vs. 17. A large truth deserving all our space. Not meat and drink, important for the body, but always subsidiary to the higher meanings and calling of the Christian life, for righteousness in heart and life especially in duties to our fellowmen, peace, with God and man, and joy, pure and heavenly in the Holy Ghost.

Vs. 18. Serveth Christ, not self or the world or Satan.

Vs. 19. Follow after, with all the heart, and throughout the whole life.

Vs. 20. For meat destroy not the work of God. Too high price, setting appetite above the soul.

Vs. 21. It is good. Honorable, noble, worthy—not to drink wine. "Total abstinence is our safety lamp."—Farrar.

PRACTICAL POINTS.

1. Every one should settle questions of conscience in the fear of God, in the light of Scripture, in relation to Jesus Christ and by the guidance of the Holy Ghost.

2. In all matters of right and wrong each should stand firm for the right.

3. Each must respect the rights of others and see that his own conduct does not tempt, lead or cause others to sin or suffer.

$200.00 IN GOLD GIVEN.

Special Interest to Students and Teachers

International News and Book Company, Baltimore, Md., make a most liberal offer of $200.00 in gold, for selling 200 copies of "Gems of Religious Thought," by Talmage or "Talks to Children about Jesus." These books are among the most popular ever published One agent sold 21 in two days, another 55 the first week. Freight paid, credit given. A few general Agents wanted on salary. A splendid opportunity for Teachers and Students to make money during their summer vacation. Write them immediately.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

Lesson for week ending Sunday, June 20th, 1897.

Topic for Sunday, June 20th: Our Brothers' Keepers. Gen. 4; 3-16.

Text for the week: Take heed lest by any means this liberty of yours become a stumbling block to them that are weak. 1 Cor. viii: 9.

Monday: Our neighbors—Lev. 19: 18, 30-36.

Tuesday. Helpfulness--Deut. 22: 1-6.

Wednesday: Mercy—Zech. 7: 8-14.

Thursday, Humility—John 13: 1-15.

Friday: Love—Gal. 5: 6-15.

Saturday: Unselfishness — 1 Cor. 10: 23-33.

Sunday: Topic: Gen. 4: 3-16.

Suggestions:

To be our brother's keeper for our brother's good requires:

Meekness and humility: that not being easily provoked we may not repel; that being unmindful of self we may attract and win.

Gentleness: i. e., meekness in exercise. The disposition being meek the manners will be gentle. The tone of voice will be mild and winning when the tone of mind is loving and kind.

Wisdom in Love: The love that goes out from the heart to the heart, exercised in that wisdom which is from above, pure and peaceable, and which God giveth liberally, without upbraiding, to them who ask Him for it.

Notes:

Our Brothers's Keepers. It is not a matter of choice. God, the Sovereign Creator and Ruler has so constituted society that its members cannot be personally independent. From the wealthiest autocrat on his throne to the poorest mendicant having no place to call his home—not one exists who is not in some degree or measure dependent upon his fellows. Every man living must, whether he will or no, either help or hurt his fellow man. No one liveth to himself, or dieth to himself. But God has made that a duty, which also should be esteemed a privilege, to exert our influence and to exercise our powers in securing the physical and moral wellbeing of our brethren. And who are our brethren? All who come under the fatherhood of God. Our Saviour in the parable of the Good Samaritan draws all men into neighborhood—allowing no difference of religion or caste, or diverse opinion or interest, to release from the injunction to do good as we have opportunity. Broadly stated the requirement to be our brother's keeper means not only circumspection—looking around for a purpose—and the exercise of wisdom in prudence to avoid by speech or behaviour all that might cause a brother to offend, even to the cost of personal sacrifice, but the positive endeavoring by searching out our brother's wants, to be helpful in a way prompted by unselfishness and dictated by love; all for the sake and for the glory of Christ, our elder brother, through faith in whom we are kept, by the power of God, unto salvation.

OPEN DOOR NOTES.

Rev. B. E. Wallace has resigned the Presidency of the State C. E. Union.

A RARE TREAT:—On the morning before the adjournment of the General Assembly, one saw in the local columns of the Charlotte Observer, a modest paragraph headed: "A Missionary Meeting," announcing that a ladies' missionary meeting would be held in the parlor of the Y. M. C. A., at 10.30 that morning, to which all missionaries in the city, and all visiting ladies interested in missions were invited. "At this meeting the missionaries in attendance on the General Assembly will be present and make addresses."

This announcement was enough to bring together a crowd of ladies that soon overflowed the parlor, and many stood around the door. Doubtless there would have been a larger number of gentlemen present, but for the fact that the Assembly had so recently, and so plainly delivered itself upon the subject, of women speaking before mixed audiences. For there were two hundred missionary ladies to speak, you know!

However, there were a few adventurous spirits who dared to come, but who modestly retired before the ladies began their talks.

It was a most delightful surprise to find Rev. D. C. Rankin, editor of The Missionary, and Dr. Snyder our honored Congo missionary present, and to have addresses from both of them, so full of fervor, and of rich counsel that one was constrained to feel that they spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost."

And we pray God that the Spirit may so burn these addresses in upon the hearts of those who heard, that every woman may feel, as never before, the truths they uttered: The imperative need for knowledge if we would feel, and pray and help in God's great work of missions.

That we do not feel, and pray and help is because we do not know. That we owe it to those who are in the field as our representatives to pray for them habitually, personally and in faith.

That the knowledge of our interest in them, and prayers for them, cheers them amid many discouragements and much loneliness.

That the best way to inform ourselves as to the work is through our own magazine, The Missionary, which is abreast with the other leading missionary magazines of the day, and through the many attractive books and leaflets issued by so many branches of the Church, and lastly, and by no means least, by personal letters of cheer and interest.

Miss Gunn, who made a short and exceedingly pleasant talk, pressed this point of personal interest as did the gentlemen, and by way of proof, said that one of her best friends, she had never seen, but that she had been cheered and strengthened by letters from this lady, in many hours of discouragement. She lifted for a moment, the veil that hangs between those of us living in this Christian land, and the superstition and ignorance of Mexico that make the deepest discouragement of missionaries there, and berged again for personal interest in workers as well as work.

Mrs. H. T. Graham, now of Fayetteville, but once a member of our Japanese mission, followed with a tender earnest plea for a place in our prayers for Japan.

As we looked upon the faces of these brave missionaries who have proved their faith and love by their works, having followed the Master's call over mountains and the wide sea, they will pardon us if in the hearts of some, there arose a feeling akin to envy!

May all who were there be led to more habitual, believing prayer, to a sincere and more intelligent interest in the workers and the work!

In the audience, and adding interest by their presence, were three mothers of missionaries: Mrs. Verner, Mrs. Junkin, and Mrs. Torrance, and it seemed but right that their faces should wear the radiant peace that comes from sacrifice for the Master.

And now, Mr. Editor, I trust that your readers agree with me that the missionary meeting in Charlotte was indeed, a rare treat.

VISITOR.

Tuesday night, 31st of May, the Junior C. E. Society of Shallotte gave a sociable in the school house near the church. Games and recitations were the feature of the evening, and the little folks had a very enjoyable time for a few hours. We find these occasional sociables a great stimulus to the children in their society. But to show that they do not belong to the society solely for the reason of pleasure, they at the close of their social games, &c., remembered starving India and concluded that their joy would not be complete until they tried to do something for the poor, starving little ones of India. They at once set to work to raise some money for this cause—amount will be reported later. The social closed with song and prayer, and the children were as earnest in their devotions as they had been in their games.

PUZZLE DEPARTMENT.

ANSWERS FOR MAY 27TH.

Word Square— YES / EYE / SEA

Cornie and Myrtle Wilkinson.

The only street named in the Bible is "Straight" in Damascus, Acts 9: 11.

Maggie Moore Hall.

David said died as a fool dieth, 2 Saml. 3: 33—Maggie Moore Hall.

Jesus had four brothers James, Joses, Simon, Judas. It speaks of his having sisters but doesn't give their names.—Cornie and Myrtle Wilkinson.

Where are head bands and bonnets found in the Bible?

Lucile Hassell.

Which one of Jesus' brothers was stoned to death?

Myrtle Wilkinson.

What is the shortest name in the Bible? I. H. N.

MARRIED.

☞ No notice of a marriage or death will be inserted unless accompanied by a responsible name, which is wanted not for publication but as a guaranty of good faith.

ARMSTRONG—JAMES. On June 23, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. J. K. James, Pender county, N. C., by the Rev. G. W. MacMillan, Mr. Vance Armstrong and Miss Joy James—all of Pender.

McLELLAND—RANKIN. On May 27th, 1897, at the residence of the bride's brother, Mr. Jno. Rankin, Mill Hill, Cabarrus county, N. C., by Rev. W. R McLelland, brother of the groom, Dr. J. R. McLelland of Mooresville, N. C., and Miss Emma Rankin, Mill Hill, N. C.

MENZIES—SHUFORD. On June 3d, 1897, by Rev. J. Alston Ramsay, Dr. H. C. Menzies and Miss Kate C. Shuford—all of Hickory, N. C.

DIED.

☞ We publish free 10 lines of Obituary Notices, of any kind—Tributes of Respect, Resolutions of Sabbath-schools, Ladies' Societies, &c. And we charge for over 10 lines at the rate of 10 cents per line. The cost may be calculated by counting the words in the manuscript, and allowing seven words to the line.

LACKEY. On May 26th, 1897, at his home in Sloan Station, N. C., Mr. Wm. Lee Lackey in his 57th year. The deceased had been a constant sufferer for more than a year, but now his friends are comforted by the promise in Rev. 21: 4.

BRAWLEY. At her home near Statesville, N. C., on June 2d, 1897, Mrs. Mary Ann Brawley, in her 71st year. She was a faithful member of Front St. church, Statesville, N. C. We have lost a loving mother and grandmother, a kind neighbor and a faithful friend, but our loss is her gain (see Rev. 14: 13.) May the mantle of her sweet piety fall upon her children and grandchildren until all are safe in the fold of Christ.

ROSS. On May 25th, 1897, Mr. Earl A. Ross, fell asleep in Jesus after several days of suffering, in the 25th year of his age. He died from fracture of the skull caused by the bursting of an emery wheel. Mr. Ross was a member of the Presbyterian church, and possessed the confidence of all in his earnest and unobtrusive piety. He leaves a wife and one child and many friends to mourn his early death. PASTOR.

AVERY. At the home of her daughter, Mrs Joseph Scales, of Cascade, Va., May 1st, Mrs. Corinna Morehead Avery of Morganton, N. C., in the 73d year of her age.

Mrs. Avery was a daughter of the late Gov. Morehead and the widow of Hon. Waightstill W. Avery. She had lived in Morganton from the time of her marriage, and from young girlhood had been a devoted member of the Presbyterian church. Perhaps no one was more universally beloved, and no one can be more sorely missed by pastor and church, by relations and friends. She was a woman of lovely Christian character, and was conspicuous for her simple, childlike faith in her Saviour and for her devotion to His cause.

As she had lived so she "died unto the Lord." Rom. 14: 8. PASTOR.

Morganton, N. C.

GUION. At Owen Hill, Bladen county, N. C., on 18th of April last, Mrs. Ellen P. Guion, widow of the late H. W. Guion, and daughter of the late Gov. John Owen. Mrs. Guion was a lady of the Old School and a Christian of the brightest and humblest type. And while she was a very decided Presbyterian she loved all who love the Lord Jesus. In her case death was shorn of its terrors and the end was peace.

P.

WATT. In Reidsville, N. C., May 24th, 1897 after a short and painful illness, little Robert Richardson Watt, son of W. P. and Marion Richardson Watt, aged 4 years, 5 months and 29 days.

He was a vigorous, bright and precious little boy, but God said, "Suffer him to come unto me." And "of such is the kingdom of heaven."

"Sweet flower, transplanted to a clime,
"Where ne'er comes the blight of time.

D. I. C.

In Memoriam.

JOHNSTON. At his home in Concord, N. C., on April 26th, 1897, Mr. Miles W. Johnston in the 78th year of his age.

Mr. Johnston was born in Cabarrus county near Poplar Tent church, Dec. 25th, 1820. At an early age he united with that church and while quite young he was made first a deacon and afterwards an elder. He removed to Concord in January, 1875, and connected himself with the First Presbyterian church of this place. Here he was soon elected to the eldership and in this capacity he served the church faithfully until his death.

Mr. Johnston was twice married. Of his first marriage, with Miss Susan Caldwell three children were born of whom a son, Mr. R. W. Johnston, survives. Of his second marrage with Mrs. Ann Hall Bast eight children were born. His widow and five of these children survive.

Mr. Johnston was a brave soldier serving in Company F. First N. C. Calvary, Rufus Barringer, captain, throughout the entire war. Proof of his modesty and true worth: when chosen second lieutenant of his company, he resigned in favor of another whom he thought better qualified for the position.

He was a kind husband, a devoted father and a public-spirited citizen. About nine years ago he was paralyzed, the stroke affecting both mind and body and ending his activity as a citizen and ruling elder. His affliction, however, only deepened his piety. His Bible was his constant companion and his pastor seldom called without a request to lead him in prayer to a throne of grace. Long ready for the Master's call he passed quietly and peacefully to his eternal rest. Thus was fulfilled to him the promise, "Thou shalt come to thy grave in a full age, like as a shock of corn cometh in his season."

W. C. ALEXANDER.

SECULAR NEWS.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The Seashore hotel on Wrightsville Beach is nearing completion. The formal opening will be on the 16th. It is well planned and excellent in its appointments.

Blackberries are being shipped from Raleigh. A fine crop and good prices are reported.

Eighteen graduates from the A. and M. College are noted.

A very rich vein of ore has been found in the gold mine in northeastern Burke operated by the King Gold Mining Company. This ore is said to be worth over $100 per ton.

Home grown peaches were in Wilmington market last week.

A terrible hail storm visited some sections of the State on Saturday last. In Anson and surrounding countries the cotton and grain crop were almost entirely destroyed. The storm is said to be the heaviest for years.

DOMESTIC.

About 15,000 riders participated in the Evening Telegram's annual bicycle parade in New York city.

Fire on the 3d inst., destroyed $50,000 worth of property in Alexandria, Va., along the water front.

A fierce electric storm visited the section around Rome, N. Y., on the 3d inst., seriously injuring crops. The hail stones were of immense size.

The Bank of West Point, Ga., with a capital of $50,000, has been chartered by secretary of State Candler.

At the Prohibition convention of Pennsylvania held on the 3d inst., Dr. S. C. Swallow was nominated for State treasurer and W. W. Lathrop for auditor-general.

The gunboat, Princeton, was successfully launched at Camden, N. J., on the 2d inst. Her armament will consist of six 4 inch rapid-fire guns, four 6-pounders and two 1-pounders. The speed guaranteed by the builders is 12 knots an hour.

Eugene V. Debs and Henry D. Lloyd, are organizing a co-operate Commonwealth for the purpose of establishing colonies of 1,500 each over the country. The first will be tried in Utah.

FOREIGN.

Mount Vesuvius is in eruption. An area of 2,000 yards long by 500 wide is covered with lava, and it is dangerous to approach within 400 yards of the principal crater.

A telegram from Rio Janeiro, Brazil, states that De Castillo will be the presidential candidate of the national party in that country. He is the Governor of Rio Grande and is very popular.

The Seacoast Railroad is now running its summer schedule and is being well patronized. Excursion trains are already running over the road.

A Beautiful, Fitting, and Enduring Memento

For Personal Possession and Study

Is Found in the New Holy Land Art Portfolios

ENTITLED

Palestine Photographed.

Every Student of the Bible,

Every Student of History,

Every Lover of Art

Should Have It.

This desirable book comprises 64 beautiful engravings from views taken in 1894. Each scene is accurately and eloquently described by two distinguished divines, Bishop Vincent and Dr. Lee. The work should find a place in every Christian home.

Any paid up subscriber to the PRESBYTERIAN can obtain this book upon remitting 25 cents.

FOR THE FAMILY.

MOTHER.

How sweet the accents of that tender word
Upon the dewy lip of infancy!
It strikes all vibrant on the deepest chord
Of human hearts, quick'ning to melody
Whate'er the tongue—a savage language crude,
Patois, or polished language of our age,
The appellation which greets mother-hood—
Like blessed balm with bit'rest grief assuage.

Whisper it to the hero on the field,
And mark the soft'ning of his blazing eye;
Speak it to him who did his honor yield.
His mouth will droop repentant, wist-fully:
Repeat it to the king, e'en he will yearn
To change for footstool his canopied throne;
Unto the orphan breathe it, he will turn
His eyes to where a saintly form has flown.

The feel of childish hands upon the breast,
The tear-wet lash, the smile of purity,
The roseleaf cheek our saddened lips have pressed,
Merge, bud in bloom, to rich maturity.
But, ah, there is a spell, a mystic name
That bridges o'er the years and tem-pers fate,
The incense born of love's holiest flame,
And deeds unselfish mothers immolate.

—Ida Cole, in Picayune.

ITALY'S GRAND OLD MAN.

Guiseppe Verdi, the famous composer, is one of the few old men of Europe who have stuck to work after their eightieth birthday has come and gone.

"There was a time," he added, "when I could sit down to the piano and work for fourteen or sixteen hours at a stretch, but now I am obliged to work only as long as my strength holds out. When I undertake anything I never know whether I shall complete it. At eighty years of age a man's plan's are mere projects—nothing more."

Verdi's life has been as romantic as it has been successful. He was born in 1814 of peasant parents, who labored in the fields at Busseto, near Genoa. His fondness for music showed itself in the assiduity with which he attended the village church to listen to the organ and the mania he had for concealing himself in the garden of a neighboring villa to enjoy the sounds of a piano. Day after day, we are told, he lingered near the house and seemed unwilling to go away lest he should lose some of the enchanting music which so enraptured him. The owner of the premises was Signor Antonio Barezzi. He had often seen the lad, who stood as if in a dream, oblivious to all that passed in the world around him. So one day he accosted him and asked him what brought him to the house so constantly and what kept him there so long. "I play the piano a little," replied the frightened boy, "and I like to come here and listen to the fine playing in your house." It was Signor Barezzi's daughter who played the piano. The peasant boy was invited into the house to listen to the music, and many years later the acquaintance, so strangely begun, led to the marrage of Verdi with Signorina Barezzi. Before the lad left his village home, however, for the musical centre of Milan he had been aided in his musical studies by the young lady who was afterward to become his wife, and Signor Barezzi used his influence to procure for the boy a scholarship which would insure his daily bread. With this allowance of a pound a month Verdi went to the Conservatoire of Music at Milan, where he was calmly told that his playing was mediocre and that he hadn't the making of a musician in him.

A few years later the young man was back at his native village as organist in the little church. Here he married Signorina Barezzi and appeared to have settled down to lead a quiet life, his very existence ignored by the general public. A work of his produced at Milan, but although it was a failure it brought him an order to write a comic opera. While this comic opera was being written Verdi was stricken down with illness, and his wife and his two only children died.

His features are regular and of noble cast: of expressiveness, and his voice is pleasing and sympathetic. Those who have been brought in contact with both men say that Verdi bears a strong resemblance to Garibaldi. Like the great patriot, he took his part in the Italian war of liberation. His name became a war cry from the fact that the letters VERDI formed the initials of the title Vittorio Emanuele Re D'Italia (Victor Emmanuel, King of Italy.) He has been a member of Parliament, and I believe he is still a Senator of the kingdom, though he takes no part in the deliberations of Parliament. —Baltimore Sun.

Telephones are in common use on Swedish farms, and even in Finland. A traveller calls at a farm house, and if his language is not understood he rings up an interpreter. In Augusta county, Virginia, a comple system of cheap telephones has been introduced, reaching to farms as well as villages.

A traine d nurse advises that beef ice, which is only beef tea frozen, will often tempt the fever patient, when the thought of any thing hot makes him rebellious.

"Tears, idle tears, I know not what they mean," wrote the poet Tennyson. But tears always mean something. There are tears of melancholy, tears of joy, and of despair, and those saddest most pathetic tears of the nervous overwrought woman who has been bearing up as bravely as she may under a daily burden of weakness and dragging, torturing pain.

No wonder women weep. The wonder is that they are not oftener in tears for all they have to bear and suffer; and the saddest thing about it is how little their sufferings are understood. Even the doctor, nine times in ten says: "Oh, a little nervousness, that's all" or "neuralgia," or "insomnia," or "dyspepsia." If he suspects the real cause he insists upon examinations and local treatment,—about the very worst thing possible to a nervous, overwrought woman.

There is no need of these repugnant methods. Any woman may insure health and strength in a womanly way by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures the weaknesses and diseases of the feminine organism absolutely and completely. It was devised for this special purpose by one of the most eminent and experienced physicians in this country; an expert specialist in women's diseases.

For nearly 30 years Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. Any woman may consult him by letter, free of charge. Her letter will be answered not by a mere nurse or uneducated, unscientific person, but by the most competent medical authority anywhere obtainable.

All women should read Dr. Pierce's thousand-page illustrated book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser." It contains more clear and comprehensive advice on medical subjects than any other book ever published. A paper-bound copy sent free for twenty-one one-cent stamps to pay the cost of mailing only. Or cloth-bound for thirty-one stamps.

PREMIUMS.

No. 1. For 21 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Hunting case, jointed front and back 18 size and guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $20.00.

No. 2. For 16 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Open face, 18 size, 14 karat filled case, screw back and bezel, guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $15.00.

No. 3. For 17 new subscribers at 1.50 for first year, we will give a Ladies' Gold Watch Hunting case, 6 size, stem winder, 14 karat, filled case, screw beze—guaranteed 20 years—retails at $16.00

No. 4. For12 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give a Gents' Silver Watch: 18 size, plain case, open face—retails at $12.50.

No. 5. For 10 new subscribers a Ladies' Silver Watch, 0 size, plain case, open face—retails for $10.00.

No. 6. For 8 new subscribers, we wil. give a Nickel Watch, 18 size, screw bezel—retails for $7.00.

No. 7. For 7 new subscribers, we wil give solid silver teaspoons—retails for $6.00.

No. 8. For 4 new subscribers, a sugar spoon, sterling gilt engraved—retails at $3.00.

The articles will all be first-class from a jeweller of established reputation.

New subscribers means not change of address to some one else—that would be fraud—but bona fide new subscribers.

For $1.75 we will send the paper for the first year to a new subscriber and a copy of Palestine Photographed. This album contains 64 actual photographic reproductions of picturesque and historical places in the Holy Land on enameled pages, and is a thing of beauty. The descriptive foot notes are good and enhance the interest.

We regard this as a specially desirable premium.

To any one paying up or renewing their subscription and sending $2.25 we will send this album as apremium

NEW BOOKS
FOR THE
Sunday-School Library.

We desire to call attention to the following list of new library books recently issued from our press. They are all handsomely bound in cloth, and should have a place in every Sunday-school library. To those taking the entire list at one time we will make a special discount of 40 per cent. Discount of 33⅓ per cent on any of our own books.

By Mrs. M. E. Ireland:
The Siberian Exile. 122 pages, ... $ 60
The Shepherd's Family. Translated from the German. 172 pages..... 60
Adolph's Victories. 314 pages,..... 1 00
Christian Beck's Grandson. 232 pages, 1 00
In Fair Silesia. Translated from the German. 156 pages,..... 60
School on Lunneburg Heath. Translated from the German. 148 pages, 60
Driven Out. Translated from the German. 156 pages,..... 1 00

By Miss Annie M. Barnes:
Ninito: A Story of the Bible in Mexico. 214 pages,..... 90
How Achoh-ho-ah Found the Light. 366 pages,..... 1 25
Izilda: A Story of Brazil 195 pages, 1 00

By Elizabeth Olmis (author of Jack's Hymn):
Over at Little Acorns. 384 pages..... 1 25

By Fannie Alricks Shugert:
Ezekiel of Bethlehem. 281 pages,..... 1 00

By Rev. H. C. DuBose, D. D.:
Memoirs of John Leighton Wilson, Missionary to Africa, and Secretary of Foreign Missions. 336 pages,..... 1 50

By Mrs. E. H. Amis:
Camping on the Blue Ridge. 106 pages,..... 60

By Rev. J. M. Chaney, D. D.:
William the Baptist. Cloth, 60 cts.; paper,..... 35
Agnes, Daughter of William the Baptist,..... 75

By Mrs. Mary M. Anderson Hawkins:
Jack Payton and his Friends,..... 75

On miscellaneous Sabbath-school books selected from the lists of other publishers we will give a discount of 30 per cent. And we call attention to our Select Catalogue of miscellaneous books, in which will be found titles and description of more than nine hundred books, all of which have been carefully examined by competent persons, and none will be found in the list not suitable in every respect for our Sabbath-school libraries.

We will make careful selection of libraries if desired from our stock, or will send to any order one-fourth more books than may be needed, with the privilege of returning any that are not wanted.

Also, Sabbath-school Supplies, Class-Books, Records, etc., on the best terms.

If sent by mail, postage will be additional. Express to be paid by purchaser. Address

Presbyterian Committee of Publication,
JAS. K. HAZEN, Sec'y and Treas.,
Richmond, Va.

W., N. & N. RAILWAY.

In Effect Sunday, Oct, 27, 1895.

DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY.

NORTH BOUND.		STATIONS.	SOUTH BOUND.
	8		7
P. M.		— WILMINGTON —	P. M.
2	00	Lv Mulberry St. Ar	12	40
3	58	Lv Jacksonville Lv	10	42
4	30	Lv..Maysville..Lv	10	00
4	44	Lv Pollocksville Lv	9	55
5	20	Ar..Newbern..Lv	9	20
P. M.			A. M.

Trains 8 and 7 p m make connection with trains on A & N C R R for Morehead City and Beaufort.

Connection with Steamer Neuse at Newbern to and from Elizabeth City and Norfolk Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Steamer Geo D Purdy makes daily trips between Jacksonville and New River points.

H. A. WHITING,
General Manager.
J. W. MARTENIS,
Traffic Manager.

CHILDREN'S COLUMN.

VACATION TIME.

The grammars and the spellers,
The pencils and the slates,
The books that hold the fractions
And the books that tell the dates,
The crayons and the blackboards,
And the maps upon the wall,
Must all be glad together,
For they won't be used till fall,

They've had to work like beavers
To help the children learn;
And if they want a little rest,
It surely is their turn.
They shut their leaves with pleasure,
The dear old lesson books,
And the crayons and the blackboards
Put on delighted looks.

So, children, just remember,
When you are gone away,
Your poor old slates and pencils
Are keeping holiday.
The grammars and the spellers
Are as proud as proud can be
When the boys forsake the schoolroom,
And the teacher turns the key.

—Harper's Young People.

HOW MRS. McLAUGHLIN WAS MADE HAPPY.

A TRUE STORY.

"I saw the happiest person in the whole city to-day," said Miss Nelly.

"Where?" asked all the girls.

"Out at the almshouse hospital."

Then all the girls laughed with Miss Nelly at the idea of finding this happiest person in all the city of Washington out at the almshouse, and in the hospital at that.

For nine years, in one corner of the white women's ward of the almshouse hospital in the District of Columbia, there has lived a little woman of fifty or thereabouts. All her friends and relatives that she had known when she was younger had died, and she was left alone, without a home. Then she was taken sick with a disease that made her lame and helpless, and so she came to live at the almshouse hospital.

She must have been a very pretty woman when she was young, for she is still "good-looking." Her hair is getting gray, and her brown eyes are growing a little dim, but her face has never lost its cheerfulness, nor her heart its tenderness.

"I'm a great deal better off than lots of other people," she often says.

One day she confided to a friend who visited her a plan that she had long had in her heart. In the back of the little Bible she reads so often was a little picture. It was an advertisement cut from a newspaper, and was the picture of a man in a rolling chair.

"You see," she said to her friend, "some of my people give me a little money once in a while.

"I am saving every cent I can to buy me one of those chairs. If I had a chair like that I could get around myself, and go out of doors sometimes.

The friend to whom she told this plan is the director of the intermediate department in one of the city Sunday-schools. The next Sunday she told her boys and girls about it.

"What would you think of trying to save enough money ourselves to buy that chair?" she asked.

"Let's do it!" "Let's do it!" "We can do it!" came from every one present; for boys and girls love to do just such things.

So it was all planned right there. The boys said the girls could do without chewing-gum and pickles, and the girls replied that the boys could save on snowballs and candy; for it was to be a real self-sacrifice gift.

The secretary of the department gave them each a strong envelope on which was written "For the Chair." Into this their gifts were to be put.

At the end of the summer vacation the envelopes were all opened, and the contents counted. It amounted to eleven dollars and four cents.

A committe visited a kind-hearted dealer, who consented to sell them a beautiful invalid's rolling chair for that amount.

The day after Thanksgiving a party of the boys and girls, and some of the teachers went out to the almshouse hospital to present the chair.

An old man wheeled the chair to the door, then the boys and girls stood ready to roll it in at a signal from the director, who had gone inside to break the good news to Mrs. M——.

"Oh, you are just fooling me!" she cried, when her friend whispered in her ear that some friends had brought her the chair she had dreamed about so long.

Then the director opened the door, and in came the chair and the smiling children. They rolled it up beside the invalid, and all hands began helping her into it. Everybody was laughing except Mrs. M——; she was crying tears of joy and excitement.

If she had been a rich, beautiful queen, seated in a throne chair of solid gold, she could not have been happier or prouder.

"I can't believe it's true," was all she could say. "Can I really roll it around?" she asked, as happy as a child. "Oh! I can go out of doors, now. I haven't been out of doors for years. I wanted to go out under the trees so much this summer. Now I can go, and I can go see my friends, and go to church too," she said, wiping away the tears with her apron. "If I'd known you were coming, I'd 'a put on my other dress," she apologized, smoothing down her poor clothes.

Then she told about a great piece of misfortune that had befallen her a day or two before.

She kept her little savings in a small pocket-book, and a few days before, after having had her money out counting it over, she either misplaced it, or some one took it from her, as she had not been able to find it since.

"But I didn't accuse any one," she said. "I just thought I would try and bear it patiently, and God would make it all right; and He has—don't you see?" and she added, with a happy smile, "God is so good to me."

When the little party left, she was rolling away toward the sunny windows, where she had never been before, and following beside her were two or three poor old women, rejoicing in her happiness; for there was not one in that ward who had not been cheered by her kindness and encouraged by her patience.—Belle Sparr Luckett, in Sunday School Times.

HONOR ROLL.

Shorter Catechism—Pearl Allison, Clyde Allison Stevenson, Hazel Allison Stevenson, Statesville, N. C. Hazel, who is only nine years of age, learned the Catechism perfectly in just two months and one week. These are the grandchildren of the late Col. Thomas A. Allison, for sixty years a member and for forty years a elder of Fourth Creek church of Statesville.

LETTER-BOX.

Dear Mr. McLaurin: I am a little girl just four years old. I love to hear mama read the letters so much. I can spell, and hope soon to be able to read them myself. My grandpa and grandma, who have been with us, have gone to visit my Aunt in Salem, N. C., and I miss them so much. I have a little calf just three weeks old, it is so pretty I wish you could see it. My little brother is sick and I am so sorry.

Your little friend,
FANNIE BELLE SPATIG.
Lawrenceville, Va.

Dear Mr. Editor: So many little folks are writing to your paper I will venture a few lines too. My father is Rev. A. M. Hassell, and preaches at Bluff, Bethlehem, McMillan's and Dunn. I have four brothers and one sister. Our teacher is Miss Lou Young from Johnson county, she boards with us and teaches my sister Kate and I music. We are all very fond of our teacher. The school will be out in two weeks after this. Father and bubber have a store and have ten acres of corn. Our Sunday-school room is right near the manse and our superintendent is Mr. Walter Smith. I will be nine years old in August.

Your little friend,
LUCILLE HASSELL.

HOME.

A prize which was offered by a London paper for the best definition of a home, brought about five thousand answers. Some of the best were the following:

A world of strife shut out, a world of love shut in. Home is the blossom of which heaven is the fruit.

The only spot on earth where the faults and failings of fallen humanity are hidden under the mantle of charity.

The father's kingdom, the children's paradise, the mother's world.

Where you are treated best and grumble most.

A little hollow scooped out of the windy hill of the world, where we can be shielded from its cares and annoyances.

CONSUMPTION

TO THE EDITOR: I have an absolute Cure for CONSUMPTION and all Bronchial, Throat and Lung Troubles, and all conditions of Wasting Away. By its timely use thousands of apparently hopeless cases have been permanently cured.

So proof-positive am I of its power to cure, I will send FREE to anyone afflicted, THREE BOTTLES of my Newly Discovered Remedies, upon receipt of Express and Postoffice address.

Always sincerely yours,
T. A. SLOCUM, M.C., 183 Pearl St., New York.
When writing the Doctor, please mention this paper.

UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

HAMPDEN-SIDNEY, VA.

FACULTY.

The Rev. Walter W. Moore, D.D. LL.D. McCormick Professor of the Hebrew Language and Literatre.
The Rev. Charles C. Hersman, D.D., LL. D., Henry Young Professor of Biblical Literature and Interpretation of the New Testament.
The Rev. Thos. Cary Johnson, D. D., Professor of Ecclesiastical History and Polity.
The Rev. Thos. R. English, D. D., Stuart Robinson Professor of the English Bible and Pastoral Theology.
The Rev. Givens B. Strickler, D. D., LL.D., Professor of Systematic Theology.
Walter L. Lingle, A. M., Tutor in Hebrew and Greek.

THE NEXT SESSION BEGINS WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 2D, 1897.

For catalogue or other information as to course of study, apply to Dr. English Clerk of Faculty, Hampden-Sidney, Va.

For information as to rooms, &c., apply to W. L. Lingle, Intendant, Hampden-Sidney, Va.

Organized 1832. Assets, $650,000

Tested for Sixty Years.

Virginia Fire and Marine

Insurance Company, of Richmond.

This old Virginia institution issues a short and comprehensive Policy, free of petty restriction and liberal in its terms and conditions.

INSURES AGAINST FIRE and LIGHTNING

All descriptions of Property, in Country and Town—private or public—insured at fair rates, on accommodating terms.

AGENCIES IN EVERY TOWN AND COUNTY.

WM. H. PALMER, President.
W. H. McCARTHY, Secretary.
S. McG. FISHER, Ass't Sec'y.

How a Woman Paid Her Debts.

A lady in Lexington says: "I am out of debt; and thanks to the Dishwasher business. In the past six weeks I have made $580.00. Every housekeeper wants a Dishwasher, and any intelligent person can sell them with big profit to himself. The Dishwasher is lovely, you can wash and dry the family dishes in two minutes, and without wetting your hands. You can get particulars by addressing The Mound City Dishwasher Co., St. Louis, Mo. There is big money in the business for an agent. I expect to clear $4,000 the coming year. I need the money, why not make it?

MISS. C. E.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

PARIS MOUNTAIN BIBLE SCHOOL.

A small company of Christian workers met on Paris Mountain last summer and spent several days in earnest, prayerful study of God's Word. Feeling at its close that it had been a season of such spiritual benefit to themselves and believing that there is a growing desire in the hearts of Christian workers for a deeper spiritual life and a clearer insight into the truths of God's Word, they determined to make it permanent by organizing the Paris Mountain Bible School.

They purpose to meet annually and invite their brethren of all Christian denominations to meet with them for alike study of the Word and closer fellowship and communion with each other and their common Lord and Master, Jesus Christ.

The study and instruction will be along the line of the Northfield and other Bible schools as set forth in the type of the Keswick teaching, which is as follows·

1st. The definite and immediate abandonment of every known sin or hindrance to holy living.

2nd. The abandonment and renunciation by faith of the self-life or the life that centers in self-indulgence and self-dependence.

3rd. The immediate surrender of the will in loving and complete obedience to the will of God—separation in order to consecration.

4th. The infilling of the Holy Spirit or the claiming of the believer's show in the Spirit's pentacostal gift of power for service.

5th. The revelation of Christ as an indwelling presence in the believer's soul, and daily life and as his actual Master and Lord.

6th. The privileges and victories implied in this higher and deeper life, such as: the rest life of faith, power over sin, passion for souls, conscious fellowship with God, growing possessions of promises, and prevailing prayer and intercession."

The meeting to be held this summer will begin July 13th, 8 p. m., and close July 23d. There will be a mess hall and dormitory arrangement where the brethren can have board in rustic style at the bare cost of provisions which will not exceed forty cents a day.

We cordially invite all brethren of every evangelical denomination engaged in or preparing for Christian work to meet with us.

Paris Mountain is eight miles from the city of Greenville, S. C., and of easy access. Hacks will leave Greenville every afternoon and carry passengers at reasonable rates.

Come at the opening and stay till the close. If you can come please write us if convenient.

N. J. HOMES, President,
W. L. WALKER, Secretary.

[We publish the above but know nothing personally of thematter and are in nowise responsible for it. Ed. N. C. P.]

Receipts for Assembly's Home Missions for the two months of April and May, were in 1896, $1,573.63; in 1897, $1,878 24. Gain in '97 $304.61. The treasury needs about $2,000 to enable it to pay the salaries of about 100 missionaries and teachers, which will be due June 30th.

The University.

Forty-seven Teachers, 413 students, (Summer School 158). Total 549. Board $8 a month, three Brief Courses, three Full Courses, Law and Medical Schools and School of Pharmacy. Graduate Courses open to Women, Summer School for Teachers, Scholarships and Loans for the Needy.

Address,
PRESIDENT ALDERMAN,
Chapel Hill, N. C.

SCHEDULE ON WILMINGTON SEACOAST, R. R.

On and after June 1st trains will run as follows: Daily Except Sunday.

Leave Wilmington at 6.30 a. m., 10.10 a. m, 2.30 p. m., 5.10 p. m., 7.15 p. m.
Leave Ocean View 7.30 a. m., 11.30 a. m., 4·00 p. m., 6.15 p. m., 10.00 p. m.

Ice and Marketing on 6 30 a. m., train. Freight will be received until 9.40 a. m., for 10.10 train; until 4.30 p. m., for 5.10 train.

R. OSCAR GRANT,
Superintendent.

SEABOARD AIR LINE S.A.L.

VESTIBULED LIMITED TRAINS· DOUBLE DAILY SERVICE

TO

ATLANTA, CHARLOTTE,
ATHENS, WILMINGTON,
NEW ORLEANS,
CHATTANOOGA,
AND
NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA
WASHINGTON, NORFOLK,
RICHMOND.

Schedule in Effect May 30th, 1897.

WESTWARD.

	No. 41	No. 403
Lv Wilmington	†3 20pm	.....
Lv Lumberton	5 26pm	.....
Lv Maxton	6 12pm	.....
Lv Laurinburg	6 23pm	.....
Ar Hamlet	6 53pm	.....
Lv Hamlet	7 13pm	*5 10 am
Lv Rockingham	7 30pm	5 23 am
Lv Wadesboro	8 11pm	5 54 am
Lv Marshville	8 48pm	6 25 am
Ar Monroe	9 12pm	6 43 am
Lv Monroe	9 35pm	7 00 am
Ar Charlotte	10 25pm	7 50 am
Ar Mt. Holly	.....	9 20 am
Ar Lincolnton	.....	10 20 am
Ar Shelby	.....	11 18a m
Ar Ellenboro	.....	11 55p m
ArRutherfordton	.....	12 30p m

†8 40am Lv....Hamlet...Ar 6 20p m
10 00am Ar....Cheraw..Ar † 5 00p m

EASTWARD.

	No. 38.	No. 402
LvRutherfordton	.....	*4 35p m
Lv Ellenboro	.....	5 15p m
Lv Shelby	.....	6 03p m
Lv Lincolnton	.....	7 00p m
Lv Mt Holly	.....	7 50p m
Lv Charlotte	*5 10am	8 25p m
Ar Monroe	5 55am	9 10p m
Lv Monroe	6 05am	9 40p m
Lv Marshville	6 25am	.....
Lv Wadesboro	7 01am	10 31 pm
Lv Rockingham	7 41am	11 05p m
Ar Hamlet	7 55am	11 23p m
Lv Hamlet	8 20am	.....
Lv Laurinburg	8 46am	.....
Lv Maxton	9 05am	.....
Lv Lumberton	9 53am	.....
Ar Wilming on	12 05pm	.....

NORTHWARD.

Lv Hamlet	*8 15am	*11 20pm
Ar Raleigh	11 30am	2 16pm
Ar Portsmouth	5 50pm	7 25am
Ar Richmond	*6 50pm	* 8 15am
Ar Washington	11 10pm	12 31pm
Ar New York	6 53am	6 23pm

SOUTHWARD.

Lv Monroe	*6 48am	*9 25p m
Ar Abbeville	11 05am	1 40a m
Ar Athens	1 15pm	3 45a m
Ar Atlanta (Central Time)	2 50pm	5 20a m

*Daily. †Daily, except Sunday.

Both trains make immediate connections at Atlanta for Montgomery, Mobile, New Orleans, Texas, California, Mexico, Chattanooga, Nashville, Memphis, Macon, Florida.

For Tickets, Sleepers, etc., apply to

B. A. NEWLAND,
Gen. Agt. P. Dept.
6 Kimball House, Atlanta, Ga,

THOS. D. MEARES,
Gen'l. Agent, Wilmington, N. C.

E. ST. JOHN, Vice-President and General Manager.

H. W. B. GLOVER, Traffic Manager.
V. E. McBEE, Gen'l. Supt.
T. J ANDERSON, Gen'l. Pass. Agt.
General Offices, Portsmouth, Va.

Shopping.

Shopping done in Philadelphia by a lady of experience and taste. No extra charge. Best references. Send for circular.

MISS M. ANDERSON,
333 Pine St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

We really think our

C. F. &Y. V. Railway Co.

JOHN GILL, Receiver.

CONDENSED SCHEDULE.

IN EFFECT May 30th, 1897.

NORTH BOUND.	No. 2. Daily
Leave Wilmington	12.15p.m
Arrive Fayetteville	3.35 "
Leave Fayetteville	3.45 "
Leave Fayetteville Junction	3.47 "
ArriveSanford	5.02 "
Leave Sanford	5.05 "
Leave Climax	6.54 "
Arrive Greensboro	7.25 "
Leave Greensboro	7.45 "
Leave Stokesdale	8.32 "
Leave WalnutCove	9.03 "
Leave Rural Hall	9.30 "
Arrive Mt. Airy	11.00 "

SOUTH BOUND.	No. 1. Daily
Leave Mt. Airy	5.25a m
Leave Rural Hall	6.50 "
Leave Walnut Cove	7·19 "
Leave Stokesdale	7.52 "
Arrive Greensboro	8.40 "
Leave Greensboro	9.00 "
Leave Climax	9.29 "
Leave Sanford	11.20 "
Arrive Fayetteville Junction	12.42p.m.
†Arrive Fayetteville	12.45 "
Leave Fayetteville	1.15 "
Arrive Wilmington	4.30 "

NORTH BOUND.	No. 4. Daily
Leave Bennettsville	7.45 a.m
ArriveMaxton	9.00 "
LeaveMaxton	9.07 "
Leave Red Springs	9.37 "
Leave Hope Mills	10.26 "
Arrive Fayetteville	10.50 "

SOUTH BOUND	No. 3. Daily
Leave Fayetteville	4.45p m.
Leave Hope Mills	5.02 "
Leave Red Springs	5.42 "
ArriveMaxton	6 11 "
Leave Maxton	6.15 "
ArriveBennettsville	7.20 "

NORTH BOUND.	No. 16. Mixed. Daily ex Sunday.
Leave Ramseur	7.40 a.m
Leave Climax	9.33 "
Arrive Greensboro	10.20 "
Leave Greensboro	10.55 "
Leave Stokesdale	12.20 p.m.
Arrive Madison	1.10 "

SOUTH BOUND.	No. 15 Mixed. Daily ex Sunday
Leave Madison	2.10 p.m
Leave Stokesdale	3.05 "
Arrive Greensboro	4.30 "
Leave Greensboro	5.45 "
Leave Climax	6.57 "
Arrive Ramseur	8.35 "

†Meals.

CONNECTIONS,

at Fayetteville with the Atlantic Coast Line, at Maxton with Carolina Central Railroad, at Sanford, with Seaboard Air Line, at Greensboro with Southern Railway; at Walnut Cove with Norfolk & Western Railway.

W. E. KYLE,
Gen'l Passenger Agent.

J.W. FRY,
Gen'l Manager

THE UNIVERSITY CATALOGUE.

Forty seven professors and Instructors—549 students. The University catalogue for 1897 shows marked growth in every department of the institution.

One hundred and ten courses in fourteen departments are offered. The College has 307 students; the Medical School 34; the Summer School 158, making a total less duplicates of 549, taught by forty-seven professors and instructors. This is the largest attendance since 1861. Women are admitted to all graduate courses. The department of Pharmacy will be ready for work in September for next session. Free tuition is offered to teachers and candidates for the ministry. Seventy-six endowed scholarships are given to needy boys of talent and character. For catalogue write to President Alderman, Chapel Hill, N. C.

The University is steadily growing in popularity, patronage and efficiency The enrollment this year is the largest in its history. We would like to aid some needy boy to get its advantages of scholarship and loans. See ad in another column.

WHO'S SHELLABERGER?

He's the Wire Fence Man, of Atlanta, Ga., and sells the best and cheapest fencing in existence for all purposes. Catalogue free. Write for it.

WILMINGTON MARKET.

FOR

WEEK ENDING JUNE 9, 1897.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE: Steady throughout at 25½ cents for machine barrels and 24½ cents for country casks.

ROSIN: On Thursday last $1.20 for Strained and $1.25 for Good Strained; since $1.25 and $1.30 respectively.

CRUDE TURPENTINE: Hard $1.30, Yellow Dip $1.80 and Virgin $1.90—firm throughout.

TAR: Quiet throughout at $1.00 per barrel.

TIMBER: Hear of no change.

STAR BINDER

is a most desirable article to have in any household where the PRESBYTERIAN is taken. It holds the successive issues together in most convenient form, costs no labor and requires no special pains in its adjustment. What a fine Synodical Album a year's gathering would thus constitute!

Sent to any address for forty cents.

ATLANTIC COAST LINE.

Schedule in Effect May 27th 1897.

DEPARTURES FROM WILMINGTON — NORTHBOUND.

DAILY 9:00 A M — No. 48—Passenger—Due Magnolia 10 40 a m, Warsaw 10 55 a m, Goldsboro 11 56 a m, Wilson 12 46 pm, Rocky Mount 1 20 p m, Tarboro 2 50 p m, Weldon 3 30 p m, Petersburg 5 54 p m, Richmond 6 50 p m, Norfolk 6 05 p m, Washington 11 10 p m, Baltimore 12 53 a m, Philadelphia 3 45 a m, New York 6 53 a m, †Boston 3 00 pm.

DAILY 7:15 P M — No. 40—Passenger—Due Magnolia 8 55 p m, Warsaw 9 10 p m, Goldsboro 10 10 p m, Wilson 11 06 p m, †Tarboro 6 45 a m, Rocky Mount 11 57 p m, Weldon 1 44 a m, †Norfolk 10 30 a m, Petersburg 3 24 a m, Richmond 4 20 a m, Washington 7 41 a m, Baltimore 9 05 a m, Philadelphia 11 25 m New York 2 03 p m, Boston 8 30 p m.

SOUTHBOUND.

DAILY 3:40 P M — No. 55—Passenger—Due Lake Waccamaw 4 55 p m, Chadbourn 5 29 p m, Marion 6 40 p m, Florence 7 25 p m, Sumter 8 42 p m, Columbia 10 05 p m, Denmark 6 20 a m, Augusta 8 10 a m, Macon 11 00 a m, Atlanta 12 15 p m, Charleston 10 20 p m, Savannah 12 50 am, Jacksonville 7 30 a m, St Augustine 10 30 a m, Tampa 5 45 p m.

ARRIVALS AT WILMINGTON—FROM THE NORTH.

DAILY 5:45 P M — No. 49—Passenger—Leave Boston †1 03 p m, New York 9 00 p m, Philadelphia 12 05 a m, Baltimore 2 50 a m, Washington 4 30 a m, Richmond 9 05 a m, Petersburg 10 (a m,) Norfolk 8 40 a m, Weldon 11 50 a m, Tarboro 12 12 p m, Rocky Mount 12 45p m, Wilson 2 12 p m, Goldsboro 3 10 p m, Warsaw 4 02 p m, Magnolia 4 16 p m.

DAILY 9:40 AM — No. 41—Passenger—Leave Boston 12 00 night, New York 9 30 a m, Philadelphia 12 09 p m Baltimore 2 25 p m, Washington 3 46 p m, Richmond 7 50 p m, Petersburg 8 12 p m, †Norfolk 2 20 p m, Weldon 9 43 p m, †Tarboro 6 01 p m, Rocky Mount 5 45 a m, leave Wilson 6 20 a m, Goldsboro 7 03 am, Warsaw 7 54 a m, Magnolia 8 07 a m.

FROM THE SOUTH.

DAILY 12:15 P M — No. 54—Passenger—Leave Tampa 9 25 a m, Sanford 2 19 p m, Jacksonville 7 00 p m, Savannah 12 45 night, Charleston 5 30 am Columbia 5 50 a m, Atlanta 8 20 a m, Macon 9 30 a m, Augusta 3 05 p m, Denmark 4,55 pm, Sumter 6 45 a m, Florence 8 55 a m, Marion 9 34 a m, Chadbourn 10 35 a m, Lake Waccamaw 11 06 a m.

†Daily except Sunday

Trains on the Scotland Neck Branch road leave Weldon 4 10 p m, Hailfax 4 28 p m, arrive Scotland Neck at 5 20, Greenville 6 57 p m, Kinston 7 55 p m. Returning leaves Kinston 7 50 a m, Greenville 8 52 a m, arriving Hailfax at 11 18 a m, Weldon 11 33 a m. daily except Sunday.

Trains on Washington Branch leave Washington 8 20 a m, and 1 p m, arrive Parmele 9 10 a m and 2 40 p m, returning leave Parmele 9 35 a m and 6 30 p m, arrive Washington 11 00 a m, and 7 20 p m. Daily except Sunday

Train leaves Tarboro, N C, daily except Sunday, 5 30 p m, Sunday 4 05 pm, arrives Plymouth 7 40 p m and 6 00 p m. Returning leaves Plymouth daily except Sunday 7 50 a m and Sunday 9 00 a m arrives Tarboro 10 05 a m and 11 a m.

Trains on Conway Branch leave Hub 8 30 a. m., Chadbourn 10 40 a. m., arrive Conway 1 00 p. m. leave Conway 3 45 p. m., Chadbourn 5 40 p. m., arrive Hub 6 20 p. m. Daily except Sunday.

Train on Midland N C Branch leaves Goldsboro daily, except Sunday, 7 10 a m, arriving Smithfield 8 30 a m, Returning leaves Smithfield 9 00 a m. arrive at Goldsboro 10 25 a m.

Train on Nashville Branch leaves Rocky Mount at 4 30 p m, arrives Nashville 5 05 p m, Spring Hope 5 30 p m. Returning leaves Spring Hope 8 00 a m, Nashville 8 35 a m, arrives at Rocky Mount 9 05 a m, daily except Sunday.

Train on Clinton Branch leaves Warsaw for Clinton daily, except Sunday, 8 20 a m., and 4 10 p.m. Returning leaves Clinton at 7 00 a m, and 11 30 pm

Wilson and Fayetteville Branch leave Wilson 2 06 p m, 11 16 p m, arrive Selma 3 00 p m, Smithfield 3,08 p m, Dunn 3 50 p m. Fayetteville 4 40 p m, 1 14 a m, Rowland 6 10 p m. Returning leave Rowland 10 00 a m, Fayetteville 11 20 a m, 10 20 p m, Dunn 12 07 p m, Smithfield 12 48 p m, Selma 1 00 p m, arrive Wilson 1 42 p m, 12 10 a m.

H. M. EMERSON,
Ass't. Gen'l Passenger Agent.

J. R. KENLY, Gen'l Manager.
T. M. EMERSON Traffic Manager.

B. F. HALL, OSCAR PEARSALL

HALL & PEARSALL

Cor. NUTT and MULBERRY STS.

WILMINGTON. -- N. C.

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

—AND—

—WHOLESALE DEALERS IN—

HEAVY GROCERIES

WE ALWAYS CARRY A LARGE AND WELL SELECTED STOCK OF

Flour, Sugar, Coffee, Molasses, Salt Fish,

Hay Corn Oats Tobacco, Snuff, Cigars, Hoop-Iron, Nails, Glue,

Cotton Bagging and Ties.

☞ We solicit the patronage of the public. and guarantee to give satisfaction. Correspondence invited.

☞ Consignments of Naval Stores, Cotton and all Country Produce will receive careful attention.

HALL & PEARSALL
WILMINGTON, N. C

ORGANIZED 1856.

GEORGIA HOME INSURANCE COMPANY.

COLUMBUS, Ga.

J. RHODES BROWN, President.

Wm. C. COART, Secretary.

A HOME COMPANY,

Seeking Home Patronage.

Strong! Prompt! Reliable! Liberal!

Agents at all Cities, Towns and Villages in the Southern States.

W. W. HODGES, Agent,
Wilmington N. C.

E.NYE HUTCHISON, Agent,
Charlotte N. C

$4 PER DAY SURE SALARY OR COMMISSION. DO you want honorable, steady employment the year round, at good wages, at your own home or to travel? If so, send 4c in stamps for our wholesale price-list and particulars. We furnish best of bank references.

AMERICAN TEA CO., Detroit, Michigan.

PATENTS

Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained and all Patent business conducted for MODERATE FEES. OUR OFFICE IS OPPOSITE U. S. PATENT OFFICE and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.

Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured.

A PAMPHLET, "How to Obtain Patents," with cost of same in the U. S. and foreign countries sent free. Address,

C.A.SNOW & CO.
OPP. PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

We Want You

to subscribe for the Presbyterian Quarterly. It is the one magazine all Presbyterians should read. Its articles are written by eminent Presbyterians—both clergymen and laymen—to Presbyterians. It is edited under the auspices of an association of ministers of the Presbyterian Church.

Every article in it is vitally interesting—it is orthodox—is progressive—stimulates study and investigation.

The Presbyterian Quarterly has always been $3.00 a year and has always been worth it. It is now $1.00 a year but is still worth $3.00. We have lowered its price because we want to put it in every Presbyterian's hands, but there has been no change in either the number of pages or the appearance of the magazine. Send for a sample copy.

Whittet & Shepperson,
Box 236. Richmond, Va.

THINGS USEFUL.

Asparagus.—Wash a bunch of asparagus, put it into a saucepan, cover with boiling water, add a little salt, and let boil until tender; take up, brain, arrange on slices of buttered toast, pour over melted butter and serve hot.

Pineapple Water Ice.—To one grated yellow pineapple, add one full pint of loaf sugar. Allow it to stand one hour, and then pass all the juice possible out through a fine strainer. Stir well into this juice of two lemons and one quart of water. It is then ready for the freezer.

Simlin Fritters.—Pare and slice two or three well-grown simlins, put into a saucepan, with very little water, let boil until tender; drain and mash. Make a pint of egg batter, add to the simlins; season with salt and pepper; drop in spoonfuls in boiling fat, and fry brown; take up, drain on brown paper, and serve hot.

Strawberry Tapioca.—Put one cupful of fine tapioca and one quart of water in a double boiler and cook until clear. Rub one pint of strawberies through a fine sieve and add with one cupful of sugar to the tapioca, cooking until smooth and thick. Let stand until nearly cold, then pour over one quart of hulled berries. Serve with cream flavored with strawberry juice.

Wire Railing and Ornamental Wire Works.

DUFUR & CO.,

311 North Howard St., Baltimore, Md. Manufacture Wire Railing for Cemeteries, Balconies, &c., Sieves, Fender Cages, Sand and Coal Screens, Woven Wire, &.

Also Iron Bedteads Chairs, Settees &c.

RED SPRINGS SEMINARY

FOR YOUNG LADIES,

Established by Fayetteville Presbytery.

New Buildings, well equipped and adapted to all departments of College work. Complete and liberal course. Fully abreast of the leading Southern Colleges for Women.

Full and Efficient Faculty.

Charges very moderate ($108.00 per year for full College course and Board). Session opens September 30, 1896. For further information write to

REV. C. G. VARDELL,
Red Springs, N. C.

SCHEDULE ON WILMINGTON SEACOAST, R. R.

On and after May 5th, 1897, every day except Sunday trains leave Wilmington 10.10 a. m., 2.30 p. m., 6 30 p. m. Leave Ocean View 7.30 a. m., 11.30 a. m., 5 p. m.

R. O. GRANT, Supt.

Presbyterian High School
—OF—
NORTH CAROLINA.

J. M. OLDHAM, Principal.

Full corps of instructors, all college-bred men representing the leading institutions of North Carolina, Virginia and South Carolina. A non-military school located in the country in middle North Carolina, with excellent climate.

Instruction Thorough,
Discipline Mild Yet Firm,
Physical Development Looked After
Rates Reasonable.

Endorsed by Synod of North Carolina. For catalogues address,

J. M. OLDHAM, Principal,
Mebane, N.C.

DAVIDSON COLLEGE,

DAVIDSON, N. C

The Sixtieth Year Begins September 10th, 1896.

FACULTY

Rev. J. B. Shearer, D. D., LL.D., President, and Professor of Biblical Instruction and Moral Philosophy.
Henry Louis Smith, Ph. D., Vice-President, and Prof. of Natural Philosophy.
W. D. Vinson, M. A., LL.D., Prof. of Mathematics
C. R. Harding, Ph.D., Professor of Greek and German.
W. R. Grey, Ph.D. Professor of Latin and French.
Thos. P. Harrison, Ph.D., Professor of English.
W. J. Martin, Jr., M. D., Ph.D., Prof. of Chemistry.
F. F. Rowe, A. B., Instructor.

GYMNASIUM DIRECTOR.

VOCAL MUSIC.

CLASSICAL,
MATHEMATICAL,
SCIENTIFIC,
LITERARY,
BIBLICAL.
COMMERCIAL.

SEND FOR A CATALOGUE.

Terms Reasonable.
Location Healthful,
Accommodations Excellent,
Teaching Unsurpassed,
Gymnasium Complete.

Address THE PRESIDENT.

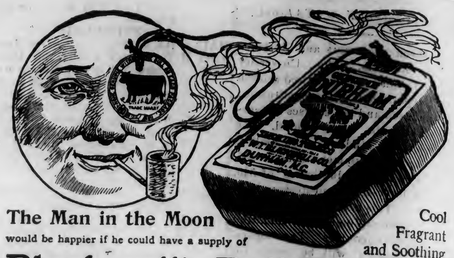
DO NOT FORGET.

THAT OUR BRAND OF FLOUR

THE LADIES' FAVORITE

Is the best Flour on the market. Double Patent, and produces more bread than any other.

In addition to our Ladies' Favorite Flour we have taken the Agency for Pillsbury's Best Spring Wheat in barrels and half barrel sacks.



We offer North Carolina Canned Peaches, North Carolina Canned Tomatoes, guaranteed fully equal to any brand. North Carolina Manufactured Tobacco, North Carolina Bacon, California Peaches, California Apricots, both canned and dried, as well as a select stock of groceries of every description.

Orders solicited.

R. W. HICKS,

WHOLESALE ONLY,

Wilmington, N. C.

The Man in the Moon would be happier if he could have a supply of Cool Fragrant and Soothing

Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco

For over twenty-five years the standard smoking tobacco of the world.

To-day More Popular than Ever.

To have a good smoke anytime and everytime it is only necessary to get Bull Durham. It is all good and always good.

BLACKWELL'S DURHAM TOBACCO CO.,
DURHAM, N. C.

H. A. TUCKER. R. D TUCKER.

TUCKER'S

GRANITE AND MARBLE WORKS

DEALERS IN ALL KINDS OF

Granite and Marble Monuments

CONTRACTORS FOR BUILDING STONE

H. A. TUCKER & BRO.,
No. 310 Front St.,
Wilmington, N C.

As Successors to
D. A. GRANTHAM,

The Messrs. TUCKER & BRO., have a fully equipped branch yard at Goldsboro and as in Wilmington, are there prepared to do any kind of first-class work.

WORTH & WORTH,

—OFFER FOR SALE—

BEST QUALITY, FULL WEIGHT

FLOUR, BACON, SUGAR, LARD
MOLASSES, MEAL, SALT,
LIME, CEMENT,

Plaster, Hay, Corn, Hoop Iron, Oats Rivets Glue.

BUNGS, CANNED GOODS,

At Low Prices.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

POULTRY AND GARDEN FENCE

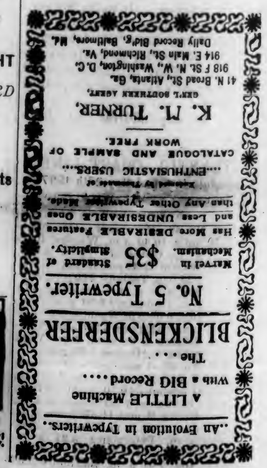
And make a special Horse, Cattle and Hog Fence; Yard, Cemetery, and Grave Lot Fencing a Specialty. We Pay the Freight. Catalogue Free.

K. K. SHELLABERGER, ATLANTA, GA.

M. H. JONES,

DURHAM, N. C.,

Keeps on hand a fine assortment of



STERLING SILVER WARE,

JEWELRY, DIAMONDS,

WATCHES, CLOCKS

and everything found in a first-class jewelry store.

Repairing of all kinds, especially such as is usually sent North, done promptly and in best style; reputation established for this class of work.

North Carolina Presbyterian.

New Series—VOL. XXIX—No. 1,536. WILMINGTON, N C., THURSDAY, JUNE 17, 1897. Old Series. Vol. XXXIX—No. 2,696

THE OFFICE OF THE PRESBYTERIAN IS IN THE ALLEN BUILDING ON PRINCESS STREET—ROOM No. 6, ON SECOND FLOOR.

Subscription price $2.00 a year.
Ministers $1.00.
Missionaries $1.50, including postage.
New Subscribers $1.50 for first year.

Checks or orders in payment of subscription may be made payable either to John McLaurin, or to North Carolina Presbyterian. Please send forward promptly.

(For Contents see Second Page)

NIGHT.

How beautiful is night!
A dewy freshness fills the silent air.
No mist obscures, nor cloud nor speck nor stain
Breaks the serene of heaven.
In full orbed glory yonder moon divine
Rolls through the dark blue depths.
Beneath her steady ray
The desert circle spreads,
Like the round ocean, girdled with the sky.
How beautiful is night.

—Southey.

REV. ALFRED SHORTER CALDWELL.

This gentleman, through the Craighead and Caldwell families, can trace his descent through an unbroken line of Presbyterian ministers for almost three hundred years. This "Apostolic succession" has given to both Church and State many noble and useful men and women, and there are now more than forty ministers bearing the Caldwell name in the various branches of the Presbyterian Church.

He is the great grandson of two ministers, whose piety, learning and patriotism made their names household words throughout North Carolina, viz: Rev. David Caldwell, D. D., of Guilford county, and Rev. Alexander Craighead, D.D., of Mecklenburg—the "Apostle of Civil and Religious Liberty."

His grandfather was Rev. Samuel Craighead Caldwell, who was pastor of Sugar Creek church for thirty-five years. His grandmother was Elizabeth Lindsay, of Greensboro, N. C. His father the late Rev. J. M. M. Caldwell, of Rome Ga., was in early life pastor of Sugar Creek church which had been served by his grandfather and father. He organized and built the church at Rome, Ga., was also President of Concord Female College, Statesville, N. C., Edgeworth Seminary, Greensboro, N. C., and Rome, (Ga.) Female College. Over six thousand young ladies matriculated at these Institutions, among them more than one hundred daughters of Presbyterian ministers, who were educated free of all cost to their parents. Truly, he lived not in vain.

Mr. Caldwell's mother was a descendant of the Usher and Parsons families of New England; she possessed a mind of unusual powers, trained under that noted teacher, Miss Emily Willard, of Troy, (N Y.) Seminary. For forty-two years, she nobly labored with her husband in church and college.

Of eight sons four survive: Rev. S. C. Caldwell, Tallahassee, Fla.; Rev. J. L. Caldwell, D. D., Pine Bluff, Ark.; Dr. Frank H. Caldwell, Chief Surgeon, Plant System Railways, Waycross, Ga.; Rev. A. S. Caldwell, Oxford, N. C.

On leaving college, Rev. A. S. Caldwell entered business life at Charlotte, N. C. For many years he served as a deacon in the First church, and then as an elder and superintendent of Sunday-school of the Second Presbyterian church.

As one of the founders of the Charlotte Young Men's Christian Association, he was active in its work, and at the call of its Directors became the General Secretary of the Association. During his administration, the Association erected its beautiful building. The great success of the work at Charlotte resulted in Mr. Caldwell being elected State Secretary of the Y. M. C. Associations of Arkansas. Under his leadership, for three years, there were over thirteen hundred confessions of Christ, and the Association reached a high standard, both in material equipment and fruitful service. At the suggestion of several ministeral friends, he began preparation for entering the ministry. He studied theology at the Southwestern Presbyterian University, Clarksville, Tenn., and was licensed and ordained by Muhlenburg Presbytery, Kentucky, within whose bounds he labored for three years. Receiving a call to the church at Sanford, Fla., he served as pastor of that church and afterwards as pastor of the church at Bartow, Fla. Constrained to leave Florida on account of the continued ill-health of his wife, he became in October, 1896, pastor of the church at Oxford, N. C.

Mr. Caldwell is now in the prime of life. His training in business, in Young Men's Christian Association and church life, has given him a practical knowledge of men and methods of work. As a preacher he presents the truth with unusual simplicity, attractiveness, directness and power. God has greatly blessed his efforts, and his ministry has been crowned, in all his charges, with abundant fruitfulness. Since he began his work in Oxford last October, there have been eighteen additions to the church, a Missionary and two Christian Endeavor Societies organized, and provision made for the payment by next October of the debt of $2,000 which rested on the church and congregation when he came.

Mrs. Caldwell is a daughter of Hon. A. E. Hutchinson of Rock Hill, S. C., and is highly honored and beloved, alike by old and young. They have four children, two daughters and two sons—one son is a candidate for the ministry, thus maintaining the "Apostolic succession" for yet another generation.

Patient, hopeful waiting is hard work when it is the only work possible to us in an emergency. But, patient waiting is in its time the highest duty of a faithful soul.—H. Clay Trumbull.

Too much innocent amusement is not innocent, but morally bad.—Dr. Bushnell.

PERSONS AND PAPERS.

I'd rather trifle with the forked lightning or the deadly pestilence than with my chance of eternal life. —D. L. Moody.

* * *

Men have been known to pray in church for something to do, when their wives had to saw nearly all the wood.—Ram's Horn.

* * *

In the business of this life men undertake world startling tasks. For the Christian to be one whit less enterprising about the King's business is a shame and a disgrace. The Christian's commands are greater, his motive is grander, and his power is vaster. —Golden Rule.

* * *

"A sweet assurance of pardon, a comfortable persuasion of our reconciliation with God, an established hope of eternal glory through Jesus Christ—these will be operative in the soul, as 'atorch in the sheaf;' these will enkindle love and increase watchfulness; these will beget the true humility of mind and work an unfeigned abhorrence of sin."—Hervey.

* * *

A clergyman, visiting a ragged school in London, asked a class of bright, mischievous urchins, all of whom had been gathered from the streets. "How many bad boys does it take to make a good one?" A little fellow immediately replied, "One, sir, if you treat him well." That boy revealed the secret of how to make bad boys good.—D. Sunderland, in Sunday School Times.

* * *

Charles Lamb, one of the brightest spirits ever extinguished by drink, wrote mournfully, looking back upon his childhood: "Could the youth to whom the flavor of the first glass was delicious look into my desolation, and be made to understand what a dreary thing it is when a man feels himself going down a precipice with open eyes and passive will; to see his destruction, and not have the power of will to stop it, and yet to feel it all the way emanating from himself; to perceive all goodness emptied out of him, and yet not able to forget the time when it was otherwise, how he would avoid the first temptation to drink."

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

1ST PAGE—Night (poetry)—Sketch of Rev. Alfred Shorter Caldwell—Persons and Papers.

2ND PAGE—Editorial: "Are Ye Not Carnal?"—Editorial Notes—Commencement at Davidson.

3RD PAGE—Commencement at Davidson (continued.)

4TH PAGE—Historical Sketch of the Presbyterian church, Oxford, N. C.

5TH PAGE.—Blessings of Sun and Showers — Holding Up Christ — His Sacrifice—Literary Jottings—Magazines.

6TH PAGE — Religious Intelligence—Personals — Assembly's Home and School.

7TH PAGE—Red Springs Seminary—Peace Institute—Odds and Ends.

8TH PAGE—Gold Dust—The Baccalaureate at Peace—A Mountain School.

9TH PAGE—How Wesley Spoiled His Sermon—Private Prayer.

10TH PAGE—Sunday School Lesson—Young People's Column—Open Door Notes.

11TH PAGE—Marriages— Obituaries—Puzzles—Odds and Ends—Market.

12TH PAGE.—(For the Family)— The Love of God (poetry) — Nagging—A Loving Wife.

13TH PAGE—Almost a Man (poetry)—For Thine Is The Power—Do You Pray for Them?—Letter-Box.

14TH PAGE—Secular News.

15TH PAGE—Say Soes.

16TH PAGE—Things Useful.

"ARE YE NOT CARNAL?"

In the historical outline of the events and in the brief statement of the purpose involved in the great meetings held under the leadership of Mr. Moody in New York last winter, this question of the Apostle to the Gentiles was implied, as we presented it last week. It is not proposed here and now to demand an answer from the consciences of our readers, but to show without enlargement or argument, what the question must mean in this direction, that by the marks therewith shown, both the Corinthian Christians were carnal, and Christians may be carnal in our day.

The fact cannot be denied or successfully controverted that very many Christians have the characteristics which the Apostle called carnal, and that they cannot be distinguished in conduct from those who are worldly outside of the Church. It is also painfully plain that Christians use worldly methods and resort to worldly means to further the selfish schemes or personal plans conducted in the name of the Church and under the cloak of Christianity.

This has become most alarming in the assumptions and arguments of the schools of so called higher criticism. It appears in the arrogance of intellectual pride and the vanity of self-confident, scientific dictations of men of theory, without any claim of fact to sustain. It appears even in the schemes to promote methods of Scripture study which appeal to the public for patronage on the ground that they train the intellect and store the mind as their main motive, and that by depreciating the old and grandly successful method of working to reach and regulate the heart. Even our Sabbath-schools are to be turned into schools for study about the Scriptures, instead of organizations for laying up God's word in the heart that we may practice it in our lives.

All this opposition to the "Keswick Movement," and effort to depreciate the work of the servant of God, Mr. Moody, by trying to show that his affiliation with the leaders of this school is a cause of what his critics call a failure of his work, is of the same sort. The carnal Christian does not wish to be stirred out of his sense of security in its sensuous views and methods and gratifications.

It is still more sad to see that the critics are fatally sick of spiritual blindness. They take the text, "Eye hath not seen, &c," and make it a reference to heaven when the context plainly shows the meaning to be that what "Eye hath not seen, &c," the Spirit now is revealing to the spiritual who discern.

These critics are decrying the plain teaching of Scripture that the Holy Spirit is not limited in His ministrations to His common operations, but comes upon Christians to make them witnesses unto Christ. It is not essential to affirm or deny the theory of any man or school as to how He may come or the conditions of His coming. It is the denial that He does so come and that the Church is dependent upon His coming to qualify disciples to be witnesses, that lies at the foundation of this fabric and superstructure of criticism.

Mr. Moody seeks to honor the Holy Ghost. He is seeking to arouse Christians to do this, and by the power of the Holy Ghost in Spirit-filled lives, to become witnesses for Christ. In this, his ministry in New York has not been a failure, and the limitation of its success has been largely the lamentable fact that the very ministers of God are blind and do not see afar off in this "ministration of the Spirit rather glorious," into which Christians are called to participate.

UMBRELLA FOUND! Is it yours?

ARE THE GOOD times coming? We do not know. That there is improvement in some directions is certain; that there is no improvement in others is equally sure. So how one answers the question will depend upon where he looks. Perhaps, we ought to say how he looks, for there are those whose personal interest depends, as they suppose at least, upon delaying the good times until they can seem to have a hand in bringing them in. Others are so anxious to have them now that they announce them prematurely, and actually delay their coming by producing heart-sickening disap point ment.

The best thing to do is not to deceive with promises which will not be fulfilled, nor to undertake to crush out every bud of hopeful promise for selfish ends, but to deal fairly and justly with the subject. Stop croaking, and give a lift, a hearty lift to everything that promises to make times better. When people believe, on fairly reasonable grounds, that good times are coming they will be at the very door. Grumbling and snarling can only delay them.

WE BEG OUR friends not to forget that the N. C. PRESBYTERIAN is always planning and working in the interest of the churches of the Synod of North Carolina and in behalf of their membership. It is the only means by which the Presbyterians can know what is transpiring within the bounds of their Synod. It is the only means of intercommunication among the churches. But it requires and needs financial support, and this brings us to the moral: If you owe for the paper please do not wait for further notice, but send forward promptly.

JUST AT THIS time Hawaiian matters are engaging the attention of our government. The question, whether or not to annul the treaty of reciprocity now existing between the United States and Hawaii, is confronted with the intimation that President McKinley will in a few days send in a message proposing annexation of the islands to this country, and that the U. S. Senate by a vote of at least two-thirds favors the scheme.

Meanwhile officers between Hawaii and Japan seem to be awaiting the action of this country. The former, acting on the principle of self-preservation, prohibits Japanese immigration, and not improbably as claimed, in violation of treaty stipulations. Japan appears to be very modest in her claims, or in urging them at least, and doubtless because of a desire not to mar existing pleasant relations with our government.

ON TUESDAY of last week the Executive Committee of Foreign Missions of our Church met. We regret to have to say that no report has reached us, so we can only give the following from the press dispatches:

Nashville, Tenn., June 9.—Yesterday the Board of Missions of the Presbyterian Church, South, met and elected officers as follows: Rev. R.C. Reed, D. D., chairman; Rev. Angus McDonald, D. D., and W. H. Raymond, vice-chairmen; Rev. S. H. Chester, D. D., secretary; Erskine Reed, treasurer; Rev. D. C. Rankin, editor of the Missionary.

Miss Merle Dupuy, of North Carolina, was appointed missionary to Brazil; Miss Edith Houston was appointed missionary to Mexico, and Rev. H. W. Meyers, of Virginia, was appointed missionary to an unassigned field.

The secretary, Rev. S. H. Chester, D. D., was ordered to arrange for a visit to the mission fields in China, Japan and Corea during the present year. He will sail about August 1st. A letter from King Leopold, of Belgium, in reference to missions in the Congo, was read, and an answer expressing thanks, was prepared and mailed.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY directed the publication of the Westminster addresses, given at Charlotte, in a suitable memorial volume. It will consist of about 300 pages, and the price to advanced subscribers will be $1.00; afterwards the price will be $1.50. Circulars are being sent out for advanced subscriptions, and prompt returns are solicited. If these circulars are not at hand, send a postal, giving name and address in full, with number of copies desired, to Rev. J. K. Hazen, D. D., 1001 Main Street, Richmond, Va. Our ministers are asked to co-operate in securing as many advanced subscribers as possible to this notable volume.

FRANCIS R. BEATTIE,
Ch'm. of Editing Committee.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

COMMENCEMENT AT DAVIDSON.

The Senior reception on Monday evening was an elegant affair. The spacious parlors and assembly-room of the Y. M. C. A. hall were crowded with guests, whom the reception committee, in all the glory of spostles, shirt-front and spiketails a la Paris, welcomed to the festivities of the occasion. The Gymnasium was furnished with tables and utilized as a dining hall. After the refreshments were served, all repaired to the Assembly Hall for the distribution of souvenirs to the members of the Senior Class. The class had selected Rev. A. T. Graham, our beloved pastor, to perform this important function, and the character of the souvenirs, as well as his inimitable mode of presenting them, kept the audience in convulsions of laughter from the beginning to the end.

On Tuesday morning the trustees held their annual meeting.

Tuesday evening was devoted to the Annual Re-union of the Literary Societies. In the Eumenean Hall, the president of the society, Mr. J. D. Woodside, introduced the orator of the evening, E, W. Kerr, Esq., of Clinton, N. C., a graduate of the class of '70. Mr. Kerr spoke on patriotism, loyalty to State and nation and to the general good of society. After the address Mr. F. A. Drennan, in the name of the Senior Class, bade farewell to the society, and Mr. J. A. Steele, in the name of the society responded in fitting words.

At the Phi. Hall, Mr. R. A. Love, of Gastonia, presided and introduced the speaker, Col F. H. Fries, of Salem, class of '74. The subject of Col. Fries' address, "Why College Men do not Succeed Better in Life?" admirably suited a college graduate who had been so conspicuously successful, and his manner, calm and convincing, added weight to his words. After his address Mr. E. H. Sloop, class '97, delivered the Valedictory to the members of the society, and was responded to by Mr. W. A. Ferguson, of the Junior Class.

The orations on Wednesday morning before the Literary Societies and the Society of the Alumni were genuinely eloquent. The first was delivered by Gen. Matt. W. Ransom, our former Senator and Minister to Mexico. He was introdnced by Col. Henderson, of Aiken, S. C., himself an orator of no common rank. Gen. Ransom's subject was "North Carolina, and Our Duty to Her." I wish time and space would allow a full report of the address. It was in Ransom's old time style, delivered with that mingling of grace and strength which has always marked his platform oratory.

When the applause that followed Ransom's eloquent conclusion had died away, President Vardell, of Red Springs Seminary, introduced Rev. D. N. McLauchlin, of Chester, S. C., class of '88, as orator before the Society of Alumni. It seemed a trying position for a young man not ten years out of college, to follow Senator Ransom before a North Carolina audience. but Mr. McLauchlin rose to the occason with an eloquence and power which held the vast crowd in motionless attention. His subject reminded one of Mr. Walter Page's before the State Normal. It was "The Third Class Passenger," a plea for the common man, for the great masses of the discontented poor, and a suggestion as the best manner of treating them.

At 5 p. m., the Annual Alumni Banquet was held in the Morrison Memorial Hall presided over by President C. G. Vardell. Toasts were proposed to The College, responded to by Dr. Shearer, The Duty of the Alumni, E. W. Kerr, Esq., and The Literary Societies, Dr. J. M. P. Otts.

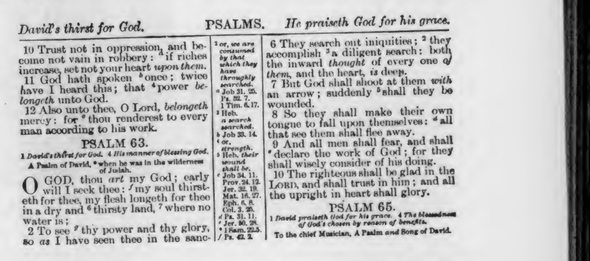
The Senior Class was then formally welcomed to the Alumni Association by President Vardell, and responded through the President of the class, Mr. J. M. Wolfe. Rev. J. M. P. Otts, D. D., LL. D., of Alabama and Frank McNeill, Esq, of Wilmington, were elected Alumni Trustees.

At 8 30 Wednesday evening the Literary Societies held their 6'h annual contest in the Commencement Hall. The program was as follows:

F. C. Barth, Atlanta, Ga, (Eu.), "Conviction;" S. H. Hines, Milton, (Phi.), "A New System;" W. J. Garrison, Pineville, (Phi.), "What Next;" R. A. Love, Gastonia, (Phi.), "Principle Above Party;" W. G. Perry, Rock Hill, S. C., (Eu.) "Savonarola;" H. W. Wilson, Charlotte, (Phi.), "Arbitration."

The speeches were uniformly good and well delivered. So evenly matched were the contestants that all pitied the judges who were to award the Orator's Medal, and each speaker had a strong following of those who predicted his success. Of the three judges, whose names are never made public, one was a minister from Florida, one a leading South Carolina lawyer, and the third a cultivated and wealthy manufacture of North Carolina. They decided that the award should be made to the first speaker, Mr. F. C. Barth, of Atlanta, Ga.

As this letter is already so long, I will omit the list of graduates on Commencement Day, Thursday, June 10th, and send them next week, also the honor men, and Society Medalists. L.



Davidson, N. C., June 11th, '97.

OUR PREMIUM BIBLE.

Measures 5x7 inches when Closed, and Contains 1,600 Pages of Reading Matter—Several hundred pages of Useful Information, besides the Scriptural Text.

At length we find ourselves with pride and pleasure, able to offer a Bible premium to workers for the N. C. PRESBYTERIAN. The size and quality of type of our Bible is represented by the cut here given:

David's thirst for God. PSALMS. He praiseth God for his grace.

10 Trust not in oppression, and become not vain in robbery: if riches increase, set not your heart upon them.
11 God hath spoken once; twice have I heard this; that power belongeth unto God.
12 Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for thou renderest to every man according to his work.

PSALM 63.

1 David's thirst for God. 4 His manner of blessing God.
A Psalm of David, when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

O GOD, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and thirsty land, where no water is;
2 To see thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the sanc-

1 or, we are consumed by that which they have (wrongfully) searched.
a Job 21. 25. Ps. 52. 7.
1 Tim. 6.17.
1 Heb. to search searched.
b Job 33. 14.
c or, strength.
2 Heb. their wound shall be.
d Job 34. 11. Prov. 24. 12. Jer. 32. 19. Mat. 16. 27. Eph. 6. 8. Col. 3. 25. e Ps. 31. 7. f Jer. 50. 28. g 1 Sam. 22. 5. h Ps. 42. 2.

6 They search out iniquities; they accomplish a diligent search: both the inward thought of every one of them, and the heart, is deep.
7 But God shall shoot at them with an arrow; suddenly shall they be wounded.
8 So they shall make their own tongue to fall upon themselves: all that see them shall flee away.
9 And all men shall fear, and shall declare the work of God; for they shall wisely consider of his doing.
10 The righteous shall be glad in the LORD, and shall trust in him; and all the upright in heart shall glory.

PSALM 65.

1 David praiseth God for his grace. 4 The blessedness of God's chosen by reason of benefits.
To the chief Musician, A Psalm and Song of David.

The Bible is an offer in connection with the NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN—the only medium thro which one can become well acquainted with what is going on in the Synod of North Carolina—on the following terms:

We will give this Bible as payment for help rendered to any old subscriber who will send us the name of a BONA FIDE new subscriber along with $2.25.

The new subscriber gets the paper very cheap—we offer it to any bona fide new subscriber for $1.50 for the first year—and the worker gets amply compensated in a magnificently cheap Bible for his or her good work.

A new subscriber to get the Bible can subscribe for himself at $1.50 and then send another new subscriber with $2.25.

The Premium offered is the Genuine Edition of the Oxford Teacher's Bible.

We trust our friends will go to work promptly on this plan.

JOHN McLAURIN,
Manager N. C. Presbyterian.

"Our Premium Bible" contains absolutely nothing that tends to discredit the plain Scripture narrative of "Jonah and the whale."

A saint, sinking swiftly by disease, said, "I have had a strange experience to-day. The devil whispered to me, 'You have been a great sinner.' 'I answered quickly, 'But I have a great Saviour.'"

The gospel is for all classes of people. There is no favored nation. There is no line of spiritual nobility. There is no exclusive inheritance of rights to the things of the kingdom. The blessings of the Gospel are for people of all nations and tongues.—Herald and Presbyter.

HISTORICAL SKETCH OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, OXFORD, N. C.

About the year 1754 several Presbyterian families moved from the congregations of Rev. Samuel Davies in Hanover county, Va., to Granville county, N. C. Their old pastor remembered them in their new home and used every effort to supply them with the Gospel. Through his influence Rev. Hugh McAden visited them and preached for them in the Baptist meeting houses at Grassy and Fishing Creeks, and in August 18th, 1755, visited Granville C. H., then at Brodies, near Henderson.

The same settlements were visited in 1763 by Rev. Wm. Tennent. Mr. Tennent preached and held a communion service in a house on the farm of Mr. Howell Lewis, about one mile and a half from the old site of Grassy Creek church. In 1764 Rev. Jas. Criswell, a man eminent for his piety and zeal for the salvation of souls became pastor of Grassy Creek and Nutbush congregations and continued as such until about 1774 when he removed to South Carolina.

Rev. Henry Pattillo became pastor in 1780, and gave these congregations his last labors. He died loved and lamented by his devoted people in 1801.

In 1803 Rev. James Matthews became pastor, and his faithful labors for two years resulted in many additions to the membership. Rev. Leonard Prother was pastor from 1807 until 1809 and was succeeded by Rev. Ezekiel B. Currie, 1809-1819. Mr. Thos. B. Littlejohn purchased 1,880 acres of land known as the Oxford tract on October 23d, 1805. These lands surrounded the court house which had been located at Oxford since 1764.

Oxford was once known as Merrittsville and was famed far and near as the rendevouz for gamblers and sportsmen of all descriptions and few places, so small, ever groaned under a heavier load of open unblushing sin. It was called: "The place where Satan has his seat." In the interest of law and order Oxford was incorporated in 1811, and fifty acres around the court house, were purchased from Mr. Thos. B. Littlejohn and laid off into town lots.

In 1817 Mr. Thos. B. Littlejohn and other members of the Grassy Creek church which was ten miles from their homes, resolved to organize a church in Oxford. They united with the trustees of the town academy in employing as teacher and preacher, Rev. James K. Burch. Mr. Burch remained only one term, from June 1817 to Jan. 1818

Rev. Shepard K. Kollock, D. D., began preaching at Shiloh and Oxford in March 1818 and organized the church in Oxford in September, 1818. Thos. B. Littlejohn and Levi H. McLean were ordained elders. The church records kept by Mr. Littlejohn from 1818 until 1844 are a model of neatness. Dr. Kollock married the daughter of Mr. Thos. B. Littlejohn, and the old colonial mansion erected by him, became in after years the home of the late J. C. Cooper, Sr., and is now one of the most attractive residences in Oxford. Dr. Kollock having been elected to a chair in the State University removed to Chapel Hill in 1819.

Since its organization the church has been served by the following ministers:

Rev. S. K. Kollock, D. D., S. S., 1818-1819; Rev. Prof. Samuel M. Graham, D.D.,S.S., 1820-1822; Rev. James Douglass, S. S., 1823-1824; Rev. Joseph Labaree, P., 1824-1829; Rev. Nehemiah H. Harding, D. D., P. 1830-1835; Rev. Jesse Rankin, P., 1835-1837; Rev. Prof. S. J. P. Anderson, S. S., 1839-1840; Rev. Jonathan T. Ely, S. S., 1840-1841; Rev. Edward Hines, S.S., 1841-1842; Rev. Jacob Doll, P., 1842-1847; Rev. T. U. Faucette, P., 1850-1867; Rev. H.G. Hill, D.D., P., 1867-1870; Rev. D. E. Jordan, D. D., P., 1870-1880; Rev. J. W. Primrose, D. D., P., 1880-1885; Rev. R. B. Willis, D. D., P., 1885-1888; Rev. J. C. Dinwiddie, S. S., 1888-1889; Rev. Joseph Rennie, P., 1889-1892; Rev. J. Ernest Thacker, P., 1893-1896; Rev. A. S. Caldwell, P., 1896 ——.

The limits of this article forbid even a brief mention of the labors of these consecrated men, so we must content ourselves with short notices of those directly connected with the organization of the church and the erection of its houses of worship.

REV. JAMES DOUGLASS.

This consecrated servant of the Master spent one fruitful year with the Oxford group of churches, September 1822—Sept. 1823. Under his zealous leadership the Oxford church though having only twenty-two members contributed besides pastor's support $1,000 for building a church; $50 for a tract depository at Oxford; $20 for the aid of the Jews; $15 for missions and education; $13 for the endowment of a Princeton professorship. Eleven new members were added to the church and steps were taken to organize a church at Providence, afterwards located at Geneva.

Among the five members dismissed to organize Providence church was Jno. Webb one of the elders. One of Jno. Webb's sons, John H. Webb, is now the patriarch of the session of Geneva church. At Presbytery last October, Rev. J. B. Morton, the loved pastor of the Tarboro church, being asked why he was gazing so intently at Mr. Webb, replied: "I was admiring 'his crown of glory,' and his Nathaniel-like countenance and wondering if my old age would be as charming as his." Mr. Webb has two sons, Messrs. J. A. and John Webb who are now active elders in the Oxford church, also a son a deacon in Geneva church. Mr. Douglass afterwards became the zealous pastor of the Fayetteville church and died in the harness August, 1837.

REV. NEHEMIAH H. HARDING, D.D., Pastor 1830-1835, was born at Brunswick, Maine, October, 1794. In early life he was a sea captain in the merchant service. He was educated at Chapel Hill and at Princeton, N. J. He began his ministry as stated supply of the Warrenton N. C. church in November, 1828, and was installed pastor of the Oxford church in 1830. Early in his pastorate the first church building was erected and during his five years work in Oxford eighty-seven members were received on profession and nine on certificate, the largest accession under any pastorate before or since. He accepted a call to Milton, N. C., 1835, and labored in that field until his death, February 17th, 1849.

One who knew him well speaks of him as follows: He was not only a preacher of marked ability for thought, but earnest and pathetic. Noted also for keen analysis and penetrating insight, fearless in denunciation of all sin and wrong, outspoken and bold, yet tender and of warm feelings, genial and sympathetic. He was a man of great piety, gave all his energies to his work as preacher and pastor, and lived in it, and for it. Like St. Paul he had a passion for souls; as a pastor he knew intimately the condition of all his flock, was constant in visiting and talked on personal religion to everybody as opportunity presented, and he sought opportunities. It would be the verdict of all who knew him, that no man in his day and church surpassed him in personal piety and unceasing labor as pastor and preacher. His character and work told powerfully on every church.

It was rare if ever he visited any family without praying with them and pressing the duty of religious living on their notice. He lived and moved in a religious atmosphere more than any man I ever saw. His last days were days of weariness and pain, but though his sickness was depressing his faith and quiet confidence never failed. He was at once student, preacher and pastor, such as I have never known. So complete in all.

One son, born in Oxford, survives: Rev. E. H. Harding, D. D., of Farmville, Va.

REV. JOSEPH RENNIE—1889.

This honored servant of the Master was stated supply for one-half of his time in 1889, but was settled as pastor in 1890. Under his zealous labors the increase of the congregation was such that a new building was necessary. By heroic sacrifice on the part of those who contributed time and money, the building, a picture of which illustrates this article was completed and dedicated in July, 1892. Rev. Moses D. Hoge, D. D., preached the dedicatory sermon. The church is modern in all its appointments, having besides, auditorium, Sunday-school and class rooms, parlor and study, all of which can, when necessary be thrown into one large room.

Soon after the dedication of the church Mr. Rennie accepted a call to Louisville, Ky., and is now the loved pastor of Madison Avenue Presbyterian church, Covington, Ky.

The congregation has suffered much in late years through death and removals and been much hampered by a mortgage on the church.

Rev. J. E. Thacker (now of Alexandria, Va.,) was the pastor from October 1892 to April 1st, 1896, and through his earnest efforts the debt was greatly reduced. The congregation is making a self-denying effort to pay the balance by October 1st.

During all the history of the church, the Ladies' Aid Society has been a potent factor in its work.

They have by their persevering efforts purchased a manse, a pipe organ and given some $2,000 towards the building fund. The Lord bless them and the noble church to which they are so loyal.

BLESSINGS OF SUN AND SHOWER.

Good weather is not uniform weather. Uniform weather is not good weather. All sunshine, or all rain, would be very poor weather. We call bright days pleasant days, when bright days are not too frequent. But when the sun shines on with never a cloud day after day, and the ground parches, and dust fills the air, and the flowers droop, and the grass withers, we tire of the sunshine, and we long for showers. Then, when the clouds gather and the rain falls, we think that that day is a pleasanter day, and we call it delightful weather. That climate is choicest which gives rain and shine, clouds, and clear sky, cold and heat, in due proportion. In such a climate man best prospers and develops. April is the typical month of the temperate zone. As in the outer world, so in the inner. Joy and sorrow, ease and hardship, must be in due proportion to bring man to his best. This would not be our choice for ourselves or for our dear ones; but God knows what is best for us and for them, and he orders accordingly. Then we come to see that he has ordered all in wisdom and in love, and we are grateful that we did not have our own choice. If we could but realize this now, every one of us could say:

"The joy that comes in sorrow's guise,
The sweet pains of self-sacrifice,
I would not have them otherwise."
—Sunday-School Times.

HOLDING UP CHRIST.

Here is a lovely little story which I had from one of "our own" men. A gentleman was visiting a friend who was an ardent admirer and lover of dear Mr. Spurgeon, and was continually extolling him as a preacher. "I have never heard him," said the visitor, "but next Sunday I will go and see whether he deserves the praise you so liberally bestow upon him." So he went to the Tabernacle, and on his return from the morning service, his host met him with the eager question, "Well, what did you think of him?" "Nothing," was the reply. Then, seeing the look of astonishment and sorrow on his friend's face, he said again, "No, nothing," but his eyes filled with tears of joy as he added, "All I can think of is the dear preacher's Saviour!" My correspondent writes: "Oh, Mrs. Spurgeon, no finer eulogy than than this could be passed upon any man's preaching; and even you can scarcely know how we—his men—long and yearn to imitate him who is still telling out 'the old, old story,' not only upon earth, but in the wide domain of heaven."—Sword and Trowel.

HIS SACRIFICE.

He gave Himself to a life of toil and suffering and a death of agony for every believing and penitent sinner. What a motive, then, have we to cease from sin, to live for Him who gave Himself to us that He might redeem us from all iniquity! He died to redeem us not only from the consequences of sin, but also from the power of sin.

Heavenly Father, I thank Thee that Thou didst give Thy Son, I thank Thee that Thou didst give Thyself, in this atonement. May Thy work of redemption be perfected in me through the power of the Holy Spirit. May Thy love and sacrifice constrain me to strive against every form of sin, and through Divine grace to strive successfully. Cause me to strive more earnestly against sin because assured of salvation by the perfect righteousness of Christ. The more perfect my reliance upon that righteousness, the more earnest may my efforts be to become meet for the inheritance Thy sacrifice has prepared for mankind.—Selected.

One frequently hears the regret that some loved one has passed away without having known how greatly he had been beloved. When it is felt that he has reached the Father's house the distress is softened, as it is assumed that there all is known. Vastly deeper is the grief expressed by the wish that the departed one had given some assurance, if only by a word, that all was well with his soul.—Presbyterian Journal.

LITERARY JOTTINGS.

Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett will spend the summer in Washington City. She is at work upon her book "The Duke of Osborne" which it is understood will be upon the lines of the "Lady of Quality." The publishers call for the completion of the works by September.

The Rev. John G. Patton, D. D., has presented to the Victorian General Assembly $60,000, the proceeds of the sale of his well-known book," "Life in the Hebrides."

An English Committee headed by the first lord of the admiralty, Right Honorable Geo. J. Goschen, is soliciting subscriptions to a Rugby School memorial to Thomas Hughes. It is desired that friends and admirers of the great writer in this country will also contribute.

The committee proposes to erect a statue to Mr. Hughes and also to establish an endowment of the Rugby School missions in London and Birmingham. It is particularly desired that college students and school boys subscribe to the fund.

In accordance with an agreement with the Trustees of the New York Public Library, the greater part of the books and manuscripts in the collection of the American Bible Society will soon be transferred to the Library's custody as a special deposit. The interest, however, of the Bible Society's managers in the collection will not cease because of this transfer; they will continue to add new publications, and the collection will continue to be known as the Library of the American Bible Society. Some of the books in the Society's collection have been in its possession for over eighty years. The greater part of it consists of the Bible in various languages and dialects. Among them are copies dated 1611, in English, and subsequent reprints of the authorized version: the early editions of the Douay Bible, and the Genevan version of the Scriptures. Scriptural assortments in Japanese and Chinese and American editions of the revised English Bible are also there.—Banner.

MAGAZINES.

Evolution of the Modern Heavy Gun, The Silent City of the Muir Glacier, Suicide and the Environment, Globe Lightning, World's Geologists at St. Petersburg, Woman Suffrage and Education, The History of Alcohol, The Public and its Public Library, Science as an Instrument of Education, and Sketch of Richard Owen, are among the table of contents of the Popular Science Monthly for June. D. Appleton & Co., New York.

Royal makes the food pure, wholesome and delicious.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

BABIES are subject to peculiar ills. The right remedy for babies' ills—especially worms and stomach disorders—is Frey's Vermifuge —has cured children for 50 years. Send for illus. book about the ills and the remedy. One bottle mailed for 25 cents. E. & S. FREY, Baltimore, Md.

ROGER MOORE,
104 NORTH WATER STREET
WILMINGTON, N. C.,

Has for sale Common and Repressed Brick, Lime, Rosendale Cement, Portland Cement, Fire Brick and Fire Clay Vitrified Sewerpipes, Agricultural Lime, Land Plaster, Roofing Felt and Sheathing Paper, Shingles, Sawed and Rived, Aluminite, Calsom Wall Finish, Paints, Oils, &c. Agent for The Styron Fence, Composed of Juniper Pickets and Galvanized Bessemer Steel Fence Wire. One of the cheapest and most durable of fences.

Orders Solicited.

Religious Intelligence.

We specially invite News from all quarters for this Department.

The Annual Scheme of Collections in the Synod of North Carolina is as follows:

January—General Assembly's Home Missions.

February and August—Presbyterial Home Missions.

March—Publication and Colportage.

April — Education — (one collection Church and Christian Education).

May and October—Foreign Missions. Third Sabbath in October for Bible Cause.

June and September—Synodical Home Missions.

July—Invalid Fund.

Third Sunday in October—BibleCause.

November and April—Education for the Ministry.

December—ColoredEvangelization

THE ASSEMBLY'S FORM OF BEQUEST.

I do hereby give and bequeath to the Trustees of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States (popularly known as the Southern Presbyterian Church) the sum of .....Dollars for the benefit of [here name cause to which the legacy is given.]

CHANGES OF ADDRESS.

Correspondents will please note the ollowing changes of address:

Rev. Arnold Hall, from Summerdean, Va., to Williamson, W. Va.

Rev. B. E. Wallace, from Wilmington N. C., to Soddy, Tenn., temporarily.

Rev. Dr. J. D. Tadlock, from Columbia, S. C., to Holston Valley, Tenn., until September.

Rev. R. B. Grinnan, from Nagasaki to Kobe, Japan through July and August.

Rev. Charles F. Rankin, from Hampden Sidney, Va., to Concord, N. C.

Rev. V. G. Smith, from Hampden Sidney, Va., to Hartsmonville, W. Va.

Rev. L. A. McLean, from 1314 Lloyd Ave., to 316 E. Main Street, Richmond, Va.

Rev. C. G. Vardell, to July 20th, from Red Springs, N. C., to James Island, S. C.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Burlington:—Rev. M. W. Doggett, D.D. was installed pastor of the Burlington church Sunday, June 6th, by Rev. Wm. P. McCorkle and Rev. S. O. Hall, the latter delivering the charge to the pastor and the former presiding and delivering the charge to the people. The charge delivered by Bro. Hall, (or sermon rather, for such it was,) was based on 1 Tim. 4:16, and was an admirable exposition of the pastor's responsiblity in regard to his own character and teaching. The charge to the people was brief and practical, and well-adapted to arouse earnest effort on the part of the people to discharge their duty toward their chosen pastor. A large congregation was present and gave close attention to the preaching. Bro. Doggett enters upon the discharge of his new pastoral duties with most encouraging prospects.

Graham:—Rev. D. W. Snyder, of our African mission, delivered a most earnest and effective address on the Africans of the Congo to a packed house in Graham church Tuesday, June 8th, at 8 p.m. Bro. Snyder's addresses cannot fail to stir up the flagging enthusiasm of our church, and we believe incalculable good will result from his visit to our community.

McC.

An Addition:—Mr. Editor: In the abstract of the minutes of the adjourned meeting of Orange Presbytery which appeared last week, it was stated that Presbytery had elected Rev. W. K. Forsyth as evangelist of the Stokes county field to succeed the Rev. C. Miller, now a member of Concord Presbytery.

Immediately following the above statement, and in this connection, the following resolution was overlooked, and should have been published, viz:

Resolved, That in parting with Rev. C. Miller Presbytery would put on record its grateful sense of the conspicuous fidelity and success with which he has filled his arduous field of evangelistic labor, its profound appreciation of the lofty standard of ministerial zeal and consecration that he has uniformly set before his brethren, and its fervent hope and prayer that God's richest blessings may continually abide upon him, his family, and his work.

STATED CLERK.

Elk Park:—On Sunday, June 6th, we elected two additional elders and one deacon. A gentleman 79 years old made profession of faith and was received by the session. He will be baptized at the next service.

VIRGINIA.

Norfolk:—Seven persons upon profession and two by letter were recently received into the membership of Park Ave. church. Rev. E. B. McCluer, pastor.

Norfolk Presbytery:—Rev. Dr. W. S. Lacy, moderator. Rev. Edward Mack and Rev. Wm. Chinn were received. Mr. Mack signified his acceptance of the call from the First church, Norfolk. Next Wednesday, June 23d, was appointed as the time for installation. Rev. Dr. Lacy will preside and propound the questions; Rev. E. T. Wellford will preach and deliver the charge to the congregation and Rev. H. T. Darnall will deliver the charge to the pastor.

Pryor Memorial Church:—Assisted by Rev. L. A. McLean Synodical evangelist Rev. S. G. Hutton closed a meeting on the 8th at Crewe, Pryor Memorial church. Congregations were large and attentive and the solemnity that pervaded made it evident that the Spirit was present. Much good was done and blessing received in many ways. Two persons were received on examination one of whom was baptized by the pastor.

FLORIDA.

A Quiet Work of Grace in First Presbyterian Church, Pensacola:—On the first Sabbath of February Rev. R. G. Pearson, D. D., began a union meeting with the Methodist, Baptist, and Presbyterian churches of this city and closed his services on the third Sabbath of February. This meeting was intended primarily to reach non-church goers, but in this respect it was, to some of us, a disappointment. Those who attended the services and shared in the blessing were the regular and faithful attendants of the different churches. This was preeminently true of the Presbyterian church. Almost, if not every family which enlisted heartily in these services is to-day rejoicing over some member of the family or some dear friend received into the church since the close of this meeting. At the first meeting of the session on the fourth Sabbath of February twelve persons, mostly the children of the covenant, were received on examination. On the fourth Sabbath of March three members were received on certificate. On the second Sabbath of April five others, embracing the heads of three families were received on certificate. On the evening of the same day the session received a young husband on examination and his wife on certificate from the Methodist church. On the fifth Sabbath of May at the close of the night service an invitation was given to those who desired to make a public profession of their faith. This invitation was promptly accepted by one of the most active young men in our Christian Endeavor Society. On the following Wednesday night at the close of our prayer-meeting service a similar invitation was given and a young mother and her unmarried sister came forward and were received and baptized. And at the close of our services last Sabbath night an opportunity was given and another young man, active in the Christian Endeavor, was on profession received into our church Also on the first Sabbath of May another family was received on certificate. Thus making a total of twenty-nine additions since our union meeting. Others are deeply interested and pastor and session are prayerfully laboring for their salvation. Every financial obligation is being fully met and hereafter the church will support its own candidate in the seminary. On last Sabbath the session was strengthened by the election of Wm. Fisher and W. B. Ferris to the eldership.

GENERAL.

Rev. J. W. McIlvain, of Annapolis has resigned his charge on account of ill health

Rev. Dr. Methery, Sr., a missionary of the Reformed Presbyterian church, died at Mensine, Syria, on the 4th inst.

At the General Council of the Reformed Episcopal Church held in New York last week, Bishop Campbell resigned because of the decision that it was not cononical for a bishop to live and hold a charge outside his diocese.

The split feared because of the adoption of the academical robe instead of the option of that or the surplice has not occurred. Bishop Cheney has reconsidered his resignation.

A resolution was adopted declaring that the sentiment that had gained ground among people that the Christian religion is not the one, only, exclusive and imperial religion for all races of men, but is only one among religions, be declared contrary to all the teachings of God. The hope was expressed in the resolution that the government would extend its care to the lives and property of Christian missionaries in foreign lands.

The next General Council will be held in Baltimore in May 1900.

Archbishop Janssen, head of the Roman Catholic diocese of New Orleans, died last Sunday of heart disease on the steamer Creole. He was on the passage to New York from which place he was to proceed to his former home in Holland. The body was transferred at sea to another steamer and carried to New Orleans for interment.

PERSONALS.

Mr. J. E. Ballou of Union Seminary will engage in mission work in Madison county, N. C., during the summer.

Rev. R. A. Robinson of Norfolk, Va., has received a call to the First Congregational church of Williamston, Mass.

Rev. G. W. Bull of West End, Ga., is spending the present month at Smithville, Va.

Rev. E. E. Bigger of Corsicana, Texas, has resumed his labors after a severe illness brought on by overwork and la grippe.

Mr. W. F. Strickland, a student of Columbia Seminary will take charge of the Rose Hill church in the suburbs of Columbus, Ga.

Dr. J. R. Howerton, of Charlotte, is visiting at Asheville, N. C.

We regret to note the death on the 8th inst, of Mrs. Mary Moore Flournoy, wife of Rev. P. P. Flournoy of Bethesda, Md. Mrs. Flournoy was a daughter of the late Dr. Benj. M. Smith, so long professor in Oriental Languages in Union Theological Seminary, Va.

The honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity has been conferred by Davidson College upon Rev. Alex. Sprunt of Rock Hill, S. C.

Rev. J. A. Dorritee has arrived in Charlotte and begun his labors in the Southern part of the city.

Rev. A. J. McKelway, is conducting services preparatory to communion on next Sabbath in St. Andrews church, Wilmington.

Rev. Dr. T. R. Sampson of Fredericksburg, Va., has been elected president of the Theological College of Dallas, Texas. It is stated that he will accept.

Rev. B. E. Wallace and Mrs. Wallace arrived safely, and are spending a few weeks of vacation, at the home of the former at Soddy, Tenn.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

ASSEMBLY'S HOME AND SCHOOL.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Assembly's Home and School at Fredericksburg, Va., held in Richmond, Va., June 7th and 8th, the Board adopted the following resolutions:

"That the college be, and the same is hereby separated from the Home and Training School, so as in the future to relieve the Assembly from any and all responsibility for the conduct and support of the same, so far as the Board can legally effect this separation in view of existing contracts.

That a sub committee of three be and is hereby appointed to consider and report to the Board the best method of disposing of the college building and grounds, so as relieve the Assembly from all responsibility for the ownership, conduct and support of the college, so soon as this can be done legally and properly, consistent with the best interests of the Home and School."

The sub-committee, consisting of Judge Christian, Dr. Kerr and Mr. Cullingworth, subsequently made a report, recommending that, in view of the impossibility of immediately effecting sale of college building and grounds, so as to carry out existing obligations resting on the Board, the said college and grounds be leased for the approaching session, on the best terms obtainable.

Rev. Dr. A. P. Saunders proposed to lease the college building and grounds for one year, and to conduct the college on his own responsibility and at his own expense, and to give free tuition in all the departments of the college including music, art and physical culture to the beneficiaries of the Home and Training School. The Board unanimously accepted Dr. Saunders' proposition, as the best method of relieving the Assembly at once from all responsibility for the conduct and support of the college. In order to make the separation complete, Dr. Saunders offered his resignation as a member of the Board of Trustees, which was regretfully accepted. Rev. F. P. Ramsay made a report of his work as financial agent, which was greatly appreciated and highly commended by the Board. But in view of the recent action of the Assembly, so urgently commending the Home and School to all the churches and ordering a special collection, Mr. Ramsay tendered and the Board accepted his resignation as financial agent, in the hope that it would be no longer necessary to incur this expense. Mr. J. W. Adams, Jr, a ruling elder in the church at Fredericksburg, was elected trustee in the place of Dr. Saunders.

S. W. SOMERVILLE,
Secretary.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

RED SPRINGS SEMINARY.

DEAR BRO. MCLAURIN:—This seminary is a success. The President is a master in the managament. His wife is widely known as a trained teacher of music. The teachers taught well and the lady principal and housekeeper have filled their places with eminent efficiency.

A year ago there was a pile of lumber back of the tabernacle where the Elders' and Deacons' Institute of Fayetteville Presbytery was held. Rev. C. G. Vardell entered last September the main building as President of the Seminary, to find only two rooms plastered. Yet with his enthusiastic trustees and his untiring zeal he pushed the building work to completion and has just closed the first year's work with more than a hundred pupils in attendance, forty-three of whom were boarders. I have just returned from the first commencement where I preached the sermon Sabbath morning, June 6th, to a packed house with many outside. In the absence of Dr. W. W. Moore, who was to deliver the literary address Tuesday morning, and was detained by sickness, I spoke to a large audience of a thousand or more people from the surrounding regions of friends and supporters of the Seminary.

Monday afternoon the art exhibit of the first year's work under Miss Rose was a surprise and delight to all. She showed that this school would be second to none in this department.

Mrs. C. G. Vardell with her two assistants, Misses Witherspoon and Knox, gave a concert of vocal and instrumental music by their pupils Monday evening. The music was of a high order and rendered with admirable taste and skill, being both pleasing and educational in its value. President Vardell made the announcements of distinctions in scholarship studies for the year. This was done on Tuesday morning, in the midst of a well rendered musical programme. A short address of excellent wit and wisdom was made by Rev. Mr. Craig of Ashpole church followed by the effort of your writer to keep the people from sheer disappointment over the absence of Dr. Moore.

The Seminary is well located. The place is free from prevailing diseases or distempers. The climate is salubrious. The waters are healthful. Additional building is in progress. There will be room for many more students and they are coming. The faculty for next year is well chosen. The plans are liberal and wise. The expenses are phenominally small. Fayetteville Presbytery is to be congratulated on the first year's work, and may well look hopefully and confidently to the futrue.

A. D. M.

The following correct and discriminative tribute to Peace Institute, Raleigh, we copy and adopt from the News and Observer:

The handsome new catalogues of Peace Institute are just out. Examination of these show the many advantages of the school, its high standard and the advanced work required of its pupils.

There are three well defined collegiate courses that lead to diplomas. The faculty consists of twenty teachers. With a diploma from Peace a young woman is prepared to fill a good position as teacher or to enter for advanced courses in universities.

Some idea of the thoroughness of work required by the school was gained from inspection of the papers that were on exhibition during commencement. These papers, which were shown exactly as they were handed in to the teachers, prove that Peace gives superior and systematic instruction in all departments, and that pupils who do such work in analytics, languages, ethics, chemistry, etc., may well be depended upon to guard the reputation of this famous school.

The music and art departments speak for themselves, their reputation being too well known to need other comment than to say that the graduates in these lines are prepared to join the ranks of real musicians and artists.

Peace Institute is located in a large grove of native oaks, just outside the corporate limits of Raleigh. Its situation combines the advantages of city and country life, for the freedom and fresh air of the suburbs are added to the conveniences and privileges of the town. The general atmosphere and healthful surroundings of Raleigh render it peculiarly desirable as a place for the education of young ladies. There is no malaria. The climate is mild and uniform, avoiding the extremes both of heat and cold.

The location of Peace Institute at the State capital gives to every one of its students advantages of culture and opportunities for acquiring information which are rare and valuable. The pupils visit the places of interest about the city—Hospitals for the Insane, Blind Institute, Penitentiary, State Museum, Library, etc. During the sessions of the Legislature they have ample opportunity for seeing the working of the House and Senate. Every winter there are concerts and lectures of note which the pupils are encouraged to attend.

The catalogue gives full information on these subjects and many more. The principal will be glad to forward a copy to any one desiring to examine the same.

W. C. VonGLAHN,

NO. 20 SOUTH FRONT ST.,

WILMINGTON N. C.

Keeps always on hand, SHOES of all SHAPES and SHOES of all COLORS.

SHOES for LOOKS and Shoes for COMFORT.

No effort spared to suit customers.

☞ Visitors to the city should not fail to call.

All Treasurers who hold funds for the Assembly's Home Missions will confer a favor by forwarding at once to the Treasurer W. A. Powell, Esq., Atlanta, Ga. The indications are that the Treasury will lack $1,700 of having money enough to pay the missionaries their salaries due June 30th.

J. N. CRAIG,
Secretary.

The University.

—o—

Forty-seven Teachers, 413 students, (Summer School 158). Total 549. Board $8 a month, three Brief Courses, three Full Courses, Law and Medical Schools and School of Pharmacy. Graduate Courses open to Women, Summer School for Teachers, Scholarships and Loans for the Needy.

Address,
PRESIDENT ALDERMAN,
Chapel Hill, N. C.

Do You Want A Teacher?

TEACHER'S EXCHANGE,
Box 378 Richmond, Va.

SUPPLIES COLLEGES,
SCHOOLS AND FAMILIES
WITH TEACHERS.

—o—

Secures Situations for Teachers at moderate cost. Correspondence Solicited Supt. Richmond Public School.

SUMMER BOARD,

Board from June 15th to September 1st, can be had on reasonable terms at Statesville Female College. For terms address, J. B. BURWELL,
Statesville, N. C.

BINGHAM SCHOOL ASHEVILLE, N. C.
Established 1793.
—Military U. S. Army Officer detailed.—

1793 Location and Sanitation best in the United States. Single story Brick Barracks, give safety against fire. "Pre-Eminent among Southern Schools for Boys." U. S. Gov't's Bureau of Education, Washington, D. C. Address Major R. Bingham, A. M. L. L. D., Superintendent. 1897

E. M. ANDREWS,

—THE LARGEST DEALER IN—

FURNITURE, PIANOS AND ORGANS

—IN THE CAROLINAS—

—o—

Goods bought direct from the manufacturers in large quantities and sold at only one small profit—no more. The complete furnishing and equiping of new houses a specialty. Pianos and Organs sold at the lowest prices and on easy terms. Furniture sold at a very small margin for spot cash, or on short time where parties are reliable. Small orders as well as large, receive careful and prompt attention.

☞ Write for Catalogues and prices. One Postal Card may save you many dollars.

E. M. ANDREWS,
Charlotte, N. C.

GOLD DUST.

"The Master has not put a chest of poetic gold in my hands, and said, Now, use it as you please; but He keeps the gold and gives it to me piece by piece just when He will and as much as He will, and no more.—Miss Havergal.

***

"Jesus knows!
Just what you can not tell,
He understands so well!
The silence of the heart is heard,
He does not need a single word,
He thinks of you;
He watcheth and He careth, too,
He pitieth, He loveth;
All this flows in one sweet word:
He knows!"

—Selected.

***

All we want in Christ we shall find in Christ. If we want little, we shall find little; if we want much, we shall find much; and if, in utter helplessness, we cast our all on Christ, He will be to us the whole treasury of God.—Bishop Whipple.

***

The sweetest blessings falling from above
Are human sympathy and human love.
One strengthens hope with stimulating cheers,
The other softens sorrow with its tears.
And both together form the golden tie
That spans the borders of eternity.

Chicago Record.

THE BACCALAUREATE AT PEACE.

We take pleasure in giving from the News and Observer, of Raleigh its account of the Baccalaureate Sermon at Peace Institute of that city, on Sunday, May 30th.:

The examinations have been completed and the most successful year in the history of the institution will this week be closed.

The exercises began Sunday with the baccalaureate sermon by Rev. Dr. F. W. Farries, of Goldsboro, at the First Presbyterian church.

Splendid music, earnest prayer, white-robed figures and a flower-shed fragrance, filled the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning. Nothing could have been more beautiful, or more appropriate to the occasion than were these young women in the restful mellow light that sifted itself through the tall windows. Just closing their school work, many of them for life, they had come, on this Sabbath morning, in all the innocence and purity of young womanhood to hear the words of wisdom from that good and wise man, Dr. Farries.

He spoke to them tenderly, lovingly as a father to his children. In simple language he pointed out to them the true and narrow path that leads to success and happiness in this world and salvation in the next. It was a strong and eloquent discourse, and the number of people that heard it was limited only by the inability of the church to hold those who came.

The front seats in the centre of the church were reserved for the students of the school and the gallery was occupied by the Peace choir, who furnished the music for the occasion.

The fourth chapter of Philippians, 8th and 9th verses, was selected by Dr. Farries as his text: "Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things. These things which ye have both learned and received, and heard, and seen in me, do; and the peace of God shall be with you."

The word "finally," with which the text begins, said Dr. Farries, shows very plainly that they are farewell words, and, as such, they are charged with all the love, tenderness and intensity of last words from friend to friend. No higher blessing could be desired than these of this last tender pressing counsel addressed to the Christians at Philippi. Here the love of the apostle gathers all the intensity at its command, and speaks with the deep love and concern of friendship.

"Here the apostle sets forth those virtues that the Christian must possess; here we have practical directions as to the pathway we must pursue in the Christian life. 'Think,' he says, 'upon these things.' Then 'do these things,' he adds. Hear and then heed. Faith without works is dead, and from this I wish to draw some useful lessons for the young womanhood before me. This text is a summary, my young friends, of what you have been taught in Peace Institute these many years:

I. A direction as to our thoughts. "Think on these things," he says. What things? Whatsoever is of true report. Be true, true to God, to yourself; true to your convictions, to your friends, true to society, true to every obligation of life. Truth is the one thing that shall stand throughout the wreck of all things else. The world is full of lies; society is honey-combed with deception.

"Be true: that is the ringing counsel of the apostle. Do not deal in flattery. According to God's standard there are no white lies, no misrepresentations, no mistakes. There is only truth and falsehood.

"Whatsoever things are honest (honorable), says the text. Deal fairly with your neighbor. Be honest. Respect all that is worthy of respect. There are things sacred in the world; reverence and respect them. Be careful as to your conduct, your attire and dress, your talk and manner, your words and gestures. Young people should be young—merry, sprightly and full of life, but these things can be carried too far, and greatly to the harm of young women.

"All things that are just—respect the claims of others. Don't stand too stubbornly on your own rights. It is often a harder thing to be just than it is to be generous. Meet the demands of justice. The one strong thing in the varied relations of men is justice.

"All that is pure, says the apostle. Shun whatever will defile you. Avoid the appearance of evil. The higher your position the darker the stain upon your character. You may breathe upon a rock all your life without making an impression, but the slightest breath dims the polished face of a mirror.

"Whatever things are lovely—beautiful. The most beautiful thing in the world is a sweet character, a good disposition. Cultivate the beautiful, from that you will inculcate the beauty. Fellowship with Christ is what you want. Catch from him that beauty that age, misfortune or even death cannot take away.

"Whatsoever is of good report. This means not what the world applauds. Gentleness, purity, meekness, charity, patience, virtue—these are of good. Think upon these things. They will give strength of character and nobleness of life. Think upon them until your soul catches something of the inspiration, the divine fire that makes noble men and women.

"But can we control our thoughts? Does not wickedness prevail and stand continually before us, demanding our attention? It does. But God's eternal message comes: 'Think upon these things.' Bridle your thoughts and imagination. He knows our weakness; he gives us grace to carry out His commands. Think on them, because thought molds character and character determines our destiny.

II. "These things do — these things that ye have both heard and seen in me." Christ always preaches by example in his own life. 'Blessed is the servant that hears and does.'

"And the God of peace shall be with you.' And that is the crown of all blessings. 'I will dwell among you and ye shall be my people.' With you amid the trials and temptations of life, with you when the sun of prosperity and success shines, with you as Jesus was with his disciples, with you to give you the victory in the end. The God of Grace, the Father of the universe has promised it.

"You go out from this institution with stores of learning. The world expects much of you. It is the most critical period of your life. You go back to the old home to take your place in the world. There are grave questions—grave problems coming up before you to solve, temptation will come, flatterers will fawn. But may you be strong, true to your mission in the world. May you have the strength of Him who died for us, the peace of God which passeth all understanding."

A MOUNTAIN SCHOOL.

MR. EDITOR:—Will you kindly allow me space in your valuable columns for a short notice of the Ochlawaha Home School?

It seems that this excellent institution should be known to all Presbyterians in this and adjoining States, who are looking for a good, reasonable place at which to educate their daughters. The commencement of Tuesday night was a most gratifying surprise to the friends and patrons of the institution. Not but that we expected thoroughness from Miss Sample and her excellent teachers, but the progress made by the pupils in this past year was truly astonishing. The elocution, music and essays compared favorably with much older institutions than the Ochlawaha Home School. Although the exercises showed that much time and care had been devoted to them, I was told that not a single lesson had been omitted, nor one duty neglected in their preparation. Apart from the thorough course of study I would especially commend the moral tone of this institution, as cared for by Rev. Mr. Sample and his estimable wife. Also the advantages of of climate. The atmosphere is a perfect tonic, delightful water and grand scenery. The reasonable terms secure these advantages for almost every one who can afford to go to school at all, and parents may feel assured that in this place their children will be cared for mentally, morally and physically. Those wishing other information can obtain it by writing to Rev. E. A. Sample, Hendersonville, N. C.

LILA RIPLEY BARNWELL.

June 3rd, 1897.

HOW WESLEY SPOILED HIS SERMON.

There is a capital story about a farmer who once went to hear John Wesley preach. He was a man who cared little about religion; yet, on the other hand, he was not what we call a bad man. His attention was soon excited and riveted. The preacher said he would take up three topics of thought; he was talking chiefly about money.

His first head was, "Get all you can." The farmer nudged his neighbor, and said, "This is strange preaching. I never heard the like before; this is very good. That man has got something in him; it is admirable preaching."

Wesley discoursed on industry, activity, living to a purpose, and reached his second division, "Take all you can." The farmer became quite excited: "Was there ever anything like this?" he said.

The preacher denounced thriftlessness and waste; he satirized the willful wickedness which revelled in luxury, and the farmer rubbed his hands as he thought, "All this have I been taught from my youth up." And what with getting and hoarding, it seemed to him that "salvation had come to his house.

But Wesley advanced to his third head, which was, "Give all you can." "O dear! O dear!" said the farmer, "he has gone and spoiled it all."

There are many people to-day who are standiug exactly where that poor farmer stood. They assent to religion until it begins to pull at their purse-strings, and then they have no more use for it.—Ex.

PRIVATE PRAYER.

Let me therefore, oh Christians, persuade you to a more constant and zealous performance of secret duties, for this is certainly one of the most infallible marks of a sincere heart that can be given.

That Christian cannot be a hypocrite that is but careful to keep up a vigorous and lively communion with God in secret; whereas let thy duties else be what they will, never so many and never so gaudy, if they be only performed in the view and sight of others, and thou art not frequent in adressing thyself to God in secret, let me tell thee it is very possible, yea, and very suspicious, too, that thou art but a painted hypocrite, a mere gilded professor, that outwardly lookest smooth and shining, but inwardly art full of nothing but corruption and purulency.

Go home, therefore, oh Christian, enter into thy closet, and there, where none but thou and thy God are together, unlock thy heart and pour out thy soul before Him. What, hast thou no sins to confess, no wants to be supplied, no mercies to beg, no complaints to make, no tears to shed, but what it is fit others should be privy to?

Certainly if thou hast not, it is a sign that thou art but too much a stranger at home, and very little conversant with thine own soul.

However do it that thou mayest glorify God, for He is thy Father which seeth in secret, and thou canst by no way more honor this Omniscence than by thus acknowledging that He sees and hears thee when there is no one else to see and hear thee.—Bishop Ezekiel Hopkins.

I CURE FITS

When I say I cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again. I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Postoffice address.

Prof. W. H. PEEKE, F. D., 4 Cedar St., New York

STATESVILLE
FEMALE COLLEGE.

JOHN B. BURWELL, President,
STATESVILLE, N. C.

The next session of above Institution will commence on Wednesday, the 8th of September, 1897, and close the 1st of June, 1898.

Board, including furnished room, heat and lights, with Tuition in all English Branches and Latin for entire School Year, $112.00.

Instruction given in all branches usually taught in first-class schools for young ladies, and by experienced and accomplished teachers. The President has been for thirty five years engaged in female education in North Carolina, and will spare no pains to maintain high grade scholarship and give thorough instruction in all departments.

Correspondence solicited.

For illustrated circular and catalogue address J. B. BURWELL, Statesville, N. C.

MONEY TO LOAN.

on Eight Years Time, secured by Mortgage on Real Estate. Monthly payment, savings investment stock for sale, also FULL PAID COUPON STOCK, with semi-annual cash dividends. Loans made promptly in any part of the State. Agents wanted. Address,

Mechanics and Investors Union
22 Pullen Building, Raleigh, N. C.

PEACE INSTITUTE FOR YOUNG LADIES, RALEIGH, N. C.

This Institute offers thorough collegiate courses in English, History, Literatu Mathematics, Sciences, Ancient and Modern Languages, Music, Art, Elocution a Physical Culture.

As to its high standard for graduation, its thoroughness of instruction, its mod erate charges for the advantages offered, and the extent of its courses in Art an Music, this Institute cannot be surpassed.

It offers also thorough preparatory courses. Correspondence solicited.

Board and English Tuition One Year $200.

For illustrated catalogue and full particulars, address the Principal,
JAS. DINWIDDIE, M. A., University of Virginia.

Term begins Sept. 16th, 1896. Closes first of June.

The Normal & Collegiate Institute

For Young Women.

ASHEVILLE, N. C. SPRING TERM OPENING FEB. 1st. 1897

OFFERS TO THE STUDENTS:

1. A Classical Course, including Ancient and Modern Languages, Science, Music, Drawing, etc.
2. A Normal Course for the thorough training of Teachers under instructors from the best Normal Schools.
3. Commercial Course, including Stenography. Type-writing, Book-keeping, etc.
4. Domestic Science, including Scientific Cooking, Draughting, Cutting, Fitting and Making of garments.

Systematic study of the Bible in all departments.

Terms for Board and Tuition in any of the departments, $50 per term, or half school year.

☞ For catalogue, address

REV. THOS. LAWRENCE, D. D
ASHEVILLE, N. C.

Cluster Springs High School

(On Lynchburg and Durham R. R., six miles from N. C. line)

BLACK WALNUT, VIRGINIA.

For boys and young men. A well equipped high school at a most pleasant, accessible, and healthful location. Lithia, sulphur, iron, and pure waters. Good buildings and improved school equipments. Swimming Pool, Gymnasium, and Athletic Field. Special attention to manners and development of character. Thorough instruction. Three teachers. Prepares for college or for business Our certificates admit to college. Tuition and home $—— Our catalogue tell. all about it. Address,

REV. T. S. WILSON, President,
or E. L. BARNES, A. B., Principal

A. D. BROWN,

Successor to Brown & Roddick,

29 NORTH FRONT STREET, WILMINGTON, N. C.

IMPORTER OF FINE

DRY GOODS AND CARPETS,

ORIENTAL AND DOMESTIC RUGS,

"WARNER'S CORSETS," "HER MAJESTY'S CORSETS,"

"THOMPSON'S GLOVE FITTING CORSETS," "R & G" AND "FERRIS" CORSETS.

"FOSTER' KID GLOVES, "KAYSER" SILK GLOVES.

"HUDNUT'S" EXQUISITE TOILET REQUISITES.

Mail Orders Given Special Attention.

Sabbath School Dep't.

CONDUCTED BY REV. A. D. McCLURE.

Second Quarter—Lesson XIII.

June 27, 1897.—Review of the Quarter.

Golden Text. "This Gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations." Matt. xxiv: 14.

CATECHISM.

Question 45. What is required in the first commandment?

Answer. The first commandment requireth us to know and acknowledge God to be the only true God, and our God, and to worship and glorify Him accordingly.

NOTES.

The review study for the week preceding the last Sabbath of the Quarter can be made of great value to teachers and officers and should be urged upon the scholars by dividing the whole of the lessons into six parts and securing the daily reading of these parts in the six days of the week. If the subjects and Golden Texts have been memorized during the quarter these may be repeated in class on review Sabbath. The memory verses will be helpful here. Little more than the recital of these and review of the catechism questions can be done in class. At home a short time spent each day will show how much and how important has been the material included or involved in the studies of the Quarter. If not already systematically and conscientiously begun, it is time and of great importance to urge that, with the opening of the new Quarter at family prayer or in personal readings given in our lesson helps should be used. These helps are very excellent. The history contained in the book of Acts up to and including the chapters of this Quarter cover a period of twenty years from A. D. 30 to A. D. 50. These are the most important years in the history of the Christian Church and in the history of the world, being founded upon the most important fact of history, the crucifixion of Christ and rising out of the grave of His resurrection which brought light and immortality to light through the Gospel. The second quarter covers a period of about thirteen years from A. D., 37 to A. D. 50.

Throughout this period the central forces of the Jewish Christian Church remained at Jerusalem and important questions affecting the welfare of the entire Church were taken up to Jerusalem and discussed and its decrees were sent down with authority to all the churches. The council at Jerusalem as described in the fifteenth chapter is a notable example of this fact. But Antioch in Syria became the focus of the Gentile Church. These two foci held all the points and parts of the ellipse in harmonious relation to each other.

From these points Christianity spread rapidly over all Palestine. It reached to the northeast as far as to Damascus. To the west and southwest it reached the Philistine countries on the shore of the Mediterranean. It sailed with Paul and Barnabas to Cyprus. It reached Crete and the parts of Eastern Asia Minor.

The lessons of this second quarter have been taken from the Acts, the Epistles to the Romans and Timothy and the General Epistle of James, as the authors of subjects of these arose in relation the to persons prominent in the history.

A profitable and pleasing exercise of the teacher might be to take the names that are prominent in the lesson and state what they did or received in the record. It might help to ask and consider how much the Church would be without if the experiences of these persons had not been given as here. It would help to consider what assistance these persons were to each other. A notable example is that of Barnabas as helper to Paul, seeking him, introducing him to the other brethren and being his companion for so long. Then the infirmities of each could be noted with the marks of God's grace in overcoming these infirmities and using these persons for great blessing to others in spite of the infirmities. The number of women and their love for Christ and their service to Him as ministering to the saints furnishes a study sweet and surprising.

The events from letting Paul down by a basket out of Damascus that he might escape and hide, to the conference and council at Jerusalem where he appeared as the apostle to the Gentiles, would include scenes of hardship and endurance and patience and triumph through faith.

PRACTICAL POINTS.

Three different series of centers could be considered.

1. The persons one by one.
2. The places of importance.
3. The events critical and decisive.

Around these cluster various truths and forces of the history. By means of these a good general knowledge of the history could be secured.

Officers, teachers, scholars, may we not take time and give attention to these things?

Fayetteville Military Academy has issued an attractive catalogue. This is a select home school for boys and bears many endorsements from those who have patronized the same. Col. T. J. Drury, C. E., Principal.

Agnes Scott Institute with a faculty of twenty-one teachers and nine lecturers offers every advantage for the education of girls and young ladies. The eighth annual catalogue has been received and we note the attendance of 85 boarding and 145 day pupils.

The catalogue for 1896-'97, of Davidson College is exceedingly attractive. The buildings and grounds please the eye and the full and well arranged contents bespeak thorough training and an excellent course of study. The total number in attendance last session was 154, of which 110 were from North Carolina; neighboring States, California, Brazil and Persia sending the remainder. The faculty is composed of our most representative instructors.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

Lesson for week ending Sunday, June 27th, 1897.

Patience: How to get it and why. James 5: 7-20.

Text for the week:

The example of our Saviour: Who when He was reviled, reviled not again; when He suffered He threatened not; but committed His cause to Him who judgeth righteously. 2 Peter 2: 23.

Monday, Wait Patiently, Ps. 37; 1-11.
Tuesday, Patience Rewarded. Ps. 40: 1-10.
Wednesday, Royal Patience, 1 Samuel 10 20-27.
Thursday, Divine Patience, Matt. 27: 11-14, 27-31.
Friday, Need of Patience, Heb. 10: 32-39
Saturday, Patience and Pride, Eccl. 7: 5-14.
Sunday, Topic, How to get Patience and Why. James 5: 7-20.

Suggestions:

PATIENCE involves

HUMILITY—God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble, and MEEKNESS which unmurmuringly submits to the will of God, by reason of that

FAITH which begets absolutely trustfulness in the promises, and which worketh by

LOVE. The love that links the heart in fondest affection to the Father. When these abound Patience will have her perfect work, and he who is exercised thereby shall be perfect and entire, wanting nothing.

Patience is not stoicism—which is an indifferent, and may be a despairful passiveness; nor is it temperance, (self-mastery,) which although a fruit of the Spirit may not call patience fully into exercise; nor endurance for we may bear stubbornly and yet impatiently; it is not even resignation, which may be a resigning of our will, with more or less reluctance, under the stress of insuperable difficulties, and which has regard to the greater ills of life, but takes not in the petty vexations and annoyances which disturb the spirit. Patience is willing, cheerful, loving submission amid the trials of life, either great or small, to God's most holy will; the peaceful waiting upon Him; the laying one's heart upon the heart of God in loving rest. It is not a natural gift, but a spiritual grace; not earth-born, but heaven derived.

This is the will of God, even your sanctification and patience is a potent factor in the process, as indeed we should regard it as the fertile soil in which faith and love do grow. Amid the various ills of life we have need of patience, the Apostle tells us, that after we have done the will of God we shall receive the promise. The question then is answered why we should get patience.

And now, how shall we get it? Tribulation worketh patience. The trial of faith worketh patience. In these the Holy Spirit tells us whence this grace is derived and the process by which it is evolved. Born of tribulation and nurtured and strengthened by the trial of faith. This is God's work, it is ours to co-work with Him in the use of the means of grace, which are always at our hands, and especially by calling in, through prayer, the enabling power of the Holy Spirit to glad and ready self-surrender to His will.

OPEN DOOR NOTES.

We feel it our duty to warn any Societies of Young People that may wish to send delegates to the approaching National meeting of Societies in San Francisco, and to notify any sessions that may be called upon to act in the matter, that Rev. William Roder, Chairman of the Committee on Pulpit Supply is utterly unworthy of confidence because of doctrinal unsoundness. Mr. Roder will occupy the most important position, of arranging for the speakers on the occasion, and doubtless will put forward those who are in accord with himself in the denial of plenary inspiration of the Scriptures.

We glean from the Greensboro Presbyterian that "the Christian Endeavor Society has great reason to be grateful to God for the grace bestowed upon it. The reports for May of the ten committees into which the Society is divided for active service were read at the business meeting last Sunday night. They showed as a whole, we believe, more faithful work for Christ than the reports of any previous month since the Society was organized three years ago."

Rev. W. H. White writes that the Westminster Leagues of Marion and Siloam churches are in a flourishing condition. The former has a membership of forty and the latter twenty-five.

The C. E. Society of the Second church, Charlotte, has been changed into a Westminster League.

The C. E. Society of the Flemington Presbyterian church, McIntosh, Ga., recently celebrated its sixth anniversary by appropriate and interesting services. Rev. C. C. Carson is pastor of this church.

The two principal meeting places at the San Francisco Convention will be Woodward's Pavilion, capable of seating about 6,000 persons, and Mechanics' Pavilion, at a distance of about ten minutes' walk. The State headquarters will be at Mechanics' Pavilion. Within it will be constructed a hall seating from 7,500 to 10,000 and surrounded by soundproof partitions. More than three fifths of the $25,000 needed for the convention will be contributed by the business men of San Francisco.

A Chance to Make Money.

I have berries, grapes and peaches, a year old fresh as when picked. I use the California Cold Process, do not heat or seal the fruit, just put it up cold, keeps perfectly fresh, and costs almost nothing; can put up a bushel in ten minutes. Last year I sold directions to over 120 families in one week; anyone will pay a dollar for directions when they see the beautiful samples of fruit. As there are many people poor like myself, I consider it my duty to give my experience to such, and feel confident anyone can make one or two hundred dollars round home in a few days. I will mail you sample of fruit and complete directions to any of your readers for eighteen two-cent stamps, which is only the actual cost of the samples, postage etc. I am going to begin work at once to catch the spring trade.

FRANCIS CASEY, St. Louis, Mo.

PUZZLE DEPARTMENT.

ANSWERS FOR JUNE 3RD.

Esarhaddon—Maggie Hall.

The silver is mine and the gold is mine saith the Lord of hosts. Haggai 2: 8—Maggie Hall.

We find the command, Thou shalt not plough with an ox and an ass hitched together in Deut. 22: 10—Maggie Hall, Katie Patterson, Cornie and Myrtle Wilkinson.

How often is the name of Abel perpetuated, by being applied to localities in Palestine? X. X. X.

The initials form the name of a famous Publication:

1st. A Hittite, in David's army.
2nd. A man or woman, vowing to abstain from wine, or strong drink.
3d. An aromatic plant.
4th. Called into being the first day of creation.
5th. The most beautiful woman in Persia.
6th. A mountain in Galilee.
7th. A tree, the emblem of Peace.
8th. Illustrious prophet and lawgiver.
9th. First king of Israel.
10th. An evergreen tree.
11th. A curse, a ban.
12th. A great city containing one of the seven wonders of the world.
13th. Costly substance used in decorating palaces.
14th. A region East of Eden.

L. R.

MARRIED.

☞ No notice of a marriage or death will be inserted unless accompanied by a responsible name, which is wanted not for publication but as a guaranty of good faith.

TURNER—MURRAY.—On Wednesday night 9th, in Cross Roads church, by Rev. R. W. Culbertson, Mr. A. M. Turner and Miss Berta Murray.

DIED.

☞ We publish free 10 lines of Obituary Notices, of any kind—Tributes of Respect, Resolutions of Sabbath-schools, Ladies' Societies, &c. And we charge for over 10 lines at the rate of 10 cents per line. The cost may be calculated by counting the words in the manuscript, and allowing seven words to the line.

FLENNIKEN.—Mrs. Peggy Flenniken, at the home of her son-in-law, Mr. Alex. Kirkpatrick, on June 2nd, 1897, aged eighty-three years. For many years a member of Sharon church.

DANIEL.—At his father's in Granville county, near Oxford, on the 4th day of June, Samuel Edward Daniel, being twenty-six years, three months and thirteen days old. He was the son of T. B. and Martha Daniel, which is good evidence of his being a man of pure character. He was a victim of that dreaded disease consumption; and notwithstanding his family and many friends had seen for some time his declining health and feebleness, they were so much devoted to him, they had hoped that he might have been spared to his father and mother as a stay and comfort in their declining age. Many were the earnest, heartfelt and united prayers offered up for his recovery.

Sam had never been married and had always lived with his parents except when off at school and one year in the eastern part of the State. He loved home, and his goodness, good judgment and considerate kindness must have necessarily won the partiality of the family. But he was not only a favorite at home, but wherever he was known he was respected and honored for his many good qualities. He was honest, honorable, truthful, high-toned and in every sense a gentleman. It is an honor to have such a man in a neighborhood and it is a misfortune to a community to lose such an one. But his Christian virtues were more—though modestly—displayed. He had obtained a hope when only eleven years old, but did not connect himself with the church until several years afterwards. He hated hypocrisy and deceit and wanted to be fully satisfied that he had been "born again" before he went forward and publicly took these sacred vows, and his after life showed he was not mistaken. He joined the Presbyterian church at Geneva and was a useful member. He always led in singing in church and Sunday-school worship as long as he was able, in which he was well gifted. He had naturally a good voice, much improved by cultivation, and a very thorough knowledge of music. He used this gift in singing praises to God and giving instruction to others. He was conscious of his condition up to death and expressed a willingness to die and had no fears beyond the grave.

While we extend our sympathy and condolence to the family, we have abundant evidence it is well with him. "He is not dead but he is alive."

A NEIGHBOR AND FRIEND.

---

*MY BIRD.

BY BISHOP O. P. FITZGERALD.

She was exquisitely beautiful. The paly-gold hair was like an aureole around the little face, whose features were as delicate as an artist's dream, blending the rose leaf and the lily. Her eyes shone like jewels that flashed in new lights with every shade of feeling that passed over her face. The little willowy form can only be described by using again the one word that fits it: it was exquisite. She was the pet of the neighborhood. The rudest boy spoke to her or of her in a gentler tone. The brawny workmen with their hods or hammers paused in their work and their faces and their speech softened when they saw her. In her own home she was its sunshine and its music. When I looked at her I thought of that passage in the fifteenth chapter of the First Epistle to the Corinthians in which the glory of bodies celestial and bodies terrestrial is spoken of. She had the glory of both—if that were possible this side of the resurrection. She knew I loved her. The insight of children is quick and clear in this matter of affection. She wound her little self more and more closely around my heart from week to week.

Between her and me there was a pleasant little fiction and a piece of acting that we both enjoyed, and that never lost its zest for either of us. One day I called her my bird, and it pleased her. She was my bird from that time on—one day she was my red bird, another she was my blue bird, and again she was my snow bird, according to the color of her dress. "Where is my bird?" I would say as the little feet came pattering into my study, a look of expectancy on the shy little face. After the pretense of a search for her, "Why, here is my bird" I would exclaim, gathering her in my arms, her whole being radiant with childish joy. As I pen these lines, I seem to hear the patter of those little feet, and there is a mist on the page. My little bird is classified now—she is a bird of paradise. Just before midnight on the fourth day of June she winged her flight to the skies.

There was a secret between her faithful little heart and mine, a secret all our own. "Give me a Christmas present," I said to her one day, taking a kiss from the little lips which she presented with a half-averted look yet smiling face that was at once so coy and so charming. "That is my Christmas present, and I mean to keep it; don't tell anybody, it is our secret," I said. In the ingenuousness of her childish heart she took me at my word. From time to time she would tell me that she had never told it. Dear little heart, your secret is a jewel locked in among the treasures of memory never to be lost. Be my Christmases to come many or few, the image of this child will not fade. She now knows the secret of the skies, the mystery of all mysteries, up yonder where glorified spirits see no longer through a glass darkly, but face to face.

The little casket was covered with flowers on the bright Sabbath morning when the words of the loving, pitying Christ were read and the music of holy song was sung in the chamber where the sunshiny head lay in its unbroken sleep. And we had thoughts concerning the ministry of little children who are thus early called home that will make us better men and better women. The brief ministry of these earth-angels is intended by our heavenly Father to make our lives holier down here, and our heaven sweeter up yonder.

Nashville, Tenn., June 6th, 1897.

---

*The subject of this sketch that has flowed out of my heart is little Alice Towles, daughter of the late James M. and Alice Towles. She was born in Raleigh, N. C., May 20th, 1892, and died in Nashville, Tenn., June 4th, 1897. She was the niece of the Rev. D. C. Rankin, editor of the Missionary periodicals of the Southern Presbyterian Church, and a member of his family.

The Seashore Hotel on Wrightsville beach, a few feet from the ocean surf is now fully appointed and ready to give all that may come the choicest entertainment. Quite a number of guests have arrived, but there is room for very many more. The grand opening took place on Tuesday night.

A correspondent writes us: Rev. Chas. H. Dobbs, Jr., who was married May 26th at McDowell, Va., to Miss Hattie McNulty has returned with his bride and was given a delightful reception at Judge Jas. D. McIver's residence by his congregation, Tuesday evening the 9th inst. Mrs. Dobbs is highly accomplished, amiable in person, gentle and attractive in disposition, and the verdict of our people is that our pastor has found a helpmeet indeed. Mr. Dobbs has already won the love and esteem of the people of Carthage, and we feel that God has great blessings in store for our church. The congregation has purchased a lot on which they are preparing material to build a manse.

WILMINGTON MARKET.
FOR
WEEK ENDING JUNE 17, 1897.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE: Steady at 25½ cents for machine casks and 24½ cents for country casks until Monday when price fell to 25 cents and 24½ cents respectively.

ROSIN: Strained $1.25 and Good Strained $1.30 throughout—closing firm.

CRUDE TURPENTINE: Hard $1.30, Yellow Dip $1.80 and Virgin $1.90—steady throughout.

TAR: $1.00 per barrel throughout—closing firm.

TIMBER: Market bare. Hear of no change in prices.

Five hundred fishermen recently lost their lives off the coast of China. The storm swept over the entire Chusan Archipelago. The suddenness of the storm prevented any aid being rendered.

CINCINNATI BELL FOUNDRY & CHIMING CO. CINCINNATI, OHIO. SOLE MAKERS OF THE BLYMYER BELLS FOR CHURCH SCHOOL FIRE ALARM &C. Catalogue with 2500 testimonials, Prices and Terms FREE.
Mention this paper.

NEW BOOKS
FOR THE
Sunday-School Library.

We desire to call attention to the following list of new library books recently issued from our press. They are all handsomely bound in cloth, and should have a place in every Sunday-school library. To those taking the entire list at one time we will make a special discount of 40 per cent. Discount of 33⅓ per cent on any of our own books.

By Mrs. M. E. Ireland:
The Siberian Exile. 122 pages, ... $ 60
The Shepherd's Family. Translated from the German. 112 pages, ... 60
Adolph's Victories. 314 pages, ... 1 00
Christian Beck's Grandson. 222 pages. 1 00
In Fair Silesia. Translated from the German. 156 pages, ... 60
School on Lunedurg Heath. Translated from the German. 148 pages, 60
Driven Out. Translated from the German. 156 pages, ... 1 00
By Miss Annie M. Barnes:
Ninito: A Story of the Bible in Mexico. 214 pages, ... 90
How Ah-chon-ho-ah Found the Light. 256 pages, ... 1 35
Izilda: A Story of Brazil 195 pages. 1 00
By Elizabeth Olmis (author of Jack's Hymn):
Over at Little Acorns. 384 pages, ... 1 35
By Fannie Alricks Shugert:
Ezekiel of Bethlehem. 281 pages, ... 1 00
By Rev. H. C. DuBose, D. D.:
Memoirs of John Leighton Wilson, Missionary to Africa, and Secretary of Foreign Missions. 330 pages, ... 1 50
By Mrs. E. H. Amis:
Camping on the Blue Ridge. 106 pages, ... 60
By Rev. J. M. Chancy, D. D.:
William the Baptist. Cloth, 60 cts.; paper, ... 35
Agnes, Daughter of William the Baptist, ... 75
By Mrs. Mary M. Anderson Hawkins:
Jack Payton and his Friends, ... 75

On miscellaneous Sabbath-school books selected from the lists of other publishers we will give a discount of 30 per cent. And we call attention to our Select Catalogue of miscellaneous books, in which will be found titles and description of more than nine hundred books, all of which have been carefully examined by competent persons, and none will be found in the list not suitable in every respect for our Sabbath-school libraries.

We will make careful selection of libraries if desired from our stock, or will send to any order one-fourth more books than may be needed, with the privilege of returning any that are not wanted.

Also, Sabbath-school Supplies, Class-Books, Records, etc., on the best terms.

If sent by mail, postage will be additional. Express to be paid by purchaser. Address

Presbyterian Committee of Publication,
JAS. K. HAZEN, Sec'y and Treas.,
Richmond, Va.

FOR THE FAMILY.

THE LOVE OF GOD.

Like a cradle rocking, rocking,
Silent, peaceful, to and fro,
Like a mother's sweet looks dropping
On the little face below,
Hangs the green earth, swinging, turning
Jarless, noiseless, safe and slow;
Falls the light of God's face bending
Down, and watching us below.

And as feeble babes that suffer,
Toss and cry, and will not rest,
Are the ones the mother
Holds the closet, loves the best
So when we are weak and wretched,
By our sins weighed down, distressed,
Then it is that God's great patience
Holds us closest, loves us best.

O great heart of God! whose loving
Cannot hinder be not crossed;
Will not weary, will not even
In our death itself be lost—
Love divine! of such great loving
Only mothers know the cost—
Cost of love which, all love passing,
Gave a Son to save the lost.

—Saze Home.

NAGGING.

The dictionary will tell you that nagging means "petty teasing," but the fault, habit, or whatever you choose to call it, if persisted in, quickly grows beyond the bounds of pettiness, assuming alarming proportions that will undermine the firmest foundations of happy homes.

Every good housekeeper loves order, and untidiness in others often stirs up her indignation. Instead of administering her reproof for any slip of orderliness and having done with it, she severely reprimands the offender, then applies the caustic of constant reminder to the wound already made by her sharp tongue.

It is small wonder that when a man goes home tired and hungry and is met at the door with such a greeting as "Scrape your feet before you come in," "Do hang up your coat," "Gracious alive, how you smell of smoke," that the husbands and sons are glad to spend the evening anywhere else than at home.

Neither are the lords of creation altogether free from the sandpaper scolding. If, in the press of household duties, the wife or mother happens to spoil the bread or burn the meat, just once, be sure that these creatures that are just one degree lower than the angels will not forget to remind her of it for weeks to come.

A nagging man or woman in the home is like a hedgehog, pricking and wounding all they come in contact with, poisoning the sweet home life, eating like a canker into the peace and happiness of the family, and tainting what it cannot consume.—Christian Guide.

A LOVING WIFE.

Once, in June, as we sailed along the historic Hudson, a friend pointed out the old home of Audubon' our great naturalist. "His wife was a good, sweet woman," she said, "but when she began to find him out, she found he would wander off a thousand miles in quest of a bird. She said 'Amen,' and went along with him, camping in the woods, living in huts or shanties on the frontier, anywhere to be with him. In her heart she said, as did Jane Eyre of her beloved Rochester, 'to be with him was as quiet as solitude, as gay as company.' She entered into his enthusiasm, shared his labor, and counted all things but loss for the excellency of the glory of being Audubon's wife. When children began to come, they could not wander off together, but he could not go into a valley so deep nor distant that her light would not shine on him from their windows. He knew where he would find her and how she would look, for while, as Ruskin reminds us, the clouds are never twice alike, sunshine is always familiar, and it was sunshine he saw when he looked homeward. If you read his notes you will recall how his heart breaks forth into singing in all sorts of unexpected places, as he thinks of his wife and children waiting for his return. In that way they lived their life until they dropped into the lap of God, like mellow apples."—The Housekeeper.

Nothing is too sacred to be profaned when men are under the influence of wine.

When the appetite fails there is no use in trying to tempt the palate with delicate food. No matter how good and well-cooked and "appetizing" the food may be, it cannot give any nourishment unless the stomach is able to digest it. Nature indicates the state of the constitution by the loss of appetite. This is an unfailing indicator. It shows that something is fundamentally wrong with the nutritive functions.

The only true natural relief must be as searching and fundamental as the trouble it aims to overcome. It is the thorough deep-searching character of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which causes the marvelous efficacy in all bilious and digestive difficulties. It creates that healthful vitality of the entire digestive and nutritive organism which produces both the natural desire for food and the organic capacity to assimilate and transform it into nourishing, revivifying blood and healthy tissue. It gives appetite, digestion and sound sleep, and builds up solid muscular strength and vital nerve-energy.

H. H. Thompson, Esq., of P. O. Box 4, Kipple, Blair Co., Penn'a, writes: "I had been troubled with extreme vomiting in summer season, always after eating; had to be very careful at times to get anything to stay on my stomach at all; had been taking other medicines, but without effect. I heard a friend speak of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and thought I would give it a trial. I used about five bottles of it and think it is the only medicine that did me any good, as I have a splendid appetite now, and am not using any medicine at all and don't think I need any more."

A man who is suffering from the evil effects of constipation doesn't feel like work, and can't even enjoy his leisure hours. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a sure, swift, safe, and permanent cure for constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. Dishonest druggists try to get you to take a substitute for the sake of the added profit

SCHEDULE ON WILMINGTON

SEACOAST, R. R.

On and after June 1st trains will run as follows: Daily Except Sunday.

Leave Wilmington at 6.30 a m., 10.10 a. m., 2.30 p. m., 5.10 p. m., 7.15 p. m.

Leave Ocean View 7.30 a. m., 11.30 a. m., 4.00 p. m., 6.15 p. m., 10.00 p. m.

Ice and Marketing on 6.30 a. m., train. Freight will be received until 9.40 a. m., for 10.10 train; until 4.30 p. m., for 5.10 train.

R. OSCAR GRANT,
Superintendent.

A Beautiful,
Fitting,
and Enduring
Memento

For Personal Possession and Study

Is Found in the

New Holy Land Art Portfolios

ENTITLED

Palestine Photographed.

Every Student of the Bible,

Every Student of History,

Every Lover of Art

Should Have It.

This desirable book comprises 64 beautiful engravings from views taken in 1894. Each scene is accurately and eloquently described by two distinguished divines, Bishop Vincent and Dr. Lee. The work should find a place in every Christian home.

Any paid up subscriber to the PRESBYTERIAN can obtain this book upon remitting 25 cents.

Good Goods--Low Prices,

Flour, Meat, Sugar, Salt, Meal, Molasses, Coffee, Peanuts, Cheese, Crackers, Snuff, Tobacco.

Consignments of Cotton, Naval Stores and all Country Produce will receive careful attention.

Hall & Pearsall,

Wholesale Grocers & Com. Merchant
Corner Nutt and Mulberry Sts.

PREMIUMS.

No. 1. For 21 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Hunting case, jointed front and back 18 size and guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $20.00.

No. 2. For 16 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Open face, 18 size, 14 karat filled case, screw back and bezel, guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $15.00.

No. 3. For 17 new subscribers at 1.50 for first year, we will give a Ladies' Gold Watch Hunting case, 6 size, stem winder, 14 karat, filled case, screw beze—guaranteed 20 years—retails at $16.00

No. 4. For12 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give a Gents' Silver Watch: 18 size, plain case, open face—retails at $12.50.

No. 5. For 10 new subscribers a Ladies' Silver Watch, O size, plain case, open face—retails for $10.00.

No. 6. For 8 new subscribers, we will give a Nickel Watch, 18 size, screw bezel—retails for $7.00.

No. 7. For 7 new subscribers, we will give solid silver teaspoons—retails for $6.00.

No. 8. For 4 new subscribers, a sugar spoon, sterling gilt engraved—retails at $3.00.

The articles will all be first-class from a jeweller of established reputation.

New subscribers means not change of address to some one else—that would be fraud—but bona fide new subscribers.

For $1.75 we will send the paper for the first year to a new subscriber and a copy of Palestine Photographed. This album contains 64 actual photographic reproductions of picturesque and historical places in the Holy Land on enameled pages, and is a thing of beauty. The descriptive foot notes are good and enhance the interest.

We regard this as a specially desirable premium.

To any one paying up or renewing their subscription and sending $2.25 we will send this album as apremium

W., N. & N. RAILWAY.

In Effect Sunday, Oct, 27, 1895.

DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY.

NORTH BOUND.		STATIONS.	SOUTH BOUND.
8			7
P. M.		— WILMINGTON —	P. M.
2	00	Lv Mulberry St. Ar	12	40
3	58	Lv Jacksonville Lv	10	42
4	30	Lv..Mayesville..Lv	10	09
4	44	Lv Pollocksville Lv	9	55
5	20	Ar..Newbern..Lv	9	20
P. M.			A. M.

Trains 8 and 7 p m make connection with trains on A & N C R R for Morehead City and Beaufort.

Connection with Steamer Neuse at Newbern to and from Elizabeth City and Norfolk Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Steamer Geo D Purdy makes daily trips between Jacksonville and New River points.

H. A. WHITING,
General Manager.

J. W. MARTENIS,
Traffic Manager.

CHILDREN'S COLUMN.

ALMOST A MAN.

I don't wear dresses any more—
See my coat and breeches,
Cuffs and collar; pockets, too,
Made with many stitches.
I must have a watch and chain,
A silk umbrella and a cane,
No more kilts and skirts for me,
I'm a big boy, don't you see?

You can give away my dresses,
And my other baby clothes,
Give away my horse with rockers,
I want one that really goes,
But two nice goats, I guess, will do,
And I want a carriage, too.
No more chairs hitched up for me,
I'm too big for that, you see!

I think I'll give my picture-books
To little Sister Mary;
I'll go to school and learn to read
In the big dictionary;
Or, may be in a g'ography,
Or 'rithmetic, or history;
They're just about the size for me,
For I'm a big boy, don't you see?

—Exchange.

FOR THINE IS THE POWER.

"I can't do it—it's quite impossible. I've tried five times, and I can't get it right," and Ben pushed his book and slate away in despair. Ben was a most ambitious boy; he wanted to be "head" in the school; for had not the minister already spoken about him and said such a boy ought to have a chance at college? But Ben worked at great disadvantage. His mother, though a good Christian woman, and a lady in the best sense of the word, had had very few advantages when a girl, and so could not help Ben; and the father who might have done so, had died, leaving his widow with three little children to support by her needle.

Mrs. Hartley gave a little sigh at her boy's perplexity, but only said quietly: "Then you don't believe in the Lord's Prayer?"

"The Lord's Prayer, mother? Why, there's nothing there to help me with this example."

"O, yes, there is help for every trouble in life in the Lord's prayer, if we only knew how to get at it. I'm afraid you don't yet know that prayer."

Ben flushed. If it had been anybody else that had said that, he would have been really vexed, but mother was different. Ben always tried to be sure he quite understood her, for he never for one instant forgot why her hands were never idle.

"Now, mother, you don't mean that. I've said that prayer ever since I was a baby! I couldn't go to bed or leave my room in the morning without saying it. I know I sometimes don't think enough of what I'm saying, but you know, mother, I do try to mean it—I—I—." But Ben stopped, his voice half choked.

The mother saw that her boy had misunderstood her. and answered quickly: "I never doubt, Ben, boy, that you are trying and praying; but I was trying a long time before I knew what the last part of the Lord's Prayer really meant. I am no minister or scholar, but I'll try and tell it to you. You know we ask God for bread, to be kept from evil, and to be forgiven, and then we say: 'For Thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory.' It's God's power we rely on--not our own; and it often helps me, Ben, when I have a difficult new pattern to fit. I say: 'For Thine is the power--this is my duty, Heavenly Father, give me Thy power, and He does, Ben, He does."

Ben sat silent. It seemed almost too familiar a prayer. When he had to stay from school because he had no clothes, he had asked God: and the minister's wife had brought him a suit the very next day. "But a boy's sums, mother!" he said.

"I think that sum is just as much to you as many a grander sounding thing to some one else. You say if you only get that right you'll be perfect for the month. Now I care a great deal about that, but I am quite sure your Heavenly Father loves you more than I do. I would help you so gladly, Ben, if I could, but He can help you; His is the power: ask Him."

There was another silence and then Mrs. Hartley said: "Now, Ben, I want you to run to the store for some sewing silk for me; the air will do you good. I believe, my son, that if you ask, you can do that sum when you come home."

Ben started at once; his mother's slightest wish was law to him. He ran along, enjoying the rest from study, and the cool fresh air. The sewing silk was bought, and Ben started home when he caught sight of Phil Earlie across the street. Ben gave the whistle boys so delight in, and Phil looked back and joined him.

"Done your lessons?"

"All but my sums."

"Did you try that fifteenth example?"

"Yes."

'Get it right?"

"No, not yet; but I will."

Phil gave a provoking little laugh. "You will? I guess not; I've done it, but I never could have found it out alone. I had help."

Ben's heart fairly ached for a moment with envy. It was always so; Phil had his uncle George, and other boys had big brothers or fathers to help them; only he was left quite alone. But just then he remembered his mother's words: "It's God's power we rely on—not our own." "I'll get help, too," he said to himself.

The boys chatted on, played leapfrog, and raced each other, but even as he raced and romped Ben felt changed. He had begun to believe in his Heavenly Father as never before, and was wonderfully happy.

After giving the silk to his mother, he picked up his slate and book and went up to his own little room. Kneeling by the bed he repeated the Lord's prayer, stopping at "Thine is the kingdom" and saying with all his heart; "And thine is the power, Heavenly Father. I want power, to understand this. There's no one to help me; please give me power."

Ben waited a moment, and then still on his knees, he took his slate and tried again. Do you ask if he succeeded? "If any man lack wisdom, let him ask of God, who giveth to all men liberally and upbraideth not." Ben had asked, and God answered. After a little earnest thought, he saw what rule he had neglected, and worked the example correctly. The next day he was "head;" for he was the only boy who had "done his sums without being helped."

"Yet I was helped, mother," he said; "and I shall never forget after this the last part of the Lord's Prayer."—Thornwell Haynes, in New York Observer.

DO YOU PRAY FOR THEM?

"How is it that you and the girl across the aisle are such friends now? She seemed such a disagreeable girl. I thought you disliked her?"

"Well," replied the sister, "I was scolding about her one day, to mamma, of course expecting her to sympathize with me; all she said was:

"'I think you would better try to pray for her.'

"I was very much ashamed, for, though I had kept everything smooth on the outside, being polite to her, you know, and lending her my things and keeping my side of the aisle clean, I was constantly in such a state of inward irritation that I had never even thought of doing so.

"So I tried it, and I assure you that it has made things different. In the first place, I am different myself. You cannot honestly pray for any one and dislike them at the same time. It seems so—well so sneaking, to ask God to help a person when you are not willing to help her yourself, if you have the opportunity.

"So I began by really trying to find something to like in her, and to do her kindnesses as if I meant them, instead of in the coldly considerate manner I discovered I had been using. Presently, I took genuine pleasure in it. She seems like another girl to me: I suppose I do to her."

God answers us according to His own wisdom, and oh! how much greater it is than ours. How little we understand the loving kindness of the Lord until we have been led by ways we know not into those of pleasantness and peace.—Exchange.

LETTER-BOX.

Dear Editor:—You were so kind to put my other letter in your good paper I thought I would write again. I have been going to school all the winter, but my school will close next Friday night. We are going to have a concert. I hope all will enjoy it as we have worked very hard. I have a little calf and a lot of little lambs. I have a sweet little sister named Sara She was baptized last Sunday at Laurel Hill church by our pastor, Rev. A. N. Ferguson.

I hope all the little boys and girls will enjoy their vacation as much as I hope to. I will close for fear my letter will be too long. With best wishes I am

Your little friend,
LILLIE MAIE MCMILLAN.
Fairly, N. C.

Dear Mr. Editor: This is my first letter to the PRESBYTERIAN. I am a little boy nine years old. We have no church here, but Mr. M. C. Arrowood preaches here once a month in the Methodist church. I go to Sunday-school every Sunday. I have three brothers and one little sister. I will close.

Your little friend,
CLARENCE L. BYRD.
Peachland, N. C.

UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

HAMPDEN-SIDNEY, VA.

FACULTY.

The Rev. Walter W. Moore, D.D. LL.D. McCormick Professor of the Hebrew Language and Literatre.

The Rev. Charles C. Hersman, D.D., LL. D., Henry Young Professor of Biblical Literature and Interpretation of the New Testament.

The Rev. Thos. Cary Johnson, D. D., Professor of Ecclesiastical History and Polity.

The Rev. Thos. R. English, D. D., Stuart Robinson Professor of the English Bible and Pastoral Theology.

The Rev. Givens B. Strickler, D. D., LL.D., Professor of Systematic Theology.

Walter L. Lingle, A. M., Tutor in Hebrew and Greek.

THE NEXT SESSION BEGINS WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 22D, 1897.

For catalogue or other information as to course of study, apply to Dr. English Clerk of Faculty, Hampden-Sidney, Va

For information as to rooms, &c., apply to W. L. Lingle, Intendant, Hampden-Sidney, Va.

Organized 1832. Assets, $650,000

Tested for Sixty Years.

Virginia Fire and Marine

Insurance Company, of Richmond.

This old Virginia institution issues a short and comprehensive Policy, free of petty restriction and liberal in its terms and conditions.

INSURES AGAINST FIRE and LIGHTNING

All descriptions of Property, in Country and Town—private or public—insured at fair rates, on accommodating terms.

AGENCIES IN EVERY TOWN AND COUNTY.

WM. H. PALMER, President.
W. H. McCARTHY, Secretary.
S. McG. FISHER, Ass't Sec'y.

SECULAR NEWS.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The Yadkin river will be utilized for power in Winston.

A hail and wind storm destroyed valuable property in the Southern Pines section.

Anson, Stanly, Montgomery and Richmond counties were recently visited by a severe hail and wind storm. Great damage was done to crops and property.

It is proposed to build an electric or compressed air motor line from Morganton to Blowing Rock, a distance of thirty miles.

The Woman's Exposition of the Carolinas has been most successful. The interest was great throughout and was perhaps at its height at the spelling-bee and auction on last Saturday evening.

A severe hail storm visited Wrightsville and vicinity on Saturday afternoon last. No damage done.

On Sunday the steamer "City of Key West" passed within full view of the residents of Wrightsville beach; an unusual sight.

Messrs. Taylor and Cargele will shortly establish a newspaper at Southport, N. C.

The wheat crop of Catawba is in fine condition and several will cut wheat next week. With a good season the harvest will be the best in several years.

The prospect for a splendid wheat crop in Burke was never finer.

Crops throughout Vance county are looking well. Farmers are better up with their work than usual, and the seasons have been favorable.

The State Medical Society in session at Morehead City elected Dr. Francis Duffy, of Newbern, President, Dr. E. C. Register, of Charlotte, first Vice-President, and Dr. K. P. Battle, Jr., member of the examining board. Charlotte was chosen as the place for the meeting next year.

DOMESTIC.

The wish of Chancellor Boggs of the University of Georgia to admit women has been thwarted by the trustees on the ground that they have no right to take the step without authority from the Legislature.

The Wilcox & White Organ Co., of Meriden, Conn., the largest organ manufactories in the country made an assignment last week.

We see it stated that Mr. Cleveland has decided to accept the degree of Doctor of Laws from Princeton University, at its commencement next Wednesday This will be the first collegiate degree Cleveland ever accepted from any college.

Prof. Alvin G Clark, the famous lens manufacturer, died at his home, Cambridge, Mass., on the 9th inst. His last and first completed work was the mammoth lenses of the Yerkes telescope.

Dr. J. L Goodknight president of the W. Virginia University and Dr. John A. Myers, director of the State experimental station have been removed. Their places will be filled temporarily by Prof. Robt. Armstrong and Dr. A. D. Hopkins. No other changes were made. Several chairs were created by the regents and were filled. Col. R. E. Fast, of Morgantown, gets the chair of history; Prof L. C. Woolery, of Drake University, Iowa, was elected to the chair of Greek; Prof. Frederick L. Emery, of Worcester, Mass., was elected professor of the chair of applied sciences; Prof. T. C. Atkeson, who had the chair of agriculture at the University for several years, was elected to his old position.

Kansas will produce over 40,000,000 bushels of wheat this year. From every section of the State the most flattering reports are received. Many fields are ready for harvest in the southern section, where the crop is six feet high.

The hull of the steamer Pewabic, which was sunk by the Meteor thirty-two years ago, was found on the 9th inst., off Alpena, Wisconsin, in 160 feet of water. The wreckers are trying to recover 267 tons of copper which constituted part of her cargo. This wreck's present value is about $60,000.

Augusta, Maine, celebrated its Centennial on the 9th inst. The city was elaborately decorated and public exercises of great interest were held, the president of the day being Hon. J. W. Bradbury who is 95 years of age.

FOREIGN.

Mr. Whitelaw Reid, the special Ambassador of the United States to the diamond jubilee has been received with marked honors by the Queen's representatives. The dinner given in his honor by Ambassador Hay was attended mostly by Americans.

On Sunday last an attempt was made to assassinate Felix Faure President of France. He was on his way to see the race for the Grand Prize of France. A bomb was exploded near his carriage. No one was injured. The perpetrator of the outrage escaped, but a supposed accomplice was arrested. The spot chosen was on the road through the Bois de Bolongne, just where a pistol was fired at President Faure on July 14th of last year. At the same place an attempt was made on the life of the Emperor of Russia in 1867.

England will collect the most powerful fleet the world has ever seen for the naval review at Spithead on June 26th. There will be gathered together 100 ships of war, including the channel squadron, the reserve squadron, and many ships that will be sent on foreign service as soon as the maneuvers are over.

Russel Porter, of Boston, is to lead an exploring party into Baffin Land this summer. The party will sail on Lieutenant Peary's vessel, stopping at Sydney for coal, as was done last year when Peary went north. From Sydney the vessel will make for the entrance to Hudson's bay. An ethnographic study is to be made of the Esquimaux, on Baffin Land, who are somewhat different from the tribes of Greehland, and who are rapidly changing their habits and customs, and seem to have a desire for being near civilization.

SEABOARD S.A.L. AIR LINE

VESTIBULED LIMITED TRAINS DOUBLE DAILY SERVICE

TO

ATLANTA, CHARLOTTE, ATHENS, WILMINGTON, NEW ORLEANS, CHATTANOOGA, AND NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA, WASHINGTON, NORFOLK, RICHMOND.

Schedule in Effect May 30th, 1897.

WESTWARD.

	No. 41.	No. 403
Lv Wilmington..	*3 20pm	.....
Lv Lumberton.	5 26pm	.....
Lv Maxton.....	6 12pm	.....
Lv Laurinburg..	6 37pm	.....
Ar Hamlet	6 53pm	.....
Lv Hamlet	7 13pm	*5 10 am
Lv Rockingham.	7 30pm	5 23 am
Lv Wadesboro...	8 11pm	5 54 am
Lv Marshville...	8 48pm	6 25 am
Ar Monroe	9 12pm	6 43 am
Lv Monroe.....	9 35pm	7 00 am
Ar Charlotte.....	10 25pm	7 50 am
Ar Mt. Holly....	.....	9 20 am
Ar Lincolnton...	.....	10 20 am
Ar Shelby.....	.....	11 18a m
Ar Ellenboro	.....	11 55p m
Ar Rutherfordton		12 30p m

†8 40am Lv....Hamlet..Ar 6 20p m
10 00am Ar....Cheraw..Ar †5 00p m

EASTWARD.

	No. 38.	No. 402
Lv Rutherfordton	.....	*4 35p m
Lv Ellenboro....	.....	5 15p m
Lv Shelby.....	.....	6 03p m
Lv Lincolnton..	.....	7 00p m
Lv Mt Holly....	.....	7 50p m
Lv Charlotte ...	*5 40am	8 35p m
Ar Monroe.....	5 55am	9 10p m
Lv Monroe	6 05am	9 40p m
Lv Marshville...	6 25am	.....
Lv Wadesboro..	7 01am	10 31 pm
Lv Rockingham.	7 41am	11 05p m
Ar Hamlet.....	7 55am	11 23p m
Lv Hamlet.....	8 20am	.....
Lv Laurinburg..	8 46am	.....
Lv Maxton.....	9 05am	.....
Lv Lumberton...	9 53am	.....
Ar Wilming on..	12 05pm	.....

NORTHWARD.

Lv Hamlet.....	*8 15am	*11 20pm
Ar Raleigh.....	11 30am	2 16pm
Ar Portsmouth..	5 50pm	7 25am
Ar Richmond...	*6 50pm	* 8 15am
Ar Washington..	11 10pm	12 31pm
Ar New York...	6 53am	6 38pm

SOUTHWARD.

Lv Monroe.....	*6 48am	*9 25p m
Ar Abbeville....	11 05am	1 40a m
Ar Athens.....	1 15pm	3 45a m
Ar Atlanta (Central Time)....	2 50pm	5 20a m

*Daily. †Daily, except Sunday.

Both trains make immediate connections at Atlanta for Montgomery, Mobile, New Orleans, Texas, California, Mexico, Chattanooga, Nashville, Memphis, Macon, Florida.

For Tickets, Sleepers, etc., apply to

B. A. NEWLAND,
Gen. Agt. P. Dept.
6 Kimball House, Atlanta, Ga,

THOS. D. MEARES,
Gen'l. Agent, Wilmington, N. C.

E. ST. JOHN, Vice-President and General Manager.
H. W. B. GLOVER, Traffic Manager.
V. E. McBEE, Gen'l. Supt.
T. J ANDERSON, Gen'l Pass. Agt.
General Offices, Portsmouth, Va.

Shopping.

Shopping done in Philadelphia by a lady of experience and taste. No extra charge. Best references. Send for circular.

MISS M. ANDERSON,
333 Pine St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

We really think our

C. F. &Y. V. Railway Co.

JOHN GILL, Receiver.

CONDENSED SCHEDULE.

IN EFFECT May 30th, 1897.

NORTH BOUND.	No. 3. Daily
Leave Wilmington	12.15p.m
Arrive Fayetteville	3.35 "
Leave Fayetteville	3.45 "
Leave Fayetteville Junction	3.47 "
ArriveSanford	5.02 "
Leave Sanford	5.05 "
Leave Climax	6.54 "
Arrive Greensboro	7.25 "
Leave Greensboro	7.45 "
Leave Stokesdale	8.32 "
Leave WalnutCove	9.03 "
Leave Rural Hall	9.30 "
Arrive Mt. Airy	11.00 "

SOUTH BOUND.	No. 1. Daily
Leave Mt. Airy	5.25a m
Leave Rural Hall	6.50 "
Leave Walnut Cove	7.19 "
Leave Stokesdale	7.53 "
Arrive Greensboro	8.40 "
Leave Greensboro	9.00 "
Leave Climax	9.29 "
Leave Sanford	11.20 "
Arrive Fayetteville Junction	12.42p.m.
†Arrive Fayetteville	12.45 "
Leave Fayetteville	1.15 "
Arrive Wilmington	4.30 "

NORTH BOUND.	No. 4. Daily
Leave Bennettsville	7.45 a.m
ArriveMaxton	9.00 "
LeaveMaxton	9.07 "
Leave Red Springs	9.37 "
Leave Hope Mills	10.26 "
Arrive Fayetteville	10.50 "

SOUTH BOUND	No. 8. Daily
Leave Fayetteville	4.45p m.
Leave Hope Mills	5.02 "
Leave Red Springs	5.42 "
ArriveMaxton	6 11 "
Leave Maxton	6.15 "
ArriveBennettsville	7.20 "

NORTH BOUND	No. 16. Mixed. Daily ex Sunday.
Leave Ramseur	7.40 a.m
Leave Climax	9.33 "
Arrive Greensboro	10.20 "
Leave Greensboro	10.55 "
Leave Stokesdale	12.20 p.m.
Arrive Madison	1.10 "

SOUTH BOUND.	No. 15 Mixed. Daily ex Sunday.
Leave Madison	2.10 p.m
Leave Stokesdale	3.05 "
Arrive Greensboro	4.30 "
Leave Greensboro	5.45 "
Leave Climax	6.57 "
Arrive Ramseur	8.35 "

†Meals.

CONNECTIONS,

at Fayetteville with the Atlantic Coast Line, at Maxton with Carolina Central Railroad, at Sanford, with Seaboard Air Line, at Greensboro with Southern Railway; at Walnut Cove with Norfolk & Western Railway.

W. E. KYLE,
Gen'l Passenger Agent.

J. W. FRY,
Gen'l Manager

SAY SOES.

Baron Krupp, the great ironmaster of Germany, carries evidence of the trade with him when he goes calling. His cards are made of iron, rolled so thin that they are said to be a great success for social use.

Money Made in A Minute.

I have not made less than $16.00 any day while selling Centrifugal Ice Cream Freezers. Any one should make from $5 to $8 a day selling cream and from $7 to $10 selling freezers, as it is such a wonder, there is always a crowd wanting cream. You can freeze cream elegantly in one minute and that astonishes people so they all want to taste it, and then many of them buy freezers as the cream is smooth and perfectly frozen. Every freezer is guaranteed to freeze cream perfectly in one minute. Anyone can sell ice cream and the freezer sells itself My sister makes from $10 to $15 a day. W. H. Baird & Co., Dep't 280 Sta. A, Pittsburg, Pa., will mail you full particulars free, so you can go to work and make lots of money any where, as with one freezer you can make a hundred gallons of cream a day, or if you wish, they will hire you on liberal terms.

A curious plan for catching fish is used on the Columbia river out West. A number of wheels are set up in the middle of the stream, which, as they turn round, catch up the fish and cast them into troughs by the river banks. The salmon are then tinned and sent all over the world. As much as five tons' weight of fish a day has thus been taken.

A young English girl, at a reception given to a number of literary lions, remarked to one of them, after a survey of the collection. "How very odd that the better they write the uglier they are!"

A Diamond Jubilee table-cloth is one of the latest triumphs of manufacturing genius. Woven into the centre is a medallion portrait of the Queen. Roses, thistles and shamrocks tastefully grouped together decorate the border.

WHO'S SHELLABERGER?

He's the Wire Fence Man, of Atlanta, Ga., and sells the best and cheapest fencing in existence for all purposes. Catalogue free. Write for it.

STAR BINDER

is a most desirable article to have in any household where the PRESBYTERIAN is taken. It holds the successive issues together in most convenient form, costs no labor and requires no special pains in its adjustment. What a fine Synodical Album a year's gathering would thus constitute!

Sent to any address for forty cents.

ATLANTIC COAST LINE.

Schedule in Effect May 27th 1897.

DEPARTURES FROM WILMINGTON — NORTHBOUND.

DAILY No. 48—Passenger —Due Magnolia 10 40 a m, Warsaw 10 55 a m, Goldsboro 11 56 a m, Wilson 12 46 pm, Rocky Mount 1 20 p m, Tarboro 2 50 p m, Weldon 3 39 p m, Petersburg 5 54 p m, Richmond 6 50 p m, Norfolk 6 05 p m, Washington 11 10 p m, Baltimore 12 53 a m, Philadelphia 3 45 a m, New York 6 53 a m, †Boston 3 00 pm.

DAILY No. 40—Passenger —Due Magnolia 8 55 p m, Warsaw 9 10 p m, Goldsboro 10 10 p m, Wilson 11 06 p m, †Tarboro 6 45 a m, Rocky Mount 11 57 p m, Weldon 1 44 a m, †Norfolk 10 30 a m, Petersburg 3 24 a m, Richmond 4 20 a m, Washington 7 41 a m, Baltimore 9 05 a m, Philadelphia 11 25 m New York 2 03 p m, Boston 8 30 p m.

SOUTHBOUND.

DAILY No. 55—Passenger —Due Lake Waccamaw 4 55 p m, Chadbourn 5 29 p m, Marion 6 40 p m, Florence 7 25 p m, Sumter 8 42 p m, Columbia 10 05 p m, Denmark 6 20 a m, Augusta 8 10 a m, Macon 11 00 a m, Atlanta 12 15 p m, Charleston 10 30 p m, Savannah 12 50 am, Jacksonville 7 30 a m, St Augustine 10 30 a m, Tampa 5 45 p m.

ARRIVALS AT WILMINGTON—FROM THE NORTH.

DAILY No. 49—Passenger—Leave Boston †1 05 p m, New York 9 00 p m, Philadelphia 12 05 a m, Baltimore 2 50 a m, Washington 4 30 a m, Richmond 9 05 a m, Petersburg 10 (a m,) Norfolk 8 40 a m, Weldon 11 50 a m, Tarboro 12 12 p m, Rocky Mount 12 45p m, Wilson 2 12 p m, Goldsboro 3 10 p m, Warsaw 4 02 p m, Magnolia 4 16 p m.

DAILY No. 41—Passenger—Leave Boston 9:40 AM ton 12 00 night, New York 9 30 a m, Philadelphia 12 09 p m Baltimore 2 25 p m, Washington 3 46 p m, Richmond 7 30 p m, Petersburg 8 13 p m, †Norfolk 2 20 p m, Weldon 9 43 p m, †Tarboro 6 01 p m, Rocky Mount 5 45 a m, leave Wilson 6 20 a m, Goldsboro 7 03 am, Warsaw 7 54 a m, Magnolia 8 07 a m.

FROM THE SOUTH.

DAILY No. 54— Passenger — Leave 12:15 P M Tampa 9 25 a m, Sanford 2 19 p m, Jacksonville 7 00 p m, Savannah 12 45 night, Charleston 5 30 am Columbia 5 50 a m, Atlanta 8 20 a m, Macon 9 30 a m, Augusta 3 05 p m, Denmark 4,55,pm, Sumter 6 45 a m, Florence 8 55 a m, Marion 9 34 a m, Chadbourn 10 35 a m, Lake Waccamaw 11 06 a m.

†Daily except Sunday

Trains on the Scotland Neck Branch road leave Weldon 4 10 p m, Halifax 4 38 p m, arrive Scotland Neck at 5 20, Greenville 6 57 p m, Kinston 7 55 p m. Returning leaves Kinston 7 50 a m, Greenville 8 32 a m, arriving Halifax at 11 18 a m, Weldon 11 33 a m. daily except Sunday.

Trains on Washington Branch leave Washington 8 20 a m, and 1 p m, arrive Parmele 9 10 a m and 2 40 p m, returning leave Parmele 9 35 a m and 6 30 p m, arrive Washington 11 00 a m, and 7 20 p m. Daily except Sunday

Train leaves Tarboro, N C, daily except Sunday, 5 30 p m, Sunday 4 05 pm, arrives Plymouth 7 40 p m and 6 00 p m. Returning leaves Plymouth daily except Sunday 7 50 a m and Sunday 9 00 a m arrives Tarboro 10 05 a m and 11 a m.

Trains on Conway Branch leave Hub 8 30 a. m., Chadbourn 10 40 a. m., arrive Conway 1 00 p. m. leave Conway 2 45 p. m., Chadbourn 5 40 p. m., arrive Hub 6 20 p. m. Daily except Sunday.

Train on Midland N C Branch leaves Goldsboro daily, except Sunday, 7 10 a m, arriving Smithfield 8 30 a m, Returning leaves Smithfield 9 00 a m, arrive at Goldsboro 10 25 a m.

Train on Nashville Branch leaves Rocky Mount at 4 30 p m, arrives Nashville 5 05 p m, Spring Hope 5 30 p m. Returning leaves Spring Hope 8 00 a m, Nashville 8 35 a m, arrives at Rocky Mount 9 05 a m, daily except Sunday.

Train on Clinton Branch leaves Warsaw for Clinton daily, except Sunday, 8 20 a m, and 4 10 p.m. Returning leaves Clinton at 7 00 a m, and 11 30 pm

Wilson and Fayetteville Branch leave Wilson 2 06 p m, 11 16 p m, arrive Selma 3 06 p m, Smithfield 3.08 p m, Dunn 3 50 p m. Fayetteville 4 40 p m, 1 14 a m, Rowland 6 10 p m. Returning leave Rowland 10 00 a m, Fayetteville 11 20 a m, 10 20 p m, Dunn 12 07 p m, Smithfield 12 48 p m, Selma 1 00 p m, arrive Wilson 1 42 p m, 12 10 a m.

H. M. EMERSON,
Ass't. Gen'l Passenger Agent.

J. R. KENLY, Gen'l Manager.
T. M. EMERSON Traffic Manager.

B. F. HALL, OSCAR PEARSALL

HALL & PEARSALL

Cor. NUTT and MULBERRY STS.

WILMINGTON. -- N. C.

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

—AND—

—WHOLESALE DEALERS IN—

HEAVY GROCERIES

WE ALWAYS CARRY A LARGE AND WELL SELECTED STOCK OF

Flour, Sugar, Coffee, Molasses, Salt Fish,

Hay Corn Oats Tobacco. Snuff, Cigars, Hoop-Iron, Nails, Glue,

Cotton Bagging and Ties.

☞ We solicit the patronage of the public. and guarantee to give satisfaction. Correspondence invited.

☞ Consignments of Naval Stores, Cotton and all Country Produce will receive careful attention.

HALL & PEARSALL

WILMINGTON, N. C

ORGANIZED 1856.

GEORGIA HOME INSURANCE COMPANY.

COLUMBUS, Ga.

J. RHODES BROWN, President.

Wm. C. COART, Secretary.

A HOME COMPANY,

Seeking Home Patronage.

Strong! Prompt! Reliable! Liberal!

Agents at all Cities, Towns and Villages in the Southern States.

W. W. HODGES, Agent, Wilmington N. C.

E.NYE HUTCHISON, Agent, Charlotte N. C

$4 PER DAY SURE SALARY OR COMMISSION.

DO you want honorable, steady employment the year round, at good wages, at your own home or to travel? If so, send 6c in stamps for our wholesale price-list and particulars. We furnish best of bank references.

AMERICAN TEA CO., Detroit, Michigan.

PATENTS

Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained and all Patent business conducted for MODERATE FEES.

OUR OFFICE IS OPPOSITE U.S. PATENT OFFICE and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.

Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured.

A PAMPHLET, "How to Obtain Patents," with cost of same in the U.S. and foreign countries sent free. Address,

C.A.SNOW & CO.

OPP. PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

We Want You

to subscribe for the Presbyterian Quarterly. It is the one magazine all Presbyterians should read. Its articles are written by eminent Presbyterians—both clergymen and laymen—to Presbyterians. It is edited under the auspices of an association of ministers of the Presbyterian Church.

Every article in it is vitally interesting—it is orthodox—is progressive—stimulates study and investigation.

The Presbyterian Quarterly has always been $3.00 a year and has always been worth it. It is now $1.00 a year but is still worth $3.00. We have lowered its price because we want to put it in every Presbyterian's hands, but there has been no change in either the number of pages or the appearance of the magazine. Send for a sample copy.

Whittet & Shepperson,
Box 236. Richmond, Va.

THINGS USEFUL.

Soak one teaspoonful of granulated gelatine in two tablespoonfuls of water. When soft, set over hot water until dissolved, flavor, and add one cupful of powdered sugar, beating well. This icing does not crumble when cut.—Table Talk.

A mustard plaster made according to the following directions will not blister the most sensitive skin : Two teaspoonfuls mustard, two teaspoonfuls flour, two teaspoonfuls ground ginger. Do not mix too dry. Place between two pieces of old muslin and apply. If it burns too much at first lay an extra piece of muslin between it and the skin ; as the skin becomes accustomed to the heat take the extra piece of muslin away.

Stuffed Tomatoes.—Select as many large, firm, ripe tomatoes as there are persons to be served, and cut them in halves. Heat a little butter in a porcelain-lined saucepan and lay the tomatoes in it with the flesh side down. Let them fry two or three minutes. Make a stuffing of one small shallott chopped fine (a small white onion will do), one clove of garlic—no more—also minced ; the yolks of two hard-boiled eggs, a tablespoonful of equal parts of chopped chives, parsley and two salt anchovies, freshened and chopped fine. Mix all these ingredients thoroughly together, stirring in a tablespoonful of butter ; season with a little pepper and salt, if necessary. Lay the halves of the fried tomatoes on a buttered tin, flesh or cooked side up, and cover each one of them with one-sixth of the amount of stuffing prepared. Dredge a few fine breadcrumbs and sprinkle a few drops of melted butter over each, and put them in a hot oven to bake for ten or fifteen minutes, and serve them on a dry, hot plate.

Wire Railing and Ornamental Wire Works.

DUFUR & CO.,

311 North Howard St., Baltimore, Md. Manufacture Wire Railing for Cemeteries, Balconies, &c., Sieves, Fender Cages, Sand and Coal Screens, Woven Wire, &.

Also Iron Bedteads Chairs, Settee &c.

RED SPRINGS SEMINARY

FOR YOUNG LADIES.

Established by Fayetteville Presbytery.

New Buildings, well equipped and adapted to all departments of College work. Complete and liberal course. Fully abreast of the leading Southern Colleges for Women.

Full and Efficient Faculty.

Charges very moderate ($108.00 per year for full College course and Board).

Session opens September 30, 1896. For further information write to

REV. C. G. VARDELL,
Red Springs, N. C.

Presbyterian High School
—OF—
NORTH CAROLINA.

J. M. OLDHAM, Principal.

Full corps of instructors, all college-bred men representing the leading institutions of North Carolina, Virginia and South Carolina. A non-military school, located in the country in middle North Carolina, with excellent climate.

Instruction Thorough,
Discipline Mild Yet Firm,
Physical Development Looked After
Rates Reasonable.
Endorsed by Synod of North Carolina.
For catalogues address,
J. M. OLDHAM, Principal,
Mebane, N.C.

DAVIDSON COLLEGE,

DAVIDSON, N. C

The Sixtieth Year Begins September 10th, 1896.

FACULTY

Rev. J. B. Shearer, D. D., LL.D., President, and Professor of Bibl cal Instruction an Moral Philosophy.
Henry Louis Smith, Ph. D., Vice-President, and Prof. of Natural Philosophy.
W. D. Vinson, M. A., LL.D., Prof. of Mathematics
C. R. Harding, Ph.D., Professor of Greek and German.
W. R. Grey, Ph.D. Professor of Latin and French.
Thos. P. Harrison, Ph.D., Professor of English.
W. J. Martin, Jr., M. D., Ph.D., Prof. of Chemistry.
F. F. Rowe, A. B., Instructor.

GYMNASIUM DIRECTOR.

VOCAL MUSIC.

CLASSICAL,
MATHEMATICAL.
SCIENTIFIC,
LITERARY,
BIBLICAL.
COMMERCIAL.

SEND FOR A CATALOGUE.

Terms Reasonable,
Location Healthful,
Accommodations Excellent,
Teaching Unsurpassed,
Gymnasium Complete.

Address THE PRESIDENT.

DO NOT FORGET.

THAT OUR BRAND OF FLOUR

THE LADIES' FAVORITE

Is the best Flour on the market. Double Patent, and produces more bread than any other.

In addition to our Ladies' Favorite Flour we have taken the Agency for Pillsbury's Best Spring Wheat in barrels and half barrel sacks.

We offer North Carolina Canned Peaches, North Carolina Canned Tomatoes, guaranteed fully equal to any brand. North Carolina Manufactured Tobacco, North Carolina Bacon, California Peaches, California Apricots, both canned and dried, as well as a select stock of groceries of every description.

☞Orders solicited.

R. W. HICKS,

WHOLESALE ONLY,

Wilmington, N. C.

The Man in the Moon would be happier if he could have a supply of

Cool Fragrant and Soothing

Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco

For over twenty-five years the standard smoking tobacco of the world.

To-day More Popular than Ever.

To have a good smoke anytime and everytime it is only necessary to get Bull Durham. It is all good and always good.

BLACKWELL'S DURHAM TOBACCO CO.,
DURHAM, N. C.

H. A. TUCKER. R. D TUCKER.

TUCKER'S

GRANITE AND MARBLE WORKS

DEALERS IN ALL KINDS OF

Granite and Marble Monuments

CONTRACTORS FOR BUILDING STONE

H. A. TUCKER & BRO.,
No. 310 Front St.,
Wilmington, N C.

As Successors to
D. A. GRANTHAM,

The Messrs. TUCKER & BRO., have a fully equipped branch yard at Goldsboro and as in Wilmington, are there prepared to do any kind of first-class work.

WORTH & WORTH,

—OFFER FOR SALE—

BEST QUALITY, FULL WEIGHT

FLOUR, BACON, SUGAR, LARD
MOLASSES, MEAL, SALT,
LIME, CEMENT,

Plaster, Hay, Corn, Hoop Iron, Oats Rivets Glue.

BUNGS, CANNED GOODS,

At Low Prices.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

STEEL WEB PICKET LAWN FENCE

On Steel Post and Rail, Handsomest, Strongest, most Durable and Cheapest, for Yard, Cemetery and Grave Lots; Best Poultry and Garden Fence in existence; also a special Horse, Cattle and Hog Fence. in existence: the Freight. Catalogue Free. We Pay

K. L. SHELLABERGER, ATLANTA, GA.

M. H. JONES,

DURHAM, N. C.,

Keeps on hand a fine assortment of

STERLING SILVER WARE,

JEWELRY, DIAMONDS,

WATCHES, CLOCKS

and everything found in a first-class jewelry store.

☞Repairing of all kinds, especially such as is usually sent North, done promptly and in best style ; reputation established for this class of work.

..An Evolution in Typewriters..

A LITTLE Machine
With a BIG Record....
The...
BLICKENSDERFER
No. 5 Typewriter.

Marvel in Mechanism. $35 Standard of Simplicity.

Has More DESIRABLE Features and Less UNDESIRABLE Ones than Any Other Typewriter Made.

Endorsed by Thousands of ....ENTHUSIASTIC USERS....

CATALOGUE AND SAMPLE OF WORK FREE.

K. M. TURNER,
GEN'L SOUTHERN AGENT,
41 N. Broad St., Atlanta, Ga.
918 F St. N. W., Washington, D. C.
914 E. Main St., Richmond, Va.
Daily Record Bldg, Baltimore, Md.

North Carolina Presbyterian.

New Series—VOL. XXIX—No. 1,537. WILMINGTON, N C., THURSDAY, JUNE 24, 1897. Old Series, Vol. XXXIX—No. 2,697

THE OFFICE OF THE PRESBYTERIAN IS IN THE ALLEN BUILDING ON PRINCESS STREET—ROOM No. 6, ON SECOND FLOOR.

Subscription price $2.00 a year.
Ministers $1.00.
Missionaries $1.50, including postage.
New Subscribers $1.50 for first year.

☞Checks or orders in payment of subscription may be made payable either to John McLaurin, or to North Carolina Presbyterian. Please send forward promptly.

(For Contents see Second Page)

SOMETHING LEFT UNDONE.

Labor with what zeal we will,
Something still remains undone,
Something uncompleted still
Waits the rising of the sun.

By the bedside, on the stair,
At the threshold, near the gates,
With menace or its prayer,
Like a mendicant it waits.

Waits, and will not go away ;
Waits, and will not be gainsaid ;
By the cares of yesterday
Each to-day is heavier made.

Till at length the burden seems
Greater than our strength can bear,
Heavy as the weight of dreams,
Pressing on us everywhere.

And we stand from day to day,
Like the dwarfs of times gone by,
Who, as Northern legends say,
On their shoulders held the sky.

—Longfellow.

AFTER THE BOYS.

During the Endeavor convention in Boston one of the delegates came suddenly upon a red-faced citizen who had been patronizing the hotel bar. Buttonholing the delegate unceremoniously, he said :

"What are you fellows trying to do, anyway? You are hot on temperance, I see by the papers. Do you think you could make a temperance man of me ?"

"No," replied the delegate, looking him over from head to foot with a keen glance, slightly contemptuous, "we evidently couldn't do much with you, but we are after your boy."

At this unexpected retort the man dropped his peculiar tone and said seriously :

"Well, I guess you have got the right of it there. If somebody had been after me when I was a boy I should be a better man to-day."—Exchange.

Just so far as the Lord shall give us grace to suffer for Christ, to suffer with Christ, just so far does He honor us.

REV. M. N. McIVER.

The subject of this sketch is one of thirteen Presbyterian ministers now living who were born in Moore county, N. C. His father, Malcom McIver, was the son of Alex. McIver, who came from the Highlands of Scotland after the battle of Culloden and settled in Moore county, N. C. He was a frugal settler and was soon known as "money-making Alex. McIver." He raised five sons, Capt. John McIver, the father of Judge J. D. McIver, of Carthage, N. C., and Judge Alex. McIver of Caldwell, Texas. 2nd Rev. Alex. McIver the father of Janie, wife of Rev. David Fairley, and Rachel wife of Mr. Hicks, of Faison's Depot, N. C. 3d. Dan McIver, father of Prof. Alex. McIver, of Egypt, N. C., well known by boys who attended Davidson College and Chapel Hill as an expert in mathematics. 4th. Kenneth McIver, who was a prominent young lawyer, dying while young and unmarried. 5th. Malcom McIver, the father of Rev. M. N. McIver, married Mary Ann, daughter of Malcom and Margaret Dalrymple McNair, of St. Paul's, Robeson county, N. C.

The father died when the subject of this sketch was an infant only three months old and the mother went back to her childood home in Robeson county, N. C. She had two brothers, Dr. A. D. McNair, an eminent physician of Robeson county, and Rev. Jno. C. McNair who died in Edinburgh, Scotland, while taking a post graduate course in theology with Rev. W. A. Wood, D. D., of Statesville, N. C. Capt. A. A. McIver, well remembered at Jonesboro, N. C., and in Robeson county, N. C., as Captain of Highland Boys in 24th N. C. Regiment, Ransom's Brigade, and C. D. McIver remembered well by Davidson College students of '60-'61, were his elder brothers. It has ever been the wish of his life to be a Presbyterian minister and though being prevented by the war from finishing his collegiate course he taught schools of advanced classes in Latin, Greek and Higher Mathematics and was licensed by Presbytery. He has been blessed by the Lord in his work in Rockingham, Mt. Carmel, Ellerbe Springs, Pittsboro, Haywood, Salem, Charlotte and Mark's Creek where he was first called as pastor.

He married Miss Flora Jane, the daughter of Neill Crawford, who was a very wealthy and influential elder of St. Paul's church, Robeson county, N. C. She has ever been a faithful, prudent and loving helpmate and still gives joy and cheer to him whom she took in the bloom of her beauty for better or worse. Union church, in Moore county, N. C., has been supplied by Rev. M. N. McIver for the last two years, and that large church of nearly four hundred members has done well during that time, having settled debts to the amount of three hundred dollars and paying $250 to $300 for services twice a month. Culdee church has prospered by the help of the Lord in his hands and has also paid a debt. He will ever thank the loving Father for His kind help and great blessings for what He has done in making weakness strength, and giving grace to help in every time of need.

HARD TO ADMIT.

It is hard to admit that we are in the wrong. How easy to step into the line of apologetic succession, and say, "The woman, the serpent, my temperament, my circumstances!" Few things more surely reveal our self-love and pride than this instinctive, automatic excuse-making. There is little hope for our growth in virtue unless we make up our minds frankly to admit the truth about ourselves, no matter how it hurts.—Sunday School Times.

PERSONS AND PAPERS.

The true man puts away childish things, while at the same time he grows into a fullness of child-like simplicity, until, as one of God's little ones, he rests upon the bosom, and is carried in the arms of his heavenly Father.—Lutheran Observer.

* * *

There are many lives that need the sunshine of sympathetic words and kindly smiles, and, since they cost the giver so little and are valued by the receiver so highly, why not give them out each day? They will shine like jewels in your crown, and may help some discouraged one to take heart again.—Ruth Smith.

* * *

As you tarry before God let it be in a deep, quiet faith in him, the Invisible One, who is so near, so holy, so mighty, so loving. In a deep, restful faith, too, that all the blessings and powers of the heavenly life are around you and in you. Just yield yourself in the faith of a perfect trust to the ever blessed Holy Trinity to work out all God's purpose in you. Begin each day thus in fellowship with God, and God will be all in all to you.—Andrew Murray.

* * *

The art of not hearing should be learned by all. There are so many things which it is painful to hear, very many which, if heard, will disturb the temper, corrupt simplicity and modesty, detract from contentment and happiness. If a man falls into a violent passion and calls all manner of names, at the first words we should shut our ears and hear no more. If in a quiet voyage of life we find ourselves caught in one of those domestic whirlwinds of scolding, we should shut our ears as a sailor would furl his sail, and making all tight, scud before the gale. If a hot, restless man begins to inflame our feelings, we should consider what mischief the firey sparks may do in our magazine below, where our temper is kept, and instantly close the door. If we would be happy, when among good men we should open our ears ; when among bad men, shut them.—New York Ledger.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

1ST PAGE—Something Left Undone (poetry)—After The Boys—Sketch of Rev. M. N. McIver—Hard to Admit—Persons and Papers.

2ND PAGE—Editorial: The Ruling Elder at Work—Editorial Notes.

3RD PAGE — Editorial Notes—India Relief Fund.

4TH PAGE—Chinese Bulletin—Evangelistic Notes, A Month's Review.

5TH PAGE.—"Great Governor," Great Scotts—The Secret of Power—Importance of Being a Christian in Youth—Literary Jottings — Books Received—Magazines.

6TH PAGE — Religious Intelligence—Personals—Davidson Notes.

7TH PAGE—Southern Students Conference at Knoxville.

8TH PAGE—Presbyterian College for Women—Humiliation Not Humility—"What Doest Thou Here?"

9TH PAGE — Losing Friends — The ShorterCatechism—The Builder's Plans.

10TH PAGE—Sunday School Lesson — Young People's Column—Puzzles.

11TH PAGE—Marriages— Obituaries—Secular News—Say Soes.

12TH PAGE. — (For the Family)—Mother's Work (poetry)—Ringing the Children's Chime—Mother's Dear Boy General Longstreet.

13TH PAGE—What The Minutes Say (poetry)—Why?—A Child of God—Ted and the Gardener—Letter-Box.

14TH PAGE — Red Springs Seminary —Market.

15TH PAGE—India Famine Funds.

16TH PAGE—Things Useful.

THE RULING ELDER AT WORK.

This is the title of a book of 210 pages recently issued by A. D. F. Randolph Company, New York, from the pen of Rev. Aspinwall Hodge, D. D., author of the book "What is Presbyterian Law?"

We have two excellent books published by our Committee at Richmond on the office and experiences of the ruling elder. This book is a real and valuable companion volume and should be read and pondered by all our elders. It is in the form of a narrative and relates actual experiences and problems in an easy and attractive style. After the admirable books of our own Committee, "A Handbook for Ruling Elders," by Dr. Watkins, formerly of Raleigh, and "Extracts from an Elder's Diary," by Dr. Stratton, late pastor for fifty years at Natchez, Miss., this book will be found of great value. Indeed, it may be read independently of these two books and will be a safe-guide and sound counsellor on the duties and responsibilities of a ruling elder in a Presbyterian church.

We wish to sound one note of warning not against any rule or principle as taught by this conservative manual as to the elder or eldership in itself considered, but concerning what we believe to be an unscriptural and unwarranted introduction and quasi endorsement of trustees acting as deacons. The Scriptures and the fundamental law of Presbyterianism know nothing of trustees. They are only a body of men introduced to secure the protection of property rights and to hold the titles of property. They may be guardians of that property to see that it has no illegal abuse or change. They have no right to manage the finances of the church.

The Scriptural officer to manage the finances of the church, under the direction and control of the session and with its approval, is the deacon. These bishops and deacons, or elders and deacons, mentioned and authorized by Scripture, and they only are the officers of the Presbyterian Church.

If any of our Southern Presbyterians read this book we remind such to read deacons, in the place of trustees, wherever this title occurs in any other sense than of trustees as as holding the legal title to the property and looking to the protection of both Church and State in that particular.

This warning will hardly be heeded by our brethren of the Northern Church, who have allowed the trustees to become in their congregations what only the deacons ought to be. We respectfully submit to our brethren that this is so.

This book brings to the front a great many valuable suggestions much needed by our elders, such as division of territory for visitation and oversight, and relieving the pastor of many labors that ought to belong to the elders.

The distinctions of law and practice in cases of discipline and modes of procedure in Church courts are of great value. With the exception stated the book is unusually clear and comprehensive.

THE MATTER OF annexation of the Hawaii islands to this country is not pressed at present; tariff adjustment occupying the time to exclusion of all else. President Mc Kinley's brief message transmitting the preliminary papers duly signed does not appear to be very strong, nor indeed very urgent; and whether or not the U. S. Senate will ratify is now very uncertain, indeed almost beyond conjecture, as parties will be divided upon it. On the part of foreign nations there seems to be no concern whatever if we except Japan, which has notified our government that in the event of annexation between the United States and Hawaii existing treaties between the latter country and Japan must be respected. The tone of confidence in which this demand is made shows that Japan realizes how much she has grown in importance since the Chinese war.

The British papers comment on the matter in a way to indicate that it is not a matter of consequence to Britain, and will hardly inure to the advantage of this country.

Desirable as it is that the present government of Hawaii may be secured and the property interests of the island may be preserved and maintained, it is by no means clear that this country would do well to enter upon what may prove a system of colonization and annexation of distant territory. Entangling alliances or troublesome complications will inevitably follow. The Hawaii islands if annexed must be protected at any cost, and in event of a war between this country and any other will prove a most vulnerable point of attack. It will be necessary to enlarge, probably to double our present naval force, to protect this part of our territory, and it may well be doubted whether the commercial interest, to be secured will justify the undertaking.

We have no patience with the slurs cast upon the "sons of missionaries" who, having made Hawaii not only a civilized but a Christian nation, now desire to form such political relations as will secure just and proper government, and prevent a relapse into barbarism. Charges of theft in such a case come with little grace from descendants of those who have almost wiped the remembrance of the Indians from the earth.

The slur of course is directed not so much against missionaries, nor indeed against iniquity of the acts of those missionaries in particular, a against the general principle of Christian missions; for inevitably when a land has been rescued from heathenism and brought into a state of enlightenment and Christianity, heathen rulers will be displaced, even as when Christianity prevails, the ignorance and superstition and vice of heathenism will disappear. A great deal of mock sympathy has been lavished upon the cruel fate of a vicious woman, who gathering about her a set of men as vile as she, proposed by a system of arbitrary taxation to despoil those who had made her country rich and prosperous that she might gather in their wealth to herself and her satellites. Revolution followed the attempt, and the Hawaiian islands are to-day as justly the property of the "sons of missionaries" who control its destinies, as our houses and lands and wealth are the property of those "sons of liberty" who secured our independence of the British crown.

LAST SUNDAY, June 20th, was the 60th anniversary of the accession of Queen Victoria to the British throne. This entire week is being celebrated throughout Great Britain in honor of the event, and in specially marking the fact that through the many hundred years of succession of the crowned heads of England and Britain Victoria has had the longest, as she has had the grandest reign.

From all quarters of the globe—for upon her dominions the sun never sets—have come up officials to tender their respectful homage to Victoria the Great. But her subjects, not only, the people of the civilized world as well, extend their congratulations, for it has been reserved to Britain's Queen to show that at the very pinnacle of human place and power, by God's grace, there may exist those qualities of mind and heart, that wisdom and that justice, that challenge the admiration of the world.

It is not extension of dominion through conquest that marks this the most notable reign in the history of Britain, if not of the world, but the immense progress that has been made in the arts and sciences and in letters. Between 1837 and 1897 the developments and the advance in these have been such as were inconceivable two generations since. But even these have been parallelled by strides made in the advancement in morals and in Christianity throughout the world—and these latter, as those former largely if not mainly, through the efforts of the good Queen's subjects or of their cousins of our favored land.

And so we all have cause for thankfulness to God that He has raised one so noble and so virtuous to do His work upon the earth.

IN LONDON LAST Sunday special services of great magnificence were held at the Brompton Oratory on account of the Queen's Jubilee. The Pope's envoy officiated at mass and Cardinal Vaughn read a jubilee pastoral highly eulogistic of the Queen. In his sermon Cardinal Vaughan dwelt upon the glory of the Queen's reign as peculiarly grateful to the Roman Catholics of the empire, because it had always been consistent with the extension of full freedom of conscience to her Roman Catholic subjects.

All the envoys from Catholic countries were present in full uniform, as also Wilfred Laurier premier of Canada, and the Roman Catholics and members of the House of Commons. The English churches in the cities of Continental Europe held thanksgiving services commemorative of the jubilee.

Press dispatches state that at all the Protestant Episcopal churches in New York city special notice was taken on Sunday of the Queen's jubilee. Most, if not all, of the officiating clergymen made some reference to the event in their sermons and, in addition, a special prayer was read as appointed by Episcopal direction. There was a special Victoria service at the Church of the Holy Comforter, which was attended by many seamen from ships in the harbor. At St. Andrew's church the preacher paid a tribute to Queen Victoria. The new Victoria memorial window in the church of St. John the evangelist was unveiled with appropriate services.

IT IS REPORTED that the Assembly of the Free Church of Scotland has decided by a large majority to enter into negotiation with the United Presbyterian Church of that country, with a view to union. It is possible that the union may be effected, but there are immense difficulties in the way.

THE RECEPTION by Grover Cleveland of the title of LL.D., from Princeton University after having most positively declined it from other renowned schools of learning, places the honor upon the institution rather than upon the man.

THE Charlotte Observer asks its correspondents "to bear in mind that matter a day old is very rarely of public interest and is not worth the telegraphing."

Taking this as our text we beg our correspondents to give us the news as soon after events transpire as they possibly can. We make no complaint, for we appreciate all favors, but news delayed a few hours in the getting off, may mean a week's delay or more in getting to our readers. An item penned and dispatched early Monday morning will often catch a mail, that an hour or two later would be lost.

KANSAS CITY, MO., proposed to celebrate the "diamond jubilee" of Queen Victoria. The Protestant ministry agreed it seems to offer prayer for Her Majesty, but two Roman Catholic bishops made themselves conspicuous by declining to do so. One of them said:

"I shall order no prayers for England's Queen in our churches. Moreover, I shall, if necessary, expressly prohibit such prayers in all churches in this diocese. Our people have no occasion to invoke special blessings on Queen Victoria. As a good woman we admire her; as Queen we have no prayers to offer for her.

Is'nt it something more than a matter of good or bad taste?

The Presbyterian of Philadelphia says: The Presbyterian churches of Scotland are rejoicing in present growth, and in the promise of greater prosperity. The accessions to the Free Church in the past year were nearly double the average of the last fifteen years. During the past two years the membership of the Free Church has actually increased in a ratio which is nearly double that of the increase of population. In the Highlands, where the population is steadily decreasing, the Free Church has gained 512 members. The figures submitted lately to the highest courts of the bodies show that 13,377 members were added last year to the membership of the three great Presbyterian Churches in Scotland.

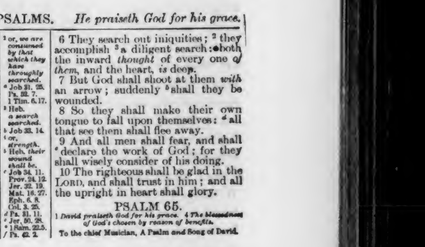
God has His own way of destroying sin. He destroys by forgiving it. Sometimes he punishes sin; but it is by forgiving that He blots it from His memory, casts it behind His back, buries it in the depths of the sea. His name, His honor, His glory stand for the complete destruction of sin by forgiveness. How reasonable, then, the plea that we use in prayer, "For Thy name's sake."—Banner.

We are happy in being able to give our readers (on the seventh page) a most interesting report of the Students' Conference at Knoxville.

INDIA RELIEF FUND.

TWO CENTS will sustain the life of a man, woman or child for one day.

Previously acknowledged.....	$125 11
Minnie L. Jamison, Mooresville, N. C.....	$ 5 00



OUR PREMIUM BIBLE.

Measures 5x7 inches when Closed, and Contains 1,600 Pages of Reading Matter—Several hundred pages of Useful Information, besides the Scriptural Text.

At length we find ourselves with pride and pleasure, able to offer a Bible premium to workers for the N. C. PRESBYTERIAN. The size and quality of type of our Bible is represented by the cut here given:

The binding is flexible, the edges are gilt and the references within

David's thirst for God. PSALMS. He praiseth God for his grace.

10 Trust not in oppression, and become not vain in robbery: if riches increase, set not your heart upon them.
11 God hath spoken [a]once; twice have I heard this; that [b]power belongeth unto God.
12 Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for [c]thou renderest to every man according to his work.

PSALM 63.

1 David's thirst for God. 4 His manner of blessing God.
A Psalm of David, [a] when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

O GOD, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: [b]my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and [c]thirsty land, [d]where no water is;
2 To see [e]thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the sanctuary.
3 Because thy lovingkindness is better than life, my lips shall praise thee.
4 Thus will I bless thee while I live: I will lift up my hands in thy name.
5 My soul shall be satisfied as with marrow and fatness; and my mouth praiseth thee with joyful lips:
6 When I remember thee upon my bed, and meditate on thee in the [f]watches of the night.
7 Because thou hast been my help, therefore in the shadow of thy wings will I rejoice.
8 My soul followeth hard after thee: thy right hand upholdeth me.
9 But those that seek my soul, to destroy it, shall go into the lower parts of the earth.
10 They shall fall by the power of the sword: they shall be a portion for foxes.
11 But the king shall rejoice in God; every one that sweareth by him shall glory: but the mouth of them that speak lies shall be stopped.

PSALM 64.

1 He prayeth for preservation. 3 The wicked set themselves against God. 7 God's judgments upon them. 10 The righteous rejoice.
To the chief Musician, A Psalm of David.

HEAR my voice, O God, in my prayer: preserve my life from fear of the enemy.
2 Hide me from the secret counsel of the wicked; from the insurrection of the workers of iniquity:
3 Who whet their tongue like a sword, and bend their bow to shoot their arrow, even bitter words:
4 That they may shoot in secret at the perfect: suddenly do they shoot at him, and fear not.
5 They encourage themselves in an evil matter: they commune of laying snares privily; they say, Who shall see them?
6 They search out iniquities; they accomplish a diligent search: both the inward thought of every one of them, and the heart, is deep.
7 But God shall shoot at them with an arrow; suddenly shall they be wounded.
8 So they shall make their own tongue to fall upon themselves: all that see them shall flee away.
9 And all men shall fear, and shall declare the work of God; for they shall wisely consider of his doing.
10 The righteous shall be glad in the LORD, and shall trust in him; and all the upright in heart shall glory.

PSALM 65.

1 David praiseth God for his grace. 4 The blessedness of God's chosen by reason of benefits.
To the chief Musician, A Psalm and Song of David.

[a] or, we are consumed by that which they know thoroughly searched. [b] Job 21. 15. Ps. 22. 7. [c] 1 Tim. 6. 17. [d] Heb. a search searched. [e] Job 33. 14. [f] or, wrath. [a] Heb. their wound shall be. [b] Job 24. 15. Prov. 24. 15. Jer. 22. 19. Mat. 16. 27. Rev. 2. 5. Col. 3. 25. [c] Ps. 61. 11. [d] Jer. 50. 28. [e] Rom. 12. 5. [f] Ps. 42. 2.

Copy of the Scriptures for Bible students that has come to our knowledge. The book contains over 1,600 pages.

The Bible is an offer in connection with the NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN—the only medium thro which one can become well acquainted with what is going on in the Synod of North Carolina—on the folowing terms:

We will give this Bible as payment for help rendered to any old subscriber who will send us the name of a BONA FIDE new subscriber along with $2.25.

The new subscriber gets the paper very cheap—we offer it to any bona fide new subscriber for $1.50 for the first year—and the worker gets amply compensated in a magnificently cheap Bible for his or her good work.

A new subscriber to get the Bible can subscribe for himself at $1.50 and then send another new subscriber with $2.25.

The Premium offered is the Genuine Edition of the Oxford Teacher's Bible.

We trust our friends will go to work promptly on this plan.

JOHN McLAURIN,
Manager N. C. Presbyterian.

"Our Premium Bible" contains absolutely nothing that tends to discredit the plain Scripture narrative of "Jonah and the whale."

Prayer is so mighty an instrument that no one ever thoroughly mastered all its keys. They sweep along the infinite scale of man's wants and of God's goodness—Hugh Miller.

When young Christians neglect the Bible there is danger ahead. The Word of God is a power always, whether in strengthening the believer for a better life, or in leading those who have not found Christ to realize their need of Him.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

CHINESE BULLETIN.

DR. DAVIS.

I send you a few lines for the Bulletin. On Sunday, April 4th, I had the pleasure of baptizing Martha Rose, the infant daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wilkinson. It was our regular time for communion, and the teachers, Bible women and other natives present were deeply interested in the baptismal service. Little Martha is three months old and growing finely. If she behaves all through life as well as she did on this important occasion she will become an ornament to the Church and a most useful member of society. The elder one of our medical students is a very intelligent young man. He has been applying for baptism for a year. During that time I have tried to interest him in the knowledge of Christian truth, and have frequently read the Bible with him and the other student and prayed with him. Before the recent spell of sickness which took him to his home and for weeks interrupted our study, our custom was to read the Bible every morning. But I am so afraid of making a mistake that I insisted upon his waiting a while longer before being admitted into the church. There are others who seem to be interested in the truth. The gatekeeper is an interesting case. Dr. Wilkinson began some time ago to teach him to read the Sunday-school lessons which we read every night at family prayers. Wang is fifty years old, but he is teachable, and although he is very near sighted he nevertheless makes commendable progress in learning to read the Bible. He is a mandarin speaker by birth and training, but he is learning to read the Soochow dialect. I am much interested in seeing him accomplish this undertaking. He lays hold upon any one that comes within his reach, and asks for aid in learning. Often he stops me and asks me to tell him the sound of a character. He asks the Bible woman, the house boy or one of the teachers, or one of the patients to help him. He says that he believes the doctrine, but he is not ready to break loose from his old beliefs and customs, because he has several grown children who oppose his becoming a Christian. We feel that in having him read the Bible every day we are taking the best possible way to lead him to the right conclusion in the matter. There is another interesting case. A weaver has come to see the truth so clearly that he has to a marked degree quit the idolatry which he used to practice, but he needs to have the Truth deepened in his soul. He attends Sunday-school services frequently and seems to love to be in the chapel on week days to see the dispensary work going on. One of the patients, a young man, who is an assistant in a tailor shop, is interested in the Truth. He has a tremendous ulcer on his leg. He comes often for treatment, and studies the catechism and other books. He also attends the Sunday services frequently. There is still another case: A man of maturer age who has made in past years enough money to enable him to live on the rent of his houses without working. He often comes to services and the native preacher has frequently talked with him."

DR. HOUSTON, LING WU DISTRICT.

"Since my last letter sent out to the mission (February 1st) eighteen persons have been received into the church here on profession of faith. In a former letter I mentioned the case of a leper, one of our church members who in his declining days bore such fervid testimony for Christ that several persons were awakened. The poor fellow entered into rest, and four of the persons mentioned above as received into the church are from his village, one of them being his own brother. The brother spoke before us of the joy and peace which the suffering man had to the end.

As the colony at Kantsen in the southern part of the field has flourished under the blessing of God, the brethren determined to send out another colony in the western part of the field. For this purpose they have rented a house in the town of Lohsoh, and it is expected that the colony will begin worship there at an early day. As in the case of the former colony, none of the expense of the enterprise will fall on the mission.

While I mention these tokens of God's blessing on our work, let it be understood that we have not a few hard struggles with sin in the church here as well as in the world, and I again beg that the brethren will sustain us with their prayers."

KIAHING.

"A few days ago part of a child's skull was found at our front door, no doubt placed there to make occasion for trouble. We happened to see it before a crowd could gather and our gateman threw it into the backyard of a local official who lives not far away. Our work is going on quietly, the people seem to be specially pleased with the singing in our daily chapel service."

TSING KIANG PU.

"You will be glad to hear that this Yomen case is being satisfactorily settled. The ring leader in the plot, a man named Hang, a former teacher of Mr. Graham's, was arrested and found to have gotten up the thing, while with his usual cunning he had used others as his tools. As the magistrate would be ruined if the connection with his seal should be manifest, at the Taotoi's request and upon mature thought we compromised. Indeed there seems to be no doubt the real author of the mischief was caught. He is to be banished. On Wednesday the Taotoi gave us a handsome feast in his yomen, the magistrate, the Viceroy's deputy, and the Taotoi's deputy with us foreigners being the guests. Yesterday the Taotoi, the magistrate and the Viceroy's deputy came with full retinue to the dispensary to pay their respects, were shown all around, seemed interested and said we ought to have a larger place. A firstrate proclamation has been gotten, clearing our reputation in all respects and satisfactory. The police officials have gone all over the city with a gong announcing the settlement of the case, proclaiming the discovery of the offenders and warning the people in the future. The Taotoi and the magistrate are to give honorary tablets to the dispensary, which are to be presented by the elders of the city. Altogether the people have seen and heard new things this past weeek and I trust it will be for God's glory and the good of the people. The streets are free from "foreign devil" with which they formerly resounded. The officials seem really to be trying to make all the amends in their power. The magistrate apologized like a man at the Taotoi's feast on Wednesday. Yesterday we gave a feast to the Viceroy's deputy and the Taotoi's deputy which passed off well. So altogether we have had quite an interchange of social amenities and for the better acquaintance of both sides I hope."

CHU CHOWFU.

Mr. and Mrs White are quiet in their new home in this city and their work seems to be opening up well. There are three or four inquirers of whom they have hopes. Mr. and Mrs. Grier will soon join them at this station.

SINCHANG.

Mr. and Mrs. Price. "Our work is encouraging in several directions. One of our church members has built a house of worship at his own expense, at a new point at Bohyun. I have been much interested in fixing up a Christian graveyard which we have here."

A conference of native helpers and missionaries is now in progress at Hangchow.

CALVIN N. CALDWELL.

Shanghai, China, April 30, '97.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

EVANGELISTIC NOTES—A MONTH'S REVIEW.

Since the last report in these columns, the General Evangelist, Rev. William Black, has visited the church at Wilson, preaching there a few days, and encouraging the little band there by the addition of seven members to their roll. The meeting was well attended and the people subscribed $67 for Synodical Missions.

From Wilson Mr. Black went to China Grove, a manufacturing village a few miles south of Salisbury. The church was organized there recently by Concord Presbytery with twenty-six members. Dr. A. J. Crowell, who was made a ruling elder, had secured by his zeal and energy a lot for a church building and subscriptions amounting to $1,500. At his request the General Evangelist was sent to China Grove, and after a few day's preaching twenty-four members were added on profession of faith and twenty more will join as soon as they can secure their letters of dismission. Thus a strong church of about seventy members, able to support a pastor for half of his time, is added to the roll of the Synod, at a place where a few days ago there was no organized work done by our Church. The church subscribed $35 for Synodical Missions. Mr. Black is now at Madison and will go from there to Wilkes county.

Rev. C. W. Robinson writes that Messrs. Gillespie and Wharton have gone to their work in the northwestenrn part of the State and that Mr. John Grey will join them this week.

The Superintendent preached for a few days, including the third Sunday in May, at Philadelphia church, Rev. J. J. Harrell, pastor. Six adult members were received on profession and eleven infant members by baptism. Philadelphia subscribed $124 for the cause. On the fourth Sunday the needs of the field and results of the work were presented to the Statesville church, and an offering of $264 was made. This is in addition to a subscription of $150 by the Ladies' Home Mission Society which goes to the support of the school at Spruce Pine, Mitchell county.

On the first Sunday in June the First church, Charlotte, made a cash contribution of $357 which will be supplemented by $70 from two of the societies of the church and will be used for the opening up of the work in Madison county in which Dr. Preston was so much interested, from having been on the ground himself. As Dr. Campbell, of Asheville, expressed it in a recent letter, "The First church could find nothing that would be a more fitting memorial than the carrying out of his wishes in this matter." Last Sunday the Superintendent presented the cause to the Second church, Charlotte, and a cash subscription of $138 was taken up.

As the Superintendent is able to devote only half his time to the Synodical Work it will be readily seen how necessary it is that all the churches of the Synod contribute to this cause in the regular collections. If any pastor has neglected this collection this month let it be taken up as soon as possible hereafter. For there is no cause for which our churches are more directly responsible than the evangelization of North Carolina, the carrying of the Gospel to those of our own people who are in need of it to-day.

A. J. MCKELWAY,
Superintendent.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

"GREAT GOVERNER," GREAT SCOTTS.

Brother, how do these expressions look in print? But they are much more grating when sounded on the ear repeatedly, and that from Christian, even ministerial lips! Brother, let a watch over your lips ask the Lord to do it for you, else when the sinner swears before you, you will have no conscience to rebuke him, yourself being guilty. Minister, dear brother, I write this out of a consciousness of duty. Some of our young people, even some of our young ministers are guilty along these lines. Out of love only I write this.

THE SECRET OF POWER.

"Waiting one night in the darkness on the railway platform at Framingham camp-ground, I heard two ministers discussing the secret of a certain noted evangelist's power. After listening a while I ventured to intrude the suggestion that if they would get a look at that evangelist's old Bible, they might learn the secret of his power; for it contained more marks of use than fify ordinary well-kept ministers' Bibles. It reminded me of the old Scotch warriors claymore. He had been in twenty-four battles, and there were twenty-four hacks in the edge of his well-tempered blade. He had struck fire every time. A well-studied Bible, believed and preached and practiced, is a source of power which will ever remain a mystery to those who neglect the Word of the living God. How many are longing, seeking, and praying for power, while a whole magazine of Divine power lies unopened in their neglected Bibles. A man in a meeting prayed loud and long for "power.' 'We want power!' 'We want power!" After he was done, a plain-spoken brother said to him:

"'You don't seem to need power so much as you seem to need ideas!'

"Christ's Gospel furnishes Divine ideas; and, preached with the Holy Ghost sent down from heaven, it is still 'the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth.' And he who faithfully preaches that Gospel, will find that it is living and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword; and that it is still 'like as a fire,' and 'like a hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces.'"—Episcopal Recorder.

IMPORTANCE OF BEING A CHRISTIAN IN YOUTH.

Being a Christian is the most important obligation at any time in life.

Youth is the natural time to decide upon what we are to do and be in life.

Christ sets us the example in His own life.

It is easier to become a Christian in youth, because there are fewer habits of thinking and acting to overcome.

God has revealed it as his will that we should remember him in our youth. Many of the greatest Christian workers and preachers became Christians in early youth.

Being a Christian in youth enables a person to spend a longer time in God's service.

Greater skill and power for work can be acquired by beginning the training in early life.

Youth is the best time for training for any effort.

Being a Christian in youth saves one from innumerable sins which mar the character.

The pleasures and hopes and ambitions of youth are sanctified and ennobled by being a Christian.

There is no time in all the period of mortal existence when one ought not to be a Christian.—Watchword.

LITERARY JOTTINGS.

When Bryant was only thirteen years of age he wrote a political satire entitled, The Embargo, or Sketches of the Times. Dr. Bryant, the lad's father, was an ardent Federalist and had this work published. A second edition was issued in 1809, with other writings in the same vein.

Philip Gilbert Hamerton gives as the reason for publication of his autobiography, "because I am the only person in the world who knows enough about my history to give a truthful account of it."

Not since Lossing gathered his material for the Pictorial Field-Book of the Revolution, which was published in 1855, has any book been issued which illustrates the battle fields of the American revolution. The Century Company is proposing to supply this want so far as boys and girls are concerned, and will issue in the autumn The Century Book of the American Revolution, by Elbridge S. Brooks, an account of the trip of a party of boys and girls to all of the famous revolutionary battle-fields from Lexington to Yorktown, including the southern fields of Eutaw Springs, Guilford Courthouse, King's Mountain, etc. It will be richly illustrated with more than 200 pictures, many of them from the photographs of the fields, historic houses, monuments, etc. Mr. Chauncey M. Depew has written an introduction and the book will be issued under the auspices of the Empire State Society of the Sons of the American Revolution.

At the sale of autograph letters and manuscripts from the late Chas. W. Frederickson's library many private purchasers were present, besides the usual representatives of the trade. A Speech of Lincoln's brought the highest price, $425. Burns, Byron, Cowper, Irving, Lamb, Poe, Shelley and others were represented in the sale. There were eighty-three autograph papers from Shelley's hand, which sold, some of them, for $80, and realized a total of $2,250. These Shelley manuscripts, collected with such painstaking enthusiasm, are widely scattered, many purchasers securing autographs. Dodd and Mead obtained the signed autograph of Poe at $125; the Scribner's a Lamb manuscript, "Pride's Cure," at $360; "The Story," also by Lamb, was bought by Harper and Brothers. The books of Mr. Frederickson, the sale of which preceded that of the manuscripts, included the most remarkable collection of "first" Shelleys ever made in this country, besides rare editions of Keats, Gray and others whose books are sought for by collectors.

BOOKS RECEIVED.

Howard McPhinn, a story for boys, by Miss S. O'H. Dickson, pp. 206, 8 vo. Printed by Messrs. Whittet and Shepperson for Presbyterian Committee of Publication, Richmond, Va. This charming story neatly bound in cloth is "dedicated to the boys of the Carolinas in memory of Harry," and should be read by all. It tells of the adventures of a boy inclined to be wayward, but who is easily brought under control by the pious upright lives of an old mountain couple, with whom in God's providence he is thrown. We older ones also can find entertainment and profit from the example of Eben and Ma'y Ann Holt whose love for doing good sheds a halo around them and cannot but be an inspiration. The writer shows remarkable ability to enchain attention, her gifts of painting mountain scenery and reproducing the mountain dialect is wonderful. The price of the book is eighty-five cents and would make an attractive addition not only to the home, but to the Sunday school library.

MAGAZINES.

A very attractive array of interesting articles are found in St. Nicholas for June. Its illustrations in prose and verse are fine from frontispiece to end. We call special attention to the article titled, The Risks of a Fireman's Life, which is excellent. Price $3.00 a year. The Century Co., Union Square, New York.

Royal makes the food pure, wholesome and delicious.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

MOTHERS

We have a book, prepared especially for you, which we mail free. It treats of the stomach disorders—worms, etc.—that every child is liable to and for which has been successfully used for a half century.

Frey's Vermifuge

One bottle by mail for 25c.

C. A. S. FREY, Baltimore, Md.

ROGER MOORE,

104 NORTH WATER STREET

WILMINGTON, N. C.,

Has for sale Common and Repressed Brick, Lime, Rosendale Cement, Portland Cement, Fire Brick and Fire Clay Vitrified Sewerpipes, Agricultural Lime, Land Plaster, Roofing Felt and Sheathing Paper, Shingles, Sawed and Rived, Aluminite, Calsom Wall Finish, Paints, Oils, &c. Agent for The Styron Fence. Composed of Juniper Pickets and Galvanized Bessemer Steel Fence Wire. One of the cheapest and most durable of fences.

Orders Solicited.

Religious Intelligence.

We specially invite News from all quarters for this Department.

The Annual Scheme of Collections in the Synod of North Carolina is as follows:

January—General Assembly's Home Missions.

February and August—Presbyterial Home Missions.

March—Publication and Colportage.

April — Education — (one collection Church and Christian Education).

May and October—Foreign Missions. Third Sabbath in October for Bible Cause.

June and September—Synodical Home Missions.

July—Invalid Fund.

Third Sunday in October—BibleCause.

November and April—Education for the Ministry.

December—ColoredEvangelization

THE ASSEMBLY'S FORM OF REQUEST.

I do hereby give and bequeath to the Trustees of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States (popularly known as the Southern Presbyterian Church) the sum of .....Dollars for the benefit of [here name cause to which the legacy is given.]

CHANGES OF ADDRESS.

Correspondents will please note the following changes of address:

Rev. F. L. Ewing, D. D., from Covington, Tenn., to Ripley, Tenn.

NORTH CAROLINA.

First Church, Wilmington:—The pulpit was acceptable supplied in the morning by Rev. H. M. Dixon, of Monroe. There were no services at night, Mr. Dixon preaching at Immanuel church. Dr. Hoge is absent in Morehead, where he preached the sermon on "Our Saviour's Bible" before the Teacher's Assembly.

St. Andrews Church, Wilmington:—Rev. A. J. McKelway, Superintendent of Synodical Missions spent from Friday to Monday with this church, preaching several times in connection with the communion. His sermons were greatly enjoyed by the people. His statement of the needs of Synodical Missions secured more than double the amount usually given by this church to this cause. Mr. McKelway is a preacher of marked ability, clearness, and pathos and his business-like presentation of his cause gives him sympathy and success with his hearers.

Laurinburg:—At our quarterly communion last Sunday we announced five as having been received by letter and three on profession of faith into the communion of Laurinburg church since last quarterly communion. W. B. Arrowood, pastor.

Dunn:—At the communion services of Dunn Presbyterian church on fifth Sabbath in May the pastor reported seven accessions to the church since last communion. On the day of communion four joined by letter and one on profession of faith. The latter was baptized on the first Sabbath in June. The ladies of the church have been adding to the beauty and comfort of the church very much; new chairs, carpets, handsome chandeliers, besides having the church repainted inside and outside.

Durham:—Rev. L. B. Turnbull, D. D., reached Durham last week after a four month's trip to the old world. He had a most delightful and profitable trip. The ladies of his church gave him a reception upon his arrival in which his friends of all denominations took part. This is one of the most active churches of our Synod. The treasurer's report shows an average contribution last year of more than $25 per month. Besides the pastor and his assistant they support a foreign missionary and pay the larger part of the salary of a home missionary. Five mission schools are conducted outside the city by the elders. There were seventy-eight additions to the church last year.

Milton Church:—Rev. Joseph Evans was installed pastor of the Milton church on Thursday evening, June 17th, 1897, by Rev. P. C. Morton and Rev. D. I Craig. Bro. Morton presided, preached the sermon and charged the people, and Bro. Craig delivered the charge to the pastor—he having also preached a sermon on the previous night. Considering that the service was in the middle of the week, the congregation was quite large, and the people were exceedingly attentive to the preaching and to the simple, but impressive and solemn services of our church on such occasions. The visiting brethren were entertained in the most cordial and hospitable manner possible, and we have never seen or known a case where a new pastor in so short a time, has taken a deeper hold upon the affections of the people than Bro. Evans. Everybody loves him, and indeed he is a lovable man, and the prospect is bright before him to do a great work in his new field of labor. May God's richest blessing rest upon pastor and people in this newly formed relation, and may it be long, and productive of great things for the Master. C.

VIRGINIA.

Alexandria:—Three members were received into this church on June 16th. Rev. J. Ernest Thacker, pastor.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Blackville:—Rev. H. R. Murchison was installed pastor of the Blackville Presbyterian church on May 30th, by the Revs. F. L. Leeper and A. L. Patterson. The former presided, preached the sermon and charged the people, while the latter charged the pastor. The service was the first of its kind ever held in the town. The church is quite young and small, but promises a goodly growth.

KENTUCKY.

Cynthiana:—The pastor, Rev. A. G. Buckner, was recently assisted in a most precious meeting by Rev. Dr. G. B. Rout, of Versailles.

Tolu:—A church of twenty-eight members has been organized here.

Nelson Creek Church:—This church in Muhlenburg county under the pastoral care of Rev. M. B. Porter was dedicated on the 6th inst. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. T. D. Witherspoon.

Wilmore:—The series of services in which the pastor, Rev. Dr. Guerrant was assisted by Rev. E. P. Marvin, D. D., of New York, resulted in twenty additions to the church and a spiritual uplifting of the people.

PERSONALS.

Rev. J. S. Van Meter has received the degree of D. D., from the Presbyterian College of Upper Missouri.

Rev. Dr. Palmer is spending his vacation at Glen Falls, New York. His pulpit will be supplied by Rev. Dr. Webb, of Clarksville.

Rev. Dr. F. R. Beattie, of Louisville, is spending his vacation at Winnipeg, Manitoba, Can. Dr. Beattie will give a course of lectures in the Presbyterian Seminary at Winnipeg.

The degree of D. D., has been conferred by the Presbyterian College of South Carolina upon Rev. J. A. Ramsay, of Hickory, N. C.; Rev. B. J. Clifford, Union, S. C., and Rev. E. C Murray, the retiring president of the college. Hampden-Sidney College has conferred the same upon Rev. R. Bryan Grinnan of Kobe, Japan and the degree of LL. D., upon Rev. R. R., Howison, of Fredericksburg, Va. Washington and Lee conferred the degree of D. D, on Rev. F. J. Brooke, of Harrisonburg, Va.

Rev. S. H. Isler, pastor, assisted by Rev. Dr. Leyburn, of New Bern is conducting a series of services at Pollocksville.

The many friends of Rev. I. M. Yonan throughout the State will regret to hear of the death of Mr. Yonan's mother which occurred the early part of April at her home in Oroomiah, Persia.

Mr. Chas. L. Nourse, a recent graduate of Louisville Seminary has been called to the church at Princeton, Ky., and the Presbytery of Paducah has been called to take orders for his ordination and installation.

Rev. A. S. Moffett, of Lexington, Mo., has received a call to Lebanon, Ky.

We note that Rev. E. E. Bigger, of Corsicana, Texas, will return to North Carolina. Mr. Bigger formerly served the church at Washington and his return to the State will be welcomed by his many friends.

Rev. Ernest Thompson, of Texarkana, Texas, has accepted the call to the Stuart Memorial church, Louisville.

Rev. Jno. A. Kee, a recent graduate of Union Seminary, has taken charge of the Nacogdoches, Lufkin and Wellard group of churches in Texas.

Rev. Dr. R. L. Dabney and wife of Victoria, Texas, are guests of Rev. Dr. Wharey, of Mooresville, N. C.

Rev. Dr. James Woodrow who has been connected with South Carolina College since 1880 as professor and president will tender his resignation at the next meeting of the trustees.

Rev. John L. Stuart and family will spend July and August at Monteagle, Tenn.

Rev. S. G. Walker is in this city in the interest of the Academical and Industrial School for colored people at North Wilkesboro. We have repeatedly commended this work and we trust he may be successful in securing funds.

The Charlotte Observer says: Rev. Mr. Dorritee occupied the pulpit of the Second Presbyterian church Sunday night, and preached with power and earnestness. Next Sunday morning he will hold his first service in south Charlotte in the chapel of the graded school, having obtained permission to use the room for that purpose. Mr. Dorritee is not only well equipped mentally but he is an active worker and will no doubt do a good work in this city.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

DAVIDSON NOTES.

DEGREES CONFERRED AT DAVIDSON, PRIZES AWARDED, CLOSING EXERCISES OF COMMENCEMENT.

Thursday, June 10th, was Commencement Day at Davidson. The procession escorting the Senior Class, consisting of the undergraduates, faculty, trustees, and alumni, headed by the band, filed into the Commencement Hall a few minutes after ten o'clock, and a quarter of an hour later the immense hall was filled to the doors.

The exercises were opened with prayer by Dr. S. C. Caldwell, of Florida. The Salutatory, the second honor in the graduating class, was delivered by Mr. R. F. Kirkpatrick, of Talladega, Ala. His subject was "The Spirit of Modern Philosophy." The speeches which followed were: Archibald Currie, Burlington, N. C. "The World of a Day." R. S. Eskridge, Shelby, N. C. "The Discipline of the Will." T. H. Spence, Rock Hill. S. C. "Peace." P. F. Henderson, Aiken, S. C. "Law, the Bulwark of Freedom."

SOCIETY MEDALISTS.

Dr. J. M. P. Otts, of Alabama, delivered the Society Medals as follows:

Philanthropic Society—Debater's Medal, Archibald Currie, N. C.; Essayist's Medal, R. A. Love, N. C.; Declaimer's Medal, S. C. Smith, N. C.

Eumenean Society—Debater's Medal, P. F. Henderson, S. C.; Essayist's Medal, J. A. Winn, Ga.

OTHER HONORS.

The William Banks Biblical Medal was won by Mr. R. F. Kirkpatrick, of Alabama. It was presented by Dr. W. H. Dodge, of Florida. Handsome Bibles were presented to W. A. Goodman, of N. C., and T. H. Spence, of S. C., for excellence in the Bible course. The Orator's Medal, awarded to the best orator of the contest the preceding evening, was awarded by the judges to Mr. F. C. Barth, of Atlanta, Ga., and presented by Rev. S. C. Caldwell, of Florida.

Degrees were conferred as follows:

The Degree of Bachelor of Arts upon the following Senior: Archibald Currie, Burlington, N. C., Frank Allen Drennan, Richburg, S. C., Randolph Shotwell Eskridge, Shelby, N. C., Walter Alexander Goodman, Mill Bridge, N. C., Egbert Houston Harrison, Mill Bridge, N. C., Peronneau Finley Henderson, Aiken, S. C., Parks McCombs King, Concord, N. C., Robert Foster Kirkpatrick, Talladega, Ala., Henry Junius Mills, Mayesville, S. C., Henry Connor Reid, Griffith, N. C., Eustace Henry Sloop, Mooresville, N. C., Thomas Hugh Spence, Rock Hill, S. C., Eddie Meek Williams, Yorkville, S. C., Jas. Marcus Williams, Warsaw, N. C., John McKnight Wolfe, Charlotte, N. C.

The degree of Bachelor of Science was conferred upon Mr. Eugene Holmes Bean, of Salisbury, and of Master of Arts upon Vernon J. Hill, Statesville, N. C., Samuel W. McKee, Baltimore, Md., and Rev. B. F. Wilson, Spartanburg, S. C.

The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon Rev. Alex. Sprunt, of Rock Hill, S. C.

After the awarding of the degrees Mr. W. A. Goodman, of Mill Bridge, N. C., delivered the Valedictory Oration, the highest honor of the graduating class. He took as his subject "The Development of Nations," and at the close of the address bade farewell to his classmates and the college.

The music was furnished by the Statesville orchestra. It was universally complimented and much enjoyed. Open air concerts were given each day of Commencement week, which were largely attended, and proved quite a popular feature of the occasion.

Thursday evening the literary societies gave their annual reception, the marshals presented their handsome regalias to the young ladies of their choice, and the commencement of '97 was at an end. L.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

THE SOUTHERN STUDENT'S SUMMER CONFERENCE AT KNOXVILLE.

Friday evening, June 18th, about two hundred Christian students representing the religious life of the different colleges throughout our Southland arrived at Knoxville, Tenn., to attend the Annual Conference held for the benefit of the leaders in college and city associations. The total registration includes delegates from Tennessee, Virginia, North Carolina, Mississippi, South Carolina, Kentucky, Alabama, Georgia, Arkansas, Texas, Ohio, Louisiana and other States.

The summer school feels a debt of gratitude to the Southern Railway Company and to other companies for making it possible, by greatly reducing the fare, for so large a number of college students to attend the Conference, who otherwise could not have gone. (Of this as well as of many other ways the Southern uses in helping in the development of the country, North Carolina especially should not be forgetful.)

The three-fold purpose of the Conference or Summer School for Bible Study as it is rightly called is: 1st. To deepen the religious experience of the delegates themselves. 2nd. To train them for more efficient work in the college which they represent. 3rd. To keep united and in sympathy the entire force of Young Men's Christian Associations in the South.

The first meeting was held Friday night, mainly for the purpose of organization and preparation for the work. Here the daily programme for the whole eleven days was outlined in full so that Saturday morning all were ready to begin work.

Rev. R. J. McBryde, D. D., rector of Leeman church, Lexington, Va., was chosen to preside. For two years Dr. McBryde has acted as presiding officer, and he is generally beloved by the students.

The daily programme which is adhered to strictly and which keeps the fellows fully occupied is as follows:

The first hour in the morning from 7.30 to 8.30 is given to the study of missionary problems, under the leadership of Rev. Henry W. Luce, Secretary of the students' volunteer movement for foreign missions. Mr. Luce has been in charge of this department for three years, and will sail for China as a missionary next September.

The next hour from 8.30 to 9.30 is devoted exclusively to Bible Study. The delegates are divided up into two sections, one for devotional Bible study work with Prof. Frank H. Green of the State Normal College of Winchester, Pa., as leader; and the other for the training of men for practical personal work with their fellow students, under the direction of Mr. A. C. Hart, General Secretary of the Alabama Y. M. C. A. It should be remembered that every delegate takes one or the other of that course and is prepared and expected to conduct a Bible Class on his return to college.

The next hour is given up to a college conference, at which all the men take part, discussing the cause of failure and points of weakness as well as their plans which have been successful. This is where the men come to know best and sympathize most with each other.

The only remaining hour before noon is devoted to a platform meeting, where is enjoyed the advantage of hearing words of advice and encouragement from experienced men such as Chas. P. Studd, of London, whose devoted life for the last fifteen years spent in inland China is enough of itself to inspire all young men with a greater love for Christ and a deeper feeling of responsibility for carrying on His work. Among the other platform speakers are Mr. L. D. Wishard, Rev. A. C. Dixon and others.

Owing to the great strain of work in the morning the whole of the afternoon is given up to some form of recreation, Knoxville affording opportunities for all kinds of aquatic sports, gymnastic performances, and track athletics, as well as lawn tennis and base-ball.

Just after supper comes the sweetest and most impressive and lasting part of the whole Conference. It is the Life Work Conference. Here on the beautiful campus of the University of Tennessee, out on the lawn in the twilight of evening a band of young men two hundred strong, united in sympathy and purpose, assemble to talk and pray together over the great problem of a life work. The men are urged to put aside all selfish feeling and to consecrate their all to the great Captain whom we profess to follow. It has been the scene of struggle for many a heart and not a few have calmly and quietly decided there to carry the Gospel to the uttermost parts of the earth.

After this solemn, but most enjoyable meeting once more the whole body adjourns to the large auditorium to attend a second platform meeting, which is the last exercise of the day.

Promptly at ten o'clock lights are out and all are expected to be in bed, to enjoy a good night's rest and to be ready for the next day's work.

The first platform meeting and the only one which has as yet been held, was conducted Saturday morning by Mr. L. D. Wishard. His subject was Bible Study, for which primarily the Summer School was first organized by Mr. Moody Christ was treated as our model and the student life of Christ was especially emphasized.

1st. Christ was primarily a student. Though He was a man of action, he was more a man of reflection.

2d. He was a student of one book, the Bible. From His teaching it can be inferred that He was the greatest student of the Bible who has ever lived. The actual words which are recorded as spoken by Him could be read in one hour, yet among this small number He wove in eighty-nine quotations from the Old Testament.

3d. He had methods of Bible study. Christ was a daily Bible student. This too can be inferred from the fact that Joshua, in carying forward a politica. campaign, is commanded to meditate daily, and David delighted to meditate day and night. Would not Jesus Christ in His infinitely greater work need as much preparation? Christ was more. He was a life-long Bible student. From a child in Jerusalem He thought about it constantly. He also studied topically, for beginning from Moses, He could apply the lessons taught throughout the Old Testament. Besides this He was a critical Bible student. He thoroughly mastered the Greek language sometimes even going back into the Hebrew with a nicety of quotation used only by careful students. In addition to all can be noticed that Christ memorized a great deal of Scripture and studied with a special view to teaching it.

4th. He applied tactfully and successfully the teaching of the Bible to different classes of men. With this power and insight He silenced His tempters, put to shame dishonest doubters, such as the Sadducees, and convinced men of sin as in the case of the rich young ruler.

The discourse closed with one great reason why we should thus study. It is because the Bible is seed, it has life, while our words are but pebbles in themselves. It is the seed, but to do good the seed must be planted. This is our work entrusted to us. Shall we prove ourselves unworthy of such confidence?

The address was very clearly and forcibly delivered and all felt that the conference has had a very auspicious beginning. All students are beginning to feel what a vital part in the spiritual life of our colleges the influence of the Summer School has, and all seem earnest and determined to get all they can from it.

It has scarcely begun Next week will appear a full account of the work done during the conference.

CHAS. H. JOHNSTON.

STAR BINDER

is a most desirable article to have in any household where the PRESBYTERIAN is taken. It holds the successive issues together in most convenient form, costs no labor and requires no special pains in its adjustment. What a fine Synodical Album a year's gathering would thus constitute!

Sent to any address for forty cents.

Medical Department

—OF THE—

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA.

Instruction in Chemistry, Physics, Biology, Histology, Embryology, Anatomy, Physiology, Materia Medica, Pathology and Minor Surgery.

For catalogue address,

DR. R. H. WHITEHEAD,

Chapel Hill, N. C.

BINGHAM SCHOOL ASHEVILLE, N.C. Established 1793.

—Military U. S. Army Officer detailed.—

1793 Location and Sanitation best in the United States. Single story Brick Barracks, give safety against fire, "Pre-Eminent among Southern Schools for Boys." U. S. Gov't's Bureau of Education, Washington, D. C. Address Major R. Bingham, A. M. L. L. D., Superintendent. 1897

E. M. ANDREWS,

—THE LARGEST DEALER IN—

FURNITURE, PIANOS AND ORGANS

—IN THE CAROLINAS—

Goods bought direct from the manufacturers in large quantities and sold at only one small profit—no more. The complete furnishing and equipping of new houses a specialty. Pianos and Organs sold at the lowest prices and on easy terms. Furniture sold at a very small margin for spot cash, or on short time where parties are reliable. Small orders as well as large, receive careful and prompt attention.

☞ Write for Catalogues and prices. One Postal Card may save you many dollars.

E. M. ANDREWS,

Charlotte, N. C.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE FOR WOMEN.

The session for 1896-'97, of the Presbyterian College for Women, Columbia S. C., closed with a commencement that did credit to the name the institution bears and reflected honor on both the teachers and students. To one who attended all the exercises, from the Pupil's Recital, Friday evening, May 28th, to the final concert the following Tuesday evening, it is evident that this college is one of which its patrons and friends may well be proud.

The following is an outline of the commencemet exercises ·

Sunday, May 30th, at 8.30 p. m. Rev. Alexander Sprunt, of Rock Hill, S. C., preached the baccalaureate sermon, from Gal. iii. 28. Mr. Sprunt's theme was the peculiar sphere of woman in the Gospel—her equality with man and her responsibilities and rewards. His discourse was replete with wisdom and was chaste and scholarly in every part.

On Monday evening at 8.30, the Hon. J. P. K. Bryan, of Charleston, S. C., delivered the literary address. Mr. Bryan spoke of the Positivist School of Literary Criticism, showing how the canons of literary criticism promulgated by the adherents of the Positive Philosophy give a false conception of poetry and must have a blighting effect upon poetical development. His address was given the closest attention and showed deep investigation and ripe scholarship.

After Mr. Bryan's speech the gradnating exercises took place. The degree A. B., was conferred upon the following young ladies: Miss Isabelle Evelyn Craig, Miss Elizabeth M. Daniel, Miss Eliza Bellamy Duffie, Miss Julia Evans Guerry, Miss Elizabeth Guignard, Miss E. Froude Kennedy, Miss Anna Heywood Taylor, Miss Eleanor Walter Thomas. The graduates in English were: Miss Frances Erwin Abell, Miss Margaret B. Humphreys, Miss Mabel Foster Odiorne. The graduate in music were: Miss Margaret B. Humphreys. Besides there were nine certificates given in the various branches.

The success of the past session has been marked, and much credit is due Rev. R. P. Pell, the President, and his accomplished and faithful corps of instructors.

The faculty for next year has been increased and the course of study enlarged. The college has secured the services of a lady physician, who is a graduate of the University of Michigan and who has been a successful practitioneer for several years, for the next session. She will have charge of the health of the institution, and will live in the college building and give the young ladies her entire attention. Thus the very best medical attention is secured for the students attending the College for Women, which is a feature worthy of the consideration of parents who have daughters to send to college. Several other additions have been made to the faculty, who are teachers of the highest rank—graduates of such institutions as Wellesley, Johns Hopkins, University of Michigan, and the University of Toronto. Thus the College for Women is placed on an equality with the male colleges in our Southern States both in teaching force and curriculum.

It is worthy of mention that this college is Presbyterian not only in name but also in its instruction. Presbyterian Doctrine and History is a regular course, which is elective, and is taught by the President. Besides this there is a four years' course in the English Bible, which is compulsory upon every student, thus making the institution not only Christian in its character, but Biblical as well.

With a faculty so broadly equipped, and with a policy so truly aimed at, a higher, better and more thorough education for our South ern girls, the College for Women should command not merely a large number of pupils from South Carolina, but a more widely extended field of patronage in the neighboring States.

ARMSTRONG & McKELVY Pittsburgh.
BEYMER-BAUMAN Pittsburgh.
DAVIS-CHAMBERS Pittsburgh.
FAHNESTOCK Pittsburgh.
ANCHOR, ECKSTEIN Cincinnati.
ATLANTIC, BRADLEY, BROOKLYN, JEWETT, ULSTER, UNION New York.
SOUTHERN, SHIPMAN Chicago.
COLLIER, MISSOURI, RED SEAL, SOUTHERN St. Louis.
JOHN T. LEWIS & BROS CO Philadelphia.
MORLEY Cleveland.
SALEM Salem, Mass.
CORNELL Buffalo.
KENTUCKY Louisville.

THERE is a right way to paint and a wrong way. The right way is to have the best paint—Pure White Lead (see list of genuine brands) and Linseed Oil—applied by a practical painter. The wrong way is to get some mixture about which you know nothing and apply it yourself or have some inexperienced, irresponsible person do it.

FREE By using National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors, any desired shade is readily obtained. Pamphlet giving valuable information and card showing samples of colors free; also cards showing pictures of twelve houses of different designs painted in various styles or combinations of shades forwarded upon application.

National Lead Co., 1 Broadway, New York.

HUMILIATION NOT HUMILITY.

It is not so difficult to acquire the habit of mind which many of the very best of Christians have only timidly, doubtingly, and in part, of quietly and restfully reposing in God. The best of Christians fail of it because they are so sensitive to their own faults, and exaggerate what they regard as their "unworthiness." They are mistaken about their unworthiness. God does not think so, and he knows. He does not stoop to anything that is unworthy of himself or of his government. It is in the highest degree worthy of him to pick up a poor, sinful, suffering and doubting soul, and give it purity, peace and joy. It is a splendid thing for him to make a star and hurtle it out of his hand against the darkness and cold of space. That is god-like only in a dynamic way. But to take up a soul, hopeless, sorrowing and lost, and make it a beacon-light of rescue and love forever, that is god-like in a higher, a divine way. Do not profess to know more about yourself than God does, and challenge his wisdom in favoring you. A considerable less of self-bemoaning, and a great deal more of thanksgiving is what you need.—Interior.

"WHAT DOEST THOU HERE?"

How often is that question put still! When a Christian worker, sorely needed, deserts his post because of some unseen difficulty, or for some selfish gratification and ease, to that couch of indolence, or to that forest glade where soft breezes blow, the question comes, "What doest thou here?" When a child of God is found in the theater, the dancing saloon, or the place of evil companionship, sitting in the seat of scorners, or walking in the way of the ungodly, again must the question come as a thunderbolt out of a clear sky, "What doest thou here?" When one endowed with great faculties digs a hole in the earth and buries the God-intrusted talent, standing idle all the day long among the loungers in the market place, again must the inquiry ring out, "What doest thou here?"

Life is the time for doing. The world is a great workship in which there is no room for drones. God himself worketh as the great Master builder. All creatures fulfill their needful functions, from the angel that hymns God's praise to the wasp that buries a corpse. There is plenty to do—evil to put down, good to build up, doubters to be directed, prodigals to be won back, sinners to be sought. What doest thou here? Up, Christians, leave your caves, and do! Do not do in order to be saved; but, being saved, Do!—F. B. Meyer.

THE FIRST DRINK.

Two boys stopped in front of a saloon, and an old man, standing near, listened to what they said.

"Let's go in and take a drink," said one of them.

"I—I don't think we'd better," said his companion, "my father's terribly opposed to saloons. I don't know what he'd say if he knew I'd been in one, and drank liquor there."

"Just for the fun of the thing, you know," urged his friend; "of course, we'd stop with one drink. There couldn't be any harm in that."

"My boys," said the old man, coming up to them, "you don't know what you're talking about. If you go in there and take one drink, you're not sure of stopping there. The chances are that you won't, for I tell you—and I know what I'm talking about by a bitter experience—there's a fascination about liquor that it takes a strong will to resist after the first taste of it, sometimes. Take the first drink, and the way of the drunkard is open before you. Only those who let liquor entirely alone are safe. I know, for I've been a drunkard a good many years. I expect to be one till I die. I began by taking a drink just as you propose to—'for fun'—but I didn't stop there, you see. Take the advice of a poor old wreck—and that is, never take the first drink."

"You're right," said the boy who had proposed to visit the saloon. "I thank you for your good advice, sir. I say, Tom, let's promise each other never to take the first drink."

"All right," said Tom, and the boys clasped hands on their pledge.

"That's a good temperance society to belong to," said the old man· "I wish I'd joined one like it when I was a boy."—Ex.

LOSING FRIENDS.

One of the things that most people wake up to when they are approaching middle age is that they have lost a good many friends through their own carelessness. You receive an invitation to the wedding of one whom you knew well eight or ten years ago. He has quitely passed out of your life; though, if you were living near each other so that you would meet occasionally, he is the kind of man in whose society you would find real pleasure. When the invitation comes you express your pleasure that Dick or John is to be married, and hope that he may be happy. And that is the end of it. The occasion passes without any sign from you, and you have lost an opportunity of identifying yourself with your friend's happiness. He will not associate you with that epoch of his life, and very likely will resent your silence. It is the same when you fail to take note of a friend's afflictions. It is a real effort to write a letter of sympathy. But such a note may mean a vast deal to one in trouble, and by it you can bind a heart to your own with hooks of steel. The people who claim that they have so few friends have themselves to blame for it. They have lost them through their indifference or thoughtlessness. "A man that hath friends must show himself friendly."—Watchman.

THE SHORTER CATECHISM.

"One of the most interesting discussions which took place in the Pan-Presbyterian Council, in Glasgow," says the Presbyterian of London, England, "had for its subject the important matter of 'Catechisms and Confessions.' No instructed Presbyterian in Britain needs to be told that the 'Catechism' and the 'Confession' are part of the spiritual backbone of the Presbyterian principle and polity. But the 'Shorter Catechism' is, of course, the popular Presbyterian Confession of Faith. Dr. Dykes was able to tell the Council that the result of the honest attempt on the part of the Presbyterian Church of England to teach the English children this grand old product of their Puritan forefathers had been very gratifying. He also referred to the fact that England was the birthland of the Catechism; but Dr. Marshall Lang was fully justified in claiming that, although England was its birthland, the cradleland and the nurtureland undoubtedly was Scotland. It is not going too far to say that the 'Shorter Catechism' has been one of the very greatest factors, if not the greatest factor, in the religious life of Scotland. It has proved the grandest nutriment both mentally and spiritually and we believe that in countless cases where it was only acquired memoriter, it has proved in after years 'a treasure of sound words and of great thoughts which developed in the intelligence and in the heart.'"

THE BUILDER'S PLANS.

Go to the man who is carving a stone for a building; ask him where is that stone going, to what part of the temple, and how is he going to get it into place, and what does he do? He points you to the builder's plans. This is only one stone of many. So when men shall ask where and how is your little achievement going into God's plan, point them to your Master, who keeps the plans, and then go on doing your little service as faithfully as if the whole temple were yours to build.—Phillips Brooks.

CONSUMPTION

TO THE EDITOR: I have an absolute Cure for CONSUMPTION and all Bronchial, Throat and Lung Troubles, and all conditions of Wasting Away. By its timely use thousands of apparently hopeless cases have been permanently cured. So proof-positive am I of its power to cure, I will send FREE to anyone afflicted, THREE BOTTLES of my Newly Discovered Remedies, upon receipt of Express and Postoffice address. Always sincerely yours,
T. A. SLOCUM, M.C., 183 Pearl St., New York.
When writing the Doctor, please mention this paper.

STATESVILLE FEMALE COLLEGE

JOHN B. BURWELL, President,
STATESVILLE, N. C.

The next session of above Institution will commence on Wednesday, the 8th of September, 1897, and close the 1st of June, 1898.

Board, including furnished room, heat and lights, with Tuition in all English Branches and Latin for entire School Year, $112.00.

Instruction given in all branches usually taught in first-class schools for young ladies, and by experienced and accomplished teachers. The President has been for thirty five years engaged in female education in North Carolina, and will spare no pains to maintain high grade scholarship and give thorough instruction in all departments.

Correspondence solicited.

For illustrated circular and catalogue address J. B. BURWELL, Statesville, N. C.

MONEY TO LOAN.

on Eight Years Time, secured by Mortgage on Real Estate. Monthly payment, savings investment stock for sale, also FULL PAID COUPON STOCK, with semi-annual cash dividends. Loans made promptly in any part of the State. Agents wanted. Address,

Mechanics and Investors Union
22 Pullen Building, Raleigh, N. C.

PEACE INSTITUTE FOR YOUNG LADIES, RALEIGH, N. C.

This Institute offers thorough collegiate courses in English, History, Literatu Mathematics, Sciences, Ancient and Modern Languages, Music, Art, Elocution a Physical Culture.

As to its high standard for graduation, its thoroughness of instruction, its mod erate charges for the advantages offered, and the extent of its courses in Art an Music, this Institute cannot be surpassed.

It offers also thorough preparatory courses. Correspondence solicited.

Board and English Tuition One Year $200.

For illustrated catalogue and full particulars, address the Principal,
JAS. DINWIDDIE, M. A., University of Virginia.

Term begins Sept. 16th, 1896. Closes first of June.

The Normal & Collegiate Institute
For Young Women.

ASHEVILLE, N. C. SPRING TERM OPENING FEB. 1st. 1897

OFFERS TO THE STUDENTS:

1. A Classical Course, including Ancient and Modern Languages, Science, Music, Drawing, etc.
2. A Normal Course for the thorough training of Teachers under instructors from the best Normal Schools.
3. Commercial Course, including Stenography. Type-writing, Book-keeping, etc.
4. Domestic Science, including Scientific Cooking, Draughting, Cutting, Fitting and Making of garments.

Systematic study of the Bible in all departments.

Terms for Board and Tuition in any of the departments, $50 per term, or half school year.

☞For catalogue, addesss

REV. THOS. LAWRENCE, D D
ASHEVILLE, N. C.

A. D. BROWN,

Successor to Brown & Roddick.

29 NORTH FRONT STREET, WILMINGTON, N. C.

IMPORTER OF FINE

DRY GOODS AND CARPETS,

ORIENTAL AND DOMESTIC RUGS,

"WARNER'S CORSETS," "HER MAJESTY'S CORSETS,"

"THOMPSON'S GLOVE FITTING CORSETS," "R & G" AND "FERRIS" CORSETS.

"FOSTER" KID GLOVES, "KAYSER" SILK GLOVES.

"HUDNUT'S" EXQUISITE TOILET REQUISITES.

Mail Orders Given Special Attention.

Do You Want A Teacher?

TEACHER'S EXCHANGE,
Box 378 Richmond, Va.

SUPPLIES COLLEGES, SCHOOLS AND FAMILIES WITH TEACHERS.

—o—

Secures Situations for Teachers at moderate cost. Correspondence Solicited Supt. Richmond Public School.

The University.

—o—

Forty-seven Teachers, 413 students, (Summer School 158). Total 549. Board $8 a month, three Brief Courses, three Full Courses, Law and Medical Schools and School of Pharmacy. Graduate Courses open to Women, Summer School for Teachers, Scholarships and Loans for the Needy.

Address,
PRESIDENT ALDERMAN,
Chapel Hill, N. C.

Sabbath School Dep't.

CONDUCTED BY REV. A. D. MCCLURE.

Third Quarter—Lesson I.

July 4, 1897.—Acts xvi. 6-15.

Commit to memory verses 13-15.

Subject. First Converts in Europe.

Golden Text. "The entrance of thy words giveth light" Psalm cxix: 130.

CATECHISM.

Question 45. What is forbidden in the first commandment?

Answer. The first commandment forbiddeth the denying, or not worshipping and glorifying the true God, as God, and our God; and the giving that worship and glory to any other, which is due to Him alone.

Time. A. D. 51.

Place. Asia Minor.

INTRODUCTORY.

Our last regular lesson in this history, as recorded in the book of the Acts six weeks ago brought us to the close of an epoch in the growth of the Church. The Church had been established in Asia Minor and its general character had been established. Now we enter upon the study of its growth, wide-spread missionary work and entrance into Europe. We begin with the second missionary journey. The countries traversed are Asia Minor and Macedonia. The travelling companions of Paul are Silas, Timothy and Luke. For connected survey it will be well to read from chapter xv. 1, to the end of this first lesson. When the conference at Jerusalem closed, Paul and Barnabas with two delegates from that Church, Jude and Silas, returned to Antioch with the decision of the counsel. Here they remained several months. Then a plan to revisit the churches was made. Paul and Silas went northward from Antioch and turning westward through Cilicia crossed Tarsus and came to Lystra and Derbe. Here Paul found a young man named Timothy of whom we have taken account in a previous lesson.

They confirmed and established the churches in faith and life. As every pastor and preacher needs to do, they taught Christians and sought the salvation of sinners. These young converts then as now needed training and work.

LESSON NOTES.

Vs. 6. Phrygia....Galatia. Professor Ramsay regards this as meaning the Phrygia region of the Galatian province. The churches of Antioch, Iconium, Lystra and Derbe were Galatian churches. Phrygia was an undefined region around Antioch, and extended a long distance northwest. Galatia is from Gaul or Kelt which are different forms of the same word. Forbidden of the Holy Ghost, who was in charge of the ministry of planting, training and extending the Church, and carrying on its operations. He may have spoken directly or used providential hindrances. The devil seeks to direct servants of Christ from paths of duty. But he asks questions and unsettles the mind. The Holy Spirit gives rest. He gives a settled purpose. "The devil deals with notes of interrogation and whenever you have a lot of notes of interrogation, flitting about your mind you know it is the dust raised by the devil."—F. B. Meyer. Impressions from God's Spirit are definite and grow stronger every day and are corroborated by two things, the Word and circumstances. It may have been Paul's plan as it was his desire to go to Rome, but he was restrained to Asia, the western province of Asia Minor, including Mysia, Lydia and Caria, where were the seven churches of Asia.

Vs. 7. Mysia, the northern province of Asia, on the Ægean Sea. They assayed, desired, planned and proposed. The Spirit, R. V., "The Spirit of Jesus," sent by Jesus.

Vs. 8. Passing by Mysia, not avoiding, but omitting it as a preaching place. Came down to Troas, Troy, four miles from the ruins of the ancient city.

Vs. 9. A Vision. A representation from the spirit-world, appeared....a man of Macedonia of whom Grotius suggests, "the one who appeared to him was the representative or guardian angel of Macedonia as the "Prince of Persia" in Daniel x: 11. That figure embodies the unconscious cry of weary humanity, knowing certainly that it sorely needs help, but, alas! not knowing where is the help it needs."—Maclaren.

Vs. 10. Endeavored by seeking transportation. Assuredly gathering. The verb has the sense of "coming to a conclusion from putting things side by side." —Cambridge Bible.

Vs. 11. Samothracia, an island of the Ægean, between Troas and Neapolis. Neapolis, the seaport of Philippi.

Vs. 12. Philippi, about ten miles from Neapolis, on the river Gangites, named after Philip of Macedon. So far as the New Testament informs us Philippi was the first city of Europe that heard the gospel message. A colony. "A Roman colony was a miniature of the Imperial city—a portion of Rome itself transferred to the provinces. In these cities the Roman law was scrupulously observed, and they were governed by their own senate and magistrates, and not by the governor of the province in which the colony happened to be situated."—Schaff.

Vs. 13. Went out of the city gates, as probably there was no synagogue in the city. Prayer was wont to be made. "A modern parallel until recently was the Protestant place of worship at Rome, which was compelled to be outside the city, beyond the Porta del Popolo."—Prof. Isaac H. Hall.

Vs. 14. Named Lydia, a Lydian. A seller of purple, either the coloring matter or the dyed fabric. Thyatira on the confines of Lydia, which worshipped God, was truly religious, perhaps a proselyte ready to receive further light. Whose heart the Lord opened, enlightened, renewed, impressed by His Spirit, made willing.

Vs. 15. She was baptized as soon as she believed and her household upon the ground of her faith for them and covenant to train them. If ye have judged me to be faithful prove it and reward me by coming into my house. She constrained us by much entreaty as in Luke xxiv: 29, the disciples contrained Christ.

PRACTICAL POINTS.

1. Note the evidences of Lydia's conversion: (1) seeking baptism for herself, (2) and for her household, (3) an open heart, (4) an open mind, (5) an open mouth, (6) an open hand, (7) an open house.

2. Note the prominent part taken by women in the founding of this church.

3. This church became very dear to Paul as will any whom we bring to Christ become to us.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

Lesson for week ending Sunday, July 4th, 1897.

PATRIOTISM.

Deut. 32: 1-18.

Text for the week:

"Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people." Prov. 14: 34.

Daily Readings:

Monday, Christ's patriotism. Matt. 23: 29-39.
Tuesday, David's patriotism. Ps. 33: 12-22.
Wednesday, Nehemiah's patriotism. Neh. 2: 1-20.
Thursday, Solomon's patriotism. 1 Kings 8: 5-14.
Friday, Elisha's patriotism. 2 Kings 13: 14-19.
Saturday, Samuel's patriotism. 1 Sam. 8: 10-22.
Sunday, Topic. Consecrated patriots: What they will do. Deut. 32: 1-18.

Suggestions:

The topic is specially appropriate to the day.

The hope of the republic is in the Christianity of the people.

Pray for the peace and prosperity of our country.

Vote as you pray.

Notes:

The Supreme Ruler and Governor of the Universe, who in His wisdom instituted the family relation also formed and established nationalities Mankind could not for its best interests exist other wise. Means, methods, local circumstances must essentially vary, and these with diversities of language and of civilization require the existence of nations --communities of people most nearly allied in similarity of thought and end and purpose—each community governed by rulers and controlled by laws best suited to their situation and surroundings. Love of country is not a barren sentiment, a gushing enthusiasm. It is not exhausted, it may even not be indicated by patriotic songs and fervid oratory, by clanging of bells and booming of cannon. Properly it is an actuating principle always striving at securing what is best for a people, always aiming at the prosperity and happiness to be secured by good laws wisely administered.

Happy is that people whose God is the Lord. Consecrated patriotism recognizes this, as the God-made announcement to regulate and direct how each individual may note his responsibility and discharge his obligations as a citizen actuated by sincere love of country.

There is great need for very earnest and prayerful consideration of this subject just now. Our people as individuals and our congregations need to pray for all in authority that God may enable them to do the right and may guide and direct them in doing it. Partizanship has largely supplanted patriotism; the politician we have with us abundantly, but the statesman is abroad. The country must be rescued from the spoilsmen or we are undone.

PUZZLE DEPARTMENT.

ANSWERS FOR JUNE 10TH.

Headbands and bonnets, Isa. 3: 20—Maggie Hall.

James was the brother of Jesus who was stoned to death—Maggie Hall.

Og, Numbers 21: 33, and Er, Gen. 38: 37, have been given as the shorteat names in the Bible by Maggie Hall and Mary Stewart respectively. The answer given by the sender of the question was Ai, Isa. 8: 28. In this connection we give the longest name which is Mahershalahhashbas, Isa. 8: 13.

Where are golden mice found?
Mary Stewart.

What man died and was buried in his own house?
Cornie M. Wilkinson.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

SUFFERING IN MECKLENBURG PRESBYTERY.

To Officers of the Churches:

DEAR BRETHREN:—The work is suffering within the bounds of our Presbytery because there are several places where we have good congregations, but have no house of our own in which to worship. At five places there is special need now, viz: Columbus, Polk county; Henrietta, Rutherford county; Drusilla, McDowell county; Cherryville, Gaston county, and Altan, Union county. Henrietta is a new town of 3,500 inhabitants. Cherryville is a town of 800, and Columbus has 300. Drusilla and Altan are small country villages.

Numbers of young people could be gathered at all of these places and trained in our Church if we had buildings. Last year we lost fifteen members at one of these points because we had no church home for them.

At all of these places there are earnest faithful men and women, who work and sacrifice willingly that suitable houses may be built, but of themselves they are not able to accomplish this end because they are people of very limited means. The Church Erection Committee of the Presbytery would gladly help them if the funds were in hand. Several of our churches have not sent in an offering for this important cause during the year. Why?

Brethren, give us $500 and with this and what the little flocks themselves give we can erect three houses this summer and fall. How long shall our work suffer at these places because the strong will not help the weak?

Fraternally, &c.,
R. P. SMITH,
General Evangelist.

Gastonia, N. C., June 18th, '97.

The Jacksonville Times says that the loss in the burning of turpentine boxes by one fire last week in Onslow was eight thousand dollars. This is still something of a tar, pitch and turpentine State when $8.000 worth of turpentine boxes can be burned in one fire.

MARRIED.

☞No notice of a marriage or death will be inserted unless accompanied by a responsible name, which is wanted not for publication but as a guaranty of good faith.

GOLD—EICHEN. At the manse in Alexandria, Va., on May 17th, by Rev. J. Ernest Thacker, W. H. H. Gold and Miss Anna Eichen—both of Chicago, Illinois.

LEEF—TYLER. At the manse in Alexandria, Va., on June 8th, by Rev. J. Ernest Thacker, Harry C. Leef and Miss Evaline Tyler—both of Alexandria, Va.

DIED.

☞We publish free 10 lines of Obituary Notices, of any kind—Tributes of Respect, Resolutions of Sabbath-schools, Ladies' Societies, &c. And we charge for over 10 lines at the rate of 10 cents per line. The cost may be calculated by counting the words in the manuscript, and allowing seven words to the line.

JACKSON—At her home in South Point township in Gaston county, N. C., on the 3rd of June, 1897, Mrs. Martha Jane Jackson, aged 17 years, 1 month and 6 days. Her life was short. "Early taken, early blest." She was a dutiful daughter, possessing a meek and lovely spirit. She was a faithful wife, and her husband trusted her. She was a member of New Hope church and lived in full fellowship, and died in the faith.
R. A. M.

BLUE. At her home in Union congregation, Moore county, N. C., May 25th, 1897, in her 56th year, Mrs. Flora A. Blue. She was a good wife and an indulgent mother. She leaves a devoted husband, seven children and eight grand children to mourn their loss.
B.

ROGERS. At her home near Graham, N. C., June 6th, Mrs. Mary Rogers, in her 75th year. She was a quiet, house-keeping, hard-working, useful, motherly, woman. Labors of love were her peculiar delight. She openly confessed Christ only after middle life, but children and grandchildren call her blessed. She sank to sleep of paralysis. "There remaineth a rest unto the people of God"

EAVES. Mr. A. V. Eaves, elder in the Bamburg Presbyterian church died at his home after a long and painful illness. His death though full of pain was triumphant through his faith in the Lord Jesus Christ.
H. R. M.

SECULAR NEWS.

NORTH CAROLINA.

On the night of Monday last the St. George and St. Andrew's Society of this city celebrated the Queen's Jubilee by a business meeting followed by a banquet at the residence of the President of the Society, Mr. James Sprunt, British Vice Consul at this port. The premises were handsomely decorated and illuminated for the occasion. A congratulatory address was sent to the Queen.

On the next day the Society was given a feast at the residence of Mr. Berry Gleaves on Greenville Sound, and on Tuesday night the residence of Mr. Sprunt was superbly decorated with flags and most brilliantly illuminated throughout and a supper given to visiting relatives and other friends. The residence of Mr. W. A. Riach, auditor of the Atlantic Coast Line was illuminated also.

Greensboro is showing enterprise and success in the number of buildings which are being constantly erected.

State Geologist Holmes represents North Carolina in the International Gold Mining Convention in session at Denver.

Columbus county is this year for the first time shipping huckleberries in quantity.

Peaches and berries are quoted in the Aberdeen market at two cents a quart.

Farmers in the Monroe section are harvesting small grain. Wheat is not a full crop, but oats are the best they have been in years.

Mrs. Stonewall Jackson will be the guest of the Mecklenburg veterans on North Carolina Day at the Nashville Centennial.

Large shipments of peaches have been made from the Van Lindley peach orchards at Southern Pines.

The farmers in the Hamlet section are looking forward to excellent crops.

A movement is on foot to establish a high school at Waxhaw.

The Monroe Enquirer of the 17th, states: Mr. John Howie, of Potters, sends us samples of the finest stalk of cotton we have seen this season. The stalks are fourteen inches high and were taken from the field last Monday.

High Point is rapidly developing as a furniture manufacturing centre. It has now twelve furniture factories in operation and ships from six to eight car loads daily.

A severe storm visited the State on Saturday last. The storm was about spent before reaching the Wilmington section. We note that crops were considerably damaged, and a correspondent from Durham writes: A storm last Friday p. m., blew down the Baptist church at West Durham. A committee had been appointed to enlarge the building. Two of the Erwin cotton mill buildings were damaged and a lot of cloth was exposed to the rain.

Dunn held an election on the 14th inst., on the question of issuing license to sell liquors, resulting in a big victory for the temperance people. The majority in favor of Prohibition being eighty-one votes of the votes cast, and about thirty majority of the registered voters of the town. Nearly three-fourths of the voters of the town voted against license. Rev. A. J. McKelway, of Fayetteville, N. C., delivered a powerful temperance lecture in Dunn on Friday night before the election. The effects of his lecture were shown plainly in the voting on Monday

DOMESTIC.

Over 1,100 alligator hides were shipped from Arcada, Fla., on one day.

The degree of LL. D. was conferred upon ex-President Cleveland, by Princeton University on the 16th.

The Cheraw Machine Works, Knitting Mills and Finlayson's Hosiery Mills were destroyed by fire last week

Among the speakers at the 36th National Educational Association which meets at Milwaukee on July 6th to 9th are Dr. E. A. Alderman, of Chapel Hill and Dr. Geo. T. Winston, of Texas.

The Illinois State Institution for the feeble minded at Lincoln was destroyed by a tornado on the 18th inst.

FOREIGN.

Severe earthquake shocks are reported from India. The postoffice at Chittagong has been swallowed up.

A severe snowstorm visited Blackburn, England last week. The north of England and Scotland have been visited by heavy gales, Nelson's flagship the Foudroyant which toured the coast as a show ship was driven ashore and is expected to be a total wreck.

INVALID FUND.

The Assembly abandoned the proposed effort to raise an endowment for this fund. Why? Because they thought that our church members, holding two billions of property would surely contribute $20,000 the amount asked in July and so not need an endowment. Send to Dr. Craig for envelopes and leaflets and let every member give something.

SAY SOES.

The small boy that hangs around the parlor and makes faces at his sister's beau should be punished for contempt of court.

WOMEN AS WELL AS MEN CAN MAKE MONEY.

I have an ice cream freezer that will freeze cream perfect instantly. The cream is put into the freezer and comes out instantly smooth and perfectly frozen. This astonishes people and a crowd will gather to see the freezer in operation and they will all want to try the cream. You can sell cream as fast as it can be made, and sell freezers to many of them who would not buy an old style freezer. It is really a curiosity and you can sell from $5 to $8 worth of cream and six to twelve freezers every day. This makes a good profit these hard times and is a pleasant employment. W. H. Baird & Co., Dep't. 280, Station A, Pittsburg, Pa., will send full particulars and information in regard to this new invention on application and will employ good salesmen on liberal terms.

Chicago now has a real Chinese paper. The Chinese News, published by Wong Chin Foo, who, according to The Fourth Estate, "is the most noted Chinaman in the country when it comes to fame as a writer, author, and generally progressive celestial."

WHO'S SHELLABERGER?

He's the Wire Fence Man, of Atlanta, Ga., and sells the best and cheapest fencing in existence for all purposes. Catalogue free. Write for it.

Organized 1832. Assets, $650,000

Tested for Sixty Years.

Virginia Fire and Marine

Insurance Company, of Richmond.

This old Virginia institution issues a short and comprehensive Policy, free of petty restriction and liberal in its terms and conditions.

INSURES AGAINST FIRE and LIGHTNING

All descriptions of Property, in Country and Town—private or public—Insured at fair rates, on accommodating terms.

AGENCIES IN EVERY TOWN AND COUNTY.

WM. H. PALMER, President.
W. H. McCARTHY, Secretary.
S. McG. FISHER, Ass't Sec'y.

NOTICE.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,

COUNTY OF NEW HANOVER.

In the Superior Court D. D. Benton, Plaintiff, vs. Rebecca Benton, Defendant.

NOTICE—Rebecca Benton, the above named Defendant, will take notice that an action entitled as above has been commenced in the Superior Court of New Hanover county, in the State of North Carolina, by the Plaintiff for the purpose of obtaining from the Defendant an absolute Divorce and complete dissolution of the bonds of matrimony.

And the said Rebecca Benton will further take notice that she is required to be and appear at the next term of the Superior Court of the said County of New Hanover, to be held on the third Monday after the first Monday in September 1897, i. e., on the 27th day of September, 1897, at the Court House of said County, in the City of Wilmington, North Carolina, and answer or demur to the Complaint in said action, or the Plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in his complaint.

This, the 19th day of June, 1897.

JOHN D. TAYLOR,
Clerk of Superior Court of
New Hanover County, North Carolina.

NEW BOOKS FOR THE Sunday-School Library.

We desire to call attention to the following list of new library books recently issued from our press. They are all handsomely bound in cloth, and should have a place in every Sunday-school library. To those taking the entire list at one time we will make a special discount of 40 per cent. Discount of 33⅓ per cent. on any of our own books.

By Mrs. M. E. Ireland:
The Siberian Exile. 122 pages..... $ 60
The Shepherd's Family. Translated from the German. 153 pages..... 60
Adolph's Victories. 314 pages..... 1 00
Christian Beck's Grandson. 320 pages. 1 00
In Fair Silesia. Translated from the German. 156 pages..... 60
School on Lunebarg Heath. Translated from the German. 148 pages. 60
Driven Out. Translated from the German. 156 pages..... 1 00

By Miss Annie M. Barnes:
Ninito: A Story of the Bible in Mexico. 214 pages..... 90
How A-chon-ho-ah Found the Light. 266 pages..... 1 25
Izilda: A Story of Brazil 196 pages. 1 00

By Elizabeth Olmis (author of Jack's Hymn):
Over at Little Acorns. 384 pages..... 1 25

By Fannie Aricke Shugert:
Ezekiel of Bethlehem. 281 pages..... 1 00

By Rev. H. C. DuBose, D. D.:
Memoirs of John Leighton Wilson, Missionary to Africa, and Secretary of Foreign Missions. 336 pages..... 1 50

By Mrs. E. H. Amis:
Camping on the Blue Ridge. 106 pages..... 40

By Rev. J. M. Chaney, D. D.:
William the Baptist. Cloth, 60 cts.; paper..... 25
Agnes, Daughter of William the Baptist..... 75

By Mrs. Mary M. Anderson Hawkins:
Jack Payton and his Friends..... 75

On miscellaneous Sabbath-school books selected from the lists of other publishers we will give a discount of 30 per cent. And we call attention to our Select Catalogue of miscellaneous books, in which will be found titles and description of more than nine hundred books, all of which have been carefully examined by competent persons, and none will be found in the list not suitable in every respect for our Sabbath-school libraries.

We will make careful selection of libraries if desired from our stock, or will send to any order one-fourth more books than may be needed, with the privilege of returning any that are not wanted.

Also, Sabbath-school Supplies, Class-Books, Records, etc., on the best terms.

If sent by mail, postage will be additional. Express to be paid by purchaser. Address

Presbyterian Committee of Publication,
JAS. K. HAZEN, Sec'y and Treas.,
Richmond, Va.

FOR THE FAMILY.

MOTHER'S WORK.

Setting tables, washing dishes,
Sweeping rooms and making bread,
Dusting books and sewing buttons,
Smoothing now a curly head.

Making, mending little garments,
In a mother's deftest style—
Washing little hands and faces
Planning something all the while.

Darning stockings, telling stories
To the group about her knee;
Searching for lost gloves and 'kerchiefs,
Nobody can find but she.

Trimming lamps, or hearing lessons,
Putting this and that in place—
Tired feet and busy fingers,
Giving home its nameless grace.

Solving some domestic problem,
As a housewife only can
(When the ways and means seem wanting),
With a skill unknown to man.

Folding tiny hands together—
Teaching infant lips to pray,
Singing cradle hymns so softly—
Mother's work ends not with day.

—Lucy Randolph Fleming, in Picayune.

RINGING THE CHILDREN'S CHIME.

The most sentimental and interesting musical feature about the grounds of the Nashville Exposition is the children's chime, which was first rung in celebration of Mr. McKinley's visit. This chime has been placed in the Auditorium tower, and every time its silvery sweetness peals out over the beautiful White City the thousands that stop to listen are reminded of the love which the children of Tennessee bear their State, for it was purchased with nickles and dimes which the little ones from the mountains to the big river gave as a token of their pride in being natives of Tennessee.

MOTHER'S DEAR BOY.

Many a manly boy who has refused to go with wicked companions who would lead him to harm, giving as a reason that he preferred to stay with his mother, who wanted his company, has been taunted with being "tied to his mother's apron string!" Boys anxious to get away from their mothers, to be beyond their control, are fast coming to grief. A boy who thinks he is too old or too big to be petted by a mother will know his mistake when death has taken her away from him forever. An officer high up in the navy has been saying: "The most-to-be-regretted act of my life was a letter I wrote to my mother when about seventeen years of age. She always addressed her letters to me as 'my dear boy.' I felt at that time I was a man, or very near it, and wrote saying that her constant addressing me as a 'boy' made me feel displeased. I received in reply a letter full of reproaches and tears. Among other things she said: 'You might grow to be as big as Goliath, as strong as Samson and as wise as Solomon; you might become ruler of a nation or emperor of many nations, and the world might revere you and fear you, but to your devoted mother you would always appear, in memory, in your innocent, unpretentions, un-self-conceited, unpampered babyhood. In those days when I washed and dressed and kissed and worshipped you, you were my idol. Nowadays you are becoming part of a gross world by contact with it, and I cannot bow down to you and worship you; but if there is manhood and maternal love transmitted to you, you will understand that the highest compliment that mother-love can pay you is to call you 'my dear boy.'" A boy cannot be too gentle, and kind, and good to his mother. He will never have another.—Ex.

GENERAL LONGSTREET.

The Confedrate General Longstreet is living on his farm, near Gainesville, Ga., in a story-and-half house, such as Yankee villages abound in. The General is growing old, his hair is white, his long whiskers float in the air, his skin is ruddy with health, but he is getting deaf and one arm is disabled since Gettysburg. "I live with my tenant. He is a veteran of the Northern army," he told a recent visitor, with a smile.

Love is the sun of woman's life. Its dawning is the maiden's tender sentiment; it brightens into the steady affection of the contented wife, and reaches its glorious noontide in the happy mother. Happy motherhood is a true woman's loftiest ambition. Her highest pride is in her fitness to fulfill this grand and sacred destiny. Nothing so clouds and darkens her existence as to be incapacitated for this noblest of womanly functions by weakness or disease.

A woman who suffers from any ailment of the delicate special organism of her sex, feels something more than pain and physical wretchedness. She is mortified with a sense of womanly incompleteness.

But no woman need remain under this cloud of misery and dissatisfaction. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription positively cures all diseased conditions and weaknesses, and restores complete health and strength to the feminine organs.

It is the only medicine of its kind devised for this one purpose by an educated and experienced physician, and eminent specialist in this particular field of practice.

It is the only medicine which can be relied upon to make the ordeal of motherhood absolutely safe and almost painless.

"I cannot say too much for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Miss Clara Baird, of Bridgeport, Montgomery Co., Penn'a. "I feel it my duty to say to all women who may be suffering from any disease of the womb that it is the best medicine on earth for them to use. I cannot praise it too highly for the good it did me. If any one doubts this give them my name and address."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate the stomach, liver and bowels. Of all medicine dealers.

SCHEDULE ON WILMINGTON SEACOAST, R. R.

On and after June 1st trains will run as follows: Daily Except Sunday.

Leave Wilmington at 6.30 a m., 10.10 a. m., 2.30 p. m., 5.10 p. m., 7.15 p. m.
Leave Ocean View 7.30 a. m., 11.30 a. m., 4.00 p. m., 6.15 p m., 10.00 p. m.

R. OSCAR GRANT, Superintendent.

A Beautiful, Fitting, and Enduring Memento

For Personal Possession and Study

Is Found in the New Holy Land Art Portfolios

ENTITLED

Palestine Photographed.

Every Student of the Bible,

Every Student of History,

Every Lover of Art

Should Have It.

This desirable book comprises 64 beautiful engravings from views taken in 1894. Each scene is accurately and eloquently described by two distinguished divines, Bishop Vincent and Dr. Lee. The work should find a place in every Christian home.

Any paid up subscriber to the PRESBYTERIAN can obtain this book upon remitting 25 cents.

Good Goods--Low Prices,

Flour, Meat, Sugar, Salt, Meal, Molasses, Coffee, Peanuts, Cheese, Crackers, Snuff, Tobacco.

Consignments of Cotton, Naval Stores and all Country Produce will receive careful attention.

Hall & Pearsall,

Wholesale Grocers & Com. Merchant
Corner Nutt and Mulberry Sts.

PREMIUMS.

No. 1. For 21 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Hunting case, jointed front and back 18 size and guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $20.00.

No. 2. For 16 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Open face, 18 size, 14 karat filled case, screw back and bezel, guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $15.00.

No. 3. For 17 new subscribers at 1.50 for first year, we will give a Ladies' Gold Watch Hunting case, 6 size, stem winder, 14 karat, filled case, screw beze—guaranteed 20 years—retails at $16.00

No. 4. For12 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give a Gents' Silver Wtch: 18 size, plain case, open face—retails at $12.50.

No. 5. For 10 new subscribers a Ladies' Silver Watch, O size, plain case, open face—retails for $10.00.

No. 6. For 8 new subscribers, we will give a Nickel Watch, 18 size, screw bezel—retails for $7.00.

No. 7. For 7 new subscribers, we will give solid silver teaspoons—retails for $6.00.

No. 8. For 4 new subscribers, a sugar spoon, sterling gilt engraved—retails at $3.00.

The articles will all be first-class from a jeweller of established reputation.

New subscribers means not change of address to some one else—that would be fraud—but bona fide new subscribers.

For $1.75 we will send the paper for the first year to a new subscriber and a copy of Palestine Photographed. This album contains 64 actual photographic reproductions of picturesque and historical places in the Holy Land on enameled pages, and is a thing of beauty. The descriptive foot notes are good and enhance the interest.

We regard this as a specially desirable premium.

To any one paying up or renewing their subscription and sending $2.25 we will send this album as apremium

W., N. & N. RAILWAY.

In Effect Sunday, Oct, 27, 1895.

DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY.

NORTH BOUND.		STATIONS.	SOUTH BOUND.
8			7
P. M.		— WILMINGTON —	P. M.
2	00	Lv Mulberry St. Ar	12	40
3	58	Lv Jacksonville Lv	10	42
4	30	Lv..Maysville..Lv	10	09
4	44	Lv Pollocksville Lv	9	55
5	20	Ar..Newbern..Lv	9	20
P. M.			A. M.

Trains 8 and 7 p m make connection with trains on A & N C R R for Morehead City and Beaufort.

Connection with Steamer Neuse at Newbern to and from Elizabeth City and Norfolk Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Steamer Geo D Purdy makes daily trips between Jacksonville and New River points.

H. A. WHITING, General Manager.
J. W. MARTENIS, Traffic Manager.

CHILDREN'S COLUMN.

WHAT THE MINUTES SAY.

We are but minutes, little things,
Each one furnished with sixty wings,
With which we fly on our unseen track,
And not a minute ever comes back.

We are but minutes; each one bears
A little burden of joys and cares;
Take patiently the minutes of pain.
The worst of minutes cannot remain.

We are but minutes: when we bring
A few of the drops from pleasure's spring,
Taste their sweetness while yet we may,
It takes but a minute to fly away.

We are but minutes; use us well,
For how we are used we must one day tell.
Who uses minutes has hours to use;
Who loses minutes whole years must lose.

—Lottie L. Clair, in American Homes.

WHY?

It was such a lovely morning! The sun shone on the broad bay, and the tide was coming in, with little waves running merrily up into the creek. Three little children leaned over the rocks and watched them.

"Move over, Jennie, please," said Ralph, and he poked with his elbow a little roughly at his big cousin as they knelt side by side. He held a little boat in his hands, and wanted to put it in the water by the hollow of the rock where Jennie was leaning, for he could reach better. Little Howard on his sister Jennie's other side was waiting anxiously, with wide-open eyes to see Ralph's boat float.

"I don't want to move over," said Jennie, and she pushed back at Ralph a wee bit crossly.

"Move over, I say," repeated Ralph, pushing her harder this time, "I can't put it in here." But Jennie, who was not always an obliging little girl, did not move, and as Ralph began to push her, she began to push Ralph, and then, to Howard's surprise, they both got angry, and in the pushing, and in the trying to get the same place, and in the naughty words that followed, Ralph somehow lost hold of his beautiful boat, and before he knew it, it dropped from the high rock, where he was, on the open tide, and a wave took it beyond reach almost immediately. He turned around on the rock very angry, and looked at his cousin.

"Now, Jennie Marsh, see what you've done," and bursting into tears, he rose and ran up the beach, over the short, stubbly grass in his bare feet, to the red cottage under the pines.

Jennie, with a scowl on her round face, looked around at Ralph as he ran; then gave a glance at the little boat, bobbing away up the creek, gone perhaps forever. Then her lip quivered, and breaking into a cry, she jumped up and ran off down the beach to her cottage, forgetting brother Howard, who, seeing sister Jennie going away so fast, set up a cry, too, and ran after her as quickly as his little legs could carry him. And the lovely warm rocks were left alone, and the lovely sunshine on the water seemed to shine for no one, and the tide came in with no one to hear its pretty ripple against the rocks, and three little children, who were as happy as could be an hour before, were now all so unhappy. And can you tell me the reason why?—Helen T. Wilder, in Child's Hour.

A CHILD OF GOD.

There was a ripple of excitement all through the orphan asylumn, for a gret lady had come in her carriage to take little Jane home with her.

Jane herself was bewildered with the thought. The kind matron led her down the wide stairway, and as she passed the hall door she saw the shining carriage, the fine horses, the liveried servants, and it seemed like a dream.

"I hope she is glad to go," said the great lady in her gentle tone. "Do you want to go home with me and be my child, my dear."

"I don't know," said Jane, timidly.

"But I am going to give you beautiful clothes, and a gold ring, and box of candy, and books, and dolls, and blocks, and a swing. Now, do you want to go?"

"I don't know," said the child, still frightened.

"You shall have a little room of your own, with a beautiful bed and table and chair; you shall have a bird in a cage, and a little dog with a silver collar. Don't you want to go with me Jane?"

There was a moment's silence, and then the little one said anxiously: "But what am I to do for all this?"

The lady burst into tears. "Only to love me and be my child," she said, and she folded the little girl in her arms.

God finds us orphaned and desolate and defiled with sin, and poor and naked and blind. He adopts us into His family, and gives us all that we need in this life, with care and protection, and His own name, and forgiveness, and the companionship of the Holy Spirit, and an inheritance in glory; and all that He asks in return is that we should love Him and be His children.—Children's Record.

TED AND THE GARDENER.

"I s'pose," said Ted, sitting down easily on the wheelbarrow, and resting his elbows on his knees and his chin in his hands, "I s'pose you see a good many nice things out doors first and last."

The gardener was mending his hoe, which had a fashion of losing its head when it hit a hard weed.

"Yes, I s'pose I do," he answered. "I never get tired of watching honey bees, for one thing; they're the knowingest lot of critters you ever see—like folks considerable."

"O tell me about them," said Ted, who was always hungry for stories.

"I've never been very near ours, cause mamma's afraid I'll get stung."

"Wal, you might, till you git acquaintcd with 'em like. I was a-noticing of 'em not long since with a strange bee. They pestered it to get its honey; you see they didn't want to kill it, 'cause then they couldn't get it, but they hectored it till it dropped its load out of its pockets and flew off."

"Pockets! what kind? like mine?" said Ted, putting his hands in them.

"No, not quite; but hairy places on their sidee. The hairs hold the honeycomb in, you see."

"O yes, but do go on, please," said Ted.

"Wal, they get a load, and put it into their pockets, first one side and then the other, till they're full. It's funny to see them run up a stalk of timothy and get dusty all over from it. They dust themselves off with their feet and pat the dust into their pockets. When they are loaded they take a bee line for home."

"O what is that?" asked Ted.

"Straight as they can go. If you move the hive a little ways, they'll bumb up ag'in it and then fly off and try it again, till they hit the opening."

"O go on," said Ted, who was afraid the hoe would be finished before the bee story.

"They air out the hive hot days by gittin' round the open places and then fluttering their wings like all possessed. I put a piece of paper in the top of the hive one day, and it blew 'round as if it was in a little whirlwind."

"O isn't it funny, though," said Ted—he meant queer. "I mean to get acquainted with 'em myself. I do think out doors is a great deal more interesting than school," he added, with a sigh.

"Wal, you see, folks that can't go to school have to use their eyes; but it's nice when you can do both."

"Yes, I s'pose so," said Ted, doubtfully.—Churchman.

LETTER-BOX.

Dear Mr. Editor: I am a little "Scotch lassie" five years old. I can't read or write, but I can sing and recite in the Missionary Society and on Children's Day. Rev. D. W. Fox is our pastor and Mrs. Fox is my Sunday-school teacher; she is so good and sweet! She gave me a pretty kitten and I named it Kitty Fox after her. I had two big cats and two little kittens, but they all died. Mama reads me the letters in your paper and I enjoy them very much. I hope you will have room for mine next week.

Your little friend,
CAMMIE MCNEILL.
Lumberton, N. C.

Dear Presbyterian: As I haven't written to your good paper in a long time I thought I would write to you now. Brother will be home this evening from Davidson, N. C., and I certainly will be glad to see him. I have a little kitten and its name is "Etta." I still have my "Pet" squirrel yet, and hope to have him the fourth Sunday in July. It will be twelve months since I got him. I hope that you will please publish this letter. I have a snake in alcohol and I certainly do think a heap of it. I will close by asking a question for the Puzzle Department.

Your friend,
E. MYRTLE WILKINSON.
Ridgeville, N. C.

Dear Mr. McLaurin: I will write you a letter for the second time. My father has taken your good paper for many years. I am always glad when Thursday comes so I can get to read the letters. I am hot going to school now, it was so hot that school stopped. I hope I can spend part of my vacation with my grandpa at Gibson's Station. I go to Sunday-school. I am in the Bible class. My father is a deacon in Smyrna chrch. Our pastor's name is Rev. A. N. Ferguson. I like to hear him preach. Well I must close for fear of the waste basket.

Your little friend,
MARY STEWART.
John's Station, N. C.

W. C. VonGLAHN,

NO. 20 SOUTH FRONT ST.,

WILMINGTON N. C.

Keeps always on hand, SHOES of all SHAPES and SHOES of all COLORS.

SHOES for LOOKS and SHOES for COMFORT.

No effort spared to suit customers.

☞ Visitors to the city should not fail to call.

UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

HAMPDEN-SIDNEY, VA.

FACULTY.

The Rev. Walter W. Moore, D.D. LL.D. McCormick Professor of the Hebrew Language and Literatre.

The Rev. Charles C. Hersman, D.D., LL. D., Henry Young Professor of Biblical Literature and Interpretation of the New Testament.

The Rev. Thos. Cary Johnson, D. D., Professor of Ecclesiastical History and Polity.

The Rev. Thos. R. English, D. D., Stuart Robinson Professor of the English Bible and Pastoral Theology.

The Rev. Givens B. Strickler, D. D., LL.D., Professor of Systematic Theology.

Walter L. Lingle, A. M., Tutor in Hebrew and Greek.

THE NEXT SESSION BEGINS WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 2D, 1897.

For catalogue or other information as to course of study, apply to Dr. English Clerk of Faculty, Hampden-Sidney, Va

For information as to rooms, &c., apply to W. L. Lingle, Intendant, Hampden-Sidney, Va.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

RED SPRINGS SEMINARY.

This institution is an enterprise of the Church, a child of the Presbytery of Fayetteville. It has been started in the faith and labors of God's people.

There has long been a felt want to have the higher Christian education of our girls brought within the reach of the more moderate purse. To meet this want is the work Fayetteville Presbytery has set herself to do. At Red Springs it is not proposed to bring down the quality of work done or the advantages given, below the very best to be found in our Southland. But we do propose to give the very best advantages for the least money possible. In order to do this an economical and otherwise very desirable location has been selected, and Presbytery has undertaken to erect the buildings and equip the institution, thus saving all taxes and rents. The school is under the direction of a Board of Trustees appointed by the Presbytery, and all the teachers are employed on very moderate salaries, thus saving to the seminary all that may be over actual expenses.

It is a Christian school run for the advancement of Christ's kingdom Hence only earnest Christians, who feel a deep interest in the spiritual welfare of the girls, are desired as teachers. This secures a wholesome Christian atmosphere in which any Christian parent would be glad to place his daughter.

Special attention is paid to vocal as well as instrumental music, and the music scholars are also trained in church music, so they can take charge of the organ in church when occasion demands it. The Bible, too, has its proper place in this school. God's Word is the foundation of all true education, and so receives special attention and emphasis at Red Springs.

The results of the first year's work abundantly demonstrate to all the wisdom of Presbytery in founding this school. Difficulties have been surmounted, and such marvelous success achieved, that her most sanguine friends look on with wonder. The seal of the Divine blessings has most signally rested upon it from the beginning. We can but look on and exclaim, "Behold what God hath wrought!"

With a full and able faculty already secured for the incoming year; with the practical demonstration furnished by the results of the first year's work that the school is on a sound financial basis, even at the present low rates; and with the prospects of such a large increase in the number of girls desiring to attend next year, the outlook for the future is specially bright and inspiring.

But as a rule the Lord's work will be characterized by difficulties somewhere that will test the faith and sincerity of His people. This is no exception. Red Spring Seminary has its stone to be rolled away. The Presbytery has its part of the contract to meet, its end of the log to carry. There is a large debt that lies at the door of the Presbytery for equipment already purchased. Then the present building must be heated before another winter. And then our prosperity makes it imperative to put up another dormitory building so as to be able to accommodate the girls that will want to come next year. All this will require $5,000 to properly equip the seminary for next year's work so that eighty girls can be accommodated. I am sure this money lies in trust in the hands of God's people, and all that is necessary to make it forthcoming is to let on the light, and show that the Lord is calling for it to launch this glorious enterprise which is to be such a mighty force in carrying rich blessings to both Church and State throughout this whole land of ours. But to accomplish this it will require a united and liberal effort on the part of all lovers of Christ. Is not the cause worthy the effort? What better investment, promising richer returns, can possibly be made, transforming perishable money into imperishable brain and heart, which is to mould the character and direct the life of the next generation, and that again of the next ad infinitum. Who will not want a share in this glorious work, and then in the more glorious harvest that shall follow? Let no one imagine that though he could give much, little will do. Let no one imagine that because he cannot give much he need not give any thing. "The Master is come and calleth for thee."

All funds sent to

W. B. ARROWOOD, Treas.,
Laurinburg, N. C.

WILMINGTON MARKET.

FOR

WEEK ENDING JUNE 23, 1897.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE: Steady throughout 24½ cents for machine barrels and 24½ cents for country casks.

ROSIN: Steady throughout at $1.25 for Strained and $1.30 for Good Strained.

CRUDE TURPENTINE: Hard $1.30, Yellow Dip $1.80 and Virgin $1.90—firm throughout.

TAR: Thursday and Friday $1.00; since $1.05—closing firm.

TIMBER: Nothing doing—no timber coming in.

SEABOARD A.L. AIR LINE

VESTIBULED LIMITED TRAINS. DOUBLE DAILY SERVICE

TO

ATLANTA, CHARLOTTE,
ATHENS, WILMINGTON,
NEW ORLEANS,
CHATTANOOGA,

AND

NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA,
WASHINGTON, NORFOLK,
RICHMOND.

Schedule in Effect May 30th, 1897.

WESTWARD.

	No. 41	No. 403
LvWilmington..	*3 20pm	.....
Lv Lumberton..	5 26pm	.....
Lv Maxton.....	6 12pm	.....
Lv Laurinburg..	6 23pm	.....
Ar Hamlet.....	6 53pm	.....
Lv Hamlet.....	7 13pm	*5 10 am
Lv Rockingham.	7 30pm	5 33 am
Lv Wadesboro...	8 11pm	5 54 am
Lv Marshville...	8 48pm	6 25 am
Ar Monroe.....	9 12pm	6 43 am
Lv Monroe.....	9 35pm	7 00 am
Ar Charlotte....	10 25pm	7 50 am
Ar Mt. Holly....	.....	9 20 am
Ar Lincolnton...	.....	10 20 am
Ar Shelby.....	.....	11 18a m
Ar Ellenboro....	.....	11 55p m
ArRutherfordton	.....	12 30p m

†8 40am Lv....Hamlet..Ar 6 20p m
10 00am Ar....Cheraw..Ar † 5 00p m

EASTWARD.

	No. 38.	No. 402
LvRutherfordton	.....	*4 35p m
Lv Ellenboro....	.....	5 15p m
Lv Shelby.....	.....	6 03p m
Lv Lincolnton..	.....	7 00p m
Lv Mt Holly....	.....	7 50p m
Lv Charlotte....	*5 10am	8 25p m
Ar Monroe.....	5 55am	9 10p m
Lv Monroe	6 05am	9 40p m
Lv Marshville...	6 25am	.....
Lv Wadesboro..	7 01am	10 31 pm
Lv Rockingham.	7 41am	11 05p m
Ar Hamlet.....	7 55am	11 23p m
Lv Hamlet.....	8 20am	.....
Lv Laurinburg..	8 46am	.....
Lv Maxton.....	9 05am	.....
Lv Lumberton...	9 53am	.....
Ar Wilming'on..	12 05pm	.....

NORTHWARD.

Lv Hamlet.....	*8 15am	*11 20pm
Ar Raleigh.....	11 30am	2 16pm
Ar Portsmouth..	5 50pm	7 25am
Ar Richmond...	*6 50pm	* 8 15am
Ar Washington..	11 10pm	12 31pm
Ar New York...	6 53am	6 28pm

SOUTHWARD.

Lv Monroe.....	*6 48am	*9 25p m
Ar Abbeville....	11 05am	1 40a m
Ar Athens.....	1 15pm	3 45a m
Ar Atlanta (Central Time)....	2 50pm	5 20a m

*Daily. †Daily, except Sunday.

Both trains make immediate connections at Atlanta for Montgomery, Mobile, New Orleans, Texas, California, Mexico, Chattanooga, Nashville, Memphis, Macon, Florida.

For Tickets, Sleepers, etc., apply to

B. A. NEWLAND,
Gen. Agt. P. Dept.
6 Kimball House, Atlanta, Ga,

THOS. D. MEARES,
Gen'l. Agent, Wilmington, N. C.

E. ST. JOHN, Vice-President and General Manager.

H. W. B. GLOVER, Traffic Manager.
V. E. McBEE, Gen'l. Supt.
T. J ANDERSON, Gen'l. Pass. Agt.
General Offices, Portsmouth, Va.

Shopping.

Shopping done in Philadelphia by a lady of experience and taste. No extra charge. Best references. Send for circular.

Miss M. ANDERSON,
333 Pine St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

We really think our

C. F. &Y. V. Railway Co.

JOHN GILL, Receiver.

CONDENSED SCHEDULE.

IN EFFECT May 30th, 1897.

NORTH BOUND.	No. 2. Daily
Leave Wilmington	12.15p.m
Arrive Fayetteville	3.35 "
Leave Fayetteville	3.45 "
Leave Fayetteville Junction	3.47 "
ArriveSanford	5.02 "
Leave Sanford	5.05 "
Leave Climax	6.54 "
Arrive Greensboro	7.25 "
Leave Greensboro	7.45 "
Leave Stokesdale	8.32 "
Leave WalnutCove	9.03 "
Leave Rural Hall	9.30 "
Arrive Mt. Airy	11.00 "

SOUTH BOUND.	No. 1. Daily
Leave Mt. Airy	5.35a m
Leave Rural Hall	6.50 "
Leave Walnut Cove	7.19 "
Leave Stokesdale	7.52 "
Arrive Greensboro	8.40 "
Leave Greensboro	9.00 "
Leave Climax	9.39 "
Leave Sanford	11.30 "
Arrive Fayetteville Junction	12.42p.m.
†Arrive Fayetteville	12.45 "
Leave Fayetteville	1.15 "
Arrive Wilmington	4.30 "

NORTH BOUND.	No. 4. Daily
Leave Bennettsville	7.45 a.m
ArriveMaxton	9.00 "
LeaveMaxton	9.07 "
Leave Red Springs	9.37 "
Leave Hope Mills	10.26 '
Arrive Fayetteville	10.50 "

SOUTH BOUND	No. 3. Daily
Leave Fayetteville	4.45p m.
Leave Hope Mills	5.02 "
Leave Red Springs	5.42 "
ArriveMaxton	6.11 "
Leave Maxton	6.15 "
ArriveBennettsville	7.20 "

NORTH BOUND.	No. 16. Mixed. Daily ex Sunday.
Leave Ramseur	7.40a.m
Leave Climax	9.33 "
Arrive Greensboro	10.20 "
Leave Greensboro	10.55 "
Leave Stokesdale	12.20 p.m.
Arrive Madison	1.10 "

SOUTH BOUND.	No. 15. Mixed. Daily ex Sunday.
Leave Madison	2.10 p.m
Leave Stokesdale	3.05 "
Arrive Greensboro	4.30 "
Leave Greensboro	5.45 "
Leave Climax	6.57 "
Arrive Ramseur	8.35 "

†Meals.

CONNECTIONS,

at Fayetteville with the Atlantic Coast Line, at Maxton with Carolina Central Railroad, at Sanford, with Seaboard Air Line, at Greensboro with Southern Railway; at Walnut Cove with Norfolk & Western Railway.

W. E. KYLE,
Gen'l Passenger Agent.

J.W. FRY,
Gen'l Manager

INDIA FAMINE FUNDS.

The secular press has made a wrong impression in criticizing the contributors or by decrying the methods of distributing the generous gifts for this worthy cause. There is great distress in India. Money is needed. There is not so much need of grain to be shipped from this country. It was a wise thing to sell the grain contributed for distribution and to send the money proceeds of the sale direct to competent and reliable persons to distribute in India.

Our subscribers and friends need not fear that their contributions will fail to reach the people. The money is being sent right forward. The delay of selling the grain will not be so great as by shipping. The risk of shipment is great. The following from the New Orleans Picayune of June 8th, is plain and explicit:

"Louis Klopsch, publisher of the Christian Herald, of New York, which had undertaken to procure cargoes of grain to be sent to the famine sufferers in India, has notified the navy department that the grain on hand will be sold and the money forwarded to India dia instead, as the best and speediest means of relief. Accordingly the department has abandoned its efforts to secure a steamship at New York to transport the grain to Bombay. Mr. Klopsch writes that the delay in securing the ship was one of the reasons for the change in plan. Then, also, the India roads at this time, the wet season, are very difficult of passage, while the natives, having been made to believe by unscrupulous native grain dealers that the Americans have poisoned the wheat that was to be sent to them, refuse to eat any of it under any circumstances."

Beside this for Presbyterians the following from the New York Observer of June 10th, will, as the closing words of an important paragraph, be good reason to continue contributions to this cause:

"Money is needed and our correspondent could use to great advantage any sums committed to his care."

SUMMER BOARD,

Board from June 15th to September 1st, can be had on reasonable terms at Statesville Female College. For terms address, J. B. BURWELL,
Statesville, N. C.

ATLANTIC COAST LINE.

Schedule in Effect May 27th 1897.

DEPARTURES FROM WILMINGTON — NORTHBOUND.

DAILY 9:00 A M — No. 48—Passenger—Due Magnolia 10 40 a m, Warsaw 10 55 a m, Goldsboro 11 56 a m, Wilson 12 46 pm, Rocky Mount 1 20 p m, Tarboro 2 50 p m, Weldon 3 39 p m, Petersburg 5 54 p m, Richmond 6 50 p m, Norfolk 6 05 p m, Washington 11 10 p m, Baltimore 12 53 a m, Philadelphia 3 45 a m, New York 6 53 a m, †Boston 3 00 pm.

DAILY 7:15 P M — No. 40—Passenger—Due Magnolia 8 55 p m, Warsaw 9 10 p m, Goldsboro 10 10 p m, Wilson 11 06 p m, †Tarboro 6 45 a m, Rocky Mount 11 57 p m, Weldon 1 44 a m, †Norfolk 10 30 a m, Petersburg 3 24 a m, Richmond 4 20 a m, Washington 7 41 a m, Baltimore 9 05 a m, Philadelphia 11 25 m. New York 3 03 p m, Boston 8 30 p m.

SOUTHBOUND.

DAILY 3:40 P M — No. 55—Passenger—Due Lake Waccamaw 4 55 p m, Chadbourn 5 29 p m, Marion 6 40 p m, Florence 7 25 p m, Sumter 8 42 p m, Columbia 10 05 p m, Denmark 6 20 a m, Augusta 8 10 a m, Macon 11 00 a m, Atlanta 12 15 p m, Charleston 10 20 p m, Savannah 12 50 am, Jacksonville 7 30 a m, St Augustine 10 30 a m, Tampa 5 45 p m.

ARRIVALS AT WILMINGTON—FROM THE NORTH.

DAILY 5:45 P M — No. 49—Passenger—Leave Boston †1 03 p m, New York 9 00 p m, Philadelphia 12 05 a m, Baltimore 2 50 a m, Washington 4 30 a m, Richmond 9 05 a m, Petersburg 10 (4 a m,) Norfolk 8 40 a m, Weldon 11 50 a m, Tarboro 12 12 p m, Rocky Mount 12 45p m, Wilson 2 12 p m, Goldsboro 3 10 p m, Warsaw 4 02 p m, Magnolia 4 16 p m.

DAILY 9:40 AM — No. 41—Passenger—Leave Boston 12 00 night, New York 9 30 a m, Philadelphia 12 00 p m Baltimore 2 25 p m, Washington 3 46 p m, Richmond 7 30 p m, Petersburg 8 12 p m, †Norfolk 2 20 p m, Weldon 9 43 p m, †Tarboro 6 01 p m, Rocky Mount 5 45 a m, leave Wilson 6 20 a m, Goldsboro 7 03 am, Warsaw 7 54 a m, Magnolia 8 07 a m.

FROM THE SOUTH.

DAILY 12:15 P M — No. 54—Passenger — Leave Tampa 9 25 a m, Sanford 2 19 p m, Jacksonville 7 00 p m, Savannah 12 45 night, Charleston 5 30 am Columbia 5 50 a m, Atlanta 8 20 a m, Macon 9 30 a m, Augusta 3 05 p m, Denmark 4,55 pm, Sumter 6 45 a m, Florence 8 55 a m, Marion 9 34 a m, Chadbourn 10 35 a m, Lake Waccamaw 11 06 a m.

†Daily except Sunday

Trains on the Scotland Neck Branch road leave Weldon 4 10 p m, Hailfax 4 28 p m, arrive Scotland Neck at 5 20, Greenville 6 57 p m, Kinston 7 55 p m. Returning leaves Kinston 7 50 a m, Greenville 8 52 a m, arriving Hallfax at 11 18 a m, Weldon 11 33 a m. daily except Sunday.

Trains on Washington Branch leave Washington 8 20 a m, and 1 p m, arrive Parmele 9 10 a m and 2 40 p m, returning leave Parmele 9 35 a m and 6 30 p m, arrive Washington 11 00 a m, and 7 20 p m. Daily except Sunday

Train leaves Tarboro, N C, daily except Sunday, 5 30 p m, Sunday 4 05 pm, arrives Plymouth 7 40 p m and 6 00 p m. Returning leaves Plymouth daily except Sunday 7 50 a m and Sunday 9 00 a m arrives Tarboro 10 05 a m and 11 a m.

Trains on Conway Branch leave Hub 8 30 a. m., Chadbourn 10 40 a. m., arrive Conway 1 00 p. m. leave Conway 2 45 p. m., Chadbourn 5 40 p. m., arrive Hub 6 20 p. m. Daily except Sunday.

Train on Midland N C Branch leaves Goldsboro daily, except Sunday, 7 10 a m, arriving Smithfield 8 30 a m, Returning leaves Smithfield 9 00 a m. arrive at Goldsboro 10 25 a m.

Train on Nashville Branch leaves Rocky Mount at 4 30 p m, arrives Nashville 5 05 p m, Spring Hope 5 30 p m. Returning leaves Spring Hope 8 00 a m, Nashville 8 35 a m, arrives at Rocky Mount 9 05 a m, daily except Sunday.

Train on Clinton Branch leaves Warsaw for Clinton daily, except Sunday, 8 20 a m, and 4 10 p.m. Returning leaves Clinton at 7 00 a m, and 11 30 pm

Wilson and Fayetteville Branch leave Wilson 2 06 p m, 11 16 p m, arrive Selma 3 06 p m, Smithfield 3,06 p m, Dunn 3 50 p m. Fayetteville 4 40 p m, 1 14 a m, Rowland 6 10 p m. Returning leave Rowland 10 00 a m, Fayetteville 11 20 a m, 10 20 p m, Dunn 12 07 p m, Smithfield 12 48 p m, Selma 1 00 p m, arrive Wilson 1 42 p m, 12 10 a m.

H. M. EMERSON,
Ass't. Gen'l Passenger Agent.

J. R. KENLY, Gen'l Manager.
T. M. EMERSON Traffic Manager.

F. HALL, OSCAR PEARSALL

HALL & PEARSALL

Cor. NUTT and MULBERRY STS.

WILMINGTON. - N. C.

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

—AND—

—WHOLESALE DEALERS IN—

HEAVY GROCERIES

WE ALWAYS CARRY A LARGE AND WELL SELECTED STOCK OF

Flour, Sugar, Coffee, Molasses, Salt Fish,

Hay Corn Oats Tobacco, Snuff, Cigars, Hoop-Iron, Nails, Glue,

Cotton Bagging and Ties.

☞ We solicit the patronage of the public. and guarantee to give satisfaction. Correspondence invited.

☞ Consignments of Naval Stores, Cotton and all Country Produce will receive careful attention.

HALL & PEARSALL
WILMINGTON, N. C

ORGANIZED 1856.

GEORGIA HOME INSURANCE COMPANY.

COLUMBUS, Ga.

J. RHODES BROWN, President.

Wm. C. COART, Secretary.

A HOME COMPANY,

Seeking Home Patronage.

Strong! Prompt! Reliable! Liberal!

Agents at all Cities, Towns and Villages in the Southern States.

W. W. HODGES, Agent,
Wilmington N. C

E.NYE HUTCHISON, Agent.
Charlotte N. C

$4 PER DAY SURE SALARY OR COMMISSION.

DO you want honorable, steady employment the year round, at good wages, at your own home or to travel? If so, send 4c in stamps for our wholesale price-list and particulars. We furnish best of bank references.

AMERICAN TEA CO.,
Detroit, Michigan.

PATENTS

Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained and all Patent business conducted for MODERATE FEES. OUR OFFICE IS OPPOSITE U.S. PATENT OFFICE, and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.

Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured.

A PAMPHLET, "How to Obtain Patents," with cost of same in the U.S. and foreign countries sent free. Address,

C.A.SNOW & CO.
OPP. PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

We Want You

to subscribe for the Presbyterian Quarterly. It is the one magazine all Presbyterians should read. Its articles are written by eminent Presbyterians—both clergymen and laymen—to Presbyterians. It is edited under the auspices of an association of ministers of the Presbyterian Church.

Every article in it is vitally interesting—it is orthodox—is progressive—stimulates study and investigation.

The Presbyterian Quarterly has always been $3.00 a year and has always been worth it. It is now $1.00 a year but is still worth $3.00. We have lowered its price because we want to put it in every Presbyterian's hands, but there has been no change in either the number of pages or the appearance of the magazine. Send for a sample copy.

Whittet & Shepperson,
Box 336. Richmond, Va.

THINGS USEFUL.

Pineapple Gelatine.—This makes a most delicious dessert. Prepare the gelatine according to the directions given with each package. When cool enough to hold up the pineapple, put a layer of the gelatine in a mold, then a layer of grated pineapple, another of the gelatine, followed by pineapple, until all the material is used. Place on ice until thoroughly cold and serve with whipped cream. In using pineapple for this gelatine, it will be best to grate it an hour or two before mixing with the gelatine, and sprinkle with sugar. The surplus liquid can be drained off to prevent the gelatine from being "watery" when the layers are arranged. This liquid may be used for flavoring or as a fruit syrup for drinking with ice water.

Cauliflower with Sauce.—Cauliflower, with white sauce, is a dish fit to set before a king. To prepare it take it off all outside leaves; wash thoroughly. Put in bag and boil gently half an hour in salted water. Pour over melted butter with a spoonful of cream, or make this white sauce: Cook together one ounce of flour and two ounces of butter, add one pint of sweet cream or milk, simmer five minutes. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

"Broiled tomatoes" has a nice sound, and this is the way to do them: The tomatoes must be perfectly firm of texture, round in form and barely ripe. Dip in scalding water for one minute, and then remove the skins. Put in the ice box for an hour to get cold and firm again. Cut thick slices and dust them with salt and pepper and put on a buttered broiler. Put over a hot fire, and turn quickly, twice. Pour melted butter over them when served on a hot dish.

Wire Railing and Ornamental Wire Works.

DUFUR & CO.,

311 North Howard St., Baltimore, Md. Manufacture Wire Railing for Cemeteries, Balconies, &c., Sieves, Fender Cages, Sand and Coal Screens, Woven Wire, &c.

Also Iron Bedsteads Chairs, Settee &c.

RED SPRINGS SEMINARY

FOR YOUNG LADIES,

stablished by Fayetteville Presbytery.

New Buildings, well equipped and adapted to all departments of College work. Complete and liberal course. Fully abreast of the leading Southern Colleges for Women.

Full and Efficient Faculty.

Charges very moderate ($108.00 per year for full College course and Board).

Session opens September 30, 1896. For further information write to

Rev. C. G. VARDELL,
Red Springs, N. C.

Presbyterian High School
—OF—
NORTH CAROLINA.

J. M. OLDHAM, Principal.

Full corps of instructors, all college-bred men representing the leading institutions of North Carolina, Virginia and South Carolina. A non-military school located in the country in middle North Carolina, with excellent climate.

Instruction Thorough,
Discipline Mild Yet Firm,
Physical Development Looked After
Rates Reasonable.
Endorsed by Synod of North Carolina.
For catalogues address,

J. M. OLDHAM, Principal,
Mebane, N.C.

DAVIDSON COLLEGE,

DAVIDSON, N. C

The Sixtieth Year Begins September 10th, 1896.

FACULTY

Rev. J. B. Shearer, D. D., LL.D., President, and Professor of Biblical Instruction an Moral Philosophy.
Henry Louis Smith, Ph. D., Vice-President, and Prof. of Natural Philosophy.
W. D. Vinson, M. A., LL.D., Prof. of Mathematics
C. R. Harding, Ph.D., Professor of Greek and German.
W. R. Grey, Ph.D. Professor of Latin and French.
Thos. P. Harrison, Ph.D., Professor of English.
W. J. Martin, Jr., M. D., Ph.D., Prof. of Chemistry.
F. F. Rowe, A. B., Instructor.

GYMNASIUM DIRECTOR.

VOCAL MUSIC.

CLASSICAL,
MATHEMATICAL,
SCIENTIFIC,
LITERARY,
BIBLICAL,
COMMERCIAL.

SEND FOR A CATALOGUE.

Terms Reasonable.
Location Healthful,
Accommodations Excellent,
Teaching Unsurpassed,
Gymnasium Complete.

Address THE PRESIDENT.

DO NOT FORGET.

THAT OUR BRAND OF FLOUR

THE LADIES' FAVORITE

is the best Flour on the market. Double Patent, and produces more bread than any other.

In addition to our Ladies' Favorite Flour we have taken the Agency for Pillsbury's Best Spring Wheat in barrels and half barrel sacks.

We offer North Carolina Canned Peaches, North Carolina Canned Tomatoes, guaranteed fully equal to any brand. North Carolina Manufactured Tobacco, North Carolina Bacon, California Peaches, California Apricots, both canned and dried, as well as a select stock of groceries of every description.

☞ Orders solicited.

R. W. HICKS,

WHOLESALE ONLY,

Wilmington, N. C.

The Man in the Moon would be happier if he could have a supply of Cool Fragrant and Soothing

Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco

For over twenty-five years the standard smoking tobacco of the world.

To-day More Popular than Ever.

To have a good smoke anytime and everytime it is only necessary to get Bull Durham. It is all good and always good.

BLACKWELL'S DURHAM TOBACCO CO.,
DURHAM, N. C.

H. A. TUCKER. R. D TUCKER.

TUCKER'S

GRANITE AND MARBLE WORKS

DEALERS IN ALL KINDS OF

Granite and Marble Monuments

CONTRACTORS FOR BUILDING STONE

H. A. TUCKER & BRO.,
No. 310 Front St.,
Wilmington, N C.

As Successors to
D. A. GRANTHAM,

The Messrs. TUCKER & BRO., have a fully equipped branch yard at Goldsboro and as in Wilmington, are there prepared to do any kind of first-class work.

WORTH & WORTH,

—OFFER FOR SALE—

BEST QUALITY, FULL WEIGHT

FLOUR, BACON, SUGAR, LARD
MOLASSES, MEAL, SALT,
LIME, CEMENT,

Plaster, Hay, Corn, Hoop Iron, Oats Rivets Glue.

BUNGS, CANNED GOODS,
At Low Prices
WILMINGTON, N. C.

CABLED FIELD AND HOG FENCE.

Cabled Poultry Fence; Wire Fence Board; Yard, Cemetery and Grave Lot Fencing on Steel Posts a Specialty. We Pay the Freight. Catalogue Free
K. L. GRILLBERGER, ATLANTA, GA.

M. H. JONES

DURHAM, N. C.,

Keeps on hand a fine assortment of

STERLING SILVER WARE,
JEWELRY, DIAMONDS,
WATCHES, CLOCKS

and everything found in a first-class jewelry store.

☞ Repairing of all kinds, especially such as is usually sent North, done promptly and in best style; reputation established for this class of work.

..An Evolution in Typewriters..

A LITTLE Machine
With a BIG Record....
The...
BLICKENSDERFER
No. 5 Typewriter.

Marvel in Mechanism. $35 Standard of Simplicity.

Has More DESIRABLE Features and Less UNDESIRABLE Ones than Any Other Typewriter Made.

Endorsed by Thousands of ....ENTHUSIASTIC USERS....

CATALOGUE AND SAMPLE OF WORK FREE.

K. M. TURNER,
GEN'L SOUTHERN AGENT,
41 N. Broad St., Atlanta, Ga.
918 F St. N. W., Washington, D.C.
914 E. Main St., Richmond, Va.
Daily Record Bld'g, Baltimore, Md.

North Carolina Presbyterian.

New Series—Vol. XXIX—No. 1,538. WILMINGTON, N C., THURSDAY, JULY 1, 1897. Old Series. Vol. XXXIX—No. 2,698

THE OFFICE OF THE PRESBYTERIAN IS IN THE ALLEN BUILDING ON PRINCESS STREET—ROOM No. 6, ON SECOND FLOOR.

Subscription price $2.00 a year.
Ministers $1.00
Missionaries $1.50, including postage.
New Subscribers $1.50 for first year.

☞ Checks or orders in payment of subscription may be made payable either to John McLaurin, or to North Carolina Presbyterian. Please send forward promptly.

(For Contents see Second Page)

MEDICAL MISSIONS.

The paths of pain are thine, go forth
With patience, trust and hope;
The sufferings of a sin-sick earth
Shall give thee ample scope.

Beside the unveiled mysteries
Of life and death go stand
With guarded lips and reverent eyes
And pure of heart and hand.

So shalt thou be with power endued
From Him who went about
The Syrian hillsides doing good,
And casting the demons out.

The Good Physician liveth yet
Thy friend and guide to be;
The Healer by Gennesaret
Shall walk the rounds with thee.
—Whittier.

"GOD CLAIMS ME."

When the late Earl Cairnes was a little boy he heard three words which made a memorable impression on him: "God claims you." Then came the question: "What am I going to do with the claim?" He answered: "I will own it, and give myself to God." He went home and told his mother: "God claims me." At school and college his motto was: "God claims me." As a member of Parliament, and ultimately as Lord Chancellor, it was still "God claims me." When he was appointed Lord Chancellor, he was a teacher of a large Bible class, and his minister, thinking now he would have no time to devote to that purpose, said to him: "I suppose you will now require to give up your class?" "No," was the reply, "I will not; God claims me."—The Dial of Progress.

When about to take his first drink, the young man should remember that every drunkard once stood where he stands.—Ram's Horn.

A JAPANESE HOME.

The above cut represents the Rear Verandah of the Home of Misses Grier and Patton, Tokushima. The persons seen in the cut are supposed to be connected with the mission.

Miss Florence Patton, of Mexico, Mo., sailed from this country, August 13th, 1895, and Miss Claude Grier, of Harrisburg, N. C., on November 14th, 1896.

THINKING ABOUT OTHERS.

One striking feature in the earthly life of our Lord was that from the beginning to the end He had no thought for His own comfort or convenience. He walked straightforward in the path of duty, fulfilling the will of the Father without question and without murmur. The burden of human guilt shadowed His entire life. Though Himself without sin, He carried upon His shoulders the sins of the whole world. There was about him no moodiness, no sullen brooding, no questioning concerning His feelings. He was too busy relieving human distress and consummating the plan of salvation to think about self. His life was the loneliest one that was ever passed on earth, yet He never uttered a complaint, and if He brooded, it was over the sins of the world. If His heart was heavy within Him, it was because of the perverseness of the men whom He would have saved if they had permitted Him.

Surely He who thus consecrated Himself to the service of humanity is best pleased when His disciples walk most closely in His footsteps. The disciples were first called Christians because they modeled their lives after His example, and in all the succeeding centuries those who have followed Him most closely in deeds of unselfish love toward their fellows have most surely commended themselves to His favor and been the temples of the Holy Spirit. Activity on behalf of others is the surest means of guaranteeing personal salvation. He whose hands and heart are so full of loving ministrations to the unfortunate and sinful that He has no idle time in which to cherish morbid dreams will certainly be happier than his less active comrade, and will win many stars to shine in the crown of his rejoicing. He who saves others saves himself.—Central Christian Advocate.

There is one style of preaching that is vastly more effective than any other, and that is the irresistible eloquence of a pure, manly, noble and unselfish life. "My pastor's discourses are not very brilliant," said an intelligent lady, "but his daily life is a sermon all the week." The "living epistle" of Paul was as sublime and convincing as any words that fell from his lips on the hill of Mars; for Jesus Christ lived in him.—Theodore L. Cuyler, D. D.

The greatest misfortunes men fall into arise from themselves.—Steele.

PERSONS AND PAPERS.

Our life's floor is laid upon eternity; no crack in it but shows the underlying heaven.—C. Kingsley.

* * *

The best thing to take people out of their own worries is to go to work and find out how other folks' worries are getting on.—Mrs. A. D. T. Whitney.

* * *

He is commonly the wisest, and is always the happiest, who receives simply and without envious question whatever good is offered him, with thanks to the immediate giver.—Ruskin.

* * *

Love is the greatest thing that God can give us; for Himself is love; and it is the greatest thing we can give to God! for it will give ourselves, and carry with it all that is ours.—Jeremy Taylor.

* * *

Fashionable follies squander time, invade the hours of sleep, exhaust the physical powers, undermine the health, and bring their devotees to an untimely and an unhallowed grave.—Luthern Observer.

* * *

As a father in a garden stoops down to kiss a child, the shadow of his body falls upon it. So many of dark misfortunes of our life are not God going away from us, but our Heavenly Father stooping down to give us the kiss of his infinite and everlasting love.—Selected.

* * *

One frequent good result from trouble is that it sends people to Christ. It is probable that the paralytic would never have gone to Christ with his sins, and therefore would never have received salvation if it had not been for his bodily illness. His paralysis made him think of his sins and want to be healed. Many a soul is saved through a suffering body. A man who had been all his life very busy, with no time for religious thoughts, was stricken down and lay helpless for years. He said once to a friend that he had never learned to live until he was unable for activity. He had looked at his life and had turned to Christ while sitting powerless in his chair.—Westminster Teacher.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

1ST PAGE—Medical Missions (poetry)—"God Claims Me."—A Japanese Home Thinking About Others—Persons and Papers.

2ND PAGE — Editorial: "On Mine Account"—Editorial Notes.

3RD PAGE — Editorial Notes—India Relief Fund—Ink Spots.

4TH PAGE— The General Assembly and the Bible Cause—The Missionary Magazine—General Assembly Narrative.

5TH PAGE.—Literary Jottings—Magazines.

6TH PAGE — Religious Intelligence—Personals—Texas Notes.

7TH PAGE—A Warm Reception—Commencement at Normal Institute, Asheville.

8TH PAGE—Gold Dust—Too Little Alone With God.—The Blessed Fruits of Redeeming Love—Home Influence—The Cross—The Secret of Life—A Beginning and an End.

9TH PAGE—Peace, Perfect Peace.

10TH PAGE—Sunday School Lesson—Young People's Column—Puzzles—Open Door.

11TH PAGE—Marriages—Obituaries—Odds and Ends.

12TH PAGE. — (For the Family)—Our Life Poem (poetry)—Author of "Old Black Joe."

13TH PAGE—July (poetry) — The Queen's Jubilee—Little Alice's Prayer—Letter-Box.

14TH PAGE—Cash Receipts Orphans' Home—Secular News.

15TH PAGE—Letter from University Summer School—Market.

16TH PAGE—Things Useful.

"ON MINE ACCOUNT."

These words are found in the eighteenth verse of Paul's letter to Philemon. Paul was a prisoner at Rome, but allowed to dwell in his own hired house and to receive and talk with any who came to him. One day, or at the first, it may have been at night, there came a man who was hiding in Rome that he might not be arrested and returned to his master from whom he had run away, either for no reason but desire to be free, or for some real or fancied wrong done him. This was Onesimus a slave of Philemon. The wife of Philemon was Apphia and Archippus seems to have been their son. Paul had been in their house and had brought the master to Christ, and to be his friend henceforth on that account. The slave had seen Paul there and knew his friendship for the master and his kindness too. So he sought Paul the prisoner and was by him led to Christ.

Now Paul persuaded the slave to return to his master to serve him as a Christian ought. He undertook to intercede with the master to receive his slave, not now as a slave, but as a brother beloved. He wrote this letter to Philemon his friend to commend the slave. The style of the letter is everywhere recognized as in fine form and finish, of polite phrase and elegant diction. It is worthy of study as a literary product from one man of learning and culture to another, his educated friend of wealth and refinement.

But the excellence of the letter is not as a literary production or a well written letter merely, but for this, that the great apostle turns all his elegance, culture and force of writing to plead the cause of a fugitive slave. As an apostle he might have enjoined Philemon to receive his slave as a Christian, or he might have insisted that the master should do this in discharge of the debt he owed him as the Lord's minister. But he puts these aside and makes the plea which we can always make, that the master would receive the slave for Christ's sake.

Then the apostle puts aside, out of all question, any loss the master may have suffered by the flight of his slave and the value of his services, and removes any such barrier to his restoration by saying, "If he hath wronged thee or oweth thee ought, put that on my account."

This is a great help to our understanding of what Christ has done for sinners who are saved by Him. All are fugitives from the service of God, hiding in groundless fear that He will force us to serve Him. The Lord Jesus Christ bids us come to Him and trust Him to restore us to God, no longer as slaves, but as sons. In presenting us to His Father He says: "If he hath wronged thee, or oweth thee ought, put that on my account."

We know that we have wronged God by our sin and continue to wrong Him by our sins. But we read, "He hath made Him to be sin for us who knew no sin that we might be made the righteousness of God in Him." And again: "Who gave Himself for our sins, that He might deliver us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father." There is a difference in Scripture references to sin and sins. This same Jesus says of our weakness and failures to live up to the ideal of our calling in Christ, "put that on my account." It is written: "My little children, these things write I unto you that ye sin not, and if any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous."

It is to be noticed that where the blood of Christ is referred to as power to take away sins, it means the guilt of sin. But Christ has taken the debt of our inability to live without sin, and the wrong of pollution that remains in us, and says to His Father, for each of these, "put that on mine account."

On this ground our sins are forgiven, we are saved by the life of Christ, we grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ and shall be owned and glorified in His likeness in Heaven.

A PROMINENT Northern paper has been taken seriously to task lately for using the capital C. in designating congregations of Methodists, Baptists, Presbyterians and others. The critic in the case is a Roman Catholic who contends that "a sacrificial priesthood" is necessary to a Church, and that without this the associations are sects, and their houses of worship—he would say so-called worship—are merely meeting houses. The matter looks too small for serious contention, but it may serve to amuse for a little space.

The critic claims that all whom he is pleased to call sects have been cut off from the real and only true Church—meaning of course the Roman Catholic Church. This does not affect us for, as is most assuredly believed among us, Presbyterians are the direct and loyal descendants of the apostolic Church, having and holding the doctrines and the forms of our apostolic ancestors—or predecessors if you prefer. Therefore we are the true Church and fully and clearly entitled to be written with a capital C.

The Roman Catholic Church fell far, and fell sadly, out of line and has no claim, if things be pressed, to the great distinction now in controversy. Still we do not vaunt ourselves. We willing accord all others, who are striving to advance the interests of the kingdom in Scriptural belief and by Scriptural methods full sincerity, and give to all due and equal honor—we give to all, that is, the capital C.

We follow Webster's definition of the word sect. He does not derive the word from secare, to cut off, but from sequi, to follow, and so all the palaver and chatter about sects proves merest verbal froth. All associations of Christians as following the one Lord and Master, in sincerity and in truth, are Churches of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

THE EXTRACTS from the Letter Books of Governor Vance—North Carolina's war governor—are exceedingly interesting, and recall very much that which was familiar during the "war between the States"—and of course tell us of much not heretofore well-known. The letters are characteristic of Gov. Vance and set forth prominently that love for North Carolina, and that devotion to her interests and to the rights of her citizens which were in such large part the cause of his immense popularity. The Wilmington Messenger in which these extracts are published is doing a good work for our State, and is making a most important contribution to her history in publishing them.

THE FIRST DIPLOMAS given by the medical school of Johns Hopkins University were bestowed upon a class of fifteen who had gone creditably through the exceedingly rigid four years course of that institution. They were enthusiastically granted as, in their black university gowns edged with green, they went up to receive their diplomas. The unique feature of the occasion was the giving of the diploma to Miss Mary S. Packard of New Jersey, a graduate of Vassar of the class of 1892. Three other young women entered the class with her, but matrimony took off one and sickness caused another to retire. She was cheered to the echo; the ladies in the audience leading off and the university alumni and students joining in tumultuously.

THE LIBBY prison in which Federal prisoners were confined during the late war, was removed it will be remembered, from Richmond, Va., and carefully set up according to the original plan in Chicago. This in 1890 and as a financial speculation. During the World's fair the building was visited by many thousands and the owners netted $60,000 from their venture. Of late however, the visitors have been very few and the enterprise is not paying. It is likely all the pictures, cannon, rifles, shot and other war relics will be removed, probably to Washington City, and the building be used for the other purposes. It is very eligibly located and it is claimed the lease is worth $1,000 a foot frontage.

Our Washington correspondent writes:

The Smithsonian Institution will shortly place on exhibition what is said to be the most complete collection in existence of East Asiatic coins and religious medals. The collection was made by the late G. B. Glover, of New York, during the period of years he was officially connected with the Chinese Imperial Maritime Customs Service, and was by him bequeathed to the Smithsonian Institution. There are 2,025 pieces, and the coinage of China is represented from 770 B. C., down to the present time.

The pastoral relations of Dr. Talmage are again being much discussed. It will be remembered that he came to Washington with the somewhat peculiar understanding that he was to receive no stated salary, but was to accept whatever the officers of the church paid him. A system was adopted under which the choice seats in the church were sold for each service and for a time the anxiety of many people to hear Dr. Talmage made it successful, but for the past few months the greater portion of the congregation has been made up of those who waited until the doors were thrown open to those who had not purchased tickets, and the revenues of the church have consequently fallen off. It cannot be stated upon the authority of any officer of the church, as none of them will discuss the matter with outsiders, but it is being talked around that for several months past Dr. Talmage has not been paid any thing; and the prediction is made that if there isn't an early change Washington will lose Dr. Talmage. That would be a matter for regret, but it would be no more than many expected from the first. Such relations between a preacher and a church were experimental, and few thought that they could stand the test of time. Speaking for myself alone, I have no hesitation in saying, it will always be more satisfactory, for both a church and its minister, to have it clearly understood how much salary is to be paid. Then there can be no disappointment on either side.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

INK SPOTS.

What is the greatest fact now in the world? That God has actually a kingdom here, actually set up in this wicked world; that men are born every day into this kingdom, as children are daily coming into the world—and another fact almost as great is—that here while this kingdom of God is building the world at large does not realize it. How it will strike the great skeptics, the Emersons and Darwins, and Materialists, the whole world of deniers one day, to understand that right under their eyes, right by their side, this great temple of God was going up, the sunlight playing on its pinnacles, the stars keeping watch over it by night, its worshipers going daily into its doors, its ministers going about their temple service, crowds coming to its solemn feasts, angels passing to and fro in its courts, God Himself building it, adding to it, adorning it, preserving it, and amid all this they never once dreaming it was a great reality, the spiritual temple of God, His Church on the earth. So it is still as of old "hid from the wise and prudent."

* * *

Why is it one season recalls so vividly another? Is it simply the law of contract, or does it point to the fact that man cannot bound his life in the present, must live in the past and the future. Why on this beautiful spring day, will I linger on the past bright morning on February, distinct in my eye as it was then.

The sky looking so clear, clean and firm as if it would ring again, if stricken, the air transparent and the body, limbs and twigs of every tree distinctly cut in the clear atmosphere, and then the distant woods with their tree-trunks forming pillared aisles, the spaces filled with purple air, and the upper branches intermingling, forming a kind of upper shrubbery of limbs and delicate twig-tracery, and bathed in that same purplish air, softening all the distant view into a kind of shadow-light.

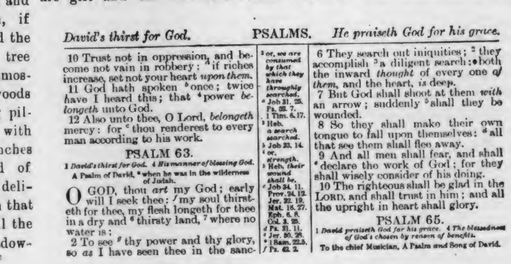
Or recall that day in the past autumn "when the dreamy haze hung round the distant hills and here and there a woodbine lighted its torch in the darkening dingle, and the maples in mellow fire signalled each other from hill to hill," when down by the woodland little stream, came that fragrant odor of new fallen leaves, and the sudden cool air of October touched the cheek with its inviable finger, suggesting some unseen spirit wandering through the cool spaces bright with golden leaves and musical with the tinkling of the stream as it glided over its pebbles and mossy-broken roots. Each season as it comes and goes, plays its own symphony to one's thoughts and weaves its own music as well as its own fancies into that strange web we call Our Life.

E. H. H.

Farmville, Va.

INDIA RELIEF FUND.

TWO CENTS will sustain the life of a man, woman or child for one day.



Previously acknowledged.....	$130 11
Junior C. E. Society, New Hope church, Brunswick county.	2 71

OUR PREMIUM BIBLE.

Measures 5x7 inches when Closed, and Contains 1,600 Pages of Reading Matter—Several hundred pages of Useful Information, besides the Scriptural Text.

At length we find ourselves with pride and pleasure, able to offer a Bible premium to workers for the N. C. PRESBYTERIAN. The size and quality of type of our Bible is represented by the cut here given:

David's thirst for God. PSALMS. He praiseth God for his grace.

10 Trust not in oppression, and become not vain in robbery: [1]if riches increase, set not your heart upon them.
11 God hath spoken [2]once; twice have I heard this; that [4]power belongeth unto God.
12 Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for [5]thou renderest to every man according to his work.

PSALM 63.

1 David's thirst for God. 4 His manner of blessing God.
A Psalm of David, [6]when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

O GOD, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: [7]my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and [8]thirsty land, [7]where no water is;
2 To see [9]thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the sanc-

[2] or, we are construed by their which they have thoroughly searched. [4] Job 31. 28. Ps. 62. 7. 1 Tim. 6. 17. [5] Heb. a search searched. [1] Job 35. 14. [6] or, strength. [7] Heb. their second shall be. [8] Job 24. 11. Prov. 24. 12. Jer. 32. 19. Mat. 16. 27. Eph. 6. 8. Col. 3. 25. [9] Ps. 27. 11. [1] Jer. 50. 38. [1] Ezek. 20. 6. [1] Ps. 42. 2.

6 They search out iniquities; [2]they accomplish [3]a diligent search: [4]both the inward thought of every one of them, and the heart, is deep.
7 But God shall shoot at them with an arrow; suddenly [2]shall they be wounded.
8 So they shall make their own tongue to fall upon themselves: [4]all that see them shall flee away.
9 And all men shall fear, and shall [4]declare the work of God; for they shall wisely consider of his doing.
10 The righteous shall be glad in the LORD, and shall trust in him; and all the upright in heart shall glory.

PSALM 65.

1 David praiseth God for his grace. 4 The blessedness of God's chosen by reason of benefits.
To the chief Musician, A Psalm and Song of David.

Measuring 5x7 inches when closed, it is a handy size for use in the home, Sunday School or church. The Bible contains besides 1050 pages of Scriptural text, the HELPS to Scripture reading and study including Subject Index, Concordance, a most serviceable General Topical Index, a large number of pages treating of the Titles, Authorship, Distinctive Characters, Contents, &c., of the various books of the Bible, A Description of the Inhabitants, Physical Geography, Customs and Political Condition of the Holy Land at the beginning of the Christian era, the Botany of the Bible, Glossary of Antiquities, Customs, 12 maps, etc., being the Oxford Helps, acknowledged to be the very best, besides 124 full page illustrations of the Languages, Writing, &c., of the Old and New Testaments, of the bas reliefs and the like, discoveries in archæological researches, and now in the British museum—and very much else; making altogether the most desirable

Don't imagine that because a man is not going according to your rule he is not going your way. Probably one of the greatest surprises that will meet us as we approach heaven will be the great number of diverse paths coming together just outside the gate.—Bible Reader.

The Bible is an offer in connection with the NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN—the only medium thro which one can become well acquainted with what is going on in the Synod of North Carolina—on the folowing terms:

We will give this Bible as payment for help rendered to any old subscriber who will send us the name of a BONA FIDE new subscriber along with $2.25.

The new subscriber gets the paper very cheap—we offer it to any bona fide new subscriber for $1.50 for the first year—and the worker gets amply compensated in a magnificently cheap Bible for his or her good work.

A new subscriber to get the Bible can subscribe for himself at $1.50 and then send another new subscriber with $2.25.

The Premium offered is the Genuine Edition of the Oxford Teacher's Bible.

We trust our friends will go to work promptly on this plan.

JOHN McLAURIN,
Manager N. C. Presbyterian.

"Our Premium Bible" contains absolutely nothing that tends to discredit the plain Scripture narrative of "Jonah and the whale."

When a man really gets in earnest about going to heaven, it can easily be seen in the greater preparation he is making for it than he is making to stay upon the earth.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY AND THE BIBLE CAUSE.

The Bible Cause, as represented by our great agency, the American Bible Society, received more than usual attention at the hands of the recent Assembly in Charlotte. It was first brought prominently forward by an impressive address from the Rev. Dr. Alexander McLean, of New York, one of the Corresponding Secretaries, who showed how the receipts had the last year fallen short of the expenses of the work more than $77,000, that the gifts of the living from all sources had amounted to only $58,886.23, that the amount received from legacies had reached only $54,642.31, and that in consequence of this lack of funds, the Society for the first time in its history, had been compelled to decline to print two translations of Scripture which had been approved and were recognized as needed in the missionary work. And he further pointed out the danger of a serious retraction of the whole work, unless relief speedily come to the Society.

The Committee on the Bible Cause, to whom the address and other information relating to the matter were referred, met several times and earnestly considered the whole subject, having the District Superintendent for North and South Carolina present, to supply any additional information or counsel that might be needed; and the special effort was to secure a more general presentation of the cause in our churches and the raising of a collection in every church for this object. The report which the Committee presented was unanimously adopted, and contained the following item.

"Recognizing and acknowledging our duty in this work, this Assembly renews its obligations to this Society and does hereby urge upon Presbyteries to appoint a committee on the Bible Cause if they have not one already; and further urges upon the Presbyteries to see that this cause is presented to the churches within their bounds, and that they give these churches an opportunity to contribute to the Bible Cause each year."

Subsequently this subject came up again in the consideration of the report of the Committee on Systematic Beneficence. This report showed that according to the reports on Systematic Beneficence sent up by the Presbyteries, only 353 churches reported contributions to the Bible Cause, amounting to but $2,678. These figures indicate a very widespread neglect of this object, for which the Assembly has ordered a regular collection every year, only about one-eighth of the churches recognizing the order; and also a very considerable falling off from the contributions of last year, which were then and are now far short of those reported for any other of the Assembly's objects of beneficence. In view of this deficiency, notwithstanding the great importance and the needs of the work, the committee recommended a change of the day of collection from the third Sabbath of October to the first Sabbath of June, the purpose being to appropriate the month of June to this object instead of dividing October with Foreign Missions. But when the proposition came before the Assembly an earnest discussion ensued, all of which was most friendly to the Bible Cause, the universal desire being to promote its best interests. And the opinion seemed to prevail that the change of time proposed would be detrimental rather than helpful to the cause, that the Presbyteries would be very unwilling to divert the June collections from Local Home Missions, and that very little money is in the hands of our people at that season, anyhow. So the committee's recommendation was amended by unanimous consent, to retain the third Sabbath in October as the time for the Bible Society collection, which all the churches were earnestly urged not to neglect. And under another recommendation of the Committee, which was adopted, the Presbyteries are required to call on all their churches to report whether the collections have been taken up, and the Presbyteries to report the facts to the Assembly.

Now what shall be the outcome of all this action of the Assembly? Will the cause be presented and the collections raised? Or will the Bible Society be neglected in the future as in the past? This will not be the case if the spirit manifested in the Assembly pervades the Church. And surely if the facts be considered and the situation appreciated, there will be a rally of the people the present year to the support of this most worthy object. The A. B. S., is as truly our agent for the work of Bible distribution at home and abroad as is our Foreign Missions Committee for the conduct of our Foreign Missions work. It is as dependent for support upon the contributions of the people whom it serves as is any one of our church agencies. And its claims upon us are just as true and strong as those of any other department of our work. Let every minister consider these facts and lay them before his people, and then we shall hardly have to complain of the result.

T. H. L.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

THE MISSIONARY MAGAZINE.

MR. EDITOR:—We the undersigned members of the Executive Committee who have in charge the publication of the Missionary Magazine for the following year, ask for space in your paper to make the following statements:

1st. We think the Church is to be congratulated in having a magazine so ably edited, and so full of important and interesting Church news. Never before in the history of our Southern Church have we had a magazine so well fitted for the work for which it is intended. It is with genuine pleasure the Committee sends forth this magazine among the churches.

When the Assembly in Dallas suggested to the Committee to reduce the price from one dollar to fifty cents, and when the Assembly in Charlotte suggested that the price continue at fifty cents another year, it was not because these Assemblies did not believe the magazine was worth a dollar, but it was because of their desire to place the price within the reach of a greater number of subscribers and thereby more widely scatter this missionary information.

2d. To publish ten thousand copies a month for twelve months will cost in round numbers, four thousand dollars. If we had ten thousand paying subscribers, and each one paid promptly, we would receive five thousand dollars, or one thousand dollars profit. But there has been a large free list, of ministers and missionaries. There has been, is, and we suppose will be, a large delinquent list. There are so many who are slow about their remittances. Therefore instead of a profit of one thousand, the magazine was published last year at a loss of a little more than one thousand dollars.

3d. The increase of subscribers at the fifty cent rate was not what we hoped it would be. For eight years previous when the price was a dollar the average increase in the subscription list was about one thousand a year. Last year when it was only fifty cents the increase was only five hundred and sixty-seven, and there were just about as many withdrawals, and for the same excuse, "hard times."

We believe it would be a great gain if we could keep the subscription price at fifty cents, but to do this we must increase the list of subscribers. Some of the ministers who have been on the free list have followed the suggestion of the last Assembly and have paid themselves off from that list.

We would like to suggest to the sessions of our churches to appoint some one in their congregation who will take an interest in not only getting subscribers, but in collecting from subscribers their dues, and remitting to our Treasurer. Any session that will comply with the above suggestion will confer a favor by sending the name of the person appointed, to the Secretary, Rev. Dr. Chester.

ANGUS MCDONALD,
G. H. BASKETTE,
W. H. RAYMOND,
Committee on Publication.
Nashville, Tenn.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY NARRATIVE.

The late General Assembly requested that this paper prepared by Rev. J. Calvin Stewart, should be published in the religious newspapers:

Your committee has to report that narratives from 74 Presbyteries have been submitted.

It may not be out of place to remark, with all due courtesy to the Presbyteries, that while some of these narratives are prepared with credit, care and zealous interest, some are neglectfully prepared, and are very meagre in statement; paper in some cases defaced. It does seem that this is unbecoming the important and dignified work of the Presbytery; unworthy the sanctified interest involved.

Your committee also note in this connection, that many of the Presbyteries report a surprisingly large percentage of their churches as sending no narrative to Presbytery. For instance, Dallas Presbytery reports only 27 narratives out of 51 churches; the Presbytery of Athens, 18 narratives out of 36 churches; North Alabama Presbytery, 37 narratives out of 71 churches. The year past, judging from the narratives, has been one of general advancement all along the line of our Church work. Our hearts are cheered at the tidings of what great things the Lord hath done for our Zion. It is a little significant that, while in a large majority of the churches no "special outpouring of the Holy Ghost" is noted, yet it is evident that the year gone has been a time of the Spirit's special presence and power in nearly all the churches. There has been a marked growth in grace; a renewed fidelity on the part of the people in laboring in church, in Sabbath-school and in mission work. There has been a deepening of the spiritual life of the people, as evidenced in the worshipping of the Lord with their substance with singular faithfulness and liberality in these greatly depressed business times. Cheering tidings come from very many churches of a silent, yet powerful work of the Spirit accompanying the stated preaching of "the Word." One Presbytery reports 475 additions; one 146; another 194; one 257; another 241; then one reports an increase of 20 per cent. of the membership. This report comes from Indian Presbytery. Another Presbytery reports 305 additions; one 213, and another 200. Atlanta Presbytery reports 289 added to the church, of whom 175 came from Sabbath schools.

We see a gradual awakening in the Church to a sense of her duty to the spiritually destitute within her bounds.

Our Church is arousing to the fact that her Gospel, Creed and polity are more and more adapted to all within our bounds, and we rejoice that in many churches she is hastening to occupy the fields at her doors. We quote from the Presbytery of New Orleans: "The Presbyterian force has been materially strengthened by the additions of several consecrated and able young men, who, in the pastorate and in the evangelistic fields, have been doing admirable and effective work. Our missions in New Orleans among the Chinese, the seamen and the negroes are all flourishing. Converted Chinamen are from time to time returning from this Christian school to their fatherland and constituting new centres of evangelistic influence in their great pagan country. At a recent communion in the Canal Street church, under whose care this mission is, 18 of these saved Orientals sat down at the table of the Lord. A number of Syrians, small shop-keepers in New Orleans, expressed through one of their number, although members of the Greek Church, desire to become Protestants."

This year marks an increase in the faith and affections of our Church for her traditional doctrines and practices. There is to be this year a triumphant vindication of the loyalty of our people to our historic standards. The celebration of the 250th anniversary of the Westminster Assembly and Confession is having an effect of great value upon the thought and individual life of our Church.

One Presbytery reports a great revival of catechetical study, and, happily, too, with this increased zeal in the study of Catechism, there has been noted an increase in Bible study in the Church, the Sabbath-school, and in the home. There is an apparent gain in missionary zeal and organization. There is a distinct effort to enlarge and more thoroughly organize and perfect our Sabbath-school work. An effort is also being made and is gradually gaining ground, to train more generally the members of our Sabbath-schools in systematic giving in the Church's causes.

We note that amost every narrative emphasizes a decrease in intemperance and worldly amusements. Only one narrative has an expressed fear of the growth of worldly amusements and attendance thereon.

Some anxiety, and evidently with good ground, is expressed in regard to the attitude of our people toward Sabbath observance. It is an unquestioned fact that some of our members do not observe the Sabbath as they ought. This holy day is being more and more secularized; and the time has undoubtedly come for the regular pastorate to preach with renewed fidelity to the people, especially to the young of our congregations, set discourses on the divine origin of the day; its relation to man's spiritual interests, and to his material and physical well-being; as well as to the nation's and the Church's prosperity and peace.

Just in this connection, one thing pains us to know, and the mere statement of it will carry its own lesson and afford food for the whole Church's prayerful consideration. It is the almost general decadence of family worship.

One narrative, in speaking on family worship, says: "No increase." Another "sadly neglected," and after a careful scanning of some fifteen narratives representative in character, we are constrained to join in and to quote the exact language of one of them: The neglect is simply "appalling."

We see, too, a common, and, if we mistake not, a growing, practice on the part of parents to relegate to the Sabbath-school teachers near all Bible and catechetical instruction of the children of their homes. As we said in the outset, so we say in conclusion, that the year as a whole has been one of advance. A tone of cheer and of confidence pervades the churches. The signs of persistent, consecrated and prayerful effort on the part of the ministry and office-bearers of the Church are everywhere apparent, and here, as always, they have had their precious reward—grace, mercy and peace to all the Israel of God.

LITERARY JOTTINGS.

A bronze bust of the great composer, Beethoven, was unveiled in Lincoln park, Chicago, on the 19th inst.

Gilbert Parker, author of that very popular novel, "The Seats of the Mighty," is a native Canadian. He is of English parentage.

When about ten years old William Cullen Bryant was given a Spanish nine-penny piece for turning the book of Job into verse.

Fraulein Marie Ruckert, daughter of the famous German poet, some years ago set to work to learn Hungarian for the purpose of translating her father's poems into that language. She has now completed the task, and the work will probably be published by the Academy of Sciences at Budapest.

The fondness of John Ruskin for fanciful titles to his books and headings to his chapters is nowhere better shown than in his "Seven Lamps of Architecture." In some respects this work on what may be called the ethics of architecture is his best performance, having a freshness that does not appear in several of his other productions. The work is divided into seven chapters or "Lamps"—Sacrifice, Truth, Power, Beauty, Life, Memory, and Obedience—each of these being elaborately treated with reference to its manifestation in the work of the builder.

Mr. Richard Harding Davis's first novel, "Soldiers of Fortune," just published by Scribners, was in the second edition over a week before it appeared, the advance orders speedily exhausting the first edition of fifteen thousand copies. Mr. Davis and Mr. Gibson make a strong combination, and the former's hold upon the popular taste seems to strengthen each year, for even his severest critics are at one in their opinion as to the interest of his work, and this last book seems to be free in a remarkable degree from the trifling defects which made him fair game for bilious reviewers.

Children are a source of comfort. They are a source of care, also. If you care for your child's health, send for illustrated book on the disorders to which children are subject, and which Frey's Vermifuge has cured for 50 years.
One bottle by mail for 25 cents.
E. & S. FREY, Baltimore, Md.

DROPSY TREATED FREE Positively CURED with Vegetable Remedies. Have cured many thousand cases called hopeless. From first dose symptoms rapidly disappear, and in ten days at least two-thirds of all symptoms are removed. BOOK of testimonials of miraculous cures sent FREE. 10 Days Treatment Free by mail.
Drs Green & Sons, Specialists, Atlanta, Ga.

Royal makes the food pure, wholesome and delicious.
ROYAL BAKING POWDER Absolutely Pure
ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

MAGAZINES.

George W. Smalley will contribute an article on "The Personal Side of the Prince of Wales" to the July Ladies' Home Journal. It is said that Mr. Smalley gives a uniquely interesting, close view of the Prince, touching in detail upon his great personal popularity in England, and the reasons therefor, his love of sports, his pastimes, his social duties and diversions, and showing him as an affectionate son, a devoted husband, a loving father and brother.

The July number of Appletons' Popular Science Monthly contains a thoughtful article on The Principle of Economy in Evolution, by Edmund Noble. The author shows that the whole of Evolution, viewed apart from its secondary processes, may be summed up in the simple formula—movement in the direction of least resistance.

Saturn so much feared by the ancient astrologers because of its supposed malign influence on the world, and now receiving the special attention of astronomers because it preserves to us a probable type of the plan on which all the worlds were originally made, is the subject of an instructive paper by Clifton A. Howes. The curious psychological conditions dominating the mob are discussed by Prof. E. A. Ross. He shows that a crowd, even an excited crowd, is not a mob. Great mental instability marks the true mob, and this characterizes only the crowd that is under the influence of suggestion. Other articles of interest are given.

The July Century will have several papers devoted to the hunting of big game. H. W. Seton-Karr, an English sportsman, tells of his experiences in Africa, including the killing of his first elephant and his first rhinoceros. The author also had the rare good fortune of being asked to join the hunting party of an Indian prince, and he contributes a chapter describing the hunting of tigers from the backs of elephants. His papers are illustrated with photographs of unusual jungle scenes. William Willard Howard, the well-known Armenian correspondent, writes of "Hunting the Jaguar in Venezuela." There will also be an article on "Sports in the Seventeenth Century," by W. A. Baillie-Grohman, describing deer-driving, fox-tossing, etc. It will have curious illustrations from quaint old prints and historical paintings.

Religious Intelligence.

We specially invite News from all quarters for this Department.

The Annual Scheme of Collections in the Synod of North Carolina is as follows:

January—General Assembly's Home Missions.

February and August—Presbyterial Home Missions.

March—Publication and Colportage.

April — Education — (one collection Church and Christian Education).

May and October—Foreign Missions. Third Sabbath in October for Bible Cause.

June and September—Synodical Home Missions.

July—Invalid Fund.

Third Sunday in October—BibleCause.

November and April—Education for the Ministry.

December—ColoredEvangelization

THE ASSEMBLY'S FORM OF BEQUEST.

I do hereby give and bequeath to the Trustees of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States (popularly known as the Southern Presbyterian Church) the sum of .....Dollars for the benefit of [here name cause to which the legacy is given.]

CHANGES OF ADDRESS.

Correspondents will please note the following changes of address:

Rev. D. W. Snyder's address for the summer will be 598 Macon St. Brooklyn, N. Y.

Rev. C. E. Hodgin, from Antioch, N.C., to Bennettsville, S. C.

Rev. R. V. Lancaster, from Kenansville, N. C., to Wilmington, N. C., for July.

Rev. Jos. Crockard, from Charlotte, N. C., to Lucasville, Ont., Canada, until September.

Rev. R. W. Hines, from Rolling Fork, Miss., to Indianola, Miss. No change in work.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Mebane:—Rev. E. C. Murray, D. D., who recently resigned the presidency of the Presbyterian College of South Carolina in order to return to the work of the pastorate, is now happily settled again in the same charge at Mebane, which he left three years ago when called to the college work. His people have welcomed back himself and family with open arms and hearts. They have beautified the manse and grounds, and supplied the larder with many good things. A large congregation crowded the church on the Sabbath, and the happy greetings after the services filled the hearts of the pastor and his wife with joy and gratitude. Besides his pastoral work, Dr. Murray will teach the Bible course in the William Bingham School, which was organized by himself during his former pastorate and known then as the High School of Orange Presbytery, and will assist in editing "Our Church Visitor," the excellent little organ of the Presbyterian church of Alamance county.

Madison:—Rev. Wm. Black, Synodical evangelist of North Carolina, came here June 8th and began preaching, holding two services a day for ten days. The services were held in the Presbyterian church until the congregations were so large that we had to move to the warehouse. All denominations worked harmoniously together. Bro. Black spoke with great power and simplicity. The Holy Spirit was with us. About twenty-five professed faith in Christ. Five have already joined the Presbyterian church and about that many more will join. Four children were baptized. Christians were revived, backsliders renewed their vows and several persons who were not on speaking terms made friends. To God be all the praise. Bro. Black went from here to Wilkesboro and began a meeting there the 20th. He left many warm friends in Madison. May his life be spared many years in the Master's service. J. A. P.

Evangelism in Mecklenburg Presbytery:—Recently Rev. R. P. Smith has been visiting the small churches and mission points in Union and Anson counties in Mecklenburg Presbytery. The first of July he goes to the mountain section of the State in Asheville Presbytery to engage in evangelistic work for three months.

Eno Church:—The protracted meeting ordered by Orange Presbytery to be held for the benefit of the Eno congregation has been appointed to commence Sunday a. m., August 1st at Cedar Grove. This is about two miles from the site of the old church which was burned four years ago. The large academy will afford good accommodation for the congregation.

VIRGINIA.

Evangelism in Powhatan County:—It has recently been my pleasure to labor with the Rev. C. E. Stebbens at Jenito in Powhatan county. The service was begun on Sabbath morning, June 13th and continued till the 21st. Although the farmers were pressed greatly with work there was a full attendance and the Spirit of the Lord seemed to be indeed among the people. Christian people of different denominations united their hearts in prayer for a blessing and it came. God's people reconsecrated themselves and those who had misunderstandings shook hands and forgave each other. Twenty-seven persons a few of them children, made profession of faith. Twenty were received on examination and sixteen were baptized. Eight of those received were parents. An impressive sight was a lady eighty-two years of age frequently present, another young lady, a cripple from childhood, walking with a crutch, and still another a widow and a member of the Roman Catholic church, wheeled in an invalid chair, not having missed a service except the first two.

L. A. McLEAN,
Evangelist of Virginia.

Norfolk:—Rev. Edward Mack was formally installed as pastor of the First church on the 23d ult. Rev. Dr. W. S. Lacy, of Norfolk, presided and propounded the questions. Rev. E. T. Welford, of Newport News, preached the sermon; Rev. E. B. McClure, of Norfolk, charged the pastor, and Rev. H. T. Darnall, of Hampton, the people.

Alexandria:—Three other members were received into this church Sunday June 27th. Two on profession of faith and one by letter. Rev. J. Ernest Thacker, pastor.

FLORIDA.

First Church, Tampa:—There has been fifteen additions to this church recently. Rev. J. G. Anderson in charge.

TEXAS.

First Church, Corpus Christi:—We have had five additions to the First church within tha past few weeks. Four of these on confession of their faith. Rev. A. Walker White, pastor.

PERSONALS.

Mulberry church in Mecklenburg Presbytery has given its pastor, Rev. Joseph Crockard, a two months vacation which he will spend with relatives at his old home near Sarma, Ont., Canada. Mr. Crockard's family accompanies him.

Rev. R V. Lancastsr will spend his vacation at Masonboro Sound near Wilmington. Mr. Lancaster's family will remain during the summer.

Mr. W. C. Underwood, of Hopewell, N. C., a student of Union Seminary, will be at Sharp's Wharf, Va., during the summer.

Rev. J. A. Browne, of Louisville Seminary, will take charge of the Third church, Knoxville, during the absence of the pastor, Rev. Dr. W. A. Harrison.

Rev. Dr. Thos. Gallaher, of Rensalaer, Mo., recently lost the two first fingers of his left hands in a planing mill.

Rev. Saml. Moore, of Huntersville, N. C., has taken charge of the church at Pocahontas, Va.

The degree of Doctor of Divinity has been conferred upon Rev. Thornton Whaling, of Lexington, Va., by Roanoke College, Salem, Va., and the same honorary title has been given Rev. T. M. Hawes, of Louisville, Ky., and Rev. Thomas Cummins, of Henderson, Ky., by Central University of the same State.

Rev. A. B. Curry, of Birmingham, Ala., has received the degree of D. D., from the Southwestern Presbyterian University.

Rev. Frank K. Sims, a recent graduate of Columbia Seminary, will supply the pulpit of the Second church, Charleston, during the absence of the pastor, Rev. Dr. Brackett, Mr. Sims' address for July will be 314 Meeting Street.

We note that Rev. Roger Martin of Mallard Creek is assisting Rev. H. M. Dixon in a meeting in Monroe.

Rev. M. McG. Shields, of Gastonia, will assist Rev. A. A. Little in a week's services at Steel Creek church the first of August.

We deeply regret to see it stated that by reason of ill health, Rev. Dr. Rawlings has resigned the charge of Scottsville, Arvonia and Howardsville churches, Virginia.

Rev. Hay Watson Smith, of Greensboro, has taken charge of the church at Lexington, N. C.

Rev. Dr. Howerton, of Charlotte, will divide his vacation, being absent two weeks in July and in two in September. Rev. Dr. W. W. Moore will supply his pulpit one Sunday in July.

Miss E. B. French, of Hangchow, China, is visiting friends in Charlotte, N. C. She has given most delightful talks to the ladies and children.

Rev. H. S. Bradshaw, of Hillsboro, N. C., has been granted a month's vacation by his churches. He expects to visit in Tennessee.

Licentiate R. Ernest Vinson has charge of Bethel, Montpelier and Shiloh churches in Fayetteville Presbytery for the summer.

Rev. James Arthur, of Ireland, a student at Union Theological Seminary, Virginia, is assisting the pastor Rev. Wm. C. White, at Hot Springs, Va., this summer with great acceptance. He will return to the seminary in the fall.

Rev. John W. Stagg, pastor of the Second church, Charlotte, on next Monday will leave for Europe. Mr. Stagg's congregation generously pay his passage. He, with a companion, will use the wheel freely in his travels.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

TEXAS NOTES

The church at Palestine is, and has been for a number of years under the pastoral care of Rev. R. H. Crozier, D. D. The building is centrally located near the centre of the city. Though not so imposing as some of the churches of the older and wealthier cities in the States east of Mississippi, yet it is very neat, commodious, and tastefully arranged and is fitted up with electric light and stained glass windows. Some of these are memorial windows and are quite handsome and costly. The Sabbath-school numbers about one hundred pupils and is kept up all the year round. The Ladies' Aid Society, which has been raising quite a sum of money for various purposes of church work is about to go into "summer quarters" till the return of cool weather. This society, and many of the church members here, differ somewhat from their co laborers in the eastern States. For example: A few winters ago a gentleman in your State sent me a message that he would not be at church any more "till the lizzards came out." He could see no need for Christian efforts in cold weather. It is reversed here.

Dr. Grozier, assisted by Rev. J. M. Cochrane of Robinson, has recently held a week's meeting here. While not a great many were added to the church roll, still we had a number of fine sermons, and the meeting was much enjoyed. The Doctor has been giving us some very solid Bible sermons recently pointing out in a very forcible manner many of the prevailing sins of the times, and the danger to which the perpetrators were inevitably exposing themselves. He does not preach to please the people, or to furnish a place of recreation on the Sabbath, but that the mind may be enlightened, and the heart brought into complete subjection to the will of God. Such preaching may not please the masses of the people, it may not fill the pews, or swell the church roll very rapidly; but in the end will yield a richer harvest for the Master, than much of the more popular preaching of the present day, with which many of our pulpits are being cursed.

In this city (of ten thousand or more) there is a wide field for Christian work. It is the headquarters of the International and Great Northern Railway. Their shops and general offices are both located here, which fact not only brings together prominent business men, and a large population, but also a diversified population. And this difference is seen in religion and politics, as well as in social habits and customs. While some of these railroad people are earnest, devout church workers, and are making themselves very useful in the Master's vineyard; still many of them Gallio like, care for none of these things. Consequently there is much here for the church to do. Then too the Romish church have a very strong following here. They have a large, fine church and ample school buildings, and also have full control of the religious work of the Railway Hospital. Why none of the Protestant churches (represented here by the Presbyterians, Methodists, Baptists, Congregationalists and Campbellites) have made no efforts to do anything in this large Hospital, has often been a source of wonder to the writer. But they seem content to hold their hands, paralyze their energies, and carelessly and indifferently suffer this hydra-headed monster of iniquity to have full sway among all the inmates of this philanthropic institution. Protestant in difference in this respect, is adding much to the power and baneful influences of Rome in our midst. The good Lord speed the day when there will be a complete revolution in this respect There are sufficient men and means here to overtake the great work; but the indifference and coldness of the membership of the various Protestant churches is appalling.

SPECTATOR.

Palestine, Texas, June 21s, '97.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

A WARM RECEPTION.

MR. EDITOR:—We respectfully request space in your valuable paper for an acknowledgment to which every Christian heart and church of God should be responsive.

On reaching Henderson a few days ago we found the manse neatly repapered, the larder supplied with the necessaries of life, warm hearts and hospitable homes open to our reception. Callous indeed would be the heart untouched by these tokens of thoughtfulness and love. Our grateful appreciation of the kindness shown us is hereby acknowledged, and we fervently invoke upon these generous friends the richest blessings of our covenant-keeping God.

Our first Sabbath in Henderson was auspicious. Large congregations listened attentively to the "Old, Old Story." At the evening services our Methodist brethren closed their church and worshiped with us. We were truly glad of their presence and assistance. On the part of the different denominations, in fact, of the whole town, a hearty welcome has been accorded us. It is needless to state that already we feel quite at home. The manse is a comfortable two-story building. The church is a brick structure, every pew cushioned. In the near future our people hope to add to the building a lecture room, parlors, study and session room. When this has been accomplished, we may venture to invite Synod to come and enjoy a hospitality that is heart-sprung. Now, Mr. Editor, just a word sub rosa: One of our elders has presented Mrs. Shaw a large, elegant cook stove. If you ever intend to visit us (and we hope you do) come before the larder supply has been exhausted and while said stove is in good repair, and you will very probably concur with us in the opinion that no pastor in North Carolina is serving a more thoughtful generous people. A. R. S.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

COMMENCEMENT AT THE ASHEVILLE, NORMAL AND COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.

BY REV. R. F. CAMPBELL, D. D.

This excellent institution is under the control of the Woman's Executive Committee in connection with the Board of Home Missions of the Northern Presbyterian Church. The training received by the pupils is directly away from the new woman ideal (?), unless she be a new woman who leaves school not only equipped in head and heart with the culture derived from the study of the five arts and literature, but also mistress of the sewing-machine and the needle, of the cooking-stove and the laundry, in short, of all domestic arts. Why should not our girls, even the daughters of the rich and cultured, be taught to sew and cook, as well as to speak French and play the piano? They may or may not in after years be obliged to turn their own hands to these domestic arte, but surely no woman is a model housekeeper who does not know how these things ought to be done and who cannot train her servants to do them in the best way.

It was my privilege to attend the closing exercises of this school, and I was deeply impressed with the value of an education in which the industrial and the practical are co-ordinated with the intellectual and aesthetic. The essays read by the young ladies were of a high order, and there was a practical flavor about them that was evidently due to the reflex influence of industrial training. The musical part of the program showed thorough training and faithful practice.

After the public exercises in the chapel, I was conducted by Dr. Thos. Lawrence, the efficient President of the institute, through the rooms in which the handiwork of the girls was displayed. We first visited the Drawing and Commercial Department, where we saw excellent specimens of free-hand drawing, type-writing, book-keeping, etc. Thence we were conducted into the sewing Department, where the mysteries of dress-making and millinery were illustrated in the concrete products of the needle and the sewing-machine. All students in the Normal department are required to take sewing, as well as a course in book-keeping extending through single entry, whilst advanced training in both these departments is furnished to those who desire special proficiency in these lines.

Last of all, at the late hour of eleven o'clock, tired and hungry, I was led into a room where several tables were loaded with as savory looking viands as ever greeted my eyes—alas! that I cannot say my palate; for in this case the proof of the pudding was not to be in the eating. If those things were as good as they looked (and I have no reason to doubt this,) the young ladies of the Normal and Collegiate Institute will have no difficulty in finding their way to men's hearts along the old proverbial road.

This institution ought not only to be patronized by North Carolina parents, but should be thoroughly studied as a model by those who have charge of girls' schools in our State.

WHO'S SHELLABERGER?
He's the Wire Fence Man, of Atlanta, Ga., and sells the best and cheapest fencing in existence for all purposes. Catalogue free. Write for it.

THE JAMES SPRUNT INSTITUTE,
KENANSVILLE, N. C.
The announcements for the next session of this school are now ready to be sent out. Who wants to see one? Any man with a girl to educate can get some interesting reading by addressing a postal card to Rev. R. V. Lancaster, Kenansville, N. C. For the motto of the trustees is: The best possible school for the least possible cost. Session opens September 8th, 1897.
R. V. LANCASTER, President.

SHENANDOAH VALLEY ACADEMY
NEAR WINCHESTER, VA.
A strictly first class school with exceedingly attractive surroundings for fifty boys and young men. Attention to the individual pupil a leading feature.
For catalogue address,
J. B. LOVETT, M. A.,
(University of Virginia) Principal.

COVE ACADEMY,
COVESVILLE, ALBEMARLE COUNTY, VIRGINIA.
A small private school for boys and young men. Thorough preparation given for College or University. Situated on the Southern Railway, in the mountains of Virginia. Address the principal,
REV. DANIEL BLAIN, D. D.

AGNES SCOTT INSTITUTE
FOR YOUNG LADIES,
DECATUR, GEORGIA.
Six miles east of Atlanta. Connected with the city by Georgia R. R., and two electric lines. All the advantages of the city without its disadvantages. Best modern buildings and equipment.
Healthfulness unsurpassed. Elevation 1,050 feet. Pure freestone water. Free from malaria. Best climate.
Offers four courses, viz.: Classical, Literary, Scientific and Normal. Full corps of able and experienced teachers. High standard. Everything used to secure the formation and development of Christian character. For catalogue containing full information, address the President.
F. H. GAINES, Decatur, Ga.

Medical Department
—OF THE—
UNIVERSITY OF
NORTH CAROLINA.
Instruction in Chemistry, Physics, Biology, Histology, Embryology, Anatomy, Physiology, Materia Medica, Pathology and Minor Surgery.
For catalogue address,
DR. R. H. WHITEHEAD,
Chapel Hill, N. C.

BINGHAM SCHOOL ASHEVILLE, N. C.
Established 1793.
—Military U. S. Army Officer detailed.—
1793 Location and Sanitation best in the United States. Single story Brick Barracks, give safety against fire. "Pre-Eminent among Southern Schools for Boys." U. S. Gov't's Bureau of Education, Washington, D. C. Address Major R. Bingham, A. M. L. L. D., Superintendent. 1897

E. M. ANDREWS,
—THE LARGEST DEALER IN—
FURNITURE, PIANOS AND ORGANS
—IN THE CAROLINAS—
Goods bought direct from the manufacturers in large quantities and sold at only one small profit—no more. The complete furnishing and equipping of new houses a specialty. Pianos and Organs sold at the lowest prices and on easy terms. Furniture sold at a very small margin for spot cash, or on short time where parties are reliable. Small orders as well as large, receive careful and prompt attention.
☞ Write for Catalogues and prices. One Postal Card may save you many dollars.
E. M. ANDREWS,
Charlotte, N. C.

GOLD DUST.

Though He is so bright and we are so dim
We are made in His image to witness Him.

—Robert Browning.

***

I love, indeed, to suffer; but I cannot tell whether I am worthy to suffer.—St. Ignatius.

***

Hath thy heart sunshine? shed it well.
The wearied world hath need of thee:
Doth bitterness within abide?
Shut fast thy door, and hold the key!

—Selected.

***

Heroes in history seem to us poetic, because they are there. But if we should tell the simple truth of some of our neighbors, it would sound like poetry.—G. W. Curtis.

***

Make then, while yet ye may, your God your friend.—Mason.

***

The truth that's given, guard, and to yourself be just.—Dana.

TOO LITTLE ALONE WITH GOD.

We are far too little alone with God, and this, I am persuaded, is one of the very saddest features in our modern Christian living. It is work, work, work—at the very best, some well-meant, Martha-like serving; but where, where are the more devoted Marys, who find the shortest, surest way to the heart of Jesus by ceasing very much from self-willed, self-appointed toils, and, sitting humbly at His feet, to let Him carry on His blessed work within ourselves? If the Mary-like method were carried, out more, it might abridge considerably the amount of work apparently accomplished, but it would incomparably enhance the quality. What though we should lose a hundredweight, and get instead of it only a pound—if the hundredweight lost were only lead, and the pound gotten were pure gold?

God is not looking for great men. He can use small men. Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings he ordains strength. He is not looking for many men: He can get along with a few. He once said that there were too many, but He never said that there were too few. But He does want men; He has taken man into partnership in His work, and does not seem disposed to work without him. When judgment is to be averted from Jerusalem, He tells the prophet: "Run ye to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem, and see now, and know, and seek in the broad places thereof, if ye can find a man, if there be any that executeth judgment, that seeketh the truth; and I will pardon it."—Methodist Times.

THE BLESSED FRUITS OF REDEEMING LOVE.

"Even the forgiveness of our sins." "In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace." Grace is unmerited favor, and his forgiveness is according to his abounding favor, without limit by our demerit. He casts our sins behind his back. He blots them out of the book of his remembrance. He sinks them into the depths of the sea—the deepest places—where they never can be reached or brought up again to face us. He forgives "according to the riches of his grace."

A king once offered a subject a very munificent present for some service. The subject said, "This is too much for me to receive." The king replied, "But it is not too much for me to give." He was rich, and gave according to his ability to give. God is very rich and very loving, and when he gives it is "according to the riches of his grace."

Let us receive and prize at their true worth God's gift of redeeming love and forgiveness of our sins, knowing that out of this manifestation of his grace there come to us also justification, peace, adoption, hope and heaven.—Treasury.

HOME INFLUENCE.

In all the wide world there is no place where the surrounding influences go so far towards forming the character and shaping and moulding the tastes and tendencies of a man or woman as in the home of his or her childhood. If those influences be refining and elevating, and the instructions there received be based upon the principles of love to God and love to man, almost invariably will those influences and teachings manifest themselves sooner or later in the subsequent career of the one who has received them.

The child reflects the home, just as surely as the lake reflects within its mirrored depths the fleecy clouds sailing in the sky above it, and the trees by which its banks are bordered. If that home be the embodiment of purity, culture and refinement, even the face and voice (not to mention the manners of the child) will at once betray it, while a child reared amid coarse, rude, unprincipled people will find it extremely difficult in after years, through much painstaking to remove the traces of such surroundings.

Habit is strong, and in time becomes almost a second nature, while we are all of us imitators of our surroundings, even though ever so unconsciously; so that in the formative period of childhood, when the mind is most plastic, and the tendency towards imitating is greatest, it is of the highest importance that those surroundings and influences be of the most elevating and ennobling kind.

Although the most adverse influences may surround a young man or woman on leaving the home circle to go out into the busy scenes of life, yet will the sacred memories of home and its hallowed associations follow them, and prove a safe-guard in many a temptation.

In cases where the home influence has not had the tendency to develop the nobler elements of character, but on the contrary to debase and mar the pure tablet of the soul of the child, it would be almost a miracle to find emanating from such a source truth, purity and integrity, not to mention the graces embodied in the Christian life.—Banner.

THE CROSS.

Some years ago a party of travelers were passing over one of the Swiss mountains. After they had gone a considerable way, it began to snow heavily, and the leader of the guides gravely shook his head, and said: "If the wind rises we are lost." Scarcely had he spoken, when a gale arose, the snow was whirled into multitudinous drifts, and all waymarks were obliterated. Cautiously they moved on, not knowing where they were, and almost giving themselves up for lost. At length one of the guides, who had gone a short way before them to search out the path, was heard shouting, "The Cross! The Cross! We are all right." And what had the cross to do with it? It was one of those religious memorials which one so frequently meets in Roman Catholic countries, and this one, set up at first by some private individual for a personal reason, had become at length a well-known and easily-recognized landmark for the traveler. Hence, the moment the guide saw it, he knew where he was, and what direction to take. But what was true of that symbol in their case, is true in all instances of the thing which it signifies; for we may always know where we are when, with our eye of faith, we can see Christ crucified.—Western Christian Union.

THE SECRET OF LIFE.

The secret of a sweet and happy Christian life is learning to live by the day. It is the long stretches that tire us. We think of life as a whole, running on for us. But really there are no long stretches. Life does not come to us all at one time; it comes only a day at a time. Even to-morrow is never ours till it becomes to-day, and we have nothing whatever to do with it but to pass down to it a fair and good inheritance in to-day's work well done and to-day's life well lived.

It is a blessed secret, this of living by the day. Anyone can carry his burden, however heavy, till nightfall. Anyone can do his work, however hard, for one day. Anyone can live sweetly, patiently, lovingly and purely till the sun goes down. And this is all that life ever really means to us—just one little day. "Do to-day's duty; fight to-day's temptation, and do not weaken and distress yourself by looking forward to things that you cannot see and could not understand if you saw them." God gives us nights to shut down the curtain of darkness on our little days. We cannot see beyond. Short horizons make life easier, and give us one of the blessed secrets of brave, true, holy living. The greatest strength lies in the most perfect trustfulness, for thus strength is conserved instead of being wastefully dissipated.—Banner.

A BEGINNING AND AN END.

"Twenty-five years ago a young man in this city astonished and shocked his friends in a suburban literary society by the statement that he proposed "to have nothing to do with either God or the devil." He added: "If I let them alone, I guess they will let me alone." His theory, elaborated with much boyish rhetoric, was that if he steered a clear course between the bigotry of the churches and the baseness of the low and vicious he would come out all right. Old members of the society occasionally meet and talk of the past; of the society, its meetings, members, etc. Two of them met last week, and this is in substance what one told the other: Will is dead. He died in an insane asylum out West. He has been in the penitentiaries of three States. He was acquitted of the charge of murder on the ground of insanity. The sickness of which he died was a result of vice.

The theory that if one lets God alone God will let him alone has some support. The Divine Spirit does withdraw from those who ignore his influence. He who lets God alone may expect God to leave him to his own devices and their consequences.

Satan, however, lets no man alone. That one determines to stand in his own strength only encourages Satan to increase temptation. It is not of man that walketh to direct his steps. There is no safe line of compromise between right and wrong. Even if one were left alone on both sides, the evil in his own heart would incline him to evil. We have seen sailing-boats with automatic steering gear which kept them close to the wind; but the natural human heart has no such device. Left to himself, man's tendency is to iniquity. He needs a hand upon the tiller. He needs divine help. When one determines to do without God in the expectation that he will let him alone, he has already started upon a course the end of which is death.—Herald and Presbyter.

PEACE, PERFECT PEACE.

Peace, yea, perfect peace! What a heaven lies within! All gleaming with a heavenly light even in the midnight of this world of care! We cannot enjoy true peace as long as sin remains upon the conscience. As well might the ocean be quiet while the tempest is raging, or the sea bird rest on the wave when the storm is mixing earth and sky. The more the conscience is enlightened, the more surely will it forbid peace so long as sin remains, for its honest verdict is that sin deserves God's wrath, and must be punished. Every upright understanding assents to the justice of that dispensation by which "every transgression and disobedience received a just recompense of reward." To me, when convinced of sin, it seemed that God could not be God if He did not punish me for my sins. Because of this deep seated conviction, that great Gospel truth, "The blood of Jesus Christ, His Son, cleanseth us from all sin," became a heavenly message sweeter than the music of angel's harps. Then I saw, with glad surprise, that God in Christ Jesus is "just, and the justifier of him which believeth." To me the glorious doctrine of substitution was a well in a desert; and it is so still, I believe it with my whole soul. An honest man, if he be in debt, will always be in trouble until the liability is removed; but when his debt is paid, he leaps into liberty and gladness. When I learned that my enormous debt of sin had been fully discharged by the Lord Jesus Christ, who did this for all believers, then was my heart at peace.—C. H. Spurgeon.

Obedience must be the struggle and desire of our life; obedience not hard and forced, but ready, loving and spontaneous; * * * the doing of duty not merely that the duty may be done, but that the soul in doing it may become capable of receiving and uttering God.—Phillips Brooks.

I CURE FITS

When I say I cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again. I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Postoffice address.

Prof. W. H. PEEKE, F. D., 4 Cedar St., New York

STATESVILLE FEMALE COLLEGE.

JOHN B. BURWELL, President,
STATESVILLE, N. C.

The next session of above Institution will commence on Wednesday, the 8th of September, 1897, and close the 1st of June, 1898.

Board, including furnished room, heat and lights, with Tuition in all English Branches and Latin for entire School Year, $112.00.

Instruction given in all branches usually taught in first-class schools for young ladies, and by experienced and accomplished teachers. The President has been for thirty five years engaged in female education in North Carolina, and will spare no pains to maintain high grade scholarship and give thorough instruction in all departments.

Correspondence solicited.

For illustrated circular and catalogue address J. B. BURWELL, Statesville, N. C.

MONEY TO LOAN.

on Eight Years Time, secured by Mortgage on Real Estate. Monthly payment, savings investment stock for sale, also FULL PAID COUPON STOCK, with semi-annual cash dividends. Loans made promptly in any part of the State. Agents wanted. Address,

Mechanics and Investors Union
22 Pullen Building, Raleigh, N. C.

Good Goods--Low Prices,

Flour, Meat, Sugar, Salt, Meal, Molasses, Coffee, Peanuts, Cheese, Crackers, Snuff, Tobacco.

Consignments of Cotton, Naval Stores and all Country Produce will receive careful attention.

Hall & Pearsall,

Wholesale Grocers & Com. Merchant
Corner Nutt and Mulberry Sts.

PEACE INSTITUTE,

FOR YOUNG LADIES,
RALEIGH, N. C.

This Institute offers thorough collegiate courses in English, History, Literatu Mathematics, Sciences, Ancient and Modern Languages, Music, Art, Elocution a Physical Culture.

As to its high standard for graduation, its thoroughness of instruction, its mod erate charges for the advantages offered, and the extent of its courses in Art and Music, this Institute cannot be surpassed.

It offers also thorough preparatory courses. Correspondence solicited.

Board and English Tuition One Year $200.

For illustrated catalogue and full particulars, address the Principal,

JAMES DINWIDDIE, M. A. University of Virginia, Principal

Term begins Sept. 15th, 1897.

The Normal & Collegiate Institute

For Young Women.

ASHEVILLE, N. C. SPRING TERM OPENING FEB. 1st. 1897

OFFERS TO THE STUDENTS:

1. A Classical Course, including Ancient and Modern Languages, Science, Music, Drawing, etc.
2. A Normal Course for the thorough training of Teachers under instructors from the best Normal Schools.
3. Commercial Course, including Stenography, Type-writing, Book-keeping, etc.
4. Domestic Science, including Scientific Cooking, Draughting, Cutting, Fitting and Making of garments.

Systematic study of the Bible in all departments.

Terms for Board and Tuition in any of the departments, $50 per term, or half school year.

For catalogue, addess

ASHEVILLE, N. C. REV. THOS. LAWRENCE, D D

A. D. BROWN,

Successor to Brown & Roddick,
29 NORTH FRONT STREET, WILMINGTON, N. C.
IMPORTER OF FINE
DRY GOODS AND CARPETS,
ORIENTAL AND DOMESTIC RUGS,
"WARNER'S CORSETS," "HER MAJESTY'S CORSETS,"
"THOMPSON'S GLOVE FITTING CORSETS," "R & G" AND "FERRIS' CORSETS.
"FOSTER' KID GLOVES, "KAYSER" SILK GLOVES.
"HUDNUT'S" EXQUISITE TOILET REQUISITES.
Mail Orders Given Special Attention.

Do You Want A Teacher?

TEACHER'S EXCHANGE,
Box 378 Richmond, Va.
SUPPLIES COLLEGES,
SCHOOLS AND FAMILIES
WITH TEACHERS.

Secures Situations for Teachers at moderate cost. Correspondence Solicited Supt. Richmond Public School.

The University.

Forty-seven Teachers, 413 students. (Summer School 158). Total 549. Board $8 a month, three Brief Courses, three Full Courses, Law and Medical Schools and School of Pharmacy. Graduate Courses open to Women, Summer School for Teachers, Scholarships and Loans for the Needy.

Address,
PRESIDENT ALDERMAN,
Chapel Hill, N. C.

Sabbath School Dep't.

CONDUCTED BY REV. A. D. McCLURE.

Third Quarter—Lesson II.

July 11, 1897.—Acts xvi. 22-34.

Commit to memory verses 28-31.

Subject. Paul and the Philippian Jailer.

Golden Text. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, thou and thy house." Acts xvi: 31.

CATECHISM.

Question 48. What are we specially taught by these words, "before me," in the first commandment?

Answer. These words, "before me," in the first commandment, teach us that God, who seeth all things, taketh notice of and is much displeased with the sin of having any other god.

Time. A. D. 52.

Place. Philippi.

INTRODUCTORY.

Paul and his three companions, Silas, Luke and Timothy dwelt in the house of Lydia. They were apparently permitted to continne without interruption for some time the work so favorably begun. The first convert was a woman. The work was strong amongst women who were now in the Gospel, having the beginning of their uplifting and liberty. So Satan sought to oppose the work by the hindrance of woman. The apostles occasionally met in the streets a poor slave girl owned by a company who made much money by her practice as a fortune teller. She was supposed to be possessed with "the spirit of Python" the serpent which guarded Delphi. Dean Plumtre says: "Her masters traded on her supposed inspiration, and made the girl give answers to those who sought for oracular guidance in the perplexities of their lives." The girl followed Paul and said, "These men are the servants of the most high God." Paul cast out the evil spirit. Then her power to make money was gone. This made her masters mad. They had not cared about her degradation or the baseness of using her shame for their gains. They were for making money, as men now are and they felt more pain at their loss than pleasure at her release. So they seized Paul and Silas and brought them before the magistrates with the results seen in our lesson.

LESSON NOTES.

Vs. 22. The multitude. As an excited mob stirred to this outbreak by the owners of the girl, rose up together. Their clothes. The clothes of Paul and Silas, the magistrates rend off without any investigation or trial. Commanded to beat them. The word means to "beat with rods" as the custom was with the Romans to inflict blows with rods upon the naked body. This was one of the three times Paul was beaten with rods as he says 2 Cor. ii: 5. This was different from scourging, using a whip with many strands with pieces of lead or iron on the ends.

Vs. 23. Had laid many stripes. As there was no limit of mercy like that of the law of Moses to forty stripes save one, that is thirty-nine.

Vs. 24. The inner prison. As like the Turkish prisons probably the outer was wider and more airy and the prisoners huddled together to await a hearing, but great or dangerous criminals were confined in chains or stocks in the inner prison. It may have been a dungeon, as the Roman or State prison was commonly attached to the government building and consisted of two parts, the interior having no window or outlet except the door which when closed shut ont light and air. The jailer further exceeded his authority by making their feet fast in the stocks as instruments of torture having sometimes five holes for feet and hands and head. Thus torture was superadded to imprisonment.

Vs. 25. At midnight. Showing that they had been for hours in this torture and had come to the darkness and gloom when others slept. To them sleep was out of the question. What should they do? Complain? Give up? Retract? No. They prayed and sang praises unto God. No wonder the earthquake and deliverance. Prayed for grace to glorify God. Sang praises for deliverance before it came as Jehoshaphat praised God for victory beforehand. The prisoners heard them. Listened attentively in the same room.

Vs. 26. A great earthquake. This was God's answer suddenly to the prayer of his servants and gave additional reason to praise. The earthquake may have been what we call natural, but the doors were opened, and their bands were loosed, as miraculous elements in the deliverance.

Vs. 27. Would have killed himself. As he the Roman jailer was responsible with his life for the safe keeping of his prisoners and he thought they had escaped.

Vs. 28. Paul cried with a loud voice, lest the jailer should fail to notice. Do thyself no harm. Not only by violence, but by failing to hear the Gospel which these circumstances commend to you.

Vs. 29. Came trembling. Terror stricken. Fell down. As he connected the earthquake with their religion, of which he must have heard.

Vs. 30. Brought them out of the dungeon into the inner prison. What must I do to be saved? was suggested by immediate danger, but meant according to the teaching of these men.

Vs. 31. Believe, trust in the Lord Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord, who loved them and gave Himself for them. Be saved from the penalty, the power, and the pollution of sin.

Vs. 32. The Word of the Lord was further explained that he might confess Christ intelligently and grow in grace.

Vs. 33. Washed their stripes. Showing his change from cruelty to kindness. Was baptized. Then in that house.

Vs. 34. His house, attached to the prison. Rejoiced in the new found salvation.

PRACTICAL POINTS.

1. Here is God's great deliverance and His songs in the night. His sustaining grace in trouble.

2. Here is answer to the question, What must I do to be saved?

3. Here are suggestive trnths. The salvation was for the head and included the house on the faith of the head. The baptism was in the prison and by applying water to the person, not putting the person under the water.

The evidence that the jailer was ready for baptism was in his change of heart as seen in his conduct.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

Lesson for week ending Sunday, July 11th, 1897.

THE WORLD FOR CHRIST.

Text for the week:

Go ye therefore and teach all nations. Matt. xxviii. 19.

Daily Readings:

Monday, Through Prayer. Matt. 6: 9-15.

Tuesday, Through Gifts. 1 Chron. 29: 1-17.

Wednesday, Through Preaching. Rom. 1: 8-17.

Thursday, Through Invitations. Rev. 22: 16-21.

Friday, Through Example. Matt. 5: 13-20.

Saturday, Through Faith. 2 Chron. 20: 1-30.

Sunday; Topic, Individual Responsibility for the Conversion of the World. Rom. 9: 1-3; Rom. 10: 1, 13-15.

Suggestions:

Strive to realize that you have personal responsibility in this matter.

Study the matter carefully to know what your duty is, asking for wisdom from above to guide and direct you in your quest.

Go if that be your duty, or do what you can to enable others to go if your duty is otherwise or elsewhere.

Notes:

The world for Christ! A theme that extends to all mankind and embraces in its scope the dearest wish of God. Its end and aim falls nowhere short of the supreme glory of God, and in its outworking to fulfillment it calls into subjection or into service every plan and every purpose, every thought and every act. It calls out every man, and woman and child to whom God has made known the riches of His grace through Christ Jesus. No one is saved simply that he may live for himself; but God saves you, God saves me, that we may work out His will in saving others to the winning of the world for Christ. God knows no distinctions in missions—home or foreign. He calls for human souls afar or near! "Go" is the word of command. "Launch out into the deep and let down the net," will drive us indeed from the profitless shore to the place where the rich harvest awaits. It is for us as for Peter to obey. "At thy word I will let down the net"—was the all sufficient reason for his action, and his obedience it was, that reaped the astounding reward. The surest way to do our duty to those at home is to enlarge our sphere to take in the world. It will broaden our sympathies; it will intensify our desire to do good at home and abroad; it will strengthen our energies for any work for Christ that may come to hand. A radius that in its sweep for good takes in the world will include in its beneficence all that lies within. This it is that lays the axe at the root of a selfishness that would palm itself of as supremest and wisest charity.

The Stonewall Jackson Memorial Hall of Washington and Lee University was dedicated on June 23rd. There was an immense concourse of people in attendance. Dr. Hunter McGuire and Rev. Dr. J. P. Smith, of Richmond made addresses and prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Hemphill, of Louisville.

PUZZLE DEPARTMENT.

Have our little friends lost interest in the puzzles with the warm weather? We trust not, but now that the long summer days are here would not Sunday afternoon, when not otherwise occupied, be well spent in looking up questions and answers upon Biblical subjects? Let us hear from you.

We omitted last week the names of our two faithful little friends, Cornie and Myrtle Wilkinson. We regret this and give their names in this issue.

OPEN DOOR NOTES.

Dr. Frances E. Clark and wife have returned from their tour around the world. They were given a hearty reception upon their arrival in New York at Carnegie Hall.

The contributions for Foreign Missions at Fairfield church, Virgina, on last Children's Day were 53.29, over half the amount being contributed by the Children's Foreign Missionary Society. Put the children to work, and get hearts and hands interested while they are young.

A letter from Dr. Clark from South Africa in the last issue of The Golden Rule gives a most interesting account of his visit to the C. E. Convention at Cape Town and to the societies and principal points in Natal, the Transvaal, the Orange Free State and Cape Colony. We can hardly realize that in Cape Town is situated one of the largest churches in the world, that of the Adderly Street Dutch Reformed, with a seating capacity of three thousand. This Dr. Clark tells us was well filled as were others during the meeting. Christian Endeavor has a stronghold in South Africa, and has for the honorary president of the South African Union, Rev. Andrew Murray, who with his family has labored for many years in mission work.

THE BIRTHDAY PARTY OF A MISSION BAND.

On Friday afternoon, June 25th, the Wiley Mission Band of the First Presbyterian church of Winston celebrated its eighteenth anniversary by a very pleasant entertainment at the home of Mrs. James Shepherd, one of its most active members.

There were all ages represented from thirty down to six months, and it was a very pretty and a very inspiring sight to the older guests present to watch the gathering of this clan of workers for the upbuilding of the Master's kingdom. To see the tiny hands unfold and drop their birthday offerings into the basket, and to think that some soul in some far-off land would be brought to Jesus through these gifts.

After being entertained for awhile by a graphophone, which afforded much amusement, the little tots very considerately were ushered first into the refreshment room and they were regaled with cake and ice cream, many of the little mouths being just on a level with their saucers, and quite a number not having arrived at the dignity of helping themselves even at that level! While the youngest member present looked down on all from the safe heights of her mama's arms with large blue eyes full of wonderment at the scene.

After the younger ones were helped the guests of the band were generously waited on and all came away pleased with the entertainment and cheered with the thought that these children are being trained to know, and to work for the Master. That they may dare to pray, "Thy kingdom come," as they work for it. This band numbers eighty.

D.

MARRIED.

☞No notice of a marriage or death will be inserted unless accompanied by a responsible name, which is wanted not for publication but as a guaranty of good faith.

EAGAN—WENTWORTH.—On June 15th 1897, in Pensacola, Fla., by Rev. Wm. E. McIlwain, Hon. John Eagan and Miss Nannie Louise Wentworth.

HESS—HESS. At the Presbyterian manse in Alexandria, Va., on June 22d, by Rev. J. Ernest Thacker, Mr. J. A. Hess and Miss Blanche Hess—both of Washington, D. C.

DIED.

☞We publish free 10 lines of Obituary Notices, of any kind—Tributes of Respect, Resolutions of Sabbath-schools, Ladies' Societies, &c. And we charge for over 10 lines at the rate of 10 cents per line. The cost may be calculated by counting the words in the manuscript, and allowing seven words to the line.

BALDWIN.—Mrs. W. C. Baldwin, was born Nov. 10th, 1850, and died in Hillsboro, N. C., June 20th, 1897 She was a daughter of W. C. Mason, of Durham county, N. C., and a member of the Baptist church from her early womanhood. She was buried in New Hope graveyard, June 21.

BAILEY.—On June 6th 1897, Mr John M. Bailey departed this life at his home near Clio, N. C., aged 84 years, 9 month and 3 days. He was a great sufferer in this world, but he died in the faith; "And there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain for the former things are passed away." Rev. 21: 4.

BASS.—After a short illness, John E. Bass, at his home near Big Rockfish church, June 23rd.

He loved his church and its ordinances, was a devoted father and hnsband. As the end drew near he avowed his readiness to die. He passed away saying he was going home. A wife and seven children were called to sorrow and have the sympathies of God's people. R.

McEACHERN.—After a protracted sickness, H. McEachern, at the home of his brother, Mr. J. H. McEachern, near Lumber Bridge, June 16th, in the 57th year of his age. He lived much in public life, filling high offices in State and Church with great acceptance. His unwavering love of truth and pleasing manners made him both popular and influential. He was an honored ruling elder in his church and had sat in all the courts of the Church at large. He lived and died trusting the blessed Saviour.

P.

JOHNSON.—Mr. Archibald Johnson, in St. Pauls, Robeson county, N. C., on the 12th of June, 1897, aged 90 years. Mr. Johnson was born and raised and spent his whole life except the last year of his life in the Spring Hill community of Richmond county, N. C.

He was of the sturdy Scotch-Irish stock on both sides of the house, and had the mental and physical force characteristic of the stock. He joined the Presbyterian church at Montpelier late in life, but he was a ripe Christian and his end was peace. He was always a nobleman, with broad, liberal views of men and things. He was a great sufferer during the last days of his life, but it was borne with submission, gentleness and abiding patience. His remains were interred at Spring Hill church with those of his children that have preceded him. He leaves three daughters. "If we believe that Jesus died and rose again even so them also which sleep in Jesus, will God bring with him."

J. S. BLACK.

WHITE.—At her home in Alamance county, N. C., June the 9th, 1897, Mrs. Mary White, widow of the late Robert Faucette white.

The deceased was born in 1816. Her maiden name was Woods. In very early life she connected herself with Hawfield's church of which she was an active and consistent member till her death and having lived a very short distance from the church all her life she was rarely missing from church service either on Sabbath or in the week and was exceedingly careful to entertain and look after the pastor and all who were interested in the welfare of her church. She was married on the 10th of November, 1846. She was a devoted wife, a kind mother. She was the mother of two sons and two daughters; one son and two daughters survive her.

She was called away very suddenly and only left a well spent life as evidence of true piety and readiness for the change. A noble mother and a true Christian has passed away. Weep not children she is at rest.

J. I. W.

JOHNSON.—At her home in St. Pauls, Robeson county, N. C., May 21st, 1897, after a short illness, Mrs. Sarah Jannette Johnson, wife of the late D. P. Johnson, Esq., of Richmond county, N. C., departed this life.

Mrs Johnson was born May 12th, 1857. Her maiden name was McNatt, the daughter of the late James McNatt, Esq., a very prominent and successful business man of upper Robeson. In early womanhood, she joined the Presbyterian church at St. Pauls, perhaps the year '74, and lived an humble consistent Christian.

She was married Oct. 2nd, 1878, to the late D. P. Johnson, Esq., a successful farmer of Richmond county, who preceded her to the grave about eighteen months. She leave three children—one daughter and two sons with a host of friends to realize their loss.

Mrs. Johnson possessed by nature the most excellent virtues of woman. These were sanctified by God's Spirit through scenes of Divine dealings in affliction and sorrow, so that they were unfolded and developed in Christian character and bore sweet and abundant fruit. She was gentle, modest, tender, amable, but seemed to be a meeting place for all the lovely virtues of Christian womanhood. Conspicuous among her many virtues was forgetfulness of self in her consideration and efforts for the comfort and happiness of others. It was in the more secluded and sacred circle of home the beauty of her symmetrical character was most clearly seen, and the power of her unselfish life most strongly felt. In all the relations of life, whether as wife or mother or daughter or sister or friend she was faithful.

This is a brief sketch of one of the noblest and most lovely characters the writer of these lines ever met, and he will always rejoice that he was acquainted with her and possessed any share of her esteem, and saw with his own eyes the example of unselfish devotion she was to her husband's aged and afflicted father, and dependent sister.

On Sabbath the 23rd of May, 1897, we buried her body by the side of her husband's, at Spring Hill church, Richmond county, to await the resurrection.

J. S. BLACK.

Maxton is to have the Postal Telegraph at an early date.

Converse College presents its claims upon those who would give their girls a finished education of the very first-class. It stands in the front rank of like institutions in the South.

The Presbyterian College for Women in Charlotte offers its advantages to our readers. It is hardly necessary to do more than call attention to the advertisement.

The James Sprunt Institute, of which our readers have been heretofore advised in these columns as being specially fitted to do the work which it undertakes has an announcement in this issue to which we invite attention Communicate with Rev. R. V. Lancaster, Kenansville, N. C. The session will open Sept. 8th.

I desire to thank the various Stated Clerks of our Presbyteries and Synods, who have responded to the request to send files of their printed minutes to the Seminary Library at Columbia. In this connection, I would suggest the propriety of putting all the Seminaries on the mailing lists of the various Stated Clerks, for all published minutes, manuals and other matter. I would particularly ask, at this time, for copies of memorial volumes of the Westminster addresses, where they have been, or shall be published.

D. J. BRIMM,
Librarian Columbia Seminary.

THE PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE FOR WOMEN.

Offers superior advantages in all departments. Specially fine Music and Art Departments. Twenty-two members in the faculty. *Term begins September 2nd. Apply for circulars to

MISS LILY W. LONG
OR TINSLEY P. JUNKIN,
Charlotte, N. C.

*Total charges for school year $172.

VIRGINIA COLLEGE
For YOUNG LADIES, Roanoke, Va.
Opens Sept. 9, 1897. One of the leading Schools for Young Ladies in the South. Magnificent buildings, all modern improvements. Campus ten acres. Grand mountain scenery in Valley of Va., famed for health. European and American teachers. Full course. Superior advantages in Art and Music. Students from twenty States. For catalogue address the President,
MATTIE P. HARRIS, Roanoke, Virginia.

Organized 1832. Assets, $650,000

Tested for Sixty Years.

Virginia Fire and Marine

Insurance Company, of Richmond.

This old Virginia institution issues a short and comprehensive Policy, free of petty restriction and liberal in its terms and conditions.

INSURES AGAINST FIRE and LIGHTNING

All descriptions of Property, in Country and Town—private or public—insured at fair rates, on accommodating terms.

AGENCIES IN EVERY TOWN AND COUNTY.

WM. H. PALMER, President.
W. H. McCARTHY, Secretary.
S. McG. FISHER, Ass't Sec'y.

NOTICE.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,

COUNTY OF NEW HANOVER.

In the Superior Court D. D. Benton, Plaintiff, vs. Rebecca Benton, Defendant.

NOTICE—Rebecca Benton, the above named Defendant, will take notice that an action entitled as above has been commenced in the Superior Court of New Hanover county, in the State of North Carolina, by the Plaintiff for the purpose of obtaining from the Defendant an absolute Divorce and complete dissolution of the bonds of matrimony.

And the said Rebecca Benton will further take notice that she is required to be and appear at the next term of the Superior Court of the said County of New Hanover, to be held on the third Monday after the first Monday in September 1897, i. e., on the 27th day of September, 1897, at the Court House of said County, in the City of Wilmington, North Carolina, and answer or demur to the Complaint in said action, or the Plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in his complaint.

This, the 19th day of June, 1897.

JOHN D. TAYLOR,
Clerk of Superior Court of
New Hanover County, North Caro lina.

NEW BOOKS FOR THE Sunday-School Library.

We desire to call attention to the following list of new library books recently issued from our press. They are all handsomely bound in cloth, and should have a place in every Sunday-school library. To those taking the entire list at one time we will make a special discount of 40 per cent. Discount of 33⅓ per cent on any of our own books.

By Mrs. M. E. Ireland:
The Siberian Exile. 122 pages..... $ 60
The Shepherd's Family. Translated from the German. 119 pages..... 60
Adolph's Victories. 314 pages..... 1 00
Christian Beck's Grandson. 229 pages. 1 00
In Fair Silesia. Translated from the German. 156 pages..... 60
School on Lunebnrg Heath. Translated from the German. 148 pages. 60
Driven Out. Translated from the German. 156 pages..... 1 00
By Miss Annie M. Barnes:
Ninito: A Story of the Bible in Mexico. 214 pages..... 90
How Achon-ho-ah Found the Light. 266 pages..... 1 25
Izilda: A Story of Brazil 195 pages. 1 00
By Elizabeth Olmis (author of Jack's Hymn):
Over at Little Acorns. 384 pages..... 1 25
By Fannie Alricks Shugert:
Ezekiel of Bethlehem. 281 pages..... 1 00
By Rev. H. C. DuBose, D. D.:
Memoirs of John Leighton Wilson, Missionary to Africa, and Secretary of Foreign Missions. 336 pages..... 1 50
By Mrs. E. H. Amiss:
Camping on the Blue Ridge. 106 pages..... 60
By Rev. J. M. Chaney, D. D.:
William the Baptist. Cloth, 50 cts.; paper..... 25
Agnes, Daughter of William the Baptist..... 75
By Mrs. Mary M. Anderson Hawkins:
Jack Payton and his Friends..... 75

On miscellaneous Sabbath-school books selected from the lists of other publishers we will give a discount of 30 per cent. And we call attention to our Select Catalogue of miscellaneous books, in which will be found titles and description of more than nine hundred books, all of which have been carefully examined by competent persons, and none will be found in the list not suitable in every respect for our Sabbath-school libraries.

We will make careful selection of libraries if desired from our stock, or will send to any order one-fourth more books than may be needed, with the privilege of returning any that are not wanted.

Also, Sabbath-school Supplies, Class-Books, Records, etc., on the best terms.

If sent by mail, postage will be additional. Express to be paid by purchaser. Address

Presbyterian Committee of Publication,
JAS. K. HAZEN, Sec'y and Treas.,
Richmond, Va.

FOR THE FAMILY.

OUR LIFE POEM.

We're writing a poem, you and I;
'Twill not be finished until we die,
Each day there is written a line,
Each month is a verse of this life song,
Each year a canto that seemeth long;
And none may know, of the outside throng,
This heart history, yours and mine.

Sometimes the verses are happy and glad,
Sometimes they sob out a meaning sad,
As the poem we daily trace
On pages at first so clean and white,
And the lines are sparkling with life and light,
Or they tell a tale of sorrow's blight,
And the story we cannot erase.

On our hearts 'tis written, safe from gaze
Of curious eyes. Ah! 'twould amaze
The world if it only could read
The poem of life we're writing, my friend,
God alone knowing when it will end;
But still the record is daily penned
Of our every word and deed.

And as we write God watches our pen.
He knoweth those things beyond our ken,
And He smiles in infinite love;
And our trembling fingers in His rich grace
He guides as the lines we feebly trace,
While moments and hours fly apace
Like the flight of a frightened dove.

Sometimes the measures are rough and crude,
The metre is halting, the language rude;
But God will the proof correct,
And our feeble words He will rewrite
Until they glow with a heavenly light,
As life's waning day fades into night
And He will the poem perfect.

—The Voice.

AUTHOR OF "OLD BLACK JOE."

In an obscure corner of the Alleghany cemetery is a sadly neglected grave, the sleeping place of America's greatest song writer, Stephen Collins Foster, the man who composed "Way Down Upon the Suwanee River," "Old Black Joe," "My Old Kentucky Home" and scores upon scores of melodies, all of them more distinctly American than the product of any other song writer, says a Pittsburg correspondent. If a band of patriotic citizens have their way, Foster's fame will be marked by a suitable monument, a credit alike to the genius of the man and to the city that was his birthplace. Some time ago a fund was started, and upon its completion arrangements will be made for the erection of the proposed monument. On July 4th, the 71st anniversary of Foster's birth, there will be a celebration in honor of him.

Foster was born and bred in Pittsburg, but his ancestors were Southern, and the stories of plantation life that were told him in his childhood were treasured and given again to the world, with music that will never die. His grandfather, William Barclay Foster, was one of the founders of Pittsburg, an officer in the Mexican war, and a fighter under Jackson in the defense of New Orleans. The grandfather, in the first years of the century, lived in South, and sacrificed all of his estates for the defense of New Orleans. After the termination of the war he moved to Pennsylvania, which offered a better field for rebuilding his shattered fortunes.

Morrison Foster, a brother of the composer now living here, says that Stephen was considered by the family to be something of a musical prodigy. In his boyhood he evinced a strange fondness for music, and it was about the onyl thing that interested him in later years. He was a dreamy, sensitive chap, as gentle as a girl, and at Towanda, where he first went to school, he was considered the most modest boy in the place. It was while studying there that his first musical composition was published. Encouraged by this, he went to work on another song, and not many months later "The Old Folks at Home" appeared."

His brother, Morrison, tells a queer tale about this song, now known in all lands and in twelve languages. "Stephen came to me one day in perplexity. Said he: 'I want the name of a river in the United States containing two syllables.' I suggested Peedee, Ocala, Yazoo and several other outlandish names, but none of them would do. Finally I got down an old map of the United States, and as my fingers wandered over the State of Florida they stopped on the line which marks the course of the Suwanee. 'That will do,' said Stephen, as he left the office. I thought nothing more of the matter until several weeks later, when I discovered that my brother had written a song about the river, calling it the 'Old Folks at Home.'"

When it is remembered that Foster was only a boy when this queen of melodies was written, the beauty of the composition is all the more remarkable. The theme of the song was a familiar one to him, because of his grandfather's love of the South and his fervid descriptions of his peaceful, happy life there. His grandfather was the wanderer, doomed never to return to the land of his youth.—Picayune.

FOUND DEAD.

Why did he do it? He had everything to live for,—happy home, wife, friends, money; but he shot himself through the heart. Why?

He couldn't have given a good reason himself. But everything looked gloomy to him. He was in a gloomy frame of mind. It was the way he looked at life that day. He had been living in too much of a hurry, rushing and driving at business, hustling through his meals, cutting short his sleep. His nerves got on edge; his stomach and liver got out of order; he grew dyspeptic and melancholy.

When the digestion is out of order there is little use trying to look on the bright side of things, practically there isn't any bright side. This is a dangerous condition to get into. Yet it is easy to get into and mighty hard to get out of it, unless you go about it in the right way.

There is a remedy that has pulled thousands of people right out of this depth of despair. It is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It acts directly upon the stomach and liver. It restores their natural capacity to nourish and purify the system. It purges away bilious poisons, feeds the nerve-centres with healthy, highly vitalized blood, and drives out the "blue devils" of melancholy and nervousness.

J. L. Warner, No. 1900 O Street, Sacramento, Cal., writes: "During the last five years I have been doctoring with as many as six different doctors here and in San Francisco for diseased stomach; but none of the doctors gave me even temporary relief. Two years ago I completely collapsed, and had to give up all work. I have felt many times that I would like to leave this world. In looking over the ads in the San Francisco Examiner I ran across yours, and I now owe my life and present good health to Dr. Pierce's medicines. I have taken fourteen bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and four little vials of 'Pleasant Pellets,' and I am entirely well of all stomach trouble. Can sleep nine hours every night, and am now ready to go to work again."

A Beautiful, Fitting, and Enduring Memento

For Personal Possession and Study

Is Found in the

New Holy Land Art Portfolios

ENTITLED

Palestine Photographed.

Every Student of the Bible,

Every Student of History,

Every Lover of Art

Should Have It.

This desirable book comprises 64 beautiful engravings from views taken in 1894. Each scene is accurately and eloquently described by two distinguished divines, Bishop Vincent and Dr. Lee. The work should find a place in every Christian home.

Any paid up subscriber to the PRESBYTERIAN can obtain this book upon remitting 25 cents.

PREMIUMS.

No. 1. For 21 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Hunting case, jointed front and back 18 size and guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $20.00.

No. 2. For 16 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Open face, 18 size, 14 karat filled case, screw back and bezel, guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $15.00.

No. 3. For 17 new subscribers at 1.50 for first year, we will give a Ladies' Gold Watch Hunting case, 6 size, stem winder, 14 karat, filled case, screw beze—guaranteed 20 years—retails at $16.00

No. 4. For 12 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give a Gents' Silver Watch: 18 size, plain case, open face—retails at $12.50.

No. 5. For 10 new subscribers a Ladies' Silver Watch, O size, plain case, open face—retails for $10.00.

No. 6. For 8 new subscribers, we will give a Nickel Watch, 18 size, screw bezel—retails for $7.00.

No. 7. For 7 new subscribers, we will give solid silver teaspoons—retails for $6.00.

No. 8. For 4 new subscribers, a sugar spoon, sterling gilt engraved—retails at $3.00.

The articles will all be first-class from a jeweller of established reputation.

New subscribers means not change of address to some one else—that would be fraud—but bona fide new subscribers.

For $1.75 we will send the paper for the first year to a new subscriber and a copy of Palestine Photographed. This album contains 64 actual photographic reproductions of picturesque and historical places in the Holy Land on enameled pages, and is a thing of beauty. The descriptive foot notes are good and enhance the interest.

We regard this as a specially desirable premium.

To any one paying up or renewing their subscription and sending $2.25 we will send this album as apremium

W., N. & N. RAILWAY.

In Effect Sunday, Oct, 27, 1895.

DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY.

NORTH BOUND.	STATIONS.	SOUTH BOUND.
8		7
P. M.	— WILMINGTON —	P. M.
2 00	Lv Mulberry St. Ar	12 40
3 58	Lv Jacksonville Lv	10 42
4 30	Lv..Maysville..Lv	10 09
4 44	Lv Pollocksville Lv	9 55
5 20	Ar..Newbern..Lv	9 20
P. M.		A. M.

Trains 8 and 7 p m make connection with trains on A & N C R R for Morehead City and Beaufort.

Connection with Steamer Neuse at Newbern to and from Elizabeth City and Norfolk Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Steamer Geo D Purdy makes daily trips between Jacksonville and New River points.

H. A. WHITING, General Manager.

J. W. MARTENIS, Traffic Manager.

CHILDREN'S COLUMN.

JULY.

The days of vacation, of rest and of fun,
When rosy-cheeked faces turn brown in the sun,
When the meadows are sweet with the scent of the hay,
And the tinkle of cow-bells is heard far away.
And this is the month of the glorious Fourth,
When flags are unfurled from the South to the North,
When cannons and crackers and sky-rockets, too,
Go blazing away for the red, white and blue.

—Ladies' Home Journal.

THE QUEEN'S JUBILEE.

BY JANE FITZ TURNER.

Libbie was only six years old; but she had lived long enough to know what the Fourth of July meant, and had in her short life fired off more crackers than any boy on her street. And as for a flag, she waved it for a week after the glorious Fourth."

All through the spring she was talking of what she would do when the great day came. And where do you suppose she spent it?

Her papa went over the ocean to England on business that spring, and took Libbie, her mamma, and nurse with him. They went first to London for awhile, and Libbie always wore a tiny little button with the stars and stripes flag on it, whenever she went anywhere, "to show the Queen's people where I live," she said to any one who asked her about her button. One day in June papa took them to a watering place a long distance from England, and Libbie was glad, because she didn't think it would be very polite for her to celebrate the Fourth of July on English soil. So she took with her to a beautiful place in France all the fireworks and flags she had brought with her from America for the day's celebration.

But who should be stopping at the same hotel but a little English boy, and he had brought from London a whole box of firecrackers and fireworks to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the queen's coming to her throne. John and Libbie were the only children in the hotel, and became very fast friends. But when John told what a grand time he was going to have on the twentieth of June, and invited her to celebrate with him, Libbie was angry, and told him that she wouldn't come ont of her room on that day, for she was going to celebrate the Fourth of July in two weeks from then, and she didn't want to celebrate with him, for she wasn't interested in England's festivals, because America had beaten the English people once and driven them home.

"Very well, Miss Libbie, stay in your room, and play it's America. I can make noise enough in my England so that you will have to hear it anyway. So there! And when your Fourth of July comes, I'll get papa to take me to some other hotel."

At this volley Libbie broke down, and ran sobbing to her papa, who was visiting with John's papa at the other end of the long veranda. When Libbie had sobbed out her story, the two papas looked at each other and smiled, and Libbie's papa said he thought it time that Mother England and her daughter America kissed and made up. So he called John and held by one hand, and Libbie by the other, while he asked Libbie if she did not think it would be best for her to accept John's invitation to celebrate the queen's jubilee day, and then, when the Fourth came, invite him to help fire off her crackers, and then they could each have two good times, instead of one!

Libbie thought awhile, and then said she was "sure" it would be "very nice." So on the twentieth of June John was host, and they had grand fun waving a red flag, called the "Union Jack."

The summer days passed quickly, and Independence day had come. Libbie and John loved to go out in the field to play, and on this day they found a great cock of hay.

"It's just the place for a speech and a song," said Libbie. "That's what they do on the Fourth, you know. Somebody talks, and all the rest cheer. I'll be the talker, and you can cheer."

So they both pushed the hay up in a closer heap, and then Libbie crawled up to the top. It was not very steady, but she managed to stand long enough to say:

"My country is America,
The flag red, white and blue,
And to my own beloved land
I ever will be true."

Then she cheered, and John cheered, too, and they never could decide which was better, Libbie's Fourth or the Queen's Jubilee.—The Child's Hour.

LITTLE ALICE'S PRAYER.

"I don't want to say my prayer," said little Alice; "I'm tired of saying my prayer, mamma."

Mrs. M. sighed, and scarcely knew what was best to do with her little daughter, whom she had given to God as soon as she was born, and had prayed him daily to make her his own child. And now she was tired of saying her prayers! But she was only four years old; and the mother asked gently:

"And does my little Alice feel willing to go to bed without thanking her heavenly Father for taking care of her all day?"

Alice laughed, and kissed her mother on both cheeks, and then on her mouth. This she called a "French kiss." Then she went to her auntie, who was lying sick on the sofa and auntie whispered:

"Who will take care of little Alice to-night when it is all dark in the house?"

Alice dearly loved to be whispered to, and she answered in the same tone:

"Mamma will take care of me."

"No," said auntie "mamma will be asleep."

"Papa, then."

"He will be asleep, too."

"Then auntie will," declared Alice, triumphantly.

"But auntie will be upstairs, and perhaps asleep, too," was the reply; for the invalid could not feel at all sure that sleep would come to her. "God never sleeps, though. His kind, watchful eye is over us all the time, and He takes special care of little children.

"Will He take care of me?" asked Alice, in awe-stricken tone.

"You did not ask him to," replied Auntie, "and He has told us to ask Him for what we want."

Alice's bright eyes looked steadily at her aunt for a moment, and then she kissed her, and danced off to bed. She was asleep almost as soon as her head touched the pillow. But in an hour or two there was a dismal wail for "mamma," and she hastened into the little room opening from her own, where Alice's crib stood.

"Mamma, mamma!" sobbed the little one. "I want to be taken care of."

Then auntie had to explain what this meant, and Alice knelt in the crib, and repeated the childish prayer the mother had taught her as soon as she could speak. Then she went to sleep again, with a smile on her lips, and the invalid thought of the beautiful promise, "He that dwelleth in the secret place of the Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty." And she felt, in the wakeful watches of the night, that she was "taken care of," too."—North and West.

LETTER-BOX.

Dear Editor:—I am a little girl eleven years old. My birthday is February the 10th. I had a candy party my last one. Children's day is the second Sunday in June. The children are to meet to practice the programme next Saturday evening. We haven't fruit this year. The frost killed the most of it. One of my little friends came to see me this p. m. I have but one doll. I had two but I gave one away. Please print this I want to surprise my papa. I will close for fear of the waste basket.

Your friend,
GERTRUDE MCARTAN.
Dillington, N. C.

One cannot too sedulously look after the small courtesies in one's conduct and, if one be charged with the management of a household, in the accustomed ways of the family, habit count for everything here, and example is better than precept. —Margaret E. Sangster.

There are few things more terrible than the empty and unending fluency of many extempore speakers. —British Weekly.

SCHEDULE ON WILMINGTON SEACOAST, R. R.

On and after June 1st trains will run as follows: Daily Except Sunday.

Leave Wilmington at 6.30 a m., 10.10 a. m, 2.30 p. m., 5.10 p. m., 7.15 p. m.
Leave Ocean View 7.30 a m., 11.30 a. m., 4.00 p. m., 6.15 p m., 10.00 p. m.

R. OSCAR GRANT, Superintendent.

$4 PER DAY SURE SALARY OR COMMISSION. DO you want honorable, steady employment the year round, at good wages, at your own home or to travel? If so, send 4c in stamps for our wholesale price-list and particulars. We furnish best of bank references. AMERICAN TEA CO., Detroit, Michigan.

PATENTS

Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained and all Patent business conducted for MODERATE FEES. OUR OFFICE IS OPPOSITE U. S. PATENT OFFICE and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.

Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured. A PAMPHLET, "How to Obtain Patents," with cost of same in the U. S. and foreign countries sent free. Address,

C. A. SNOW & CO. OPP. PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

W. C. VonGLAHN,

NO. 20 SOUTH FRONT ST.,

WILMINGTON N. C.

Keeps always on hand, SHOES of all SHAPES and SHOES of all COLORS.

SHOES for LOOKS and SHOES for COMFORT.

No effort spared to suit customers.

☞ Visitors to the city should not fail to call.

UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

HAMPDEN-SIDNEY, VA.

FACULTY.

The Rev. Walter W. Moore, D.D. LL.D. McCormick Professor of the Hebrew Language and Literatre.

The Rev. Charles C. Hersman, D.D., LL. D., Henry Young Professor of Biblical Literature and Interpretation of the New Testament.

The Rev. Thos. Cary Johnson, D. D., Professor of Ecclesiastical History and Polity.

The Rev. Thos. R. English, D. D., Stuart Robinson Professor of the English Bible and Pastoral Theology.

The Rev. Givens B. Strickler, D. D., LL.D., Professor of Systematic Theology.

Walter L. Lingle, A. M., Tutor in Hebrew and Greek.

THE NEXT SESSION BEGINS WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 1st, 1897.

For catalogue or other information as to course of study, apply to Dr. English Clerk of Faculty, Hampden Sidney, Va

For information as to rooms, &c, apply to W. L. Lingle, Intendant, Hampden-Sidney, Va.

CASH RECEIPTS.

April.

SUPPORT FUND.

S S First church, Greensboro, $4; S S Ashpole church, $1.25; S S Statesville church, $9.01; S S Rocky Mt. church, $1.24; S S Wadesboro church, $5.85; S S Henderson church, $17; S S Smyrna church, $1.50; S S Chapel Hill church, .97; S S Red Springs church, $4.66: S S Rocky River church, .70; S S Mocksville church, $4.05; S S First church, Concord, $4.09; S S First church, Wilmington, $2.34; Mebane church, $2; L A S Steel Creek church, $3.50; L A & O, First church, Charlotte, $6; Mrs E B Penick $1; Mrs S P. Lees, $100: Mrs A D McDonald, $1; Lauchlin Band, $4; C L S Warrenton church, .50; S S Westminster, $3.01; "Two friends," $5; S S High Point, $5; SS Lumber Bridge, $6.56; "Quick Workers," Graham, .75; S S Asheville. $2.58; G P Grey, $1, S S Fayetteville, $1.08; Edwin Shaver; $5; Pleasant Hill, $1.35; Mrs J Cutchins S S Class, 50; Ladies of Rocky Mount church, $1.

BUILDING FUND.

Graham church. $56.44; Mrs Emily Holt $100; Mrs E V White, $25; A M Prior, $10; Mrs J M Gardner, .50: Miss Ida Niblock, .50; Mrs A A Blair, $4.50; "R" $10.

CHILDREN'S ROOM.

Happy Sailors, First church, Winston $1.50; Myrtle McRae, .50.

PRESS FUND.

The following at fifty cents each: Dr. E Nye Hutchison, Mrs J N Gardner, M McLean, L A S North Wilkesboro, Miss Kate B Lily, Mrs Ida Holt, Miss Mary E Birdsall, Sarah and Evelyn Bailey, Mrs W S Norment, Miss Mary Kennedy, Mrs E Wagner, J A McRae Mrs S M Patterson, Mrs Selden, Miss Sallie T Cronly, Miss Sadie Klutz, Mrs M A Bradford, Miss Bettie Overcash, Mrs I R Alexander, Mrs A A Blair, Mrs C B Skipper.

Mrs AD McDonald, $1; North Wilkesboro, SS, $2.50; Miss Mollie Lea, $1; Mrs Mollie Elliot, $5.50; J L Chost, $1.50; Eva Louise Hall, .25; Jno G Sterling, $7; Mrs W C Munroe, .80; Rev R C Morrison, $1; Rev W C Brown, $1.

JNO. E. OATES,
Treasurer, Charlotte, N. C.

SECULAR NEWS.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The Southern Railway will extend the branch from Mocksville to Mooresville.

Cotton blooms are freely seen now.

Plans are on foot to establish a silk mill at Salisbury.

The Durham paper box factory is being enlarged so as to enable it to make boxes for all the hosiery factories in the State, fourteen in number.

More than 100 teachers are in attendance upon the Summer School at Chapel Hill.

The Teachers' Assembly has closed. It was a great success, and the Association is now free from debt.

DOMESTIC.

The hot wave in New Orleans last week caused many prostrations and several death.s

Chickens are being shipped in large quantities from Mobile, Ala., to Havana. One firm, Spanish in name, has a standing order for 3,000 each week.

The worst hail storm known in the history of Kansas visited that State last week. Dogs were instantly killed and horses severely injured. Trees and houses suffered severely and the loss will amount to thousands.

In the wreck of an express train on the Wabash railroad at Missouri City, Mo., several persons were killed and many wounded. The wreck was caused by the weakening of the trestle from a roaring torrent beneath in the gorge.

FOREIGN.

One of the most interesting events of the Queen's Jubilee was her visit to Windsor park where six thousand school children had gathered to do her honor. The Princess of Wales gave the poor and neglected of the city a dinner which was enjoyed by thousands. The Prince, princes and attendants visited the main halls.

The Russian turret ironclad Gangoot one of the best vessels of the imperial navy, ran upon a reef near the Transund on the 22d ult, during a show storm and almost immediately sank. The crew were saved.

Plague Commissioner Rand and Lieut. Ayerst were killed on the 23d inst., by natives as they left the Governor's reception at Gareshkin, India. Mr. Ross, a civil official, was also killed at Peshawur while returning from jubilee fetes. There was great feeling among the natives upon holding such festivities in the midst of famine and pestilence.

The Russian steamer Noni was burned on the 25th ult. Thirty of her passengers were seriously burned.

SUMMER BOARD.

Board from June 15th to September 1st, can be had on reasonable terms at Statesville Female College. For terms address, J. B. BURWELL,
Statesville, N. C.

SEABOARD AIR LINE S.A.L. VESTIBULED LIMITED TRAINS. DOUBLE DAILY SERVICE

TO

ATLANTA, CHARLOTTE, ATHENS, WILMINGTON, NEW ORLEANS, CHATTANOOGA,

AND

NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA, WASHINGTON, NORFOLK, RICHMOND.

Schedule in Effect May 30th. 1897.

WESTWARD.

	No. 41	No. 403
Lv Wilmington..	*3 20pm	.....
Lv Lumberton.	5 26pm	.....
Lv Maxton.....	6 12pm	.....
Lv Laurinburg..	6 23pm	.....
Ar Hamlet.....	6 53pm	.....
Lv Hamlet.....	7 13pm	*5 10 am
Lv Rockingham.	7 30pm	5 23 am
Lv Wadesboro..	8 11pm	5 54 am
Lv Marshville...	8 48pm	6 25 am
Ar Monroe.....	9 12pm	6 43 am
Lv Monroe.....	9 35pm	7 00 am
Ar Charlotte....	10 25pm	7 50 am
Ar Mt. Holly....	.....	9 20 am
Ar Lincolnton...	.....	10 20 am
Ar Shelby.....	.....	11 18a m
Ar Ellenboro....	.....	11 55p m
ArRutherfordton	.....	12 30p m

†8 40am Lv....Hamlet..Ar 6 20p m
10 00am Ar....Cherew..Ar † 5 00p m

EASTWARD.

	No. 38.	No. 402
LvRutherfordton	.....	*4 35p m
Lv Ellenboro....	.....	5 15p m
Lv Shelby.....	.....	6 03p m
Lv Lincolnton..	.....	7 00p m
Lv Mt Holly....	.....	7 50p m
Lv Charlotte....	*5 10am	8 25p m
Ar Monroe.....	5 55am	9 10p m
Lv Monroe	6 05am	9 40p m
Lv Marshville...	6 25am	.....
Lv Wadesboro..	7 01am	10 31 pm
Lv Rockingham.	7 41am	11 05p m
Ar Hamlet.....	7 55am	11 23p m
Lv Hamlet.....	8 20am	.....
Lv Laurinburg..	8 46am	.....
Lv Maxton.....	9 05am	.....
Lv Lumberton...	9 53am	.....
Ar Wilming on..	12 05pm	.....

NORTHWARD.

Lv Hamlet.....	*8 15am	*11 20pm
Ar Raleigh.....	11 30am	2 16pm
Ar Portsmouth..	5 50pm	7 25am
Ar Richmond...	*6 50pm	* 8 15am
Ar Washington..	11 10pm	12 31pm
Ar New York...	6 53am	6 23pm

SOUTHWARD.

Lv Monroe.....	*6 48am	*9 25p m
Ar Abbeville....	11 05am	1 40a m
Ar Athens.....	1 15pm	3 45a m
Ar Atlanta (Central Time)....	2 50pm	5 20a m

*Daily. †Daily, except Sunday.

Both trains make immediate connections at Atlanta for Montgomery, Mobile, New Orleans, Texas, California, Mexico, Chattanooga, Nashville, Memphis, Macon, Florida.

For Tickets, Sleepers, etc., apply to

B. A. NEWLAND,
Gen. Agt. P. Dept.
6 Kimball House, Atlanta, Ga,

THOS. D. MEARES,
Gen'l. Agent, Wilmington, N. C.

E. ST. JOHN, Vice-President and General Manager.
H. W. B. GLOVER, Traffic Manager.
V. E. McBEE, Gen'l. Supt.
T. J ANDERSON, Gen'l. Pass. Agt.
General Offices, Portsmouth, Va.

Shopping.

Shopping done in Philadelphia by a lady of experience and taste. No extra charge. Best references. Send for circular.

Miss M. ANDERSON,
333 Pine St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

We really think our

C. F. &Y. V. Railway Co,

JOHN GILL, Receiver.

CONDENSED SCHEDULE.

IN EFFECT May 30th, 1897.

NORTH BOUND.	No. 2, Daily
Leave Wilmington	12.15p.m
Arrive Fayetteville	3.35 "
Leave Fayetteville	3.45 "
Leave Fayetteville Junction	3.47 "
ArriveSanford	5.02 "
Leave Sanford	5.05 "
Leave Climax	6.54 "
Arrive Greensboro	7.25 "
Leave Greensboro	7.45 "
Leave Stokesdale	8.32 "
Leave WalnutCove	9.03 "
Leave Rural Hall	9.30 "
Arrive Mt. Airy	11.00 "

SOUTH BOUND.	No. 1. Daily
Leave Mt. Airy	5.25a m
Leave Rural Hall	6.50 "
Leave Walnut Cove	7.19 "
Leave Stokesdale	7.52 "
Arrive Greensboro	8.40 "
Leave Greensboro	9.00 "
Leave Climax	9.29 "
Leave Sanford	11.20 "
Arrive Fayetteville Junction	12.42p.m.
†Arrive Fayetteville	12.45 "
Leave Fayetteville	1.15 "
Arrive Wilmington	4.30 "

NORTH BOUND.	No. 4. Daily
Leave Bennettsville	7.45 a.m
ArriveMaxton	9.00 "
LeaveMaxton	9.07 "
Leave Red Springs	9.37 "
Leave Hope Mills	10.26 "
Arrive Fayetteville	10.50 "

SOUTH BOUND	No. 3. Daily
Leave Fayetteville	4.45p.m.
Leave Hope Mills	5.09 "
Leave Red Springs	5.42 "
ArriveMaxton	6.11 "
Leave Maxton	6.15 "
ArriveBennettsville	7.20 "

NORTH BOUND.	No. 15. Mixed. Daily ex Sunday.
Leave Ramseur	7.40 a.m
Leave Climax	9.33 "
Arrive Greensboro	10.20 "
Leave Greensboro	10.55 "
Leave Stokesdale	12.20 p.m.
Arrive Madison	1.10 "

SOUTH BOUND.	No. 15 Mixed. Daily ex Sunday.
Leave Madison	2.10 p.m
Leave Stokesdale	3.05 "
Arrive Greensboro	4.30 "
Leave Greensboro	5.45 "
Leave Climax	6.57 "
Arrive Ramseur	8.35 "

†Meals.

CONNECTIONS,

at Fayetteville with the Atlantic Coast Line, at Maxton with Carolina Central Railroad, at Sanford, with Seaboard Air Line, at Greensboro with Southern Railway; at Walnut Cove with Norfolk & Western Railway.

W. E. KYLE,
Gen'l Passenger Agent.

J. W. FRY,
Gen'l Manager.

A LETTER FROM THE UNIVERSITY SUMMER SCHOOL.

Mr. EDITOR;—The Summer School at the University of North Carolina opened with a large attendance on June 22d. Chapel Hill with its many natural advantages, good water, large shady campus, is an ideal place for a Summer School.

The first lecture in the morning is a lecture by Dr. McMurry, on Pedagogy, then follows the regular class-room work. Prof. Jackman, from Chicago Normal School, teaches Nature Study. Dr. Hume is giving interesting courses in English Literature, Anglo-Saxon, and Literary Study of the Bible. Prof. Moses' Primary Work is what every primary teacher in the State needs. The Science Work, the great need of so many teachers, is stroug in all departments. The Drawing and Manual Training taught by Miss Bemis is a practical, good course. The courses in Latin and French and German are well attended. Geography, Psychology, Child Study, Civics, History, Music, Physical Training are all taught by the best instructors. Dr. Milne of the New York Normal School and Supt. Noble of Wilmington, are teaching Mathematics. The study of Shakespeare, by Miss Bryant, of Ogontz, is a very popular course. Mr. Webb gives a course in English Composition.

Prominent men in the State will give evening lectures.

Teachers can make no better investment than to attend the University Summer School. They should correspond with the Superintendent.

C. W. TOMS,
Chapel Hill, N. C.

WILMINGTON MARKET.

FOR

WEEK ENDING JUNE 30, 1897.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE: On Thursday (24th) 24½ cents for machine barrels and 24 cents for country casks; since 24½ and 24½ respectively—closing dull.

ROSIN: Steady throughout at $1.25 for Strained and $1.30 for Good Strained.

CRUDE TURPENTINE: Hard $1.30, Yellow Dip $1.80 and Virgin $1.90—firm throughout.

TAR: Taken day by day at $1.05 per barrel closing firm.

TIMBER: Hear of no change.

ATLANTIC COAST LINE.

Schedule in Effect May 27th 1897.

DEPARTURES FROM WILMINGTON—

NORTHBOUND.

DAILY 3:00 A M No. 48—Passenger—Due Magnolia 10 40 a m, Warsaw 10 55 a m, Goldsboro 11 56 a m, Wilson 12 46 pm, Rocky Mount 1 30 p m, Tarboro 2 50 p m, Weldon 3 39 p m, Petersburg 5 54 p m, Richmond 6 50 p m, Norfolk 6 05 p m, Washington 11 10 p m, Baltimore 12 53 a m, Philadelphia 3 45 a m, New York 6 53 a m, †Boston 3 00 pm.

DAILY 5:15 P M No. 40—Passenger—Due Magnolia 8 55 p m, Warsaw 9 10 p m, Goldsboro 10 10 p m, Wilson 11 06 p m, †Tarboro 6 45 a m, Rocky Mount 11 57 p m, Weldon 1 44 a m, †Norfolk 10 30 a m, Petersburg 3 24 a m, Richmond 4 20 a m, Washington 7 41 a m, Baltimore 9,06 a m, Philadelphia 11 35 m. New York 2 03 p m, Boston 8 30 p m.

SOUTHBOUND.

DAILY 3:40 P M No. 55—Passenger—Due Lake Waccamaw 4 55 p m, Chadbourn 5 29 p m, Marion 6 40 p m, Florence 7 25 p m, Sumter 8 42 p m, Columbia 10 05 p m, Denmark 6 20 a m, Augusta 8 10 a m, Macon 11 00 a m, Atlanta 12 15 p m, Charleston 10 20 p m, Savannah 12 50 am, Jacksonville 7 30 a m, St. Augustine 10 30 a m, Tampa 5 45 p m.

ARRIVALS AT WILMINGTON—FROM THE NORTH.

DAILY 5:45 P M No. 49—Passenger—Leave Boston †1 03 p m, New York 9 00 p m, Philadelphia 12 05 a m, Baltimore 2 50 a m, Washington 4 30 a m, Richmond 9 05 a m, Petersburg 10 (a m,) Norfolk 8 40 a m, Weldon 11 50 a m, Tarboro 12 12 p m, Rocky Mount 12 45p m, Wilson 2 12 p m, Goldsboro 3 10 p m, Warsaw 4 02 p m, Magnolia 4 16 p m.

DAILY 9:40 AM No. 41—Passenger—Leave Boston 12 00 night, New York 9 30 a m, Philadelphia 12 00 p m Baltimore 2 25 p m, Washington 3 46 p m, Richmond 7 30 p m, Petersburg 8 12 p m, †Norfolk 2 20 p m, Weldon 9 43 p m, †Tarboro 6 01 p m, Rocky Mount 5 45 a m, leave Wilson 6 30 a m, Goldsboro 7 03 am, Warsaw 7 54 a m, Magnolia 8 07 a m.

FROM THE SOUTH.

DAILY 12:15 P M No. 54— Passenger — Leave Tampa 9 25 a m, Sanford 2 19 p m, Jacksonville 7 00 p m, Savannah 12 45 night, Charleston 5 30 am Columbia 5 50 a m, Atlanta 8 20 a m, Macon 9 30 a m, Augusta 3 05 p m, Denmark 4 55 pm, Sumter 6 45 a m, Florence 8 55 a m, Marion 9 34 a m, Chadbourn 10 35 a m, Lake Waccamaw 11 06 a m.

†Daily except Sunday

Trains on the Scotland Neck Branch road leave Weldon 4 10 p m, Halifax 4 28 p m, arrive Scotland Neck at 5 20, Greenville 6 57 p m, Kinston 7 55 p m. Returning leaves Kinston 7 50 a m, Greenville 8 32 a m, arriving Halifax at 11 18 a m, Weldon 11 33 a m daily except Sunday.

Trains on Washington Branch leave Washington 8 20 a m, and 1 p m, arrive Parmele 9 10 a m and 2 40 p m, returning leave Parmele 9 35 a m and 6 30 p m, arrive Washington 11 00 a m, and 7 20 p m. Daily except Sunday

Train leaves Tarboro, N C, daily except Sunday, 5 30 p m, Sunday 4 05 pm, arrives Plymouth 7 40 p m and 6 00 p m. Returning leaves Plymouth daily except Sunday 7 50 a m and Sunday 9 00 a m arrives Tarboro 10 05 a m and 11 a m.

Trains on Conway Branch leave Hub 8 30 a. m., Chadbourn 10 40 a. m., arrive Conway 1 00 p. m. leave Conway 2 45 p. m., Chadbourn 5 40 p. m., arrive Hub 6 20 p. m. Daily except Sunday.

Train on Midland N C Branch leaves Goldsboro daily, except Sunday, 7 10 a m, arriving Smithfield 8 30 a m, Returning leaves Smithfield 9 00 a m, arrive at Goldsboro 10 25 a m.

Train on Nashville Branch leaves Rocky Mount at 4 30 p m, arrives Nashville 5 05 p m, Spring Hope 5 30 p m. Returning leaves Spring Hope 8 00 a m, Nashville 8 35 a m, arrives at Rocky Mount 9 05 a m, daily except Sunday.

Train on Clinton Branch leaves Warsaw for Clinton daily, except Sunday, 8 20 a m., and 4 10 p.m. Returning leaves Clinton at 7 00 a m, and 11.30 pm

Wilson and Fayetteville Branch leave Wilson 2 06 p m, 11 16 p m, arrive Selma 3 06 p m, Smithfield 3,08 p m, Dunn 3 50 p m. Fayetteville 4 40 p m, 1 14 a m, Rowland 6 10 p m. Returning leave Rowland 10 00 a m, Fayetteville 11 20 a m, 10 20 p m, Dunn 12 07 p m, Smithfield 12 48 p m, Selma 1 00 p m, arrive Wilson 1 42 p m, 12 10 a m.

H. M. EMERSON,
Ass't. Gen'l Passenger Agent.

J. R. KENLY, Gen'l Manager.

T. M. EMERSON Traffic Manager.

CONVERSE COLLEGE.

Faculty	30 Officers and Teachers, each a specialist, with special work only.
Curriculum	Classical, Scientific, Literary, Elective courses; Music, Art, Elocution, Business Course.
Scholarship	The work required equivalent to that in the best colleges for men in standard and thoroughness.
Appointments	Cost $135.000; Campus 50 acres. Steam heat. Gas. Hot and cold baths Closets heated. Gymnasium, Bowling Alley, Lawn Tennis Courts, Library, Laboratories, Infirmary, Elegant Society Halls, rooms carpeted and comfortably furnished.
Library	Very fine useful Library.
Attendance	431 Students from 12 States.
Assistance	Scholarships for deserving young women. Free tuition to all ministers' daughters.
Next Session	Will begin Wednesday, September 22d, 1897.

☞ Send for Catalogue to

Pres't. BENJAMIN WILSON.
Spartanburg, S. C.

B. F. HALL, OSCAR PEARSALL

HALL & PEARSALL

Cor. NUTT and MULBERRY STS.

WILMINGTON. - N. C.

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

—AND—

—WHOLESALE DEALERS IN—

HEAVY GROCERIES

WE ALWAYS CARRY A LARGE AND WELL SELECTED STOCK OF

Flour, Sugar, Coffee, Molasses, Salt Fish,

Hay Corn Oats Tobacco, Snuff, Cigars, Hoop-Iron, Nails, Glue,

Cotton Bagging and Ties.

☞ We solicit the patronage of the public. and guarantee to give satisfaction. Correspondence invited.

☞ Consignments of Naval Stores, Cotton and all Country Produce will receive careful attention.

HALL & PEARSALL
WILMINGTON, N. C

ORGANIZED 1856.

GEORGIA HOME INSURANCE COMPANY.

COLUMBUS, Ga.

J. RHODES BROWN, President.

Wm. C. COART, Secretary.

A HOME COMPANY,

Seeking Home Patronage.

Strong! Prompt! Reliable! Liberal!

Agents at all Cities, Towns and Villages in the Southern States.

W. W. HODGES, Agent,
Wilmington N. C.

E. NYE HUTCHISON, Agent,
Charlotte N. C

THINGS USEFUL.

Horseradish root put into a jar of pickles will keep vinegar from losing its strength and prevent mold from forming.

When the whites of eggs are used and the yolks are not required at the same time drop the yolks into a small cup or glass, cover the surface with a little cold water and keep in a cool place.

An ornamental use for an old umbrella frame. A large nail was driven in the end of the wooden handle so it would press into the ground with more ease, the frame was opened and the handle planted in the middle of a round flower bed. A pretty trailing vine that had white blossoms was placed where each wire rib of the umbrella came, and twined around. Low flowering plants were placed around the remaining portion of the bed to keep it in good form.

A Delicious Dessert.—Whip one pint of cream light, then drain it well. Beat the yolks of four eggs light, put in a saucepan a generous cup of maple syrup, stir in the beaten yolks, and place over the fire. Stir until the mixture becomes hot and the eggs thicken the syrup; take from the fire at once and stand the pan in a dish of ice water and beat the mixture with an egg-beater until it is light and cold; then gently mix with it the whipped cream. Put this mixture into a packed freezer, cover closely, and let it stand in a cold place three or four hours.

THE CINCINNATI BELL FOUNDING CO. INCORPORATED. SOLE MAKERS OF THE BLYMYER BELLS FOR CHURCH, SCHOOL, FIRE ALARM &C. Illustrated with 2500 testimonials, Prices and Terms FREE.
Mention this paper.

Wire Railing and Ornamental Wire Works.
DUFUR & CO.,
311 North Howard St., Baltimore, Md.
Manufacture Wire Railing for Cemeteries, Balconies, &c., Sieves, Feeder Cages, Sand and Coal Screens, Woven Wire, &c.
Also Iron Bedsteads Chairs, Settees &c.

RED SPRINGS SEMINARY
FOR YOUNG LADIES.
Established by Fayetteville Presbytery
New Buildings, well equipped and adapted to all departments of College work. Complete and liberal course. Fully abreast of the leading Southern Colleges for Women.
Full and Efficient Faculty.
Charges very moderate ($108 00 per year for full College course and Board)
Session opens September 30, 1896. For further information write to
REV. C. G. VARDELL,
Red Springs, N. C.

Presbyterian High School
OF
NORTH CAROLINA.
J. M. OLDHAM, Principal.
Full corps of instructors, all college-bred men representing the leading institutions of North Carolina, Virginia and South Carolina. A non-military school, located in the country in middle North Carolina, with excellent climate.
Instruction Thorough,
Discipline Mild Yet Firm,
Physical Development Looked After
Rates Reasonable.
Endorsed by Synod of North Carolina.
For catalogues address,
J. M. OLDHAM, Principal,
Mebane, N. C.

DAVIDSON COLLEGE,
DAVIDSON, N. C
The Sixtieth Year Begins September 10th, 1896.
FACULTY
Rev. J. R. Shearer, D. D., LL.D., President, and Professor of Biblical Instruction and Moral Philosophy.
Henry Louis Smith, Ph. D., Vice-President, and Prof. of Natural Philosophy.
W. D. Vinson, M. A., LL.D., Prof. of Mathematics
C. R. Harding, Ph.D., Professor of Greek and German.
W. R. Grey, Ph.D. Professor of Latin and French.
Thos. P. Harrison, Ph.D., Professor of English.
W. J. Martin, Jr., M. D., Ph.D., Prof. of Chemistry.
F. F. Rowe, A. B., Instructor.
GYMNASIUM DIRECTOR.
VOCAL MUSIC.
CLASSICAL,
MATHEMATICAL.
SCIENTIFIC,
LITERARY,
BIBLICAL.
COMMERCIAL.
SEND FOR A CATALOGUE.
Terms Reasonable.
Location Healthful,
Accommodations Excellent,
Teaching Unsurpassed,
Gymnasium Complete.
Address THE PRESIDENT.

DO NOT FORGET.
THAT OUR BRAND OF FLOUR
THE LADIES' FAVORITE
Is the best Flour on the market. Double Patent, and produces more bread than any other
In addition to our Ladies' Favorite Flour we have taken the Agency for Pillsbury's Best Spring Wheat in barrels and half barrel sacks.
We offer North Carolina Canned Peaches, North Carolina Canned Tomatoes, guaranteed fully equal to any brand. North Carolina Manufactured Tobacco, North Carolina Bacon, California Peaches, California Apricots, both canned and dried, as well as a select stock of groceries of every description.
Orders solicited.
R. W. HICKS,
WHOLESALE ONLY,
Wilmington, N. C.

The Man in the Moon would be happier if he could have a supply of
Cool Fragrant and Soothing
Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco
For over twenty-five years the standard smoking tobacco of the world.
To-day More Popular than Ever.
To have a good smoke anytime and everytime it is only necessary to get Bull Durham. It is all good and always good.
BLACKWELL'S DURHAM TOBACCO CO.,
DURHAM, N. C.

H. A. TUCKER. R. D TUCKER.
TUCKER'S
GRANITE AND MARBLE WORKS
DEALERS IN ALL KINDS OF
Granite and Marble Monuments
CONTRACTORS FOR BUILDING STONE
H. A. TUCKER & BRO.,
No. 310 Front St.,
Wilmington, N. C.
As Successors to
D. A. GRANTHAM,
The Messrs. TUCKER & BRO., have a fully equipped branch yard at Goldsboro and as in Wilmington, are there prepared to do any kind of first-class work.

WORTH & WORTH,
—OFFER FOR SALE—
BEST QUALITY, FULL WEIGHT
FLOUR, BACON, SUGAR, LARD
MOLASSES, MEAL, SALT,
LIME, CEMENT,
Plaster, Hay, Corn, Hoop Iron, Oats
Rivets Glue.
BUNGS, CANNED GOODS,
At Low Prices
WILMINGTON, N. C.

STEEL WIRE FENCE BOARD.
A Barbless Horse and Cattle Fence; Cabled Poultry and Garden Fence; Cabled Field and Hog Fence. Yard, Cemetery and Grave Lot Fencing on Steel Post and Rail a Specialty. We Pay the Freight. Catalogue and testimonials free.
K. L. SELLABERGER, ATLANTA, GA.

M. H. JONES
DURHAM, N. C.,
Keeps on hand a fine assortment of
STERLING SILVER WARE,
JEWELRY, DIAMONDS,
WATCHES, CLOCKS
and everything found in a first-class jewelry store.
Repairing of all kinds, especially such as is usually sent North, done promptly and in best style; reputation established for this class of work.

..An Evolution in Typewriters..
A LITTLE Machine with a BIG Record....
The...
BLICKENSDERFER
No. 5 Typewriter.
Marvel in Mechanism. $35 Standard of Simplicity.
Has More DESIRABLE Features and Less UNDESIRABLE Ones than Any Other Typewriter Made.
Endorsed by Thousands of ....ENTHUSIASTIC USERS....
CATALOGUE AND SAMPLE OF WORK FREE.
K. M. TURNER,
GEN'L SOUTHERN AGENT,
41 N. Broad St., Atlanta, Ga.
918 F St. N. W., Washington, D. C.
914 E. Main St., Richmond, Va.
Daily Record Bld'g, Baltimore, Md.

North Carolina Presbyterian.

New Series—VOL. XXIX—No. 1,539. WILMINGTON, N. C., THURSDAY, JULY 8, 1897. Old Series. Vol. XXXIX—No. 2,699

THE OFFICE OF THE PRESBYTERIAN IS IN THE ALLEN BUILDING ON PRINCESS STREET—ROOM No. 6, ON SECOND FLOOR.

Subscription price $2.00 a year.
Ministers $1.00.
Missionaries $1.50, including postage.
New Subscribers $1.50 for first year.

Checks or orders in payment of subscription may be made payable either to John McLaurin, or to North Carolina Presbyterian. Please send forward promptly.

(For Contents see Second Page)

TWO MEN.

That low man seeks a little thing to do,
Sees it and does it:
This high man with a great thing to pursue
Dies ere he knows it.

That low man goes on adding one to one,
His hundred's soon hit;
This high man, aiming at a million,
Misses a unit.

That has the world here—should he need the next,
Let the world mind him!
This, throws himself on God, and unperplexed,
Seeking, shall find him.

—Robert Browning.

PROTECT THE HOME.

The home-life must be the sweetest. Keep out all bickering and strife. The world is full of backbiting and misunderstanding and envy; the home must be a refuge. The man is to be pitied who, after a hard day's sail amid the storms of business cares and fears, cannot drop anchor at eventide in the quiet harbor of a peaceful home. We want to get rid of our grumbling, faultfinding spirit in the home, and learn to speak words of praise and approval. It is as easy to tell the wife when she does well as when she misses a button or has weak coffee; it is wiser to praise the children for their good deeds than to be unceasingly nagging them about their mistakes. Make home happy, and richest results will follow.—The Peninsular Methodist.

God lays His cross upon those whom He loves, and those who bear it patiently gain much wisdom.—Luther.

REV. WM. E. McILWAIN.

The subject of this sketch sprang from the noble Scotch-Irish. His father, Dr. William McIlwain, was a native of York county, S. C., and his mother (recently deceased) was a daughter of William Potts, Esq., of Union county, N. C. In this county, near Banks Presbyterian church, Feb. 19th, 1848, William E. McIlwain was born. His forefathers were Associate Reformed Presbyterians; hence they sent their son to Erskine College, South Carolina, where he graduated in June 1872, and in 1875 he graduated at Columbia Seminary. In May 1874, he was licensed by Mecklenburg Presbytery, and and spent his vacation in serving the Hopewell church in Mecklenburg county, N. C. Immediately after graduation, he was ordained and installed pastor of this old revolutionary church. A successor of a noble line of pastors. Here he spent six happy and fruitful years. Both in numbers and in territory, this was a large field, and the young preacher was permitted to see Presbyterianism greatly strengthened.

At Huntersville four miles distant on the railroad, out of Hopewell and Ramah churches, was organized the Huntersville church. Under the ministry of Prof. James F. Latimer, this church was greatly blessed, and to-day has two hundred members.

Seven miles from Hopewell and five miles from Charlotte, the pastor began a mission work. From this came a Sabbath-school, and from this Williams Memorial church, which to-day has a nice building, a good manse and a pastor for all his time.

Mr. McIlwain was now elected Presbyterial evangelist, with residence at Waynesville, in Haywood county. In this field he spent two years and six months, and it was during this time that the beautiful church of Waynesville was completed and dedicated, and the manse was built. His next charge was Gastonia and New Hope churches in Gaston county, N. C., and, during his stay of six years in this field, both churches grew into self-supporting charges. Buildings were erected and churches were organized at Lowell and Belmont, on the Air Line Railroad, and a chapel was built four miles south of New Hope. These new churches, with the mother church (New Hope), now form the pastorate of Rev. R. A. Miller. Gastonia grew so steadily that in five years it was able to build a manse and call a pastor for all his time. This church now has more than two hundred members, and under the able leadership of Rev. R. P. Smith, recently occupied its beautiful new house of worship. Rev. M. McG. Shields, is now serving, most acceptably, as the pastor.

For a number of years Brother McIlwain was chairman of the Home Mission Committee in Mecklenburg Presbytery, and under his leadership, with the aid of a judicious committee, he accomplished great good and met all financial obligations promptly. As an evidence of his efficiency in this Presbyterial work, the Presbytery gave him a hearty call after he left her bounds, to return, and to take charge of her work as General Superintendent; but this he declined. During his connection with Mecklenburg, he wrote and published a historical sketch of Mecklenburg Presbytery, and also gathered information for his "twenty-three years of Home Mission work in the Presbytery of Mecklenburg," a pamphlet which he published in 1893.

The first conference on the subject of Synodical Home Missions, called by the chairmen of the Presbyterial Home Mission committees of the Synod, met in the city of Goldsboro on the day previous to the meeting of the Synod. In this conference Rev. Mr. McIlwain took an active part, and was appointed by the conference to lay the whole matter before the Synod. This he did, and it was the inauguration of the Synod's work in Home Missions. This brother also participated in recommending to the Synod the propriety of building an orphanage, and until his departure from the Synod, he was one of its regents and warm supporters. Brother McIlwain's interest and success in Home Mission work had attracted attention beyond the bounds of his Presbytery and Synod, hence several Presbyteries sought his services. Twice he served the Synod of North Carolina, as her evangelist; twice he refused the same position in the Synod of Mississippi; and for three years he served the Synod of Alabama, as her Synodical Home Mission Superintendent. This work under him was pressed with vigor, and worked efficiently, and met the hearty approval of his brethren.

Feeling the need of rest Brother McIlwain resigned and spent the winter of 1895 in study at Princeton Seminary. The next fall and winter he spent in the city of Louisville, Ky., as pastor of the Third church, and at the same time prosecuted his studies in the Theological Seminary. In the summer of 1896, he received a call and accepted the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church of Pensacola, Florida, where he is now laboring to build up the cause of his Master.

The weariness that most people feel in being alone, the anxiety to have somebody to chat with until bedtime, the passion for society and amusement, evince a sad want of inward resources, and of an independent spiritual life.

David says in the thirty-ninth Psalm: "While I was musing, the fire burned"—not while I was singing, or speaking, or hearing, but when I was alone, communing with my own heart and with God. The figure is forcible. The fire of God's truth and love lay in his heart, like embers covered with ashes. By meditation he drew those embers out and together; he fanned them into a flame. That is what we ought to do when our hearts are dark and cold. We know enough to make us both wise and happy. The trouble is that we do not ponder what we know.—Herald and Presbyter.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

1ST PAGE—Two Men (poetry)—Protect the Home—Sketch of Rev. Wm. E. Mollwain.

2ND PAGE — Editorial: Praying They Sang Hymns—Editorial Notes — The Honor System at Davidson.

3RD PAGE—India Relief Fund.

4TH PAGE—MRS. Lewis's Fourth Visit to Mt. Sinai—First Presbyterian Church, Pensacola, Fla., Completed 1888.

5TH PAGE.—Literary Jottings—Magaines—No Apology Needed—Grumblers—Three Reasons.

6TH PAGE — Religious Intelligence—Personals—Work of the Conference at Knoxville (Continued)

7TH PAGE—Work of the Conference at Knoxville (Continued.)

8TH PAGE—The Latest News From Our Colored Work—A Song in the Night—Do You Know Your Bible?—Droppings of the Honey Comb.

9TH PAGE — In Everything—"Drink and Pray.

10TH PAGE—Sunday School Lesson—Young People's Column—Puzzles—The Way to Accomplish It.

11TH PAGE—Marriages— Obituaries—Secular News.

12TH PAGE. — (For the Family)—Words (poetry)—Death of Mrs. Oliphant.

13TH PAGE— Loveliness poetry) — How Jim Began to be a Missionary—For Mothers—Letter-Box.

14TH PAGE—Foreign Mission Receipts for June—Odds and Ends.

15TH PAGE—Say Soes—Market.

16TH PAGE—Things Useful.

PRAYING THEY SANG HYMNS.

That is the literal translation of the words whose meaning is given to us in the King James' version of Acts xvi: 25 as "prayed and sang praises" and in the Revised Version as "praying and singing hymns." It was one act, involving both expressions of prayer and praise, which have a hidden unity much to be desired. Their prayers went up in song. Their songs were prayers. This calls for consideration as related to the songs of the sanctuary, where worship should be rendered to God.

It strikes us as most remarkable that this combination and unity are found just here. Paul and Silas, missionaries of the Gospel of grace, peace, and love, are arrested, beaten and committed to the charge of a jailer whose cruelty exceeded the commitment of the prisoners and he cast them into the inner prison and made their feet fast in the stocks. Knowing the character of these men we would expect them to pray. There was great need of that. They were cut off from every earthly hope and support. They would cast themselves on God. But under the circumstances, sore and sick and cast into filth, in the night, we may not surely expect them to sing. How much less may we expect their very prayers to be praise?

There is nothing like this in other religions or supports of philosophy. Christianity is the only religion that inspires men to sing; "Mohammedanism has no hymnal, nor has Hinduism nor Buddhism. No glorious outburst of sacred song from the hearts and lips of the people ever awoke the echoes of any heathen or Mohammedan temple." Butler. Ovid, poet and philosopher, wealthy and admired, was sent for a time into exile and almost all his letters written then are full of unmanly lamentations.

Seneca, a contemporary of Paul, of immense wealth, of great reputation, the author of books full of the most sounding professions of stoic superiority to passion and pain, when exiled broke into abject complaints.

This was a wonderful religious service, made possible only as Wordsworth says in, "the power of joy in the Holy Ghost." These prisoners cannot bend their knees in prayer, but they can lift up their heart and voice to heaven. They might have hesitated because of their circumstances, congregation and condition. It was an unusual hour, at midnight. It was a singular worshiping place, a prison. There were remarkable conductors of the service, the prisoners Paul and Silas, with wounds undressed, full of pain even increased by filth and vermin. It was a strange congregation, "the prisoners heard them."

We do not know what were their prayers. But their praise was the verification of that word, "He giveth songs in the night." Like Christian and Hopeful in Giant Despair's dungeon, they formed the key of hope. Christianity enables her votaries to sing while the flames burn round about them, as in the case of John Huss. It is instructive to think of the many Christian confessors, who like the apostles have counted it all joy to be found worthy to suffer for the name of the Lord Jesus. It is a long list of those who have anticipated heaven with Jesus walking in the midst of the furnace of affliction.

"This is the victory that overcometh the world." It is no great wonder that there was a great earthquake and that the foundations of the prison were shaken and that the jailer cried: "What must I do to be saved? These songs are echoing down to our day. Dr. McLaren well wrote: "We can hear the strains through all the centuries, and they bid us be cheerful and trustful, whatever befalls."

This one instance found in the Sabbath-school lesson for this week would well repay us for its study and should stimulate us all to study the Scripture selections more carefully. We shall find abundant illustration that this experience was not meant to be limited to the apostolic age and the days of the early Church. Some of the sweetest songs were written in trouble, sickness and trial. Miss Havergal was an invalid. Fannie Crosby is blind. Madame Guyon sang and wrote songs in prison saying: "It sometimes seems to me as if I were a little bird, whom the Lord had placed in a cage, and that I had nothing now to do but to sing." It is a grand thing to say of such, "praying they sang hymns."

WE ARE MORE than glad that Washington and Jefferson College, the alma mater of Rev. Dr. Matthew B. Grier, editor of the Philadelphia Presbyterian, has bestowed the title of LL.D. upon him. It is no unmeaning title. Dr. Grier before entering the ministry read law with Mr. Charles Chauncey, at the time an eminent Philadelphia attorney, and has since taken special interest in legal questions especially such as affected ecclesiastical matters. The special interest of the writer in the matter arises from the fact that he knew Dr. Grier quite intimately over forty years ago, when pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city; that he was received into the church during that pastorate and that, not quite so long ago, Dr. Grier performed the rite that transformed him from bachelor into benedict.

WE ARE SHOCKED by the news which comes through press dispatches that Rev. E. M. Richardson, D.D., Secretary of Education of our Church was found dead in bed on Wednesday last. Just after the war Dr. Richardson supplied the church at Grenada, Miss. In 1869 he was elected pastor of the Third church, Memphis, Tenn., and here he faithfully served until June, 1879, when he was appointed by the Executive Committee of Education to the Secretaryship, then vacated by Rev. Dr. J. N. Waddell. In 1880 the Assembly elected Dr. Richardson to the post. In some respects this position is the more difficult to fill than any other secretaryship of our Church, perhaps, but Dr. Richardson at all times and seasons, sometimes under very discouraging circumstances and circumstances involving great self-denial, threw his whole strength into his work. He is well known over our entire Church, having frequently visited congregations in behalf of the cause he had at heart. The students who have been enabled through his exertions to secure adequate preparation for the ministry, especially, should cherish him in grateful remembrance.

WE HAVE received notice of the bereavement of Rev. and Mrs. M. McG. Shields, of Gastonia, in the death of their little babe only five and a half months old. Our heart goes out to them. The comforts of God are theirs, and the tender plant that lived but long enough on earth to entwine the tendrils of parental love around it is now full abloom in Heaven.

"A short-lived flower returned again to God."

For the N. C. Presbyterian

THE "HONOR SYSTEM" AT DAVIDSON.

How to prevent cheating on examination is a problem which confronts every college faculty, and each deals with the evil in its own way. The extent to which the honesty of a body of students may be undermined and, in this matter at least, utterly lost, is almost incredible. I know of an institution of learning of high rank, where the members of a Senior Class broke into a Professor's house, entered his bedroom, and with a skeleton key opened his trunk to obtain a copy of the next day's examination paper. This, when obtained was copied, and the copies used by almost every member of the class in preparing for the examination. I have heard a man of mature age, who was taking a summer college course, declare that as long as Professors set "fair" questions for examination, he would think it wrong to answer them by unfair means. But if the questions were "unfair," he mirabile dictu! being the judge, then he had a perfect right to use unfair aid in answering them. I could quote a score of such examples of misled or debauched consciences, but these will serve as examples of a widely prevalent evil.

The various modes of combating practices so dishonorable and debasing divide themselves, more or less definitely, into two classes.

The first, or "military," system aims by constant and strict supervision to make it impossible for any one, without immediate detection, to obtain aid during the progress of an examination. In many great colleges and universities each student is seated by himself at a desk with no drawers or lockers whatever. Specially prepared blank paper is handed to him, and no book or piece of paper is brought by him to the room. Supervisors constantly walk up and down among the desks, or watch from an over-head gallery. Should a student desire to retire, he must be accompanied by one of these inspectors. When once the habit of dishonesty in the examination room gains a foothold in an institution, these methods become necessary, and they are used by most of our colleges and universities, at home and abroad.

The second method of securing fair and honorable examinations is called "The Honor System," which has been in vogue at Davidson College; so far as I can learn, since its foundation. Here the correction of the evil is left largely to the students themselves. Each pledges his honor that his paper has been written without aid, and this pledge is honored and believed. The honor of the class is felt to be impugned by dishonorable conduct in any member, and all offenses are dealt with by the class, as an organized body. The inevitable penalty that follows conviction is a formal request on the part of the class that the offender leave college immediately, and no student, after such a request, has ever remained thirty-six hours on the campus. So entirely are such affairs managed by the students that sometimes the first intimation the faculty has of a student's dishonesty is his taking the train for home.

I remember a case years ago of a student just closing his Junior year, a social favorite, a candidate for the ministry, and a man of weight in college affairs, who obtained aid from a concealed text-book at ten o'clock one Monday morning on an examination. By ten o'clock Tuesday morning he had been summoned before his class, his counsel had plead his case; he had been formally convicted and requested to leave, and was fifty miles away returning to his home in a distant State. A half dozen such instances could be cited from the last ten or twelve years of college history.

This system leads to a seeming laxity, which astonishes those accustomed to detective supervision and presumptive dishonesty. No watch is kept over a student who retires a few moments from the examination room. Text-books are frequently scattered over the room, and I have known classes left alone for an hour or two, with text-books in the room, absolutely without supervision, while the Professor conducted recitations in a distant part of the building. It is hard for one accustomed to the detective system to realize that in such cases an invisible Presence, the Honor of the Class, may keep stricter watch than any corps of lynx-eyed Harvard inspectors.

Such is the "Honor System" at Davidson. It is not claimed that no case of dishonesty has ever gone undetected or unpunished. But to those acquainted with the records of other institutions, such cases are marvelously rare, and I seriously doubt if the honor and fairness of her examination-rooms have ever been excelled by any institution, North or South. Long may the system flourish, and continue to mould the characters of those brought under its influence. L.

INDIA RELIEF FUND.

TWO CENTS will sustain the life of a man, woman or child for one day.

Previously acknowledged,	$132.82
J. M. Powell, Clinton, N. C.,	3.00
A Friend,	.50

DR. JOHN M. NORWOOD died at his home in Columbus, Ga., in the early morning of Monday, June 28th ult. His health had not been good, but no apprehension was excited and his death was quite sudden. He was a descendant of one of the prominent families of Hillsboro, N. C, where he was born August 5th, 1836. He received his higher school education at the University of North Carolina and studied medicine with Dr. Robinson of Fayetteville. His diploma was received from Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia. He left his native State soon after leaving the medical college and pursued his medical practice exclusively in Georgia, except during the war, when as an ardent lover of the cause of the South, he served with several regiments as surgeon in the Confederate army. He first located in Crawford, Ga., but for the past thirteen years had practiced his profession in Columbus. He was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Columbus.

Dr. Norwood was a cultured, refined and warm-hearted gentleman—in his manners, gentle and genial—honest and reliable in all his transactions with his fellowmen, and will be sincerely mourned by them. In 1862, he married Miss Lucy Kyle, who is heart broken under this sad bereavement.

OUR PREMIUM BIBLE.

Measures 5x7 inches when Closed, and Contains 1,600 Pages of Reading Matter—Several hundred pages of Useful Information, besides the Scriptural Text.

At length we find ourselves with pride and pleasure, able to offer a Bible premium to workers for the N. C. PRESBYTERIAN. The size and quality of type of our Bible is represented by the cut here given:

The binding is flexible, the edges are gilt and the references within

David's thirst for God. PSALMS. He praiseth God for his grace.

10 Trust not in oppression, and become not vain in robbery: [1]if riches increase, set not your heart upon them.
11 God hath spoken [2]once; twice have I heard this; that [3]power belongeth unto God.
12 Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for [4]thou renderest to every man according to his work.

PSALM 63.

1 David's thirst for God. 4 His manner of blessing God.
A Psalm of David, [a]when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

O GOD, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: [1]my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and [2]thirsty land, [3]where no water is;
2 To see [4]thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the sanctuary.
3 Because [5]thy lovingkindness is better than life, my lips shall praise thee.
4 Thus will I bless thee while I live: I will lift up my hands in thy name.
5 My soul shall be satisfied as with marrow and fatness; and my mouth shall praise thee with joyful lips:
6 When I remember thee upon my bed, and meditate on thee in the [6]watches.
7 Because thou hast been my help, therefore in the shadow of thy wings will I rejoice.
8 My soul followeth hard after thee: thy right hand upholdeth me.
9 But those that seek my soul, to destroy it, shall go into the lower parts of the earth.
10 They shall fall by the power of the sword: they shall be a portion for foxes.
11 But the king shall rejoice in God; every one that sweareth by him shall glory: but the mouth of them that speak lies shall be stopped.

[1] or, we are consumed by that which they have thoroughly searched. [2] Jer. 21., 38. Ps. 32. 6, 7. [3] 1 Tim. 6. 17. [4] Heb. a search searched. [1] Job 22. 14. [2] or, strength. [3] Heb. their second shall be. [4] Job 34. 11. Prov. 24. 12. Jer. 32. 19. Mat. 16. 27. Eph. 6. 8. Col. 3. 25. [5] Ps. 31. 11. [6] Jer. 30. 25. [7] 1 Sam. 22. 5. [8] Ps. 42. 2.

[a] They search out iniquities; [2] they accomplish [3]a diligent search; [4]both the inward thought of every one of them, and the heart, is deep.
7 But God shall shoot at them with an arrow; suddenly [5]shall they be wounded.
8 So they shall make their own tongue to fall upon themselves: [6]all that see them shall flee away.
9 And all men shall fear, and shall [7]declare the work of God; for they shall wisely consider of his doing.
10 The righteous shall be glad in the LORD, and shall trust in him; and all the upright in heart shall glory.

PSALM 65.

1 David praiseth God for his grace. 4 The blessedness of God's chosen by reason of benefits.
To the chief Musician, A Psalm and Song of David.

Measures 5x7 inches when Closed, and Contains 1,600 Pages of Reading Matter—Several hundred pages of Useful Information, besides the Scriptural Text.

At length we find ourselves with copy of the Scriptures for Bible stupride and pleasure, able to offer a dents that has come to our knowledge. Bible premium to workers for the The book contains over 1,600 pages. N. C. PRESBYTERIAN. The size and The Bible is an offer in conquality of type of our Bible is repre- nection with the NORTH CAROsented by the cut here given: LINA PRESBYTERIAN—the only

The binding is flexible, the edges medium thro which one can become are gilt and the references within well acquainted with what is going

are full. The Bible contains besides 1050 pages of Scriptural text, the HELPS to Scripture reading and study including Subject Index, Concordance, a most serviceable General Topical Index, a large number of pages treating of the Titles, Authorship, Distinctive Characters, Contents, &c., of the various books of the Bible, A Description of the Inhabitants, Physical Geography, Customs and Political Condition of the Holy Land at the beginning of the Christian era, the Botany of the Bible, Glossary of Antiquities, Customs, 12 maps, etc., being the Oxford Helps, acknowledged to be the very best, besides 124 full page illustrations of the Languages, Writing, &c., of the Old and New Testaments, of the bas reliefs and the like, discoveries in archæological researches, and now in the British museum—and very much else; making altogether the most desirable on in the Synod of North Carolina—on the folowng terms:

We will give this Bible as payment for help rendered to any old subscriber who will send us the name of a BONA FIDE new subscriber along with $2.25.

The new subscriber gets the paper very cheap—we offer it to any bona fide new subscriber for $1.50 for the first year—and the worker gets amply compensated in a magnificently cheap Bible for his or her good work.

A new subscriber to get the Bible can subscribe for himself at $1.50 and then send another new subscriber with $2.25.

The Premium offered is the Genuine Edition of the Oxford Teacher's Bible.

We trust our friends will go to work promptly on this plan.

JOHN McLAURIN,
Manager N. C. Presbyterian.

"Our Premium Bible" contains absolutely nothing that tends to discredit the plain Scripture narrative of "Jonah and the whale."

One of Mr. Moody's maxims: "A Christian ought to wear the kind of face that would be worth going two blocks to see." Wear that kind of a face to California. Thousands will.

One of the most effectual ways of pleasing, and of making one's self popular, is to be cheerful. Joy softens more hearts than tears. —Madame de Sartory.

MRS. LEWIS'S FOURTH VISIT TO MT. SINAI.

The indefatigable pair of lady travelers, Mrs. Lewis and her twin sister, Mrs. Gibson, have this year made the fourth exploration of the convent on Mt. Sinai and returned in safety laden, with fresh results of one more laborious investigation among the ancient vellum manuscripts in the Convent Library. Tischendorf made three such visits, and had one piece of phenomenal success, and a number of lesser satisfactions; but it may be regarded as certain that neither he nor any other of the wandering scholars who have visited the convent attained to a tithe of the acquaintance with its treasures that this energetic lady possesses. It is amusing to observe that while the slow moving University of Cambridge is debating whether it is a proper thing to confer degrees upon women, and apparently preparing to answer the question in the negative, there should be a representative of the unenfranchised sex at their gates who has gathered more laurels in the field of scholarship than most of those who belong to the privileged sex

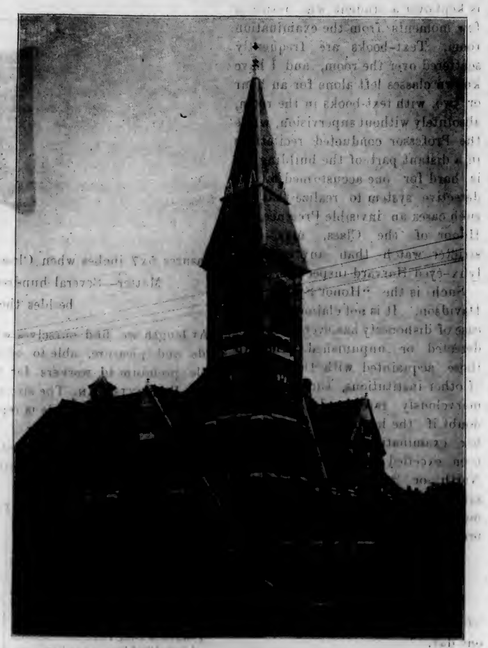
It might have been thought that after the last expedition, in which Mrs. Lewis had devoted herself so successfully to the further decipherment of the palimpsest Syriac Gospels as to leave the first transcribers entirely in the shade, she would have been content to leave Mt. Sinai for a while unvisited. In answer to the inquiry, why she made the journey this year, she informed us that it was for the sake of a further and final examination of two Palestinian Syriac lectionaries, similar to the one, hitherto unique, in the Vatican Library. Of these lectionaries one was found by her in 1892, at the same time with the more famous palimpsest Syriac Gospels, and the other was found by Mr. Rendel Harris, in 1893. They both belong to the beginning of the twelfth century, and are written in that dialect of Syriac which was probably spoken by our Lord, and has been supposed by some to have been the Galilean speech which "bewrayed" St. Peter. Of all forms of Syriac, it comes nearest to the Aramaic of the Targums, which was undoubtedly the vernacular of Palestine in our Lord's time.

After the destruction of Jerusalem —or rather, after the unsuccessful struggle with Hadrian—the Jewish rabbis wandered from Jamnia, in the ancient Philistia, to Galilee; and their books are thenceforth written in the dialect of that district. Nothing, however, is known of the origin of these Palestinian Gospels, which appear to be written in a similar dialect. The lectionaries which preserve the peculiar Syriac speech referred to appear to have been used in the Malkite branch of the Syrian Church. The translation is considered to have been made from Greek manuscripts of a type which is no longer extant; and it therefore forms an independent witness in the tradition of the Gospels. The text of the Sinai lectionaries is being printed for Mrs. Lewis by Messrs. Gilbert & Rivington, of London; and it is nearing its completion. Mrs. Lewis was anxious to verify whether her transcripts and the text printed from them were perfectly correct. Accordingly she planned this fourth visit, going this time by sea from Suez to Tor, and from Tor to the convent.

The route by Tor was selected as being by far the quickest, and is the easiest way of reaching Mt. Sinai. Till lately, however, there was no certainty that you would get a steamer to take you there, and to sail in an open boat from Suez, as the Sinai monks frequently do, is something of a risk. In 1895, Mrs. Lewis ascertained that the Khedivial Steamboat Company, which has a line of boats running to Djeddah and Suakim, were willing to make one of these boats stop for them at Tor; but they wanted $125 for so doing, besides the price of ordinary tickets. This year they did it for $25. There is also now a steamer belonging to Mr. Beyts, Consul for Sweden and Norway, at Suez, which touches at Tor once a fortnight.

Tor is a very small village on the edge of a sandy plain, inhabited partly by Arabs of the Greek faith. It took a whole day to cross this plain on camels to the foot of the glorious range of granite mountains, of which Sinai is the nucleus. Another day was spent in moving up the Wady Hebran, in whose stony recesses a little purling rill gives life to several beautiful groves of palm trees. It could not be said that the Wady Hebran was as beautiful as the Wady Feiran, which is commonly identified with Rephidim. Both present a vivid contrast of color in the green waving treetops and the dark, frowning cliffs, standing out against the clear, sapphire blue of the sky. "We spent," said Mrs. Lewis, "our second night in the Wady Solaf, two hours from the Nugo Hawa, or pass of the wind, from which point the route to St. Catherine's was familiar ground."

In reply to an inquiry whether she still considers that Moses had anything to do with this part of the Sinaitic Peninsula, Mrs. Lewis expressed her belief that it was impossible to account for the traditions of the Hebrew race without allowing that Moses led their forefathers across the desert from Egypt to Palestine. Here the chief difficulty lay in the question, "How did he feed such a multitude for so long a time?" No doubt there was more vegetation in the Peninsula in ancient times than there is now; but even at the present day there are more flocks of sheep and goats about than the sandy, stony character of the country would lead one to suppose. Their dragoman told them that there was not a spot where they encamped this year, with the exception of the dreary plain between Ayun Mouse and the Wady Ghurundel, over which they made the return journey, where he could not have bought a sheep, had he been so minded. This does not do away with the necessity for miraculous agency, but it shows that there is some sustenance for flocks.



Mrs. Lewis reports that there have been some changes in the convent since 1893. One was the rebuilding of the library and the erection of a comfortable sunny room for students. Since 1895, the mosque which stands within the convent walls, has fallen down from want of repairs. Other portions of the interior are threatened with collapse; and, as one of the monks remarked, nothing is steady except the Church.

The monks were all greatly depressed over news which they had received from Crete; they knew about the beginning of the war long before their visitors.

The return journey was made overland to Suez, to avoid the possible detention in quarantine. The sheik, who accompanied them, informed them that, before the construction of the Suez Canal, the caravans of Bedawin who traveled from Cairo to Ayun Mousa, used to cross through sea water at a spot half an hour above the place from which Mrs. Lewis returned to the African side in 1893. Sometimes they would have to ride through with the water up to the saddles of their camels, and sometimes they waded where it was hardly up to their knees.

Mrs. Lewis is inclined to believe that the head of the Gulf of Suez was formerly further north, and that the Israelites crossed in the manner described by the sheik "But," she added, "I believe strongly in a divine direction of their affairs, and of our own; yet my faith in this would not be shaken if the crossing of the Red Sea could be explained by natural causes. For the forces of nature are God's servants." But these are subjects upon which she believes speculation to be almost useless.—Ex.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, PENSACOLA, FLA., COMPLETED 1888.

NO APOLOGY NEEDED.

A pleasant story is told of Lady Macdonald, wife of the late Premier of Canada, who has long been an abstainer. Another lady of high position met her at dinner one day and was surprised to see that she took no wine, and at length asked:

"Did you not set out wine when you entertained the Marquis of Lorne?"

"Never!" was the prompt reply.

"But did you not feel that you must apologize?

"Certainly not. Wine is not a natural beverage, and so should rather come in than go out with apology."

This answer and that example led the other lady to become an abstainer also.—Ex.

GRUMBLERS.

The world has many grumblers. They are to be met in every locality under the heavens, One can not well escape them, although he stopped his ears for if the words were indistinct, yet would the sound be heard. Everything in life to them is topsy turvy, at sixes and sevens. Each breath drawn seems laden with grumbling and fault finding. If this habit could be outgrown that were some mitigation, but, alas! it grows with his growth and strengthens with his strength. Women usually take the palm for grumbling, and become first-class experts. Many a time, when conversing with a grumbler of the fair sex, have I wished I might go up in a balloon to escape the discordant sounds. But generally I have stood manfully and endeavored to stem the torrent of words, words, words! We suppose grumblers are to be tolerated in order to make a sufficiently varied world, but any real use for them I cannot discover, unless it should be to spur an idle husband to some conception of his duty to his family. And even in that case the remedy would not be permanent. Uncalled for fault finding, and grumbling, should forever cease and give way to kind and charitable sentiments. The latter are of real benefit often to men low in life and morals. The Pharisees of old were typical grumblers. They never ceased to find fault with Jesus, and constantly tried to turn his wondrous words and deeds into evil. But Jesus' presence rebuked them often into silence. His quiet and unobtrusive manner was to them gall and bitterness. They thought He must be of evil origin, and again and again sought to confuse and confound him, but vainly. Their sullen looks, so full of disappointment, haunt the shadows that gathered about Jesus during his last terrible days on earth.—Alexander Macauley.

THREE REASONS.

I once met a thoughtful scholar who told me that for years he had read every book he could which assailed the religion of Jesus Christ, and he said he should have become an infidel but for three things: "First, I am a man. I am going somewhere. To-night I am a day nearer the grave than I was last night. I have read all such books can tell me. They shed not one solitary ray of hope or light upon the darkness. They shall not take away the only guide and leave me stone blind. Second, I had a mother. I saw her go down into the dark valley where I am going, and she leaned upon an unseen arm as calmly as a child goes to sleep on the breast of its mother. I know that was not a dream. Third, I have three motherless daughters [and he said it with tears in his eyes.] They have no protector but myself. I would rather kill them than leave them in this sinful world if you blot out from it all the teachings of the Gospel.—Bishop Whipple.

STUDYING THOSE WHOM WE WOULD REACH.

It is of first importance to know the best avenue of approach to those whom we would influence. Rudyard Kipling describes a Gloucester captain who, when he would steer his vessel to the spot most frequented by cod, retired within himself in silence and profound cogitation, and was supposed by his crew to be thinking and reasoning after the manner of codfish. Human nature requires at least as careful study as cod nature. You cannot hope to reach a fellow-being if you do not understand his modes of life and thought. This is tact—knowing where and how to get in touch. And to be tactful requires downright hard study.—Sunday School Times.

Be very careful as to how you allow yourself to form or express a harsh judgment concerning your brother. There may be many facts in his life with which you are utterly unacquainted. It is just possiple that he is carrying loads that you could not sustain. If he once in awhile staggers under them, he deserves your sympathy, and not your blame. Put yourself, as far as possible, in his place. Take the kindest view that you can of his conduct. Cultivate toward him the charity that thinketh no evil. Try to act toward him as Christ would act. It is always better to err on the side of gentleness than on the side of severity.—Nashville Christian Advocate.

LITERARY JOTTINGS.

At the Ashburnham, London, Library sale on June 28th, the famous Mazarin, or Gutenberg Bible, on vellum, fetched $4,000. The first Latin Bible with the date 1500, and several others sold for over £1,000 each.

Hon. Jas. C. Carter, the acknowledged leader of the New York bar has informed Hon. Harry Tucker, of Virginia, of his purpose of contributing $5,000 toward the erection of the proposed John Randolph Tucker Memorial Hall on the Washington and Lee University grounds.

A feature of Professor Drummond's character, which has been missed by many who have given an estimate of the man, was his humour. There was a stately gravity about him which kept outsiders from seeing the playful side of his nature, yet he was fond of little practical jokes, and could hoax his friends to perfection. An old student friend of his relates that the last time he saw him was at a dinner to which they had been invited to meet a London celebrity who was to address a meeting afterward. Drummond came over to his friend and whispered, "Do you want to go to this meeting?" He shook his head a little sadly, feeling that there was no help for it and then said with a touch of mischief in his eye, "We'll run." They took an early opportunity, when everybody was attending to the celebrity, to slip out, and went along to Drummond's house with the glee of two schoolboys playing truant. Drummond enjoyed the escape hugely, and chuckled with glee over the joke they had played on the celebrated man. They had got his honey, he said, without his sting.—The Bookman.

Royal makes the food pure, wholesome and delicious.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER Absolutely Pure

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

MAGAZINES.

American Homes. A journal devoted to planning and beautifying the home, published at Knoxville, Tenn., is well worth the price, $1.00.

Popular Science Monthly for July contain among other interesting articles Origin of Petroleum, The Thief Palm, The Sun, Two Paris Monkeys, Sand Spur of Florida, New Rapid Telegraphing, Young Fern Fronds, Geodes and Geode, Hunting and Koch's Improved Tuberculin. This is a most excellent monthly. Single copies 15 cents, New York.

Travel, a three pence monthly, published by Horace Marshall & Son, 125 Fleet Street, E. C. London, Articles of especial interest, After the Jubilee, Poppyland and the Norfolk Roads, From London Town to Auld Reekie on The East Coast Express and Our World's Cycling Commission which has Persia for its subject.

The current number of The Eclectic Magazine for July has a large number of interesting and timely articles. Among them we note, The Ethics of Empire, from The Nineteenth Century; Henry Drummond, by W. Robertson Nicoll, The Universities and the Education of Women, by A. H. F. Boughey; Evolution and the Amateur Naturalist, from Blackwood's Magazine; The Living Earth, by Grant Allen, On the Spur of the Occasion, John Bull's Eastern Estate, A Revolution in Printing, The Home of the Cabots, The Newspaper Press, by Frederick Greenwood, The Progress of Medicine during the Queen's Reign, by Malcolm Morris, Goethe and Weimar, Coleridgeiana, Some Incidents of the Sperm Whale Fishery, by Frank T. Bullen, Summary Procedure, The Downfall of Greece, A Secret of the Reign, by P. Anderson Graham, and a few lighter articles which complete the number. As this is the beginning of e new volume, it is a favorable time to begin subscriptions for this standard periodical. Published by E. R. Pelton, 129 Fifth Avenue, New York, Terms, $5 per year; single numbers, 42 cents; trial subscription for 3 months, $1. Eclectic and any $4 Magazine, $8.

BABIES are subject to peculiar ills. The right remedy for babies' ills—especially worms and stomach disorders—is Frey's Vermifuge —has cured children for 50 years. Send for illus. book about the ills and the remedy. One bottle mailed for 25 cents. C. F. & S. FREY, Baltimore, Md.

Religious Intelligence.

We specially invite News from all quarters for this Department.

The Annual Scheme of Collections in the Synod of North Carolina is as follows:

January—General Assembly's Home Missions.

February and August—Presbyterial Home Missions.

March—Publication and Colportage.

April — Education — (one collection Church and Christian Education).

May and October—Foreign Missions. Third Sabbath in October for Bible Cause.

June and September—Synodical Home Missions.

July—Invalid Fund.

Third Sunday in October—BibleCause.

November and April—Education for the Ministry.

December—ColoredEvangelization

THE ASSEMBLY'S FORM OF BEQUEST.

I do hereby give and bequeath to the Trustees of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States (popularly known as the Southern Presbyterian Church) the sum of .....Dollars for the benefit of [here name cause to which the legacy is given.]

CHANGES OF ADDRESS.

Correspondents will please note the following changes of address:

Rev. E. E. Gillespie, from Hampden Sidney, Va., to Obids, Ashe county, N. C.

Rev. W. R. Minter from Laurens, S. C., to Rutherfordton, N, C.

Rev. H. S. Bradshaw, from Hillsboro, N. C,, to 535 Alabama Street, Bristol, Tenn., during July.

Rev. J. E. Park, from Louisville, Ky., to Oliver Springs Tenn.

Rev. Colin Shaw, from Kinston, N. C., to Kerr's, N. C., for the summer.

Rev. D. M. McIver, from Bolivar, Tenn., to Swann's Station, N. C., during July.

NORTH CAROLINA.

First Church, Wilmington:—Rev. Dr. W. W. Moore filled the pulpit at both morning and afternoon services. His morning sermon was especially appropriate to the day. Dr. Moore was greeted with pleasure and listened to with marked attention.

St. Andrews Church, Wilmington:—On last Sabbath, Rev. A. D. McClure entered upon the seventh year of his pastorate. This church was never more prosperous than now; it is doing most excellent consecrated work. The Sunday-school is larger and the contributions for the different causes liberal.

Steel Creek:—Steel Creek church has a large and flourishing Sunday-school with six hundred scholars and thirty-seven teachers, and two mission schools of one hundred scholars and fifteen teachers. These schools contribute largely to Home and Foreign Missions and we are glad to note the contributions are increasing.

Sugar Creek:—Of the committee composed of Rev. Messrs. A. A. Little, R. A Miller and J. R. McAlpine appointed by Presbytery to conduct the installation services of Rev. T. J. Allison on the 26th ult. Only the first named was able to be present. Mr. Little preformed the service and all three and Mr. Allison was duly installed pastor of the church which he has faithfully served as supply for the past year.

First Church, Concord:—This church reported the reception of seven new members—six of them heads of familes during the past quarter at their communion on July 4th. A desirable site for our new church at Cannonville has been secured, designed by architect Hook, of Charlotte have been accepted and a handsome and convenient house of worship will be built at once. With Mr. J. W. Cannon as chairman of our building committee we expect to occupy our new house early in September. Mr. Chas. F. Rankin has accepted this work permanently. He has been cordially received and both as preacher and pastor, has made a delightful impression upon the entire community.

Chadbourn:—On the first Sabbath eight members were received and eight infants baptized. Rev. P. C. Morton pastor.

VIRGINIA.

Warm Springs:—June 20th was the tenth anniversary of the pastorate of the Rev. Wm. C. White at this place. The text was Ps. 90: 16-17. In a very brief review of what has been accomplished there was much to encourage both pastor and people. Instead of four elders and one deacon there are five elders and three deacons. The membership was about seventy. It is now one hundred and seventy-one, and one hundred and sixty-six have been added to the church. Twenty-seven adults and forty infants have been baptized, and the Sunday-school has increased from fifty-nine to one hundred and fourteen. About one thousand and four hundred services have been held. The pastor has made about three thousand five hundred visits and has traveled about one thousand six hundred and fifty miles, attended about eighty funerals and has married one hundred and ten couples. One church has been remodeled. Two have been built and a third started (now finished) in a part of the field since given up, and the manse rebuilt, with a total increase in value of church property of nearly $10,000 and this half of the field has become self sustaining. May the Lord continue to bless both pastor and people.

PERSONALS.

Washington and Jefferson college has conferred upon Rev. Matthew B. Grier, D. D., editor of the Presbyterian, of Philadelphia, the title of LL. D.

We announced last week that Rev. John W. Stagg will spend his vacation or a large part of it a wheel in Europe. The Charlotte Observer says: Rev. Walter L. Lingle, of Union Seminary, Hampden Sidney, will occupy the pulpit of the Second Presbyterian church this summer during the absence of Rev. Mr. Stagg. Mr. Lingle is tutoring in the seminary. He is considered one of the brightest young men at the seminary, and will, no doubt, prove most acceptable to the people he comes to preach to.

Rev. J. G. McFerrin, of Bristol, Tenn., has received the degree of D. D., from Greenville and Tusculum College; Rev. J. E. Latham from King College and Rev. Dr. Cuyler the title of LL. D., from Princeton University.

Rev. H. S. Bradshaw, of Hillsboro, will spend his vacation at Bristol, Tenn.

Rev. J. W. Stagg last week assisted Rev. W. C. Alexander, the pastor, of Concord First church, in services preparatory to the communion.

Rev. Dr. A. C. Hopkins, of Charleston, W. Va., has been granted a two month's vacation by his congregation and will spend the same at Watkin's Glen and other points in New York.

Rev. Dr. Woodrow will spend the summer in Russia. He will attend the Geological Congress.

Rev. D. M. McIver, of Bolivar, Tenn., will spend his vacation with old friends and relatives in North Carolina.

Rev. Colin Shaw, now of Kinston, will spend the summer with his daughter at Kerr's. This will place Mr. Shaw again among his many friends of Wilmington Presbytery.

Mr. Wyatte DeVane, of Winston, a student of Union Semiuary, is spending a portion of his vacation at Burgaw, N. C. and while these will preach for the churches in that neighborhood. Mr. DeVane is a native of Wilmington and we learn with interest that the different congregations are greatly pleased with him.

We learn from the Southwestern that Rev. S. E. Chandler, having resigned his professorship in Austin College Sherman, Texas, expects to return to pastoral work. He will supply the church at Denton, Texas, until the end of July, in the absence of the pastor.

[EDITORIAL.]

Miss Mary Baldwin, Principal of Mary Baldwin Seminary and widely known as one of the most efficient teachers of girls died at her home in Staunton, Va., on last Thursday, 1st inst. She had achieved financial success in the conduct of the school and was wont to use her means most liberally in ways of public and private beneficence—always most unostentatiously, oftimes without the knowledge even of those whom she aided. She left to Mary Baldwin Seminary $175.000. We copy now from the Baltimore Sun:

"Religious bequests made sre: Foreign Missions, Southern Presbyterian Church, $10,000; Home Missions, $5,000; First Presbyterian church, (Staunton) $8,000; Second Presbyterian church, $2,000; the Staunton Young Men's Christian Association, $1,000. These gifts have been exceeded by what she gave during her lifetime. There are also bequests to near relatives, and all her employes, whites and black, the teachers and officers of the school and many former teachers are substantially remembered."

At her funeral which took place last Friday and at which her pastor Rev. A. M. Frazier officiated in chief, there were in the pulpit Revs. J. E. Booker, Dr. James Murray, of Louisville, Dr. James P. Smith, of the Central Presbyterian, and Dr. G. W. Finley. Many ministers were in the audience and the stores of Staunton were closed during the funeral services.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

WORK OF THE CONFERENCE AT KNOXVILLE.

For twelve days the delegates to the Summer School have been very busy hearing lectures, taking notes and studying the outlines for Bible courses next year. Out of the large number present there are very few who do not intend to conduct a Bible class or a missionary study class in their college next year, and at least half of the boys will try to organize this summer a class at their homes for devotional Bible study.

Besides the Bible study department of the Conferenee which was emphasized more than any other one thing, the platform lectures were a great treat. The next lecture after that of Mr. Wishard's in last week's issue, was given by Mr. Gilbert A. Beaver who is now one of the international secretaries of the Y. M. C. A. It is interesting to know that Mr. Beaver is a son of ex-Gov. Beaver, of Pennsylvania, and is one of the ablest and most active Y. M. C. A. men in the United States. His talk consisted in an analysis of Daniel's prayer. The speaker began by asking if we have faith in our prayers. He said the fact that we gave the best of our time to other things, and prayed when we were not in the best condition mentally or physically proved that we do not consider prayer as of the highest importance. Not so with Daniel. Though he was the busiest man in the whole empire, yet he devoted the best part of each day to prayer. His model prayer contains elements of confession, thanksgiving, adoration and supplication or intercession.

1st. Does confession pay us? Most assuredly, for it lays bare our inner life and shows us our weak points. Through confession comes forgiveness, but more than this, it guards against future sins. It too makes a tenderer conscience, a more healthy, spiritual life. It begets also humility.

2d. So thanksgiving gives the graces of gratitude. It is one of the surest ways to keep hopeful. It helps us, as Jno. R. Mott says, "to practice the presence of God."

3d. Adoration too will make us realize our helplessness and sinfulness which is the only way to the higher life. It does more than this. It gives us a sense of union with God, and thus we come to have the quality of boldness for which the disciples were noted.

4th. From adoration we come to that of supplication. Here is where so many fall into doubt, not understanding how the great laws of the universe can be changed by the feeble petition of a single individual. We should not trouble ourselves so much about the mystery, but just look at the reality of prayer. We must desire and ask for faith. If we lack wisdom ask of God. Supplication or petition will also save time and energy used in doing things for which we were not intended. It too, brings things to pass, for Elijah was a man of like passions as we, yet look at the results of his petitions to God. By learning to pray only do we learn the meaning of the deep spiritual life. By prayer and Bible study will we be made like Christ.

The next address was given by Mr. Studd. He spoke, as an eye witness, of the terrible condition of Inland China, where scarcely a missionary is to be found, most all of them being along the coast. Mr. Studd speaks very touchingly of his great love for the Chinese as indeed his consecrated life proves. Few men have sacrificed as much as he for the spread of the Gospel of Christianity. Before his conversion in London by Mr. Moody he was a young millionaire giving himself up entirely to worldly pleasure. But after he became converted he felt he must go to China, and he went as soon as possible. When he had been there about two years he was led by the Spirit to give his whole fortune away anonymously. "Since that time," says Mr. Studd, "God has been feeding me with precious souls." This will serve to show with what weight his words would be received. The result of his four addresses on "The Condition of Inland China To-day" resulted in greatly deepening the missionary spirit.

Following this Mr. L. D. Wishard, who returned from his missionary tour around the world last year, gave an account of the conditions in other foreign countries, and told us in thrilling words how Young Men's Christian Associations were planted in the colleges of France, Holland, Switzerland, Bulgaria, Persia, Africa, India, Australia and other places, so that now the world is literally enriched by a strong belt of Christian brotherhood, and the college students of the world are united now as they never were before. This fact led Mr. Moody to say: "The Y. M. C. A. in colleges is the supreme Christian movement of the world." In all these countries conferences like the ones at Northfield and at Knoxville are being held, and how much they are appreciated by foreign students is seen from the fact that this year the first conference held in Africa was attended by over five hundred students, a number greatly exceeding even the largest of that in our own country. Proportionate numbers gather at the conferences in other heathen countries, some of the delegates travelling six weeks to enjoy this great privilege. It would indeed be impossible to estimate the good that is being done in this way.

In Mr. Wishard's talks on "The Y. M. C. A. Movement in Foreign Lands" he ended by reminding us that as America had the great privilege of starting the widespread and useful movement, so it devolved upon us the responsibility of keeping our part of the work at the head, and of leading the way to even more aggressive work.

Following this Dr. McBryde spoke first on "The Contemplation of God," proving to us that through lack of being thoughtful Christians, and meditating upon the teachings of the Bible, we do not attain unto the height and depth of adoration. Our habitual thinking is not of God, or like the beautiful lesson drawn from the Great Stone Face, our contemplation would result in a more complete transformation into the Christ-life, a more perfect simulation of Christ Himself.

Another of the discourses delivered by Dr. McBryde was on "Infinite Love."

He said that the proof of our spiritual growth would be that we thought more of His love to us than of ours to Him. The song of the Gospel writers is God's love. This is what makes Christianity the only religion:

1st. God's love is causeless. Christ died for us because God loved us, not God loves us because Christ died for us. He goes after lost sheep to find them and restore not to punish them.

2d. It is self-sacrificing love. We must not think that only the Son loves us and the Father is angry with us. Jesus is just the expression of the Father's love.

3d. His infinite love is also omniscient. Though knowing all about us God still loves us.

4th. It too is changeless and entirely subjective.

5th. It is individual, though we so often look at it as only universal. But "He leadeth the stars out one by one," and "calleth his sheep by name." He misses one sheep from the hundred and rejoiceth over every sinner that repenteth.

6th. God's love is immeasurable, Jno. 17: 23 "Thou hast loved them even as thou hast loved me." But for all this some men never see God's love. It has channels through which it flows. Just as a nickel hides the sun, so a small sin in the heart shuts out the sunshine of God's love. God wants the whole heart.

Besides the platform meetings the different vocations for Christians were presented at the daily life work meetings on the hillside. Before these topics were discussed Mr. Luce conducted the first meeting on the "Principles to Guide us in the Choice of a Life Work."

1st. We must begin on the basis of a consecrated life, completely surrender everything to Christ.

2d. We must have a clear appreciation of what Christ has done for us." Ask ourselves the question, "What does Jesus mean to me?"

3d. We must seek the kingdom of God first.

4th. We must have a comprehensive view of the world and of its needs.

5th. We should make our decision when we are nearest to God. Two things to help us are Prayer and the Word of God. Look, think, and find out the place of most influence and adaptability. Realize that God is more concerned with our lives than we are ourselves. If we can leave it to him by a complete surrender of self we need not fear the consequences.

First, "The Foreign Missionary" was presented by Mr. Wishard. "The Christian Layman" by Prof. Green. "Home Missionary" by Dr. Lambeth, who was born in China, but recently on account of health was as it now seems providentially called to this country. He is now secretary of the Southern Methodist Mission Board. Dr. Lambeth was also a medical missionary and the first to open up the Methodist work in Japan. He is a man of wonderful energy and power as well as great earnestness. Then "The Christian Business Man" was

Continued on 14th page.

ANDREWS' ANNUAL JULY

REDUCTION SALE!

FURNITURE, CARPETS, RUGS, MATTINGS, CURTAINS, BABY CARRIAGES, SIDEBOARDS, BEDROOM SUITS, &c

PIANOS & ORGANS

Every department of my immense establishment teeming with the best and newest goods at Reduced Prices during the month of July.

A GRAND OPPORTUNITY FOR YOU.

If you can't come and see for yourself, write for Catalogue and Prices.

E. M. ANDREWS,

Largest Dealer in Furniture, Carpets, Pianos and Organs in the State.

Charlotte, N. C.

TURLINGTON INSTITUTE,

THE BEST FACTOR

OF PRIVATE EDUCATION

IN EASTERN

OR MIDDLE NORTH CAROLINA.

Expenses for ten Months $ 82.00 to $ 132.00

Farmers, Mechanics, Merchants, Railroad Operatives, Druggists, Editors, Lawyers, Doctors, Dentists, Teachers and Preachers have been educated here.

STRONG FACULTY. STUDENTS WELL CONTROLLED AND PROTECTED.

NEXT SESSION OPENS AUGUST 19, 1897.

WRITE FOR CATALOGUE.

IRA T. TURLINGTON, PH. B., PRINCIPAL,

SMITHFIELD, N. C.

BINGHAM SCHOOL ASHEVILLE, N. C. Established 1793.

—Military U. S. Army Officer detailed.—

1793 Location and Sanitation best in the United States. Single story Brick Barracks, give safety against fire. "Pre-Eminent among Southern Schools for Boys." U. S. Gov't's Bureau of Education, Washington, D. C. Address Major R. Bingham, A. M. L. L. D., Superintendent. 1897

AGNES SCOTT INSTITUTE

FOR YOUNG LADIES,

DECATUR, GEORGIA.

Six miles east of Atlanta. Connected with the city by Georgia R. R., and two electric lines. All the advantages of the city without its disadvantages. Best modern buildings and equipment.

Healthfulness unsurpassed. Elevation 1,050 feet. Pure freestone water. Free from malaria. Best climate.

Offers four courses, viz.: Classical, Literary, Scientific and Normal. Full corps of able and experienced teachers. High standard. Everything used to secure the formation and development of Christian character. For catalogue containing full information, address the President.

F. H. GAINES, Decatur, Ga.

NORTH CAROLINA COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE AND MECHANIC ARTS,

WILL OPEN SEPT. 9th, 1897.

Thorough academic, scientific and technical courses. Experienced Specialists in every department.

Expenses per Session, including Board:

For County Students..... $ 93.00

For all Other Students..... 133.00

Apply for Catalogues to

ALEXANDER Q. HOLLADAY, LL.D., PRESIDENT.

RALEIGH, N. C.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

THE LATEST NEWS FROM OUR COLORED WORK.

Since the meeting of the General Assembly the Executive Committee of Colored Evangelization has given its work most anxious consideration. Reports from the field show that the colored ministers are faithfully at work. Stillman Institute closed another year of faithful work, sending one graduate into the field. For the improvement of the Institute the Assembly authorized the committee to raise a special fund of ten thousand dollars. Of this sum $4,500 at least are in sight. We need $5,500 more. The improvements will be made only as there is money to pay for them. Rev. O. B. Wilson has been appointed agent to canvass for this special purpose, not for Colored Evangelization in general. Three Assemblies have approved the general plan now being executed for the removal of the Institute to a farm, the erection of neat and substantial buildings, and the equipment of a farm for partial self-support. The committee unanimously regard this step as necessary to the growth of the work. It is confidently hoped and believed that the Church will cordially and liberally respond to this need. It is the first time in our history that such a step has been undertaken. Why should it not be completed in a very short time? Any minister or church desiring to aid in this special effort should write at once to Rev. O. B. Wilson, News Ferry, Va.

For the next session so far as can now be seen, Prof. McAlpine will conduct the theological department, and Secretary Phillips will teach the Academie branches in addition to his increasing duties as secretary. The number of students may have to be limited again on account of insufficent funds to train an indefinite number and at the same time maintain other departments of the work. This plan dose not involve additional cost.

The committee has instructed the secretary to go as soon as practicable to South Caroline to assist brethren there in plans concerning the Ferguson Williams College at Abbeville, which has just closed another encouraging year's work.

Three of the four Independent Presbyteries have made calls for a convention to organize a colored Presbyterian church in Nashville, Tenn., sometime in August. In this matter the committee is simply obeying the Assembly in carrying out the expressed wishes of the colored brother. There is now very little doubt about the organization of this church this summer. Any who desire to aid this movement now when it is greatly needed may send money to W. A. Powell, Atlanta, Ga., saying that it is for the organization of a colored Presbyterian church.

The funds in the general treasury are now very low. It should be remembered that an empty treasury means hindered work for the Master.

A. L. PHILLIPS,
Secretary.

Tuscaloosa, Ala., June 25, '97.

A SONG IN THE NIGHT.

My soul, be not so anxious about the reason of thy peace. Is it not written that there is a peace which passeth understanding? What is that but a song in the night? It is one of the songs without words. It gives no explanation of its music. Clouds and darkness may be round about thee, and yet thou mayest be able to sing.

Do not distress thyself to find a cause for thy joy. Hast thou not read of a bush that was all in flame, and yet was not consumed? The facts were all against its permanence; it was unreasonable that it should live. But it did live, and why? Because there was a voice speaking within it, singing within it, against facts, spite of reason, in defiance of circumstances. It was a song without words, a comfort without cause, a strength without the legions of angels.

So, oftimes, shall it be with thee. There shall be moments in which thy Gethsemane shall reveal no flower, in which the cup shall not pass, in which the legions of angels shall not come; and yet, strange to say, thou shalt be strong.

Thou shalt fly without pinions; thou shalt walk without feet; thou shalt breathe without air; thou shalt praise without words; thou shalt laugh without sunshine; thou shalt bless without knowing why, for the song of thy heart shall itself be thy light, and thy joy shall be only from God.—George Matheson, D. D.

DO YOU KNOW YOUR BIBLE?

Do you suppose you know the Bible? The Sadducees thought they did, and when they came to Jesus Christ, he said, "Ye do err, not knowing the Scriptures." The scribes thought they knew the Scriptures; indeed, they were the very men who wrote the holy words and read them; they were, so to speak, the custodians or treasurers of the divine literature, and if they did not know the Scriptures, who did? You would think the people who live in a mountainous country would love the mountains best. You and I have gone through Alpine villages in which the people evidently looked upon the mountains with eyes unlighted, without wonder, without emotion. Why? Because of their familiarity with those gigantic and glorious hills. It was so with the scribes; they were so familiar with the letter that they did not understand the spirit, as we may be so familiar with church ordinances as merely to observe the ceremony and never realize the divine intent and mind. Jesus Christ said, "Search the Scriptures." Have we understood that word "search?" You have seen a man dig for silver? That is one help toward the meaning of the word "search." You have seen a woman light a candle and sweep the floor and seek diligently till she had found a piece that was lost? That is a hint toward the word "search." You have seen a man looking for one document, which, if he could find, would make him a peer of the realm? Look at him with spectacled eyes, with busy fingers, with bent form, with eager face; look how he listens to any suggestion, what letters he sends out to registrars, clerks, any person or persons likely to help him. Have you seen such a process? This will give you some idea of what Jesus meant when he said, "Search." He did not mean that we were to look round with cold, indifferent eyes, and take up anything that might happen to occur in our process of blind looking. He meant the industry of the soul, the very agony of the spirit, at searching, seeking, digging, striving that meant the very agony of the combined faculties which make us men.

Jesus did not come with a new Bible. He read the old one, and when he read it men's hearts turned within them. We need no new Bible, we need the right heart to read the old one, and then it will make the heart that so reads it glow with sacred emotion; it will lift up that heart to heights of rapture and triumph, in the feeling of which time will be but a passing shadow, and earth a speck neither to be mentioned or named.—Banner.

DROPPINGS OF THE HONEY-COMB.

A singular incident in old Hebrew history illustrates the sweetness and light that flow from God's blessed word. Jonathan was leading the army of Israel in pursuit of the Philistines, and King Saul had forbidden the troops to taste of food during the march. When the troops reached a forest where the bees had laid up their abundant stores, several honeycombs were found lying upon the earth. Jonathan—not having heard of the royal edict—put forth the rod in his hand and dipped it in a honeycomb, and put it to his mouth, "and his eyes were enlightened." Refreshment came to his hungry frame and enlightment to his eyes, which were dim with faintness and fatigue.

What a beautiful parable this incident furnishes to set forth one of the manifold blessings of God's Word! In the superbly sublime nineteenth Psalm, David pronounces that word to be sweeter than honey and the droppings of the honeycomb. In the same passage he declares that "it is pure, enlightening the eyes." Again the psalmist says: "The entrance of thy word giveth light." It is not the careless reading or the listless hearing of the book, but its entrance into the soul which produces this inward illumination. There is a sadly increasing ignorance of the Scriptures; when read publicly in the sanctuary thousands give but little heed with the ear, and none at all with the heart. They do not take the vitalizing, heaven-sent truth into their souls as Jonathan took the honey into his system.

Dr. Horace Bushnell voiced the experience of many of us when said:

"My experience is that the Bible is dull when I am dull. When I am really alive, and set in upon the text with a tidal pressure of living affinities, it opens, it multiplies discoveries, and reveals depths even faster than I can note them. The worldly spirit shuts the Bible; the Spirit of God makes it a fire, flaming out all meanings and glorious truths."

The most growing Christian never outgrows his Bible; in that exhaustless jewel-mine every stroke of the mattock reveals new nuggets of gold and fresh diamonds.—Dr. Cuyler.

IN EVERYTHING.

Am I to thank God for everything? Am I to thank Him for bereavement, for pain, for poverty, for toil? Must I lift up my hands over my dead and say, "Father, I thank Thee that Thou hast taken away my friend?" Is it pleasing to my Father that loss should be pleasant to me? Is it good that I should be told to give thanks in everything? Be still, my soul, thou hast misread the message. It is not to give thanks for everything, but to give thanks in everything. It is not to praise God for the night, but to bless Him that the night is not deeper. I have read of the Son of man that He gave thanks over the symbol of His broken body. Not for the pain, but for the mitigation of pain, did the Son of man give thanks; not that His body was broken, but that it was broken for me. In thine hour of sorrow give thanks like Jesus.—Matheson.

"DRINK AND PRAY."

The story is told of a Highlander who built a tavern near Abbottsford and called "The Flodden In." He applied to Sir Walter Scott for a motto for the singleboard. The novelist suggested "Drink, weary traveler; drink and pray." The man objected to his house becoming a kirk, arguing:

"The more praying there is, the less drinking there will be, and I don't want that."

Sir Walter suggested the omission of the letter "r" in pray, so that the motto might read, "Drink, weary traveler; drink and pay." With this the "mine host" was delighted, and hundreds of his customers found out to their bitter sorrow that whilst drinking and paying go hand in hand drinking and praying have not even bowing acquaintance. The same is true everywhere.—Ex.

THESE brands of White Lead (see list) are not made by any patent or quick process, but by the "old Dutch" process of slow corrosion. They are the best; are the standard, and have been for years. Protect your interests by making sure the brand is right.

ARMSTRONG & McKELVY	Pittsburgh.
BEYMER-BAUMAN	Pittsburgh.
DAVIS-CHAMBERS	Pittsburgh.
FAHNESTOCK	Pittsburgh.
ANCHOR	Cincinnati.
ECKSTEIN	Cincinnati.
ATLANTIC	New York.
BRADLEY	New York.
BROOKLYN	New York.
JEWETT	New York.
ULSTER	New York.
UNION	New York.
SOUTHERN	Chicago
SHIPMAN	Chicago
COLLIER	St. Louis.
MISSOURI	St. Louis.
RED SEAL	St. Louis.
SOUTHERN	St. Louis.
JOHN T. LEWIS & BROS CO	Philadelphia.
MORLEY	Cleveland.
SALEM	Salem, Mass.
CORNELL	Buffalo.
KENTUCKY	Louisville.

FREE By using National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors, any desired shade is readily obtained. Pamphlet giving valuable information and card showing samples of colors free; also cards showing pictures of twelve houses of different designs painted in various styles or combinations of shades forwarded upon application to those intending to paint.

National Lead Co., 1 Broadway, New York.

CONSUMPTION

TO THE EDITOR: I have an absolute Cure for CONSUMPTION and all Bronchial, Throat and Lung Troubles, and all conditions of Wasting Away. By its timely use thousands of apparently hopeless cases have been permanently cured. So proof-positive am I of its power to cure, I will send FREE to anyone afflicted, THREE BOTTLES of my Newly Discovered Remedies, upon receipt of Express and Postoffice address. Always sincerely yours,
T. A. SLOCUM, M.C., 183 Pearl St., New York.
When writing the Doctor, please mention this paper.

STATESVILLE
FEMALE COLLEGE.
JOHN B. BURWELL, President,
STATESVILLE, N. C.

The next session of above Institution will commence on Wednesday, the 8th of September, 1897, and close the 1st of June, 1898.

Board, including furnished room, heat and lights, with Tuition in all English Branches and Latin for entire School Year, $112.00.

Instruction given in all branches usually taught in first-class schools for young ladies, and by experienced and accomplished teachers. The President has been for thirty five years engaged in female education in North Carolina, and will spare no pains to maintain high grade scholarship and give thorough instruction in all departments.

Correspondence solicited.

For illustrated circular and catalogue address J. B. BURWELL, Statesville, N. C.

MONEY TO LOAN.

on Eight Years Time, secured by Mortgage on Real Estate. Monthly payment, savings investment stock for sale, also FULL PAID COUPON STOCK, with semi-annual cash dividends. Loans made promptly in any part of the State. Agents wanted. Address,

Mechanics and Investors Union
22 Pullen Building, Raleigh, N. C.

Good Goods--Low Prices,

Flour, Meat, Sugar, Salt, Meal, Molasses, Coffee, Peanuts, Cheese, Crackers, Snuff, Tobacco.

Consignments of Cotton, Naval Stores and all Country Produce will receive careful attention.

Hall & Pearsall,

Wholesale Grocers & Com. Merchant
Corner Nutt and Muiberry Sts.

PEACE INSTITUTE,
FOR YOUNG LADIES,
RALEIGH, N. C.

This Institute offers thorough collegiate courses in English, History, Literatu Mathematics, Sciences, Ancient and Modern Languages, Music, Art, Elocution a Physical Culture.

As to its high standard for graduation, its thoroughness of instruction, its mod erate charges for the advantages offered, and the extent of its courses in Art and Music, this Institute cannot be surpassed.

It offers also thorough preparatory courses. Correspondence solicited.

Board and English Tuition One Year $200.

For illustrated catalogue and full particulars, address the Principal,

JAMES DINWIDDIE, M. A. University of Virginia, Principal

Term begins Sept. 15th, 1897.

The Normal & Collegiate Institute
For Young Women.
ASHEVILLE, N. C. SPRING TERM OPENING FEB. 1st. 1897

OFFERS TO THE STUDENTS:

1. A Classical Course, including Ancient and Modern Languages, Science, Music, Drawing, etc.
2. A Normal Course for the thorough training of Teachers under instructors from the best Normal Schools.
3. Commercial Course, including Stenography, Type-writing, Book-keeping, etc.
4. Domestic Science, including Scientific Cooking, Draughting, Cutting, Fitting and Making of garments.

Systematic study of the Bible in all departments.

Terms for Board and Tuition in any of the departments, $50 per term, or half school year.

For catalogue, address

REV. THOS. LAWRENCE, D. D
ASHEVILLE, N. C.

CONVERSE COLLEGE.

Faculty	30 Officers and Teachers, each a specialist, with special work only.
Curriculum	Classical, Scientific, Literary, Elective courses; Music, Art, Elocution, Business Course.
Scholarship	The work required equivalent to that in the best colleges for men in standard and thoroughness.
Appointments	Cost $135.000; Campus 50 acres. Steam heat. Gas. Hot and cold baths Closets heated. Gymnasium, Bowling Alley, Lawn Tennis Courts, Library, Laboratories, Infirmary, Elegant Society Halls, rooms carpeted and comfortably furnished.
Library	Very fine useful Library.
Attendance	431 Students from 12 States.
Assistance	Scholarships for deserving young women. Free tuition to all ministers' daughters.
Next Session	Will begin Wednesday, September 22d, 1897.

Send for Catalogue to

Pres't. BENJAMIN WILSON.
Spartanburg, S. C.

B. F. HALL, OSCAR PEARSALL

Do You Want A Teacher?

TEACHER'S EXCHANGE,
Box 378 Richmond, Va.
SUPPLIES COLLEGES,
SCHOOLS AND FAMILIES
WITH TEACHERS.

Secures situations for Teachers at moderate cost. Correspondence Solicited Supt. Richmond Public School.

The University.

Forty-seven Teachers, 413 students, (Summer School 158). Total 549. Board $8 a month, three Brief Courses, three Full Courses, Law and Medical Schools and School of Pharmacy. Graduate Courses open to Women, Summer School for Teachers, Scholarships and Loans for the Needy.

Address,
PRESIDENT ALDERMAN,
Chapel Hill, N. C.

Sabbath-School Dep't.

CONDUCTED BY REV. A. D. McCLURE.

Third Quarter—Lesson III.

July 18, 1897.—Acts xvii. 1-12.

Commit to memory verses 10-12.

Subject. Paul at Thessalonica and Berea.

Golden Text. "They received the Word with all readiness of mind, and searched the Scriptures daily." Acts xvii. 11.

CATECHISM.

Question 47. Which is the second commandment?

Answer. The second commandment, is "Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of anything that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth, Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them, for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate Me, and showing mercy unto thousands of them that love Me and keep My commandments."

Time, A. D. 52.

Place. Thessalonica—Berea.

INTRODUCTORY.

The magistrates who had committed Paul and Silas to prison, having beaten them openly, and the jailer who had exceeded the commands by casting the prisoners into the dungeon and the stocks, found themselves in a serious predicament the next day, for they were Roman citizens. The magistrates hastened to release the prisoners. The jailer had no fear as that had been cast out by "the expulsive power of a new affection." Paul and Silas proceeded westward while Luke probably remained at Philippi. Thus persecution again failed to destroy the Gospel and was the means of spreading it. Paul and Silas driven out went to the province of Macedonia.

LESSON NOTES.

Vs. 1. They. The change of pronouns from the first to the third person, shows that Luke the writer of the Acts was not with these, "then poor wandering missionaries, Silas, Timothy and Paul." Through Amphipolis. So they did not stop at this city, so near to Philippi, about thirty miles nearly west, nor at Apollonia, about thirty miles southwest of Amphipolis. They passed near the birth-place of Aristotle and the tomb of Euripides. They came to Thessalonica, long famed as a commercial centre, called by Herodotus and Thucydides, Therma, rebuilt by Cassander, renamed after his wife, the sister of Alexander the Great. It is now called Salonica.

Vs. 2. Paul, as his manner; his custom to attend the synagogue on the Sabbath and speak to the Jews first of the Christ. Three Sabbath days he labored among the Jews, though this does not indicate how long he remained in the city, as indicated in the early chapters to the Thessalonians. Reasoned with them, showing why he had believed that Jesus was the Christ and what was the blessed hope to which he would bring all Israel and the fullness of God's blessing offered in Him. Out of the Scriptures of the Old Testament "every letter of which they valued as divine."

Vs 3. Opening, showing the meaning, pointing out what they had not noticed and applying to Jesus of Nazareth the things of Messiah. Alleging, not asserting, but setting forth arguments and reasons, as the Greek word and older English word means. Christ, the Messiah. Must needs have suffered, as the meaning of all types and sacrifices, fulfillment of prophecy and the necessity of salvation. Risen again from the dead, as God's approval of His claims, as "the first fruits of them that slept," and the cardinal proof of Christianity.

Vs. 4. Some of them, Jews of the synagogue believed, consorted, cast in their lot with Paul and Silas. Of the devout Greeks, implied that Paul preached to those outside the synagogue after the Sabbath spent there. Chief women, many of high social standing, who doubtless gave a home for the Gospel after the ministers were gone.

Vs. 5. The Jews, as a body, moved with envy, or jealousy at a growing new faith beyond their ideas and customs. Lewd in the sense of vile, worthless, lazy loungers, ready for any excitement. Gathered a company, a crowd, not organized; made a disturbance, assaulted the house of Jason, Grecized from Joshua.

Vs. 7. Contrary to the decrees of Caesar, as appeared by speaking of Jesus as king, but they could easily know the difference. It was not natural however, and the appeal was popular.

Vs. 8. They troubled the people, not so as to make charges against them for they were the best citizens as true Christians always are.

Vs. 9. Security, bail.

Vs. 10. Sent away Paul to Berea, a city sixty miles southwest of Thessalonica.

Vs 11. More noble, not in reputation or human titles, but in character. This appeared in two important particulars which are still tests of character and nobility and means of promoting them.

PRACTICAL POINTS.

1. Bad men who attack reformers usually hide their motives under the cloak of some apparent virtue.

2. Even the best of preachers, teachers and reformers have but partial success, because of selfishness.

3. The Gospel is in favor of search for truth and makes that prayerful search its claim to nobility.

"Search the Scriptures."

The Horner School asks for the continued patronage of North Carolina and promises the very best instruction and most systematic discipline, moral, mental and physical to be obtained.

The Horner School, of Oxford, N. C., points with pride to the standing maintained by her students in our Colleges. The two students, who led the Freshman Class of more than 100 students, which graduated in '97 at the University were both prepared at Horner School. Five of the base-ball team were also from this school.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

Lesson for week ending Sunday, July 18th, 1897.

BELIEF IN CHRIST.

Text for the week:

"Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved, and thy house." Acts xvi: 31.

Daily Readings:

Monday, A well founded belief. Acts 17: 10-15.

Tuesday, A powerful belief. Mark 9: 14-29.

Wednesday, A divided belief. 1 Cor. 3: 1-7.

Thursday, A firm belief. Ps. 28: 1-6.

Friday, Believe the work. John 10: 31 42.

Saturday, Be not faithless. John 20: 24-31.

Sunday, Belief in Christ: What it is and what it does. Matt. 6: 1-15.

Suggestions.

Belief of Christ is not belief in Christ; neither is belief in Christianity faith in Christ. The devils believe—but they tremble.

Knowledge is necessary to belief. How shall we believe in One we do not know.

The existence of faith is tested by works—faith without works is dead.

Sight is not essential to faith; blessed are those who have not seen and yet have believed.

Believe now—to morrow may be too late.

Notes:

Belief in Christ, as used in Scripture, we take to be synonymous with faith in Christ. "Believe in the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved," means exercise that faith in the Lord Jesus Christ which, for salvation, receives and rest upon Him and His atoning and redeeming work as set forth in the Gospel. The immutably perfect attributes of God are the foundation of the Christian faith and the Word of God is its supreme object.

The Scriptures call faith "the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." But this is rather a statement of what results from faith than a definition of that grace. When faith in a fellowman is in question we have no trouble in knowing its meaning, its extent and its limitations. To exercise it intelligently we demand to know his ability to do and his disposition to perform: satisfied of these we believe in him—confide in him, trust him and rely upon him. With this in mind we can perhaps more clearly take in what God requires of us. He leaves us no option of opinion as to His ability and His disposition, and indeed we need none. He is infinitely able and entirely willing, nay anxious, to do all He says. Faith then simply takes Him at His word. God accepts Christ as our substitute, our sins are imputed to Him just as soon as, believing the Word, we consent to have it so. Children have faith in their parents; this is rather trust than faith. Trust and obedience are the fruits by which the genuineness of faith is determined. This is the case when faith is the result of intelligent exercise of the mental powers, or of deliberate choice, but in children until they arrive at a reasonable age there can be no such exercise. Still the faith which is acceptable to God must be as implicit and unreserved and undoubting as that of little children, for Christ has said, "Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein."

PUZZLE DEPARTMENT.

Answers for June 24th.

Golden mice are found in 1 Saml. 6: 4—Maggie Hall.

Joab was killed and buried in his own house, 1 Kings 2: 34—Maggie Hall.

[We take great pleasure in publishing the following letter which came as a prompt reply to our request of last week. We thank Walter very much, but will reserve some of his well selected questions for another time. Who of our little friends will we hear from next?*]

DEAR MR. McLAURIN:—I opened your nice paper as usual to-night to see if I could answer any of the questions in your Puzzle Department, but found that no one had sent you any for this issue (July 1st) I will try and give you a few questions which I hope some one will be able to answer if it is too hot to play, but I don't think it is. These are my questions.

What is the shortest verse in the Old Testament?

What was the height of the image which King Nebuchadnezzar built for the people to worship, and what was it made of?

How many times and to whom, did Jesus appear after the resurrection?

Give the name of one or more persons mentioned in the Bible as an artificer, author and minister.

I hope you will not think these are too many for one time.

Yours truly,

WALTER P. SPRUNT, (age 14 years.)

*Enigma was also received later from Maggie Hall.

THE WAY TO ACCOMPLISH IT.

The Assembly's Executive Committee recently sent to all pastors a circular concerning the July collection for the Invalid Fund accompanied by two copies of a circular addressed to the Societies in the Church. From the Secretary of one of these Societies comes a response as follows: "The circular was read to the Society when only a few members were present and a special meeting was called. The appeal was very touching and we decided to contribute $10, wishing that we could double it. We are glad that we can contribute something." Last year only thirty-seven Societies contributed to this fund and they gave only $200.64. There are two or three hundred Societies which can and we believe will contribute, if their attention can be secured. If the facts of a number of cases showing the need of our aged and infirm ministers and of the families of members deceased (widows and orphan children) could be laid before the members of these Societies their hearts would be touched and the $200 of last year would probably reach $2,000 this year. Will the kind officers of every Society in our Church look after this matter.

J. N. C.

Atlanta, Ga.

June 30th.

MARRIED.

☞No notice of a marriage or death will be inserted unless accompanied by a responsible name, which is wanted not for publication but as a guaranty of good faith.

McGILL—WALLACE. In the Presbyterian church, Soddy, Tenn., June 23d, 1897, by Rev. Dugald Munroe, Mr. John A. McGill and Miss Louise A. Wallace, oldest daughter of Elder John A. Wallace.

DIED.

☞We publish free 10 lines of Obituary Notices, of any kind—Tributes of Respect, Resolutions of Sabbath-schools, Ladies' Societies, &c. And we charge for over 10 lines at the rate of 10 cents per line. The cost may be calculated by counting the words in the manuscript, and allowing seven words to the line.

FONVILLE. At her home near Pleasant Grove, N. C., June 18th, Mrs. Martha Jane Mitchell Fonville, in her 40th year. She leaves a husband and four children, an infant child being buried in its mother's arms. Mrs. Fonville had been a consistent member of Cross Roads church for ten years. Now "She is not dead but sleepeth."

SOSSERMAN. On June 24th at her home in Cabarrus county, Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Sosserman, nee Alexander.

She was for thirty years a consistent member of Rocky River church. For several months she was a helpless invalid and a great sufferer. She bore it all with Christian patience, until it pleased the Lord to take her. Her husband and four children mourn her early departure.

HORTON. At her home in Cheraw, S. C., June 25th, 1897, Mrs A. B. Horton. She was born in Lottisburg, N. C., Nov. 3d, 1820, and lived there until her marriage in 1848. Sometime after their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Horton moved to Summerville, N. C., where they together professed their faith in Christ and united with the Presbyterian church under the ministry of Rev. Mr. Russell. They came to Cheraw in 1870.

"Everybody loves Mrs. Horton" is the expression we often heard during her life, and the large grief-stricken congregation that attended her funeral showed the universal esteem in which she was held. She was beloved by all, irrespective of class or age. Her home was open to all, and she used to say with a grateful smile that she had more visitors than any one in Cheraw. Very often passing her home and hearing the sound of voices, we have remarked that Mrs. Horton was holding her daily reception. Her lovable disposition, her natural traits and Christian graces endeared her to every one. She was perfectly sincere and candid. She did not deal in formal compliments but spoke exactly as she felt and thought. This makes it all the more surprising that she was so universally beloved. But she always spoke in a way that showed that her words were prompted by love and kindness.

Her great charity was another prominent characteristic. Without guile herself, she thought everyone sincere and was ever ready to defend all except herself.

It was beautiful to see her devotion to her church. She ever prayed for its welfare, mourned over its destitution and rejoiced in its prosperity. Her consecration to her Master was without reservation of herself, her labors or possessions. Her very presence in the church was an inspiration. Her face would shine with joy and peace and those who beheld her "saw her face as it had been the face of an angel."

Her last illness lasted about eight weeks during which she bore her sufferings with great patience and resignation. On the morning of June the 25th her beautiful spirit "entered in through the gates into the City and for her the morning dawned to which there will be no evening, "for there is no night there."

Her husband, daughter and two granddaughters mourn for her on earth; but three children, all of whom died in childhood, rejoice that she has come home at last. We thank God for her life, her wise and kindly counsel, her wonderful example and potent influence. For the memory of that life will ever be, both an inspiration and a benediction.

A. H. McARN.

SECULAR NEWS.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Farmers are topping tobacco in Vance county.

We see it stated that the Exposition of the Carolinas at Charlotte netted $3,000.

The fourth was a clear, bright day in Wilmington and vicinity. The weather had moderated considerably and hundreds went to the seaside resorts where the usual attractions were seen.

A very severe hail storm in northern Granville, near Bullock's, has caused great damage. On some farms the crops are completely ruined.

DOMESTIC.

Many of the Le Conte pear orchards about Americus, Ga., show the effects of blight. Large trees are blackened and dying, and the crop this year will be almost a total failure.

July 1st was the hottest day for the season known in Savannah. The maximum temperature was 102.

A terrible storm burst last week in Henderson, Ky., did considerable damage. Over a mile and a half of railroad track was washed away.

On July 3rd, the heat in Chicago reached 97 degrees, the greatest temperature of the year, and the highest known for this early in the season.

On the 2d inst., the State of Minnesota dedicated a monument in honor of the part played in the battle of Gettysburg by the only Minnesota regiment that took part in it—the First.

During May and June there were 507,793 paid admissions to the Nashville Exposition. The addition of free admissions would, of course, greatly swell the number.

Horner Military School.

The best commencement exercises of this school we have attended in several years took place at the Opera House Thursday evening. An immense audience was present. * * * It is a well known fact that the Horner Military School ranks as one of the best classical schools in this country, as its fine record shows. * * * The boys always take high stands at the colleges and universities. We are pleased to express our opinion that the commencement just closed surpassed any we have heretofore attended.—Oxford Ledger.

A school paper is shortly to be issued by the Faculty and Cadets of the Horner School. In the June issue will be printed the Orations that won prizes at the Horner School Commencement. Photographs of the Medalists will be given. We look forward with interest and pleasure to the first appearance of this paper.

THE JAMES SPRUNT INSTITUTE.
KENANSVILLE, N. C.

The announcements for the next session of this school are now ready to be sent out. Who wants to see one? Any man with a girl to educate can get some interesting reading by addressing a postal card to Rev. R. V. Lancaster, Kenansville, N. C. For the motto of the trustees is: The best possible school, for the least possible cost. Session open September 8th, 1897.

R. V. LANCASTER, President.

RANDOLPH-MACON ACADEMY—FOR BOYS.

Bedford City, Va., (S. W. Va.). Conducted by Randolph-Macon College. Best equipped in the South. Ranks with best in U. S. Modern conveniences and appliances; gymnasium, etc. $230. Address PRINCIPALS.

THE PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE FOR WOMEN.

Offers superior advantages in all departments. Specially fine Music and Art Departments. Twenty-two members in the faculty. *Term begins September 2nd. Apply for circulars to

MISS LILY W. LONG
OR TINSLEY P. JUNKIN,
Charlotte, N. C.

*Total charges for school year $172.

COVE ACADEMY,
COVESVILLE, ALBEMARLE COUNTY, VIRGINIA.

A small private school for boys and young men. Thorough preparation given for College or University. Situated on the Southern Railway, in the mountains of Virginia. Address the principal,

REV. DANIEL BLAIR, D. D.

RANDOLPH-MACON WOMAN'S COLLEGE.

Lynchburg, Va. Endowed for higher education. Laboratories for Chemistry, Physics, Biology and Psychology. Gymnasium. All modern appliances. Endowment reduces cost of course to $250. Address

WM. W. SMITH, A. M., LL.D., President.

Medical Department
—OF THE—
UNIVERSITY OF
NORTH CAROLINA.

Instruction in Chemistry, Physics, Biology, Histology, Embryology, Anatomy, Physiology, Materia Medica, Pathology and Minor Surgery.

For catalogue address,

DR. R. H. WHITEHEAD,
Chapel Hill, N. C.

SHENANDOAH VALLEY ACADEMY
NEAR WINCHESTER, VA.

A strictly first class school with exceedingly attractive surroundings for fifty boys and young men. Attention to the individual, pupil a leading feature.

For catalogue address,

J. B. LOVETT, M. A.,
(University of Virginia) Principal.

DAVIDSON COLLEGE,
DAVIDSON, N. C

The Sixty-first Year Begins September 9th, 1897.

FACULTY

REV. J. B. SHEARER, D. D., LL.D. President.
Professor of Biblical Instruction and Moral Philosophy.

HENRY L. SMITH, PH.D., Vice-Pres't.
Professor of Natural Philosophy.

W. D. VINSON, LL.D.,
Professor of Mathematics.

C. R. HARDING, PH. D.,
Professor of Greek and German.

W. R. GREY, PH. D.,
Professor of Latin and French.

THOS. P. HARRISON, PH.D.,
Professor of English.

W. J. MARTIN, M. D., PH.D.,
Professor of Chemistry.

F. F. ROWE, A. B.,
Instructor.

H. V. ALLEN and J. McA. McSWAIN,
Laboratory Assistants.

Gymnasium Director.

Vocal Music.

CLASSICAL,
MATHEMATICAL,
SCIENTIFIC,
LITERARY,
BIBLICAL,
COMMERCIAL.

Send for a catalogue.

Terms reasonable,
Location healthful,
Accommodations excellent.
Teaching unsurpassed,
Gymnasium Complete.

Address THE PRESIDENT.

ROCK HILL
HIGH SCHOOL,
ROCK HILL, S. C.

An English and Classical Boarding and Day School for Boys, unsurpassed in location, buildings and equipments. The principals are experienced teachers and have had much success in getting boys to learn and to behave. There is careful supervision of studies, health, habits and manners. Our circular tells all about it. Address either of the undersigned.

E. L. BARNES,
A. R BANKS,
Principals.

A few references:—

Dr. J. B. Shearer, President of Davidson College, N. C.; Rev. O. G. Jones, Rock Hill, S. C.; Rev. T. R. English, D. D., Union Seminary, Va., Rev. C. A. Munroe, Lenior, N. C.; Rev. R. P. Smith, Gastonia, N. C.; Capt. J. G. Morrison, Mariposa, N. C.; Dr. E. Porter, Rocky Point, N. C.

UNION TEACHERS' AGENCIES OF AMERICA.
Rev. L. D. BASS, D. D., Manager.

Pittsburg, Pa.; Toronto, Canada, New Orleans, La.; New York, N. Y.; Washington, D. C.; San Francisco, Cal.; Chicago, Ill.; St. Louis, Mo., and Denver, Colorado.

There are thousands of positions to be filled within the next few months.

Address all applications to UNION TEACHERS' AGENCIES, Saltsburg, Pa.

FOR THE FAMILY.

WORDS.

A little tender word,
Wrapped in a little rhyme,
Sent out upon the passing air,
In the sweet summer time.

A little idle word,
Breathed in an idle hour;
Between two laughs that word was said,
And yet the word had power.

Away they sped—the words—
One, like a winged seed,
Lit on a soul which gave it room,
And straight began to bud and bloom
In lovely word and deed.

The other careless word,
Borne on an evil air,
Found a rich soil and ripened fast
Its rank and poisonous growth, and cast
Fresh seeds to work elsewhere.

The speakers of the words
Passed by and marked one day
The fragrant blossoms dewy wet,
The baneful flowers quickly set
In clustering array.

And neither knew his word.
One smiled and one did sigh.
"How strange and sad," one said, "it is
People should do such things as this:
I'm glad it is not I."

And "what a wondrous word,
To reach so far, so high!"
The other said, "What joy 'twould be
To send out words so helpfully;
I wish that it were I."

—Susan Coolidge.

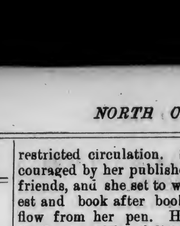
DEATH OF MRS. OLIPHANT.

THE WELL-KNOWN NOVELIST AND POPULAR WRITER—A FAVORITE OF QUEEN VICTORIA.

Mrs. Margaret Oliphant, the novelist, died in London, England, Friday evening last from cancer.

The life of this remarkable woman seems to have been almost entirely devoted to her literary labors. Herself and her work were inseparable, inasmuch as even her intimates seldom found her when she was not writing a novel, finishing one, or arranging a plot. Her industry was phenomenal. It is doubtful if there ever lived a British writer who produced more novels than she. None of them was distinguished for its strength or intricacy of plot, or its power of expression or of analysis, but they all had the virtue of containing as their heroes and heroines living, breathing human beings.

Mrs. Oliphant was born Margaret Oliphant Hilson, and from her early girlhood the force of her literary productiveness showed her her career. She had done a considerable amount of work before she was twenty-one, but then she set to work with an ardent determination to produce something with a lasting quality, and the result was "Passages in the Life of Mrs. Margaret Maitland, of Sunnyside." The success of this venture was almost immediate. It was phenomenal for these times of restricted circulation. She was encouraged by her publishers and her friends, and she set to work in earnest and book after book began to flow from her pen. Her love of Scotland and her delineation of its people, her delicacy of appreciation of all their traits, endeared her books to the Queen, and Mrs. Oliphant had the dignity of being Victoria's favorite author.



Throughout her long career as a writer she held consistently to one principle in the character of her work. She believed that fiction was lowered when the writer dealt with subjects or with characters that "would not be admitted into any family in the empire." The result was that she never wrote anything about the criminal classes, avoiding immorality as a subject as she would have avoided a contagion, and she came well into that classification of British authors who wrote for young men and women as their fathers or mothers might have done. —The Sun.

Lady Augusta Mostyn is one of the most generous donors of gifts in honor of Queen's Victoria's diamond jubilee. She has just offered $10,000 toward the chancel of the church in memory of the duke of Clarence and $2,500 toward the Queen's Jubilee Hospital at London. Within a few days she has announced her intention of building and furnishing an entire new church in a suburb of Llandudno. This will be in memory of her father and mother, and also in commemoration of the queen's long reign.

Mrs. Davies, of Bury, England, will in a few days present a library of 2,000 volumes to the city, to be used by women and girls. A little later she will give the city a library for Sabbath-school teachers and furnish and hereafter support a reading room for women. She does all this in honor of the queen's long reign.

Berry Custard.—Put three pints of berries, sugared to taste, into a deep dish. Make three pints of milk scalding hot; add to this half a pound of pulverized sugar and three tablespoonfuls of corn starch, mixed smoothly with a little cold milk; then add and stir in three well beaten eggs and a dessert spoonful of vanilla extract; place on the fire and stir until it begins to thicken, and then pour it over the berries; set on ice until cold. Serve plain cream or milk with it.

A Padlocked Heart.

How many women lock their troubles and sufferings in their own hearts and silently endure misery and pain which would cause strong men to cry out in agony.

The sufferings of women are more than half unknown and unappreciated. The refined sensitiveness of their organism lays them liable to a thousand exquisite tortures which a coarser nature can never experience or comprehend.

The least derangement or disorder of the delicate special organism of their sex overwhelms the whole physical and mental being with weakness and wretchedness.

But it is a mistake to suffer these troubles in silence. They may be cured in the perfect privacy of home, without the repugnant ordeal of examinations and "local treatment," which the family doctor is sure to insist upon.

No physician in the world has had a wider or more successful experience in the treatment of woman's diseases than Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. His "Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most obstinate and complicated feminine difficulties.

It is the only medicine of its kind prepared by an educated, skilled physician.

Mr. J. F. Sneed, of Omen, Texas, writes: "My wife was badly afflicted with female weakness. We tried three of the best physicians in the country without benefit, but at great expense. My wife grew worse, and we gave up in despair. She could not get in and out of doors without help; was not able to stand on her feet long at a time, complained of dragging down pains in abdomen. Nothing but an untimely death seemed awaiting her, when—happy thought!—the name of Dr. Pierce came to my mind. I wrote to Dr. Pierce; received his advice, followed it, my wife improved perceptibly from the first two week's treatment, continued the treatment six months, and pronounced the cure complete, at a cost of less than one month's treatment by the last physician we employed before consulting Dr. Pierce. She used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and the lotions recommended by him. It has been two years since, and the good effect is permanent."

A Beautiful, Fitting, and Enduring Memento

For Personal Possession and Study

Is Found in the

New Holy Land Art Portfolios

ENTITLED

Palestine Photographed.

Every Student of the Bible,

Every Student of History,

Every Lover of Art

Should Have It.

This desirable book comprises 64 beautiful engravings from views taken in 1894. Each scene is accurately and eloquently described by two distinguished divines, Bishop Vincent and Dr. Lee. The work should find a place in every Christian home.

Any paid up subscriber to the PRESBYTERIAN can obtain this book upon remitting 25 cents.

PREMIUMS.

No. 1. For 21 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Hunting case, jointed front and back 18 size and guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $30.00.

No. 2. For 16 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year we will give the canvasser a Gents' Gold Watch: Open face, 18 size, 14 karat filled case, screw back and bezel, guaranteed for 20 years—retails at $15.00.

No. 3. For 17 new subscribers at 1.50 for first year, we will give a Ladies' Gold Watch Hunting case, 6 size, stem winder, 14 karat, filled case, screw beze—guaranteed 20 years—retails at $16.00

No. 4. For12 new subscribers at $1.50 for first year, we will give a Gents' Silver Watch: 18 size, plain case, open face—retails at $12.50.

No. 5. For 10 new subscribers a Ladies' Silver Watch, O size, plain case, open face—retails for $10.00.

No. 6. For 8 new subscribers, we will give a Nickel Watch, 18 size, screw bezel—retails for $7.00.

No. 7. For 7 new subscribers, we will give solid silver teaspoons—retails for $6.00.

No. 8. For 4 new subscribers, a sugar spoon, sterling gilt engraved—retails at $3.00.

The articles will all be first-class from a jeweller of established reputation.

New subscribers means not change of address to some one else—that would be fraud—but bona fide new subscribers.

For $1.75 we will send the paper for the first year to a new subscriber and a copy of Palestine Photographed. This album contains 64 actual photographic reproductions of picturesque and historical places in the Holy Land on enameled pages, and is a thing of beauty. The descriptive foot notes are good and enhance the interest.

We regard this as a specially desirable premium.

To any one paying up or renewing their subscription and sending $2.25 we will send this album as apremium

W., N. & N. RAILWAY.

In Effect Sunday, Oct, 27, 1895.

DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY.

NORTH BOUND.		STATIONS.	SOUTH BOUND.
8			7
P. M.		— WILMINGTON —	P. M.
2	00	Lv Mulberry St. Ar	12	40
3	58	Lv Jacksonville Lv	10	42
4	30	Lv..Maysville..Lv	10	09
4	44	Lv Pollocksville Lv	9	55
5	20	Ar..Newbern..Lv	9	20
P. M.			A. M.

Trains 8 and 7 p m make connection with trains on A & N C R R for Morehead City and Beaufort.

Connection with Steamer Neuse at Newbern to and from Elizabeth City and Norfolk Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Steamer Geo D Purdy makes daily trips between Jacksonville and New River points.

H. A. WHITING,
General Manager.

J. W. MARTENIS,
Traffic Manager.

CHILDREN'S COLUMN.

LOVELINESS.

Once I knew a little girl,
Very plain;
You might try her hair to curl,
All in vain;
On her cheek no tints of rose
Paled and blushed, or sought repose;
She was plain.

But the thoughts that through her brain
Came and went,
As a recompense for pain,
Angels sent;
So full many a beauteous thing,
In her young soul blossoming,
Gave content.

Every thought was full of grace,
Pure and true;
And in time the homely face
Lovlier grew;
With a heavenly radiance bright,
From the soul's reflected light
Shining through.

So I tell you little child,
Plain or poor;
If your thoughts are undefiled,
You are sure
Of the loveliness of worth;
And this beauty not of earth
Will endure.

—Picayune.

For the N. C. Presbyterian.

HOW JIM BEGAN TO BE A MISSIONARY.

BY RACHEL RICHARDSON.

When Jim was not more than three years old he began to gather together all of his sister's broken dolls and would play "Hopital" (hospital) by the hour.

He never threw away his own broken toys either, but was always trying to mend them.

And when he asked for "tales," he was always best pleased with stories of adventure, especially with such as told of rescue from danger.

He was the youngest child in the house, and as his brother and sisters went to school, he was obliged to amuse himself a great deal of the time. But Jim did not fret over this, he was a happy boy, and most of the time "p'etended like" the dolls and chairs, or leaves or flowers were people, and he was "Docker Jim" for all.

One morning he was playing out on the porch while his mother and aunt were sewing just inside the window.

They were talking of a missionary friend and of what a brave thing it was for him to go so far away seeking lost souls, and trying to help the sick and suffering.

Jim heard them, and as nothing concerning the sick and suffering ever escaped him, he threw down the broken doll that Doctor Jim had been trying to cure, and laid down on the floor to "fink" awhile.

"Ann' Lilla said some body gone off seeking los' soul's.

"I wunner w'at los' soul is? I fink I mus' ask mamma. Helpin' sick an' sufferin,' dat means make a hopital an div 'em medicine—dats w'at! "I rish I could do dat, Don' know noboody w'ats sick an' sufferin.' I like to go and fin' some sure nough sick people an' bring 'em to my hopital, an' make 'em well. If I go up st'eet now may be I can fin' somebody. If I ask mamma, maybe she say: "No, no, Jim you too little."

"I ain't too little!" said Jim, springing up with a flushed face, and a firm purpose. "I fink I go now. Mamma will not scold much, an' I come back petty soon."

With this resolve, Jim picked up his hat, and started down the steps.

His mother heard him, but supposed that he was going into the garden, where he often played, indeed, if she had seen him going out of the gate she would not have felt uneasy, for he was allowed to play on the side walk with the children of the neighborhood.

But this time Jim had large plans to carry out, and long years afterwards he said that he believed that he had his first call to be a missionary that morning.

He walked on until he had passed two cross streets, there he stopped.

"These chillen dat live on my st'eet, dey got plenty 'muners' to give 'em medicine an make 'em well, I mus' go vay down Centre st'eet vere mamma an' Ann Lilla go some time."

He turned the next corner, and wandered on some time, looking very hard at every body in his search for the "sick an' sufferin.'" At last his earnest wish was granted, for here came a boy with his eye tied up, and carrying a poor, sick baby in his arms!

"Hello!" said Jim bravely. 'W'ere you goin'? W'ats ze matter wiv de baby? an w'ats you got your head tied up fur?"

The boy did not appreciate Jim's kind inquiries very much and would have passed on, but curiosity got the upper hand. He was not used to having nicely-dressed, clean faced boys, asking about his affairs, as if they cared. He answered very gruffly:

"Jeb Scooner banged my eye, dat's w'at an' I'll get even wid him yet. Der perlice is a goin' ter nab him too. De baby's got der whoopin' cough. My name's Nick Grubbin, w'at's yourn?"

"Me name Jim. I got a hopital an' you better come dere, an' bring de baby too. I make you well quick."

Seeing that Nick Grubbin was laughing, Jim said very proudly: "I name Docker Jim—an' you better come to my hopital I make you eye well give you canna too."

I am sure that he would never have succeeded in getting these patients, but for the bait he held out.

Nick Grubbin did not often taste candy, excepting at the church Christmas celebrations, and the prospect of candy was a greater inducement than Docker Jim's treatment.

"Say now," he said to Jim with a shrewd look on his face: "Say now," are you a guyin me. If you do I'll mawl you! W'ars your hospitle? I can't carry this cryin' baby far."

Jim didn't know what "guy" meant, but he knew that he wanted to get Nick to his hospital.

"'Taint far to my hopital, an' its pitty dere, an' my mamma an' Ann' Lilla live dere an' dey'll div you bwead an' 'lasses, an' canna too, I pec."

Nothing more was needed, and Nick moved on beside the eager little missionary.

In the meanwhile time had come, and Mrs. Cuthbert called:

"Jim! Jim! come to luncheon, dear!" Nobody answered. She put her head out of the window. Plenty of toys there but no Jim.

"Why, where can the child be?"

"I'll go look him up," said Aunt Lilla, who was always ready for an excuse to find Jim.

She put on her hat and searched the garden and yard, and then went to the front gate and looked up and down the street.

No small boy in sight.

She went to several houses and asked for Jim, but nobody had seen him. Then she felt a little uneasy, and went back home.

Sister, Jim is'nt any where in the neighborhood. I never knew him to go off out of our neighborhood before."

(Continued.)

FOR MOTHERS.

To bring up a child in the way he should go, travel that way yourself.

Stories first heard at a mother's knee are never wholly forgotten, a little spring that never dries up in our journey through scorching years.

The sooner you get a child to be a law unto himself, the sooner you will make a man of him.

Children need models more than criticism.

We can never check what is evil in the young unless we cherish what is good in them.

Line upon line, precept upon precept, we must have in a home. But we must also have serenity, peace, and the absence of petty fault finding, if home is to be a nursery fit for heaven's growing plants.

There is not a man or woman, however poor they may be, but have in it their power by the grace of God, to leave behind them the grandest thing on earth, character; and their children might rise up after them and thank God that their mother was a pious woman, or their father a pious man.—Dr. McLeod.

LETTER-BOX.

Dear Mr. Editor: I am a little girl ten years old. My papa takes the PRESBYTERIAN and I enjoy reading the letters so much. Rev. D. W. Fox is our pastor and Mrs. Fox is my Sunday-school teacher. I have two sisters and two brothers. Now I will close for fear of the waste basket.

Your little friend,
ADDIE NORMENT,
Lumberton, N. C.

SCHEDULE ON WILMINGTON SEACOAST, R. R.

On and after June 1st trains will run as follows: Daily Except Sunday.

Leave Wilmington at 6.30 a. m., 10.10 a. m, 2.30 p. m., 5.10 p. m, 7.15 p. m.
Leave Ocean View 7.30 a. m., 11.30 a. m., 4.00 p. m., 6.15 p m., 10.00 p. m.

R. OSCAR GRANT,
Superintendent.

$4 PER DAY SURE SALARY OR COMMISSION. DO you want honorable, steady employment the year round, at good wages, at your own home or to travel? If so, send 4c in stamps for our wholesale price-list and particulars. We furnish best of bank references. AMERICAN TEA CO., Detroit, Michigan.

PATENTS

Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained and all Patent business conducted for MODERATE FEES. OUR OFFICE IS OPPOSITE U. S. PATENT OFFICE, and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington. Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured. A PAMPHLET, "How to Obtain Patents," with cost of same in the U.S. and foreign countries sent free. Address,

C. A. SNOW & CO.
OPP. PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

W. C. VonGLAHN,

NO. 20 SOUTH FRONT ST.,

WILMINGTON N. C.

Keeps always on hand, SHOES of all SHAPES and SHOES of all COLORS.

SHOES for LOOKS and SHOES for COMFORT.

No effort spared to suit customers.

☞ Visitors to the city should not fail to call.

UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

HAMPDEN-SIDNEY, VA.

FACULTY.

The Rev. Walter W. Moore, D.D. LL.D. McCormick Professor of the Hebrew Language and Literature.

The Rev. Charles C. Hersman, D.D., LL. D., Henry Young Professor of Biblical Literature and Interpretation of the New Testament.

The Rev. Thos. Cary Johnson, D. D., Professor of Ecclesiastical History and Polity.

The Rev. Thos. R. English, D. D., Stuart Robinson Professor of the English Bible and Pastoral Theology.

The Rev. Givens B. Strickler, D. D., LL.D., Professor of Systematic Theology.

Walter L. Lingle, A. M., Tutor in Hebrew and Greek.

THE NEXT SESSION BEGINS WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 1st, 1897.

For catalogue or other information as to course of study, apply to Dr. English Clerk of Faculty, Hampden-Sidney, Va

For information as to rooms, &c., apply to W. L. Lingle, Intendant, Hampden-Sidney, Va.

Continued from 7th page.

presented and after it the last meeting was conducted by Dr. Scofield on "The Ministry."

The last three platform meetings were also given up to Dr. Scofield who is well known as a man of power, and who is now pastor of Moody's church in Northfield, and co-worker with Dr. Torrey in the "Moody Training School" in Chicago.

All three of Dr. Scofield's addresses were on 'The Most Important Thing in the World, the Holy Ghost."

The key text in James 4:5 is unfortunately rendered in the King James Version. Dr. Young's translation of the Greek is better. "The Spirit that dwelleth in us enviously desireth us," or in the Revised Version, "That Spirit which He made to dwell in us yearneth for us even to jealous envy." He yearneth to possess, to control, to guide us. God has put in the believer His Holy Spirit, and He yearneth to get full possession of us, but we shut Him in and will not realize His presence.

1st. The Holy Spirit is a person, nothing but a person could be, or yearn, or take possession.

2. He does dwell in the believer, not may dwell in him. His presence is not manifested through feeling, but by faith. The revolution in the lives of Christians will come when men take God's word for it. The presence of other persons changes our manners; so must we realize the presence of God as a person.

What does the Spirit do for us?

1st. He gives us victory over self and sin. The seventh chapter of Romans is The Tragedy of the Inner Life. Romans 8:2 is The Victory of the Spiritual over the Carual Nature.

2d. He dwells in us to make real to us what we have in Christ. Gal. 3:26 and 4:6; also Ephes. 2:13 and 18. He puts us in possession of what Christ prepared for us.

3d. It produces Christian character. In Old Testament times there was no way to get the baptism of the Holy Spirit. Then God just selected certain ones, but now by fulfilling three conditions any Christian may obtain this blessing and power for service.

1st step. By consecration.

2d. By keeping right with God by confessing everything to Him.

3d. By an act of faith receive the Spirit. Though we cannot perfectly surrender we can sincerely do so.

The whole course of lectures were delivered by Dr. Scofield in a clear, forcible way, every statement proved by quotations from the Bible, and all felt that it pays to give up all to Christ.

After this the last exercise of the Conference was given to a testimony meeting for all who wished to testify what God, through the Conference, had done for them. As many as five or six were on the floor at a time and everybody seemed to have had their spiritual life deepened.

Of course the results could not possibly be estimated. Many decided to spend their lives in foreign lands and many others gave themselves to Christ to go wherever He would send them. Then all joined in singing, "Blest be the tie that binds," and the Conference was adjourned.

CHAS. H. JOHNSTON.

FOREIGN MISSION RECEIPTS FOR JUNE.

The receipts of the Foreign Mission Treasury for June were $16,883.57, being an increase over those for June 1896 of $1,843.79. We now enter on that period of the year when many pastors take vacation, and many societies adjourn for the summer. But the work in the field and the expense of it must go on all the same.

We trust, therefore, that our friends, whether at home or on summer vacation will not forget our work, and its constant and growing needs. We will gladly furnish Thanksgiving Mite Boxes to any who would like to take them on their summer travels, to be opened on their return.

S. H. CHESTER,
Secretary.

We call attention to the advertisement of the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts in our issue to day. This College has steadily advanced to the front rank, and its work has received the highest commendation from Harper's Magazine, The New York Forum and other eminent educational authorities. It is admitted to be one of the best institutions of learning in the South, and is doing a great work for North Carolina.

Mr. D. L. Moody has issued an invitation to all ministers of the Gospel and all believers in Christ to attend the fifteenth annual gathering at Northfield for Bible study, prayer and conference, July 29th to August 13th. Among the prominent speakers are Rev. Geo H. C. Macgregor and Rev. Campbell Morgan, of England; Bishop J. P. Newman, Dr. Mabie, Dr. Dixon, Rev. W. J. Erdman, Rev. R. A. Torrey and others of our own country and missionaries from foreign lands. The music will be in charge of Messrs. Ira D. Sankey and Geo. C. Stebbins.

Those who have been to Northfield know fully the delights of the place physically, socially and spiritually, and to the many who ask where shall we go, we can heartily say go to the Connecticut Valley—to Northfield. For information in regard to board, etc., apply to Mr. A. G. Moody, East Northfield, Mass

SEABOARD AIR LINE S.A.L.

VESTIBULED LIMITED TRAINS. DOUBLE DAILY SERVICE

TO

ATLANTA, CHARLOTTE, ATHENS, WILMINGTON, NEW ORLEANS, CHATTANOOGA,

AND

NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA WASHINGTON, NORFOLK, RICHMOND.

Schedule in Effect May 30th, 1897.

WESTWARD.

	No. 41	No. 403
Lv Wilmington..	*3 20pm	.....
Lv Lumberton..	5 26pm	.....
Lv Maxton.....	6 12pm	.....
Lv Laurinburg..	6 33pm	.....
Ar Hamlet.....	6 53pm	.....
Lv Hamlet.....	7 13pm	*5 10 am
Lv Rockingham.	7 30pm	5 23 am
Lv Wadesboro..	8 13pm	5 54 am
Lv Marshville...	8 46pm	6 26 am
Ar Monroe.....	9 12pm	6 48 am
Lv Monroe.....	9 35pm	7-00 am
Ar Charlotte....	10 25pm	7 50 am
Ar Mt. Holly....	.....	9 20 am
Ar Lincolnton...	.....	10 20 am
Ar Shelby.....	.....	11 18a m
Ar Ellenboro....	.....	11 55p m
Ar Rutherfordton	.. ..	12 30p m

†8 40am Lv....Hamlet..Ar 6 20p m
10 00am Ar....Cheraw..Ar † 5 00p m

EASTWARD.

	No. 38.	No. 402
Lv Rutherfordton	.....	*4 35p m
Lv Ellenboro....	.....	5 15p m
Lv Shelby.....	.....	6 03p m
Lv Lincolnton..	.....	7 00p m
Lv Mt Holly....	.....	7 50p m
Lv Charlotte....	*5 10am	8 25p m
Ar Monroe.....	5 55am	9 10p m
Lv Monroe.....	6 05am	9 40p m
Lv Marshville..	6 25am	.....
Lv Wadesboro..	7 01am	10 31p m
Lv Rockingham.	7 41am	11 05p m
Ar Hamlet.....	7 55am	11 23p m
Lv Hamlet.....	8 20am	.....
Lv Laurinburg..	8 46am	.....
Lv Maxton.....	9 05am	.....
Lv Lumberton...	9 53am	.....
Ar Wilming'on..	12 05pm	.....

NORTHWARD.

Lv Hamlet.....	*8 15am	*11 20pm
Ar Raleigh.....	11 30am	2 16pm
Ar Portsmouth..	5 50pm	7 25am
Ar Richmond...	*6 50pm	* 8 15am
Ar Washington..	11 10pm	12 31pm
Ar New York...	6 53am	6 23pm

SOUTHWARD.

Lv Monroe.....	*6 48am	*9 25p m
Ar Abbeville....	11 05am	1 40a m
Ar Athens.....	1 15pm	3 45a m
Ar Atlanta (Central Time)....	2 50pm	5 20a m

*Daily. †Daily, except Sunday.

Both trains make immediate connections at Atlanta for Montgomery, Mobile, New Orleans, Texas, California, Mexico, Chattanooga, Nashville, Memphis, Macon, Florida.

For Tickets, Sleepers, etc., apply to

B. A. NEWLAND,
Gen. Agt. P. Dept.
6 Kimball House, Atlanta, Ga.

THOS. D. MEARES,
Gen'l. Agent, Wilmington, N. C.

E. ST. JOHN, Vice-President and General Manager.

H. W. B. GLOVER, Traffic Manager.
V. E. McBEE, Gen'l. Supt.
T. J. ANDERSON, Gen'l. Pass. Agt.
General Offices, Portsmouth, Va.

Shopping.

Shopping done in Philadelphia by a lady of experience and taste. No extra charge. Best references. Send for circular.

MISS M. ANDERSON,
333 Pine St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

We really think our

C. F. & Y. V. Railway Co.

JOHN GILL, Receiver.

CONDENSED SCHEDULE.

IN EFFECT May 30th, 1897.

NORTH BOUND.	No. 2. Daily
Leave Wilmington	12.15p.m
Arrive Fayetteville	3.35 "
Leave Fayetteville	3.45 "
Leave Fayetteville Junction	3.47 "
ArriveSanford	5.02 "
Leave Sanford	5.05 "
Leave Climax	6.54 "
Arrive Greensboro	7.25 "
Leave Greensboro	7.45 "
Leave Stokesdale	8.32 "
Leave WalnutCove	9.08 "
Leave Rural Hall	9.30 "
Arrive Mt. Airy	11.00 "

SOUTH BOUND.	No. 1. Daily
Leave Mt. Airy	5.25a m
Leave Rural Hall	6.50 "
Leave Walnut Cove	7.19 "
Leave Stokesdale	7.52 "
Arrive Greensboro	8.40 "
Leave Greensboro	9.00 "
Leave Climax	9.39 "
Leave Sanford	11.20 "
Arrive Fayetteville Junction	12.42p.m.
†Arrive Fayetteville	12.45 "
Leave Fayetteville	1.15 "
Arrive Wilmington	4.30 "

NORTH BOUND.	No. 4. Daily
Leave Bennettsville	7.45 a.m
ArriveMaxton	9.00 "
LeaveMaxton	9.07 "
Leave Red Springs	9.37 "
Leave Hope Mills	10.26 '
Arrive Fayetteville	10.50 "

SOUTH BOUND	No. 3. Daily
Leave Fayetteville	4.45p m.
Leave Hope Mills	5.02 "
Leave Red Springs	5.42 "
ArriveMaxton	6.11 "
Leave Maxton	6.15 "
ArriveBennettsville	7.20 "

NORTH BOUND.	No. 16. Mixed. Daily ex Sunday.
Leave Ramseur	7.40 a.m
Leave Climax	9.33 "
Arrive Greensboro	10 20 "
Leave Greensboro	10.55 "
Leave Stokesdale	12.30 p.m.
Arrive Madison	1.10 "

SOUTH BOUND.	No. 15. Mixed. Daily ex Sunday.
Leave Madison	2.10 p.m
Leave Stokesdale	3.05 "
Arrive Greensboro	4.30 "
Leave Greensboro	5.45 "
Leave Climax	6.57 "
Arrive Ramseur	8.35 '

†Meals.

CONNECTIONS,

at Fayetteville with the Atlantic Coas Line, at Maxton with Carolina Central Railroad, at Sanford, with Seaboard Air Line, at Greensboro with Southern Railway, at Walnut Cove with Norfolk & Western Railway.

W. E. KYLE,
Gen'l Passenger Agent

J. W. FRY,
Gen'l Manager.

SAY SOES.

First Small Boy—I wish I had that five cents back I spent for candy. Second Small Boy—What would you do with it? First Small Boy—Buy more candy.

It has just been discovered that each of the two Testaments in use in the city of London court is kissed 30,000 times a year. Both books are very ancient. They are falling to pieces, being literally kissed away.—Boston Globe.

The Irish Lecturer.—"The superiority of the old architecture over the new is beyond question, for where will you find any modern buildings that have lasted as long as the ancient ones?"—Tit-Bits.

WHO'S SHELLABERGER?

[illegible] the Wire Fence Man, of Atlanta, Ga., [illegible] sells the best and cheapest fencing in existence [illegible]

WILMINGTON MARKET.

FOR

WEEK ENDING JULY 7, 1897.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE: On Thursday (1st) and Friday 24 cents for machine casks and 23½ cents for country barrels; 23½ cents and 23½ cents.

ROSIN: Firm throughout at $1.25 for Strained and $1.30 for Good Strained.

CRUDE TURPENTINE: Hard $1.30, Yellow Dip $1.80 and Virgin $1.90—closing steady.

TAR: Sales on Thursday (1st) and Friday $1.10; since $1.15—closing firm.

TIMBER: River very low. No timber on market. Demand good.

SUMMER BOARD,

Board from June 15th to September 1st, can be had on reasonable terms at Statesville Female College. For terms address, J. B. BURWELL, Statesville, N. C.

HOLLINS INSTITUTE

BOTETOURT SPRINGS, VIRGINIA.

For 175 Young Lady Boarders. The largest and most extensively equipped in Virginia. Eclectic courses in Ancient and Modern Languages, Literature, Sciences, Music, Art and Elocution. 30 officers and teachers. Situated in Valley of Va., near Roanoke. Mountain Scenery. 1200 feet above sea level. Mineral waters. 55th session opens Sept. 8th, 1897. For illus. Catalogue address CHAS. L. COCKE, Supt., Hollins, Va.

NOTICE.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,

COUNTY OF NEW HANOVER.

In the Superior Court D. D. Benton, Plaintiff, vs. Rebecca Benton, Defendant.

NOTICE—Rebecca Benton, the above named Defendant, will take notice that an action entitled as above has been commenced in the Superior Court of New Hanover county, in the State of North Carolina, by the Plaintiff for the purpose of obtaining from the Defendant an absolute Divorce and complete dissolution of the bonds of matrimony. And the said Rebecca Benton will further take notice that she is required to be and appear at the next term of the Superior Court of the said County of New Hanover, to be held on the third Monday after the first Monday in September 1897, i. e., on the 27th day of September, 1897, at the Court House of said County, in the City of Wilmington, North Carolina, and answer or demur to the Complaint in said action, or the Plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in his complaint.

This, the 19th day of June, 1897.

JOHN D. TAYLOR,
Clerk of Superior Court of
New Hanover County, North Carolina

ATLANTIC COAST LINE.

Schedule in Effect May 27th 1897.

DEPARTURES FROM WILMINGTON—

NORTHBOUND.

DAILY 9:00 A M — No. 48—Passenger—Due Magnolia 10 40 a m, Warsaw 10 55 a m, Goldsboro 11 56 a m, Wilson 12 46 pm, Rocky Mount 1 20 p m, Tarboro 2 50 p m, Weldon 3.39 p m, Petersburg 5 54 p m, Richmond 6 50 p m, Norfolk 8 05 p m, Washington 11 10 p m, Baltimore 12 53 a m, Philadelphia 3 45 a m, New York 6 53 a m, †Boston 3 00 pm.

DAILY 7:15 P M — No. 40—Passenger—Due Magnolia 8 55 p m, Warsaw 9 10 p m, Goldsboro 10 10 p m, Wilson 11 06 p m, †Tarboro 6 45 a m, Rocky Mount 11 57 p m, Weldon 1 44 a m, †Norfolk 10 30 a m, Petersburg 3 24 a m, Richmond 4 20 a m, Washington 7 41 a m, Baltimore 9 05 a m, Philadelphia 11 25 m. New York 2 03 p m, Boston 8 30 p m.

SOUTHBOUND.

DAILY 3:40 P M — No. 55—Passenger—Due Lake Waccamaw 4 55 p m, Chadbourn 5 29 p m, Marion 6 40 p m, Florence 7 25 p m, Sumter 8 42 p m, Columbia 10 05 p m, Denmark 6 20 a m, Augusta 8 10 a m, Macon 11 00 a m, Atlanta 12 15 p m, Charleston 10 20 p m, Savannah 12 50 am, Jacksonville 7 30 a m, St Augustine 10 30 a m, Tampa 5 45 p m.

ARRIVALS AT WILMINGTON—FROM THE NORTH.

DAILY 5:45 P M — No. 49—Passenger—Leave Boston †1 03 p m, New York 9 00 p m, Philadelphia 12 05 a m, Baltimore 2 50 a m, Washington 4 30 a m, Richmond 9 05 a m, Petersburg 10 (a m,) Norfolk 8 40 a m, Weldon 11 50 a m, Tarboro 12 12 p m, Rocky Mount 12 45p m, Wilson 2 12 p m, Goldsboro 3 10 p m, Warsaw 4 02 p m, Magnolia 4 16 p m.

DAILY 9:40 AM — No. 41—Passenger—Leave Boston †1 00 night, New York 9 30 a m, Philadelphia 12 09 p m Baltimore 2 25 p m, Washington 3 46 p m, Richmond 7 30 p m, Petersburg 8 12 p m, †Norfolk 2 20 p m, Weldon 9 43 p m, †Tarboro 6 01 p m, Rocky Mount 7 45 a m, leave Wilson 6 20 a m, Goldsboro 7 03 am, Warsaw 7 54 a m, Magnolia 8 07 a m.

FROM THE SOUTH.

DAILY 12:15 P M — No. 54—Passenger — Leave Tampa 9 25 a m, Sanford 2 19 p m, Jacksonville 7 00 p m, Savannah 12 45 night, Charleston 5 30 am Columbia 5 50 a m, Atlanta 8 20 a m, Macon 9 30 a m, Augusta 3 05 p m, Denmark 4 55 pm, Sumter 6 45 a m, Florence 8 55 a m, Marion 9 34 a m, Chadbourn 10 35 a m, Lake Waccamaw 11 06 a m.

†Daily except Sunday

Trains on the Scotland Neck Branch road leave Weldon 4 10 p m, Hailfax 4 28 p m; arrive Scotland Neck at 5 20, Greenville 6 57 p m, Kinston 7 55 p m. Returning leaves Kinston 7 50 a m, Greenville 8 52 a m, arriving Halifax at 11 18 a m, Weldon 11 33 a m daily except Sunday.

Trains on Washington Branch leave Washington 8 20 a m, and 1 p m, arrive Parmele 9 10 a m and 2 40 p m, returning leave Parmele 9 35 a m and 6 30 p m, arrive Washington 11 00 a m, and 7 20 p m. Daily except Sunday

Train leaves Tarboro, N C, daily except Sunday, 5 30 p m, Sunday 4 05 pm, arrives Plymouth 7 40 p m and 6 00 p m. Returning leaves Plymouth daily except Sunday 7 50 a m and Sunday 9 00 a m arrives Tarboro 10 05 a m and 11 a m.

H. M. EMERSON,
Ass't. Gen'l Passenger Agent.

J. R. KENLY, Gen'l Manager.

T. M. EMERSON Traffic Manager.

A. D. BROWN,

Successor to Brown & Roddick.

29 NORTH FRONT STREET, WILMINGTON, N. C.

IMPORTER OF FINE

DRY GOODS AND CARPETS,

ORIENTAL AND DOMESTIC RUGS,

"WARNER'S CORSETS," "HER MAJESTY'S CORSETS,"

"THOMPSON'S GLOVE FITTING CORSETS," "R & G" AND "FERRIS" CORSETS.

"FOSTER" KID GLOVES, "KAYSER" SILK GLOVES.

"HUDNUT'S" EXQUISITE TOILET REQUISITES.

Mail Orders Given Special Attention.

B. F. HALL, OSCAR PEARSALL

HALL & PEARSALL

Cor. NUTT and MULBERRY STS.

WILMINGTON. - N. C.

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

—AND—

—WHOLESALE DEALERS IN—

HEAVY GROCERIES

WE ALWAYS CARRY A LARGE AND WELL SELECTED STOCK OF

Flour, Sugar, Coffee, Molasses, Salt Fish,

Hay Corn Oats Tobacco, Snuff, Cigars, Hoop-Iron, Nails, Glue,

Cotton Bagging and Ties.

☞ We solicit the patronage of the public. and guarantee to give satisfa tion. Correspondence invited.

☞ Consignments of Naval Stores, Cotton and all Country Produce will receive carful attention.

HALL & PEARSALL

WILMINGTON, N. C.

ORGANIZED 1856.

GEORGIA HOME INSURANCE COMPANY. COLUMBUS, Ga.

J. RHODES BROWN, President.

Wm. C. COART, Secretary.

A HOME COMPANY,

Seeking Home Patronage.

Strong! Prompt! Reliable! Liberal!

Agents at all Cities, Towns and Villages in the Southern States.

W. W. HODGES, Agent, Wilmington N. C.

E. NYE HUTCHISON, Agent, Charlotte, N. C

THINGS USEFUL.

Old Virginia Cream Batter Bread.—Take one pint of corn meal and pour over it one pint of very hot water; add one-half teaspoonful of salt and a heaping tablespoonful of butter. Stir well, and when cool add three well-beaten eggs and one quart of sour milk, with one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in it. Bake in a deep pan and serve quickly with country butter.

Family Pudding.—Pour the juice from a quart of cooked cherries or strawberries, add the juice of two or three oranges, bring to a boiling heat, measure; if not a full quart add water in which the yellow skin only of the oranges has been boiled; if not sweet enough add sugar. Thicken with three scant tablespoonfuls of cornstarch moistened with a little cold water; cook in double boiler until there is no raw taste; if cooked in an ordinary saucepan boil slowly for five minutes, stirring all the time. Set away to cool in a mould in which ice water has been standing. If the hot mixture is poured in the instant after the cold is emptied out there will be no danger of sticking. Turn into a glass dish with boiled custard or whipped cream thrown over it.

Cherry Rolly-Poly.—Take three eggs, two heaping cupfuls of flour, one tablespoonful of butter, one pint of milk, and a pint of stoned cherries, make the flour into a paste with a little milk, then add the beaten eggs, the melted butter, a pinch of salt, and the rest of the milk. Roll the paste into an oblong sheet, about a quarter of an inch thick; spread this with the stoned cherries, strew thickly with sugar, and roll up the sheet, the fruit inside. Do not bring the fruit too near the end of the roll, but pinch the edges together, that the juice may not escape. Sew the pudding up in a cloth, allowing room for the paste to swell, drop it into a pot of boiling water, and boil continuously for an hour and a half. Take out the pudding, plunge it into cold water an instant, and remove the cloth. Serve with sauce made of one cup of cherry juice, one cup of sugar, one cup of water, a small lump of butter, and one tablespoon of thickening. When it boils up add nutmeg to taste

MARY BALDWIN SEMINARY
FOR YOUNG LADIES,
STAUNTON, VIRGINIA.
Term begins Sept. 1st, 1897. Located in Shenandoah Valley of Virginia. Unsurpassed climate, grounds and appointments. Board etc., with full English course, $160. Music, Languages, Elocution, Art, Book-keeping, and Physical Culture, extra. Pupils enter any time. Write for Catalogue. M. J. BALDWIN, Prin.

Wire Railing and Ornamental Wire Works.
DUFUR & CO.,
811 North Howard St., Baltimore, Md.
Manufacture Wire Railing for Cemeteries, Balconies, &c., Sieves, Fender Cages, Sand and Coal Screens, Woven Wire, &.
Also Iron Bedsteads Chairs, Settees &c.

RED SPRINGS SEMINARY
FOR YOUNG LADIES.
stablished by Fayetteville Presbytery.
New Buildings, well equipped and adapted to all departments of College work. Complete and liberal course. Fully abreast of the leading Southern Colleges for Women.
Full and Efficient Faculty.
Charges very moderate ($108 00 per year for full College course and Board).
Session opens September 30, 1896 For further information write to
REV. C. G. VARDELL.
Red Springs, N. C.

Tracts and Tract Volumes.
Presbyterian Committee of Publication.

Early Presbyterian Missions, by A. D. Tadlock	5c
Daisy's Death Bed, by T. W. Hooper, D. D.,	5c
Take My Yoke Upon You, by T. P. Hay	5c
What We Believe, by L. P. Bowen, D. D.	3c
Relation of Presbyterian Church to Other Denominations, by J. C. Malloy	5c
What Is To Be Your Life-Work? by A. W. Fraser	5c
Latest Infidelity, by Dr. R. L. Dabney	10c
Five Points of Calvinism, by Dr. Dabney	10c
Call to Gospel Ministry, by Dr. Dabney	5c
Christianity and Law, by Dr. B. M. Palmer	5c
The Pious Physician, by Dr. Palmer	5c
Hindrances to Uniting With the Church, by Dr Palmer	5c
The Caldee Church, by Dr. T. V. Moore	15c
Christian Baptism, by J. P. Hobson, Esq.	10c
The Church Fair, by R. F. Campbell, D. D.	5c
Mode of Scriptural Baptism, by Rev. J. L. Reed	15c
How Was Jesus Baptized? by Dr. M. H. Houston	5c
Divine and Human, by Rev. L. H. Wilson	25c
Robbie Stuart, by Mrs. J. L. Stuart	15c
Ah-Mun, by Mrs. Stuart	15c
Bible Baptism, by Dr. R. F. Kerr	10c
Card Playing, by Rev. W. A. Alexander	5c
Gospel Ministry, by Dr. J. B. Shearer	5c
Education for the Ministry, by Dr. R. Cecil	5c
Genesis of the Westminster Assembly, by Dr. F. Patton	10c
Election of Grace, by Dr. G. D. Armstrong	5c
Infant Baptism, by Rev. I. S. McElroy	5c
Letters to An Inquirer, by Dr. H. H. Hawes	5c
Abrahamic Covenant, by Dr. Hawes	10c
Presbyterianism in Catechetical Form, by Mrs. M. W. Pratt	10c
Romanism, by Dr. T. D. Witherspoon	15c
Assurance of Grace and Salvation, by Dr. W. S. Plumer	5c
The Ruling Elder, by Hon. J. W. Lapsley	10c
The Presbyterian Church, by Dr. J. W. Primrose	5c
Appeal to Young Ministers, by Rev. C. H. Dobbs	5c
How Children Are Saved, by Rev. D. Young	5c
Water Baptism, by Dr. Stacy	15c
Polity of the Presbyterian Church, by Rev. W. B. Arrowood	5c

JAS. K. HAZEN, Sec'y & Treas.
RICHMOND, VA.

VIRGINIA COLLEGE
For YOUNG LADIES, Roanoke, Va.
Opens Sept. 9, 1897. One of the leading Schools for Young Ladies in the South. Magnificent buildings, all modern improvements. Campus ten acres. Grand mountain scenery in Valley of Va., famed for health. European and American teachers. Full course. Superior advantages in Art and Music. Students from twenty States. For catalogue address the President,
MATTIE P. HARRIS, Roanoke, Virginia.

DO NOT FORGET.
THAT OUR BRAND OF FLOUR
THE LADIES' FAVORITE
Is the best Flour on the market. Double Patent, and produces more bread than any other.
In addition to our Ladies' Favorite Flour we have taken the Agency for Pillsbury's Best Spring Wheat in barrels and half barrel sacks.
We offer North Carolina Canned Peaches, North Carolina Canned Tomatoes, guaranteed fully equal to any brand. North Carolina Manufactured Tobacco, North Carolina Bacon, California Peaches, California Apricots, both canned and dried, as well as a select stock of groceries of every description.
☞ Orders solicited.

R. W. HICKS,
WHOLESALE ONLY,
Wilmington, N. C,

The Man in the Moon would be happier if he could have a supply of
Cool Fragrant and Soothing
Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco
For over twenty-five years the standard smoking tobacco of the world.
To-day More Popular than Ever.
To have a good smoke anytime and everytime it is only necessary to get Bull Durham. It is all good and always good.
BLACKWELL'S DURHAM TOBACCO CO.,
DURHAM, N. C.

H. A. TUCKER. R. D TUCKER.
TUCKER'S
GRANITE AND MARBLE WORKS
DEALERS IN ALL KINDS OF
Granite and Marble Monuments
CONTRACTORS FOR BUILDING STONE
H. A. TUCKER & BRO.,
No. 310 Front St.,
Wilmington, N C.
As Successors to
D. A. GRANTHAM,
The Messrs. TUCKER & BRO., have a fully equipped branch yard at Goldsboro and as in Wilmington, are there prepared to do any kind of first-class work.

WORTH & WORTH,
—OFFER FOR SALE—
BEST QUALITY, FULL WEIGHT
FLOUR, BACON, SUGAR, LARD
MOLASSES, MEAL, SALT,
LIME, CEMENT,
Plaster, Hay, Corn, Hoop Iron, Oats Rivets Glue.
BUNGS, CANNED GOODS,
At Low Prices
WILMINGTON, N. C.

STEEL WEB PICKET LAWN FENCE
On Steel Post and Rail, Handsomest, Strongest, most Durable and Cheapest, for Yard, Cemetery and Grave Lots; Best Poultry and Garden Fence in existence; also a special Horse, Cattle and Hog Fence. We Pay the Freight. Catalogue Free.
K. L. SHELLABERGER, ATLANTA, GA.

M. H. JONES,
DURHAM, N. C.,
Keeps on hand a fine assortment of
STERLING SILVER WARE,
JEWELRY, DIAMONDS,
WATCHES, CLOCKS
and everything found in a first-class jewelry store.
☞ Repairing of all kinds, especially such as is usually sent North, done promptly and in best style; reputation stablished for this class of work.

..An Evolution in Typewriters..
A LITTLE Machine
With a BIG Record....
The...
BLICKENSDERFER
No. 5 Typewriter.
Marvel in Mechanism. $35 Standard of Simplicity.
Has More DESIRABLE Features and Less UNDESIRABLE Ones than Any Other Typewriter Made.
Endorsed by Thousands of ....ENTHUSIASTIC USERS....
CATALOGUE AND SAMPLE OF WORK FREE.
K. M. TURNER,
GEN'L SOUTHERN AGENT,
41 N. Broad St., Atlanta, Ga.
918 F St. N. W., Washington, D. C.
914 E. Main St., Richmond, Va.
Daily Record Bld'g, Baltimore, Md.

North Carolina Presbyterian.

New Series—Vol. xxix—No. 1,540. WILMINGTON, N. C., THURSDAY, JULY 15, 1897. Old Series. Vol. xxxix—No. 2,700

THE OFFICE OF THE PRESBYTERIAN IS IN THE ALLEN BUILDING ON PRINCESS STREET—ROOM No. 6, ON SECOND FLOOR.

Subscription price $2.00 a year.
Ministers $1.00.
Missionaries $1.50, including postage.
New Subscribers $1.50 for first year.
☞ Checks or orders in payment of subscription may be made payable either to John McLaurin, or to North Carolina Presbyterian. Please send forward promptly.

(For Contents see Second Page)

DISCORD.

One cloud in the sky,
And the whole sweet slope
That was 'meshed in the sun's tangled gold
Forgot its smile as the wind crept by,
Grew desolate, dark and cold.

One slip of the bow,
And a jarring break
In the master's most musical dream;
But that false note marred the harmony
And lost the delicate theme.

One doubt in a day
When the hopes run high
And the blessings of life shine clear—
They are swept by a chilling hand away,
Usurped by a mystic fear.

The world hath a law,
And all things move
In harmonious unison;
The fairest gem cannot hide its flaw
Tho' in cunning setting worn.

So the unexpressed,
And intangible fear
May crush a comrade's heart.
'Tis often the trifle unconfessed
That sendeth two friends apart.

Ida Cole.

YOUR BROTHER.

A ship was wrecked on the northwest coast of Ireland; and a mother tried in vain to persuade her son, who had volunteered to go to the rescue of the last man on board the burning ship, to give up the perilous task. She pleaded that his father and brother had never come back from the sea, and that she would be left alone if he were lost. He resisted her entreaties and put out to the sinking vessel. When the boat came back through the surf, the crowds on the shore shouted, "Have you got your man?" The reply came, "Yes, and tell mother it's brother William!" Are we sure that the imperilled souls around us are not our brothers?—Selected.

REV. JAMES THOMAS.

James Thomas, pastor of the Wilson Presbyterian church, was born April the 23rd, 1865, in Raleigh, N. C., where his father was then residing as Secretary of State.

His father was Judge Charles R. Thomas, of Newbern, N. C., who was esteemed as an able and prominent lawyer. He was a member of the Convention of 1861, Secretary of State in 1864–'65, during Governor Vance's administration, Judge of the Superior Court, and twice a member of Congress.

His mother, Emily Pitkin Thomas, now living at Newbern, is a native of Vermont, her former home being Burlington in that State.

Judge Thomas, having removed from Raleigh to Newbern in 1867, upon being elected President of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad, Mr. Thomas began his education in the schools of that historic and cultured city, attending first the Old Newbern Academy, and then the military school of Dr. George Slover. While at school, at the age of fourteen, he united with the Newbern Presbyterian church, of which Dr. L. C. Vass was then pastor. He, also, attended the Emerson Institute in Washington, during his father's congressional terms. In the fall of 1882, he entered the University of North Carolina, and was graduated with the degree of A. B., in June, 1886.

At the Newbern schools and the State University, he won high honors, and was especially noted for his oratorical gift.

After graduation, while considering the call to the ministry, he studied law with his father and brother, Charles R. Thomas, Jr. Immediately upon being licensed to practice law, he was received under the care of Albemarle Presbytery, and entered Princeton Theological Seminary, in the fall, graduating in the class of '93.

In June of the same year, he was called to the assistant pastorate of the First Presbyterian church of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., of which the late eminent Francis B. Wheeler, D. D., was pastor. He was ordained in Poughkeepsie in October, 1893, and remained there as assistant pastor two years.

In March, 1896, Mr. Thomas was called to the Wilson Presbyterian church.

Exceptionally well educated, and thoroughly trained by many years of preparation at college and elsewhere, as well as by travel and observation, Mr. Thomas is, also, an industrious student, possessed of brilliant oratorical power Yet, he has always endeavored to rely on the Word and the Spirit. And the Presbyterian church was the deliberate choice of his boyhood. All of his father's family have become members of the Church, since he united with it, and he remembers taking bread and wine in his room, after the communion service, to which he was not admitted until the age of fourteen. He has always followed in the footsteps of Calvin, of Augustine, and of Paul.

ONE MIGHTIER THAN I.

Luke iii: 16.

The slender, graceful curves of the light-house tower standing on the rock-bound coast are unseen, whilst from its lantern the reflectors flash beams of light far out to sea. We must live nearer Christ, catching the glow of His love; then, like John the Baptist, we shall be timid of attracting a single thought to ourselves which might have found its way to Him. We shall be willing to be pedestals from which His beams shine the farther.—F. B. Meyer.

Worth begets, in base minds, envy; in great souls, emulation.—Fielding.

PERSONS AND PAPERS.

"One Lord, one faith, one baptism," does not mean "one denomination."—Golden Rule.

* * *

Now is the time of earnest work in the churches, and of earnest pursuit of pleasure in the world. Let holy zeal keep the worldly spirit out of your hearts, and relegate "having a good time" to a more convenient season. In fact, work should ever be the solid, everyday fare of life, and the "good times" only an occasional light dessert.—Epworth Herald.

* * *

A man has no right to believe what he pleases. He should believe in accordance with the weight of evidence. Not to do so is to enthrone prejudices above reason, and yet you will find that some of those who make the largest claims for the authority of reason assert their right to have their wishes dictate their conclusions.—The Watchman.

* * *

There are times when it is both ungrateful and disloyal to God not to speak of his love and goodness, or witness for him before men in strong, unequivocal words. * * * Every human life that fails to hear its message and learn its lesson, or fails to speak it out, keeping it locked in the silence of the heart, leaves this earth a little poorer. But every life, even the lowliest, that learns of God and then speaks out its message, adds something to the world's blessing and beauty.—J. R. Miller, D. D.

* * *

The same light which showed you the heaven that you were made for has always showed you the rock that you were chained to; as the same word of Jesus which showed the young nobleman the treasures in heaven brought back before his mind the treasures on earth, from which he could not tear himself away. This makes the sacredness and awfulness of life when we come to know it, that we are never so near our highest as when we are most sensible of the danger of our lowest, and the danger of the lowest is never so real to us as when the splendor of the highest stands wide open.—Phillips Brooks.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

1ST PAGE—Discord (poetry) — Your Brother—Sketch of Rev. James Thomas—One Mightier Than I—Persons and Papers.

2ND PAGE—Editorial: "More Noble" Editorial Notes—Our Japenese Honor Roll—The Synod of North Carolina—Invalid Fund.

3RD PAGE—Comparative Summary of the Presbyterian Church for the Last Five Years—India Relief Fund.

4TH PAGE—In Days of Old—Wilson Presbyterian church—Barium Springs Orphanage, Cash Receipts for May—Second Coming of Christ.

5TH PAGE.—Receipts at Assembly's Office of Home Missions for April, May and June—Soul-Winning—The Origin of Zenana Work—Literary Jottings.

6TH PAGE — Religious Intelligence—Personals—Elders' and Deacons' Institute, Fayetteville Presbytery.

7TH PAGE—Rolling Fork.

8TH PAGE—Gold Dust—"Only a Boy" "His Mere Good Pleasure."

9TH PAGE—Friendship and Right—Two Men In One.

10TH PAGE—Sunday School Lesson—Young People's Column—Puzzles—Open Door Notes.

11TH PAGE—Marriages—Obituaries—Odds and Ends.

12TH PAGE.—(For the Family)—The Sabbath Day (poetry)—"Annie Laurie"—How Niagara Stopped Flowing.

13TH PAGE—Two Pennies (poetry)—How Jim Began to be a Missionary—Honor Roll—Letter-Box.

14TH PAGE—Secular News—Odds and Ends.

15TH PAGE—Say Soes—Market.

61TH PAGE—Things Useful.

"MORE NOBLE."

Bad men in Thessalonica brought together a crowd of the baser sort and accused Paul and his companions of preaching harmful doctrines and of turning the world upside down. The account of this may be found in the Sabbath-school lesson for next Sabbath. This persecution was of some continuance so that the brethren sent away Paul and Silas to Beres.

The bad men who attack good men for works of righteousness and reformation often try to hide their motives under the cloak of some assumed virtue. This may be seen in cases of effort at municipal reform, or to suppress intemperance and gambling, or to forbid the sale and circulation of obscene literature. The cry is raised that there is a purpose to restrict personal liberty and that the so-called governmental gains are of great value in cultivating virtue by supporting schools and maintaining police forces. They even claim that illustrated literature is an aid to art and that to restrict the publication of the obscene papers is an injury to art culture.

We need rather to assert and insist that the object of the Gospel is to turn the world upside down and to bury out of sight all the base corrupting and destructive methods and means of harmful business and to destroy the power of Satan as found in all legalized iniquity and social practices of self-indulgence and sin.

Bad men will lay the blame of all the losses they may suffer or troubles that may arise upon those who will work reformations. So Ahab said to Elijah: "Art thou he that troubleth Israel?" And the baser men so accused Paul and Silas and drove them from Thessalonica to Berea.

This place Berea has its fame chiefly from the conduct of the hearers there when Paul preached. "These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the Word of God with all readiness of mind, and searched the Scriptures daily whether those things were so." Here is true nobility.

It consisted in noble minds open to all truth from every source. These minds were not afraid of it because it was new. Neither did they receive anything called truth simply because it was new. They did not take things by hearsay. They examined the things said and into the facts presented together with the evidence. The words of Madame de Stael written centuries later are true of these Bereans and describe noble minds of every age. "Search for the truth," she said, "is the noblest occupation of man." Such seekers are governed by the highest qualities of mind and heart.

All such receive the truth only on good and sufficient evidence. They waited and watched and searched till the found whether it was true. In this case they searched the Scriptures believing them to be the only infallible rule of faith and practice and the only source of truth that could not be shaken. This searching meant more than glancing at the references and noticing whether the passages were accurately repeated. It meant a looking for the true meaning of the words and a comparison of Scripture with Scripture. For no Scripture is of any private interpretation. Its true meaning must be in perfect harmony with the whole scheme of the Scriptures and a part of the whole truth unto salvation given in the Bible.

Ignorance of the Scriptures is ignoble. It is without reasonable excuse in our day if never before. Besides, the ignorance is the danger of irreparable loss in the things that are eternal. Loss here is for eternity.

The Gospel is not opposed to the search for truth in any field. It encourages it. It finds fault with those who do not search. It declares they are truly noble who do search. It welcomes all real discoveries, all true investigation. It holds that the works of God rightly understood will help to understand rightly the Word of God. It holds against all cavil and controversy that the Word of God is inspired and infallible truth.

BEFORE US lies a letter from a lady whose husband died a few years ago. Both he and she had been life-long friends and patrons of their own Synodical paper. Now renewing her own subscription the lady referred to sends it to her daughter who has left the home nest for one of her own." I wish the PRESBYTERIAN to follow her," says our friend and adds, "May God's blessing rest upon you and your work."

How refreshing and helpful such letters are. They come to soothe and to strengthen the spirit overborne by petty annoyances and querulous complaints. Why do not more papers follow the birdlings when they leave the home nests? Is there not a hint here that might well be heeded.

OUR THANKS are extended for copies of last minutes of the General Assembly just received.

OUR IS A noble Synod and we are doing our very best to serve it as such a Synod should be served. If it is not served as well as you might wish in this regard or that, spare your complaints and ask yourself if you are doing all you possibly can to help it. Do not ask the editor or publisher to do it all. Support the paper by speaking up for it and by getting subscribers for it. It is doing its best for the Synod of North Carolina. Other papers cannot do what is required in that regard. Is it not reasonable then to ask every minister, every church officer and every subscriber to try and increase the list? Every new subscriber counts—and if you owe for the paper do not think it a small matter to let the subscription go unpaid. A single subscription paid is a help—a considerable help—to the paper.

Now that the fall season is coming on, give us a lift. We offer extra inducements as premiums.

OUR JAPANESE HONOR ROLL.

In connection with a very readable letter in our Letter-Box from four young Japanese girls, who wished to be placed on the Honor Roll. Miss Leete writes the following note which we publish with pleasure:

DEAR MR. MCLAURIN: — The girls had so recently recited the Shorter Catechism they were much interested in the little mention made of American girls having done so in the N. C. PRESBYTERIAN. When the girls graduate they have a familiar knowledge of the history and we trust of the spiritual truths of the Bible. Our course of study embraces, "The Creation, Theocracy, Monarchy, Harmony of the Gospels, Major and Minor Prophets, Epistles, and one teacher ventures on Revelation. I would not be afraid of one of our girls competing with an American one. God grant that this knowledge may lead to salvation and not to condemnation. Help us with your prayers.

Yours sincerely,
I. A. LEETE.

Tokyo, Japan.

For the N. C. Prebyterian.

THE SYNOD OF NORTH CAROLINA AND THE INVALID FUND.

For the last twenty years Concord Presbytery has, all the time, and Mecklenburg during a considerable part of the time, conducted its Invalid Fund through the Local Treasury and the amounts sent from these Presbyteries to the Assembly's Treasury have been quite variable. During the decade from 1878 to 1887, the average amount contributed to the Assembly's Treasury from the Synod of North Carolina was $764 per year.

During the decade from 1888 to 1897, the average amount contributed from the Synod was $855 per year. The amount contributed last year was $844.

The funds sent to the Assembly's Treasury are used for the beneficiaries of the Assembly, all sharing alike, no difference being made on account of their Presbyterial connection. This is eminently proper. One minister may live, become disabled or die in a strong Presbytery, while another just as faithful may spend his life in a weak Presbytery. The Assembly's fund provides alike for each in the days of his infirmity, or for his family after his death.

This year Concord Presbytery falls in on the Assembly's plan and will send all contributions to the Assembly's treasury. In order to make up North Carolina's share of the $20,000 asked by the Assembly the sum of $2,041 is needed about two and a half times as much as the Synod has been giving in the past. To raise this sum means that the stronger churches should contribute an amount equal to four or five per cent of the amount they pay for pastor's salary. North Carolina has nearly the one-seventh of the membership of the Assembly, and is asked to raise about one-tenth of the amount needed by the Assembly to give some reasonable comforts to these beneficiaries. Many of the stronger churches of to-day were organized, or served in their early days by some of these now aged or deceased ministers whose families the Church should protect. The Assembly's treasurer is W.A. Powell, Esq., Atlanta, Ga. Not one Sabbath but the whole month of July is allowed by the Assembly for contributions to this cause.

Comparative Summary of the Presbyterian Church for the Last Five Years.

	1893.	1894.	1895.	1896.	1897.
Synods	13	13	13	13	13
Presbyteries	72	73	74	76	77
Candidates	427	445	425	402	378
Licentiates	74	79	79	85	90
Ministers	1,271	1,319	1,337	1,349	1,393
Churches	2,652	2,713	2,776	2,788	2,816
Licensures	49	70	69	79	74
Ordinations	55	71	67	61	69
Installations	159	170	138	150	165
Ministers deceased	25	21	30	36	30
Pastoral dissolutions	115	115	75	83	127
Ministers recei'ed from other denom	10	14	7	7	8
Ministers dism'ssed to other denom.	3	3	8	7	5
Churches organized	82	73	59	55	60
Churches dissolved	10	15	20	21	19
Churches recei'ed from other denom	1	3	3	1	1
Churches dismissed to other denom	.....	3	3	.....	.....
Number of Ruling Elders	8,089	8,221	8,484	8,656	8,719
Number of Deacons	6,385	6,646	6,895	7,072	7,279
Added on Examination	12,187	14,098	13,598	11,874	10,592
Added on Certificate	7,636	7,798	7,564	7,692	7,922
Total Communicants	188,546	199,167	203,999	210,539	211,694
Number of Adults Baptized	4,226	5,245	5,031	4,857	4,246
Number of Infants Baptized	5,264	4,888	5,502	5,304	5,050
No. of Baptized Non Communicants	37,275	37,780	35,346	37,031	37,386
Teachers in S. S. and Bible Classes	16,947	17,756	18,204	19,223	19,397
Scholars in S. S. and Bible Classes	119,754	134,848	136,069	138,735	143,498

CONTRIBUTIONS.

	1893.	1894.	1895.	1896.	1897.
Assembly's HomeMissions	$45,762	$53,406	$32,760	$26,648	$24,022
Local Home Missions	84,136	84,249	98,362	104,461	99,349
Invalid Fund	14,131	12,906	13,256	13,096	12,572
Foreign Missions	120,954	120,141	111,877	110,737	122,024
Education	53,527	65,027	51,848	48,764	51,212
Publication	9,898	8,316	7,469	7,748	7,322
Colored Evangelization	11,720	10,470	9,623	10,468	9,276
Bible Cause	4,407	4,369	4,432	4,321	5,891
Presbyterial	14,982	14,891	14,073	15,935	15,485
Pastors' Salaries	808,784	788,181	772,793	798,106	797,475
Congregational	621,792	610,102	667,152	607,393	564,168
Miscellaneous	124,776	102,367	96,481	108,938	124,714
Total	$1,943,580	$1,888,799	$1,880,126	$1,856,515	$1 832,860

JOSEPH R. WILSON, Stated Clerk.

INDIA RELIEF FUND.

TWO CENTS will sustain the life of a man, woman or child for one day.

Previously acknowledged	$136.32
Two lady readers of the N. C. PRESBYTERIAN	3 00
Chadbourn People and Sunday-School	7.10

THE CATALOGUE of the North Carolina Medical College in charge of Dr. John P. Munroe, with an exceedingly able faculty, is at hand. The institution claims that its best title to consideration consists in its record of well educated loyal young men it has sent out. It is true that Davidson Medical College has a noble reputation in this regard. Some of the most successful of physicians in North Carolina and elsewhere having been its students.

STAR BINDER

is a most desirable article to have in any household where the PRESBYTERIAN is taken. It holds the successive issues together in most convenient form, costs no labor and requires no special pains in its adjustment. What a fine Synodical Album a year's gathering would thus constitute!

Sent to any address for forty cents.

OUR PREMIUM BIBLE.

Measures 5x7 inches when Closed, and Contains 1,600 Pages of Reading Matter—Several hundred pages of Useful Information, besides the Scriptural Text.

At length we find ourselves with pride and pleasure, able to offer a Bible premium to workers for the N. C. PRESBYTERIAN. The size and quality of type of our Bible is represented by the cut here given:

The binding is flexible, the edges are gilt and the references within

David's thirst for God. PSALMS. He praiseth God for his grace.

10 Trust not in oppression, and become not vain in robbery: [4] if riches increase, set not your heart upon them.
11 God hath spoken [5] once; twice have I heard this; that [4] power belongeth unto God.
12 Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for [6] thou renderest to every man according to his work.

PSALM 63.

1 David's thirst for God. 4 His manner of blessing God.
A Psalm of David, [a] when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

O GOD, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: [7] my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and [8] thirsty land, [7] where no water is;
2 To see [9] thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the sanc-

[2] or, we are consumed by that which they have known naturally.
[5] Job 21. 25. Ps. 62. 7. 1 Tim. 6. 17.
[4] Heb. a search searched.
[6] Job 23. 14. or, strength.
[8] Heb. their second God.
[7] Job 34. 11. Prov. 24. 12. Jer. 32. 19. Mat. 16. 27. Eph. 6. 8. Col. 3. 25.
[9] Ps. 33. 11.
[a] Jer. 40. 28.
[b] 1 Sam. 22. 5.
[c] Ps. 42. 2.

6 They search out iniquities; [2] they accomplish [3] a diligent search: both the inward thought of every one of them, and the heart, is deep.
7 But God shall shoot at them with an arrow; suddenly [2] shall they be wounded.
8 So they shall make their own tongue to fall upon themselves: [2] all that see them shall flee away.
9 And all men shall fear, and shall [4] declare the work of God; for they shall wisely consider of his doing.
10 The righteous shall be glad in the LORD, and shall trust in him; and all the upright in heart shall glory.

PSALM 65.

1 David praiseth God for his praise. 4 The blessedness of God's chosen by reason of benefits.
To the chief Musician, A Psalm and Song of David.

are full. The Bible contains besides 1050 pages of Scriptural text, the HELPS to Scripture reading and study including Subject Index, Concordance, a most serviceable General Topical Index, a large number of pages treating of the Titles, Authorship, Distinctive Characters, Contents, &c., of the various books of the Bible, A Description of the Inhabitants, Physical Geography, Customs and Political Condition of the Holy Land at the beginning of the Christian era, the Botany of the Bible, Glossary of Antiquities, Customs, 12 maps, etc., being the Oxford Helps, acknowledged to be the very best, besides 124 full page illustrations of the Languages, Writing, &c., of the Old and New Testaments, of the bas reliefs and the like, discoveries in archæological researches, and now in the British museum—and very much else; making altogether the most desirable

---

Nothing is to be compared to the habit of continuous application and patient effort to insure success in our efforts to increase our knowledge or build up character.—Exchange.

copy of the Scriptures for Bible students that has come to our knowledge. The book contains over 1,600 pages.

The Bible is an offer in connection with the NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN—the only medium thro which one can become well acquainted with what is going on in the Synod of North Carolina—on the folowing terms:

We will give this Bible as payment for help rendered to any old subscriber who will send us the name of a BONA FIDE new subscriber along with $2.25.

The new subscriber gets the paper very cheap—we offer it to any bona fide new subscriber for $1.50 for the first year—and the worker gets amply compensated in a magnificently cheap Bible for his or her good work.

A new subscriber to get the Bible can subscribe for himself at $1.50 and then send another new subscriber with $2.25.

The Premium offered is the Genuine Edition of the Oxford Teacher's Bible.

We trust our friends will go to work promptly on this plan.

JOHN MCLAURIN,
Manager N. C. Presbyterian.

"Our Premium Bible" contains absolutely nothing that tends to discredit the plain Scripture narrative of "Jonah and the whale."

The grass smells the sweetest that is cut down. So should it be with the Christian; his sufferings should make his life more fragrant.—Exchange.

IN DAYS OF OLD.

It is said of that good old man, John Quincy Adams, that he never went to rest at night till he had repeated the simple prayer learned in childhood—the familiar "Now I lay me down to sleep." Is there not something touching in the thought that these words, breathed from the rosy lips of infancy, went with him down through old age into the dark valley of death? And who is there, man or woman, from whom this little prayer has not old, sweet associations? Who, hearing its words, hears not too, the "memory bells" ringing up from the golden plains of childhood! It may be a man in the pride and strength of years, who has carved out for himself an honorable name and destiny in the world; perhaps the owner of broad lands and proud homes, with heart grown hard in its battle with the world. How many years was it? Twenty, thirty, forty—no matter, at the sound of the old "Now I lay me" they have all rolled back their massive doors and we go down through them to the old, red, one-story house where life first took its morning. We see the llttle window on the right side, close under the rafters. Well, we slept sounder slumber and dreamed sweeter dreams in that old garret than we ever have in our lofty chambers, with gilded ceilings and snowy draperies. And what of it, if the bed was a straw one and the coverlet made of red and yellow "patches" of calico? We have never snuggled down so contentedly on our springs and hair mattresses. "Now I lay me." How softly sleep would come and weigh down the eyelids as we repeated the words after mother! We can hear her very tones, though it is so many years since death silenced them, and feel the soft touch of her hand on the pillow and the tender lingering of her kiss upon our lips. It may be years since we have repeated this little prayer, or it may be that, in the din and struggle of life we have forgotten it, and that at night we have lain down on our pillows never thinking to give thanks for the day and for the night. But sooner or later we shall "lie down to sleep" when this prayer will be all our souls can take, all that will avail of rank, or wealth or fame; whatsoever we most prize in this world. But the little prayer, the first, it may be, that we took upon our childish lips, shall follow us as we sail out under the solemn arches; follow us as sweet, faint, tender air from the shores, and when we cast our anchor, "the Lord our souls shall take."—Picayune.

WILSON PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

As far as can be ascertained, the first Presbyterian minister who preached in Wilson was Rev. Daniel T. Towles, who, while evangelist at Goldsboro and Everettsville, preached here once in 1854.

As chaplain of hospital, during the war, Rev. Drury Lacy preached regularly, while stationed at Wilson. From 1854 until the present, two members, Mrs. Anthony Nadal and Mrs. E. P. Griffin, remained staunch to their Presbyterial beliefs. When Mr. Geo. D. Green, whose wife was a member of the Morganton church, and Mrs. A. B. Palmer, moved to Wilson, the few Presbyterians were strengthened and encouraged.

In 1874, Mr. John Hutchinson, a ruling elder from the Newbern church moved with his family to Wilson, and new vigor was added. The members went to work to raise money for a Presbyterian church, and in October, 1883, the ground was broken for the building. On July 5th, 1884, the corner stone was laid, the ceremonies being conducted by Rev. J. W. Primrose, and the building was ready for use in June, 1885. The handsome brick building, located on a beautiful corner lot on Nash street is a monument to the great zeal and loving interest of those few Presbyterians who labored so faithfully to have a church home. It is still a source of surprise and remark by others, that so few could have accomplished so much. Much has been due to Mr. John Hutchinson, the head of the building committee, and to Mr. Geo. D. Green who rendered valuable service. Also to the sainted Mrs. Jane H. Wooten, and to Mrs. Geo. D. Green, who still labors efficiently for the church.

Since the early history of the building, interest in it has increased, and there are now plans to paint the outside woodwork, and to put a new carpet on the floor, which, like the church itself, is in the form of a cross.

BARIUM SPRINGS ORPHANAGE, CASH RECEIPTS FOR MAY.

SUPPORT FUND.

S S Washington church, $5.72; S S Mt Horeb church, .47; S S First church, Greensboro, $2; S S Ashpole church, .84; S S Hickory church, $4.43; S S Laurel Hill church, "Pastor's Scripture class," $2.25; S S Chapel Hill church, .83; S S Laurinburg church, $10 09; S S Rocky River church, .50; Christian Aid Society, Mt. Horeb, $2.95; L A S Steel Creek church, $4; L A and O Society, First church, Charlotte, $6; Lauchlin Band, Burlington church, $2.75; S S Gillwood church, $1.50; Bethpage church, $2.50; Miss Hamner's S S class, First church, Greensboro, $1.00; S S Front St, Statesville, $4.44; S S High Point, $5; Miss Emma C Reid, .75; Rev C A Munroe, $1; S S First church, Asheville, $2.90; H J McKeown, $1.50; S S Clinton, $3 65; Ladies Williams Memorial, .67; Mr. Dexter, 50.

PRESS FUND.

SS Wilkesboro, $1.65; LA S North Wilkesboro, .25; J W Rippey, .50; Carl Shaw, $1; Mrs W C Munroe, .50; Mrs E L Sowers, $1; Mrs E H Billingsley, .50; Mrs W H Lippard, 50; Mrs S C Rankin; $1; H J McKeown, .50; Robt Pitts, .50; Miss Mary Niblock, .50.

BUILDING FUND.

"Friend," $1; Mrs. M F Mitchell, $25.

CHILDREN'S ROOM.

Wm Ramsay Culbertson, .50; Leo Hart Culbertson, .50; "Neice," .50.

JNO. E. OATES, Treasurer,
Charlotte, N. C.

SECOND COMING OF CHRIST.

A call for conference, signed by ministers and elders of the Southern Presbyterian Church.

Believing that the second coming of Jesus Christ is the "pole star" of the Church; that the Scriptures present this truth as one of the strongest reasons for holy living and Christian labor; and also that the study thereof is either sadly neglected or seriously perverted; we who love and look for His appearance and kingdom, unite in calling a conference to be held in Toccoa, Georgia, on Wednesday, August the 11th, 1897, for the purpose of unitedly studying God's Word on this subject, and praying for the Comforter to take these things of Christ and show them unto us.

R. P. Farris, J. B. Mack, J W. Walden, J. W. Bachman, T. M. McConnel, A. L. Phillips, A. P. Sanders, J. L. R. Walker, A. W. Pitzer, R. C. Reed, J. F. Cannon, A. D. McClure, Frank D. Hunt, Edward Mack, W. L. Walker, T. H. Stall, W.K. Forsythe, Jonas Barclay, Chas. R. Nisbet, William Black, E. P. Simpson, J. C. Parham, J. C. Tate, H. M. D. Martin.

Toccoa is delightfully situated on the Southern railway, about ninety miles from Atlanta, and 1,200 feet above the sea level. Excursion rates are obtainable. The people of Toccoa will entertain a limited number, (at least twenty), others can secure good boarding at the rate of $1 per day.

Address for information, Rev. Chas. R. Nisbet, Chairman of Committee of Arrangements Toccoa Georgia.

RECEIPTS AT ASSEMBLY'S OFFICE OF HOME MISSIONS FOR APRIL, MAY AND JUNE.

For Home Missions including all Church Erection loans—

1896, $2,140: 1897, $2,943; gain, $803.

For Invalid Fund—1896, $1,017; 1897, $603; shortage, $414.

For Invalid Endowment Fund—1896, $7.50: 1897, $24.

During these three months in 1896, there were receipts of $298.65 special endowment for the family of Rev. E. D. Viser.

July is the month for the Invalid collection which occurs only once each year. A little special effort in every church, Sabbath-school and society added to that which it is hoped will be given by liberal hearted individuals will easily remedy the decrease in contributions to this cause which began in 1893. True our financial condition is severe, but God's great blessings to thousands of our people should lead to contributions equal to $20,000, the small sum needed from our church to give reasonable comforts to our aged ministers and to the one hundred families, widows and orphans of our ministers deceased. Let no one fail to do something for this cause.

J. N. CRAIG,
Secretary.

SOUL-WINNING.

A MESSAGE TO THE YOUNG.

Of all the work being wrought in the world, none needs so much wisdom as the winning of souls.

We need wisdom as to the time of approaching them. It is a mistake to pull at fruit before it is ripe; when it is ripe it will drop into your hand. The psalmist urged God to arise and have mercy on Zion, because the time to favor her, yea, the set time, had come; there is a set time when the time of a soul seems to have come. Happy is the Christian worker who is then near at hand, and able to step in with the last appeal of Christ.

It is all important to study the time to approach souls. Incredible harm may be done by being too precipitate, as much as by being too tardy. I witnessed a casting the other day. For months the mould had been dug out; with the utmost care the metal had been mixed and melted; then there was a pause, in which the great cauldrons were swung round into their positions to feed the vent-holes, and only when all was ready was the signal given for the discharge. A moment earlier would have wrecked the work of months. Take care, dear mother; do not force matters, keep on praying, and wait on God. There will be presently the tearful eye, the softened manner, the disappointment which will make the lad's soul unusually accessible; then the hour of his salvation will be come.

We need wisdom as to the method.

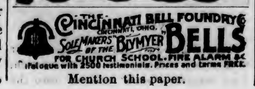
You must not expect that the same method will be equally successful with all. That gentle child, nurtured in a Christian home, may be approached and won for Jesus by the suggestion of His love and claims; but that hardened sinner must be won through the thunders of Sinai and the application of the law. Matthew was gotten in one way, Zacchens in another, Mary Magdalene in yet another. If we really desire to win a soul, we do well to study it, learn its habitudes and methods of thought, lie in wait for it, and approach it by a way which no eye but that of patient love would have been able to discover.

We must be wise in meeting objections. In some cases there is a real difficulty in the way of a soul that must be intelligently grappled with. In other cases difficulties are simply suggested as a means of parrying an attack, and it would be as useless to meet them as it was for Hercules to fight the Hydra by cutting off its heads.

In saying this we do not mean to dissuade earnest workers from sowing beside all waters. Let there be the bow drawn at a venture, rather than no attempt at all. Let there be the wide dissemination of Gospel tracts and appeals. Let there be any and every attempt to warn, exhort, persuade men. Still, where certain souls are to be won, it is necessary to be wise as to time and method and way of meeting difficulties.



Let the heart be full of love of Christ, and it will find its way to the soul of another. There is such a divine sympathy and magnetism in love. In constructing the great iron bridge at Newcastle-on-Tyne, allowance had to be made for the effect on it of the summer's sun. What pressure and storm could not do, heat did.

But, above all, when the spirit of the worker is completely yielded to the Saviour and infilled by His Holy Spirit, a marvellous tact and patience are inspired. The Spirit of God clothed Himself with Gideon, we are told; and certainly He seems still to clothe Himself with devoted and consecrated natures, through which He carries on His saving work on the souls of men. If thou wilt yield thyself to Him, Christian Endeavorer, thou with find it so.—Rev. F. B. Meyer.

THE ORIGIN OF ZENANA WORK

The first Zenana teaching ever attempted in the East was in Siam, in 1851, as Zenana work in India did not begin till 1858. Twenty-one of the thirty young wives of the Siamese king composed the class. In India the beginning was on this wise: A missionary's wife in Calcutta sat in her parlor embroidering a pair of slippers for her husband. A Brahman gentleman admired them. The lady asked if he would not like to have his wife taught to make them. He answered "Yes." That was a fatal word to those who wished to cling to idolatry, but a joyous answer it has proved to be to them. As this lady was teaching the woman of India to twine gold and purple into the slippers, she was twining into her heart the fibres of the sufferings and love of our Lord and Saviour. After one home was opened to the missionary, it was easy to gain access to others.—Ex.

Mention this paper.

LITERARY JOTTINGS.

The University of Virginia proposes to erect a memorial to Poe.

Mrs. U. S. Grant completed some three years ago a work which she calls "In India." There are twelve numbers in the volume, each giving some experience in her interesting life. Among them are "Eight Years in the White House," and "Four Years of Travel." There is rich material for such a work, but even extracts are denied the public eye.

M. Leon Lecestre, curator of the French archives, issued the first volume of 300 letters which were suppressed by the editors of Napoleon's correspondence, issued in 1869, as not calculated to increase the glory of the great French Emperor. The volume includes some heated family letters and some vigorously worded epistles to Fouche and Dubois, the ministers of police and war, respectively. A letter to Marshal Soult, in 1804, shows that Napoleon did not hesitate in adopting any means of obtaining confessions. He orders Soult to arrest a fisherman suspected of communicating with the British.

The Tennysons, after their marriage, settled in Twickenham, and among the earliest of the poet's friends who met his wife was Spedding, who was charmed with her. The same year Carlyle met Tennyson and his bride at Trent Lodge in Cumberland. Soon afterward the newly-married pair were in Italy, and of this journey one amusing story is told. Lord John Russell gave a large reception, at which the Tennysons were present, and during the evening the prime minister asked the poet how he had enjoyed his visit to Venice. As Tennyson did not appear communicative, his host pressed him further, when he confessed that he had not liked Venice. "And why not, pray, Mr. Tennyson?" "I couldn't get any English tobacco there for love or money," was the poet's reply. —Westminster Gazette.

Religious Intelligence.

We specially invite News from all quarters for this Department.

The Annual Scheme of Collections in the Synod of North Carolina is as follows:

January—General Assembly's Home Missions.

February and August—Presbyterial Home Missions.

March—Publication and Colportage.

April — Education — (one collection Church and Christian Education).

May and October—Foreign Missions. Third Sabbath in October for Bible Cause.

June and September—Synodical Home Missions.

July—Invalid Fund.

Third Sunday in October—BibleCause.

November and April—Education for the Ministry.

December—ColoredEvangelization

THE ASSEMBLY'S FORM OF BEQUEST.

I do hereby give and bequeath to the Trustees of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States (popularly known as the Southern Presbyterian Church) the sum of .....Dollars for the benefit of [here name cause to which the legacy is given.]

CHANGES OF ADDRESS.

Correspondents will please note the following changes of address:

Rev. S. D. Hall, from Greensboro, N.C., to Amsterdam, Botetourt county, Va., for the next few weeks.

Rev. R. F. Campbell, D. D., from Asheville, N. C., to Rockbridge Alum Springs, Va., until July 20th, after that for several weeks to Lexington, Va.

Rev. J. M. Clark, from Deaton, Texas, to Red Springs, N. C.,—dnring July and August.

Rev. L. H. Query, from Query's, N. C., to Logan's Store, N. C.

Rev. C. V. Cavitt, from Warren, Ark., to Wheelock, Texas.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Asheville:—Rev. R. F. Campbell, D. D., has been granted leave of absence for six weeks. His pulpit will be filled by Rev. Dr. Geo. L. Petrie, of Charlottesville, Va. Dr. Campbell's address will be Rockbridge Alum Springs, Va., until July 20th, after that Lexington, Va.

Dr. R. L. Dabney is spending the summer in Asheville. He has been able to attend church services, but has not felt strong enough to preach.

Rev. A. J. McKelway, the superintendent of Synodical Home Missions, gave a most interesting account of the Synod's work, on Sunday June 27th. The Synodical Committee have employed Mr. J. E. Ballou, a student of Union Seminary, to work in Madison county for the summer months. A permanent work is to be opened at some point in the county in the fall.

Tarboro:—Rev. J. B. Morton, pastor of this church, has been conducting services since the Wednesday night prayer-meeting of last week. The communion of the Lord's supper was celebrated on Sunday and three young men were received into the church.

Charlotte:—At the recent communion services it was announced that seventeen persons had united with the First church since the previous communion. Rev. Dr. J. R. Howerton is pastor.

Washington:—Summer communion services in the Washington Presbyterian church (Rev. C. M. Payne, pastor,) Sabbath, July 4th. Two additions on profession of faith. One adult and one infant baptized. Rev. J. B. Morton, the popular and gifted pastor of the Tarboro Presbyterian church assisted the pastor, preaching five excellent discourses, and making a fine impression upon our people. P.

Home Missions:—The committee on Church and Christian Education of Mecklenburg Presbytery have made provision for operating two mission schools in Union county, also to send Licentiate Luther Query to the mountain field for two months.

North Wilkesboro:—Rev. Wm. Black visited our church here and preached for ten days, beginning 20th of June. The services were exceedingly interesting and helpful. Bro. Black's presentation of the "Old, Old Story" was plain, practical, spiritual and hence acceptable and helpful. Our Methodist and Baptist brethren joined heartily with us in the work and shared the blessings with us. This is as it always should be. All the churches were strengthened in the revival of the membership and by additions to their members. Twelve were received into the Presbyterian fold. Seven of these were baptized. Some of them from the Sunday-school. Others will follow. Several joined the Baptist and Methodist churches. Revs. Gillespie, Gray and Wharton has entered upon their evangelistic work in the northern part of this (Wilkes) county, and in Ashe and Alegheny counties. They meet with encouragement and we expect good results from their work. How cheering the presence of such reinforcements!

Washington:—In another place we have given an account of an interesting meeting here. Another friend writes: "It is refreshing to contemplate the high esteem and affection in which the pastor of this church [Dr. Payne] is held, not only by his own flock, but by the community at large. There is but one thing that causes apprehension and that is that 'all men speak well of him.'"

Westminster Church, Greensboro:—On last Sunday seven persons were received upon certificate. This church is steadily growing. Rev. S. O. Hall, pastor.

Chadbourn:—Late meetings have resulted in two accessions by letter and eight on profession. They are preparing to build at once. Rev. P. C. Morton labors here.

VIRGINIA.

Alexandria:—July 4th was the regular bi-monthly communion at this church. Two members were received into the church. One by letter and one on profession, making eleven since the last communion in May. The semi-annual collection of the "Lavras Workers" society amounted to about $360. The society supports a missionary in Brazil. Rev. J. Ernest Thacker, pastor.

Lynchburg:—Rev. Jos. A. McMurray, pastor of West End church, has inaugurated a new work about three miles from the city. A Sunday-school of fifty members has been organized. Preaching services will be held twice a month.

GEORGIA.

Conyers:—Rev. R. A. Bowman, has taken charge of Conyers, Lithonia, and Luther Hays churches in Atlanta Presbytery.

FLORIDA.

Pensacola:—July 4th was the time for our regular communion, and it was the privilege of the session to announce that since April 1st we had received sixteen members. Nine on certificate and seven on examination. Since January 1st we have received thirty-three members, twelve on certificate twenty-one on examination.

KENTUCKY.

Highland Church, Louisville:—Seven members recently received, six upon profession. Rev. Dr. T. M. Hawes, pastor.

MISSOURI.

Kahoka:—Rev. J. W. Roseborough recently closed a meeting here which resulted in sixteen additions to the church. Notwithstanding the intense heat there was a good attendance at all services.

GENERAL.

Rev. Samuel B. Halladay, pastor of the Beecher Memorial church, on Rockaway avenue, Brooklyn, and formerly assistant to the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, in Plymouth church at Brooklyn, died at Orange, N. J., on the 9th inst.

Rev. Dr. Robert C. Gibson of Cincinnati has officially accepted the office of bishop coadjutor of the diocese of Richmond to which he was elected.

A tablet in memory of Rev. T. H. Pritchard, D.D., is to be placed in the Tryon Street Baptist church, Charlotte, by the Young Ladies' Missionary Society of that church.

PERSONALS.

Rev. David J. Woods, of Martinsburg, W. Va., has received the degree of A. M. from Jefferson College, Penn.

The Central Presbyterian states that the Rev. James M. Rawlings, D. D., gives up the work at Scottsville, Virginia, that the church may unite with other churches in securing a pastor. Dr. Rawlings will take charge of the group of churches, including South Plains, Gordonsville and Will's Memorial. [We are glad to note that the report of Dr. Rawlings' ill health was unfounded, and that he is still carrying on the work to which he has given his life]

Rev. W. N. Scott of Galveston, Texas, will spend the months of July and August in Virginia and West Virgina. Rev. J. B. French of Fort Worth will supply Mr. Scott's pulpit during his absence.

Rev. B. T. McClelland, of Brownwood, Texas, has received the degree of D. D., from the Southwestern Presbyterian University, and Rev. Robt. Morrison of Fulton, Mo., the same from Miami University, Ohio.

Rev. A. R. Shaw, of Henderson, is now at Jackson Springs in the hope of regaining his health. Recentiy there were four additions to his church. He will return to his new charge next Saturday.

Rev. A. H. McArn, of Cheraw, S. C., is visiting relatives in Laurinburg, N. C.

Rev. Dr. H. B. Pratt, of Laredo, Texas, will spend his vacation at Saltillo, Mex.

Rev. Dr. J. S. Moore, of Sherman, Texas, is spending his vacation on the Pacific coast.

Rev. Dr. S. M. Luckett, of Sherman, Texas, will spend his summer in the southern portion of that State. He may be addressed at Palestine.

Rev. J. M. Plowden, of Eatonton Ga., is visiting relatives in Manning and on Edisto Island, S. C.

Rev. J. S. Sibley, of Lawson, Mo, has been called to the pastorate of the Wallace Presbyterian church, Atlanta.

We are glad to note that Rev. Dr. H. M. Woods of Tsing-kiang pu, who is at Johns Hopkins hospital for treatment is doing well and that he will be able to return to his field in the near future.

